THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 279 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 1, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Quincy Merchants' Special Holiday Number

NEW BILL OF PRICES PRESENTED BY CUTTERS

Ask Granite Manufacturers to Pay an Increase of Twelve Per Cent

Present Bill Will Expire on March 1 Next

Under the agreement between the Granite Manufacturers' Association and the Granite Cutters' Union, which expires March 1, notice of any changes in the existing bill and agreement desired by either party must be given Dec. 1. In accordance with this clause the Cutters have filed with the Manufacturers a demand for some changes.

The changes desired are largely in relation to the scale of wages paid day and piece men. In brief this request is for an increase that amounts to about twelve per cent. As for the agreement the present one seems to be generally satisfactory for during the past year there has been but one occasion when the grievance committee has been called together and the matter in hand at that time was quickly settled.

On the part of the Manufacturers Association no changes were asked. They reserve the right however to open up any matter should occasion demand.

The demands of the cutters will be referred to a special committee who will consider the questions with a like committee representing the cutters. No difficulty is expected in reaching an agreement between the two associations.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

NEW MEN'S CLUB AT THE POINT

Address by Leslie Hayford on The Immigrant

The Point church Men's club held its first regular meeting Wednesday in the church vestry. Over 100 were present and the large and enthusiastic audience showed that the success of the club is assured. A short business meeting was followed by an address by Leslie Hayford, field secretary ofthe North American League of Immigrants, he spoke on the subject, "Old ideals and new citizens; the assimilation of the immigrant."

Mr. Hayford defined an American as one who believe in the American form of government, and conformed to American customs and ideas; an alien as one who had no knowledge or sympathy with our form of government, whether to be American born or not. The early immigrants of English and German races were familiar with American forms of government and therefore were easily assimilated. In recent years the tide of immigration has come from southern and eastern Europe, from races which have had no experience with our form of government thus presenting to us a serious problem, namely, to make these aliens American citizens.

Many of these aliens were cheated and robbed, from the time they set foot on our shores until they had learned by bitter experience how to look after themselves. A spirit of hostility to our institutions was thus aroused in them, which made it difficult to assimilate them. Papers published in their own language by their numerous advertisements of "something for nothing," helped still further to make these aliens antagonistic to our institutions.

Unless these aliens are made good citizens within thirty days, there is little hope of their becoming so. The North American Civic League of Immigrants was organized three years ago, that American Institutions might be protected, and that the immigrant also might be protected by learning something good of America. Agents of the society meet every incoming steamer, paying particular attention to steerage passengers, and guard them from the "runners," who lie in wait for them. The same thing is done at railroad terminals, and proper directions are given the immigrants for the continuance of their journey. Special officers are established in large cities, where the immigrants may get a "square deal" at the hands of the law. These helps tend to make the alien a good American citizen. "It is only by doing something ourselves that we can make the alien a good American."

Mr. Marr of the Christ church club spoke along the same line of thought.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

During the evening there were pleasing musical selections. L. B. Doane contributed mandolin solos, and D. McLaughlin violin solos. They were ably accompanied by D. B. Henderson. All the selections were appreciated.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

WARD ONE RALLY

Republican Candidates Argue for a Change

A reception was tendered to Candidate Hobbs by the Ward One Republican committee Wednesday evening at headquarters in the Adams building. Harry S. Crane, chairman of the Ward One committee, presided, and there were addresses by several of the candidates.

Candidate Hobbs spoke of the heads of departments at City Hall who he thought should be under the Mayor and not subject to their subordinates. He also spoke at length on the financial situation.

Councilman Ericson spoke of the appropriation of $4,500 for the purchase of the Insurance lot. The money had been borrowed but not expended for that purpose.

Councilman E. W. Branch, had a word to say about the Hancock street paving, and Councilman James M. Nowland spoke of the paving and the Coddington school, which it was admitted was paid for before completed.

John R. S. Ross said that the people of Houghs Neck were very much dissatisfied with the new school building in that section.

The last speaker was Councilman John R. Richards, who spoke in the same vein as at the Ward Three and Atlantic rallies.

It was voted to secure a window in City Square and put the chart showing the course of paving on Hancock street on exhibition, also samples of the paving blocks taken from the street.

DANCING PARTY.

The first of a series of dancing parties under the auspices of the five associates of Geo. L. Gill Rebekah lodge was held Wednesday evening at Electa hall, and was attended by thirty couples who enjoyed dancing from 8 to 12 o'clock to inspiring music furnished by George Monk. During a brief intermission Ice cream and cake were served, and all pronounced it a jolly time. The committee in charge included: Mrs. Walter P. Hill, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Miss Bernice Clark Mrs. James Baker and Mrs. Charles Baron. The committee was very efficient in their duty, and saw that everybody had a good time.

PASTOR CALLED.

At a special meeting of the parish held in the vestry of the Universalist church Wednesday evening, a call was extended to Rev. Ernest H. Carritt to become its pastor.

FINED FOR SPITTING.

The cost of spitting in public places in Quincy as assessed by Judge Avery is $5. That is the amount of fine his honor imposed on a young men arraigned in court this morning for violation of the rules of the Board of Health by spitting in a public place, namely Music hall.

Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

NOW THEN ALTOGETHER

The No-License Question Not a Political Question

We have already settled on our candidate for Mayor, and, of course, have made our choice conscientiously. We are all good people at heart, and are not deliberately trying to ruin the city, any of us; because we would thus only involve ourselves in the general disaster.

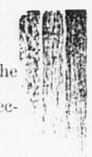
What a row the politicians make, any way! Read the paper any morning, and the scare heads will make you shiver at the everlasting smash that is threatened if such or such a party is not successful. And yet somehow we seem to worry through it all rather comfortably, and on the whole are really pretty well, thank you!

Not that dishonesty and incompetency are not common enough in public life, for we all know they are. But, even so, we are somehow conscious of a certain all-pervading corrective force in our affairs; something silent but irresistible, which is saving us from ruin in every crisis. For do we not know that our good ship of State is ballasted clear to the water line with the patriotism, sterling honesty and saving common sense of this great American people, and that they will surely keep things steady in case of need. The politicians may rock the

(Continued on Page 6.)

INDEPENDENT VOTERS ENDORSE MAYOR SHEA

Quincy, November 22nd, 1910.



TO OUR FELLOW CITIZENS:—

We deplore the attempt that is being made this year to have the voters of Quincy adopt partisan politics in the coming municipal election.

For three years Mayor Shea has given Quincy an efficient, economical and honest administration.

Believing that the interests of our city will be best served by again electing him to the office of Mayor, we earnestly urge all voters, irrespective of party affiliations, to vote for the re-election of Honorable William T. Shea.

BROOKS ADAMS, Adams Street
WALTER E. BURKE, Adams Street
CHARLES A. PRICE, Monroe Road
LAURANCE H. STURTEVANT, Adams Street
DELCEVARE KING, Adams Street
THEOPHILUS KING, Adams Street
C. H. HOWLAND, Adams Street
RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Greenleaf Street
F. S. PATCH, Edgemere Road
HENRY L. KINCAIDE, Whitney Road
CHARLES C. HEARN, Hancock Street
WALTER H. BERRY, 6 Greenleaf Street
L. A. CHAPIN, 18 Washington Street
JAMES F. BURKE, 11 Cross Street
C. THEO. HARDWICK, 58 Chestnut Street.
PAUL R. BLACKMUR, Elm Street
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Furnace Brook Parkway
WILLIAM H. DOBLE, South Street
PERRY LAWTON, Goffe Street
REV. EDWARD ANDERSON, Goffe Street
H. T. WHITMAN, 129 Grand View Avenue
GEORGE W. MORTON, 10 Spear Street
ANDREW MILNE, 38 Independence Avenue
DR. FREDERICK E. JONES, 1569 Hancock Street
HORACE F. SPEAR, Hancock Street
W. P. BATEMAN, Monroe Road
JOHN BUCHANAN, 133 Grand View Avenue
DR. WILLIS J. MIDDLETON, 446 Washington Street
JOSEPH L. WHITON, 500 Washington Street
JOHN H. CHANDLER, 26 Clark Street
GEORGE RICHARDSON, 46 Botolph Street
JAMES H. CHURCHILL, 110 Billings Street
CHARLES A. FRENCH, 192 Billings Street
HARRY W. REED, 257 Squantum Street
WILLIAM R. GAY, 1 Webster Street
WARD W. WHITCHER, 41 Webster Street
JOSEPH P. CLARK, 220 East Squantum Street
MICHAEL J. BARRY, 206 East Squantum Street
CHARLES F. HENDRIE, 69 Henry Street
HENRY MCGRATH, 99 Pleasant Street
J. B. SUTHERLAND, 171 Independence Avenue
M. P. FULLER, 66 Crescent Street
ISAAC M. HOLT, 32 Cottage Street
ELISHA PACKARD, 60 Elm Street

To My Fellow-Citizens:—

I am a candidate for the office of Mayor at the coming city election.

In return for your confidence in me in the past I have given to the city HONEST and FAITHFUL SERVICE, sparing neither time nor labor.

I direct your attention to the following as some of the PERMANENT RESULTS of my administration:—

Many miles of permanent sidewalks built.
A system of surface drainage established.
Our public streets improved.
Many additional lights placed on the streets.
An all-night system of street lighting inaugurated.
The efficiency of the police and fire departments materially improved.
Water mains extended in different sections of the city.
Over 1200 new house connections made.
Many new hydrants set.
Miles of sewer main extended affording increased protection to the public health.
Hundreds of new house connections made with the sewers.
Miles of edgestone laid.
Public buildings erected, each according to contract and within the appropriations made therefor.
Additional equipment provided in playgrounds.
City Scavenger department created and equipped.

In the foregoing I have not undertaken to state the general work performed by the several city departments.

During my term of office the books and records of the several departments have at all times been OPEN TO INSPECTION. Any citizen caring to do so can readily see from them how each appropriation has been expended.

All city contracts have been ON FILE in the City Clerk's office open to inspection by the public.

I have insisted on a STRICT ENFORCEMENT of the liquor law. The number of cases presented to the court in the last year has exceeded that of any year for several years past.

City officials and employees have been required to attend strictly to the DUTIES OF THEIR OFFICES, politics being eliminated therefrom.

Our city covers a large territory. The amount of money available for public improvements is necessarily limited.

I have endeavored to have due regard for the NEEDS OF ALL SECTIONS of the city, and to so expend its money as to get the best possible results therefrom.

To some the appropriations may appear to have been large, BUT OUR CITY IS GROWING RAPIDLY, a large number of homes and buildings for commercial purposes being erected each year thus making necessary the building of new streets, the extension of the sewer and water systems all of which tends to the health and comfort of our citizens.

It is true I am seeking a fourth term in office but it does not seem to me that this fact should adversely affect the merits of my candidacy. THE QUESTION for the voters to decide is, should the office of Mayor be used as a means solely of promoting the business of the city, and a man elected to it for the same reasons that a large business concern selects its general manager? SHOULD the fact that a man has proven himself competent and has had experience in office disqualify him?

During the past three years I have endeavored to keep the Mayor's office FREE FROM POLITICAL INFLUENCES, and believe I have succeeded. I have discharged the duties of my office without fear or favor.

If it is the wish of the voters I will be pleased to serve you during the coming year.

WILLIAM T. SHEA,
12 Common Street,
Quincy, Mass.

December 1, 1910.

(Advertisement.)

CITY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY -- POLLS OPEN 6 A. M. TO 4 P. M.

Plenty of Fresh Air

WARM CLOTHING

AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF

HEARN'S

EMULSION

And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumonia.

CHAS. C. HEARN

PHARMACIST

1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The Firm That is After the Contract

For the Granite

For the New County Courthouse

BATES BROS.

Weymouth Seam-Face Granite Co.

QUARRY OWNERS and OPERATORS

OLD COLONY, GILBRETH, HOLBROOK, SPILSTED QUARRIES (UNITED.)

Producers of the Most Beautiful and Durable Granite the World has ever known

"THE PERFECT BUILDING STONE"

Use the Celebrated Weymouth Genuine and not the Dark, Smudgy, Cloudy kind.

OFFICE AND SAMPLE ROOM Opp, STATION, 23---31 SAVILLE STREET, QUINCY, MASS.

Quarries at Weymouth

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES

5 GRANITE STREET

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Up-to-date Designing

Domestic and Imported Materials

B. FRITZ & SON

Quincy's Leading Tailors

For 15 years we have catered to Quincy Trade, and thank those who have given us their work. Our speciality is up-to-date Custom work.

5 Depot St., near Quincy Station

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

MACAO GARRISON REVOLTS

Troops and Sailors Take Possession of Portuguese Colony

Macao, China, Dec. 1.—The Portuguese troops of the local garrison and the crew of the Portuguese gunboat Patria revolted and, taking possession of the city, proceeded to enforce certain changes in the administration of the affairs of this dependency of Portugal. The rebels continue in control, the governor and military officers being powerless.

Several hundred strong, the rebels proceeded to Santa Clara convent, from which they drove out the nuns, ordering them to leave the island. The nuns fled to Hong Kong. From the convent the rebels marched to Government House, before which they mounted a cannon. The governor was compelled to hear the demands, which were the expulsion of the religious orders, increased pay for the army and navy, the suppression of the newspaper Vida Nova and the righting of alleged wrongs suffered by the soldiers and sailors. Under threat, the government granted every demand.

ROSEBERY WITH UNIONISTS

Declares That Foreign Gold Is Subsidizing Irish Dictation

London, Dec. 1.—Lord Roseberry jumped the barrier heretofore separating him from the Tories at a meeting at Manchester of business men which he had been invited to address, along non-partisan lines.

Although disclaiming all political bias, he roundly trounced his former Liberal allies, who he declared were harrassing the land, constantly encroaching upon and prejudicing the personal liberties of the country in a way to which their ancestors never would have submitted. Nothing but a nation of slaves, declared the former premier, would submit to Irish dictation, subsidized by foreign gold.

Loud cries of "twaddle," "rot," "bosh," greeted this outburst, but Rosebery continued, asking what the effect would have been if foreign gold had been taken into the United States. "Why," he said, "the people who did it would be irretrievably damned."

JEM MACE RECEIVES HIS LAST KNOCKOUT

Once Rich and Successful Prize Fighter Dies In Poverty

London, Dec. 1.—"Jem" Mace, the hero of many prize fights, died at Jarrow-on-Tyne, of old age. He was in his 79th year. Mace was at one time worth more than $1,000,000, but of recent years he had been dependent upon the assistance of friends. Occasionally he had appeared in music hall exhibitions. He was born at Beeston on April 8, 1831, and in his day was one of the greatest of boxers.

In his old age Mace found his fortune gone, and a short time ago he applied for benefit from the old-age pension fund.

For the last few years Mace had lived in an old London tavern in Islington. He was a lithe, erect, handsome old man with fine eyes and wavy gray hair above a good forehead, and strong, well formed features.

"Since I lost my wife," he said, "nothing has gone right. I always wanted a master, and since she died I have had nobody to tell me."

THINKS 313 UNLUCKY

Former Skipper Obtains Permission to Have Street Number Changed

New Haven, Dec. 1.—Urging that the giving to his house on Lenox street the number 313 by the city authorities had brought misfortune to his household, in the five years during which the house has borne that number, Harvey Barnes, a retired sea captain, asked and obtained permission to have the number changed to 315.

Captain Barnes, who is 80 years old, says that during the five years five members of his family have died, the last his wife, who was burned to death, and he attributes the deaths to the house number.

REYES MAY RETURN

Rumor That He Is to Be Made Vice President of Mexico

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 1.—The special correspondent of the El Paso Herald in Mexico City says it is rumored there that General Reyes is to be recalled from Europe and made vice president of Mexico and allowed by Diaz to assume the reins of government in a few months, as it is believed such a course would satisfy the country.

Vice President Corral is very sick and is expected to go soon to Europe for treatment.

Finance Minister Limantour is expected to resign on his return from Europe, as he and Reyes are enemies.

The Weather

Almanac, Friday, Dec. 2.
Sun rises—7:03; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—4:52 p. m.
High water—11:30 a. m.; 12 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Unsettled; snow in north portion; brisk to high west to northwest winds.

YOUR FRIENDS PERFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every race in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diminutive ring for the baby; bracelets, and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps a fine watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning event of all, a multitude of precious gems, stones and jewels.

Search the gamut of human wants and you will find no gift so acceptable as jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

When you wish to select jewelry for your friends or relatives, come to this store. You can not find more dependable jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade here means a considerable cash saving.

If you are unfamiliar with jewelry, we will be glad to help you to make tasteful selections. On the other hand, if you are accustomed to buying rings, lockets, bracelets, watches, etc., so much the better. You will appreciate the more keenly the high-quality of our goods and our up-to-date selections.

Needless to say, every article of merchandise we sell is warranted to be exactly as represented. There's no chance for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting in rings, brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

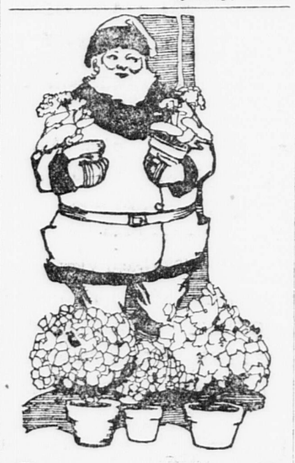
We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.

JEWELERS

1281 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass.



CALL AND SEE

OUR STOCK FOR

XMAS

WE HAVE

Poinsettias
Cyclamen
Geraniums
Loraine Begonias
Xmas Peppers
Azaleas, Etc.

WITH SEASONABLE

CUT FLOWERS

FOR DECORATIONS:

Xmas
Wreaths and Greens

CITY FLOWER STORE

1361 Hanover Street

QUINCY

GALLAGHER IN COURT

Only Charge of Assault on Edwards Pressed at This Time

Jersey City, Dec. 1.—James J. Gallagher, who shot and seriously wounded Mayor Gaynor of New York on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse last August, was brought into court here and arraigned before Judge Blair on the charge of atrocious assault with intent to kill William H. Edwards of New York and with carrying concealed weapons. Edwards was with Gaynor when the latter was shot and in protecting the executive is alleged to have been attacked by Gallagher and slightly wounded.

Gallagher pleaded not guilty, with certain reservations, and was at once taken back to the cell in the Jersey City jail which he has occupied since the shooting.

In court there was no mention by the prosecution of the prisoner's attack upon the mayor. It developed that Prosecutor Garvan intended to keep in reserve the charge against Gallagher of atrocious assault with intent to kill Gaynor.

Under the New Jersey laws, should the victim of an assault die within a year and a day after the commission of the crime, a charge of murder will lie against the victim's assailant. Gaynor was shot on Aug. 9 last, so that less than four months have elapsed since the commission of the crime.

WILL ENJOY PRISON LIFE

Four Nebraskans Will Have All the Comforts of Home In Jail

Omaha, Dec. 1.—W. G. Comstock, Bartley R. Richards, Charles Jamison and Aquila Triplett, millionaire cattlemen of Nebraska, convicted in the federal court of fencing government lands and sentenced to one year in the county jail, after spending a month visiting various county jails in the state, departed last night for Hastings, where they will become inmates of the Adams county jail.

The four men are not to be treated like ordinary prisoners. With them they took a Japanese chef, who will do their cooking. They ordered expensive furniture and carpets sent to the Hastings jail as furnishings for their rooms. The floors are carpeted and, in a general way, it is said, the cells have the appearance of well appointed club rooms.

BUSINESS MEN ARE TO WORK TOGETHER

New England Manufactures and Commerce Will Benefit

Boston, Dec. 1.—Business men representing all the leading commercial bodies from all sections of New England met at the Boston chamber of commerce yesterday and formed a new organization to protect the manufacturing and commercial interests of the state, to work for laws which will enable New England merchants to compete successfully with western and southern concerns and to safeguard the interests of this section through the troublous days of railroad rate legislation which impend.

Presidents of boards of trade in large cities, the heads of merchants' associations, of business men's associations, of commercial clubs and other chambers of commerce were present at the meeting, which was presided over by Bernard J. Rothwell, president of the Boston chamber.

The attendants at the meeting unanimously voted to support the new organization, which means an unprecedented advance in raising the section higher even than ever before in manufacturing and producing fame. One of the first wedges in the advance will be a new steamship line direct to Texas.

CRUSADE IS EFFECTIVE

Kaiser Has Done Much to Promote Temperance In German Navy

Berlin, Dec. 1.—Statistics indicate that the emperor's crusade is having a substantial effect. In the navy, to which the kaiser's most recent temperance speech was addressed, the consumption of alcohol among the officers and men decreased respectively in 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909, by 8, 12, 19 and 30 percent.

The decrease in the army is not believed to have been so marked, but the kaiser is doing his best to popularize the use of tea and milk instead of beer among the troops.

Wrangle Over Crippen Will

London, Dec. 1.—A caveat has been filed against the probate of Dr. Crippen's will on behalf of a half-sister of his wife, Belle Elmore, who lives in Rhode Island. The will bequeathed the entire estate to Ethel C. Leneve.

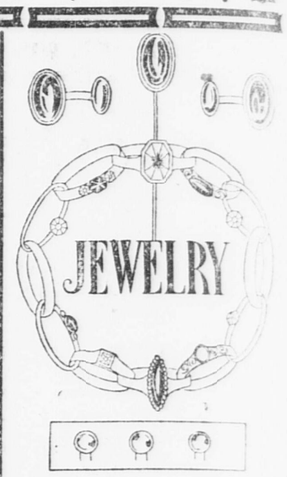
Mme. Goose.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your motor go?
"With sudden jumps
And mighty thumps,
And funerals all in a row!"
—Boston Herald.

Folly as It Flies.

I shot an aero in the air.
It fell to earth; I know just where,
Because I got a fearful sprain
From that descending aeroplane.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest of these: It might have been."



¶ For more than 30 years, every Xmas eve we have seen people saddened by the thought that they might have made a choice selection of presents a few days earlier.

¶ We hope this timely warning will prevent the usual delay.

¶ Our stock is the largest in our line in Quincy or the surrounding towns, and prices reasonable.

¶ WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, FANCY CHINA and a large line of NOVELTIES.

¶ The features of our store are courteous treatment and no misleading statements.

SHOP EARLY

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE

1473 Hancock Street, Quincy

Tel. 987 L

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

FOR YOUR HOLIDAY CANDIES

GO TO

S. G. EMANUEL CO.

1397-1399 Hancock Street Quincy

Headquarters for Xmas Cards and the biggest assortment of Fancy Boxes in Quincy.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911

NOW

One Hundred Styles to Select From

New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet

Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES

IN

Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever . . . . . .

L. A. CHAPIN

1395 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

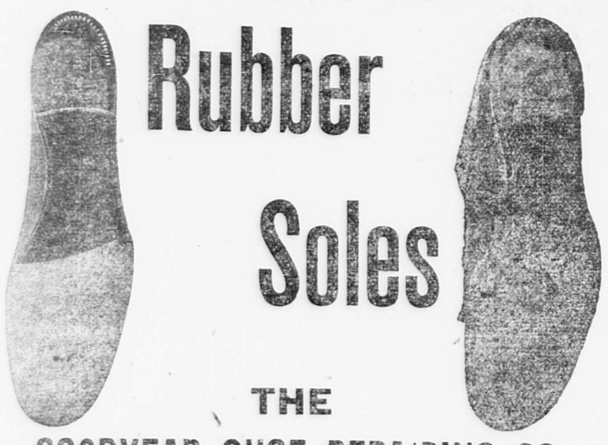
NERSES STUDIO

1507 Hancock Street

Tel. Con. QUINCY, MASS.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

O'SULLIVAN'S Rubber Soles



THE GOODYEAR SHOE REPAIRING CO.

10 Chestnut Street, QUINCY

Dec. 1-14

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GO TO FOLSOM'S FOR YOUR ...CHRISTMAS PRESENTS...

You Will Get Good Value for Your Money,
Also the BEST line in the city to select from.

DOLLS 5c to $1.00. GAMES 5c to 50c. TOY TEA SETS 5c to $1.49
MECHANICAL TOYS 10c to $1.00. IRON TOYS 10c to $1.00
HILL CLIMBERS 5oc to $1.00.
FULL ASSORTMENT OF IMPORTED CHINA WARE.

C. A. FOLSOM & CO.

We Give Legal Stamps 7 GRANITE STREET

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

NICKERSON'S

CANDY SHOP

6 Maple Street Johnson's Block

Candies Made Fresh Every Day

You All Know the Kind We Make

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

William Westland

HEADQUARTERS FOR

Pocket and Table Cutlery, Razors, Shears and Scissors Sleds, Skates, etc. for the HOLIDAYS

1597 HANCOCK STREET

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

...Come NOW for Christmas Work...

A. W. PIERCE

.... Portrait Photographer ....

Adams Building — Quincy, Massachusetts

COPYING ENLARGING COMMERCIAL WORK

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

New Up to Date Furniture Store

At 1601 Hancock Street

THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.

It will pay you to visit our new up-to date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture, Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.

CASH or CREDIT

Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time.

Dec. 1 6t

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

COOK IS TIRED OF SELF-EXILE

Explorer Will Return to United States Before Christmas

CONFESSION TO THE PUBLIC

Admits That He Does Not Know Whether He Reached North Pole or Not—Was Half Mad From Privation and Loneliness—Was Bewildered and Believed His Own Story as Told at Copenhagen

New York, Dec. 1.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook has confessed that he does not know whether he reached the North Pole.

He has said, too, that he is tired of living the life of an exile from his own country, and intends to return to the United States, landing at New York on Dec. 22, with his wife and children, in time to spend Christmas with his relatives in Brooklyn.

His one desire, he adds, is to re-establish himself in the estimation of his countrymen; he realizes the position he has held in the public eye since his flight from this city last November, and the confession he has written is for the purpose of settintg him rigat.

The discredited explorer does not say outright that he failed to reach the Pole. He merely admits that he is not sure, remarking that he was half mad from privation and loneliness, but convinced himself at the time that he had really attained the goal of his ambition.

He insists that he did not appreciate the tremendous popular interest in such a feat, and was overwhelmed and bewildered by the attention he found concentrated upon himself from the time he landed at Copenhagen.

Yet at the time, he declares, he believed his own story. Now, in the light of reflection, he is not so positive. It would be impossible, he says, for any man to assert positively that he had reached the spot where all meridians meet.

It is in a series of four articles to be published in Hampton's Magazine that Cook discusses this and other phases of the drama which absorbed the world in the months that stretched between his reception at the Danish capital and the last tense days at the Hotel Gramatan in Bronxville.

The writer pays particular attention to the psychology of his life at that time. In fact, he goes back years into his past to trace the desire for exploration that finally became a reasonless craving, driving him on and on, regardless of perils, through the isolation and suffering of the two years he spent behind the ice wall in the north. For Cook declines to admit that he did not pay the price of the explorer, even if he failed to win the laurels.

Among the remarkable facts brought out by Cook's story is that all the time he has been missing he has never worn a disguise, and has never taken unusual precaution to conceal his identity. Part of the time his wife has been with him, and part of the time his children. The children are now at a retreat in France, and Cook and his wife are in Europe.

35,000 TUBERCULAR CASES

Not Beds Enough to Accommodate Patients In Massachusetts

Boston, Dec. 1.—That there are 35,000 cases of well developed tuberculosis in the state of Massachusetts is the statement made in a report by the special commission created by the last legislature and appointed by Governor Draper to investigate the care of tubercular patients.

The provision of from 5000 to 6000 additional beds for the use of tubercular patients; the payment by the state of a subsidy of $5 per week for each non-paying tubercular patient in local hospitals; and the establishment of a system by means of which, under certain restrictions, tubercular patients may be supplied with food at their homes, are features of the report of the commission.

LEFT ABOUT $20,000,000

Opinion of Business Associates of the Late Michael Cudahy

Chicago, Dec. 1.—That the late Michael Cudahy left an estate of about $20,000,000 is the opinion of business associates of the packer. First estimates ranged from $4,000,000 to $10,000,000.

It is now asserted that Cudahy's interest in the Cudahy Packing company alone represented $8,000,000. He also owned a controlling interest in the North Alaska Transporation company and was heavily interested in Oklahoma, Texas and California oil properties.

Suicide In Public

Boston, Dec. 1.—John F. Donohoe, formerly confidential secretary to Thomas W. Lawson, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of an elevated train at the Union station of the Washington street tunnel. He lived in Lynn, and his family cannot give any cause for his act.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

BIG BEN

AND THE

MISSING LINK

MAKE USEFUL

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We also have a choice selection of Watches and Jewelry

OUR OPTICAL DEPARTMENT is well equipped for examining the eyes and filling prescriptions, replace broken lenses and general repairing.

C. F. PETTENCILL

1391 HANCOCK ST.

QUINCY

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES

CIGARS

At Wholesale and Retail

Big Variety of Pipes

STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS

Opposite Quincy Station

AND A GREATER VARIETY THAN EVER

* * *

We have added another Floor to our Store making it double the size

BARGAIN BASEMENT

Winer's Variety Store

Adams Building.

CALLS WIDOW A "VAMPIRE"

Killed Husband In Waltham Laundry, Declares Lawyer

WHAT DEFENSE WILL CLAIM

Johnson Says Mrs. Glover Had Motive and Intent to Murder and Opportunity to Carry Out the Plan—Hard Fight Over Admission of Glover's Dying Statement, Which Court Will Not Admit as Evidence

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Clarence F. Glover yesterday was accused in open court of murdering her husband by Attorney Melvin M. Johnson. This startling accusation was made by Hattie LeBlanc's lawyer in the course of a denunciation of the Waltham laundryman's widow.

In an argument before Judge Bond, with the jury excluded, for the admission of testimony concerning Mrs. Glover, Johnson said:

"I desire to show that Mrs. Glover was a vampire. That is just what I mean. I use the word advisedly. That is what I propose to prove and show to the jury. I intend to show that she had intended to kill her husband. I intend to prove that Mrs. Glover had the opportunity to commit the the crime by her presence in the vicinity of the crime itself."

Lawyer Johnson said that he proposed to offer evidence regarding Mrs. Glover on the following points:

First, that she had the motive to murder her husband.

Second, that she had the intent to murder her husband.

Third, that she had formed a design or plan for the murder of Mr. Glover.

Fourth, that she had the physical and mental capacity to carry out her design.

Fifth, that she had the means, namely, the revolver, with which to carry out her plan.

Sixth, that she had the opportunity to carry out her plan.

Following the exclusion from the case of the dying statement of Glover, in which he said that Hattie LeBlanc shot him, the trial started off with a swing. Assistant District Attorney Wier made the opening address for the commonwealth, and witnesses for the prosecution were called.

The story of the dying moments of Glover, after he had staggered from his laundry to the steps of the house of Dr. Cousens, was told by Thomas H. Counors, Mrs. Mary A. Dutch, Dr. Cousens and others.

The two bullets that snuffed out the life of Glover were shown in court during the testimony of Medical Examiner West. The clothing that Glover wore when he was killed was also shown. Hattie LeBlanc sat up straight in her chair, listening intently to every word of evidence. She glanced toward the bullets and the clothing, but manifested no emotion.

Medical Examiner West testified that he judged that the bullets that killed Glover were fired not more than three inches from him. He reached this conclusion because the cloth was burned in Glover's clothing and there were powder marks.

District Attorney Higgins made a hard fight, taking up all of Tuesday and part of Wednesday in it, to get Glover's dying statement into the case. Lawyer Johnson, for Hattie LeBlanc, opposed it just as strenuously.

Judge Bond made his decision shortly before noon. He said in his ruling:

"The fact that Glover said he was dying does not mean that he actually thought so. Persons in agony or ill often exclaim aloud, using the very words, 'am dying.' But this is very different from the pallor and the despair shown on their faces when a physician has declared that all hope is over."

A short recess was taken, after which the jury, which had been excluded while the controversy over the dying statement was going on, was brought into the courtroom and Charles J. Wier, assistant district attorney, outlined the state's case to the jury.

Mr. Wier said that the commonwealth was anxious that Hattie LeBlanc should have the fairest treatment. "The commonwealth," said Wier, "wants no innocent person to suffer."

Mrs. Glover, called as the government's sixth witness against Miss LeBlanc, failed positively to identify the overcoat, alleged to be Glover's; the revolver with which he was shot, and two handkerchiefs, one alleged to be Glover's and one Hattie's, found at the murder scene.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

No Doubt About It

JOHNSON BROS.' MARKET

IS THE

Lowest Price Quality Store

WE wish to call the attention of our customers and to the buying Public of Quincy and surrounding towns, that after a careful inspection and comparison, we consider that, taking the quality and genuine value of our goods, that we are the lowest priced store in Massachusetts.

Now, this may seem to be a broad statement to some people but we stand ready to PROVE our statement. We claim that nowhere in Quincy or any part of Massachusetts, do they sell better QUALITY or do they charge lower prices for the same QUALITY of goods than we do. We have been noted for years for the QUALITY of the goods we sell, and are ever ready to make good when the goods are not just as represented, and nowhere can you get such a guarantee of Quality. You all know that there is a certain value to High Quality Provisions as well as other commodities that you use; and when you go along the street and read the advertisements of different dealers who are selling you something at a ridiculously low price, you can depend upon it that you are surely buying a gold brick, for you cannot buy something that is absolutely worth thirty cents for fifteen cents and expect Quality any more than you can buy a three thousand dollar automobile for fifteen hundred and expect it to be just as good.

Now we have posted ourselves on the different grades of the other dealers and we say once more that we are the lowest priced Quality Store in Quincy or Massachusetts, and we ask you, if you want proof, to call and compare our goods and prices with what you are paying.

Just now the market has eased off considerably and we were one of the first dealers to give our customers the benefit, showing you that we are WITH the people, our customers, at all times.

CHRISTMAS will be here soon and we wish to inform our customers that we shall have a grand display of DELICIOUS fresh Goods for the trade. No cheap trash, but fresh, wholesome, clean stock—the only kind FIT TO BUY, TO EAT, and the prices will be hammered down just as hard as possible for them to be and for us to live; so we invite you to our store, where you can see that our statements are all absolutely true in every respect.

Space will not permit us to quote at length our prices but below will be found the prices of a few things that we know to be of more than special value.

Curtice Bro's Family Tomatoes	12 1-2c a can	Regular Value 15c
" " Cut, String or Wax Beans	10c a can	Regular Value 15c
" " Maine Sweet Corn	12 1-2c a can	Regular Value 15c
" " Small Peas (that fresh sweet flavor)	17c a can	Regular Value 20c
" " Champion of England Peas ONE OF THE BEST GROWN	15c a can	Regular Value 18c
" " May Duke Peas (a winner)	10c a can	Regular Value 13c

QUEEN LOUISE FLOUR at 90c a bag

We ask you to use some of this flour and if you do not find it to be the best you ever used, return the empty bag to us and receive your money back. This is the guarantee that goes with the FLOUR.

We sell the famous La Touraine Coffee for 35c a pound. The EQUAL of any 40c coffee on the Market.

With each pound of La Touraine Coffee we give FREE any 5c bar of soap you wish.

Our line of Teas are the BEST in Quincy, carefully selected and chosen to suit the heavy and light tea tastes of our customers. One special Tea at 60c we wish to call your attention to, a regular $1.00 Quality. Try some.

Our Market—always the best always the LOWEST PRICED and the VERY HIGHEST QUALITY. This part of our large business speaks for itself. It needs no debate, as it is in a class all by itself; but of one thing you may be sure, considering the Quality, we are surely cutting the prices on GOOD SUBSTANTIAL CORN FED BEEF.

We have our prices on MEAT on our price Board in plain sight of every one who enters our store, and all we ask is, compare Quality and then compare Prices, and you will see that we are not selling you NOTHING for SOMETHING, but for every penny you spend with us, you get your penny's worth in return, in WEIGHT and MEASURE and QUALITY, to say nothing of HEALTH and HAPPINESS in your HOME because a poor QUALITY of cheap meats never promotes HEALTH and therefore little HAPPINESS.

JOHNSON BROS.

QUINCY SQUARE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 125
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Mr. Bryan hasn't bolted-but is bolted in-or out, we don't know which.

With all their controversies Mr. Ballinger and Mr. Pinchot have been successful in avoiding mix-ups on the tariff.

Science manages to maintain a normal balance in human affairs by discovering new diseases about as rapily as it discovers cures for old ones.

Porterhouse steaks and tenderloin of pork are again getting in smelling distance of the average well-to-do citizen, at least.

In vain has the Meat Trust endeavored to fool a wiley old fellow like the chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture.

Brockton may well be pleased over the end of its fiscal year which closed Wednesday for it records that nearly every department has lived within its appropriation.

UNCLE SAM'S STAMPS.

The fact that nearly all men at some time were stamp collectors is said to account for the popularity of the official stamp collection of the United States Post-Office Department maintained in connection with the postal museum in Washington. Post-office Department officials say one hundred thousand men call every year to see the museum stamp collection.

The Post-office Department museum is full of interesting objects. It contains almost everything from a lock of Charles Guiteau's hair to models of the big battleships of the navy, but by far its most interesting feature, according to the officials in charge, is the stamp collection. Few visitors miss that sight, and many "hobbyists" spend hours poring over it.

Uncle Sam as a stamp collector is a most signal success. He not only has a complete set of his own stamps, but a complete collection from every other stamp-issuing country in the civilized world as well. His collection is valued by the department at $200,000, but stamp dealers say it would demand a figure many times that sum if placed on the open market for sale.

The fact that Uncle Sam's stamp collection is absolutely complete is a statement difficult to comprehend, even to those who have been collectors themselves. Most of those who were collectors in years gone by will remember how many empty places there were in their albums when they gloried in the possession of fifteen hundred and two thousand specimens. They will recall how many new varieties above the two thousand mark cost from five to fifty dollars each; also the small fortunes placed on some of the specially rare specimens, the kind which the dealers' catalogs related had been printed only to the number of one hundred or so, and but six or seven were known to be in existence.

Well, Uncle Sam's stamp collection possesses all of these, besides the thousands of common kinds. Although it has taken hard work, many years and a tidy fortune to do it, the collection today stands absolutely complete. The only varieties yet to be added are those yet to be issued.—Baltimore American.

☞The afternoons at the Mothers' Association might be called, Mothers' rest afternoons. Here the women, who are anxious to learn of things which are helpful in the training of children, gather for an hour or so and listen to some good speaker. They go home rested and refreshed with inspiration to do even better work for their family of children. If these meetings could reach all the mothers in Quincy who need this sort of rest and intercourse they would be a power for good in our community. They are free to all women interested in child nuture and training. They are held on the first Wednesday of every month at three o'clock in eBthany chapel. On Wednesday, Dec. 7, Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley of Boston will speak upon "The Real Mother." Dec. 1 5t

ENFORCE THE CURFEW LAW

A Clergyman Is Sure That It Is Needed

Editor of the Ledger:

I was glad to see the Ledger's suggestion that the curfew law be enforced. Something drastic should be done to save our boys and girls from the moral dangers and pitfalls lurking in indiscriminate intercourse at night on the streets. The language and conduct forced upon the eye and ear by these youthful street loiters are not only shocking to the moral sense of decent people, but are an indication that these conditions of free and unchecked companionship under cover of darkness, breed juvenile crime and immorality. When parents have lost control of their children or as in some cases are indifferent where their children are, or what they are doing on into the night, it is time that the authorities step in and keep them from harmful associations.

In other cities and towns where curfew law has been enforced, immorality has decreased greatly because the opportunity for prolonged intercourse is withdrawn. Enforce the curfew law.

Richard E. Armstrong.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c

TO-NIGHT Arcadia
NEW WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
10c 25c. 50c. All Druggists

NEW ORDER FOR QUINCY

E. J. Sandberg at Head of Loyal Order of Moose

With a membership of over fifty representative citizens, the new Quincy lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose was instituted Wednesday evening in Protection hall by National Organizer Arthur W. Hayden, dictator of Boston lodge, No. 34, under most promising conditions.

DICTATOR LABRECQUE

The installing officers were assisted in the work by a suite of officers from the Boston lodge including, Vice Dictator Samuel Lantry, Prelate William E. Henderson, Past Dictator Samuel Whitcomb and a degree staff of fifteen. The work was prettily executed.

The officers installed for the ensuing years are:

Past Dictator—Edward J. Sandberg.
Dictator—Alfred N. LaBrecque.
Vice Dictator—L. E. Cladin.
Prelate—William H. Gould.
Secretary—Arthur B. Hultman.
Treasurer—Richard P. Clark.
Sergeant at Arms—E. N. Carey.
Inner Guard—John W. Revenery.
Outer Guard—S. A. Gallagher.
Physicians—John A. Anderson and Harry P. Healy.

Trustees—Alfred J. West, John T. Pearce and Oscar Swanson.

The new lodge will keep its charter open for thirty days. Deputy National Organizer Edward J. Barden, who has charge of the organizing of the Quincy lodge, has established headquarters in room 12, Johnson building.

FADETTES AT THE GAS SHOW.

One of the chief attractions at the Gas Show to be held in Mechanics' building, from December 7th to 13th, inclusive will be the music.

After canvassing the music field very thoroughly, the management has selected and secured the services of the Fadettes Orchestra, for the entire Show—two performances daily, afternoon and evening.

Music lovers of Boston will be particularly pleased at having once more an opportunity to hear this remarkable organization which is so well known over the entire eastern part of the country.

The musical arrangements are being made by John H. Densmore, and the fact that Mrs. Caroline B. Nichols is to conduct, is a guarantee that the performances will be fully up to the exceptionally high standard which this Company has always maintained.

The programs to be provided for the week of the Exhibition will be varied and arranged with a particular view to please all lovers of good music, and will in the course of the week cover a highly interesting and very wide field.

The Gas Show is certainly to be congratulated on its success in securing this attraction.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

JOHNSON BROTHERS'
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

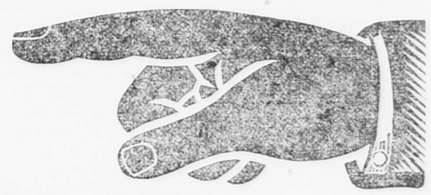
Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 30c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS RETURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

MAN'S GREATEST AMBITION IS TO HAVE A COMFORTABLE HOME



ONCE in a while you'll find a man content with his lot in life, but he doesn't typify the great American spirit of progress or helpfulness to his fellow man. The man worth while is the man with ambition to improve his surroundings—the man with a determination to get ahead. We help the progressive man to have an ideal comfortable home in which to enjoy his leisure moments, entertain his friends and make his family happier. Here where rents are measured by yards and not by inches, as in Boston, we sell you everything in the HOUSE FURNISHING LINE at low prices, making it EASY TO BUY and EASY TO PAY.

¶ WE URGE YOU TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT and enjoy now, while you can, the same comforts that others are enjoying, by taking advantage of our co-operative system of buying and paying.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock Street
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 1-1t

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

R. E. FOY & CO.

GROCERY

He's Coming!

Christmas will be here shortly. Meanwhile you should stock up with a full line of our Canned Fruits.

These goods are all of this year's pack, therefore fresh and good, with the taste that nature intended them to have.

Make up your order from this list, and note what a saving there is in dozen lots.

	Can.	Doz.
APRICOTS
Hunt's Supreme	.30	3.25
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75
Flag	.25	2.75
Oro	.20	2.10
LaVerne	.15
BLUEBERRIES
Red Lilly	.15	1.60
Loggie	.12 1-2	1.40
PEACHES
Hunt's Supreme	.30	3.40
" " sliced	.30	3.40
Golden Poppy	.28	2.60
" " sliced	.23	2.65
Hatchet	.23	2.40
" sliced	.23	2.75
Oro	.20	2.20
" sliced	.20	2.20
Tremont, sliced	.10
RHUBARB
Quality	.10
CHERRIES
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75

	Can.	Doz.
PEARS
Oro	.20	2.35
Hunt's Extra	.35	2.85
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75
Silver Lake	.15	1.60
Red Letter	.15	1.60
RASPBERRIES
Red Lilly	.18	2.10
Golden Harp	.28	3.10
PINEAPPLES
Sovereign, sliced	.25
" grated	.20
Pyramid Chunks	.10
Grated Pie	.10
Cocktail	.10
STRAWBERRIES
Red Lilly	.20	2.25
Golden Harp	.28	3.10
PLUMS
Golden Poppy	.22
JAMS in glass
Logan & Johnson's	.15

MARKET

Begin to plan for Christmas Now

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 1-3

Phone 117

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

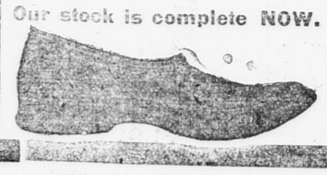
DO YOU WANT YOUR RUBBERS TO LAST ALL WINTER? IF SO, BUY GOLD SEAL!!! IF NOT, BUY THE OTHER KINDS.

GOLD SEAL RUBBERS AND . . SNAG PROOF BOOTS.

Even our competitors will admit that in GOLD SEAL RUBBERS we have THE BEST RUBBERS IN THE WORLD for Men, Women and Children. We have the exclusive agency for Quincy; no other dealer can get them and YOU CAN'T BUY THEM ANYWHERE BUT AT THE

GRANITE SHOE STORE
QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET.

Our stock is complete NOW.



Start the Winter RIGHT with a Pair of GOLD SEAL RUBBERS. Get a pair the next time you are down town.

GRANITE SHOE STORE QUINCY AGENCY FOR GOLD SEAL RUBBERS

GRANITE SHOE STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

EMPTY SHELL SAYS RICHARDS

Replies to Shea's Blank Cartridge Epistle

Editor of Daily Ledger:

In reply to the letter of His Honor the Mayor in your issue of Nov. 30, published under the caption "A Blank Cartridge" This referred to a little skating pond order for Ward Three. His Honor says that he was advised of certain things. He has been wrongly advised. Facts and not fancies are good enough for me at all times.

The facts as I remember them in the small matter are as follows: On Nov. 6, 1909, I introduced an order in the City Council requesting the Park Commissioners to inform the Council as to the feasibility of flooding the Ward Three playground for a skating pond. It was adopted. (See Quincy Ledger Report. Dec. 7, 1909.)

Shortly after, the Commissioner of Public Work and the late Dexter E. Wadsworth met me at the Ward Three grounds. We looked over the situation carefully, decided that it was apparently feasible. I was assured that the money was available for the purpose, and that the engineer would come and place the levels. This we know was done some time later.

In answer to my question in the Council to the Commissioner of Public Works, why the skating park was not in evidence, I was informed that it was not feasible to do so on the Ward Three grounds, but that they had done some work at another place on the opposite side of Water street. I have no knowledge however of any property of the city located in the locality mentioned.

The foregoing are the facts as near as my memory and proofs bear on the subject. Some of my time was spent in the matter, as I consider that the young people through their representatives were entitled to the courtesy of being consulted as to the change of place. It is indeed interesting and instructive to see how quickly our honorable Mayor responds to such an important matter. The only public mention to this was made by me at the Ward Three Republican Rally Nov. 29, 1910, and there simply mentioned in a casual way that we were to have it but did not get it.

The object is obvious, but the foundation for this attack on me is defective. This kind however are apparently considered good enough to build on at this time.

Would it not, Your Honor, be well at this time to answer my questions asked you over two weeks ago at the Ward Six Republican rally. They really seem to the general public of more importance than the Ward Three playground. I understand that you had a typewritten copy on your desk the morning following the rally and having had two weeks to consider the matter with an able corps of assistants I would suggest that you start the Publicity Board at work so that our masters, the voters, may have the privilege of at least two days to consider what has been before you over two weeks.

It seems only fair to them that you grant it. The last three questions are the ones you have been considering so long. Silence and the eleventh hour answer, you know, is not good form, so come, like a good fellow, speak right up in meeting. You know that we all want to be frank and fair with you. Reciprocate.

Here are the questions so that the public may know them too.

Would you, as a business man and a well wisher of the community, say that the methods employed in the Street and Sewer departments of our city at this time are making for the best interests of our city, viewed either from a practical or moral standpoint. Have there been any removals in the Sewer department recently for drunkenness or destruction of public property. If so, when and on what grounds?

Did the Mayor or did he not, accept the Coddington school and the Lincoln school additions over the protests of the Commissioner of Public Works and the Building Inspector, and if so does he stand ready personally to assume the expense incurred on the Coddington school and such as may be incurred on the Lincoln additions to place them in proper and safe condition?

Are the permanent sidewalks, so called, made in accordance with the order and specifications, and has the contractor furnished the materials as called for in the contract? If not, why not?

Is the paving on Brook road and Hancock street in accordance with the order and specifications and have the payments for the same been made by the yard or by the thousand? Will suggest that we do not wish to be told that paving was scarce, etc.

John R. Richards.

76 Centre Street, Quincy.

(Advertisement.)

BRIEFS

December.

Only three weeks in which to do the Christmas shopping.

The Daily Ledger puts on a Holiday appearance today.

The petition of the school teachers, for increase of salaries, is printed in full today in the school column.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church is to give a play tomorrow night.

The music department of Boston are planning for a music pavilion of granite and marble to be located in Boston Common at a cost of $25,000. Architects are now working on the plans.

Elijah which was so well given last season by the Quincy Choral society is the oratorio which the Brockton Choral society has selected for its opening concert on Dec. 16.

The lecture to have been given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. C. O. Tyler of Abington at the Quincy Women's club was postponed on account of the rain. It will be given the last of January.

Richard E. Brooks, formerly of Quincy, the well known sculptor, has been employed to make the bas-relief portrait medalion of the late ex-Mayor Hibbard of Boston. The death mask was made by Mrs. H. H. Kitson as Mr. Brooks was in Europe.

The New York, Boston & Brockton Canal & Transportation Co., meets tonight at the board of trade rooms to choose delegates to the national rivers and harbors congress at Washington on Dec. 7, 8 and 9. Frank Fessenden Crane goes from Quincy.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL.

The Salvation Army of this city is planning as usual to gladden poor homes in Quincy, in sending out a number of baskets for Christmas. The people of Quincy and vicinity are kindly requested to help the local work in its effort for the poor within our own city. There is abundant proof that there are real cases of need. The public feeling towards the Salvation Army's work for the poor in Quincy has been both of sympathy and generosity. All donations sent to Captain Victor Olander, 150 Granite street, will go to the poor in Quincy.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

TRIPLETS LIFE MEMBERS

Wentworth Children Attracting Much Attention

Auxiliaries of the Women's foreign missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, in Boston, Cambridge, Lynn and Malden, held a union meeting on Wednesday, says the Globe, at People's temple. The conference was attended by about 150 women.

The triplets Laura, Barbara and William who were recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth of Quincy, were made life members of the little light bearers' section of the society. The $30 necessary to make the infants life members was raised by a collection among the women present.

The meeting opened with devotional exercises by Miss A. R. Brown and Mrs. A. H. Nazarian. These were followed by the reading of the reports of the secretaries of the districts represented. Addresses were made by Mrs. C. H. Stackpole and Mrs. R. W. Carter, both of whom spoke on "Young People's Work." Mrs. C. H. Stowell on "Children's Work." Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson, Miss Clementina Butler and Mrs. William Butler, who is one of the founders of the Women's foreign missionary society. Mrs. Fayette Nichols read a message from the secretary of the executive conference.

MISS TRASK'S TALK.

In Bethany chapel on Wednesday afternoon Miss Trask of the Woman's Home Missionary Society spoke of the work of that society in the rural churches of Massachusetts. Introducing her subject, Miss Trask spoke of Theodore Roosevelt's investigations into the sociological condition of New England's outlying communities ,and the great importance which he attached to the subject. Miss Trask has spent two years in this field of work, in summer as assistant in the Berkshire tent mission, in winter as pastor's helper in various needy churches. She drew a vivid picture of the barrenness of life on isolated farms, and gave a convincing account of what missionary work has been able to accomplish there especially for the women and children.

PROMINENT IN COUNTY

J. P. S. Churchill, Clerk of Court, Passes Away

John P. S. Churchill, clerk of the district court at Quincy, who died Wednesday at his winter home, 859 Beacon street, Boston, was born in Milton in 1858, and came from a family of jurists. His father was judge of the district that formerly comprised Milton and Dorchester, and was a nephew of Judge Joseph R. Churchill of the Dorchester Municipal court.

Mr. Churchill was graduated from the Boston University law school in 1882, and was admitted to the Suffolk bar in 1883, and to the bar of the Supreme court in 1892. In 1890 he was appointed clerk of the district court of East Norfolk for five years, and has received successive appointments since that time. He was at one time in the law office of Godfrey Morse and later with William W. Doherty.

Mr. Churchill had been in poor health for some time and a few weeks ago went to Virginia for his health. He returned Tuesday night having received no improvement.

He was prominent in the Norfolk club and other political organizations and a staunch Republican.

NEW CAR LINE.

Some changes will be made in the street railway schedule beginning next Monday, the most important of which is a line of cars that will run between Quincy Point and Houghs Neck making connection with trains at the Quincy depot.

On the Norfolk Downs line cars will run on the half hour during the morning and evening and hourly during the middle of the day.

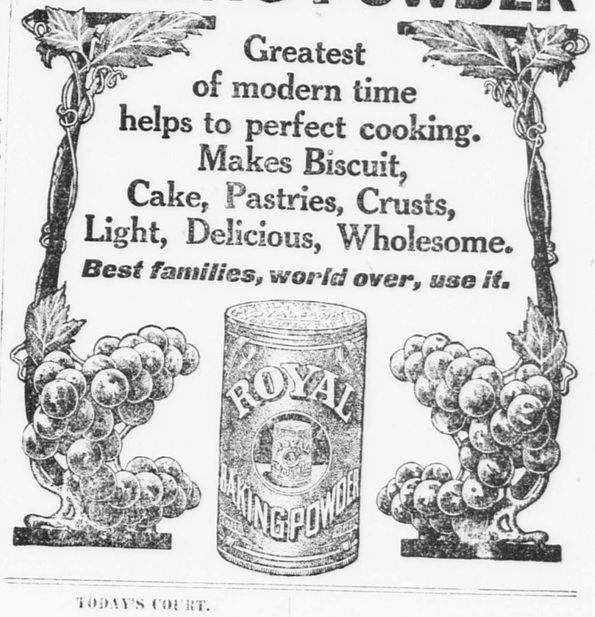
Cars on the Quincy and Weymouth Landing line will leave on the hour and half hour connecting with trains at the Quincy depot.

☞Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Greatest of modern time helps to perfect cooking. Makes Biscuit, Cake, Pastries, Crusts, Light, Delicious, Wholesome.

Best families, world over, use it.



TODAY'S COURT.

Forty-five continued cases, mostly for drunkenness, were disposed of today.

Patrick McDonald was find $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Clarence Donahue was arraigned for receiving stolen property to the value of $62 at Milton. Case continued until Saturday.

Hannah Blondie was arraigned for being a common railer and brawler at Braintree. She was sentenced to the State farm and appealed.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '96
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

Death of Mrs. Lippitt

Providence, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Marie L. Lippitt, wife of Henry F. Lippitt, textile manufacturer, and candidate for the United States senate, died suddenly at her home here from heart trouble.

Arrest of Oil Officials

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1.—Warrants of arrest were served on local representatives of the Standard Oil company, alleging violations of the North Carolina anti-trust law.

"Did you ever git what you prayed for?"

"Not always; but I had de satisfaction er distractin' de angels!"—Atlanta Constitution.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

DOUBLE LECAL STAMPS 'All Day Friday and Saturday This Week

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTIONS

Quincy's Leading Clothing, Gent's Furnishings and Shoe House

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS All Day Friday and Saturday This Week

CLOTHING!

MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S OVERCOATS
Presto and Convertable Collars
$9.87, $11.87, $14.87, $18.00, $20.00, $22.50, $25.00

BLACK KERSEY OVERCOATS
$9.87, $11.87, $14.87, $18.00, $20.00 $22.50

BOYS' SCHOOL OVERCOATS
Presto and Convertable Collars
$2.98, $3.98, $4.98, $5.87, $6.87, $9.87

MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S SUITS
$5.87 to $25.00 Large Assortment
Some Gray and Brown effects in Worsted and Wool
All Worsted Blue Suits $9.87 to $20.00

CHILDREN'S SUITS
Knickerbocker Pants
Wool and Worsted
$1.98 to $8.00

CHILDREN'S BLUE SERGE SUITS
$2.98 $3.98 $4.98 $6.00
Best Values on Earth

LARGE VARIETY CHILDREN'S OVERCOATS
Latest Models, Newest Patterns
$1.48 $1.98 $2.48 $2.98 $3.48 $3.98 $4.98 $6.00 $7.00 $8.00

MEN'S WORKING COATS
Wool Lined $1.48 to $3.98
Cloth Lined $2.98 to $6.00

MEN'S RUSSIAN VESTS
$1.98, $2.48, $2.98

BEACH JACKETS
$1.98, $2.87

MEN'S AND BOYS OIL SKIN COATS AND SUITS

BATH ROBES
$2.98, $3.98, $4.98
LATEST EFFECTS

SMOKING JACKETS
$2.98, $3.98, $4.98, $6.00, $7.50

RAIN COATS $9.87 to $25.00

RUBBER SLIP-ON COATS
MEN'S $5.00 LADIES' $6.00

SPECIAL MEN'S HEAVY MACKINTOSH COATS
$7.00 Value HOLIDAY PRICE $4.98

DRESS GLOVES
Kid, Cape and Mocha
Lined and Unlined
98c, $1.15, $1.50, $2.00
Regular $1.50 Gloves
SPECIAL FOR HOLIDAYS $1.15

FUR LINED KID AND MOCHA GLOVES
$2.98, $3.98, $4.98

BOYS AND CHILDREN'S LINED AND UNLINED DRESS GLOVES
50c 75c $1.00

ALL KINDS WOOL AND WORSTED GLOVES
For Men, Boys and Children
25c 48c 75c $1.00

MEN'S WORKING GLOVES AND MITTENS
LEATHER AND WOOLEN
25c to $2.00

GENUINE BUCK GLOVES
Lined and Unlined
59c 98c $1.25 $1.50 $2.00

AUTOMOBILE GLOVES
Black and Tan
$1.00 $1.50

SILK MUFFLERS
Large variety
50c to $3.00

PHOENIX AND WAY'S MUFFLERS
FOR MEN AND WOMEN
39c 50c
ALL COLORS

MEN'S HATS
Lamson and Hubbard and John C. Wilson
Stiff and Soft Hats $3.00
Our Special $2.00

Stiff Hat Equal to Any $2.50 Made Large Variety of Men's Stiff and Soft Hats $1.50

NECKWEAR
If it goes around the neck we have it. Large variety made especially for us for Christmas. All styles in neat fancy boxes
25c 35c 50c 69c $1.00 $1.50

SPECIAL
Regular 50c Neckwear 35c
Regular $1.00 Neckwear 69c

SUSPENDERS
IN fancy boxes
25c 39c 50c 75c $1.00 $1.25 $1.50
A very useful gift

ARM BANDS
Everything you can think of 19c 25c 39c 50c
in fancy boxes

CUFF BUTTONS 25c to $2.00
SCARF PINS 25c to $2.00
Large Variety

TRUNKS 98c to $15.00
SUIT CASES 98c to $7.50
BAGS 69c to $6.00
LUNCH BAGS 39c, 48c

MEN'S WINTER CAPS
ALL FUR CAPS
$2.00 $3.00

FUR BAND CAPS
98c $1.25 $2.00 $2.00

INDIGO BLUE CAPS
50c 69c 98c $1.50

FUR INSIDE BAND CAPS
50c 69c 89c 98c

ALL WOOL ENGLISH GOLF CAPS
50c 69c 89c 98c

NIGHT ROBES
Men's, Boy's and Children's Cotton and Flannel
Plain and Fancy
50c 75c 89c 98c $1.50

PAJAMAS
MEN'S AND BOYS'
COTTON AND FLANNEL,
PLAIN AND FANCY
98c $1.48

SWEATERS
The most complete line in the city for Men, Women, Boys and Children and cheaper than Boston prices
Plain and fancy colors
MEN'S AND WOMEN'S
98c to $6.00

BOYS', GIRLS' AND CHILDREN'S
50c to $2.00

SPECIAL
Men's and Women's all Wool Shaker Sweaters, Gray, White and Crimson
$3.98 Worth $5.00

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S UMBRELLAS
Plain and Fancy Handles
Large Variety 75c to $5.00

BOYS' HATS AND CAPS
TELESCOPE SOFT HATS
All Colors 98c, $1.50
98c to $2.00
FUR INSIDE BAND CAPS
25c 39c 48c 69c
ASTRAKHAN BAND CAPS
48c
ALL KINDS BOYS' CAPS
25c 39c 48c

DRESS SHIRTS.
The leading makes represented here in large variety, Cluett, Monarch, Bates Street Model, Clarion, and Garland Dress Shirts
50c to $2.00
Large Assortment
$1.50 Shirts 79c
$1.50 Shirts $1.15
Extra Body Shirts for Large Men

BOYS' SHIRTS AND BLOUSES
25c 48c 75c 98c

BLUE AND GRAY FLANNEL SHIRTS
98c to $3.00

MEN'S UNDERWEAR
48c to $3.00

BOYS AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR
25c 39c $1.00

MEN'S HOSIERY
Cotton and Woolen
10c to 50c

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S HOSIERY
10c to 25c

HANDKERCHIEFS
Large variety for Men and Women
5c to $1.00

CHILDREN'S HEAD GEAR
Toques and Skating Caps large variety
25c 29c 48c

LEATHER TAMS
48c 98c $1.48 $1.98
All kinds Children's Hats and Caps
25c to $1.00
Camels Hair Tams
Regular $1.00 75c

SHOE DEPARTMENT

BOYS' HIGH CUT TAN AND BLACK SHOES
$2.00 $3.00 $3.50
Largest line in Quincy

BOYS' REGULAR CUT SHOES
All Styles and Leathers
$1.25 $1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

LITTLE GENTS' HIGH CUT BLACK AND TAN SHOES
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.48

REGULAR CUT ALL STYLES AND LEATHERS
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50 $2.00

The celebrated Knockabout Shoes for Misses and Children is the most satisfactory line on the market. We have them in all sizes, styles and leathers
High and Regular Cut

LADIES PATENT LEATHER AND KID SLIPPERS
High and low heel
$1.00 $1.25 $1.50 $2.00

LADIES' HOSPITAL SHOES
Rubber Heel $1.00, $1.50
Rubbers of every description for the whole family can be found in our shoe department. Every pair fully guaranteed

MEN'S REGENT AND FELLOW CRAFT SHOES
$3.50—$4.00
Every pair fully guaranteed. We have them all styles and leathers

Every style and leather represented in our $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 Shoes Guaranteed to give satisfaction

MEN'S HIGH CUT TAN AND BLACK SHOES
The best on earth
$2.98 $3.98 $4.98 $6.00
Warranted

MEN'S SLIPPERS BLACK AND TAN
50c 75c $1.00 $1.25 $1.50 $2.00
ALL STYLES

Sales agents in Quincy for the QUEEN QUALITY SHOES
$3.00 $3.50 $4.00

Nothing better for fit, style and comfort

ALL STYLES AND LEATHERS IN LADIES' SHOES
$1.50 $2.00 $2.50 $3.00

LADIES' FUR TOP SLIPPERS
All colors $1.00, $1.25, $1.50

LEGGINS AND GAITERS ALL KINDS

Bring your Legal Stamp Books to us we Redeem them, $2.50 in Merchandise, $2.00 in Cash

REMICK'S

MUSIC HALL BLOCK, QUINCY

Bring your Legal Stamp Books to us we redeem them, $2.50 in Merchandise, $2.00 in Cash

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Quincy People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Quincy.

P. J. Garrity, 367 Granite St., Quincy, Mass., says: "Some time ago I suffered so severely from kidney disease that I could hardly get about. I was restless at night and could not find any position that was comfortable. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and contained a heavy sediment. I was rapidly growing worse and was at a loss to know what to do, as the many remedies I tried failed to help me. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. After I had taken the contents of four boxes, I was in good health. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Bad BLOOD

"Before I began using Cascarets I had a bad complexion, pimples on my face, and my food was not digested as it should have been. Now I am entirely well, and the pimples have all disappeared from my face. I can truthfully say that Cascarets are just as advertised; I have taken only two boxes of them."

Clarence R. Griffin, Sheridan, Ind.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 927

QUEEN LOUISE
FLOUR
90c A BAG AT
JOHNSON BROTHERS

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-5

SHOES HEELED
--- IN --- TEN MINUTES
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

A LONG FELT WANT
HOUSEKEEPER'S HOSPITAL
— FOR — HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
Now is housecleaning time — IF — ANYTHING NEEDS REPAIRING
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy, Mass
CHINA and FURNITURE PACKING

Come to Us TO BE Rubbered

Our prices on
Men's, Ladies' Misses' and Children's RUBBERS
Have not advanced any, as usual the LOWEST IN THE CITY.
Grades, such as Shawmut, Shamrock, a guarantee with every pair, and numerous other well-known High Grades of Rubber Goods at cut prices.
Before buying your winter supply compare our prices with others.
LOUIS J. SMITH,
9 Depot St. 1465 Hancock St.
Quincy, Mass.
Nov. 2-1m

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School — Public Schools
Woodward Institute — Parochial School

SALARY PETITION

Following is the petition received by the School Committee on Tuesday from the teachers asking for an increase in salary the petition was signed by all of the public school teachers of the city:

To the School Committee of the City of Quincy

Gentlemen: We the undersigned, teachers of Quincy, feeling the stress of high prices and inadequate salaries, present to you the following statements for your consideration.

In the first place, we wish to say that we are striving to give the best that is in us in loyal and faithful serv ice to this city in whose employ we are, and whatever action you may see fit to take in the matter we place before you, we pledge the same kind of service in the future.

The rapid progress of educational thought and method has made necessary a broader, more thorough, and more extended preparation for the work of teaching, and for those who are in the work, the mastering of new subjects and methods and the constant striving for an ever higher degree of efficiency in teaching. We are earnestly desirous of measuring up to the highest standards of our day, yet the rise in prices with the resulting increase in the cost of living has made our salaries, never really adequate, utterly insufficient to allow us to indulge ourselves in summer study or travel, except to a very limited extent, or through the year to maintain that standard of living which in order to do the best work teachers must enjoy. In no other calling ,except perhaps that of the preacher, does high efficiency so much depend on a right attitude of mind, freedom from anxiety, a light heart, and a happy outlook on life. It is hardly possible for this state of mind to prevail among us under the present conditions.

Whether we maintain households, as do some of us, or board, as do others, the cost of living is so high and our salaries so low that many have found it necessary to spend time which they would gladly have given to general professional improvement in eking out their slender income by some other kind of work. Many of us have dedicated our lives to this work and are in it to stay. We have never tried to make the quality of our work correspond with the salaries we have been ceived, for then it would have been poor indeed, yet we feel that, when services rendered and compensation given for the same do not bear a right relation, there is just cause for a call for readjustment.

It has long been the policy of the Quincy School Committee in employing teachers to give residents of the city preference, when they have met the requirements. Many of these remain with us, but some with other bright young women from elsewhere, after they have gained proficiency by two or three years of teaching, have been drawn to other fields by the attraction of larger salaries. This has become so common that Quincy schools have been called a post-graduate course for the Bridgewater Normal school. The superintendent and principals know how much our schools have suffered from the loss of this rather exceptional talent and the frequent changes in the teaching corps. The question naturally arises. Can Quincy afford to continue this policy, when a comparatively small addition to the budget would not only do justice to the resident teachers, but also retain the greater part of this very desirable element in our teaching force?

We realize fuly that Quincy is not a wealthy city and that taxes are high, yet we believe she will do justice to her servants, especially the teachers, of whose faithfulness and devotion she has never had reason to complain, and pay them salaries that will compare favorably with other cities in similar circumstances.

By reference to the accompanying table, showing a comparison of teachers' salaries in twenty-three places in Massachusetts, you will see that the maximum salary of our grade teachers is absolutely the lowest, of our assistants in the High school with one other city, the lowest, and of our Grammar and High school masters among the lowest. Quincy is also lowest in the cost per pupil. This was correct last June, and we fear that she still bears this unenviable distinction. In ability to pay, however, shown approximately in the third column, there are four places lower, all of which pay larger salaries.

In view of all the facts stated above, and in the name of justice to us, your teachers, and for the best interests of our schools, we respectfully petition that the schedule of salaries be revised as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL

Head-master	$2,600
Sub-master	1,800
Assistants	1,000

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS.

Masters	$1,800
Masters' Assistants	800
Grade Teachers	700

The rate of increase to be that now provided in the rules of the School Committee.

During the past twenty years the salaries of the grade teachers and grammar masters have been increased only one hundred dollars.

The price of board has increased, teachers now pay from five and one-half to ten dollars per week.

The union scale of wages shows that carpenters, brick layers, plumbers and granite cutters receive more wages than the teachers of Quincy.

* * *

QUINCY HIGH.

The girls held a candy sale at the school after the regular session Wednesday at which a very inviting display of some-made confections was offered for sale. It is unnecessary to add that as most of the pupils have sweet tooths the supply was soon sold out. The proceeds of the sale are to be used by the young ladies to help defray the expense of a reception to be given to the foot ball team probably on the evening of Dec. 16.

* * *

A game of basket ball will be played in the gym Friday afternoon between the High school team and the University school of Boston. Manning, '11, is the captain of the basket ball squad, and it is probable that there will be three teams at the school. Friday's game will give the players a try out for the first team.

* * *

One of the Quincy High boys will probably be slated for membership in the all scholastic football team of the greater Boston district. At the present time however his name can not be made public.

* * *

The boys are putting in daily practice at basket ball in the gym, and from the present indications there is plenty of material for a crack team.

* * *

GRADED SCHOOLS.

Mr. Crowley, the builder of the new school building at Houghs Neck, expects to have the building ready for inspection by the school committee this week.

* * *

With sessions of the evening school four nights a week the High school building is illuminated nearly every night.

* * *

The petition of the masters and teachers for an increase in salary which appears in full in this column might well have been boiled down onehalf, and accomplished all that it was intended to do.

* * *

The army of teachers and school children will be glad to learn that Chairman Miller of the School Committee, who has been confined to his home by illness for a few days, is convalescent and will be out again in a few days.

* * *

The boys of the Coddington school are being instructed this afternoon in the game of soccer football by Angus Cameron, a local enthusiast.

* * *

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The sixty-sixth annual meeting of the Massachusetts Teachers' Association will be held in Huntington hall, Boston, Saturday beginning at 9.30 with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell of Abington. The topics for the morning session are: "The problem of combining efficiency and democracy in educational administrations," by Dr. David Snedden of Boston; "The public schools and the assimilation and Americanization of the immigrant" by Prof. Edward A. Steiner of Grinnell, Iowa; "Moral education," by Mrs. Ella Lyman Cabot of Boston, and a discussion by John F. McGrath of the Eliot school, of Boston.

The topic for the afternoon session is "Training for Citizenship" with addresses by Hon. Robert Luce and Marion LeRoy Burton, president of Smith college. At 3.30 there will be a business session with reports and election of officers. Francis Cogswell will deliver the necrology and Frederick A. Tupper will have a paper on "Educational progress." The session will close with the annual meeting of the council of education. Several teachers from the Quincy schools are planning to attend the meeting.

NO LICENSE

(Continued from Page 1.)

boat a little, but it is too big for them to tip over.

And so we will go on and elect our Mayor, of whatever party, and doubtless the city will continue to prosper as usual.

But on election day we will find at the bottom of our ballot a question which is different. It is the never-to-be-avoided saloon question. Here is something which does not divide voters on party lines, for there is no politics in it in the ordinary sense; except that the saloon, if once established, is notoriously a school of bad politics. Surely all good citizens, rich and poor, of whatever party, race or creed, cannot do otherwise than oppose the saloon in the interest of civic order, cleanliness and decency.

Quincy has voted No-License for so long a time that a small army of young men who have been coming to the voting age in recent years have never seen a saloon in the city; and there are well-grown children among us whose eyes have never seen the degrading spectacle of drunkenness. Isn't that worth while? Old citizens remember the saloons and rum drugstores, and the baleful influence they exerted.

Suppose that in a moment of inconceivable folly Quincy should vote for License again. Where, dear reader would you put the saloons? Had you thought much about that?

Would Mr. Respectable Citizen want a rum-shop near his dwelling?

Would Mr. Prosperous Merchant like to have a saloon next to his place of business? Certain well-to-do citizens living in favored streets are, of course sure that saloons would never be allowed near them. Shall the accursed things therefore be inflicted on the poorer sections of the city? The saloons, which, alas, have ever been the bitter, relentless and cruel enemies of the poor.

It would be hard to find in Quincy nowadays any of the squalid, repulsive, hopeless poverty that goes inevitably with the saloon. Instead we see whole streets lined with modest and attractive houses; not large and costly, perhaps, but comfortable and well-kept. One likes to walk through such streets. They are eloquent of thrift, independence, sobriety and good citizenship.

Such homes are the real bone and sinew of the Republic.

Shall we deliberately vote to plant the curse of the saloon in such neighborhoods?

Are we ready to introduce the debasing influences of the saloon at our beautiful beaches and seaside resorts?

The saloons must needs recruit their future victims from the ranks of our present schoolboys. Do we want that kind of recruiting stations in the city?

Does it really "help business" to have money spent for liquor instead of food, clothing, furniture and house rent?

Take a strol in Quincy Square some beautiful summer night and mingle with the crowds you will find there. It is a joyous throng, mostly young people; but all are well-behaved, well dressed, orderly, sober, and bent solely on innocent pleasures.

Shall we deliberately vote to taint the pure air of Quincy Square and our other public places with the vile reek of saloons, and thrust in the faces of our youth the disgusting spectacle of drunkenness and debauchery which inevitably go with them? This seems rather important!

Think it over!

Quincy has voted NO for 25 years and will do the same this year, as a matter of course; but it is of vital consequence that the NO majority should increase at each new election, to keep pace with our growing population and the more insistent demands for civic cleanliness, and also to discourage utterly the efforts of Boston liquor interests to re-establish saloons in Quincy. They are watching constantly and greedily for any possible foothold here.

The no-license vote suffers every year from the thoughtlessness of many excellent people who neglect the last cross on the ballot.

Please do not over-exert yourselves and get all tired out before you reach the question at the bottom. It is not the thing to be treated lightly.

Answer the Question. Vote no.

DANIEL L. F. CHASE.
236 Goffe Street,
Quincy, Mass., Nov. 30, 1910.

Why Cough Ask your doctor about coughs. Ask him if your own is necessary. If not, then why cough? Does he recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral? Ask him, and let his answer be final. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Best for Blankets

YOU probably know what the ordinary yellow laundry soap does to blankets. It shrinks the life out of them because it contains from 30% to 40% rosin.

Sunny Monday Laundry Soap is white and contains no rosin. It will wash woolens and flannels without shrinking—colored goods without fading.

Sunny Monday also contains a wonderful dirt-starter which saves half the rubbing.

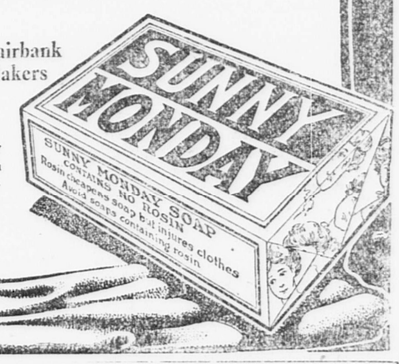
Washes in any kind of water.

The N. K. Fairbank Company, Makers
Chicago

"Sunny Monday bubbles will wash away your troubles."



Dry Your Clothes on a Wet Washday
With a New Perfection Oil Heater

When clothes can't be hung outside, and must be dried in a room or cellar, the New Perfection Oil Heater quickly does the work of sun and air. You can hang up the wet clothes, light your Perfection Oil Heater, open the damper top, and the heat rises and quickly dries the clothes.

Do not put off washing to await a sunny day in order to avoid mildew. Dry your washing any day with hot air from a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for rewicking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in japan or nickel, strong and durable, well-made, built for service and yet light and ornamental. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	2½c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 7c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER
Justice of the Peace
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rate.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 279-3.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets
QUINCY.

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS.
INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES MONEY
TOLEDO ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
CARE OF PROPERTY

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
for The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $1 FOR YOU
EARNS $1 FOR YOU
LOANS $1 TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE. REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-3

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 1-3

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection

TOURING CARS
We have secured local agency for REGAL Touring cars and want to show you why these cars beat all others. A 5 passenger 30 h. p. runabout or touring car costs only $1250. Demonstration by appointment.
In addition we have taxicab service and rent our touring car by day or hour. Call or phone.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Quincy.
Stable Tel. 207. Res. Tel. 1004-4
June

Directing a Boy's Desire

TO develop creative power in your boy, teach him to seek for himself how to make his dreams come true.

Responsible effort by the boy himself is indispensable to original thought and action.

Selling THE SATURDAY EVENING POST will develop resourcefulness of mind and self-reliance in any boy whose parents will encourage him to persevere in this work. It has already done it for thousands of boys.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Easy work and good training for boys anxious to earn money. If bright and ambitious, your boy can earn from fifty cents to $2.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH
40 NORTH STREET.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

$22.50 Suits
Marked to $16.50
Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth
SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Why? Because
The Heat is Applied
When You Want It — Where You Want It

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The News and the Truth About It

The Best Home Newspaper
Reliable and Progressive
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

OLDEST and BEST

Largest Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in the City of Quincy and Norfolk County.

Goes into all the best Quincy homes where it is read by every member of the family. Established in 1889 the Ledger has forged ahead until it has become a household necessity. Its reading is as much a part of the day's routine as eating ones dinner. Making a specialty of clean readable home news has made the demand for advertising space such that the Ledger has recently doubled its capacity for space and circulation. Ask your newsdealer about its circulation. Constantly growing demand.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

AFTER RECORD FOR ECONOMY

Taft Cuts $14,000,000 From Department Estimates

CABINET MEETING POSTPONED

President's Advisers Given Time to Make Still Further Reductions—Devoting Almost Entire Time to Message to Congress—Payne Unable to Forecast Legislative Program at Session to Begin Next Week

Washington, Dec. 1.—President Taft was busy Wednesday with the estimates for appropriations which were submitted to him by the various department heads. He has already cut the estimates down to the extent of $14,000,000 and is making further reductions. By the time he is through the total will doubtless run millions beyond the cuts he made yesterday.

While the details of the reductions are not disclosed, it is learned that they were distributed through all of the departments. Among other things cuts were made in the estimates for a number of public buildings. The president is required by law to keep the estimates for appropriations down to the estimates of revenue. For this reason, he is reducing the estimates. Furthermore, he is trying to make a record for economy.

The cabinet meeting scheduled for Wednesday was postponed until Friday to allow the cabinet officers to make another revision of their figures. By Friday, however, it is expected that the message will be ready for consideration by the cabinet.

Just as soon as the message is out of the way the president will devote the next three or four days to seeing senators and representatives regarding the legislative program. He will not take up the appointments to the supreme court and the court of commerce until the latter part of next week, and the judiciary nominations will not be ready for the senate until the second week of the session.

Various reports as to the judgeship selections made by the president have been pure guesswork, and slates have been set up by gossip only to be broken within a few hours following their announcement. The nomination of Justice Hughes as chief justice seems to be the only appointment decided upon up to this time.

President Taft was at work on his message until 3 o'clock yesterday morning. He did not go over to the executive offices Wednesday, but remained at work in his study. The only visitor he saw there was President McCrea of the Pennsylvania railroad. The call was a brief one and McCrea declared it was purely personal. He said he did not discuss any phase of the message with the president. As to business conditions, McCrea repeated his statement of a few days ago that business was marking time. "And," he added, "every man must be his own judge as to what the future is likely to be."

Representative Payne of New York, Republican floor leader in the house, called at the executive offices, but did not see the president. As to what the legislative program was likely to be, Payne declared that any man's guess would be as good as his own.

Former Vice President Fairbanks of Indiana is to be a guest at the White House for several days next week. The visit is attracting a great deal of attention politically, and it is said may have an important bearing upon Republican politics in the state.

SLANG NOT IMPROPER

Lawyer In Supreme Court Told That Apology Is Not Necessary

Washington, Dec. 1.—"Hitting the bird in the eye" is a proper expression in argument before the supreme court of the United States.

Moses Taggart of Grand Rapids, Mich., addressing the court in a case involving the constitutionality of the acts of the Michigan legislature which repealed the law creating the Grand Rapids Hydraulic company, used the expression in question, but apologized to the court.

"You need not apologize," interrupted Justice Holmes. "One of the judges used that very expression once in an old English case."

DEATH OF OLD SETTLER

He Had Not Shaved Nor Cut His Hair In Ninety Years

Nashville, Ind., Dec. 1.—Elbert Merida, who lived his 90 years without ever having been shaved or having his hair cut, died at his home near here of typhoid fever. He was one of the oldest settlers of Brown county.

In his little log house are a number of rattlesnake skins, to the wearing of which he attributed his long life.

Hunting For Lewis In Paris

New York, Dec. 1.—William Lewis, the trunk murder suspect, has been traced to Paris. In 1909 he is known to have been working in a town near New York. After leaving this position he went to Paris. The Parisian police are searching for him.

MARTIN W. LITTLETON

N. Y. Congressman Elect Gives His Wife Credit For Victory

Photo by American Press Association.

RETIRES FROM LAW FIRM

Littleton Does Not Want to Be Hampered In Work In Congress

New York, Dec. 1.—Martin W. Littleton, representative-elect from the First Long Island district, announces his retirement from the law firm of O'Brien, Boardman, Platt and Littleton, in order that he may not be connected with any interests he may be called on to oppose in congress.

The firm has been closely identified with the United States Express company.

OLD AGE PENSIONS FOR STEEL EMPLOYES

System to Be Inaugurated at Opening of New Year

New York, Dec. 1.—Chairman Gary announced yesterday afternoon that beginning Jan. 1, 1911, the United States Steel corporation will pay three classes of old age pensions to those of its employes who have served with either the parent company or its subsidiaries for twenty years or more.

No pension of more than $1200 will be allowed and none of less than $12 a month. Between these extremes 1 percent of the regular monthly pay received during the last ten years of service will be allowed for each year of total service.

FOUND DYING IN ALLEY

Former Dartmouth Football Star Had Been Drinking Heavily

Cincinnati, Dec. 1.—Edward Wainwright, a former football star on the Dartmouth eleven, and who was accounted one of the best halfbacks in this country, was found fatally injured in Lodge alley. He was taken to the City hospital, but died before he reached there.

The police are acting on the theory that the man was suffering from an over indulgence in alcohol, and wandered into the alley, fell, and that a gash that appears on his forehead was the result of the fall.

Wainwright came to Cincinnati from Hanover, N. H., his home, two years ago. He associated with the local Dartmouth contingent, but about a year ago he seemed to drop out of sight. Upon inquiry it was learned by his college mates that he was drinking heavily, and it was only at rare intervals that they saw him.

KILLS HIS OWN BROTHER

Philadelphian Was Trying to Save Him From Charging Moose

Montreal, Dec. 1.—In a desperate effort to protect his brother, Fred D. Rodgers of Philadelphia, from the charge of a wounded bull moose, W. T. Rodgers fired several shots from his rifle, one of which killed the young man.

Rodgers, grief-stricken over the accident, passed through here last night, en route to their home in Philadelphia. The fatal shooting occurred on the shore of Coulogne lake.

The body was brought down to Ottawa by Rodgers and his guides and shipped here by train. Fred D. Rodgers was 28 years old.

Castaways Reach Boston

Boston, Dec. 1.—Aboard the steamer Hyperia, from South American ports, were four shipwrecked mariners, all belonging to the crew of the British steamer Ely, which lies a total wreck on Colorado Reef, off the Cuban coast. Ten others of the crew are now at Havana, waiting until they can be sent home.

Trains Crash In Ohio

Portsmouth, O., Dec. 1.—Two Norfolk and Western freight trains met in a head-on collision near Perinton. Charles Hunt, brakeman, was killed. Three other trainmen were seriously injured.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Chestnut Meat. Put through a meat grinder half a pound of roasted chestnuts, one of blanched and dried almonds and one-fourth of a pound of peanuts. Mix with these four ripe bananas that have been pressed through a sieve; pack the mixture into a mould and steam continually for two hours. When done remove the lid of the kettle and when it is cold turn out and serve as cold meat, garnished with curly parsley.

Apple Lemon Pie. One large apple chopped, one cup of sugar, one egg, one cracker rolled fine, grated rind and juice of one lemon, piece of butter; bake in two crusts. The egg and lemon juice would be all the moisture for the cracker, sugar and apple.

Orange Layer Cake. Take five yolks of eggs, one-half pound butter, one-half pound sugar, one-half pound of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder mixed with the flour. Cream butter and sugar ,beat in flour, flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla, then add one-half small cup of boiling milk. Bake in layer pans. When cold spread with orange marmalade making a layer, and on top ice with confectioner's sugar, beaten in the remaining yoke. Flavor with orange, or add sections of oranges in patterns radiating from center. A plainer cake can be made by omitting the butter and adding a pinch of salt. Orange flavored icing can be substituted for marmalade.

Jumbles. One egg, one pound flour, one-half of sugar, one-half of butter, one tablespoonful of cream, the rind of three lemons, and the juice of one, all mixed into a paste, rolled and cut into rings as for doughnuts. Sift lightly with colored sugar and bake.

QUINCY MARKET

SPECIAL

Sirloin Steak	15c
Good Rib Roast	10c
Good Pot Roast	8c
Pork Chops	17c
3 lbs. Beef Liver	25c
Baldwin Apples	25c pk

QUINCY MARKET
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
Nov. 28-tf

WHEELER'S

Dry Goods Fancy Goods

CHRISTMAS

ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....

APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS

The Store for Ladies' Furnishings

City Square - Quincy

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

CA·SNOW & Co.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:
"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; while baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Cut This Out

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

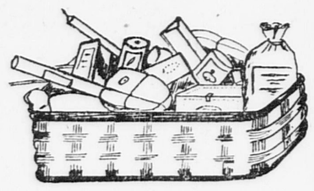
SALE FROM DEC. 1 TO DEC. 10

BERRY BROTHERS

BOUNTIFUL BARGAIN..... BASKETS.... $1.00



This bargain basket advertising is nott a cheap scheme to induce you to trade with us. We figure just about what you ordinarily require to provide your table for a week, assemble the goods, and give you the advantage of wholesale prices AND NO CHARGE FOR DELIVERY!!

WHAT YOU WOULD PAY ELSEWHERE

CONTENTS OF BASKET	THEIR PRICES	OUR PRICES
1-2 Peck Potatoes	13 cents	1 cent
1 Package Rolled Oats	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can A. B. Tomatoes	12 cents	1 cent
1 Package Cream C. Starch	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can Del. Peaches	15 cents	1 cent
1 Package S. & P. Pepper	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Bar Soap	5 cents	5 cts.
Quart Bottle Ammonia	15 cents	10 cts.
Package Soda Crackers	5 cents	5 cts.
Can "Big Ten" Washing Powder	10 cents	10 cts.
1-2 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Coffee	15 cents	14 cts.
1-4 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Tea	15 cents	15 cts.
1 Package Jelline	10 cents	10 cts.
1 Can B. B. Cocoa	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Handle Market Basket,	10 cents	8 cts.
Package Force		FREE
Total	$1.65	$1.00

BERRY BROTHERS

WHERE YOU BOUGHT THAT DELICIOUS TURKEY

CITY SQUARE QUINCY

AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY. HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

Quincy Daily Ledger

DECEMBER 1910

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Nov. 28	9.00	9.30
Tuesday,	9.45	10.15
Wednesday,	10.30	11.00
Thursday,	11.00	11.30
Friday,	11.30	12.00
Saturday,	12.00	12.15
Sunday,	12.45	12.45

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12 M. today.	43 degrees
December 1, 1909,	35 degrees
December 1, 1908,	65 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 23

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

BRIEFS

The Daily Ledger wants boys at 8 A. M. Friday to assist man in delivering papers.

Owing to St. Jean hall at West Quincy having been secured for headquarters for the Ward Four Democratic committee there is some doubt where the meeting of the Improvement Association will be held tonight.

Several candidates are seeking the appointment as clerk of the district court to fill the vacany caused by the death of John P. S. Churchill. Among the names mentioned are Lawrence W. Lyons, the present assistant clerk, George E. Adams and John J. Duggan.

George F. Reynolds, who has sustained his reputation as New England's favorite baritone, is now singing at the Winsted Opera House, Winsted, Conn., where he is meeting with good success. He has sung this season at Worcester, Fall River, New Bedford, Amesbury, Stoughton, Marlborough, New Britain Stafford Springs, Rochester, and has a long engagement at Winsted.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

BRIEFS

Ex-Councilman Piper claims he was misquotd at the Ward Three rally relative to third term for Presidents. It is not a law but an unwritten law.

Rallies in the interest of the candidacy of Mayor Shea will be held in Ward Two and at Houghs Neck on Friday evening; also in Ward Two and Ward Four next Monday night.

Albert R. Newcomb, a well known resident of Quincy Point, died this morning at his home 552 South street, of pneumonia, after a brief illness. He was a boot and shoe worker by trade. He was 34 years of age and leaves a widow. Funeral services will be held from his late residence Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

Miss Annie Gilloohy of 905 1-2 Hancock street, passed away this morning aged 65 years. She was thrifty and prosperous, and accumulated considerable property. She was the owner of two three-flat houses opposite Merrymount park. There are no near relatives in Quincy.

—"Opporchunity" says Mr. Dooley, "knocks at iv'ry man's dure wanst. On some men's dure it hammers till it breaks down th' dure, an' then it goes in an' wakes him up if he's asleep, an' aftherwards it wurruks f'r him as a night-watchman."—American Magazine.

This Store is the Home of Hart, Schoffner & Marx good clothes

HOLIDAY GOODS FOR ALL

Men's Suits, Men's Overcoats, Men's Smoking Jackets, "Special Bath" Robes $5.00
Boys' Suits, Boys' Overcoats, Boys' Sweaters, 1-3 less than Boston prices.

Gifts for 25c — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
NECKTIES (boxed)
ARM BANDS (Silk)
HOSIERY
INITIAL HDFKS.
SUSPENDERS (boxed)
CUFF BUTTONS
INITIAL STICK PINS
GARTERS
SILK HDFKS.
WATCH FOBS
COLLAR BUTTON SETS
WOOL GLOVES
COLLAR BUTTON SETS WOOL MITTENS

FOR BOYS
WOOL GLOVES
SKATING CAPS
UNDERWEAR
HOSIERY
HDFKS., 2 for 25c
WOOL CAPS

Gifts for 50c — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
COMBINATION SUSPENDERS
ARMBANDS & GARTERS (boxed)
COMB, HOSE & TIES (boxed)
COMB. SUSP. & GARTERS (boxed)
SILK ARM BANDS (boxed)
SILK HOSIERY
SILK SUSPENDERS
SILK TIES (boxed)
COMB. INITIAL STICK PIN & CUFF BUTTONS
SILK GARTERS
KNIT MUFFLERS
SHIRT STUD SETS
WATCH FOBS
CUFF BUTTONS
COMB. STICK PINS & CUFF BUTTONS

FOR BOYS
WOOL GLOVES
HOCKEY CAPS
SHIRTS
UNDERWEAR
NIGHT SHIRTS
PLUSH GAUNTLET GLOVES
LEATHER PALMS
UMBRELLAS

Gifts for 75c — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
COMB. SILK SUSP. & GARTERS
CROCHETED SILK SUSPENDERS
MOCHA GLOVES WOOL LINED
INITIAL LINEN HDFKS., 6 in box
COMB. SILK SUSP. & BELT "Something New"
COMB. STICK PIN & CUFF BUTTONS
SHIRT SETS
SILK HOISERY 2 pair in a box
SILK SCARFS
KNIT MUFFLERS
NIGHT SHIRTS
PAJAMAS
SILK MUFFLERS
UMBRELLAS

FOR BOYS
HATS
GLOVES
SWEATERS
CORDEROY PANTS
UNDERWEAR
FLANNELETTE PAJAMAS

Headquarters of Utility Gifts for Men and Boys

PAYSON, MITCHELL CO.

We give S. & H. Green Stamps "Store of Quality" We give S. & H. Green Stamps

1387 Hancock Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

BRIEFS

Boys are wanted on Friday to assist man in delivery of papers in all parts of Quincy. Apply at Daily Ledger office.

On Sunday, Miss E. Springham will speak at the evening service at the Hall Place M. E. church on Deaconess work.

Two more new fire alarm boxes were cut into the fire alarm circuit today. They are: Box 112, Sea street near the Willows; and Box 114 Engine house, Houghs Neck.

On Friday night, during the regular prayer services, the pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church, Rev. Carl H. Raupach, will give a talk to the Probationers. This service is not for Probationers alone. Everybody is welcome.

An informal gathering in the interest of Candidate Hobbs was held in Wollaston on Wednesday evening at which the candidate, for Mayor and candidates for the council from Ward Five were present, also the old and new ward committee. The campaign was the matter under discussion.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Hall Place M. E. church was held in the vestry on Tuesday. The meeting was called to order by the president. Plans were made for an entertainment to be given Dec. 14th in the vestry of the church. Considering the rainy weather, a good number were present.

HE REMINDED HER.

A young man who is fresh to a degree that surpasses endurance and who persists in talking all the time there is anybody in sight, went out for the evening one night last week and met a girl from Boston.

Although the young man talks continually he occasionally uses some very bad grammar. One fault is particularly glaring. Te invariably says "I done it" for "I did it," and, as he is continually talking about himself, he makes this mistake many times in the course of an hour.

He engaged the Boston girl in conversation and told her some fairy tale about something or other that had happened to him. When he got through she expressed surprise that such a thing could happen, and asked him:

"Did you really do all that?"

"I done it," replied the young man proudly.

Then he branched into another romance.

That was even more startling than the first. The girl from Boston listened patiently, and, when he had finished, politely, expressed her great astonishment. "Why," she said, "can it be possible that you did anything so wonderful?"

"That's what I done," replied the young man, chucking out his chest as he made the remark.

The great success of his two stories spurred him to other efforts and he recited another condensed dime novel for the benefit of the girl from Boston. When he had finished the girl said: "Oh, do you know, you remind me so strongly of Banquo's ghost?"

"You mean the ghost in the Shakspeare play?" inquired the young man in a hestitating sort of a way?"

"Yes."

"And why?"

"Don't you remember that Macbeth said to him: "Thou canst not say, I did it?"

And until this day the young man does not know why everybody laughed.

—Surprise is expressed at the report that down in Maine country folk still use the loom. It is also used in the interest of art and industry in this state. Deerfield has revived and refined weaving common among New England housewives a century ago.—Boston Record.

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

DEATHS

GILLOOLY—In Quincy, Dec. 1, Miss Annie Gillooly.
Funeral from her late residence, 903 1-2 Hancock street, Saturday, Dec. 3 at 8.15 A. M. High Mass of Requiem at St. Johns Church at 9 A. M. Relatives and friends respectfuly invited to be present.
Dec. 1-2t

NEWCOMB—In Quincy Point, Dec. 1, Albert R. Newcomb in his 34th year. Funeral services at late home 552 South street Saturday, Dec. 3, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.
Dec. 1-2t

GREY—In Dorchester, Nov. 30, Mrs. Emma Cchroeder, wife of Mr. Michael Grey of Mechanic street, East Milton, aged 25 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

RUBBING UP THE ARMS.

Said to Have Excellent Results In Cases of Fainting.

When my wife faints, which is miserably often, says a writer in the London medical journal, the Lancet, I do not apply friction in the usual absurd way—rubbing backward and forward, which must alternately check and accelerate the passage of the blood—but, taking hold of one of her hands with my left hand, I place the thumb and finger of my right hand tight round her wrist and then pass them firmly up toward her elbow.

Having brought them back loosely to the wrist, I pass them firmly up again, and when I have repeated the operation two or three times, sometimes on both arms, I have the pleasure of hearing the ejaculation, "I feel better now." When I first had recourse to this means of resuscitating my lady she exclaimed instinctively on two different occasions, without being at all aware that I had had any particular intention, "Oh, that is what I seem to want!"

From the invariable and immediate effect of this mode of friction I flatter myself that it is not unworthy the notice of the medical practitioner in the friction of cholera patients, a process which should be much oftener resorted to and more energetically persisted in than it generally is.

GERMAN RED TAPE.

A Lesson In Picking Up Things In the Streets of Berlin.

Take care how you pick up a thing that is lost in Berlin. The other day one of our deputies going through the Prussian capital on his return from a convention at Frankfort noticed a key at the edge of the sidewalk. He picked it up to hand it to a police agent. The representative of the city police refused to take it, saying, "You should take this key to the special bureau of things that are lost."

"Very well. Where is it?"

The agent named the street.

"Is it far from here?"

"A half hour, three-quarters of an hour if you don't walk rapidly."

The deputy replaced the key on the pavement. "Some one else will pick it up," he said.

"Not at all," said the agent in a commanding tone. "You should have left it where it was, but now you are obliged to go to the bureau. If you don't I'll make a complaint against you and you'll be fined, perhaps given a day in prison. That's the law."

The deputy was compelled to obey orders. Since that day he carries his hand in his pockets.—Cri de Paris.

Alter Your Tastes.

Oh, do not sigh for bread or pie!
For what's the good?
Just be a judge of homemade fudge
And angel food.
—Kansas City Journal.

His Wife's Mother, of Course.

Mabel—If your grandma had lost all her teeth how does she eat?

Willie—I heard pa say she had a bitter tongue.—Boston Transcript.

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
13c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

PROSPERITY PRESENTS OPPORTUNITY

Quincy is a rapidly growing City with a very PROSPEROUS FUTURE.

Do you realize what that means in the way of opportunity in the field of REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT?

It means that a few hundred dollars carefully invested in Real Estate now, will bring you a HANDSOME RETURN, because Quincy property is in sharp demand and is becoming MORE VALUABLE EVERY DAY.

Why not take advantage of the OPPORTUNITY. Let me combine my knowledge with yours and help you select a home or an investment.

I have some of the BEST PROPERTIES in Quincy to select from, at very reasonable prices and on easy terms.

Therefore, GET BUSY and call on

JAMES F. BURKE,
Real Estate Agent
Room No. 4 Savings Bank Bldg. Quincy, Mass.
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Wednesday afternoon a string of gold beads. Reward. Notify C. Ledger Office. Nov. 25-6t

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2440

LOCAL SPORTS.

Some remarkably good scores were made Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club. It was the last tournament of the month, and as prizes are given for the best monthly percentages as well as weekly, all who had participated in the tournaments of the month waged a keen contest. It remained however for George T. Magee and H. A. Jones to make the best scores of the evening. The former made 72 plus percent and the latter 68 plus. There were also several who had over 60 percent. The percentages for the month ran rather low for the five nights and close for the highest, there being but a fraction of a percent between the two high men. D. F. Crowley won 166 points and lost 131 points during the month, which gave him 55.8 percent. The second best score was by James E. Neary, who won 161 points and lost 128 points, which gave him 55.7 percent. The consolation prize went to Frank W. White with 114 points won and 163 points lost, or 41 plus percent.

—The Boston finance commission thinks that Boston's payment for bridges should be borne in part by the surrounding cities. If the surrounding cities had finance commissions, they would probably express a different opinion.—Somerville Journal.

☞Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Commissioners' Notice

Room 609-10. 6 Beacon St.
Boston, Mass. Dec. 1, 1910.

The undersigned Henry E. Teasdale and Adolph I. Dinner were appointed on June 1st 1910, Commissioners of the Estate of Patrick O'Brien, late of Quincy, County of Norfolk, in this Commonwealth, by the Judge of Probate Court of said County of Norfolk, under Chapter 142, Section 2, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts.

You are hereby notified that the final meeting of the creditors for an examination of their claims against aforesaid Estate will be held at the above address on December 22, 1910 at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day. Your are requested to present your claim for allowance on that day.

HENRY E. TEASDALE
ADOLPH I. DINNER
Commissioners.
Dec. 1-3t 1, 5, 12

WANTED

WANTED—Work of any kind by boy of 17. Address 168 Glendale Road
Dec. 1-1t

WANTED—American girls for light work. Experience unnecessary. Apply between 9 and 12 to Mr. Cole, Mayflower Rubber Works Co. off Hancock street, South Braintree.
Nov. 30—L-Ob.-tf

WANTED—Boys on Friday to assist man in delivering papers in Quincy. Apply at Daily Ledger office at 8 A. M. Nov 30-2t

WANTED—Furniture and piano polisher desires work. 12 years experience. Will go out by day or do piece work. Miss Flynn Hancock street. Tel. 485-2 Quincy. Nov. 30-3t

WANTED—An experienced girl for general housework. Three in family. Apply at 24 Saville avenue.
Nov. 29-3t

WANTED—Girl for housework must read, write and hear. Inquire at Dr. Gordon's, 1200 Hancock street.
Nov. 23-9t

TO LET

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-3 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Nov. 14-18t

TO LET—New house, 7 rooms, all modern conveniences. Large garden. Edison Park street. Apply to Williams the Jeweler, 1473 Hancock street.
Nov. 19-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET—Second floor flat of 6 rooms and bath, set range, electric light and gas. Rent $20. 3d floor flat of 5 rooms, bath and gas. Rent $16. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal Avenue. Tel. 892 L.
Nov. 18-12t

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanantly.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 38x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 280 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 2, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

QUINCY MERCHANTS HEAR FROM HYDE PARK

President Darling Tells How to Conduct Successful Business Association

Limit of Membership Has Almost Been Reached

The new private dining room of A. J. Thompson, the caterer was christened on Thursday evening when the Quincy Retail Merchants' Association held their December meeting and banquet. An excellent menu at $1 per plate was served as will be seen:

Grapefruit with Claret Sauce
Soup
Baked Cod, Spanish style
Lyonnaise Potatoes
Roast Chicken
Mashed Potatoes Cranberry Sauce
Celery Radishes
Green Olives
Ice Cream Assorted Cake
Roquefort Cheese
Toasted Crackers
Demi Tasse
Fruit

It was the largest meeting held by the Association about forty merchants being present. President Eben W. Sheppard was at the head of the table with ex-Senator F. W. Darling of Hyde Park on his right, as the special guest of the evening.

Directly after the dinner Mr. Darling was introduced as the president of a live Business Men's Association at Hyde Park with nearly 200 members. He certainly could give Quincy points on how to successfully conduct such an association. He had reluctantly accepted the presidency, but had consented with the understanding that he should have the cooperation

(Continued on Page 8.)

REPUBLICAN COUNCILMAN

Endorses the Administration of Mayor Shea

To the Voters of Ward 1:—

Gentlemen:—After six years' service in the City Council I this year declined to be a candidate for re-election.

I wish now to express to you my appreciation of your confidence and the honor you have conferred on me in electing me your councilman for so many years.

(Continued on Page 5.)

COOPERATIVE BANK PROPOSED

At Meeting of West Quincy Improvement Association

St. Jean hall at West Quincy was packed to suffocation Thursday evening at the meeting of the West Quincy Improvement association. S. B. Little presided and while the business session was in progress the committee were hard at work preparing the supper that was to be served later in the evening.

The first subject taken up was the matter of one fare between West Quincy and Milton Lower Mills, for the employees of the Chocolate mills. The committee having this in charge reported that they had taken up the matter with the Street Railway officials, and that these officials would report in the near future.

During the debate on this question it was brought up that the early car to the Fore River was very much crowded and that many were obliged to walk. The transportation committee was instructed to take this matter up with the street railway.

Also to see what could be done about a car from West Quincy to the Tubular Rivet works. It was pointed out that during the summer months many of the employees here walked to and from their work, but now that winter was coming on they desired to ride, and that the car that was discontinued during the summer months to this plant should be put on again. This was also referred to the transportation committee.

The debate then turned to the question of "How to improve West

(Continued on Page 5.)

DUTCH KERMESS AT WOLLASTON

Unique Affair by Ladies' Aid Alliance

One of the most unique affairs ever held in Wollaston was the Dutch Kermess which opened in Wollaston hall on Thursday under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church.

The entire hall was transformed into the cosiest of Dutch villages. In the centre of the square stood a mammoth windmill which reached from

(Continued on Page 4.)

SECTION SHOWING PART OF LAST ROW OF PAVING LAID ON HANCOCK ST. QUINCY, OCT. 18, 1910

Standard Paving Blocks should be OBLONG 9 to 14 inches long, 7 to 8 inches deep, 3 1-2 to 4 inches thick.

ERNEST W. BRANCH, C. E., Adams Building, Quincy

(Advertisement)

INDEPENDENT VOTERS ENDORSE MAYOR SHEA

QUINCY, November 22nd, 1910.

To Our Fellow Citizens:

We deplore the attempt that is being made this year to have the voters of Quincy adopt partisan politics in the coming municipal election.

For three years Mayor Shea has given Quincy an efficient, economical and honest administration.

Believing that the interests of our city will be best served by again electing him to the office of Mayor, we earnestly urge all voters, irrespective of party affiliations, to vote for the re-election of HONORABLE WILLIAM T. SHEA.

BROOKS ADAMS, Adams Street
WALTER E. BURKE, Adams Street
CHARLES A. PRICE, Monroe Road
LAURANCE H. STURTEVANT, Adams Street
DELCEVARE KING, Adams Street
THEOPHILUS KING, Adams Street
C. H. HOWLAND, Adams Street
RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Greenleaf Street
F. S. PATCH, Edgemere Road
HENRY L. KINCAIDE, Whitney Road
CHARLES C. HEARN, Hancock Street
WALTER H. BERRY, 6 Greenleaf Street
L. A. CHAPIN, 18 Washington Street
JAMES F. BURKE, 11 Cross Street
C. THEO. HARDWICK, 58 Chestnut Street.

PAUL R. BLACKMUR, Elm Street
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Furnace Brook Parkway
WILLIAM H. DOBLE, South Street
PERRY LAWTON, Goffe Street
REV. EDWARD ANDERSON, Goffe Street
H. T. WHITMAN, 129 Grand View Avenue
GEORGE W. MORTON, 10 Spear Street
ANDREW MILNE, 38 Independence Avenue
DR. FREDERICK E. JONES, 1569 Hancock Street
HORACE F. SPEAR, Hancock Street
W. P. BATEMAN, Monroe Road
JOHN BUCHANAN, 133 Grand View Avenue
DR. WILLIS J. MIDDLETON, 446 Washington Street
JOSEPH L. WHITON, JR., 500 Washington Street

JOHN H. CHANDLER, 26 Clark Street
GEORGE RICHARDSON, 46 Botolph Street
JAMES H. CHURCHILL, 110 Billings Street
CHARLES A. FRENCH, 192 Billings Street
HARRY W. REED, 257 Squantum Street
WILLIAM R. GAY, 1 Webster Street
WARD W. WHITCHER, 41 Webster Street
JOSEPH P. CLARK, 220 East Squantum Street
MICHAEL J. BARRY, 206 East Squantum Street
CHARLES F. HENDRIE, 69 Henry Street
HENRY MCGRATH, 99 Pleasant Street
J. B. SUTHERLAND, 171 Independence Avenue
M. P. FULLER, 66 Crescent Street
ISAAC M. HOLT, 32 Cottage Street
ELISHA PACKARD, 60 Elm Street

CITY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY -- POLLS OPEN 6 A. M. TO 4 P. M.

The Best in the World all authorities agree—all users know. You will know it is the cheapest and the best soap as soon as you see the results on your skin and complexion from the use of

Pears' SOAP

15c. a Cake for the Unscented

Come to Us TO BE Rubbered

Our prices on Men's, Ladies' Misses' and Children's RUBBERS

Have not advanced any, as usual the LOWEST IN THE CITY.

Grades, such as Shawmut, Shamrock, a guarantee with every pair, and numerous other well-known High Grades of Rubber Goods at cut prices.

Before buying your winter supply compare our prices with others.

LOUIS J. SMITH,
9 Depot St. 1465 Hancock St.
Quincy, Mass.
Nov. 2-1m

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

WHEELER'S

Dry Goods Fancy Goods

CHRISTMAS

ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....

APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS

The Store for Ladies' Furnishings

City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES

CIGARS

At Wholesale and Retail

Big Variety of Pipes

STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS

Opposite Quincy Station

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

MISS HELEN TAFT

Will Aid Mother In Entertaining at the White House

© HARRIS & EWING

HELEN TAFT'S DEBUT

One of the Important Events on Washington's Social Calendar

Washington, Dec. 2.—Washington society was stirred over the reception and tea held at the White House between 5 and 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon in honor of the formal presentation of the president's daughter, Helen Taft.

Not only was this the formal presentation of Miss Taft to society, but it was something more. It was recognized as amounting to the test of whether one had the entree in the "400." If one were not invited to this reception, it would mean that he or she was not inside the pale of the foremost social circles here, and that it would not be easy this season to break into them.

113 HUMAN LIVES LOST IN HUNTING

Toll of Season of 1910 In Twenty-Three States

Chicago, Dec. 2.—The hunting season of 1910 cost 113 human lives, according to statistics from twenty-three states collected by The Tribune. This is considerably more than were killed during any previous season in which there is a record. The loss of life in 1909 was 87, in 1908 it was 37, in 1907 82 and in 1906 74.

The number of injured this season, however, is less than a year ago, 81 having been hurt this year, against 104 for the season of 1909.

It is likely the death list this year will be considerably increased by reason of the fatal termination in the cases of many of the injured.

"Mistaken for a deer" and "shot by a companion" continue to lead as the reason for the shooting of hunters. Michigan heads the list with 27 killed.

INAUGURATION OF DIAZ

Sworn In as President of Mexico For the Eighth Time

Mexico City, Dec. 2.—With simple ceremonies General Diaz took the oath of office as president of the republic of Mexico for the eighth time. In view of the disturbances through which the country has recently passed the inauguration was not marked by the season of fiestas which has accompanied it in former years, but was conducted with the same formal dignity and impressiveness.

Following the induction of Diaz, the oath was administered to Ramon Corral, re-elected to the vice presidency. The president and vice president than went to the national palace, where they received the congratulations of diplomats, government officials and private delegations.

TO QUIT CHAIRMANSHIP

Macleod Thinks He Has Done His Share For Democratic Party

Boston, Dec. 2.—The Post says that Frederick J. Macleod announced last night that he will resign the chairmanship of the Democratic state committee.

"I am going to resign the chairmanship of the Democratic state committee," said Macleod. "I am going back to the practice of my profession and to the preparation of proper financial protection for my family. I have given two years' work to the party and think that it is time now someone else be found to bear the burden."

Cut In Pullman Rates

Chicago, Dec. 2.—General reduction of the rates for upper Pullman berths and in certain instances for lower berths were announced before Commissioners Lane and Clark of the interstate commerce commission by the Pullman company. No testimony in the case before the commission was taken.

DRIVEN OUT BY THE COLD

Elopers Lived Six Weeks In Secret Cave In Mountain

HUNT AND FISH FOR FOOD

Wealthy Parents of Girl Had Forbidden Her Marriage to Youth Who Dispensed Soda In Drug Store—Trouble Begins When Frost Comes—Caught In Railroad Station, Where They Had Gone to Get Warm

Yonkers, N. Y., Dec. 2.—Because of parental objections to their marriage, which they had sought to have solemnized in their home town, Miss Beatrice Sanders, 19 years old, of Newark, N. J., and La Vere Tallman, 20 years old, of the same city, ran away from home and for six weeks lived in a cave in the Catskill mountains, getting their food by fishing in a nearby lake and shooting squirrels, birds and rabbits. The couple are in charge of the Yonkers police, awaiting action by their parents. The cold had forced them to abandon their home in the cave and they sought shelter in this city.

The disappearance of Miss Sanders from her home caused a mild sensation in Newark. She lives in one of the exclusive sections and her father is wealthy. On the day she disappeared her father escorted her to a railroad train that was to have taken her to a school. She never reached the school.

The fact that Tallman, who was clerk in a drug store near the home of Miss Sanders, disappeared the same day, occasioned many rumors, but no trace of the couple was found until word was received from the Yonkers police that they were being detained there to await word from relatives.

Tallman told the police the history of his romance. He said he met Miss Sanders while he was dealing out ice cream sodas in the drug store. It was love at first sight. They wished to wed, but he said the parents of Miss Sanders would not think of it. She was too young and he was not making enough to support a wife. So, under the circumstances, the only thing to do was to elope.

He said a friend told him where there was a fine cave in the Catskills where he could live rent free. It was near a stream abundant with fish and in the midst of a wood in which game is plentiful. So he and Miss Sanders took guns and started forth. For six weeks they lived in the cave, fished and shot game and were happy.

But the frost came and they had to get to a city. They had a few dollars and went to Yonkers, taking a room at 224 Riverdale avenue. Their funds gave out, they couldn't get coal to keep the place warm, so they loitered in the Grand Central station and hugged the radiator to keep warm. Policeman Monk saw them warming themselves yesterday, became suspicious and took them to police headquarters. Then their story was revealed.

In telling her part of the story, Miss Sanders said that while they had as yet been unable to wed, they loved each other dearly and could not go on living apart even when their marriage was forbidden by their parents. She said she had entered into the adventurous part of their romance no less eagerly than did Tallman. Her only plea was that Captain Lent use his good offices with her mother and father to obtain their consent to a marriage.

A HUMAN SACRIFICE

Woman Who Feared Spreading Disease Takes Her Own Life

Washington, Dec. 2.—As a human sacrifice, Mrs. Lena A. Shunk, wife of a clerk in the office of the adjutant general of the war department, deliberately killed herself at her home here by inhaling illuminating gas.

Mrs. Shunk, who was 36 years old, was afflicted with tuberculosis, and every posssible means to cure the malady had been resorted to without success. Letters to her doctor and her husband revealed the motive for her suicide—the fear that she would be the means of spreading tuberculosis infection to others.

Grafter Goes to Jail

Pittsburg, Dec. 2.—M. L. Swift, Jr., a former councilman, convicted of bribery during the councilmanic graft crusade, surrendered to begin a four months' sentence that had been imposed. Swift was charged with taking $81.10 for his vote.

Moors Kill French From Ambush

Paris, Dec. 2.—In a letter from a soldier with the French column near Oudja, Africa, it is stated that the French forces were ambushed in a ravine by Moroccans on Nov. 17, losing twenty killed and forty wounded.

Governors to Meet In Jersey

Louisville, Dec. 2.—New Jersey is to entertain the next conference of governors of the states of the union. The 1911 gathering will convene at Spring Lake, N. J., the first Tuesday in September.

THREAT OF VIOLENCE

Beating of Connecticut Man by Yeggs Stirs Crowd to Anger

Willimantic, Conn., Dec. 2.—When it was discovered here that William Chamberlain, who was beaten by two yeggmen, Merrino and Sullivan, was in a dangerous condition, an angry mob gathered in front of the jail, and Officer Jackson feared for the lives of his two prisoners. After Jackson had spoken to the crowd and assured them that the men would be brought to a speedy trial, the crowd dispersed.

Chamberlain was set upon and beaten by the two thugs, so the police affirm, for the purpose of robbery. The two men followed him from this city after he had received the money from the sale of hay during the summer just passed, and they lay in wait for him. Chamberlain was cruelly beaten, and has not yet been taken to his home in Exeter.

FIVE TO EIGHT PERCENT

Advance Allowed to Expressmen Who Struck In New York

New York, Dec. 2.—Final settlement of the strike among express company employes, which tied up the express business of the big transcontinental companies in this city for several weeks recently, was effected when a meeting of the drivers and helpers voted to accept the terms offered by their employers.

The men returned to work some time ago on the understanding that an adjustment as to wages and hours would be reached by Dec. 1.

An advance of from 5 to 8 percent in wages was agreed to by most of the companies. The eleven-hour day will rule for all the men, and work on Sundays and holidays will not be required. The new agreement establishes the open shop.

GOVERNORS REVISE AN OLD QUOTATION

Dispose of the "Long Time Between Drinks" Legend

Louisville, Dec. 2.—Governor Ansel of South Carolina and Governor Kitchen of North Carolina met here and issued the following joint statement:

"It has been the legend that the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina: 'It is a long time between drinks.' No such statement was ever made. The facts as told by an eye witness of that famous meeting brands the whole story as a fabrication. This is what really happened:

"The governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina: 'Remember the fate of Montgomery?'

"'Well, who in the —— was Montgomery?' asked the governor of South Carolina.

"'He was the man who died between drinks,' replied the governor of North Carolina."

This official statement was posted on the bulletin board of the Seelbach hotel, where the governors are staying.

LILLEY'S WILL IS VOID

Late Governor's Estate to Be Distributed According to Law

Waterbury, Conn., Dec. 2.—The will of the late Governor George L. Lilley was declared void and the estate, appraised at approximately $650,000, intestate, by a decision given by Judge Byrne of the local probate court. The estate was ordered distributed according to law.

By the will the estate was left in trust until 1950, when it was to be divided between the governor's three sons. The court's decision was made on the grounds that the law concerning vesting of estates is such that where the property might not vest in the beneficiaries during a life or lives in being and twenty-one years plus the ordinary period of gestation thereafter such gifts are void.

CHICAGO HAS CUPID COURT

Intended to Solve Love Tangles and Make Married Life Happy

Chicago, Dec. 2.—A new court, which will be devoted exclusively to the unravelling of domestic tangles, the reuniting of estranged couples, the settlement of lovers' quarrels and the righting of the wrongs of children was formally established at a meeting of all the judges of the municipal bench.

The court will have charge of the following matters: Wife abandonment, child abandonment, child delinquency, neglect of children, truancy, "disorganized love," a species of sweethearts' quarrels; unimportant breach of promise suits.

Woman Gets Wetmore's Millions

St. Louis, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Teresa G. Thompson, a widow, is the principal beneficiary in the will of Colonel Moses C. Wetmore, multimillionaire and Democratic national committeeman from Missouri. Wetmore lived at the home of Mrs. Thompson for several years immediately preceding his death. She was not related to him.

When You Are "Off Color"
It Is Time To Take care of yourself. This is generally the first symptom of some organic derangement and often the fault of indigestion. If not corrected, "off color" is followed by blemishes, lassitude, dull eyes, heavy head, bad breath and the symptoms all are familiar with, who have a disorganized stomach. The whole system soon gets out of gear, incapacitating one for either pleasure or work. The backache, nervous spells, impoverishment of the strength and blood are easily encouraged and developed unless something is done to restore and invigorate. The world's greatest remedy will correct this condition. The first act is to assist the stomach and liver, enabling nourishing food to digest and become assimilated by the body, to restore the nerves and blood to proper order. Energy and vitality dispel lassitude—rich, red blood courses through the veins and soon shows itself in the whole body. The eye becomes clear and keen and the brain vigorous. If you take Beecham's Pills good health will be established and

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Your Color Will Return

At all Druggists, 10c. and 25c.

The directions in every box are of special value to every woman who values her health.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 50c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS RETURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The Poster.

The poster may be said to date from 1836, when a design by Lelance was used in France to advertise a book, "Commend Meurent les Femmes." His example was very quickly followed, most of the early designs being printed in black on white or tinted paper. The color poster began about 1860 and attained to the dignity of a high art with Jules Cheret, "the father of the pictured placard." The first English theatrical placard to attract widespread attention was one of Fred Walker's advertising a dramatic version of "The Woman In White."—London Chronicle.

Those Dear Girls.

Young Bride—I didn't accept Harry the first time he proposed. Miss Ryval—No, dear; you weren't there.—Boston Transcript.

Death Claims First "Topsy"

New Haven, Dec. 2.—Mrs. Julia Wyatt, famous in her day as an actress, and creator of the part of Topsy in the original "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, died at her home here at the age of 87 years. She played the part for years. Her husband, also an actor, died in 1855.

The Weather

Almanac, Saturday, Dec. 3.
Sun rises—7:04; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—5:36 p. m.
High wate—12 m.; 12:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; brisk northwest winds.

Plenty of Fresh Air
WARM CLOTHING
AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF HEARN'S
EMULSION

And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumonia

CHAS. C. HEARN
PHARMACIST
1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes 'atalogue free Williams' Jewelry tore, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
After 3.30 at
SHUNK'S AGENCY
WOLLASTON
Leave an order and have delivered at your door

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

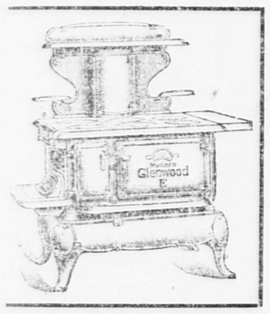
Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of
BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES

5 GRANITE STREET

LITTLE LEAKS WILL SWAMP A SHIP



LITTLE LEAKS in in business or home expense keeps many a man from forging ahead. A worn out range that wastes coal and spoils cooking is the greatest leak of all in your home. Food costs to much today to trifle with, and there's nothing more discouraging to the cook than to have her baking spoiled.

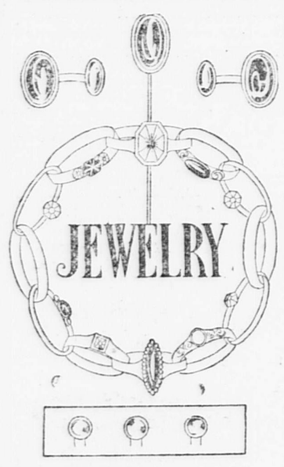
A GLENWOOD RANGE

will stop this leak, will save your coal and properly cook your food. Just take a few minutes today to look at the new GLENWOODS in our store and learn the price and terms.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock St., Quincy
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. Dec. 2-1t

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest of these: It might have been."



For more than 30 years, every Xmas eve we have seen people saddened by the thought that they might have made a choice selection of presents a few days earlier.

We hope this timely warning will prevent the usual delay.

Our stock is the largest in our line in Quincy or the surrounding towns, and prices reasonable.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, FANCY CHINA and a large line of NOVELTIES.

The features of our store are courteous treatment and no misleading statements.

SHOP EARLY

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Tel. 987 L

FIVE HOURS ON WITNESS STAND

Mrs. Glover Is Mercilessly Cross-Examined

HER MEMORY IS AT FAULT

Gives Testimony Forgotten at Previous Hearings—Gave Lawyer All Her Money Shortly After Murder of Husband—Tells How She Made Her Living Before Marriage—Shudders at Sight of Murder Revolver

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 2.—Mrs. Lillian Glover, wife of the murdered laundryman, was still on the stand under cross examination when the trial of Hattie LeBlanc was adjourned yesterday afternoon. The widow of the man the girl prisoner is accused of slaying will resume her testimony today. When Mrs. Glover was excused for the day she was being questioned about the search of the house where Hattie LeBlanc eventually was found.

She denied that she had looked under the bed in the guest chamber where Hattie was subsequently found. When confronted with her testimony to the contrary in the will case she said she had forgotten.

Mrs. Glover told minutely of her movements on the day and evening of the Waltham tragedy. At times Mrs. Glover showed a flash of anger under the lash of the questions of Lawyer Johnson, chief counsel for the defense.

The widow told about her visit to the hospital where her husband lay dying. She said she did not go to her husband's bedside because she had heard the police tell Dr. Cousens not to let anybody talk to her husband. The witness forgot to tell at previous hearings when she was on the witness stand that Mr. Tuttle delivered her a pair of shoes at 9:15 o'clock the night of the tragedy. (This was about fifteen minutes after Glover was shot.)

She admitted that a few days after her husband was killed she gave Lawyer Samuel D. Elmore, her attorney, $4153, all the money that she had in the Waltham Trust company.

Mrs. Glover admitted that she was familiar with firearms; that her husband always kept a great many in the house; that she and he shot at targets in the back yard; that she had used a rifle, shotgun and revolver, and that she may have used all of the revolvers which her husband owned at one time or another.

Mrs. Glover told about bringing Hattie LeBlanc to Boston and taking her to various theatres. She denied that she had told a friend that she wanted to give Hattie LeBlanc up the next day after the murder, but that a certain person would not let her.

She said that she never knew Hattie LeBlanc to use a revolver and that she never knew Hattie and her husband to quarrel. She said that she and her husband had little spats over dogs once in a while.

Mrs. Glover admitted that she had received letters under a false name—Minnie Everett Clark—while living with her husband in Waltham. She said that she met Clarence Glover, whom she first knew as Clarence Gardner, through a chum variously named Elizabeth, Lizzie and Lina, and through Glover's brother, Arthur. She and Glover were married twice, once in 1890 and again in 1900.

The first marriage was not a legal one, Mrs. Glover said. She admitted that she had not told the truth in connection with that marriage when she said she was born in East Boston, and that her mother was born in France.

Mrs. Glover worked in a mill when a girl, made dresses later, bought and sold pawn tickets, ran a hair-dressing place, canvassed over much of the country for books with a blind woman, addressed envelopes, sold tinware, did millinery, and at one time was a marble statue on the stage.

Mrs. Glover shuddered when Attorney Johnson, chief counsel for the defense, suddenly held before her eyes the revolver with which it is declared the killing was done.

The woman, who for five hours and over had matched her intellect against that of the trained lawyer who had cross examined her mercilessly, who had not faltered when driven to bay, and who had defied him time and again with flashing eye and vibrating voice, quailed when the shining, death-dealing weapon was suddenly produced.

A perceptible shiver ran through her body as she stood there. The silence was intense. When the lawyer banged the heavy revolver down on the table she slightly jumped. When he pulled the trigger and it snapped with a click heard with startling distinctness in the crowded courtroom, so intense was the silence of that dramatic moment, she again started, started so that everyone saw the movement.

Something of a sensation was caused when Judge Bond reprimanded District Attorney Higgins during the afternoon for implying that Attorney Johnson was not telling the truth.

BATTLE WITH CRAZY MAN

Unfortunate's Death From "Bright's Disease" Quickly Follows

Punxsutawney, Pa., Dec. 2.—Lying on his back in a corridor of the Punxsutawney hospital, Dr. Montgomery battled for his life with an insane patient, Mike Markutse, who died two hours afterward from what the hospital authorities said was Bright's disease.

Dr. Montgomery was summoned to the ward by cries of a nurse who said she had been attacked by the man when she gave him medicine. The doctor hastened to quiet him, but was himself attacked. An orderly hurried to his assistance but was knocked down with one blow. Markutse was choking Montgomery when Superintendent Grub arrived. For fifteen minutes the struggle continued before Markutse was strapped in his bed. His death quickly followed.

HAD TO TAKE VACATION

Chicago Thugs Overloaded With Plunder Taken From Victims

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Four men who have been arrested by Chicago police within the last two days confessed they were guilty of participation in more than 100 holdups in this city in the last four months.

Each told his story independently of the others and they coincided except as to special instances, which fact was explained by one of them, who said:

"Why, to tell the truth, I have held up so many of 'em, I forgot some of the details."

At one time, this man boasted, he had eight watches, and said he took so much plunder from his victims, he and his partners in crime could not dispose of it as fast as they got it, and had to "lay off work" for a while to do so.

IRRIGATED FARMS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

Small Payment For Water Rights All That Is Required

Washington, Dec. 2.—American citizens desiring to engage in farming may obtain an irrigated farm ranging in size from twenty to eighty acres virtually free from the United States.

About 400 farms are now open to entry along the several irrigation projects controlled by the government, the chief expense incurred in obtaining one of these tracts being the payment of the cost of water rights, which amounts to from $30 to $60 an acre on irrigable land.

"The crop season of 1910 in the west emphasized the value of irrigation as a sure crop producer," says a bulletin issued by the reclamation service. "It was the best year the farmers have known on the big projects of the government, and many phenomenal crop yields are reported."

FOSS ATTACKS LODGE

Friend of Senator Starts Backfire by Hiring Town Criers

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 2.—Governor-elect Foss opened his campaign against Senator Lodge at a meeting in the town hall here last night. There were about 900 people present.

Mr. Foss made a bitter attack upon the senior senator from Massachusetts, charging that he was the representative of the corporate interests in Washington and the enemy of the people.

Representative White of Brookline made things lively for the Foss party and furnished quite a little excitement. He arrived in town at noon and hired the two town criers to shout: "Tell the truth about Lodge, Mr. Foss," all over town. He also distributed circulars attacking Foss.

MESSAGE UNUSUALLY LONG

Document Is Finished by President and Sent to Printer

Washington, Dec. 2.—President Taft has completed his message and sent it to the government printing office in its final form. The message was laid before the cabinet at a special session which lasted nearly five hours.

The message is said to be an unusually long one, the estimates running from 30,000 to 40,000 words. The president went over every feature of the document with the cabinet advisers, and it is said that some changes were made at their suggestion, principally in matters affecting their own departments.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

INSANITY PLEA DISCREDITED

Barrier Between Cook and the Forgiveness He Seeks

LITTLE SYMPATHY FOR HIM

Washington Scientists Think Explorer Has Fooled the Public Long Enough, Beginning With Mt. McKinley Affair—World May Think What He Says Now Is as Likely to Be False as True

Washington, Dec. 2.—The announcement of Dr. Cook's appeal for forgiveness by the public for having gulled and deceived it caused hardly a ripple of surprise among the scientists in Washington. Most of them showed little disposition to take him up for any serious consideration whatever.

"Dr. Cook asks us to believe that he was insane while in the north," said Professor Gannett, president of the National Geographical society, and supports his claim for sympathy by being his own witness to the fact. I think he can hardly expect anyone to give him the slightest attention, for he discredited himself once and forever in the Mt. McKinley affair.

"That, taken with the peculiarly cunning sanity which caused him to swindle the public by his rapid lecture tour over the United States, forms a barrier between him and the forgiveness he now seeks."

Professor Tittman, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, who acted on the committee from the Geographical society that passed on the credentials of Commander Peary, was asked to state what effect Cook's appeal would have on the scientific world. "I should say that there was nothing to be said," he replied.

"The scientific world will not bother itself about the matter now. It is all a matter that has been settled and passed upon. Scientists do not even care whether or not the man was insane. That, of course, would be a charitable way of dealing with it. But Dr. Cook does not say he was insane when he told the world that he had climbed Mount McKinley, and the world now is likely to think what he says is as likely to be false as true."

Admiral Chester, U. S. N., and Professor Gore, who acted on the committee that approved Peary's proofs of having reached the Pole, are away from Washington. Their associates said there was no doubt as to their sharing the views expressed by their fellow scientists.

Rear Admiral Melville said: "I know nothing of any such article, but if it is so that he has written one, he is merely trying to regain the ground lost when he declared that he had reached the Pole. I said at the time of his return that he was either a crazy man or a fakir.

"Anyone who has had experience in Arctic work would know from his own statements that he knew nothing of what he was talking about, and it was with the idea of carrying out his own statements that he has written this article, I believe."

FAVORS SUNDAY SPORTS

Views of Cleveland Delegate to Methodist National Conference

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Delegates to the Methodist national conference for social service were told by one of their number that Sunday baseball and motion pictures, long under the ban of the Methodist church, should have the official sanction instead of the official ban and should be patronized instead of shunned. D. Edward A. Peterson of Cleveland said:

"It is good and wise legislation which forbids work on Sunday, for that is the only way of assuring its being observed, but where we forbid play we make Sunday a day of idleness for most young people. Of course, we must insist on observance of church services."

WOMAN QUITS $3500 JOB

Law Clerk In Government Employ to Take Up Practice of Law

Washington, Dec. 2.—The highest salaried woman in the government service, Miss Annie H. Shortridge, has resigned the position of law clerk in the office of the solicitor of the state department in order to practice law. Miss Shortridge, in September, 1909, was appointed to the place just relinquished at an annual salary of $3500.

Miss Shortridge was born in Scotland. In early life she went to New York and was employed for some time as a stenographer. In July, 1903, she was appointed a clerk in the department of justice in this city, and while there she studied law.

Second Attempt to Rob Bank

Richmond, Me., Dec. 2.—Burglars attempted to rob the First National bank for the second time within a week. At midnight Watchman Taylor discovered two men opening the outer door to the bank. As they were fitting keys to the inner door the watchman fired and the two men ran.

La France SHOE for WOMEN

Be Good To Your Feet

If your feet are tender—if ordinary shoes hurt you so that it is impossible for you to wear a new pair regularly before "breaking them in"—ask to see

LA FRANCE FLEXIBLE
(Goodyear Welt Process)

This wonderfully comfortable shoe is so flexible and elastic that you can bend the toe up as far as you like. And when released, it resumes its original shape without a wrinkle. Put them on and wear them at once—you won't have to "break them in." Conforms to the shape of your foot and fits as smoothly and comfortably as a glove. And these qualities are in addition to, and not in place of, the style and beauty that characterizes every La France model.

GRANITE SHOE STORE
QUINCY, MASS.

R. E. FOY & CO.

He's Coming!

Christmas will be here shortly. Meanwhile you should stock up with a full line of our Canned Fruits.

These goods are all of this year's pack, therefore fresh and good, with the taste that nature intended them to have.

Make up your order from this list, and note what a saving there is in dozen lots.

APRICOTS	Can.	Doz.
Hunt's Supreme	.30	3.25
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75
Flag	.25	2.75
Oro	.20	2.10
LaVerne	.15
BLUEBERRIES
Red Lilly	.15	1.60
Loggie	.12 1-2	1.40
PEACHES
Hunt's Supreme	.30	3.40
" " sliced	.30	3.40
Golden Poppy	.23	2.60
" " sliced	.23	2.65
Hatchet	.23	2.40
" sliced	.23	2.75
Oro	.20	2.20
" sliced	.20	2.20
Tremont, sliced	.10
RHUBARB
Quality	.10
CHERRIES
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75

PEARS	Can.	Doz.
Oro	.20	2.35
Hunt's Extra	.35	2.85
Golden Poppy	.25	2.75
Silver Lake	.15	1.60
Red Letter	.15	1.60
RASPBERRIES
Red Lilly	.18	2.10
Golden Harp	.28	3.10
PINEAPPLES
Sovereign, sliced	.25
" grated	.20
Pyramid Chunks	.10
Grated Pie	.10
Cocktail	.10
STRAWBERRIES
Red Lilly	.20	2.25
Golden Harp	.28	3.10
PLUMS
Golden Poppy	.22
JAMS in glass
Logan & Johnson's	.15

Begin to plan for Christmas Now

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 1-3

Phone 117

GROCERY MARKET

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

$22.50 Suits
Marked to $16.50
Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth
SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Goosebone indications are for an early winter and a merry Christmas.

The trouble with Hon. James Garfield as a leader is that as soon as anybody starts to follow him he stops.

The G. O. P. turned a somersault recently. It can turn back again as easily. Don't forget that.

Washington diplomatic circles seem to think President Diaz has solved the problem of combining sarcasm with diplomacy.

Mexico will do well to remember that when the United States goes to war it usually takes along an annexation bag.

The upper house of the English parliament can sympathize with the distressed peers of the American House of lords.

DRIFT OF OPINION

The hope of human progress without violent revolution lies in the growth of a new conscience on the part of the masses.

There was a time when the victor slaughtered the prisoners he took in war. But a new conscience came to him. He discovered that it was wrong to kill human beings, so he enslaved them and let them live.

Then the conscience expanded again. Men came to see that slavery was wrong. They emancipated the slaves.

After another interval of time, another new conscience grew up in men's minds. They saw that it was not enough to emancipate their fellows, but they must enfranchise them—allow them to have part in making the laws under which they lived.

Today a new and nobler conscience is taking possession of the people. They are beginning to realize that precisely as it is wrong to permit the physical bully to knock down and rob his fellowmen, so it is wrong to permit the intellectual, the financial, or the economic bully to exploit his fellowmen by taking advantage of their necessities.

This new twentieth century conscience is the essence of insurgency.—Beverly Times.

K. of C. ELECTION.

The annual meeting of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus, was held Thursday evening and these officers elected:

Grand Knight,—John J. Cunniff.
Deputy Grand Knight,—Edward D. Barrett.
Chancellor,—John A. McGowan.
Warden,—William A. Carey.
Financial Secretary,—Richard A. Cole.
Recording Secretary,—Alfred J. LaCroix.
Treasurer,—Michael T. Sullivan.
Advocate,—Timothy J. Collins.
Trustees,—Peter J. Cahill and M. J. L. Kennedy.
Delegates to State Convention,—Lawrence W. Lyons and Peter J. Cahill.
Alternates,—Edward J. Murphy and James F. Burke.
Organist,—Peter M. Sullivan.
Delegate to Boston Council,—James F. Burke.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the installation to be held early in January.

—Don't sell eggs that are unfit for food, Mr. Dealer. If you do, the law enforcers will camp on your trail and you'll find yourself arraigned before some police judge. Then if convicted, there will be passed out to you a fine or a sentence to do time. Judge Barrett of Philadelphia has established the precendents and it will become popular. Two commission merchants who sold bad eggs were sentenced by him to three months each in the county prison.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

DUTCH KERMESS

(Continued from Page 1.)

floor to ceiling and whose large sails were diligently in motion.

On all four sides stood the quaint brick buildings of the Dutch in which were the shops with signs of strange enigmatic Dutch names. At the end of the hall stood two pretentious buildings with windows of colored glass in the second story. In one was the Gift-Winkel or gift shop while the other, the men's shop, will be used for the Dutch coffee house house this evening. Between the two ran the canal where young and old enjoyed the fun of fishing for grabs.

On a platform near the canal was an orchestra composed of Frank Bishop, Roger Bates Thornton Walters and Herbert Percival who furnished instrumental music during the evening. Vocal solos by Louis B. Weston were also enjoyed.

The effect was further enhanced by the costumes of the shop keepers who in caps, kerchiefs and gowns prevaded the shops and the square.

The scenic effects were the work of A. W. Rohn who with the following committee of decoration should be congratulated upon the success of their work: Roy C. Baker, Louis B. Weston, Selden George, Herbert Percival, Winslow Weston, Arvin Page, Clifton Baker.

Hans and Gretel Van Twiller in attractive costumes were to be seen in the persons of Robert Merrill and Rebecca Bird.

In connection with the Kermess a turkey supper was served in the Unitarian vestry which all those who partook declared to be the best ever. The decorations here took the form of a Dutch garden with pots of tupils as the table decorations and chrysanthemums showing with a Dutch wall.

In charge of the supper were a committee composed of Mrs. Joseph N. Smith, chairman, Mrs. William M. Chase, Mrs. William Burrell, Mrs. Samuel Chapman, Mrs. John O'Neill, Mrs. H. C. Briggs, Mrs. George H. York, Mrs. H. C. Seymour, Mrs. W. Herman Waterman, Mrs. C. S. Adams, Mrs. E. G. Howe, Miss Gladys Howe, Mrs. George Weston, Mrs. Henry A. Barnes, Mrs. Adelaide O'Brien, Miss Almira E. Simmons, Mrs. W. E. Simmons.

Ensconced in the lower portion of the wind mill was the "Sulker Winkel" or candy shop with the following committee: Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Lucy K. Arnold, Mrs. E. F. DeNormandie, Mrs. Alfred H. Richards, Mrs. J. W. West, Mrs. W. G. Curtis, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague, Mrs. Clifton H. Baker, Mrs. Simmons, Miss Elsie Snow, Miss Hattiemay Mitchell, Miss Caroline Sprague, Miss Grace Bishop, Miss Elsie Snow, Miss Evelyn Cummings, Miss Clara Totman.

The "Gift Winkel" was in charge of the following, Mrs. Charles Jameson, Mrs. W. F. Kimball, Miss Ninon Lacey, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Mrs. F. W. White, Miss Margaret Hall, Mrs. G. W. Glover, Mrs. Willis Clark, Miss Fanny Johnson.

The ""Handwerkje" or fancy goods shop was in charge of Mrs. Carl G. Horst, Mrs. W. E. Rowe, Mrs. James B. Geddes, Mrs. Harold D. Waterhouse Mrs. William H. Boynton, Mrs. H. A. Stevens, Mrs. H. S. Perkins, Mrs. R. L. Turner, Mrs. R. W. Oldham.

Presiding at the "Roomtje" or ice cream booth were a committee composed of Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Walter J. Wellington, Mrs. Edward J. Cummings, Mrs. A. B. Hillman, Mrs. N. O. Parker.

The "Weelde Artikelen" or apron booth was served by Mrs. Edmund Taylor, Mrs. A. C. Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Brigham, Mrs. H. F. Davis, Miss Weston, Mrs. R. W. Poole, Mrs. Charles L. Monroe.

At the "Handkotsif" shop were the following: Mrs. George W. Bennett, Mrs. Charles T. Baker, Mrs. George R. Thompson, Mrs. Arthur W., Rohn, Miss Helen L. Foster, Miss Jennie Foster, Mrs. Benjamin Sargent, Mrs. Marion Thompson.

The following gentlemen were in charge of the men's shop. Messrs Geo Weston, William E. Rowe, George H. York, Clifton H. Baker, A. B. Hillman, James B. Geddes, William Burrill and others.

At the canal in charge of the fish pond or grabs were: Miss Clara E. G. Thayer, Mrs. E. B. Bird, Mrs. George B. Damon, Mrs. F. W. Loring, Mrs. R. D. Hall, Mrs. H. H. Ralph, Miss Dora M. Start, Mrs. Fred C. Merrill.

—There is plenty of reason for thankfulness that American women have not reached the mental state of some of their English sisters on the suffrage question. When it becomes a fad to break windows, assault high government officials and do a lot of other things in order that they may be arrested and suffer "martyrdom" for the cause, these English women would seem to be in a pitiful condition.—Medford Mercury.

"BUY YOUR OWN CHERRIES."

One evening, sometime ago, a man called after his day's work was over for a drink as had been his custom for a number of years.

He was counted by his fellow workmen as a pretty good sort of a fellow when he was Jim Ford; but a demon when drunk. He had done a few things like many others that get drunk, such as turning his wife out of doors, and now and then giving her a black eye, sometimes two for a change. Little Mary, if she pleaded with him to spare mamma would have to take her share, also, and also, and the little boy, Jamie, who was asickly little fellow; and the rumor was, but not very generally known, that one night when Jim Ford was crazy with drink little Jamie tried to protect his mother from the blows of his father, and his little head came in contact with his father's fist; that proved to be the cause of his death. Of course this was known to Jim's wife, and one night little Jamie was lying on his little bed, that is if you could call it a bed, up in one corner of the room, no bedstead, only an old bag stuffed with straw and scarcely any covering, but he did not complain. He was a good boy for his mother said he was, and mothers will tell the truth about their boys anyway.

But on this night he seemed more restless than usual and looking up said:

"Mamma,—Mamma, has my papa come home yet?"

"No, Jamie, my darling, he has not; but I wish he would come for I would like to get you something nice to eat. But mamma has no money to buy it with. But oh, if papa would only come home sober, and bring some money, how glad I should be."

"Dear mamma, never mind about me. I shall not be mamma's little man long, but I should so like to see papa before I die."

On this very night as Jim Ford was standing before the bar in Mr. Boniface's saloon, a large dish full of fine ripe cherries was before him. Jim could not keep his eyes off them, and he thought, "How I should like one," and stretched out his hand to take one when the saloon keeper snatched them away, saying with a sneer, "Those cherries are not for you. Buy your own cherries."

If you could have seen Jim Ford's face at that moment you would never have forgotten it, and the thoughts that flew through his brain went faster than an express train at a mile in sixty seconds. At last he said, "I did not wish to steal, but it is a long time since I tasted a cherry and they looked so nice I felt I would like to taste one."

But the angry look from the landlord and the still more mocking words, "They are not for the likes of you, and your ragged brats; buy your own cherries!" set him to thinking.

Jim Ford looked around the room; a door leading into another room was partly open. He saw the wife and daughter of the landlord with others seated around a large table loaded with good things; such as soup, turkey, chicken, puddings, pie, cake and fruit of every kind. The thought came, who buys these?

With one desperate effort, and without stopping to empty his glass, he turned quickly round. Out into the street and fresh air he went, with the words still ringing in his ears: "Buy your own cherries."

As he walked toward his long neglected and destitute home, with head hanging down, at last he said, "I will, by the help of my God, buy my own cherries from tonight," and he walked into the grocery store and bought meat, flour, sugar, apples, cherries and candy, and many other things that had never entered Jim Ford's house for many a year.

Jim Ford halted outside the door, as he heard some one, he thought crying. He heard the words, "Save me and my dear little children from my drunken husband; and save him and make him good and sober."

Something touched Jim and made him feel as never before, and he stumbled and fell forward with his bundle on the floor, making such a noise that most every one that lived in the alley wondered what capers Jim Ford was up to tonight; and so frightened Mrs. Ford and the children that they dare not speak.

At last Jim Ford raised himself up and resting on one knee, said: "Mary Ford, your husband has come home to you tonight a sober man, and tonight these children have what they have scarce ever had, a sober father. I want to ask you all to forgive me as I have asked God to forgive me and make me a good man, a kind husband and a loving father, and never to touch a drop of liquor again as long as I live. Will you all forgive me? I know you have much laid up against me, but I can't undo what I have done. I have bought meat, clothes, new furniture, and helped build a fine house for the landlord that keeps the barroon yonder; while you have been hungry and miserable and it has been caused through drink."

Little Jamie was the first to speak. "Papa, me forgive you."

Jim went and knelt down by the little bundle of straw, where the little fellow lay, buried his face in his hands and cried like a little child. The mother and little Mary knelt by his side, saying as they did so, "We forgive you."

Jamie said, 'Papa, you won't beat mamma and Mary any more, will you? As I is soon going to die and go to Jesus, I will ask him to forgive you, and I know he will."

With their arms around the father's neck they each kissed and forgave, and this was the first happy night that had been spent for many years in that home.

This took place some time ago, but Jim Ford was true as steel, he joined the temperance cause and became a great worker and soon moved to a better home. Little Jamie lived for some time. He always looked up from his little bed, and was always the first to greet papa when he came home and look for papa's kiss, for he had a new bed now and everything to make him comfortable, till he fell asleep to wake no more. Some time later meeting Mr. Boniface the latter said: "My, where have you been, Jim Ford? How we have missed you!"

"I have done," said Jim "what you told me to do. I have bought my own cherries. I thought I had bought yours long enough, and not only have I bought cherries, but I have bought a home and planted trees where I can grow them myself, and my advice to one and all is: 'Buy your own cherries.'"—William May.

MILTON.

The East Milton Improvement association is enthusiastic over the proposition to extend the street railway tracks over Granite avenue to connect with the Adams street line of the Elevated. As the Elevated is also to extend its tracks to this point in the near future to accommodate the large number who will be employed at the new factories to be erected on the banks of the Neponset river, it will make a short line to Dudley street.

Mrs. Rebecca Russell, aged 94 years the oldest woman in Milton, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Crossman at 753 Centre street. Mrs. Russell was born in Needham. For over fifty years she has been a member of the First M. E. church of Dorchester. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. F. L. Crossman and Mrs. William Baker, and five grandchildren.

An echo of the recent case where two young girls were arrested for breaking and entering the Eustis houses and larceny therefrom came up Wednesday, when Clarence Donahue was arrested for receiving some of the property alleged to have been stolen from the houses. The value of the goods alleged to have been received was $62. The young man was arraigned in court Thursday and his case continued until Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Thursday Evening club this week was turned into a whist tournament, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the members.

The skating pond at the Cunningham park, as well as the toboggan slide, are in shape for winter. Ice and snow are the only things needed to have them in use.

Automobilists have a wholesome fear of the Milton police automobile which is on the watch at all time for speeders. Yet automobile drivers also try to live up to the law and do not drive in a reckless manner need have no fear of being arrested.

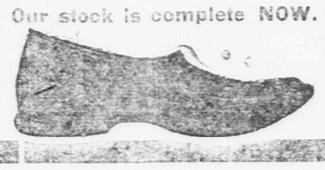
DO YOU WANT YOUR RUBBERS TO LAST ALL WINTER? IF SO, BUY GOLD SEAL!!! IF NOT, BUY THE OTHER KINDS.

GOLD SEAL RUBBERS AND . . SNAG PROOF BOOTS.

Even our competitors will admit that in GOLD SEAL RUBBERS we have THE BEST RUBBERS IN THE WORLD for Men, Women and Children. We have the exclusive agency for Quincy; no other dealer can get them and YOU CAN'T BUY THEM ANYWHERE BUT AT THE

GRANITE SHOE STORE
QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET.

Our stock is complete NOW.



Start the Winter RIGHT with a Pair of GOLD SEAL RUBBERS. GET A PAIR THE NEXT TIME YOU ARE DOWN TOWN.

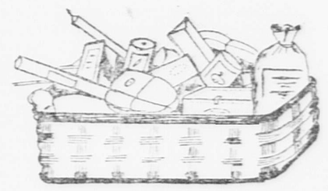
GRANITE SHOE STORE QUINCY AGENCY FOR GOLD SEAL RUBBERS

GRANITE SHOE STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

SALE FROM DEC 1 TO DEC 10

BERRY BROTHERS BOUNTIFUL BARGAIN..... BASKETS.... $1.00



This bargain basket advertising is nott a cheap scheme to induce you to trade with us. We figure just about what you ordinarily require to provide your table for a week, assemble the goods, and give you the advantage of wholesale prices AND NO CHARGE FOR DELIVERY!!

WHAT YOU WOULD PAY ELSEWHERE

CONTENTS OF BASKET	THEIR PRICES	OUR PRICES
1-2 Peck Potatoes	13 cents	1 cent
1 Package Rolled Oats	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can A. B. Tomatoes	12 cents	1 cent
1 Package Cream C. Starch	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can Del. Peaches	15 cents	1 cent
1 Package S. & P. Pepper	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Bar Soap	5 cents	5 cts.
Quart Bottle Ammonia	15 cents	10 cts.
Package Soda Crackers	5 cents	5 cts.
Can "Big Ten" Washing Powder	10 cents	10 cts.
1-2 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Coffee	15 cents	14 cts.
1-4 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Tea	15 cents	15 cts.
1 Package Jelline	10 cents	10 cts.
1 Can B. B. Cocoa	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Handle Market Basket	10 cents	8 cts.
Package Forne		FREE
Total	$1.65	$1.00

BERRY BROTHERS
WHERE YOU BOUGHT THAT DELICIOUS TURKEY
CITY SQUARE QUINCY

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

ALTAR GUILD MEETING.

The Altar Guild of St. Chrysostom's church met at the rectory Thursday evening for its regular monthly meeting. Members were assigned the months which they will be on duty. It was voted to change the date of meeting to the first Sunday in the month, at 6.30 o'clock. As usual the Guild is responsible for the Christmas decorations and the secretary Miss Ross was directed to order them. The president Mrs. eHrbert L. Packard gave a short talk on Altar linen, explaining the use of each piece,how much and how little embroidery and the required design, size, etc. The relation of the different pieces with the sacred vessels directly employed in the offering of the Eucharistic service and the symbolical meaning of each piece of the linen. She said in part, "In the service of God nothing can be trivial or insignificant or beneath the notice of those appointed to do it. You will find the most spiritual among the holy men of old whom the church commemorates were remarkable for the care which they exercised over the minutest details of Divine worship. A social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Steenstra graciously served tea, fancy cakes and bonbons.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

New Up to Date Furniture Store
At 1601 Hancock Street
THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.
It will pay you to visit our new up-to-date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture, Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.
CASH or CREDIT
Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time.
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

CHARGES REFUTED

Commissioner Bainbridge Writes a Letter

Citizens of Quincy:

...esident of Quincy, of Wollas... Commissioner of Public Works, ...ly for the respect of my ... and my own self respect, ... to refute certain charges re... the Coddington, Lincoln and ... Neck schools, and the perma... walks being built this year.

...harge has been made that the ... cheated on these buildings ... is not a fact as an inspection ... fair minded qualified person ... or after the construction would ... The designs of the buildings ... arrangements I am not respon... for as these are not determined ... but the construction of these ... will compare favorably with ... schoolhouse ever built in Quincy ... less than one hundred dollars was ... in extras on the three buildings. ... Commissioner of Public Works I ... the Coddington and Lincoln ... and when the Houghs Neck ... is finished and turned over to ... it will be with my approval.

...far as the paving on Hancock ... is concerned, the work is as ... as could be done under the cir... and the city will receive ... financial job. The contract and ... specifications for the tar sidewalks ... two inches and four inches ... thickness, according to location ... specified by me and I should be ... pleased to be shown where any work ... is poorly done as it is all ... required and cost the city nothing ... extra.

In conclusion I want to add that it ... the duty of any person who thinks ... work not being fulfilled to inform ... me not being fulfilled to inform ... me while the work is going on ... defects will be remedied if ... the city's interest as the city is ... one that I stand debtor to in ... matters.

Randolph Bainbridge,
Commissioner of Public Works.
(Advertisement.)

YOUR FRIENDS PERFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every girl in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diamond ring for the baby; bracelet and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps a watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning gift of all, a multitude of precious stones and jewels.

...earch the gamut of human wants ... you will find no gift so acceptable ... jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

...en you wish to select jewelry for ... friends or relatives, come to this ... You can not find more depend... jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade with us means a considerable cash saving.

...you are unfamiliar with jewelry, ... will be glad to help you to make ... selections. On the other hand, ... are accustomed to buying rings, ... bracelets, watches, etc., so ... better. You will appreciate more keenly the high-quality of ... goods and our up-to-date selections.

...eedless to say, every article of ... we sell is warranted to ... exactly as represented. There's no ... for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting ... brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.
JEWELERS
1281 Hancock Street
Quincy, Mass.

DEATH OF PETER TURNER

Greatly Interested in Yachting and Astronomy

Peter Boylston Turner one of Quincy's oldest residents passed away early this morning at his home on Faxon avenue aged 83 years. Mr. Turner has been a sufferer from an incurable disease for several years yet up to within a short time he has been able to be out.

Mr. Turner was born in Quincy and has always made his home here. Early in life he learned the carpenter's trade and learned it thoroughly and was what might be called an old style carpenter. That is a carpenter who was thoroughly competent to do all kinds of work. Now a days all doors and window sashes are made by machinery and not one carpenter in dozens is able to do this kind of work. Mr. Turner however did lots of it in his day.

He was also an enthusiastic yachtsman in his younger days and not only designed and built several fast yachts but sailed them to victory in many a hard fought yacht race under the colors of the Quincy and other yacht clubs.

He was also interested in astronomy and at his residence Faxon avenue built an observatory where he installed a large and powerful telescope and of late years he has spent many hours here. In the day time he was constantly scanning the lower harbor while at night his telescope was trained toward the heavens where he studied the stars.

He built many houses in Quincy and was the owner of considerable real estate.

He was the official measurer of the Quincy Yacht club from 1875 to 1880.

SUFFICENTLY OCCUPIED.

A story is told of a colonel in General Lee's division in the late civil war who sometimes indulged in more apple-jack than was good for him. Passing him one evening leaning against a tree, the general said:

"Good evening, colonel. Come over to my tent for a moment, please."

"S-s-cuse me, g-g-en'ral, s-s-cuse me," replied the colonel. "It's 'bout all I can do to stay where I am."—Philadelphia Ledger.

POLITICAL NOTES.

There is one female voter registered from Ward Two, and for her it is necessary that the City Clerk shall prepare two sets of ballots of sixty each. This same lady has been a registered voter for several years and this same number of ballots has to be printed every year although for several years she has not exercised her right to vote for School Committee.

Mayor Shea was given a reception Thursday evening on Cranch hill by a number of residents of that section. Tonight he will be the guest of the Fore River Football association at Quincy Point and later of the Houghs Neck associates. Saturday night he will be given a reception by the Iroquois club at their rooms in City Square.

It is probable that Candidate Hobbs will address rallies at Quincy Point and Atlantic tonight or tomorrow night.

With so many political meetings in progress it is doubtful if the City Council spends much time Monday evening at its meeting.

PARENTS' ASSOCIATION.

The Parents and Teachers Association of the Massachusetts Fields school held a social in the hall of the school on Thursday evening. The entertainment of the evening was an informal one which included many games. In charge of the affair were the executive committee composed of Miss Ruth Taylor, Mrs. Frank Larkin, Mrs. Elisha Atkins, Mrs. Charles W. Reynolds and Mrs. Judson Smith. An interesting speaker has been secured for the next meeting which will be held on the evening of January 5. It is hoped by that time that the promised electric lights will have been installed.

—"Are you one of those," she asked, "who think man is woman's superior?" "No, indeed," he replied "Where is there a man who would be able to go about with his arms and chest bared to the winter winds to say nothing of wearing shoes that covered only his heels and toes? One day of that sort of thing in this climate would send the strongest man among us to the hospital."—Chicago Record-Herald.

COOPERATIVE

(Continued from Page 1.)

Quincy." It was pointed out that this section of the city was handicapped in many ways, and that the recent census showed that the section had not grown any during the past ten years. One of the reasons for this was that there were no modern houses in this section, and that young people getting married moved to sections of the city where modern houses could be had.

It was pointed out that one reason for this condition was the lack of facilities that could be had by the establishment of a cooperative bank. There were institutions of this kind at Quincy and Wollaston but West Quincy people could not get as good terms at these banks as other sections of the city. On the other hand if such a bank was established at West Quincy it was believed much more building would take place.

Those who had looked into the matter said that from the canvas already made it was certain that enough subscribers could be obtained inside of 48 hours to establish a bank of this kind. This would put West Quincy on an equal footing with other sections. While it was not definitely decided by the association to take action in the matter it is more than probable that those who have already interested themselves in looking into the subject will take the initiative and that the establishment of a cooperative bank at West Quincy in the near future is a foregone conclusion.

At the supper which followed the meeting sandwiches, hot coffee, doughnuts and other good things to eat were provided in abundance.

The annual meeting of the association will be held next Thursday evening at which time officers for the ensuing year will be elected and the final date for the annual banquet of the association decided upon.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION.

Dennis F. Crowley, contractor of the new school building at Houghs Neck, informed the Commissioner of Public Works this noon that the building was now all completed and ready to be delivered over to the city. Mr. Crowley said that he would be at the building all day Saturday and Sunday, so that anyone who desired to inspect the building might do so.

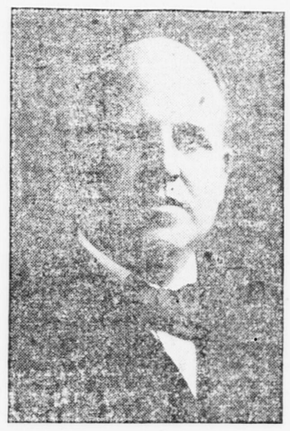
Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

REPUBLICAN

(Continued from page 1.)

During the last three years I have had opportunity to observe the manner in which the business of the city has been transacted. I believe it a duty I owe you at this time to state that in my opinion the affairs of the city during those years have been conducted in accordance with strict and recognized business principles.

Some months ago, Mr. Hobbs, as President of the City Council, appointed a special committee, of which he was chairman, to investigate the finances of the city. The committee did so, and was unable to find a single act of commission or commission connected with Mayor Shea's administration it could criticise.



COUNCILMAN WHITON.

Early this season, in accordance with the provisions of the City Ordinances, a committee of the City Council was appointed by Mr. Hobbs to examine the accounts and management of the Woodward Fund and Property. The committee on October 17, 1910, reported, and in its report approved the manner in which that fund was being managed.

I believe Quincy is fortunate in having a man of Mayor Shea's recognized independence, ability and honesty, willing to serve it for another year as its chief executive.

I believe Mayor Shea worthy of being re-elected and trust the voters of Quincy will on next Tuesday elect him Mayor of our city.

Joseph L. Whiton, Jr.,
29 Whitney road.
December 1, 1910.
(Advertisement.)

GAS SHOW

December 7-13

10 A. M. to 10 P. M.

MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON

MUSIC

FADETTE'S ORCHESTRA---40 Pieces

Moving Pictures. Italian Marionettes

Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.

11 Granite Street, QUINCY

Something New In Kitchen Ware

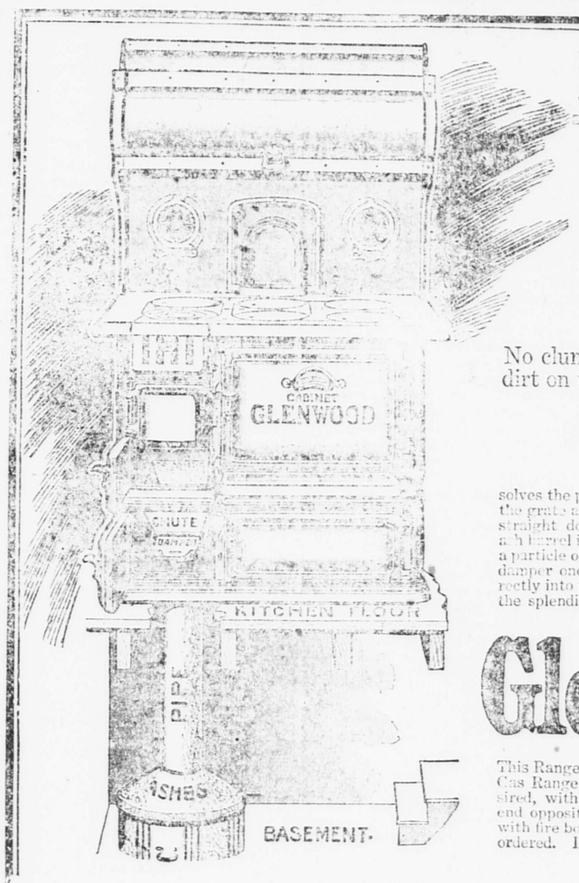
The "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is rapidly coming into use for cooking purposes. It is taking the place of agate and enamel ware because while its first cost is a trifle more than ordinary ware, it is really much cheaper in the long run, as it is guaranteed for twenty-five years and will last practically a life time.

The genuine "1892" Ware, made only from pure SPUN (not cast) Aluminum, will not crack, scale, peel, break, scorch or burn.

It looks like silver but weighs only about one-quarter as much, is easily cleaned and handled, and will not rust, corrode or tarnish. Absolutely pure, non-poisonous and wholesome; saves money, time and doctor's bills.

Be sure you get the original and genuine ware stamped with the Maltese Cross. At your dealers.

KINCAIDE'S ANNEX
1459 Hancock Street, Quincy.



No More Ashes To Lug

No clumsy pan to spill dust and dirt on the kitchen floor.

The Glenwood Ash Chute

solves the problem. It is located just beneath the grate and connected by a sheet iron pipe straight down through the kitchen floor to ash barrel in cellar. No part is in sight. Not a particle of dust can escape. Just slide the damper once each day and drop the ashes directly into the ash barrel. This is only one of the splendid improvements of the new plain

Cabinet Glenwood

This Range can be had with Elevated or End Gas Range Attachments or if gas is not desired, with Large Copper Reservoir on the end opposite fire box. It can be furnished with fire box at either right or left of oven as ordered. It Makes Cooking Easy.

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

This Store is the Home of Hart, Schaffner & Marx good clothes

HOLIDAY GOODS FOR ALL

Men's Suits, Men's Overcoats, Men's Smoking Jackets, "Special Bath" Robes $5.00
Boys' Suits, Boys' Overcoats, Boys' Sweaters, 1-3 less than Boston prices.

Gifts for 25c — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
NECKTIES (Boxed)
ARM BANDS (silk)
HOSIERY
INITIAL HDFKS.
SUSPENDERS (boxed)
CUFF BUTTONS
INITIAL STICK PINS
GARTERS
SILK HDFKS.
WATCH FOBS
COLLAR BUTTON SETS
WOOL GLOVES
COLLAR BUTTON SETS
WOOL MITTENS

FOR BOYS
WOOL GLOVES
SKATING CAPS
UNDERWEAR
HOSIERY
HDFKS., 2 for 25c
WOOL CAPS

Gifts for 50c — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
COMBINATION SUSPENDERS
ARMBANDS & GARTERS (boxed)
COMB, HDFS & TIES (boxed)
COMB, SUSP. & GARTERS (boxed)
SILK ARM BANDS (boxed)
SILK HOSIERY
SILK SUSPENDERS
SILK TIES (boxed)
COMB. INITIAL STICK PIN & CUFF BUTTONS
SILK GARTERS
KNIT MUFFLERS
SHIRT STUD SETS
WATCH FOBS
CUFF BUTTONS
COMB. STICK PINS & CUFF BUTTONS

FOR BOYS
WOOL GLOVES
HOCKEY CAPS
SHIRTS
UNDERWEAR
NIGHT SHIRTS
PLUSH GAUNTLET GLOVES
LEATHER PALMS
UMBRELLAS

Gifts for $1 — All Christmas Boxes

FOR MEN
COMB. SILK SUSP. & GARTERS
CROCHETED SILK SUSPENDERS
MOCHA GLOVES WOOL LINED
INITIAL LINEN HDFKS., 6 in box
COMB. SILK SUSP. & BELT "Something New"
COMB. STICK PIN & CUFF BUTTONS
SHIRT SETS
SILK HOISERY 2 pair in a box
SILK SCARFS
KNIT MUFFLERS
NIGHT SHIRTS
PAJAMAS
SILK MUFFLERS
UMBRELLAS

FOR BOYS
HATS
GLOVES
SWEATERS
CORDEROY PANTS
UNDERWEAR
FLANNELETTE PAJAMAS

Headquarters of Utility Gifts for Men and Boys

PAYSON, MITCHELL CO.

We give S. & H. Green Stamps "Store of Quality" We give S. & H. Green Stamps

1387 Hancock Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY. Dec. 1-6t

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911 NOW

One Hundred Styles to Select From

New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet
Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES IN

Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever . . . . . .

L. A. CHAPIN

1395 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 80c lb
Nov. 29-tf

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 279-3. Residence 223-3.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

As a FAMILY DAILY PAPER has no equal and is appreciated by ADVERTISERS

HISTORIC QUINCY.

City of Presidents Has Much Of Interest

Old historic Quincy settled in 1625 has much of interest to visitors. When Braintree was incorporated in 1640, the territory now known as Quincy, was a part. In 1792 Quincy became an independent town, and in 1888 was incorporated as a city.

Quincy was named in honor of Col John Quincy, descendant in the third generation from Edmund, 2d, who settled in Quincy, in 1634; grand-father of Abigail (Smith) Adams, the wife and mother of a President of the United States.

The city includes Wollaston, Atlantic, Quincy Point, South Quincy, West Quincy, Montclair, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston Park, Squantum, Houghs Neck, Adams Shore, Germantown and Quincy Neck, comprising in all over 16 square miles, of which 2,530 acres are in public parks.

Birthplaces of Presidents.

Birthplace of John Adams, the first Vice President and second President of the United States, Franklin street Quincy Adams house built in 1681 and restored in 1897 by Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution. Open to public. Admission charged.

Birthplace of John Quincy Adams the sixth President of the United States, junction of Franklin street Presidents road and Independence avenue. Built 1716, restored 1896 by the Quincy Historical Society. Open to public afternoons from 2 to 5. Admission charged.

Abigail Adams Cairn.

Penns Hill, erected June 17, 1896, by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to the memory of Abigail Adams, who with her son, John Quincy from the spot watched the smoke of battle at Bunker Hill. Cairn composed of many historic stones, the corner stone being part of the old sleeper of first railroad in United States which ran from Quincy quarries to tide water, Neponset river.

Burial Place of Presidents.

First Congregational Church (Unitarian) at Quincy centre. In auditorium each side of high pulpit, are mural monuments, to the memory of John Adams, the second president, and John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, and their wives. The funeral of John Quincy Adams was held in this church. Beneath the entrance is the Adams tomb reached by stairways from the vestibule. Near the tomb is the box in which was brought from Washington the body of John Quincy Adams, also the old town hearse. Admission may be secured on application to W. E Dewhurst, sexton, 3 Maple street. A fee is asked for attendance, etc.

Hancock Cemetery.

Hancock cemetery across the street from First church contains many old stones. Among the old graves are those of Henry Adams founder of the Adams family who died Oct. 5, 1646; Rev. William Thompson, 1st pastor over the Braintree church who died Dec. 10, 1666; Rev. Henry Flint who died Oct. 11, 1668; Rev. John Hancock father of the Patriot who died May 7 1744, and many other notable people.

John Hancock Birthplace.

Adams street, junction of Dimmick and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet has been placed by the City of Quincy on Adams Academy to mark the place where the house stood in which the patriot John Hancock, the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence was born.

Presidents Adams Mansion.

Adams street, corner Newport avenue, Quincy. Residence of President John Adams and contains many family relics. Occupied by descendants Not open to public.

Presidents Lane.

Now Goffe street, leading from Adams street, near Mansion. Opened by John Adams to drive his cows to pasture.

Dorothy Q. House.

Hancock street, corner Butler road Quincy. Old Quincy homestead in which Dorothy Q was born. Owned by the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames. Has quaint old paper on parlor put on for wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy; also secret chamber and other interesting features. Open free to the public on Saturdays, from 11 A. M., until 4 P. M Other days admission charged.

Myles Standish Cairn.

Squantum heights, erected in 1895 by the Daughters of the Revolution of Massachusetts, in memory of Captain Myles Standish and his men of Plymouth Colony, who landed here Sept 30, 1621, guided by the Indian Tisquantum.

Myles Standish Spring.

On the beach to the left and back of Squantum Inn. Spring of fresh cold water, where Standish and his party breakfasted and thence started to explore the country around Boston Bay

Squaw Rock.

Pile of rock, on which is a perfect head of a squaw frequently mentioned in early Squantum history. Near by is also Sachem's Knoll.

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE OF

LOCAL AND BOSTON THEATRES

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

The repertoire of the fifth week of the second season of the Boston Opera House will be made up of the most popular operas presented by the Boston Opera Company. The triple bill will be the opening production on Monday December 5th. L'Enfant Prodigue by Debussy with Alice Nielsen in the role of Lia, Robert Lassalle as Azael, and Ramon Blanchart as Simeon. Andre-Caplet will conduct. This will be followed by the second tableau from the opera Der Geizige Ritter (The Miser Knight) by Rachmaninoff. George Baklanoff will take the part of the Baron and Arnaldo Conti will conduct. Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni will end the evening's program with Carmen Melis in the role of Santuzza, Janka Czaplinska as Lola, Anne Roberts as Mamma Lucia, John McCormack as Turiddu and Rodolfo Fornari as Alfio, Roberto Horanzooni will conduct. Wednesday evening will be Mefistofele in Italian by Boito, with Leon Sibiriakoff as Mefistofele, and Florencio Constantino as Faust. Alice Nielsen will sing the part of Margherita and Carmen Melis that of Elena. Friday evening Il Barbiere Di Siviglia by Rossini. Lydia Lipkowska will sing the role of Rosina, Anne Roberts that of Berta, Florencio Constantino will take the part of Count Almaviva, Leon Sibimiakoff will take the part of Basilio. Saturday matinee will be Lacheme by Puccini. Mimi will be sung by Lydia Lipkowska, Cusetta by Feiy Dereyne, Rdolfo by Florencio Constantino.

On Saturday evening at popular prices will be presented Il Trovatore in Italian by Verdi. Leonora will be sung by Luisa Villani, Azucena by Maria Claessens, and Ines by Grace Fisher, Enrico Areson will sing the part of Manrio, Cint de Luna that f Carlo Galeffi, Ferrando will be sung by Giuseppe Perini and Ruiz by Ernesto Giraccone, Roberto Horanzoni will conduct.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The coming week at the Castle Square brings Mr. Craig's second Shakspearean production this season. The play chosen is the idyllic comedy of "Twelfth Night," in which many famous actors and actresses have appeared during the past three centuries. Its romance, its poetry, its humor are as fresh as ever, and it will offer a strong contrast to Mr. Craig's recent production of "Richard III." It contains many romantic scenes and episodes, and its story of the shipwrecked Viola, her parting from her brother, her adventures in the court of the Duke Orsino, and the delightful masquerading in masculine garb, offer a series of highly diverting and dramatic situations. The entire comedy bubbles over with humor, and the contrast between its varied characters, Viola and Malvolio, Sir Toby Belch and Sir Andrew Aguescheck, the Duke Orsino and the Countess Olivia, Maria and the Clown, affords endless humor and entertainment. They are the most picturesque personages in all of Shakspeare's plays. The rehearsals during the past two weeks will ensure one of the finest productions of "Twelfth Night" ever seen on the Boston stage. The costumes will be picturesque and elaborate, the scenery will offer no little illusion, and the cast will be carefully chosen. Mary Young will appear as Viola, the heroine, and Mr. Craig as Malvolio, the comic steward while George Hassell will be seen as Sir Toby Belch, Donald Meek as Sir Andrew Aguecheck, Bert Young as Sebastian, Wilfred Young as the Clown, Florence Shirley as Maria, and Marie Curtis as Olivia.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

The Boston reviewers and the theatregoers agreed that Francis Wilson and his comedy, "The Bachelor's Baby," which was given its first Boston production at the Hollis Street Theatre, last Monday night, are remarkable successes and that if one wishes forty laughs in thrice forty minutes, the Hollis Street Theatre, where Mr. Wilson is presenting "The Bachelor's Baby," is the real place to go. "The Bachelor's Baby," with its comedy and pathos is a sure cure for the blues. It is guaranteed to produce laughter; to make the wrinkles go and if any one has troubles it will cause them to forget. And sitting through this particularly delightful little sermon in unselfishness, one goes home refreshed, brightened, with a kinder heart and a desire to do something nice for the first child one meets. A curious thing about "The Bachelors Baby" is its appeal to all classes of theatregoers, from the gods in the gallery to those in evening dress in the orchestra stalls, whether they be married or single. The story is a simple one. A bachelor hates the sight, touch and sound of children, has a baby girl of five left to him by his brother, just dead. The child wins the bachelor by witching love. It takes three acts to tell the story and with the laughter there are many moments of extreme humanity. Francis Wilson has never been seen to better advantage, than in the role of the child hating bachelor and his supporting company is an extremely well balanced organization. Mr. Wilson will only play matinees on Saturdays during his engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

A diver entirely different from any other that has appeared in vaudeville, will be one of the leading attractions at B. F. Keith's theatre next week. Her name is Odiva, and she is a Samoan pearl diver who recently came to this country, and everywhere has created a sensation, not only by her diving from great heights but from the feats she performs under water. Odiva carries an entire troupe with her, and her performances are in a mammoth glass tank set on top of the stage. It is so constructed that everything she does under water is plainly visible. Some of her most interesting feats are waltzing under water, disrobing under water and doing all sorts of stunts, including sewing and acrobatics. Another big feature will be the distinguished actress, Elita Proctor Otis, who will make her first vaudeville appearance here in a splendid comedy which has proved one of the biggest hits of her career. In fact, there will be many headline features including Stuart Barnes, the monologuist who comes with some new stories and songs; Ed Reynard, the ventriloquist with a big production; Fay, Two Coleys and Fay, who will be seen in Boston for the first time in their musical comedy; James and Sadie Leonard and Richard Anderson in their great travesty on "Caesar and Cleopatra;" Carl Randall, the boy dancer; the Musical Phiends; and Clara Ballerini.

ON THE STAGE.

The educational value of moving pictures will, in Charles Frohman's opinion, prevent them from having any permanent effect on the active drama. Cheap melodrama has almost gone out of existencce because the audiences that formerly delighted in it have been educated to a point that makes them demand something else. The education of moving picture gazers will eventually dissatisfy them with the replica of an active drama and will make them long to see the persons of the actors and hear the sound of their voices delivering speeches that the talking machine has intoned.

The "Danger Dance" is the latest terpsichorean musical comedy sensation. The dance is a featrue of "Madame Sherry," and is said to be a logical issue of one of the musical comedy situations. Danced by a young man and woman of the cast, it is described as a novelty, where the male dancer is always on the ground and his fair partner mostly in the air, whither he swings, pulls and tosses her, as he might a gay scarf. The younger woman who figures as the human fabric is said to wear a specially devised steel corset to protect her ribs from cracking in the clinches.

Charles Frohman has announced his intention of forming a company for the purpose of securing theatres in every New England city. In the meantime the company is prepared to play its attractions at vaudeville and moving picture houses. When plans are fully made the company proposes sending its Boston productions direct to the New England cities.

King Edward while in Paris just before his death, phoned Mme. Bernhardt's home one morning while she was dressing. "It's the King of England," replied a voice which Mme. Bernhardt recognized as King Edward's. Quite a conversation followed. The King finally asked at what hour her play began. She replied: "For you, sire, we commense at 8.45." The King and Queen attended her theatre in the evening. His Majesty was very fond of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt's acting, and he was present with Queen Alexandra at a performance of The Jesters, in which play Mme. Bernhardt fences. The King went round to Mme. Bernhardt's dressing-room to congratulate her after the fencing scene, and asked her who was her fencing master. "My son Maurice, Sire," she said. "Did he teach you this riposte?" asked his Majesty smiling. He crossed "swords" with Mme Bernhardt and "ran her through the heart" in an instant. "I used to fence a little in my time," he said. This was the last occasion on which Mme Sarah Bernhardt saw the King. Her telegram of sympathy to the Queen Mother was the first her Majesty received from Paris.

The Hangman's Stone.

There is a large bowlder lying in a field near Foremark, England, which is known throughout Derbyshire as the "hangman's stone." The exposed portion of the bowlder rises about six feet above the surface of the surrounding field and has a narrow ditch or indentation running across the top. The mark, so tradition says, was made in this way: A sheep thief in the dead of night, while leaning against the bowlder to rest, placed his booty above on the flat surface of the stone. The man had the sheep tied with a rope, and in its effort to escape the creature slipped on the opposite side, and the rope, catching under the thief's chin, choked him to death. The indentation in the rock was made by the friction of the rope while the dying man was engaged in an effort to extricate himself.

A Hurry Call.

The political boss of a small city drove his backboard at top speed down the main street on the morning of an election.

"Hey, Johnnie," he yelled to his son, "git down in the Fourth ward quick! There's people down there votin' as they blame please!"—Success Magazine.

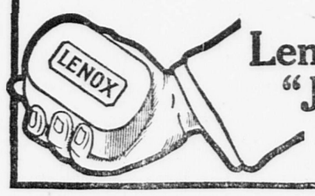
Without the spiritual world the material world is a disheartening enigma. —Joubert.

Best Pill For 60 years we have had perfect confidence in Ayer's Pills. We wish you to have this same confidence also. First of all, ask your doctor. Obtain his endorsement. He knows best. Then go ahead. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Perhaps the work would not be so hard if you used better soap.

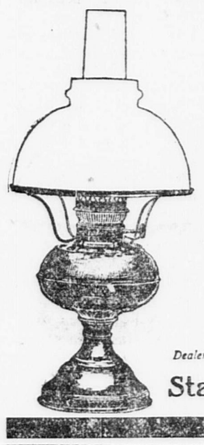
Try Lenox Soap.

Sold by grocers everywhere from Maine to California.



Lenox Soap— "Just fits the hand"

The Famous Rayo



Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

Once a Rayo User, Always One

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

QUEEN LOUISE FLOUR

90c A BAG AT

JOHNSON BROTHERS

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for report as to patentability. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to our office. 719 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M Sundays, 7.56 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.20, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.56 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.30 P. M Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P M. Sundays, 7.45 A.M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.

and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M

JOHN T. CONWAY, Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON, Division Superintendent.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT

To the State Street Trust Co... and the Old Colony Trust Co... Trustee, duly existing corporat... having their usual place of busin... Boston, in the County of Suffolk, ... said Commonwealth; the City of Qu... a municipal corporation located ... County of Norfolk, and said Com... wealth; Bengta Johnson and ... Johnson of said Quincy; the said ... monwealth of Massachusetts; Irving ... Bell of Waterford, in the Stat... Maine; and to all whom it may ... cern:

Whereas, a petition has been pre... ed to said Court by the Old C... Street Railway Company, a duly ... ing corporation having an usual ... of business in said Boston, to re... and confirm its title in the follo... described land:

A certain parcel of land with ... buildings thereon, situate on the ... erly side of Hancock Street, in ... Quincy, and particularly describ... follows: On the West by H... Street 198.76 feet; on the South by ... of Bengta Johnson and heirs of ... Johnson and Irving E. Bell, 221.60 ... on the Southeast by land of the ... monwealth of Massachusetts, ta... Furnace Brook Parkway 222.15 f... the East by said land of the C... wealth of Massachusetts, 200.69 f... the Northeast by said land of the ... monwealth of Massachusetts, ... feet; on the North by land of the ... of Quincy, known as Merry M... Park, 353.55 feet. Containing ... acres.

The above described land is ... a plan filed with said petition ... boundary lines are claimed to be ... ed on the ground as shown on ... plan.

You are hereby cited to appe... Land Court to held at Boston ... County of Suffolk, on the twenty-... December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock ... the forenoon, to show cause, if ... have, why the prayer of said ... should not be granted. And ... appear at said Court at the ... place aforesaid your default will ... corded, and the said petition ... taken as confessed, and you ... forever barred from contesting ... petition or any decree entered ... Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, ... quire, Judge of said Court, this ... teenth day of November in the ... nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

(Seal)

Nov. 18-3t 18.25, 2

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Crescent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON				FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston		Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abedefghi	5 41		5 47	ihgfedeba	6 14	r
r 6 16	abei	6 35		6 15	ihgfedeba	6 44	r
r 6 32	e	6 47		6 45	Exp.	7 06	r
r 6 40	abef	7 00		7 15	hgfedeba	7 41	r
r 7 12	abed	7 33		7 45	a	8 06	r
r 7 25	d	7 42		8 35	eb	8 53	r
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47		8 45	a	9 06	r
r 7 49	abed	8 00		9 15	fedba	9 37	r
8 05	Exp.	8 20		9 45	a	10 06	r
r 8 12	abed	8 30		10 15	ihgfedeba	10 41	r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47		10 45	Exp.	11 10	r
				11 15	hgfedeba	11 41	r
r 8 57	ad	9 08		11 45	a	12 06	r
r 9 10	abede	9 30		12 15	hgfedeba	12 41	r
r 10 04	a	10 20		12 45	Exp.	1 06	r
				1 15	fedeba	1 39	r
r 10 19	abedefghi	10 45		1 45	a	2 06	r
11 04	a	11 20		2 15	ihgfedeba	2 41	r
r 11 24	abedefgh	11 50		2 45	Exp.	3 06	r
12 04	a	12 20		3 15	hgfedeba	3 40	r
r 12 19	abedefghi	12 45		3 45	a	4 06	r
1 14	a	1 30		4 15	fedeba	4 37	r
r 1 19	abede	1 40		4 45	d	5 06	r
2 04	a	2 20		5 12	Exp.	5 35	r
r 2 19	abedefgh	2 45		5 20	d	5 37	r
3 04	a	3 20		5 25	deba	5 49	r
r 3 19	abedefghi	3 45		5 40	Exp.	6 06	r
4 04	a	4 20		5 55	iedeba	6 39	r
r 4 24	abedefgh	4 50		6 12	Exp.	6 41	r
4 39	b	5 15		6 30	eeba	7 06	r
r 5 11	abedefg	5 55		7 00	fedeba	7 37	r
6 09	ae	6 27		7 15	a	7 56	r
7 04	b	7 20		8 15	fedeba	8 37	r
r 7 39	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abedef	8 30		9 30	dba	9 37	r
r 9 01	abe	9 20		10 20	fedeba	10 37	r
				11 15	fedeba	11 37	r
r 10 07	abedef	10 30		11 30	a	11 49	r
r 11 20	abe	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abe	8 03		6 30	ba	6 57	r
8 30	Exp.	8 45		8 45	ihgfedeba	9 10	r
r 8 43	bedefgh	9 13		9 05	Exp.	9 37	r
r 9 13	abe	9 33		10 15	ihgfedeba	10 41	r
9 31	a	9 47		1? 15	ihgfedeba	1? 41	r
10 23	ae	10 30		12 45	Exp.	1 06	r
11 00	Exp.	11 17		1 15	ihgfedeba	1 41	r
r 11 16	abedefghi	11 43		2 15	ihgfedeba	2 41	r
1 02	Exp.	1 17		3 15	ihgfedeba	3 41	r
r 1 18	abedefgh	1 43		4 27	eba	4 56	r
r 3 10	abe	3 30		5 15	ihgfedeba	5 41	r
r 4 13	abedefghi	4 43		6 15	ihgfedeba	6 41	r
r 5 07	abe	5 27		7 00	eba	7 26	r
r 6 16	abedefghi	6 43		8 15	ihgfedeba	8 41	r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 17	abedefghi	7 38		8 45	Exp.	9 06	r
8 11	abedefghi	8 8		9 30	ihgfedeba	9 56	r
9 05	a	9 20		10 50	eba	11 06	r
r 10 42	abe	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.04, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.20 P. M.

Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.23, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.31, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 12.5 A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

FOSS FIRES HIS OPENING GUN

Campaign For Popular Election of United States Senators

HE URGES DEFEAT OF LODGE

Tells Cape Cod People That Their Victory of Last Spring Sealed Doom of Cannonism, Compelled Administration to Seek Reciprocal Trade Relations With Canada and Gave Ray of Hope For Tariff Revision—Issue Has Not Changed and People Will Win Over the Vested Interests Represented by Lodge

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 2.—In his speech here last night Governor-elect Eugene N. Foss said:

This is the opening gun in the campaign of the people for the popular election of United States senators.

This is the real issue.

This first battle in this campaign is against the present incumbent, Henry Cabot Lodge. The defeat of Mr. Lodge is not only necessary for success, but it makes success certain.

This is the people's fight, and there is no question as to the result.

The people will win.

I have come into the Fourteenth district, which I have the great honor to represent—I have come straight to Provincetown—straight to the tip of Cape Cod—because of your unswerving loyalty to those principles of popular government which you and I have fought together to uphold.

Probably you do not realize how powerful your voice has become in determining the policies of the country.

In your victory of last spring, this rockribbed Republican district shook off the machine rule of its own party when that party proved faithless to its own principles and violated its pledges to the people.

Cape Cod Started Revolt

It was your verdict which sealed the doom of Cannonism.

It was your verdict which compelled the administration to seek reciprocal trade relations with Canada.

It was your verdict which caused Aldrich and Hale to abdicate their seats in the United States senate.

It was your verdict which gave cheer and courage to all insurgents and progressive Republicans all over the country.

It was your verdict which gave the first ray of hope to this country for an honest tariff revision.

For the country was looking to Massachusetts, the citadel of high protection, for her verdict on the Payne-Aldrich bill. Senator Lodge and his colleagues had so drafted that iniquitous measure that the special interests of New England and particularly Massachusetts were the chief beneficiaries at the expense of other sections of the country.

But Massachusetts and Cape Cod, always true to themselves, had the courage of their convictions and repudiated the Payne-Aldrich bill overwhelmingly, notwithstanding Senator Lodge had assured us that we had the best of it.

The Same Issue Now

This was the issue last spring; it was the issue in November; it is the issue now and it will be the issue until the people win.

The vote of the Fourteenth district for these principles last spring astonished the country. Yet this district gave an even greater vote in November, proving that the people were thoroughly aroused to their rights.

You know that the vote in November, sweeping as it was, was the verdict of the people against not only Governor Draper but Senator Lodge.

If Senator Lodge were truly a representative Massachusetts man, he would have withdrawn after this overwhelming vote of censure, but he has chosen to defy the will of the people by standing for re-election, and by so doing he has already accomplished his own defeat.

He should have withdrawn or else gone before the people for vindication. Then if the people really wanted him they would have quickly made it known.

But instead of that he is silent.

Working in silence and secrecy he resorts to his self-constituted political machine, the machine which has dominated Massachusetts politically for years.

He is seeking the counsels of those whom he serves, the privileged interests, and ignored the verdict of the people. He has ignored the fact that he should represent the people and considers that he is the representative of the special interests, believing that their endorsement is all-sufficient for him.

For instead of being a representative Massachusetts citizen, he does, in fact, represent that privileged class which has but little in common with the great mass of the people.

He has never mingled with the people or worked shoulder to shoulder with them. He has never been a vital part of the industrial life of this commonwealth. He has never realized, from experience, the needs of our industries and the necessities of the great mass of our people employed in them.

The people have lost confidence in him for, scholar though he is, he has never listened to the teachings of the people nor studied with them the needs of the everyday man.

The personality of Senator Lodge is not the issue; nor are his literary attainments in dispute, but his prostitution of popular government is the issue.

Lodge's Record In Congress

Let us review for a moment Senator Lodge's record in congress, where he was supposed to have represented the people's interest for nearly a quarter of a century.

What legislation in the interests of the people bears his name?

What legislation has been molded in any way by him? Only one bill that I recall bears his name, and that is the force bill—a measure that causes every honest man to blush.

He is opposed to the election of United States senators by the people, and it was through his efforts that the bill was defeated in our last legislature.

He has defeated the primary election law.

When President Taft urged the Republicans of the country to help pass resolutions through their state legislatures to allow the national government to levy an income tax that wealth might bear its just proportion of the expenses of government, Senator Lodge exerted all his powerful influence in Massachusetts against the income tax and defeated it. He was willing that the burdens of taxation should continue to rest upon the shoulders of the people, already overburdened.

His attitude toward Canadian reciprocity has been one of unremitting hostility. At Ottawa he is recognized as a foe to better commercial relations and the Canadians protested against his appointment as a member of the joint high commission.

He killed the Hay-Bond reciprocity treaty with Newfoundland.

He has steadily opposed every measure of reciprocity while pretending to be favorable to the policy. Under his leadership the reciprocity provisions of the Dingley bill were entirely eliminated and in their place was put the retaliatory maximum and minimum clauses of the Aldrich act.

He has always supported the ultra-high tariff policy of the Home Market club, and is the high priest of privilege and the privileged classes.

Foe to Reciprocity

He was an active member of the senate committee which pigeonholed all the reciprocity treaties which were negotiated by McKinley and Hay.

To go back to the Dingley bill, he supported all its objectionable features and even went so far as to vote for a 15 percent duty on hides, which so outraged public sentiment that he was compelled to vote for the repeal of this duty last year.

And that is his one and only concession in the Payne-Aldrich measure to the demands of the people.

Let us now review his votes on the Payne-Aldrich bill, framed and enacted in the interest of monopoly and privilege.

Many changes in the house bill were made by the finance committee and were not voted on separately by the senate. For all of these Senator Lodge was personally responsible, because he as a member of the finance committee voted for the changes.

Among these changes was the restoration of the notorious and outrageous Dingley duty on wool tops which are little more than raw wool, making the duty actually higher than the duty on finished cloth. This is the duty framed by the worsted combine, with whose representative Senator Lodge has been in conference within a few days as to his campaign.

I wish to call to your attention the fact that while the Payne-Aldrich bill was before the senate there were taken one hundred and five votes, either on the bill or amendments to the bill, on which Senator Lodge was recorded.

He voted fifty-one times against propositions calling for reduction of duties. He voted twenty-two times in favor of increases in the duties. He is recorded as not voting twenty-two times. The other votes were in regard to reference to committees or investigations, to admit works of art free of duty, against the recommitment of the wool schedule with instructions to revise in accordance with the Republican platform, against a duty on tea, against exempting from tax fraternal, charitable and religious organizations, mutual benefit insurance companies and corporations doing less than $250,000 of business, and in favor of the conference report on the tariff bill.

What He Voted For

He voted to raise the duty on orange mineral (the principal constituent of house paint) from 2⅞ cents to 3⅝ cents a pound.

He voted for a duty of 25 cents a ton on iron ore, he voted against the admission free of lumber and building materials, against the amendment reducing the duty on sugar; he voted to increase the duty on electric carbons by 45 percent, he voted for four increases of duty on cotton cloth, for an increase of duty on cotton window hollands, and I might enumerate almost indefinitely.

The tariff on wool and wool goods, known as Schedule K, was denounced by President Taft as indefensible. It places a duty of 11 or 12 cents a pound on wool for clothing, but owing to variations in values and shrinkages, these rates vary widely, from as low as 30 percent to as high at 500 percent of the value, and the highest duties are on the cheapest goods, that is, on the goods worn by the man with a small income.

Senator Lodge voted against reducing the outrageous duty on worsted tops in order to protect worsted top manufacturers by a duty higher than that on finished cloth.

Opposed Dolliver Amendments

He voted June 10 against Senator Dolliver's amendment to limit the compensatory duty on the yarn to the wool in the yarn.

The result is that these yarn spinners can charge the American trade all the traffic will bear, free from any regulating influence from foreign competition. He voted against the Dolliver amendment to limit the compensatory duty on wool cloth to the wool actually in the fabrics.

Senator Lodge, June 10, voted against the Dolliver amendment making a moderate reduction in the duty on wool cloths, and hence the American manufacturer can continue to charge the American people double the price for which these goods can be bought abroad.

On the same day Senator Lodge voted against the Dolliver amendment making a moderate reduction in the duty on wool blankets. And so every man, woman and child who may shiver under blankets made of cotton and cheap shoddy can thank that friend of the wosted combine, Senator Lodge.

On the same day he voted against making a moderate reduction on flannels and blankets offered in the interests of the people.

He voted against the amendment making a moderate reduction in the duty on cotton warp dress goods.

He voted against the amendment making a reduction in the tariff on narrow fabrics of wool, apparently determined that the consumer should have no relief from burdensome taxes.

Senator Lodge voted against the amendment limiting the compensatory duties on wool goods to the wool actually in the goods, and providing that no duty on wool goods should exceed 60 percent, thus voting to maintain a schedule that is indefensible and to prevent relief to the consumer.

Driving Wool Out of America

Wool, which is the poor man's friend the world over, is being driven out of America, because the outrageous tariff duties make its use prohibitive. It protects from dampness and cold. It wears well and looks well. In its place are cheap cottton and wool and flimsy shoddy goods sold at high prices, and worthless as protection to health and comfort.

And the man most responsible for this is Henry Cabot Lodge, whose terms of intimacy and friendship with the few men who control the worsted industry are even today flaunted in the face of the people as these men are called in to advise with him on his campaign to be returned to the senate.

Now let us look at the other textile industry. The cotton industry. Here we find Senator Lodge playing the same role of protector to special privilege as against the interests of the people. The cotton schedules are just as indefensible as the woolen schedules with which they are in fact interwoven. There is where the cotton manufacturers get their power to secure such tremendous favors from the government. They are and have been for years joined with the worsted manufacturers.

The worsted manufacturers use larger and larger quantities of cotton in their cheap goods. They are also frequently cotton manufacturers. Their interests are identical.

"Senator Lodge's devotion and obligation to the two industries," as Ida Tarbell states in the Christmas American Magazine, "are so strong that when his name was proposed for the senate committee on the investigation of the cost of living it was criticized by a member of his own party on the ground that his relation to cotton and wool was 'suspicious.'"

When Henry F. Lippitt appeared before the ways and means committee he urged as a strong reason why the Dingley schedules should not be disturbed that under it the trade had been able to develop on artistic lines and to employ new processes, such as mercerization. He repeated that the Dingley duty was sufficient.

A Misleading Speech

But Senator Lodge made a speech in which he urged a special duty on mercerized goods. He stated that it had become a general process since the Dingley bill was made but he did not say that this process, so far as it adds anything to the value of a cloth, was already provided for in the Dingley bill.

Senator Lodge's speech would give the impression that the mercerizing of cotton goods was an infant industry requiring special care and protection, instead of being one where fifty-seven establishments were doing these things on a large scale.

Mr. Lodge demanded a cent a square yard to "protect" this industry, when Senator Dolliver showed that the process costs nothing of the kind.

On all legislation which increased cotton schedules in the Payne-Aldrich act, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the chief lieutenant of Senator Aldrich. He stood with the interests and against the people.

He voted for increases in the duties on food products. He does not favor free raw materials and even votes to put a duty on iron ore.

He does not believe that the food supply of the people should be free from tax, but on the other hand voted for every proposition to increase such duties.

Exploiting the Philippines

Now let us look at Senator Lodge in his capacity of chairman of the Philippine committee, one of the most important committees in many ways that this country has ever had. It initiates or fathers all legislation relative to the Philippine islands, their government and their development.

Section 15 of the organic act of the Philippines limited the quantity of the public lands which might be acquired by an individual to forty acres and by corporations or associations to 2500 acres.

Section 75 limited agricultural corporations to the ownership of 2500 acres. This was for the avowed purpose of preventing foreign exploitation. Sections 63 and 65, enabling the Philippine commission by the public land act passed Oct. 7, 1903, subjected the friar lands to the limitation confined in the public land act.

Mr. Moorfield Storey in an opinion controverted the opinion of Attorney General Wickersham that these lands could be disposed of differently than the property acquired from Spain and declares that the sale of agricultural land to any corporation or association in excess of the amount limited by the provision of the act to be unauthorized and void.

But under the decision of Attorney General Wickersham, once a member of the firm that acted as counsel for the sugar trust, large tracts of land were promptly acquired by the sugar trust interests. And down in New Jersey a corporation was born that was shortly to exploit the Philippines.

Gives Trusts a Chance

Moorfield Storey, within the present week, in a public address before a gathering of well known citizens, which passed resolutions against the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, said:

"Bearing upon our flag the motto of our president, 'The Philippines for the Filipinos,' and under his own administration, we are establishing in these unhappy islands the very trusts which we are seeking to break up in the United States. We have seen the fraudulent practices of the sugar trust disclosed, and punished.

"Proceedings against it are just now instituted. Yet the same attorney general who seeks to destroy it here, where it is directly under the eye and control of the government, gives it life and fresh opportunity in the Philippine islands, where its operations can be conducted with far less danger of discovery and punishment."

And at that same meeting Senator Lodge's presence in the senate was declared to be "more dangerous than that of those men openly allied with predatory interests."

Let us see what is taking place out there. The Mindoro Development company of New Jersey was incorporated Dec. 8, 1909, capital $100,000.

It may build, buy, own, hold, lease, rent, equip, maintain, operate and in any manner acquire, use and dispose of everything on earth except a right of way in the state of New Jersey.

To Own About Everything

Among the things enumerated in the charter are factories, refineries, distilleries, mills, railroads, tramways, steamship lines, sailing vessels, tugs, lighters, piers, docks, dry docks, wharves, warehouses, irrigating ditches, canals, electric and all other kinds of plants for heating, lighting, power irrigating, refrigerating and all other purposes; hotels, lodging houses, stores, hospitals, schools, houses, tenements, barns, stables and all other kinds of buildings and structures; parks, places of amusement, places of instruction and all the material, apparatus, tools, equipment and appliances necessary, suitable or convenient, for any or all the foregoing purposes; sugar, sugar cane, molasses, coffee, tobacco, lumber, woods and agricultural products of all kinds, and merchandise commodities and personal property of all kinds; trade marks, trade names, patents and all improvements and processes connected with any of said businesses; real estate, banking, stocks, bonds or other obligations of all other corporations on earth, together with all the right, powers and privileges of ownership therein, including the right to vote; and to do all and sundry the things that may be useful, necessary, desirable or convenient to the exercise of these multiform functions and powers.

No trust on earth nor all of them combined possess such powers as have been granted this trust with its moderate capitalization and its dummy incorporators.

It is the Havemeyer Syndicate that is operating under this name. It would not be permitted to do business in the United States. It should not be permitted to do so in the Philippines.

What the Syndicate Obtained

What has happened? The Havemeyer Syndicate in the Island of Mindoro, operating under the name of the Mindoro Development company of New Jersey, bought the 55,000 acre San Jose estate, and the entire surveying force of the government was shipped to the island, spending five months in its surveys at government expease. It increased its capitalization to $1,000,000 within forty-eight hours after its purchase of this vast estate.

Where 20,000 native tenants are compelled to pay an average rental of $1.30 an acre, the Havemeyer Syndicate was enabled to purchase outright a 55,000 acre estate on annual payments of 32 cents an acre.

While 68,000,000 acres out of the total area of 73,000,000 acres of the Philippine islands are owned by the government after ten years' occupation, but 665 of the 8,000,000 natives have been allowed to purchase homes on either crown or friar lands.

On Dec. 9, 1909, the Philippine government concluded a sale to the Havemeyer sugar-exploiting syndicate, now operating as the Mindoro Development company of New Jersey with a capital of $1,000,000; the land conveyed amounted to 55,000 acres.

Henry Cabot Lodge, as chairman of the Philippine committee, defended the bill which permitted this outrageous exploitation of the public lands for the benefit of the sugar trust magnates whose public record of defrauding the government by short weights, undervaluations and other criminal processes has been too recently in the public mind to need any reference to it.

Senator Lodge, in defending the bill on May 5 on the floor of the senate, protested as usual that he had acted in good faith, that his aim was laudable and his desire merely patriotic "to replace military by civil government."

Lodge Defends Iniquity

He said: "The second object of the bill is to help the development of the islands, and yet, as the committee felt, to help that development only by taking the utmost pains that there should be no opportunity given to undue or selfish exploitation. The opponents of this legislation have dwelt almost continuously—when they have spoken on the bill—on the point that it is intended to open the islands to exploiters, to syndicates and to carpet baggers. * * * But these exploiters, these syndicates, these carpet baggers, who march back and forth through the speeches of Democratic senators, like the scene shifter's army, have as little reality as the air-drawn dagger of Macbeth.

"I have had many gentlemen come to me, who desire to invest money in the Philippine islands, who say that the bill is so drawn that it is impossible for capital to go in there to any large amount."

Congressman Martin of Colorado shows that this "scene-shifters' army" of exploiters is an actuality. He stated in the house on May 13, 1910, that "Havemeyer has the San Jose estate, the Dillingham sugar inerests of Honolulu have the Calamba estate, a lawyer representing some undisclosed interest has the Isabella estate. A corporation, clothed with unlimited powers, has been formed and turned loose in the Philippine islands."

I fail to find in Senator Lodge's record any vote in favor of the rights of the people, or any championship of the people.

So far as the people are concerned his legislative record is a blank.

His friend Roosevelt, in sounding the praises of Senator Lodge in his famous but disastrous speech at the Arena, could only hark back many years to the passage of certain legislation relating to coupling cars.

It was really pathetic to see how hard Roosevelt—coming straight from his insurgent campaign in the west—had to labor to find some good word to say for his friend, Senator Lodge.

Every word that he did say was in direct contradiction to the endorsement he had just given to the insurgent movement in the middle west.

Steam Roller Methods

But we have in Massachusetts no open insurgent movement within the Republican party. Why?

Because Senator Lodge and his machine have strangled every Progressive who showed his head.

Every Republican convention has been a cut and dried affair. No word of dissent from the platform has been permitted. No one who had a progressive idea, or who had the courage to suggest that the party ought to live up to its principles, has been allowed to speak. And every candidate of the party has been drawn from those whose subservience to the boss was unquestioned.

Everything in this state has been written all over with "Stand-pat." As a result, insurgency or the progressive spirit has had no chance to assert itself within the ranks of the Republican party, and thousands of the best men within the Republican party in this state today are silently protesting and voting (as they did this year) with the party of the opposition.

These Progressive Republicans have no other course than to go with the Democratic party, and they do this with entire consistency because the old party lines are down and in the new alignment which is going forward today in this country the Progressive Republican in Massachusetts finds that he can make ...s only effective protest within the Democratic ranks.

There is substantially no difference today between the platforms of western insurgency and the Progressive Democracy of the east.

How pathetic it is to see some of our own would-be Progressive Republicans, who have held positions of the highest trust and who openly state that they are not in accord with the stand-pat policy of Senator Lodge, yet lacking the courage to demand new and progressive leadership for the party.

To my mind this spectacle of these men abjectly bending the knee to their broken idol is one of the most humiliating sights that a free people can witness.

Lodge's End Is Near

This campaign marks the beginning of the end of Senator Lodge.

I say it is the end because he cannot maintain by methods of secrecy, sinister influence and wire pulling, the leadership of his party. The day of these things has gone by. He declines to come out into the open, and for this reason, if for no other, he is doomed.

He is fighting secretly through his machine, and we are forced to believe that that machine is centering all the vicious forces which he commands to sway in secret the action of the legislators.

Through the political machine he is now bringing to bear the force of the national administration, the pressure of all the social and financial powers of the state, and is attempting to coerce the representatives of the people to keep him in power.

Notwithstanding this terrific pressure, these same legislators, backed by the people, will repudiate him.

Senator Lodge is opposed to every plank in the progressive platform upon which the fight in this state was won this fall. I received this large majority of 33,000 votes (a large part of which was Republican) upon the progressive platform which Senator Lodge either ignores or actively obstructs.

Questions Unanswered

On the stump I repeatedly asked him if he favored an honest revision of the tariff downward, either as a whole or (as President Taft suggests) schedule by schedule.

He is silent.

I asked him if he favored removing the duties on all food products, whether Canada or not.

He is silent. But his votes in the senate show that he is against it.

I asked him if he favored free raw materials for New England industry. He is silent. But he voted against them.

I asked him if he favored reducing our duties on manufactured products to a level with those of Canada as a proof of our good faith for reciprocity. He is silent.

I asked him if he favored the election of United States senators by the people. Possibly this was too personal a question, for he is silent.

I asked him if he favored direct primaries.

He is silent.

I asked him if he was for the income tax.

He is silent.

I asked him if he favored the referendum and the initiative. He is silent.

To my mind no man should represent Massachusetts in the United States senate, no matter what his literary abilities may be, who arrogantly withholds from the people his opinions upon these vital issues.

No more astounding document exists in the public archives than Senator Lodge's speech of Sept. 15, 1907, before the Central Labor union of Boston, and printed by request of Senator Hale as a United States senate document.

On the date mentioned Senator Lodge appeared publicly in Boston. It was one of those rare occasions when our senior senator does come face to face with the people. It is characteristic of him that on this occasion he appeared only to defeat by his eloquence the "public opinion bill" which had been presented before the Massachusetts legislature.

To the everlasting shame of our state he succeeded in defeating this bill, and here in Massachusetts we have the humiliation of seeing other states adopting the referendum, the initiative and the recall, while here at home Senator Lodge succeeds in throttling a bill which aimed only to allow the people to vote at the regular state elections upon questions of public policy.

As a matter of fact, the power of government should rest in the people, who should have absolute freedom to change the complexion of their legislative bodies at the very instant when these bodies cease to reflect their wishes.

Those states which, like Oregon, have succeded in throwing off their bosses and taken the reins of government into their own hands, have given the lie to Senator Lodge's charges.

I charge him with the overwhelming defeat of his own party in November, a party discredited and disrupted by an outraged public conscious of his unfitness to rule.

In conclusion I cannot do better than quote from the recent resolution passed by the Anti-Imperialistic league of Masaschusetts in condemnation of Senator Lodge. They said:

"During the eighteen years of his service in the senate he has said and done nothing in favor of human rights."

TOURING CARS

We have secured local agency for REGAL Touring cars and want to show you why these cars beat all others. A 5 passenger, 30 h. p. runabout or touring car costs only $1250. Demonstrations by appointment.

In addition we have taxicab service and rent our touring car by day or hour. Call or phone.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Quincy.
Stable Tel. 207. Res. Tel. 166-4
June tf

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1321 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

R. D. CHASE QUINCY MASS.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 355-3 Jan. 17-tf

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12 M. today.	38 degrees
December 2, 1909,	36 degrees
December 2, 1908,	40 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Nov. 28	9.00	9.30
Tuesday,	9.45	10.15
Wednesday,	10.30	11.00
Thursday,	11.00	11.30
Friday,	11.30	12.00
Saturday,	12.00	12.15
Sunday,	12.45	12.45

BRIEFS

A cement floor is being laid in the garage at the police station.

Capt. Deane of Harwich, formerly superintendent of Sailors' Snug Harbor was in town this morning calling upon friends.

The Meadow Brook Ice Co. has its ponds at South Quincy and at Quincy Neck already, and all that is now wanted is ice making weather.

Henry L. Kincaide was toastmaster at the meeting of the Home Furnishers' Association of New England which was held at Springfield on Wednesday.

Ten men are today distributing in different parts of the city 5000 copies of the Daily Ledger of Thursday—the Quincy Merchants special holiday number.

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. second basket ball team was defeated at Malden on Thursday 22 to 19.

There will be three games of basket ball at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening. The first team will play the Lawrence boys, the second team the Clapp Memorial of Weymouth, and the Employed Boys will play a Lowell team.

☞Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

BAR WILL ATTEND

Funeral of Clerk of Courts J. P. S. Churchill

The Quincy Bar association met this morning at the clerk's office at the District court to take action on the death of John P. S. Churchill, whose funeral will be held this afternoon from Mt. Auburn.

The association voted to attend the services, and George W. Abele and Walter S. Pinkham were appointed a committee to meet with a like committee from the Norfolk Bar association to draft suitable resolutions.

The Massachusetts Court Clerk's Association, of which Mr. Churchill has been secretary since its institution with the exception of one year when he was its president, met in Boston on Thursday and arranged to attend the funeral services, and appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions.

NEWS FROM SWEDEN.

Hon. John P. Eagle, a member of the Swedish "Riksday," who has travelled extensively throughout the United States since last June, gave an interesting address at the Swedish Congregational church Thursday evening on "Sweden and conditions existing there." Rev. Mr. Eagle was formerly a pastor of the Swedish Congregational church at Providence, but returned to his native land six months ago. Recently he has entered politics, his district making him their representative in Stockholm. As far as known he is the only Swedish American who has gained the distinction of having a seat among the law makers. He is very liberal in his political views, and many of his countrymen in Quincy were present Thursday evening to extend him a royal welcome.

BIDS TOO HIGH.

The bids opened Thursday by the navy department for the construction of two colliers were all too high and no contract will be awarded. The lowest valid bid was a half more than the statutory limit. The Fore River did not the colliers.

—In about a month the paragraphs about the forthcoming spring training trips of the baseball players will be filtering through the papers; and in three months those trips will begin to be facts. There are not many months in twelve after all.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

¶ We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Pork to Roast	12c
Leg Loin Lamb	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb	8c
Short Leg Lamb.	14c
Lamb Chop	15c
Pork Chop	14c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c,	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Regular 28c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Face Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast	12 1-2--14
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25c
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27c
Baldwin Apples only 25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine	20c

¶ Remember all our goods are guaranteed.
¶ Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.
¶ Don't forget our Grocery Department.

MERCHANTS

(Continued from Page 1.)

of an active board of officers and a larger membership. First all in arrears for dues were dropped. Then dues were increased to $4. Three years ago the receipts were about $170 but this year about $1,000. We have a surplus to be used later in erecting a building. Once it was difficult to get out 15 to the meetings; now 120 to 125 attend. At each meeting a committee of three was appointed on entertainment at the next meeting to secure speakers and arrange for supper.

The association recommends many things, and they are usually adopted. There is not a town board that does not treat requests of this kind courteously. They don't dare to run counter to public sentiment. We have been able to accomplish with the railroad things that large firms had failed to secure.

If he were to criticise Quincy he would say it appeared like a waste of energy to have two or three organizations like this one, the Board of Trade and various Improvement Associations.

Organization is necessary as in church and politics. We must also be lenient to others. Companies are necessary ,also cooperation. Our Hyde Park Business Association is the largest and most successful in the town, if we except the Women's club. Village Improvement Associations were too selfish. All politics must be kept out of business men's associations. Our membership limit of 200 has almost been reached and we do not now solicit membership.

Various questions were asked and answered. A rising vote of thanks was then extended.

A committee of three was appointed on nomination of officers for the annual meeting,—A. L. Whitman, T. L. Williams and Fred L. Zoller.

Committees on entertainment for next meeting—Nathan Ames, H. L. Kincaide and Adolph Sandberg.

Voted to serve a $1 per plate banquet at the annual meeting, Thursday, Jan. 5.

No action was taken on program advertising or a Christmas paper.

The officers of the Association were requested to revise the bylaws and report.

A. H. Remick, Shirley F. Nutting and George Nightingale were appointed as auditors.

The members had a heart-to-heart talk relative to rumors concerning the Manhattan market. H. L. Kincaide, E. W. Sheppard and T. L. Williams denied in turn that they had taken any stock in it, and no one acknowledged that he had. The stock scheme was criticised by several present.

SHE WAS PARTICULARLY OUT.

An acquaintance called on some ladies in an Alabama town who had at the time been much wearied by an apparently endless success of callers.

The door was opened by Augustus Butts, the faithful old butler.

"Are the ladies in?" asked the caller.

"No, ma'am; they'se all out."

"I am so sorry that I missed them," continued the visitor, handing him her cards. "I particularly wished to see Mrs. Jones."

"Yes, ma'am, thank yo' ma'am," responded Augustus. "They'se all out, ma'am, and Mrs. Jones is particularly out, ma'am."

Willie had swallowed a penny, and his mother was in a state of much alarm.

"Helen," she called to her sister in the next room, "send for a doctor; Willie has swallowed a penny!"

The terrified and frightened boy looked up imploringly. "No, mamma," he interposed, "send for the minister."

"The minister?" asked his mother, incredulously. "Did you say the minister?"

"Yes. Because papa says our minister can get money out of anybody" —Tit Bits.

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
13c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CUBS AT HEAD OF LEAGUE

Put There However by Default of Athletics

The Cubs have taken the lead in the Makaria bowling league, the opening games were bowled this week. Three matches have been bowled thus far, and the Cubs head the league with 4 won and none lost.

Two league games were bowled Thursday night at the Granite street alleys. The first match was between the Tigers and Giants, and resulted in a tie, each team scoring two points. The Giants took the first and second strings and the Tigers the third string and total. Dell of the Giants, and Brooks of the Tigers were high liners on single strings, each scoring 94, while Melville carried off the low single string total with 72. On three string totals Collins led with 267, with Brooks a good second with 265. The summary of the Tiger-Giant game was:

TIGERS

Curtis	78	79	82	239
Richards	77	84	75	236
Glover	70	78	76	224
Jones	90	79	83	252
Brooks	83	88	94	265
Total	398	408	410	1216

GIANTS.

Melville	74	78	72	224
Collins	90	86	91	267
Bonney	76	76	67	219
S. Bates	75	84	78	237
J. Dell	88	94	75	257
Total	403	418	383	1204

BY DEFAULT

The second match went to the Cubs by default giving them four points and placing them at the head of the league. Morris did some fine and consistent work for the Cubs, getting 98 on a single string and 286 on a three string total. The summary:

CUBS.

Jenkins	71	80	65	216
R. Bates	73	75	79	227
R. Stewart	75	73	71	219
Morris	94	94	98	286
Total	313	322	313	948

All of the teams in the league have now played and three games are scheduled for next week. The Red Sox meet the Cubs at the Y. M. C. A. alleys Monday and the Pirates and Giants and Athletics and Tigers meet Thursday at the Granite street alleys. The standing to date:

LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.
Cubs	4	0
Giants	2	2
Tigers	2	2
Pirates	2	2
Red Sox	2	2
Athletics	0	4

NO QUINCY BID.

The Newport News Company submitted the only bid for battleship of 27,000 tons opened on Thursday at Washington.

DEATHS

BEALS—At City Hospital, Dec. 1, Mrs. Zelia, widow of Mr. Louis Beals, aged 68 years.

MURPHY—In East Weymouth, Nov. 30, Mrs. Bridget, wife of Mr. William H. Murphy.

POND—In Milton, Dec. 1, Helen E. L. Pond, of 350 Randolph avenue.

WHITING—In Hingham, Dec. 1, Mrs. Hannah L., widow of Mr. Amasa Whiting, aged 85 years and 8 months.

TURNER—In Quincy, Dec. 2, Peter B. Turner in his 83d year.
Funeral services at late home 31 Faxon avenue, Sunday, Dec. 4, at 2.00 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Dec. 2-2t

GILLOOLY—In Quincy, Dec. 1, Miss Annie Gillooly.
Funeral from her late residence, 903 1-2 Hancock street, Saturday, Dec. 3 at 8.15 A. M. High Mass of Requiem at St. Johns Church at 9 A. M. Relatives and friends respectfuly invited to be present. Dec. 1-2t

NEWCOMB—In Quincy Point, Dec. 1, Albert R. Newcomb in his 34th year.
Funeral services at late home 552 South street Saturday, Dec. 3, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Dec. 1-2t

Established 1870 - Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The McGregors will meet the Charlestowns on the Water street grounds Saturday in a Boston American league game of soccer football.

The Fre River Association foot ball team meet the Boston Rangers at Brighton Saturday afternoon.

In view of the interest that is being taken among the boys of the Gramma schools, in soccer football the announcement that Dr. J. Gardner Smith physical director of the Quincy schools has arranged for a series of games for Saturday should create considerable enthusiasm among the boys. Dr. Smith has arranged for a series of soccer games to be played on the Water street grounds Saturday afternoon previous to the McGregor game.

The school games will begin at 1.15 and all of the schools of the city will be represented in the games to be played. Each game will consist of two fifteen minute halves. The boys themselves are very enthusiastic over the games and some good sport is assured.

—This year's football casualties include only 14 deaths and 40 serious injuries as compared with 23 deaths and 64 injuries in the preceding year. This makes a favorable showing for the new style of game, but there is still room for improvement.—Milford Gazette.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT.

To the inhabitants of the town of Milton, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry S. Huntington, Martin McCue, Cornelia S. Townsend and Thomas S. McWhirk of said Milton; Charles C. Farnum of Randolph, in said County of Norfolk; Martha J. Troxell of Waltham, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; Annie M. Wilson of Newton, in said County of Middlesex; Sarah M. Frizzell of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; any heirs, devisees or legal representatives of Sarah McWhirk, and of John McWhirk, late of said Milton, deceased, who have not released their interest in the premises hereinafter described; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Elizabeth G. Balkam and Albert W. Balkam of said Milton, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Highland Street in said Milton, bounded southwesterly by said Street, southeasterly partly on land of Cornelia S. Townsend, and partly by land of the Town of Milton, northeasterly by land of Martin McCue, and northwesterly by land of Henry S. Huntington, and containing two and 6-10 (2.6) acres.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-seventh day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal)
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2446

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Office of the Secretary,
Boston, Nov. 29, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Hingham Journal, Weymouth Gazette and Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.
Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

PROSPERITY PRESENTS OPPORTUNITY

Quincy is a rapidly growing City with a very PROSPEROUS FUTURE.

Do you realize what that means in the way of opportunity in the field of REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT?

It means that a few hundred dollars carefully invested in Real Estate now, will bring you a HANDSOME RETURN, because Quincy property is in sharp demand and is becoming MORE VALUABLE EVERY DAY.

Why not take advantage of the OPPORTUNITY. Let me combine my knowledge with yours and help you select a home or an investment.

I have some of the BEST PROPERTIES in Quincy to select from, at very reasonable prices and on easy terms.

Therefore, GET BUSY and call on

JAMES F. BURKE,
Real Estate Agent
Room No. 4 Savings Bank Bldg. Quincy, Mass.
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Wednesday afternoon a string of gold beads. Reward. Notify C. Ledger Office. Nov. 25-6t

WANTED

WANTED—4 Men for pick and shovel. 1 good stone mason who is familiar with cellar work. Apply Rogers, 1 Gannet road,, Adams Shore, Saturday and Sunday. Dec. 2-1

WANTED—Work of any kind by boy of 17. Address 168 Glendale Road Dec. 1-1t

WANTED—American girls for light work. Experience unnecessary. Apply between 9 and 12 to Mr. Cole, Mayflower Rubber Works Co. off Hancock street, South Braintree. Nov. 30—L-Ob.-tf

WANTED—Boys on Friday to assist man in delivering papers in Quincy. Apply at Daily Ledger office at 8 A. M. Nov 30-2t

WANTED—Furniture and piano polisher desires work. 12 years experience. Will go out by day or do piece work. Miss Flynn Hancock street. Tel. 485-2 Quincy. Nov. 30-3t

WANTED—An experienced girl for general housework. Three in family. Apply at 24 Saville avenue. Nov. 29-3t

WANTED—Girl for housework must read, write and hear. Inquire at Dr. Gordon's, 1200 Hancock street. Nov. 23-9t

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled.

The undersigned, citizens of Hingham, Quincy, and Weymouth, respectfully petition for legislation authorizing and directing the construction of a new bridge with necessary approaches and ways thereto, replacing the present bridge over the Weymouth Back River so-called, connecting the town of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk and the town of Hingham in the County of Plymouth, and for the taking by purchase or otherwise, in fee simple, or in such form of right, easement, or privilege, as may be deemed expedient, such property lands, rights or easements including locations or ways now used or occupied by any street railway company, and for such further legislation as may be necessary to carry out the purposes as aforesaid, also to provide for the payment of the costs and expenses of removing the present bridge constructing the new bridge, with a suitable draw therein and of acquiring and constructing the necessary approaches and ways as aforesaid and to provide for the care, maintenance, and repair of said new bridge and for the operation of said draw.

Walter W. Hersey, Wm. T. Shea
Walter T. Jones, John Curtis,
Wm. L. Foster, Harrison A. Keith
Edward W. Hunt, Michael B. Geary,
Bradford Hawes, Dennis J. Ford
W. J. Dunbar, Henry O. Fairbanks,
George L. Newton, Warren W. Adams,
A. Francis Barnes, John A. Duggan

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Office of the Secretary,
Boston, Nov. 29, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Hingham Journal, Weymouth Gazette and Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.
Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

TO LET

TO LET—Housekeeping apartments 3 to 10 rooms fully or partially furnished, hard wood floors, modern improvements, furnace, gas, and electricity. $18 per month upward. Address Miss Spear, 1168 Hancock street, Quincy, Dec. 2-2t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms on second floor. All improvements. Ready Jan. 1. Apply to 172 Glendale road, Quincy. Dec. 2-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-2 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Nov. 14-1t

TO LET—New house, 7 rooms, all modern conveniences. Large garden. Edison Park street. Apply to Williams the Jeweler, 1473 Hancock street. Nov. 19-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

JUDITH SPEAR

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Horace F. Spear the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-ninth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 2 5 12

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 281 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 3, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

CHARGES HOBBS WITH DISCREDITING OUR CITY

Mayor Shea Speaks at Length on Alleged "Deficit" and Other Charges

Says Rivals Statements Are Misleading

Mayor Shea's first rally last evening was at Quincy Point where he was given a reception by the Fore River Football team at their hall. From there he went to Houghs Neck arriving just before Candidate Hobbs had concluded his remarks.

The Mayor was received with applause and said in part:

Gentlemen:—Mr. Hobbs in his opening address in his home ward said among other things, "It has been my effort to so conduct myself that no act of mine should bring discredity to our ward or our city." I charge that Mr. Hobbs has done more in his official capacity as Councilman to bring financial discredity to our city during the present years than any other man I know.

He had a special committee, of which he appointed himself chairman, to investigate the financial condition of the city. He caused a report to be made by that committee, that they found a "deficit" of $92,000, and the Boston newspapers printed this report with big headlines "$92,000 deficit in the City of Quincy" thereby giving the public the impression that the money of the city had been wrongfully used.

Now, as a matter of fact there was no deficit. It was simply a case where the city failed to raise money enough in former years to meet its running expenses. For instance, it was the custom for the Assessors to make large abatements, which under the law they had a right to do, but they failed to provide the necessary amounts in the tax levy. This was done to the amount of about $33,000. Then again the Council ordered the City Treasurer to pay sewer bond interest and maintenance out of sewer assessments, and here again nothing was put in the tax levy to offset the difference between expenditures and receipts. This amounted to about $40,000. Again, the Council made appropriations for various items and charged them to balances and unappropriated receipts, and no record was kept of these amounts. So you can readily see no money was lost, and there was no deficit, as we ordinarily use the term. Simply the past admin-

(Continued on Page 7.)

C. E. SOCIAL.

The Baptist Society of Christian Endeavor held their first monthly social at the home of the president, Miss Blodwin Walters last evening. Many of the members from both the society and the church were present. After a series of games, refreshments were served. Music was played and many familiar pieces were sung. Much credit is due to those on the social committee which showed earnest and sturdy work to plan the games which were enjoyed during the evening. The social committee were Miss Mary MacDonald, Miss Lottie Hobart, Miss Abbie Livingston, Earle Boynton and William Renz.

Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Davis, William Renz, Earle Boynton, Mrs. Kidder, Mrs. Blagdon, Mrs. Hobart, Miss Margaret Foss, Miss Florence Hanson, Miss Eva Scarborough, Miss Robina Skinner, Mrs. B. Williams, Miss Eva Prario, Lindsay Smith, Alex Mundie, Ed. Mundie, Chester Hobart, Mr. Guthrey, Wesley McLean, William Montgomery, Lloyd Lewis, Miss Harriet Griffiths, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Ethel McDonald Miss McLeod, Miss Colebach, Miss Ethel Caddy, Miss Lena Archibald, Miss Eva Achibald, Miss Esther McDonald, Mr. Henderson, Miss Minnie Trask, Mrs. Katherine Goulburn, Miss Eva Abbott, Miss Lottie Hobart, Miss Abbie Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Walters and family.

INCREASES DEMANDED.

The Central Labor Union has endorsed the new wage schedules demanded by the Hod Carriers' union and the Coal Teamsters' union. The hod carriers request an increase from $2.50 per day to $3.04. The teamsters want an increase of 50 cents per day as follows: For one horse, from $12.50 to $13.00; for two horses, from $13.00 to $13.50; for three horses from $15.00 to $15.50.

Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

CANDIDATE HOBBS AT THREE MEETINGS

Replies to Letters of Mayor Shea, Councilman Whiton and Commissioner Bainbridge

Says City Officials Have Done Political Work

The spell binders of both the Republican and Democratic parties were out in full force Friday night, and the air was full of political arguments. Rallies in the interest of Mayor Shea and Candidate Hobbs were held at Quincy Point and both candidate spoke before the meeting of the Houghs Neck Associates. There was also a rally of the Scandinavian club at Union hall at which Candidate Hobbs spoke.

At the Hobbs rally at Quincy Point the speakers were Candidate Studley who presided, ex-Councilmen Piper and Barker and Candidate Hobbs.

From there Mr. Hobbs went to Houghs Neck and spoke before the Associates. President Maloney presided and Mr. Hobbs confined himself largely to the letter of Mayor Shea as published in the Daily Ledger for the past few days. He commented on the statement in relation to the enforcement of the liquor law, citing the case of Moran of Squantum who was convicted of violating the liquor law in the lower court and when the case reached Dedham was allowed to plead nolo contendere. Although it was claimed the officials at City Hall were taking no part in politics yet an official circulated the Mayor's nomination papers and also the paper for endorsement signatures.

(Continued on Page 2.)

BOYS' RALLY

PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST

FAXON HALL

TO-NIGHT

SEATS FREE ALL WELCOME

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

NO-LICENSE MEETINGS

Six Will Be Held in City on Sunday

An unusually quiet campaign has been conducted this year by the Citizens No-License League. It has been the custom annually to have a large union rally at Quincy Music hall on the Sunday evening before election, but this year that will be omitted. In its place however will be meetings at different churches in Quincy, Quincy Point and South Quincy. Union meetings are announced for Wollaston and Atlantic as usual. The program is:

Quincy Centre—At Bethany Congregational church at 7.30 P. M., Hon. Charles Williamson of Brockton and others will speak.

Quincy Point—At Washington Street Congregational church at 7.30 P. M., in charge of Thomas B. Pollard.

South Quincy—Each church will hold a meeting at 7 P. M., in charge of the pastors.

Wollaston—Union meeting at Congregational church at 7.30 P. M., in charge of Rev. Edward A. Chase.

Atlantic—Union meeting at Music hall at 7.30 P. M., in charge of the pastors of the churches.

Union meeting of the Swedish churches, at the Swedish Methodist church; Fort street at 3 P. M., in charge of the pastors.

Good speakers and good music at all these meetings.

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices

Established 1867
John H. Pray & Sons Co
646-658 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Nov. 30--Dec. 3

INDEPENDENT VOTERS ENDORSE MAYOR SHEA

QUINCY, November 22nd, 1910.

To Our Fellow Citizens:

We deplore the attempt that is being made this year to have the voters of Quincy adopt partisan politics in the coming municipal election.

For three years Mayor Shea has given Quincy an efficient, economical and honest administration.

Believing that the interests of our city will be best served by again electing him to the office of Mayor, we earnestly urge all voters, irrespective of party affiliations, to vote for the re-election of HONORABLE WILLIAM T. SHEA.

BROOKS ADAMS, Adams Street
WALTER E. BURKE, Adams Street
CHARLES A. PRICE, Monroe Road
LAURANCE H. STURTEVANT, Adams Street
DELCEVARE KING, Adams Street
THEOPHILUS KING, Adams Street
C. H. HOWLAND, Adams Street
RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Greenleaf Street
F. S. PATCH, Edgemere Road
HENRY L. KINCAIDE, Whitney Road
CHARLES C. HEARN, Hancock Street
WALTER H. BERRY, 6 Greenleaf Street
L. A. CHAPIN, 18 Washington Street
JAMES F. BURKE, 11 Cross Street
C. THEO. HARDWICK, 58 Chestnut Street.

PAUL R. BLACKMUR, Elm Street
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Furnace Brook Parkway
WILLIAM H. DOBLE, South Street
PERRY LAWTON, Goffe Street
REV. EDWARD ANDERSON, Goffe Street
H. T. WHITMAN, 129 Grand View Avenue
GEORGE W. MORTON, 10 Spear Street
ANDREW MILNE, 38 Independence Avenue
DR. FREDERICK E. JONES, 1569 Hancock Street
HORACE F. SPEAR, Hancock Street
W. P. BATEMAN, Monroe Road
JOHN BUCHANAN, 133 Grand View Avenue
DR. WILLIS J. MIDDLETON, 446 Washington Street
JOSEPH L. WHITON, JR., Whitney Road

JOHN H. CHANDLER, 26 Clark Street
GEORGE RICHARDSON, 46 Botolph Street
JAMES H. CHURCHILL, 110 Billings Street
CHARLES A. FRENCH, 192 Billings Street
HARRY W. REED, 257 Squantum Street
WILLIAM R. GAY, 1 Webster Street
WARD W. WHITCHER, 41 Webster Street
JOSEPH P. CLARK, 220 East Squantum Street
MICHAEL J. BARRY, 206 East Squantum Street
CHARLES F. HENDRIE, 69 Henry Street
HENRY MCGRATH, 99 Pleasant Street
J. B. SUTHERLAND, 171 Independence Avenue
M. P. FULLER, 66 Crescent Street
ISAAC M. HOLT, 32 Cottage Street
ELISHA PACKARD, 60 Elm Street

CITY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY -- POLLS OPEN 6 A. M. TO 4 P. M.

(Advertisement.

CITY ELECTION

CITY OF QUINCY

City Clerk's Office, Nov. 25, 1910.

In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 560, Acts of 1907, notice is hereby given that meetings of the citizens of Quincy qualified to vote in city affairs will be held on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1910, in the following places, namely:

Ward 1, Precinct 1, Council Chamber, City Hall.

Ward 1, Precinct 2, Council Chamber, City Hall.

Ward 2, Precinct 1, Hose House, Washington Street.

Ward 2, Precinct 2, White's Building, Union Street and Newcomb Place.

Ward 3, Precinct 1, Doble's Hall Franklin Street.

Ward 3, Precinct 2, Police Building, School Street.

Ward 4, Precinct 1, St. Mary's Hall, Willard Street.

Ward 4, Precinct 2, Hose House, Copeland Street.

Ward 5, Precinct 1, Hose House, Beale Street.

Ward 5, Precinct 2, Hose House, Beale Street.

Ward 6, Precinct 1, Music hall, Newbury Avenue.

Ward 6, Precinct 2, Poland Building, Billings Road.

The polls will be opened at 6 o'clock in the morning and will be closed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and all such citizens may, in the several precincts in which they are entitled to vote, between said hours, give in their votes for a Mayor, Five Councilmen-at-large, Three Councilmen from each Ward, One member of the School Committee-at-large for three years, One member of the School Committee for Ward 2 and one member of the School Committee for Ward 3 for three years, and one member of the School Committee for Ward 1 for two years; also their votes "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following question: "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this City?"

Attest:—

HARRISON A. KEITH, City Clerk.

Nov. 2t 30, 3

YOUR FRIENDS PREFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every race in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diminutive ring for the baby; bracelets, and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps a fine watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning event of all, a multitude of precious gems, stones and jewels.

Search the gamut of human wants and you will find no gift so acceptable as jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

When you wish to select jewelry for your friends or relatives, come to this store. You can not find more dependable jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade here means a considerable cash saving.

If you are unfamiliar with jewelry, we will be glad to help you to make tasteful selections. On the other hand, if you are accustomed to buying rings, lockets, bracelets, watches, etc., so much the better. You will appreciate the more keenly the high-quality of our goods and our up-to-date selections.

Needless to say, every article of merchandise we sell is warranted to be exactly as represented. There's no chance for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting in rings, brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.

JEWELERS

1281 Hancock Street

Quincy, Mass.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The Best in the World all authorities agree—all users know. You will know it is the cheapest and the best soap as soon as you see the results on your skin and complexion from the use of

Pears' SOAP

15c. a Cake for the Unscented

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 279-3. Residence 223-3.

CITY OF QUINCY

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Quincy, Nov. 28, 1910.

I hereby certify that the following is a list of all the candidates duly nominated to be voted for in the City of Quincy at the Election to be held December 6, 1910.

HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.

FOR MAYOR.
Vote for ONE

Ralph W. Hobbs, Citizen Voters-Rep.
Ward 6—11 Clark Street.
William T. Shea, Citizens-Dem.
Ward 4—12 Common Street.

FOR COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.
Vote for FIVE

George A. Bolster Dem.-Rep.
Ward 3—22 Verchild Street.
Ernest W. Branch Republican
Ward 1—72 Putnam Street.
Charles M. Bryant Republican
Ward 5—Fenno Street
Charles E. Cherrington Republican
Ward 6—21 Clive Street
Thomas J. McGrath Cit. Nom. Dem.
Ward 1—32 Field Street
Edward J. Sandberg Republican
Ward 4—20 Buckley Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE-AT-LARGE, 3 YEARS.
Vote for ONE

Joseph R. Curley Democratic
Ward 4—8 Furnace Avenue
Nathaniel S. Hunting Republican
Ward 1—1136 Hancock Street.

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 1.
Vote for THREE

Daniel J. Deasy Democratic
29 Woodward Avenue
Charles A. Ericson Republican
127 Glendale Road
James M. Nowland Republican
Edgemere Road
John R. S. Ross Republican
1290 Sea Street
Archie Thayer Citizens
37 Washington Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 2
Vote for THREE

John B. Bass Republican
30 Edison Street
Michael F. Corbett Democratic
10 Sumner Street
Frank J. Duffy Democratic
12 Beacon Street
Edward P. Histen Democratic
Dysart Street
Sylvester D. Rich Republican
33 Beech Street
Harry G. Studley Republican
Cherry Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 3.
Vote for THREE

Murdock A. Campbell Republican
Liberty Square
Robert B. Craig Dem.Rep.
91 Independence Avenue
James M. Faircloth Democratic 171 Phipps Street
John R. Richards Republican
76 Centre Street
David M. Warner Democratic 45 Penn Street.

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 4.
Vote for THREE

Harry T. Boyd Democratic
96 Centre Street
John Evans Republican
40 Copeland Street
Daniel F. Forde Democratic
13 Rail Street
John D. Smith Democratic
12 Nelson Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 5.
Vote for THREE

Charles W. Bailey Republican
65 Lincoln Avenue
Arthur C. Gardner Republican
40 Berlin Street
William J. Leslie Republican
57 Rawson Road

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 6.
Vote for THREE

Carl E. Carlson Independent
127 Huckins Avenue
Peter J. Colligan Democratic
348 Hancock Street
Charles E. Gill Rep. Indep. Nom. Paper
22 Clark Street
Thomas H. Hayes Citizens Indep.
Walnut Street
Horace T. Jenkins Dem.-Rep.
146 Billings Street
Edward F. Parlee Republican
54 Division Street
Ernest E. Sodergren Republican
42 Hunt Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 1
Vote for ONE

John D. Mackay Republican
64 Merrymount Road

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 2
Vote for ONE

William A. Carey Democratic 176 South Street
Arthur B. Foster Republican
18 Bay View Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 3
Vote for ONE

John L. Miller Republican
211 Franklin Street
Daniel B. Reardon Democratic
22 School Street

LICENSE QUESTION.

To vote on the following, mark a Cross X in the square at the right of YES or NO:

"Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this City? YES — NO

Nov. 29-2t 29-3

NEW TRAINS AT QUINCY ADAMS

Railroad Commissioners Recommend Two More

As the result of the petition to the Railroad Commissioners, for better service at the Quincy Adams station, and of the hearing before that board, when the residents of that section put up a strong argument showing the need of additional trains, the board has recommended one new inward and one new outward train for that station.

At the hearing held Nov. 15, the petitioners did not ask for any new trains, but simply that some of the present express trains make the Quincy Adams stop. They asked inward express at 9 A. M., 1.10 and 7.04 P. M., and outward express trains at 12.40, 2.45 and 4.03 P. M., also that the 11.30 P .M. outward train make the Quincy Adams stop.

They, however, got none of these trains, but the board has recommended an outward express from Boston in the morning, that is the 9.45 A. M. shall make the Quincy Adams stop.

The inward train which the board recommends shall make the Quincy Adams stop is that which arrives in Boston at 7.27 P. M. This is the train which leaves Braintree at 7.04 and makes stops at Atlantic and Neponset. It will probably leave Quincy Adams at 7.07.

The recommendation of the board in full is as follows:

"The petitioners request additional train service at the Quincy Adams station in Quincy, and suggest certain trains which in their opinion should make a stop at this point. After hearing and an investigation, the board is satisfied that some addtional train service should be afforded.

"The principal grievances, as recited, relate to a morning service from Boston and a late afternoon service from Quincy Adams. We are of the opinion that if the 9.45 A. M. train from Boston stops at Quincy Adams, and the train due at Boston at 7.27 P. M. stops at Quincy Adams, reasonable accommodation will be afforded this station in connection with the existing service.

"The board recommends that the company make these suggestions effective forthwith."

TAFT AND ROOT CONFER

Legislative Program and Prospective Appointments Considered

Washington, Dec. 3.—President Taft's legislative program and prospective appointments to the United States supreme court were the subjects of a prolonged conference at the White House between the president and Senator Root. In the matter of the supreme court appointments, it is believed that the president discussed in detail with Root the qualifications of the men the president has decided to put on the bench.

When he left the White House Root admitted that the conversation embraced legislation in a general way, together with a discussion of the supreme court.

The president would still like to appoint Root a supreme court justice, but feels that it would be inadvisable to do so, and thereby permit a Democratic legislature in New York to send two Democratic senators to Washington.

☞Mathusheck Pianos, have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

CANDIDATE HOBBS

(Continued from Page 1.)

Referring to the letter of Councilman Whiton he said that Councilman Whton had argued against several orders on the ground that they were a current expense, yet when the orders had been passed the Mayor had signed them. In regard to the books and records at City Hall being open for public inspection, Mr. Hobbs cited a case in 1908, where application made at the City Clerk's office to see the papers and records relative to the Woodward fund was refused.

Another thing he called attention to was the letter of Commissioner Bainbridge, which stated in case anything was wrong his attention should be called to it. Mr. Hobbs said that the attention of the Commissioner was called to the paving on the Hancock street job by the special committee of the Council, but nothing was done about it, and there was no improvement.

As Mr. Hobbs was finishing his talk Mayor Shea came in, and Mr. Hobbs produced the chart of the Hancock paving which he unrolled and asked the Mayor if he thought it a good job. Mayor Shea took the chart and looked at it and replied that he was proud of the job.

Mr. Hobbs then left the hall for Quincy to attend the Scandinavian club rally. He was invited, however, to remain, and take part in a debate with the Mayor but refused.

At the Scandinavian club Councilman Ericson presided and addresses were made by Councilman Branch, Representative Thomas, Councilmen Cherrington and Sandberg and ex-Councilmaln Barker.

Tonight Candidate Hobbs will be present at several small gatherings in the different wards and on Monday evening will attend a rally at Sandbergs hall, West Quincy.

Developing a Boy's Ambition

YOUR boy's ambition, like that of a man, will develop only when tension is put upon it. Active-minded boys enjoy the responsibility of getting and holding SATURDAY EVENING POST customers for precisely the same reasons that ambitious men choose strenuous occupations instead of idle lives.

Our selling-plan helps boys to understand their fellow-beings. It develops the best that is in them. Their agency work is to them quite as earnest an affair as real life is to you.

Not alone from the play standpoint is the plan good for boys. In thousands we are developing ambition and self-reliance, the value of which cannot be reckoned in money.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Good training for boys anxious for something practical to do. If bright and ambitious, your boy can earn from fifty cents to $2.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH

40 NORTH STREET.

New Up to Date Furniture Store

At 1601 Hancock Street

THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.

It will pay you to visit our new up-to-date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture. Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.

CASH or CREDIT

Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time.

Dec. 1 6t

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

GEORGE W. JONES

No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c. 50c, 75c, $1.00

Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 50c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS RETURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

GEORGE W. JONES

No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

SALE FROM DEC. 1 TO DEC. 10

BERRY BROTHERS

BOUNTIFUL BARGAIN.... BASKETS.... $1.00

This bargain basket advertising is nott a cheap scheme to induce you to trade with us. We figure just about what you ordinarily require to provide your table for a week, assemble the goods, and give you the advantage of wholesale prices AND NO CHARGE FOR DELIVERY!!

WHAT YOU WOULD PAY ELSEWHER

CONTENTS OF BASKET	THEIR PRICES	OUR PRICES
1-2 Peck Potatoes	13 cents	1 cent
1 Package Rolled Oats	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can A. B. Tomatoes	12 cents	1 cent
1 Package Cream C. Starch	10 cents	1 cent
1 Can Del. Peaches	15 cents	1 cent
1 Package S. & P. Pepper	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Bar Soap	5 cents	5 cts.
Quart Bottle Ammonia	15 cents	10 cts.
Package Soda Crackers	5 cents	5 cts.
Can "Big Ten" Washing Powder	10 cents	10 cts.
1-2 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Coffee	15 cents	14 cts.
1-4 lb. Can "Chase & Sanborn" Tea	15 cents	15 cts.
1 Package Jelline	10 cents	10 cts.
1 Can B. B. Cocoa	10 cents	9 cts.
1 Handle Market Basket,	10 cents	8 cts.
Package Force		FREE
Total	$1.65	$1.00

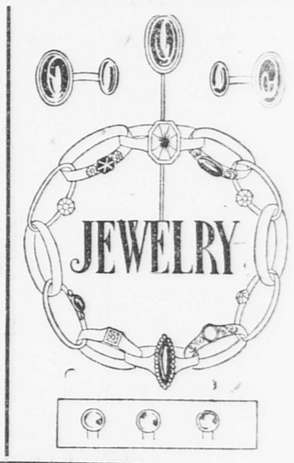
BERRY BROTHERS

WHERE YOU BOUGHT THAT DELICIOUS TURKEY

CITY SQUARE QUINCY

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest of these: It might have been."



¶ For more than 30 years, every Xmas eve we have seen people saddened by the thought that they might have made a choice selection of presents a few days earlier.

¶ We hope this timely warning will prevent the usual delay.

¶ Our stock is the largest in our line in Quincy or the surrounding towns, and prices reasonable.

¶ WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, FANCY CHINA and a large line of NOVELTIES.

¶ The features of our store are courteous treatment and no misleading statements.

SHOP EARLY

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE

1473 Hancock Street, Quincy

Tel. 987 L

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

GAS SHOW

December 7-13

10 A. M. to 10 P. M.

MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON

— MUSIC —

FADETTE'S ORCHESTRA---40 Pieces

Moving Pictures. Italian Marionettes

Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.

11 Granite Street, QUINCY

Plenty of Fresh Air

WARM CLOTHING

AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF

HEARN'S

EMULSION

And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumonia.

CHAS. C. HEARN

PHARMACIST

1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Nov. 28	9.00	9.30
Tuesday,	9.45	10.15
Wednesday,	10.30	11.00
Thursday,	11.00	11.30
Friday,	11.30	12.00
Saturday,	12.00	12.15
Sunday,	12.45	12.45

BRIEFS

Reapers circle of Christ church is to have a birthday night on Friday evening at the home of its president, 18 Saville avenue. The contents of the birthday box will form a part of the sum to be used for the maintenance fund of Pond Home for the Aged.

Hon. Guy Ham of Boston is to address a no-license rally at the Park and Downs Union church on Sunday evening at half-past seven.

Fragment society of First church is to hold an all day meeting on Wednesday in the church parlor with box luncheon at noon.

Rev. Carl G. Horst is to give a stereopticon lecture on the Passion Play in the Wollaston Unitarian church on Friday evening for the benefit of the Y. P. R. U. Mr. Horst attended the congress of religions in Berlin last summer and was able to witness the Passion Play at Oberammergau. A fine lecture is anticipated and there will also be special music.

J. F. Tobin, president of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union is to address the Men's club of Christ church on Monday evening on "The labor question." This is a vital question and there should be a large attendance at the meeting. A broad man is the man who wants to hear all sides.

The building committee of the Memorial Congregational church hope to have the dedication of the new church on January 8th.

The monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of First Church Sunday school will be held on Monday evening in the chapel.

Percy L. Wendell half-back for the Harvard Varsity foot ball team is to tell the boys of the Galahad club of Christ church at their meeting on Thursday night of the experiences of the team this year. It has been decided to make the meeting a public one and there will be a large attendance of the athletic associations of the High school, Y. M. C. A. and kindred clubs.

Samuel Parlee of Chelmsford is staying with his uncle Edward F. Parlee of Division street for the winter.

Miss Grace Hutchins of Boston secretary of the Massachusetts branch of the Junior Auxiliary, will give a talk on Tuesday at 4 o'clock in the parish rooms of St. Chrysostom's church to the Junior Auxiliary. The Juniors cordially invite and hope the older members of the parish will attend this meeting. Refreshments are to be served during the social hour.

Twenty-two Days to Xmas

DEC. 3

Your Best Girl Wonders What You're Going to Get Her

WHO FOR RECRUITS?

Does Your Neighborhood Want a Saloon?

Editor of the Daily Ledger:

We have already settled on our candidate for Mayor, and, of course, have made our choice conscientiously. We are all good people at heart, and are not deliberately trying to ruin the city, any of us; because we would thus only involve ourselves in the general disaster.

What a row the politicians make, any way! Read the paper any morning, and the scare heads will make you shiver at the everlasting smash that is threatened if such or such a party is not successful. And yet somehow we seem to worry through it all rather comfortably, and on the whole are really pretty well, thank you!

Not that dishonesty and incompetency are not common enough in public life, for we all know they are. But, even so, we are somehow conscious of a certain all-pervading corrective force in our affairs; something silent but irresistible, which is saving us from ruin in every crisis. For do we not know that our good ship of State is ballasted clear to the water line with the patriotism, sterling honesty and saving common sense of this great American people, and that they will surely keep things steady in case of need. The politicians may rock the boat a little, but it is too big for them to tip over.

And so we will go on and elect our Mayor, of whatever party, and doubtless the city will continue to prosper as usual.

But on election day we will find at the bottom of our ballot a question which is different. It is the never-to-be-avoided saloon question. Here is something which does not divide voters on party lines, for there is no politics in it in the ordinary sense; except that the saloon, if once established, is notoriously a school of bad politics. Surely all good citizens, rich and poor, of whatever party, race or creed, cannot do otherwise than oppose the saloon in the interest of civic order, cleanliness and decency.

Quincy has voted No-License for so long a time that a small army of young men who have been coming to the voting age in recent years have never seen a saloon in the city; and there are well-grown children among us whose eyes have never seen the degrading spectacle of drunkenness. Isn't that worth while? Old citizens remember the saloons and rum drug-stores, and the baleful influence they exerted.

Suppose that in a moment of inconceivable folly Quincy should vote for License again. Where, dear reader would you put the saloons? Had you thought much about that?

Would Mr. Respectable Citizen want a rum-shop near his dwelling?

Would Mr. Prosperous Merchant like to have a saloon next to his place of business? Certain well-to-do citizens living in favored streets are, of course sure that saloons would never be allowed near then. Shall the accursed things therefore be inflicted on the poorer sections of the city? The saloons, which, alas, have ever been the bitter, relentless and cruel enemies of the poor.

It would be hard to find in Quincy nowadays any of the squalid, repulsive, hopeless poverty that goes inevitably with the saloon. Instead we see whole streets lined with modest and attractive houses; not large and costly, perhaps, but comfortable and well-kept. One likes to walk through such streets. They are eloquent of thrift, independence, sobriety and good citizenship.

Such homes are the real bone and sinew of the Republic.

Shall we deliberately vote to plant the curse of the saloon in such neighborhoods?

Are we ready to introduce the debasing influences of the saloon at our beautiful beaches and seaside resorts?

The saloons must needs recruit their future victims from the ranks of our present schoolboys. Do we want that kind of recruiting stations in the city?

Does it really "help business" to have money spent for liquor instead of food, clothing, furniture and house rent?

Take a strol in Quincy Square some beautiful summer night and mingle with the crowds you will find there. It is a joyous throng, mostly young people; but all are well-behaved, well dressed, orderly, sober, and bent solely on innocent pleasures.

Shall we deliberately vote to taint the pure air of Quincy Square and our other public places with the vile reek of saloons, and thrust in the faces of our youth the disgusting spectacle of drunkenness and debauchery which inevitably go with them? This seems rather important!

Think it over!

Quincy has voted NO for 25 years and will do the same this year, as a matter of course; but it is of vital consequence that the NO majority should increase at each new election, to keep pace with our growing population and the more insistent demands for civic cleanliness, and also to discourage utterly the efforts of Boston liquor interests to re-establish saloons in Quincy. They are watching constantly and greedily for any possible foothold here.

The no-license vote suffers every year from the thoughtlessness of many excellent people who neglect the last cross on the ballot.

Please do not over-exert yourselves and get all tired out before you reach the question at the bottom. It is not the thing to be treated lightly.

Answer the Question. Vote no.

DANIEL L. F. CHASE.
236 Goffe Street,
Quincy, Mass., Nov. 30, 1910.
(Advertisement.)

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

The collection now in the Art Gallery of the Thomas Crane Public Library consists of 78 pictures illustrating the work of the American painter John S. Sargent, R. A. Of these, 61 are from the "Work of John S. Sargent" published by Heinemann in 1903. The others are Copley prints and Perry pictures. There are 14 illustrations of the decorations in the Boston Public Library. A list of magazine articles on Mr. Sargent and his work may be had upon application at the Delivery Desk. As these pictures will not be here after Monday next advantage should be taken of this opportunity.

The recent death of John La Farge recalls to Quincy people the fact that right here in their own library are some notable examples of the artists' work. The memorial window to Mr. Thomas Crane had as its central pane of beautiful stained glass, a mosaic, the figure of an old philosopher taken from an ivory carving in the British museum. This was fortunately secured by H. H. Richardson, the architect of the original building, although intended to go elsewhere at first. On either side of this mosaic is a pane of the same size, also La Farge's work. Later, as a memorial to Benjamin Franklin Crane, Mrs. Crane placed La Farge's "Angel of the Resurrection" where the large onyx window was originally. This was changed for better light to the east side of Crane Memorial Hall during the remodelling of the room.

The patronage of the Branch Reading Room at West Quincy is increasing, as shown by the returns of attendance and circulation.

For list of books recently added to the library see another column.

☞Those who took so much pleasure in hearing Mr. Willard Flint in the Elijah and Messiah with the Choral society will be interested to know that while he is more generally known as a singer than as a teacher, he spends a large part of his time teaching and is quite as successful in that as in his singing. Many well known singers in and around Boston can speak for Mr. Flint's ability as a teacher, having studied under him.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine

Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

Nov. 29-tf

STORAGE

— FOR —

Furniture and Pianos

Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms

Furniture and Piano Movers

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911

NOW

One Hundred Styles to Select From

New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet

Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES IN

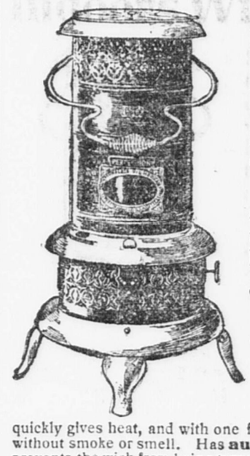
Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever

L. A. CHAPIN

1395 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

People Who Work Indoors With Their Hands



Seamstresses, watch-makers, artists, draughtsmen, and many others, cannot properly handle their tools with cold, stiff hands. Many a lost hour or two on cold winter mornings results from the delayed heat of furnace or stove.

The Perfection Oil Heater in a few minutes gives the temperature that assures the worker warm hands and pliable muscles. The quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

ZOROID

Founded 1893

TRADE MARK

THE Sanborn System of eye examination measures up to the latest scientific requirements. It is simple, thorough and effective. It gets results.

The Sanborn system means glasses especially designed and made for your individual case, adapted for your face, your occupation, your personal requirements.

Zoroid Lenses
Get Results.

Briggs S. Palmer. President.

Sanborns

3 Winter St.- Boston.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant, with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Although we may expect a genuine cold wave or snow storm almost any day now, the month of November just past has been remarkable for its clear days, even temperature and absence of great storms. From now on we must have the snow shovel handy, also heavy coats and overshoes convenient for our use but it is only a short time before the days will be growing longer. This is the time to expect cold weather and storms and it is much better to have them now if we must rather than next spring.

When you are in the city during the next few weeks doing your Christmas shopping and planning little surprises for the loved ones, do not forget to drop some money into the Salvation army boxes before you start for home. As usual the officers of the army are making plans to give the poor and needy a little share in the Christmas cheer and any little help toward this end is greatly appreciated. Just a little contribution from each one means a big total and a whole lot of happiness for thousands who find it hard to keep the wolf from the door. Just deny yourself a box of candy, a new magazine, or a book and give the price to this worthy cause. You will not find it hard to do and somebody else will be the gainer.

WAR ON SPITTING.

Editor of Quincy Daily Ledger:

There appeared in the Telegram of Dec. 2 an editorial commenting on the action of a constable in lacking common sense and judgment in arresting a man for a trifling offense, in a public hall. He didn't tell the public, what this trifling offense was, but I will. It was spitting a puddle of tobacco juice on the floor of Music hall. "With the star on my manly breast," I am going to protect common decency and the health of our patrons, even though the offender is an employee of the Telegram.

P. W. KRIBS, Janitor Music Hall.

TODAY'S COURT.

Thomas Fitzgerald and Joseph H. Cutter were held in $500 each for setting fire to a building at Milton.

The continued case of Clarence Donahue for receiving stolen property at Milton was heard and he was held in $300 for the grand jury.

Abraham Foss who was arraigned for breaking and entering the store of Payson-Mitchell Co., at Quincy, wavived examination and was held for the grand jury.

THOMAS CONCERT.

John Thomas a former Quincy boy and the well known humorist is announced to appear at Alpha hall with his concert company Dec. 8. On this occasion he will be assisted by Annie Webster Thomas, violin virtuoso and Alice Fortin as pianist. Those who are fortunate enough to attend are assured of an evening of mirth and melody.

Mr. Thomas who is well known in Quincy where he always receives a warm welcome is a general favorite as an entertainer. His great charm lies in his absolute freedom from any striving for effect. He has a particularly graceful stage presence and a natural musical voice which enables him to give musical songs with great effect.

Miss Thomas as a violinist has few equals on this king of instruments. She has made the violin a life long study and there seems to be no limit to her ability to execute with charming grace music according to absolutely correct methods. Her supurb technique always receives splendid recognition from the most discerning critics.

Miss Fortin the pianist also possesses marked ability. Her playing is brilliant. As an accompanyist she is an artist of high rank.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

OPEN LETTER FROM MAYOR SHEA

Reviews His Administration of the Affairs of the City For Three Years

To My Fellow-Citizens:—

I am a candidate for the office of Mayor at the coming city election.

In return for your confidence in me in the past I have given to the city HONEST and FAITHFUL SERVICE, sparing neither time nor labor.

I direct your attention to the following as some of the PERMANENT RESULTS of my administration:—

Many miles of permanent sidewalks built.

A system of surface drainage established.

Our public streets improved.

Many additional lights placed on the streets.

An all-night system of street lighting inaugurated.

The efficiency of the police and fire departments materially improved.

Water mains extended in different sections of the city.

Over 1200 new house connections made.

Many new hydrants set.

Miles of sewer main extended affording increased protection to the public health.

Hundreds of new house connections made with the sewers.

Miles of edgestone laid.

Public buildings erected, each according to contract and within the appropriations made therefor.

Additional equipment provided in playgrounds.

City Scavenger department created and equipped.

In the foregoing I have not undertaken to state the general work performed by the several city departments.

During my term of office the books and records of the several departments have at all times been OPEN TO INSPECTION. Any citizen caring to do so can readily see from them how each appropriation has been expended.

All city contracts have been ON FILE in the City Clerk's office open to inspection by the public.

I have insisted on a STRICT ENFORCEMENT of the liquor law. The number of cases presented to the court in the last year has exceeded that of any year for several years past.

City officials and employees have been required to attend strictly to the DUTIES OF THEIR OFFICES, politics being eliminated therefrom.

Our city covers a large territory. The amount of money available for public improvements is necessarily limited.

I have endeavored to have due regard for the NEEDS OF ALL SECTIONS of the city, and to so expend its money as to get the best possible results therefrom.

To some the appropriations may appear to have been large, BUT OUR CITY IS GROWING RAPIDLY, a large number of homes and buildings for commercial purposes being erected each year thus making necessary the building of new streets, the extension of the sewer and water systems all of which tends to the health and comfort of our citizens.

It is true I am seeking a fourth term in office but it does not seem to me that this fact should adversely affect the merits of my candidacy. THE QUESTION for the voters to decide is, should the office of Mayor be used as a means solely of promoting the business of the city, and a man elected to it for the same reasons that a large business concern selects its general manager? SHOULD the fact that a man has proven himself competent and has had experience in office disqualify him?

During the past three years I have endeavored to keep the Mayor's office FREE FROM POLITICAL INFLUENCES, and believe I have succeeded. I have discharged the duties of my office without fear or favor.

If it is the wish of the voters I will be pleased to serve you during the coming year.

WILLIAM T. SHEA.
12 Common Street,
Quincy, Mass.

December 1, 1910.

(Advertisement.)

TONY CAMPBELL TO SPEAK

Harvard Football Player Will Address Makaria

Thomas J. Campbell, otherwise known as "Tony Campbell" who played half-back on the Harvard team in the Harvard-Yale game, will speak to Makaria Fraternity at the meeting Sunday on "Some of the lessons in manhood-building to be learned from foot-ball." One of the other fellows is expected to come with him—perhaps "Bob Fisher" who played guard in the Harvard-Yale game.

Last Sunday the attendance was 55, and with such an attraction for this Sunday they ought to break the record of 73. Let every fellow get busy and plan not merely to come himself, but hustle to get others.

The Reds beat the Blues to a "frazzle," and the Blues "Kow-towed" humbly; but they have bobbed up again and challenged the Reds to another contest for three Sundays, and they hope to turn the tables on the victors.

The bowling schedule began successfully this week; the basket ball team plays again this Saturday, and Makaria things are certainly going forward with lots of enthusiasm.

The Fraternity particularly want those fellows who used to be with them and have not been for a long time to come and enjoy the fellowship and the mighty interesting meeting this Sunday.

MISS FEARLESS & CO.

Belle Marshall Locke's three-act comedy, "Miss Fearless & Co.," was presented in an exceptionally pleasing manner in the parish house at Christ church last evening by St. Margaret's Guild. The heroine, Miss Margaret Hanley, heiress, was impersonated by Miss Marion Bolster in a manner that won her many plaudits on the part of the audience. The work of Miss Edith Fox, as Miss Euphemia Addison, the chaperone; Miss Mabel Dickie as Miss Sarah Jane Lovejoy; and Miss Marion Mitchell as Katie O'Connor, Miss Henley's maid, were exceptionally good. Between the acts musical selections were rendered by Miss Margaret Carruthers. Some of the Guild's famous home made candy was also on sale.

In the cast were:

Miss Margaret Henley, an heiress, Marion Bolster
Miss Euphemia Addison, her chaperone, Edith Fox
Miss Sarah Jane Lovejoy, from the Lost Nation, Mabel Dickie
Katie O'Connor, Miss Henley's maid, Marion Mitchell
Miss Barbara Livingston, Miss Henley's guest, Cora Barnicoat
Miss Bettie Cameron, Miss Henley's guest, Minnie Barnicoat
Miss Marion Reynolds, Miss Henley's guest, Emma Barnicoat
"Just Lizzie," the Ghost, Olive Barnicoat
Miss Alias, Ruth Gardner
Miss Alibi, Emily Moyle

—The postoffice department is preparing for the Christmas rush and urging people to mail their Christmas packages early, so that the rush will be distributed as much as possible.

FOR SALE
QUINCY GRANITE
EXTRA DARK
DARK AND MEDIUM
CALL AT OFFICE
ESTATE OF T. F. MANNEX
148 WILLARD ST.
WEST QUINCY, MASS.
Dec. 3-2t

TO REFRESH HIS MEMORY

Councilman Richards Asks Commissioner Few Questions

Editor Dail Ledger:

I wish to answer the letter of our Commissioner of Public Works under date of Dec. 2, 1910. He must bear in mind that the very fact of having protested any work under his supervision that did not appear right is his best asset in office, and in fairness to him at this time, I will suggest a few questions to refresh his memory.

Do you remember appearing before a joint committee called to consider increasing the salary of the Inspector of Buildings?

Did you at that meeting say that you had protested both the Coddington school and the Lincoln school additions?

Did you say in answer to my question—did the taxpayers pay for the extra work done?—that there was no doubt that they did?

(I will suggest here that I am willing to leave the question, if there still exists any doubt in your mind, to the Inspector of Buildings, the City Auditor, and the members of the joint committee, including the gentleman who raised the point of order, if it was a committee to consider the increase of the salary of the Inspector of Buildings or an investigation of the Coddington school and Lincoln additions. We all have a right to differ on non-essentials, but on basic facts I think we can agree.)

Did you when questioned by me in the City Council, when the Phipps street permanent sidewalk order was up for appropriation, admit that the work done previously had not conformed to the order and specifications, but that you would see that the Phipps street job would conform to the order and specifications? You, no doubt, remember my suggestion as to the elasticity of the construction, etc.

The Lincoln additions speak for themselves both inside and out.

The paving on Brook road and Hancock street also tell their own story.

You say that only one hundred dollars extra was paid on the school buildings. The principle is the same, if one dollar even, or one hundred thousand dollars. It is taxation without representation, and I insist that it is wrong.

We are both servants of the people. Our duty is plain.

John R. Richards.
76 Centre Street, Quincy.
(Advertisement.)

COLD TODAY.

The temperature at noon today was the lowest it has been thus far this season. The temperature at that hour was 34 degrees but there was little wind. Not since March 17 has Quincy had 34 degree temperature at noon.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days.

R. E. FOY & CO. GROCERY
Let Me Take Your Order for the best Canned Corn you ever ate.

Put up in Maine where the sweetest and tenderest corn grows, it is canned within a very few hours after being picked, thereby retaining the natural taste of freshly plucked ears.
Hatchet Brand Corn 2 cans 25 cts or a dozen cans for $1.35
R. E. FOY & CO., Water, cor. Quincy Street.
Nov. 30--Dec. 2
PHONE 117

Buy Furniture
THE EASY WAY
IT'S very easy to get into the rut of despair while waiting until you've saved enough to pay in full for the furnishings of a home. Why not have "THE HAPPY HOME" at once and enjoy it while paying for it. We remove all worries about the future. If sick we protect you—if anything unforseen or unexpected comes into your life we still protect you. We supply you with that satisfying home comfort and luxury that both man and woman can enthuse about. Just call and talk it over.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
145 Hancock St., Quincy
Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings. Dec. 2-tf

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

DO YOU WANT YOUR RUBBERS TO LAST ALL WINTER? IF SO, BUY GOLD SEAL!!!
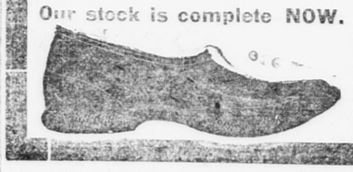
IF NOT, BUY THE OTHER KINDS.
GOLD SEAL RUBBERS
AND . . SNAG PROOF BOOTS.
Even our competitors will admit that in GOLD SEAL RUBBERS we have THE BEST RUBBERS IN THE WORLD for Men, Women and Children. We have the exclusive agency for Quincy; no other dealer can get them and YOU CAN'T BUY THEM ANYWHERE BUT AT THE
GRANITE SHOE STORE
QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET.

Our stock is complete NOW.


Start the Winter RIGHT with a Pair of GOLD SEAL RUBBERS. GET A PAIR THE NEXT TIME YOU ARE DOWN TOWN.
GRANITE SHOE STORE QUINCY AGENCY FOR GOLD SEAL RUBBERS
GRANITE SHOE STORE
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.
Dec. 1-tf

The Social Realm

The Elliott club met with Mrs. Lewis of Winthrop avenue on Wednesday evening. The evening was in charge of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney and Mrs. Edward A. Bean. The Island of Sicily was the subject discussed. Pictures were thrown on a slide and interesting papers were read. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney read an original story of New England life and Miss Pierce sang charmingly. The hostess served a dainty collation to the many guests and members present.

* * *

Mrs. Hazen E. Ricker of Whitney road is to entertain a few friends at cards on Monday afternoon at her home.

* * *

Miss Louise Mandigo of Dysart road has gone to Clinton for over the week end to visit her uncle and aunt.

* * *

Mrs. W. P. Hartley of Appleton street has returned from a week's visit to Portland, Maine.

* * *

Miss Edith Randall went to Swampscott Thursday evening where she gave the first of a series of four talks on Italy before the Study Club taking for her subject a "Birdseye View of Italy." There was a large attendance to enjoy the hospitality of the hostess and it was a most pleasant evening.

* * *

Mrs. Stephen Perkins Hurd of Swampscott is spending a few days at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Quincy Baxter of East Milton. Mr. Hurd will join her over the week end.

* * *

Mr. Henry O. Studley of Washington street, has returned from Lakeport, N. H., after a ten days' visit with his brother.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Neal of Summit avenue are spending the winter at the Parker House, Boston.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Young are receiving numerous congratulations these days. The occasion of their happiness is the birth of a son.

* * *

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. George B. Gavin, nee Cavanagh of Braintree on the birth of a son, born Friday, Nov. 25.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney of Farrington street announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Thompson to Mr. Arnold Hopkins of Brimfield street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Coe, nee Christina Maver, who were married Thanksgiving eve will be at home to their friends after January first at their residence on Lamartime street, Jamaica Plain.

* * *

The Ladies' Whist club was entertained by Mrs. William Johnson of Faxon road last week. A jolly game was enjoyed followed by a dainty spread.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Norris of Whitwell street are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter on the 24th and receiving the congratulations of their many friends. They have wo sons and advent of a daughter is most pleasing to them.

The first of a series of oratorios at St. Mark's M. E. church, Brookline, will be given on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Prof. John D. Buckingham of this city is organist at this church and many of his Quincy friends are planning to go over for the series.

* * *

Mrs. George E. Smith regent of the Massachusetts society of the Daughters of the Revolution has come up from Swampscott and is at the Parker house, Boston for the winter. This is her fourteenth season at the Parker house.

* * *

The dedication of the tablet to the memory of Henry Flynt second minister of the First Congregational church on Sunday morning at the church brought back to Quincy for a few hours many of the descendants of its old families. In the congregation were Adamses, Quincys, Bracketts, Fields, Baxters, Spears, Bass and many others long identified with our city.

* * *

Mr. Harry Read has been taking advantage of the beautiful November weather and his camp at Pembroke has been open to his friends. People consider themselves extremely fortunate who are guests of this genial host.

* * *

The State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution is to observe Friday the sixteenth at the Parker house, Boston, when an unusually good time may be expected by all Daughters attending.

* * *

Ralph Piper of this city was one of the ushers last week at the wedding of Herbert E. Mew of Boston and Miss Grace Evelyn Helms of Dorchester at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mew will reside at 51 Norfolk street, Dorchester, where they will receive their friends on Wednesday, Dec. 14th.

* * *

Cards have been received in Quincy announcing the marriage at Kansas City, Missouri, on Nov. 23 of Miss Beatrice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker of this city and Mr. Franklin Stuart Nichols of Wollaston.

* * *

Miss Marion Leech of New York is the guest of Mrs. John L. Hamilton of Elm avenue for two weeks.

* * *

Misses Ethel and Vivian Vogler are week-end guests of Miss Rebecca Sheldon of Pawtuxet, Rhode Island.

* * *

Mrs. George G. Saville and Mrs. James H. Penniman were matrons last evening at the dance given by the Y. P. R. U., of First church at Alpha hall. It was an extremely successful affair, opening the series of dances and entertainments to be given this winter by the Union. It brought many young people from Cambridge, Dorchester and neighboring cities as over-night guests.

* * *

Quincy people are beginning to enthuse over the opera and this season's program at the Boston Opera house finds many from Quincy in the audience, while some of our people are regular attendants for the season which is to be of twenty weeks' duration.

At the "at home" yesterday afternoon of the Massachusetts D. R. in their rooms in the Colonial building, Boston, Adams Chapter of this city acted as hostesses the ladies in charge being Mrs. Frank F. Prescott, Mrs. George T. Magee, Mrs. Osborne Rogers, Mrs. Walter E. Piper and Miss Harriet B. Pierce. There was a large attendance during the hours of the reception.

* * *

A social affair looked forward to each season is the Quincy Tennis club dance and this year the fifth annual will be given on Wednesday evening, December the 28th, at Quincy Music hall.

SUNDAY SERVICES

SECOND SUNDAY IN ADVENT

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, — Franklin street—Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor, residence 206 Franklin street. Morning service at 10.30 A. M. Theme: "The Incomplete Church." Sunday school at 11.45 A. M. Davis class for men at same time. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Praise and preaching service 7 P. M. Theme "How a Prayer for a Young Man was Answered." The ordinance of The Lord's Supper will follow this service. A cordial welcome is extended to all. Good singing. Seats free. "Come apart and rest yourself awhile."

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH—Fort Street Rev. Carl E. Rydstrom, pastor. Morning worship 10.30. Sermon by Rev. H. Ramm from Worcester, Mass. Sunday school at 12 M. Union Temperance rally 3 P. M. Communion service at 7 P. M. will be continued by a preaching service, at which Rev. John A. Hamilton from Lowell will speak. All welcome. Seats free.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Fort Square. Rev. A. M. Thompson pastor. Residence 82 Glendale road Quincy. Morning service 10.30. Sunday school and Men's League at 11.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Topic: "The Worth while Life." Evening service at 7. Speaker from the No License League. Come and hear him. All welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Corner Quincy and Water streets. Rev. James A. Matheson, minister. Preaching at 10.30. Bible school 11.45. C. E. service 6. Evening worship and praise 7. Young Peoples meeting Thursday at 7. Midweek prayer service Thursday at 7.30. Mrs. Joseph Tracy will address the Women's Missionary society on Monday evening at 7.30 in the Lecture room.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH.—Brewers Corner. Rev. A. P. Hanson, pastor, Residence 420 Granite street. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Public worship at 10.4 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Bible study and Prayer meeting Thursday 7.30 P. M. All are cordially invited.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy. Rev. Carl H. Raupach pastor. Residence 12 Hall place. Morning Worship at 10.30 Sunday school at 11.45. Junior League at 3 P. M. Epworth League at 6.15. Evangelistic service at 7 P. M. A cordial welcome for all.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor. Residence 81 Prospect avenue. Tel 341-4 Morning worship and Lord's Supper at 10.45. Sunday school at 12 .5. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Union No-License meeting in Wollaston Congregational church at 7. Preaching by the pastor at the morning service. Subject "A man who had daughters but no sons."

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Edward A. Chase, minister Parsonage 20 Marion street. Tel. Quincy 654-1. 10 .5 Morning worship and Sermon Baptisms on the Earth 12 15 Sunday School 7 Union No License Rally Singing by a chorus of men. Speakers: Mr. Daniel A. Mackay of Boston and Mr. Deforest King.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH—Corner Beale and Safford streets. Rev. Wesley Wiggin, pastor. Residence 52 Brook street, Telephone Quincy 378-2. 10.15 A. M. Love feast; in the vestry. Communion service and reception of members. 10.45 A. M. Sermon by the pastor, subject, "The True Life." 12 M. Sunday school. 4 P. M. Junior League meeting. 6 P. M. Epworth league meeting, Subject, "The Heart of the Gospel" Leader, Walter A. Stevenmeister. 7 P. M. Union No-License meeting in the Congregational church. Friday 7.15 P. M. Prayer meeting.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory 523 Hancock street. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30. Sunday school at 12 M. Evening service omitted on account of Union service of Wollaston churches.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets, Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister, residence 67 Winthrop avenue Tel. Quincy 652-2 Morning service at 10.45 Sermon by pastor. Kindergarden Sunday School in the vestry at 10.5. Evelyn Cummings Teacher. Sunday school session at 12 o'clock. Frank A. Page, superintendent.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Services in Music hall. Morning worship at 10.5 Sermon by pastor. Sunday school at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. 7.30 Union Temperance meeting at Music Hall. Singing by choir of Congregational and Methodist churches.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (Independent National) Protection hall, Johnson building, Quincy Center. Divine service at 3 P. M. Lecture by C. K. Elliott. Subject "The Nine and its Branches." John 15: 5. Tract free. No collection.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Braintree, Post Office Block. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject "God the only cause and Creator." Golden Text "For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God." Hebrews 3: 4. Wednesday 7. P. M. a testimony and experience meeting. Reading rooms open every week day from 3 to 5 P. M. Holidays excepted. All are welcome.

Makaria
Fraternity
SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square
If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.
A warm welcome—Hearty singing—A helpful hour together.

BRIEFS

The civil service examination for the Quincy janitor service, which was scheduled for Jan. 20, 1911, has been set ahead owing to the demand for janitors, and will be held Friday, Dec. 23. There are several vacancies in the public school janitorships at the present time, and there will be another vacancy when the Montclair building is completed.

The regular meeting of the Men's club of St. Chrysostom's church will be held Monday evening in the parish rooms.

Rev. Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Clee and Mr. Sidelinger will be the judges at the prize speaking contest at Faxon hall tonight when the boys compete for prizes in Temperance speeches. All are welcome, and especially the boys.

Miss Grace Hutchins, secretary of the Massachusetts branch of the Junior Auxiliary is to address the Juniors of St. Chrysostom's on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the parish rooms.

The Dorcas society of the Universalist church are planning to make their fair to be held next week an exceptionally pretty affair. Colonial costumes will be worn by members of the society and excellent entertainments have been provided with an old fashioned supper on Wednesday night.

The Mothers' Association of Quincy aims to help mothers by suggesting to them the best methods of training children. The speakers at these meetings are persons recognized in the educational world as the best authority upon these subjects. There are informal discussions about these matters and opportunity for acquaintance with the members when a social half hour with refreshments follows the day's program. Are you a mother? or, are you interested in the welfare of children? are the only questions asked of strangers. All of the mothers in the city of Quincy are invited to attend these meetings; they are free. Come, and hear the things which have to do with training children in the home into perfect manhood and womanhood. Do not leave a stone unturned to make your child's character as nearly ideal as you can. It is worth while to make the effort. The child will thank you for it in years to come.

Meeting, Wednesday Dec. 7, at 3 P. M.

Subject: "The Real Mother."

Speaker:—Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley of Boston.

Place—Bethany Chapel.

LABOR UNION ENDORSES SHEA

Resolutions Adopted by Central Labor Union

At a regular meeting of the Central Labor Union of Quincy, Mass., held on December 1, 1910, at Wilson's hall the following resolutions were adopted:—

RESOLVED—That the Central Labor Union of Quincy hereby endorses the candidacy of Hon. Wm. T. Shea for Mayor of our city and be it further

Resolved,—That in Mayor Shea the city of Quincy has as its chief executive a man of sterling character, independence and ability. One who has at all times held himself ready and willing to give a courteous and patient hearing to any of its citizens on any matter they wish to place before him, and at whose hands workmen and all others have received fair and just treatment, and be it further

Resolved,—That the secretary of this Union notify the officers of the several Locals of the city affiliated herewith of the action of this meeting, and that the press committee of this Union cause these resolutions to be duly published in the daily papers of Quincy and be it further

Resolved,—That all members of said locals, workmen and their friends, are hereby earnestly urged to support the candidacy of Mayor Shea and on next Tuesday vote for his re-election as Mayor of Quincy.

Charles H. Wilkins
William Kelley
Press Committee.

William Kelley
14 Deldorf Street, Quincy.
(Advertisement.)

CHARGES REFUTED

Commissioner R. Baintridge Writes a Letter

To the Citizens of Quincy:

As a resident of Quincy, of Wollaston, as Commissioner of Public Works, and lastly for the respect of my neighbors and my own self respect, I want to refute certain charges regarding the Coddington, Lincoln and Houghs Neck schools, and the permanent sidewalks being built this year.

The charge has been made that the city was cheated on these buildings which is not a fact as an inspection by any fair minded qualified person during or after the construction would show. The designs of the buildings and arrangements I am not responsible for as these are not determined by me but the construction of these buildings will compare favorably with any schoolhouse ever built in Quincy and less than one hundred dollars was spent in extras on the three buildings. As Commissioner of Public Works I accepted the Coddington and Lincoln schools and when the Houghs Neck school is finished and turned over to the city it will be with my approval.

As far as the paving on Hancock street is concerned, the work is as good as could be done under the circumstances and the city will receive a substantial job. The contract and specifications for the tar sidewalks call for three inches and four inches in thickness, according to location selected by me and I should be pleased to be shown where any work has been poorly done as it is all guaranteed and cost the city nothing to repair.

In conclusion I want to add that it is the duty of any person who thinks work is not being fulfilled to inform contracts not being fulfilled to inform this office while the work is going on and such defects will be remedied if for the city's interest as the city is the only one that I stand debtor to in these matters.

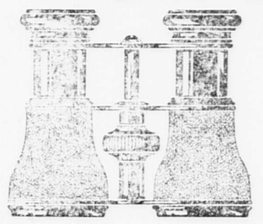
Randolph Bainbridge,
Commissioner of Public Works.
(Advertisement.)

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

FUNERAL OF MISS GILLOOLY.

The funeral of Miss Annie Gillooly, who died Thursday, was held this morning from her home on Hancock street, and was followed at 9 o'clock by a high mass of requiem at St. John's church. Rev. Patrick Scannell was the celebrant, and the Gregorian mass was sung by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist. Miss Mary Burns sang the "Pie Jesu," after the elevation, and Miss Josephine McCarthy sang the "Libera." The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, the bearers being James F. Burke, Edward J. Parker, Thomas Pendergast and John Fineran. The services were well attended and there were a number of beautiful flowers. Edward L. Bean was the funeral director.

LLOYD'S
OPERA GLASSES


Black Lenaire $5.00
Pearl Lenaire 10.50
CATALOGUE ON APPLICATION
BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St.
} BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

COLONIAL FAIR
Universalist Church Vestry
Dec. 7 and 8, 1910
Entertainments at 8 o'clock
Dec. 7, supper at 6.30.
Tickets Wednesday Night, 25 cents
Thursday Night, 15 cents
Nov. 25-3t -26-3-6-7-1w

TELEPHONE CONNECTION HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
13c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

SECTION SHOWING PART OF LAST ROW OF PAVING LAID ON HANCOCK ST. QUINCY, OCT. 18, 1910

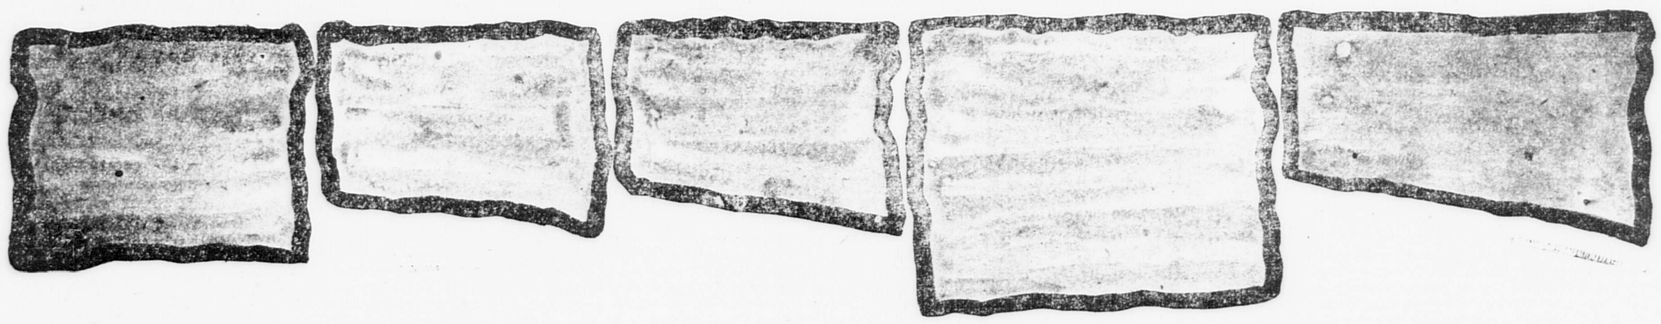


ILLUSTRATION. ONE-FOURTH SIZE

Standard Paving Blocks should be OBLONG 9 to 14 inches long, 7 to 8 inches deep, 3 1-2 to 4 inches thick.

ERNEST W. BRANCH, C. E., Adams Building, Quincy

(Advertisement)

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of it in Quincy But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help.

Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Quincy citizen.

Mrs. E. Burke, 143 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy for kidney trouble. I used them and the results were of the most satisfactory nature. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at the Cox Drug Store and have my highest recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

S. ABBIE PRESCOTT

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased;

Whereas, Annie L. Prescott executrix of the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first account of her administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said executrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty second day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register

Nov. 26-31 26, 3, 10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT

late of Quincy in said County deceased:

Whereas, Annie L. Prescott, the administratrix with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance the first and final account of her administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty second day of November, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Nov. 26-31 26, 3 10

DIMOCK & PATTEN

Carpenters and Builders

Plans furnished and estimates given.

All work personally and promptly attended to.

133 PROSPECT AVENUE

WOLLASTON

Telephone 532-1 Quincy.

Dec 18—1y8

WHEELER'S

Dry Goods Fancy Goods

CHRISTMAS

ADVANCE SALE OF

USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES

FOR

....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....

APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS

The Store for Ladies' Furnishings

City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

DENOUNCED HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Glover's Language Over Body of Murdered Man

WIDOW'S FRIENDS ON STAND

George Freeman and Wife Retract Previous Testimony When Pressed by Counsel For Hattie LeBlanc—Candy Incident at Football Game—Happenings in the Glover Home on Night of Tragedy

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 3.—Statements were made by George A. Freeman yesterday afternoon in the trial of Hattie LeBlanc, charged with the murder of Clarence F. Glover, relative to what he had heard Mrs. Lillian M. Glover say about her husband while his dead body lay in the Waltham home, that startled the throng that had squeezed into the room. The testimony was of such a nature that much of it cannot be printed. Some of the women in the courtroom left the building. Freeman declared that Mrs. Glover had bitterly denounced her husband.

Freeman, who is the husband of Mrs. Frances Freeman, a close friend of Mrs. Glover, swore first that he did not hear Mrs. Glover talk about her husband in an offensive manner, and then, pressed by Lawyer Johnson, repeated the language that she had used. Johnson held a conference at this point with the force from the district attorney's office. They would not reveal what they discussed.

Hattie LeBlanc showed more interest in her trial than at any other period, when Mrs. Freeman testified regarding Glover kissing the girl in the kitchen of the Glover home.

"Mrs. Glover told me," testified Mrs. Freeman, "that she saw and heard Mr. Glover kissing Hattie in the kitchen."

Earlier in the day the following testimony was given by Mrs. Glover, the widow of the murdered man, and by Mrs. Freeman:

Mrs. Glover was asked by Mr. Johnson: "Did your brother have any money in that property?" (The Glover property in Waltham.)

"No, not one cent," replied Mrs. Glover.

"Then why did you testify at the accessory trial that it was your money and your brother's which bought it?"

"Because I didn't think it amounted to anything."

Mrs. Freeman was asked by Johnson: "So your testimony at the accessory trial regarding your leaving the house (the Glover home) on Monday is not true?"

"It was not true," replied Mrs. Freeman.

Questioned at length about the possibility of Hattie LeBlanc being in the house when various searches were made following the tragedy, Mrs. Freeman said: "I said frequently that I thought Hattie was in the house."

Following an outburst by Mrs. Glover on the witness stand in which the widow declared in substance that certain people had tried to get the money she had since her husband's death, and that some of them had come pretty near doing it, Mrs. Freeman described how Mrs. Glover took the announcement of the death of her husband.

Mrs. Freeman remained with Mrs. Glover in the Glover home for several days after the tragedy. Mrs. Freeman reached the Glover house about midnight on the night of the shooting. She testified:

"Mrs. Glover had been crying. She was nervous. I answered her telephone and was told from the Cousens hospital that Mr. Glover had passed away. I told Mrs. Glover. She said: 'Very well, I thank you.' Then she dropped on the stairs, crossed her hands over her bosom and appeared to faint. Then she went to her room. Before going she said, 'Isn't this awful!' She broke down and cried."

Mrs. Freeman also told about the candy incident at the football game the day of the shooting. She said that Glover gave her some candy, handed the box to Mrs. Glover and then passed it to Hattie LeBlanc. Hattie refused to take any and Glover made some joking remark. Mrs. Glover testified in connection with this that Hattie said to her:

"Tell Mr. Glover to stop making love to Mrs. Freeman."

Mrs. Freeman said that at 8:35 on the night of the shooting she was called on the telephone by Mrs. Glover; that she talked to her until 9:10; that Dr. Sibley called her at 10; that she and her husband went to the hospital where Glover lay dying at 11:15 and that she reached the Glover home at midnight. It was 12:11 a. m. when Mr. Glover died. The witness told about reporters being in the house and about the visit of the police and their search of the premises for Hattie LeBlanc.

Writes 1144 Words In Ten Minutes

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—H. O. Blaisdell, the world's champion typist, has established a new world's ten minute record. He wrote 1144 words in that time and made only eleven errors.

SLEEPING SICKNESS ATTACKS WOMAN

For Nearly a Week She Has Been In Stupor

New York, Dec. 3.—For nearly a week Mrs. Elizabeth Hodes has been in a stupor, following the suicide of her son, Israel, 19 years old, who ended his life when he was unable to endure longer excruciating pains in his feet. The youth committed suicide two months ago, but not until last Monday did Mrs. Hodes show any signs of her illness.

Since then every known means of bringing around patients suffering from "sleeping sickness" has been tried, but all proved of no avail, and it is now thought that the woman will die.

Mrs. Hodes has been a sufferer from what is known as the sleeping sickness of India, a malady that is rare in this country. She recently was thought cured of the trouble, when the sudden death of her son caused a relapse. Prior to the shock sustained by the woman when her son was found dead she occasionally would fall into a trance.

SLIPPED ON BANANA PEEL

Woman Made Business of Trick Which Yields Big Returns

New York, Dec. 3.—"Banana Anna," who has been on trial for the last four days, charged with having swindled the New York Central railroad, confessed in court that she had obtained more than $5000 damages from seventeen railroads by pretending that she had been injured by falls.

The woman, who is Mrs. Anna Strula, said that she had an old wound which she could cause to look like a fresh injury. In the New York Central case, as in others, she said she had slipped on a banana peel, the presence of which, on railroad property, she charged to negligence.

MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR

Man With $30,000 In His Pockets Gets Himself Into Trouble

New York, Dec. 3.—Thomas B. Young, president of the Brownsville Engineering company of Brownsville, Pa., was turned over to the custody of his father and his brother by Magistrate Krotel.

He entered the apartment of Mrs. Mary Manehan, a stranger, and was arrested on her complaint for a burglar, but it was soon seen that he was dazed and he was turned over to Bellevue hospital for observation. Cash and securities to the amount of $30,000 were found on his person.

Oysters Will Purify Themselves

Providence, Dec. 3.—Professor Phelps of the Massachusetts institute of technology reports to the commissioners of shell fisheries of Rhode Island that oysters polluted by sewage when placed in pure water will rid themselves of pollution in two days' time.

Limit on Chicago Skyscrapers

Chicago, Dec. 3.—The city council decided that no building shall be erected in Chicago in the future of greater height than 200 feet. The present building code limits the height to 260 feet.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Andrew Milne, way to Columbia street.

Fanny C. Adams to Sadie B. Nash, Poplar street.

George A. Bent et al to Isaac P. Bent, South street, Howard street.

John T. Cavanagh to Nettie C. Towne, Littlefield street.

Charles M. Conant to Henry F. Mosses, Atlantic street.

Mary E. Dean to Timothy J. Golden Newbury street.

Adolph T. Dinne to James F. Sweeney, Sea street, Taber street, Bell street, River road, Main street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Minnie M. Wood, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Nina Bullocks, Houghs Neck.

Dunham A. Wilton to Esther G. Smith, Houghs Neck.

Charles A. Erikson to Erik A. Erikson, Euclid avenue.

Thomas Fenno tr et al to Helen P. Mitchell, Buckingham road.

John F. Hunt to Esther Silverman, Cyril street.

Sarah T. Johnson to John W. Bell, Shelton road.

John J. McKenna to John A. Lawrence, Tyler street.

Nathan G. Nickerson to Walter E. Battles, Kemper street.

David Silverman to John F. Hunt, Cyril street.

Mary E. Tisdale to Eugene V. Earle, Washington street.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, Dec. 4.

Sun rises—7:05; sets—4:29.

Moon sets—6:29 p. m.

High water—12:45 a. m.; 12:45 p. m.

Forecast for New England: Increasing cloudiness; moderate west to northwest winds, becoming variable.

2-7 Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES

CIGARS

At Wholesale and Retail

Big Variety of Pipes

STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS

Opposite Quincy Station

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

NEW BOOKS at the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Abbott Eleanor H. Molly make-believe. 304 59

Arnim, Mary A. B. Graffin con Caravan-rs. 305 81

Bisland, Elizabeth. At the sign of the hobby horse. 79 71

Bodkin, McDonnell. Quests of Paul Beck. 304 71

Burnham, Clara L. Clever Betsy: a novel. 238 44

Daniels, F. H. School drawing: real correlation. 474 153

Deland, L. F. Imagination in business. 478 7

Earle, Alice M. Sun dials and roses of yesterday. 477 107

Ferrero, Felice. Valley of Aosta. 194 67

Gowing, Clara. Alcotts as I knew them. 451 57

Greely, A. W. Handbook of polar discoveries. 127 22

Hearn, Lafcadio. Life and letters. 2v. 4.0 74, 75

Jacks, L. P. Mad shepherds, and other human studies. 242 60

Kennedy, Rankin. Flying machines: practice and design. 493 94

Knight, W. A. Song of our Syrian guest. 892 9

Interpretation of the 23d Psalm.

Knopf, S. A. Tuberculosis: a preventable and curable disease. 545 75

Lagerlof, Selma. Miracles of antichrist: a novel. 326 114

Leblanc, Maurice. Hollow needle: further adventures of Arsene Lupin. 304 65

Levitt, Dorothy. Woman and the car: chatty little handbook for all woman who motor or who want to motor. 477 112

Lougheed, Victor. Vehicles of the air: popular exposition of modern aeronautics with working drawings. 486 50

Mitchell, S. Weir. Guillotine club, and other stories. 240 49

Peabody, Josephine P. Piper. 536 110

Peary, R. E. North pole: its discovery in 1909 under the auspices of the Peary Arctic club. 127 33

Price, C. R. Irrigated lands of United States, Canada, and Mexico. 401 74

Reed, Myrtle. Everyday luncheons. By Olive Green. [pseud.] 491 78

How to cook shell-fish. By Olive Green. [pseud.] 490 79

How to cook vegetable. By Olive Green. [pseud.] 491 66

Master of the vineyard. 241 123

Roosevelt, Theodore. African game trails. 503 170

Rotch, A. Lawrence. Conquest of the air; or, the advent of aerial navigation. [Present day primers] 493 95

Slattery, Margaret. Talks with the training class. 565 94

Smyth, Newman. Modern belief in immortality. 531 119

Spargo, John. Karl Marx: his life and work. 4.0 69

Steffens, Lincoln. Upbuilders. 451 56

Stickley, Gustav. Craftsman homes. 475 12

Strachan, Grace C. Equal pay for work: struggle for justice made by the woman teachers of the city of New York. 554 65

Thomson, W. H. What is physical life? 561 74

Thurston, Katherine C. Max: a novel. 358 158

Wason, E. A. Steering wheel. 316 78

Yeats, W. B. Ideas of good and evil. [Essays] 72 84

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.

FIRE INSURANCE.

The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates

Insurance Department,

1465 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

ALL KINDS

at short notice our specialty.

PATTERSON, "The Florist"

92 South Central Ave.

WOLLASTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

Come to Us TO BE Rubbered

Our prices on Men's, Ladies' Misses' and Children's RUBBERS

Have not advanced any, as usual the LOWEST IN THE CITY.

Grades, such as Shawmut, Shamrock, a guarantee with every pair, and numerous other well-known High Grades of Rubber Goods at cut prices.

Before buying your winter supply compare our prices with others.

LOUIS J. SMITH,

9 Depot St. 1465 Hancock St.

Quincy, Mass.

Nov. 2-tf

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.

Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 40 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

SHAWMUT RUBBERS

NOT MADE BY A TRUST

"SOLD IN QUINCY ONLY BY GRANITE SHOE STORE."

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES

5 GRANITE STREET

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

$22.50 Suits

Marked to $16.50

Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth

SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

¶ We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Pork to Roast	12c
Leg Loin Lamb	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb	8c
Short Leg Lamb.	14c
Lamb Chop	15c
Pork Chop	14c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c,	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Regular 28c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Face Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast	12 1-2--14
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25c
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27
Baldwin Apples only	25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine	20c

¶ Remember all our goods are guaranteed.

¶ Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.

¶ Don't forget our Grocery Department.

Advertise in The Ledger

The Woman Alive

to her own best interests,—as soon as there is need, will help her whole system with the tonic action of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

All women should read the special directions with every box.

Sold Everywhere In boxes 10c. and 25c.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets

10c. 25c. 50c. All Druggists

WEL WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

JAMES F. BURKE

Real Estate and Insurance

AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES

Justice of the Peace Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People

ESTABLISHED 1889

SAVES $ FOR YOU

EARNS $ FOR YOU

LOANS $ TO YOU

DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month

MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS

OWN YOUR HOME.

SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING

R. D. CHASE Treas

EDWARD E. BULLOCK

Teacher of Singing

First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette Music for all occasions.

Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston

Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.

Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

R. D. CHASE QUINCY MASS. MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCES TRUSTS CARE OF PROPERTY

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

TOURING CARS

We have secured local agency for REGAL Touring cars and want to show you why these cars beat all others. A 5 passenger, 30 h. p. runabout or touring car costs only $1250. Demonstrations by appointment.

In addition we have taxicab service and rent our touring car by day or hour. Call or phone.

C. H. PENNIMAN, Quincy.

Stable Tel. 207. Res. Tel. 166-4

June tf

A. M. DEANE & CO.

MONUMENTS

MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES

Aug. 1, 1y

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property.

Justice of the Peace

Corner School and Hancock Streets. QUINCY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1291 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point. Tel. 503-1 Quincy. Nov. 5-tf

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

A Long Haul Bostonese Name Begins with Iky and Ends with Glynnisky—Dr. Dudley Sargent Perplexes Femininity by Showing that Women are Becoming Mannish and Men Womanly—Alternatives for the Christmas Tree are Suggested—Opera Followers Await Frederick Converse's New Piece, "The Sacrifice."

Miss Eda Ek of Brockton having been given recognition heretofore for the unusual shortness of her name, perhaps it is only fair that Mr. Amos Thompson Richard Rufus Louis Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte Hamilton Harrington should receive equal honor as the person enjoying—if that is the proper term for it—the longest name among those discovered by the enterprising editor of a local paper which has been conducting a long and short contest. Mr. Harrington signs himself A. T. Harrington for brevity's sake, and credits his rather remarkable cognomen to a number of interested aunts, each of whom had a hand at naming him. A close second to Mr. Harrington is "Iky Glynn," a resident of one of the greater Boston villages, whose real name is Iky Danczious Gorgolessy Kannisky Chinichek Briziensky Gadensky Puras Glynnisky. This gentlemen is a walking dictionary of the Russian language.

The city kiddies are in danger of not having their annual Christmas trees this year, if a bill now before the Vermont legislature should become a law. The Green Mountain state has suddenly waked up to the ravages which have been going in her forests for years innumerable, and is endeavoring to impose a tax of 25 cents upon every Christmas tree shipped out of the State. This would make Vermont trees practically prohibitive, while the other states would doubtless be obliged to raise their prices for trees in order to meet the increased demand. Good old Vermont believes that the green trees of its ancient hills stand a chance of doing the kiddies more real good if they stand where they grow than if bolstered upright for a few short hours in a city house, only to be cast into the ash heap the day after Christmas. There are plenty of substitutes if one only wants to think so. A big barrel or box, tastefully decorated, has been found to furnish no end of fun when used in the manner of a grab bag—and nearly everyone can find one of these, or, if not, a clothes basket. One family at least finds much pleasure in loading the breakfast table the last thing at night with the mysterious packages containing Christmas gifts, and there is a jolly time indeed when the dining room door is opened in the morning. Pity the forests, and think how much health giving power is stored up in every one of the beautiful trees which are ruthlessly cut down for a few hours' entertainment. Sacrifice the inclination for a tree this year, and next summer comes the pleasure of feeling a protective interest in every tree of the forest, for who knows which particular one might have been yours if you had wished it?

What can a poor woman do? Here we have had it dinned into our heads for the past twenty years that women should be more athletic, should walk, swim, play golf and tennis; should wear freer clothing, larger shoes, and all the rest. We have religiously "gone and done it." Dr. Dudley Sar-Harvard, and foremost authority on the physical development of women, admits that we have. He admits, also, that woman's physique has been pracgent, the famous physical director of tically made over, that the sloping shoulders of our grandmothers have disappeared, and that we now have well-knit, athletic broad ones in their place; our hips are smaller, our necks larger, our chests better developed. Dr. Sargent says all this and more regarding the improvement in our physical development—and then winds up his remarks by declaring that we have thus become more mannish and that "this approximation of man's physique is, from an anthropological point of view, a bad thing. It is to be hoped that men and women do not grow to be more alike than they are today." Now what is one to do? But he doesn't attribute the growing resemblance entirely to woman, so we can forgive him. He says things about the men, too. "From the overdeveloped Sandow, man has changed to the effeminate and the foppish being. The assimilation of the sexes by each other is a possibility to be decried." Well, as long as the good doctor doesn't blame us altogether we may as well go on being healthy and happy—its ever so much more comfortable, anyway!

Followers of Boston grand opera throughout New England are awaiting with impatience the production by world famous singers of Frederick S. Converse's second opera, which is scheduled for the near future. Mr. Converse surprised the musical world five years ago by the production of his first operatic work, "The Pipe of Desire," which was given largely by a group of students of the New England Conservatory of Music, in which the composer is a trustee and in which he has taught from time to time. The piece, which was rendered with remarkable technical skill and attractive accessories, made an immediate hit. Its fame and the fact that Boston not only had the means of training young people to sing and act in grand opera but had a grand opera composer of its own became widespread. Since then the local opera house has been built and here is to be presented Mr. Converse's second effort, "The Sacrifice"—a truly American opera in theme, scene and music. It is interesting that among the singers who will take part in the production will be a sprinkling of the Conservatory students of 1906 who appeared in the first performance of "The Pipe of Desire" and who have since advanced to membership in the opera company. The scene of "The Sacrifice" is laid on the Mexican border in the stirring times of 1846 when the United States and her sister republic were engaged in hostilities. A triangular love story involving the fates of a dark eyed Mexican maiden, her Aztec lover and an American officer furnishes abundant material for the hand of the composer. Truly American music is coming to its own, and Boston becomes each year more undoubtedly the musical capital.

Ethel Angier.

RALLIES IN CAPE TOWNS

Foss and His Staff Continue Campaign Against Lodge's Re-election

Hyannis, Mass., Dec. 3.—Governor-elect Foss wound up his second day on the Cape in his campaign against Senator Lodge with a rally here last night.

The governor-elect and his corps of Republican spellbinders addressed more than 1000 people in thirteen meetings yesterday.

Meetings were held in poolrooms, railroad stations, town halls, grocery stores and wayside inns. The Cape showed its interest in the campaign against the senior senator by furnishing more listeners to hear the governor-elect than attended the meetings in either the congressional or gubernatorial campaigns.

JOCKEY CLUB'S EXPENSES

Books Show That They Amounted to $320,000 in Three Years

New York, Dec. 3.—The books of the Jockey club, an organization which absolutely controls and sanctions horse racing throughout the United States, were produced before the joint legislative investigating committee and showed that in 1906, 1907 and 1908, the club expended $320,000 for legal expenses, advertising and maintaining a press bureau.

This total was shown by entries from three accounts, numbered 1, 2 and 3.

Famous as Corporation Lawyer

East Orange, N. J., Dec. 3.—Judge James B. Dill, one of the leading American authorities on corporation law, died at his home here, of pneumonia, after a short illness. He was 56 years old.

Safe Blowers Get $1800

Des Moines, Dec. 3.—Robbers blew open the vaults of the Garden City bank near here and escaped with $1800.

Hair Help

Ayer's Hair Vigor has no effect whatever upon the color of the hair. It cannot possibly change the color in any way. But it promptly stops falling hair, and greatly promotes growth. Ask your doctor first. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

MAYOR SHEA

(Continued from page 1.)

istrations had not raised enough money in the tax levy to provide for the running expenses.

Now, Mr. Hobbs says in his report "under the auditing system that was created in 1907, these deficiencies cannot occur in the future." By that he meant that after 1907 such deficiencies could not occur. Very well then—after 1907 they did not occur.

I assumed office in 1908 and therefor the deficiencies he referred to could not have occurred during my administration. Why did he not come out squarely and say so?

He did not care to tell what his own report compels him to admit. During my administrations there has been no such deficiencies.

I have put into the tax levy an item for this very purpose of meeting the differences between sewer receipts and expenses in 1908, $32,000; in 1909, $26,022.59; in 1910, $28,851 and in fact this policy has been adopted throughout.

He charges me with extravagance. How much of the increase he refers to is the result of normal conditions, any fair-minded man can see, increased cost of maintenance in schools alone amounts to thousands of dollars and so on through all the departments each is being normally and steadily increased, not from extravagance, but from necessity. In some, such as sewer and water, the city gets a substantial return, but I have no apology to offer for the money I have expended. The money has been well and economically expended for those public improvements which were made for the health and comfort of our citizens and the education of their children. If I had done less I would have been derelict in the discharge of my duty.

Mr. Hobbs' speeches and his campaign circulars contain many misleading statements. The figures he quotes are incorrect, jumbled and intentionally prepared to deceive the people. He is not fair when he says that the cost of running the city has increased and then neglects to furnish the offset, and show the occasion for that increase, and the assets that the city has acquired and hold to show therefore.

If what he now says be true, why didn't the Finance committee headed by himself discover these things and report on them? What during his last three years service in the City Council, what order, appropriating money has he voted against? Not one. Now he poses as a reformer but his light is coming too late in the campaign to do him any good.

Let me give you a few instances, of Mr. Hobbs' misleading statements, he charges me with increasing temporary loans. The facts are that in January 1910 temporary loans were $425,000. I have reduced those loans $55,000, so that January 1, 1911 there will only be $370,000 against over $470,000 taxes outstanding. Another, I have reduced the tax rate forty cents per thousand this year, and this was done in spite of the increase in the various departments made necessary by the growth of our city. Does not that indicate that this was done by the application of business principles? Again, he criticises my veto of the proposed Woodward ordinances last year. When the ordinance passed the Council and came to me, it was referred to the law department and my City Solicitor, in whose judgment and ability I, and I think the people of Quincy, have implicit faith, advised me that if the ordinance became a law, there was grave danger that the Supreme Court might construe the method of handling the Fund contemplated by the proposed ordinance to be breach of the conditions of Dr. Woodward's will, and the Fund and Property in that event would go to Dartmouth College. I, thereupon vetoed the ordinance. I did so because I wanted to KEEP THE FUND AND PROPERTY IN QUINCY FOR QUINCY GIRLS.

My management of that Fund was approved early this season by committee Mr. Hobbs appointed to examine the accounts and management of the Fund. Don't the people of Quincy think it about time that some people stopped trying to see how near the City can come to losing that Fund and not lose it? If the ordinance regulating the Fund is going to be amended every year Quincy will be lucky if it doesn't some day find the Woodward Fund and property translated from Quincy, Massachusetts to Hanover, New Hampshire.

In conclusion let me state that not one dollar was raised in the budget for the runing expenses of the city that was not made necessary to be put in there by the normal growth and development of our city. Of course it costs more to run the city today than it did three years ago. Haven't we got more streets, sidewalks, surface drainage, increased police and fire departments, new public buildings, new and better equipments in all our departments and in our population. The following is a simple illustration:—If a man and wife with two small children live in a twelve dollar a month tenement house with no modern improvements, and then the family increases to six children and those children have reached the High school age, and the parents believe it good economy for the health and comfort of themselves and their children to move into a twenty-dollar a month tenement with modern improvements and conveniences wouldn't you expect, in spite of the application of sound business principles that the necessary living of that family would be increased? Would it be fair or just to charge the head of that house with extravagance? No, it would not and you know it and Mr. Hobbs knows it. And that is exactly the case in Quincy today.

OTHER SPEAKERS.

The Mayor was followed by Candidate Deasy, James F. Burke, Councilmen Whiton and John D. Smith, William A. Kelley of the Central Labor union, Councilmen Cherrington and Harry T. Boyd.

Councilman Boyd who is a member of the famous financial investigation committee, which has been called the "Committee of upturned noses," told what had transpired at the meetings held by this committee, and that the report made was not that of the committee but had been written by the chairman.

Councilman Cherrington said for various good reasons he would not speak in favor of or against either Mayoralty candidate and he confined himself to fire department matters and to the borrowing capacity of the city.

Monday night the Mayor will have one of the old-time night-before-the-election rallies in West Quincy.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

The average daily attendance at the Quincy public schools in November was over 5,200, being nearly 700 at the High and at the Willard, which are now about the same size. The Quincy school at Atlantic has nearly 600 and the Coddington nearly 500. The Washington and Massachusetts Fields have over 400 each. Four have between 300 and 400, and the Gridley Bryant is the only one with less than 300. Superintendent Barbour makes this report for November:

	Whole No. on Roll	Av. Daily Attendance	Per Cent of Daily Attendance	Tardiness	Dismissal	Truancy
High	707	688.8	95.6	74	44	0
Adams	344	322.3	95.7	19	23	0
Coddington	532	491.5	96.9	4	15	1
Cranch	329	310.6	96.4	19	16	0
Gridley Bryant	268	252.8	94.0	9	6	0
John Hancock	322	305.5	95.1	4	3	1
Lincoln	427	412.1	96.7	5	12	0
Mass. Fields	381	359.8	95.5	19	31	3
Quincy	615	577.1	94.3	38	38	1
Washington	479	444.7	94.2	23	15	3
Willard	730	699.6	94.6	20	9	0
Wollaston	499	467.7	92.7	36	51	0
	5405	5065.3	94.1	270	263	9

ST. JOHN'S DAY.

Wollaston Masonic lodge of Wollastonton Rural lodge of Quincy and Massachusetts lodge of Boston have accepted an invitation of Rev. Edward A. Chase, chaplain of Wollaston and Massachusetts lodges, to attend divine services at the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday, Dec. 11, in Commemoration of St. John's day. The brothers will meet in the apartments of Wollaston lodge at 2.45 and march from there to the church.

SWEDISH NO-LICENSE.

The Swedish Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches will unite in a temperance service to be held in the Methodist church, Fort street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. O. Backlund, of Boston, is invited as the principal speaker. A brief address will also be delivered by Rev. J. J. Hamilton of Lowell. Special singing will be rendered by a united male chorus in charge of John S. Anderson. A vocal solo and a selection by the Methodist church mixed choir are also on the program.

Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

QUEEN LOUISE FLOUR 90c A BAG AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to see us at 710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & CO.

JUST ESCAPED WATERY GRAVE

Crew of Leaky Schooner Rescued by Revenue Cutter

WERE AT PUMPS FOR HOURS

Working Waist Deep In Water and Thoroughly Exhausted When Distress Signals Are Sighted by the Gresham, Whose Men Take Charge of Disabled Craft After a Perilous Row—Assistance None Too Soon

Boston, Dec. 3.—The timely assistance of the United States revenue cutter Gresham saved the three-masted schooner John S. Beacham and its crew of five men off Cape Cod yesterday.

Battered by giant waves, tossed about in a gale of sixty miles an hour, the schooner was discovered in a sinking condition by the Gresham off Point Race and towed to Boston harbor last night after a battle with the elements.

The wooden vessel had already settled to within a few inches from the deck level when sighted from the cutter.

Captain Burgess, Mate Doyle, Seamen Walker and Bigelow and Cook Colsen had been working for hours at the pumps, waist deep in water, and had given up hope.

Gunner Johnson of the Gresham, with a crew of six men in a small boat, made a perilous trip across the space between the two vessels in the midst of terrific waves and succeeded in boarding the schooner. They took the places of the exhausted crew at the pumps during the hard tug to Boston harbor.

The schooner left Woodbridge Creek, N. J., bound for Boston, with 330 tons of fire brick and cement. Fair weather was encountered until just off Cape Cod yesterday morning, when about 4 o'clock the schooner ran into a stiff northeaster. The steadily increasing velocity of the wind stirred the water into great waves and at 8 o'clock the crew were working desperately at the pumps with the water steadily gaining and the schooner threatening to sink with every wave.

Distress signals were hoisted at the mast head and the struggle went on until the men began to drop on the deck from exhaustion.

It was 9 o'clock when Captain Uberroth of the cutter sighted the distress signal and hove to to give aid. The hawser broke three times during the passage to the harbor and the gunner's crew worked every moment of the time at the pumps, assisted after a short rest by the schooner's crew.

The schooner was anchored last night off the flats of Governor's island. The leaks had been repaired to some extent and she will put into drydock today for an overhauling.

STEAMER SINKS SCHOONER

Crew of Bath Vessel Rescued and Landed In Bermuda

Bath, Me., Dec. 3.—News was received here last night of the loss of the four-masted schooner William E. Bowen, Jr., following a collision with the British steamer Rokeby. The Rokeby rescued the entire crew of the schooner and landed them at Bermuda.

The news of the sinking of the schooner was contained in a dispatch from Captain Hinckley of the Bowen to F. J. K. Hinckley of this city, his brother, and one of the principal owners of the vessel. No details of the accident were given.

The Bowen left Fernandina Nov. 15 with a cargo of lumber consigned to New York. She carried a crew of seven men.

The schooner was built here in 1904 at the cost of $41,000. She was 172.4 feet in length, 36.5 feet beam, 13.5 feet depth of hold and registered 546 tons net.

HILL DID NOT DIE RICH

Former Governor of New York Left Estate Valued at $62,000

Albany, Dec. 3.—Former Governor David B. Hill, who died in Albany on Oct. 20 last, left a personal estate, exclusive of household furnishings, effects and library, estimated at $30,000 and real estate assessed at $32,000.

The real property includes his beautiful home known as Wolfert's Roost, on the outskirts of this city. The principal beneficiaries are Dr. Parry S. Pearse and Peter J. Manwiller, both of Albany, proteges of Hill.

Ireland's Civil War Threat

Dublin, Dec. 3.—The threat of civil war in Ireland became more menacing last evening when the Ulster Unionist council decided to make contracts for arms and ammunition as a result of the political crisis.

Rope Skipping Kills Schoolgirl

New York, Dec. 3.—Emily Reich, 15 years old, died in public school No. 31, a victim, physicians believe, of excessive rope skipping. Heart failure was the cause of death.

SUNNY MONDAY

Sunny Monday laundry soap contains marvelous dirt-starting qualities not found in any other soap. It makes the dirt fly before it, and saves time, rubbing, clothes and backs. Sunny Monday can be used in any kind of water—hard, soft, cold, luke warm, hot or boiling—and the results are always the same.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY CHICAGO

LAZY LIVER

"I find Cascarets so good that I would not be without them. I was troubled a great deal with torpid liver and headache. Now since taking Cascarets Candy Cathartic I feel very much better. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as the best medicine I have ever seen."

Anna Bazinet, Osborn Mill No. 2, Fall River, Mass.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 923

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN SEND FOR HOLMES & HALL 96 Washington St., Quincy

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	FROM BOSTON Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ilgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abcd	6 55	6 15	ilgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 09
r 6 49	abcf	7 09	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 23	7 45	a	8 09
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 53
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 09
r 7 49	abcd	8 09	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
	8 05 Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 36	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 51	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 47 r
r 10 04	a	10 10	12 45	Exp.	1 10
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
	11 04 a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefghi	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
	12 01 a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 30 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
	1 14 a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
	2 04 a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 29	d	5 37
	3 04 a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
	4 04 a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
	4 59 b	5 15	6 30	cdba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
	6 09 ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
	7 04 b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 39	ac	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 20	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 50	ba	6 49 r
	8 30 Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 11 r
r 8 43	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
	9 31 a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
	10 23 ac	10 39	12 43	Exp.	12 59
	11 00 Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
	1 02 Exp.	1 47	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 44	4 25	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
	7 05 Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
	9 05 a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.50 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.09, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—8.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Furniture
Joyce Bros. & CO.—Mid Season Clothing
Andrew J. Lloyd—Opera Glasses
Alpha Hall—John Thomas Concert Co.
Boys' Rally
Potatoes for sale
Political Advertisements
Lost Savings Bank Books.

At 12 M. today.	34 degrees
December 3, 1909,	39 degrees
December 3, 1908,	33 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,

BRIEFS

A new cross walk is being put in at the corner of River and Arnold streets.

No one seems to be interested enough in the No-License meetings to inform the newspapers when the meetings will be held.

Hughes & Johnson have found it necessary, owing to the rush of business, to enlarge their polishing mill. Their present mill was built about a year ago.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held Monday evening. As it is the night before election, and there may be some fences the members of the Council desire to fix up, the meeting will probably be a brief one.

Mr. Parker B. Field of the Children's Mission, Boston, is to address the Y. P. R. U., of First church on Sunday evening. His talk will be illustrated by the stereopticon and there will be music.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Titus have moved from Fayette street to the apartments in Dr. Record's house on Newport avenue.

The Rev. L. C. Manchester, D. D., of Prospect avenue who was priest in charge during the summer at St. Chrysostom's church will preach at the morning service on Sunday.

George E. Adams has been appointed by Judge Avery acting clerk of the District court until a permanent clerk is appointed. Mr. Adams states that he is not a candidate for the office of clerk as it would interfere with his private practise and also his duties in the district attorney's office.

A meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose will be held Monday evening at which 78 candidates will be initiated.

Memorial services of Quincy lodge of Elks at Alpha hall Sunday evening to which the public is invited.

The members of the Galahad Brotherhood were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McLeod, Thursday evening at their home on Edison street. One of the pleasantries of the evening was the bountiful lunch that was served.

Two more fire alarms boxes were cut into the fire alarm circuits this morning. They are: Box 116, corner Centre road and Darrow street; Box 119, corner Rockland and Rhoda streets, Rock Island.

HELD FOR FIRE.

The Milton fire department was called out at 1 o'clock this morning for a lively blaze in an unoccupied summer cottage. Officer Higgins was one of the first to respond and he saw two men coming from the building whom he placed under arrest. They gave their names as Thomas Fitzgerald and Joseph H. Cutter. They were arraigned in the Quincy court this morning for setting fire to a building, and held in $500 each for the grand jury. Cutter pleaded guilty, and said while under the influence of liquor they had gone into the building to sleep, and had accidentally started the fire which destroyed the building.

BIRTHS

DECKER—In Houghs Neck, Dec. 2, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Decker.

DEATHS

CALLAHAN—In Squantum, Dec. 2, Margaret Louise Callahan.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

COURT WELL REPRESENTED

At Funeral of Clerk J. P. S. Churchill

The funeral of John P. S. Churchill, for nineteen years clerk of the District Court at Quincy, was held Friday afternoon in the chapel at Mt. Auburn, and was very largely attended. Many of the members of the Massachusetts Clerk of Courts Association, and of the Norfolk county bar were present, as well as the court officers and members of the Quincy Bar Association. Among those present from Quincy were Judge Avery and Judge Pratt, Assistant Clerk Lyons, Court Officer Marden, and his assistant, Constable Hultman, John J. Duggan, Charles H. Hardwick, William Edwards, Frank A. Tirrell, John W. and J. J. McAnarney, Maurice Spillane, George E. Adams, Zenas S. Arnold and George H. Brown.

The services were conducted by Rev. Edward Tilston of Swampscott. The Episcopal burial service was used. The Webber quartette sang selections. There were many beautiful flowers, including set pieces from the officers of the District court at Quincy, the Quincy and Norfolk County Bar Association, and the Clerks' Association.

CITY BOOKS NOT PUBLIC

Councilman Was Denied Access to Them

Ralph W. Hobbs, Esq.,
Quincy, Mass.

Dear Mr. Hobbs,—Since you called my attention to the statement contained in an advertisement in the Ledger in favor of Mayor Shea's candidacy for reelection to the effect that the books of the various departments have at all times been open to inspection, I have consulted the files of the Ledger and find that in the issue of the Ledger of October 13, 1908, in the report of the proceedings of the City Council held the previous evening, I am quoted as having said, in speaking of the Woodward Fund, that, I "had that morning been refused permission to look at the books."

This is absolutely correct; the refusal was stated to be "on advice" and it was the immediate occasion for asking an investigation of the management of the fund.

Very truly,
George W. Abele.
239 Adams St., Quincy.
(Advertisement.)

Bishop Williams Is Dead

Richmond, Dec. 3.—Right Rev. Channing M. Williams died here, aged 82 years. He went years ago to Japan as a missionary, and was Episcopal bishop of Japan for a long term. He was the senior bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States in the order of consecration.

POTATOES
Wholesale and Retail
ORDERS DELIVERED
Retail 75c per bushel
1054 Hancock St. Tel. 356-3 Quincy
Dec. 3-3t

ALPHA HALL, QUINCY
THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 8
JOHN THOMAS CONCERT CO.
JOHN THOMAS, Humorist
Will be assisted by
ANNIE WEBSTER THOMAS, Violin Virtuoso
ALICE FORTIN, Pianist
"JOHN THOMAS has a mission in life, and that mission is TO MAKE OTHER PEOPLE HAPPY. He goes through this good old world of ours making people laugh, and they are better for it. He carries 'sunshine' with him wherever he goes, and distributes it freely."
TICKETS 35 AND 50 CENTS;
On sale at Murphy's Drug Store, corner Hancock and Granite Streets. Dec. 3-4t

REPUBLICAN COUNCILMAN

Endorses the Administration of Mayor Shea

To the Voters of Ward 1:—

Gentlemen:—After six years' service in the City Council I this year declined to be a candidate for re-election.

I wish now to express to you my appreciation of your confidence and the honor you have conferred on me in electing me your councilman for so many years.

COUNCILMAN WHITON.

During the last three years I have had opportunity to observe the manner in which the business of the city has been transacted. I believe it a duty I owe you at this time to state that in my opinion the affairs of the city during those years have been conducted in accordance with strict and recognized business principles.

Some months ago, Mr. Hobbs, as President of the City Council, appointed a special committee, of which he was chairman, to investigate the finances of the city. The committee did so, and was unable to find a single act of commission or ommission connected with Mayor Shea's administration it could criticise.

Early this season, in accordance with the provisions of the City Ordinances, a committee of the City Council was appointed by Mr. Hobbs to examine the accounts and management of the Woodward Fund and Property. The committee on October 17, 1910, reported, and in its report approved the manner in which that fund was being managed.

I believe Quincy is fortunate in having a man of Mayor Shea's recognized independence, ability and honesty, willing to serve it for another year as its chief executive.

I believe Mayor Shea worthy of being re-elected and trust the voters of Quincy will on next Tuesday elect him Mayor of our city.

Joseph L. Whiton, Jr.,
29 Whitney road.
December 1, 1910.
(Advertisement.)

WANTS A CAN RATE FOR INDEPENDENTS

Malone Asks Commerce Commission to Act on Milk Rate

Boston, Dec. 3.—The price of milk freight rates has been put up to the interstate commerce commission at Washington by Attorney General Malone of Massachusetts. He asks the commission to ascertain if the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Boston and Maine and the St. Johnsbury and Lake Champlain roads are charging legal rates for carrying milk.

In his petition Malone says that the roads make no provision in their tariffs for freighting milk except in carload lots, and that the roads make independent shippers deal with the concerns which have chartered cars.

Mr. Malone asks the interstate commerce commission "to ascertain and determine the lawful rates and methods with relation to the carriage of milk by the said corporations, and that all necessary orders and regulations be made to require said corporations to conform thereto."

FOILED BY A HOBBLE SKIRT

Boy Who Tried to Elope With Woman Trips and Is Caught

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Because he couldn't walk gracefullly in high heels and a hobble skirt, 15-year-old Angelo Ferdinando was foiled in his elopement to Buffalo with Mrs. Maria deAmorie, 33 years old.

The boy appeared to be a pretty girl when the police became suspicious of him. He wore a hobble skirt and French heels, and after he had tripped a few times he was arrested.

Physician (to government clerk)—"Well, what do you complain of?"

"Sleeplessness, doctor."

"At what time do you go to bed?"

"Oh, I don't mean at night, but during office hours."—N. Y. Journal.

BASKET BALL AT HIGH

Quincys Put It All Over University Preparatory

The basket ball season at the High school was opened yesterday afternoon when the Quincy boys met the University Preparatory team of Boston in a decidedly one-sided game. The game also served in a measure to try out the Quincy High boys, and from the first few games played the first team will be picked. The Quincy High boys put it all over the visitors. Manning, scoring ten baskets from the floor, and H. Chapman eight. Baskets from the floor were also made by Prout and Harmon, each securing two. Manning also secured three goals from fouls, which ran Quincy's total up to 49.

For the visitors, Lannigan was the only man to score, and but for his two goals from fouls it would have been a whitewash. Two 15-minute halves were played, and on account of the very apparent superiority of the Quincy High boys the game was somewhat uninteresting. The final score was Quincy High, 49; University 2. The summary:

Quincy	University Preparatory
H. Chapman, rf	lb Davis
Manning, lf	rb Swan
Prout, c	c Lannigan
Arthur, c
Harmon rb	Lf Jason
M. Chapman, lb	rf Jones
Sutermeister, lb

Score—Quincy High, 49; University Preparatory 2. Goals from floor—Manning, 10; H. Chapman, 8; Prout 2; Harmon 2. Goals from fouls,—Manning 3, Lannigan 2. Referee—R. Bates Umpire—Rice. Scorer—Robinson. Time, 15 minute halves.

Moody Critically Ill

Washington, Dec. 3.—Former Justice William H. Moody, who retired from the supreme court two weeks ago, is critically ill at his home in Washington, to which he was brought from Gloucester, Mass., early in the fall. He had not been able to participate in the sessions of the supreme court for eighteen months prior to his retirement.

Minister Held on Fraud Charge

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Rev. H. C. Scottford, pastor of the Hamilton Park Congregational church, was arrested, charged with using the mails to defraud. He was released on bonds of $1000. The minister conducted a firm known as the National Patent Investment company.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED—American girls for light work. Experience unnecessary. Apply between 9 and 12 to Mr. Cole, Mayflower Rubber Works Co. off Hancock street, South Braintree.
Nov. 30—L-Ob.-tf

WANTED—Girl for housework must read, write and hear. Inquire at Dr. Gordon's, 1200 Hancock street.
Nov. 23-9t

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.1. Haymarket 2140

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO the heirs-at-law next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of ANNIE GILLOOLY
late of Quincy in said County, deceased;

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by James F. Burke of Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 3, 5, 12

LOST
SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590 of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 21,906	Book No. 26,693
Book No. 27,351	Book No. 28,388
Book No. 30,567	Book No. 31,449
Book No. 32,397	Book No. 32,435
Book No. 32,885	Book No. 32,931
Book No. 32,978	Book No. 33,712
Book No. 34,021	Book No. 34,210
Book No. 35,233	Book No. 36,146

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Dec. 3-3t 3-10-17

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 28-2.
Want Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—A pair of fine young work horses, suitable for heavy teaming of any kind. Well matched and good workers. Apply to Wm. May, 485 Washington street, Braintree.
P 1-w Dec. 3-1t

TO LET

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor. 15 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET—Housekeeping apartments 3 to 10 rooms fully or partially furnished, hard wood floors, modern improvements, furnace, gas, and electricity. $18 per month upward. Address Miss Spear, 1168 Hancock street, Quincy, Dec. 2-2t

TO LET—At 278 Whitwell street a flat of 5 rooms on second floor. All improvements. Read Jan. 1. Apply to 172 Glendale road, Quincy. Dec. 2-6t
Dec. 2-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L.
Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-2 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Nov. 14-18t

TO LET—New house, 7 rooms, all modern conveniences. Large garden. Edison Park street. Apply to Williams the Jeweler, 1473 Hancock street.
Nov. 19-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms, Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Dargin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, new rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

Our Mid-Season Sale of Reliable Clothing

For Men, Women, Boys and Girls is a positive revelation in genuine value giving. It affords the people already overburdened with the "high cost of living" an opportunity to supply their own and families' requirements in clothes of splendid qualities and latest style at most radically low prices. We intend to capture your trade with our unequalled values.

"A CHARGE ACCOUNT"—We open accounts with all trustworthy people. It enables them to have such clothing as they and their families need when they need it, to be paid for in easy partial payments as they earn the money. IF YOU ARE HONEST WE WILL TRUST YOU—THAT'S ALL.

Men's Suits	Stylish, serviceable suits in cashimere, worsted, cheviot and serge. Well tailored and lined; splendid fitting. The prices touch your pocket book lightly.	7.98 to 18.50
Men's Overcoats	We show all models each one representing the best overcoat values shown at our price.	8.50 to 25.00
Youths' Suits	Our young men's suits embrace the style, shape and dash that appeal to the young man "who knows." Satisfaction delivered with every purchase.	6.98 to 23.50
Boys' Overcoats	If the boy is to have a new Overcoat, now is the time and here is the place to buy it.	2.98 to 12.00
Men's Suits	In fine quality of serge, worsted and novelty suiting, all of the new shades, stripe and checks. Hand-felled collars, hand made buttonholes.	19.98 to 27.50
Men's Sweaters	We carry a fine line of Men's and Boys' Sweaters. All colors and sizes.	98c to 8.50
Stylish Hats	We show the latest and best styles in Derby and Soft Hats. All of the new blocks and desirable shades.	1.49 to 3.00
Ladies' Suits	Beautiful suits in broadcloth serge, worsteds and fancy suiting; satin or silk lined, man tailored.	9.90 to 32.50
Caracul Coats	Made from fine lustrous caracul, three-quarter length, splendidly made and lined.	12.50 to 32.50
Ladies' Dresses	We show the latest and most stylish creations in taffeta, messaline, lace and lingerie. Beautiful gowns suitable for street or evening wear. Economically priced from	8.50 to 37.50
Girls' Dresses	In fine quality serge, plaid, mixtures, and regular washable fabrics, such as ginghams, galateas, percales, etc.	1.49 to 9.50
Ladies' Coats	In kersey, broadcloth and stylish mixtures. Latest styles. Fit and tailoring guaranteed.	4.98 to 28.50
Ladies' Waists	In lawn, lingerie, silk and messaline. The newest and latest accepted styles. Low prices coupled with Quality and style.	98c to 10.50o
Millinery	We show the newest and most artistic creations in trimmed and ready-to-wear hats for ladies, misses and girls.	1.98 to 20.00

WE ARE COMPLETE OUTFITTERS FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

GIRLS' COATS
Ages 4 to 14. In Kersey, Cameel, stylish mixtures and Pear skin, in best styles, all colors.
1.93 to 12.50

Joyce Bros. Co
HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED
13-15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass.

Beautiful Furs
Our stock of furs embraces everything in Muffs, Scarfs, Pelerines and Fur Sets, made from selected skins in Fox, Squirrel, Lynx, Marten, Mink, Opposum, etc.
.98 to 75.00

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 282 | QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 5, 1910 | PRICE TWO CENTS

GOOD ARGUMENTS AT NO-LICENSE MEETING

Ex-Mayor Williamson Brings Facts and Figures From City of Brockton

Guy Ham and Others Among the Speakers

A No-License meeting at Bethany church on Sunday evening took the place of the usual union meeting at Music hall. The speakers were the pastor, Rev. Dr. Hardy; Hon. John O. Hall, former mayor; Joseph A. Sedgwick treasurer of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co.; and Hon. Charles Williamson, a former mayor of Brockton. Albert L. Hayden contributed a solo, the choir sang selections, and the audience sang "The battle hymn of the Republic."

Dr. Hardy emphasized the value of public opinion, and said we were here to help create a public opinion against the saloon. To know the saloons is to condemn them. Saloons cause foul politics and other harmful influences. Quincy is to be congratulated from having escaped this. But we must be steadfast.

Ex-Mayor Hall said there was not an argument in favor of the saloons. Make it your consecrated duty to throw your influence against the saloon. Quincy has a great record against the saloon, and we must maintain it. The clearest brain is needed today in all the duties of life.

Treasurer Sedgwick said Quincy voters cannot afford to go asleep. We have many new voters who must be urged to vote right. He asked and answered the question, who pay fees for licenses, claiming it would be a double tax. He also asked the question, where should we locate saloons? Did we want them on Washington street named after the first President; on Adams street, named for the second President; or on Hancock street, named for the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence? Who will be recruits for the saloons?

Ex-Mayor Williamson said there was a text that righteousness exalted a nation, but sin is a reproach. He would change it to read: No-License exalted a city, but open saloons are a reproach to any city. Quincy seemed to be firmly in the No-License column. It was not a question here of driving saloons out, but keeping them out. A danger if you let up. Brockton was asleep one year. It had made large appropriations for a city hall, abolition of grade crossings and sewerage beds, and taxes were high. We were told that fees from licenses would

(Continued on Page 5.)

FIRE AT HOUGHS NECK

Woman Heroically Rescues Her Husband

The alarm from Box 114 at 2.20 Sunda morning, followed in a few minutes by a second alarm from the same box, was for a lively fire in the house of E. J. Killcup directly in the rear of the fire station at Houghs Neck and came near resulting in a fatality.

The fire was probably caused by a lamp being overturned or exploding. Mr. Killcup had gone to sleep on the lower floor with a light burning, and his wife and child had retired to bed up stairs. Mrs. Killcup was aroused by the smell of smoke, and going down stairs in her night clothes found her husband on the floor unconscious from smoke, and the room full of smoke. Sending the child to the fire station to arouse the firemen, she grabbed her husband and dragged him out of the burning house. Her night gown took fire while doing so, and as she reached the open air she fell exhausted, but she had saved her husband's life although she is in a serious condition owing to her delicate condition.

By this time the alarm had sounded and Jimmie Malone had arrived with the apparatus. The alarm had not aroused any of the call firemen, however, and as he was all alone he could do but little. It was then that he rushed back and pulled the fire alarm box again hoping to arouse some one. He eventually got help and the Central station apparatus soon arrived.

The lower half of the house was badly gutted and everything upstairs nearly ruined by smoke The loss on the building is placed at $600, and $400 on the contents.

HOBBS IS SET RIGHT

Did Not Speak or Vote Against City Laborers

The following letters are self-explanatory:

Quincy, Dec. 5, 1910.

Mr. George T. Magee, Clerk of Council,

Dear Sir:—A story is being circulated that I took the floor of the Council and made a speech in opposition to the half-holiday order for city laborers, also that I voted against the order. Will you please look at the records of the City Council and inform me if I voted against the order and the date.

Yours truly,
(Signed) Ralph W. Hobbs,
11 Clark street.

Quincy, Dec. 5, 1910.

Mr. Ralph W. Hobbs,

Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry, I would say that I have consulted the records of the City Council, and find at no time did you vote against the order noted in your letter. The records do not show that you took the floor and spoke in opposition to the order.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) George T. Magee,
Clerk of Council.

Editor Daily Ledger:

Please publish these letters.

Ralph W. Hobbs,
11 Clark St., Quincy.
(Advertisement.)

☞Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

ANNUAL PRIZE SPEAKING

Charles Williams Wins the First Prize

The prize speaking contest of the boys has come to be an interesting part of the annual campaign for No-License, and eleven boys took part on Saturday evening at Faxon hall. The program opened with a song by the boys followed by the L. T. L. yell and salute.

The contestants for the prizes and their selections were:

Charles Williams,
"A momentous question."
Eric Nelson,
Paul Rasmussen
"Touch it not."
Clyde Hannant,
"Rum the worst enemy of the Workingman."
Raymond McCabe,
"Temperance."
Lester A. McCormack,
"Little Ned."
John Mitchell,
"Dare to stand alone."
William H. Talbot,
"Prohibition a blessing to the poor."
Leon Cook,
"Didn't think."
Fred Rasmussen,
"Appeal for temperance."
Kenneth Johnson,
"Prohibition the ultamatum."

The judges were George F. Sidelinger, Rev. R. E. Armstrong and Lester H. Clee. While they were making their decision the boys sang another song, and cheers were given for the boys, the girls, Mr. and Mrs. King, Mrs. Davis and the judges.

The first prize which was a gold piece of ten dollars, was awarded to Charles Williams; and the second, a five dollar gold piece, was given Kenneth Johnson. Each of the other speakers were presented a box of candy by the ladies of the Loyal Temperance League.

Theophilus King gave the audience and boys a talk, after which the boys sang another song in closing.

SHEA AND HOBBS BOTH EXPECT VICTORY

Latter Says It Will be Close But Former Expects to Win by 700

Several Other Contests Attracting Attention

Just at this time estimates of the two Mayoralty candidates on the outcome of the election tomorrow will be interesting.

Mayor Shea is very sanguine over the result and his face was wreathed in smiles as he gave his opinion to the Daily Ledger man. "I shall be elected tomorrow," said the mayor, "by a majority of upwards of 700."

Ralph W. Hobbs, the Republican candidate, is equally sanguine over the election, and said that he felt certain that he would be elected. As for the majority he believed it would be close. He also believed that Mayor Shea would agree with him, that the result would be close.

Aside from the Mayoralty contest, there is a great deal of interest in Councilmen from Ward One. Daniel J. Deasey, the one Democratic candidate from this ward, is putting up a strenuous fight, and in this he is being backed by his party. Their particular mark is an effort to defeat Councilman Nowland for reelection. Mr. Nowland personally is not saying anything but he and his friends are on a still hunt and he has no fear of the outcome. Probably he will receive many ballots.

The situation in Ward Six is a hard one to size up, as far as the vote for Council is concerned, and all seven of the candidates feel that they will be one of those to win out. In Ward Four John Evans, the solitary Republican candidate, is making a personal appeal to the voters for their support. The outcome of these local contests will be watched with interest, also the contest for Councilmen at large.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS ENDORSE MAYOR SHEA

QUINCY, November 22nd, 1910.

To Our Fellow Citizens:

We deplore the attempt that is being made this year to have the voters of Quincy adopt partisan politics in the coming municipal election.

For three years Mayor Shea has given Quincy an efficient, economical and honest administration.

Believing that the interests of our city will be best served by again electing him to the office of Mayor, we earnestly urge all voters, irrespective of party affiliations, to vote for the re-election of HONORABLE WILLIAM T. SHEA.

BROOKS ADAMS, Adams Street
WALTER E. BURKE, Adams Street
CHARLES A. PRICE, Monroe Road
LAURANCE H. STURTEVANT, Adams Street
DELCEVARE KING, Adams Street
THEOPHILUS KING, Adams Street
C. H. HOWLAND, Adams Street
RUPERT F. CLAFLIN, Greenleaf Street
F. S. PATCH, Edgemere Road
HENRY L. KINCAIDE, Whitney Road
CHARLES C. HEARN, Hancock Street
WALTER H. BERRY, 6 Greenleaf Street
L. A. CHAPIN, 18 Washington Street
JAMES F. BURKE, 11 Cross Street
C. THEO. HARDWICK, 58 Chestnut Street.

PAUL R. BLACKMUR, Elm Street
HERBERT F. DOBLE, Furnace Brook Parkway
WILLIAM H. DOBLE, South Street
PERRY LAWTON, Goffe Street
REV. EDWARD ANDERSON, Goffe Street
H. T. WHITMAN, 129 Grand View Avenue
GEORGE W. MORTON, 10 Spear Street
ANDREW MILNE, 38 Independence Avenue
DR. FREDERICK E. JONES, 1569 Hancock Street
HORACE F. SPEAR, Hancock Street
W. P. BATEMAN, Monroe Road
JOHN BUCHANAN, 133 Grand View Avenue
DR. WILLIS J. MIDDLETON, 446 Washington Street
JOSEPH L. WHITON, JR., Whitney Road

JOHN H. CHANDLER, 26 Clark Street
GEORGE RICHARDSON, 46 Botolph Street
JAMES H. CHURCHILL, 110 Billings Street
CHARLES A. FRENCH, 192 Billings Street
HARRY W. REED, 257 Squantum Street
WILLIAM R. GAY, 1 Webster Street
WARD W. WHITCHER, 41 Webster Street
JOSEPH P. CLARK, 220 East Squantum Street
MICHAEL J. BARRY, 206 East Squantum Street
CHARLES F. HENDRIE, 69 Henry Street
HENRY MCGRATH, 99 Pleasant Street
J. B. SUTHERLAND, 171 Independence Avenue
M. P. FULLER, 66 Crescent Street
ISAAC M. HOLT, 32 Cottage Street
ELISHA PACKARD, 60 Elm Street

CITY ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY -- POLLS OPEN 6 A. M. TO 4 P. M.

(Advertisement.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Boys Have Narrow Escape and Horse Fatally Injured

There was quite a bad automobile accident near the corner of Washington street and Revere road at 5.30 Saturday night, and three boys riding in a gig that was struck by the automoble had a narrow escape from injury. The boy who was driving was Joseph Betts, aged 12 years. He was approaching City Square, and was about to turn into Revere road, when the automobile came down the hill near the Universalist church. According to passengers on an electric car, that was also coming down the hill, the automobile was going at a rapid rate. The auto went between the car and the gig and struck the horse. The boys jumped and escaped uninjured. The horse sustained a broken leg, however, and had to be shot. When the auto came to a stop the gig was on top of it. After lifting the broken gig from the auto the party proceeded to Boston.

Later in the evening Chief Burrell received a telephone from Lieut Hurd of division 8, Boston, stating that he was in the auto that had been in the collision, and that he was using due care at the time, and did all in his power to avoid the accident.

The horse was owned by Mrs. Fred Betts of Washington street.

HOCKLEY, WEYMOUTH.

At the regular meeting of the Weymouth Historical Society Frank W. Lewis Esq., read the following report upon the probable origin of the term "Hockley."

There has been some speculation as to the origin of the term Hockley, which seems to have been applied to a spot in Weymouth, on Back River, very soon after its settlement. The following is offered as at least a plausible explanation of the name:

There is in the southern part of Surrey, England, a place called Ockley. It is too unimportant to find its way into Gazetteers, or a place on ordinary maps. It has a slight historical interest, being the spot where King Athelwulf gained a signal victory over the Danes in the year 851. Its old Saxon name was "Aclea, from Saxon "Ac" an oa, and "Lea," a meadow pasture or plain. This afterwards became Ocklea and then Ockley.

It is quite probable that the early settlers of Weymouth were familiar with this name and locality, and it was given to this section of Weymouth, either arbitrarily or on account of the significance of the word itself, and as part of the town was then covered with oak trees. This name would very naturally become "Hockley" in the pronunciation of the word by uneducated English people—especially at a time when the word, though frequently spoken was seldom written.—Weymouth Gazette.

MISQUOTED.

Councilman at Large Cherrington is very much wrought up, and justly so, at the report of his speech at the rally in Houghs Neck on Friday evening as published in one of the local papers. The report as published, quotes him as urging all present "to aid in the election of Mayor Shea." As Mr Cherrington is Republican candidate for councilman at large the remarks credited to him have naturally caused some comment.

Mr Cherrington gives out the following letter in relation to the matter. Editor of the Telegram:

I notice in your issue of Dec. 3, you quote me as saying at the meeting of the HoughsNeck Associates:

"He concluded his remarks by urging all present to aid in the election of Mayor Shea"

This is absolutely untrue, and if intentional is a falsehood I made no such statement. As it is self evident that this is an error, pure and simple on your part, in substituting the name of Shea for Hobbs, I ask you in justice to Mr. Hobbs, Republican candidate for Mayor, and myself, that you refute the statement you have made, and publish this letter in your issue of Monday, Dec. 5.

As a candidate elected at the Republican primaries I ask all members of my party to vote for all of the candidates that they themselves have placed in nomination.

Yours truly,
Charles E. Cherrington,
Candidate for reelection as Councilman at large.

THE ITALIAN MARIONETTES AT MECHANICS' BUILDING.

The inhabitants of greater Boston are probably not aware of the existence in a small theatre in the North End, of one of the oldest and most unique forms of entertainment known to the world.

Stories have from time to time appeared in the magazines about the Italian Marionettes, or puppet shows, which are still carried on in Boston and New York, and show in simple but graphic manner the thrilling and harrowing scenes of high Italian drama.

By special arrangement the Marionettes will perform twice daily at the Boston Gas Show, at Mechanics' Building, which will open to the public from December 7th to 13th, and every theatre-goer should certainly avail himself of the opportunity to see this feature.

The regular performances are not readily accessible to the general public, and are patronized by the Italian population of Boston only, but the present opportunity brings this very unusual form of entertainment within reach of everybody. It may safely be said that no student of the drama can count his education complete unless he has seen the extraordinary action shown upon this mimic stage, and has followed the moving discourse which is so feelingly spoken.

Fogg says he never has anything to say about the size of his salary. If he should say it was a generous one, all his friends would be borrowing of him, and if he said it was small, he would not find it easy to borrow money of any of his friends.—Boston Transcript.

Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

VOTE ON LICENSE

A Big Majority Each Year Against The Sale Of Liquor.

Quincy's enviable record since the local option law went into effect follows:

	No.	Yes.	Total	Majority	Blanks
1882,	1,057	457	1514	600	75
1883,	1086	458	1544	628	126
1884,	1067	407	1474	660	200
1885,	1002	510	1512	492	200
1886,	1017	258	1275	759	325
1887,	1071	259	1330	812	425
1888, (town)	1064	293	1357	771	459
1888, (city)	1394	458	1852	936	414
1889,	1,162	618	1780	544	332
1890,	1339	720	2,059	618	351
1891,	1659	885	2494	824	250
1892,	1860	956	2816	904	176
1893,	1886	1060	2946	826	249
1894,	1889	1037	2926	852	273
1895,	1958	1,177	3135	781	208
1896,	2074	1370	3444	704	149
1897,	2047	1194	3427	853	186
1898,	2124	1191	3315	933	261
1899,	2213	1388	3600	825	272
1900,	2192	1412	3604	780	361
1901,	2512	1226	3738	1286	350
1902,	2,604	1,346	3950	1258	318
1903,	2784	1170	3904	1564	323
1904,	2938	1094	4032	1844	324
1905,	2957	957	3914	2000	304
1906,	3012	968	4080	2044	300
1907,	3386	1159	4545	2227	270
1908,	3470	1282	4752	2188	331
1909,	3262	1199	4461	2063	333

MEYER FAVORS NAVY AIRSHIPS

Secretary Wants $25,000 Appropriation For Experiments

ISSUES HIS ANNUAL REPORT

Says Reorganization of His Department Makes For Economy and Promotes Efficiency—Recommends the Building of Two Battleships and Other Craft

Washington, Dec. 5.—The secretary of the navy, George von L. Meyer, in his annual report for the fiscal year 1910 recommends the use of airships by the navy and states that platforms can conveniently be built on the decks of battleships from which aerial craft can be started and on which they can alight.

After describing the successful flight of Eugene Ely Nov. 14 from the deck of the United States cruiser Birmingham in Hampton Roads to a point on the Virginia shore Secretary Meyer says:

"This experiment demonstrated the conditions governing the location of future platforms on shipboard for this purpose and showed that they could be installed without interfering seriously with the other features of the ship.

"Landing on or near a ship on returning with information after a scouting trip appears to be practicable. The experiment and the advances which have been made in aviation seem to demonstrate that it is destined to perform some part in the naval warfare of the future. It appears likely that this will be limited to scouting. A scout which is not strong enough to pierce the enemy's line can get as near as possible and then send an aeroplane thirty or forty miles, obtain valuable information and then return to the scout.

"The department contemplates further experiments along these lines with the belief that it will be necessary in the near future to equip all scouts with one or more aeroplanes to increase the distance at which information can be secured.

"For the purpose of carrying on such experiments the department recommends that $25,000 be authorized."

Mr. Meyer advocates the abandonment of several naval stations both in this country and among some of our insular possessions on the ground in some instances that the channel approaches are inadequate. He describes in detail the improved business methods and organization in the department and states that a great saving will result to the government thereby; also a coincident increase in efficiency.

The secretary also states:

"The estimates submitted for public works at navy yards and stations amounted to $28,621,530.37, and the amount approved and sent in by me was $8,135,827.

"The navy department's estimates for the expense of the naval establishment for the next fiscal year show a saving of about $4,300,000 as compared with the amounts appropriated last year.

"Competition in the fleet has been encouraged and has resulted in increased efficiency in target practice, economy in coal consumption and economy in the consumption of supplies.

"A new organization of the torpedo vessels of the navy, including submarines, has been put into effect with marked benefit to the service. This groups all such vessels in commission in the Atlantic into the Atlantic torpedo fleet, under the command of a single officer experienced in this class of work. The Pacific and Asiatic torpedo fleets have been similarly constituted in those waters.

"The department has effected a reorganization of the Atlantic fleet with a view to increasing the efficiency of the fleet, promoting economy in repairs and so regulating the repair periods that the amount of work at the several navy yards will be practically uniform throughout the year.

"The inauguration of the steaming competitions awakened a lively interest in engineering matters throughout the service. This interest has brought about increased efficiency and economy of expenditure. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, the horsepower of the machinery of the fleet has been increased 16 percent and the average cruising speed has been increased about 15 percent, yet the total cost of fuel used on vessels of the navy has decreased over $2,000,000.

Increase of the Navy

"The department recommends the authorization of the following additions to the naval establishment for the coming fiscal year: Two battleships, two colliers, one gunboat, one river gunboat, two seagoing tugs, three submarines, one submarine tender. The department invites attention to the fact that it is more economical to build new vessels than to continually repair those which have outlived their usefulness. The department therefore recommends the construction of gunboats each year until the existing vessels of that class are replaced."

COMES TO LIFE IN SHROUD

Child Supposed to Have Died Expected to Recover

New York, Dec. 5.—Just as the undertaker put out his hands to lift the body of 3-year-old Lillian Viand, to prepare her for burial, the child sat bolt upright and cried: "Mamma! I want my mamma, I'm cold!"

The undertaker fell back in a chair, but regaining presence of mind, snatched up blankets, wrapped the child in them and rushed down stairs with her to the parents. A doctor was brought and said he believed the child's life had come back permanently.

The little girl had been ill for five days with convulsions. Finally she stiffened, her eyes glazed and none of the familiar tests showed any signs of life. The undertaker's assistant was just typing white crepe on the street door when the father bolted out for the doctor.

A POLITE BURGLAR

Bids Victims Good Night and Walks Off When Discovered

Boston, Dec. 5.—Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Simmons of 75 Camden street were awakened early Sunday morning to find a burglar, carrying an armful of their valuables under bi arm and a revolver in his hand, leisurely making an inspection of their room.

His response to a call of "Who's there?" from the physician was a quiet chuckle, a wave of the revolver and a "Good night."

He left the house leisurely, seemingly forgetful of the fact that there was a telephone in the house. Nor did the police, who came in response to a telephone call, locate him.

HATTIE LE BLANC DENIED THE KILLING

Told Waltham Police She Did Not Murder Glover

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 5.—The first week of the trial of Hattie LeBlanc came to a close with a fight by counsel for the defense, not only to exclude the full transcript of the girl's examination by the Waltham police, but to prevent the police or any other state witness from testifying to any part of the prisoner's inquisition.

When District Attorney Higgins tried to offer portions of Hattie's conversation by means of the testimony of Attorney Elmore, executor of Glover's will and counsel for the widow, the jury was excused and Judge Bond heard arguments. The court reserved decision until today.

District Attorney Higgins read three questions and answers from Hattie's statement to the police. It was the first time that they had been made public.

"Didn't you shoot Glover?" asked Chief of Police McKenna of Hattie at the Waltham police station on the night of her arrest.

"No," the girl replied, "because I had no weapon to kill him with."

"Is this celluloid comb with the yellow metal back, your comb?"

"Oui," answered Hattie, with a nod.

"Is this your pin?"

"Oui," she replied with another nod. "I felt it falling when he caught me by my throat."

District Attorney Higgins explained that Elmore was present when McKenna asked the prisoner these questions, and he felt Elmore had the right to repeat them to the jury.

HIS FEARS REALIZED

Boy Killed as He Neared Age When He Expected to Die

New York, Dec. 5.—For the reason that both his brother and his sister had died just as each was approaching the age of 17, John Smyth, a young resident of the upper East Side, had frequently expressed a fear that he would never live to celebrate his own 17th birthday.

He was nearing what he considered this crucial age when he fell eight stories through the elevator shaft of a new building and died as the last rites of the church were being administered to him.

FOSS ENDS HIS TOUR

Tells People It Would Be Preposterous to Re-elect Lodge

Wareham, Mass., Dec. 5.—"Now that you have elected me governor it is nothing short of preposterous to return Henry Cabot Lodge to the United States senate. We don't mix any more than oil and water and if he stays in the senate most of my work at the state house will be neutralized."

With this statement in this town Governor-elect Foss wound up his two days of whirlwinding down Cape Cod.

Duke Renounces Title

New York, Dec. 5.—Giving up his title of nobility and renouncing allegiance to Italy, Tomaso, Duca Pgliatti di San Giorgio, one of the professors at the New York university, appeared at the United States district court and forswore allegiance to Victor Emmanuel II and took the oath to support the constitution of the United States. The professor came here from Naples in 1903.

BIG GAME PRESERVE

Texas Ranch of 1,220,000 Acres to Be Handled by Syndicate

Galveston, Tex., Dec. 3.—A syndicate, represented by J. J. Jermym of Scranton, Pa., has closed a deal for the largest game preserve in the world on what is known as the King ranch, of 1,220,000 acres, in southwestern Texas. Here abound deer, bear and all the smaller animals, as well as ducks.

The land skirts a bay and is wooded and is within a few miles of the Gulf of Mexico and entirely under fence. It will be used as a public game preserve, with more than 100 lodges for rent or lease.

FAITH AND HOPE.

Rembrandt Peale.

O' don't be sorrowful, darling;
O, don't be sorrowful dear;
For, taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more night than day.
It's rainy weather, my loved one,
Time's wheels they heavily run;
But, taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more cloud than sun.

We'er old folks now, companion;
Our heads they are growing gray;
But, taking the year all round, my dear,
You always will find the May,
We've had our May, my darling,
And our roses long ago;
And the time of the year is come, my dear,
For the long dark nights and the snow.

But God is God, my faithful,
Of night as well as of day,
And we feel and know that we can go
Wherever He leads the way.
Ay, God of night, my darling,
Of the night of death so grim;
And the gate that from life leads out, good wife,
Is the gate that leads to Him.

—Much nonsense is talked about the influence of a college education on the training of young women for domestic life. Whatever increases the intelligence of a boy or girl increases the probability of usefulness. The ordinary experience of a debutante, who rushes through a series of costly festivities during two or three years, and then takes her place as a wallflower, is much more ruinous than the probable effect of any college course. A girl who is true-hearted, simple-minded, affectionate ,and willing to work will find her place in life all the easier because her mind has been expanded by intellectual occupations. Many boys are spoiled for business, it is said, and for journalism by the college course; but, if they do not find their place in one line of activity, they will find it in another, and all the easier because of a liberal education. —Christian Register.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

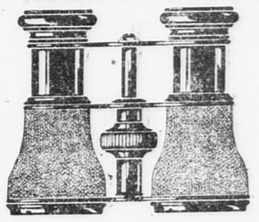
—Broken lenses matched. Oculists' prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
Ec QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES
CIGARS
At Wholesale and Retail
B'g Variety of Pipes
STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS
Opposite Quincy Station
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

LLOYD'S
OPERA GLASSES



Black Lemaire $5.00
Pearl Lemaire 10.50
CATALOGUE ON APPLICATION

BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St.
} BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911
NOW
One Hundred Styles to Select From
New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS
Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet
Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES
IN
Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever . . . . .

L. A. CHAPIN
1395 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of
BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES
5 GRANITE STREET

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

YOUR FRIENDS PREFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every race in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diamond ring for the baby; bracelets and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps the watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning gift of all, a multitude of precious gems, stones and jewels.

Search the gamut of human wants and you will find no gift so acceptable as jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

When you wish to select jewelry for your friends or relatives, come to this store. You can not find more dependable jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade here means a considerable cash saving.

If you are unfamiliar with jewelry, we will be glad to help you to make careful selections. On the other hand, if you are accustomed to buying rings, lockets, bracelets, watches, etc., so much the better. You will appreciate the more keenly the high-quality of our goods and our up-to-date selections.

Needless to say, every article of merchandise we sell is warranted to be exactly as represented. There's no chance for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting in rings, brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.
JEWELERS
1281 Hancock Street
Quincy, Mass.
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
745 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1535 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

BRIEFS

Skating.

Election tomorrow.

Twelve degree temperature was reported this morning.

Miss Fanny Cushing of Abington is the guest of South Quincy friends.

Miss Ethel Blanchard of Wollaston is spending a few days with Mrs. C. A. Tirrell of Abington.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. McNeil of West Quincy have been recent guests of Mrs. Anna Birnie at Easton.

Mrs. Isabel Davis is to give readings next Wednesday evening at the Congregational church in Whitman.

Miss Mildred Sheldon Bass of Wollaston read at North Abington, Friday evening receiving numerous encores and complimentary comments.

W. H. Dunbar of Brockton has been asked to arrange for a chorus of voices and soloists for the men's meeting of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. next Sunday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association will be held tomorrow afternoon at half past two at the Quincy Women's clubhouse.

Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick of Goffe street is pleased to have with her for an extended visit her father and sister from Iowa, Charles Doane and Miss Mamie Doane of Hull, Iowa.

The Brockton Choral society is to give this season "Elijah," "Paul Revere's Ride" and Verdi's "Requiem." Quincys young Choral society has done most remarkable work and this year is to give two concerts and before long will doubtless be as ambitious as the Brockton society.

The afternoons at the Mothers' Association might be called, Mothers' rest afternoons. Here the women, who are anxious to learn of things which are helpful in the training of children, gather for an hour or so and listen to some good speaker. They go home rested and refreshed with inspiration to do even better work for their family of children. If these meetings could reach all the mothers in Quincy who need this sort of rest and intercourse they would be a power for good in our community. They are free to all women interested in child nuture and training. They are held on the first Wednesday of every month at three o'clolck in Behtany chapel. On Wednesday, Dec. 7, Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley of Boston will speak upon "The Real Mother." Dec. 1 5.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

Twenty Days to Xmas
DEC. 5
Begin Planning For the Christmas Dinner

SCIENCE CHURCH HEAD IS DEAD

Final Summons Is Answered by Mary Baker Eddy

UNEXPECTED BY THE PUBLIC

Final Words of Woman Who Had Fought For Her Faith Half a Century Were "God Is My Life"—Last Whispered Message to Those at Bedside Dies Away In Her Throat—Really Beautiful In Death

Boston, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Church of Christ, Scientist, leader of a million devoted followers the world over, passed away Saturday night at 10:45 o'clock. No inkling of her illness had reached the outer world and the announcement of her death came without warning.

Not until the official statement was read to the assembled congregation at the "Mother Church" Sunday morning did the news become public.

For nine days Mrs. Eddy had been indisposed. She would not give up her daily ride in her carriage and even as late as last Thursday insisted on being taken out for a drive, although she was extremely weak.

For these nine days Mrs. Eddy's life had been slowly ebbing away. She gave no sign to those of her household that she felt the end was near, and they in turn were ever cheerful in her presence.

Finally on Friday she was forced to give up her daily drive. Although she had been up and dressed she was finally forced to take to her bed from which she never arose again.

On Thursday last she gave the first sign that she believed the end might be near. She called Mrs. Sargent to her side, asked for a pencil and paper, wrote on the pad, "God is my life," and gave it to Mrs. Sargent. These were her last written words.

The household, consisting of Calvin A. Frye, her former secretary; Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson, William R. H. Rathven, her corresponding secretary; Adam H. Dickey, her secretary; Mrs. Ella S. Ruthven and Mrs. Laura E. Sargent were at her bedside when the end came.

Dies In Hour of Triumph

It was just after 10:40 that Mrs. Eddy apparently awakened from a slight sleep. She opened her eyes, looked at the group around the bed. A faint smile lit up her face and in her eyes was the gleam of something afar off and pleasant.

She attempted to raise her hand in farewell, but it fell back against the pillow, her lips framed a last whispered message, which died away in her throat. Mrs. Eddy was dead. Dead in her 90th year and in her hour of triumph.

She had fought for her faith for half a century. She had been scorned, reviled, attacked with bitter and scathing weapons, endured hardship and setbacks uncounted. She had been forced to fight with her back against the wall against enemies from all sides.

For years her life was a battle against tremendous odds. No chapter was left unhidden by ruthless searchers. Even the sunset of her life was interrupted by the roar of conflict.

And then it died away. The last two years have seen Mrs. Eddy in virtual victory. So that when she died it was in peace, tranquility, firm in her position as the guiding star of a great church.

Medical Examiner West said: "Mrs. Eddy's face was that of a feautiful old lady. Death had come very gradually, it seemed, and her face showed none of the effects of suffering. There was a most unusual expression on her features, a rare expression of perfect tranquility at the moment of death, which made her, without exaggeration, actually beautiful."

Mrs. Eddy's Life Story

Mary Baker, later to become so widely famed as Mary Baker Eddy, was the youngest of six children, born in the little hamlet of Bow, N. H., July 16, 1821.

Five miles away was the flourishing city of Concord, capital of the state, and across the river rose the roofs of Pembroke. Residents of Bow had to attend divine service either in the town across the river or in the larger city.

Mary Baker, unlike many great leaders of religious thought, was not born in poverty. Her father, Mark Baker, lived on his own farm, one of the best in the state and comprising 500 acres.

Mark Baker taught his children to be God-fearing, to be faithful attendants at church. He was for many years chaplain of the state militia and was a deacon in the church at Pembroke.

During Mrs. Eddy's long residence in Concord she was noted for her benefactions to charities and her purse was opened frequently for contributions to educational and public purposes.

Her philanthropy always took a practical turn. Always on Christmas the poor children of the city were newly shod with new shoes at her expense.

MRS. MARY B. EDDY

Leader of a Great Religious Movement

[Only snapshots were secured of Mrs. Eddy in late years, and these under difficulties. The above is the last picture for which she ever posed.]

The roads leading from Pleasant View through the city were built anew with funds amounting to thousands of dollars contributed by her to the city.

The swans in the park were a gift to the park commission. Only recently she sent a check for $1000 to the building fund of New Hampton institution in memory of entertainment which she received at the hands of friends in that town half a century ago.

Finally the beautiful church constructed of Concord granite in which her followers worship was practically her gift, as she contributed $100,000 to it.

Married Three Times

Mary Baker married George W. Glover in the winter of 1843 at the home of her father. They went south immediately and lived in Charleston and Wilmington, Del., where Glover was stricken with yellow fever and died a few months after his wedding. After her husband's death, Mrs. Glover is said to have freed all his slaves before her return as a widow to the Tilton, N. H., home of her father.

Thee months after her husband's death their child, George W. Glover, was born. The young mother was too feeble to nurse the child herself, and for a long time her life was despaired of. George W. Glover later was one of the children who participated in court proceedings that resulted in Mrs. Eddy making a special settlement for her son and his family.

There was much change in the Tilton home soon after Mrs. Glover's arrival. Her mother died and her father married again. Her brother George married and removed to Baltimore. The young widow opened a school for children that was short lived, and then her son was taken away from her by the nurse, who married a Groton man, who lived thirty miles away. The boy was then 5 years of age and had spent much of his boyhood with his nurse.

For three years more Mrs. Glover lived with her married sister Abigail. Then Dr. Daniel Patterson, a dentist, appeared at Tilton. He was a striking figure for a country town, always appearing in clothes of the latest fashion, his hands always in gloves and a silk hat always on his head. He proposed to the young widow and was acepted. Mrs. Eddy has since written that the marriage was unfortunate. She said that she married Patterson to get possession of her child, but she did not gain possession of him.

Dr. Patterson finally left Lynn. Mrs. Patterson said that he was accompanied by the wife of a prominent Lynn business man. He returned to ask forgiveness but his wife told him that the same roof could not shelter them both and he left, to go out of her life for all time. He wandered about New England and finally became a hermit at Saco, Me., where he died. His wife secured a divorce on the grounds of desertion in 1873, and thereafter devoted her life to Christian Science.

Then there appeared Asa G. Eddy, and there was another perturbation in the Lynn circle that had gathered about Mrs. Patterson. He was a bachelor living in East Boston and was cured by Mrs. Patterson. He soon took a responsible position among the students of Mrs. Patterson and in 1877 they were married in Lynn.

The Church Directors

The directors of the "Mother Church," now practically the directors of all Christian Science churches of the world, are all young men, with the exception of Stephen A. Chase of Fall River, the treasurer.

Archibald McLellan, the editor of the various Christian Science publications, has been connected with the church for about eight years. He is chairman of the trustees.

Stephen A. Chase of Fall River, treasurer, has been connected with the church about sixteen years, while A. V. Stewart, another director, is publisher of Mrs. Eddy's books.

J. V. Dittemore, the clerk of the church, is the newest director, having been elected about one year ago. Adam H. Dickey, who has been for a long time Mrs. Eddy's private secretary, is also a director.

BROKER FLEES FROM BOSTON

Creditors Mourn the Departure of Robert Davie

HAS HAD METEORIC CAREER

Was Supposed to Be Deeply Interested In Evangelical Church Work and Was Known to Have "No Vices"—Valuables Willingly Handed Over to Him Without Even Asking For an Account of His Stewardship

Boston, Dec. 5.—Robert E. Davie, aged 26, known as the "Boston Boy Broker, who had offices at 53 State street, apartments at 108 Winthrop road, Brookline, and a magnificent summer villa in process of construction on "Millionaires' hill," in Weston, is a fugitive from justice, charged with the larceny of stock certificates valued at $10,000 from Mrs. Hannah L. Greenwood, wife of Rev. L. B. Greenwood of 890 Broadway, Somerville.

But the list of Davie's victims is said to reach forty men and women, well known in church, social and financial circles, and it is estimated by the police that the total of his peculations will run into the hundred thousands.

Dovie was so magnetic, so moral and so charmingly philanthropic that everyone seemed to love and to trust him. His statements were accepted without question; he was surrounded by clergymen, statesmen, bankers and persons prominent in evangelical work, who seemed to vie with each other in recommending Davie to prospective investors and in vouching for his business integrity.

For a year persons having money and valuable securities have been flocking to Davie, the police declare, and freely handing their valuables over to him, without even asking him to give them an account of his stewardship.

All any took was a receipt, and from time to time, it is said, they received from him what they were told were profits.

About three years ago Davie began to attract notice by his lavish expenditures of money and by his supposed great financial transactions. He was a young man who, every one who knew him agreed, had no vices. He did not drink or smoke, but was very religious, a regular attendant at church and much interested in evangelical work.

He was so much interested in evangelistic work that he became very prominent in the celebrated work of Evangelist J. W. Chapman in this city two years ago. He made acquaintances during that campaign which brought him in close touch with most of the persons who, the police declare, are today numbered among his victims.

The ease with which he obtained money and securities from credulous persons and his success in blinding their eyes to the true facts of the situation to the last minute is remarkable.

For a week or more after criminal proceedings had been begun against him Davie was about town dining in the homes of his alleged victims and smoothly and smilingly endeavoring to interest them further in his schemes.

While his race ran, Davie was a high flier among the high fliers. Automobiles, show horses and lavish expenditures in entertaining were everyday incidents in his career.

Because Davie was so free with his money in support of the evangelistic movements, the church people were positive of his integrity, and when J. W. Chapman, the evangelist, came to Boston to rest after the labors of his country-wide movement, he came to Davie's home and lived sumptuously in the full confidence of Davie's Christianity.

Although Davie is at this time believed to have swindled his friends out of securities estimated at an enormous total, it is the conviction of those in a position to know something of the young broker that he is penniless today and making his flight under great difficulties.

For some time before he disappeared he was making desperate efforts to borrow money, and it is known that a relative loaned him $500 just before he left Boston.

Davie was married, but his wife left him about three years ago.

Famous Football Star Dead

Boston, Dec. 5.—Francis H. Barr, Harvard '09, captain of the last football team which defeated Yale, prominent in Harvard sociey life, and a member of the baseball and track teams, died here after a two months' illness from typhoid fever. He had been confined to a hospital since Oct. 4.

Big Gain In Bank Deposits

Washington, Dec. 5.—The report of the national banks of the United States in answer to the call of Nov. 10, shows a decrease in loans and discounts of $16,500,000, a decrease in cash of $35,600,000, and a gain of individual deposits of $159,000,000.

R. E. FOY & CO.
MARKET GROCERY

You will be Delighted with Our Canned Beets
They are sweet and tender without the woody fibre usually found in beets and you cannot tell them from fresh pulled beets from the garden.
The can is chuck full of little beets that are all ready for the table as soon as opened.
Red Lily Brand 2 lb. can 15 cts
Doz. $1.65
R. E. FOY & CO.
Water cor. Quincy Street
Dec. 5-2t
PHONE 117

GAS SHOW
December 7-13
10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON
A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.
Educational and Entertaining
Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.
11 Granite Street, QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
$22.50 Suits
Marked to $16.50
Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth
SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

The News and the Truth About It
The Best Home Newspaper
Reliable and Progressive
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
OLDEST and BEST
Largest Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in the City of Quincy and Norfolk County.

Goes into all the best Quincy homes where it is read by every member of the family. Established in 1889 the Ledger has forged ahead until it has become a household necessity. Its reading is as much a part of the day's routine as eating ones dinner. Making a specialty of clean readable home news has made the demand for advertising space such that the Ledger has recently doubled its capacity for space and circulation. Ask your newsdealer about its circulation. Constantly growing demand.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 125
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

The ladies are threatening to give Premier Asquith as much trouble as lords.

The horses attending the New York show never saw society looking so fine as it is this season.

Think of the Glass Trust slashing its wages to pay its fine. This is nerve to the 5th power.

If "Uncle Joe" Cannon is there when Champ Clark drives those mules down the aisles of Congress, he will no doubt raise a kick.

The Republic of Portugal is pursuing a policy of honesty and retrenchment because there is nothing left to steal.

No, the Red Cross Christmas seals are not good for postage. And they must be placed on the back of letters and packages, not on the front sides.

In view of the arrest and exposure in that $50,000,000 fraudulent stock deal case in N. Y., it is evident that the fool lambs are not all dead yet, or thoroughly placed either.

If more people patronized the local dealer, he would be in a better position to cater to their wants. Half the Christmas shopping could be done in Quincy at a big saving of time, effort and expense.

We would all help in having a clean town if we but followed the suggestions in the following editorial from the Ware River News: "Man would not tack a piece of waste paper to his coat or hat, and go forth into the street with it, nor would he permit it to be done, even for fun. Neither would he drop a banana peel on the floor of his own parlor and let it stay there. If he did there would be a row. Then why should he throw a piece of newspaper or an envelope or a banana peel on the public thoroughfare that belongs to all the people and where such things are as much out of place as they are on a person or in the home? It is a matter of habit. People act differently where a great many meet than where few meet. Yet there is no reason why one should not be as careful and decent in his relations to the community as he is to his own family and personal friends."

The Christmas season is now in evidence in the Quincy stores and the merchants are putting up some pretty attractive goods. A glance over the advertisements in the merchants' edition of the Ledger shows a strong argument for trading at home for not only do the merchants carry a big variety to select from but they are asking reasonable prices. The motto of Quincy merchants of quick sales and small profits works for the good of buyer and seller. It means fresh seasonable goods satisfied customers and ultimate profit; demand creates demand: satisfied customers mean confidence and confidence means business.

Just at this season the merchant expects to double up on his business and has stocked up with Christmas goods and extra clerks to sell them. The expert merchant knows that the holiday shopper follows the crowd and won't be found patronizing an indifferent kind of a store hence he advertises and gets the buyer to his store and follows up the advertisement with prompt and courteous treatment and delivers the goods as advertised.

With Quincy stores ready for the Christmas trade why go to Boston and come home with lots of things you don't want and all tired out? Read over the Ledger ads and shop early. You will find the clerks especially accommodating in the morning and less hurried than later in the day. Take for your motto "Shop now and Shop in Quincy."

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

DRIFT OF OPINION

Announcement that street railway companies in Massachusetts have obtained thirty freight and express franchises in different cities and towns, with the approval of the state railroad commission, indicates that Boston will be urged more strongly than ever to join the list of municipalities that have consented thus to meet a public need. The companies have let it be known that passenger service, as a whole, does not pay fair returns on the investments, except where traffic is especially heavy, as in Boston and other large centers. Doubts in regard to the truth of that claim should be solved by examination of reports for the last year, which show that about one-half of the street railway companies in Massachusetts paid no dividends, while the dividends paid by others were comparatively small. The question naturally arises: Why have not more of these companies inaugurated the trolley freight and express business if it means so much to them in the way of incomes?

In this connection it should be observed that while Providence, R. I., and Springfield, Mass., have been reaping the benefits of trolley freight and express services for some time, and while companies are being granted franchises for like services in all parts of Massachusetts, the value of these permits is greatly curtailed because Boston has not proved the keystone of the arch, so to speak, as might have been expected. Ignoring the growing demand upon the Boston Elevated company to carry freight—a demand that is promoted by the other companies throughout eastern Massachusetts, upon whom pressure is being exerted by patrons—the city council has rejected two petitions from the first-named corporation for freight and express rights, and has taken the ground that insufficient information was furnished by the petitioner.

Perhaps neither of these petitions was considered, on its real merits, but legislation has already been sought to compel one street railway to accept freight from another and to forward it. Another attempt will be made to get such a measure passed by the Legislature at the coming term. There are excellent reasons why an act of this nature might be regarded as too arbitrary; but seemingly there is nothing to justify the Boston city council in withholding from inhabitants of Greater Boston what smaller cities like Providence and Springfield already have granted, and what Worcester, too, is considering seriously.

Unless Boston authorities see fit to recognize a popular demand for a trolley freight system their attitude is likely to result in increasing pressure being brought to bear upon the state Legislature by representatives of the interurban companies. If the people actually want the trolley freight service, they need only to voice their wishes unmistakably.—Christian Science Monitor.

Dr. Booker Washington in Europe was subjected to none of the limitations and class prejudices which attend his course whenever he travels in America. In the Latin countries an infusion of African blood is taken for granted and excites no antagonism. In England and Germany the negroes are so few in number that nothing in particular happens when one of them receives social recognition. Dr. Washington could dine with King George without exciting any adverse comment. In this country attempts are being made to define the limits which separate the white and colored races, but no definition will have much value in any community where the negroes live in such numbers as to create a danger that the white race may sink into the common stock and disappear. No plan can be successful which does not engage on both sides of the color line the best qualities of those who are compelled to have some sort of practical relationship.—The Christian Register.

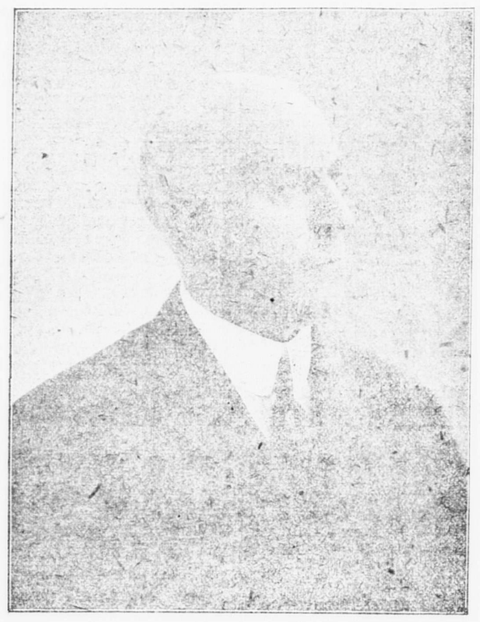
The state has enough troubles paying the salaries of its officials without also paying the expenses they incur in winning the office. The taxes imposed on the voters who never aspire to office and who never expect to hold office, are already too great without further augmenting them by the added burden of Tom, Dick and Harry's election expenses.—Chelsea Record.

☞Upon whatever else the women of Quincy may disagree, they unite when it comes to a question of what is good for the children. The best of us can learn, and Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley has many hints for mothers about the training of children, which will be helpful. We can all take an afternoon for pure pleasure, why not give one afternoon to a combination of pleasure and profit? Meeting at 3 o'clock Dec. 7, Wednesday at Bethany Congregational church. No admission. All mothers of the city welcome.

☞Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

OPEN LETTER FROM MAYOR SHEA

Reviews His Administration of the Affairs of the City For Three Years



To My Fellow-Citizens:—

I am a candidate for the office of Mayor at the coming city election.

In return for your confidence in me in the past I have given to the city HONEST and FAITHFUL SERVICE, sparing neither time nor labor.

I direct your attention to the following as some of the PERMANENT RESULTS of my administration:—

Many miles of permanent sidewalks built.

A system of surface drainage established.

Our public streets improved.

Many additional lights placed on the streets.

An all-night system of street lighting inaugurated.

The efficiency of the police and fire departments materially improved.

Water mains extended in different sections of the city.

Over 1200 new house connections made.

Many new hydrants set.

Miles of sewer main extended affording increased protection to the public health.

Hundreds of new house connections made with the sewers.

Miles of edgestone laid.

Public buildings erected, each according to contract and within the appropriations made therefor.

Additional equipment provided in playgrounds.

City Scavenger department created and equipped.

In the foregoing I have not undertaken to state the general work performed by the several city departments.

During my term of office the books and records of the several departments have at all times been OPEN TO INSPECTION. Any citizen caring to do so can readily see from them how each appropriation has been expended.

All city contracts have been ON FILE in the City Clerk's office open to inspection by the public.

I have insisted on a STRICT ENFORCEMENT of the liquor law. The number of cases presented to the court in the last year has exceeded that of any year for several years past.

City officials and employees have been required to attend strictly to the DUTIES OF THEIR OFFICES, politics being eliminated therefrom.

Our city covers a large territory. The amount of money available for public improvements is necessarily limited.

I have endeavored to have due regard for the NEEDS OF ALL SECTIONS of the city, and to so expend its money as to get the best possible results therefrom.

To some the appropriations may appear to have been large, BUT OUR CITY IS GROWING RAPIDLY, a large number of homes and buildings for commercial purposes being erected each year thus making necessary the building of new streets, the extension of the sewer and water systems all of which tends to the health and comfort of our citizens.

It is true I am seeking a fourth term in office but it does not seem to me that this fact should adversely affect the merits of my candidacy. THE QUESTION for the voters to decide is, should the office of Mayor be used as a means solely of promoting the business of the city, and a man elected to it for the same reasons that a large business concern selects its general manager? SHOULD the fact that a man has proven himself competent and has had experience in office disqualify him?

During the past three years I have endeavored to keep the Mayor's office FREE FROM POLITICAL INFLUENCES, and believe I have succeeded. I have discharged the duties of my office without fear or favor.

If it is the wish of the voters I will be pleased to serve you during the coming year.

WILLIAM T. SHEA.
12 Common Street.
Quincy, Mass.

December 1, 1910.

(Advertisement.)

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Five Quincy Elks Have Passed Away in a Year

The sixth annual memorial service of Quincy lodge of Elks was held Sunday evening at Alpha hall, and was a most impressive and beautiful one. During its six ears of existence Quincy lodge has lost thirteen members by death. Of this number, five have passed away since the last memorial service. They were James A. White, Thomas F. Mannex, Moody Leighton, James H. Welsh and Exalted Ruler William J. Coleman.

The general address was by Rev. Edward A. Chase of the Wollaston Congregational church, and the eulogy by Dr. John D. Gibbons of Winthrop.

Rev. Mr. Chase spoke on "Brotherliness." In opening, he said your order is named for an animal that gathers in herds. Men gather together for good or evil. Union takes its value by the goodness sought by the union. That which seeks the good of man, relieves the sick cares for the distressed, helps bear the burdens of the poor, cares for the fatherless and widow, and buries the dead. These things spell that great brotherhood. There is no brotherliness in daily life that begins and ends in selfishness. The only way to live is with the cooperation of other men. To do something for him. There is where your order gets its chiefest value. There are moments when a man is down, and he is being crushed and lo and behold you lift him and share his sorrows, and make it possible for him to stand up again. What a world it might be if every one practised brotherliness. Good has no favoritism. He simply knows. He has surrounded us with all things to make us potent. God will not stand to see one crushed. That is where we begin to see that the world is for every man. That we begin to understand by brother.

Brotherhood is one of those splendid seeds which planted in the earth brings forth a hundred fold. So out of your order has the world been comforted. You make it easier for a man to live right, and hard to do wrong. What the world needs today is the man who sees good in life. What the world needs in a public man is to see the good he does and not the evil. We want to know his good deeds and not his evil. It is the good which gives him the courage to do right. What encouragement is there to do right if only evil is told of him. Let us appreciate the good there is in man. The strong point in your order is not to do alone but like the Elks in herds, taking the richness of gifts of love and life and lay it on the altar of those that need. May God bless you in your united life.

Dr. Gibbons who delivered the eulogy, said that today all over the world more than a million Elks had assembled to recall the just tributes of the dead, and pay homage to the memory of those whom God has called. It is a day when every Elk is filled with tender affection. We cannot but realize that we are hastening toward that undiscovered country from whose burn no travellers ever return. We meet to give fitting expression to our sorrow, and tribute to our brothers who have passed to the great beyond.

Quincy lodge is to be condoled with because of the sad death of her exalted ruler. A man true to the principles he professed. Totally unselfish and unflinching in his duty. He died as he lived, serving others with that true devotion that characterized his life. None who knew him can do anything but revere him. He was a man of rare type. One not often found and who will be missed more and more as time goes on. And so life goes on. We are here today. Tomorrow the milestones we have passed are gone.

I consider a man who has not turned his attentions to other than business, to enlarge his understanding, has wasted time that he will some day regret. Rich indeed is he who spends life as he goes. Man's mission is to build and progress. We must learn to live the life of the just. Then we will have th e beginning of our joy. We want to be able to say of every true and upright Elk when he departs as Carlisle said to Scott, "He took a man's life."

We strive to protect the children with tenderness; womanhood with chivalry; old age with respect; and above all things to remain with good cheer. These are the principles our order aims to inject into every member. We must realize what the word manhood means. It signifies what all men ought to be in the world. It signifies character and all it implies. The glory of our country. There are no better examples of American life than the Elks. Here we find men who have forged to the front because they have grasped opportunities. Let the world see the Elk is striving to patriotism, citizenship and virtue, that the universe may rise to a higher plan. The life of every true and loyal Elk can never be forgotten.

During the services musical selections were rendered by the Temple quartette. After the exercises a lunch was served in the club rooms.

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

¶ We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Pork to Roast . . .	12c
Leg Loin Lamb . .	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb . . .	8c
Short Leg Lamb. . .	14c
Lamb Chop	15c
Pork Chop	14c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c, .	15c
Porter House Steak . . .	20c
Regular 25c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for . . .	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Face Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast .	12 1-2--14
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25c
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27
Baldwin Apples only	25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine .	20c

¶ Remember all our goods are guaranteed.
¶ Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.
¶ Don't forget our Grocery Department.

New Up to Date Furniture Store
At 1601 Hancock Street
THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.
It will pay you to visit our new up-to-date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture, Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.
CASH or CREDIT
Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time.
Dec. 1 6t
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 5c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS RETURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Several of the Pastors Advocate No-License

Because of the demands of time and space by the Municipal election it is necessary today to omit reports from many of the churches These will appear tomorrow. Many pastors urged a large "No" vote on the License question.

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. Carl H. Raupach took "The Christian's Boast" for the subject of his sermon at the Hall Place M. E. church Sunday morning, the text being found in Gal. 6.14. "But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world."

Miss Maud Nichols lead the Epworth League devotional services at 6.15.

At the evening service the pastor took for his text, 2 Cor. 2-11 "Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices." The pastor gave a short talk on "No-License" and the duty of every man to avail himself of the opportunity of keeping out the awful curse of license in Quincy, by going to the polls and voting "No." He appliedthe thought of his text by saying that Satan would gain an advantage if the men did not exercise their rights and not only vote on the question but vote "no."

Master Leslie McCormick repeated the selection "Undressing little Ned" which he gave at the "No License contest" held Saturday evening. The pastor sang "Where is my wandering boy tonight?" the congregation joining in the chorus. Master Clyde repeated a selection entitled "The effects of rum on the working classes," which he gave at the prize contest

At the Sunday morning service the pastor announced that the Sunday School had received one of the libraries given by the Sunday School institute. This Institute was held November 14 and 15 in the Bromfield Street M. E. church, under the auspices of the board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist church. Excellent addresses were given at the meetings held, which proved very helpful. Two prizes were offered in connection with this institute. The first was a library of forty-two volumes, to be given to the Sunday School having the largest number of members present throughout the meetings. The second to be a library consisting of forty-two volumes, to be given to the Sunday school having the largest percentage of their members over sixteen years of age present at any one service. The second library was awarded to the Hall Place M. E. Sunday School. It is a splendid library and one which any Sunday School might be proud to possess. It is a Sunday school teachers' and workers' library and touches on all phases of the work. The Sunday School is justly proud of the honor and appreciates the faithfulness of the members who made it possible for them to win these greatly needed volumes, which will be so helpful and valuable in the work of the Sunday School.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

J. R. RICHARDS REPLIES

And Asks the Voters Some Pointed Questions

A reply to the Squeezing Lemons Epistle in the Reporter, Dec. 3, 1910.

The answer is easy. The unanimous sentiment of the meeting of the Associates when the Street Commiee met them at Houghs Neck was expressed in favor of the Causeway repairs and to eliminate conditions at "Calamity Corner," so called, in front of the school house that was to be completed Sept. 1, 1910.

The writer of the squeezed lemon epistle was present, and has therefore absolutely no excuse of having been advised, so he is in the same position as the clerk of the Council who took part in the "Blank Cartridge affair. He, in that affair, should have looked at his own report in the Daily Ledger of Dec. 7, 1909, before placing himself on record.

I was reported having passed out emons for one hour at the Ward Three rally and these are the only two our "Honored" friends have attempted to squeeze, with what deplorable results. What a machine to endorse. Where are the strategy and publicity boards? Why so silent? Are the people of Houghs Neck really proud of their schoolhouse? Are the conditions of the order and specifications being complied with? Are the interests of the people being conserved in this matter? Were you impressed with his honor's address to you?

He said, we are told, that the paving on Hancock street looked all right on top. Did he tell you that city blocks should be square on top and bottom so that when the top was worn they could be turned over and the bottom placed on top to have two wearing sides in place of one? No. But such is the fact on city paving, so called. Did he tell you the paving taken out of the Hancock street job by Mr. Nowland was worth four and one half cents? He did. That is what the people are paying for them, but, he neglected to state that such paving are actually worth from 1 cent to 1 5-10 cents. In other words we pay forty-five dollars a thousand, whereas the sample that Mr. Nowland had is worth from ten to fifteen dollars a thousand.

Mr. Nowland is condemned for grand larceny. Where do the taxpayers who pay forty-five dollars per thousand fit in? Did his honor tell you?

The same spirit of pride comes up on your school that we had on the Lincoln additions last year, but we still have the monument to inefficiency with us to look at, our silent witness, in spite of the fact that he had a large corp of men at work last year the morning after our little argument at Houghs Neck, patching up the cracks and seams on the outside at daylight as I stated very likely would be done and which his honor so emphatically denied.

Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview recently, said, "Justice is a virtue, which prompts us to pay what we owe to our neighbors. It is the foundation of social order and of business intercourse."

Would justice permit us to advance our political ambition by putting temptation in the way of our young men? We are advised that booze is in this campaign, non-partisan.

Would justice permit us to advance the interests of corporations or others at the expense of those whose interests we are under oath to serve?

Would justice permit us to use unworthy motives and actions to defeat an honorable, upright, conservative, intelligent servant of the people such as Councilman Nowland has proved to the people to be, when the only reason that can be advanced is having done his duty to the full measure of justice?

Would justice permit the voters of our city to elect or endorse a man who would stoop to advocate or endorse such methods? (see Telegram report of Houghs Neck rally, Dec. 3, 1910.)

Would not justice say, we have had three years of this, with its evasions and contradictions and the next year we will try Hobbs, and hoped for reform?

We have an interest debt of seventeen dollars on every voter's head, and in spite of the great increase in valuation, we have gone in the hole two hundred thousand dollars more in three years. The total taxation of one of our largest wards is not enough today to pay the interest on the debt alone.

How much longer can we go on in this way. Disinterested voters, get your think tanks working and consider if that we are getting now is worthy of an unusual endorsement.

John R. Richards.

76 Centre Street, Quincy.

(Advertisement.)

GOOD ARGUMENTS

(Continued from Page 1.)

bring relief. We voted for licenses one year; that was when we had about 33,000 population as Quincy now has.

In the year before licenses were granted we had 425 arrests for drunkenness, in the year of licenses 1600. We found that every saloon cost the city about $12,000. That the expenses of the police department jumped $1200 per month; that the expenses of the poor department increased $1400 per month. The tax rate was 30 cents lower for one year, but expenses were put over one year and the rate the second year jumped $1.10.

One year of license was enough. We voted the next year for No-License by 2100 majority, and the majorities have been emphatic every year since. Today we are proud of the fact that no manufacturing city has laboring people who are better clothed or housed. He begged all to vote No on Tuesday. We were told that many would be thrown out of employment if saloons were closed, but the money expended in this country annually for liquor would build 330 battlships annually. Think of the employment that would give. But it would do more than that, and things more needed.

It was 9.30 when the meeting adjourned.

AT WOLLASTON.

A large union No-License rally was held in the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday evening which was addressed by Delcevare King of Quincy, Charles W. Bailey of Wollaston and Daniel McKay of Boston.

Rev. Wesley Wiggin of the Methodist church was chairman of the meeting, while Rev. Joseph Walters of the Baptist church and Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church took part in the devotional service.

A large men's choir of over thirty gathered from all the Wollaston churches and directed by A. D. Albee contributed to the hearty singing.

Delcevare King, chairman of the Massachusetts No-License League, defined the difference between temperance, no-license, prohibition and local option. No-License, said Mr. King does not mean "Thou shalt not drink," but "Thou and thy neighbor shalt not be tempted to drink." He brought forth statistics of Chelsea and Salem under license and no license, these two cities having conditions most similar to Quincy. From the economic standpoint, the "No" vote does not result in a higher tax rate or more civic indebtedness, but 25 per cent more streets and 40 per cent more devoted to education. Wollaston is the banner No-License ward in the city, but also has the largest number of stay-at-homes. Let us this year get out a large NO vote.

Charles W. Bailey took up the statement that there was just as much liquor sold under No-License as License. This, said Mr. Bailey, is a moth eaten argument which was conceived in ignorance and brought forth in prejudice. To support this, he related several incidents of liquor dealers and salesmen. The idea that just as much liquor is sold is nonsense, ridiculous and absurd. Mr. Bailey's charge against the liquor traffic was that it ruined homes. This is a city of homes, and this ward is a good place to live in. Let us keep it so. We want to keep out the saloon, and we can do it if we go to the polls on Tuesday and vote No.

Mr. McKay, commonly known as the prisoner's friend, was the last speaker. He did not understand how any intelligent American citizen could be expected to swallow the statement that there was just as much liquor sold under No-License as license. One open saloon, he said, is more detrimental to a community than 50 kitchen bar rooms.

It is not a question of prohibition or temperance, but simply that we do not want to enter our community an institution that demoralizes our boys and girls, breaks up happy homes, and finally leads a large number to death and degradation.

Many a prisoner, said the speaker, began his career of crime in the liquor saloon, and many a criminal brought up before the bar of justice, makes the remark—"This is what booze did for me." It is time that you and I, Christian people, awoke to our responsibility, and crushed out of our midst the greatest curse that darkens the pages of our national history.

Referring to the saloon as but a station on the railroad to perdition, the speaker closed with a comparison of the condition of the drinker's wife and that of the wife of a liquor dealer. Suppose we say we need the revenue from license, which is not so, who can figure the price of a woman's broken heart. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart against this, the greatest evil of our day, until the roll is called and we are mustered out.

AT PARK AND DOWNS.

At the Park and Downs Congregational church a No-License rally was held on Sunday evening, at which Hon. Guy A. Ham of Dorchester, a prominent attorney, and one deeply interested in civic and sociological questions, was the speaker.

The devotional service was led by Rev. William Bingham Ayers, pastor of the church. A male quartette composed of Arthur F. Capen, Charles A. Chase, C. A. Boynton and James A. Macdonald contributed several vocal selections during the evening.

Mr. Ham proved a most convincing speaker and held the attention of his audience for about an hour. His address dealt with the subject from a general and economic standpoint. As an example of No License, he mentioned the town of Attleboro that only had one policeman day or night and only needed him in case of fire. He also told of a rally in Lynn, where the president of the labor union, the principal shoe manufacturer and president of the savings bank all spoke in favor of no license, because of the benefits it would do their interests.

The speaker called attention to the number of hours of labor lost, and the amount of productiveness wasted in a single year by drunkeness in a single city. Mr. Ham spoke of the solution of the license question, and said that the only way was to stamp out and destroy the plague spot. When we allow a saloon keeper to obtain a license we become a partner in the business. The speaker closed with the words of Governor Hemenway of Indiana, who considered license a worse curse than the slavery of the South, and saw "the time coming when, if not entirely wiped out, will find no safe habitation beneath old glory's stainless stars and stripes."

FIRST STORE CLOTHES.

Boy Made the Family Sit Up at the Sunday Breakfast.

Little Walter was getting good and tired of it. it seemed to him that he had never known a time when he had owned any clothes that somebody hadn't owned before him, and here he was 13 years old—and large for his age, people said.

He looked down in disgust upon the brown knee pants that were wide enough for a show elephant. They had once belonged to brother Dave, and brother Dave had worn them about so much that even after they had been cut down people recognized them.

Little Walter sighed. Then a thought struck him—a daring thought. He slipped into the house by the back way and pried open the savings bank grandpa had given him. In it was the sum of $4.74, mostly in nickles, dimes and pennies.

Immediately after supper he slipped out and walked to town—it was only a mile and a half and the stores stayed open until 9 o'clock on Saturday night.

"What can I get a suit of clothes for, Mr. Tanner?" he asked the leading merchant. Mr. Tanner considered.

"How much have you got?" he asked shrewdly. "Four dollars, eh? Well, son, you're just in time. We're goin' to have a sale Monday, and all our boys' $10 suits go for $4.44. I'll let you in tonight."

Thus it came that on Sunday morning little Walter showed up at breakfast in a new gray suit. His father and his mother stared amazingly at him.

"Where did you get them clothes?" demanded his father.

"Bought 'em," said Walter trying to speak nonchalantly.

"Ain't you got clothes good enough for you?" asked his mother; "here I work my fingers to the bone makin'—" But Walter's father stopped her with a wave of his hand.

"You go upstairs and take off them clothes," he said, "and fust thing Monday mornin' you take 'em back."

"The idea of his wastin' good money on clothes when he's got that good suit I made out of Sam's last summer suit, and some pants besides made out of Dave's," said his mother indignantly.

Little Walter thought quickly. It was a time for desperate measures. Thrusting a hand into his hip pocket he worked his finger about until he had poked a hole in the cloth.

"I can't take 'em back," he said tearfully; "I snagged a hole in the pants." His mother whirled him about and examined him.

"That's what he's done," she said indignantly. His father looked at him grimly.

"Take 'em off, anyway," he said. "I'll be up to your room in a minute."

Later on little Walter, his face streaked with dirt, sat tenderly on the end of the creaking bed.

"Anyway," he said, "I got some clothes of my own. But, gee, Pa's strong!"—Dallas News.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CAUSE FOR SORROW.

Ina came in from the country on her fifth birthday to visit her cousin May. At night they were put to bed early. An hour passed, when heart-breaking sobs were heard from the children's bedroom.

"What is the matter, children?" asked May's mother, entering the dark room.

"From under the bedclothes Ina sobbed out. "May won't give me any of her peanuts."

"But May has no peanuts," replied her aunt.

"I know that," sobbed Ina, "but she said if she did have peanuts she wouldn't give me any."—Delineator.

FOUND A BETTER PLACE.

Mark Twain said: Once when I was going out to visit some friends I told George, my negro servant, to lock the house and put the key under a certain stone near the steps. He agreed to do so. it was late at night when I returned. I went to the stone under which the key was supposed to have been hidden. It was gone. I hunted around for about fifteen minutes, but still no key. Finally I went to George's house—he roomed outside—and rapped vigorously upon the door. A black head, which I had no difficulty in recognizing as George's, popped out of an upstairs window.

"Where did you put that key, you black rascal?" I roared.

"Oh, marsa," answered George, "I found a better place for it."

ELECTION EXTRAS.

The Daily Ledger will issue ELECTION EXTRAS early Tuesday evening with the returns of the City Election. Look for first extra before 6 P. M. Boys wanted at that hour.

Proposals for Coal

CITY OF QUINCY

School Department, Quincy, Mass.

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until Monday, December 12 at five o'clock, P. M., receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 5 tons White Ash Stove, 170 Lehigh Broken, 53 Lehigh Egg, and 555 tons best grade bituminous coal.

The bidders must specify definitely the kind of bituminous coal upon which they bid. The hard coal must be of the best quality and well screened. All must be weighed under the direction of an agent of the School Committee and be delivered to the several school buildings on or before Monday, January 9, 1911, unless otherwise ordered. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Coal," to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.

December 5, 1910.

Dec. 5-5t

Sheriff's Sale.

Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, December 2nd, 1910.

Taken on Execution and will be sold at public Auction on Thursday, December 8th, at 3.30 o'clock A. M. at the Stone Shed of Samuel Orlofsky, Quarry Street in Quincy, Mass., the following personal property, to wit:—

About twenty parts of Monuments and some Rough Stone.

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Deputy Sheriff.

Dec. 5-1t

HIS SCHOOL.

"Ah, my lad," said the kind-hearted lady, accosting a bright-eyed boy on the street, "do you go to school?"

"Yep; I just got out."

"Did you have your lessons?"

"Had to have 'em."

"Now, that's because you have a natural sense of responsibility. I'm glad to see it in a child, too." Here her admiration impelled her to draw 10 cents from her purse. "Here's 10 cents for you, my boy! Did you run away from school this week?"

"Nope." Thanks for the dime. I got to hustle now, me mouth is waterin' for ice cream I can buy around the corner!"

"Why don't you take your money home?"

"I ain't in any hurry to get home. I ain't been there in a week, anyhow."

"You haven't? Where have you been?"

"Kept in school."

"What school?"

"The truant school."—New York Times.

FOR SALE

QUINCY GRANITE

EXTRA DARK
DARK AND MEDIUM

CALL AT OFFICE

ESTATE OF T. F. MAHNEX
148 WILLARD ST.
WEST QUINCY, MASS

Dec. 5t

POTATOES

Wholesale and Retail

ORDERS DELIVERED

Retail 75c per bushel

1051 Hancock St. Tel. 356-3 Quincy

Dec. 5-2t

ALPHA HALL, QUINCY

THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 8

JOHN THOMAS CONCERT CO.

JOHN THOMAS, Humorist

Will be assisted by

ANNIE WEBSTER THOMAS, Violin Virtuoso

ALICE FORTIN, Pianist

"JOHN THOMAS has a mission in life, and that mission is TO MAKE OTHER PEOPLE HAPPY. He goes through this good old world of ours making people laugh, and they are better for it. He carries 'sunshine' with him wherever he goes, and distributes it freely."

TICKETS 35 AND 50 CENTS

On sale at Murphy's Drug Store, corner Hancock and Granite Streets Tue. 3-4

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5

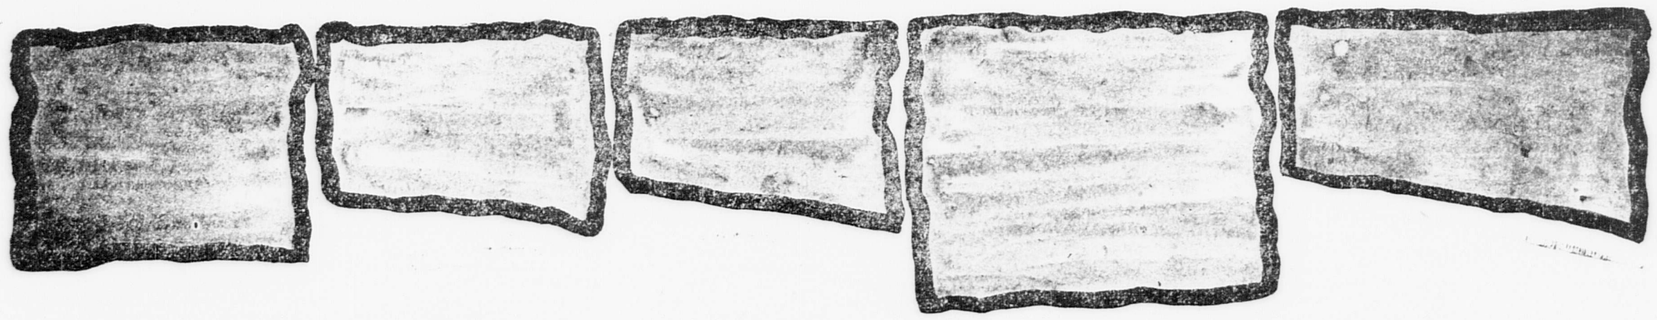
DR. A. B. PACKARD

HARVARD '05

DENTIST

JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

SECTION SHOWING PART OF LAST ROW OF PAVING LAID ON HANCOCK ST. QUINCY, OCT. 18, 1910



ILLUSTRATION, ONE-FOURTH SIZE

Standard Paving Blocks should be OBLONG 9 to 14 inches long, 7 to 8 inches deep, 3 1-2 to 4 inches thick.

ERNEST W. BRANCH, C. E., Adams Building, Quincy

(Advertisement)

Commissioners' Notice

Room 609-10. 6 Beacon St.
Boston, Mass. Dec. 1, 1910.

The undersigned Henry E. Teasdale and Adolph I. Dinner were appointed on June 1st 1910, Commissioners of the Estate of Patrick O'Brien, late of Quincy, County of Norfolk, in this Commonwealth, by the Judge of Probate Court of said County of Norfolk, under Chapter 142, Section 2, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts.

You are hereby notified that the final meeting of the creditors for an examination of their claims against aforesaid Estate will be held at the above address on December 22, 1910 at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day. Your are requested to present your claim for allowance on that day.

HENRY E. TEASDALE
ADOLPH I. DINNER
Commissioners.
Dec. 1-5; 1, 5, 12

Administratrix Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

ANGELO MALNATI

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

LUCY MALNATI Administratrix
(Address) 90 Intervale street
South Quincy Mass.
Nov. 28 30 '10 5 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of

EVELINE MATTHEWS

late of Braintree in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Charles T. Crane of Braintree who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass. the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 29, 5, 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

JUDITH SPEAR

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Horace F. Spear the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-ninth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
31 Dec. 2 5 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO the heirs-at-law next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of

ANNIE GILLOOLY

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by James F. Burkeson Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor thereto named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
31 Dec. 5, 5, 12

QUEEN LOUISE
FLOUR
90c A BAG AT
JOHNSON BROTHERS

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for search. Free report. Free advice how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often secures patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

GUILTY OF MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

Jury's Verdict In Case of Phelps, Who Killed Sheriff Haskins

Greenfield, Mass., Dec. 5.—Silas N. Phelps of Monroe was found guilty of murder in the first degree in causing the death of Deputy Sheriff Emmett F. Haskins of Charlemont last June. Haskins went to the Phelps home to arrest Phelps on a charge of stabbing William Penman and was shot as he mounted the stairs to the attic where his quarry was in hiding.

The jury returned the verdict after five hours of deliberation. As the twelve men who had decided his fate walked into the courtroom Phelps watched them closely, but showed no sign of emotion. Even the announcement that he had been adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree had no apparent effect, and it was not until some time later, when his wife went to his side, that he broke down.

As soon as the verdict was announced Attorney Davenport, representing Phelps, asked the court to allow until Jan. 2 for the filing of exceptions. His request was granted. Phelps was then led away to jail.

RETIREMENT OF DUVALL

Leads to Contest Between War Department and Politicians

Washington, Dec. 5.—A vigorous contest is being waged between friends of Brigadier General Murray, chief of coast artillery, and Brigadier General Funston over the coming appointment of a new major general.

The vacancy will be created by the retirement, Jan. 13, of Major General Duvall, who will be relieved of command of the Philippines division by Major General Bell, former chief of staff.

The fight is really between the war department, favoring Murray, and members of the Kansas and California delegations and other politicians favoring Funston.

The odds appear to be in favor of Murray, since President Taft has taken a stand against politics in the army, but the fight may be carried to such a point that both will be eliminated by a dark horse.

NOT FIT FOR GALLOWS

Efforts to Have Death Sentence of a Degenerate Commuted

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 5.—A sharp conflict of opinion has arisen among lawyers and legislators over the question whether the general assembly possesses the right to review the findings of a court of justice.

The controversy was precipitated by a measure now pending in the lower house providing for the commutation of the death sentence of Leroy Kent to imprisonment for life on the ground that he is a degenerate and hence not a fit person for the gallows. Kent has been denied a new trial by the state supreme court. The bill has been made a special order for Tuesday.

WOMAN CAUSES DOWNFALL

Bank Teller Stole to Gratify Luxurious Tastes of a Friend

New York, Dec. 5.—A woman with a love for taxicabbing and six-course dinners is the confessed cause of the downfall of Cornwall Arnold, assistant receiving teller at the Hudson River branch of the Corn Exchange bank, who is now in a cell charged with the theft of $1485.

At the offices of the company an official told reporters Arnold said his acquaintance with the woman dated back only four months. His accounts were perfectly straight until he met her. She, it appears, was a person of luxurious tastes.

CUDAHY'S WEALTH

Income on $20,000,000 Went to Charity In Last Three Years

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Examination of the estate of Michael Cudahy disclosed that church and philanthropic enterprises had been receiving virtually all of his vast income for the last three years.

Despite his many benefactions there are indications that he left nearly $20,000,000. Much of this money goes to charity by the terms of the will, but the exact proportion will not be known until next Saturday.

Cholera In Insane Asylum

Rome, Dec. 5.—Six new cases of cholera have been reported from Palermo, all being among the patients in the asylum for the insane. One death has also occurred there.

Two Killed In Aeroplane

Rome, Dec. 5.—An aeroplane carrying an Italian officer and a private fell from a height of eighty feet at the military grounds at Centocello. Both men were instantly killed.

The Weather

Almanac, Tuesday, Dec. 6.
Sun rises—7:07; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—8:34 p. m.
High water—2 a. m.; 2:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Snow or rain in south, snow in north portion; moderate north winds, probably increasing.

MISS LETSY.

A bright, crisp autumn morning it was that Miss Betsy looked out upon, as she raised the little dormer window of her chamber high up in the peak of the gable-roof, and opened the one bright green blind to let in a flood of morning sunshine. She had done this same thing three hundred and sixty-five times during the year just past, and as many times during the ten preceding ones; indeed, ever since the little white cottage had been built, for if there was one thing Miss Betsy prided herself upon more than another it was her method and precision.

She had risen at precisely five o'clock for the last forty years, for it must be confessed that Miss Betsy was quite "on the down-hill side," and she herself never denied it, but rather gloried in the fact that during all these years of womanhood she had "paddled her own canoe," and a right successful voyage she had made of it, as her snug little income testified. She had risen at five o'clock summer and winter during all these years and needed no alarm to tell her when that hour arrived. She had breakfasted at half past five, and then had begun the busy round of the day, for although Miss Besty lived quite alone, there was, as she said, "always something to be done; if it was not one thing it was sure to be another." Idleness she considered the one great sin of the universe.

Miss Betsy was not, as she informed each successive pastor, "a professor," although the front pew in the little church at Moundsville had held her tall, gaunt form year after year, dressed in its black bombazine dress, worn at her mother's funeral many years before, and made, some of the rosy-cheeked girls in the choir were wont to say, in the pattern of the seventeenth century, and a tall green bonnet on which nodded aggressively in winter a lonely green plume, and which was modified during the heat of summer by a huge bunch of pink rosebuds, for Miss Betsy's millinery and dressmaking bills were by no means excessive. This same costume, enlarged in winter by a long black cloak trimmed sparingly with cony fur, and cony fur muff to match, had stood by her during the vicissitudes of many a year.

No, Miss Betsy was not a professor; although the green bonnet and bombazine dress had outridden the storms of many a protracted meeting, many a lengthy prayer and exhortation aimed at covetousness, wordliness and pride, seemingly passing quite over her head.

Miss Betsy's green plume had only risen a little higher on these occasions and shook a little more aggressively, but outwardly no further impression was made, saving that she had joined perhaps with a little energy in the music that followed, and sang, "Am I a soldier of the cross?" with somewhat greater zeal and determination. Some of the good brethren and sisters had been known to shake their heads and whisper to each other with solemn features, that they feared Miss Betsy was among the stiff necked and rebellious ones, who had been wholly given over to unbelief and hardness of heart. They did not know the wealth of tenderness and sympathy hidden by that stern exterior.

They had never seen the well-worn Bible lying upon the little stand in Miss Betsy's quaint chamber, nor her tall, gaunt form reverently kneeling night and morning beside her snowy bed. There had been criticism but she had lived on the same, and the sun had shone brightly upon her planting; the rain had favored her reaping, and her barns were filled with plenty.

Well might Miss Betsy look down with a deal of condescension and something of pity upon the clinging and domestic sisters about her. Had she not come as a pioneer to Moundsville, when no Moundsville existed, except the abortive and weakly little hill which gave rise to its name, and which would never have been noticed at all had it not been for the miles upon miles of level, treeless prairies stretching away in every direction as far as the eye could reach? And well, too, might Miss Betsy speak with authority and confidence upon matters of local interest and importance, for was not she that most proverbial of all necessities, the "first settler?" Her cheek would flush with pride, and her eye fire with animation, as she talked of the time when she built her sod home with her own hands, and with her little stock of furnishings, and rude enough they were, settled down, with what one may well consider a considerable amount of force and determination, to "prove up her claim." And prove it up she did, in spite of sundry lawsuits and would-be first claimholders.

The village Moundsville had grown upon her acres, which had been divided under her direct supervision, into precise and regular town lots, and as one after another was purchased and improved, Miss Betsy laid aside dollar after dollar in her strong box against the rainy day which to her never seemed to come.

The more romantic and youthful of her neighbors liked to believe that there had been a time when Miss Betsy's heart was young and tender; when she had loved and lost, in some, perhaps tragic, manner, the object of her devotion; but there was no really well-grounded reason for this belief. The older and more matter-of-fact neighbors refused to indulge in speculations so romantic and visionary. Farmer Williams, who was really the only authority upon the past history of Miss Betsy—whose real name, by the way was not Miss Betsy at all, but Miss Elizabeth Woolston— either could not, or would not gratify the curiosity of the general public regarding the affairs of Miss Betsy's heart and history. That she was born and bred among the bleak New Hampshire hills he knew, for they had attended district school together in the years gone by, but to this he would only add the unromantic fact of her having been left alone in the world by the death of her near relatives, except a certain scapegoat brother who had wandered away to sea, and that she was "a mighty capable woman," and there the matter dropped.

And so the years had glided by with Miss Betsy, filled to the brim with labor, method, and precision. There had been some sad days and some lonely days, when her heart cried out for her loved and lost ones, but then her lips had been only a little more firmly set and her step more determined as she went about her customary tasks.

One day was almost an exact counterpart of the preceding, and to all outward seeming her life might thus have pursued its even tenor for many years to come had not the fates decreed quite otherwise. One autumn afternoon Miss Betsy, with her market basket in hand, walked down the narrow village street. She held her head quite high, as was her wont, and her firm step was, perhaps, a trifle more than usually determined. For it was almost Thanksgiving time, and all day long her thoughts had wandered back to the old New England home—her girlhood's home—and she had looked again in fancy into the dear familiar faces of those whom she had loved best on earth, clustered once more around the happy family board. Her loneliness today seemed almost more than she could bear, and the quick tears had come again and again to her deep brown eyes, but she had hurriedly dashed them away as she went about her customary tasks. Now she nodded bravely right and left to the passers-by as she hurried down the village street, for every one in Moundsville knew well Miss Betsy Woolston. She was hurrying by the little postoffice, facing the keen blast, when suddenly out ran Mr. Brown, the fussy little postmaster, minus hat, coat, or neckerchief, for the moment quite forgetful of his asthmatic tendencies, and with flushed, eager face handed her a letter all sealed and stamped.

"It's for you, Miss Betsy" he cried eagerly, as he gave her a quick searching glance, and then ran panting away to wonder and surmise.

Miss Betsy started and turned pale; her strong hands shook as she slowly turned the letter about and looked earnestly at the inscription. Yes, it was for "Miss Elizabeth Woolston," no doubt about that, but her own name seemed strange to her, it was so long since she had seen it in writing. "But who could the letter be from? What could it be about?" It was the first letter she had received for many years, and she nervously dreaded to break the seal. Something told her it related to the long past years of which she had been thinking. No prying eye should see her break the seal that she quickly decided as she glanced surreptitiously about and caught a glimpse of Mrs. Jones, the talkative little milliner, peeping from behind her gorgeous show-case.

Slipping the letter into her cony muff, Miss Betsy walked away with a step as stately and unconcerned as though the reception of a letter was a common and everyday occurrence in her life. She sold her eggs and purchased her sugar and tea and then walked home through the narrow, snowy path, and closing and bolting the cottage door behind her, drew forth the strange little messenger with trembling hand and read:

Dear Betsy:—I've been no brother to you, that I know, but I'm dying today, and tomorrow my two little girls will be fatherless and homeless, unless you can take them in and care for them. I've been wild and reckless, God knows, and they say I'm dying from drink but I've kept the little ones together and given them something to eat since their mother died, but it's all over with me now; and oh, Betsy, you will not let them starve? It's almost Thanksgiving, and I've been thinking all day long how happy we used to be in the old home with father and mother and sister Mary. And—you will not laugh at me, Betsy—I've been saying over and over the little prayer we learned at mother's knee,—"Now I lay me." I know I shall soon lie down in the long sleep, but some way a quiet peace has come into my heart and I'm not afraid to die. An old friend—you knew him well in those happier years—is with me. He will see that I'm laid away; but the children, Betsy, the children! Will you not take them in? Hal.

That was all. Elizabeth Woolston sat with folded hands and a far-away look in her gray eyes. She did not remove the long cloak, or stir the fire, or hear the little clock on the shelf as it chimed the hours. She was thinking of the past; of the old brown farmhouse lying amid the great sheltering hills; of those she had loved in the dear old days, and none more truly than this same wayward brother Hal. He had been mourned for many years as dead, and now he was dead no doubt, indeed, and his children orphaned and homeless. With the memory of Hal came the memory of other losses, of hopes and joys long crushed and buried, until through the clasped hands upon the cony muff Miss Betsy's tears fell thick and fast.

She did not sleep that night; she thought and wept and prayed, and when she threw open the green blinds and looked out upon the still morning her resolve was taken. Her life had been narrow and selfish; she saw it all now, but she would begin to make amends; she would go that very day and bring them home, the little orphaned girls, and they should share her home and cheer her lonely life.

All Moundsville stood agape with wonder and surprise as they saw Miss Betsy board the east-bound train that morning with no word of explanation to any one. But greater still was the wonder when on Thanksgiving eve Miss Betsy stepped upon the crowded platform, leaning upon the arm of a tall, bearded man, and followed by two little black-robed girls with hair of tawny gold. As she bowed right and left the green plume nodded with a joyful quiver, but she spoke not a word as they walked away in the solemn starlight.

"It's just like a fairy tale," cried little Mrs. Jones, while the red glow deepened on each plump cheek. "Miss Betsy is to be married today in the church, right after the Thanksgiving sermon. Her brother died, they say. I saw her get the letter, the first in twenty years for aught I know. She went for the children; I saw her take the train. Who'd ever thought of Miss Betsy Woolston taking the train—and then she found her old lover with whom she had quarrelled years and years ago, and now she is to be married, and they say she's got a new dress and a bonnet from New York. And such a dinner as they are getting up. The preacher and his wife are invited. Mandy Jones is helping. She stopped in to tell me all the news when she went by to get the turkey. She bought the biggest one in town. She says she never saw such a change in anybody in her life as there is in Miss Betsy. I shouldn't wonder at all if she'd make a profession this winter. Of course I'm going to the wedding."
—Christian Advocate.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Philadelphia Pound Cake. One pound of eggs, one pound of fine white sugar, one pound of butter, one pound sifted flour, one-third teaspoonful nutmeg, one teaspoonful rose flavoring (or two tablespoonfuls of rose water). Cream the butter, beat in sugar, add flavoring and beat in flour and eggs alternately, the eggs having been first well beaten and smooth. The longer the mixture is beaten (not stirred) the finer and better the cake. Bake in papered tins in slow oven for about two hours.

Kris Kringles. Beat together one-half cupful of butter or one-fourth each butter and drippings, one cupful granulated sugar, then stir in one-half cupful sour milk, two beaten eggs (without separating) two and one one-half teaspoonfuls of flour sifted with one-half teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful flavoring. Drop about two inches apart on greased pans forming rings. Bake a delicate yellow in quick oven.

Beans and Eggs. Half a pound of cooked beans, three hard-boiled eggs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one sour apple, one onion, one tablespoonful curry powder, one dessertspoonful of ground rice, one tablespoonful dessiccated cocoanut, juice of half a lemon, one cupful of water, in which the beans are cooked, and quarter pound of rice. Cut the hard-boiled eggs into quarters. Chop the onion finely and fry it in the butter; then add curry powder and ground rice. Stir till well incorporated, then pour in the bean water; stir till it boils and thickens. Let this simmer gently while you chop the apple. Add it, also sufficient salt, lemon juice, cocoanut, and cook very gently for twenty minutes; then put in two tablespoonfuls of milk or cream, which is a great improvement. Now put in the eggs, and stand in a warm place or over hot water. Have the rice boiled and nicely dry. Make a border of the rice on a hot dish and pour the bean and egg mixture in the center.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Plenty of Fresh Air
WARM CLOTHING
AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF HEARN'S
EMULSION
And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumonia

CHAS. C. HEARN
PHARMACIST
1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Beverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 5-tf

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 85-3 Jan. 17-tf

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
SAVES $1 FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
Just Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 516-2. Oct. 6-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

TOURING CARS
We have secured local agency for REGAL Touring cars and want to show you why these cars beat all others. A 5 passenger, 30 h. p. runabout or touring car costs only $1250. Demonstrations by appointment.
In addition we have taxicab service and rent our touring car by day or hour. Call or phone.
C. H. PENNIMAN, Quincy.
Stable Tel. 207. Res. Tel. 166-4
June tf

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

THE NIGHT OF THE CHILDREN.

By James Oppenheim, Author of "Dr. Rast and Wild Oats.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Christmas was in the air. The frosty, starry night turned golden in the city avenues. Up and down the pavement the crowds swept laughing, talking, jostling—cheeks ruddy with the weather, eyes sparkling with the lights. As they moved, there unrolled beside them the endless film of brilliant shop-windows, crammed with riches and through the swinging doors eddies of people were sucked in and ejected. At the curb the toy-pedlars shouted, the chestnut-stands sent up their smoke. It seemed as if the millions of the city had poured out to mingle in a street-festival of joy and brotherhood. People laughed at one another, a wine of good humor drenched the air. It was as if on this night hate and strife and greed had been sloughed off; as if the race said, "come let us be happy with one another. We are all here together. Let us meet and mingle in joy and good will and peace."

It was the Night of the Children. Far through the sleeping city the million children were in their beds and it was for them that these people met. For their children they were sweeping the shops, that Christmas morning might dawn with the candles of the pine, and hanging bulgy stockings and the mysterious new toys. And it was the thought of the children, possibly, that made these men and women so light-footed, so bubblingly joyous, so innocently happy. It made children of them and they mingled with each other, like laughing rollicking boys and girls.

There was one vast department store, nearly a block square and six stories high, which sucked in vast masses of the crowd. Pendant from its ceilings hung white moons of light, and under these a density of humanity slowly swirled about the sparkling laden counters. The air was over-warm with breathing, and tingled with the excitement of shuffling shoes, rattle of packages, and a hive hum of talk and exclamations. The place was electric with the push of many wills, the clash of desires, the impeded hurry, the drawing near of closing time; 10.30 had come and gone, and yet the crowd was unsatisfied; it hungered and strained and clamored and struggled to get its fill.

One counter especially was besieged. At this was sold little five cent packages of "snow" for Christmas trees. Behind this counter stood Mamie Riggs, seventeen years old, thin, emaciated, bloodless, her face pale and drawn and wrinkled, her eyes bloodshot, her lips trembling. As she made out checks, and received and made change, and handled the envelopes her hands visibly shook. Faces crowded near her, leaned close, arms lifted, fingers jerked near her eyes.

"This snow?"
"Yes, ma'am."
"How much?"
"Five cents."
"Only one for five?"
"Only one."
"How much in a package?"
"I dont know, ma'am."
"Don't know."

At least five voices interrupted:

"See here, I want a half dozen of these." "Where's my change?" "I can't wait all night" "Isn't there any one to wait on me?" "Say, I'll speak to the floorwalker if I don't get proper attention!"

Mamie answered as best she could. "Just a minute! You said Five? Six —Change hasn't come. I can't help it ma'am!—Yes, it's five a package!—Snow!—yes!—I'll wait on you in a minute!"

She spoke evenly in a monotone. But she was doing her work mechanically. In fact, Mamie wasn't "all there." Her fingers, her lips kept working but the real Mamie seemed in a trance. Sun-burst after sunburst of faces shot the air before her, a loud sea-noise of voices swept her brain, and she felt deathly sick. Every bone in her body ached. It seemed as if her feet had broken and were bleeding. She was horridly nauseated and dizzy. She felt as if she were going to faint. By sheer force of grit she clung to her counter, she kept upright, she moved talked, worked. On and on it went, minute by minute, and still the faces crowded, the voices rang out, the packages had to be delivered, the change made, the checks written out.

Afterwards it seemed to her, that her whole year had been rushing toward this Christmas climax. Most of that year she had worked in a cheaper store. Worked 9 1-2 hours a day for $2.62 1-2 a week. As this was not enough to live on, she boarded with an aunt in Hoboken, paying her $1.15 a week. But it took her an hour and a quarter to get to work and she rose early before dawn to get to her counter at 8 sharp. Carfare cost her $1.26, which, with the board, left her twenty cents a week. No recreation, no fresh air. And every few nights she was up till mid-night laundering her clothes, that she might be neat appearing. This work, she felt was killing her—so she left it and took a position in the larger store for $4.00 a week.

But she had to figure close. She slept nearby in a charity dormitory for six cents a night. She went without breakfast, lunch and supper consisted of coffee and rolls for ten cents each, laundry was twenty-one cents a week. Clothes and extra came close to $2.00. In this way she spent all her wages—toiled from 8 A. M. to 6.15 P. M., and on Saturdays till 9.30. Strength does not come on coffee and rolls, nor on nine and a half hours of standing indoors, nor on lack of pleasure and mental growth. Mamie grew sickly, wrinkled, weaker day by day; she was afflicted with violent headaches, and at seventeen she was already a sappel and aged woman, unfit for marriage and child-bearing and housework, with no future but incessant toil, and no savings against sickness or old age.

This was bad enough. But the holiday rush began. The store was kept open until 11.30 at night. Mamie grew feverish, had dizzy spells, was too sick to eat. Her condition grew worse each day and now on this last day she came to work at 8 in the morning feeling that she could not endure a half hour of standing up, nor the crowds, nor the noise, nor the bad air. That day was a wild slow torture, measured by minutes, endless and pitiless. On and on it went, on up to noon, on from 12.45 to 6.00 on from 6.30 to this very minute.

"This snow? How much? See here, where's my change?—Do you think I can wait all night?—Say, I'll tell the floorwalker—Yes, wrap me up six, in two packages please—Isn't there anyone else waiting at this counter?"

Sun-burst after sun-burst of faces, sea-roar of talking, dazzling lights, confusion, bustle, noise, hands flying, lips moving—and this would go for another hour and a half.

A man pushed his way through the crowd. "See here, kid," he cried, "You do me up ten of these—quick!"

Mamie leaned forward on the counter and smiled dimly.

"Ten? Ten?"

"Can't you hear? eight, nine, ten!"

"Ten? Ten what?"

She leaned further forward, she sighed, she slipped and her arms and face and hair and thin bosom all slouched among the packages on the counter.

Cries went up: "She's fainted! Something's the matter! Get water! Help her up!"

The crowd jammed; the floorwalker broke his way through muttering.

"Mamie down? Thunder! And just now when we can't replace her! Why the devil couldn't the girl stick it out?"

Next morning the nurse in the hospital wished her a merry Christmas.

She looked up vacantly and went off in a delirium, crying shrilly:

"It's five cents a package, ma'am!—Just a minute! Yes, snow—snow for Christmas trees."

At the same moment over the widespread city, the little children hopped out of bed and ran in their nighties to the parlor. There flamed the candles of the pines, there hung the bulgy stockings, there lay the mysterious packages. Little eyes glistened with awe and wonder, women and men were blinded with happy tears, and the Christmas bells pealed love and brotherhood through the tingling dawn.

And one woman said to another!

"The jam was awful last night. I thought I'd never get home. And the service in the stores was insufferable."

Asked the other: "Why didn't you shop earlier in the month?"

"Why? Oh, you know how it is!"

A Fair Ratio.

"We wish to arrange for an exchange of prisoners," announced the South American dictator.

"On what basis?" inquired the leader of the other side.

"The usual basis—eight generals for a good, husky private." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

But He's Dead Now.

He painted the woodwork instilled
For the fair trust magnate's daughter,
And he jacketed a sketch of the raging sea,
Did that artist chap who taught her,
"To take a blister of wood," said he,
"And shake a drawer of water!"
—Cleveland Leader.

New Colds Bad enough, to be sure. But old colds are worse. Better stop your fresh cold at once. Never hesitate to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Use it or not, as he says. He knows. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BURNED MONEY IS IDENTIFIED

Remarkable Exploit of a Government Expert

SAVES $50,000 FOR A BANK

American Bank Notes So Charred by Fire In Cuba That They Could Not Be Brought to United States For Fear They Would Fall to Pieces—Woman Journeys to Island to Accomplish Great Feat

Washington, Dec. 3.—The newspaper correspondents at Washington ordinarily expect to get little more than dry statistical stories out of the treasury department. But a little tale told there of how one of the young women of the department saved $50,000 for the Royal Bank of Canada by a hurried trip to Cuba verges on the romantic. Miss Elizabeth Smith is accounted one of the government's ablest experts in the identification of partly destroyed national bank notes.

Not long ago United States Treasurer McClung received a letter from the Royal Bank of Canada, telling about a fire that had taken place in one of its branch offices in Cuba. The fire had destroyed or almost destroyed, so the letter ran, a large sum of money in American bank notes which were in the safe of the bank. The charred notes were in such a condition that if they were sent back to the United States they would probably fall to pieces. The bank wanted to know whether it would be possible for the treasurer to send one of his experts to Cuba, there to examine and identify the money and supervise its shipment back to Washington.

The rule of the treasury department is to require all money to be sent to Washington for redemption, but in view of the circumstances in this case McClung agreed to accede to the wishes of the bank. The officers of the Royal Bank of Canada declared their willingness to pay the salary and expenses of the government expert who should be sent down. Miss Smith, who was selected to go, did not wish to make the trip alone and the bank also agreed to pay the expenses of her sister.

About four weeks ago the two young women set out for Cuba on their unique expedition. When she arrived at Mayari, a small village on the northern coast of Cuba opposite Santiago, where the burned bank building was located, Miss Smith found that the officers of the bank had not touched the scorched money because of their fear that the charred remnants would fall to pieces. The safe was still lying in the ruins of the building. The officers of the bank had opened it only once and after seeing the condition of the money had closed it hurriedly to await Miss Smith's arrival.

She found that gold and silver coins welded down the charred remnants of the bills. With great care the money box was taken out and carried to Antilla, a few miles away, where the bank had been located in another building. Here Miss Smith found a corner tree from draughts and with a good light from overhead, where she could begin her arduous task of identifying the burned remains. At her special request she had not been informed of the amount of the money that was involved.

For three weeks Miss Smith and her sister lived in the little Cuban town. At the end of that time the work was accomplished. Miss Smith found that she had been able to identify $50,300 worth of notes. This was the exact amount which the bank had on hand in American notes, according to its books.

Miss Smith carefully marked and wrapped the packages of notes and brought them back to Washington a few days ago for a second examination. She is now engaged in going over them again, and it is likely that as a result of her painstaking efforts the Royal Bank of Canada will get back every American dollar that was in its vaults at the time of the fire.

A Good Loser.

Arthur's, Almack's, Bootle's and White's were the chief clubs of the young men of fashion. There was play at all, and decayed noblemen and broken down senators fleeced the unwary there. Charles Fox, a dreadful gambler, lost £200,000 at play. Gibbon tells of his playing twenty-two hours at a sitting and losing £500 an hour. That indomitable punster said that the greatest pleasure in life after winning was losing. What hours, what nights, what health did he waste over the devil's books! I was going to say what peace of mind, but he took his losses very philosophically. After an awful night's play he was found on a sofa tranquilly reading an eclogue of Virgil.—From Thackeray's "The Four Georges."

Signs.

Signs in the heavens—
The storm flag's unfurled.
Trouble is coming
To worry the world.
Life—such a riddle!
But now is your chance
To hunt up a fiddle
And—who wants to dance?
—Atlanta Constitution.

SENATOR TILLMAN
Restored to Health by the Barn Cure

"NOT TILL THEY BURY ME"

Tillman Says He Has No Intention of Retiring From Senate

Washington, Dec. 3.—"Retire?" exclaimed Senator Tillman, repeating an inquiry. "I shall not retire until they bury me; I have no idea of quitting the game." The South Carolina senator, who arrived here yesterday from South Carolina, appears to be as vigorous as he was before he was stricken down by severe illness during the last session of congress.

Senator Tillman attributes his restoration to health to the fact that since he got out of bed he has given his undivided attention to the building of a big barn on his plantation. He said that the work benefited him by giving him something to think about besides himself.

TEXAS AND NEW YORK

Names to Be Bestowed Upon Two New Dreadnaughts

Washington, Dec. 3.—Texas and New York will be the names of the two new battleships of the navy which were authorized at the last session of congress. These two dreadnaughts will be christened in honor of those states in accordance with the legal requirements that first-class battleships shall bear the names of sovereign commonwealths.

The selection of names for the two most powerful vessels in the United States navy will necessitate the changing of the designations of two warships already in commission, for both New York and Texas are honored at the present time in this respect.

The present Texas is a second-class battleship and will be renamed San Marcos, in honor of a city in Texas. The present cruiser New York will be rechristened Manhattan.

OFFICIALS SUSPECT SMUGGLING PLOT

Eight Trunks of Valuable Goods Seized From "Immigrants"

Boston, Dec. 3.—Eight trunks of silks, embroidered linens and heavy blankets enough to stock a small store were seized by the customs officials at this port among the steerage baggage of the White Star liner Canopic.

The customs officials are confident that the seized property was intended to be smuggled. A supposed mattress, which was done up in baize, was found filled with blankets and a spread, all perfectly new and apparently intended for sale.

No one person or family could possibly make use of the goods in a score of years. They are said to be worth $7000 or $8000.

The seized baggage all belonged to women who declared that it consisted entirely of personal and household belongings. The customs officials are convinced that the goods were paid for by a dealer located in the North End and that the women, supposed to be immigrants, were merely his agents.

A Mistake.

The little cares that fretted me,
I lost them yesterday
Among the fields above the sea,
Among the winds at play.
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

That is to say, I thought, you know,
That I had lost them then.
The girl was only flirting, though,
And they came back again.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Old, Old Story.

Loving cups may be all right,
But with a silver spoon,
And two in a hammock beneath a tree—
Ah, then Dan Cupid likes to see
A good old loving spoon!
—Chicago News.

AN ODD PROPOSITION

Larry McLean Wants Twenty-Five Cents For Every Drink He Refuses

Cincinnati, Dec. 3.—Larry McLean, the big catcher of the Reds, will make a new proposition in regard to his salary if he is to play with the team next year. Larry says he will insist upon being paid at the rate of 25 cents for every drink he refuses during the coming year.

"I was made to sign a fool contract last year," said Larry, "and now I'm going to make a contract of my own. I was to lose $25 every time I touched a drink after my filing at Hot Springs. Now I want to be paid for every time I refuse to take a drink.

"I will pay for a man to go around with me, eat with me, sleep with me and be with me all the time to see that I don't take a drink and to get the correct number of times I am asked to take a drink in a day. This may sound foolish, but it is on the level."

CONFESSES HER SHAME

Woman Tells Why Her Wronged Husband Killed a Man

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 3.—In support of her husband's plea that he shot and killed Charles Gibson, a wealthy oil field operator, in a period of madness, induced by her confession that she had been intimate with Gibson, Mrs. Menlo Moore related her story to the jury before which Moore is being tried for Gibson's murder.

Mrs. Moore said that Gibson had pursued her persistently and told her that her husband was not true to her, and offered to prove it by taking her to a country place last July, where, he said, her husband had an appointment with a woman. She accompanied Gibson to the place, but her husband was not there.

Mrs. Moore testified that Gibson attacked her and thereafter forced her to continue the relations by threatening to expose her to her husband.

IF will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Crescent Avenue, i South Quincy, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14 abcdefghi		5 41	5 47	higfedeba	6 16 r
r 6 16 abcd		6 35	6 15	ihgfedeba	6 41 r
r 6 22 e		6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 09
r 6 40 abcf		7 00	7 45	higfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 12 abcd		7 35	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25 d		7 42	8 35	eb	8 51
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40 abcd		8 00	9 15	fedba	9 27 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12 abcd		8 30	10 15	higfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 09
			11 15	higfedeba	11 41 r
r 8 53 ad		9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10 abcde		9 30	12 15	higfedeba	12 47 r
r 10 04 a		10 30	12 45	Exp.	1 09
			1 15	fedeba	1 39 r
r 10 10 abcdefghi		10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04 a		11 20	2 15	ihgfedeba	2 41 r
r 11 24 abcdefgh		11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 01 a		12 30	3 15	higfedeba	3 40 r
r 12 19 abcdefghi		12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14 a		1 30	4 15	fedeba	4 37 r
r 1 39 abcde		1 50	4 45	d	5 00
2 04 a		2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 38 r
r 2 19 abcdefgh		2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04 a		3 20	5 25	deba	5 48 r
r 3 19 abcdefghi		3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04 a		4 20	5 55	fedeba	6 20 r
r 4 24 abcdefgh		4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 29 b		5 15	6 30	eba	6 50 r
r 5 14 abcdefg		5 55	7 40	fedeba	7 21 r
6 09 ae		6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04 b		7 20	8 15	fedeba	8 38 r
r 7 20 ae		7 45
r 8 07 abcdef		8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01 abe		9 20	10 20	fedeba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedeba	11 38 r
r 10 07 abcdef		10 30	11 30	a	11 58
r 11 20 abe		11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43 abe		8 03	6 30	bca	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedeba	9 14 r
r 8 45 bcdefghi		9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13 abe		9 33	10 15	ihgfedeba	10 42 r
9 21 a		9 47	12 15	ihgfedeba	12 42 r
10 25 ae		10 50	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedeba	1 42 r
r 11 16 abcdefghi		11 43	2 15	ihgfedeba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedeba	3 42 r
r 1 16 abcdefgh		1 43	4 27	eba	4 49 r
r 3 10 abe		3 30	5 15	ihgfedeba	5 42 r
r 4 16 abcdefghi		4 43	6 15	ihgfedeba	6 42 r
r 5 07 abe		5 27	7 00	eba	7 19 r
r 6 16 abcdefghi		6 43	8 15	ihgfedeba	8 41 r
7 45	Exp.	7 50
r 7 11 abcdefghi		7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11 abcdefghi		8 38	9 30	ihgfedeba	9 57 r
9 05 a		9 20	10 50	eba	11 04 r
r 10 42 abe		11 09

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.00, 4.09, 5.00, 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.0 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.3', 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.45, 5.15, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 8.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55,6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 6.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22,A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.60 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) (Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

ELECTION DAY

TO-MORROW

Vote NO

Do You Want Saloons and What They Stand For?

IF NOT

Vote NO

POLLS OPEN

From 6 A.M to 4 P.M.

Vote NO

Keep Up the Majority

Vote NO

NO-LICENSE

Is the Best Policy for Quincy

Vote NO

CITIZENS' NO-LICENSE LEAGUE

GEORGE A. SIDELINGER,

President.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

At 12 M. today.	23 degrees
December 5, 1909,	47 degrees
December 5, 1908,	43 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years,

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

R. E. Foy & Co.—Canned Beets
Gas Show
Proposals for Coal
Sheriff's Sale
Vote "No"
For Sale
To Let

BRIEFS

Paul J. Revere, W. R. C. 103 will elect officers at the regular meeting tomorrow afternoon in G. A. R. hall.

Isra M. Whittemore of the Quincy Yacht club has purchased the 18-foot catboat Alpha of H. O. Arthur.

The second whist party and dance in the series of K. & L. of H. will be given on Wednesday evening in Electa hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Tirrell entertained friends from Dorchester and Quincy at dinner on Sunday at their cosy little home at Manet beach.

Maple Lodge K. and L. of H. 313 will elect officers at its regular meeting on Wednesday evening at Electa hall, Johnson building.

Remember the "seven" party at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday. Ice cream, cake and candy will be on sale, and there will be a mystery table.

At the Saturday evening whist party held in Clan McGregor hall the souvenirs were awarded to C. L. Lewis, Mrs. E. Marnock, Mrs. W. Prout, Helen Gammie, William Caldwell and Mrs. A. J. Gould and the consolation to Edward Skinner.

GRAND MIX-UP.

Councilman John R. Richards was placed in an uncomfortable position on Saturday when his letter was published beneath the heading for a letter of Councilman Whiton, making it appear that the former endorsed Mayor Shea. Mr. Richards says it has not come to that. The mistake was discovered after a few Ledgers had been printed and the Whiton letter substituted for the Richards letter.

—Figures compiled by William C. Langdon, of the Russell Sage Foundation, show that the movement for the "safe and sane" commemoration of Independence Day last July Fourth decreased the number of casualties by between 45 and 50 per cent, and this result has been obtained from a campaign in educating the public extended over only two years and one that is, as yet, incomplete. But experience has proved that the movement for a "saner Fourth" can obtain results only by the substitution, for oldtime noise and slaughter, of some equally absorbing form of public amusement; and students of the problem are almost agreed that the pageant, with its educational value and dramatic appeal, is the substitute best fitted to prove effective. The pageant on a large scale in Boston, as a quickener of public interest in civic progress, was therefore, of interest apart from its immediate motive.—Boston Common.

MARRIAGES

PARLIN—McKEEVER—In East Weymouth, Dec. 3, by Rev. C. G. Horst of Wollaston, Mr. Frank Elson Parlin of Cambridge to Miss Marguerite L. McKeever of Weymouth.

DEATHS

WEBB—In Quincy, Dec. 4, Mrs. Eliza J., wife of James H. Webb, 213 Washington street, in her 66th year. Milford papers please copy.

CAMERON—In Quincy, Dec. 4, Mr. Daniel E. Cameron of 22 Bennington street, in his 44th year.

YOURELL—In East Weymouth, Dec. 3, Michael T., son of Mr. Michael Yourell.

HAVILAND—In Weymouth, Dec. 4, Mary A. Haviland, aged 2 years, 3 months and 19 days.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

SUPT. PARLIN MARRIED

Bride Was a Former Teacher At Quincy Point

A wedding which will be of great interest to Quincy people, took place in East Weymouth Saturday evening, at the home of Mrs. Margaret McKeever, 1162 Pleasant street. Her daughter, Miss Marguerite Lillian McKeever, formerly master's assistant at the Washington school, Quincy Point, was united in marriage to Frank Edson Parlin, former superintendent of schools in Quincy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the Wollaston Unitarian church, in the presence of only the immediate family. The couple were unattended in the ceremony. Mrs. Parlin has always lived in East Weymouth. After her graduation from the Bridgewater Normal school in 1907 she went to the Washington school as a teacher's assistant. In 1908 she was promoted to master's assistant. During the year 1909-10 she was given a leave of absence during which she travelled quite extensively.

Mr. Parlin has been married twice before and has one son by his first wife. His second wife died in Quincy on Nov. 17, 1909. Mr. Parlin moved to Cambridge where he is superintendent of schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Parlin will take no wedding trip now, since the duties of his office will keep the groom in Cambridge. They will be at home to friends at their residence in Cambridge after Jan. 15.

RECEPTION TO MAYOR.

Mayor Shea was given a reception Saturday night by the Iroquois club at their rooms in City Square. Daniel Driscoll, president of the club, presided, and spoke briefly as did also Mayor Shea, Councilman Whiton, William Kelley and Leo P. Noonan.

The Mayor also spoke at Betts hall at Quincy Point. At both he spoke largely on the financial situation and the statement that the city had been plunged into debt. If Mr. Hobbs wanted to tell the whole story he would publish the assets of the city. He then showed by quoting figures that the assets had increased from $3,167,548 on Dec. 31, 1909, to $3,367,548 on Dec. 1, 1910. The liabilities according to Mr. Hobbs are $1,905,295, leaving a balance in favor of the city of $1,462,253. To this should be added excess of unpaid taxes.

GRANITE MANUFACTURER DEAD.

Daniel E. Cameron, a well known South Quincy granite manufacturer, died early Sunday after a brief illness. Mr. Cameron was taken suddenly ill at his stone sheds on Nightingale avenue Saturday afternoon. He had been about the sheds all day and was apparently in his usual good health. Just after closing time he was seized with a fainting spell and then went into convulsions. The police ambulance was called and he was removed to his home, at 22 Bennington street, where he was attended by Dr. McLennan. He grew rapidly worse and died in a convulsion. Mr. Cameron was about 44 years of age, and leaves a widow and several children. He had been in the granite manufacturing business at South Quincy for several years.

FUNERAL OF PETER TURNER.

The funeral of Peter B. Turner was held Sunday afternoon from his late residence on Faxon avenue and was attended by many of the older citizens of the city. The services were conducted by Rev. Ellery C. Butler, assisted by Rev. Dr. Edwin N. Hardy. During the services several selections were sung by the Ladies Schubert quartette of Boston. The bearers were James T. Penniman, Harrison A Keith, James Maxim and William D. Glover. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes. After the services the body was taken to Forest Hills for cremation and was accompanied by a number of his old friends.

ELECTION EXTRAS.

The Daily Ledger will issue ELECTION EXTRAS early Tuesday evening with the returns of the City Election. Look for first extra before 6 P. M. Boys wanted at that hour.

IT will be for YOU

A Merry Christmas

IF You Read Daily

THE Quincy Ledger

Home Trade will Help Quincy

REPUBLICAN COUNCILMAN

Endorses the Administration of Mayor Shea

To the Voters of Ward 1:—

Gentlemen:—After six years' service in the City Council I this year declined to be a candidate for re-election.

I wish now to express to you my appreciation of your confidence and the honor you have conferred on me in electing me your councilman for so many years.

COUNCILMAN WHITON.

During the last three years I have had opportunity to observe the manner in which the business of the city has been transacted. I believe it a duty I owe you at this time to state that in my opinion the affairs of the city during those years have been conducted in accordance with strict and recognized business principles.

Some months ago, Mr. Hobbs, as President of the City Council, appointed a special committee, of which he was chairman, to investigate the finances of the city. The committee did so, and was unable to find a single act of commission or commission connected with Mayor Shea's administration it could criticise.

Early this season, in accordance with the provisions of the City Ordinances, a committee of the City Council was appointed by Mr. Hobbs to examine the accounts and management of the Woodward Fund and Property. The committee on October 17, 1910, reported, and in its report approved the manner in which that fund was being managed.

I believe Quincy is fortunate in having a man of Mayor Shea's recognized independence, ability and honesty, willing to serve it for another year as its chief executive.

I believe Mayor Shea worthy of being re-elected and trust the voters of Quincy will on next Tuesday elect him Mayor of our city.

Joseph L. Whiton, Jr.,
29 Whitney road.
December 1, 1910.
(Advertisement.)

OTHER MEETINGS.

At Christ church the rector spoke briefly on the importance of voting on the liquor question, and the necessity for voting No and increasing the overwhelming majority against the saloon.

The Swedish Baptist, Congregational and Methodist service had a very enthusiastic meeting at the Methodist church on Fort street at 3 in the afternoon. Rev. J. O. Backlund of Boston and Rev. J. E. Hamilton of Lowell were the speakers. Both men have been in close touch with the problems of the No-License workers, and have seen the effects of license and no-license in their communities. The addresses were powerful and were well received by a large and enthusiastic audience. A united male choir composed of singers from all three churches rendered appropriate music. The mixed choir of the Methodist church also furnished some excellent music.

At the Calvary Baptist church the pastor spoke on the No-License question before the evening sermon to young men. He urged all voters to go to the polls tomorrow and vote on the negative side of the liquor question. The city is No-License now and we want to keep it so, he said.

The evening service at the First Presbyterian church was a temperance meeting. E. G. Gay general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and Delcevare King, chairman of the Massachusetts No-License league, spoke on the great importance of keeping the saloon out of Quincy and illustrated the effect of license upon other cities by means of various striking examples.

The Swedish Lutheran church held a No-License service in the evening. Rev. Adolph A. Wilfred of Lynn addressed a lare and attentive audience on the live issues of the license question. Coming from a city which has had experience both with license and no-license, he spoke very forcibly on the evils of the saloon and the granting of all kind of liquor licenses.

The United Presbyterian church had a special temperance service Sunday evening. E. G. Gay told of the necessity of every man's voting and voting No. Lessons were drawn from the situation in Worcester under license and again under No-license. Delcevare King gave a very good address bearing upon facts and figures concerning towns and cities which have had experience with saloons and without them Chelsea, Worcester, etc. The remarks of both speakers were concise and to the point. The congregation was very well pleased with both. The choir furnished some very excellent music. Two anthems "Nearer my God to Thee" and "P eace be within Thy walls," were rendered very acceptably.

The Quincy Point church had special services in the evening. Ernest Mehaffey of Wollaston gave an organ recital at 7 o'clock. A large and appreciative audience was present to enoy the very excellent music which was rendered. This was followed by a temperance rally. Rev. C. P. Marshall, pastor of the church presided and introduced as speakers, Rev. Rufus B. Tobey and J. A. Sedgwick. The addresses were powerful and the audience was large and enthusiastic.

Rev. Charles B. Ames at the First church Sunday morning emphasized the importance of a large vote tomorrow in favor of no-license.

TODAY'S COURT.

Matti Olr was find $25 for carrying a dangerous weapon at Quincy.

Timothy J. Ryan was fined $10 for drunkenness at Quincy.

George B. French of Weymouth and Thomas C. McDonnell of Quincy were sentenced to three months in the house of correction for drunkenness.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The McGregors defeated the Charlestown team on Saturday 2 to 1. Other victors were the General Electrics ,and the Boston Americans.

* * *

A report of the game of the Fore River draftsmen will appear tomorrow.

* * *

The first soccer football games among the boys of the grammar schools were played Saturday afternoon on the Water street grounds. Two games were played. The first between the Washington and Coddington teams resulted in a victory for the Washington school boys by a score f 1 to 0. The goal was made by Marr. The line up of these two teams were Washington—Marr, Steitt, Glenn, Foster, Gurney, Burrell, Cain, Nevins, Greenhouse, McQuinn, Allen.

Coddington—Baker, Carlson, A. Gabriel, E. Gabriel, Rassmussen, Feltis, Levy, Chivery, Purpora, Mullen, Dewey, Johnson.

* * *

The game between the Lincoln and Massachusetts Fields school resulted in a tie. The line up of the Lincoln school team was: Eastman, Martin, A. Vergobbi, Jackson, McIntyre, C. Vergobbi, Restelli, Thompson, McLoud, McDonald, LeCount.

Cradle Song.

Sailing in a cradle song
To Lullaby Land, Lullaby Land,
The sandman steers us safe along
With steady hand, with steady hand.

Baby is the first to spy
The Lullaby shore, the Lullaby shore.
The sandman winks a knowing eye
And plies his oar, and plies his oar.

Now we've reached the Lullaby Land,
Where dream trees grow, where dream trees grow,
And shadow people, hand in hand,
Come and go, come and go—
Sh-sh-sh!
—Philadelphia North American

ELECTION EXTRAS.

The Daily Ledger will issue ELECTION EXTRAS early Tuesday evening with the returns of the City Election. Look for first extra before 6 P. M. Boys wanted at that hour.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Best Bargain ever offered in Wollaston, 9 rooms, all improvements, 5 min. to station. Sacrifice $2500. Also to rent, single house, 6 rooms, improvements. $18.00. Nice 4 room flat, improvements, for $15.00. G. A. TOWNSEND, 86 Safford Street. Dec. 5-1t

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent. $12. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor. 15 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET—At 278 Whitwell street a flat of 5 rooms on second floor. All iprovements. Read Jan. 1. Apply to 172 Glendale road, Quincy. Dec. 2-6t Dec. 2-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-2 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Nov. 14-18t

TO LET—New house, 7 rooms, all modern conveniences. Large garden. Edison Park street. Apply to Williams the Jeweler, 1473 Hancock street. Nov. 19-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET—Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anteooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 283 | QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 6, 1910 | PRICE TWO CENTS

INCREASED PROPOSED FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEERS

City Council Hold a Short Session and Transact But Little Business

Councilman Whiton Has a New Job

The session of the City Council Monday evening was short and sweet. Political rallies in several wards of the city making the members of the Council anxious to get away. Councilman McDevitt, Sandberg and Woodward were absent.

JURORS DRAWN.

A venire was received for the drawing of traverse jurors. The Mayor City Clerk and Councilman Whiton drew the following: John J. McLaughlin, William H. Teasdale, Francis J. Hanahan, Joseph L. Whiton, Jr., John A. Woodsen and John W. Ryan. When Councilman Whiton drew his own name from the box and read it there was an outburst of laughter on the part of the councilmen and audience.

SCHOOL TRANSFERS.

A communication was received from the School Committee asking for the following transfers: $209.13 received for tuition, and sale of books and supplies to books and supplies; $280 for janitors to books and supplies; $50 from salaries to transportation, and the balance of the salaries account to books and supplies. Referred to Finance committee.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were received as follows:

From the Telephone Co., for attachments on Brooks street, Roberts street and Washington court. Referred to Committee on Streets.

From the Electric Light Co., for a location for poles on Rogers street, Warren avenue, Cummings avenue, Old Colony street, and High street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

STREET REPORTS.

The Committee on Streets reported the following orders: :

For a public hearing, Dec. 12 on petitions of the Street Railway for a location for poles; petitions of the Telephone Co. for attachments, location for poles and underground conduits; and of the Electric Light Co., for a location for poles. Order adopted.

An order granting the Telephone Co attachments on West Squantum street, Rawson road, Merrymount road and West Elm avenue. Ordered to a second reading.

An order granting the Telephone Co a location for poles on Cottage avenue and Hancock street. Ordered to a second reading.

An order granting the Electric Light Co. a location for poles on Highland avenue and Summer street. Ordered to a second reading.

An order granting the Gas Co. permission to lay mains on West Squantum street and Greenwood avenue. Ordered to a second reading.

MINOR LICENSES.

The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting several minor licenses. Adopted.

ENGINEERS' SALARIES.

Councilman Whiton offered an order amending the Fire Department ordinance so as to increase the salary of the Assistant Engineers from $150 per year to $500 per year. Referred to Committees on Finance and Fire Department.

Councilman Cantfill offered an order for a light on Quarry street. Referred to the Executive.

On motion of Councilman Bryant, Rule 1 was suspended, and it was voted when the Council adjourn it be until Monday, Dec. 12.

Adjourned at 7.50 until Dec. 12.

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

¶ We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Pork to Roast	12c
Leg Loin Lamb	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb	8c
Short Leg Lamb.	14c
Lamb Chop	15c
Pork Chop	14c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c,	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Regular 28c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Face Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast	12 1-2--14
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25c
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27
Baldwin Apples only	25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine	20c

¶ Remember all our goods are guaranteed.
¶ Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.
¶ Don't forget our Grocery Department.

A CLOSER CONTEST IS INDICATED TODAY

But Mayor Shea Is Expected to be Reelected by Several Hundred Majority over R. W. Hobbs

The Usual Large Majority Against License Is Also Expected

WHAT WILL BE THE MAJORITY?

It is expected that about 4,800 votes will be cast at the election today and that both of the Mayoralty candidates receive over 2,000, so the result may be close.

In the three years William T. Shea has been a candidate his totals have been 2,620, 3,076 and 2,785, but none of his friends are expecting 3,000 this year. They do however expect over 2,500.

In 1907 Walter E. Piper the Republican candidate received 2,088. A year later Eugene Stone received 1,966, and last year Walter F. Nichols had 1,871, a loss of about 100 a year. It is expected by the Republicans however that the tide has turned and that Ralph W. Hobbs may receive 2,500 or more votes.

VOTE OF 1909.

Last year Mayor Shea was reelected by a plurality of 914 as follows:

	Shea.	Nichols.	Norton.
Ward One, Pre. 1,	233	211	3
Ward One, Pre. 2,	320	199	5
Ward Two, Pre. 1,	172	100	3
Ward Two, Pre. 2,	303	130	5
Ward Three, Pre. 1,	308	159	5
Ward Three, Pre. 2,	179	187	11
Ward Four, Pre. 1,	338	70	5
Ward Four, Pre. 2,	299	114	10
Ward Five, Pre. 1,	491	250	7
Ward Five, Pre. 2,	138	190	2
Ward Six, Pre. 1,	168	124	4
Ward Six, Pre. 2,	136	137	7
	2785	1871	67

There is not much of a contest for Councilmen at large, Thomas J. McGrath being the only opposition to the five Republicans. He is looking for many votes from dissatisfied Republicans and his total may surprise the voters. He realizes however that he has very little chance of winning.

It is confidently expected that Dr. Hunting will be reelected at large on the School Committee.

Although the No-License people have not conducted as active a campaign as usual it is expected that the "No" majority will be nearly as large as usual.

WARD ONE.

The vote of the Quincy ward is smaller than at the State election, but a large vote is being cast as will be seen by these figures:

	Pre. 1.	Pre. 2.
7 o'clock,	88	109
8 o'clock,	156	191
9 o'clock,	216	244
10 o'clock,	260	287
11 o'slock	294	334
12 o'clock	322	360
1 o'clock	369	402

The total vote of the ward at the last City election was 972.

Only three or four carriages are in use in this ward to get out the voters, and the election is proceeding very quietly.

The Daily Ledger will issue Election Extras tonight before 6 o'clock.

WARD TWO.

The voting at the Quincy Point ward was brisk early in the forenoon. At precinct one the regular officers were in charge with the exception of Mathew L. Kane. His place was taken by William Delory. The bulk of the morning vote came during the first hour when the squad of the Fore River men cast their ballots on the way to work. At 7 o'clock 69 votes had been cast, at 8 o'clock, 91; at 9 o'clock, 128; and at 10 o'clock, 159.

In precinct two the vote was not quite as heavy as at the State election but was pretty brisk up to 9 o'clock. William Askew cast the first vote just at 6. During the first hour 130 votes were registered, at 8 there were 200 and at 9 o'clock 230. Th regular officers were in charge of the polls. The vote at the State election outstripped any vote of previous years and the vote this morning was larger than usual. At 10 o'clock the indicator registered 250 in the precinct two machine and 159 were registered by that of the other precinct making the total 409 out of 852.

WARD THREE.

The voting was much slower in the South Quincy ward than at the State election during the first part of the forenoon. In Precinct 2 three were 60 votes cast during the first hour. William Pratt was the first to vote as at the State election. At 8 o'clock 110 votes were registered and at 9 there were 140.

The ballot box which is a new one gave the officials a little trouble early in the morning. At one time it registered three votes when one was cast.

At precinct one the ballot box was working very poorly. The official was obliged to try automobile tactics on the crank to get the ballot into the box, and the top had to be taken off altogether. The vote was a little better than in the other precinct.

At 7 o'clock 101 had voted, at 8 o'clock 162, and at 9 o'clock 208. Walter H. Dunbar, one of the officials, was the first to vote. Councilman Bolster cast his vote at 9 o'clock. The usual number of carriages and autos were doing business at both polling stations.

WARD FOUR.

The West Quincy ward got out an average vote during the forenoon and the usual heavy vote came during the noon hour. The first precinct vote was ahead of that at the State election up to 10 o'clock, and the State vote was larger than the ordinary. At 7 o'clock 117 votes were cast, which is 8 ahead of the vote at the State election. At 8 and 9 the gain was greater and at 10 o'clock 235 votes were registered. Mayor Shea feels confident of carrying his own ward by a large majority and

(Continued on Page 8.)

ELECTION EXTRAS.

The Daily Ledger will issue ELECTION EXTRAS early Tuesday evening with the returns of the City Election. Look for first extra before 6 P. M. Boys wanted at that hour.

ALPHA HALL, QUINCY

THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 8

JOHN THOMAS CONCERT CO.

JOHN THOMAS, Humorist
Will be assisted by
ANNIE WEBSTER THOMAS, Violin Virtuoso
ALICE FORTIN, Pianist

"JOHN THOMAS has a mission in life, and that mission is TO MAKE OTHER PEOPLE HAPPY. He goes through this good old world of ours making people laugh, and they are better for it. He carries 'sunshine' with him wherever he goes, and distributes it freely."

TICKETS 35 AND 50 CENTS
On sale at Morrish's Drug Store, corner Hancock and Granite Streets Dec. 5-4t

POTATOES
Wholesale and Retail
ORDERS DELIVERED
Retail 75c per bushel
1054 Hancock St. Tel. 356-3 Quincy
Dec. 5-3t

SUDDEN DEATH OF PROMINENT CITIZEN

Elisha Packard, the ex-Councilman, Taken Ill on Train from Boston

Grand Army Man, Churchman, Mason and Odd Fellow

Ex-Councilman Elisha Packard, one of Quincy's prominent citizens, passed away at his home on Elm street Monday evening, aged 67 years. Mr. Packard's death was sudden and unexpected. He was first taken ill on the train from Boston. He left Boston for Quincy at 4.15 and took a seat near the front end of one of the passenger cars. On the way out passengers in the rear noticed him lying back in his seat in a peculiar position and thought him asleep. One lady who knew him went forward and was surprised to find him unconscious.

A physician who happened to be on the train was called by the conductor. The physician said it had the appearance of a case of apoplexy, and that he probably had not long to live. When Quincy was reached he was put into a carriage and taken to his home, where he was attended by his family physician, but soon passed away.

Mr. Packard was born in Quincy, June 8, 1844, and always made Quincy his home. He had seen his native place grow from a small country town to a thriving city. He always took great pride in Quincy and was first and foremost in any movement that sought to improve the condition in any way. His education was obtained in the public schools, and in 1862 when the call came for defenders of the old flag, although but 18 years of age, he promptly offered his life to his country. He enlisted in Co. H of the 44th Massachusetts Infantry, and at the expiration of his term of enlistment reenlisted in Co. B of the 60th Regiment for 100 days.

When peace was declared he entered the manufactory of A. B. Packard Co., later becoming one of the partners in the company where he remained up to a few years ago.

Politically he was an Independent Republican, and was an earnest worker for the interests of that party. He served the city as Councilman at large in 1897, and in 1898, 1899 and 1900 as Councilman from Ward One. While in the City Council he served on such important committees as Finance and Public Buildings. He was the author of the curfew law which is now in the public eye. He also introduced orders for the widening of Hancock street from School street to Music hall and at the corner of Granite and Hancock street, the rebuilding of Washington street and Miller Stile road bridge, and free street railway transfers. He was always a firm advocate of good roads, sidewalks and substantial public buildings. In fact one of the most active Councilmen Quincy ever had.

He was at one time a candidate in the caucuses for the Mayoralty nomination.

He was a fluent writer and often contributed articles to the Daily Ledger on local affairs. He was always an optimist.

He has been prominently identified with Christ church, serving for many years as warden and vestryman and at times during the absence of the rector read the burial ritual at children's funerals. Although of late he declined to hold office in the church he has still retained his interest in church affairs, preferring to leave the work to younger members of the church.

In Grand Army circles he has been prominent, and anything that the veterans desired had his earnest and hearty support. He was a member of Paul Revere Post 88, G A. R., and has served as its junior vice commander. He is also a member of Francis L. Souther camp, Sons of Veterans, and an honorary member of John A. Boyd camp, U. S. W. V.

He was one of the oldest members of Rural lodge, having been admitted March 14, 1867. He was a member of Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows since 1884. He was also a member of the Packard family association of which he was the president, and he recently wrote an interesting history of the family which he read at a meeting of the association. He leaves a widow, a daughter who is married and lived with him, and a son Dr. Abner Packard.

☞Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

R. E. FOY & CO.

MARKET GROCERY

You will be Delighted with Our Canned Beets

They are sweet and tender without the woody fibre usually found in beets and you cannot tell them from fresh pulled beets from the garden.

The can is chuck full of little beets that are all ready for the table as soon as opened.

Red Lily Brand 2 lb. can 15 cts
Doz. $1.65

R. E. FOY & CO.
Water cor. Quincy Street
Dec. 5-2t

PHONE 117

New Up to Date Furniture Store

At 1601 Hancock Street

THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.

It will pay you to visit our new up-to-date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture, Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.

CASH or CREDIT

Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time

Dec. 1 6t

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

HISTORIC QUINCY.

City of Presidents Has Much Of Interest

Old historic Quincy settled in 1625 has much of interest to visitors. When Braintree was incorporated in 1640, the territory now known as Quincy, was a part. In 1792 Quincy became an independent town, and in 1888 was incorporated as a city.

Quincy was named in honor of Col. John Quincy, descendant in the third generation from Edmund, 2d, who settled in Quincy, in 1634; grand-father of Abigail (Smith) Adams, the wife and mother of a President of the United States.

The city includes Wollaston, Atlantic, Quincy Point, South Quincy, West Quincy, Montclair, Norfolk Downs, Wollaston Park, Squantum, Houghs Neck, Adams Shore, Germantown and Quincy Neck, comprising in all over 16 square miles, of which 2,530 acres are in public parks.

Birthplaces of Presidents.

Birthplace of John Adams, the first Vice President and second President of the United States, Franklin street, Quincy Adams house built in 1681 and restored in 1897 by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. Open to public. Admission charged.

Birthplace of John Quincy Adams, the sixth President of the United States, junction of Franklin street, Presidents road and Independence avenue. Built 1716, restored 1896 by the Quincy Historical Society. Open to public afternoons from 2 to 5. Admission charged.

Abigail Adams Cairn.

Penns Hill, erecteld June 17, 1896, by Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to the memory of Abigail Adams, who with her son, John Quincy, from the spot watched the smoke of battle at Bunker Hill. Cairn composed of many historic stones, the corner stone being part of the old sleeper of first railroad in United States which ran from Quincy quarries to tide water, Neponset river.

Burial Place of Presidents.

First Congregational Church (Unitarian) at Quincy centre. In auditorium each side of high pulpit, are mural monuments, to the memory of John Adams, the second president, and John Quincy Adams, the sixth president of the United States, and their wives. The funeral of John Quincy Adams was held in this church. Beneath the entrance is the Adams tomb reached by stairways from the vestibule. Near the tomb is the box in which was brought from Washington the body of John Quincy Adams, also the old town hearse. Admission may be secured on application to W. E Dewhurst, sexton, 3 Maple street. A fee is asked for attendance, etc.

Hancock Cemetery.

Hancock cemetery across the street from First church contains many old stones. Among the old graves are those of Henry Adams founder of the Adams family who died Oct. 5, 1646; Rev. William Thompson, 1st pastor over the Braintree church who died Dec. 10, 1666; Rev. Henry Flint who died Oct. 11, 1668; Rev. John Hancock father of the Patriot who died May 1 1744, and many other notable people.

John Hancock Birthplace.

Adams street, junction of Dimmick and Hancock streets. A bronze tablet has been placed by the City of Quincy on Adams Academy to mark the place where the house stood in which the patriot John Hancock, the bold signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born.

Presidents Adams Mansion.

Adams street, corner Newport avenue, Quincy. Residence of President John Adams and contains many family relics. Occupied by descendants Not open to public.

Presidents Lane.

Now Goffe street, leading from Adams street, near Mansion. Opened by John Adams to drive his cows to pasture.

Dorothy Q. House.

Hancock street, corner Butler road, Quincy, Old Quincy homestead in which Dorothy Q was born. Owned by the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames. Has quaint old paper on parlor put on for wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy; also secret chamber and other interesting features. Open free to the public on Saturdays, from 11 A. M., until 4 P. M Other days admission charged.

Myles Standish Cairn.

Squantum heights, erected in 1895 by the Daughters of the Revolution of Massachusetts, in memory of Captain Myles Standish and his men of Plymouth Colony, who landed here Sept 30, 1621, guided by the Indian Tisquantum.

Myles Standish Spring.

On the beach to the left and back of Squantum Inn. Spring of fresh cold water, where Standish and his party breakfasted and thence started to explore the country around Boston Bay

Squaw Rock.

Pile of rock, on which is a perfect head of a squaw, frequently mentioned in early Squantum history. Near by is also Sachem's Knoll.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Subject Was Religious Ideals In Education

The fourth meeting of the forum was held in the assembly hall of All Soul's church, Braintree, Sunday afternoon at 3.30. The audience was addressed by Theodore C. Williams, who spoke on "Religious ideals in education." Mr. Williams was at one time head master of the Roxbury Latin school and is widely known by his poetical translation of the Aeneid of Virgil which is a standard work.

It will readily be understood that the speaker's chosen subject could only be given a passing glance in the short time allotted, but he gave a very scholarly treatment of his theme, and held the close attention of his hearers. Mr Williams is possessed of a generous fund of dry humor and his witty sallies more than once called forth laughter from the audience. He gave utterance to some rather radical or rather unusual views on education, and enabled his hearers to get a view of the subject from a little different angle than perhaps they had thought of before.

The address was received with applause and the usual opportunity was given any hwo cared to ask the speaker questions concerning his remarks. Mr. Williams answered all of them at length, stating that he was no oracle, but rather a bit of a philosopher.

A financial report showing the receipts and disbursements of the money received in the collections was read by the pastor of the church, Rev. D. Roy Freeman. While the report showed a satisfactory condition of the treasury, Mr. Freeman reminded the people that the expenses for January would be heavy and expressed the hope that the free will offerings would not fall below the standard already established.

Next Sunday Geo. B. Hugo will speak on "The saloon from a liquor dealer's point of view." This will no doubt prove to be a very interesting meeting, because Mr. Hugo although a liquor dealer himself, is a strenuous and practical worker in the temperance cause.

CORRECT STATIONERY.

Correct stationery is one of the signs of a well bred woman, as all will agree, for any person receiving a note from a total stranger judges according to the writing paper used, and if any thought of future acquaintance is given, one is prejudiced for or against. Among women, one knows already, freak stationery is always taken as an evidence of bad taste, aside from the etiquette.

Just as much thought should be given to the selection of correspondence paper as is necessary when buying a hat. Indeed, many of the same elements are contained in the former—for example, size, shape and color. Extremes must be avoided.

Two sizes of paper should be in everyone's desk—large sheets, for letters, and small "billet," it is called, for formal notes. The latter is the smallest of the several sizes made for women, and is reserved exclusively for invitations, acknowledgments of the same or other formal comunications. It varies little, if at all, from year to year, and is six and a quarter inches long by four wide.

Square envelopes are undoubtedly always best for all social correspondence. Long ones, which were a fad a few years ago, have been again displaced, as they should be, for oblong is exclusively for business use; square rarely, if ever, is so employed. The use of the latter, then, in social writing is to keep business and social matters divided even to the eye.

Vivid colors in writing paper are never permissible, although ocasionally employed. But a woman choosing it will always be rated as "freakish."

Tints, any color just off white, may always be used. Gray and blue undoubtedly are colors sanctioned by good taste and etiquette. White is mart now only in rough finished linen, and indeed, though smooth finish is entirely good form, rough in all paper is smarter.

Colored inks must be avoided. Purple will always be used, but it is a faddy, and not as conventional as black or green that is so dark it appears black.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove's signature
on box. 25c

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Racing For the Honest Lawyer In a Town In Denmark.

In telling of his boyhood home in Denmark, "The Old Town," Jacob A. Riis says that he does not remember that there were at any time more than two lawyers in the place. One was good, the other bad—not a bad lawyer perhaps, but reputed to be tricky, whereas the other was known to be honor itself.

It is therefore perhaps the best character I can give my people when I record the fact, writes Mr. Riis, that when two farmers quarreled, each sure that he was right, they made haste to hitch up to get first to the honest lawyer, and usually that was the end of the quarrel, for the last in the race was willing to make peace.

They used to tell of two well to do neighbors who had fallen out over a line fence and started simultaneously for town. Both had good teams, and they were well matched in the race.

For half an hour they drove silently alongside, each on his own side of the road, grimly urging on their horses, but neither gaining a length. At last as the lights of the town came into sight, for it was evening, a trace broke on one of the rigs, and the horses stopped. The other team whirled away in a cloud of dust.

"Hans," the beaten one called after him, and he halted and looked back, "are you going after Lawyer ——?" naming the square one.

"I am that!" came back.

"Then let's go back. I'm beat." And back home they went and made it up.

Things That Kerosene Will Do.

Kerosene is an unpleasantly odorous commodity, but it has many uses that the housekeeper should know of. Here are some of them:

A little kerosene rubbed over the nickel on the kitchen range will clean it better than any metal polish and leave no scratches.

Use kerosene with your silver polish. The silver will clean much easier.

Apply kerosene to a burn if the skin is not broken. It will take the fire out and give relief.

Try cleaning finger marks or other dirt spots on paint with a little kerosene. It will remove the dirt and not injure the paint like soap.

Use a little kerosene on a clean cloth to wipe off the top of the mop boards. It will not disfigure the wall paper like soap and water.

Add a few drops of kerosene to the water in which you wash your windows. It will make them look clear and bright.

If your sink gets rusty wipe it over with kerosene.

Clean the zinc under the stove with kerosene and note the result.

Bernhardt Laughs at Doctors.

Sarah Bernhardt, the great actress, says she preserves her youthfulness by doing just exactly the opposite of what her doctor tells her to do. When asked how she preserved her strength and youthful appearance she said: "Probably it is because I am always working. I go in for no diet. I eat just what I like—just what I feel I want to. And, yes, above all, I sleep a great deal—oh, ever so much! I don't usually get up early. I take all the sleep I want. I am never ill. I always feel fit, and if ever a doctor tells me to do anything I never do it. Today I was busy all the morning with my secretary. One hundred and forty-eight letters to read and answer—yes, 148. I thought I should never finish. Oh, what a temper I was in—a dreadful temper! It's a happy thing you didn't see me this morning."

A Born Diplomat.

"Splendid!" exclaimed the old colonel as C company passed the saluting base.

"Did you hear wot ole nasty face ses?" No. 3 of the front rank asked No. 4.

"Stand fast after parade, No. 4, for talking in the ranks!" snapped a sergeant from near by.

"It wasn't me talkin'!" muttered No. 4.

"You'd better not git two on us in trouble," advised No. 3 in a whisper.

"Talking while marching past!" echoed the adjutant. "What on earth did you find to talk about then?"

"As we was passing the salutin' base," explained No. 4, "the colonel ses, 'Splendid!' 'Yes,' I ses to meself, 'an' you've got the smartest officer in the British army to thank for makin' us splendid, and that's our adjutant.'"

"Er—sergeant, send the man away and don't bring such frivolous complaints before me again," snapped the adjutant.—London Answers.

A Venetian Fashion.

Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today. "Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Boulting in "Woman in Italy," "ladies went though the mud and filth on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became heightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A curiosity in banquets is mentioned by the same writer. It was a wedding feast at Milan and consisted of fifteen courses, "each being introduced by living specimens of the animals that composed it."

Modernity.

"Some are so intensely modern that they prefer a Corot to a Rembrandt."

"If it's a better hill climber I don't blame 'em. Me for the French car every time."—London Punch.

The Nameless Yacht

A Case of Mystery of the Sea

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

There have been two cases of ships discovered in good condition, but deserted by their crews. One was found on the open sea under sail, the other at anchor on a coast. These two are all that thus far have been recorded.

It remains for me to record a third. I am a gentleman of leisure given to yachting. I am fond of cruising on my yacht either with a party of friends or a single male companion. During the last season I started from the New York Yacht club's dock at New York for a cruise eastward along the coast. I put in at several places on the route—New London, Marblehead, Portland and other ports—for fresh table supplies, then steamed on, intending to enter the St. Lawrence river and visit the Thousand islands.

We met a number of yachts, for it was in the season, and yachtsmen are prone in hot weather to occupy the cooler regions of the northeastern coast. One evening while steaming across one of those beautiful bays that indent the rocky coast of Maine we saw near the shore a steam yacht riding at anchor within a cable's length of the shore.

Alec Wingate was with me on this cruise. Alec was the son of a British baronet and had domestic troubles. He had married the daughter of a colonel in the English army, a very beautiful girl, who, after a couple of years of married life during which she and her husband had lived very happily together, suddenly disappeared. Whether she had been kidnaped or had gone off with a lover no one could tell. There was no evidence, at least none that any one had ever got hold of, to point in either of these directions. The only other theory was that she had been murdered. Wingate had hunted for her all over the world and had come to America for the purpose. I had met him and, having taken a liking to him, begged him to divert his mind from his loss by going on a cruise with me.

Our course lay near enough to the anchored yacht to enable us to see with glasses what she was; that is, we could have seen any flags, people or other distinguishing marks. But there were neither people nor flags. She was a steamer yacht, but no smoke was being emitted from her stack. Her stern was at one time toward us, and what was my astonishment to see no name on her.

We slowed up, expecting every minute to see some one appear on the deck, but after waiting half an hour without any one appearing it began to look as if either a party had gone ashore from her for some purpose or she had been deserted. The first of these theories was not very likely correct. In the first place at least one member of the crew would have been left in charge, and in the second this was a perfectly wild coast, and there could be no object for any party to go ashore unless for water.

I gave orders to steam up alongside the nameless yacht. The hour was about 7 in the evening, and a fine dinner was set in the cabin. A fire was burning in the galley. Every boat belonging to the yacht was in its place. In the lockers in the after part of the vessel were articles of male and female wearing apparel, the latter indicating that ladies had been aboard.

And here the mystery changes from those sea secrets I have mentioned, or, rather, another mystery is added. Alec Wingate recognized a dress contained in a rosewood locker as one that had belonged to his wife. He at once became wild with varying emotions. There was pleasure at this evidence that his wife at least had been recently alive. There was bitterness lest she might have been living on this yacht with a paramour. There was fear lest though she had so recently lived, she had met with some misfortune.

To allay this excitement I told Wingate that he might easily be mistaken in the dress. But he said that it was the one in which he had most liked to see his wife arrayed and the only one of her wardrobe that he would surely recognize.

We went through the yacht from stem to stern looking for some explanation of the mystery. Every stateroom, every receptacle, was ransacked. The firebox door stood partly open, and I looked in to see if materials had been put in to light a new fire. The old fire was still smoldering. The only thing we discovered was that the yacht had undoubtedly been made in England. All the maker's marks on the finishing and furniture were English. The upholstery had been purchased of a well known upholsterer in London.

Having satisfied ourselves that there was no one aboard, we left "the nameless" and returned to our own vessel. I induced Wingate to sit down to dinner—he would eat nothing—and discuss the matter. He wanted to go ashore the next day and search the coast. This seemed to me a useless expenditure of time. I had come out for a cruise and did not like the prospect of waiting while a search party beat the beach in a desolate country where there was nothing but wild moose or caribou. But Wingate suggested that the party on "the nameless" might have gone ashore for hunting purposes, and I at last consented that the next day he might take three of the crew, go ashore and spend twelve hours in looking for the deserters of the yacht.

But overnight something occurred to render this inadvisable. We set a light on "the nameless" and left one man to watch on our own vessel, which was all that was necessary since we were at anchor in a small bay in good weather. One man watched till eight bells, midnight, when another man took his place. Wingate wished me to put a man on "the nameless," and I did.

At two bells in the morning Wingate, who had slept little during the night, looked out of the porthole in his stateroom for the yacht. Not seeing her and supposing that he was not on the right side to see her, he got up and went on deck. "The nameless" was nowhere to be seen. He came to my room to announce the fact. I asked him what the watch reported about the disappearance, and he said that he had found the man sound asleep.

Putting on a bath robe, I went on deck. The first watch said that "the nameless" was in position when he was relieved, so she must have pulled out during the second watch. I asked if anything was known of the man who had been stationed on her, but was told that he had neither been heard of nor seen since he had been put aboard. He had disappeared with the mysterious vessel.

Among my crew there were several ignorant, superstitious men—sailors of low rating—who were paralyzed with terror. They rushed without orders to pull up the anchor, but I stopped them, though I feared they were going to brain me with capstain bars they had taken up. I didn't propose to take any action till I had received further information and had consulted with my guest. Alec Wingate. One of my men said that during the night he thought he heard the sound of oars.

Wingate was very much agitated over this part of the mystery. Indeed, he seemed more disturbed at the disappearance than he had been at the discovery of the yacht. I suggested that he make a reconnoitering trip ashore, as had been intended, but with a different purpose. He might find traces of people having been there. He followed my advice, but the keenest eye in the party could discover no indications of human beings. For my part I believed "the nameless" had been taken possession of by shore desperadoes; that they had been in hiding somewhere near by; had gone aboard in the night, surprised the man on watch, killed him and towed the yacht out of our hearing with muffled oars; then they had lighted the fires and steamed away. There was nothing against this theory except the fact of Wingate's having found one of his wife's dresses aboard. But I took no stock in this, for Wingate had suffered so much at her loss that probably his mind had become afflicted and he had himself created the remembrance of this dress.

After consultation with Wingate, whom I told that I would adopt any course he wished, it was determined that we get up the anchor immediately and go out to the open sea with a view to discovering if "the nameless" was in sight. This we did, running directly southeast in a direct line from the coast, but notwithstanding that we had a clean sweep either way and excellent glasses we saw nothing of her. I believed she had got too much start, but nearly all of my crew by this time considered her a phantom.

Nor did we afterward hear anything of her, though we spoke every vessel we met, asking if she had seen her. One vessel described her pretty well, but the yacht observed was the Acadia, with the name painted on her stern. We completed our voyage without any other information.

But the mystery of "the nameless" was destined to be solved. During the winter Wingate got wind of his wife's being in Montreal. He went there and found her.

Though the story of her disappearance was never made entirely clear to me, the mystery of the nameless yacht was. To keep Mrs. Wingate from testifying in litigation where British people in high life were concerned she had been kidnaped and kept at sea in a yacht. Her kidnaper while on the New England coast saw by a New York social paper that her husband had embarked on a cruise with me. As soon as my yacht appeared his sailing master recognized her. At the time a leak in the boilers was being repaired, and there was no heat in the firebox, so the yacht could not steam away.

The kidnaper, supposing Wingate knew that his wife was on the Acadia and that he was on her track, ordered a paint brush to be run over her painting.

An idea occurred to him. There was at the time no one aboard but himself, an engineer and his captive. He drugged the captive, carried her into the firebox and got in there with her. The engineer got in also, and the party, two on one side of the door and one on the other, were hidden from view of any one looking straight into the box, especially as there was very little light there. They all stayed in this concealment until we left the yacht and returned there when we put our watch aboard. During the night they surprised, gagged and tied him; then, having cut the cable, the two men got in the dingey and with muffled oars pulled out of hearing. To get up steam and speed away was the next move. The Acadia, being one of the fastest English yachts, was soon at a safe distance.

The Change of a Word.

"You wouldn't think there'd be enough difference between the definite and the indefinite article to matter much, would you?" said a woman who writes for a living. "I made a lifelong enemy of a woman once just by writing 'the' where I meant 'a.' It was an account of her wedding I was doing. I said something about the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's aunt, and then I added that there were present 'only the few friends of the family.' The bride never got over that 'the' in front of few. It happened five years ago, and when my name is mentioned she still froths at the mouth."—Washington Post.

Beaver Tales.

The Indians say that if a beaver sent out from the parents' lodge fails to find a mate he is set to repair the dam. If he fails a second time he is banished.

An Arab writer has the same story. He tells us that those who buy beaver skins can distinguish between the skins of masters and slaves. The latter have the hair of the head rubbed off because they have to pound the wood for their masters' food and do it with their heads.

SUNNY MONDAY

The use of Sunny Monday laundry soap means economy; economy in the saving of clothes—saving of time—saving of labor. Sunny Monday is a white soap which contains no rosin. It will double the life of your clothes, and one bar of it will go as far as two bars of any ordinary yellow laundry soap.

Ask your grocer for Sunny Monday.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
CHICAGO

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON				FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston		Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
5 14	abdefghi	5 41		5 47	ihgfedeba	6 16	r
6 16	abcei	6 35		6 15	ihgfedeba	6 41	r
6 32	e	6 47		6 45	Exp.	7 00
6 40	abef	7 00		7 15	hgfedeba	7 41	r
7 12	abcd	7 33		7 45	a	8 00
7 15	d	7 32		8 37	eb	8 51
7 32	Exp.	7 47		8 45	a	9 00
7 40	abcd	8 09		9 15	fedba	9 57	r
8 05	Exp.	8 20		9 45	a	10 00
8 12	abcd	8 30		10 15	ihgfedeba	10 41	r
8 31	Exp.	8 47		10 45	Exp.	11 00
				11 15	hgfedeba	11 41	r
8 51	ad	9 08		11 45	a	12 00
9 10	abcde	9 30		12 15	hgfedeba	12 47	r
10 04	a	10 10		12 45	Exp.	1 10
				1 15	fedeba	1 39	r
10 19	abcdefghi	10 15		1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20		2 15	ihgfedeba	2 41	r
11 24	abcdefgh	11 50		2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20		3 15	hgfedeba	3 40	r
12 19	abcdefghi	12 45		3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30		4 15	fedeba	4 37	r
1 19	abcde	1 40		4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20		5 12	Exp.	5 28	r
2 19	abcdefgh	2 45		5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20		5 25	deba	5 48	r
3 19	abcdefghi	3 45		5 40	Exp.	5 55	r
4 01	a	4 20		5 55	fedeba	6 19	r
4 24	abcdefgh	4 50		6 12	Exp.	6 27	r
4 39	b	5 15		6 30	ceba	6 50	r
5 21	abcdefg	5 55		7 00	fedeba	7 21	r
6 09	ae	6 27		7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 30		8 15	fedeba	8 38	r
7 30	ae	7 45
8 07	abcdef	8 30		9 30	dba	9 51	r
9 01	abc	9 20		10 20	fedeba	10 43	r
				11 15	fedeba	11 38	r
10 07	abcdef	10 30		11 30	a	11 48
11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

7 43	abc	8 03		6 30	ba	6 49	r
8 30	Exp.	8 45		8 45	ihgfedeba	5 14	r
8 45	bedefghi	9 13		9 05	Exp.	9 21
9 13	abc	9 33		10 15	ihgfedeba	10 32	r
9 31	a	9 47		12 15	ihgfedeba	12 42	r
10 23	ae	10 50		12 45	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17		1 15	ihgfedeba	1 42	r
11 16	abcdefghi	11 43		2 15	hgfedeba	2 42	r
1 02	Exp.	1 17		3 15	ihgfedeba	3 42	r
1 16	abcdefgh	1 43		4 27	eba	4 49	r
3 10	abc	3 30		5 15	ihgfedeba	5 42	r
4 16	abcdefghi	4 43		6 15	ihgfedeba	6 42	r
5 07	abc	5 27		7 00	eba	7 19	r
6 16	abcdefghi	6 43		8 15	ihgfedeba	8 41	r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
7 11	abcdefghi	7 38		8 45	Exp.	9 01
8 11	abcdefghi	8 28		9 30	ihgfedeba	9 57	r
9 05	a	9 20		10 59	eba	11 05	r
10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.00 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.05, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

IT will be for YOU

A Merry Christmas

IF You Read Daily

THE Quincy Ledger

Home Trade will Help Quincy

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.25 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.

and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON
Division Superintendent.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Proposals for Coal

CITY OF QUINCY

School Department, Quincy, Mass.

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until Monday, December [illegible] o'clock, P. M., receive proposals for furnishing and delivering whole or a part of the following: [illegible] White Ash Stove, 170 Lehigh [illegible], 73 Lehigh Egg, and 585 tons grade bituminous coal.

The bidders must specify definitely kind of bituminous coal upon which they bid. The hard coal must be of the best quality and well screened. All must be weighed under direction of an agent of the School Committee and be delivered to the several school buildings on or before [illegible]day, January 9, 1911, unless otherwise ordered. The bids must include unloading of the bins.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope "Proposals for Coal," to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.

December 5, 1910.

Dec. 5-5t

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable Cascarets and I find them perfect. Couldn't do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. Recommend them to everyone. Once tried, you will never be without them in the family."—Edward A. Marx, Albany, N.Y.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C.C.C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 929

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
12c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES
CIGARS
At Wholesale and Retail
Big Variety of Pipes
STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS
Opposite Quincy Station
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
90 Washington St., Quincy

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
EAST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 5	1.15	1.45
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.00
Thursday,	3.30	3.45
Friday,	4.15	4.45
Saturday,	5.15	5.45
Sunday,	6.15	6.45

BRIEFS

St. Chrysostom's Men's club meets this evening at eight o'clock.

The Junior Laymen of First church meet in the chapel this evening at half past seven.

Another new fire alarm box was cut into the circuit Monday. It was box 413, corner of Buckley and Arthur streets.

There was a large number of visitors at the new Houghs Neck school building on Sunday. D. F. Crowley the builder was at the building to show the visitors about.

Mrs. James H. Webb passed away Sunday at her home, 213 Washington street, after an illness of some weeks' duration. Mrs. Webb has been in poor health for some time and the recent serious illness of her husband taxed her strength severely. She leaves a husband, a son and three daughters.

The December meeting of the Mothers' Association will be held Wednesday, afternoon at three o'clock in Bethany chapel. Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley of Boston will speak on "The Real Mother." Mrs. Beatley is an active worker in the Church of the Disciples and is this year a Billings lecturer of the Unitarian Association. The Mothers' Association extends an invitation to all who are interested and desires that many will attend Mrs. Beatley's talk.

LONG AUTOMOBILE TOUR.

The Adscrip club of Indianapolis have made arrangements to make the entire journey to the big advertising men's Convention in Boston next summer by automobile, travelling by the way of Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Albany, and through the Berkshire hills, in Overland autos as guest of Will H. Brown, Vice-President Willys-Overland Company, arriving in Boston at the same time that the special trains from St. Louis, Atlanta and the northwest do, to be the guests of the Prigrim Publicity Association.

—It took the mothers of about 200 striking messenger boys but a few minutes to break the strike against the Western Union Telegraph Company at Pittsburg. They refused to furnish dinner when the young strikers arrived at noon, and the sad looking lot of dinnerless messenger boys returned to strike headquarters and then went to work.—Brockton Enterprise.

Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Nineteen Days to Xmas
DEC. 6
Get Christmas Tree Trimmings NOW

BIG MEASURES ARE HELD UP

Wait For Debate on Matters of Little Importance

EXTRA SESSION IS POSSIBLE

Tawney Fears Regular Appropriations Cannot Be Completed During Present Session Because of Power Secured by Western Statesmen—Cannon and Clark Given Ovations When Congress Convenes

Washington, Dec. 6.—James A. Tawney, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, threw a bomb into the opening exercises of the third session of the Sixty-first congress with the statement that an extra session may be forced, whether the leaders of either party want it or not.

Mr. Tawney even goes so far as to say that it is doubtful if the regular appropriation bills can be passed at the coming session. This situation is forced by the broadening of the rules, which has weakened the powers of the house managers to control business. Much of the contest of the insurgents has been made in the interest of the individual lawmaker, the man with bills affecting his own district only and upon which his return to congress has depended more or less.

Bills of this class, involving an enormous total of appropriations, have been relentlessly suppressed by Speaker Cannon and the old rules committee, that the larger work of the session might be done. Now these smaller bills are given such a standing by the new rules that they actually can displace the appropriation bills.

The naval bill, carrying $110,000,000, for example, must wait upon a half day's discussion of the new bridge at Bailey's crossroads. The western statesmen who have secured for themselves this power of course will not surrender it if they can help it.

The senate in any event controls the situation, and in the next congress the progressive senators will hold the whip hand.

With all these things so, it is apparent that President Taft's task of bringing about harmony and getting legislation is a very difficult one. The most cheerful outlook is that whatever measures are finally enacted will, through insurgent influence, be really popular in their character, and will not reflect the "interests" to any such extent as in the past.

Both houses of congress convened Monday for the third and last session of the Sixty-first congress. The galleries were crowded and there was a good attendance of senators and representatives. In the senate several new faces were seen. Senator Tillman, who has been absent from his seat for some time, was in his place. He showed the effects of his long illness and entered the chamber supporting himself by a stout cane. Senator Scott, just convalescing from an illness that confined him to his bed for several days, also was in his place.

Speaker Cannon received a remarkable ovation when he took up the gave to announce the opening of the session in the house. The applause lasted several minutes and the Democrats joined with the Republicans in acclaiming the veteran legislator. Champ Clark was also given a similar ovation when he entered immediately on the conclusion of the prayer, the Democrats hailing him as the speaker of the next house.

At the conclusion of the rollcall three new members took the oath of office, among them being John J. Mitchell of the Fourth Massachusetts district, elected to succeed the late Representative Terrell.

Representative Foss was a prominent figure on the Democratic side. He was surrounded by members as soon as he appeared on the floor and was kept busy giving details of the Democratic victory in Massachusetts and of his campaign against Senator Lodge.

Both houses adjourned almost immediately after the formal assembling, calls of the rolls and the adoption of resolutions on the passing of those members who have died since the adjournment of the last session.

Backing Taft's Demand

Washington, Dec. 6.—President Taft received a telegram from President Stillwell of the Chicago association of commerce, stating that the business men of the country are backing President Taft's demand for a non-partisan tariff commission.

Thatcher Claims Fourteenth District

Middleboro, Mass., Dec. 6.—Papers signed by Thomas C. Thatcher, Democratic candidate for congress in the Fourteenth district, claim that he was elected in the recent contest and state that he intends to contest the election.

The Weather

Almanac, Wednesday, Dec. 7.
Sun rises—7:08; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—9:41 p. m.
High water—2:45 a. m.; 3 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Local snows; increasing east to north winds.

VOTE ON LICENSE

A Big Majority Each Year Against The Sale Of Liquor.

Quincy's enviable record since the local option law went into effect follows:

	No.	Yes.	Total	Majority	Blanks
1882,	1,057	457	1514	600	75
1883,	1086	458	1544	628	126
1884,	1067	407	1474	660	200
1885,	1002	510	1512	492	200
1886,	1017	258	1275	759	325
1887,	1071	259	1330	812	425
1888, (town)	1064	293	1357	771	459
1888, (city)	1394	458	1852	936	414
1889,	1,162	618	1780	544	332
1890,	1339	720	2,059	618	351
1891,	1659	835	2494	824	250
1892,	1860	956	2816	904	176
1893,	1886	1060	2946	826	249
1894,	1889	1037	2926	852	273
1895,	1958	1,177	3135	781	208
1896,	2074	1370	3444	704	149
1897,	2047	1194	3427	853	186
1898,	2124	1191	3315	933	261
1899,	2213	1388	3600	825	272
1900,	2192	1412	3604	780	361
1901,	2512	1226	3738	1286	350
1902,	2,694	1,346	3950	1258	313
1903,	2734	1170	3904	1564	323
1904,	2938	1094	4032	1844	324
1905,	2957	957	3914	2000	304
1906,	3012	968	4080	2044	300
1907,	3386	1159	4545	2227	270
1908,	3470	1282	4752	2188	331
1909,	3262	1199	4461	2063	333

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.).

After a recess and an election eventful in American politics, the national legislature is again in session in Washington. It will be a full year however, before the result of the recent elections can be fully felt in legislation, and by that time there may be such changes in commercial, industrial and political conditions that the intention of the voters as expressed a few weeks ago will be modified or in some instances nullified. It is an unfortunate condition that twelve months must elapse and a session of Congress intervene before the will of the country as expressed at the polls can be carried into effect, and when it is remembered that this condition is fixed in the Constitution, that fetish of the American lawyer and statesman, it is difficult to see how reform can be effected.

It is expected that the present session will address itself to routine business, the passage of appropriation bills and necessary non-political measures. The President's proclamation has recommended as a matter of course important new legislation, but there is little prospect of its being carried out. Nothing much will be done until after the Christmas holidays and then barely two months of the Congressional session will remain before this Congress, on the 4th of March, will be ex officio, and, as has been said, the new Congress just elected to do and undo so much will not have its chance for twelve months.

Among the measures that will surely have a hearing in the discussions under the appropriations bills will be the subject of the fortification of the Panama Canal and there will be a confusion of party lines in the debate on this question. Some Republicans and some Democrats will oppose the military program proposed by the President, while other Republicans and democrats will approve it. Mr. Tawney, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who failed of reelection will urge that the Canal shall be made a free waterway, unguarded by fortresses or cannon, while those of the Roosevelt and Taft school of politics will inist that a property costing nearly half a billion of dollars and essential to the defense of our extensive western coast line shall not be left without adequate military protection always, of course, "in the interest of peace," as Mr. Roosevelt would express it.

There is much comment in Washington with regard to the almost oppressive silence of Mr. Roosevelt since the election. He has completely disappeared from the political firmament, and now instead of headlines and columns on the first page of the daily papers, there is not even a paragraph or a caricature. The explanation is that he has probably given a tip to his friends, the reporters and caricaturists (for between him and them there has been a loyalty mutual and ideal) that they shall give him an indefinite term of exclusive privacy. It would not be bad for Mr. Roosevelt's political future if he should let his beard grow, take the Canadian route to Vancouver sail on the Empress of India line to Yokahoma, and spend the next two years in Japan, China, the Philippines, Java, Straits Settlements and India, returning to this country in time to mix in the next Presidential election, either as principal or assistant. Travel, observation and meditation will be good for even so well equipped a man as the only ex-President of the United States.

It is said that an effort will be made by the Postmaster General, backed by the administration, to pass a bill reducing postage on sealed letters to one cent and also to carry into effect the long opposed parcels-post privileges enjoyed by all foreign peoples, but through the influence of the express companies withheld from the citizens of the United State. The American citizen living in Washington may send a ten pound package by mail to London, Paris, Berlin or Vienna, but he cannot send the same package to Baltimore, only one hour distant, or to Philadelphia or New York, four and five hours distant. If the package should weigh only four pounds he can send it by mail for 64 cents to any of these cities, but the four pounds to the European destination costs only 48 cents. The Postoffice Department is not responsible for these outrages. They are the result of the monopoly which the express companies through their influence in the Senate and House have been able to maintain in the distribution of packages by mail. In other words, the express companies will not be able to make so much money if the people of the United States shall insist upon having as good a parcelspost service between Philadelphia and Cincinnati, for example as they have to Berlin or Paris.

Adams.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 2.

A Partial Rescue.

Her sweet face fell;
Her beau was nigh,
And, with a yell,
He caught her eye.
—Pittsburg Post.

Beauty and Economy

walk hand in hand with that one soap—Pears—which has continued its successful course in the service of beauty for over one hundred and twenty years. The special properties which soften and beautify the skin

You'll Find Always in the famous Pears' Soap—and only in Pears. It enables women to have lovely complexions and keep the skin in a constant condition of perfect health. Its cost is low enough for anybody. So while beauty is increased and complexions helped it is best for beauty and economy to use

Pears' Soap
15 cents a cake for the unscented.

Try Lenox Soap.

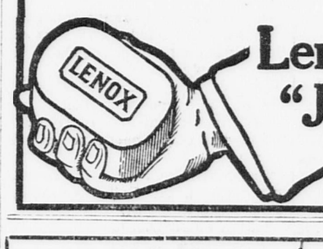
It is made of good materials and the shape is convenient.

Try it!

For washing dishes, woodwork, etc., use it just as you would any other soap.

For washing clothes quickly, easily and thoroughly, use Lenox Soap in the form of soap solution.

TO MAKE LENOX SOAP SOLUTION:—Take a cake of Lenox Soap, cut it into small pieces, dissolve these in three quarts of boiling water. Keep water at boiling point until a solution is formed.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

Plenty of Fresh Air
WARM CLOTHING
AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF HEARN'S
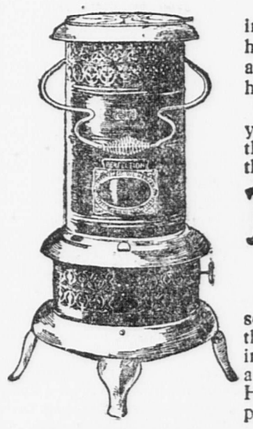
EMULSION
And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumo nia.

CHAS. C. HEARN
PHARMACIST
1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

Fresh Air in Winter



In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
$22.50 Suits
Marked to $16.50
Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth
SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Advertise in The Ledger

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Man can fly from the ground and fly from a ship at sea, but so far no man has been able to fly from a book agent.

In cases where a family feels that it cannot afford both a baby and an automobile, we are inclined to recommend the baby.

A lecturer in Houston had as his subject, "Is hell good or bad?" After what Gen. Sherman said about Texas, they ought to know down there.

A Wisconsin woman has given birth to three sets of twins but even that cannot arouse Oyster Bay from its apathy.

A New York financier says that there is prosperity ahead. Here's hoping that the whole country will catch up with it.

With bacon at 35 cents a pound in the West, our source of supply, "hog and hominy" becomes a luxury for the criminally rich.

With a Democratic house and Champ Clark in the Speaker's chair, "Uncle Joe" will have to let his conversation be " Yea, Yea" and "Nay, Nay."

INTERESTING EXHIBIT AT THE GAS SHOW.

The great part in our daily life and business which is taken by gas, is probably not recognized by the general public, and for this, if for no other reason, the Gas Show at Mechanics' Building, which runs from December 7th to 13th, inclusive, is a decided eye opener.

The great number of exhibts to be seen there gives a fairly good idea of the tremendously wide field covered by the gas industry and of the many hundreds of important needs which it fills.

On one side is seen a gas engine, the most efficient prime mover known to science, furnishing light and power by means of a direct connected electric generator, or equally fitted to supply power for any use whatsoever.

On the other hand, we find exhibits of gas lights, from the small Bijou burner for residential use, to the 4,000 c. p. high pressure lamp. Over head is seen a very striking demonstration of the quality and volume of light supplied by the gas arc.

Again we find a number of different gas cooking arrangements, running from the small table stove to the largest hotel ranges, and from the big candy kettle to the large reel oven which is so successfully in use by bakers everywhere, and which turns out from its revolving trays loaves of bread by the dozens on end.

One of the most interesting of all features is the mantle making exhibit of the Welsbach Company. This covers the whole front of the stage, and shows the complete process of the gas mantle manufacture, taking the mantle from the spool of thread to the finished product boxed and ready to ship. The care and the delicate and intricate apparatus employed, the rigid inspections made, and the quality of the supplies used, will be a revelation to the visitor.

With these and the many other features provided, the Gas Show is both from an educational and entertainment point of view unusually successful.

—Lowell has a population of over 100,000, yet when Judge Hadley opened the police court Wednesday he was informed by the clerk that there was not a single case for him to hear. There had been no arrests during the 24 hours, and no continued cases were set for trial. Following an old English custom, Superintendent Welch presented the judge a pair of white kid gloves as an emblem of "a clean community and the entire absence of crime."—Salem News.

☞Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

TAFT'S MESSAGE UP TO CONGRESS

President Breaks Record For Length of Document.

DEFENDS PAYNE TARIFF ACT.

Deals With Panama Canal, Postal Savings Bank, Parcels Post and Conservation—Asks For Raise of Judicial Salaries—Recommendation For Fitting Honor For Peary.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The president sent the following message to congress today:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

During the past year the foreign relations of the United States have continued upon a basis of friendship and good understanding.

The year has been notable as witnessing the pacific settlement of two important international controversies before the permanent court of The Hague.

The arbitration of the fisheries dispute between the United States and Great Britain, which has been the source of nearly continuous diplomatic correspondence since the fisheries convention of 1818, has given an award which is satisfactory to both parties.

Peace Commission.

Appreciating these enlightened tendencies of modern times, the congress at its last session passed a law providing for the appointment of a commission of five members "to be appointed by the president of the United States to consider the expediency of utilizing existing international agencies for the purpose of limiting the armaments of the nations of the world by international agreement and of constituting the combined navies of the world an international force for the preservation of universal peace and to consider and report upon any other means to diminish the expenditures of government for military purposes and to lessen the probabilities of war."

The work of the international fisheries commission appointed in 1908, under the treaty of April 11, 1908, between Great Britain and the United States, has resulted in the formulation and recommendation of uniform regulations governing the fisheries of the boundary waters of Canada and the United States for the purpose of protecting and increasing the supply of food fish in such waters.

The Far East.

The center of interest in far eastern affairs during the past year has again been China.

It is gratifying to note that the negotiations for a loan to the Chinese government for the construction of the trunk railway lines from Hankow southward to Canton and westward through the Yangtse valley, known as the Hukuang loan, were concluded by the representatives of the various financial groups in May last and the results approved by their respective governments.

Tariff Negotiations.

The new tariff law in section 2 respecting the maximum and minimum tariffs of the United States, which provisions came into effect on April 1, 1910, imposed upon the president the responsibility of determining prior to that date whether or not any undue discrimination existed against the United States and its products in any country of the world with which we sustained commercial relations.

The policy of broader and closer trade relations with the Dominion of Canada which was initiated in the adjustment of the maximum and minimum provisions of the tariff act of August, 1909, has proved mutually beneficial. It justifies further efforts for the readjustment of the commercial relations of the two countries so that their commerce may follow the channels natural to contiguous countries and be commensurate with the steady expansion of trade and industry on both sides of the boundary line.

The Department of State.

All tariff negotiations, so vital to our commerce and industry, and the duty of jealously guarding the equitable and just treatment of our products, capital and industry abroad devolve upon the department of state.

The efforts of that department to secure for citizens of the United States equal opportunities in the markets of the world and to expand American commerce have been most successful. The volume of business obtained in new fields of competition and upon new lines is already very great, and congress is urged to continue to support the department of state in its endeavors for further trade expansion.

An instrumentality indispensable to the unhampered and natural development of American commerce is merchant marine. All maritime and commercial nations recognize the importance of this factor. The greatest commercial nations, our competitors, jealously foster their merchant marine.

I alluded to this most important subject in my last annual message. It has often been before you, and I need not recapitulate the reasons for its recommendation. Unless prompt action be taken the completion of the Panama canal will find this the only great commercial nation unable to avail in international maritime business of this great contribution to the means of the world's commercial intercourse.

For many reasons I cannot too strongly urge upon the congress the passage of a measure by mail subsidy or other subvention adequate to guarantee the establishment and rapid development of an American merchant marine, the restoration of the American flag to its ancient place upon the seas.

Estimates For Next Year's Expenses.

The final estimates for the year ending June 30, 1912, as they have been sent to the treasury on Nov. 29 of this year for the ordinary expenses of the government, including those for public buildings, rivers and harbors and the navy building program, amount to $630,494,013.12. This is $52,964,887.36 less than the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911. It is $16,883,153.44 less than the total estimates, including suplemental estimates submitted to congress by the treasury for the year 1911, and is $5,574,659.39 less than the original estimates submitted by the treasury for 1911.

These figures do not include the appropriations for the Panama canal, the policy in respect to which ought to be and is to spend as much each year as can be economically and effectively expended in order to complete the canal as promptly as possible, and therefore the ordinary motive for cutting down the expense of the government does not apply to appropriations for this purpose. It will be noted that the estimates for the Panama canal for the ensuing year are more than $56,000,000, an increase of $20,000,000 over the amount appropriated for this year, a difference due to the fact that the estimates for 1912 include something over $19,000,000 for the fortification of the canal.

Against the estimates of expenditures, $630,494,013.12, we have estimated receipts for next year $680,000,000, making a probable surplus of ordinary receipts over ordinary expenditures of about $50,000,000, or, taking into account the estimates for the Panama canal, which are $56,820,847,00 and which will ultimately be paid in bonds, it will leave a deficit for the next year of about $7,000,000 if congress shall conclude to fortify the canal. The cost of the fortifications is about $19,000,000. Should there be no appropriations this year for fortifications then there would be, even including the Panama canal appropriation, a surplus of about $12,000,000.

It is not essential to the preventing of smuggling that customs districts should be increased in number. The violation of the customs laws can be quite as easily prevented and much more economically by the revenue cutter service and by the use of the special agent traveling force of the treasury department.

Very great improvements have been made in respect to the mints and assay offices. Diminished appropriations have been asked for those whose continuance is unnecessary, and this year's estimate of expenses is $326,000 less than two years ago.

In the bureau of engraving and printing great economies have been effected. Useless divisions have been abolished, with the result of saving $440,000 this year in the total expenses of the bureau despite increased business.

Revenues.

As the treasury department is the one through which the income of the government is collected and its expenditures are disbursed this seems a proper place to consider the operation of the existing tariff bill, which became a law Aug. 6, 1909. As an income producing measure the existing tariff bill has never been exceeded by any customs bill in the history of the country.

The corporation excise tax, proportioned to the net income of every business corporation in the country, has worked well. The tax has been easily collected. Its prompt payment indicates that the incidence of the tax has not been heavy. It offers, moreover, an opportunity for knowledge by the government of the general condition and business of all corporations, and that means by far the most important part of the business of the country. In the original act provision was made for the publication of returns. This provision was subsequently amended by congress and the matter left to the regulation of the president. I have directed the issue of the needed regulations and have made it possible for the public generally to know from an examination of the record the returns of all corporations the stock of which is listed on any public stock exchange or is offered for sale to the general public by advertisement or otherwise. The returns of those corporations whose stock is not so listed or offered for sale are directed to be open to the inspection and examination of creditors and stockholders of the corporation whose record is sought. The returns of all corporations are subject to the inspection of any government officer or to the examination of any court, in which the return made by the corporation is relevant and competent evidence.

The Payne Tariff Act.

The schedules of the rates of duty in the Payne tariff act have been subjected to a great deal of criticism, some of it just, more of it unfounded, and to much misrepresentation. The act was adopted in pursuance of a declaration by the party which is responsible for it that a customs bill should be a tariff for the protection of home industries, the measure of the protection to be the difference between the cost of producing the imported article abroad and the cost of producing it at home, together with such addition to that difference as might give a reasonable profit to the home producer.

The basis for the criticism of this tariff is that in respect to a number of the schedules the declared measure was not followed, but a higher difference retained or inserted by way of undue discrimination in favor of certain industries and manufactures.

Little, if any, of the criticism of the tariff has been directed against the protective principle above stated, but the main body of the criticism has been based on the charge that the attempt to conform to the measure of protection was not honestly and sincerely adhered to.

Tariff Board.

The time in which the tariff was prepared undoubtedly was so short as to make it impossible for the congress and its experts to acquire the information necessary strictly to conform to the declared measure. In order to avoid criticism of this kind in the future and for the purpose of more nearly conforming to the party promise congress at its last session made provision at my request for the continuance of a board created under the authority of the maximum and minimum clause of the tariff bill and authorized this board to expend the money appropriated under my direction for the ascertainment of the cost of production at home and abroad of the various articles included in the schedules of the tariff. The tariff board thus appointed and authorized has been diligent in preparing itself for the necessary investigations. The hope of those who have advocated the use of this board for tariff purposes is that the question of the rate of a duty imposed shall become more of a business question and less of a political question, to be ascertained by experts of long training and accurate knowledge. The halt in business and the shock to business due to the announcement that a new tariff bill is to be prepared and put in operation will be avoided by treating the schedules one by one as occasion shall arise for a change in the rates of each and only after a report upon the schedule by the tariff board competent to make such report.

It is not likely that the board will be able to make a report during the present session of congress on any of the schedules, because a proper examination involves an enormous amount of detail and a great deal of care, but I hope to be able at the opening of the new congress, or at least during the session of that congress, to bring to its attention the facts in regard to those schedules in the present tariff that may prove to need amendment.

The carrying out of this plan, of course, involves the full co-operation of congress in limiting the consideration in tariff matters to one schedule at a time, because if a proposed amendment to a tariff bill is to involve a complete consideration of all the schedules and another revision then we shall only repeat the evil from which the business of this country has in times past suffered most grievously by stagnation and uncertainty, pending a resettlement of a law affecting all business directly or indirectly, and the effect of which no wise business man would ignore in new projects and new investments.

The inquiries which the members of the tariff board made during the last summer into the methods pursued by other governments with reference to the fixing of tariffs and the determination of their effect upon trade show that each government maintains an office or bureau, the officers and employees of which have made their life work the study of tariff matters, of foreign and home prices and cost of articles imported and the effect of the tariff upon trade, so that whenever a change is thought to be necessary in the tariff law this office is the source of the most reliable information as to the propriety of the change and its effect.

I am strongly convinced that we need in this government just such an office and that it can be secured by making the tariff board already appointed a permanent tariff commission, with such duties, powers and emoluments as it may seem wise to congress to give. It has been proposed to enlarge the board from three to five. The present number is convenient, but I do not know that an increase of two members would be objectionable.

I recommend that congress establish a commission to determine as early as practicable a comprehensive policy for the organization, mobilization and administration of the regular army, the organized militia and the volunteer forces in the event of war.

Need For Additional Officers.

One of the great difficulties in the prompt organization and mobilization of militia and volunteer forces is the absence of competent officers of the rank of captain to teach the new army, by the unit of the company, the business of being soldiers and of taking care of themselves so as to render effective service. This need of army officers can only be supplied by provisions of law authorizing the appointment of a greater number of army officers than are needed to supply the commands of regular army troops now enlisted in the service.

In order that the militia of each state should be properly drilled and made more like the regular army, regular army officers should be detailed to assist the adjutant general of each state in the supervision of the state militia. But this is impossible unless provision is made by congress for a very considerable increase in the number of company and field officers of the army.

Fortifications.

I have directed that the estimates for appropriation for the improvement of coast defenses in the United States should be reduced to a minimum, while those for the completion of the needed fortifications at Corregidor, in the Philippine Islands, and at Pearl Harbor, in the Hawaiian Islands, should be expedited as much as possible.

Philippine Islands.

During the last summer at my request the secretary of war visited the Philippine Islands and has described his trip in his report. He found the islands in a state of tranquillity and growing prosperity, due largely to the change in the tariff laws which has opened the markets of America to the products of the Philippines and has opened the Philippine markets to American manufactures.

Panama Canal.

At the instance of Colonel Goethals, the army engineer officer in charge of the work on the Panama canal, I have just made a visit to the isthmus to inspect the work done and to consult with him on the ground as to certain problems which are likely to arise in the near future. The progress of the work is most satisfactory. If no unexpected obstacle presents itself the canal will be completed well within the time fixed by Colonel Goethals—to wit, Jan. 1, 1915—and within the estimate of cost, $375,000,000.

Among questions arising for present solution is the decision whether the canal shall be fortified. I have already stated to the congress that I strongly favor fortification, and I now reiterate this opinion and ask your consideration of the subject in the light of the report already before you made by a competent board.

If in our discretion we believe modern fortifications to be necessary to the adequate protection and policing of the canal, then it is our duty to construct them. We have built the canal. It is our property. By convention we have indicated our desire for and indeed undertaken its universal and equal use. It is also well known that one of the chief objects in the construction of the canal has been to increase the military effectiveness of our navy.

Failure to fortify the canal would leave the attainment of both these aims in the position of rights and obligations which we should be powerless to enforce and which could never in any other way be absolutely safeguarded against a desperate and irresponsible enemy.

In determining what the tolls in the canal should be we certainly ought not to insist that for a good many years to come they should amount to enough to pay the interest on the investment of $400,000,000 which the United States has made in the construction of the canal. We ought not to do this, first, because the benefits to be derived by the United States from this expenditure are not to be measured solely by a return upon the investment.

My own impression is that the tolls ought not to exceed $1 per net ton. On Jan. 1, 1911, the tolls in the Suez canal are to be 7 francs and 28 centimes for one net ton by Suez canal measurement, which is a modification of Danube measurement. A dollar a ton will secure under the figures above a gross annual income from the Panama canal of nearly $7,000,000. The cost of maintenance and operation is estimated to exceed $3,000,000.

The next question that arises is as to the maintenance, management and general control of the canal after its completion. It should be premised that it is an essential part of our navy establishment to have the coal, oil and other ship supplies, a drydock and repair shops conveniently located with reference to naval vessels passing through the canal. Now, if the government for naval purposes is to undertake to furnish these conveniences to the navy, and they are conveniences equally required by commercial vessels, there would seem to be strong reasons why the government should take over and include in its management the furnishing not only to the navy, but to the public, drydock and repair shop facilities and the sale of coal, oil and other ship supplies.

The maintenance of a lock canal of this enormous size in a sparsely populated country and in the tropics, where the danger from disease is always present, requires a large and complete and well trained organization with full police powers, exercising the utmost care.

I cannot close this reference to the canal without suggesting as a wise amendment to the interstate commerce law a provision prohibiting interstate commerce railroads from owning or controlling ships engaged in the trade through the Panama canal. I believe such a provision may be needed to save to the people of the United States the benefits of the competition in trade between the eastern and western seaboards which this canal was constructed to secure.

Department of Justice.

I am glad to say that under the appropriations made for the department of justice the attorney general has so improved its organization that a vast amount of litigation of a civil and criminal character has been disposed of during the current year. This will explain the necessity for slightly increasing the estimates for the expenses of the department. His report shows the recoveries made on behalf of the government, of duties fraudulently withheld, public lands improperly patented, fines and penalties for trespass, prosecutions and convictions under the anti-trust law and prosecutions under interstate commerce law.

I invite especial attention to the prosecutions under the federal law of the so called "bucket shops" and of those schemes to defraud in which the use of the mail is an essential part of the fraudulent conspiracy, prosecutions which have saved ignorant and weak members of the public and are saving them millions of dollars.

The violations of the anti-trust law present perhaps the most important litigation before the department, and the number of cases filed shows the

(Continued on Page 5.)

ADVERTISING.

Tech Students Learn Advertising Started in the Garden of Eden.

Ben S. Jacobs, a director of the Pilgrim Publicity Association addressed an audience of students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology last week on "Some Psychological Points in Advertising," and said in part. "Most of what are often considered uncertainties in advertising become very simple when studied from the standpoint of Psychology and looked at purely in the light of cause and effect. Advertising really started in the Garden of Eden, w hen the serpent whispered to Eve about the newest thing in Spring clothes which she had not yet seen, and ever since then, a large part of the advertising in the world has been addressed to Eve's descendants. One of two definite states of mind in necessary to sell goods. One is necessity, and the other is desire. Advertising may exploit necessity or create the desire, and the copy and chosen medium should be adapted to one or the other as the case may be, and any medium which reaches any considerable number of people burdened with necessity or likely to respond to the desire in mind has a distinct value as a carrier of the advertiser's message. First among these mediums came the printed word and the printed picture, and it is this fact that makes the great newspapers and magazines of today a practical possibility and an economic factor in the supply and demand of the world's goods and their distribution."

☞Now that grand opera has become so popular there is an increased demand for opera glasses and a pair such as carried by the Andrew J. Lloyd Co., of 75 Summer street, Boston, would make a fine Christmas present and solves the problem for you of what to give. They also have Brownie kodaks and films. In the meantime their first class opticians are always ready to examine your eyes and fit you to glasses.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

Hosiery Sale
We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at
10 cents Per Pair
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GAS SHOW
December 7-13
10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON
A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.
Educational and Entertaining
Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.
11 Granite Street, QUINCY

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CHURCH NEWS OF THE CITY

Bishop Lawrence Holds Confirmation at Christ Church

CHRIST CHURCH.

The Right Reverend William Lawrence, D. D., bishop of the diocese, administered the Apostolic rite of confirmation to a class of 30 adults and juniors at 4.30 Sunday afternoon. The church was well filled with communicants. After the confirmation service the bishop preached a sermon from the subject—"He must increase but I must decrease."

The Galahad Brotherhood will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Three new members will be initiated at the meeting.

REV. WILLIAM LAWRENCE, S. T. D.

The Galahad club will meet Thursday evening. Percy L. Wendell, halfback on the Harvard football team, will speak on football experiences of the year. The Quincy high school football players are invited as well as all boys interested in the game.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

The pastor spoke at the morning service, taking for his subject, "The burning lights."

In the evening the special temperance meeting was held.

The Sunday School children are drilling in preparation for the Christmas concert. The hour was given over to rehearsals of songs and recitations.

The Ladies' Aid society meets on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Johnson, 332 Commercial street, East Braintree.

The Young People's society will meet in the church Thursday evening for their regular bi-weekly service.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST.

At the Universalist church on Sunday, Rev. Ernest H. Carritt occupied the pulpit and the congregation listened with pleasure to an interesting sermon.

On Sunday, Dec. 11, Rev. Charles Conklin, State superintendent of Universalist churches, will occupy the pulpit.

The colonial fair for which the Dorcas society have been making extensive preparation, occurs Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The members of the Murray club enjoyed a theatre party Saturday night, witnessing the performance of "The lion and the mouse."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

The pastor spoke Sunday morning on the subject "The Unchangeableness of God." With the regular services resumed in the church, the attendance was very large.

The reorganization of the Sunday school was continued after the morning service.

The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6 o'clock had a very large attendance. Over 100 young people were present at this meeting and the majority stayed for the evening meeting.

The Women's Missionary society held an open meeting in the lecture room of the church Monday evening. Mrs. Joseph Tracy of Wollaston, who has been connected with the Womens Board of Home Missions for a number of years, spoke on "The Mountaineers"

The Quincy Adams Extension club of the Y. M. C. A. will meet in the vestry of the church this evening at 7 o'clock.

Before the regular prayer meeting on Thursday there will be a children's prayer meeting beginning at 7 o'clock.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

The Sunday morning sermon was delivered by the pastor from the subject, "Christ our High Priest."

In the evening the topic of his address was "Christ the head of the church." He is the head and we are the body. Each one has a special duty to perform just as each member of the human body has its own place and cannot do its work without the co-operation of the other members.

The choir will rehearse Tuesday evening when a beginning will be made on the special Christmas music.

The regular prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening.

The Busy Workers will meet in the parsonage Friday evening at 7.30.

Next week the New England Association of Swedish Baptist Sunday schools will hold its meeting with the local church. Prominent speakers of the denomination will address the meetings which will be held on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Messrs. Lindstrom of Brockton, Backlund of Boston, Lindbloom of Lynn and the Rev. J. C. Logerstom, state Sunday school missionary will be among the principal speakers

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The message to the fourth of the seven churches was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon: "The church at Thyatira and the message it received," was the topic. Miss Walters sang a solo as a response to the prayer.

The Davis class met with an increased attendance at noon. Three new members were received.

Sunday evening the pastor gave another address to young men on the subject of "Prayer."

The Y. P. S. C. E. had a fine meeting Two new members were welcomed into the society. Edward Mundie, president of the Davis class, led the meeting.

The Bible study class will meet this evening with Mrs. Abbott, 8 Marsh street.

The ladies of the church will meet at the parsonage Friday afternoon at 2.30.

SWEDISH METHODIST.

The final meetings of a series of special revival services were held in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church on Fort street Sunday. Pastor F. E. Bronan of Brockton, Pastor G. E. Hamilton of Lowell, and pastor H. Raine of Worcester, have been preaching the gospel with great power throughout the week. Pastor Raine preached Sunday morning from the text Zach. 9:9—"The King will come to three."

At the Sunday school service Pastor G. E. Hamilton spoke to the children.

The Sunday evening service was of special interest. Pastor Hamilton spoke from the text Job. 21:7. "Why the wicked live." A mixed choir sang some excellent music and Miss Olson sang a beautiful solo. All the meetings were largely attended and the sermons and songs were greatly enjoyed by all who heard them.

The regular church prayer meeting will be held on Thursday.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. A. M. Thompson, pastor of the church preached at the Sunday morning service, taking for his text 1 Cor. 10:15, "I speak as to wise men. Judge ye what I say," In developing the thought of the sermon he spoke of the qualifications of politicians and men in public affairs for holding office. A representative man in the affairs of state should have ability, should be God fearing, a lover of truth and not open to bribe. The sermon was timely coming as it did just before the election.

The Y. P. S. C. E. met at 6 o'clock Sunday evening for its monthly consecration meeting. Topic: "The life worth while."

The board of trustees will meet at the home of Kenneth Carmichael, Liberty street, Wednesday evening.

A meeting of the corporation of the congregation will take place Thursday evening in the church.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold its meeting Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert McLean, Kidder street.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

At the Sunday morning service the pastor spoke fom the text, Luke 12:35.

The Sunday school met at 12 o'clock instead of before the morning service, and the time usually devoted to the study of the lesson was given over to rehearsal of Christmas music and recitations.

The evening service was very well attended, Rev. G. H. Palmgren, the pastor, spoke on "The Kingship of Christ." Special music was rendered by the mixed choir.

The regular prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

At the Christian Science church at Braintree the subejct lesson on Sunday was "God the only cause and creator," conducted by the first and second reader.

A special meeting of members was held Monday evening for the election of new readers which resulted in the choice of J. Eliot Sprague of South-Quincy as first reader, and Mrs. Merrit of Weymouth as second reader.

WOLLASTON M. E.

Rev. Wesley Wiggin, the pastor preached an excellent sermon Sunday morning on the text "The true life." He showed that only as we walk with the blessed Jesus can we live that true life.

Walter Sutermeister was the leader of the Epworth League meeting; subject—"The heart of the gospel."

Next Sunday Mr. T. A. Hildreth of Boston will present the Deaconess work at the Wollaston M. E. church. A collection will be taken.

A Sunday School board meeting will be held next Monday evening at the home of Joseph A. Sedgwick, 240 Goffe street, Quincy.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

"Conscience—the voice of God in the heart" was the subject of Rev. Carl G. Horst's sermon to his people Sunday morning, and his text was from 23d chapter of Acts first verse.

Conscience is not sure to lead us in the ways that the world calls profitable, nor necessarily in the paths of pleasure, but a sensitive and enlightened conscience is a compass by which one may safely be guided. Neither is conscience infallible, circumstances are constantly changing, and to guard against errors of judgment one needs knowledge and understanding and a constant outlook toward the highest. Each man's conscience must make for him his own standard of right; large and vital questions viewed from different standpoints by equally good men lead to decisions widely differing. Something more is required of man than intellectual development, his conscience and religious nature are as important as his mind. In recognizing right we recognize God in our lives and a neglected conscience puts us out of touch with God; so that to live up to the highest ideals needs wisdom and experience and a lowly listening to this "voice of God." The service closed with the singing of Charles Wesley's hymn—

"I want a principle within
Of jealous, Godly fear;
A sensibility to Sin,
A pain to find it near."

END OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Several political rallies were held last night by the two Mayoralty candidates, all of which were largely attended and very enthusiastic. The principal rally in the interest of Candidate Hobbs was in Sandbergs hall, West Quincy, where great enthusiasm was shown.

Mayor Shea's principal rally was at St. Mary's hall where his neighbors assembled in large numbers and gave him a royal reception. There were also two rallies in his interest at Quincy Point.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimede efor week ending Saturday, Dec. 3:

Jean Atkins, John Brown, G. M. Fowler, Miss Jennie Grahn, Mrs. R. H. Hartwell, Miss Christy MacLeod, Mrs. Nellie Murphy, John Rodger, Carmine Vitale, Mrs. Lulie Williams, Professor George G. Wilson, Jack Wilson.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

WENDELL OF HARVARD

To Address Open Meeting of Galahad Club

Those who followed the recent Harvard-Yale game, either by means of the "ticker" or from a bulletin board, will remember how often news like the following came over the wire; "Wendell gains eight yards through the right." "Wendell gains eight more yards through tackle" etc. As one man said, "When Harvard wants to gain any distance, all she has to do is to give the ball to Wendell." As a just reward for his consistant work during the entire season Mr. Wendell has had the honor of being the universal choice of the football experts as All-American left half-back.

The Galahad Club of Christ Church has been fortunate enough to secure Mr. Wendell as its next speaker ,and he will be at the parish House on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to tell his experiences in the big game, and in fact during all the season.

The club, not wishing to be selfish in its good fortune, has decided to make this an open meeting that all fellows interested in football may have the opportunity of hearing Mr Wendell. The High School football team is expected to attend in a body, and there will be a delegation of High school students, as well as from the Y. M. C. A. The parish house although roomy is expected to be taxed to its full capacity at this meeting, so while all fellows interested are cordially invited to be present they are also advised to "come early and avoid the rush."

MESSAGE

(Continued from Page 4.)

activity of the government in enforcing that statute.

Judicial Procedure.

One great crying need in the United States is cheapening the cost of litigation by simplifying judicial procedure and expediting final judgment. Under present conditions the poor man is at a woeful disadvantage in a legal contest with a corporation or a rich opponent. The necessity for the reform exists both in United States courts and in all state courts. In order to bring it about, however, it naturally falls to the general government by its example to furnish a model to all states. A legislative commission appointed by joint resolution of congress to revise the procedure in the United States courts has as yet made no report.

I am strongly convinced that the best method of improving judicial procedure at law is to empower the supreme court to do it through the medium of the rules of the court, as in equity. This is the way in which it has been done in England.

Relief of Supreme Court From Unnecessary Appeals.

No man ought to have as a matter of right a review of his case by the supreme court. He should be satisfied by one hearing before a court of first instance and one review by a court of appeals. The proper and chief usefulness of the supreme court, and especially the supreme court of the United States, is in the cases which come before it so to expound the law and especially the fundamental law—the constitution—as to furnish precedents for the interior courts in future litigation and for the executive officers in the construction of statutes and the performance of their legal duties. Therefore any provisions for review of cases by the supreme court that cast upon that court the duty of passing on questions of evidence and the construction of particular forms of instruments, like indictments or wills or contracts, decisions not of general application or importance, merely clog and burden the court and render more difficult its higher function, which makes it so important a part of the framework of our government. The supreme court is now carrying an unnecessary burden of appeals of this kind, and I earnestly urge that it be removed.

Judicial Salaries.

I further recommend to congress the passage of the bill now pending for the increase in the salaries of the federal judges, by which the chief justice of the supreme court shall receive $17,500 and the associate justices $17,000, the circuit judges constituting the circuit court of appeals shall receive $10,000 and the district judges $9,000. The positions they occupy ought to be filled by men who have shown the greatest ability in their professional work at the bar, and it is the poorest economy possible for the government to pay salaries so low for judicial service as not to be able to command the best talent of the legal profession in every part of the country.

Wiping Out of Postal Deficit.

For many years there has been a deficit in the operations of the post-office department which has been met by appropriation from the treasury. The appropriation estimated for last year from the treasury over and above the receipts of the department was $17,500,000. I am glad to record the fact that of that $17,500,000 estimated for $11,500,000 were saved and returned to the treasury. It is gratifying to report that the reduction in the deficit has been accomplished without any curtailment of postal facilities.

Upon the recommendation of the postmaster general I have included in the classified service all assistant postmasters, and I believe that this giving a secure tenure to those who are the most important subordinates of postmasters will add much to the efficiency of their offices and an economical administration.

The Franking Privilege.

The unrestricted manner in which the franking privilege is now being used by the several federal services and by congress has laid it open to serious abuses.

Parcels Post.

With respect to the parcels post, I respectfully recommend its adoption on all rural delivery routes and that eleven pounds, the international limit, be made the limit of carriage in such post. The postoffice department has a great plant and a great organization, reaching into the most remote hamlet of the United States, and with this machinery it is able to do a great many things economically that if a new organization were necessary it would be impossible to do without extravagant expenditure. That is the reason why the postal savings bank can be carried on at a small additional cost and why it is possible to incorporate at a very inconsiderable expense a parcels post in the rural delivery system.

Peary.

I unite with the secretary in the recommendation that an appropriation be made to construct a suitable crypt at Annapolis for the custody of the remains of John Paul Jones.

The unparalleled achievement of Peary in reaching the north pole, April 6, 1909, approved by critical examination of the most expert scientists, has added to the distinction of our navy, to which he belongs, and reflects credit upon his country. His unique success has received generous acknowledgment from scientific bodies and institutions of learning in Europe and America. I recommend fitting recognition by congress of the great achievement of Robert Edwin Peary.

For Eight Hour Day.

It seems to me from the past history that the government has been committed to a policy of encouraging the limitation of the day's work to eight hours in all works of construction initiated by itself, and it seems to me illogical to maintain a difference between government work done on government soil and government work done in a private establishment.

Workmen's Compensation.

In view of the keen, widespread interest now felt in the United States in a system of compensation for industrial accidents to supplant our present thoroughly unsatisfactory system of employers' liability (a subject the importance of which congress has already recognized by the appointment of a commission), I recommend that the international congress on industrial insurance be invited to hold its meeting in 1913 in Washington and that an appropriation of $10,000 be made to cover the necessary expenses of organizing and carrying on the meeting.

Safety Appliances and Provisions.

The protection of railroad employees from personal injury is a subject of the highest importance and demands continuing attention.

Negro Exposition.

I also renew my recommendation that steps be taken looking to the holding of a negro exposition in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the issuing by Mr. Lincoln of the emancipation proclamation.

Conservation.

Nothing can be more important in the matter of conservation than the treatment of our forest lands. Speaking generally, the government has reserved of the existing forests about 70 per cent of all the timberlands of the government. Within these forests (including 26,000,000 acres in two forests in Alaska) are 192,000,000 acres, of which 166,000,000 acres are in the United States proper and include within their boundaries something like 22,000,000 acres that belong to the states or to private individuals. We have, then, excluding Alaska forests, a total of about 144,000,000 acres of forests belonging to the government which are being treated in accord with the principles of scientific forestry.

The law now prohibits the reservation of any more forest lands in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming except by act of congress. I am informed by the department of agriculture that the government owns other tracts of timberland in these states which should be included in the forest reserves. I recommend to congress that the limitation herein imposed be repealed. In the present forest reserves there are lands which are not properly forest land and which ought to be subject to homestead entry.

Coal Lands.

The next subject, and one most important for your consideration, is the disposition of the coal lands in the United States and in Alaska. At the beginning of this administration there were classified coal lands in the United States amounting to 5,476,000 acres, and there were withdrawn from entry for purposes of classification 17,867,000 acres. Since that time there have been withdrawn by my order from entry for classification 78,977,745 acres, making a total withdrawal of 96,844,745 acres. Meantime of the acres thus withdrawn 10,061,880 have been classified and found not to contain coal and have been restored to agricultural entry and 4,720,031 acres have been classified as coal lands, while 79,903,239 acres remain withdrawn from entry and await classification. In addition 237,000 acres have been classified as coal lands without prior withdrawal, thus increasing the classified coal lands to 10,420,372 acres.

The question as to how great an area ought to be included in a lease to one individual or corporation is not free from difficulty, but in view of the fact that the government retains control as owner I think there might be some liberality in the amount leased and that 2,560 acres would not be too great a maximum. The leases should only be granted after advertisement and public competition.

The secretary of the interior thinks there are difficulties in the way of leasing public coal lands. I entirely approved his stating at length in his report the objections in order that the whole subject may be presented to congress, but after a full consideration I favor a leasing system and recommend it.

The needed oil and gas law is essentially a leasing law. In their natural occurrence oil and gas cannot be measured in terms of acres, like coal, and it follows that exclusive title to these products can normally be secured only after they reach the surface. Oil should be disposed of as a commodity in terms of barrels of transportable product rather than in acres of real estate.

Water Power Rates.

The water power sites subject is one that calls for new legislation. It has been thought that there was danger of combination to obtain possession of all the power sites and to unite them under one control. Whatever the evidence of this or lack of it, at present we have had enough experience to know that combination would be profitable, and the control of a great number of power sites would enable the holders or owners to raise the price of power at will within certain sections, and the temptation would promptly attract investors, and the danger of monopoly and extortion would not be a remote one.

However this may be, it is the plain duty of the government to see to it that in the utilization and development of all this immense amount of water power conditions shall be imposed that will prevent extortionate charges, which are the usual accompaniment of monopoly.

THE RED CROSS SEALS

Twenty Thousand Should Be Sold in Quincy

A largely attended meeting, to plan how to place the Red Cross seals before the public, was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis Abele, Jr., Spear street. Those who could not attend sent representatives.

Ten thousand seals have been distributed for sale in Quincy and another ten sent for. The seals sell for one cent, and every cent expended by our people means help for some one suffering from tuberculosis in our own city; as almost all the money from the sale goes for local work.

Attractive placards and posters are being distributed throughout the city. The seals will be on sale Friday and Saturday at the Post Office and again on the 16th and continue until Christmas. It would be well to get your supply this week so as to have your Christmas packages and letters ready to mail before the rush. The seals go on the back of letters and packages and give them a real Christmasy look. They do not pay the postage.

These resolutions were recently adopted by the American Federation of Labor:

"Whereas, The American Federation of Labor has in every possible way aided the movement for the study and prevention of tuberculosis throughout the United States and Canada, and

Whereas, the American National Red Cross has been in the past and is now making an especial effort, through the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals, to secure funds to carry on the war against tuberculosis, and by means of the funds raised in this manner has been able to do much effective work in this direction, therefore be it.

Resolved, That the American Federation of Labor give its endorsement to the movement of the American National Red Cross and encourage its members to further in every reasonable way the sale of these seals in their respective communities."

☞The Mothers' Association of Quincy aims to help mothers by suggesting to them the best methods of training children. The speakers at these meetings are persons recognized in the educational world as the best authority upon these subjects. There are informal discussions about these matters and opportunity for acquaintance with the members when a social half hour with refreshments follows the day's program. Are you a mother? or, are you interested in the welfare of children? are the only questions asked of strangers. All of the mothers in the city of Quincy are invited to attend these meetings; they are free. Come, and hear the things which have to do with training children in the home into perfect manhood and womanhood. Do not leave a stone unturned to make your child's character as nearly ideal as you can. It is worth while to make the effort. The child will thank you for it in years to come.

Meeting, Wednesday Dec. 7, at 3 P. M.

Subject: "The Real Mother."

Speaker:—Mrs. Clara Bancroft Beatley of Boston.

Place—Bethany Chapel.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29 tf

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c. 50c, 75c, $1.00

Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 50c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS R TURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

La France SHOE for WOMEN

The impossible has been achieved! Last season we thought the makers of La France Shoes had reached the limit of perfection—that La France could not be improved upon.

But they've done it—the new Fall models are the handsomest, snappiest shoes we have ever seen.

Don't fail to see these beautiful examples of America's finest footwear.

STYLE 1734
GUN METAL CALF

GRANITE SHOE STORE.
QUINCY, MASS.

YOUR FRIENDS PREFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every race in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diminutive ring for the baby; bracelets, and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps a fine watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning event of all, a multitude of precious gems, stones and jewels.

Search the gamut of human wants and you will find no gift so acceptable as jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

When you wish to select jewelry for your friends or relatives, come to this store. You can not find more dependable jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade here means a considerable cash saving.

If you are unfamiliar with jewelry, we will be glad to help you to make tasteful selections. On the other hand, if you are accustomed to buying rings, lockets, bracelets, watches, etc., so much the better. You will appreciate the more keenly the high quality of our goods and our up-to-date selections.

Needless to say, every article of merchandise we sell is warranted to be exactly as represented. There's no chance for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting in rings, brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.
JEWELERS
1281 Hancock Street
Quincy, Mass.
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

TO-NIGHT Arcadia
10c 25c 50c
ALL Druggists

—Broken lenses matched. Accurate prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 378-3. Residence 213-3.

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. for free report. How to obtain and sell patents, trade-marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us. Associate Counsel. 210 Eighth St., Opp. U.S. Patent Office. WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & CO.

COUNT DE BEAUFORT

Frenchman Who Is Accused of Beating His Chicago Wife

DE BEAUFORT IN NEW YORK

Has Difficulty In Securing Quarters For Himself and Dog

New York, Dec. 6.—Count Alexander von Mourik de Beaufort, ousted son-in-law of Mr. Kilgannon, a Chicago millionaire, arrived in New York to fill a vaudeville engagement. He brought his dog along with him.

The count wore a green hat with a green ribbon on it, a green overcoat and a green suit of clothes. From the depot he went to a hotel in Fifth avenue. The clerk there refused to give him a room because of his dog. Then he went to several other hostelries with the same result. Finally he found a place in Fifty-ninth street where dog and master were installed in a suite of rooms.

CHINAMEN FORSAKE THEIR OLD CUSTOM

Eleven Thousand Queues Cut Off In Hong Kong Alone

Hong Kong, Dec. 6.—This city witnessed a remarkable queue-cutting demonstration when six wealthy elders, the aggregate of whose ages is 499 years, set the example to their fellows on the platform of the Chinese club, while the Indian Military band played selections from Gilbert and Sullivan's operas. A hundred other men followed their lead.

The promoter of the movement effectively cited the case of an other who was killed on Friday when his queue became entangled in some machinery.

The movement has become so widespread that in Hong King alone in the last three days 11,000 men voluntarily have discarded their queues. No change in the national costume is contemplated.

HEINZE TO BE AGAIN TRIED

Finding of New York Court Reversed by Supreme Bench

Washington, Dec. 6.—Holding that the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York had erred, the supreme court of the United States reversed the lower court finding, and held sufficient various counts of indictments, charging F. A. Heinze with the misapplication of funds of the Mercantile National bank of New York city, of which he was president.

Further proceedings on these counts must now be taken in the lower court. One of the points on which the lower court held the indictments insufficient was that they did not show a conversion by the recipient of the proceeds of certain notes discounted.

FOUGHT IN OUR CIVIL WAR

Duke of Chartres, of the House of Orleans, Dies In Paris

Paris, Dec. 6.—The Duke of Chartres, uncle of the pretender to the throne of France, the Duke of Orleans, and himself the oldest living member of the house of Orleans, died here yesterday afternoon, aged 70 years.

The duke served in the Civil war in America as aide-de-camp to General McClellan when the latter commanded the northern armies. He was noted as one of the most chivalrous, brave and generous members of his house.

Rioting In Chicago Strike

Chicago, Dec. 6.—A walk-out of the drivers of delivery wagons for the principal department stores, which began Saturday, has spread. Rioting occurred just south of the busiest downtown section. Police soon restored order.

Countess and Son Killed

Le Mans, France, Dec. 6.—Countess de Nieclay and her son, and the chauffeur in charge of an automobile in which they were driving, were killed by an express train at a railroad crossing near here.

GRAVE HOLDS POSSIBLE CLUE

Body of William H. Lewis Is to Be Exhumed

MAY BE THE NEW YORK MAN

Mysteriously Died a Month Ago and Is Thought to Be One Who Owned Trunk In Which Body Was Found Sealed and Who Is Sought by Police on Murder Charge—How Suspicion Was Aroused Providence, Dec. 6.—Whether William H. Lewis, who led a strange life for four years in Foster, R. I., until his mysterious death there a month ago, was William Lewis, the New York waiter who disappeared from that city some eight years ago, leaving behind him his trunk in which was a mutilated body supposed to be that of his artist friend, Albert C. Callier, will be determined at Foster when the body of the man who died there last month will be exhumed and examined by acquaintances of the New York Lewis in an effort to connect the two men.

The body was to have been disinterred yesterday, but it is understood that the New York people, including representatives of the New York police, who since the discovery of Callier's body, Nov. 18, have sought William Lewis for the murder of Callier, did not secure the necessary permit in time to commence digging.

Inquiries of the people in this town regarding the life and habits of the William H. Lewis who made his home here for four years elicited a story of an unusual life. He came here about four years ago with a woman who lived with him as Mrs. Lewis, but with whom he was constantly at odds. They quarrelled often, and at their words on these occasions Lewis was heard often to say: "I'll tell everything if you keep this up much longer. I'm tired of being shadowed about," and he often referred in vague ways to a mystery in his life which preceded his coming to Foster.

He was a man of wide knowledge, apparently, his conversation showing an acquaintance with many places in Europe. When asked as to his travels, he always avoided the question, and inquiries as to his past life always met with refusal or were disregarded.

On Nov. 8 last, he armed himself with a revolver, the first time that he had carried one while in Foster, so far as known. He was observed to act queerly, and made a remark as to somebody shadowing him. Early the next morning he left his home with a load of wood for Providence. He was later found on the road, with a fractured skull, apparently having been thrown out of his wagon, although the body lay in the road as if he had fallen feet first. While the death was generally regarded as mysterious, it was generally attributed to accident.

The day before that set for Lewis' funeral, which was at the expense of the town, Mrs. Lewis being unable to pay the necessary costs, his wife committed suicide by drinking rat poison, and both bodies were buried together.

HOBBLE SKIRT MUST GO

"Safe and Sane" Substitute For Freak Gown Has Been Found

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The powers that be in the world of women's styles have put down the authorative foot on so-called freak gowns and as a result the much maligned "hobble skirt" has been ticketed for oblivion, and more than that they declare that a "safe and sane" substitute for the "hobble" has been found.

It is just as unique, but practical and much better looking, say the men who claim that they are actual style originators.

The National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' association in session reluctantly admits that the ban has been placed on the "hobble" and that a substitute has been invented.

BY WIRELESS TELEPHONE

Communication Carried on at Distance of Sixty-Nine Miles

Toulon, Dec. 6.—Experiments with a wireless telephone between the battleships Verite and Justice showed that communication could be carried on perfectly at a distance of sixty-nine miles.

When attempts were made to interfere by nearby warships emitting the most powerful etheric waves communication remained excellent for a distance of eighteen miles.

Typhoon Kills Many Filipinos

Manila, Dec. 6.—Fully a million dollars damage has been done and more than 100 natives killed by a typhoon which has been sweeping over the province of Zamboango for two days.

Electrocution Checked by Confession

Columbus, O., Dec. 6.—Charles Jones of Miami has confessed that he murdered Tasmanio, a Syrian peddler, for which Steve Scott was to have been electrocuted on Dec. 31.

BOY AVIATOR KILLED

Drops Seven Hundred Feet From Machine of Own Invention

Denver, Dec. 6.—Walter Archer, 17 years old, fell 700 feet in an aeroplane of his own invention at Sloan's, and was instantly killed. Nearly every bone in his body was broken.

Archer's machinery was driven by electricity, furnished by a power plant. A coil of wire, 700 feet long, connected the power plant with the aeroplane.

Archer attempted to maneuvre within the radius of the wire. He ventured a trifle too high and the wire snapped, leaving him without power to operate the propellers. With little experience as an aviator he lost control of the machine, which turned over, dashing him to death on a pile of rocks below.

Archer's mother alone knew of the aeroplane her son was constructing. Admiringly she watched him make his first ascent and stood transfixed when the wire snapped and her son came tumbling to the earth.

SCHOOL STRIKE QUELLED

Policeman Does Effective Work With His Heavy Leather Belt

Jersey City, Dec. 6.—While the pupils of school 21 were assembling a number of the boy pupils, dissatisfied at the prospect of being transferred to a school building they did not like, owing to the discontinuance of a section of the old school, tried to organize a general strike of the pupils.

Not more than thirty remained out, however. While they were debating in a group in the schoolyard, Police Sergeant Wolfe, divesting himself of his heavy leather belt, jumped into the group and laid the improvised weapon about vigorously. After the trousers of a score or more of the boys had been thoroughly "dusted" they and the rest were glad to make their escape into the school building and the strike was over.

HARD TO FORECAST ULTIMATE RESULT

Spirited Contest For Control of British Parliament

London, Dec. 6.—With rather more than one-fifth of the house of commons elected, the two great British parties are running very close. As the result so far attained includes a very considerable number of uncontested constituencies, those so palpably of one party that it is not worth while for the other to put up a candidate, conclusions as to final make up of the house are premature.

That the Unionists made gains in the industrial centres is significant of changes which, if widely extended, may determine the fate of the Liberals. The latter have propounded so great a constitutional question in the United Kingdom that they cannot afford to attempt to carry on the government with a mere handful of plurality.

It may well be, as one London newspaper says, that the present general election is being carried on under the shadow of the next.

CLASHES IN PORTUGAL

Trouble Over Decree For Separation of Church and State

Lisbon, Dec. 6.—The Portuguese government is preparing a decree for the separation of the church and the state and this has resulted in collisions between Republicans and Clericals in various parts of the country.

The Clericals assert that it is the government's purpose to destroy the religious customs of Portugal. The minister of justice denies this, saying the new law is designed only to afford complete liberty of conscience in worship, and that it provides even for the removal of the inhibition against priests marrying if they so desire.

SIGNS A CONFESSION

Clerk For Rubber Company a Defaulter to Extent of $5000

New York, Dec. 6.—Thomas H. Wilkins, 30 years old, confidential clerk for the Fisk Rubber company of Chicopee Falls, Mass., with offices in this city, was arrested, charged with the larceny of about $5000 of the funds of the company from the New York branch office. Wilkins signed a confession.

It is charged that the defalcations extend over a period since last February, and the total amount will be a larger sum than is mentioned in the specific complaint.

Foss Resigns From Congress

Washington, Dec. 6.—Representative Foss has mailed his resignation as congressman to Governor Draper so that he can at once continue the fight to prevent Senator Lodge's re-election. The resignation will take effect the day he is inaugurated as governor of Massachusetts.

Killd by Fall on Steamer

Boston, Dec. 6.—While helping to unload the steamer Satanga at Eastern pier, Edward Stafford, a longshoreman, aged 55, was caught in the hoisting tackle, carried forty-five feet into the air and dropped to the deck, killing him instantly.

HIS FIRST ATTEMPT.

"Speaking of boys," said an elderly man whose son was walking briskly down the path, "I remember the first social call I ever made on a young lady. I guess I didn't look quite as slick as my son does this evening, but I know I felt fully as uncomfortable." A writer in the Chicago News gives his account of his preparations.

It was about two hours before the usual time for giving up work when I jerked the plow out of the furrow and drove the old mule up toward the house. Mother was at the wood pile, athering chips in her apron. "My land! she exclaimed, in amazement. "What's the matter, Henry?"

"Nothing," I answered, and started the mule for the barn, filled his manger with hay and walked resolutely toward the house. Mother was inside now, and I was thankful. At the sink I secured a bar of yellow soap and a towell. I filled the tin basin with water and carried it up to my room. Usually I made my toilet at the bench in the yard.

I struggled into a stiffly starched shirt, and assumed my Sunday diagonals. I had trouble with my shoes, for they were tight at the best of times. By this time I heard my father's voice, and in a moment my mother called, "Supper, Henry!"

I wasn't hungry. My father was seated at the table. Both he and mother looked at me. There was an awful silence. I tried several times to speak, and at last managed to say: "You don't care if I take the sorrel mare and the buggy, do you?"

"Certainly not, son," said father. Presently he coughed.

"Going to a political meeting, Henry?"

"Now, father!" said mother.

I got up and pushed my chair back.

"I was just asking," said father. "I didn't mean any harm."

I shook my head and hurried out to harness the sorrel. And, dear me! Here's my own boy beginning to get notions into his head.

WEIGHT OF ONE-DOLLAR BILLS.

Most persons would be surprised to learn that one-dollar bills are worth almost their weight in gold. A twenty-dollar gold piece weighs five hundred and forty grains. Twenty-seven crisp new one-dollar bills, fresh from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, weigh the same as the gold piece. Bills that have been in use have been tested, and it has been found that it took but twenty-six of them to balance the gold piece. It follows, of course, that used bills gather an accumulation of various matter, in passing from hand to hand, that causes them to take on additional weight equal to about that of one new bill.—Harper's Weekly.

How to Quit Smoking.

Do not limit the first cigar less than half an hour after breakfast. The more difficult this delay may be, the more need there is for a cure. The remainder of the day smoke the same as usual. It is only the first cigar with which we are dealing. Keep this up for a week, then lengthen the interval to an hour for another week, then make it one and a half hours, two, two and a half, and so on. If you have an "all gone" sensation, a longing for something and don't know what sort of feeling, eat an orange or apple or almost any kind of fruit, but don't smoke until the time is up. The nerves being deprived of their morning stimulant are crying for nourishment, which nature is hastening to supply through increased appetite to supply digestion. By the time the first cigar is entirely eliminated the cure is effected with no serious derangement of the heart or digestive apparatus. It now requires only a moderate will power to make the cure permanent.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A bathing maid one afternoon
Took a cramp in a lagoon.
Crocodile a-floating round
Saved her, though, from being drowned.
—Pathfinder.

Another maid we knew right well
Fell in a thirty-five foot well.
At last we raised her with a crank
And saved the maid from being drank.
—Boston Herald.

On the Installment Plan.

One day Robert said, "Uncle Will, how much do you want for those pups?"

"Oh, about $2 apiece," was the reply.

"But, Uncle Will," said Robert, "what could I do with a piece of a pup?"—Delineator.

Sheet music 10c, 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

QUEEN LOUISE
FLOUR
90c A BAG AT
JOHNSON BROTHERS

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

It's a Sure Thing that it pays to be in good bodily condition. It is hard enough for most people to get along comfortably, to get ahead, to enjoy life reasonably, even under the best conditions.

It is a great deal harder when they are out of sorts, troubled with headaches, poor digestion, sleeplessness and nervousness. You can escape these unpleasant illnesses if you will seek the aid of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Try them and learn for yourself how they will help you—as they have helped thousands of men, women and children—to be brighter, stronger, and better.

Beecham's Pills are mild but certain and they will quickly aid your liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels to healthy, natural action. Thus they increase your comfort while preventing the inroads of disease. They so save you the sufferings and expense of sickness and it may be said truthfully and forcibly Beecham's Pills

Never Fail to Aid

At any druggist's. In Boxes, with full directions, 10c., 25c.

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911
NOW
One Hundred Styles to Select From
New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS
Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet
Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES
IN
Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever . . . . .

L. A. CHAPIN
1395 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Quincy Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Quincy. Follow the advice of a Quincy citizen and be cured yourself.

Charles Somers, 17 Newcomb Place, Quincy, Mass., says: "It is a pleasure for me to make known to other kidney sufferers, the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills. I had lame back, as the result of weak kidneys for about ten years. I could get no relief from the many remedies I tried and when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. Before long this remedy completely cured me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 120 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
For The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 PER MONTH
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 285-3 Jan. 17-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

CARRIED ONLY SMALL LAMP

Search of Glover House Described by Police Sergeant

NO TRACE OF MISS LE BLANC

Admits That Places Where She Might Have Hidden Were Not Looked Into—Small Arsenal Removed From House by Elmore, Who Tells Why He Received $4153 From Mrs. Glover After the Murder

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 6.—The search of the Glover house the night after Clarence F. Glover was murdered in quest of Hattie LeBlanc, who is on trial charged with the crime, was described yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Curran of the Waltham police.

Under a severe cross examination by Lawyer Johnson for the defendant, Curran admitted that while the house was being searched there was no light in it except a dim one in the hallway; that George A. Freeman carried a small lamp and that when they went to an upper floor to look he did not know that there was a back stairway from there that was unguarded, by which a person could have left the house.

Curran admitted also that they did not look in the pantry nor in a sort of secret compartment in the cellar, of which he did not learn until later.

The police sergeant testified that Freeman carried a lamp and led the searchers into the various places they went, but that while this was going on he did not know where Mrs. Glover and Mrs. Freeman were, although they had been in the house when the search began.

Following the ruling from the case of the statements made to the Waltham police by Hattie LeBlanc after she had been taken to the station house from the Glover home three days after the murder, Lawyer Elmore finished his testimony.

Elmore said he had taken these weapons from the Glover home after the tragedy: One shotgun, one fowling piece, one 22-calibre rifle, one high-power Winchester rifle, one 22-calibre pistol, one 32-calibre revolver and a 38-calibre Richardson & Harrington revolver. He said that the 38-calibre revolver was loaded.

Lawyer Johnson tried to get Elmore to turn over to him a letter that had been written to Mrs. Glover for Hattie LeBlanc. Elmore refused to do it. When he left the stand the letter lay on a table. Mrs. Glover was brought into court and asked if she had any objections to giving up the letter. She said she had not. Johnson then picked up the letter and put it in his pocket. Elmore objected, but Johnson retained the letter.

When Elmore took the stand he was questioned about the $4153 which Mrs. Glover paid him a week after the murder. "I was paid the money to meet the plot which the Glover brothers ——"

That was as far as Elmore got. Johnson leaped to his feet and denounced Elmore for making such an answer. Judge Bond followed, saying that Elmore should not bring in "anything that he knows nothing about."

Elmore was then allowed to state that he got the money to meet expenses as counsel for Mrs. Glover which he expected as a result of statements that had been made to him by brothers of Clarence F. Glover.

Elmore testified that he did not know Hattie was in the Glover house until she was found by the police and declared that he never told Mrs. Glover not to give the girl up.

As soon as court had been opened Judge Bond said: "With reference to this examination of Hattie by the Waltham police, I don't think any of it ought to be admitted now. I don't mean to say that there cannot come a time when it can come in in some way, but that time is not now."

LOSS PLACED AT $6,500,000

Stockholder Files Suit In Alleged Illinois Central Car Repair Frauds

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The total amount of which the Illinois Central railroad was mulcted through alleged car repair frauds was fixed at $6,500,000 in the declaration of a suit filed by Mrs. Jennie Edgar, a stockholder in the railroad company.

The defendants named are J. T. Harahan, Cornelius Vanderbilt, R. W. DeForest, R. S. Lovett, John J. Astor, J. O. Armour, C. A. Peabody, J. G. Shedd, A. H. Hackstaff, Walter Luttgen, J. W. Auchincloss and R. W. Goelet.

Aged Woman Burned to Death

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 6.—Mrs. John Gilmore, 82 years of age, was burned to death late yesterday afternoon at her home. She was in the the kitchen, and her clothes caught fire from the stove.

Population of "Greater Berlin"

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The provisional count of the city of Berlin and its suburbs under the general census shows an aggregate population of 3,400,000.

FUNERAL ON THURSDAY

Burial Place of Mrs. Eddy to Be Decided Upon by Son

Boston, Dec. 6.—Not until George W. Glover, son of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, arrives from Lead, S. D., will the question as to the burial place of the deceased founder of the Christian Science church be decided.

Glover is due to reach Boston tomorrow and after his wish in the matter has been ascertained, the leaders of the church will complete their funeral plans. But it is definitely settled that the time of the services will be 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The last rites will be conducted at the Chestnut Hill mansion in privacy. Officers of the church, members of the Eddy household staff, and relatives will be the only ones in attendance.

Interment, it is believed, will be either at Bow, N. H., where the family plot is located, at Concord, N. H., where Mrs. Eddy resided for so many years before coming to Boston, or in this city because of the "Mother Church" being located here.

ROBBED BY HIS WIFE

Victim Advised by Judge to Sew Money In His Pajamas

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—William McCaffrey caused the arrest of his wife, Nellie McCaffrey, charging her with pilfering $3 from a pocket of his trousers while he slept. The case was heard by William M. Belcher, the "Solomon magistrate" of Philadelphia, who, after discharging Mrs. McCaffrey, gave the husband some advice as to the best method of keeping his money.

Magistrate Belcher acknowledged that his hip "lot had fallen along similar lines."

"You might hide your trousers," said Magistrate Belcher, "but your wife would probably find them. You might go to bed wearing them, but that might be uncomfortable. Either purchase a strong box or each night sew your money to the back of your pajamas. Then sleep on your back."

DREXEL BAROGRAPH DECLARED CORRECT

Experts Say Aviator Reached Altitude of 9897 Feet

Philadelphia, Dec. 6.—According to George S. Bliss, chief of the United States weather bureau in this city, J. A. Drexel rose to a height of 9897 feet in his flight to make a new world's record for aeroplanes in this city on Nov. 23. The best previous record was 9714 feet, made by Ralph Johnstone, who was later killed in Denver.

When members of the Aero Club of America in New York questioned the correctness of Drexel's record the latter immediately placed the matter in the hands of the weather bureau experts and announced that if they agreed that he broke Johnstone's record he would fight to have his figures officially accepted.

The barograph used by Drexel was the same as that taken up by Johnstone at Belmont park. It was put to five different tests and each test showed the barograph to be an excellent instrument.

KEPT FROM WHITE SCHOOL

Girl With One-Sixteenth Negro Blood In Veins Is "Colored"

Washington, Dec. 6.—The possession of 1-16 of negro blood brings a person under the classification of "colored," according to a decision of the district court of appeals in the case of Isabel I. Wall, 8 years old, against the board of education.

The girl was admitted to a local white school more than a year ago, but afterward was excluded on the ground that she was "colored." The evidence showed that the Wall girl had 1-16 of negro blood in her veins, and Justice Wright in the district supreme court upheld the action of the board of education in barring the child from the white school.

Chief Justice Shepard of the appellate court affirmed that decision.

FOUL PLAY IS FEARED

Missing Man May Have Been Slain For Money He Carried

Newburyport, Mass., Dec. 6.—Believing that the body of Cornelius Leary, who conducts a bottling establishment in this city, and who mysteriously disappeared Nov. 23, may be in the Merrimac river, the family had the river bottom in the vicinity of Littlefield's wharf dragged.

Men in boats searched along the river banks, following a theory that Leary met with foul play, as it is known he carried considerable money.

Littlefield's wharf is in the rear of Leary's bottling plant. Although a careful search was made nothing had been found when darkness set in and made any further attempts to grapple useless.

Actor and Critic In Duel

Paris, Dec. 6.—A duel with swords was fought in the outskirts of Paris by the light of torches and automobile lamps. The principals were M. Raucourt, an actor, and M. Champagne, a dramatic critic. The actor ran the critic through the lung and the latter in is a desperate condition.

A MERCENARY MARRIAGE.

Romance of Lady March and the Second Duke of Richmond.

One of the mercenary marriages which turned out happily was that of the second Duke of Richmond. He was married to Lady Sarah Cadogan as part of an agreement that her father's gambling debts should be canceled. Lord March (as he then was) being eighteen and the bride thirteen. Immediately after the wedding Lord March's tutor took him off to the continent for the grand tour, and Lady Sarah went back to her nursery. This is the sequel as told by Lady Russell in "The Rose Goddess:"

"Three years elapsed. Lord March returned from his travels, but, having such an uninteresting recollection of his bride, was in no hurry to claim her and went the first evening of his return to London to the opera. There he noticed that all eyes—and lorgnettes—were directed to one box, where, surrounded by several persons, sat a most beautiful young creature. Turning to a man beside him, he asked who she was. 'You must be a stranger in London,' was the answer, 'not to know the reigning toast of the town, the beautiful Lady March!' Lord March lost no time in going to the box and introducing himself to his bride, with whom he ever after lived so affectionately that their devotion to one another became proverbial."

Cruelty to Women.

We wonder what death the man will die or what tortured life he will be caused to lead who discovered the little "trick" by which a woman's age can be ascertained beyond a doubt—that is to say, while her health is normal. The only instrument required is an ordinary watch. The wrist of the lady whose age is in question is the telltale, for when you count her pulse and it registers sixty-nine beats per minute you know that she is between twenty and twenty-five years old. During the next five years seventy-one beats go to the minute, and the "femme de trente ans" and over is entitled to seventy throbs. It is a pity the man of science who established these facts is not more exact when dealing with the women of riper age, for, according to rumor and tradition, it is only after she is thirty that a woman begins to leave off having birthdays.—Westminster Gazette.

Dropping Coaches on the Run.

The ingenious means by which one of the great railroad systems of England drops passenger coaches off at intermediate stations without slowing up the locomotive, even for a fraction of a second, in its speed of sixty or more miles an hour is called the "slip coach" system and is described in Popular Mechanics. It is a system never tried in America and consists in dropping, or "slipping," one or more of the rear coaches just before the station is reached. Undoubtedly many American tourists in England after alighting at their destination have been amazed to discover that the coach which they occupied was still beside them, while the locomotive and the remainder of the train were nowhere to be seen.

As George Sees the Peers.

"David Lloyd George," said the miner from Wales, "is a very witty speaker. I've heard him many a time in Carnarvon. Speaking in Welsh, he once ridiculed in Carnarvon the house of lords. He said the average peer thought so much of himself at family prayers he always made one well known passage run:

"'Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of lords forever.'"—London Globe.

His Wish.

"Life is something of a game after all," said the cynical person.

"Perhaps," replied Mr. Meekton, "but I wish Henrietta wouldn't regard it as bridge, with me forever playing opposite as dummy." — Washington Star.

A Strict Dramatic Censor.

Vienna once possessed the strictest dramatic censor ever known in the person of Franz Hoegelin, who held that post in the Austrian capital at the beginning of the last century. Hoegelin published a manual for the guidance of censors. "A pair of lovers should never be allowed to appear on the stage alone. They must always be accompanied by a third person of mature years." Marriages out of one's class were also strictly forbidden by Hoegelin on the stage, and he quotes an instance of a play which he refused to pass because the author made the hero, Count Valdemar, marry a gardener's daughter. "Such misalliances have unfortunately been known to occur in real life, but that is no reason why they should be allowed on the stage," he said.

Today I looked my summer relics o'er.
The relics I had gathered at the shore.
There was the fluffy curl from Lucy's head,
An emblem of a love which now is dead.
There was the ruby ring that thrifty Bess
Returned to me, as I was penniless.
There was the lily, now so dry and sear,
Once watered by Leona's gushing tear.
And there was Dell's keen hatpin, which had made
A puncture deep in my poor shoulder blade.
Oh, Lucy, Bess, Leona, Dell, the shore
Has known me once, but will know me no more!

—Chicago News.

VILLIAGE WITHOUT WOOD.

A village with no wood in it has just been completed on the north shore of Long Island, at Manhasset, just outside of Greater New York. It is the latest example of the "fireproof home idea." Ten of the houses have been finished up todate, and others are to follow. The principal material used in their construction is terra cotta. Walls, floors and partitions are of terra cotta hollow block—of practically the same kind that is used for the "skyscrapers" of Manhattan. Concrete is used for the floor beams.

In the walls the terra cotta blocks are laid end on end, with the hollow spaces running up and down, so that continuous "dead air" chambers are formed. These act as non-conductors of heat, and serve to keep the houses cool in summer and warm in winter. All around New York City there has been a great progress in fireproof construction in the last three or four years. The price of lumber has risen so that home-builders find it more economical, in the long run, to use the unburnable materials. Engineers and architects have made elaborate tests of the new fire-proof materials, removing any doubt as to their strength and lasting qualties.

KITCHEN POLITICS.

"Of course, I'm in politics all the time," remarked the lawyer, "but my wife has always given the subject the cold shoulder until within a few days. Then she suddenly began to read and talk politics and made rapid progress. I encouraged her all I could and she was soon talking about tariff, protection and all sorts of legislation.

"About that time our cook quit her job and upset our domestic arrangements. We supposed she had gone for good, but soon she came sauntering back and wanted her old place. I was at home at the time and was delighted. So was my wife for a minute or two.

"'Go right out to the kitchen and tell Mary to take her things off and go to work, was my advice.

"'Yes, I will see her; but I may not take her back,' was the reply.

"I followed her out to see where the doubt came in, and she accosted the returned cook with:

"'Mary, you know there's a presidential campaign on?"

"'Yes'm.'

"'How do you stand on the tariff revision plank?"

"'As how, ma'am?" asked Mary, with a puzzled look.

"'Are you in favor of high or low tariff?"

"'Low tariff, ma'am.'

"'Then you can get right out again. This is a high-tariff house and we don't want you.'

"And Mary went."

SO BAD AS THAT!

A young medical student who was calling upon a girl volunteered to sing and help entertain the company which arrived unexpectedly. At the end of his second solo he turned to the young lady and remarked: "I am thinking of taking vocal lessons. Do you know of a good teacher?"

"Yes, indeed," was the quick reply. 'I know the very one for you. Here is his address," and she scribbled the name on a card, giving it to the student.

Next day he called up the teacher by telephone: "Is this the instructor of vocal music?"

"The what?" was the answer.

"The vocal teacher?" was repeated.

"Naw," came the reply, "I don't teach nothing. I file saws!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Not the Same.

On one occasion when "The Mikado" was being rehearsed Gilbert called out from the middle of the stalls, "There is a gentleman in the left group not holding his fan correctly." The stage manager appeared and explained. "There is one gentleman," he said, "who is absent through illness." "Ah," came the reply from the author in grave, matter of fact tones, "that is not the gentleman I am referring to." —Dundee Advertiser.

A Silent Partner.

Nibbitt—That woman who just went out is the partner of your joys and sorrows, I suppose? Rufton—She's partner to my joys all right, but when it comes to my sorrows she slips over to see her mother.

Very Devoted.

"What have you tied that string around your finger for?"

"My wife's away, and this is to remind me that I promised to think of her every day."—Toledo Blade.

Chip of the Old Block.

Caller (viewing the baby)—Do you think he is going to resemble father? Mother—I shouldn't be surprised. He keeps me up nights even now.—Boston Transcript.

Alcohol Not a drop of it in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. No alcohol habit. No stimulation. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic, a regular tonic. It tones up, restores healthy activity. Consult your doctor freely about using it. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Hours a Mother Dreads

THE long afternoon school-session drains for the moment your boy's brain-vitality and piles up body-energy.

He comes home to let off steam in ways which try tired nerves.

You know that he must work off his stored-up energy to maintain the normal balance between mind and body, so you endure his noisy antics. If you are a wise parent you will encourage in those after-school hours play which will build up his character.

By selling THE SATURDAY EVENING POST your boy can let off steam without taxing your nerves and, at the same time, build up a character which will be his best asset in later life.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Character-building work for energetic, noisy boys. If bright and ambitious, your boy can earn from fifty cents to $2.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH
40 NORTH STREET.

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of
BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES
5 GRANITE STREET

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	21 degrees
December 6, 1909,	48 degrees
December 6, 1908,	22 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 2

BRIEFS

Election Extras of the Daily Ledger tonight.

The Superior civil court is in session at Dedham.

Boys wanted at 6 P. M. to sell the Daily Ledger Election extra.

An all day meeting is to be held tomorrow by the Fragment society of First church.

There will be a public meeting in Doble's Hall on Wednesday evening of those interested in the proposed new market for Quincy. Mr. Potter of the big Manhattan Market of Cambridge will be on hand, further to explain the plan.

J. I. Anderson of Prescott, Arizona, an expert in mining and cyaniding who has been stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown of Wollaston, left Monday for Old Mexico to inspect a large silver mine for the company he is with and if it is as represented he will close the deal for the same before his return to Prescott.

President P. F. Sullivan of the Boston and Northern and Old Colony street railways has filed a petition with the secretary of the Commonwealth asking for legislation to authorize the Boston and Northern to purchase the franchise and property of the old Colony. The consolidation will mean a trackage of more than 900 miles.

Rice and Hutchins, Inc., the manufacturers of the Educator shoes, and the York manufacturing company, have raised objections against paying excise taxes on their property which is mostly outside the state. Rice and Hutchins, which is capitalized at 1,-800,000, had to pay $360 and the other concern which is capitalized at $5,-000,000 paid $1000.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

The Wollaston Glee club promises to furnish some excellent music at its concert next Tuesday evening, Dec. 13, at the Wollaston Congregational church. In addition to the numbers by the Glee club there will be selections by such artists as Miss Caroline A. Hooker of Boston, soprano soloist, Miss Mary T. Ellis of Boston, violinist, and Edward E. Bullock, who needs no introduction to a Quincy audience. William E. Weston will act as accompanist and John A. Crowley as conductor. The evening bids fair to be one of great pleasure for those who attend the concert.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

MARRIAGES

LITCHFIELD—CLAPP—In Scituate, Dec. 4, by Rev. F. B. Noyes, Mr. Luther J. Litchfield of Norwell to Miss Mary B. Clapp of North Scituate.

DEATHS

PACKARD—In Quincy, Dec. 5, Elisha Packard in his 67th year.
Funeral services at Christ Episcopal church Thursday, Dec. 8 at 11 A. M. Relatives and friends invited. 6-2t

WEBB—In Quincy, Dec. 4, Mrs. Eliza J. Webb, wife of James H. Webb, 213 Washington street.
Funeral services at her late residence, Wednesday, at 2 P. M. Burial private. Kindly omit flowers.

CAMERON—In Quincy, Dec. 4, Mr. Daniel E. Cameron, in his 44th year.
Funeral services at his late home, 22 Bennington street, Thursday, Dec. 8, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 6-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BREAK AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Ten Dollars in Money and Other Things Taken

The Thomas Crane Public library was entered by burglars Monday night, and $10 in money taken in addition to some personal effects of Miss White the librarian. The break was discovered by Officer Farrell in a somewhat peculiar manner. It was in the vicinity of 4 o'clock when he started to go in back of the Adams building from Temple street. As he did so he stumbled over a bag. Examining the contents of the bag he found it to contain some silver spoons with the initial "W," and some newspapers with Miss White's name on them. He visited Miss White's residence, and found everything there all right. Then he went to the library and found a window open.

Investigation showed the library to have been the place entered. The burglars had climbed up the trellis and opened the window. Once inside they had turned things topsy turvey in their efforts to find something of value. They secured but little.

C. E. UNION SOCIAL.

The East Norfolk Christian Endeavor union, which includes many societies from Quincy, held a social with the Winthrop Congregational society in Holbrook Monday evening. Over 200 young people attended the affair and enjoyed the charades, tableaux, contests and refreshments. All the societies appeared with their new badges which are uniform in style, but differing in color. Each society was assigned its own color, and the name and locality of the church each society represented were printed on the ribbons.

The roll call showed an attendance of over two hundred. The entertaining society had 88.4 percent of its attendance present. The banner was awarded to the Calvary Baptist society which had a percentage of 73.3. The rules of the union do not allow the entertaining society to get the banner. Braintree Baptist, with 62.4 per cent was third. The Calvary Baptist society which was just received into membership at the meeting deserves great commendation for winning the banner at its first opportunity.

WASTED LABOR.

A candidate for parliamentary honors found himself in front of a house near which a number of children were playing.

"Madam, I may kiss these beautiful children, may I not?"

"Certainly," replied the woman.

When he had finished his wholesale contract, he turned to the woman and said:

"Seldom have I seen lovelier children. Yours, madam?" The woman blushed deeply.

"Oh, of course they are," gallantly suggested the politician. "The little treasures, from whom else could they have inherited those limpid eyes, those rosy cheeks, and those musical voices?" But still the lady blushed.

"By the way, madam," said he, "may I impose upon your good nature to the extent of asking that you tell your estimable husband that Mr. Cockrell called upon him."

"Excuse me sir," said the woman, "I have no husband."

"But these children, madam—surely you are not a widow?"

"I fear there's some mistake, sir. This is an orphan asylum."

Dorothy was entering kindergarten. It was her first day at school, and her name had been registered.

"Have you any brothers or sisters?" the teacher asked.

"Yes, ma'am," answered Dorothy.

"And are you the oldest?"

"Oh, no, ma'am," she said. "Pa and ma's both older 'n me."—Philadelphia Times.

There was a man in our town,
And he was wondrous rash.
He voted for a Republican
And thus lost half his cash.

And when he found what he had done,
As guileless as a calf,
He voted for a Democrat
And lost the other half.
—Success Magazine.

"He weighed just twenty pounds, egad!"
The fisherman was saying.
'Twas true, but he forgot to add
The coal man did the weighing.
—New York Times.

ELECTION EXTRAS.

The Daily Ledger will issue ELECTION EXTRAS early Tuesday evening with the returns of the City Election. Look for first extra before 6 P. M. Boys wanted at that hour.

THE LABOR QUESTION

Discussed by President Tobin at the Men's Club

The Men's club of Christ church had a fine meeting Monday evening in the parish house with a large attendance. J. F. Tobin, president of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union spoke very interestingly on the labor question with special reference of course to the one with which he was so intimately connected. Mr. Tobin has been in the shoe business for over 40 years and has had an opportunity to watch the development of the industry and the increasing distance between wage earner and capitalist.

The labor union he says is a protective organization, arising from the necessity of some sort of a defense against capital and the power of its wielder. The trusts are corporate bodies and many people believe that the labor unions should be. Up to the present time this has not been found necessary. The employes have a verbal contract with their employers and the union. There is very little trouble on the part of the employes provided that the other factors live up to their agreement.

The union is founded on principles of justice, an honest wage for honest work, and insofar as the members and the leaders keep within the bounds of reason in their demands (and they do this almost without exception), the spirit of cooperation is greatly increased by their presence in the labor world.

Mr Tobin explained the working of the union in general and gave many interesting illustrations.

At the conclusion of his remarks he expressed his willingness to answer questions which might arise in the minds of any of his hearers. Charles W. Hanscomb interrogated him, and Arthur Thomas asked about the plan of incorporating the union. All the questions were answered explicitedly and satisfactorily.

After this discussion was over, refreshments were served and the audience was favored with some songs by Mr. French who was accompanied by Prof. Wrigley. The gathering was the most successful of the year so far and all of the 80 men present seemed to be greatly pleased with the speaker and the entertainment which followed his address.

OBEYED INSTRUCTIONS.

A milkman who lives in a town of New England and collects milk from the neighboring farmers had in his employ a boy whom he sent about with a wagon every morning picking up his supply. There is a rather dangerous railroad crossing on the road, and when the boy began work for him the milkman said: "When there's a train coming, just stop and sit still in your wagon until it gets by."

The boy went about his task, but instead of collecting the milk in about an hour and a half, as should have been done, he took at least two hours, and sometimes more.

The milkman grumbled a little, but the boy said nothing, and, as he seemed honest, nothing was done.

One evening he milkman went over his route to see some of his customers, says Harper's Weekly. "What ails that boy of yours?" asked one of the farmers.

"Why, nothing, only that he's rather slow," was the reply.

"Slow? "Well, I guess you'd think he was slow if you saw him resting for half an hour in his wagon down there by the railroad track every morning."

"Is it true that you stop half an hour every morning down by the railroad track?" the boy was asked.

"Yes, sir; I have to," said the boy.

"Have to? What do you mean?"

"Well, sir," you told me to stop when there was a train coming, to wait till it got by. There's a crook in the track there, so I never can see whether there's a train comin' down the track or not. So I just stop an' wait till there's one goes by, anyway, and then I just skip over lively."

"Yes," said the clubhouse bore. "I suppose I owe some of my success to the fact that we've been golfers in our family for generations. I was recently looking up my ancestral tree"—

"Did they throw any nuts?" asked the quiet man in the corner.—World of Golf.

It gives a married man the chills
And chronic blues
When marriage merely runs to bills
Instead of coos.
—Pittsburg Post.

Cardamoms.

A favorite food of Liberian gorillas is the fruit of the cardamoms, or malaguesta pepper plant. The kernel is said to be the most aromatic and spicy of all peppers.

ELECTION

(Continued from Page 1.)

when he voted at 9.10 at the precinct two polls he wore the usual bland smile.

The vote in this precinct was a little ahead of last year's and that at the State election. A total of 222 votes was cast at 10 o'clock. During the first hour 114 were registered, from 7 to 8 o'clock 61 more were added, and at 9 the 200 mark was passed by 2. Everyone seems to be confident of Mayor Shea's reelection in this ward and everything was running "fine and dandy" according to the people about the polls.

The total for the ward at 10 o'clock was 457. At 1 o'clock the greater part of the voting was done.

WARD FIVE.

Wollaston, the banner Republican ward of the city, is always looked to by Republicans, for it is usually figured out that the Republican majority there will offset the Democratic majority in Ward Four. Last year Wollaston gave Nichols a plurality of 111 while Ward Four gave Shea a plurality of 453. Whether the old saying that the two wards will offset each other this year will prove true remains to be seen.

At the polls this morning it was said that there would be considerable change in the Mayoralty vote. It was admitted that many Republicans who last year voted for Shea would not do so this year. On the other hand they said they would not vote for Hobbs. This means that Mr. Blank for Mayor will receive more votes than usual. Fifteen was the number of blanks last year.

The voting as a rule is about up to the standard. At 10 o'clock Precinct one had cast 321 votes and Precinct two 198. As the total registration is something over 1000 votes it will be seen that at that hour 50 per cent of the voters had passed through the gates and voted. At the recent State election, Precinct one had cast 390 votes at 10 o'clock and Precinct two 289, a total of 679. The total vote of the ward at the municipal election in 1909 was 793.

WARD SIX.

In view of the fact that Atlantic is the home ward of Candidate Hobbs, and that there are seven gentlemen seeking the three offices as Councilmen from the ward, one would naturally expect to see a large vote polled. The morning voting, however, did not give any indication of a large vote. On the contrary it seemed rather small when compared with the recent State election.

The total vote of the ward at 9.30 was 404, as against 470 at the same hour at the State election. In precinct one the vote was 254 and precinct two 150. Compared with the municipal election a year ago the voting is not holding its own if the large increase in registration is taken into account. The total vote of the ward in 1909 for Mayor was 588.

In precinct two it was said this morning that fully twenty voters marched past the polling place to the train, absolutely refusing to enter the polling place and vote.

The Democratic estimate is that Hobbs will carry the ward by less than 50, while the Republican estimate is the Hobbs will carry it by over 100. Last year the ward went for Shea by 43 votes.

VOTE AT 1 O'CLOCK.

The following table gives the total vote of each ward at 1 o'clock compared with the vote at the same hour at the recent State election and the total vote of the municipal election in 1909:

	Today at 1.	Nov. 8 at 1.	Dec. 1909
Ward One	762	840	972
Ward Two	557	607	722
Ward Three	680	721	860
Ward Four	683	664	850
Ward Five	663	805	793
Ward Six	504	625	588
	3849	4262	4,794

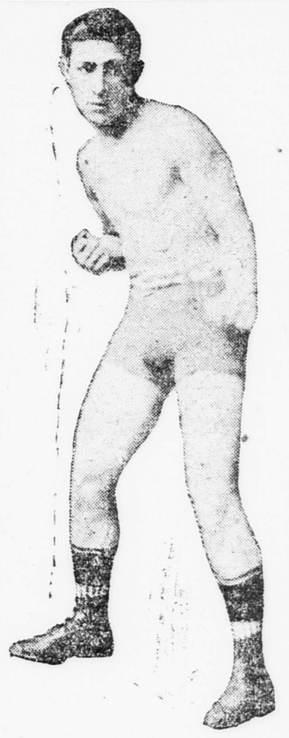
LOCAL SPORTS.

"Bill" Manning has been selected for all-interscholastic end by Albert J. Woodlock of the Boston Globe and by the sporting editor of the Boston Journal. Both men consider Manning the fastest end in the school world for the year.

Woodlock refereed several games in Quincy and had an opportunity to see him play. The Dorchester game won him his place on the Journal eleven. "Bill" certainly has the speed and fighting spirit which make football players and if he continues further in school we may expect to hear great things of him along athletic lines.

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. teams won two of their three basket ball games on Saturday, defeating Lawrence 38 to 17 and Clapp Memorial 23 to 20. They lost to Lowell employed boys 19 to 15.

ATTELL IS BUSIEST FIGHTER IN RING



When it comes to gathering the coin of the realm little old Abie Attell is the master harvester. East and west, north and south, he garners industriously. Two or three battles a week are merely exercise for Abraham. And no fighter is too tough, no bit too small, to be overlooked or passed up by the boxing business man.

Attell's record since the outset of the present boxing season attests this fact. Within the last three months he has had fourteen battles of varying lengths, and in order to fill these dates Abie has been forced to hop about from one end of the country to the other. The featherweight champion has traveled around the country more than any other pugilist, and for fourteen years he has exhibited his skill in nearly every large city in the United States.

Attell is the last one of the old time champions to remain. He has seen the passing of Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Wolcott, McCoy, Tommy Ryan, Joe Gans, Terry McGovern, Young Corbett, Bat Nelson, but still this great little featherweight clings to his title. In fact, there is no one in sight that seems to have a possible chance to take it away from him.

Abie can make 122 pounds with ease, but the little ringmaster is forced to go out of his class and take on lightweights and sometime welterweights in order to show his skill. Attell recently stated that he could defeat all the lightweights before the public today, and, judging by his present form and the poor class of lightweights, he could easily do it.

Sprinter Gissing May Visit England.

Harry Gissing, New York Athletic club half mile champion, is an amateur runner capable of running 880 yards in 1 minute 54 seconds. He is the most likely track athlete of the present generation to lower Tommy Conefl's mile mark of 4 minutes 15 3-5 seconds. He is one of the best built runners since the days of Lonnie Meyers. Shepard's conqueror may go to England next summer to try for the half mile championship.

New Baseball Bat Invented.

A Philadelphia man has invented a new style bat which is interesting the ball players. He calls it a "place hitting" bat. It is curved near the end, and the inventor says that by moving the wrist the ball can be pulled into either field or hit over second base. There is no rule that prevents the use of a curved bat.

PUNTS AND PASSES

Ten Indian tribes are represented on the Carlisle team this year.

Pennsylvania has the best freshman football team in the country this season. The Quakers always plant a lot of good ones for varsity use. They all study during the freshman year. After that they play football.

Haskell School says Pete Houser is thirty-five years of age. He is one of those simon pure amateurs who have been making a fat living out of athletics for fifteen years. He wasn't kown as Houser at Haskell. That's just his Carlisle name.

There has been considerable rumpus in games between the small colleges over the size of the ball. Nothing in the rule book indicates the size of the ball. Its shape must be that of a prolate spheroid, but it can be as big around as a bushel basket.

Inside the twenty-five yard line Mike Murphy, Penn's trainer, would reduce the distance to be gained in three downs from ten to eight or five. He would put a premium on attempt to score. The secondary defense plays up so close that it's almost impossible to push the ball over when two evenly matched teams are on the field.

CUBS MEET THE RED SOX

Honors are Divided Two and Two

The Red Sox and the Cubs split even on Monday evening in the Makaria bowling league. The former took the first string by 16 pins and the second by 6. Then they weakened, and the Cubs won the third by 77, which also gave them a lead of 55 on totals. R. Bates of the Cubs had the highest single string—175—and also led on totals with an even 500. R. Ganzel did the best work for the Red Sox.

The summary:

CUBS.

Giles	103	98	108	309
L. Brooks	147	163	149	459
R. Bates	160	165	175	500
R. Stewart	76	137	93	306
Morris	115	111	130	356
	601	674	655	1920

RED SOX.

T. King	106	145	85	336
R. Ganzel	170	170	137	477
Eggleton	129	119	109	357
H. Brooks	103	136	122	361
C. Ganzel	109	110	125	344
	617	680	578	1875

FORE RIVER DRAFTSMEN

Win from the Walworths at Soccer 4 to 1

The soccer team of the Fore River draftsmen went to South Boston on Saturday and played the Walworth team.

The Home team won the toss and R. Hendry kicked off for the visitors against the sun and a slight breeze, just before 3 o'clock. The opening exchanges were fast, the ball travelling over the bare ground at a speed which for a while sorely bothered the visitors. However, they soon settled down, and after about 15 minutes' play, R. Hendry opened the scoring with a fine cross shot, which gave the home goal-keeper no earthly chance. This woke up the Walworth team, who made a determined assault on the Fore River goal. Their efforts were crowned with success and they equalized with a shot at close quarters, from the right wing.

After this play ruled fairly even until a little before half time, when Antonisen put Fore River ahead, his goal being the culmination of some good concerted play. Half time came with the score, Fore River Draftsmen, 2; Walworth, 1.

On resuming, the home team pressed the visitors hard, but were unable to score. Missing the services of Tabe, their center forward, who was injured in a game with Lynn Fosse on Thanksgiving day, their efforts lacked cohesion and the Fore River halfbacks were always a little too good for them. When their spasmodic attacks slackened, the draftsmen pressed the hard, and scored two more goals, Antonisen and J. Hendry each being successful in putting the ball between the posts. An interesting game ended, Draftsmen, 4; Walworth, 1.

The two teams will meet again Saturday at Quincy Point. The Quincy team was: Hogan, goal; Artis and Barnes, backs; Scott, Williams and Wilson, halfbacks; J. Hendry, Sullivan, R. Hendry, Antonisen and Ridge, forwards.

—The general store of N. G. Scaverns & Co., at Scituate was damaged $5000 by five on Monday.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Whitney road. Quincy, Dec. 6-tf

WANTED—By first class cook, place to accommodate or nursing. Good reference. L. M. Flynn, City Employment Bureau, 1533 Hancock St. Tel. 485-2. Dec. 6-3t.

TO LET

TO LET—Suite of 7 large rooms in in new house, near car line. All modern improvements. 11 West Elm Avenue, Wollaston Park. Dec. 6-3t

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent. $13. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor. 75 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET—At 278 Whitwell street a flat of 5 rooms on second floor. All improvements. Read Jan. 1. Apply to 172 Glendale road, Quincy. Dec. 2-6t Dec. 2-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-2 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10; Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2300

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 284 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 7, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

MAYOR SHEA FOR A FOURTH TERM

All Councilmen Who Were Candidates for Re-election Were Returned, and Also Messrs. Hunting and Miller to School Board

Vote on No-License Question Was 3,252 NO to 1,234 YES, and the Majority Against License Was Over 2,000 Only 45 Less Than Last Year

For the fourth time on Tuesday Hon. William T. Shea was elected Mayor of the City of Presidents by a decisive majority. The City Council will be made up of 18 Republicans and 5 Democrats, and School Committee of 6 Republicans and one Democrat.

Again No-License swept the city the 9th consecutive year by a decisive majority of over 2000.

The Mayorality vote of four years is concisely summed up below and is a record of which any candidate may well be proud.

	SHEA	OPPONENT
In 1907	2,620	2,088
In 1908	3,076	1,966
In 1909	2,785	1,871
In 1910	2,613	2,063

The majority of Mayor Shea is not as large as last year by 362 but it is more than in his first year, and very decisive. Ralph W. Hobbs, the Republican candidate for Mayor, is to be congratulated at the same time for a gain of nearly 200 in the Republican vote.

Mayor Shea carried seven of the twelve precincts a loss of one, precinct one of Ward Six. In four precincts his majority was larger than last year—both precincts of Ward One, precinct one of Ward Two, and precinct one of Ward Four. In five of the precincts Mr. Hobb's majority was larger than was given to Walter F. Nichols last year, and in three other precincts he reduced the Shea majority.

This summary gives the majorities for the two Mayoralty candidates of 1910:

	SHEA	HOBBS
Ward One, Pre. 1	32	—
Ward One, Pre. 2,	72	—
Ward Two, Pre. 1,	92	—
Ward Two, Pre. 2	155	—
Ward Three, Pre. 1,	98	—
Ward Three, Pre. 2	—	19
Ward Four, Pre. 1,	276	—
Ward Four, Pre. 2	171	—
Ward Five, Pre. 1	—	133
Ward Five, Pre. 2	—	73
Ward Six, Pre. 1,	—	55
Ward Six, Pre. 2	—	66

For comparison the pluralities of the year 1909 are given:

	SHEA	NICHOLS
Ward One, Pre. 1	22	—
Ward One, Pre. 2	21	—
Ward Two, Pre. 1	72	—
Ward Two, Pre. 2,	173	—
Ward Three, Pre. 1,	149	—
Ward Three, Pre. 2,	—	8
Ward Four, Pre. 1,	268	—
Ward Four, Pre. 2	185	—
Ward Five, Pre. 1,	—	59
Ward Five, Pre. 2	—	52
Ward Six, Pre. 1,	44	—
Ward Six, Pre. 2	—	1

THE NEW COUNCIL.

All five of the Councilmen at large will be Republicans. Ex-Mayor Bryant the favorite led Mr. Bolster by 13 votes. The order of the other successful candidates was: Sandberg, Branch and Cherrington. Mr. McGrath the sole Democrat was 506 behind. Mr. Bryant led in five precincts, Mr. McGrath in three, Mr. Bolster in two, Mr. Branch in one and Mr. Cherrington one.

In Ward One Messrs Ericson and Nowland are returned, and John R. S. Ross of Houghs Neck is the new man.

In Ward Two, Councilman Histen is returned, with a Republican and a Democrat as new members.

In Ward Three Councilman Richards comes back with two new Republicans.

In Ward Four Councilmen Boyd and Smith are returned with Daniel F. Forde as an associate.

Ward Five sends back Councilman Gardner with two new Republicans, Charles W. Bailey and William J. Leslie.

In Ward Six the three Republicans were successful and all are new men.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Three members of the School Committee whose terms expire were re-elected, Dr. N. S. Hunting at large, and John D. Mackay and John L. Miller from wards. J. J. O'Hara a Democrat, declined to be a candidate for reelection and the Quincy Point ward sent Arthur B. Foster, a Republican in his place.

LICENSE QUESTION.

Every ward and every precinct of the city gave a majority against the granting of licenses, and the verdict was decisive as will be seen:

NO	3252
YES	1234
Blanks	265
Total vote	4486
Majority	2018

The No vote was only 10 less than last year, and has now been in excess of 3000 for five successive years. The Yes vote was 35 larger than last year, but not as large as in 1908. The number of blanks was the smallest since 1899. For six successive years the majority against license has been 2000 or more in a vote of less than 4800.

The vote in detail for al l candidates will be found on another page.

MEN ELECTED.

FOR MAYOR.

William T. Shea, Citizens-Dem.
Ward 4—12 Common Street.

FOR COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.

George A. Bolster Dem.-Rep.
Ward 3—22 Verchild Street.

Ernest W. Branch Republican
Ward 1—72 Putnam Street.

Charles M. Bryant Republican
Ward 5—Fenno Street

Charles E. Cherrington Republican
Ward 6—21 Clive Street

Edward J. Sandberg Republican
Ward 4—20 Buckley Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE-AT-LARGE, 3 YEARS.

Nathaniel S. Hunting Republican
Ward 1—1136 Hancock Street.

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 1.

Charles A. Ericson Republican
127 Glendale Road

James M. Nowland Republican
Edgemere Road

John R. S. Ross Republican
1290 Sea Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 2

Frank J. Duffy Democratic
12 Beacon Street

Edward P. Histen Democratic
Dysart Street

Harry G. Studley Republican
Cherry Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 3.

Murdock A. Campbell Republican
Liberty Square

Robert B. Craig Dem.Rep.
91 Independence Avenue

John R. Richards Republican
76 Centre Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 4.

Harry T. Boyd Democratic
96 Centre Street

Daniel F. Forde Democratic
13 Rail Street

John D. Smith Democratic
12 Nelson Street

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 5.

Charles W. Bailey Republican
65 Lincoln Avenue

Arthur C. Gardner Republican
40 Berlin Street

William J. Leslie Republican
57 Rawson Road

FOR COUNCILMEN—WARD 6.

Horace T. Jenkins Dem.-Rep.
146 Billings Street

Edward F. Parlee Republican
54 Division Street

Ernest E. Sodergren Republican
42 Hunt Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 1
John D. Mackay Republican
64 Merrymount Road

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 2
Arthur B. Foster Republican
18 Bay View Street

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE—WARD 3
John L. Miller Republican
211 Franklin Street

CITY HALL RETURNS.

The severe stormy weather election night drove the voters from the street to City Hall, and at times the main corridor was crowded to suffocation. This was particularly true in the vicinity of 5 o'clock when the unofficial returns of the head of the day began to come in. Politicians without number, each with pencil and paper in their hand flocked into the Mayor's and City Clerk's offices, and as fast as one precinct was heard from the figures were compared with those of a year ago.

The second precinct of Ward Five was the first unofficial return to be received and the others came in very promptly so that before 5 o'clock it was definitely known that Mayor Shea had been elected and that his plurality was about 558. The official figures however reduced their plurality to 550.

Mayor Shea held an informal reception in his office for a time. Then he quietly slid out for supper.

At 7 o'clock the crowd again gathered at the hall for they were now anxious to hear how the election had gone for other officials, particularly Ward One and Ward Six Councilmen and for Councilmen at large. Several of the candidates came to the City Clerk's office and received their returns there. In the meantime the Mayor's office had again filled up, and

(Continued on Page 8.)

MAYOR SHEA.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Established 1855
646-658 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

R. E. FOY & CO.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES
Can be almost instantaneously made of
SELF-RAISING BUCKWHEAT
By the addition of only Cold Water or Milk
SELF-RAISING BUCKWHEAT will be found decidedly the CHEAPEST when the saving of time and trouble is considered. It is Always Ready!
Always Reliable!
and Perfectly Healthful.
Any one can make them.
HECKER'S BUCKWHEAT
Large Size Package
15 cents
R. E. FOY & CO.
Water cor. Quincy St.
MARKET GROCERY
PHONE 117

Quincy Historical Society
LECTURE BY
Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.
"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."
Illustrated by Lantern Photographs
Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore
At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.
Wednesday, December 14, 1910,
at 8 o'clock P. M.
Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.
EMERY L. CRANE.
Dec. 7-6t

BUY HER
A NEW PARLOR SET FOR CHRISTMAS
ONE of our dainty parlor sets, with mahogany finished frame and handsome upholstering. Our leaders range in price from $35.00 to $75.00. We have them both lower and higher in price.
¶ If the parlor is furnished there are many other things for the home that will make her happy. A Kitchen Cabinet, New Glenwood Range, Beautiful New Piano, China Closet, Book Case, Easy Chair, Bureau or Chiffoniere, Brass Bed, Luxurious Mattress, Restful Couch or dozens of other things.
Open an account and buy the needed things for your home for Christmas. We accept your promise to pay a little each week if you wish.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock St., Quincy. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 7—1t

NO--LICENSE VOTES.

The following summary shows the vote of Quincy since the present Local Option law went into effect:

Year.	No.	Yes.	Total.	Majority.	Silent.
1910	3252	1234	4486	2018	265
1909	3262	1199	4453	2063	333
1908	3470	1282	4752	2188	331
1907	3386	1159	4545	2227	260
1906	3012	968	3980	2044	300
1905	2957	957	3914	2000	304
1904	2938	1104	4042	1834	324
1903	2734	1170	3904	1564	323
1902	2604	1346	3950	1258	313
1901	2512	1226	3738	1286	350
1900	2192	1412	3604	780	361
1899	2213	1388	3600	825	272
1898	2124	1191	3315	933	261
1897	2047	1194	3427	853	186
1896	2074	1370	3444	704	149
1895	1958	1177	3135	781	208
1894	1889	1037	2926	852	273
1893	1886	1060	2946	826	249
1892	1860	956	2816	904	176
1891	1659	835	2494	824	250
1890	1339	721	2059	618	351
1889	1162	618	1780	544	333
1888 (city)	1394	458	1852	936	414
1888 (town)	1064	293	1357	771	459
1887	1071	259	1330	812	425
1886	1017	258	1275	759	325
1885	1002	510	1512	492	200
1884	1067	407	1474	660	200
1883	1086	458	1544	628	126
1882	1057	457	1514	600	75

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GET YOUR DIARY FOR 1911 NOW

One Hundred Styles to Select From

New Styles and New Features

PERSONAL CHRISTMAS CARDS

Original Artistic Designs Every Design a Booklet

Name and Address Printed on Each Card

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES IN Stationery, Pictures and Post Cards in great variety and more beautiful than ever . . . . .

L. A. CHAPIN

1395 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY SELL THE DAILY LEDGER

THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR

Are You Keeping Posted On Home News ?

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Martep
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 5	1.15	1.45
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.00
Thursday,	3.30	3.45
Friday,	4.15	4.45
Saturday,	5.15	5.45
Sunday,	6.15	6.45

BRIEFS

It was a tough old-fashioned snow storm.

Some sidewalks were bare this morning while others required considerable shovelling.

Maple lodge, K & L. of H., has an election of officers tonight at Electa hall, followed by whist and dancing.

Now that the election is over the City Council will get down to business once more.

Members of Paul Revere, W. R. C., attended the funeral this afternoon of Mrs. James H. Webb, one of their members.

The December meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening, when "Public docks" is assigned as the subject for discussion.

The no-school signal sounded this morning at 7.30. An hour later the sun was shining brightly, but the travelling was bad.

Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman has returned to her home on Elm place after a visit of several weeks to friends in Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York.

Dock and Water Front Commissioner Frank F. Crane left Tuesday for Washington to attend the Waterways congress.

James Duncan, second vice president of the A. F. of L., is expected home today from the west where he has been attending the convention of the A. F. of L.

Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., has been called to mourn the loss of several active members within two weeks, Charles M. Jenness, Daniel Cameron and Elisha Packard.

TODAY'S COURT.

Charles E. Landstrom was fined $10 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Charles B. Vail was fined $10, and Thomas Kelley $25, for violation of the automobile law at Milton.

Frank A. Brown was fined $100 for violation of the liquor law at Weymouth.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

Eighteen Days to Xmas

DEC. 7

Shop Early and Avoid the Rush

MISS GALLANT AS A WITNESS

Brought From Afar to Testify For the Prosecution

STORY OF HATTIE LE BLANC

Woman Who Acted as Interpreter Repeats It as It Was Told to Waltham Police When Girl Was Arrested For Murder of Glover—She Denied Killing but Was With Victim In Laundry on the Night of His Death

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 7.—Miss Zella A. Gallant, the witness for the state in the trial of Hattie LeBlanc, charged with the murder of Clarence F. Glover, for whom Detective Byrnes had to go to Prince Edward Island, returning with her yesterday, took the witness stand in the accused girl's trial late yesterday afternoon.

The jury was excluded and Attorney Johnson fought desperately to keep the testimony of the returned interpreter from going into the trial. Judge Bond overruled him. This was the first material point lost by the defense since the sensational trial opened a week ago last Monday. An exception was taken to the court's ruling.

Miss Gallant was the interpreter for the police when they examined Hattie LeBlanc after her arrest in Waltham. She looked over a copy of the report of the examination and said that it was a correct report. She said that Hattie was told that anything she might say could be used against her and asked if she wished to speak. Miss Gallant said that Hattie said she wanted to answer.

Miss Gallant testified that she lived in Prince Edward Island and that she studied at the Waltham training school in 1909 and 1910.

She was a nurse in the Waltham hospital at the time when Hattie LeBlanc was arrested for the murder of Glover. She was called in to act as interpreter by the police on the night they questioned Hattie. Through this witness the state hoped they could get into the case the entire examination made by the police of the girl prisoner.

Attorney Johnson asked:

Q.—Did Hattie have any difficulty in understanding your questions, and did you have any difficulty in understanding Hattie? A.—We understood each other readily.

Q.—Now Miss Gallant, will you take this transcript, go over it paragraph by paragraph, question by question, answer by answer, and give us in French its translation, the exact words in French that you used to Hattie and that the exact words that Hattie gave to you in reply? A.—Yes, sir.

Miss Gallant then began the literal translation. After she translated the first two questions Hattie asked that she speak up louder and more plainly. Miss Gallant raised her voice, looking at Hattie as she gave Hattie's answers and Hattie leaned forward intently.

The translantion showed that in her replies to the police Hattie LeBlanc denied that she shot Glover, declaring that she had no weapon; she admitted that a comb and pin shown to her were hers and that she had been in the laundry with Glover on the night he was shot.

TESTIFY AGAINST FATHER

Two Children May Send Their Parent to Electric Chair

New York, Dec. 7.—A boy of 11 years and a girl of 9 took the stand against their father, who is on trial charged with the murder of his wife.

Should the man be convicted, he will go to the electric chair chiefly on the testimony of the children, who furnished the backbone of the state's case. After they had finished their stories the prosecution rested.

The prisoner is Abraham Roth. His wife's body was found on a fire escape below their rooms. She had been stabbed to death. Roth was found on his bed, having been stabbed several times.

The prosecution contends that he killed his wife and then attempted to commit suicide, while the defense holds that Mrs. Roth trtied to kill her husband and then ended her own life.

Suit Against Mrs. Glover

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 7.—Captain Peter King of West Arichat, C. B., has filed his suit against Lillian M. Glover for $20,000 for slander as a result of testimony that Mrs. Glover gave in the will contest after her husband's murder.

Free Rides Cut Out

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 7.—Beginning Jan. 1, there will be no more free transportation for the police and firemen over the lines of the Portsmouth electric railway, which is controlled by the Boston and Maine railroad.

The Weather

Almanac, Thursday, Dec. 8.
Sun rises—7:09; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—10:50 p. m.
High water—3:30 a. m.; 3:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; continued cold.

THE LIGHTING OF THE GAS SHOW.

It is a revelation even to Bostonians who are pretty well up to date in the progress of the gas lighting business, to see the illumination at Mechanics' Building at the Gas Show.

The entire sidewalk in front of the building is lined with artistic white posts, each bearing two of the inverted outside gas arcs which have proved so efficient. At the entrances are posts bearing four of these arcs, and over the main entrance is a double arch of lamps. The result is a blaze of light along the entire front of the building, and yet a light which though powerful, is soft and particularly attractive.

The inside effect is little short of marvelous. Special large chandeliers presenting an artistic shower effect are equipped with inverted gas arcs, and the result is a flood of soft, pure and white light, literally making the hall as bright as day. Around the top of the hall is a continuous row of single burner lamps close together, which gives a highly decorative effect.

The big arch over the stage is studded with gas arc lamps, enclosed in the form of crystal chandeliers giving a peculiarly artistic effect to that end of the hall.

In the individual exhibits are shown a great number of different varieties of lamps and lighting equipment suitable for every possible lighting requirement, from the biggest office, to the smallest residence, and from show window lighting to the lighting of streets, store fronts, and large outside areas. Every person interested in illumination (and every inhabitant of New England is so interested) will find it worth while to examine the lighting treatment shown at Mechanics' Building.

YOUR FRIENDS PREFER JEWELRY

To any other Gift in the World

For thousands of years—as far back as historical records go—the universal token of love and friendship has been precious stones and jewels. To every race in every age and generation, gems and jewels have held a charm more alluring than money, land, merchandise or any other form of wealth.

And with each generation, the sentiment attached to the giving and owning of jewels grows.

Every achievement in life is associated with gifts of beautiful jewels—a diminutive ring for the baby; bracelets, and neck chains for birthday remembrances; at graduation, perhaps a fine watch; a diamond ring announces the marriage engagement; and at the wedding, the crowning event of all, a multitude of precious gems, stones and jewels.

Search the gamut of human wants and you will find no gift so acceptable as jewelry. Good jewelry is a heritage that is handed down from generation to generation and an enduring remembrance of the giver.

When you wish to select jewelry for your friends or relatives, come to this store. You can not find more dependable jewelry any place; you can not find so large a line or so many novelties elsewhere in this city. Nor are the prices we ask in any case unreasonable. In many instances a comparison will demonstrate that to trade here means a considerable cash saving.

If you are unfamiliar with jewelry, we will be glad to help you to make tasteful selections. On the other hand, if you are accustomed to buying rings, lockets, bracelets, watches, etc., so much the better. You will appreciate the more keenly the high-quality of our goods and our up-to-date selections.

Needless to say, every article of merchandise we sell is warranted to be exactly as represented. There's no chance for deception at this store.

Our line is particularly interesting in rings, brooches, bracelets, necklaces, lockets, pins, watches and late novelties.

We are local agents for the famous South Bend Watch, which you see advertised in the leading magazines.

Come and visit our store, whether or not you are ready to purchase jewelry.

SANDBERG BROS.

JEWELERS

1281 Hancock Street

Quincy, Mass.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

The Famous Rayo

Is the Lamp of Real Beauty

because it gives the best light of all lamps. The Rayo gives a white, soft, mellow, diffused light—easy on the eye because it cannot flicker. You can use your eyes as long as you wish under the Rayo light without strain.

The Rayo Lamp is low-priced, and even though you pay $5, $10 or $20 for other lamps, you may get more expensive decorations but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. A strong, durable shade-holder holds the shade on firm and true. This season's new burner adds strength and appearance.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company

(Incorporated)

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

Skates
Flexible Flyer Sleds
Boxing Gloves
Striking Bags
Pocket Cutlery
Fine Table Cutlery
Pocket Flash Lights
Crack Shot Rifles
Daisy Air Rifles
Shot Guns

We have a complete line of BRASS HAND-CRAFT SUPPLIES

NATHAN AMES

5 GRANITE STREET

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Advertise in The Ledger

COMPLETE VOTE OF CITY BY PRECINCTS

THE MAJORITY FOR MAYOR SHEA WAS 550 AND NO-LICENSE HAD MAJORITY OF 2018

Republicans Gain One in the City Council and Also One in the School Committee

Ward 1

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	206
William T. Shea	238
Blanks	9

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	304
Ernest W. Branch	301
Charles M. Bryant	324
Charles E. Cherrington	278
Thomas J. McGrath	147
Edward J. Sandberg	319
Blanks	601

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	81
Nathaniel S. Hunting	327
Blanks	45

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Daniel J. Deasy	177
Charles A. Ericson	293
James M. Nowland	274
John R. S. Ross	277
Archie Thayer	67
Blanks	271

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

John D. Mackay	337
Blanks	116

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	95
NO	338
Blanks	20

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	227
William T. Shea	299
Blanks	7

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	339
Ernest W. Branch	311
Charles M. Bryant	357
Charles E. Cherrington	308
Thomas J. McGrath	238
Edward J. Sandberg	327
Blanks	785

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	111
Nathaniel S. Hunting	358
Blanks	64

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Daniel J. Deasy	263
Charles A. Ericson	313
James M. Nowland	249
John R. S. Ross	275
Archie Thayer	91
Blanks	308

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

John D. Mackay	381
Blanks	152

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	164
NO	341
Blanks	28

Ward 2

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	88
William T. Shea	180
Blanks	4

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	142
Ernest W. Branch	137
Charles M. Bryant	145
Charles E. Cherrington	138
Thomas J. McGrath	133
Edward J. Sandberg	141
Blanks	524

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	92
Nathaniel S. Hunting	132
Blanks,	48

WARD COUNCILMEN.

John B. Bass	106
Michael F. Corbett	103
Frank J. Duffy	129
Edward P. Histen	106
Sylvester D. Rich	127
Harry G. Studley	152
Blanks	93

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

William A. Carey	122
Arthur B. Foster	136
Blanks	14

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	98
NO	157
Blanks	17

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	129
William T. Shea	284
Blanks	4

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	227
Ernest W. Branch	193
Charles M. Bryant	230
Charles E. Cherrington	179
Thomas J. McGrath	241
Edward J. Sandberg	206
Blanks	809

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	134
Nathaniel S. Hunting	222
Blanks	61

WARD COUNCILMEN.

John B. Bass	176
Michael F. Corbett	184
Frank J. Duffy	197
Edward P. Histen	190
Sylvester D. Rich	149
Harry G. Studley	216
Blanks	139

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

William A. Carey	199
Arthur B. Foster	190
Blanks	28

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	116
NO	275
Blanks	26

Ward 3

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	192
William T. Shea	290
Blanks	4

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	334
Ernest W. Branch	238
Charles M. Bryant	289
Charles E. Cherrington	233
Thomas J. McGrath	225
Edward J. Sandberg	259
Blanks	852

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	157
Nathaniel S. Hunting	272
Blanks	57

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Murdock A. Campbell	217
Robert B. Craig	267
James M. Faircloth	212
John R. Richards	200
David M. Warner	229
Blanks	333

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

John L. Miller	226
Daniel B. Reardon	223
Blanks	37

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	147
NO	310
Blanks	29

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W . Hobbs	193
William T. Shea	174
Blanks	9

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	238
Ernest W. Branch	217
Charles M. Bryant	232
Charles E. Cherrington	206
Thomas J. McGrath	101
Edward J. Sandberg	235
Blanks	651

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	63
Nathaniel S. Hunting	253
Blanks	69

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Murdock A. Campbell	234
Robert B. Craig	200
James M. Faircloth	86
John R. Richards	210
David M. Warner	137
Blanks	261

WARD SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

John L. Miller	233
Daniel B. Reardon	103
Blanks	40

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	101
NO	245
Blanks	30

Ward 4

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs,	73
William T. Shea,	349
Blanks,	10

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster,	168
Ernest W. Branch,	108
Charles M. Bryant,	146
Charles E. Cherrington,	118
Thomas J. McGrath,	289
Edward J. Sandberg,	137
Blanks	1194

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley,	226
Nathaniel S. Hunting,	148
Blanks,	58

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Harry T. Boyd,	276
John Evans,	220
Daniel F. Forde,	321
John D. Smith,	229
Blanks,	250

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	155
NO	248
Blanks,	29

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	120
William T. Shea	291
Blanks	5

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	218
Ernest W. Branch	163
Charles M. Bryant	191
Charles E. Cherrington	160
Thomas J. McGrath	220
Edward J. Sandberg	211
Blanks	917

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	169
Nathaniel S. Hunting	199
Blanks	48

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Harry T. Boyd	247
John Evans	218
Daniel F. Forde	222
John D. Smith	244
Blanks	317

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	140
NO	247
Blanks	29

Ward 5

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs,	283
William T. Shea,	150
Blanks,	13

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster,	355
Ernest W. Branch	380
Charles M Bryant	369
Charles E. Cherrington	372
Thomas J. McGrath	76
Edward J. Sandberg	339
Blanks	349

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	25
Nathaniel S. Hunting	398
Blanks	23

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Charles W. Bailey	404
Arthur C Gardner	380
William J. Leslie	398
Blanks	156

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	22
NO	410
Blanks	14

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs,	176
William T. Shea,	103
Blanks,	2

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster,	197
Ernest W. Branch,	200
Charles M. Bryant,	218
Charles E. Cherrington,	195
Thomas J. McGrath,	89
Edward J. Sandberg,	180
Blanks,	326

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley,	39
Nathaniel S. Hunting,	217
Blanks,	25

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Charles W. Bailey	214
Arthur C. Gardner,	216
William J. Leslie,	229
Blanks,	184

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	39
NO	232
Blanks,	10

Ward 6

PRECINCT ONE

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	212
William T. Shea	157
Blanks	4

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	203
Ernest W. Branch	198
Charles M. Bryant	214
Charles E. Cherrington	236
Thomas J. McGrath	118
Edward J. Sandberg	190
Blanks	706

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	106
Nathaniel S. Hunting	226
Blanks	41

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Carl E. Carlson	133
Peter J. Colligan	87
Charles E. Gill	147
Thomas H. Hayes	103
Horace T. Jenkins	151
Edward F. Parlee	151
Ernest E. Sodergren	151
Blanks	206

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	98
NO	251
Blanks	24

PRECINCT TWO

FOR MAYOR.

Ralph W. Hobbs	164
William T. Shea	98
Blanks	4

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE.

George A. Bolster	163
Ernest W. Branch	171
Charles M. Bryant	186
Charles E. Cherrington	166
Thomas J. McGrath	76
Edward J. Sandberg	164
Blanks	404

SCHOOL COMMITTEE AT LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley	58
Nathaniel S. Hunting	177
Blanks	34

WARD COUNCILMEN.

Carl E. Carlson	75
Peter J. Colligan	78
Charles E. Gill	82
Thomas H. Hayes	45
Horace T. Jenkins	95
Edward F. Parlee	165
Ernest E. Sodergren	141
Blanks	117

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	59
NO	198
Blanks	9

Vote of City

FOR MAYOR

Ralph W. Hobbs, Rep.	2063
William T. Shea, Dem.	2613
Blanks	75

FOR COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.

George A. Bolster, Dem. Rep.	2888
Ernest W. Branch, Rep.	2617
Charles M. Bryant, Rep.	2901
Charles E. Cherrington, Rep.	2589
Thomas J. McGrath, Dem.	1953
Edward J. Sandberg, Rep.	2699
Blanks	8108

SCHOOL COMMITTEE-AT-LARGE.

Joseph R. Curley, Dem.	1261
Nathaniel S. Hunting, Rep.	2929
Blanks	564

LICENSE QUESTION.

YES	1234
NO	3252
Blanks	265

Vote for Mayor

	SHEA	HOBBS
Ward One, Pre. 1,	288	206
Ward One, Pre. 2,	300	227
Ward Two, Pre. 1,	180	88
Ward Two, Pre. 2	284	129
Ward Three, Pre. 1,	290	192
Ward Three, Pre. 2	174	198
Ward Four, Pre. 1	349	73
Ward Four, Pre. 2	291	120
Ward Five, Pre. 1	150	283
Ward Five, Pre. 2	103	176
Ward Six, Pre. 1,	157	213
Ward Six, Pre. 2	98	164
Total	2613	2063
Majority	550

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Again we extend congratulations to Mayor Shea. His Honor has broken all records by being elected for a fourth term, and by a handsome majority.

Four weeks to Inauguration day of the new City government. May it be pleasanter than the weather man handed out to us on Election day.

No-License was the most popular candidate in the city on Tuesday, receiving 3252 votes out of a total of 4751. Quincy is to be congratulated on large vote and the large majority.

"A million for tuberculosis" is the slogan of the National Red Cross as it enters the campaign for the annual sale of Christmas seals. Note that they are called "Christmas seals" this year, not Christmas stamps. The change has been made in response to a request of the postoffice department. Many people in past years, notwithstanding careful warning, have persisted in using the Red Cross stamps in place of regular postage stamps. The dead letter office was the gainer by the numerous Christmas missives which failed to reach their destination. To guard against such confusion, of thought, the "stamps" are now called "seals." To seal a letter is obviously not to stamp it. To guard still further against mistakes, the postoffice department has ruled that the seals are to be placed on the backs of letters and parcels, not on their faces. This change was necessary also to meet the protests of certain foreign governments that objected to the admission of letters and packages from the United States carrying the Christmas stamps on their faces. In other respects the methods of sale will be the same, as the object is the same, viz., the warfare against tuberculosis. The terms on which the Quincy anti-tuberculosis committee can obtain the stamps are more favorable than last year. The National Red Cross reserves this year only 12 1-2 per cent. of the receipts for expenses of printing and administration as against 20 per cent. last year. That is, 87 1-2 per cent., of the receipts from sales in Quincy will go to the work of the local anti-tuberculosis committee. It is all part of the nation-wide and world-wide fight with no less object than to make tuberculosis an extinct disease, as yellow fever, smallpox and the black plague have practically become. Buy the Red Cross seals and help on the fight. Buy them in Quincy and help on the fight in Quincy.

A LAWYER WITH A HEART.

"Have you ever been in prison?" asked a badgering lawyer of a modest witness, whom he was trying to bully.

The witness did not answer.

"Come now speak up, no concealment. Have you ever been in prison, sir?"

"Yes, sir, once," answered the witness, looking modestly down to the floor.

"Yes, I thought so. Now when? When were you in prison, sir?"

"In 1863."

"Where, sir?"

The witness hestitated..

"Come, own up now, no dodging," screamed the lawyer. "Now where were you in prison, sir?"

"In—in—in—"

"Don't stammer, sir! Out with it! Where was it?"

"In—in Andersonville, sir."

There was a moment's painful pause. Then the lawyer, who was an old soldier, put his hand to his forehead as if a pistol shot had struck him, while the tears came into his eyes. Then jumping forward, he clasped his arms around the witness's neck, and exclaimed:

"My God! I was there myself!"

—Not "standpatters" but "stickpatters"—The Red Cross Christmas Seal.

Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

WHY NOT IN QUINCY?

As soon as a suitable site can be obtained it is proposed to establish in Massachusetts a large plant for the manufacture of acroplanes and aeroplane motors, for their testing and for the instruction of aviators. The party behind the project is C. H. Metz of Waltham, head of the motor car manufacturing company in that city bearing his name. Mr. Metz has been studying and experimenting in the aeroplane field for a long time, and now he believes that his designs have reached the point where they are commercially practicable. His plant at Waltham is fully occupied with the building of motor cars, and he proposes to organize a subsidiary company for the aereplane business. He already is in communication with boards of trade in several Massachusetts cities and towns regarding a site for the proposed aeroplane plant.

PICTURE POSTAL CARDS

The aftermath of the summer vacation is the post card, dozens and dozens of them. What to do with them is often a puzzel. The books with places for two or three hundred, which when they first came out seemed so ample, have been filled and refilled. Their bulky dimensions are big for most bookcases, the cards are, many of them, too pleasing to throw away, but carelessly tucked away in books or boxes they are of little use and much in the way. There are several ways of keeping the cards. The post card fad is sensible, if conducted in a sensible way.

One young woman who is fond of travel and history makes a point of getting cards of all the interesting places she sees. These she arranges in groups in her album, outlining her trips. On the backs and on the margins of the face she writes dates names of those she was with at the time and any other detail it interests her to put down. Thus she can follow any given trip or outing of hers in the last seven years by means of her cards. They recall to her many incidents she would otherwise have forgotten, and by means of them she has given much pleasure to friends, who love to gather about her and hear her graphic accounts, helped out by her cards, of what she has done and seen.

Still another possessor of many post cards, some of which she has gathered herself, but by far the majority of which have been sent her by friends, has arranged them in groups, taking them by states from Maine to California. She enjoyed receiving the cards, seeing pictured on them the things her friends were enjoying, but did not realize how much she was getting out of them until she came to arrange them in this way, leaving space for additions. Beginning with New England and its separate states, she saw its mountains, its seacoast, its cities, its institutions of learning, and its history spread out before her. On she went through the Middle States, the South and out to the Western coast. In the South were the wonderful moss-draped trees, the luxuriant foliage, its cities with their difference of architecture and construction, so like and yet so unlike their sisters of the North; the activities of the South, its people, its customs and its history, opening up a wealth of idea before undreamed of. So with the west and other sections of the country. The cards revealed to her characteristics and conditions of many kinds she had not known before, or knowing had forgotten. A second book on foreign views she has arranged in the same way. The cards are an education, she finds. She will often stop and read an article in newspaper or magazine because it in some way relates to a card in her collection.

A third person has chosen to arrange her cards in a file as a card and then placing them alphabetically according to cities or subjects. This method is not quite so pleasant when one wishes merely to look at the cards but it is excellent for reference, and that is what the owner of these cards wishes them for. It is also a great saving of space, an item of no small moment in these days of small apartments.

A library in an Ohio town has asked its patrons to send cards to the library that it may preserve them for reference. These are filed and have proven valuable aids to the library's work.

Collections of reproductions of famous paintings or other works of art are general among those who are interested in such subjects.—Beverly Times.

"Sorry to hear you are troubled by sleeplessness. Ever try eating a large raw onion just before going to bed?"

"Yes. Tried it last night. Kept everybody in the house awake the whole night long except me."—Chicago Tribune.

Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

MONEY FOR NEXT YEAR

Estimates Submitted by MacVeagh Reach Total of $748,414,861

Washington, Dec. 7.—The estimates of appropriations required for every branch of the federal government during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, aggregating $748,414,861, were submitted to congress by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh.

This grand total stands against estimates of $745,067,197 and appropriations of $805,294,513 for the current fiscal year, which appropriation included over $10,000,000 for the census, over $10,600,000 for the postal deficiency and other deficiencies. The estimates for next year are distributed as follows:

War department, $205,257,546; interior department, $189,151,875, treasury department, $141,599,997; agriculture, $19,681,066; navy department, $128,942,158; commerce and labor, $16,276,970; District of Columbia, $13,602,786; legislative, $13,426,806; justice, $10,063,576; state, $4,875,576; independent offices, including interstate commerce commission, $2,628,695; postoffice department proper, $1,697,490; deficiency in postal revenues, no estimate yet; executive, $990,170; territorial governments, $292,150.

AT FATHER'S EXPENSE

Young Man Comes East From Far West to Answer Theft Charge

Somerville, Mass., Dec. 7.—Fred Thuey, 22, came all the way from South Dakota at his father's expense to answer in the Somerville police court to a charge of larceny. He pleaded guilty and the case was continued until Dec. 8, and he was placed on probation.

On Sept. 23 there disappeared from the home of Robert R. Harriman property valued at $140. Thuey was a lodger at the house and he disappeared at that time.

Thuey was a native of Effingham, Ills., and his parents were communicated with by letter. They found that he had secured employment on a ranch in South Dakota. The father of the young man supplied him with funds to return to Somerville and answer the charge.

TWO SHIFT ON THE LICENSE QUESTION

Fifteen Cities In Bay State Hold Their Annual Election

Boston, Dec. 7.—Fifteen Massachusetts cities held their annual elections yesterday, all but one of the number choosing a mayor. In the majority of the cities little interest was shown. Eleven mayors sought to be returned to the executive chair and nine of them succeeded, the defeated ones being MacInnes of Pittsfield and Clifford of Brockton. Following is the general esult:

City.	Mayor.	License.
Brockton,	Howard, R.,	No
Fall River,	Higgins, D.,	Yes
*Fitchburg,	O'Connell, I. C.,	Yes
Gloucester,	Hatch, O.,	No
*Haverhill,	Moulton, O.,	Yes
Holyoke,	White, R.,	Yes
*Lawrence,	Cahill, D.,	Yes
*Marlboro,	Shaughnessy, D.,	Yes
*New Bedford,	Ashley, C.,	Yes
*Northampton,	Coolidge, R.,	Yes
Pittsfield,	Miller, R.,	Yes
*Quincy,	Shea, D.,	No
*Springfield,	Lathrop, D.,	Yes
Taunton,	no election,	Yes
*Waltham,	Walker, R.,	No

Gloucester changed from license to no-license; Haverhill changed from no-license to license.

*—Indicates re-election; R, Republican; D, Democrat; I. C., Independent Citizen; C, Citizen; O, no party designation.

MEET WITH CRITICISM

Directors of Bank of Montreal Receive a Great Surprise

Montreal, Dec. 7.—At the annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal, an event looked to from all over Canada for an expert expression of opinion as to the financial health of the country, the president and directors met with a great surprise in the shape of sharp criticism of the manner in which the bank officials had conducted the business during the past year.

A section of the shareholders object to the bank's spending so much money on building branch banks. The bank's losses in Mexico, totalling some $6,000,000, were also criticised. The dividend remains unchanged, contrary to the expectation of many, who expected a raise.

President Angus and Sir Edward Clouston, the general manager, spoke optimistically of the prosperity of the country and of the financial outlook.

Big Tobacco Plant Burned

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 7.—Fire here caused damage of approximately $750,000, principally in the plant of the Endrich Tobacco company. A tobacco warehouse and several other buildings were destroyed.

Safe Blowers Get $1200

Mexico, Mo., Dec. 7.—Holding fifty citizens at bay, two cracksmen blew the safe at Martinsburg and robbed it of $1200 and escaped without firing a shot.

KING ARTHUR'S CHRISTMAS FEAST.

By THEODOSIA GARRISON

KING Arthur gave a Christmas feast
At Camelot, at Camelot,
In honor of the little Christ,
Who was of Virgin born,
And at the board sat great and least,
The mirth and wine between,
Merlin, the seer, and Lancelot,
And Guinevere, the queen.

THE torches flared, the great logs blazed,
At Camelot, at Camelot,
In honor of the little Christ,
That was a Virgin's son.
The wine was poured, the song was raised,
But still with brooding eyes
Upon the queen and Lancelot
Looked Merlin, the most wise.

"WHAT IS IT THAT THINE EYES MAY SEE?"

THEN spake King Arthur solemnly,
At Camelot, at Camelot,
"Thou who hast neither word nor song,
But wisdom overgreat,
What is it that thine eyes may see
By other eyes unseen
That thou dost look on Lancelot
And Guinevere, the queen?"

ANSWERED the king the graybeard seer,
At Camelot, at Camelot,
"I see a little winged child,
As fair as snow and fire,
Between the two ye hold most dear,
A flower o' flame he stands
And he hath smiled on either one
And touched them with his hands."

DROPPED king and court on bended knee,
At Camelot, at Camelot,
"Behold, it is the little Christ
Who is the Virgin's son!
He comes to bear us company,
For this our loving's sake."
And low with them bent Guinevere,
And Lancelot of the Lake.

BUT TWO THERE KNELT TO LOVE.

BUT Merlin held his eyes apart,
At Camelot, at Camelot.
He knew he saw a heathen God,
A God he might not name,
Who slept not 'neath a Virgin's heart
Nor gave the peace thereof.
Oh, king and court, they knelt to Christ,
But two there knelt to love.

KING Arthur gave a Christmas feast
At Camelot, at Camelot,
In honor of the little Christ,
Who was of Virgin born,
And at the board sat great and least,
The mirth and wine between,
Merlin, the seer, and Lancelot,
And Guinevere, the queen.

—New York Evening Mail.

Making Appropriate Gifts.

The year just closing has been so prosperous that the spirit of philanthropy will find very large expression in the giving of Christmas cheer at home and abroad, writes Cyrus P. Jones in Success. The transatlantic mails are already burdened with the money letters sent from America to "the old folks at home."

Next to the gifts which brighten the home of the American citizen, those given to worthy charity are important to consider. Too many people give indiscriminately. They mean well, but so did the committee which sent $20,000 worth of fireworks to the Irish famine sufferers.

Still others give something of no value whatever. An instance of this was made manifest at a public gathering in New York, where one of the speakers called attention to the sufferers from a prolonged strike and suggested the advisability of giving them something. One in the sympathetic audience got up and said, "I move that we give them three cheers!" Let us select our gifts with reference to their appropriateness and utility.

BOSTON 1915 AT MEN'S CLUB

J. Mott Hallowell Speaks at St. Chrysostoms

The Men's club of St. Chrysostoms parish held an interesting meeting in the parish rooms on Monday evening which was addressed by J. Mott Hallowell of the "Boston-1915. movement.

Mr. Hallowell devoted the greater portion of his time to an intimate description of the forces that combined to make this movement possible. He told the manner in which the 1,300 organizations that were working independently for civic and individual betterment are being combined into one big trust. Where an actual trust works for the benefit of a few private individuals this will work for the interests of the entire community. The large organization will be subdivided into 60 different departments or classes, all the boys clubs, for instance being banded together, and likewise through the entire gamut of other organizations.

The address of the speaker told clearly how this immense force was being directed and doubtful points were cleared up by questions from the floor at the close of his talk.

The club voted to stand sponsor for an illustrated lecture on "Ireland" to be given on January 16, the place to be decided upon at a later date.

At its next meeting, on December 19, the club will be addressed by William J. Sholar of Boston, who will speak on business science and kindred subjects.

WILL NOT SUBSCRIBE.

Editor Quincy Daily Ledger:

There appears to be some misunderstanding regarding my statement at the Quincy Retail Merchants' banquet. I stated already that I agreed to take some shares in the proposed new market, provided the local provision merchants were not forced out of business; but, as it appeared impossible to get them all into the enterprise, I did not purchase any of the stock.

T. L. Williams.

ADVICE FROM BARRE.

The Barre Daily Times says:

"If they are wise, Quincy granite manufacturers and granite cutters will take a leaf out of Barre's book of experience and get together early in the settlement of their differences. Under the scheme of giving information of a desire for change three months before the expiration of the old agreement, a satisfactory period of time is given in which to hold conferences and come to an understanding. The Quincy agreement expires on March 1, 1911, thus allowing plenty of time to settle and sign before the present bill goes out of date."

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE.

At the Wollaston Unitarian church this evening at 7.45 o'clock under the auspices of the Women's Alliance, Mrs. Clara B. Beatley, who has a national reputation as a Sunday school worker and the Rev. W. I. Lawrance, president of the National Unitarian Sunday School Society, will speak on "Our young people." All interested in the future of our town and especially all who have children are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

FOURTH ANNUAL BALL

Of Independent Order Brith Abraham

Despite the storm Tuesday night over 200 couples were present at the fourth annual ball of the Pride of Quincy lodge No. 443, Independent Order Brith Abraham. Preceding the dance Wilson's orchestra gave a concert of six numbers including a trumbone and cornet duet by Messrs. Clarke and Crawley. At 9 o'clock the grand march was started by H. Litchman, chairman of the ball committee, and partner. The order of dances included square and round dances equally divided as to numbers. After the twelfth dance the guests adjourned to the dining hall where refreshments of salad, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Dancing continued until 2 o'clock this morning allowing time for twenty regular and two extra dances.

Practically all the guests were from Quincy although there were a few from Boston and Braintree.

The success of the ball may be accredited to the efforts of the committees in charge.

Ball Committee—Chairman, H. Litchman, vice chairman, J. Edelstein, floor director, I. Sussman, assistant floor director, L. Stone, treasurer, J. Berman, secretary, J. Halter, chief of aids, L. Smith.

Committee of Arrangements—J. Szathmary, I. Shangold and B. Mason.

Chief Marshal—I. Shane, assistant marshal, M. Levy.

Lodge Officers—Past President, H. Edelstein; president, J. Szathmary; vice president, Louis Stone; treasurer, J. Berman; financial secretary, R. A. Grossman; recording secretary, J. Grossman; inside guard, L. Smith.

Board of Trustees—L. Berman, I. Cutler, A. Kaufman, N. Sternberg and I. Shane.

Both halls were prettily decorated with the stars and stripes, plants, cut flowers and Japanese lanterns. In addition to the dancers there was a large number of spectators in the gallery to view the dancers and to hear the excellent music furnished by Wilson's orchestra. The evening was pronounced the most enjoyable spent by the members of the lodge and their friends and the strains of Home Sweet Home came all too soon for those who were participating in the pleasure of the ball.

Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Proposals for Coal

CITY OF QUINCY

School Department, Quincy, Mass.

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until Monday, December 12 at five o'clock, P. M., receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 5 tons White Ash Stove, 170 Lehigh Broken, 53 Lehigh Egg, and 585 tons best grade bituminous coal.

The bidders must specify definitely the kind of bituminous coal upon which they bid. The hard coal must be of the best quality and well screened. All must be weighed under the direction of an agent of the School Committee and be delivered to the several school buildings on or before Monday, January 9, 1911, unless otherwise ordered. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Coal," to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.
December 5, 1910.

Dec. 5-5t

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

ALPHA HALL, QUINCY
THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 8
JOHN THOMAS CONCERT CO.
JOHN THOMAS, Humorist
Will be assisted by
ANNIE WEBSTER THOMAS, Violin Virtuoso
ALICE FORTIN, Pianist

"JOHN THOMAS has a mission in life, and that mission is TO MAKE OTHER PEOPLE HAPPY. He goes through this good old world of ours making people laugh, and they are better for it. He carries 'sunshine' with him wherever he goes, and distributes it freely."

TICKETS 35 AND 50 CENTS
On sale at Murphy's Drug Store, corner Hancock and Granite Streets Dec. 3-4t

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
$22.50 Suits
Marked to $16.50
Black and Blue all wool Diagonal Cloth
SPECIAL FOR THIS WEEK
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

If you are going to buy one or more Neckties for Holiday Gifts you can save time and money by coming direct to us.

OUR CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

Was made especially for us by Leading Boston and New York Makers

We have a very large assortment of the Latest Shapes, made from the newest Designs and Colors in Neckwear Silks.

Our Prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00

Each 75c and $1.00 Tie in a fine Christmas Box.

WE GIVE 50c IN CASH FOR EVERY $10 OF OUR SALE CHECKS RETURNED TO US.

CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR
GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
CHRISTMAS NECKWEAR

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

One of the most important meetings on the year's program of the Wollaston Alliance is to be held tonight at the Wollaston Unitarian church. "Our young people" is to be the subject of talks by Mrs. Clara B. Beatley and Rev. W. I. Lawrance. The Christmas meeting will be held the afternoon of Dec. 21.

* * *

Although the Quincy Women's club does not meet this week there will be quite a gathering of club members at the clubhouse on Thursday afternoon for the current events lecture by Mrs. May Alden Ward. This series of lectures is adding interest each meeting.

* * *

Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd lectured on "My Aerial Flights" before The Philergians of Braintree on Tuesday afternoon. The series of evening meetings are omitted this month but will be resumed in January.

* * *

The Friday club met last week with Mrs. Francis Abele, Jr., of Spear street with most of the memebrs present. Next week the club meets with Mrs. George W. Morton and will have an entertaining subject in the Riviera and Western Italy under the leadership of Mrs. W. E. Alden.

* * *

Mrs. George G. Saville is to address the Junior Alliance of First church at its meeting on Monday evening in the church parlor taking as her subject "The Unitarian idea: its influence on philanthropic work." This will be the only meeting of the month.

* * *

The December meeting on Saturday of the New England Wheaton Seminary club at hotel Vendome, Boston, will open as usual with a business session followed by a lecture on St. Francis of Assisi by Rev. G. G. Hamilton.

* * *

At its last meeting the Medford Women's club appointed a committee to assist in inaugurating the stamp saving system in the schools.

* * *

The Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R., will be entertained on Monday afternoon at halfpast two at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Barber, 92 Elm avenue, Wollaston.

* * *

Quincy Alliance of First church holds but one meeting this month owin to the busy holiday season. As usual the meeting will be a Christmas one and is sure to be of an attractive nature as it is in charge of Mrs. Charles Bickford who has a wonderful capacity for arranging good literary feasts.

* * *

Miss Mildred Sheldon Bass of Wollaston who made such a good impression by her readings last season before the Quincy Women's club participated in the annual evening musicale of the Whitman Woman's club last week receiving many encores. The musical part of the program was by the Temple male quartet of Boston.

* * *

The S and S club of which Mrs. Chandler W. Smith is a member met last week at hotel Thorndike, Boston. The club, which is composed of past presidents of women's clubs and is entirely for social purposes, meets semi-annually in regular sessions and at intervals holds informal luncheons and pleasure trips. The club is named after Mrs. Harriet Shattuck, the prominent authority on parliamentary law, and Mrs. May L. Sheldon, a member of the school board of Lynn. The fall meeting is held on the anniversary of Mrs. Shattuck's birthday and the spring meeting on the anniversary of Mrs. Sheldon's birthday. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and the post-prandial speaking consisted of reminiscences of foreign travel by those members who had spent the summer abroad. Mrs. Shattuck gave an entertaining address on "Successes and Failures in My Life." The luncheon table was decorated with the flags of the different nations, including the United States, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and England. Mrs. Hoyt of Brockton was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements assisted by Mrs. Mabel Rogers of the Philergians of Braintree and Mrs. Quimby of Malden.

* * *

Tomorrow is a red letter day with the Milton Woman's club for it will hold a special meeting at the Town hall when readings will be given by F. Hopkinson Smith. The meeting being public there has been a liberal subscription to the readings by the women of the town and a large attendance is anticipated.

Owing to the extremely cold weather there was not a large attendance of members of Adams Chapter, D. R., at the meeting on Monday afternoon at the birthplace of President John Adams. For entertainment a few more chapters were read from Mrs. Flora Adams Darling's book of letters after which tea was served and the meeting disbanded before dark.

* * *

Junior Friday club had a pleasant meeting on Monday afternoon with Miss Etta M. Prescott of Spear street, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall being in charge of the afternoon's program. Besides the papers on France there was a delightful musical program of the works of Gounod Miss Grace M. Isaac and Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant contributing vocal solos and Miss Edith Randall piano solos.

* * *

"What are you going to wear to the Twelfth Night Revels?" is heard on all sides these days. The committee has already heard of squires and dames, persons representing historical characters and characters from famous novels. There are also funny persons expected and some are to appear in colonial costume with all the attendant dignity, powder and puffs. Imagine the scene! Any costume prior to 1860 is acceptable. The range for the imagination is wide. Alpha and Union halls have been secured for the evening of Jan. 5th. In the early part of the evening, before the regular dancing begins, the merry-making will proceed. All who know what is being planned for that part of the program are convulsed with laughter as they try to tell about it. The party promises to be the jolliest ever held in Quincy. It is given by the Education committee of the Quincy Women's club.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Club members and non-club members are all agog over the next meeting of the club; the first because they are surely going to attend and the latter because they hope to be invited by some club member to go. It is a regular meeting in the season's program hence not public but subject to the rules governing such meetings. The following rule "Guest tickets may be purchased of the custodian or of her committee. Members may invite one guest to each meeting. No person shall be invited to more than one meeting during the club year," is unsettling the minds of many because the question is whether to invite a friend to the play or to the musicale which comes next month and no person can go more than once according to club rules.

Membership and guest tickets must be presented at the door for admission. It has been decided by the executive board that if a member does not intend using her guest privilege, by notifying the custodian it may be available for a member desiring to take an extra guest, this concession being granted because of the size of Music hall.

The play to be presented Tuesday afternoon at Quincy Music hall under the auspices of the Art and Literature committee is "Pygmalion and Galatea" and there is a notable cast. Some of those who took part when the play was given several years ago at Faxon hall have been persuaded to appear again. At that time it was one of the first matinees given in Quincy for ladies only and by ladies and it made a great hit. Those who saw it then and those who did not are looking forward to Tuesday's presentation.

Following is the cast:

Pygmalion, an Athenean sculptor.
Miss Marjorie Fay
Leucippe, a soldier,
Mrs. George L. Badger
Chrysos, an art patron,
Miss Mary Perkins
Agesimos, Chrysos' slave,
Mrs. Edward B. Marsh
Minos, Pymalion's slave.
Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield
Galatea, an animated statue,
Miss Mollie Brown
Cynisca, Pygmalion's wife,
Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney
Daphne, Chrysos' wife,
Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell
Myrine, Pygmalion's sister,
Mrs. George H. Brown
Scene:—Pygmalion's studio.
Pianist, Mrs. Mary Chandler West

The arts and Crafts committee has arranged for a sale of handiwork before and after the play and will have articles appropriate for Christmas gifts to the babies as well as the grown-ups ,all made by Quincy women, who will appreciate a generous patronage.

Don't forget to take your membership ticket with you or your guest card if you wish to see the play next Tuesday.

OLDEST CLUB IN STATE.

The Randolph Ladies' Library association will observe its 55th anniversary on the 13th of December. The association was organized long before the days of the Turner library, and while the members met weekly throughout the year it was for the discussion of books and newspaper articles, and the full amount of the annual dues was devoted to the purchase of new books.

The association holds membership in the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs and holds its sessions in the evening in the library hall of its clubhouse. Mrs. Henry A. Betcher is the president of the association which has a membership of 100.

On moving into the clubhouse, about a year ago ,the photographs of all who had served the association in the presidential office were collected and arranged in one frame. The pictures sought were those taken during or near the time of service as association president. The 55th anniversary will be made a "remembrance evening," and each of the living past presidents is expected to respond in person or by note of greeting, giving some reminiscences of her term of service.

MASONS ELECT NEW MASTER

Charles E. Munroe at Head of Wollaston Lodge

The annual meeting of Wollaston Masonic lodge was held Tuesday evening and these officers elected:

Worshipful Master—Charles E. Monroe.
Senior Warden—Charles E. Cherrington.
Junior Warden—Carroll E. Bates.
Treasurer—I. Woodbury Pinkham.
Secretary—Alfred H. Richards.
Chaplain—Rev. Edward A. Chase.
Senior Deacon—John Morgan.
Junior Deacon—George A. Smith.
Senior Steward—Hugh H. Ralph.
Junior Steward—Arthur B. Hillman.
Trustee of Permanent Fund—Frank P. Waterhouse.
Proxy to Grand Lodge—Albert W. Fay.
Associate member board of relief of Masonic Home—Walter S. Pinkham.

The installation will be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 27, at which time the officers will be installed by Wor. Lafayette G. Blair as grand master assisted by Wor. Charles Pierce of South Boston as grand marshal.

The report of the treasurer, secretary, finance committee and trustees was very gratifying. During the past year sixteen have been admitted to membership the total of which is now 21. The lodge has lost two members by death during the year.

JUMPING AT CONCLUSIONS.

In the amiable way of villagers, they were discussing the matrimonial affairs of a couple who, though recently wed, had begun to find the yoke of Hymen a burden.

"'Tis all along o'these hasty marriages,' opined one caustic old gentleman, who had been much to the fore in the discussion. "They did not understand each other; they'd nobbut knowed each other for a matter o' seven year."

"Well, that seems long enough," said an interested lady listener.

"Long eno'! Bah, ye're wrong! When a body's coortin' he canna be too careful. Why, my coortship lasted a matter o' 19 year!"

"You certainly were careful," agreed the lady listener. "And did you find your plan successful when you married!"

"Ye jump to conclusions!" said the old man, impatiently. "I understood her then, so I dinna marry her."—Tit-Bits.

NEEDLESS EXPENSE.

He had been calling on a young lady for many moons, but, being bashful, his suit progressed slowly. Finally she decided it was up to her to start something, so the next time he called she pointed to the rose in his buttonhole and said:

"I'll give you a kiss for that rose."

A large, open-face blush meandered over his countenance, but the exchange was made. Then he grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Why, where are you going?" she asked, in surprise.

"To the—er florist for more roses," he exclaimed.

Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Several of the Quincy Churches Interested

The Norfolk East District of the Massachusetts Sunday School association held its fifteenth annual conference with the First Methodist Episcopal church and the First Congregational church of East Weymouth Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening. In spite of the stormy weather there was a large attendance at all the sessions of the conference and the program was carried through as it had been planned without a hitch. The real birthday of the organization came on Dec. 4. The Sunday schools which hold membership in the association made special observance of the day in all their services as a preliminary to the series of meetings yesterday. The first session of the conference was held at the Methodist church. Dr. J. William Watson presiding. After the preparation service which was conducted by Rev. A. E. Legg of New York city, the address of welcome was given by Rev. G. G. Scrivener, pastor of the church. Brief addresses on departmental work followed this and then Rev. George H. Parkinson of South Braintree delivered a masterful address on "Efficiency, as dependent upon organization and officers." Music as an aid to efficiency in the Bible school was the topic used by Rev. F. B. McAllister of Cohasset.

A discussion of the subjects of these two addresses and of "The efficiency of class organization" was led by Mr. Herbert B. Tucker of Milton, a past president of the association.

The nominating committee was appointed as follows: Carle R. Hayward of Quincy, chairman, Deacon Leonard Belcher of Holbrook and Mrs. Louis A. Cook of South Weymouth.

After lunch, the pastors, superintendents and laymen had a conference in the vestry of the Congregational church under the leadership of Mr. F. P. Luce of Braintree. All who attended this noon meeting agreed that it alone was worth attendance at the conference. Rev. Walter H. Commons of South Weymouth led the praise and devotional service. Rev. Howard A. Pease, M. D., of Natick, president of the Framingham district and chairman of the State committee on Moral Hygiene, delivered a very able address on the subject, "Moral Hygiene as an aid to efficiency in the Bible school."

The discussion which followed it was led by Rev. R. S. Hubbard, Boston, organizing secretary of the Massachusetts S. P. C. C. Parallel with this was a meeting for women in the Methodist church led by Mrs. Mabel Sawyer Rogers, president of the Philergians of Braintree. Rev. C. M. Southgate, Boston, superintendent of the Massachusetts Bible society gave a very helpful address on "The Book of Power."

The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises led by Mr. Lewis Alden of Holbrook. Rev. Burt Leon Yorke, of West Medford spoke on the topic, "Efficiency through the right relations of the church to the Bible school."

An innovation which proved very successful was a half hour given to the discussion of the topic, Successful methods we have used in promoting efficiency in our Bible school. One minute addresses were given by many superintendents and many helpful ideas were brought forth.

The second address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. Forrester A. MacDonald of Lowell. His subject was, "Efficiency through thoroughly furnished teachers."

Mr. Hamilton S. Conant, general secretary of the Massachusetts Sunday School association was next introduced. Mr. Conant has not missed a single conference of the Norfolk East association since its foundation in 1895 and he told the audience that he did not intend to miss one as long as he was able to be about. A general conference on "Methods which make for Efficiency and Efficiency as the Product of the Convention" was conducted by the general secretary.

Mrs. Conant delivered an address to the young people and children upon the subject, "Efficiency by the cooperation of the scholars." This address was full of entertaining stories and gave much enjoyment as well as much for the scholars to think about.

Mrs. Florence E. Ware of Worcester spoke very ably upon the theme, "Stories as an aid to Bible school efficiency."

The fifth session at sunset was used for departmental conferences by the home, elementary, advanced and adult departments.

After an hour for fresh air and sociability the anniversary supper was served to 150 guests. Judge Louis A. Cook was introduced as toastmaster for the post-prandial exercises. Miss S. T. Holbrook responded to the toast "Our History," Charles S. Bates of Braintree the "father" and first President of the Norfolk East association spoke on, "Our presidents and the A. B. C's." W. H. Pratt, superintendent of the East Weymouth Methodist Sunday school answered to the toast, "Our Coincident Home." Mr. Conant spoke on the work of the Sunday school associations throughout the state and the country, Rev. Edward Evans of Holbrook responded to the toast, Thanksgiving a New England institution. A. D. Albee of Wollaston, a past president of the association responded to the toast, "For the good of the Bible school."

"Prophecies, Norfolk East District Twenty-five Years Hence," by Rev. Elmer E. Williams of Randolph, concluded the post-prandial exercises.

The concluding session of the conference was held in the auditorium of the Methodist church. The nominating committee report was accepted and the following officers were elected:

President, J. William Watson (re-elected); Vice Presidents, Rev. Elmer E. Williams, Rev. R. E. Armstrong, Rev. G. G. Scrivener; Secretary and Treasurer, Fred B. Watson of Braintree. District Superintendents—Adult, F. G. Merrill, South Weymouth; Advanced, Miss S. T. Holbrook; Elementary, Mrs. E. A. Chase, Wollaston; Home, Miss Louise C. Tower, Cohasset; Executive Committee, the above named officers and Mrs. Carrie E. Mitchell of Hull and Charles R. Fearing of Hingham.

The installation of officers was conducted by Mr. Hamilton S. Conant.

The last address of the evening was delivered by Rev. J. Stanley Durkee, Ph. D., of Brockton. The Great Ends of Efficiency, was his subject and its fitness for the conclusion of the conference was perfect. He spoke with a depth of spiritual power which gave the members a strengthened purpose for carrying on their work during the coming year.

Many interesting and pleasing announcements were made at the last session which are worthy of mention. A member of the South Congregational church, Braintree, presented the new secretary and treasurer with a beautiful morocco bound record book. The book is a loose leaf ledger capable of holding 15 years' records. On the front cover the name of the association was printed in gilt. Other donations were made by the Thomas Wood Co. of Boston, which gave all the tea and coffee. Bigelow and Main, publishers of New York city, who presented 400 of their new song leaflets, "Hallowed Hymns," and by the printer S. D. Towne of Boston.

The next convention will be held at the old South church, South Weymouth. Quincy has always had an active and important part in this organization. Mr. E. W. Branch of the Bethany Sunday school was one of the organizers. Among the past presidents are: Amos D. Albee of Wollaston, Rev. N. J. Sproul and Rev. Alfred R. Atwood formerly of Quincy. Rev. R. E. Armstrong was elected vice president yesterday. Out of a total of 56 Sunday schools represented, Quincy has 19, Weymouth 10, Braintree 6, Milton 6, Hingham 4, Cohasset 4, Holbrook 3, Randolph 3 and Hull 1.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '00
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

ZOROID
Founded 1883
TRADE MARK
THE Sanborn System of eye examination measures up to the latest scientific requirements. It is simple, thorough and effective. It gets results.
The Sanborn system means glasses especially designed and made for your individual case, adapted for your face, your occupation, your personal requirements.
Zoroid Lenses
Get Results.
Briggs S. Palmer. President.
SanbornS
3 Winter St.- Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 7-10

GAS SHOW
December 7-13
10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON
A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.
Educational and Entertaining
Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.
11 Granite Street, QUINCY

Plenty of Fresh Air
WARM CLOTHING
AND A 50 CENT BOTTLE OF HEARN'S
EMULSION
And you need have no fear of a cold developing into Pneumonia
CHAS. C. HEARN
PHARMACIST
1295 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

A Good Digestion

means a man or woman good for something—good work or pleasant times. Whoever has distress after eating, sick headaches, nausea, bad taste, unpleasant breath, cannot find good in anything, or be of much use in the world.

But these symptoms are only signs that the stomach needs a little care and attention and the aid that can give. Safe, reliable, thoroughly tried, this family remedy has wonderful reviving power. They tone the stomach, liver and bowels—all organs of digestion. With these organs in good order, the whole system is better and stronger.

Beecham's Pills

Try a few doses and see for yourself what a splendid bodily condition Beecham's Pills

Can Create

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

QUEEN LOUISE
FLOUR
90c A BAG AT
JOHNSON BROTHERS

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Court.

TO the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

PATRICK CAIN

late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Mary Cain of Quincy without giving a surety on her bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of November A. D. 1910.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Nov. 23, 30 28-29-7

C. F. CARLSON

SMOKERS SUPPLIES
CIGARS
At Wholesale and Retail
Big Variety of Pipes

STEAMSHIP & RAILROAD TICKETS

Opposite Quincy Station
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Conn.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 324-R.

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. of invention for free report. Free hook, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.

Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.

Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.

Write or come to

710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & Co.

IN FASHION'S REALM

Ratine Popular for Mannish Suits

Smooth Blue Serge Leading Favorite

The war of clothes still goes merrily on. New suggestions are cropping up every morning, and theories of how to best wear the new clothes are being met with newer theories as to what Paris will do at the first of the year. It is not possible to understand just why those who project these last theories believe in them. Goodness knows there was revolution enough at the first of this season two months ago to satisfy even the most tumultuous soul.

Paris executed an about-face in clothes last Summer while our backs were turned. There seems to be little doubt that she caught us napping. Americans will not forgive their buyers soon for that little affair of the plaited skirt and the long coat. There were many other things added unto these that made the American woman peevish, for she considers that the vast amount of money she spends on clothes each year entitles her to foreknowledge on this subject.

She has been compelled to have her late spring suit cut into hash and made over, or utterly discarded, when September approached. And this is hard lines. She doesn't know quite who to blame the most—Paris or the American buyers—but she is decidedly upset and she has given warning that she doesn't want it to happen again.

It is human nature and history, to judge the future by the past. What has happened may happen again. This is the only argument that has been brought up in defense of the theory that Paris is making up her mind to go into plaited skirts and Eton jackets at the first of the year.

There is another argument that sounds a little better, which is that Paris itself has been wearing these tight skirts and short coats since last May, and is therefore wearied of them, but if we work on the theory that the same thing may happen next year that has happened this year, then we will not get hold of the spring styles of Paris until summer.

Therefore, it is much wiser for us to be tranquil and quiet at present and go ahead with our winter clothes made in the prevailing fashion. If we lend ourselves to uncertainty every time that we buy a garment we will have a most unhappy time of it, and not really succeed after all. As the future is so indefinite, why not drift with the present and be as fashionable as we can?

That the Eton jacket may come in is not such a serious question, nor one, if true, that need cause much alarm. It has already appeared in spots. A charming model in white broadcloth trimmed with black fox, has an Eton jacket with a fur turnover cuff at the waist line. It is single-breasted and fastened with Roman coins, instead of buttons.

An apricot broadcloth and velvet afternoon gown has an Eton jacket cut up a little in the middle of the back and edged with sable. There are Directoire revers of the sable and one extra large gold button at the bust. These are only two examples of the Eton in a multitude of models, but there may be many more, and even if there are not, these two are sufficient to show the direction of the wind.

The one trouble is that they bear the names of great French artists, and this mark spells individuality more than popularity. It is when you see a garment being made by the near-great that you realize the importance of its cut and make. The artists play with frocks in every way, and often make a wonderful gown for an individual that has almost nothing in common with the established fashions.

This method is at once the delight and the despair of those who want to wear good clothes. They want to have something individual, and yet they do not wish anything extreme. The majority lean toward the former attitude, and if they can get a big enough artist to make them something that is really unlike the fashions of the masses, they are enchanted.

It is only the minority who have the price to pay for individual costumes; other women, equally desirous of original effect, and who possess individuality in face and figure, cannot have the individual gown because the price is too steep. The second-class dressmaker, and especially the little seamstress, is quite helpless over any proposed departure from what is current.

Many kinds of fabrics were brought into existence at the beginning of the season, but not all of them took hold. Some remain entirely fashionable, but out of the reach of the multitude because of their steep price per yard. In the case of some of these, like gauze perles, it is doubtful if the price will go down, because the fabric demands so much hand labor and care in its production.

The machine-made article may be brought to perfection by the manufacturer and take the place of the kind that is now so costly; but will we want it then? The very fact that it becomes ordinary and can be had for the asking may be the the thing that robs it of its fascination for us now. Yet it is a lovely stuff—this mediaeval, jewel-sewn gauze—and it deserves a long life in its reincarnation.

Ratine, which is a rough cloth that gives the appearance of knitted worsted, has jumped into first place and held it. It is not suitable for dressy gowns, but, in fact, very few cloths are this year; chiffon broadcloth is the one exception, and many of the dressmakers do not even advocate it.

Ratine is excellent for mannish suits; for those smart rough-and-ready coats and skirts that the American woman has made her own, and which serve nearly every outdoor purpose. She has raised this kind of costume to the highest perfection, and even Paris admits that no city and no class of tailors approaches her in the making or the wearing of her so-called tailor suit.

It is braid trimmed—this rough cloth—if one wishes it, but the majority of smart tailors leave it to its own devices, which means that the trimming is concocted out of the material itself, either in folds or tucks or quaintly cut seams. Serge is the material that made its reappearance in August, and shows no sign of depreciating in value. Its smooth, thin surface looks a bit too cold for our blustering weather, and I think the weave of last year, with its wide wale and its deep herringbone, was far more effective.

The manufacturers decided that they, or the public, were tired of the fancy weave and wanted a return to the smooth surface that has always been woven in the fabric when men's suits were to be made. So they flooded the market with this, and stopped weaving the other. Women who like what they like, regardless of the last dictate of fashion, are getting pieces of last year's material for their winter suits, believing that the smooth surface is unfit for winter use.

Whichever weave is used, its surface is not unadorned. Braid there must be in generous measure. Both wide and narrow kinds are used, which undoubtedly adds to the cost of the suit. The new wide braid should almost be mentioned in the list of winter materials, as it is a dominant feature of the counters. Some of it is 15 inches wide and makes up the better part of a skirt.

If one feels like affording two yards of this extra width braid one is certainly saved a good deal of trouble in manufacturing a smart afternoon skirt. The top is made into a yoke with only two seams, one down each hip, with an extension waist that obviates the necessity of a belt. This must suggest itself as an easy method to every one.

There is braid in many widths running from two to ten inches, all of which trims the blue or black serge suits; as a companion to the flat kind there is a fancy round braid that is twisted into motifs of many shapes and is used for the coat and blouse. Pockets are simulated on the short jackets by four-inch bands of braid edged with a scroll of the round braid and skirts are trimmed with a band of the wide kind—always left loose at the lower edge—and ornamented above with edelweiss or Egyptian symbols of the narrow kind.

Another old-fashioned favorite that has returned is camel's hair, its silky surface covered with long hairs. Black is the fashionable color in it, and it, too, is braid trimmed. And just here a word of warning: If heavy braid is used it will undoubtedly drag the soft camel's hair out of position. It will make the sleeve sag and draw the hem of the skirt out of its even line.

When braid is used it must be narrow, comparatively speaking. It should be of the lightest weight in the basket weave and put on sparingly. If it is used on a peasant blouse it should be around the neck and shoulders, rather than in a band above the waist line. The latter, by its weight, pulls the shoulder line too tightly over the figure and makes the blouse sag in a disorderly line above the belt.

The dressmakers have found this out after two months of experimenting. They were not quite sure at first what pulled the camel's hair helter-skelter, but now they know. They have learned to use narrower braid and not to put any plaits in the fabric above a band of braid. The latter won't plait and it draws the fabric above it into a crooked line.

Every one must know by this time that the materials for the street borrow softness from those for the evening. Nothing is stiff, hard, unyielding. It is a season of drapery and suppleness. While this is astonishingly true of street clothes, it is delightfully so of evening gowns. The latter are made of the most gauzy and filmy fabrics that can be woven.

Velvet is the fashion for ball gowns but not the velvet of other days. It has been reduced to a mere wisp of shimmer and sheen. It is a rival to chiffon, and is often mingled with it. It sounds as though a dinner gown must be cumbersome to say that it is combined of fur, velvet, metal lace and embroidery. It gives one a mental picture of the stiff gowns of other centuries that owed their grandeur to the fact that they could stand alone.

But this new combination means nothing cumbersome. It is so soft and crushable, so delicately woven and so thoroughly chiffonee that a gown of it looks as though it could be run through a sizable bracelet. Its lack of bones and lining helps to give this effect.

Satin plays a large part in all the gowns of the winter, no matter for what purpose they are intended. It is used for the house and for the new Pierrot models, that are loose and supple, with a row of satin buttons from chin to ankle. Satin is also worn for the most elaborate evening gowns, party veiled by chiffon and always touched off by metal lace.

There is practically no end to these gauzes, plain and irridescent. They are an endless source of delight to the designer who plays the fabric as a trump card in the game of clothes.

Fur is as popular as chiffon, and trims everything from a negligee to a ball gown. It is even put on the short satin petticoat that is now worn under a narrow outer skirt clashed up the left side.—Anne Rittenhouse in New York Times.

THE SPENDING SEX.

Girls and Their Allowance a Question for Every Generation—responsibility Alone Can Teach the True Value of Money—The Income-Earning Woman Not Always Thrifty.

In a recent lecture given to a group of thoughtful women by Mr. Charles Russell the suggestion was made that from an early age girls should be given an allowance which might cover the cost of their school bills, as well as that of their clothes, pleasures and sweets. Reflection will show this was hardly a practical way of meeting what is undoubtedly a great want in feminine education—it is quite true that the spending sex are given the least possible amount of training in the art or science of spending—nor will this plan commend itself to any wise parent who desires to see his daughters well and properly schooled, remembering, as he will, the girl's proclivity for sweets and her innate love of clothes!

Nevertheless, the root of the matter is touched when it is acknowledged that responsibility alone will teach the right value and the right use of money. It is not always the woman who earns money who is the wisest spender of it; there are those who earn easily and spend thriftlessly, while for the most part the woman who earns her own income rarely has any margin for what may be styled "spending"; her all is usually swallowed up by providing for the necessaries of living. As a rule, the best spenders of money among both men and women are those who realize the power of money to earn money, which is finance. It is the financier who makes ten talents grow from five.

The ability to deal with money in any capacity outside that of the ordinary buying and selling transactions of every-day life is only acquired by special training, or, failing training, by experience. A man who would deal with money—who wishes to "make money," as the saying is—has to set himself to understand how it is "made"—that is to say, how it is turned over and over again with profits, interest, compound interest, and so on. If he tries to experiment before he has properly learned his lesson, he has often to call himself a fool for his pains. Again, men pick up a good deal of business information as they go about and mix with one another; they are on the lookout for it, and fathers are usually solicitous to put their sons in a way of getting knowledge and business training, even if unwilling or unable to give the training themselves.

But with girls it is quite otherwise. Their monetary experiences are practically confined to the everyday barter and exchange of money for services and goods. Very rarely do they rise to "making money," except they acquire a business of their own and deal with its profits and losses. How rarely does a woman who comes into the possession of money find herself able to deal with its investment without relying upon the direction of solicitors or other male advisers. How many women are there who could say as did one capable lady of the writer's acquaintance some short while ago, "Although I have a husband, I prefer to manage my own money affairs and employ my own broker"? It is so rare a thing to meet with one who has the courage as well as the capacity to "manage her own affairs" that a note like that is absolutely refreshing.

Yet this want of experience is not a reason for putting a cheque book into the hands of a young girl and expecting her to make all her payments out of it. A soldier is not armed for defence by having a gun thrust into his hands. You must first give the ability to use a cheque bok and the knowledge of how to keep a bank account before you impose the responsibility which both entail. The inability of the feminine sex to understand the limitations of bank accounts has become a byword, a peg upon which the cheap wit delights to hang his hat, and many a story attaches thereto. But those is the fault? Women have simply not been taught how to do their own sums.—L. H. Yates in the Queen.

A GIRL'S HEALTH.

The average school girl takes the most stupendous liberties with her health and with her complexion. She will stuff herself with candies, apparently, without the slightest concern as to their effect upon her complexion and her stomach. She will even consume pickles, mustard and similar things, without the slightest qualm, and she habitually and stealthily indulges in things of the canned variety during her schooldays that she will later in life declare to be "impossible."

She seems to be possessed of an abnormal craving for the most injurious of foodstuffs. If she allowed herself only an occasional indulgence along this line there would not be so much cause for anxiety. But the weekly "spread" is an established custom in the life of the average schoolgirl. They are persistently and gaily adding to the great mass of nervous dyspeptics that our country is noted for.

But if no sense of patriotism will deter them from adding to their country's ills, perhaps they may be stopped in their headlong career toward the disaster of an impaired digestion by their vanity. If girls would only realize the harm they are doing their complexion, we will not mention stomachs, they would immediately limit themselves to a sane and discreet indulgence of candy and all the other unhealthful things they feed upon in the secrecy of their bedrooms.

No one can say a word against candy eaten with discretion. A bonbon or two eaten after luncheon or dinner cannot be complained of, but when one begins sometimes immediately after breakfast and continues to nibble throughout the day, or whenever one has occasion to go to one's room for anything, then the danger line has been reached.

We are constantly hearing of the evils of cigarette smoking for the schoolboy, and undoubtedly they are enormous, but what of the candy evil? Of course, it would be absurd to say that the candy evil is as stupendous as the cigarette evil, but it is great enough to call forth protests and warning from all sane and health-loving persons.

The constant habit of candy eating will not only utterly ruin the digestion, but will destroy the teeth and eventually mar the texture of the skin, if it does not result in a horrid pimply complexion. So, the girl who wishes to be good looking (and where is the girl who does not?) to have a clear, healthy skin, good teeth and bright eyes and the exuberance of spirit that the unimpaired digestion gives will avoid the evil of too much candy as she would the plague.—N. Y. Times.

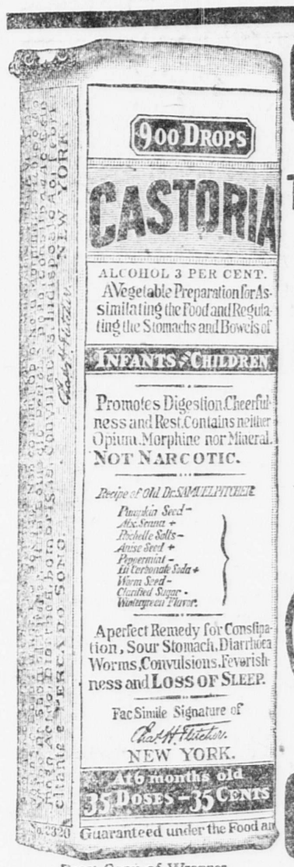
WE'VE GOT A TELEPHONE.

We've got a telephone at last,
And wife is quite content.
She says the news comes in so fast
She hasn't spent a cent
For literature of any kind,—
She hears the neighbors tell
So much of things that 'er going on,
She listens for that bell.
And, when someone begins to talk,
She takes the receiver down,
And then she knows how everything
Is going on in town.

I'd like to use the phone sometimes
And get the price of grain,
And call the Weather Bureau up,
And learn when it will rain.
But all the women on our line
Have got so much to say,
I wait and wait, while other men
Are drawing in their hay.
And then I say a word or two
And wish that telephone
Was anywhere but in my house,
Or I'd a line alone.—Farm Journal.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE
LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove. 25c.

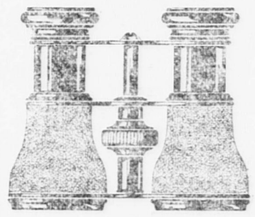
Be Proud Then why rest contented with thin, scraggly, rough hair? Ayer's Hair Vigor gives softness and richness to the hair, makes it thicker, heavier. Cannot change the color. Safe to use? Ask your own doctor. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

LLOYD'S OPERA GLASSES



Black Lemaire $5.00
Pearl Lemaire 10.50
CATALOGUE ON APPLICATION

BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St. } BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

New Up to Date Furniture Store
At 1801 Hancock Street
THE BERMAN FURNITURE CO.

It will pay you to visit our new up-to-date Furniture store. We can afford to sell you Furniture, Carpets and Ranges cheaper than any other store. Give us a call and you will save money.

CASH or CREDIT
Furniture Moving by Experienced Men all the time
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
Lyric Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quinc 546-2. Oct. 6-1f

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-1f

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS.
INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCES TRUSTS
MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
CARE OF PROPERTY

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-1f

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ For The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 To $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

PROGRESSIVES ARE STIRRED

Over Rumors of Changes In the Commerce Commission

BOARD NOW WELL BALANCED

Removal of Prouty and Lane, Both of Whom Incline Toward the "Cause of the People," Might Leave Power In Hands of Men Considered Favorable to Railroads—Railroad Rate Discussion Hung Up Temporarily

Washington, Dec. 7.—Current rumors that Charles A. Prouty and Franklin K. Lane of the interstate commerce commission may be transferred to the new commerce court have caused more excitement among the progressives in Washington than any event since they reached here for the session.

These rumors cannot at present be substantiated, yet they have opened up a discussion which promises to attract attention to the interstate commerce commission as an almost more important body, in the matter of changes and reappointments, than the United States supreme court.

It is the firm belief of the men resisting the proposed advances in railroad rates that the commision on this and other matters has stood for a long time in a certain sharply defined attitude. In other words, that the commission, which consists of seven members, stands three to three upon issues favored by the railroads, with Commissioner Clark the pivot which at any time may bring about a four to three vote.

In the light of their records and known bent of mind, popular opinion divides the commission as follows: More favorable to railroads, Knapp, Harlan and Cockrell; less favorable to railroads, Clements, Prouty and Lane; neutral, Clark.

If this line-up is accurate, it can readily be seen what significance would attach to the removal of Prouty and Lane. To say the least it would not strengthen what the progressives term "The cause of the people." It would be regarded, whether properly or not, as an attempt to place the railroads in a stronger position with the commission.

Unless vacancies occurring from one cause or another were filled with men known to be friendly to the popular side of cases coming before the commission, the progressives would regard it as a certainty that an attempt had been made to manipulate the commission in the interests of the railroads.

An analogous situation, as far as the progressives are concerned, is presented with respect to the supreme court. It is said that since his interviews with leading progressive senators and representatives, President Taft has changed nis slate. They have given notice outside the White House, if not within it, that unless men of progressive type are appointed to the supreme court to fill the two vacancies existing, the nominations will be fought even in open session on the senate floor.

With the country at present keenly sensitive over certain economic questions, like the tariff and railroad rates, and more responsive to progressive promptings than to any other, the importance of the progressive element in congress as an influence affecting appointments will readily be recognized.

In the matter of railroad rates, a concrete situation has shaped up through the dramatic offer of Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to teach the railroads how to save a million dollars a day in the cost of administration. Brandeis was challenged by the railroads to do this and promptly accepted the challenge. His offer had not become cold before Rudolph Spreckles, one of the greatest business men of the west, stepped to his side and stated that he would give two years of his time supplying evidence to assist Brandeis in his gigantic task.

Others, it is understood, have made like voluntary offers and it would seem as if the interstate commerce commission is placed in the embarrassing position of hesitating to rule upon the proposed advances in rates desired by the railroads. The decision certainly is hung up temporarily, in the midst of a situation unprecedented in the history of the commission.

Portland Goes Democratic

Portland, Me., Dec. 7.—Portland city affairs will be managed by the Democrats the coming municipal year, that party having elected their candidate for mayor and carried five of the nine wards of the city. Oakley C. Curtis was elected mayor.

Disastrous Fire In Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 7.—One man was fatally burned, two policemen seriously injured by live wires, and a score of families made homeless by a fire which destroyed three buildings on West Thirteenth street. The loss is $75,000.

GENERAL VON STEUBEN

Statue of the Revolutionary War Veteran For Washington

UNVEILED BY MISS TAFT

Memorial to Major General Von Steuben Dedicated In Washington

Washington, Dec. 7.—Miss Helen Taft, the president's daughter, unveiled the bronze statue erected to Major General Von Steuben, inspector general of the American Revolutionary army, on the occasion of its dedication here today.

Imposing military and civic ceremonies marked the dedication of the statue. The secretary of war was present and addresses were made by President Taft, Count Von Bernstorm, the German ambassador; Representative Bartholdt of Missouri and Charles A. Hexamer, president of the National German-American alliance.

TIDE IS TURNING TOWARDS LIBERALS

British Unionists Surprised and Greatly Disappointed

London, Dec. 7.—At the close of Tuesday's polling the complexion of the house of commons stood as follows: Government coalition—Liberals, 106; Labarites, 29; Nationalists, 26; total, 152. Opposition—Unionists, 147.

A situation has been developed almost phenomenal in the closeness of the race between the government coalition parties and the Unionists. The result of three days' voting, in which 290 seats have been filled, give the coalition one more member than they had in the last parliament from the same constituencies.

The turning of the tide toward Liberalism is a surprise and a great disappointment to the Unionists, who counted upon capturing half a dozen seats from the enemy.

UNDER ANTI-TRUST LAW

Firms and Individuals Connected With "Bathtub Trust" Are Indicted

Detroit, Dec. 7.—The federal grand jury here indicted thirty-two individuals and sixteen firms alleged to control 85 percent of the annual output of bathtubs in the United States.

Against each firm and each individual there are two indictments, containing six and four counts, respectively, under the Sherman anti-trust law, charging in substance that the defendants control 85 percent of the output of enamelled ironware, tubs, sinks, lavatories, etc., and that they have conspired to restrain trade and fix prices.

It is alleged that the conspiracy was hatched at Mt. Clemens, Mich., last April.

OPERA CHORUS FIRED

Men Sing In Whisper to Enforce Demand For Better Pay

Vienna, Dec. 7.—The entire men's chorus has been summarily dismissed from the Imperial Opera for what is called a passive resistance demonstration.

The men, numbering forty-eight, were exasperated by the refusal of their persistent appeals for better pay, and decided to keep only the letter of their contracts.

They appeared on the stage as usual, but suppressed their voices to whispers. The conductor's frantic efforts to make them sing were ignored, and the audience hissed them. Hence the punishment. The program has now been rearranged so as to exclude the chorus from the operas as far as possible.

Spent $17,359 and Lost Election

Richmond, Dec. 7.—Henry C. Stuart, Democratic candidate for congress in the Ninth Virginia district, beaten by the Republican incumbent, C. B. Slemp, reported his expenses to the secretary of the commonwealth, showing that his campaign cost him $17,359.35. Stuart received a total of 16,731 votes.

MAY BE HIDING IN THE WEST

Boston Police Expect to Soon Locate Broker Davie

HE SWINDLED ALL CLASSES

Tales of Misplaced Confidence Pouring In Ever Since His Disappearance—Rich Men, Negro Porter and Many Women Among His Victims—Was Square With Some and Dishonest With Others In His Dealings

Boston, Dec. 7.—Clues to the refuge of Robert E. Davie, the missing boy broker, are believed to have been found in the communications which he has been sending to his mother and brother in Allston since his disappearance.

Letters and telegrams received by the missing youth's mother, dated from the west, where Mrs. Davie thought her son had been compelled to go for his health, have established a chain that inclines the police to the belief that Davie's hiding place will be unearthed.

Inspector Pelton, who interviewed the mother, closely questioning her about these letters and telegrams, returned to headquarters immediately after his interview and was closeted for some time with Deputy Watts.

Another development in the career of the broker was that he had been a member of the Boston chamber of commerce. He was also well known at the City club, and it is said that many of the members had been won over by his personality to invest money under his direction.

Tales of misplaced confidence have been pouring in to the police since the news of the broker's disappearance. One of the most pathetic was that of a negro porter who knew Davie and gave him his savings of twenty-five years, nearly $2000, to invest.

Many women, some prominent in the circles to which Davie had secured access, and others with savings won by hard toil, have been added to the list of fleeced investors since the public exposure of the young broker's defalcation.

It is believed that Davie's first fall from grace occurred in May. From then until his flight he had been square with some and dishonest with others. Many bonds which he might have hypothecated have been discovered to be intact.

James H. Prince, attorney for Mrs. Greenwood, who lost $13,000, declared yesterday that he believed Davie must have lost all his funds obtained dishonestly. He did not give credence to the theory that the absconding broker had carried away any amount of spoils.

The New York police have abandoned the search there, after failing to secure any information leading to the conclusion that Davie had taken a steamer for a foreign port.

Every possible clue there has been run to earth with no success. From the time of Davie's departure from the Hotel Brayton on Madison avenue no one has been found who saw him.

CHAPLAIN WAS LATE

Uncle Joe Starts Congress to Work Without Customary Prayer

Washington, Dec. 7.—For the first time in a long while the house yesterday began business without prayer. The heavy snowstorm so crippled the street car systems that Chaplain Couden did not reach the Capitol before noon, as is his custom.

Speaker Cannon, at the stroke of 12, brought his gaven down sharply. He looked around in perplexity.

"The chaplain not having arrived," he announced finally, "the clerk will proceed with the reading of the journal."

The clerk proceeded, but his droning soon was interrupted by the appearance of Dr. Coudon, who delivered the prayer.

THE RICHEST HEIRESS

Chicago Girl of Fourteen Comes Into Fortune of $30,000,000

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Miss Catherine Barker must be added to the galaxy of American heiresses, if, indeed, she is not the brightest gem in that array of beauty and wealth.

Her father, John H. Barker, who has just died, bequeathed $30,000,000, his entire fortune, to Miss Catherine, 14 years old. She is the richest girl or unmarried woman in the country probably and one of the wealthiest in the world.

Life Sentence For $89 Theft

New York, Dec. 7.—For stealing two rings worth $89 from his sister, Andrew Burns was sentenced to Sing Sing for life. Burns, who has spent just half of his thirty years in prison, received a life term because he is an old offender.

Earthquake In Italy

Reggio, Calabria, Dec. 7.—A severe earthquake shock was felt here. No lives were lost here, but the surrounding villages have not been heard from.

STOWAWAYS ARE SORRY

Three Arabs Will Be Glad When They Return to Native Heath

Boston, Dec. 7.—Three remorseful Arabs came to Boston on the steamship Matoppo, which arrived from Calcutta and Colombo, three days late. The remorse of the Arabs was due largely to the fact that they were more than half frozen. At every opportunity they got they sought the warmth of the fireroom and got partially thawed out.

The aparel of each consisted of a towel wrapped about the head, a jumper, a pair of pants and dilapidated shoes. They formed part of the gang used in coaling the steamer at Algiers. They neglected to leave the ship with the rest, and only made their presence known when the bunker plates were being battened down by thumping with all their might. It is certain that they will be tickled very much when they reach the port where they embarked.

One of the most polyglot crews that ever came to Boston on one vessel manned the Motoppo. The officers are English, and the others, aside from the Arabs, include Dutchmen, Germans, Swedes, Chinese, Malays, Lascars, Finns, Indians and one Irishman.

AIRSHHIP CREATES VACUUM

Pennsylvania Man Has Invention of Decidedly New Character

Pittsburg, Dec. 7.—An airship controlled by vacuum, capable of rising to any necessary height and of remaining suspended motionless in the air; of carrying passengers protected from the elements in a compartment furnished as luxuriously as a Pullman car; of carrying freight and enough fuel to make sustained flights of distances not now dreamed of for heavier-than-air machines, and all by means of mechanism so simply controlled as to insure almost perfect safety, is what John W. Wadsworth of Leetsdale says he will demonstrate in Pittsburg within the next few weeks.

The principle on which the invention is based is the creation of a vacuum in the space above the airship in order to ascend and then, by creating a vacuum, propel the machine in any direction.

BALDWIN RETURNS ROOSEVELT LETTERS

Judge Declines to Resume Diplomatic Relations

New Haven, Dec. 7.—Theodore Roosevelt has written to Governor-elect Baldwin several times since the election of Nov. 8, it is understood, but the letters have been returned. There has been no definite adjustment of the controversy which arose over Roosevelt's criticism of Judge Baldwin's alleged attitude towards workingmen's compensation laws, but mutual friends are said to be trying to bring about a reconciliation.

Colonel Ullman, president of the New Haven chamber of commerce, has been in correspondence with Roosevelt in order to pave the way for acceptance by Baldwin of the invitation to address the chamber at its banquet next Tuesday, when Roosevelt will be the guest.

It is stated that Baldwin insists that a public statement must come from Roosevelt touching upon the latter's speech at Concord, N. H., before direct communication will be considered. Pending a statement from Roosevelt there is no acceptance by Judge Baldwin of the invitation to the banquet as a guest and speaker.

NO SPECIAL ELECTION

Draper Will Not Act on Foss' Resignation as Congressman

Boston, Dec. 7.—Governor Draper, in a letter to Governor-elect Foss last night, declined to call a special election for congress in the Fourteenth district. He pointed out in his letter that, since the resignation of Foss as congressman from the Fourteenth district will not take effect until Jan. 4, it would be better for the latter to act in regard to calling the election for his successor.

Mr. Foss will qualify as governor of the state on Jan. 5, the day after his resignation from congress goes into effect.

Governor Draper gave as his reason for not calling the special election, the advice of the attorney general, that such action on his part would be illegal.

GREAT DROVES OF TURKEYS

Disposed of at Thirteen Cents a Pound In Texas Town

Cuero, Tex., Dec. 7.—Several droves of turkeys, each numbering from 500 to 1000 head, have been driven to Cuero and marketed during the last few weeks.

A few days ago Isaac Egg of Meyersville delivered to a local produce company here 800 turkeys which he drove overland a distance of fourteen miles.

The fowl brought 13 cents a pound on foot. Cureo is one of the largest turkey and chicken packing and shipping points in the state.

A Persistent Yankee.

To illustrate Yankee persistency a Wall street magnate told the following story the other day:

"A new England Yankee who was a prisoner on a pirate ship in the good old days when pirates roamed the seas became, because of his Yankee attributes, objectionable to his captors. It was finally decided to maroon him on a desert island with but little food and a coffin to remind him of his inevitable fate. The island was found, and the New Englander and the coffin were left alone on the beach, while the pirate ship sailed away. For several days she sailed and then became becalmed. For three days she lay there with not a breath of air. On the evening of the third day a black speck was noticed on the horizon. It steadily grew larger and soon was close enough for the men on the ship to make out what it was."

The man of millions paused for an instant and then said, smiling, "It was the Yankee in his coffin, with half of the lid in either hand rowing for home."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Brute Again.

Brown wants the women all to vote.
He says it is their legal right.
He says things that the papers quote,
Which give the suffragettes delight.

Oh, why does he the hustings climb
And mingle in the stress and strife?
So that he, at election time,
May blame defeat upon his wife.
—Chicago Post.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Crescent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abcd	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 54
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 27 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	a-sede	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 42 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 29 r
r 10 10	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 11	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 39	b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 10 r
r 5 21	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 21 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 28
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 39	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dcba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 33 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 43	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	11 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 50	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.00, 9.00, 11.0 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.17, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
13c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-1f

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO
QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE
In effect Oct. 25, 1910.
Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.41 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	28 degrees
December 7, 1909,	44 degrees
December 7, 1908,	57 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 12 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Parlor Furniture
R. E. Foy & Co.—Hecker's Buckwheat
Quincy Historical Society—Lecture
John W. Sanborn Co.—Zoroid Leases

BRIEFS

Supper and entertainment tonight at the Universalist church.

The Boston Gear Works social club hold a dancing party at Brasee hall tonight.

Manet council, R. A., will meet in A. O. H. hall this evening. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

The anual ball of Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., will be held tonight at Music hall. A large attendance is anticipated.

The Columbus Building Associates concert will be given in St. Mary's hall this evening. The proceeds will go toward the cost of erection of a new K. of C. building in West Quincy.

Maple lodge, K. and L. of H., will hold their regular monthly meeting in Electa hall this evening. The election of new officers will be the principal business.

Frank A. Brown, a South Weymouth druggist, contributed $100 in the district court this morning, for a violation of the liquor law, in not having a certificate of fitness as now required by law.

The Galahad club meeting tomorrow evening promised to be the largest and best in the history of the club. Wendell of Harvard fame will talk football to the hearts content of the club members, the high school players, Y. M. C. A. boys and other boys who are interested in the game.

Dr. John C. Munro, surgeon at the Quincy City Hospital since 1902, died at his home in Boston Tuesday night, aged 52 years. Dr. Munro was the surgeon who performed most of the abdominal operations at the Hospital, and was one of the most prominent surgeons of the State.

A goodly sum was realized at the benefit given for Daniel Forsythe, the McGregor football player. Forsythe broke his leg in a game three weeks ago and naturally has been unable to attend to his work since. Dancing was enjoyed during the greater part of the evening. Members of the club furnished a pleasing entertainment.

EASTERN STAR OFFICERS.

Quincy Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, has elected these officers:

Worthy Matron—Miss Myra E. Lester.
Worthy Patron—William Patterson.
Asso. Matron—Mrs. Edith E. R. Higgins.
Secretary—Mrs. Abbie M. Kribbs.
Treasurer—Mrs. Laura E. Holt.
Conductress—Mrs. H. E. Files.
Associate—Miss Bessie Roberts.
Trustee—Hugh H. Ralph.

MORNING FIRE.

The alarm from Box 136 at 11.06 this noon was for a slight fire in some bed clothing in the house of Max Pevin, near the corner of Water street and Brook road. The loss was slight.

Old fashioned supper tonight at the Universalist church vestry with entertainment at 8 o'clock.

DEATHS

PACKARD—In Quincy, Dec. 5, Elisha Packard in his 67th year.
Funeral services at Christ Episcopal church Thursday, Dec. 8 at 11 A. M. Relatives and friends invited. 6-2t

CAMERON—In Quincy, Dec. 4, Mr. Daniel E. Cameron, in his 44th year.
Funeral services at his late home, 22 Bennington street, Thursday, Dec. 8, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 6-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy of Milton was struck by an automobile at the Reedsdale road transfer station Tuesday and had her collar bone fractured in two places and was otherwise bruised. The automobile was being driven by Thomas Kelley and came around the corner directly onto the woman who was crossing the street. In his endeavor to stop the automobile ran onto the sidewalk.

The young man remained on the spot until the police arrived and rendered all aid possible. He was arraigned in court this morning for reckless driving and on his plea of nolo contendre was fined $25. The case was then continued until Dec. 10, to enable him to raise the fine.

LEDGER EXTRAS.

From returns received at the Daily Ledger office at 4.30 Election night, it was evident that Mayor Shea was re-elected by a large majority, and a bulletin was posted in the window to that effect before 4.35. The complete vote of the city for Mayor was received at the Ledger office long before 5 o'clock.

At 4.56 the Daily Ledger also received the complete vote of precinct one of Ward Five, the first precinct to come in. Then came precinct one of Ward Four complete, and the two other precincts of Wards Four and Five before 6 o'clock.

It was a cold stormy night for newsboys to be about, and the returns of some of the precincts were slow. At 6.45 the first Election Extra went to press with the complete vote for Mayor and the complete vote of seven of the twelve precincts. A large edition found a ready sale.

During the evening there were many inquries at the Daily Ledger office by telephone for the election news. While the Ledger likes to accommodate its friends they should remember that the Ledger relies largely on the telephone for its news, and that the news is often delayed or lost because the telephone is in use. Please don't call the office for news at busy times.

GALAHAD BROTHERHOOD.

The Galahad Brotherhood held its regular meeting last evening in the Parish house of Christ church. Three new members, Messrs. Keast, Reid and Peterson were initiated. Nominations for new officers resulted as follows: President, William Walker; Vice President, Archibald McLeod; Treasurer, N. M. Spencer; Secretary, Roy Prout; Assistant Secretary, William Pierce. The election will take place at the next meeting. The World in Boston, the mammoth missionary enterprise, has aroused great interest among the members of the brotherhood. Business, largely in connection with their part in this, turned the meeting into a midnight session. The Galahad Brotherhood is furnishing 40 stewards, 5 of whom are head stewards. These stewards are learning all about Africa, the people, the customs, the geography and the missionary work in the country. Every Monday evening a class is conducted under the auspices of the Brotherhood by Mr. Abbott of Roxbury. Representatives from most of the Quincy and Weymouth churches attend these. It is needless to say that the meeting last evening was full of enthusiasm and was largely attended despite the storm. The refreshments consisting of coffee, sandwiches, etc., went well and served to fortify the members against the ravages of the storm with which they had to contend on the way home.

RESOLUTIONS.

John A. Boyd Camp No. 2, United Spanish War Veterans, has adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas.—God, the Almighty Commander-in-Chief of the Universe, has mustered into His service our highly respected citizen, Honorable Elisha Packard, to which we bow our heads in reverence and respect "Thy will be done," we nevertheless mourn his loss as a confident supporter and friend of the boys who served during the war with Spain in '98.

Resolved,—That we, the members of John A. Boyd Camp, No. 2, United Spanish War Veterans, here assembled, extend to the sorrowing wife and children our heartfelt sympathy in this, their sad hour of bereavement, and we commend them to the care of the Great Commander-in-Chief and Maker of us all, hoping they may find in Him a true Comforter in their affliction, and receive support in their distress to bear up against their sad bereavement.

Resolved,—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to family and also the same be written upon the records and printed in the Quincy daily papers.

HENRY J. MATTHEWS,
Past Commander
GEORGE A. WARDWELL,
Past Commander.
WALTER F. CARMAN,
Adjutant.

ELECTION

(Continued from Page 1.)

between the dense clouds of black tobacco smoke, the Mayor could be seen shaking hands with his visitors. At the same time the City Clerk's telephone was constantly ringing, and it took about all one man's time to answer questions.

Candidate Hobbs came to City Hall about 7.30 and after extending his congratulations to Mayor Shea joined the crowd about the City Clerk to get the official returns.

Outside of the Mayoralty it was a decisive Republican victory, for they gained one Republican Councilman in Ward Two which last year elected three Democratic councilmen, so that as the vote now stands the City Council will have 18 Republican and 5 Democrats.

In Ward Two also the Republican candidate for School Committee was elected. The vote was so close, however, that a recount is certain. The vote here was: Carey 321, and Foster 326, and Mr. Carey said Tuesday night that he should ask for a recount. The vote here for councilmen outside of Mr. Studley was very close and there is a possibility that there may be a recount of these votes.

In Ward Four Mr. Evans the Republican candidate received over 400 votes which was very complimentary to him when it is considered that the ward is very strong Democratic.

The official returns came in promptly, and at 8.05 the last precinct had been heard from. Precinct Two of Ward Five had the honor of making the first official return at 5.30 and from then on the returns came in about as fast as they could be handled until 7.07. By that time everything was in but precinct one of Ward Three, and it was a long hour that those at City Hall had to wait for these to come in.

The following table gives the total vote of each precinct and the time of receipt of the official vote:

	Total Vote	Time
Ward 1, Pre. 1	453	6.14
Ward 1, Pre. 2	533	6.47
Ward 2, Pre. 1	572	7.07
Ward 2, Pre. 2	417	6.54
Ward 3, Pre. 1	486	8.08
Ward 3, Pre. 2	376	6.50
Ward 4, Pre. 1	432	6.16
Ward 4, Pre. 2	416	6.16
Ward 5, Pre. 1	446	6.12
Ward 5, Pre. 2	281	5.30
Ward 6, Pre. 1	373	6.39
Ward 6, Pre. 2	266	6.43
	4,751

ELECTION NOTES.

John Evans of West Quincy feels very much elated over the very flattering vote his ward gave him for Councilman. Mr. Evans says that he hardly expected to be elected, but that he wanted to receive a complimentary vote and he is more than pleased with what he received.

But twelve of the present members of the City Council were elected to the Council of 1910.

A protest was made at precinct one, Ward Three, on Tuesday, because the ballot box did not work right, and it was necessary for the election officer to hold the ballot down with his hand when it entered the box.

The name of Heber R. Benn of Littlefield street, Houghs Neck, was protested when he voted Tuesday, on the ground that he had been illegally registered. A. N. LaBrecque who entered the protest, claimed that when registered he gave his birthplace as Hulton, Me., and that other papers showed him to have been born a British subject. He was allowed to vote under protest.

Mayor Shea has the honor of being the only gentleman ever elected for a fourth term as Mayor ofQuincy. The fourth term was one of the arguments used to defeat him at the election. The Mayors to serve for three terms, other than Mayor Shea, have been Henry O. Fairbanks, Charles M. Bryant and James Thompson.

NEW CATHOLIC CLUB.

The Houghs Neck Catholic club elected their officers this week. James P. A. Purcell was chosen president, Thomas F. Phillips, vice-president, Leo P. Noonan secretary, and Stephen Kiley treasurer. Mayor Shea and Thomas Lucet were elected to honorary membership.

Bank of England Notes.

The Bank of England may issue notes against government securities to the extent of about $90,000,000, and any further issue must be covered by specie. The note issue has varied little from 1844 to the present time.

Art Today.

"She is being fitted for the stage."
"Studying hard, I presume?"
"Oh, no; just being fitted with the necessary gowns."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cruelty and fear shake hands together.—Balzac.

He Was Reformed

The Turning of the Tide For Two Persons

By KARL K. SHIMANSKY

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Young Mrs. Sanderson came slowly down the stairs clad in a beautiful white satin gown.

"Going away again?" asked her husband wearily, putting down his paper.

"Yes, Jack," she replied; "tonight there is a meeting of the Woman's Rights club. It's a very important meeting too. We're going to elect a new president, and the contest is between Mrs. Albert and myself. You will wish me good luck, won't you, dear?" she cried, putting her arms around his neck.

"Laura," said her husband slowly, "you know I want you to have all the good luck in the world. But of what use are all these clubs? You belong to at least five. The literary club is all right; that does you a great deal of good. And Judge Lander told me today that your visits to the juvenile court could hardly be dispensed with. He said that you had reformed several apparently incorrigible young men. Those are the kind of occupations you should like. You have gone to three card clubs this week, and they do good to no one. In fact, you get no pleasure from cards unless you win. And you go more and more every week." Here he paused, breathless after his long speech.

His wife arose and leaned against the mantel, looking at him in dismay.

"Jack!" she said in a surprised voice. "Jack"— She stopped, not knowing what to say in reply to an argument which in the depths of her soul she knew to be right.

"Why don't you stay at home sometimes and take care of James instead of leaving him entirely with the nurse?" continued Mr. Sanderson, with considerable spirit. "You are forgetting how to keep house. What's become of the hundred and one little plans that used to engage your time for our mutual entertainment? Things are different now."

His wife swept out of the room without a word. She paused at the front door.

"Goodby, Jack," she called softly.

"Goodby, Laura," said her husband. "If you don't find me here when you return don't be worried."

* * * * * * *

About 10 o'clock that night the front door of the Sanderson mansion slowly opened. A well built man clad in evening dress and carrying a silk hat entered the hall. He walked quietly through the deserted rooms until he came to the library, where a small light was burning.

He slipped a gleaming little automatic pistol into a convenient pocket and went lightly up the stairs.

The clock on the library mantel had just struck the quarter after 10 when the burglar again entered the room. In his hands lay a glittering mass of precious stones.

"My, what a beauty!" he cried and then looked around apprehensively lest he had been heard. The object of his admiration was a magnificent ruby set in a simple gold band. Suddenly he seemed to crumple up, and he sank into the great leather chair which stood before the table.

"What's the use of all this?" he exclaimed in a listless voice.

As he lay there, his eyes closed in reverie, the warning was being flashed far and wide over glistening copper wires that Gentleman Jim, the famous thief, was at work and had been seen in Philadelphia.

Gentleman Jim tossed the jewels back on the table. One alone he held in his hand, and that was the great ruby. His head sank forward, and he stared at the stone with a gaze of infinite tenderness.

Suddenly there was a noise as of a door opening, and the thief whirled around, his pistol gleaming in his hand. There before the door stood Mrs. Sanderson, leveling a revolver at his head. She looked superb with her head thrown back and her eyes gleaming with unaccustomed brightness.

"Sit down," she commanded calmly, "and lay that gun on the table."

Gentleman Jim glanced around the room and took a step forward. Her pistol clicked suggestively, and, giving a slight laugh, he dropped the revolver and sat down.

Mrs. Sanderson walked slowly toward the telephone, debating in her mind whether she should call for the police or wait until Jack returned.

"May I smoke?" asked the thief as he saw her go toward the instrument.

"Sure it isn't a gun?" queried his captor suspiciously.

Gentleman Jim smiled and pulled out a package of cigarettes. Mrs. Sanderson looked at him thoughtfully.

"Why wouldn't it be a good scheme to treat him as we do prisoners in the juvenile courts?" she asked herself.

"I will," she decided and turned away from the telephone.

"Why didn't you call for help?" asked her prisoner, with a smile.

"I don't think that I have to," she replied, wondering at his nerve and calmness.

"It wouldn't do you any good if you did," he continued. "I cut the wires before I entered."

"Look here," said Mrs. Sanderson. "If you will promise not to touch that gun I'll put mine down." The burglar looked at her curiously.

"I promise," he said, still staring at her. "You have some beautiful jewels," he continued, pointing to the pile on the table, "and this one especially." He held up the giant ruby which he had concealed in his hand.

Mrs. Sanderson put down her pistol.

"What makes you do this kind of work?" she asked, paying no attention to what he was saying.

Gentleman Jim suddenly leaned forward, staring intently at the ring. His deep voice became strangely soft.

"Little girl," he said, "you don't understand."

"But can't you tell me—can't you explain?" pleaded the young woman, following the methods she had used in the courts.

The burglar sat with his head in his hands for a long time, then suddenly sat up straight and held out the ruby ring.

"Only one other place on this broad earth have I seen a ring that can be compared with that," he said slowly.

"And where was that?" asked Mrs. Sanderson.

"It was hers," said Gentleman Jim shortly.

"And won't you tell me about her?" she asked, trying to make him unburden himself.

The burglar lighted another cigarette.

"Three years ago," he began, "I belonged to the best society in San Francisco. I fell in love with one of the belles of the town, and when we were engaged I hunted all over the world for a ring beautiful enough to express my feelings toward her. At last I found it—one nearly like this." He paused and stared moodily at the lamp. "Then," he went on, "one day I received a note from her sending back the ring and breaking the engagement. She said she had found that she did not love me, and within a month she was married to one of my best friends. I was heartbroken and crushed, for I loved her with all my soul. I dropped from society and went to Africa. There I fought in the British ranks, and, although my comrades fell around me, I passed through every battle untouched."

"Poor boy!" murmured Mrs. Sanderson softly.

"When the war was over," he continued, "I came back and began this. I had to have excitement or I would have gone crazy. And now I couldn't stop if I wanted to. The police are always on my trail." He stopped and looked sorrowfully at his auditor.

"There," he said; "you have my story."

"Man," she cried, "don't you understand that you're like a piece of driftwood floating about near shore? When the tide comes in you have your chance to gain a foothold; if you wait until the tide goes out you may never have another."

"Little woman," he said solemnly, "I have tried to gain a foothold."

Mrs. Sanderson, ignoring his familiar manner of speech, quietly arose and walked to the grand piano. In a few seconds the solemn tones of "Home, Sweet Home," rang through the great house. When she had finished she turned around.

"Gad!" he exclaimed. "That was superb—beautiful. That music did me more good than anything I have seen or heard or felt for years."

"Look," said his captor. "You said you were thrown back when you tried to change. But do you know why? It was your own fault. You've gone along in the world with the same feeling with which you enter this house—to get what you can and if you are detected to shoot. If you meet the world with kindness in your heart and a smile on your face the world will smile back at you. But if you go on with the intention of fighting—of robbing—it will fight like a wounded tiger and give you as good as it receives. And it will rob you of the best in you—your manhood. So why don't you take a new start and forget yourself in doing good to others?"

She stopped and looked at the burglar. He picked up a book and turned the leaves in a familiar fashion. Suddenly he smiled and marked a quotation with a pencil.

"I never thought of doing that," he suddenly cried, "but I'll try it." He stood up straight as an arrow.

"I'll try it," he repeated slowly, "Will you let me shake your hand, and may I go then?"

Mrs. Sanderson, her heart aglow, went with him to the door.

"Don't forget your resolution," she cried out cheerily.

"I won't," he called back and disappeared into the dark night. And somehow she knew that he would keep his promise.

* * * * * * *

Mrs. Sanderson sat in the chair lately occupied by the reformed burglar when she saw the book which he had marked. She carelessly picked it up and turned to the bookmark. There her eyes were attracted by a cross, and beside it she read, "They serve God well who serve his creatures."

She sat there thinking until Jack came in.

"Were you elected tonight?" he asked cheerily.

"No, dear," she replied; "I withdrew my name. And, Jack," she continued, "I've decided to give up the card clubs." And she told him everything that had happened that evening.

When she had finished Mr. Sanderson drew her lovingly to him.

"Laura," he said slowly, "I'm glad. I guess that the tide has turned for two persons."

"And I am glad, too," she said.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 28-2.
W and Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs Henry L. Kincaide, Whitney road.
Quincy, Dec. 6-tf

WANTED—By first class cook, place to accommodate or nursing. Good reference. L. M. Flynn, City Employment Bureau, 1533 Hancock St. Tel. 485-2. Dec. 6-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Suite of 7 large rooms in new house, near car line. All modern improvements. 11 West Elm Avenue, Wollaston Park. Dec. 6-3t

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent $12. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor 15 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 1-tf

TO RENT—Furnished suites of two, three and four rooms. Bath with hot and cold water for housekeeping, also office suitable for doctor at the Midland Hotel, Cor. Bell Street and Center Road, Houghs Neck. Tel. 254-2 Quincy. Will rent for winter or year round. Dec. 1-6t

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 74 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m Poor Stuff.

Miss Boneleigh—Did you get the volume of Ibsen I sent you through the mails?

Mrs. Stuffy—I did, but it was marked "third class matter," and I didn't think it could be anything worth looking at.

A Crow's Stratagem.

A crow had been captured by the children in a southern family and brought home and tamed. They were very fond of the crow and treated it with kindness. As in most houses where there are children, there was also a pet cat. The cat and crow were not friendly. One day an unusually nice morsel was given to the cat. This the crow not only looked at with envious eyes, but made several attempts to secure. The cat beat off each attempt, however, and the crow had to resort to stratagem. Disappearing through the open door, he returned in a few moments with a long string that had been raveled from a rag carpet. Placing this on the floor some little distance in front of the cat, he proceeded to wriggle it as he had seen the children do when playing with the cat. The cat instantly jumped to catch the string. This was, of course, exactly what the crow wanted, and he pounced upon the coveted morsel and flew away with it.—Harper's Weekly.

A Habit.

"Well, every man is entitled to his opinion, you know."

"Yes. But the trouble is that a good many people never get over the habit of trying to acquire titles to the opinions of others."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Unphilosophic.

Let philosophers say that it's all for the best,
No matter what happens awry.
I defy one to smile who spills pie on his vest,
Especially loose pumpkin pie.
—Detroit Free Press.

Necessity.

Friend—Great Scott, old man! You playing a fiddle in the street? Why, what has brought you so low?

Former Friend—My wife wouldn't let me play it in the house.—Cleveland Leader.

Tale of a Snake.

"Before he went fishin'," said the town story teller, "he swallowed 'bout a pint an' half of snake bite remedy, an' of course you know what that is. Well, after the snake bit him the reptile cut all sorts of capers, kaze the remedy went straight to its head. Last thing it tried to do wuz to swaller its tail, an' it got itself in the form of a hoop, an' I'm a liar ef the children didn't roll it around all day!"—Atlanta Constitution.

"John, I understand that you have been saying mean things about me to your acquaintances."

"Why, dearest, everybody knows that isn't so. Why, I tell everybody that it is you that have made me what I am."

"That's what I mean."—Houston Post.

When the earth's last picture is painted
And the tubes are twisted and dried
Some one will kodak the bridegroom,
But who will paint the bride?
—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

A Compromise.

"Sir," began Lord Brokeleigh pompously, "I've called to request your daughter's hand in marriage."

"That's out of the question, my man," replied old Roxley. "However, I don't want to seem altogether uncharitable, so here's $5 for you."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Can You Blame Him?

"Pa, what does 'skeptical' mean?"

"That describes a man's feelings when a woman tells her age."—New York Press.

The long look within ourselves will cure us of a lot of impatience with other folks.—Henry F. Cope.

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10; Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2-40

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 285 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 8, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

ODD FELLOWS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL BALL

The Twenty-fifth Since the Organization of Mount Wollaston Lodge

District Deputy Collette an Active Participant

One of the prettiest affairs of the year took place at Quincy Music hall Wednesday evening, when the Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., held its annual promenade concert and ball. The concert, lasting from 8 to 9, consisted of some excellent selections by the whole orchestra, and a duet for flute and clarinet by Messrs. Poole and Silleman. Mr. Wilson and his men never furnished better music than was heard on this occasion.

At 9 o'clock the grand march began with Abel Gomez, N. G., and wife at the head of the line. D. E. MacDonald, R. S., and partner came second, the representative of the Manet Encampment Charles Barron and partner were third. Among the others noted in the line were: District Deputy Harry A. Collette, Mrs. Lillian S. Baker, N. G., of the George L. Gill Rebekah lodge; Brother Stone, of the John Hancock lodge; Charles L. Hammond, P. G., Col. Harry L. Kincaide, J. Q. A. Field, John F. Richards, William A. Richards, L. S. Walter H. Walker, V. G., Edward L. Coolidge, I. G., and Thomas E. Furnald, L. S.

Two couples which attracted a great deal of attention were Clarence Pratt and Marion Austin, Frederick Merrill and Pearl Brayshaw. The little girls were dressed alike in pink and their escorts brought them through the various figures of the grand march with great dignity. The programs were given out by Esther Phillips and Floyd MacDonald.

Before the dancing began announcement was made that one good encore would be given and no amount of applause would bring another. This enabled them to get through the entire program in the allotted time and facilitated matters greatly.

About 125 couples participated in the opening waltz, and before the second number was finished there were 150 couples on the floor. The gallery was generous with its applause at the conclusion of the concert and the dances.

During the intermission refreshments were served in the dining room by Emmanuel, the menu consisting of salad, sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee.

The order included 20 dances and four extras. There was a generous supply of square dances so as to give the older people a chance. They took it. The district deputy was as agile as a six year old in the quadrilles, portland fancies, etc., and many other older men renewed their youth with surprising ease when it came to the Virginia reel.

Although the party was not the largest ever held by the Mt. Wollaston lodge it was one of the prettiest and most successful.

The committee of arrangements consisted of the following: Abel Gomez, Frank L. Carlton, Thomas E. Furnald, Walter H. Walker, E. Frank Mitchell, D. E. MacDonald, Charles Barron, Charles S. Jones, Reception committee— Charles S.

(Continued on Page 4.)

If you are going to buy that boy a useful Christmas present, get him a good

Rifle or Shotgun

We have a full line of the celebrated STEVENS FIREARMS and will take pleasure in showing them to you.

Single Shot Rifles — Single Barrel Shotguns
Repeating Rifles — Double Barrel Shotguns
Pocket Rifles and Pistols — Repeating Shotguns

The prices on these Arms are very low considering their beauty, accuracy and reliability. They are fully guaranteed and are made in the STEVENS famous Factory of Precision.

COME IN AND SEE THEM

NATHAN AMES

5 Granite Street, Quincy

Dec. 8 3t

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW

BEAUTIFUL GIFTS

Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

NEW CLERK OF COURTS

Lawrence W. Lyons Appointed By Gov. Draper

Among the nominations sent to the executive council Wednesday by Governor Draper was that of Lawrence W. Lyons of Quincy to be clerk of the East Norfolk district court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John P. S. Churchill of Milton who had held the position for the past nineteen years.

The appointment of Mr. Lyons meets with general approval on the part of the members of the bar who have business at this court.

Mr. Lyons was appointed assistant clerk by Clerk Churchill early in the year and immediately proved himself a valuable man for the position. A lawyer by profession he readily grasped the duties of the office, and the experience gained during the past few months as assistant clerk makes him eminently fitted for his new position. By nature a pleasant man to meet, he by his accommodating manner has gathered about him a host of loyal friends among his profession, all of whom unstintingly extend to him their heartiest congratulations.

Mr. Lyons is a Quincy boy and has always made this city his home. He is a graduate of the Adams school and Adams Academy, Harvard University and Harvard Law school, being graduated from the University in 1901 and the law school in 1904. He was admitted to the bar that same year and has practiced law since then. In 1905 and 1906 he was a special instructor at the Adams Academy. He is a member of several organizations and the present grand knight of Quincy Council, Knights of Columbus.

JAPANESE EVENING.

A Japanese evening was held by members of the Sunshine club in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church Tuesday evening. The program consisted of Japanese tableaux, songs and recitations the young ladies looking very fetching in their dainty kimonos and odd head-dress.

In connection with the entertainment a sale of fancy articles, ice cream and candy was held.

The program was as follows:

Japanese Anthem—Eleanor Jones.

Tableau—A Guest—Mary Broughton and Lucy Waite.

Tableau—Dancing Girls — Lillian Jones, Pauline Randall and Lucy Falconer.

Recitation—Little children of Japan —Pauline Randall.

Tableau—Keeping warm—Florence Rowbothem, Miriam Addison and Eleanor Jones.

Tableau—Afternoon tea — Muriel Warner and Ramah Baker.

Song—Japanese Lullaby—Lillian Jones.

Recitation—Imitation Japanese—Lucy Falconer.

Tableau—Evening Walk—Miriam Addison and Florence Rowbothem.

Tableau—Bedtime—Eleanor Jones.

Tableau—Japanese Group—Ensemble.

"Marley was dead to begin with." This is the beginning of one of the best known stories by Charles Dickens, the Christmas Carol which is read the world over at this glad season of the year. The opening chapter will be found in today's Ledger.

Quincy Historical Society

LECTURE BY

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.

"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."

Illustrated by Lantern Photographs

Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore

At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.

Wednesday, December 14, 1910, at 8 o'clock P. M.

Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.

EMERY L. CRANE.
Dec. 7 6t

COLONIAL FAIR OPENED

Given by Ladies of the Universalist Church

The two day's Colonial fair under the auspices of the Dorcas society of the Universalist church was successfully opened Wednesday evening with a Colonial supper and entertainment. Tables heavily laden with useful and fancy articles suitable for Christmas gifts were arranged about the hall and the articles displayed met with a ready sale. The various tables were prettily decorated with colored crepe paper, and the ladies in charge in their costumes of white with powdered hair made a fitting setting for the scene.

The supper was served at 6.30, and so many were there who desired to partake of the good things that a second table was necessary. For the supper several tables each seating about twelve people were arranged about the vestry. Each table was presided over by a Colonial dame, who in stately style occupied the seat at the head of the tables. These dames were: Mrs. George Spooner, Miss Etta Hanson, Mrs. T. G. Smith, Mrs. B. G. Barnes and Mrs. Lermond.

Mrs. Marjorie Sprague had charge of the supper arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. Russell M. Keen and the following young ladies who acted as waiters. Miss Florence Holton, Miss Bertha Newcomb, Miss Martha Hanson and Miss Wheeler. The menu included cold meats, baked beans, rolls, brown bread, doughnuts, pies of various kinds, tea and coffee.

Supper over, those present blocked about the tables and trade was brisk. Those in charge of these tables were:

Punch bowl—Mrs. Lermond and Miss Maud Cudworth.

Candy—Miss Harriet Spooner, Mrs. John Smith.

Pop Corn—Miss Bertha Newcomb.

Mystery table— Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, Mrs. Lakin.

Handkerchief table— Mrs. B. G. Barnes, Miss Mary Blake.

Fancy table—Mrs. Wheeler, Miss Wheeler, Miss Annie Hobart, Mrs. C. A. Hobart.

Ladies Aid—Mrs. Elisha Hobart, Miss Bradbury.

Shortly after 8 o'clock there was a pleasing entertainment. The program consisted of a piano solo by Carleton Beal of Braintree, followed by Mrs. E. L. P. Bell of Boston contralto soloist, who gave several ballads and old time songs with remarkably clear voice and expression. Miss Rachel Monroe acted as accompanist. Master Joe Beal gave several readings which were appreciated by the audience. A dialogue entitled "Fast friends" was given by Misses Ella and Ruth Packard, these two talented girls have reason to be proud of their dramatic ability. Master Joe Beal also gave a Dutch dance and song in costume which was exceptionally good.

Tonight the two act comedy entitled "A Rice Pudding" will be presented.

JOLLY SIXTEEN PARTY.

Tuesday evening the Jolly Sixteen met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howes, Cottage avenue for their annual whist and social evening. Although the weather man dealt out some very disagreeable weather it did not dampen the spirits of this jolly club for all the members were present. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Washington street, were accepted as members, taking the place of a couple who are unable to be present this winter. Whist was played for two hours, souvenirs being given to Mrs. Gragg, Mrs. John Smith, Mr. Stoddard and Mrs. Claflin. After whist a social hour was enjoyed and plans made for the club's New Year watch party, which will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merritt of Elm place.

ST. JOHN'S DAY.

Rural lodge of Quincy and Massachusetts lodge of Boston have been invited to unite with Wollaston lodge of Masons in religious services on Sunday afternoon at 3.30, at the Congregational church, in commemoration of St. Johns day. Rev. Edward A. Chase the pastor will deliver the address.

FUNERAL OF MR. PACKARD

Several Organizations of the City Represented

Church people, the Grand Army, the Masons and Odd Fellows, the United Veterans of the Spanish War, the city government, and others were represented this morning at the funeral of Elisha Packard, a promiennt citizen, who died suddenly on Monday.

The services were held at Christ church where for years he was prominent as a warden and vestryman, and was conducted by Rev. R. E. Armstrong, the rector, assisted by Prof. Wrigley at the organ and a male quartet. Two hymns were sung—"Oh, what the joy and glory must be," and "For all the saints who from their labors rest."

The black broadcloth casket was covered with a large American flag, and on top was a large cross of white chrysanthemums and violets, a Masons apron and an Odd Fellows collar.

All the floral tributes were large and beautiful, noticeable being a tall upright cross, several smaller crosses and several large wreaths.

The pall bearers were all men who have been prominent in the church, George H. Brown, Hazen E. Ricker, Wm. H. Deacon and Horace H. Bemis.

The Grand Army was represented by Commander George L. Phillips, Francis P. Loud, John W. Hersey, James H. Webb, James W. Pierce, William M. Bird, Warren Dunbar, Henry Chubbuck, Comrades Ring, McDougall and others.

The Odd Fellows were represented by Past Grand Frank F. Prescott, Past Grand Walter H. Cobb, Past Grand Thomas E. Furnald, E. W. Newcomb, James H. Webb and others.

Rural lodge of Masons was represented by Worshipful Master Albert M. Parker, Past Master Joseph L. Whiton, Frank F. Prescott and others.

The United Spanish War Veterans by Harry J. Matthews.

The city government by Mayor William T. Shea, Principal Assessor Warren W. Adams and others.

As the people left the church they took a last look at their friend Mr. Packard, who was as natural as in life, resting calmly in the casket.

The burial was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston.

LADIES AID ALLIANCE.

The annual evening meeting of the Ladies Aid Alliance was held in the Wollaston Unitarian church Wednesday evening. Mrs. Clara B. Beatley, a Sunday school worker of national reputation and Rev. W. I. Lawrance, president of the National Unitarian School society were the speakers, taking for their subject: "Our young people."

The meeting which was in charge of Mrs. Frank A. Page, acting president of the Alliance, opened with a devotional service led by Rev. Carl G. Horst. Several vocal selections were contributed by a choir of young people consisting of Louis B. Weston, George E. Brown, Miss Ernestine Litchfield, Miss Grace Bishop and Miss Margaret Hall accompanied on the organ by William E. Weston.

Mrs. Beatley's talk contained many suggestions that might be used to advantage in the Sunday school which would augment the moral training and develop the recerence of the children. She quoted various passages of the Scriptures in illustration of the manner in which Divine inspiration might be obtained and told of the kind of hymns which should be sung in the Sunday school.

The addres of Rev. Mr. Lawrence dealt with the practical side of Sunday school work and the manner in which a successful Sunday school should be carried on. He spoke of the necessity of getting in sympathy with the children and the tact necessary to hold their interest by means of several anecdotes. The Sunday school does not take away from the power of the home but simply augments it. We should resolve, said Mr. Lawrance, to see that our powers are laid on this shrine where we know they will be returned in the splendid harvest of noble lives.

GEAR WORKS SOCIAL.

The Social club composed of employees at the Boston Gear Works held a pretty dancing party Wednesday evening at Brasee hall, Wollaston, which was well attended. Dancing was in order from 8 to 12 o'clock, those in charge being: Floor director, A. H. Stowers; Aids, George Grant, A. Bisset, F. B. Miller and A. H. Bellows.

SEVEN CENT SOCIAL

Given by Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association gave a "7 Cent Social" in the Y. M. C. A. building Wednesday. The social opened at 5.07 P. M. on the 7th. Admission to the social was 7 cents, the articles for sale were 7 cents each, supper was served at 7 cents a course, and a concert of 7 numbers was given in the assembly hall.

Mrs. E. I. Beal, president of the auxiliary was general directress. Miss Amelia Bumpus acted as treasurer.

At the Needlework table, Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard was assisted by Mrs. J. D. Buckingham and Mrs. H. E. Ricker.

At the candy table—Mrs. George Abele, chairman, Mrs. Carroll Bates, Miss Addie Parks, Mrs. Frank Crawford, Miss Emma Spaulding.

Ice Cream and cake—Mrs. E. R. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Acker and Miss Arvah Gilson.

The entertainment in charge of Mrs. Nickerson consisted of songs by Miss Winnifred White, violin solos by Everett Rhodes and reading by Miss Florence Barbour. Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt acted as accompanist.

At 5.07 the crowd was admitted to the hall. The tables were well patronized and the supper bell brought over 77 people to the second story. The menu, 7 cents a line, included: Sandwiches, soup, beans and bread doughnuts and coffee, buttered toast and tea, coffee and rolls and pie.

In spite of the cold weather, the ice cream went rapidly and candy at 7 cents a bag took like hot cake. At the needwork table there were bargains which would make those at the store with the red front pale into insignificance. The social was a success from every standpoint, financially, socially, and in all ways. The energy of the president and the workers associated with her is beginning to make itself known.

☞Old fashioned supper tonight at the Universalist church vestry with entertainment at 8 o'clock.

GIFTS THAT MAKE THE FAMILY HAPPY

The triumph of Christmas is not won by the mere buying of Presents—it is won by the real pleasure the gift affords. In giving Home Furnishings you make the ideal Christmas, bringing into your home not for the day but for years to come—a happiness ever fresh with thoughts of kindness. Here are a few suggestions from our attractive stock.

Easy Chairs	$5.00	$25.00	Kitchen Cabinets	$10.00	$27.50
Comfort Rockers	$3.50	$15.00	Couches	$4.98	$35.00
Carpet Sweepers	$2.50	$5.00	New Pianos	$195.00	$450.00
Vacuum Cleaners	$5.00	$125.00	Foot Rests	$1.25	$5.00
Work Baskets	$1.50	$6.50	Chiffonieres	$4.98	$25.00
Book Cases	98c	$35.00	Umbrella Stands	98c	$4.50
Smokers Stands	$1.75	$6.50	Room Rugs	$5.00	$50.00
Parlor Sets	$25.00	$75.00	Telephone Stands	$5.00	$10.00
Dining Sets	$20.00	$90.00	Pictures	50c	$10.00
Parlor Lamps	$2.50	$10.00	Glenwood Ranges	$23.50	$45.00
Writing Desks	$5.00	$20.00	Dressing Tables	$10.00	$25.00

Music Cabinets, Piano Chairs, Piano Scarfs, Clocks, Bed Side Tables, Costumers, Tabourettes, Waste Baskets, Den Furniture, Shaving Stands, Card Tables, Parlor Cabinets, Portieres, Wood Baskets, Brass Beds Sewing Machines, Bed Couches, Hall Stands, Hair Mattresses, Bed Puffs, Dress Suit Cases, Travelling Bags, Trunks, Bed Room Furnishings, Cheval Mirrors, and hundreds of other ever useful and welcome gifts.

You can open an account and by paying a little each week make the Christmas gift for your family—substantial and long to be remembered. Such gifts as these will make your family happy and that means happiness for ou.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers

1495 Hancock Street, Quincy. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings

Dec. 8-10--o-1w

PROSECUTION ENDS ITS CASE

Hattie Le Blanc's Own Story of Tragedy In Laundry

SHE DENIES KILLING GLOVER

Felt Certain There Was Third Person In Room, as She Heard Noise Like Rustle of Woman's Skirt—Believed Glover Killed Himself Because He Had Revolver In His Hand When She Last Saw Him

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 8.—The government closed its case yesterday afternoon against Hattie LeBlanc, being tried for the murder of Clarence F. Glover. The remarkable story that Hattie LeBlanc told the Waltham police when arrested three days after Clarence F. Glover was shot and killed in his laundry was recited yesterday to the jury.

Only a hint of the accused girl's story has hitherto reached the public. The most startling statement made by the girl was that Glover heard a noise in the room where they were which was like the rustling of a woman's dress and that she felt certain that there was a third person in the room.

The girl declared that she did not shoot Glover, that she did not have the revolver in her hand, that she never shot a revolver in her life, that she went out of the room before Glover and that she heard a shot and thought he had shot himself.

"I left the Glover house at 7:15," she told the police. "Mr. Glover left there at 6:40. I went to the laundry. Mr. Glover was waiting for me there. He had asked me to meet him at the laundry. He asked me in the kitchen about 8 o'clock that morning while I was getting his breakfast.

"He was waiting for me upstairs when I reached the laundry. He spoke to me and then grabbed me by the hand and around the neck and mistreated me. I started to cry, and then he went to choke me to stop me from crying. He opened the door and I was going down the steps when I heard the revolver fired. I first saw the revolver when he opened the door. He had the revolver in his hand. That was the first time I saw the revolver. I did not have the revolver in my hand at any time.

"When I was going down the stairs I heard a shot. He opened the door and backed a little bit, and that is the way he was when I left.

"I got out by a window. It was a window down stairs. It was dark. I did not see anybody else there. I think Mr. Glover killed himself. I think this because he had the revolver in his hand when I last saw him. I don't know where in the body he was shot. I went out through a window because the door was locked. The window wasn't high from the ground.

"I only heard one shot fired. Mr. Glover did not come down the stairs when I did."

Under a severe cross examination which Lawyer Johnson characterized as an example of the police "third degree" Hattie LeBlanc stuck to it that she did not shoot Glover, and that if she had had a revolver she would not have shot him.

The girl told the police that Glover had often told her that he would kill her if she told about his treatment of her, and she had said that she would kill herself because of his actions toward her. She said that she told this to Mrs. Glover and Mrs. Glover said that he treated all the girls that were employed in his laundry in the same way.

SWINDLED COURT JEWELER

Charge Against Mexican Arrested For German Government

New York, Dec. 8.—At the request of the German government detectives arrested John Don Ciriole Jose de Elorduy, a Mexican, on the charge that he had swindled the royal court jeweler, Otto Koch, of Franfort-on-Main, Germany, out of jewels worth about $34,000.

According to statements which the German police sent to this country, Elorduy and another man made the acquaintance of an artist who was a friend of Koch, telling him that they wished to buy some precious stones. Koch, the police charge, gave them some jewels and got a worthless check in return.

Leaped Into White Hot Metal

Barnesville, O., Dec. 8.—In sight of fifty fellow workmen, Charles Kendall, a moulder's helper, leaped into a cupola of white-hot metal at a foundry here. The man's flesh was entirely consumed, and only the bones were recovered.

Yankee Battleships In Thames

Gravesend, Eng., Dec. 8.—The fourth division of the United States battleship fleet which is visiting in foreign waters, arrived in the Thames river from Brest.

Danes Want to Join Us

Copenhagen, Dec. 8.—The agitation for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States has been renewed by the islanders.

A GREEN MOUNTAIN MIRACLE.

"Yes, I think he'll get along all right; you know Hiram always was pretty rugged, so there's no need to fear. All he needs is good fresh meat once a day; anyhow."

The village doctor paused to tie his muffler. Then he turned again to the sick man's wife.

"You'd better send Silas after that meat directly he comes over in the mornin', Mis' Dudley. It looks like a regular old-fashioned storm outside."

"Don't fret, I will just as soon as he gits here. I'm obliged to you for comin' this evenin' doctor, and I won't forgit it, either. Goodby."

"Good-by, ma'am."

The doctor left the farm-house, smartly closing the door after him, and walked briskly to the shed by the barn, under which stood his horse and sleigh; in ten minutes he was on his way from Hiram Dudley's hill-farm to the village, seven miles distant. Mrs. Dudley watched him through a window in the living-room as the sleigh moved down the lane, until it was lost to sight by the snow-drifts that hid the fences from view. Then she looked at the gray and forbidding sky.

"The sun hain't be'n out sence noon," she soliloquized, "and here it is four o'clock. I guess we'll have it heavy when the snow begins. I hope Silas'll be abaout agin in the mornin'. I s'pose he's got another o' them spells, bein' as he wa'nt here today."

Mrs. Dudley turned from the window and stirred the fire in her great cooking stove and put the tea-kettle in place. Then she quickly stepped across the floor to the room wherein was her sick husband. As she entered he opened his eyes and smiled.

"Why, Hiram!" she exclaimed with unusual animation, "that's the way you used to look like at me when we was courtin'. I hain't seen you look like that fur quite some time. There naow," she continued, smoothing the white coverlid, "don't try to talk back. I'll jest git my knittin' an' draw up a cheer, so, an' set down. It wunt do you a mit o' harm to hear me talk but it might make you wus to tire out a talkin' back."

The patient turned his face toward her—a pale emaciated face—and his eyes looked wistfully from their shadowed caverns, as he asked feebly:

"What did he say, Mary Jane; the doctor, I mean."

"Oh, he said you was gittin' on right smart. I had worried some abaout ye, Hiram, but he said I needn't no more—' at you wuz sure to git up again sooner'n we had any idee. I don't feel a mite onsartain abaout it now," she added emphatically.

The sick man closed his eyes wearily, and shook his head.

"It's be'n a hard fight, Mary Jane."

"Yes, I allow it has, Hiram; but all you have to do naow is ter lay quiet, and git strong. That's what he says, an' I don't want no better doctorin' 'n he can give. Besides that, Hiram, you mustn't forgit what the Book says. All we have to do is ter try our best, an' leave the rest to Him. There naow! I'm goin' out, so's 't you can git some rest."

Mrs. Dudley left the room with noiseless steps, and as quietly the door was closed. She stood for a moment in the centre of the living-room, and with the hem of her spotless apron wiped from her eyes the moisture gathering there. A sigh escaped her lips as she stepped to the corner and took from the wall a lantern and lighted it.

"He looks powerful weak," she said, mentally, "but we've been looked after a good while now, an' I guess we wunt be forgotten this time."

She put her husband's boots over her shoes and threw across her shoulders the faded blue coat and cape he had worn home from the Southland in '65. Then she firmly fastened a felt hat on her head and taking the lantern went out to the barn to milk the cow and feed the stock, and made all sung for the night. Since the doctor had gone darkness had set in. It comes early and suddenly in the green hills of Vermont in December. Besides, a brisk wind had set in and it was blowing into whirling fantastic designs countless millions of dry, white snowflakes. Mrs. Dudley was engaged in the barn more than an hour, and when she emerged she found it difficult to guide her way back to the house. The frolicking breeze had become a gale, and it was growing fiercer every minute. The snowflakes seemed stinging, vicious particles of ice, and swept about with fury, choking the air and mercilessly beating against the frame buildings as if striving to demolish them. Once or twice Mary Jane wandered from her path—it was not easy to carry a heavy milk pail in the teeth of that storm,—but at last she reached the little farmhouse, more exhausted than she had been for many a day.

"I didn't jedge it wuz anything like so bad," she panted, as she placed the lantern and pail on the floor and shook the snow from hat and coat; "but I reckon settin' up so late with Hiram nigh tuckered me."

After a brief rest she made preparations for her evening meal, and then fried for her husband a piece of steak—the last piece of fresh meat in the house. As she looked at it smoking on a plate, something resembling a sob filled her throat.

"The last bit," she murmured. "The village seven miles down the mountain, and Silas four miles further up. I do hope he c'n git over in th' mornin'."

Then she forced a smile to her lips, though none dwelt in her heart, and carried the food to her husband.

Even the smile on her lips would have changed to an expression of dismay had she known that Silas, their hired-hand, himself lay groaning in bed, suffering from a sprained ankle. But she knew it not, and when she went to sleep two or three hours later it was with the firm expectation that he would stamp his feet as usual, early next morning, and shake the snow from his shoulders upon her waxlike floor, and incur the regular scolding.

When Mary Jane awoke and dressed, she found she had overslept nearly two hours. The first thing she did was to hasten to her husband, who opened his eyes feebly she thought.

"How air ye feelin,' Hiram?"

"'Bout the same," he responded, but her heart sank. His voice seemed very weak.

"Glad t' hear it," she said, with assumed cheerfulness. "Naow, you turn over an' take a cat-nap while I git th' fire started. Then I'll bring you a bite."

She hastened to do so, and warmed a piece of the steak he had not eaten the evening previous. But when it was offered he could not touch it. He did swallow a little bread and milk, though, and it seemed to do him good.

When Mrs. Dudley had finished her own breakfast she dressed warmly and prepared to start for the barn. But to her surprise the door stuck. She breathed upon the frosted window pane alongside and with one eye looked through it. The whole earth as far as she could see was buried. Across the garden, beyond the lane, far down the road, and high up the mountains was boundless expanse of snow. A huge drift stretched from the door, away to the wall, in places twenty feet deep and the flakes were still whirling! No hope there was of seeing Silas, or anyone else, that day. Indians on snow shoes, had there been any, would hardly have dared to venture up the bleak mountain-side to Hiram Dudley's hill-farm.

Mary Jane looked and shuddered. The snow seemed an endless winding sheet spread out and ready to gather into its huge folds her whole life. How she ever forced the door open and shoveled her way to the barn she knew not. But she accomplished it and generously cared for the dumb creatures that had been placed in her charge. Then back to the house she came to find her husband weaker than before. He could swallow no milk, he could not eat the one egg that remained, and she had not a drop of spirits to stimulate him. That day she ate nothing, and not a stroke of work did she, except to make Hiram rest easier. She spent the forenoon straining her ears for Silas, but in vain. And in the afternoon she harnessed Billy, the massive plow-horse, to a sleigh, and started for the village, determined to get there if she had to kill the faithful brute. It was useless to try to reach Silas' home, miles farther up the mountain; but if she could only get to the village she knew some of the men would find a way to bring her home if they had to use twenty horses.

Billy started nobly, but by the time he had pulled the sleigh to the end of the lane he was breathing heavily, and his flanks were sparkling with frozen sweat. Mary Jane urged him onward and he responded like a hero. Into the drifts he plunged and flounded. The sleigh was almost lost at times, but on he kept. When it seemed to Mary Jane that hours had passed in the struggle she looked back. They had proceeded along the highway scarce a quarter of a mile.

"It's no use, Billy," she sobbed; "we can't do it—we must go back."

The reins slipped from her benumbed fingers, but the intelligent horse knew what to do, and after much difficulty he succeeded in turning around and reaching the barn. Mrs. Dudley covered him with a blanket and walked up and down the floor until he was cooled. By that time it was late enough to make comfortable for the night all the domestic animals and she did so. Then back to the house she went. Hiram was sleeping and breathing feebly. His wife stood by the window, looking at the desolate scene, mechanically trying to count the swift-moving flakes until her brain was almost crazed; but darkness came at last.

Again she waked her husband and urged him to swallow some soup she had prepared, but he could not retain it. As she tucked the covers around him her poignant grief changed to a dull, heavy feeling of sorrow. The end was not far off, she said to herself, and she must bear it alone. If it were open weather she could look across to the old oak and gain some comfort by seeing the mound beneath which their only child had slept for twenty years; but even this was denied her.

The wind sprang up again and roared like a ravenous creature, shaking the door and demanding entrance. The fire must be kept going. She threw upon it several sticks and sank into the rocking chair her mother had given her when she was married. How long ago that seemed! Was she once that happy laughing maiden? and the dying man yonder,—had he formerly been the tall, brawny young farmer whose strength was the boast of all the country side. She could hardly belive it. Involuntarily she reached for the family Bible, and turned over page after page without seeing the text. She and Hiram had read it together daily until the call came for troops, and when he had returned home broken in body and spirit, they had placed therein the letter President Lincoln himself had written, grateful that Hiram had been chosen to carry despatches through the lines at a moment critical in the nation's history. And daily since then they had read it together. It would do her good, she thought, to read now; so she leaned forward that the firelight might fall upon the page, and saw these words:

"Ask and it shall be given you."

Once, twice ,thrice did she read them before their meaning touched her half deadened senses. An then, with tears rolling down her cheeks, she sank to her knees, murmuring:

"Father one of Thy little children asks that Thou wilt remember Thy promise. Oh, dear Father, give it to her—for Jesus' sake, Amen."

How long Mary Jane knelt there before falling asleep she knew not. But she was awakened by hearing the cat cry, again and again. She arose and looked out. The snow had ceased failing, and day had dawned.

Once more pussy cried, and the woman hastened to the door and opened it. There on the step stood the tortoise-shell, holding beneath her paws a dead rabbit. Quickly Mrs. Dudley lifted them in her arms and closed the door, and fell upon her knees, while tears of joy streamed down her sunken cheeks, thanking God for answering her prayer. Arising she examined the rabbit, and found it not as plump as it might have been, but sufficiently large for her purpose. The cat had killed it as if it were a mouse, and but for the marks of pussy's teeth in its neck it was unscarred. Within an hour Hiram had eaten of the food; and his wife had placed the remainder in a cupboard. All day long her heart was singing hallelujahs, and when Hiram was awake even her voice essayed to join, accomplishing some wonderful trills and quavers in "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow!" The sick man enjoyed rabbit stew twice before night, and enough remained to last him through the next day. But when he had made a second supper from the stew not a vestage was left, and he was hungier than ever.

"What do ye s'pose ye c'n get me termorrer, Mary Jane?" he asked plaintively.

"Sakes alive?" the good woman chuckled, beaming with happiness. "Wait till termorrer comes."

"But the weather hain't cleared none, an' they wunt try t' break the roads before th' snow stops flyin'."

"Naow, listen to me, Hiram. You wuz gittin' along all right when th' doctor left here, an' you be twicet's strong sence eatin' all that stew fur two days. Don't you bother at all. I'll git ye suthin' good in th' fresh meat line."

Apparently the situation was as hopeless as it had seemed during that night of agony to Mrs. Dudley. She possessed not a particle of food such as her husband must have, she could not get to the village, and the villagers could not get to her. But this third evening she felt convinced that fresh meat would be provided in some way. She read from the Bible, as usual, but spent no time in mourning over happy days of her youth. Instead she gave thanks, and asked simply that her needs might be met. Then she went to bed, and slept as would an innocent child.

When morning came she dressed and went to open the door. And there, on the steps, just as she had expected, was the tortoise-shell cat, with another dead rabbit. The back bone of the storm had broken, and the sun burst forth in majestic splendor. All that day, and the forenoon of the following, Mary Jane proceeded with her household duties, rejoicing that her husband continued to gain strength. It did not disturb her serenity when, about two o'clock, she heard men shouting and cracking whips, and soon saw them breaking a road from the village past the farm. An hour later the doctor arrived with his wife, who brough steak and chops sufficient to last a week. And before the January thaw came, Hiram was out again, able to do a good day's work.—Peterson's Magazine.

—The United States has just passed through a banner year for drinks and smokes. A nation that produces 163,000,000 gallons of distilled liquors, 59,845,117 barrels of fermented liquors, 7,600,000,000 cigars, and 6,830,000,000 cigarettes, with 402,000,000 pounds of smoking and chewing tobacco, cannot be called intimately acquainted with the pinch of poverty.—Boston Record.

CHRISTMAS is indeed the holiday of humanity and by that token no less interesting than humanity itself. The rich current of its observance has to carry all the bequests of other ages—their ideals, their hopes, their recollections, the beliefs that had won the right to live, the gracious, joyous customs which had won the same right by helping or heartening men, as well as all that our age can contribute to it from the material, artistic and spiritual side. The modern feeling has made a place, as the feeling of each age is sure to do, for the mood of carnival as well as the mood of faith. It can weave into the fabric of the holiday time the little spectacles of fireside felicity, the affectionate pledges of friends, the cheer of the loaded family board or banquet table, the taper lights and organ music of cathedrals, the offerings of music and the drama and all the noble product of the artist and the artisan. In a sense Christendom takes inventory of itself at this time in each of its thousand activities.

One of the benefactions of the holiday is that it gives men the chance to do this and puts them in the mood to do it. It is the last and greatest "truce of God." The pause it imposes is not so much on war's alarm, although the din of conflict grows ever feebler the while the message of "good will unto men" deepens into deed and custom, as it is on the absorptions and distractions of an age so wrapped up in its pursuits that it hardly has time to look about it. At Christmastide men do look about them. That its atmosphere could make a bad man out of a good one or a generous man out of a selfish one is one of the paradoxes whereof perhaps we must look to the genial fiction of Dickens for complete verification. But it does make men kinder, more thoughtful, more serene, than their wont.

You'll Find These In the Shops.

Christmas shoppers are fortunate this year in the number of novelties offered in the shops. There are sets of hat stands that come incased in leather and make useful presents for a man or a woman. Of more doubtful practicality is a new shoehorn with a handle thirty inches in length. It must appeal to the stout woman and maybe to the lazy.

For the woman who travels in out of the way places there is a compact leather case inclosing an alcohol flat-iron. While it costs more than an electric iron, it will be found valuable for summer travel, especially when going to the wilds where electricity is not known.

What to do with hatpins is always a question. The small bottles with crocheted cover and ribbon hangers that some women have given their friends are pronounced worse than useless. Doubtless it was a woman who invented the substantial leather tumbler shaped holders which are heavy enough to keep from tipping over and high enough to hold the pins.

A useful thing is a matchbox with a phosphorescent top that can be seen in the dark. Some curious pencil holders may have their admirers. A heavy glass stand has set into it a post of spiral wire on the end of which is a short chain to which a lead pencil is attached.

Children at Christmas Time.

We watched the trooping children play
About the old house, once so gray
And still. Then darkness fell,
And one by one they said farewell.
The music and the laughter stopped,
The play was done, the curtain dropped.
The waning lamp of mirth burned low
With each last cry across the snow,
And we, old friend, were left alone.

What was it lost that we had known?
Old friend and true, must even we Find nevermore what used to be?
Man lives by change; through ebb and flow
The new lives come, the old lives go.
We lose and gain, yet year by year
The aging heart grows more austere.
It may be that the strain and stress
Of our mad times tempt joylessness;
It may be that our feverish days
Forget the old more genial ways;
it may be, too, the ashes of Dead hopes and dreams have smothered love!
But plain it stands, no more we hold
Earth's fond good fellowship of old.

Yet thanks to one small spark, old friend,
As down the dusk of things we trend,
Age shall not strip our very heart
Of all its old congenial art.
Aye, thanks to each small voice and light
That lent its youth to us tonight,
And thanks to that strange fugitive
Enduring love by which we live,
Through childlike eyes and childlike act
We yet shall hold our youth intact!
And thanks to one still jovial day
We still, old friend, shall make our way
By thought and mem'ry through the snow
To youth and that lost long ago
Where laughter, holding both his sides,
Made all our days seem Christmastides!
—Arthur Stringer.

HOW TO ENTER THE OFFICE.

Advance to the inner door and give three raps. The devil will attend to the alarm. You will give your name, post-office address and number of years you owe for the paper. You will be admitted into the sanctum and will advance to the centre of the room, where you will address the editor with the following countersign: Hold the right hand about two feet from the body, with thumb and fingers clasping a $10 bill ,which you will drop into the editor's hand saying: "Were you waiting for me?" The editor will grasp your hand and the bill, pressing it, and will say: "You bet!"—From the Thayer (Mo.) District.

BEYOND TODAY.

If we could see beyond today
As God can see;
If all the clouds should roll away,
The shadows flee,
O'er present griefs we would not fret,
Each sorrow we would soon forget,
For many joys are waiting yet
For you and me.

If we could know beyond today,
As God doth know,
Why dearest treasures pass away
And tears must flow,
And why the darkness leads to light,
Why dreary paths will soon grow bright
Some day life's wrongs will be made right:
Faith tells us so.

If we could see, if we could know;
We often say;
But God in love a veil doth throw
Across our way;
We can not see what lies before,
And so we cling to Him the more;
He leads us till this life is o'er;
Trust and obey
—Christian Work.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

THERE'S LOGIC FOR YOU.

It was in the far west.

A juror had been selected in a murder trial, and they were about to swear him in, when the Judge, to be on the safe side, bethought himself to say to the man:

"I trust, sir, you fully understand the duties and responsibilities of a juror?"

Straightening himself up to his full height, the man nodded calmly and replied:

"I'm a plain chap, and I believe in being fair to all. I don't go by what the lawyers say, and I don't go by what the judge says: but I look carefully at the prisoner in the dock, and I say to myself: 'He must have done something or he wouldn't be here,' so I bring 'em all in guilty."

—A safer and saner Christmas is desired. The custom of gift giving is carried too far. It works a hardship on many people. The average man and woman spend the savings of weeks, maybe months, to purchase articles to be given away when the money should remain in the family to be used for life's necessities. The result of this expenditure is that the groceryman, the butcher, the doctor and others must do an indefinite credit business shortly before and sometimes after Christmas. The spirit, not the gift should be shown the appreciation.

Only One "BROMO QUININE" that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove on box. 25c

The Girl Who Lives Alone

whether she attends college or goes to business, needs the Perfection Oil Heater. It will heat a cold, cheerless boarding house or dormitory room and make it livable. It is always a ready help in the many things women do for themselves in their rooms. With the damper top opened it will heat water for tea or cocoa; it will dry the small articles that a woman prefers to wash herself in her own room. It will quickly heat an iron or curling tongs; quickly dry wet shoes or skirts—an ever ready help for the woman who lives alone, dependent on her own resources. The is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. It will burn nine hours with one filling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless; has a cool handle and a damper top.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS

27 GRANITE STREET

Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY SELL THE DAILY LEDGER

THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR

Are You Keeping Posted On Home News ?

Proposals for Coal

CITY OF QUINCY

School Department, Quincy, Mass.

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until Monday, December 12 at five o'clock, P. M., receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 5 tons White Ash Stove, 170 Lehigh Broken, 53 Lehigh Egg, and 585 tons best grade bituminous coal.

The bidders must specify definitely the kind of bituminous coal upon which they bid. The hard coal must be of the best quality and well screened. All must be weighed under the direction of an agent of the School Committee and be delivered to the several school buildings on or before Monday, January 9, 1911, unless otherwise ordered. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Coal," to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.

December 5, 1910.

Dec. 5-5t

R. E. FOY & CO.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES

Can be almost instantaneously made of

SELF-RAISING BUCKWHEAT

By the addition of only Cold Water or Milk

SELF-RAISING BUCKWHEAT will be found decidedly the CHEAPEST when the saving of time and trouble is considered. It is Always Ready!

Always Reliable!
and Perfectly Healthful.

Any one can make them.

HECKER'S BUCKWHEAT

Large Size Package

15 cents

R. E. FOY & CO.

Water cor. Quincy St.

Dec. 7-2t

PHONE 117

MARKET GROCERY

TO-NIGHT Cascarets

10c. 25c. 50c.

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

All Druggists

CURTICE BROS. BRAND
STRING or WAX BEANS
13c QUALITY
TODAY 10c CAN
JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 20-tf

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN

SEND FOR

HOLMES & HALL

96 Washington St., Quincy

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES

--- THE ---

Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.

10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague Cor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 5	1.15	1.45
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.00
Thursday,	3.30	3.45
Friday,	4.15	4.45
Saturday,	5.15	5.45
Sunday,	6.15	6.45

BRIEFS

Eight page Ledger every day of late, and newsy every day.

The School department a regular Thursday feature of the Daily Ledger appears today.

On some streets the sleighing is very good but on other streets there are large bare spots, so that few sleighs have ventured out.

Red Cross seals can be obtained at 17 Granite street any morning from 8 until 12.30 or in the afternoon from 1.30 until 4 o'clock. There is a large supply and it is hoped every one will buy some and help along a good cause.

Mrs. George L. Gill of Maple street will be 91 years old on Sunday, Dec. 11. Considering her years she is in excellent health, and is about the house every day. During the past year she has had a telephone installed. The Daily Ledger would suggest a souvenir postal card shower for the grand old lady on Saturday.

Dickens' masterpiece the Christmas Carol is probably read and reread each season by thousands of people who enjoy laughing and crying over Tiny Tim and Scrooge and it especially appeals at the Christmas season. The Ledger will publish the Christmas Carol between now and Christmas beginning today with the opening chapter.

—Our age has been characterized as one of degradation and the decay of institutions. So much depends upon the point of view that one man may see only the blurs and blots on our civilization, while another will see a splendid rush of moral virility and uplifting power. The truth is that many things of first-rate importance have been acknowledged in our time and have entered into our civilization as active forces. Civil and religious liberty the world over, as they are today, were unknown fifty years ago. The recognition of a common humanity in all classes of men is a new thing on the scale on which it has been manifest during this generation. The importance of character in contrast to creed is something unknown before, excepting to the rare souls who were the lonely pioneers in their time and place.—Christian Register.

☞Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Seventeen Days to Xmas

DEC. 8

Others Are Buying Gifts Already. Are You?

GREATEST IN OUR HISTORY

This Year's Farm Products Valued at $8,926,000,000

RISKS OF FOOD PRODUCERS

They Show That Consumer Has No Well Grounded Complaint Against Farmer For Prices He Pays—Corn Production In South Becoming Important—Other Features of Secretary Wilson's Annual Report

Washington, Dec. 8.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has issued his annual report. He reviews conditions throughout the country in a comprehensive manner. He says in part:

"Nothing short of omniscience can grasp the value of the farm products of this year. At no time in the world's history has a country produced farm products within one year with a value reaching $8,926,000,000, which is the value of the agricultural products of this country for 1910. The value of farm products from 1899 to the present year has been progressive without interruption. If the value of the products of 1899 is placed at 100 the value for this year is 189, or almost double the value for the census year eleven years ago. During this period of unexampled agricultural production, a period of twelve years, during which the farmers of this country have steadily advanced in prosperity and wealth and in economic independence, in intelligence and a knowledge of agriculture, the total value of farm products is $79,000,000,000.

"The corn crop of 3,121,381,000 bushels exceeds that of the record year 1906 and is greater than the average crop of the preceding five years by 14 percent. While the value of this corn crop is below that of 1909 and also of 1908, its amount belongs to stories of magic. It can hardly be reckoned as less than $1,500,000,000, a sum sufficient to cancel the interest bearing debt of the United States, buy all of the gold and silver mined in all of the countries of the earth in 1909 and still leave to the farmers a little pocket money.

"The growing importance of the south in corn production is becoming conspicuous. In 1889 it produced hardly more than one-fifth of the national crop; now it produces one-third. The cotton crop of this year may be worth in lint and seed around $900,000,000 at the farm, or more than the corn crop was worth in any year prior to 1901. This value is 13 percent above the five year average. The value of the hay crop is about $720,000,000, an amount which has been exceeded but once, and that in 1907. It is 13 percent above the average of the preceding five years. Fortunately the wheat crop is divided into two sowings, autumn and spring, so that the two crops are subject to different climatic accidents, as was the case this year. The production of spring and winter wheat is 691,767,000 bushels, or substantially the average of the preceding five years, whereas the value is about $625,000,000, or 7.6 percent above the five year average.

"Production per acre is beginning to overtake increase of people. The evidence is very plain that the yields per acre of our crops are now increasing, and if the facts were assembled in detail for the states it would be found that the percentage of increase in yield of many of them is greater than the percentage of normal increase of population—that is, the increase of births over deaths in the old native element.

"Instruction in the methods of road building," the report says, "has continued through the medium of object lesson roads built at local expense under the supervision of an engineer of the office of public roads. More than 1,000,000 square yards of road, equivalent to about fourteen miles of road fifteen feet wide, were completed during the year."

After presenting many details with regard to the increase of prices on farm products between farmer and consumer, the secretary of agriculture declares that "the conclusion is inevitable that the consumer has no well grounded complaint against the farmer for the prices that he pays. The farmer supplies the capital for production and takes the risk of his losses; his crops are at the mercy of drought and flood and heat and frost, to say nothing of noxious insects and blighting diseases. He supplies hard, exacting, unremitting labor."

The report also says: "Twenty-eight new associations for the co-operative testing of cows belonging to members were formed during the year, fifty-five are now in operation. Such tests, which enable the owners to discard unprofitable cows, raised the average annual profit per cow in one association from $21.43 to $42.82 in four years.

"The work in cattle tick eradication resulted in the release from quarantine of 57,518 square miles, the largest area released since the beginning of the work in 1906. The total area so far released is 129,611 square miles in eleven southern states."

Hoyt's Hospitality.

It was the habit of Charles H. Hoyt, the dramatist, to invite almost everybody he met to come up and spend a few weeks with him at his summer home in New Hampshire.

One night Hoyt, Bert Dasher, W. H. Currie, Frank McKee and several other house guests of Hoyt were sitting on the veranda of Hoyt's summer house waiting for dinner. The train had just arrived, and they saw an old farmer and his wife coming up the path.

"Who are they?" asked Hoyt. "I never saw them before."

"The dickens you didn't," replied Currie. "That is that old chap and his wife you talked to over at Springfield and invited to visit you."

"Oh, well," said Hoyt, "maybe they are just coming in to dinner. They will take the night train back."

Then he looked again and saw the hired man behind the farmer and his wife wheeling a big trunk on a wheelbarrow.

"No, by George," shouted Hoyt, "they are here for a run!"

And they stayed a month.—Cleveland Leader.

Long and Short Story Writers.

Which are the great short stories of the English language? Not a bad basis for a debate! This I am sure of—that there are far fewer supremely good short stories than there are supremely good long books. It takes more exquisite skill to carve the cameo than the statue. But the strangest thing is that the two excellences seem to be separate and even antagonistic. Skill in the one by no means insures skill in the other. The great masters of our literature, Fielding, Scott, Dickens, Thackeray and Reade, have left no single short story of outstanding merit behind them, with the possible exception of Wandering Willie's tale in "Red Gauntlet."

On the other hand, men who have been very great in the short story, Stevenson, Poe and Bret Harte, have written no great book. The champion sprinter is seldom a five miler as well.

Poe is the master of all. Poe is, to my mind, the supreme original short story writer of all time.—Conan Doyle in "Through the Magic Door."

Yosemite Versus Grand Canyon.

Yosemite for a home or a camp, the Grand canyon for a spectacle. I saw a robin in Yosemite valley. Think how forlorn and out of place a robin would seem in the Grand canyon! What would he do there? There is no turf for him to inspect, and there are no trees for him to perch on. I would as soon expect to find him amid the pyramids of Egypt or amid the ruins of Karnak. The bluebird was there also, and the water ouzel haunted the lucid waters. The reader may create for himself a good image of Yosemite by thinking of a section of seven or eight miles of the Hudson river midway of its course as emptied of its waters and deepened 3,000 feet or more, having the sides nearly vertical, with snow white waterfalls fluttering against them here and there, the famous spires and domes planted along the rim, and the landscape of groves and glades, with its still, clear, winding river, occupying the bottom.—John Burroughs in Century.

His Apology.

A recent refusal by a member of the English parliament to withdraw "one comma" of what he had said about a member of the government recalls the fact that Richard Brinsley Sheridan once declined to punctuate an apology. In the house of commons one day Sheridan gave an opponent the lie direct. Called upon to apologize, the offender replied:

"Mr. Speaker, I said the honorable member was a liar it is true and I am sorry for it."

The insulted party was not satisfied and said so.

"Sir," retorted Sheridan, "the honorable member can interpret the terms of my statement according to his ability, and he can put punctuation marks where it pleases him."

Poets' Licenses.

The poet was sick at heart. He just had submitted one of his very best productions to an unfeeling editor, who had rebuffed him in these gentle words:

"I wish there was a law about poets' licenses like the dog license law. If I had my way a poet would have to take out a license every year and those who didn't would be killed."—New York Press.

Her Little Composition.

A class was reciting in a school.

"Who can give me," said the teacher, "a sentence in which the words 'bitter end' are used?"

Up jumped a little girl excitedly. "I can, teacher. 'The cat ran under the bureau and the dog ran after her and bit her end.'"

Method In His Generosity.

My husband is awfully good natured. I gave him a beautiful box of cigars for his birthday, and he only smoked one himself and gave all the rest away to his friends.—London Opinion.

Strong Evidence.

"What makes you think he had been to a drinking party?"

"He came home," sobbed the young wife, "wearing a phonograph horn for a hat."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Always Happens.

A man who goes around with a chip on his shoulder will finally encounter as big a fool as he is and there will be a fight.—Atchison Globe.

The sense of smartness is sure to make a man shallow.

SIXTEEN MILES IN QUICK TIME

Barrier Flies Distance at Rate of 87.93 Miles an Hour

ESTABLISHES A NEW RECORD

Wins Prize of $5000 In Race With Moissant, Having Advantage Over Latter by Holding to Course Almost to a Dot—Hamilton Furnishes Thrill to Spectators, Barely Missing Death In Spectacular Feat

Memphis, Dec. 8.—Rens Barrier, a Frenchman, established a world's record yesterday afternoon when he flew a distance in excess of sixteen miles in 10 minutes 55 1-5 seconds, at an average rate of 87.93 miles an hour, thereby winning a prize of $5000 offered by the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

He outwinged John Moissant, who blazed the way over the course, by nearly eight minutes. Both used Bleriot monoplanes.

The previous record over a closed course was established by Leon Morane at Rheims last August. In this flight a speed of 65 miles an hour was attained.

While the cross-city flight was the feature it did not furnish the thrills to the afternoon program. Charles K. Hamilton in his heavier biplane missed death by a hair's breadth in performing a spectacular feat of airmanship. In an exhibition flight he had reached a height of 200 feet when his motor went dead. He started to glide, eventually striking the earth with a thump, his machine a wreck, but his bones whole.

The flights of Barrier and Moissant were over a triangular course by shortest calculations of sixteen miles, following the Mississippi river for four miles.

Describing uniform spirals Barrier rose to a height of 3500 feet, then darted westward. At the first turning point he switched sharply to the south, following the course of the river to the second turn.

It was a remarkable flight. He held to the prescribed course almost to a dot, and in this had the advantage over Moissant. The latter, in his turns, described wide semicircles at a height of 7000 feet. His time was 18 minutes 16 2-5 seconds, part of which was lost in aerial gyrations for the benefit of uplookers who crowded house-tops and other points of vantage.

Weather conditions were almost perfect. The air was cool but a bright sun was shining and there was just the suggestion of a breeze.

NO MORE LENIENCY

Boston Police Ordered to Arrest All Spitters Upon Sidewalks

Boston, Dec. 8.—Every person who spits upon a sidewalk or other place used exclusively or principally by pedestrians, after 8 o'clock this morning, irrespective of sex or age, will be prosecuted, according to the orders issued to the police officers last night.

"The special enforcement of the law against spitting on sidewalks and in other public places has been in effect three weeks," says the official order. "More than 500 persons have been prosecuted, and great and useful publicity has been given to the work. The whole community has been warned of the law by all means within the power of the police department, and it is now time to remove the limitations as to the persons to be first prosecuted."

TO OPEN LEWIS' GRAVE

Body of Trunk Case Suspect Will Be Disinterred by Police

Providence, Dec. 8.—Lieutenant Kane of the New York detective bureau, who was personally acquainted with the William Lewis who is being sought by the New York authorities in connection with the trunk murder, the victim of which is supposed to have been Albert C. Callier, arrived here last night.

Kane will investigate the report that the man wanted was identical with a William H. Lewis who died recently in Foster, R. I. The authorities at Foster have already been apprised of Kane's coming and the permission to dig up the remains which were buried a month ago under the name of William H. Lewis will be readily granted.

Expecting Ethel Leneve

Boston, Dec. 8.—Ethel Leneve, who figured so prominently in the case of Dr. Crippen, executed a few weeks ago in England for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, is reported to be on board the White Statr liner Zeeland, due to arrive at this port today, from Liverpool and Queenstown.

Accustomed to Court Proceedings

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 8.—When Daniel Flynn, 58, appeared before Judge Almy yesterday on the charge of drunkenness, the probation officer informed the court that Flynn was making his fifty-eighth appearance in nineteen years on that charge. Flynn was sentenced to the state farm.

Snowballing His Neighbors

A BOY loves to match his wits in play against opposing wills.

If this instinct is not better directed, your boy will select a victim upon whom to exercise his superfluous energy. Hectored policemen know too well the ingenuity of the boys who enjoy unguided amusements.

Planning ambushes from which to snowball outraged neighbors tends to develop ingenuity, but the ingenuity might be more profitably exerted.

Selling THE SATURDAY EVENING POST is peculiarly adapted to energetic boys. The practice of tactful methods for winning unwilling customers requires the exercise of a boy's quickest thoughts, without the blighting effect of pranks which annoy others.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Keep him busy, and your boy will keep himself out of mischief. If bright and ambitious, your boy can earn from fifty cents to $2.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH
40 NORTH STREET.

GAS SHOW

December 7-13

10 A. M. to 10 P. M.

MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON

A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.

Educational and Entertaining

Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.

11 Granite Street, QUINCY

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

The News and the Truth About It

The Best Home Newspaper

Reliable and Progressive

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

OLDEST and BEST

Largest Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in the City of Quincy and Norfolk County.

Goes into all the best Quincy homes where it is read by every member of the family. Established in 1889 the Ledger has forged ahead until it has become a household necessity. Its reading is as much a part of the day's routine as eating ones dinner. Making a specialty of clean readable home news has made the demand for advertising space such that the Ledger has recently doubled its capacity for space and circulation. Ask your newsdealer about its circulation. Constantly growing demand.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 125
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY
IN EVERYTHING

HISTORY OF RED CROSS SEALS.

Rer Cross Christmas Seals date back in their origin to "charity stamps," first used for the soldiers' relief funds in Boston in 1862, during the Civil War. After the war, this method of raising money was discontinued in this country for a generation, although it found vogue in Portugal, Switzerland, Australia, France, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Sweden and other European countries. There are now several hundred different types of charity stamps used in all parts of the world.

Stamps or seals were first used to get money for the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Norway and Sweden in 1904. After being used in these countries for three years, as a direct result of the interest of Jacob Riis in this movement the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Association, headed by Miss Emily P. Bissell, and the Red Cross Society of Delaware combined in issuing a Tuberculosis Stamp. So successful was this campaign that nearly $3,000 was realized, and the next year, in 1908, the American Red Cross was induced to issue a National Red Cross Tuberculosis Stamp. From this sale $135,000 was realized, that amount being almost doubled in 1909. This year, for the first time, the sale is organized on a comprehensive basis, taking in all parts of the United States. A million for tuberculosis work is confidently expected.

FIRST AID.

A prominent physician was recently called to his telephone by a colored woman, formerly in the service of his wife. In great agitation the woman advised the physician that her youngest child was in a bad way.

"What seems to be the trouble?" asked the doctor.

"Doc, she done swallowed a bottle of ink!"

"I'll be over there in a short while to see her," said the doctor. "Have you done anything for her?"

"I done give her three pieces of blottin' paper, Doc," said the colored woman, doubtfully.

GOT HIS PAPERS.

A prosperous business man down town tells with enjoyment of his struggle to get naturalization papers after his arrival in this city from Ireland.

He had studied up, on the suggestion from a relative who had preceded him in gaining citizenship, and when the judge asked him who would succeed the President in the event of the death of the chief executive he promptly answered:

"The Vice President, sir."

Then the judge asked:

"In case of the demise at the same time of both President and Vice-President, upon whom would fall the duties of office?"

This was further than the applicant had delved, and he shook his head.

Thinking his language had not been understood, the judge impatiently asked:

"Who would get the job!"

With a broad grin the Irishman promptly answered:

"Who else but the undertaker, sir?"

Even the judge had to smile as he said, curtly:

"Application granted." —Philadelphia Record.

FAMOUS PAINTINGS—ELMENDORF.

When Dwight Elmendorf reaches the fourth stage of his journey-talks at Symphony hall, Boston, Friday night and Saturday afternoon, he will present his lecture "Famous Paintings." Mr. Elmendorf has had this subject in preparation for nearly twenty years. The illustrations will consist of color reproductions of the masterpieces of art in the galleries of Holland, Germany, Austria, France, Italy and Spain. There will be told many interesting stories relative to the lives of the artists and a number of interesting motion pictures illustrating life in the cities visited will be shown.

The tour will start at the Ryks Museum in Amsterdam and will continue in a leisurely manner through the museums of Berlin, Dresden, Florence, Rome, Seville, Madrid, Vienna and Paris.

The subject of the next and last lecture in the course will treat of Paris.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

Seeking to know how best to interest her in my conversation, I hied me to the wise man, who spoke and said: "Speak thou of many things. So long as she ejaculates, the subject thou must change; but when she asks a question, then will you know the topic that is nearest to her heart."

Whereupon I returned unto the maiden and lifted my voice most tunefully into speech.

"I was talking to a friend of mine as I came along the street," remarked I unto her. "He is a writer of books and has seen the strangest sights and scenes."

She turned to me the face of innocence, but nothing said.

"He has travelled in distant lands, has sailed the seas and triumphed o'er the mountain tops. He has braved the snows of Alaska and the tropic sun of the Amazon. India has been his stamping ground, and over China has he widely roamed."

"Just to think!" she cried.

"He has studied the picture galleries of the whole wide world—London, Vienna, Paris, Florence; he knows them all from vestibule to roof—column, base and architrave."

"The idea!" she cried.

"He has slept in the house where Dickens was born and has paid his pilgrimage to the room where the great Thackeray breathed his last. He has sat at the table whereon Balzac wrote the Comedie, and Kipling and he are the most particular friends."

"You don't say!" she cried.

"He was a war correspondent and made a record in the Boer war. At Port Arthur he ran the blockades both by land and sea, and twice was left for dead upon the field."

"Cracious!" she cried.

"Before that he was a dramatic critic, and the boldest actor trembled at the words he might say. He knew the stars that twinkled in the firmament and all the minor constellations on the broad and great white way."

"Fancy!"

"He has hunted the tiger in India and the elephant in Africa. He has tracked the lion to its lair and the leopard to its den."

"You don't say!"—From the New "You don't say!"

Whereat I paused, breathless and discomfited, for ever an interrogation had she made, and vainly did I cudgel my mind for the topic that was nearest to her heart. But as I was about to make retreat, lo! she raised her face and queried:

"Is he married?"—From the New York Sun.

WHAT HE WAS.

A man of letters—of poor physique—recently knocked a policeman down and is still at large to tell the tale.

It was on the bank of the upper Thames where a notice bids pedestrians to enter the towing path by the roadway. The man of letters, however, knew the short cut and took it, running into a huge Berkshire constable.

"See that notice board?" remarked the constable, blocking the narrow path.

The man of letters looked, considered and replied: "But you see I'm not a pedestrian."

The constable considered him from his hat to his boots and back again. "Why, what are you then?" he asked.

"I'm a Congregationalist," said the man of letters. The constable dropped.

☞There was a very large and enthusiastic meeting held at the Free Home for Consumptives, 428 Quincy street, Dorchester, Sunday, the principal business being, "The Wonderful Christmas Tree Sale" to be held in Horticultural hall, Boston, Dec. 15 and 16. A list of tables representing the entire city and suburbs was announced. The greatest feature of the fair will be "The Wonderful Christmas Tree." Mrs. K. Brennan of Jamaica Plain will have charge of the grown-ups' apple tree and Mrs. A. Niland of East Boston will preside over the Santa Claus or Children's tree.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Clara B. Beatley Talks on "The Real Mother"

The regular meeting of the Mother's Association was held Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of Bethany Congregational church. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith led the devotional services, which were simple but very impressive.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Clara Bancroft Beatley, spoke upon "The Real Mother." Mrs. Beatley selected the highest types of mothers and dwelt at length upon what it is possible for a mother to do for her children in the way of forming character. The Bible mothers were the first to which she referred. She then spoke of Abraham Lincoln's own mother and his step mother and the power for good which they both were in his life; Louisa Alcott's mother and how she dealt with the fiery-tempered little girl and moulded her into a beautiful character by inteligent and sympathetic treatment. The speaker then drew beautiful word pictures of Whittier's home life and his mother as described in "Snow Bound," and Robert Burn's "Cotter's Saturday Night," with its immortal home-scene where mother reigns supreme. She spoke of the mother of Phillips Brooks and how she won and held the confidence of her boys by giving such a wealth of love and yet exercising wisdom.

She said in part as follows: The real mother is the center of her home and her home expresses herself. She can find time to look up as she darns stockings; she can make everything in the home uplifting; she can refrain from letting the details of housework master her; she can stand occasional disorder for the sake of giving inspiration to the members of her household; she can radiate the friendship which gives a glow. The power of suggestion and imitation and what we can do by setting our children good examples and crowd out the bad tendencies by always suggesting high and noble thoughts. Wh are our children's companions? Every parent should look well into the character of the playmates of his children. It is as important to know the tendencies of the companions as those of the children in your family. Good habits may be established by constant watchfulness on the part of the mother. Parents should exercise their authority because children are happier for being properly governed.

Don't discipline before breakfast.

Refuse a conflict with the dramatic child.

Don't discipline when a child is in temper.

The best time for corrective talks is bed time; the mind is then in a receptive condition for spiritual truths.

NO MYSTERY ABOUT IT.

The other night after Harker was safe in bed there came a mysterious tapping below his window. Harker slipped out of his covers and cautiously raised the sash.

"What's wanted?" he demanded, his teeth chattering.

"I just wanted to tell you," came a muffled voice, "that there's a hand moving around just inside your cellar window."

With visions of burglars Harker picked up his revolver and slipped through the halls in his pajamas. Cautiously he searched the cellar with a lighted candle, but it was empty. Outside on the sidewalk stood the stranger.

"I don't see any burglars down here," called Harker nervously.

"Who said anything about burglars?" laughed the stranger.

"Why, didn't you call me out of bed to tell me that there was a hand moving aroundnear the cellar window?"

"Sure, it's the dial on the gas meter. It works while you sleep."—Philadelphia Times.

—Providence, R. I., closes her tree-planting campaign for the season with an addition of nearly four thousand tentative shade producers in different parts of the city. When "the green leaves come again," the work will be continued.—Boston Transcript.

☞Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

QUINCY BOARD OF TRADE

Important Industries Seeking Location in This City

Important communications were received Wednesday evening at the regular December meeting of the Board of Trade. One from the C. H. Metz Company of Waltham which would like to secure in Quincy a plant for the manufacture and trial of air cars. They now have a plant at Waltham for the manufacture of motor cars. Letter was referred to President Eugene R. Stone.

A communication seeking information relative to transportation was referred to Frank F. Crane.

A communication was received from the United States Engineers office which announced that it was not convinced of the advisability of improving the Weymouth Fore river, as it would be wholly for the benefit of one company. An opportunity was given for appeal. Referred to Harbor and Dock Commissioner F. F. Crane.

A communication of the Inter-State Commerce Bureau relative to the audit of bills, was referred to Hon. John O. Hall.

A communication was received from the Imperial Laundry Machinery Company seeking a location in Quincy.

It was voted that the entertainment committee provide a lunch at the January meeting which will be the annual.

A nomination committee of nine will report nominations for officers in print, being instructed to provide ballots.

W. H. Teasdale reported as a delegate to the recent New England meeting of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and aroused considerable interest in the work being undertaken for New England. He also reported the business of the Telephone rate hearing held three weeks ago.

DONT BE CARELESS.

During the first winter of maddening gayety the young girl forgets that everything in the universe is not especially made for her comfort and pleasure. She forgets that winter winds will blow, and heavy snows fall, and the sun fail to shine without her sanction.

She treats such freaks of nature with superb scorn. She refuses utterly to reckon with them. She will not even condescend to change one flimy garment in their favor. And there is her mistake. The lace blouse, the low shoes, and gauzy stockings are worn in spite of stormy weather.

Then that imp of all imps, a cold in the head, arrives with bag and baggage, and takes up his abode in the first floor front. All efforts to dislodge him are vain. He has come for a ten days' or two weeks' visit, and one can only resign one's self to the inevitable, retiring into seclusion until the horrid creature moves on to visit other friends.

Quinine pills are given him, hot drinks served him at all hours. But nothing soothes him. He weeps at his leisure, until one is driven almost out of one's mind.

One arrives at the conclusion that the only satisfactory way of ending such an intolerable situation is sudden death, which, of course, is impossible But there are ways of avoiding this horrible visitor, if one will only exercise a little common sense and care.

Nor is it necessary to swathe one's self in a hideous flannel petticoat and woolen shirtwaist. Strive first for a happy compromise in dress. See that you are neither too warmly nor too thinly clad

All doctors agree that very heavy clothing is not healthful, and the manufacturers have met this dictum by making fabrics and undergarments that have warmth without weight.

Lingerie and silk blouses are really healthful if protected by a warm coat when one goes out, but worn under coats of light weight they cause serious harm. Clothing should be determined by the temperature.

Few women, and especially girls, seem to realize the importance of protecting the ankles. Physicians complain of the carelessness of women in this respect more than almost any other. If one's ankles and chest are protected the collarless chiffon blouse becomes a harmless affair. Even the most robust women run risks when they sally forth with thinly clad ankles.—New York Times.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, and should be indispensable in every household of the city. Get the habit of reading the Ledger daily and you will wonder how you ever got along without it.

MORE USES FOR GAS.

Do you know how many ways there are to use gas? No, not to burn gas, not to waste gas, but to use it—to get the fullest possible value and to save money by so doing? Well, there are about 700 of them, without mentioning sub-varieties.

It is a liberal education to visit the Gas Show at Mechanics' Building, and to see in how many different ways you might do things better than you are now doing them. What are your needs? Metal Working?

There is a gas appliance for every process—Tempering, annealing, enamelling—all done by gas.

Do you need steam? Gas boilers are at your disposal.

Would you dispose of rubbish, hospital refuse, etc.?—see the incinerator exhibit.

If you have a laundry look into the question of clothes drying by gas, and the countless gas ironing machines.

If you run a bottling establishment, steam for sterilizing and hot water for washing will be furnished in unlimited quantities by the proper gas appliance.

Do you bake, do you roast, do you broil? Ranges, ovens and broilers to suit every possible requirement await your inspection.

In short, even if you think that there is no way in which your business could use a gas appliance, you will probably find that a visit to the Gas Show has furnished you with food for considerable thought, and that you have brought away many ideas which may be utilized to good advantage in the conduct of your affairs.

OLD-TIME FROLICS.

It is said that frolics in country syle or in the style of bygone days, will have a great vogue this Winter. The first merrymakings certainly confirm the report.

Hostesses like the quaint setting with background of ancestral mahogany and crazy quilts, and the youthful guests relish the opportunity to dress up in the picturesque garments of long ago.

The old-fashioned spelling bee is revived both for parlors and semi-public places, and the boys and girls in old-time dress spell each other down with as great enthusiasm as ever did young folk fifty years ago.

One fair committee even made a public entertainment of such a bee with great success. It may contain the germ of an idea for some other band similarly placed, for the plan as carried out was certainly well worth while.

The ladies sent a challenge to a prominent man's club of which most of the husbands and brothers were members, offering to spell them down on a certain evening to be agreed upon among them.

The male contingent took mirthfully to the idea, and the challenge was accepted. On receipt of the date agreed upon the committee arranged for the printing and distribution of circulars announcing the contest to be held, and offering for sale reserved seats at popular prices.

The scene was a large hall, and as the reception accorded the announcements encouraged them to believe from the very outset, they had no difficulty in filling it. Not only those acquainted with both sets of contestants were interested, but the general public of the neighborhood was tickled by the idea, and old folks wished to attend in memory of old times.

The beauty of this entertainment was that it required no costumes, no scenery, nothing, in fact, but a little advance brushing in of the orthographical art by both sides. A committee of three or four from each body of competitors were appointed and these committees appointed Captains, who chose their own teams, secured referees, and appointed a person to give out the words.

Prizes were offered for the six best efforts, the first being a money prize, which the winner turned over to the good work.

The one who stood up longest won first prize; the second last to go down had second choice, and so the fun went on.—N. Y. Times.

—"Doctor Parkhurst went abroad last summer as usual to inspect the people of the other nations," says Edward Sanford Martin in Woman's Home Companion for December. "When he came home he said it was easy to tell them all at sight. Italians, Irishmen, Frenchmen, Germans—an eye, he thought, did not need to be very carefully trained to identify any of them. 'And as for the native-born, full-blooded American,' he said, 'there is no human creature anywhere on earth that is like him or, as I should say, that is the equal of him.' It is certainly true that the American of the United States has come to have a distinct national identity. I hope Doctor Parkhurst's opinion of his superior quality is also true. There are reasons why it ought to be—reasons connected with breadth of opportunity and relief from various inherited handicaps that affect all of Europe."

ODD FELLOWS ANNUAL BALL

(Continued from Page 1.)

Jones, Charles A. Hobart Jesse F. Curtis, Tobias H. Burke, Thomas J. Smith, Thomas E. Furnald, William J. Williams, Charles F. Harwood, Edward L. Goodridge, William Patterson, Walter H. Ripley, Sam Wood, Jr.

Floor director—Abel Gomez.

Assistant floor directors—D. E. Macdonald and Charles Barron.

Aids—E. Frank Mitchell, Henry L. Kincaide, Charles L. Hammond, Arthur H. Dunstan, Walter C. Brayshaw, Howard C. Andrews, William A. Richards, Ernest R. McConnell, George H. Fisher, James Moorhead, Jr., Maynard C. King, Frank W. Flowers, John R. Richards, Charles H. Wood, William Westland, Clarence E. Fuller, George F. Spooner and James S. Baker.

The concert program was:

March, "Popularity" Gearen
Overture, "Morning, Noon and Night" F. V. Supple
Cornet Waltz, "Blue Danube" Strauss
Duet, For flute and clarinet, Fuerner "The Twins" Messrs Poole, Sigliman
Selection, "The Soul Kiss" Maurice Levy
Finale, "Heart and Hand" Wiegand

—Moving picture men have recently been taking views along the rugged coast line of Maine. A hundred-foot film would give the vitagraph patron in a few minutes a more comprehensive view of the wave-beaten shores than a week's cruise in a yacht, while a machine behind the curtain furnishes a fair imitation of the roar of the surf. The pictures of the wild turmoil of waters are really the most realistic examples of biograph work.—Milford Gazette.

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

SUNNY MONDAY

Sunny Monday soap is just as pure as it looks. It is white, made from the purest materials and contains no rosin—starts dirt like magic—washes woolens without shrinking—does not fade colors—works in any kind of water—and contains a marvelous dirt-starter which saves time and rubbing. Sunny Monday will double the life of your clothes and save you half the labor of wash day.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
CHICAGO

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb
Nov. 29-tf

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School — Public Schools
Woodward Institute — Parochial School

QUINCY HIGH.

Owing to fire regulations, the inspectors have forbidden any more games in the gymnasium until after Jan. 1. The contract with the city will have to be renewed and this cannot be done until the new year.

* * *

Herbert Johnson, '13, has been elected captain of the Q. H. S. football team for 1912. Johnson has played guard on the team both years he has been in High school, and has been considered the best man on the line.

* * *

The school will lose many of its star football men next June, but there will be a strong nucleus around which to build a good team next fall: Johnson, White, Smith, G. Findley, Holmes, Larkin, Church, the Cranshaw brothers, Anderson, R. Blackmur, Carlson and a probability of several strong men ought to make a very hopeful aspect for the next season.

* * *

Miss Mary Brown, instructor in English at the High school, returned to school today after a short absence on account of illness.

* * *

N. Phillips Hardy '10 is confined to the house by an attack of the mumps.

* * *

The football reception is scheduled for a week from tomorrow. The committee has been hard at work for a month and preparations are well in hand. The football men will be awarded their Q'S during the course of the evening.

* * *

Mr. James D. Howlett, headmaster of the school is a member of a club known as "The Twelve." The club consists of headmasters of various schools around Boston who meet once a month for a banquet and a discussion of school problems. Among the members are Headmasters Cleveland of Cambridge, Hill of Chelsea, Irish of Lowell, Avery of Somerville, Hitchcock of Brookline, Whitaker of Salem, Cushing of South Framingham. The December meeting will be held at hotel Bellevue next Saturday evening.

* * *

The Christmas recess begins two weeks from yesterday, Dec. 21 and lasts until Jan. 2.

* * *

The basketball schedule will not suffer very materially from the loss of the gymnasium for use until New Years. Two games, one with Powder Point for Dec. 13th and one with Winchester for the 20th will be cancelled. All others will be played as scheduled. The full list of games will be printed in a later issue.

* * *

The Golden Rod is in the hands of the printers and will be out very soon. Much curiosity has been aroused with regard to its contents and its appearance is awaited with great expectancy.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Beckwith Baltzer, nee Helen Kingman, who graduated from High school in '05 and '04 respectively are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

* * *

The rules for members of the basket ball squad have been posted on the bulletin boards at the school. They read as follows:

I—Members must keep training, must not smoke, must not keep late hours especially before a game, in general, do nothing that will prevent being in fine physical condition.

II—Members must not play on any other team during the school season.

III—Members must attend practice regularly and promptly.

IV—Members must show a willingness to work with their captain in his efforts to develop a fast five.

V—On trips and in all games, members must do nothing to bring discredit upon the school.

VI—Violation of these rules may be punishable by a temporary or a permanent removal from the team or by forfeiture of the Q at the end of the season.

* * *

Prout's arm, which troubled him somewhat in the Dorchester game will need a little nursing before he can play basketball again, but the suspension of games until Jan. will give it time to heal properly. When it was broken before, it was not set very well and has needed further attention lately.

The cantata "Joan of Arc" will probably be given early in the new year. Rehearsals are going on regularly under the direction of Miss Perkins and an enjoyable musical evening may be expected at the time the cantata is given.

* * *

The lunch room is very popular during these cold days. The special course each day is always in great demand since it is usually something hot and appetizing.

* * *

GRADED SCHOOLS.

Soccer football was just getting its stride in the Quincy schools when the snow storm hampered its progress very severely. A number of games scheduled for yesterday and today were postponed but the boys will play again soon as there is enough bare ground to warrant it. Dr. Smith is meeting with splendid cooperation on the part of the teachers and scholars as well as from the semi-professional players on the two league teams in town. A number of games have been played and the older boys in the school has learned the rules very readily and have become quite proficient at playing the game. Next year the league will be formed with a regular schedule and a handsome trophy as a prize for the winning team.

* * *

Charles H. Johnson, the truant officer, who has been confined to his home by illness, is well again and has resumed his duties about town.

* * *

The no-school signal was sounded yesterday morning at 7.30. The weather cleared during the forenoon but the high wind of the night before had piled up some pretty high drifts and the going was bad in places, so the action taken by the superintendent was wise and the ounce of prevention should be thoroughly appreciated.

* * *

Superintendent Johnson, formerly of Quincy and now of Somerville, was a visitor at the Cranch school recently.

* * *

The pupils of the John Hancock school hold a candy sale this afternoon at the school building. The proceeds will go to the fund they are raising for the purchase of a new piano.

* * *

Miss Freethey has been appointed assistant at the Gridley Bryant school to take the place of Miss Grace Fisher who has been transferred to the Massachusetts Fields school.

* * *

The Coddinton school defeated the Wollaston school at soccer football last Friday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0.

* * *

Henry Northrup has been chosen captain of the soccer football team at the Massachusetts Fields school.

* * *

The class pins of the Wollaston school have arrived and needless to say the scholars are delighted with their appearance. A cut of the tower on Third hill is the central design.

* * *

The Atherton Hough school at Houghs Neck has been declared completed by Mr. Crowley, the builder but it has not been accepted by the city as yet. The scholars from the district will probably start the new year in their own school.

* * *

The soccer team of the Washington school defeated the Massachusetts Fields school team by a score of 1 to 0 last Saturday.

* * *

About 100 mothers and fathers of children in the Massachusetts Fields school assembled in the hall of the school last Thursday for their regular monthly meeting. The meeting took the form of a social which included games and an entertainment.

* * *

Gordon Rowe has been selected as captain of the Wollaston school soccer football team.

* * *

Miss Sampson of the Washington school has been kept at home this week on account of illness.

* * *

The Quincy school and the Massachusetts Fields soccer game scheduled for Wednesday was postponed on account of the snow.

The Washington and Coddington school soccer teams will meet Saturday afternoon if the snow clears away sufficiently to allow them space for playing.

* * *

The class pins of the Quincy school which arrived last week are very pretty and are well liked by the scholars. Many of them have been taken both by scholars and teachers.

* * *

The Coddington and Lincoln schools played a 0 to 0 game of soccer football last week.

* * *

Members and ex-members of the Fore River and McGregor football teams act as referees at the grammar school games and coach the teams on rules and tactics.

* * *

The new stereopticon lantern at the Coddington school is ready for use now and it is expected that much pleasure and profit will be gained by means of it. The new wiring has been completed and the curtain is up so that the scholars may expect to see it work before very long.

* * *

The game between the Willard and John Hancock schools scheduled for last Saturday was postponed since the former did not have a full team on the field.

* * *

Mr. Carruthers of Chubbuck street will referee the Washington-Coddington game on Saturday.

* * *

Miss Lucy Atwood, master's assistant at the Willard school, acted as principal of Gridley Bryant school last week in the absence of Mr. Greene who was out on account of sickness. Miss Grace Fisher took Miss Atwood's place at the Willard.

* * *

Sigurd Almquist has been elected captain of the soccer team at the Willard school.

* * *

The sight and hearing tests have been completed at the Willard school.

* * *

The following advertisement was written by an eighth grade girl at the John Hancock school: The John Hancock school of Quincy are raising money for our new piano. Quite a little while ago we had an ice cream sale and made a very small sum of money which was not nearly as much as was needed for our piano. So the eighth grade are going to have a candy sale with the assistance of all the grades and teachers. This candy sale is going to be held Dec. 8, 1910, at 3.30 P. M., in the school building. All who are interested are cordially invited to come.

* * *

Angus Cameron met the boys in the eighth grade room of the Willard school Tuesday noon after school and explained and illustrated by diagram, the fine points of the game.

* * *

Miss Teresa Macdonald of grade three at the Willard school visited schools in Boston and Chelsea on Friday.

* * *

The reason for delay of installing a telephone in the Willard school is due to the fact that a new cable will have to be constructed.

* * *

OTHER SCHOOLS.

The Institute of Technology has 1,506 students, an increase of 27 over one year ago.

* * *

The Newton High is interested in hockey and has arranged a long schedule with Malden, Wellesley, Milton, Everett, Melrose, Medford and other High schools.

* * *

Wellesley High will have a basket ball team this season.

* * *

At basket ball on Wednesday the girls' team of the High school at North Easton defeated the Randolph High team 37 to 2.

* * *

At the Cunningham gym on Wednesday, Milton High defeated the Collegians at basket ball 16 to 13.

* * *

The Harvard Bulletin of this week publishes a list of the winners of scholarships for high standing at the beginning of the present academic year, which contain some points of interest in the way of statistics. Out of the first group of 45 men 35 percent of them come from outside of New England. The group represents eight states and two foreign countries, England and Egypt. Another point of interest is the fact that 75 percent of this class entered Harvard from public high schools, which shows that the high school is at the front in equipping men for efficient college work.

* * *

The old High school building at Lawrence was destroyed by fire this week. It was built in 1869, and abandoned as a school in 1902.

* * *

The Brockton High school cadets held an efficiency drill recently attended by 500 people. In the setting up drill for first year cadets Rufus Case won first prize, a silver medal. John Barger won honorable mention. In the manual of arms competition Clarence Parker won the first prize, a gold medal, and Seth Lagerstedt won honorable mention.

* * *

A canvass of the last class graduated from Wellesley college, which has been conducted by a number of students, indicates that with each succeeding year a smaller number of graduates take up school teaching as a profession. Of 265 students who were graduated last June with bachelor of arts degrees, only 44 report that they have taken up school teaching. Nearly an equal number have returned to their homes without taking up any vocation, while a larger number of the 1910 graduates have entered other professions. Of the 44 who have taken up teaching as their life work, 27 are high school teachers, 15 are teaching in private institutions, one is a normal school teacher and one is teaching in a grade school. The occupations taken up by other graduates range from stenography to social service work and apple raising.

* * *

There is a movement in Norwood for a new High school.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST SOCIAL.

A large number enjoyed the monthly church social of the Wollaston Baptist church Wednesday evening when James Burns, passenger agent of the Cunard line delivered an illustrated lecture upon "The history and development of the Cunard line and "A trip abroad."

Kendall F. Harriman introduced Mr. Burns who in a very interesting and informal manner told of this famous line of vessels that for three quarters of a century have carried passengers and mail across the Atlantic without the sacrifice of one human Leing through negligence.

On July 4, 1840 the Brittania, a wooden steamship that you would hardly care to go to Boston Light in left London with British mails via Halifax for Boston arriving at this latter port in 14 days and 8 hours. The Mauretania, one of the modern ships of this line has cut down the trans-Atlantic passage to 4 days, 10 hours and 51 minutes which in the language of Mr. Burns is "going some."

Where the first steamships of the Cunard company were wooden steamers of 1,000 tons and carrying but 100 passengers the modern "floating hotels" of the line are 33,000 ton ships with a capacity of 3,000 passengers.

Mr. Burns described Dickens' suite on his passage to the United States where no accommodation in the ship was even made for his hat, this article of the worthy gentleman's playing tag with his boots at every roll of the ship. In comparison the speaker cast upon the screen a large number of views showing the commodious equipment for comfort and convenience on an ocean passage at the present day.

The speaker dwelt at length upon the elaborate precautions taken for absolute safety mentioning the wireless, submarine signas, drills of all kinds, water doors and the careful selection of the ships' officers and crews.

The program closed with the singing of the national anthem while the final view cast on the screen was a symbolic picture of Brittania and America joining "hands across the sea."

Refreshments were served by the ladies and a social hour was enjoyed by those present.

—A number of well known citizens in Chelsea have united in an association for the purpose of taking some Christmas cheer into the homes of many families which would otherwise be somewhat cheerless. Funds are to be raised with which to buy Christmas dinners for the deserving persons whose names will be given to the committee. It is a commendable spirit which actuates men to lead in such a worthy movement.

☞ The Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens is running serially in the Ledger. It is illustrated with Yuletide decorations by Will Jones and will be an attractive feature of the Ledger Christmas season. Don't miss the opening chapter today. Read it to the children who dearly love Tiny Tim. It is an old story but ever new and worth reading.

☞ Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

NORFOLK COUNTY VOTE

Commissioner Stone Reelected 20,048 to 23

The official count of the vote for Norfolk county officials at the State election was completed on Wednesday by Judge James H. Flint of the Norfolk probate court and John D. Cobb, register of probate of Norfolk county, official tabulators.

Commissioner Silas C. Stone of Sharon, who had no opposing candidate, received 20,048 votes. The right to vote for some one else by writing in the name of the desired party was exercised by 23 voters.

The vote for two special commissioners showed the following result: Fred L. Fisher of Norwood 13,835; Henry A. Whitney of Bellingham 12,017 and George F. Maxwell of Brookline 10,063.

WILD WOOING.

There are many ways of going a wooing. It is the custom of the aboriginal Australian to start out with the predetermined purpose of capturing a wife much as he would on a hunting excursion. He wanders about until he finds a maiden whom he thinks will suit his special requirements, and then he steals up behind her, knocks her down and takes her home on his shoulder.

When a young Eskimo boy has killed his first polar bear unaided, and thus given proof that he is capable of providing for a family, he sets forth at night to get a wife. The first girl he can catch unawares he grasps and attempts to carry her off to his hut. The object of his violeat affection screams and scratches and bites until she frees herself, when she immediately takes to her heels.

The young wife seeker starts in pursuit, and when he comes up with his quarry again more scratches and biting follow, and usually the girl again succeeds in freeing herself. If the suitor again overtakes the maiden she becomes reconciled to her fate and willingly accompanies the young Eskimo to his home as his wife.

SLOW.

Mr. Roosevelt, talking to a correspondent in Knoxville, said of a defeated politician:

"He was a hard man to down. He was, perhaps, a little dense. Like the tenderfoot, you know, at the Texas ball.

"A tenderfoot, after a few whiskies, visited a ball to which he had not been invited. Of course, the master of ceremonies thrust him quickly out.

"But the tenderfoot went back, whereupon the floor manager kicked him down stairs.

"Again the tenderfoot returned, and now the entertainment committee, rising as one man, threw him from the second story window.

"The tenderfoot, after coming to, rose and limped slowly to his room at the hotel.

"'I know what it means,' he muttered to himself. 'Those people don't want me at that ball.'"

Practical Help.

"Mister," whined the mendicant with the wooden leg, "can't you help a poor old sailor wot has had his leg bitten off by a shark?"

"Dear me!" exclaimed the kind hearted professor. "I believe I can, my poor man. Come around to the college."

After hobbling along for ten blocks the professor led the way through an iron gate and up to his study.

"Here you are, my poor man. Now, don't say I never gave you anything."

The beggar almost toppled over with astonishment.

"W-what's that, sir?"

"Why, that's my latest book on 'Sharks and Their Ways.' If you have that book with you when you fall overboard next time you won't lose the other leg. You'll know just how to dodge them. Good day."—Chicago News.

"Sir," said the indignant citizen, "I found a fishworm in my hydrant this morning." "I'm very sorry," replied the complaint clerk, "that we cannot afford to supply you with fish, but at the present low rate for water the best we can do is to furnish bait."—Boston Sunday Post.

Don't you ever be in doubt
Happiness we'll win,
When the melon's goin' out
Possum's comin' in!
—Whitsett (Ga.) Courier.

Prepared.

Milly—Do you think widowers make good husbands? Billy—Sure. They know what's coming to them.—New York Times.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CHARTER GRANTED

For a New Council, Knights of Columbus

A largely attended and pleasing entertainment was held at St. Mary's hall Wednesday evening by the building committee of the proposed new council of the Knights of Columbus to be instituted at West Quincy. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the announcement that a charter had been granted to the petitioners. The entertainment included selections from popular operas by Miss Ruth and Miss Theresa Keating; readings by Miss Mildred A. Benningham; tenor solos by Joseph Morrissette, specialties by Dingan and Mack, the well known minstrel favorites, vocal selections by Charles E. and Albert L. Miller; baritone solos by Joseph Ecker; specialties by Fred McDonald; bag punching by "Billy" Weston and company and piano solos by James Ecker and John Mahon.

MAPLE LODGE ELECTION.

At the regular meeting of Maple Lodge, K. and L. of H., 313, held Wednesday evening at Electa hall, the following officers were elected to serve one year:

P. P.—A. H. Taber.
P.—Miss Nellie M. Cate.
Vice P.—Mrs. Sarah C. Williams.
Sec.—E. B. Langley.
Fin. Sec.—Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.
Treas.—Mrs. Alberta Hewson.
Chap.—Mrs. Emma Marnock.
Guide—Mrs. Christina Tirrell.
Inside Guide—Dexter N. Royce.
Outside Guide—Clarence Royce.
Pianist—Mrs. Effie L. Rhines.
Trustees—E. B. Langley, M. A. Langley and Mrs. Rose A. Reed.
Rep. to Grand Lodge—Mrs. Rose A. Reed.
Alternate—Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman.

After the close of the business of the lodge, whist was enjoyed to the number of 12 tables and was financially successful.

The installation will take place in January and the next whist will be held on Dec. 21st.

How They Fight Fire In Turkey.

This is the method of fighting fire in Turkey. In the center of Constantinople a high watchtower has been erected. When the man in the tower sees a blaze the alarm is sounded and the firemen are called to their posts. If they have horses they proceed very leisurely to hitch them to the engines or carts and trot to the fire, but in most cases they have no horses, and the men drag the engines through the streets at a walk. They do not hurry to attach the hose to the hydrant. The captain first finds the owner of the building that is in danger of destruction and finds out how much he will pay to have the fire put out. If the blaze is beyond control the captain approaches the owners of surrounding property and bargains with them for their protection, and of course they pay him liberally.—New York Post.

Ouida Out of Sorts.

Ouida in a decidedly pessimistic mood appears in Lady Dorothy Nevill's reminiscences. In 1887 Ouida sent to Lady Dorothy a card bearing the following "jubilee epitaph:"

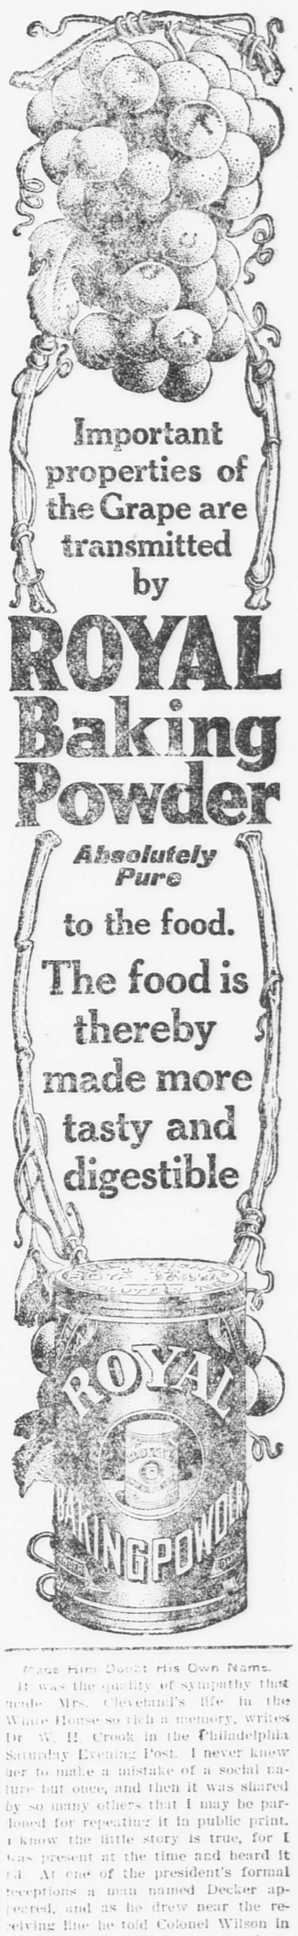
Full half a century of measures small,
Weak wits, weak words, weak wars, and that is all.

It is amazing that Ouida could even for a moment have lapsed into such dull snappishness. Lady Dorothy's ascription of the foolish couplet to "feelings of depression" is doubtless just.—New York Tribune.

Friction Matches.

Friction matches are a comparatively modern invention. They were first made by John Walker in England in 1827, but were rather crude affairs. He improved them somewhat in 1833 by using phosphorus. The first really practical friction match was made in the United States in 1836 by L. C. Allen of Springfield, Mass. Before this time a clumsy form of match was imported from France, which had to be dipped into a bottle of sulphuric acid before it could be lighted. This took a great deal of time and trouble, and Allen, seeing the necessity for friction matches, set about to make them and succeeded. He neglected to patent them, however, and on finally applying for letters patent found that a man named Alonzo Phillips, who was a peddler, had discovered through a third person the secret of making the matches and had already obtained a patent. Thus Allen, though the real inventor, was forced to become a mere manufacturer under another man's patent.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"Have a cigarette?"
"That's illegal in this state."
"Suppose we start a game of cribbage."
"Hardly worth while. That's illegal in the next state."—Washington Herald.



Made Him Doubt His Own Name.

It was the quality of sympathy that made Mrs. Cleveland's life in the White House so rich a memory, writes Dr. W. H. Crook in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post. I never knew her to make a mistake of a social nature but once, and then it was shared by so many others that I may be pardoned for repeating it in public print. I know the little story is true, for I was present at the time and heard it all. At one of the president's formal receptions a man named Decker appeared, and as he drew near the receiving line he told Colonel Wilson in confidence that his name was such an easy one it could not be mistaken or mispronounced, whereupon Colonel Wilson presented him.

"Happy to meet you, Mr. Cracker," said the president.

"Happy to meet you, Mr. Baker," said Mrs. Cleveland.

"Mr. Sacker," murmured Miss Bayard doubtfully.

"Happy to meet you, Mr. Black," Mrs. Whitney remarked with confidence.

It is said that a few minutes later Mr. Decker was seen looking at one of his visiting cards to see what his name really was.

The Gentle Tip.

Mr. Caurte—Will you tell your sister that I will call this evening, Tommy?

Tommy—If you like. But you're more like to find her in if you come unexpectedly.—New York Journal.

Tommy—I only wisht I was pres'dent of the tin trust.

His Mother—Why, what would you do?

Tommy—I'd make all the pie and cake pans bigger.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

THE PERFECT WAY

Scores of Quincy Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache,
There is only one way to cure it.
The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.
A bad back means sick kidneys.
Neglect it, urinary troubles follow.
Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.
Are endorsed by Quincy people.

W. Charlesworth, 33 Cranch Street, Quincy, Mass., says. "About five years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. I had pains in my back which were very severe at times and cold or damp weather aggravated my suffering. I knew that my kidneys were at fault and used everything I could think of in an effort to obtain relief, but to no avail. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, I finally decided to give them a trial and procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. Before I had finished the contents of two boxes, the backache was a thing of the past and I felt better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 930

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

QUEEN LOUISE
FLOUR
90c A BAG AT
JOHNSON BROTHERS

STORAGE
FOR
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 278-3. Residence 323-X.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photograph with description for free report. Free book, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. If you or some lawyer is not in touch with the Patent Office, write us. 719 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

ARRESTED AT ALTAR

Would-Be Bridegroom Is Held on Charge of Abduction

New York, Dec. 8.—Guiseppi Marino, 22 years old, and Pauline Mastriano, 17 years old, are locked up, Marino on a charge of abduction, while his sweetheart is held on the complaint of her mother, who charges her with being incorrigible.

The couple entered the vestry of the Church of Madonna del Sufragio, and two detectives followed them in and started to question them. Guiseppi showed a marriage license and said they had come to be married, and the detectives, not having the authority to prevent a legal ceremony, told them to go ahead.

Father Opici led them to the altar rail. But he had some questions to ask in accordance with the ritual of the Catholic church. Opici noticed some hesitation on Mariano's part and finally extracted a confession that he had already a wife and a child in Italy. Marino and the girl were at once arrested.

REJECTS AID OF LAWYER

St. Louis Man Charged With Murder Conducts His Own Case

St. Louis, Dec. 8.—Rejecting the aid of the lawyer appointed to defend him, Austin Greaves, a carpenter, questioned witnesses and made motions and objections in court in his trial for the killing of his neighbor, Alfred H. Hunter.

Greaves heaped the table with notes, taking down every question and answer of the witnesses. In cross examination, he spoke of himself in the third person.

Once, when a witness told of the shooting, Greaves interrupted him to say: "You have stated several inaccuracies. You know you are under oath in a murder trial and you ought to realize the awful consequence if you lie."

MAJORITY REPORT CLEARS BALLINGER

Minority Declares Him Untrue to Trust Reposed In Him

Washington, Dec. 8.—Congress was presented with three reports from the members of the joint committee to investigate the merits of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. The majority report finds that Secretary Ballinger is not an enemy of reasonable and judicious quality of service and that no ground has been shown justifying opinion that he is not a faithful and efficient public officer.

The Democratic report declares that Ballinger "has not been true to the trust reposed in him as secretary of the interior; that he is not deserving of public confidence and that he should be requested by the proper authority to resign his office as secretary of the interior."

A third report, submitted by Representative Madison of Kansas, is practically in accordance with that of the minority members.

Congress is now confronted with the problem of what disposition to make of the three reports.

ABDUL MUST DISGORGE

Sum of $4,500,000 Is Recovered by the Turkish Government

Leipsic, Dec. 8.—The suit instituted by the representative of the Turkish government against the Reichbank at Berlin to compel that institution to surrender $4,500,000 which it has on deposit to the credit of the deposed Sultan Abdul Hamid, was decided by the imperial supreme court in favor of the Turkish government, which means that Abdul Hamid must disgorge.

The Young Turks, when Abdul Hamid disgorged an amount of money and jewels estimated at $75,000,000, also secured an order for the $4,500,000 in the German bank. But when they attempted to draw the money, the Reichbank refused to give it up. The Turkish government then entered suit.

ADMITS $44,000 THEFT

Former Teller of New York Bank Is Remanded For Sentence

New York, Dec. 8.—A $44,000 theft from the Thirty-third street branch of the Greenwich National bank was revealed when Walter A. Hall, a former paying teller, surrendered to District Attorney Whitman on an indictment charging him with grand larceny of that amount.

Hall was immediately taken before Judge Crain in the court of general session and pleaded guilty. He was remanded for sentence.

Knight Gets Fee of $95,000

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Judge Cutting, in the probate court, allowed Clarence A. Knight $95,000 attorney's fees for his services as counsellor for the estate of the late Charles T. Yerkes and for Louis Owsley, its executor. He had asked $250,000.

The Weather

Almanac, Friday, Dec. 9.
Sun rises—7:10; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—12:01 a. m.
High water—4:15 a. m.; 4:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; moderate west winds.

AGAINST HOME RULE

William O'Brien, M. P., Who Is Fighting Redmond's Measure

O'BRIEN WINS IN CORK

Healy Also Elected After Terrific Struggle With the Redmondites

London, Dec. 8.—William O'Brien, leader of the "All for Ireland" party, was returned to parliament from Cork. O'Brien and William Redmond waged a terrific struggle at the polls for leadership of the community.

O'Brien's majority was 1160. His party won both seats in Cork City, Healy defeating Roche by 5269 to 4743.

SKIPPER THE LAST TO LEAVE HIS SHIP

Sailor Lost In Wreck of Schooner Off Edgartown

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Dec. 8.—Captain Antonio Silva, who was taken from the wreck of his fishing schooner Olive May after he had been clinging to the rigging for three hours, arrived at Edgartown last night on the schooner Kingston, the crew of which had effected his rescue at the hazard of their own lives.

Captain Silva was the last man to leave the Olive May after she ran aground on Martha's Vineyard, one of the crew, Manuel Peters, having been washed overboard and drowned and the four others making their escape in a dory and being picked up by a fishing schooner.

The captain was almost exhausted when help arrived. He was prevented by the heavy seas from getting away with the others.

STOLEN BOYS RETURNED

No Ransom Was Paid to Kidnappers In Either Case

New York, Dec. 8.—Two little kidnapped boys were mysteriously returned to their homes yesterday and in neither case was the ransom paid.

Three-year-old Carlo Colliotto, who disappeared from his home in Williamsburg ten days ago, was found shivering in the hallway of his house. Oddly enough no demands were made for ransom, and the child could give no clear statement of where he had been.

Ten-year-old Peter Cirincion, who was kidnapped from his home in Union Hill, N. J., in October, was found by his father at the Brooklyn bridge, where the kidnapper telephoned that the boy was waiting. Demands for ransom were refused.

WAS DROWNED IN 1854

Suit to Recover Money Left by Sea Captain Is Just Begun

New York, Dec. 8.—Since 1854, when Captain John Coyle went down with his ship off Newfoundland, $15,000 which he had on deposit in a bank in Jersey City has remained there piling up interest, because the heirs of the skipper were unknown.

Suit to recover the money was started yesterday by a lawyer in behalf of two Cincinnati men thought to be nephews of Coyle.

Gas Kills Three Italians

Boston, Dec. 8.—Luigi di Russo, who was overcome by gas with three others in a room of a lodging house last Sunday, died yesterday afternoon. He is the third man to succumb. The only other one who remains alive now is Antonio Gennaro. His name is still on the dangerous list at a hospital.

TROLLEY MEN GO OUT

Discharge of Six Men Brings Trouble on Connecticut Valley Road

Northampton, Mass., Dec. 8.—All the conductors and motormen employed by the Connecticut Valley Street Railway company, which operates lines between here and Greenfield and through Hadley to Amherst, went on strike last night and the lines are tied up.

A few days ago six men were discharged by Superintendent Clapp, it is claimed, for joining a recently formed union. Yesterday two employes, also members of the union, called upon the superintendent and asked that the six men be taken back.

The two employes were immediately discharged. The order to strike followed as soon as the word could be sent to the men. About eighty conductors and motormen are employed on the lines, and practically all of these immediately went out.

QUAIL AND CHAMPAGNE

Thirty-Two Nights' Diet Wins Wager of $700 For Chicago Man

Chicago, Dec. 8.—George Razakles ate the last bite of a broiled quail, sipped the last quart of champagne, pushed back his chair and then smiled a $700 smile as he gazed about at other diners at a down town restaurant last night.

Razakles had gone through this same program for thirty-one nights preceding. The accomplishment of his thirty-second meal of quail and wine in an equal number of nights made him the winner of a $700 wager.

"Now I will bet $1000 that I can eat thirty-two more quail in the next thirty-two nights," Razackles said.

"You couldn't bet with me on any proposition," said the proprietor of the restaurant, at whose expense the quail and wine were served.

SIMPLE SERVICES AT EDDY FUNERAL

Body of Noted Woman Placed In a Receiving Vault

Boston, Dec. 8.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary G. B. Eddy was held this morning at her home in Chestnut Hill. The services were strictly private, and all were requested to refrain from sending flowers.

The services were conducted by Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and consisted of prayer and reading from "Science and Health," the textbook of the Christian Science faith. There was no music, vocal or instrumental. Immediately after the services the body was taken to Cambridge and placed in the receiving tomb in Mount Auburn cemetery.

Three lots of ground have been purchased on the north side of Halcyon lake at Mount Auburn as the site of the mausoleum to be erected. Near Halcyon lake repose the remains of men and women who were famous in their lifetime.

George W. Glover, son of Mrs. Eddy, arrived in Boston yesterday from Lead, S. D, to attend the funeral of his mother. He was accompanied by his son, George W., Jr., his daughter, Miss Mary B. Glover, and his private secretary, John C. Ryan.

LONG A SCHOOL TEACHER

Death of Commander of Bay State Department of Grand Army

Stoneham, Mass., Dec. 8.—J. W. Brown, department commander of the Massachusetts G. A. R., for over forty-six years a teacher in the schools of Greater Boston, died of heart disease at his home here, aged 71 years.

The deceased had been ill for several weeks and his death was expected. He was a widower and is survived by five children, two sons and three daughters. His children were present at his death bed. He was one of the best known Civil war veterans in the country and achieved fame as a writer of reminiscences of war times.

PUPILS DROPPING OFF

Two Thousand Less Than a Year Ago In Boston Schools

Boston, Dec. 8.—The number of pupils enrolled in the public schools of Boston this year shows a relative decrease of about 2000 from last year, according to the report of Superintendent Brooks, just submitted to the school board. On Oct. 31, 1909, the membership in the schools was 101,681.

During the previous five years the average membership in the public schools had showed an increase each year of about 2000 pupils.

French Women May Vote

Paris, Dec. 8.—A committee of the chamber of deputies has favorably reported a bill conferring upon women the right to vote for city, communal and departmental councillors and making them eligible for these offices.

Battle Near In Honduras

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Dec. 8.—In anticipation of a revolutionary attack this city is entrenched and heavily garrisoned with government troops.

FATHER CHANGED HIS MIND.

Reverses His Decision with Respect to a Certain Lot of Puppies.

"Why not, papa?" the little boys asked. Papa turned irritably in his chair.

"Because I say not!" he snapped. This reason was not at all satisfactory. The boys took counsel behind the stable and decided it was unfair. Oh, how badly they wanted those four puppies!

Arthur Wheelan owned them and would give them away. He had already given away two and had just four left—beautiful little things, of course not full-blooded fox terriers, but just as good even if two of them did have curly hair.

"Let's get 'em anyway," said little Oscar. "He'll forget about tellin' us not to when he sees 'em."

"We could keep 'em in the old cow stall," suggested his brother. "Nobody ever goes in there but us."

Thus it came to pass that Arthur Wheelan sighing with relief, for he hated to drown puppies, packed the fat little ratlike things in a pasteboard box with holes punched in it and cheerfully delivered them over.

"You want to feed them warm milk for about two weeks," he said, "and feed 'em often."

That night little Oscar poked little Willoughby in the ribs.

"Get up," he said. "Listen to the pups." From the barn came direful whimperings, and the boys hurriedly pulled on some clothes.

"Get some matches," whispered Willoughby. "We'll burn 'em under a tin thing full of milk. We can milk a little bit from old Gracie."

Half an hour later papa sat up in bed. A flash of light from the barn had fallen across his eyes. Then it died away. Softly he descended the stairs and crept toward the barn. From within he heard curious sounds.

"Stand still, cow," commanded a young voice; "do you want them pups to die?"

"Light another match now an' hold it under the pan."

"Just listen to 'em lickin' it up. We got to do this every night for two weeks." Then papa tiptoed back to his room, and lying in his bed he smiled a queer smile.

"I can't let 'em burn down the barn," he said to himself in explanation of his thoughts.

At the breakfast table he looked about at his two sons. Both were painfully polite ,and their hair was slicked most rigidly.

"Boys," he said, "I found some puppies in the stable—back in the old stall. I wish you'd give 'em some milk. Better make a box for 'em and keep 'em on the back porch." From the corner of his eye he saw a queer look exchanged by the boys, but he kept eating.

"Do you s'pose he knew?" asked little Willoughby as they transferred their whimpering treasures.

"There ain't no way of knowin'," said his brother. "But he's all right. We'll let him feed 'em—some of the time."—Galveston News.

RURAL SYMPATHY.

The rural free delivery reaches its flower of perfection in Vermont.

"Mr. Carrier," said a lady who was summering among the mountains, "I have a letter, received several days ago, saying a package had been forwarded to me by mail. I have not received it yet. Have you seen anything of it?"

"A package?" asked the rural free deliverer.

"Yes, sir." A small package—a box, in fact—covered with paper, containing some of my property."

"A small box; pasteboard, probably?"

"Yes."

"Let me see," pondered the rural free deliverer. A package? Oh, yes. I guess that was your package I delivered to Mrs. Brown down in the foothills a few days ago. She hadn't had any mail for a long time, and I kind of felt sorry for her."

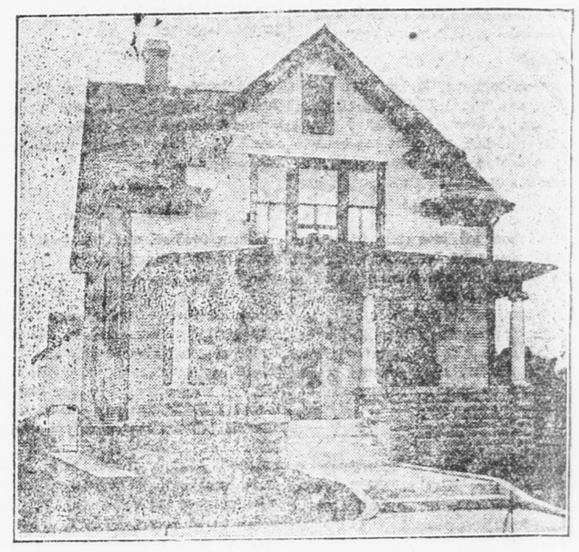
—So much has been said regarding the practise of mortgaging the home and borrowing money for the purchase of automobiles that the Horseless Age undertook to ascertain how accurate such statements were. Accordingly 24,000 inquires were sent out to bankers in all parts of the country. About 5000 responses were received, covering localties in which nearly 200,000 automobiles are in use, and of these, 1254 were bought with money raised on mortgages, and about 7000 on borrowed money without mortgage, making altogether about four and a hal per cent of the entire number of motor cars. This is a much smaller percentage than was supposed, and indicates that while some persons are willing to resort to this method for gratifying their ambition in this directon, the number is not nearly so large as has generally been under stood.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

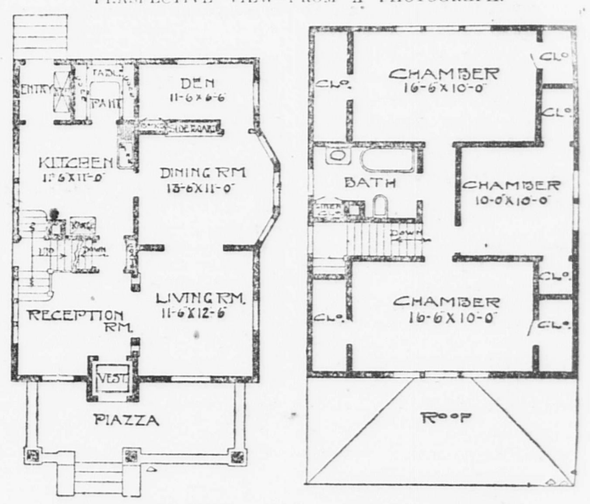
My Lungs "I have coughed and coughed until my lungs are sore and weak." Go at once to your doctor. Do not delay another hour. Ask him all about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then take it or not, as he says. J. C. Ayer Co. Lowell, Mass.

DESIRABLE SEVEN ROOM COTTAGE.

Design 838c, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.



PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.



FIRST FLOOR PLAN. SECOND FLOOR PLAN

A most desirable cottage of seven rooms, a den and a large bath. The exterior, though simple, does not lack character, but expresses in its well defined lines a real home. The floor plans speak for themselves. The second story is especially deserving of comment. There are two exceptionally large chambers and a smaller one, square, with full height ceilings, all cut on the roof being taken off by the closets, of which there are a goodly number. The bathroom is large and well arranged. Width, twenty-four and a half feet; depth, thirty-two feet. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $2,300.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete sets of plans and specifications of design No. 838c for $15.

GLENN L. SAXTON.

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

If you live at
Quincy Neck
You can get the Daily Ledger
after 3.30 P. M.
at the store of
J. S. Pierce

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People

ESTABLISHED 1889

SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU

DEPOSIT $1 To $25 Per Month

MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS

OWN YOUR HOME.

SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING

R. D. CHASE Treas

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department.
1395 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettenglil's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 348-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 2 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

As a FAMILY DAILY PAPER has no equal and is appreciated by ADVERTISERS

CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY

Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

Chapter One

MARLEY'S GHOST.

MARLEY was dead to begin with.

There is no doubt whatever about that. The register of his burial was signed by the clergyman, the clerk, the undertaker and the chief mourner. Scrooge signed it, and Scrooge's name was good upon 'change for anything he chose to put his hand to. Old Marley was as dead as a doornail.

Mind, I don't mean to say that I know of my own knowledge what there is particularly dead about a doornail. I might have been inclined myself to regard a coffin nail as the deadest piece of iron mongery in the trade. But the wisdom of our ancestors is in the simile, and my unhallowed hands shall not disturb it or the country's done for. You will therefore permit me to repeat emphatically that Marley was as dead as a doornail.

Scrooge knew he was dead? Of course he did. How could it be otherwise? Scrooge and he were partners for I don't know how many years. Scrooge was his sole executor, his sole administrator, his sole assign, his sole residuary legatee, his sole friend and sole mourner.

Scrooge never painted out old Marley's name. There it stood years afterward above the warehouse door—Scrooge & Marley. The firm was known as Scrooge & Marley. Sometimes people new to the business called Scrooge Scrooge and sometimes Marley, but he answered to both names. It was all the same to him.

Oh, but he was a tight fisted hand at the grindstone, Scrooge—a squeezing, wrenching, grasping, scraping, clutching, covetous old sinner, hard and sharp as flint, from which no steel had ever struck out generous fire; secret and self contained and solitary as an oyster. The cold within him froze his old features, nipped his pointed nose, shriveled his cheek, stiffened his gait, made his eyes red, his thin lips blue and spoke out shrewdly in his grating voice. A frosty rime was on his head and on his eyebrows and his wiry chin. He carried his own low temperature always about with him. He iced his office in the dog days and didn't thaw it one degree at Christmas.

Once upon a time—of all the good days in the year, on Christmas eve—old Scrooge sat busy in his counting house. It was cold, bleak, biting weather, foggy withal, and he could hear the people in the court outside go wheezing up and down, beating their hands upon their breasts and stamping their feet upon the pavement stones to warm them. The city clocks had only just gone 3, but it was quite dark already.

The door of Scrooge's counting house was open that he might keep his eye upon his clerk, who in a dismal little cell beyond, a sort of tank, was copying letters. Scrooge had a very small fire, but the clerk's fire was so very much smaller that it looked like one coal. But he couldn't replenish it, for Scrooge kept the coal box in his own room, and so surely as the clerk came in with the shovel the master predicted that it would be necessary for them to part, wherefore the clerk put on his white comforter and tried to warm himself at the candle, in which effort, not being a man of a strong imagination, he failed.

"A merry Christmas, uncle! God save you!" cried a cheerful voice. It was the voice of Scrooge's nephew, who came upon him so quickly that this was the first intimation he had of his approach.

"Bah!" said Scrooge. "Humbug!"

He had so heated himself with rapid walking in the fog and frost, this nephew of Scrooge's, that he was all in a glow. His face was ruddy and handsome.

"Christmas a humbug, uncle!" said Scrooge's nephew. "You don't mean that, I am sure."

"I do," said Scrooge. "Merry Christmas! What right have you to be merry? What reason have you to be merry?"

"Come, then," returned the nephew gayly. "What right have you to be dismal?"

Scrooge, having no better answer ready, on the spur of the moment said "Bah!" again and followed it up with "Humbug!"

"Uncle!" pleaded the nephew.

"Nephew," returned the uncle sternly, "keep Christmas in your own way and let me keep it in mine."

"Keep it?" repeated Scrooge's nephew. "But you don't keep it."

"Let me leave it alone, then," said Scrooge. "Much good may it do you! Much good it has ever done you!"

"There are many things from which I might have derived good by which I have not profited, I dare say," returned the nephew, "Christmas among the rest. But I am sure I have always thought of Christmas time when it has come round—apart from the veneration due to its sacred name and origin, if anything belonging to it can be apart from that—as a good time, a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time, the only time I know of in the long calendar of the year when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut up hearts freely and to think of people below them as if they really were fellow passengers to the grave and not another race of creatures bound on other journeys. And therefore, uncle, though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe that it has done me good and will do me good, and I say God bless it!"

The clerk in the tank involuntarily applauded. Becoming immediately sensible of the impropriety, he poked the fire and extinguished the last frail spark forever.

"Let me hear another sound from you," said Scrooge, "and you'll keep your Christmas by losing your situation."

"Don't be angry, uncle. Come; dine with us tomorrow."

Scrooge said that he would see him—Yes, indeed he did. He went the whole length of the expression and said that he would see him in that extremity first.

"But why?" cried Scrooge's nephew. "Why?"

"Good afternoon," said Scrooge.

"I am sorry with all my heart to find you so resolute. We have never had any quarrel to which I have been a party. But I have made the trial in homage to Christmas, and I'll keep my Christmas humor to the last. So a merry Christmas, uncle!"

"Good afternoon," said Scrooge.

"And a happy New Year!"

"Good afternoon," said Scrooge.

His nephew left the room without an angry word notwithstanding. He stopped at the outer door to bestow the greetings of the season on the clerk who, cold as he was, was warmer than Scrooge, for he returned them cordially.

At length the hour of shutting up the counting house arrived. With an ill will Scrooge dismounted from his stool and tacitly admitted the fact to the expectant clerk in the tank, who instantly snuffed his candle out and put on his hat.

"You'll want all day tomorrow, I suppose?" said Scrooge.

"If quite convenient, sir."

"It's not convenient," said Scrooge, "and it's not fair. If I was to stop half a crown for it you'd think yourself ill used, I'll be bound."

"A POOR EXCUSE FOR PICKING A MAN'S POCKET."

The clerk smiled faintly.

"And yet," said Scrooge, "you don't think me ill used when I pay a day's wages for no work."

The clerk observed that it was only once a year.

"A poor excuse for picking a man's pocket every 25th of December," said Scrooge, buttoning his greatcoat to the chin. "But I suppose you must have the whole day. Be here all the earlier next morning."

The clerk promised that he would, and Scrooge walked out with a growl.

Scrooge took his melancholy dinner in his usual melancholy tavern and, having read all the newspapers and beguiled the rest of the evening with his banker's book, went home to bed. He lived in chambers which had once belonged to his deceased partner.

Now, it is a fact that there was nothing at all particular about the knocker on the door except that it was very large. And then let any man explain to me if he can how it happened that Scrooge, having his key in the lock of the door, saw in the knocker without its undergoing any intermediate process or change, not a knocker, but Marley's face.

Marley's face. It was not in impenetrable shadow, as the other objects in the yard were, but had a dismal light about it, like a bad lobster in a dark cellar. It was not angry or ferocious, but looked at Scrooge as Marley used to look—with ghostly spectacles turned up upon its ghostly forehead.

As Scrooge looked fixedly at this phenomenon it was a knocker again.

To say that he was not startled or that his blood was not conscious of a terrible sensation to which it had been a stranger from infancy would be untrue. But he put his hand upon the key he had relinquished, turned it sturdily, walked in and lighted his candle.

He did pause, with a moment's irresolution, before he shut the door, and he did look cautiously behind it first as if he half expected to be terrified with the sight of Marley's pigtail sticking out into the hall. But there was nothing on the back of the door except the screws and nuts that held the knocker on, so he said "Pooh, pooh!" and closed it with a bang.

The sound resounded through the house like thunder. Every room above and every cask in the wine merchant's cellar below appeared to have a separate peal of echoes of its own. Scrooge was not a man to be frightened by echoes. He fastened the door and walked across the hall and up the stairs, slowly, too, trimming his candle as he went.

But before he shut his heavy door he walked through his rooms to see that all was right. He had just enough recollection of the face to desire to do that.

Quite satisfied, he closed his door and locked himself in, double locked himself in, which was not his custom. Thus secured against surprise, he took off his cravat, put on his dressing gown and slippers and his night cap and sat down before the fire to take his gruel.

It was a very low fire indeed, nothing on such a bitter night. He was obliged to sit close to it and brood over it before he could extract the least sensation of warmth from such a handful of fuel. The fireplace was an old one built by some Dutch merchant long ago and paved all round with quaint Dutch tiles, designed to illustrate the Scriptures. There were Cains and Abels, Pharaoh's daughters, queens of Sheba, angelic messengers descending through the air on clouds like feather beds, Abrahams, Belshazzars, apostles putting off to sea in butter boats, hundreds of figures to attract his thoughts, and yet that face of Marley, seven years dead, came like the ancient prophet's rod and swallowed up the whole.

"Humbug!" said Scrooge and walked across the room.

After several turns he sat down again. As he threw his head back in the chair his glance happened to rest upon a bell, a disused bell, that hung in the room and communicated for some purpose now forgotten with a chamber in the highest story of the building. It was with great astonishment and with a strange, inexplicable dread that as he looked he saw this bell begin to swing. It swung so softly in the outset that it scarcely made a sound, but soon it rang out loudly, and so did every bell in the house.

This might have lasted half a minute or a minute, but it seemed an hour. The bells ceased as they had begun—together. They were succeeded by a clanking noise deep down below, as if some person were dragging a heavy chain over the casks in the wine merchant's cellar.

The cellar door flew open with a booming sound, and then he heard the noise much louder on the floors below, then coming up the stairs, then coming straight toward his door.

"It's humbug still," said Scrooge. "I won't believe it."

His color changed, though, when without a pause it came on through the heavy door and passed into the room before his eyes.

The same face, the very same—Marley in his pigtail, usual waistcoat, tights and boots, the tassels on the latter bristling like his pigtail and his coat skirts and the hair upon his head. The chain he drew was clasped about his middle. It was long and wound about him like a tail, and it was made (for Scrooge observed it closely) of cash boxes, keys, padlocks, ledgers, deeds and heavy purses wrought in steel. His body was transparent, so that Scrooge, observing him and looking through his waistcoat, could see the two buttons on his coat behind.

AGAIN THE SPECTER WRUNG ITS SHADOWY HANDS.

"How now?" said Scrooge, caustic and cold as ever. "What do you want with me?"

"Much." Marley's voice, no doubt about it.

"Who are you?"

"Ask me who I was."

"Who were you, then?" said Scrooge, raising his voice. "You're particular—for a shade." He was going to say "to a shade," but substituted this as more appropriate.

"In life I was your partner, Jacob Marley."

"Can you—can you sit down?" asked Scrooge, looking doubtfully at him.

"I can."

"Do it, then."

The ghost sat down on the opposite side of the fireplace as if he were quite used to it.

"You don't believe in me," observed the ghost.

"I don't," said Scrooge.

(To be Continued.)

—With Great Britain, France and Belgium agreed on penny postage, it behooves all nations to fall in line and give the letter writer a chance to double his correspondence.—Christian Science Monitor.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Ice Cream Cake. One-half cup butter, two cups granulated sugar, one cup milk, three cups sifted pastry flour, four level teaspoonful baking powder, beaten whites of three eggs, vanila. Mix in the order given. Frosting—Two tablespoonfuls boiling water add enough confectioners sugar to spread. Flavor with vanilla.

Banana Sandwiches. Remove the skin and fibers from four bananas, cut them in quarters and force through a ricer. Mix with the pulp the juice of half a lemon, a dash of salt and nutmeg, and set it away to become very cold while you prepare the bread. This should be cut in very thin slices, freed from crust and trimmed into any preferred shape. Slightly sweeten some thick cream and add a speck of salt. Spread the bread with a thin layer of the cream, then with the banana pulp; put together and wrap each in waxed paper; twist the ends and keep very cold until serving time. Mary J. Lincoln.

Nut cakes. One pound of nut kerneis, one pound sugar, whites of six eggs beaten to a stiff froth, two tablespoonfuls flour. Mix nuts, sugar and flour together, and fold in the beaten whites of egg, drop on greased paper and bake a light brown.

Chocolate Cake. Cook one cup of sugar, one-half cup of milk, one-half cup of grated chocolate and the beaten yolk of one egg together until smooth. When done add a teaspoon of vanilla and cool. Beat one-half cup of batter to a cream, add one cup of sugar slowly and beat smooth. Add two beaten eggs, one-half cup of milk, two cups of flour in which two-thirds teaspoon of soda has been sifted and when well beaten add the cool chocolate mixture. Bake in four layers and put together with a white boiled icing. Gene Weld.

Raisin Fudge. Put into a saucepan one heaped tablespoon butter, melt and add one-half cup milk, two cups sugar, one-fourth cup molasses, and two squares chocolate grated. Boil until it is waxy, when dropped into cold water. Remove from fire, beat until creamy, then add one-half cup each of chopped raisins and pecans. Pour into a buttered tin and when cool mark into squares.

Cake Filling From Watermelon Preserves. Drain the syrup from a pint of the watermelon preserves, add one cupful of sugar and boil until it threads. Chop the preserves fine, add to the syrup, take from the fire, beat until partially cooled and spread between layers of any kind of cake.

AN OFFER OF CEMETERY LOTS.

"In the midst of life we are in death, I know," said Mr. Glimmerton, "and yet it does jog me a little to get this circular from a cemetery offering lots for sale.

"We know we've got to go soon. Building lots we might have some use for; but burial lots! Well, we don't expect to be buried right away.

"At the same time here is a proposition to sell me a burial plot at a moderate price and on favorable terms. I might want it some day; most people do have need for such a place sooner or later. Several hundred people in New York die every week; all have to be buried somewhere. I wonder sometimes where they all are buried.

"Big as the cemeteries are you'd think that by this time they must be pretty nearly filled, so that it would be impossible to buy a good plot in them at a moderate price. And that in fact is just what this circular that I'm speaking about of the new cemetery, sets forth.

"It comes to me this morning by mail along with the letters and with the circulars about soaps and coffee and millinery and that sort of thing, all quite in the usual way, and though it is quite different from all these it is businesslike and straight forward throughout.

"It does give me a little jolt because it offers me an opportunity to buy a place to be buried in. And yet I really don't know why it shouldn't do that, and I guess I shall have to think it over, take the proposition under consideration. May be I shall not buy a lot right away because I don't really expect to die soon; don't you know how it is always the other fellow we think is going to die and not ourselves? But I like the way the proposition is put and I shall keep this cemetery in mind.

"We don't buy cemetery lots as we do soap and coffee and millinery, but we've all got to have one some time."—New York Sun.

—There is something startling in the Cable from China, that that "heathen" Nation has presented a monster petition to the British Government to abolish the treaty which enables the "Christian" Nation to force opium upon her weaker sister, and still farther, the aroused China is calling for all other nations to join in this petition.—Universalist Leader.

Under the Orator's Spell.

Justice Brewer was once speaking of the oratory of John B. Gough. "I would go home after hearing his eloquence thoroughly elated, but when my father or mother asked me what Gough had said I could not tell them for the life of me. I remember once at a Yale commencement along in the fifties, about the time that I was graduated there, an incident illustrating the force of personal magnetism. Gough was to deliver an oration. He spoke, of course, on temperance. There was a distinguished audience. On the stage were many of the venerable, notable men in New Haven of that day. A large space was clear about the table, for Gough liked to walk back and forth as he talked. He described how a drunkard had beaten his wife and came to his climax with, 'Any man who would kick a woman ought to be kicked out of the universe!'

"He emphasized his words with a vigorous thrust of one foot, whereat every person on the stage, intensely wrought up by the orator, likewise kicked outward as did Gough."—Kansas City Journal.

A Sickly Diary.

"Look here, old chap, I'll give you a valuable tip," said the experienced married man to the prospective bridegroom. "Don't let your wife keep a diary on the honeymoon. My wife did that, and now whenever we quarrel she brings it out and reads some of the idiotic things I said to her then."

"Did you get any of that bargain ribbon?"

"Yes," answered the athletic girl proudly, "I bucked the line for seventeen yards."—Washington Herald.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Crescent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abdefghi	5 41	5 47	lhgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 41	6 15	lhgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 35	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 51
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 48	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedcba	9 57 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	lhgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 47 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 55	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	lhgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefghi	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 47	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 38 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	defcba	5 58 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	6 15 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	cdba	6 40 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 21 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 58
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 58 r
r 7 30	ae	7 45
r 8 05	abcdef	8 30	9 20	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 20	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	lhgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 45	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	lhgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	11 15	lhgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 50	12 45	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	lhgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	lhgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	lhgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	lhgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 47	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	lhgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 50
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 58	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 58	9 30	lhgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 01 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.02, 1.09, 2.02, 3.00, 4.09, 5.01, 6.05, 7.00, 9.00, 11.20 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.31, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.55, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M. 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

R. D. CHASE QUINCY MASS. MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CARE OF PROPERTY INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCING TRUSTS

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 6.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.25, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days.

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset, 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days.

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days. Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY, Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON, Division Superintendent.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	33 degrees
December 8, 1909,	42 degrees
December 8, 1908,	42 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	12 years, 67
December Noon Minimum..	13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Gifts
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.—Christmas Goods
Nathan Ames—Stevens Fire Arms

BRIEFS

William M. Chase of Wollaston Park has been called to Philadelphia by the death of his brother who has been ill for some time.

Mrs. Ryan, a nurse employed by a family on Payne street, fell down the cellar stairs last night, fracturing her collar bone. She was removed to the City Hospital.

Thanks to the Daily Ledger, says a City Square merchant, Christmas trade has started unusually early this year. The holiday edition of the Daily Ledger had a circulation of over 7,000.

J. Willard Brown, the Department Commander of the Grand Army, died of heart failure on Wednesday at Stoneham. He was a guest and speaker of Paul Revere Post at its anniversary a few months ago.

The funeral of Mrs. James H. Webb was held Wednesday afternoon from her late home on Washington street. The services which were of a simple nature were conducted by Dr. Edwin N. Hardy. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

Percy Wendell of Harvard will be at the Parish house of Christ church tonight to talk to the fellows interested in the game of football. He will tell his experiences in the Harvard-Yale game and other contest of the season just past.

Lawrence W. Lyons the newly appointed clerk of the district court was showered with hearty congratulations this morning both by members of the bar and by police officers and reporters on his appointment, all of which were modestly received. The appointment has to lay over until next week before being confirmed by the Executive Council. There is but little question but what he will be confirmed.

—Red Cross Seals will not carry any kind of mail, but any kind of mail will carry them.

☞ The Christmas Carol by Charles Dickens is running serially in the Ledger. It is illustrated with Yuletide decorations by Will Jones and will be an attractive feature of the Ledger Christmas season. Don't miss the opening chapter today. Read it to the children who dearly love Tiny Tim. It is an old story but ever new and worth reading.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

BIRTHS

PALTZER—In Quincy, Dec. 3, a son to Mr. Benjamin B. and Mrs. Helen K. Baltzer of Merrymount road.

MARRIAGES

DAHLBOM—BENSON — In Quincy, Dec. 7, by Rev. A. P. Hanson, Mr. Charles J. Dahlbom to Miss Ida Benson both of Quincy.

DEATHS

PACKARD—In Quincy, Dec. 8, Captain Edwin Packard, in his 86th year. Funeral services from residence of his son, Captain James E. Packard, 43 Billings street, Saturday, Dec. 10 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 8-2t

BUCKLEY—In Norfolk Downs, Dec. 7, Mr. Phineas Buckley of Flynt street, aged 66 years, 11 months and 17 days.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

TWO RECOUNTS WANTED

Both are in Ward Two, the Quincy Point Ward

Papers asking for a recount of the votes cast at the Municipal election in Ward Two has been taken out by William A. Carey and Michael F. Corbett.

Mr. Carey was a candidate for School Committee and was defeated by Arthur B. Foster by 5 votes.

Mr. Corbett was a candidate for Councilman and received 287 votes The nearest candidates elected was Elward P. Histen, who received 296 votes, so that there were but 9 votes between the two candidates.

Experience in past years has shown the election officers in Quincy to have been unusually accurate in their returns, and but little if any change is looked for in the figures as returned by the election officers.

HOUGHS NECK SOCIAL.

A seven-cent social and entertainment was held Wednesday evening at the Union chapel Houghs Neck. Seven cents was the price of admission, and the numerous useful and fancy articles with which the tables were laden were marked at 7 cents. Some of them were great bargains, and as a rule they sold like hot cakes.

PIONEER AT NORFOLK DOWNS.

In the death of Phineas Buckley, which occurred early Wednesday morning at his residence on Flint street, Norfolk Downs, Quincy loses another of its veterans of the Civil war. Mr. Buckley was one of the pioneers of Norfolk Downs, coming to Quincy at the opening of that section as a residential ward. He has been an influential citizen of Whitinsville, Mass., for many years, connected with the Machine Co., of that place. By reason of impaired health he withdrew from the activities of business about eighteen years ago and established himself in his new home at Norfolk Downs. In Whitinsville he was commander of the local post of the G. A. R. in which he retained membership until his death. He served during the war as a member of Co. U, 1st Massachusetts Heavy Artillery. The funeral services will be held at his late residence on Flint street on Saturday next at 9 o'clock after which the body will be taken to Whitinsville for interment where the commitment service will be held by the Masonic lodge and the G. A. R. post.

CAPT. EDWIN PACKARD.

Capt. Edwin Packard, one of Quincy's oldest residents, passed away this morning at the home of his son James E. Packard, of 43 Billings street. Mr. Packard, who was 86 years of age, was born in Quincy, and has always made this city his home. During his younger days he was captain of a stone sloop to many years. His death was due to old age. He leaves one son.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says Frank Fessenden Crane of Quincy, has procured a hearing for Dec. 12 before the rivers and harbors committee on the project to improve Weymouth Fore river, which the army engineers have advised against. Admiral Bowles of the Fore River works will appear at the same time. An appeal has been made to Senator Lodge to cause an amendment to that effect to be incorporated in this winter's river and harbor bill.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. A. Russell Newcomb desires to thank all her kind friends and neighbors for the floral tributes and messages of sympathy sent to her in her recent bereavement in the death of her husband. Dec. 8-1t—10-1wP

PETITION.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled. The undersigned, citizens of Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham in said Commonwealth, respectfully petition for legislation to provide for repairing, and altering the Weymouth Fore River Bridge in and over the tide waters of Weymouth Fore River in the Counties of Norfolk and Plymouth and Commonwealth aforesaid.

WM. T. SHEA,
EDWARD W. HUNT
WALTER W. HERSEY,
Bridge Commissioners or Trustees of said bridge.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Office of the Secretary
Boston, Dec. 7, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.
Dec. 8-2t 8, 15, 19

SERENADED BY DRUM CORPS

Marriage of C. J. Dahlbom and Miss Ida Benson

Mr. Charles J. Dahlbom and Miss Ida Benson, two well known and popular Quincy young people, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the groom, 17 Quarry street. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was performed by Rev. A. P. Hanson of the Swedish Baptist church.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Lindquest, while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Henry H. Dahlbom.

The bride looked charming in a pale blue silk and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a white crepe de chine and carried pink pinks.

The reception followed which was attended by the relatives and many of the friends of the bridal couple. Many valuable gifts were received. While the reception was in progress the Quincy Fife and Drum corp, of which the groom is a member, appeared on the scene and serenaded the couple closing their selections with three cheers long and loud.

After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Dahlbom will reside in a new home on Cranch street where they will be at home after January first.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening drew out a goodly number of the members, and nine tables participated in the tournament. As usual the contest was a keen one. The two highest scores were made by James E. Neary and Nathan Ames. It was a very close contest between these two for first position, and it was nearly a shake up. Mr. Neary won 28 points and lost 18, while Mr. Ames won 27 points and lost 18. Figured out in percentage, Mr. Neary had 67.85 per cent, and Mr. Ames 67.29. There were several others who secured over 50 per cent. The usual lunch was served after the tournament.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael Liasky was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy.

A Great Trade Secret.

As every one knows, the process of manufacturing the paper of which Bank of England notes are made is one of the greatest of all trade secrets. It is known only to the governor of the Bank of England and to three other persons intimately connected with the industry, which is carried on at Overton, a quiet little village in Hants. All that the outside world is allowed to know concerning this precious paper is that it is made, among other ingredients, out of charred husks and Rhenish vines.

Quite as profound a secret is the manufacture of both the paper and the ink used for American banknotes. The former has the double advantage of not being a secret preparation, but one that only "takes" one particular kind of ink, which is quite unique, the American government paying the manufacturer, who alone possesses the secret, the sum of $50,000 a year for making it.—Pearson's Weekly.

How Did He Know?

Joe, the fat boy in the "Pickwick Papers," spent most of his time in slumber. He was happier that way. Probably there are a good many other people in the world a good deal like Joe, but most of them do not get the chance for sleep that he had. This scrap of conversation, recently overheard, would seem to indicate that, although this is a nervous age, the desire for sleep is not wholly dead.

"I don't feel well," remarked Smith as he took off his coat in the office, preparatory to sitting down at his desk. "The trouble with me is that I haven't slept as I should. I don't feel well unless I've slept."

"That's the same way with me," remarked his partner. "In fact, I think I feel best of all when I'm sound asleep."—Youth's Companion.

The First Oyster Eater.

The gluttonous Vitellius is reported to have eaten 1,000 oysters at a sitting. "He was a very valiant man who first ventured on eating of oysters," King James was wont to declare, a sentiment echoed by the poet Gay:

The man had sure a palate covered o'er
With brass or steel that on the rocky shore
First broke the oozy oyster's pearly coat
And risked the living morsel down his throat.

Trying to Help.

Hotel Clerk (to rural guest closing front entrance)—Hey, there! What are you trying to do? Uncle Eben—Don't git excited, young fellow! I jes' thought, seeing as how I was prob'ly the last one in tonight, I'd do the right thing and lock the doors 'fore going to bed!—Puck.

WHO FOR PRESIDENT

Looks Like Ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant

Now that the smoke of election is over, the question is being asked, who for president of the City Council? It was talked some weeks ago that Councilman Branch had been slated for that office, but developments Wednesday make it almost certain that Councilman Charles M. Bryant will be the one chosen. It will be nothing new for Mr. Bryant as he has already served in that capacity. He is a thorough parliamentarian and his rulings are given with a snap that cause councilmen to sit up and take notice. Those who attended Council meetings of other years when he was President will recall that there was no time wasted and no midnight sessions; that the members were not allowed to wander from the question and that business was pushed through with dispatch.

PLAYHOUSE DESTROYED.

The alarm from box 152 at 4.50 Wednesday afternoon was for a fire in a small building on Jordan street Norfolk Downs, that had originally been built for a hen house, but was being used by some boys as a club house. The boys had a stove in the house to keep warm and it was from this stove that the fire started. The building was completly destroyed. The loss will not exceed $15.

Two Can Play.

"Waiter," called the irate diner, "there seems to be a dollar on this bill I can't account for."

"Oh, that's just a joke, sir," apologized the waiter, "just a bet the cashier and I have. I'll have it fixed right away, sir."

"What do you mean about a bet?" asked the diner, detaining him.

"Well, sir, I bet the cashier 50 cents you would see the mistake, and he bet you wouldn't, so I win, sir."

"Suppose I hadn't noticed it?"

"Then I have got the dollar, sir."

"Oh, I see. Give me your pencil." And he wrote a few lines on the back of the bill, folded it up and handed it to the waiter. "Take that to the cashier."

The waiter leaned over the cashier's shoulder as he unfolded the paper. It read:

"I'll bet you $5 that when you send this back you don't find me."

And they didn't.—Lippincott's.

The Kidnaped Brides.

In the year 1902, according to old custom, all the brides for the year at Venice assembled on St. Mary's eve at the cathedral, taking with them their dowries in small chests. There they awaited their bridegrooms, who followed them, and after mass they were married and received the bishop's blessing. In this year the sea rovers of Triest burst in upon the expectant maidens, who were all dressed in white, with hair loosely flowing and interwoven with threads of gold, carried them off to their barks and hoisted sail. The doge of Venice summoned his men to arms, pursued the rovers, overtook them in a creek still known as the Port of the Damsels and brought the brides back in triumph. In memory of this event a solemn procession of twelve young women took place yearly, and the Marian games were observed with great splendor until the year 1379, when they were discontinued in a time of disastrous war.

"Have you explained the germ system to your children? Everything should be on a practical basis these days." "No," replied the old fashioned citizen. "It seems inconsistent to tell 'em not to believe in fairies and then try to get 'em to believe in microbes."—Kansas City Journal.

Her sweet face fell;
Her heart was nigh,
And, with a veil,
He caught her eye.
—Houston Chronicle.

Matter of Intelligence.

Mrs. Suburbs—John, did you call at the intelligence office today to inquire about a maid of all work? Suburbs—Yes, my dear. Mrs. Suburbs—Couldn't you find one? Suburbs—Oh, yes; I found a dozen, but they were all too intelligent to come out to this place.—Chicago News.

No Necessity.

Perdida (at the candy pulling)—Where do we wash our hands? Myrtilla—Oh, we don't have to do that. Pulling the candy makes them beautifully white and clean.—Chicago Tribune.

A three-year-old little girl was taught to close her evening prayer, during the temporary absence of her father, with, "And please watch over my papa." It sounded very sweet, but the mother's amazement may be imagined when the child added, "And you'd better keep an eye on mamma, too."

WHO WILL WEAR KETCHEL'S TITLE?

Five Candidates In Field For Middleweight Championship.

BILLY PAPKE HAS CLAIMED IT

Man Who Once Beat the Late Title Holder Says Honors Should Be His. Langford, if He Could Make Weight, Would Do.

Who is the logical successor to Stanley Ketchel as the middleweight champion of the world? With an array of men who can make 158 pounds and others who are hovering around that mark claiming the right to the honor it will probably require some fighting to settle the question for all. The array of men who have a right to be considered, or at least who are forcing themselves to the front, reads something like this: Billy Papke, Sam Langford, Frank Klaus, Billy McGoorty, Hugo Kelly and very possibly Jack (Twin) Sullivan, although Jack should be a discarded quantity.

Suffice it to say that in the above list there is but one man capable of making a champion anywhere near the worth of Ketchel, and there is grave question as to whether the one in point can make the middleweight limit.

THREE CLAIMANTS OF STANLEY KETCHEL'S OLD TITLE.

This fellow is Sam Langford, the Boston negro, who for some months has been claiming a proprietary interest in the middleweight title, but at the same time has been fighting heavyweights. There is nothing else than the word of Joe Woodman, manager of the negro, that Langford can make 158 pounds, and Woodman has never been explicit on that point. Rather he has dodged the issue when it has come squarely before him until the most of us have reached the conclusion that Sam is a bona fide heavyweight or at least in the light heavyweight division.

Eliminating Langford from the list on account of his weight, Billy Papke must be placed at the top, although, in view of the disgraceful bout with Joe Thomas not so many months ago in San Francisco, it is more than is due Papke. Of all the middleweights who have fought Ketchel, Papke, although an in and outer of the most pronounced type, has made the best showing. Once he practically knocked Ketchel out, and on the occasion of their last meeting, although the decision was given to Ketchel, the verdict was far from pleasing.

Hugo Kelly has been beaten by both Ketchel and Papke, and Jack (Twin) Sullivan is not to be considered. Frank Klaus perhaps has some rights in the argument, chiefly because of the frequent statements made by Ketchel that Klaus gave him one of the hardest fights in his career.

Sizing it all up, the public would be as well satisfied to see a bout between Papke and Klaus and stand by the result as announcing a champion. This isn't going to suit the bombastic Mr. Papke, who has started to claiming in faroff Australia long before this, but he can't have that title without doing some fighting for it.

Remembering also the more than passive condition of the boxing game at the present time, it is likely that a number of months will lapse before the question is settled definitely, as in none of the states is there any disposition to put on long bouts.

Golf Meeting In Chicago.

For the first time in the history of the United States Golf association it is to have its annual meeting in Chicago. The meeting will be held Jan. 14 and will be followed by the Western Golf association's meeting Jan. 21.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

Why the American Came Home.

Reporter—What are the leading questions on the continent?

Returned Tourist—Whether the Abruzzi-Elkins wedding will take place and how many rumors of King Menelik's death will occur before the old man croaks.

A Good Bluff.

He was young and had just graduated from law school. His resources were exhausted, but he bravely swung forth his shingle and waited. But no clients stopped on that side of the street. His office rent was due, and his clothes were becoming shiny, but he went to his office with a regularity that would indicate a thriving practice. He was deep in an imaginary case, and when the authorities were all noted and arguments prepared he started forth downtown and thrashed the mayor's son, whom he met in the street. The act aroused the righteous indignation of the townsmen, and he faced an angry court. But in his testimony he was able to include a sharp attack on the mayor and his administration. He quoted law from Lycurgus and Solon and gave them the page, number and chapter every time. The case was continued and sent up to a higher court. At last it reached the supreme bench, and the young man made the most of his opportunity to show his ability as a lawyer. He lost the case and paid his fine cheerfully, for he had established for himself a practice which assured his future.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

President Johnson's Impeachment.

The house impeached President Johnson on Nov. 25, 1867, charging him with having removed Secretary of War Stanton in direct violation of the tenure of office act, with having appointed General Thomas contrary to the same act, with conspiracy with General Thomas and others for the intimidation of Secretary Stanton and the unlawful disbursement of the war department's money and with inducing General Emory, commanding the department of Washington, to disobey orders.

The house adopted the resolution of impeachment by a vote of 126 to 42. After the trial of the case before the senate the vote for impeachment there stood 35 to 19, thus being short of the necessary two-thirds. The senate adjourned sine die, however, without voting on some of the primary articles embraced in the charges against the president. Thereupon the chief justice of the United States court entered a verdict of acquittal on the record.—New York Times.

Earliest Theater.

What was probably one of the earliest theaters built was the theater of Dionysus, which was begun five centuries before Christ. The seating capacity of this remarkable building is said to have been 30,000, nearly four times that of our largest amusement palace. The theater of Dionysus was erected when Greek art and literature were in their prime. Here were presented to appreciative spectators the wonderful works of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides.

A Serious Joke.

"What has happened to Mr. White, who used to be such a joker?"

"Well, he proposed to his present wife as a joke. She accepted him, and he has given up making jokes ever since."—Dorfbarbier.

Receiving.

Mr. Closecoyne (during his wife's reception)—She gives 'em lights, she gives 'em music, she gives 'em food, flowers, champagne, and that's what she calls receiving.—London Tit-Bits.

"It's simply awful when city policemen are cruel to animals."

"Now what's the trouble, Miranda?"

"Nearly every day we read about some big, burly policeman who has been pinching some poor, defenseless blind tiger."—Youngstown Telegram.

WANTED

WANTED — Demonstrators and agents. Men or women. Whole or part time with guaranteed salary. Experience unnecessary. Apply at once to H. B. Smith, General Delivery, Quincy. Dec. 8-1t

WANTED—An experienced girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Whitney road. Quincy, Dec. 6-tf

WANTED—By first class cook, place to accommodate or nursing. Good reference. L. M. Flynn, City Employment Bureau, 1533 Hancock St. Tel. 485-2. Dec. 6-3t.

TO LET

TO LET—Suite of 7 large rooms in in new house, near car line. All modern improvements. 11 West Elm Avenue, Wollaston Park. Dec. 6-3t

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent $13. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor. 15 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 3-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-6t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between F. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Made Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.1. Ha. market 2100

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 286 | QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 9, 1910 | PRICE TWO CENTS

ONE VOTER IN FOUR PAYS PROPERTY TAX

Only 1,838 Poll Taxpayers Are Assessed for Property in the City

The Total Number of Persons Assessed is 15,682

Quincy has 15,862 taxpayers out of a population of 32,642, almost one in every two—men, women and children.

Of these, however, 7,748 are assessed for a "poll only," leaving 7,934 who are assessed on property.

Again the number of polls assessed was 9,586, and as 7,748 pay a poll only, it is evident that only 1,838 poll taxpayers have property.

Probably all these 1,838 are not voters, yet Quincy had on the voting lists at the City election this week 6,059 voters. These are rather startling figures as they show that only one voter in four has taxable property.

However the number of property taxpayers increased 319 in the year. The increase in resident property taxpayers was 177, and in non-resident 142.

Reference has already been made to the valuation figures of the city which were reported at $32,456,380, an increase of $2,644,815 in a year.

The buildings are assessed for more than the land. The increase in new building was $735,200.00 and the increase in value of land $255,800.00.

The number of dwelling houses is 6,353, more than one for each of the 6,059 voters of the city.

Quincy has less horses and less cows than a year ago.

The number of acres of land assessed in the city is 6,689.

The "Assessors Aggregates" of 1910 are compared below with those of 1909 and afford an interesting study:

	1909.	1910.
Residents assessed on property,	5,217	5,394
Individuals,	4,392	4,591
All others,	825	803
Non residents assessed on property,	2,398	2,540
Individuals,	2,069	2,249
All others,	329	291
Assessed on property,	7,615	7,934
Assessed on polls only,	—	7,748
Total number assessed,	—	15,682
Value assessed personal estate,	$5,813,040	$7,466,855
Excluding resident bank stock,	$5,568,175	$7,218,325
Resident bank stock,	$244,865	$248,530
Value assessed real estate,	$23,998,525	$24,989,525
Buildings exclusive of land,	$13,262,675	$13,997,875
Land excluding buildings,	$10,735,850	$10,991,650
Total Valuation assessed estate,	$29,811,565	$32,456,380
Tax for state, county and City,	$629,985.88	$668,299.60
On personal estate,	$118,585.97	$149,337.10
On real estate,	$489,569.91	$499,770.50
On polls,	$18,830.00	$19,172.00
Tax rate,	$20.40	$20.00
Horses,	1,156	1,073
Cows,	739	709
Neat cattle,	10	13
Swine,	12	66
Dwelling Houses,	6,021	6,353
Acres of land assessed,	—	6,689
Number of polcs,	9,415	9,586

A report of the Boston Assessors recently showed 195,938 polls assessed and 176,288 for poll only, so that only 19,650 of the poll taxpayers have property. The number of persons assessed on property is 66,551. Boston land is assessed higher than the buildings, the former at $672,106,200, and the latter at $446,882,900. The number of assessed acres in Boston is 17,192. The number of horses is 15,833, showing a loss of 667 in one year. There was also a loss in cows.

It is a singular fact that Boston has less dwellings than last year, the total in 1910 being 68,590, while thetotal in 1909 was 69,000..

MAIL YOUR PRESENTS EARLY AND SAVE THE POSTMAN FROM THIS AT CHRISTMAS TIME.

—From Chicago Record-Herald.

NEW STAFF WORK DEGREE

Knights of Malta Taking New Interest in Order

John Adams Commandery, K. of M., raised a number of companions to the second degree of the order Thursday evening at Greenleaf hall, and never before in the history of the commandery was that degree worked in such splendid form. Owing to its length and complicated nature it is one of the hardest degrees of Malta.

Sir Knight Commander William Walker proved beyond a doubt his ability to take the leading part. Companion Walker is the second highest officer of the Commandery and has risen to the front very fast. He is also a past president of the Sons of St. George, and has recently been re-elected president for the third term of the Galahad Brotherhood. He is an active member of the young men's club of Christ church and takes an active part in the social and religious affairs of that church.

Companion Faulkner Prelate rendered his part in a masterly fashion; also companion Oscar Barron, the generalissimo, won the applause of the whole commandery by his promptness. Companion Alexander Alison, senior warden came in for his share of congratulations for the able manner in which he conducted the floor work.

This is a new degree staff that has recently been formed for the working of what is commonly known as the Ancient Hospitaller degree, and requires sixteen men on the staff.

Some important business was transacted after the work. The commandery ceased labors at a late hour. A collation was served at the close.

FUNERAL OF D. E. CAMERON.

The funeral of Daniel E. Cameron, the popular granite manufacturer, who died suddenly on Sunday, was held Thursday afternoon from his late residence on Bennington street. The services were largely attened, delegations being present from the Granite Manufacturers' association, Clan McGregor O. S. C., and Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes, as did also the men employed at his granite yard. The services were conducted by Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector of Christ church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Joseph R. Harris, of 70 Coddington street, died at the Massachusetts General Hospital this morning. Mr. Harris went to the hospital to undergo an operation on his throat for cancer. The operation was performed Thursday night and his death followed. Mr. Harris was about 55 years of age. He came to Quincy a number of years ago from Canton and has been employed about stables as a driver for many years, his last employment being with H. E. Emerson. He leaves a family.

NEW MONUMENTS.

The design and location of three more monuments dedicated to the memory of heroes of American history which will adorn the national capital —Commodore John Barry, John Paul Jones and Christopher Columbus— were approved by congressional commissions on Thursday says the Washingfon correspondent of the Golbe.

The design of sculptor John J. Bayle of New York for a statue of Commodore John Barry was accepted with conditions of modification proposed by the fine arts commission. This statue will be erected in Franklin park, and one of the conditions imposed by the commission is that it shall be similar in type to the Rochambeau statue in Lafayette park.

The statue of John Paul Jones, designed by Charles H. Niehaus of New York, will stand in Potomac park.

A Christopher Columbus fountain, the general scheme for which was designed by Burnham & Co. of Chicago, and the sculptural parts including a life sized statue of Columbus, by Carade Taft of Chicago, a cousin of the President, was approved. The fountain will be erected on the plaza in front of the Union station.

DRUGGIST INDICTED

Charged with Manslaughter for Death of Child

The Norfolk grand jury reported Thursday, returning 23 true bills, 5 secret indictments, and one no bill.

One of the most important indictments was that against Paul J. Brown, the Norfolk Dowas druggist, charging him with manslaughter on May 16, through the alleged causing of the death of Ruth Kelly, through carelessly and negligently putting up the wrong prescription. The case was originally heard at Quincy, and after the inquest Brown was held for the grand jury.

Other Quincy indictments were:

Louis A. Parks charged with attempt to burn the Hardwick polishing mill at Quincy.

William J. Mullin, Frank Finn, William F. Conway and Abraham Foss breaking and entering the store of Payson-Mitchell Co. at Quincy.

Joseph M. Cutter of Milton was also indicted for arson.

S. B. LITTLE REELECTED

Annual Meeting of West Quincy Improvement Association

The annual meeting of the West Quincy Improvement Association was held Thursday evening at their hall in St. Jean block. These officers were elected:

President—Stephen B Little.

Vice Presidents—John Evans, Alphonse LeClair and John Casey.

Secretary—Joseph McPherson.

Treasurer—Michael Monihan.

Advisory committee—John D. Smith, Frank Dufour, Charles J. McGilvray, Cornelius Crowley, Maurice Cohen, William Doneher, W. F. Lakin, John F. Burke, William Martell, Robert Newcomb, John F. Walsh, L. Caravaglie, T. Willard Burke, William Reaulieu and Edward J. Sandberg.

Membership committee — Joseph Walker, Charles LeClair, Dr. John H. Ash, James F. Burke and Thomas Cahill.

Auditors—Robert J. Teasdale, Alphonse LeClair, George F. Elcock.

Press Committee—James H. Elcock.

The report of the treasurer for the year showed the membership of the association to be 100. That all bills had been paid and that there was a good balance in the treasury.

There was some little discussion on local affairs, but the election of officers took up the greater part of the evening.

The banquet committee will meet next Monday evening, after which the president will call a meeting of the association to take action on their report.

The association is to be congratulated on the election of James H. Elcock as the press committee. Mr. Elcock readily recognizes the immense amount of good that can come to the association by keeping in touch with the local press, and on the other hand the reporters readily recognize that in Mr. Elcock they have one who will furnish them with an accurate account of anything of interest that transpires in the association meetings.

—Twelve barrels of condemned catsup, have been dumped into Boston harbor. If there are any oyster beds nearby, we many get oyster cocktails readymade.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

"A RICE PUDDING"

The Attraction at Second Night of Colonial Fair

The attendance at the second night of the Colonial fair under the auspices of the Dorcas society at the Universalist church vestry on Thursday evening was very large, standing room being at a premium. The entertainment was given by the dramatic club connected with the Universalist church at Weymouth, who presented the two-act comedy "A Rice Pudding."

The cast was:

John Richards — Lyman C. Williams
Dr. Thwaite, a young physician — Franklin P. Whitten
Mrs. Richards, young wife of Richards — F. Adelaide McCarthy
Marion, younger sister of Richards — Alice M. Nash
Ellen O'Shaugnessy, a cook — Carrie S. Robinson

All of the characters were taken exceptionally well, and the various situations created considerable laughter.

The various sales tables were well patronizad, both before and after the entertainment, and when the fair closed the "Sold out" sign could well have been displayed at most of them.

DECEMBER PERMITS

Houses Are Built at All Times Of Year Now

Although it is December, Inspector of Buildings, Warren S. Parker has issued the following building permits:

E. J. Rogers for dwelling on Heron road.

E. H. Sears, dwelling on Kemper street.

N. G. Nickerson, dwelling, Wollaston avenue.

James H. Sumner, cottage Agawan street.

Felix Favorite, dwelling Belmont street.

Mrs. Thomas Fenno, dwelling Ellington road.

Frank Epple, cottage Palmer street.

Charles E. Olson, dwelling Roselin avenue.

George A. Mayo dwelling Glenwood way.

F. W. Crane, dwelling Washington street.

Peter W. Mottla, dwelling Washington street.

A. G. Youngquist, dwelling Beach street.

N. G. Nickerson, dwelling Phillip street.

Patrick V. O'Leary, cottage Manet avenue.

John A. Hennessy cottage Turner street.

James H. Broughton, dwelling Greenwood avenue.

Clement B. Nash, cottage Poplar street.

—Every seal a Bullet in the Fight Against Tuberculosis.

Quincy Historical Society

LECTURE BY

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.

"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."

Illustrated by Lantern Photographs

Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore

At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.

Wednesday, December 14, 1910,

at 8 o'clock P. M.

Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.

EMERY L. CRANE,
Dec. 7 6t

POSSIBLY ANOTHER BIG SHIPYARD

May Locate in This City Near Plant of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company

Large Area North of Bent's Creek Has Been Bonded

There has been much speculation as to what new industry is seeking a location at Quincy Point. It is well known that during the past few weeks agents have been buying all the property possible on the South side of Washington street, between the street and Bent's creek. Much of the property has already been acquired, and the same agents are seeking options on that not already purchased.

The parties making the purchases do not give out what is coming, and there are many rumors in relation to the same. Some claim it is for the proposed new cotton mill, but it is generally understood that the location secured for that industry is on the Town river side of Washington street.

The latest rumor in regard to what is coming, is that it is the New York Ship Building Co. The Fore River Shipbuilding Co. and the New York Co. are closely allied. They worked together in securing the two battleships of the Argentina navy, and an officer of the New York Co., has an office in the new office building at the Fore River Company, and as the two companies have much in common it would be desirable to have them located near each other.

One of the stories is that the two companies are to be consolidated, and that the plan is to locate the immense plant at Quincy Point where the shore front facilities are unsurpassed. With the immense plant occupying both sides of what is known as Bent's creek, which could be connected by a bridge, the two plants could be operated under one head at a much less expense than separately. Both these companies have recently been equipped with wireless apparatus, so that they can much more readily communicate with each other.

The atlas of the City of Quincy published in 1907 by E. W. Branch, C. E., shows the owners of the water front from the Quincy Point bridge to East Howard street on Bent's creek to be:

Heirs of Cyrus Patch, 51,675 square feet in two parcels.

The Fore River Shipbuilding Company about 10 acres, extending from the Patch property to the estate of Frederick H. Smith, and along Washington street from the estate of Ellen F. Fisher to the estate of Nellie F. N. Meade.

Frederick H. Smith, over 6 acres extending from Bent's creek to Washington street.

William H. Baxter, on estate of nearly 8 acres.

Fore River Shipbuilding Company 1 and 33-100 acres, mostly marsh.

(Continued on Page 2.)

R. E. FOY & CO.

Goods of FIRST Quality

We do not sell goods of second quality and do not cater for trade that seeks second qualities in the food line.

Our purpose is not to see how cheap we can sell, but how good we can maintain quality.

Every need for the table will be found here; everything in Poultry, Meat, Butter, Cheese, Fresh Eggs, etc. Here you will find all the well-known brands of Tea, Coffee, Jams, Jellies, and Canned Goods bearing names of the best growers and packers in the United States.

Won't you give us a trial order and let us prove it?

FOR SATURDAY

TENDER HOME CHICKENS 25 cts lb

Hind Quarters Spring Lamb 15 cts lb

Pure Lard	lb--14c	New Rolled Oats	10 lbs 31c
Best Potatoes, bushel	75c	Graham Flour	5 lb bag 18c

3 Pkgs. Seeded Raisins 25 cts

Condensed Milk	can 10c	Bridal Bell Peas	2 cans 25c
Pine State Corn	can 10c	Triscuit	pkg 10c

Large New Cal. Prunes 2 lbs 25 cts

Wheat Germ Meat	pkg 14c	Red Lily Raspberries	can 18c
Equal Lunch Biscuit	pkg 25c	Gran. Corn Meal	5 lb 15c

GROCERY FOY MARKET

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 9-10

Phone 117 or 153

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 809 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

None of the fifteen cities voting on Tuesday cast a smaller "Yes" vote on the License question than did Quincy. This speaks well for the City of Presidents, which also had the honor of casting the largest "No" majority. The only cities to cast a larger vote against license were Fall River, Brockton and Springfield, all large cities.

MAINE'S LOBSTER LAW

To Be Tested by Owner of Boston Smack Whose Cargo Was Seized

Portland, Me., Dec. 9.—Maine lobster laws are to be tested as a result of the seizure of nearly 1000 "short" lobsters by fish wardens in this harbor when they boarded the Boston lobster smack C. B. Harrington, which had been driven into the harbor by stress of weather. The lobsters, while of illegal length in Maine waters, would be legal for sale in Massachusetts.

Isaac Harvey, owner of the smack, has engaged counsel to fight the case. He claims that as the state law under which the action was taken provides that vessels officered and owned by non-residents can be seized and held to pay the fine, the law is unconstitutional from the fact that it discriminates between residents and non-residents, imposing upon non-residents a burden that it does not impose on residents of the state.

HIT BY EIGHT STORMS

Starving Crew of Bark Make a Meal Off the Ship's Cat

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—Buffeted by far out of her course and once given for out of her course and once given up for lost, the bark Matanzas, from Brunswick, Me., arrived at this port and cast anchor of South Camden.

Three times the staunch vessel was almost within sight of the Delaware Capes, but twice she was driven far to the southeast by gales. Three times, also, the bark was forced to hail passing steamers for food.

Once provisions ran so low that the ship's cat was butchered and eaten as a dainty morsel by the crew of eleven.

The heavy seas showed little of their effect on the craft. Several sails had been lost and one anchor, but otherwise the sturdy vessel survived the gales in good shape. It was the crew that suffered most.

SMILE ON ME, MOLLY.

Samuel Minturn Peck.

Won't you smile on me, Molly?
Though oft for me you've wept,
Sooth, every fault that grieved you—
I've mourned it when you slept.
My only, lonely virtue
Is but a love most true,
A love that wildly sprang to birth
With just a smile from you.
So won't you smile on me, Molly?
Do, Love—do!

Won't you smile on me, Molly?
I'm neither good nor wise;
Yet with each loving look, Dear,
I feel my courage rise
Like sunlight to the flowers—
Before your face I knew
I wonder how I lived at all
Without a smile from you.
So won't you smile on me, Molly?
Do, Love—do!

—The inexperienced visitor to New York City who enters by the new Pennsylvania station might be excused if he took a tour through the mazes of the mammoth railroad terminal and then boarded his train for home, firm in the belief that he had seen New York. Such is the gigantic nature of the new building, which covers space that was formerly occupied by five hundred buildings. The Pennsylvania railroad never does things by halves. —Barre, Vt., Times.

☞Comforters and Blankets. A choice assortment at popular prices, Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

ANOTHER SHIPYARD

(Continued from Page 1.)

Heirs of George Bent 26,000 square feet mostly marsh.

Joseph M. Roberts an estate of 3,150 square feet with house.

All the property along the southerly side of Bent's creek is owned by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company.

Along the southerly side of Washington street from the Quincy Point bridge is property owned by: Heirs of Cyrus Patch, Frank S. Patch, Frederick H. Smith, heirs of Isaiah G. Whiton, Peter B. Mead, Ellen F. Fisher, Fore River Shipbuilding Company, Nellie F. N. Meade, John H. Dinegan, Frederick H. Smith, Rachel E. Hersey, Mark L. Read, William H. Deacon, and Ella M. Freeman.

Along the easterly side of South street is property of Ella M. Freeman, Doras C. Higgin, Sarah A. Hall, Mark L. Read, Emma B. Tilton, Jonathan Hayden, Carrie J. Crane, George E. Bailey, William H. Baxter, Benjamin F. Hodgkinson, Charles O. Hayden, James A. Hayden, heirs of George Bent, heirs of Margaret Newcomb and James A. Pratt; also estate of Nash avenue owned by Alice Swarts, Thomas A. Gavin, John Gilmore, W. E. Burke, Myra A. Young, Nelson L. Young Edward Billings and Eva K. Harting.

Whatever is contemplated at Quincy Point, the announcement will be awaited with interest.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The South Quincy Extension club met in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

The College club met in the Association building Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for an annual banquet. Among the after-dinner speakers they expect to get the captains elect of the big New England college teams.

The Wollaston club met on Thursday evening with a large attendance.

The Lowell Intermediates will meet the local Intermediates, and the Union A. C. will meet the Quincy second team, Saturday afternoon, for games of basketball.

The Quincy Employed Boys will go to Lowell with Mr. Gumb, and play the Employed Boys of the Lowell association on Saturday.

H. W. Gibson, boys' secretary of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, will speak to the grammar school boys at the Saturday morning meeting. A large number will surely be on hand to hear what he has to say. His subject will be "Chums."

The first and second basket ball teams will play teams from the Newton Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening in the local building.

The Bible Study classes met Thurstheday evening at 7.15. Secretary Gay had the older young men and Mr. La Rose the High school boys. Mr. Gay's class is taking up the study of "The social teachings of Jesus." Mr. LaRose will lead his class in the study of "Life Problems."

MATRIMONIAL AGENCY.

The Young Men's Christian Association has a wide field for its activities and includes many branches of work, but we have not learned until very recently that the Y. M. C. A. served as a matrimonial agency. At Ravenswood, a colony of 200 bachelors resided in perfect harmony and seclusion, until some of the fond mothers of the city arranged a supper for the young men, and had their blooming daughters prepare it and serve it. Since then there has been no peace for the benighted hermits, for the aldermen have taken the matter up and have done all they could to promote activity in the matrimonial market A series of winter dances has been arranged by the designing mothers and it is hoped that by spring the city clerk will have to order a new lot of licenses. Albert A. Norling formerly of Quincy has declared himself an eligible bachelor and the Y. M. C. A. cupid has been invited to do his worst to our former townsman. Mr. Norling is now employed by the National Biscuit company in the Chicago agency and makes his residence at the Ravenswood Y. M. C. A.

Library to Get $200,000

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 9.—The will of Stephen E. Seymour bequeaths his entire estate to the City Library association upon the death of his widow, who is allowed the use of the property during her lifetime. The estate is estimated to be worth $200,000.

The Weather

Almanac, Saturday, Dec. 10.
Sun rises—7:10; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—1:12 a. m.
High water—5:15 a. m.; 5:45 p. m.

Forecast for New England: Fair; light to moderate west winds.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

STRUCK HATTIE WITH HER FIST

How Mrs. Glover Tried to Force a Confession

THREAT TO BUY A REVOLVER

Made In Presence of Mrs. Sampson, According to Her Testimony—Six Persons, Including Miss LeBlanc's Father, Called to Testify as to Excellent Character Which She Bore In Cape Breton

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 9.—Mrs. Lillian M. Glover threatened repeatedly to buy a revolver and kill her husband, Clarence F. Glover, according to testimony by Mrs. Kate Sampson of Auburndale, half-niece of Hattie LeBlanc, at the murder trial of Hattie LeBlanc.

While the spectators listened in breathless attention the witness, in answer to further questions, swore that Mrs. Glover, in the presence of the witness, hit Hattie on the chin with her fist in order to make Hattie confess to the bathroom incident.

Mrs. Sampson testified that Mrs. Glover came to her home in Auburndale in March, 1909. When Mrs. Sampson was asked to relate the conversation between herself and Mrs. Glover, the prosecution objected, but was overruled. Mrs. Sampson said:

"She (Mrs. Glover) said she had seen her man insult Hattie in the bathroom."

Q.—What was the rest of the conversation? A.—She told me she had no revolver belonging to herself, but that she would buy one and kill Glover.

Asked for further conversation at that time, Mrs. Sampson continued:

"She told me she had caught Hattie by the hair when she found her with her husband and she pulled her hair and beat her very much. She repeated three times that she had no revolver herself, but she would buy one to kill Glover. At the same time she was striking the table with her fists."

District Attorney Higgins started to cross examine the witness in English, gave it up and continued through an interpeter. Mrs. Sampson was asked if she did not testify in the Glover will case that Mrs. Glover "was touching" Hattie under the chin. Witness remembered she said Mrs. Glover "was striking her under the chin."

Mrs. Sampson said she asked Hattie if what Mrs. Glover said was true. Hattie replied: "What do you take me for? Do you think I would do a thing like that?"

Mrs. Sampson was the seventh witness called by the defense. After District Attorney Higgins had succeeded, through ruling by Judge Bond, in keeping off the witness stand himself, the defense called George W. Kyte, an attorney from West Arichat; Abram LeBlanc, Hattie's father; Rev. Joseph E. Robitaille, Hattie's old parish priest, and Captain Peter King, also of West Arichat. This quota from Hattie's girlhood home was succeeded by two revolver experts; then Mrs. Sampson came on.

George W. Kyte, a king's counsel, who has come all the way from Cape Breton, and who is a member of the Dominion parliament whose district includes West Arichat, testified that Hattie's reputation at home was excellent, so far as being peaceful, law-abiding and moral were concerned.

Much interest attached to the presence of Abram LeBlanc, Hattie's father, on the witness stand. Testifying through an interpreter, he recited the names of his twenty-three children. He related Hattie's going to work at the age of ten.

"Was she a good girl when she left West Arichat?" the father was asked. "Yes," was his answer, as translated by the interpreter.

The aged father was spared a cross examination. Rev. Father Robitaille, Hattie's parish priest at home, was asked if she was a good girl when she was in West Arichat.

Emphatic came the answer from the reverend witness: "The best girl I knew of any in my parish."

Captain Peter King was another endorser of Hattie's girlhood character. "Good: I can say nothing against her," was his reply when asked about her reputation in West Arichat.

George H. Chamberlain of the Smith & Wesson company was shown a revolver made by his concern. He said that it is "physically impossible" for a revolver, such as that, to back fire.

David R. Harvey, manager of the Iver-Johnson company of Boston, testified that the revolver on exhibition was sold by Thomas J. Coffey, salesman for the Iver-Johnson company, on March 31, 1909. Harvey identified the sales slip, which was admitted as evidence.

New Ship For Cunard Company

Liverpool, Dec. 9.—The Cunard Steamship company has placed a contract with John Brown & Co., Clyde Bank, Scotland, for the construction of a big liner for the New York service.

PRICE WILL STAY UP

Government Loses Suit Charging Conspiracy Concerning Coal

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—The United States circuit court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania decided that there is no general conspiracy among the anthracite coal carrying railroads or coal companies to restrain trade or commerce, or to monopolize the trade, but it held that the Temple Iron company is a combination of anthracite coal carrying railroads in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

It granted the prayer of the government for an injunction restraining that corporation from continuing a violation of the act.

The sum and substance is that the government wins only one of several points, that in the Temple Iron company case, and that the defendants will not be compelled to change the present prices of coal under the ruling.

"CURE" FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Woman Felt Better After Licking Gum From Red Cross Stamps

Philadelphia, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Frank Harris purchased $1 worth of Red Cross stamps at the stand in the local postoffice. She was laboring under the impression that the stamps were some sort of a cure for tuberculosis. Immediately after purchasing them she began to lick the mucilage from the backs of the 100 stamps, after which she threw them away.

The young woman in charge of the federal building booth couldn't understand the actions of the woman and she asked her why she threw the stamps away.

"Why," answered Mrs. Harris, "I have licked the consumption medicine from them and now they are no good. I feel better already," she explained.

HAD BUT TWO MEALS DURING EIGHT DAYS

Woman Who Was Chained to Wall Is Sent to Hospital

Boston, Dec. 9.—J. H. Taylor, the negro whose white wife was found chained to a wall of the room where the couple lived on Middlesex street, was held on four counts for a continued hearing in the municipal court. Bail on the four counts totalled $2300.

Taylor was charged with detaining the woman, Margaret Taylor, in a house where immorality was allowed, with assault and battery on the woman, with carrying a loaded revolver, and with having cocaine in his possession.

The woman was found chained to the wall of the room, hungry, and her body a mass of sores, by officers who entered the place to arrest Taylor for having cocaine in his possession. Taylor is alleged to have threatened the officers with the revolver, but was overpowered. The woman was sent to the City hospital. She said that she had been chained to the wall eight days, and had had but two meals during that period.

LINCOLN THE GREATEST

Far Above Other Statesmen of Nineteenth Century, Says Reid

Birmingham, Eng., Dec. 9.—Ambassador Reid, as the guest of Sir Oliver J. Lodge, principal of the University of Birmingham, delivered an address on Lincoln in which he said:

"I place him far above any other of your shining list of the makers of history in the nineteenth century—far above Bismarck, far above Gambetta or Mazzini or Prince Ito. To regard this highest and saddest statesman of the century as a mere professional wearer of cap and bells is the last indignity belittling his blood-earned laurels. He knew his Bible better than any other book. He was never a member of any church."

PASSION PLAY RECEIPTS

They Amount This Year to $426,150, Leaving Profit of $324,100

Berlin, Dec. 9.—Gross receipts from this year's Passion Play at Oberammergau are officially reported as $426,150. After defraying the cost of production and other incidental expenses $324,100 remain to be distributed, and $191,500 will be divided among 860 performers.

The men and women who played so vividly as members of the crowds in the streets of Jerusalem will receive $30 each, and the school children $7.50 each. The poor will receive $2625, and the balance, $108,750, will remain in the village treasury for communal purposes.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Every Woman Needs

the occasional help of a proper remedy if she is to retain her strength, her good looks and her health. When headache, backache, lassitude and extreme nervousness afflict you at times—and hinder your work or spoil your pleasures—do not think you must continue to endure these troubles. If your skin is sallow, you have disfiguring blemishes or other indications of a disordered condition, do not think that there is no help for you. There is. Seek

The Safe and Natural Help of a remedy—proved and tried by thousands. Beecham's Pills are vegetable, quickly effective and always beneficial. Their tonic and stimulating qualities make them of special advantage to women. All the organs show their benefit. You should not be without a box a single day. If you want the bright eye of health, good rich blood, a clear complexion and vigorous feelings—if you want to be cheerful and in good humor—try a few doses of

Beecham's Pills

Get them at any druggist, in boxes 10c., 25c. For your own good read the special directions for women in every box.

FARE THE SAME AS OTHER PRISONERS

No Special Favors to "Cattle Barons" In Nebraska Jail

Omaha, Dec. 9.—Published statements of alleged favors shown the four Nebraska "cattle barons" now serving a six months' sentence in the county jail at Hastings for vioations of the federal land laws are without foundation, acording to the report of United States District Attorney Howell of Omaha, and J. F. Fishman, special examiner, who visited the jail under orders from Attorney General Wickersham.

The prisoners are all wealthy stockmen of western Nebraska. Howell declared that in every particular the cattlemen received the same treatment and ate the same food given other prisoners in the Hastings jail.

Attorney General Wickersham ordered the investigation of published reports that four wealthy cattlemen, convicted of illegal fencing, were living in luxurious quarters and being allowed special privileges in the jail at Hastings. It had been said that the prisoners' cells were furnished lavishly and that they had employed a chef.

HUNTED "CHRISTIAN GIRL"

Chicago Hotel Page Found Him to Be a "Drummer" From Ohio

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Pages do not usually go about the Congress hotel searching for "Christian girls," but one did last evening. The object of the boy's search was found and led to the telephone to answer a call from a friend.

But the individual wanted was not a young woman of religious inclinations, as those who heard the name called expected. Even the page was not sure for whom he was searching until a tall traveling man from Cleveland approached him and said: "Looking for Christian Girl? That's me. I've been waiting for this call for an hour."

FIGHTING STILL GOING ON

Sultan and Seven Hundred of His Men Slain by French in Africa

Paris, Dec. 9.—The Sultan of Massalit and more than 700 of his followers have been slain in fierce fighting between tribesmen and French soldiers in the French protectorate in western Africa, according to official advices received from there. Among the dead are several officers.

Thirty Senegalese sharpshooters on the side of the French are among the slain. More than 1000 have been wounded. The fighting is still going on.

Lasker Is Still Chess Champion

Berlin, Dec. 9.—Emmanuel Lasker of New York retained the world's championship by defeating the challenger, Dr. Janowski of Paris, with a score of eight games to none. Three games were drawn.

French Torpedo Boat Sunk

Cherbourg, Dec. 9.—The French torpedo boat 257 was sunk by the destroyer Easopetto during the maneuvers. The imperilled crew was rescued with great difficulty.

You Can Best Afford the one soap that has most power for good. For the sake of your comfort and your complexion, come to know the always effective and inexpensive

Pears' SOAP
15c. a Cake for the Unscented

☞Mathusheck Pianos have a sweet soft tone that lasts forever. You can see them at the store of Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

AMERICAN RED CROSS · MERRY CHRISTMAS · HAPPY NEW YEAR · 1910

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

Proposals for Coal

CITY OF QUINCY

School Department, Quincy, Mass.

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until Monday, December 12 at five o'clock, P. M., receive proposals for furnishing and delivering the whole or a part of the following: 5 tons White Ash Stove, 170 Lehigh Broken, 53 Lehigh Egg, and 585 tons best grade bituminous coal.

The bidders must specify definitely the kind of bituminous coal upon which they bid. The hard coal must be of the best quality and well screened. All must be weighed under the direction of an agent of the School Committee and be delivered to the several school buildings on or before Monday, January 9, 1911, unless otherwise ordered. The bids must include the trimming of the bins.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

Address sealed proposals, distinctly marked on the outside of the envelope, "Proposals for Coal," to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.
December 5, 1910.

Dec. 5-5t

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

NEWSY MILTON BUDGET

Fair, Lecture, Red Cross Stamps, Gym Notes, Etc.

The ladies of the East Congregational church held a fair Tuesday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the church. A fine supper was served at 6 o'clock and in the evening an excellent concert was given by Caldwell's orchestra of Brockton. Mrs. Dr. Rowe of East Milton gave several readings which were greatly enjoyed by all present. The fair was very successful in spite of the storm, both in point of attendance and the amount of money that was taken in.

The reading by F. Hopkinson Smith was given in the Milton Town Hall Thursday evening before a large and appreciative audience. All were captivated by the fascinating personality of the noted author, as well as by the ease and ability with which he impersonated the characters. The reading was given for the benefit of the college fund for girls, and the proceeds will add very materially to the size of the fund.

The Thursday Evening club have planned for an open whist party to be held next Wednesday Dec. 14.

The fountain in East Milton square is being covered for the winter.

Robert J. Clarke of East Milton has gone to New York city for a short business trip.

Frank M. Richardson, carrier at the East Milton post office, who was out for a few days during the first of the week, has recovered from his sickness and is back on his route.

Those who use Red Cross stamps on their letters should be careful to put them on the back so as not to confound them with postage stamps. Foreign letters and packages are absolutely unmailable and will be returned to the sender if Red Cross stamps are placed on the address side. Caution cards to this effect have been displayed in all post offices.

The Milton Women's club have charge of the distribution of Red Cross stamps.

There was no school on Wedensday on account of the storm.

The Foxboro high school basket ball team failed to put in an appearance Wednesday. The High school team lined up against the subs and had a good practice game instead. Milton should have a strong team this year with such men as Captain "Chet" Carter, Walter McGuire, Carson, Walsh, O'Hearn, Margeson and Dan O'Connell on the squad. The teamplays Reading at the gymnasium next Wednesday.

There is no water on the skating rink yet, since they were unable to get any from the usual sources. Probably the rink will be flooded with town water in the near future.

Outdoor hockey practice has not started yet, but a number of the candidates have been practicing shooting goals in the gymnasium.

The Sophomore class of the High school hold a meeting this evening to talk over the reception to the Freshmen.

W. W. Weeks, D. D., will give a stereopticon lecture in the Baptist church, East Milton, this evening. The subject of his lecture will be "A trip through England and Scotland."

The miniature grocery store in the window of Mullin's market is attracting a great deal of attention, especially from the school children.

Box 432 was pulled at 9.05 Monday morning by some miscreant.

A very successful dance was held at Cunningham gymnasium, Wednesday evening. The Co. K orchestra from Hingham furnished the music.

A very handsome calendar was observed at Hodges drug store. Views of the observatory, the High school, the dam, the oldest house, and other objects of interest are printed on it one with each month.

Mrs. Margaret Murphy whose collarbone was fractured by an automobile at the Reedsdale road transfer station last Tuesday is reported as getting along nicely.

The boys who set fire to the Bungalow last Saturday morning will be tried in the juvenile court Quincy next week. They are on parole at present.

RECOUNTS ORDERED.

Papers were filed with the City Clerk this morning asking for a recount of the votes cast at the recent election in Ward Two for School Committee and for Ward Councilmen. The recount will be held Monday morning.

Oil Heaters to take the chill from cold rooms—$2.98 to $5.50 Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

STATE POPULATIONS.

KENTUCKY.
Population 1910..... 2,289,905
(Increase 6.6 per cent.)
Population 1900..... 2,147,174
Population 1890..... 1,858,635

MISSISSIPPI.
Population 1910..... 1,797,114
(Increase 15.8 per cent.)
Population 1900..... 1,551,270
Population 1890..... 1,289,600

NORTH CAROLINA.
Population 1910..... 2,206,287
(Increase 16.5 per cent.)
Population 1900..... 1,893,810
Population 1890..... 1,617,947

ARKANSAS.
Population 1910..... 1,574,449
(Increase 20 per cent.)
Population 1900..... 1,311,564
Population 1890..... 1,128,179

SOUTH CAROLINA.
Population 1910..... 1,515,400
(Increase 13.1 per cent.)
Population 1900..... 1,340,316
Population 1890..... 1,151,149

28 DREADNOUGHTS IN 10 YEARS IS FRENCH PLAN.

Axial Turrets of America and England Are Favored.

M. Briand's ministerial declaration contained a paragraph to the effect that the French government insisted on the necessity of voting as soon as possible the naval program laid before the chamber by the late ministry. This program proposed the immediate construction of six vessels with a displacement of 23,500 tons each and fixed the number of first class warships of less than twenty years' life that France ought to possess in 1920 at twenty-eight.

At present France possesses the Suffren and six vessels of the Patrie class, and in eighteen months she should have six Dantons in service, making thirteen in all, leaving fifteen more to be built between 1910 and 1920.

Two of these fifteen units have been authorized for laying down. They figure in the statement of new ships of 1910 under the names of the Jean Bart and the Courbet. Their cost is estimated at $13,000,000 each.

The navy commission of the chamber, over which M. Delcasse presides, has been urging the government to lay down two super-Dreadnoughts in 1911, and the navy department is occupied on plans for these two units. The disposition of the turrets is under consideration, whether they shall be axial, as in Great Britain, the United States, Russia and Italy, or along the axis and on the sides, as in France, Germany and Japan, or in echelon, as in Argentina. The navy department is understood to be in favor of the axial arrangement, with two guns to each turret.

As regards tonnage, the department had to consider whether it would follow the example of England in laying down a warship of 28,000 tons, that of Argentina with its Rivadaria, 27,500 tons, or that of America with the Wyoming, 26,000. Questions of expense—not merely of building a $20,000,000 warship, but also of the cost of enlarging ports and docks, which would mean a naval budget of $100,000,000—have decided the department not to exceed the Jean Bart's 23,000 tons.

There remains the question of the caliber of the guns. Germany is about to adopt that of 13.38 inches, which England already uses; America has a caliber of almost fourteen inches, and France therefore cannot remain satisfied with the twelve inches of the Jean Bart's guns, but will adopt the standard of England and Germany.

NATIVE SONS NOT NUMEROUS

Most Senators and Representatives Born In Other States.

How readily Americans "move" is shown by the fact that hardly two-thirds of the representatives and only about half the senators in congress were born in the states which they now serve. No member of either house from Colorado, Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas, Washington or Wyoming is a native of the state he represents. One of the senators of Indiana was born in Ohio, and so were both the senators from West Virginia. Speaker Cannon of Illinois was born in North Carolina.

Virginia is the largest state represented in both houses wholly by native sons. Delaware, Maine and Vermont are the only others on the list. Pennsylvania is represented chiefly by native Pennsylvanians, but New York, among the other states, shows an opposite tendency.

In the early history of the country men often became prominent in the politics of several states in turn. James Shields, whose figure stands in statuary hall in the capitol at Washington as the gift of Illinois, served three states in the United States senate. S. S. Cox, more familiarly known as "Sunset" Cox, represented Ohio in congress and afterward New York. George W. Jones held important offices in Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa and the northwest territory. Senator Elkins of West Virginia was at one time territorial delegate from New Mexico.

London Firemen Busy.

London's 1,424 fire fighters answered 5,828 calls and 298 persons were injured and 93 killed in 1909. The brigade spends a trifle of $1,150,200.

Many Old Age Pensioners.

On March 31, 1910, there were 441,489 persons in receipt of old age pensions in England and Wales.

THE HARVARD HALFBACK

Tells of the Great Game with Yale Team

Wendell, the famous halfback of the Harvard varsity, talked to the members of the Galahad club Thursday evening in the parish house of Christ church. After explaining, by diagrams various plays and defenses, he told of experiences and sensations before and during the great contest with Yale. The training table starts about Sept. 15. During the first few weeks of practice and play the subs and second team are driven hard. About three weeks before the Yale game the "bond of sympathy" is started. The players and coaches get together and talk over the different plays and discuss the weaknesses and strength of the team. The power of the team increases very rapidly from that time. After the Dartmouth game the team had dummy work as it is caleld. By means of this each man is acquainted with his position and the position of every other man on the team in each play.

Just before the big game is the hardest period. Wendell said it was like waiting to be shot. The men are keyed up to their highest pitch, and are just like race horses chafing and nervous waiting for the contest to begin. When the game begins all is changed. The nerve and muscle can have full play and the game is of such absorbing interest that the players know nothing but the game.

One has to move by instinct in a game. If a player had to remember all the signals by sheer brain power he would get badly confused. As it is the signals become part of the man, his second nature and he can give his attention to watching the players of the opposing team.

In speaking of the big game Wendell said frankly that Harvard expected to win. The team knew that they would have no easy snap but they believed Harvard had the better team of the two. Harvard failed to win the game because of her mistakes. Yale never made a mistake and were thus saved from defeat.

Coach Haughton was praised most highly for his ability in handling the men, and in developing the team. Wendell said he knew of no one who could make a man feel more like a dog or could rear him to a higher plane of joy than Percy Haughton.

When asked about the favoritism shown to the men from larger schools he declared very positively that there was no favoritism shown to Groton men. "Of course," he said, "if the coach is a Groton man he knows about the men from his own prep. school better than any others." He went on to say that the coach was as anxious to have the best team possible on the field, and he had his eyes open all the time for dark horses and men who were not as well known.

In reply to a question about the reward a player gets for his work, he said that of course the "H" was a great reward, but the number of friends he made and the men he met were really the greatest consideration.

The prospects of a good team for next year he considered fine. Tackles will have to be developed most of all but there is good freshman material and the task will be only a matter of time.

At the conclusion of the talk a rising vote of thanks was given and the Harvard cheer was given for Wendell.

Most of the Quincy High school team were present and fired many questions at the guest of the evening. The meeting was njoyed by a room full of enthusiast, and all of them enjoyed every minute of it.

TODAY'S COURT.

Albert W. Lovell was fined $15, and Edward C. Davis $10, for exceeding the automobile speed limit on Blue Hills parkway.

Benjamin Viloney was arraigned for assault at Randolph and was held in $300 until next Monday.

Teacher—Last Sunday, dear child, we read about Joseph and Pharaoh. What was done to Joseph?

Tommy—He was made to sit on the roof.

Teacher—Why, Tommy, what do you mean by that nonsense?

Tommy—Well, you read that Pharaoh set Joseph over his house.—Texas Siftings.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TALK NOT OF AGE.

By ALFRED AUSTIN.
[Poet laureate of England.]

TALK not of age. The waning years
Leave one more wise as they depart,
And with them mingle smiles and tears
If one but young remains at heart.
The seasons come, the seasons go,
But with revolving days return
Till winter's evanescent snow
Melts in the laughing, leaping burn.

And when the cuckoo calls again
The sap of April floods one's veins,
And as he flies from glen to glen,
Rejoicing in spring's sunlit rains,
I feel as young as even he,
Seeking him near, afar, above,
Echoing his name in playful glee
Of faithless undomestic love.

Nor when deep summer silence rests
On windless thicket, sheltered lawn,
From thoughtful hearts and pious breasts
Is nature's sympathy withdrawn.
The faithful cushat faintly heard
Repeats the simple note of home,
Teaching the lesson, wisest bird,
How blest are those not prone to roam.

—Independent.

CHURCH SYMBOLS BURNED ON CHILD DURING DREAM.

Curious Phenomona Reported by Authorities at Irish Convent.

The Mayo (Ireland) News publishes an account of a child in Kiltmagh convent who is marked with the symbols of the Passion. It says:

"A girl, aged thirteen, so goes the story, has been a boarder in the convent for the past three or four years. She is described as a docile, affectionate child and is a great favorite with the nuns.

"About three weeks ago one of the sisters heard the child screaming during the night, and when she questioned her the girl told her she had had a fearful dream, in which she saw Christ on the cross and a soldier driving a lance into his side. The nun comforted the child, who fell asleep.

"In the morning the child complained that her wrist and arms were sore. On examination it was found that her forearm was marked with a cross in red. Underneath the cross were the letters 'I. H. S.'

"A few days later there appeared below the letters a crown of thorns. Two or three days later there appeared above the cross letters surrounded by a scroll.

"A few days subsequently there appeared beneath the crown of thorns a chalice surmounted by a host, sending forth rays in red, and after the same period there appeared a flower shaped drawing, near which was written the word 'lily.'

"The marks extend from the wrist to the upper arm and have been examined by Father O'Hara, P. P., Kiltmagh; Dr. Madden, Kiltmagh, and very many others.

"A remarkable feature of the occurrence is that at 3 p. m. on Friday the stigmata bled copiously. A careful inquiry is being instituted by the religious authorities, who, while admitting the strikingly wonderful nature of the phenomena, refrain at present from any expression of opinion as to its origin.

"Dr. Madden and others who have seen the marks are quite positive that they are not self inflicted."

SAYS SANTA MUST GO.

Boston Woman Would Substitute Franklin For St. Nicholas.

Santa Claus will no longer be a Christmas visitor. He will go completely and forever into the discard if Miss Lotta Clark of Boston can bring it about. In St. Nick's place she would install Benjamin Franklin.

Miss Clark is the originator of a movement to abolish the genial Santa on the ground that he is purely an imaginary fellow and that it would be much better and, in fact, have a great education value if there should be substituted some historical character in the truthful record of whose life children could find a praiseworthy example to follow.

Benjamin Franklin she considers the best qualified historical figure for the substitute.

"Why should children flock around the dreadful, tawdry images of Santa Claus," she said, "when a representation of Benjamin Franklin, for instance, would be much more real to them? The children know that Santa Claus is only a myth, and, after all, they don't want what is artificial."

ALPHABET FOUND ON RIB.

Relic of 1000 A. D. Is Found In Sweden by Excavators.

At Lund, in west Sweden, well known for its university and ancient cathedral, where in heathen times there was a farfamed temple, there has just been found a complete Runic alphabet engraved on the rib of a stag. Besides the alphabet, there is the name of the owner or the engraver.

The rib is six and a half inches long and was found by some workmen who were digging the foundations for a new building facing the principal square in the town.

Dr. Karlin of the Historical museum in Lund believes the alphabet dates from about the year 1000, possibly even earlier, and he pronounces the discovery to be one of the most remarkable ever made in Scandinavia.

MISSOURI FILLED WITH TREASURE

But No One Can Find Quantrill's Hidden Gold.

SEARCHING PARTIES ACTIVE.

Negro Conjurer Directs One Seeker to Spot Where Confederate Raider Buried Kansas Loot and $8 Is Found. Boys Set Town Crazy With Carving on Rocks.

The raid on Lawrence, Kan., by Quantrill and his band occurred in the summer of 1863. The band retreated out of Kansas into Jackson county, Mo., and dissolved somewhere in the Sni country, and somewhere in the same region the band reassembled at the appointed time. From time to time small camps of guerrillas were established in the deep woods of the Sni hills, and each camp gave rise to legends and stories of adventure, of soldiery prowess, of brigandage, of revenge, of murder and of midnight raids and surprises.

One of these stories, persistent for more than forty years, is that Quantrill brought out of Lawrence a large sum of money, which he secreted in the rocks of the Sni hills and which he never returned to get. From time to time ever since the civil war search has been instituted for this lost treasure.

These innumerable treasure troves have provided every Missouri neighborhood with its special romance and have stimulated the searchers to hunt up and down the country and especially over that wide and broken region between Lone Jack and Blue Springs.

Fortune Hunters Everywhere.

But other parts of the county have also had periods of excitement. A few years ago Idlewild, northwest of Independence, a beautiful stretch of pasture land, broken here and there with picturesque bluffs, was punctured all over by shallow excavations made by some searchers for the Lawrence gold.

The latest search for the Lawrence gold has occurred within recent weeks. At some time during the civil war Quantrill's band made a camp in the almost impenetrable woods about a mile east of the little village of Tarsney. No Federal troop ever ventured to approach this stronghold. For years after the disintegration of Quantrill's band and the death of the guerrilla chief the site of this camp was marked by camp litter, a few broken kettles and small logs used for tents or mangers for horses.

The camp near Tarsney, in Van Buren township, must have been maintained for some time. But the usual story of the Lawrence gold was never associated with this camp until a few years ago. Some one discovered the letter W cut out rudely on the top of a large bowlder not a quarter of a mile from the old camp. Nobody could account for the letter unless it was intended to mark the location of the bushwhacker treasure. However, research was made until a few weeks ago, when a man by the name of St. Clair of Welsh, La., returned to the scene of his childhood armed, as he believed, with extraordinary information on the subject of hidden treasures.

Treasure Trove of $8.

He had consulted a negro conjurer in the south. Mr. St. Clair had heard in the days of his youth that Mrs. Harris, whose home was near Tarsney, had hastily buried some money at the back of her house to hide it from an approaching company of solders. She had never been able to find the money. The negro conjurer directed that the money could be found by digging into the ground at a point so many feet in such a direction from the chimney. Mr. St. Clair dug as directed and unearthed 8$ in silver. The chief value of this discovery was the establishment of unbounded confidence in the old negro, whose directions were now followed with reference to the letter W. It was certain now that the second sight of this conjurer would lead to the recovery of the Quantrill Lawrence gold. The search was accordingly made, but nothing was found.

Some years ago there was great excitement in the neighborhood of Sul Mills, south of Oak Grove, about a hidden treasure. Somebody discovered a flat rock on which was carved the information that the Fitzhue Smelting company had buried a wagon load of gold and silver from Mexico and had abandoned it there, those in charge being in danger of massacre by a band of wild Indians. The whole neighborhood turned out en masse and dug the hillsides down.

The excitement continued with great intensity for three or four days until it became known that the carving on the rock had been done by two mischievous boys. After the boys had executed the carving in the style satisfactory to themselves they brought about its discovery in a manner to give it the widest and most sensational publicity.

Cork Building Blocks Latest.

Floors and furniture are not scratched by children playing with new building blocks made of cork in Germany.

Singapore Eighth Among Ports.

In the amount of its shipping Singapore is the eighth greatest port in the world.

Bald? Going to neglect your hair until it leaves you? Going to neglect your dandruff until you are bald? Certainly not. Then consult your doctor. Ask him about Ayer's Hair Vigor. It never stains or changes the color of the hair. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

SALIENT POINTS FOUND IN THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

CANAL FORTIFYING.

I have already stated to the congress that I strongly favor fortification of the Panama canal, and I now reiterate this opinion.

We have built the canal. It is our property. Failure to fortify the canal would leave the attainment of both these aims (universal use and an increase of military effectiveness of our navy) in the position of rights and obligations which we should be powerless to enforce and which could never in any other way be absolutely safeguarded against a desperate and irresponsible enemy.

MERCHANT MARINE.

I cannot too strongly urge upon the congress the passage of a measure, by mail subsidy or other subvention, adequate to guarantee the establishment and rapid development of an American merchant marine.

Unless prompt action be taken the completion of the Panama canal will find this the only great commercial nation unable to avail in the international maritime business of this great contribution to the means of the world's commercial intercourse.

Unless we create a merchant marine where can we find the seafaring population necessary as a naval reserve, and where could we find, in case of war, the transports and subsidiary vessels without which a naval fleet is arms without a body?

SAVING OF $53,000,000.

Every effort has been made by each department chief to reduce the estimated cost of his department for the ensuing fiscal year ending June 30, 1912. The final estimates for the year ending June 30, 1912, for the ordinary expenses of the government amount to $670,194,013.12. This is $52,964,887.36 less than the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911.

By the detection of frauds in weighing sugar upward of $3,400,000 has been recovered. The treasury department has perfected the method of collecting duties at the port of New York so as to save the government upward of $10,000,000 or $11,000,000.

CORPORATION PROSECUTION.

* * * I do not recommend any amendment to the interstate commerce law as it stands. I do not now recommend any amendment to the anti-trust law. In other words, it seems to me that the existing legislation with reference to the regulation of corporations and the restraint of their business has reached a point where we can stop for awhile and witness the effect of the vigorous execution of the laws on the statute books in restraining the abuses which certainly did exist and which roused the public to demand reform. If this test develops a need for further legislation, well and good, but until then let us execute what we have.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

If you are going to buy that boy a useful Christmas present, get him a good
Rifle or Shotgun
We have a full line of the celebrated STEVENS FIREARMS and will take pleasure in showing them to you.
Single Shot Rifles
Repeating Rifles
Pocket Rifles and Pistols
Single Barrel Shotguns
Double Barrel Shotguns
Repeating Shotguns
The prices on these Arms are very low considering their beauty, accuracy and reliability. They are fully guaranteed and are made in the STEVENS famous Factory of Precision.
COME IN AND SEE THEM
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite Street, Quincy
Dec. 8 3t

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY
SELL THE DAILY LEDGER
THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR
Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 585-3 Jan. 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS.

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1888
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 120 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 353-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for search and free report. How to obtain, how to defend, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger
FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
EAST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 5	1.15	1.45
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.00
Thursday,	3.30	3.45
Friday,	4.15	4.45
Saturday,	5.15	5.45
Sunday,	6.15	6.45

BRIEFS

The City Council Committee on Streets met Thursday evening.

Are you reading Dickens' Christmas Carol? It is appearing serially in the Ledger beginning Thursday.

The various city departments are making ready to close their books for the year 1910 on Dec. 31.

No. 17 Granite street is headquarters for the Red Cross seals. They are also on sale today and Saturday at the Post office.

The Red Cross seals went on sale today at the Post Office and in most of the stores. The committee has to date secured 40,000 of the seals all of which, they hope to dispose of and more.

It is reported that Dr. Fred E. Jones has purchased the estate of Mrs. Wilson Tisdale on Hancock street. More and more that part of Hancock street beween City Square and the Woodward Institute will be known as doctor's row.

The weather for the past few days has been ideal for Christmas shopping, and the ladies have been making the best of it. The local stores are displaying an unusually fine line of goods suitable for Christmas shoppers, and the wise ones will avoid the crush of Boston stores and patronize home stores.

The supper added greatly to the success of the 7 cent social of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary, and much of the credit was due to the able management of the chairman, Mrs. A. H. Gilson. She was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Rhodes, Mrs. Edwin Smith, Mrs. David Goodspeed, Mrs. S. B. Wiley, Mrs. L. T. LaRose, Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Derby, Mr. E. R. Stone, Mrs. J. T. Hunt, and Mrs. E. G. Gay.

—In the 30 years of its existence the federal life-saving service has rescued 102,000 persons and preserved $166,000,000 worth of property. For this work life savers get less than a mechanic's wages and the cold shoulder when they grow old. How much longer will the United States gavernment continue to deny them the retired pay most cities give policemen?—Boston Record.

10c Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Sixteen Days to Xmas
DEC. 9
Mabel Wonders What Her Gifts Will Be

CHRISTMAS CAROL
BY
Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

Chapter Two

THE FIRST OF THE THREE SPIRITS.

To sit staring at those fixed, glazed eyes in silence for a moment would play, Scrooge felt, the very deuce with him. There was something very awful, too, in the specter's being provided with an infernal atmosphere of its own. Scrooge could not feel it himself, but this was clearly the case, for, though the ghost sat perfectly motionless, its hair and skirts and tassels were still agitated as by the hot vapor from an oven.

"You see this toothpick?" said Scrooge, wishing, though it were only for a second, to divert the vision's stony gaze from himself.

"I do," replied the ghost.

"Well," returned Scrooge, "I have but to swallow this and be for the rest of my days persecuted by a legion of goblins all of my own creation. Humbug, I tell you—humbug!"

At this the spirit raised a frightful cry and shook its chain with such a dismal and appalling noise that Scrooge held on tight to his chair to save himself from falling in a swoon. But how much greater was his horror when, the phantom taking off the bandage round its head, as if it were too warm to wear indoors, its lower jaw dropped down upon its breast!

Scrooge fell upon his knees and clasped his hands before his face.

"Mercy!" he said. "Dreadful apparition, why do you trouble me?"

"It is required of every man," the ghost returned, "that the spirit within him should walk abroad among his fellow men and travel far and wide, and if that spirit goes not forth in life it is condemned to do so after death. It is doomed to wander through the world—oh, woe is me!—and witness what it cannot share, but might have shared on earth and turned to happiness."

Again the specter raised a cry and shook its chain and wrung its shadowy hands.

Scrooge glanced about him on the floor in the expectation of finding himself surrounded by some fifty or sixty fathoms of iron cable, but he could see nothing.

"Jacob," he said imploringly—"old Jacob Marley, tell me more. Speak comfort to me, Jacob."

"How it is that I appear before you in a shape that you can see I may not tell. I have sat invisible beside you many and many a day."

It was not an agreeable idea. Scrooge shivered and wiped the perspiration from his brow.

"That is no light part of my penance," pursued the ghost. "I am here tonight to warn you that you have yet a chance and hope of escaping my fate—a chance and hope of my procuring, Ebenezer."

"YOU WILL BE HAUNTED BY THREE SPIRITS."

"You were always a good friend to me," said Scrooge. "Thank'ee."

"You will be haunted," resumed the ghost, "by three spirits."

Scrooge's countenance fell almost as low as the ghost's had done.

"Without their visits," said the ghost, "you cannot hope to shun the path I tread. Expect the first tomorrow when the bell tolls 1, expect the second on the next night at the same hour, the third upon the next night when the last stroke of 12 has ceased to vibrate. Look to see me no more and look that, for your own sake, you remember what has passed between us."

The apparition walked backward from him, and at every step it took the window raised itself a little, so that when the specter reached it it was wide open. It beckoned Scrooge to approach, which he did. When they were within two paces of each other Marley's ghost held up its hand, warning him to come no nearer. Scrooge stopped—not so much in obedience as in surprise and fear, for on the raising of the hand he became sensible of confused noises in the air, incoherent sounds of lamentation and regret, wailings inexpressibly sorrowful and self accusatory. The specter, after listening for a moment, joined in the mournful dirge and floated out upon the bleak, dark night.

Scrooge closed the window and examined the door by which the ghost had entered. It was double locked, as he had locked it with his own hands, and the bolts were undisturbed. He tried to say "Humbug!" but stopped at the first syllable and being, from the emotion he had undergone, or the fatigues of the day, or his glimpse of the invisible world, or the dull conversation of the ghost, or the lateness of the hour, much in need of repose, went straight to bed without undressing and fell asleep upon the instant.

Chapter Two

THE FIRST OF THE THREE SPIRITS.

WHEN Scrooge awoke it was so dark that, looking out of bed, he could scarcely distinguish the transparent window from the opaque walls of his chamber. He was endeavoring to pierce the darkness with his ferret eyes when the chimes of a neighboring church struck the four quarters. So he listened for the hour.

To his great astonishment, the heavy bell went on from 6 to 7 and from 7 to 8 and regularly up to 12, then stopped. Twelve! It was past 2 when he went to bed. The clock was wrong. An icicle must have got into the works. Twelve!

He touched the spring of his repeater to correct this most preposterous clock. Its rapid little pulse beat 12 and stopped.

"Why, it isn't possible," said Scrooge, "that I can have slept through a whole day and far into another night. It isn't possible that anything has happened to the sun and this is 12 at noon!"

The idea being an alarming one, he scrambled out of bed and groped his way to the window. He was obliged to rub the frost off with the sleeve of his dressing gown before he could see anything, and he could see very little then. All he could make out was that it was still very foggy and extremely cold and that there was no noise of people running to and fro and making a great stir, as there unquestionably would have been if night had beaten off bright day and taken possession of the world.

Scrooge went to bed again and thought and thought and thought it over and over and over and could make nothing of it. "Was it a dream or not?"

Scrooge lay in this state until the chimes had gone three-quarters more, when he remembered on a sudden that the ghost had warned him of a visitation when the bell tolled 1. He resolved to lie awake until the hour was past.

The quarter was so long that he was more than once convinced he must have sunk into a doze unconsciously and missed the clock. At length it broke upon his listening ear.

"Ding-dong!"

"A quarter past," said Scrooge, counting.

"Ding-dong!"

"Half past!" said Scrooge.

"Ding-dong!"

"A quarter to it," said Scrooge.

"Ding-dong!"

"The hour itself," said Scrooge triumphantly, "and nothing else."

He spoke before the hour bell sounded, which it now did with a deep, dull, hollow, melancholy ONE! Light flashed up in the room upon the instant, and the curtains of his bed were drawn, and Scrooge, starting up into a half recumbent attitude, found himself face to face with the unearthly visitor who drew them.

It was a strange figure, like a child, yet not so like a child as like an old man viewed through some supernatural medium, which gave him the appearance of having receded from the view and being diminished to a child's proportions. Its hair, which hung about its neck and down its back, was white as if with age, and yet the face had not a wrinkle in it, and the tenderest bloom was on the skin. The arms were very long and muscular, the hands the same as if its hold were of uncommon strength. Its legs and feet, most delicately formed, were, like those upper members, bare. It wore a tunic of the purest white, and round its waist was bound a lustrous belt, the sheen of which was beautiful. It held a branch of fresh green holly in its hand and in singular contradiction of that wintry emblem had its dress trimmed with summer flowers. But the strangest thing about it was that from the crown of its head there sprang a bright, clear jet of light by which all this was visible and which was doubtless the occasion of its using in its duller moments a great extinguisher for a cap, which it now held under its arm.

"I AM THE GHOST OF CHRISTMAS PAST."

"Are you the spirit, sir, whose coming was foretold to me?" asked Scrooge.

"I am."

The voice was soft and gentle, singularly low, as if, instead of being so close beside him, it were at a distance.

"Who and what are you?" Scrooge demanded.

"I am the Ghost of Christmas Past."

It put out its strong hand as it spoke and clasped him gently by the arm.

"Rise and walk with me."

(To be Continued.)

LEWIS' BODY UNDISTURBED

Question of Connection With Trunk Murder Still Unsolved

PERMIT IS REFUSED POLICE

Decision of Rhode Island Attorney General Blocks Plan to Exhume Remains of Man Supposed to Have Been Slayer of Callier In New York —Further Efforts Will Be Made to Obtain Evidence

Providence, Dec. 9.—Baffled in his investigation by the Rhode Island statutes, Lieutenant James J. Kane of the New York police, who came here to exhume the body of William H. Lewis, the man of mystery, buried at Foster, to ascertain whether it is that of the men wanted for the Callier murder, returned to New York last night.

Lewis rests in his grave undisturbed, and the question of his connection with the murder of Albert C. Callier, an artist, whose body was found in a trunk in New York on Nov. 18, remains unsolved.

Attorney General Greenough, in an opinion to the town council of Foster yesterday afternoon, said that he could find nothing on the statute books which gave anyone the right to grant a permit for the disinterment of the body under the circumstances.

Lieutenant Kane, accompanied by Inspector O'Mally of the local police, and a corps of newspaper men from New York, Boston and Providence, went to Foster Centre and a special meeting of the town council was summoned to grant a permit. Before proceeding, however, Town Clerk Howard asked the attorney general for information regarding the legality of the action, and as the result of the reply no meeting was held and the party of detectives and newspaper men returned to Providence.

The evidence, however, remains strong, and, in the opinion of the detectives and others, practically conclusive that the man wanted for the Callier murder lies buried in the isolated Hopkins Mills cemetery at Foster.

It is not believed that the question will be allowed to remain in doubt, but that a way will be found later to determine whether the Foster Lewis and the New York Lewis were one and the same person.

AGREEMENT OF MINISTERS

Those In Westfield Will Refuse to Marry Divorcees

Westfield, Mass., Dec. 9.—At a meeting of the local ministers the following action was taken with reference to the remarrying of divorced people: "We do hereby agree together that we will not unite in marriage any divorced person or persons until time has been given us to investigate and to ascertain if the applicants are entitled on scriptural grounds to get married."

The ministers have found such action necessary, owing to the fact that many couples come directly to the minister's house to be married, without giving him the opportunity to inquire into the matter. Hereafter divorced persons who received their divorce for reasons which the Scriptures condemn will not be able to have Westfield ministers marry them.

PROBING ARMY MILEAGE

House Committee Wants Paymaster to Explain Certain Large Bills

Washington, Dec. 9.—Paymaster Whipple of the army was bombarded with a series of questions concerning extravagant mileage of army officers, when he appeared before the house committee on military affairs to explain the estimates of the army appropriation bill.

He was asked to explain large bills for trips of certain officers from the Philippines to Washington by way of China, Russia and France. The general could not throw as much light as the committee wanted on these mileage accounts, but promised to furnish the information later.

WEDDING IN CEMETERY

Bride Faints After Ceremony Beside Open Grave of Her Mother

Ravenna, O., Dec. 9.—Miss Addie P. Chapman and Glenn E. Colton were married in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian church, before the open grave of Miss Chapman's mother.

The funeral service had just been held and Rev. Br. A. D. Palmer, pastor of the church, who officiated at the funeral, turned and married the young couple. Mrs. Chapman had requested that this be done. The bride fainted after the ceremony.

Ethel Leneve Not Found

Boston, Dec. 9.—Several hours late, the White Star liner Zeeland reached Boston from Liverpool and Queenstown. It was thought that Ethel Leneve, the woman who was implicated in the Crippen murder case, might be among the passengers, but she was not.

LIGHTEN YOUR KITCHEN CARES
1892 PURE SPUN ALUMINUM WARE
SAVES MONEY HEALTH, TIME AND TEMPER
It says "Good Morning" to a million happy housewives who have found kitchen satisfaction in the only ware that will not break, scale or rust, nor scorch the most dainty food.

Say "Good Bye" forever to cooking troubles by throwing away your old rusting, corroding and scaling iron, tin and enamel utensils. Replace them with "1892" Spun Aluminum Ware.
IT IS GUARANTEED FOR 25 YEARS
IT'S WORTH WHILE TO INVESTIGATE
NOW ON EXHIBITION
KINCAIDE'S ANNEX, 1459 Hancock Street, Quincy

GAS SHOW
December 7-13
10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON
A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.
Educational and Entertaining
Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.
11 Granite Street, QUINCY

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

La France SHOE for WOMEN

GRANITE SHOE STORE.
QUINCY, MASS.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT.

To the inhabitants of the town of Milton, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry S. Huntington, Martin McCue, Cornelia S. Townsend and Thomas S. McWhirk of said Milton; Charles C. Farnum of Randolph, in said County of Norfolk; Morris J. Troxell of Waltham, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; Annie M. Wilson of Newton, in said County of Middlesex; Sarah A. Frizzell of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said "Commonwealth; all heirs, devisees or legal representatives of Sarah McWhirk, and of John McWhirk, late of said Milton, deceased, who have not released their interest in the premises hereinafter described; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Elizabeth G. Balkam and Albert W. Balkam of said Milton, to register and confirm their title in the following described land: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Highland Street in said Milton, bounded southwesterly by said Street, southeasterly partly on land of Cornelia S. Townsend, and partly by land of the Town of Milton, northeasterly by land of Martin McCue, and northwesterly by land of Henry S. Huntington, and containing two and 6-10 (2.6) acres.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-seventh day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

(Seal)

CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.

Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled.

The undersigned, citizens of Hingham, Quincy, and Weymouth, respectfully petition for legislation authorizing and directing the construction of a new bridge with necessary approaches and ways thereto, replacing the present bridge over the Weymouth Back River so-called, connecting the town of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk and the town of Hingham in the County of Plymouth, and for the taking by purchase or otherwise, in fee simple, or in such form of right, interest, or privilege, as may be deemed expedient, such property and rights or easements including locations or ways now used or occupied by any street railway company, and such farther legislation as may be necessary to carry out the purposes as aforesaid, also to provide for the payment of the costs and expenses of removing the present bridge and erecting the new bridge, with a suitable draw therein and of acquiring land and constructing the necessary approaches and ways as aforesaid and suitable for the care, maintenance, and repair of said new bridge and for the operation of said draw.

Wm. W. Hersey, Wm. T. Shea
Wm. F. Jones, John Curtis,
Wm. L. Foster, Harrison A. Keith
Wm. W. Hunt, Michael B. Geary,
Alfred Hawes, Dennis J. Ford
Wm. Danner, Henry O. Fairbanks,
Wm. L. Newton, Warren W. Adams,
Wm. Barnes, John A. Duggan

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Office of the Secretary,
Boston, Nov. 29, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Hingham Journal, Weymouth Gazette and Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.

Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

HAS APPROVAL OF PRESIDENT

Move to Make Tariff Issue Part of Republican Program

PLAN FOR AN INVESTIGATION

It Has Been Approved by Nearly Every State In the Union—Carefully Devised Movement by Members of House and Senate to Give Friends of Tariff Commission Chance to Open Up the Subject

Washington, Dec. 9.—An organized movement to reunite the Republican party upon at least one issue, that of a tariff commission, is already making headway in congress. It has been advertised as an insurgent movement in behalf of this legislation, but when the underlying facts are examined it is much more than that.

In brief, the point is made that the tariff commission is perhaps the only issue before congress of national importance upon which the warring Republicans can unite. The situation cannot be seen in its proper perspective until a few acts not commonly understood are presented.

Briefly speaking, the Republican party, through state conventions held last fall, already has committed itself unequivocally to the principle of a tariff commission. Whether this may mean merely a continuance of the work of the present tariff board or that of a full-fledged tariff commission is relatively unimportant.

The outcome of the Republican command as expressed in a majority of Republican state conventions inevitably must be legislation strengthening the position of the present tariff board and a generous appropriation for the continuance of its work or the establishment of a formal tariff commission.

The plain facts are that out of 219 Republican members of the house 165 come from states whose Republican conventions have indorsed the tariff commission principles. Of a senate of 62 Republicans, 46 members have been commanded by their state platforms to vote for a tariff commission or something of the kind. With regard to the 16 other senators the state platforms either have not mentioned this subject or no platform has been adopted.

The net result of all this figuring shows that the tariff commission idea has been approved by every state in the middle west, by most of the western states, and by all but two of the eastern states.

In the light of these facts and with the knowledge that a majority of the Republicans of both branches, whatever their personal opinions, were formally committed to the tariff commission idea, the insurgents have taken the initiative in beginning action.

Several things have happened in congress lately, apparently with no relation to each other; but it can now be explained that they are all part of a carefully devised plan whereby the tariff issue in some form is to be made a feature of the Republican program this winter.

Although the initiative has not been taken by President Taft, it can be stated upon good authority that he is familiar with all the moves made and proposed and has given them his approval.

The first came in the house when Representative Good of Iowa offered a resolution discharging the committee on ways and means from further consideration of the Good tariff commission bill, introduced last year. The second may be found in the action of Senator Cummins of Iowa in offering a resolution for a joint rule making schedule revision possible by providing that amendment to the tariff act may not be entertained outside the subject under immediate consideration.

The third important move in this systematic campaign was made when Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin introduced the first bill of the session of this nature providing for the establishment of a permanent tariff commission. The secret of the Lenroot bill is that it is a compromise measure agreed to by all the senators and representatives having tariff commission bills before congress.

These include the Beveridge, LaFollette and Dolliver bills in the senate, the Good bill in the house, and perhaps some others. All the men advocating a tariff commission, except, of course, Mr. Dolliver, have conferred together and they all have agreed that each would prefer the other's bill to none at all. In other words, perfect harmony among the Progressive Republicans on the tariff commission program has been brought about.

One purpose of the Good resolution, it may be remarked, was to give the friends of the tariff commission a chance to appear before the committee on ways and means and thus open up the subject.

A poll of the house of representatives indicates that it is probably possible to get a genuine tariff commission bill through that body.

JOHN BIGELOW.

At Ninety-two Famous Author Is Writing Another Book.

GOLD MEDAL FOR RHODES

Bostonian Honored at Gathering In Deference to John Bigelow

New York, Dec. 9.—The gold medal of the American Academy of Arts and Letters was presented James F. Rhodes of Boston for notable achievement in history. Rhodes is the author of "The History of the United States."

The gathering of the society was held in deference to John Bigelow, who recently celebrated his 92d birthday.

This man, whose lease of life has been so long, without difficulty and in a voice that could be heard in the most remote corner of the New theatre, read a paper that moved his hearers at will, now to laughter at some witty phrase, now to sympathy at some sad incident that he brought to mind.

BANK'S MAIL FOUND UNDER YOUTH'S BED

He and a Companion Had Robbed a Postoffice Box

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 9.—The officials of the Merchants' National bank congratulated themselves upon the outcome of the robbery of $60,000 worth of collateral. The bank's postoffice box, which had probably been left unlocked, was robbed of checks and drafts. The postoffice inspectors suspected Arthur Gagnon, aged 18, and when he was questioned he said that he and Ernest Harnois, aged 16, had taken the contents of the box.

The drafts and checks, with the exception of an $18 check, were found under a bed in Harnois' room.

Both boys were held by Commissioner Crawford in $500 for the grand jury.

NEW MINERAL DISCOVERED

May Overthrow German Monopoly of Sulphate of Soda

London, Dec. 9.—A new mineral has been discovered at Vinhadux, near Almeria, and has been named "calafatita," after its finder, Senor Calafat, according to reports from Madrid.

It consists of a substance which, after being calcined, produces pure alumnia and pure sulphate of soda. As the vein is a large one, it is believed that it contains several million tons.

It is thought that the discovery will bring about a revolution in the sulphate of soda market, which up to the present has been monopolized by the Germans. An American firm has already made an offer to purchase 60,000 tons of the new mineral annually.

COLLISION AT STATION

Man Killed When Freight Train Crashes Into a Local

Clinton, Mass., Dec. 9.—Patrick Needhan was killed and six persons were injured in a collision at the Union station crossing here between a heavy freight train, bound from Worcester for Nashua, N. H., and a local passenger train, just drawing out for Fitchburg.

The accident was caused by the admitted inability of Engineer Hamilton of the freight to stop his locomotive on the down grade, but his presence of mind in sounding his whistle when he saw that a collision was certain saved many persons in the station from injury.

Did Not Return Roosevelt's Letters

New Haven, Dec. 9.—Judge Baldwin authorizes the statement that he has not returned unopened any letter to Theodore Roosevelt. Further than this he declined to make any statement relative to his coming suit against Roosevelt.

Spitters Pay $105 In Fines

Boston, Dec. 9.—The courts of Boston levied fines which amounted to $105, yesterday, upon men who were arrested for spitting upon the sidewalks. The largest fine was $5, and the smallest was $2.

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE OF

LOCAL AND BOSTON THEATRES

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

"The Bachelor's Baby" at the Hollis Street Theatre, which presents Francis Wilson both as author and star, is said on all sides to be the longest, loudest, cleanest, heartiest and merriest laugh in Boston. This merry comedy-farce with Mr. Wilson in his original role of Thomas Beach, the child hating bachelor, goes into the third and last week of its engagement at the Hollis next Monday night. Bostonians and those who attend the theatre from the nearby towns, have taken a great fancy to Mr. Wilson's play and he, himself, has long been recognized as the foremost of Americas laugh makers. No one has ever purchased a ticket at the box-office to see Mr. Wilson in any thing he has ever done who has not received more value in amusement,—in laughter, than they exchange for their admission. "The Bachelor's Baby" is a particularly clean and wholesome farce with a laugh in almost every line and if one wishes an evening of delightful amusement, it would be difficult to find anything at the local theatres more entertaining. But with all its laughter, its bright lines and its amusing situation, there are certain scenes, particularly those Mr. Wilson has with the child, which are intensely human and a bit pathetic, making the comedy element to stand out the stronger, for the unexpected is always happening in "The Bachelor's Baby." Next week will be the last of Mr. Wilson's engagement and the only matinee of the week will be given on Saturday.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

One of the most imposing shows announced this season for B. F. Keith's theatre, will be presented next week, a leading feature being a very pretentious musical comedy entitled "Tom Walker on Mars," in which John B. Hymer and company will appear. This is a production big enough for a legitimate stage, and the light and scenic effects surpass anything previously presented in vaudevilic. Another big feature will be Mason- Keeler and company, in a comedy called "In and Out," which is one of the greatest novelties offered this season. In fact, the entire bill will be made up of acts that have never been seen before in this theatre. One particularly interesting feature will be the first vaudeville appearance of Steve White, late star of the Bank Officers' shows, who will sing and do some of his eccentric dances. The Ellis-Nowlin troupe will appear in an acrobatic sketch called "Fun in a Fire House." This is a large company and is one of the greatest laughing vehicles on the stage. Others will be Barnes and Robinson, in a musical and sing act, Dooley and Sales, comedians; Skronka Sisters in an aerial act, and others.

One of the greatest novelties shown in years has been secured for B. F. Keith's theatre during the holiday season, in Professor Nat Braham's Educated Fleas, direct from the Crystal Palace, London. This is not a joke, for Professor Braham's Fleas, which are of the ordinary kinds, do all sort of stunts, including riding bicycles, drawing carriages, juggling etc. This exhibition will take place in the engine room at B. F. Keith's, which is already one of the show places of the city, but in this case it will be transformed into a veritable fairyland.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

Following is the repertoire for the sixth week at the Boston Opera House. It will be noted that the regular subscription performance of Friday evening has been changed to Thursday evening Dec. 15.

Monday Madame Butterfly will be presented with Carmen Melis in the role of Butterfly. Riccardo Martin of the Metropolitan Opera House will make his debut as Pinkerton. Jeska Swartz will sing Suzuki, Grace Fisher, Kate Pinkerton, and La Zia. Ruby Savage will be La Cugina. Ramon Blanchart will sing Sharpless.

The first performance of Laparra's La Habanera in French, in America, will be given Wednesday evening, with Fely Dereyne the French soprano as Pilar, George Baklanoff as Ramon, Robert Lassalle, as Pedro, Jose Mardones as Le Vieux, and Leo Devaux as Un flance Aragonais and first Compare. The opera Cavalleria Rusticana will follow with Carmen Melis as Santuzza, Janka Czaplinska, as Lola, Anne Roberts as Mamma Lucia, Riccardo Martin as Turiddu, and Rodolfo Fornari as Alfio.

The regular Friday evening performance will take place on Thursday evening Dec. 15, and will be La Boheme in Italian with Mme. Nellie Melba as Mimi. This will be Mme. Melba's first appearance with the Boston Opera Company. Fely Dereyne will sing Musetta and John McCormack will sing Rodolfo. Mario Sammarco will make his Boston debut as Marcello, and Jose Mardones will sing Colline, and Pulcini that of Schaunard. Wallace Goodrich will conduct.

Saturday matinee will be Otello in Italian by Verdi. Giovanni Zenatello will make his debut as Otello, George Baklanoff will sing Iago, and Jose Mardones will be Lodovico. Carmen Melis will sing Desdemona, and Maria Cleassens will sing Emilia.

Satuday evening at popular prices will be given Rigoletto in Italian by Verdi. Lydia Lipkowska will take the part of Gilda, Florenico Constantino will be the Duke, and Carlo Galeffi will sing Rigoletto. Mardones will take the part of Sparafucile, and Elvira Leveroni will sing Maddalena. Wallace Goodrich will conduct.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"The Love Route," which will be the play at the Castle Square next week, is the work of Edward Peple, author of "The Prince Chap" and "The Spitfire," the last being one of the successes of last season at that house. It is a stirring drama of life in the Southwest, its title being derived from a railroad which the hero is commissioned to build. A spur of the line will have to cross the ranch of Allene Houston, a young woman whom Ashley loves, but she refuses to give permission, and shows herself the cleverest of maidens in her attempt to thwart the efforts of her adversaries in their efforts to dispossess her. The excitement of love and warfare prevail throughout the entire play. The railroad gang is shown at work, with steam derricks and other implements, the action is brisk, and the great scene comes at the end of the third act, where the tracklayers and their derrick come to the barbed wire fence and come at once into conflict with the heroine and her assistants. The romantic side of the plot is not neglected, and hero and heroine finally come to an understanding.

THE BOSTON ARENA.

The ice skating season opened in Boston November 19, when the magnificent new building known as the Arena was thrown open to the public as an artificial indoor ice rink. The popularity and success of similar enterprises during the past few years in London, Glasgow, Berlin, Paris, Chicago, Pittsburg, Montreal and other cities by sport-loving men and women led to the organization of capitalists of New England, who produced one of the most perfect buildings for the purpose ever constructed. Instead of a few weeks of natural ice skating, New England can now enjoy this health-giving fun all winter long. The Arena is sure to grow in popularity. To those interested in winter sports, a reliable, clean ice surface is a great advantage, and as an absolutely safe place for skating, it should be of tremendous interest to parents, as dangers of severe cold or drowning are entirely eliminated. The Boston Arena, planned and equipped as it is, will give all the advantages and rigor of outdoor exercise, combined with indoor comforts and luxuries. The air in the entire building is changed every four minutes. Absolutely fresh air is drawn over steam heating coils, and forced by a powerful blower through and under all seating portions of the Arena. This air is maintained at the desired temperature, giving comfort for the spectator, and so as not to affect the ice.

WITH THE ACTORS.

Nearly 2000 school children attended the Monday matinee performance of "Twelfth Night" at the Castle Square theatre the house being reserved especially for them. The affair was arranged under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club.

Francis Wilson who is playing an engagement at the Hollis Street theatre in "A Bachelor's Baby" is negotiating with an Italian journalist for a copy of the Bible used on the island of Elba by the great Napoleon, during his enforced sojourn there. The edition is illustrated with rough wood cuts and has the initial N and an imperial crown stamped upon its back. A number of texts have been underlined, and it is more than probable that during his enforced exile Napoleon searched the Scriptures for passages he thought appropriate to himself and to his hopes. Possibly the most significant of the passages marked is: "I will smite the shepherd and the sheep shall be scattered." The Bible was discovered in the sanctuary of the Madonna del Monte, on the island of Elba.

Steve White, who won success in the Bank Officers' shows with his eccentric dances, made his vaudeville debut at B. F. Keith's theatre this week. Mr. White introduces several songs of his own composition, including "I'd Like to Find a Girl That Wants a Sweetheart" and "When They Do That Rag Time Dance."

Madame Bernhardt is soon to appear at the Boston Theatre; and an attraction booked for the Hollis is Mrs. Fiske in a revival of "Becky Sharpe."

"Seven Days" is now in its seventh week, and some of the laughing fun-lovers persist that it will be seven months before Bostonians begin to tire of the follies of the quarantined household and the attempts of the novices in the art of cookery to get a meal that is even endurable in the course of the compulsory stay for that awful week of misfit friendships.

Ruth St. Denis, who comes to the Hollis St. theatre as the next attraction a week from Monday, has jewel-adorned dances from India and Egypt as innovations, and there will also come something decidedly novel in musical lines in the Russian selections of the Balalaika orchestra.

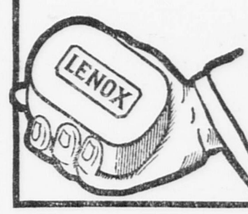
☞Vacuum House Cleaners to rent Electric $2.00. Hand power $1.50 per day. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

Makes snow-white suds.

Lenox Soap is yellow, but it makes a snow-white suds—a suds that sparkles and glitters and makes clothes and dishes and woodwork and pots and pans as clean as a whistle and as bright as sunshine.

Try it!



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

The Famous Rayo
The Lamp with Diffused Light

should always be used where several people sit, because it does not strain the eyes of those sitting far from it.

The Rayo Lamp is constructed to give the maximum diffused white light. Every detail that increases its light-giving value has been included.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp. You may pay $5, $10 or even $20 for other lamps and get a more expensive container—but you cannot get a better light than the Rayo gives.

This season's Rayo has a new and strengthened burner. A strong, durable shade-holder keeps the shade on firm and true. Easy to keep polished, as it is made of solid brass, finished in nickel.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Hosiery Sale

We are to discontinue the sale of Hosiery and while they last will have Hosiery of all kinds for Men, Women and Children at

10 cents Per Pair

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Wilibert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	22 degrees
December 9, 1909,	32 degrees
December 9, 1908,	35 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

R. E. Foy & Co.—Saturday Bargains
Kincaide's Annex—Kitchen Ware
Quincy Market—Special Bargains

BRIEFS

The automobiles seem to get about in the snow.

There has been no thaw since the storm of Tuesday night, and the snow which fell still remains with us.

Granite lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., holds its regular meeting in Protection hall this evening.

The annual meeting of the Bible school of Bethany church will be held this evening.

The Building and Trades council meets in room 22, Johnson building, this evening at the usual hour.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miner of 21 Pray street on the birth of a son on Nov. 22.

Paul R. Blackmur, the former city solicitor has been nominated for one of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Bar Association.

Edward J. Sandberg who was re-elected to the City Council on Tuesday will give a party in Electa hall Saturday evening.

Two more fire alarm boxes were cut into the line this morning, box 721, corner of South and Chubbuck streets, and box 725 corner of South street and Winthrop park.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Archie Thorn of 27 Goddard street are being congratulated on the birth of an eight-pound daughter. The little one arrived Thursday evening.

Thursday was a holy day for the Catholics of this city, in observance of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception; services were held in all four of the Catholic churches. The St. Johns Parochial school was closed.

The sale of Red Cross seals is flourishing. At the Post office, Mrs. Wilson Marsh reported an average sale of 100 an hour during the morning. Mr. Faxon's office on Granite street is the headquarters and distributing centre.

The annual meeting and mid-winter banquet of the Granite Manufacturers' Association will be held at the New American house, Boston, next Tuesday. The meeting will be held in the late afternoon and the banquet will follow immediately afterward.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

BIRTHS

MINER—In Quincy, Nov. 22, a son to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miner of 21 Pray street.

THORN—In Quincy, Dec. 8, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. T. Archie Thorn of 27 Goddard street.

DEATHS

OTIS—In East Weymouth, Dec. 8, Mrs. Hannah M., wife of Mr. Thomas Otis, aged 66 years, 9 months and 24 days.

PACKARD—In Quincy, Dec. 8, Captain Edwin Packard, in his 86th year. Funeral services from residence of his son, Captain James E. Packard, 43 Billings street, Saturday, Dec. 10 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 8-2t

HARRIS—In Boston, Dec. 9, Mr. Joseph M. Harris, of 70 Coddington street, Quincy, aged about 55 years.

WHELAN—In Weymouth, Dec. 7, Mrs. Catherine, wife of Mr. Patrick Whelan of 36 Common street.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

THE THOMAS CONCERT.

An appreciative audience greeted the John Thomas Concert Co., Thursday evening, at Alpha hall, and they went away well repaid fo rtheir attendance. The spontaneous humor of Mr. Thomas was irresistible and he kept his hearers convulsed with laughter. Mr. Thomas is a Quincy boy and he was given a hearty welcome by the audience, many of whom were his boyhood friends. For real humor in character imitations and funny songs he deserves a medal. He was supported in his concert by Mrs. Annie Webster Thomas, whose handling of the violin showed that she was a thorough master of this instrument. Her encores were frequent. The third artist in the company was Miss Alice Fortin ,the pianist. Miss Fortin has a very delicate touch and her playing was brilliant in the extreme.

BRIEFS

The Lonesome Two will give a dance in Alpha hall tonight.

The Quincy National band will hold a concert and dance in Faxon hall Saturday evening.

Miss Mary Badot of Bates avenue, left for California this week as a travelling companion of Gen. and Mrs. Wentworth of hotel fame.

A meeting of those interested in the institution of a new council of the Knights of Columbus at West Quincy will be held this evening, at which time a name will be selected for it and the date for its institution fixed upon.

Councilman-elect John R. S. Ross was given an ovation on Wednesday evening by the Houghs Neck Associates. Nominations were made for the annual meeting. A committee was appointed to work for a fire alarm whistle at the Nut Island pumping station.

Today is payday for the railroad employees. The coach directly behind the tender on the 1.19 train for Boston is the destination of all the local agents, messengers, etc. It is interesting to see the men scamper in and out so as not to delay the train at the station.

AN UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL.

The lady with the glinty eyes and the pink elbows bounced into the grocer's shop and accosted the proprietor. "Morning," she said, affably. "I'd like another dozen o' them eggs you sent me yesterday."

"Certainly," smiled the shopkeeper. "Are you making puddings again?"

"No, thank you," sniffed the lady. "I want those eggs for somethin' more profitable this time. They 're goin' to get me let off this quarter's rent."

"Indeed! Are you going to offer your landlord some appetizing pancakes?"

"Not exactly," said the customer. "You see, it's this way. He 's comin' round this morning for the money, so if I crack them eggs and hide 'em in our back yard it's ten to one he'll cry quits about the rent, thinkin' it's the drains."

Then the shopkeeper's professional smile quickly faded.—From Tit-Bits.

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

¶ We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Leg Loin Lamb . .	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb . . .	8c
Short Leg Lamb. .	12 1-2c
Lamb Chop	15c
Rib Steak	12 1-2c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c, .	15c
Porter House Steak . . .	20c
Regular 28c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for . . .	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Thick End Corned Beef	12 1-2c
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25c
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27
Baldwin Apples only	25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine .	20c

¶ Remember all our goods are guaranteed.
¶ Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.
¶ Don'_ forget our Grocery Department.

Dec. 9-2t--o-1w

ST. PAUL'S CROSS RE-ERECTEI

Old London Shaft Removed by Lon Parliament of 1643.

After 267 years London has one more its Paul's cross, which American will note when visiting St. Paul's cathedral. For centuries an old cross o stone, Paul's cross, stood in the north east corner of the little patch of gree known as St. Paul's churchyard. I traced its origin to a law made by th Emperor Justinian, who decreed "tha none shall presume to erect a churcl until the bishop shall come and consc crate the place to God by prayer an erect the symbol of our salvation, venerable and truly precious rood." I accordance with this decree ther stood once in every churchyard a tal cross.

The old cross has seen English his tory in the making. The pope's bull were once promulgated from it. There too, at the reformation the authorit of the popes was denounced. Luther' Bible was burned at Paul's cross, an there the Bible of Miles Coverdale wa sent among the people. There Latime thundered against the vices of Lon don; there also a woman of high posi tion did penance in a white sheet fo her offenses, and there a great man l London was publicly excommunicate for his sins.

The old cross was removed by orde of the long parliament in 1643, and i is now re-erected in a more imposin style, a devout churchman having be queathed $25,000 for it. It was unveil ed by the bishop of London. The de sign and ornamental work are by tw well known associates of the Roya academy. The new Paul's cross stand fifty-two feet high, and the figure of St Paul on the top is nine feet tall.

Wireless For Submarines.

The British admiralty has developed a system of wireless telegraphy fo submarines.

One Cow For Five Persons.

There is an average of about on cow to every five persons in the Unite States.

Do You Help Others?

It has been tritely said that for every one who stands alone there are twelve to lean against him. How is it with you? Are you one of those against whom others lean for help and encouragement, or are you leaning against some one and drawing your inspiration and courage from him? It depends entirely on yourself whether you take a positive attitude in your work or whether your negative characteristic shall dominate. It is much easier to go through life making as little effort as possible, but it is a poor way if we are going to make life yield even a small modicum of what it holds for us. If you are working earnestly and hoping for success there is only one way to attain it, and that is through your positive characteristics.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Gothic Architecture.

Gothic architecture began about the ninth century after Christ and soon began to spread all over Europe. Its great feature is the pointed arch, and it was at first called the "pointed style." Most of the glorious old world cathedrals are in the Gothic, and it is generally conceded that for religious purposes no other style of architecture is so perfectly suited. It has been said that the first idea of the Gothic was suggested by the interlacing boughs and trunks of the great woods in which German Christianity was formed; hence the name Gothic.—New York American.

BOWLING.

As a result of the games this week the standing of teams in the Makaria bowling league remains unchanged. The Cubs with Captain Morris are still in the lead, and the Athletics are at the other end of the heap, but we may expect to see them rise to the occasion as their namesakes did, and win out at the end of the season:

The standing to date:

	Won.	Lost.	Percent.
Cubs, Norris	6	2	.750
Pirates, Nicoll	4	4	.500
Giants, Dell	4	4	.500
Tigers, Jones	4	4	.500
Red Sox, T. King	4	4	.500
Athletics, Michael	2	6	.250

PIRATES—GIANTS.

Two games were bowled at the Granite street alleys on Thursday evening. The Pirates won the first by 4 pins, and the send by 8 pins, but the Giants improved on each string and won the third by 39, which gave them the three string total by 27 pins. McKenzie of the Pirates had the highest string, 108, and the highest total 285. Dill of Giants had a string of 105 to his credit and a total of 272.

The summary:

PIRATES.

Hoxie	61	75	61	197
McKenzie	94	108	83	285
Stewart	82	81	79	242
Nicoll	73	84	85	242
Dummy	64	58	71	193
	374	406	379	1159

GIANTS.

Melville	64	58	106	228
Collins	73	90	76	239
Bonney	72	69	86	227
S. Bates	73	76	71	220
Dell	88	105	79	272
	370	398	418	1186

TIGERS—ATHLETICS.

The second game was much the same as the first; the Athletics won the first string by 9 pins and the second by 11 pins, but lost the third string by 67 pins, which gave the Tigers the lead on three-string totals by 47. Brooks of the Tigers had the best single string, and Jones the best total. Giles had the scores for the Athletics.

The summary:

TIGERS.

Curtis	76	73	70	219
Richards	69	73	91	233
Glover	86	74	78	238
Brooks	80	87	103	270
Jones	97	85	101	283
	408	392	443	1243

ATHLETICS.

Giles	93	94	83	270
Dunbar	77	67	79	223
Jenkins	85	82	75	242
Michael	93	87	69	249
Dummy	69	73	70	212
	417	403	376	1196

LOCAL SPORTS.

The McGregor football team is scheduled to meet the Boston Americans at Boston on Saturday. No game is scheduled for the Fore River club.

* * *

The Red Sox and Giants will bowl in the Makaria league next Monday.

* * *

The basketball schedule of the Q. H. S. team includes 21 games with the possibility of another on Feb. 10. Two games will be played with the majority of the teams:

Jan. 3. Taunton at Quincy.
Jan. 6. Oliver Ames at Quincy.
Jan. 10. Rockland at Quincy.
Jan. 13. Newton at Newton.
an. 17. Reading at Quincy.
Jan. 20. Milton Academy at Quincy.
Jan. 24. St. John's Prep. at Quincy.
Jan. 27. Winthrop at Quincy.
Jan. 31 Reading at Reading.
Feb. 3. Abington at Quincy.
Feb. 8. Durfee at Quincy.
Feb. 10. Open date.
Feb. 15. Milton at Milton.
Feb. 17. Winchester at Winchester.
Feb. 22. Newton at Quincy.
Feb. 24. Thayer at Quincy.
Mar. 1. Thayer at Quincy.
Mar. 1. Taunton at Taunton.
Mar. 3. Powder Point at Duxbury.
Mar. 7 Oliver Ames at North Easton.
Mar. 10 Rockland at Rockland.
Mar. 14. Lynn at Quincy.
Mar. 17. St. John's Prep. at Danvers.

—The children in the open-air school of Indianapolis, Ind., pay three cents a day for the hot milk, soup or cocoa which is supplied them by the school. Any deficit is paid from the treasury of the department. This school was founded by Miss Gardner, a young woman who demonstrated to the school board the need of such an institution. The open-air schools are increasing throughout the country.—Chelsea Record.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

A King's Hobby.

The late king of Siam had an extraordinary hobby—that of collecting empty matchboxes of all nations. In this connection an interesting story is related. During one of his visits to England the king while passing down Bond street one afternoon, accompanied by two members of his suit, espied an empty matchbox which had been discarded by its owner and thrown away into the middle of the thoroughfare. Without a moment's thought the monarch dashed into the middle of the crowded traffic, grasped the much coveted treasure and was nearly run over by a passing cab. The fact, however, that he was able to add a new specimen to his collection gathered under such circumstances more than compensated him for the risk which he had run.—London News.

Love of our neighbor is the only door out of the dungeon of self.—MacDonald.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 49	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 53
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 49	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 43 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 10
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	iedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	ccba	6 50 r
r 5 21	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 29	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 30	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 29	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 29	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 25	ac	10 30	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 23	10 59	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.07, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.50 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M. 12.15, 4.45, 5.15, 6.11, 7.1 . 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6,17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE—Square Piano, McPhail, in good condition. Stool included. Desirable for bungalow or clubroom. Price $25.00. Apply at 69 Atlantic street, Atlantic. Dec. 3-6t

MOSCOW CATHEDRAL.

Fantastic Looking Edifice Erected by Ivan the Terrible.

One of the most extraordinary and fantastic Christian places of worship in the world is the Cathedral of Moscow, known as Vasili Blajenni, strange not only in outline and conception, but even stranger in its history. No one knows the architect's name, but the story goes that the czar ordered his eyes to be put out directly the church was completed, so that he should never be able to surpass his work. The idea of the building was inspired by the wickedest and maddest monarch who ever sat on a throne—Ivan the Terrible, czar of Muscovy.

The architecture is in every respect extravagant and barbaric, and the coloring is garish in the extreme. It has nine chapels, roofed by nine cupolas, each different and each stranger than the other. One resembles a pineapple, another a melon, a third is said to ape a hedgehog in its appearance, and the rest are more or less grotesque. Some are gilt; others are painted in brilliant hues. Indeed, the only description is that it is a nightmare of a church, the fitting legacy of a ruler who grilled his counselors in frying pans and clothed his subjects in beanskins in order that trained dogs might worry and tear them to pieces.—Strand Magazine.

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements, 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent.

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2100

Read
Ledger Advs.

WANTED

WANTED — Demonstrators and agents. Men or women. Whole or part time with guaranteed salary. Experience unnecessary. Apply at once to H. B. Smith, General Delivery, Quincy. Dec. 8-3t

WANTED— Young woman would like work by the day or week to go home nights. Telephone Quincy 2183-6 or address 645 Sea Street. Dec. 9-1t

WANTED—An experienced girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Whitney road. Quincy, Dec. 6-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent. $13. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Flat of 5 rooms and bath all modern improvements, set range in good repair, key on 2nd floor. 15 Grant street near Car Barn, Hancock street, Quincy. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2--11t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 287 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 10, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

ORGANIZATION OF NEW CITY COUNCIL

If Ex-Mayor Bryant Should Become President, Who Would be Chairman of Finance Committee?

Messrs. Richards and Smith Only Members Reelected

Talk among the members of the new City Council makes it seem practically settled that Ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant one of the Councilmen at large will be the president of the City Council of 1911. The question that is causing the most discussion, however, seems to be, who will be slated as chairman of the Finance committee, the most important committee of the council.

The rule in past years is that a councilman does not get on this executive committee until he has served at least one year in the City Council, and even then he may not be assigned, as one of the seven members of that committee. There are but two members of the present Finance committee outside Mr. Bryant who are to return next year. They are Councilmen Richards and Smith. Rumor has it that in the event of his election as President he would not appoint either of these two gentlemen, but that Councilman-elect Bailey of Wollaston, who is a banker would be the man.

It has been suggested by some members that Councilman Bryant serve as chairman of that committee. It would establish a new order of things for the president of the Council to serve as a member of any of the standing committees, but there is nothing in the rules of the Council that would prevent if he desired to appoint himself.

For some of the committees, the rules provide that they shall consist of one member from each ward and one member at large, but in the case of the Finance Committee no such provision is made, the President being free to select whom he chooses, regardless of ward lines.

Whether in the event of his election as president, he appoints himself as Chairman of the committee, he will probably be present at every meeting the committee holds.

Four chairmen of committees were not reelected, but Chairman Nowland of the Water committee is back, also Chairman Cherrington of the Fire and Police committee and Chairman Gardner of the License committee. It will be necessary to select new chairmen of the Street committee, the Public Building committee, the Health committee and the Election committee.

The reelected members of the new Council are;

Charles M. Bryant, 12th year.
Charles E. Cherrington, 4th year.
James M. Nowland, 3d year.
John R. Richards, 3d year.
John D. Smith, 3d year.
Arthur C. Gardner, 3d year.
Edward J. Sandberg, 2d year.
Ernest W. Branch, 2d year.
George A. Bolster, 2d year.
Charles A. Ericson, 2d year.
Edward P. Histen, 2d year.
Harry T. Boyd, 2d year.

The new members in the new Council will be:

John R. S. Ross of Ward One.
Frank J. Duffy of Ward Two.
Harry G. Studley of Ward Two.
Murdock A. Campbell, Ward Three.
Robert B. Craig of Ward Three.
Daniel F. Forde, of Ward Four.
Charles W. Bailey of Ward Five.
William J. Leslie of Ward Five.
Horace T. Jenkins of Ward Six.
Edward F. Parlee of Ward Six.
Ernest E. Sodergren of Ward Six.

JANITOR SINCE 1880

Resignation of H. G. O. Newcomb at Public Library

Harrison G. O. Newcomb, for many years the janitor of the Thomas Crane Public Library, has tendered his resignation to take effect Jan. 1. The resignation was tendered to the trustees at a meeting held this week and was accepted with regret.

Mr. Newcomb was appointed janitor of the library at the time it was located in the old Orthodox church building at the corner of Hancock street and what is now Revere road. He served there about two years and has been at the present building 28 years, so that he has been the library janitor upwards of thirty years.

Mr. Newcomb has been a faithful official and the trustees regret that advancing age compelled him to tender his resignation. Mr. Newcomb is about 81 years of age.

Mr. Newcomb is a veteran of the Grand Army having served during the civil war in Co. D of the 39th Regiment.

STATUE OF ST. ANTHONY.

A special and very impressive service was held at the church of the Sacred Heart at Atlantic last evening to bless the statue of St. Anthony of Padua, which has presented to the church through the kindness of a lady of the parish whose name is withheld. The ceremony of blessing the statue was conducted by Rev. Fr. Francis, O. S. S.

COLD WAVE FOR WEEK

Such a Long Cold Spell in December is Unusual

Quincy people are beginning to realize that they have been in the grasp of a cold wave all the week. Since Sunday the temperature has been below the freezing point all the time. The noon readings have been as follows:

Monday, Dec. 5,	23 degrees
Tuesday, Dec. 6,	21 degrees
Wednesday, Dec. 7,	28 degrees
Thursday, Dec. 8,	31 degrees
Friday, Dec. 9,	22 degrees
Saturday, Dec. 10,	23 degrees

How much longer this is to continue people are wondering, for it is unusual to have so many successive days in December with temperature below the freezing point.

Those who were out last night knew that it was cold. There was not much wind but the air was cold and frosty. A glance at the thermometer showed that the mercury was dropping fast. At 9 o'clock it had fallen to 12 above, and an hour later it had gone down to 10 above zero. From this time on it kept dropping so that at midnight it was near the zero point. At 5 o'clock the glass registered 4 above zero. It did not seen to be so cold, as there was practically no wind, but after being out in the air five minutes the tingling of ones ears quickly told that it was cold. When the sun rose today it warmed up a bit, yet at 8 o'clock it was but 10 above zero, and there was but little indication that it would go much higher.

It is the kind of weather that makes the ice men smile, but then they say that two or three weeks of steady cold weather is necessary for them to get ice thick enough for harvesting.

On Dec. 9, 1902, Quincy had 2 degree temperature at noon the official temperature for the 24 hours ranging between 8 below and 4 above. Aside from that the lowest noon temperature for December in 15 years was 10 on Dec. 27, 1903. Last year on Dec. 30, it was 12 degrees.

—No letter without the seal—the Christmas seal.

RESIDENT PASTOR

Rev. Ernest F. Carritt Expected at Universalist Church

An effort is now being made by the First Universalist Society to have a resident pastor. The pulpit of that church has been supplied for a long time by non-resident ministers. Such a leader has been found in Rev. Ernest F. Carritt, a young man of great promise, who has been formally called to the work. On Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Charles Conklin, State superintendent of Universalist churches will occupy the pulpit, and place before all friends of this parish an opportunity to secure this much desired result,—a resident minister, whose sole business will be the spiritual leadership of that church. Mr. Carritt's acceptance of the call will depend upon the willingness of the people to respond to this opportunity. Dr. Conklin hopes to meet everyone on Sunday who feels any interest in this matter.

Rev. Mr. Conklin's subject on Sunday will be "The church militant." The usual services will be held by the Sunday school and the Young People's Union.

It was in 1830 that Universalist services were first held in Quincy in the old Town Hall, the promoters being the late Charles P. Tirrell, Silas Leonard, John Chamberlin and others. A society was organized March 10, 1831, by John Pray, Jedediah Adams, Abram Prescott, Levi B. Josephs, Charles L. Pierce, John A. Newcomb and 23 others.

The society was incorporated on March 14, 1832, and the church on Washington street was dedicated on the 12th of December of the same year. Rev. William Morse of East Milton acted as pastor of the parish of 33 persons until after the dedication.

For three years the society was without a settled clergyman until May 1835, when Rev. Daniel D. Smith was called to impart new life to the church. From the time of his resignation in 1836 until the spring of 1847 there were five ministers each staying about two years.

In 1847 Rev. W. W. Dean settled over the parish and had a very successful pastorate of nearly eight years.

The most good and godly man to assume charge of the society was Rev. Luther Rice, who was settled Feb. 1, 1856, and resigned his charge over the parish in August 1858." From that time until 1872 there were six pastors over the parish. In April 1, 1872, Rev. G. W. Whitney became minister of the society and for six years conducted the work of his church in an able manner. During his stay in Quincy, the parsonage was erected. The society was in a flourishing condition with a membership of 70, a Sunday school of 187 and a congregation of more than 125 families.

Since 1880 the church has had several pastors for short periods, and of late years they have all been non-residents.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SUPPER.

There was a very pleasant gathering at the Point church, on Wednesday evening, the occasion being a supper and entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

The supper was under the efficient management of Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Geo. E. Bailey, Mrs. Herbert Bonney, Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Bushnell, Miss E. M. Freeman, Mrs. Bradford Hayden and Mrs. Walter Hayden. It was pronounced by the 125 people who ate it to be "the best ever."

The entertainment consisted of a beautiful piano duet by Mrs. Charles P. Marshall and Miss Helen Lincoln, vocal solos by Mrs. Edith Carey Page, finely rendered and much enjoyed and a play entitled "A precious pickle," given by the young girls of Mrs. C. W. Newcomb's Sunday School class. Unstinted praise is due these children for the fine manner in which they carried out the play. They reflected great credit upon Mrs. Newcomb and Mrs. Fred Drake of Upland road who so faithfully drilled them. The entertainment closed with a charming little recitation by Edith Frances Lee.

A social hour followed during which everybody ate ice cream and home-made candy, and as the company separated the universal wish was to have another soon.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Established 1860
640-658 Washington St, Opposite Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Quincy Market

SPECIAL

We are the leaders.. MEAT is our specialty. There is no other market in town or anywhere around that can undersell us. Our prices are lower than the prices in Boston. We have the Quality and the price will suit everybody.

Just to Give You an Idea:

Leg Loin Lamb	11 1-2c
Fore Quarter Lamb	8c
Short Leg Lamb.	12 1-2c
Lamb Chop	15c
Rib Steak	12 1-2c
Top of Round Steak	20c
Sirloin Steak, Reg. 20c,	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Regular 28c. Large Tenderloin
A Good Pot Roast for	8c
Fine Rib Roast	10c
Thick End Corned Beef	12 1-2c
Fresh Killed Fowl	17c
3 lb. Beef Liver	25
3 Cans Corn, Peas, Tomatoes	27
Baldwin Apples only	25c peck
Best Vermont Butterine	20c

Remember all our goods are guaranteed.
Bring this ad. with you. Any purchase over a dollar we will pay your fare home.
Don't forget our Grocery Department.

Dec. 9-2t-o-1w

An Ideal Christmas Gift
"A WATCH"

A "365 days in the year" pleasure, provided, of course, that it is a good timepiece.

We sell movements of proven merit and cases of which you will feel constantly proud.

WATCHES FOR WOMEN
In Gold Filled
$4.50 to $20.00
In Solid Gold
$15.00 to 30.00

WATCHES FOR MEN
In Gold Filled $5.00 to $32.00
In Solid Gold $30.00 to $50.00

WATCHES FOR BOYS
$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, upward

WATCHES FOR GIRLS
$2.00 to $30.00

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Tel. 987 L
Dec. 10-17-21-o-10-1w

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

GIFTS THAT MAKE THE FAMILY HAPPY

The triumph of Christmas is not won by the mere buying of Presents—it is won by the real pleasure the gift affords. In giving Home Furnishings you make the ideal Christmas, bringing into your home not for the day but for years to come—a happiness ever fresh with thoughts of kindness. Here are a few suggestions from our attractive stock.

Easy Chairs	$5.00 to $25.00	Kitchen Cabinets	$10.00 to $27.50
Comfort Rockers	$3.50 to $15.00	Couches	$4.98 to $35.00
Carpet Sweepers	$2.50 to $5.00	New Pianos	$195.00 to $450.00
Vacuum Cleaners	$5.00 to $125.00	Foot Rests	$1.25 to $5.00
Work Baskets	$1.50 to $6.50	Chiffonieres	$4.98 to $25.00
Book Cases	98c to $35.00	Umbrella Stands	98c to $4.50
Smokers Stands	$1.75 to $6.50	Room Rugs	$5.00 to $50.00
Parlor Sets	$25.00 to $75.00	Telephone Stands	$5.00 to $10.00
Dining Sets	$20.00 to $90.00	Pictures	50c to $10.00
Parlor Lamps	$2.50 to $10.00	Glenwood Ranges	$23.50 to $45.00
Writing Desks	$5.00 to $20.00	Dressing Tables	$10.00 to $25.00

Music Cabinets, Piano Chairs, Piano Scarfs, Clocks, Bed Side Tables, Costumers, Tabourettes, Waste Baskets, Den Furniture, Shaving Stands, Card Tables, Parlor Cabinets, Portieres, Wood Baskets, Brass Beds Sewing Machines, Bed Couches, Hall Stands, Hair Mattresses, Bed Puffs, Dress Suit Cases, Travelling Bags, Trunks, Bed Room Furnishings, Cheval Mirrors, and hundreds of other ever useful and welcome gifts.

You can open an account and by paying a little each week make the Christmas gift for your family—substantial and long to be remembered. Such gifts as these will make your family happy and that means happiness for you.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 8-10-o-1w

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Don't wait until New Year's day to resolve that you will have your sidewalk cleared promptly this winter after every snow storm.

The Kennebec is frozen over, sixteen days earlier than last year, but according to the Old Farmer's Almanack, winter doesn't begin till December 22.

Quincy has also broken the Brockton record for the Shoe City has never elected a mayor for more than three consecutive years. The only two who have had a three-year term are Ziba C. Keith and John S. Kent. Evidently the "Ks" were O. K.

The Daily Ledger analysis of the Assessors aggregates yesterday proves very conclusively that the voters do not fairly represent the taxpayers of the city who supply the "sinews of war" with which to run the city government, the county government, and the State government. The city has over 6,000 names on its voting lists but only 1,700 to 1,800 are property taxpayers. The Assesors figures show that 1,838 poll taxpayers are assessed on property in the city, but some of these 1,838 are not registered voters, being aliens. The proportion o ftaxpayers to voters might be larger if the franchise was extended to women, as today considerable of the property of the city stands in the name of women. They are more entitled to a vote than the majority of men who are allowed to vote. The point is often raised too that only "citizens" should be given employment on public works, but these "citizens" are not usually taxpayers, and often times the Councilmen are not.

New industries are knocking at our doors and it is very evident that Quincy should have a Business Men's Association with a membership of 300 to 400 or 500. The Board of Trade does not fill the bill. The Retail Merchants' Association is too limited in its membership. The Granite City Club is merely a social organization, and the Improvement Associations at West Quincy, Montclair, Squantum and Houghs Neck are all for selfish purposes. If all these could be combined in one wideawake Business Men's Association with a paid secretary and possibly a building or clubhouse, the things that it could accomplish for Quincy might be surprising.

Such an association should not be expected to finance new industries but to assist them. But primarily to develop the city. To improve the condition of real estate, so that it will not be a burden. To help in the equalization of taxation. To secure better train service. To improve the street railway service. To make City Square more of a business center. To cause the erection of more homes. To encourage the industries the city now has—the shipyard, the granite manufacturers, the granite quarries, the Tubular Rivet Works, the Boston Gear Works, the new manufactories at Norfolk Downs, the local newspapers, etc.

ONLY ONE SEAL.

I am little? Yes: but I'm not alone;
I have a hundred million brothers;
And when we are all enlisted
We can conquer as well as others.

We wage our battle against disease;
We whisper hope to the dying!
We waft good wishes on every breeze;
We send glad tidings flying!

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

ST. MARY'S COUNCIL

Name Selected by Knights of Columbus at West Quincy

The new Council of the Knights of Columbus to be instituted at West Quincy will be known as St. Mary's Council. This was decided Friday evening at a meeting of those interested in the institution of the new council. District Deputy Brady was present at the meeting and announced that Archbishop O'Connell had appointed Rev. Henry T. Grady, pastor of St. Mary's church, as chaplain of the new council.

The date of the institution of the council has not been definitely settled as yet, but it probably will be during the first week in January. Previous to that time the charter members will hold numerous meetings and elect a board of officers. A suite of rooms will be secured by the council for this winter, and in the spring steps will be taken toward a permanent building.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Fanny C. Adams to Hazen E. Ricker et al trs, Oak street, Poplar street.
Frank C. Andrews to Victor R. Weston et al, Pine street, Beale street.
Charles C. Barton et al trs to Euna M. Lawrence, River road.
Charles E. Bigelow et ux to George Townbakes et al, Hancock street, Revere road.
John F. Coleman to William H. Knapp, Albatross road.
Charles M. Conant to Frederick E. Jennings.
Philip D. Cook to Charles G. Johnson, Buckley street.
Cornelius J. Cronin to Harry E. Mapes, School street.
Emilie F. Day to S. Elizabeth Stevens, Green street.
Lucy P. Doble to Mary E. Tisdale, Dimmock street, Whalley road, Fairmount way.
Wilton A. Dunham to George J. Gottwald, Houghs Neck.
Wilton A. Dunham to Charles H. Savage, Houghs Neck.
Royal S. Eastman to William E. Wallace, Billings road, Rawson road.
Thomas Fenno tr et al to Fred G. Osgood, Buckingham road.
Julia E. Fuller to Horace F. Simpson.
Charles W. Garland to Edward T Plaisted, Varsall street, Everett street
Sarah E. Lane to Susan G. Lane, Goffe street.
William H. Means tr to Nellie Brunton, Sea avenue.
Andrew Milne et al trs to Quincy Blue Granite Quarry, Branch street
Nathan G. Nickerson to Wallace G. Rood, Phillips street.
Herman Nerdberg to August O. Johnson, Ryden street, Curtis street.
John J. Reardon adm. et al to John T. Reynolds, Furnace Brook Parkway, Reardon street, $874.
Napoleon Z. Reed et al to Quincy Blue Granite Quarry Co., Scotch Pond place.
George W. Weggit to Samuel Garlitz Rockland street.
Josephine Weiler to Sarah H. Weiler, Babcock street.
Fred W. Wood et al trs to Carey Keith, Merrymount avenue.

SMOKE INSPECTOR.

After some delay the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners has appointed William H. Gerrish of Malden as chief inspector of the Boston smoke district. For a time his chief duty will be devoted to investigation of the system used by some of the large cities of the country. Mr. Gerrish is a brother of Thomas G. Gerrish of this city who is employed as engineer at the plant of LeClair Bros. at West Quincy. The new appointee is well fitted for his new position, his whole commercial career having been directly in the line of practical engineering work. He was born in Lowell and after being graduated in the engineering course at Technology he began active work as a fireman and has worked his way step by step until he became the general superintendent of the Lancaster State Co. He has also been employed as engineer by the Massachusetts cotton mills of Lowell, and the Schmidt Combustion Co. He was for two years with the ordnance department of the United States Army and since then has been mechanical engineer for various concerns throughout New England.

Gift to Roosevelt Revoked

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt was to be presented with 1000 acres of valuable timberland by a former admirer. The will was probated in South Bend yesterday, but this man, just before his death, changed his mind, and in a codicil bequeaths the entire property to his brother.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, Dec. 11.
Sun rises—7:11; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—2:26 a. m.
High water—6:15 a. m.; 6:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Increasing cloudiness and warmer; light to moderate west winds, becoming variable.

SEC. DICKINSON WANTS AIRSHIPS

Says Army Needs Dirigibles and Aeroplanes

CITES EUROPEAN EXAMPLES

Secretary of War In Report Says That France and Germany Have Made Big Progress In Aerial Work While United States Has Stood Still—The Army's Strength, Etc.

Washington, Dec. 10.—J. M. Dickinson, secretary of war, in his annual report recommends that the government provide the army with both dirigible airships and with aeroplanes for instruction purposes and for field work. He says in part:

"Aerial navigation is attracting worldwide attention. Marked progress has been made in this art during the past year. Its possible influence upon the art of war is much discussed among military authorities the world over. Recently in Berlin and Paris opportunity was afforded me to witness aviation tests that were being made there by the military, and I was impressed with the interest and activity displayed in the development of this new art with special reference to its possibilities for use in the military service.

"Information from abroad indicates that at the present time Germany possesses fourteen military dirigible airships and a number of aeroplanes and France seven military dirigible airships and thirty aeroplanes.

"Late information received from France indicates that the French government has recently ordered eleven new dirigibles of different dimensions, whose delivery will take place at different times within the next twelve months.

"The following is an extract from a report of an officer of the United states army on the autumn maneuvers of the French army from Sept. 15 to Sept. 18, 1910:

"'But the most striking thing was the aeroplane. The French have made wonderful progress in this respect. I saw Lieutenant Bellenger in his monoplane rise right out of a wheat stubble field. The biplanes and monoplanes were everywhere. They traveled with great speed and must have seen everything except where the troops could be concealed in the woods. An efficient aeroplane corps is certainly indispensable to an army.'

"The United States, which was the first nation to officially to recognize the aeroplane for military purposes and which conducted at Fort Myer in 1908 the first public flight of a heavier than air machine, has since that date made no addition to its aeronautical equipment, which at present consists of one small practise dirigible balloon, one Wright aeroplane and three small captive balloons.

"It is contended by some that dirigible balloons and airships will at best prove to be of doubtful utility in warfare. The fact remains that all European first class powers are devoting a great deal of attention to the subject of military aeronautics and are displaying marked activity in the development and the supply of both the dirigible and the aeroplane for war purposes, while the United States is practically at a standstill in this matter.

"In my judgment the time has come when it would be wise to make appropriations adequate for providing the signal corps with a reasonable unmber of the better type of machines for instruction purposes and for field work.

"The total excavation of the Panama canal during the fiscal year amounted to 31,858,122 cubic yards against 37,966,926 cubic yards excavation durthe preceding year. Of the amount excavated during the last year 19,903,480 cubic yards were taken out by steam shovels and 11,954,642 cubic yards by dredges against 22,670,955 cubic yards by steam shovels and 15,295,971 cubic yards by dredges respectively in the preceding fiscal year.

"At the date of the last reports received from the military departments (Oct. 15, 1910) the actual strength of the regular army was 4,310 officers and 67,459 enlisted men, a total of 71,769. As compared with the strength reported last year this shows an increase of 101 officers and a decrease of 4,381 enlisted men, making a net decrease of the regular army during the year of 4,280. These figures do not include the 3,486 men of the hospital corps excluded by the act of March 1, 1887, from classification as part of the enlisted force of the army. There were also in the service 166 officers and 5,100 enlisted men of the Philippine scouts.

"The total unmber of enlistments in the army during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1910 (exclusive of the hospital corps and the Philippine scouts), was 17,973, of which 7,268 were reenlistments and 10,705 were original enlistments.

"During the past fiscal year three ten-inch guns and forty-six rapid fire guns have been added to the number of guns actually available for service at our seacoast defenses."

BRIEFS

At the monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon of the Woman's Guild of Christ church Miss A. R. Loring of the Woman's Auxiliary will speak on "Impressions of the Triennial convention at Cincinnati" one of the greatest conventions ever held by the church. Members are urged to attend and guests will be welcome.

Several of our people have visited the Boston Art Museum to see the Frick pictures. The Museum is well worth visiting at any time but the Frick pictures are exciting more than usual interest and last Sunday there were so many visitors all could not gain admittance and more are anticipated tomorrow.

Some Quincy people have discovered a quick and pleasant way to get to the Boston Opera house or any of the Back Bay halls from the South station. Take a train to Trinity or Back Bay station, then a two minutes' walk to Huntington avenue and take trolley car to destination. This is especially good on the return trip as one can enjoy the opera until after eleven and then make good train connections at the Huntington avenue station in time to get last train for Quincy comfortably without hurry or waste of time.

Mrs. A. Prescott Nash passed away at her home in Weymouth on Monday aged 79 years. She was Elizabeth Spear, daughter of the late Seth Spear of Spear street, this city, and related to many in Quincy.

Evidently the proprietor of Johnson Bros.' market has returned from his hunting trip in New Hampshire, for in front of the market are six deer, and the trophies of the party also include two coons, a fox, and two live lambs. In the party were Robert T. Johnson, I. Willie Hayden and Dr. Sidney Hardwick.

The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon will be of especial interest. Rev. L. A. Nies of Dorchester will deliver the address and W. N. Dunbar of Brockton will have charge of the music. All men are invited to be at the Assembly hall at 4 o'clock for the service.

Rev. Charles B. Ames ,assistant pastor at First church is to address the Young People's Religious Union of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Sunday evening on the subject "The human appeal to right living." Louis B. Weston is in charge of the meeting.

The Royal Purple degree was conferred on five members of the Manet encampment last night in Odd Fellows hall.

Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters of Wollaston will meet at the home of Mrs. W. Seiders 240 South Central avenue, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The salary of the clerk of the District court at Quincy is now $1,500. It is regulated by the census of the district, however, and will be $1,650 next year. The salary of the judge will also be increased from $2,500 to $2,750.

Notwithstanding the storm of Tuesday so great is the enthusiasm for work of members of the Quincy Day Nursery Association that there was a good attendance at the clubhouse for the December meeting. Plans for the Christmas party for the Nursery and other important business was discussed.

Mrs. Sarah Orr of Sagamore avenue attended the funeral Friday of Mrs. S. M. Young at the home of her son-in-law Frank M. Spicer of Belmont street, Brockton. Mr. Spicer is superintendent of wiring department of the Old Colony Street Railway Company.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

R. E. FOY & CO.

Goods of FIRST Quality

We do not sell goods of second quality and do not cater for trade that seeks second qualities in the food line.

Our purpose is not to see how cheap we can sell, but how good we can maintain quality.

Every need for the table will be found here; everything in Poultry, Meat, Butter, Cheese, Fresh Eggs, etc. Here you will find all the well-known brands of Tea, Coffee, Jams, Jellies, and Canned Goods bearing names of the best growers and packers in the United States.

Won't you give us a trial order and let us prove it?

FOR SATURDAY

TENDER HOME CHICKENS 25 cts lb
Hind Quarters Spring Lamb 15 cts lb

GROCERY

Pure Lard	lb--14c	New Rolled Oats	10 lbs 31c
Best Potatoes, bushel	75c	Graham Flour	5 lb bag 18c

MARKET

3 Pkgs. Seeded Raisins 25 cts

Condensed Milk	can 10c	Bridal Bell Peas	2 cans 25c
Pine State Corn	can 10c	Triscuit	pkg 10c

Large New Cal. Prunes 2 lbs 25 cts

Wheat Germ Meat	pkg 14c	Red Lily Raspberries	can 18c
Equal Lunch Biscuit	pkg 25c	Gran. Corn Meal	5 lb 15c

R.E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 9-10

Phone 117 or 153

If you are going to buy that boy a useful Christmas present, get him a good

Rifle or Shotgun

We have a full line of the celebrated STEVENS FIREARMS and will take pleasure in showing them to you.

Single Shot Rifles
Repeating Rifles
Pocket Rifles and Pistols
Single Barrel Shotguns
Double Barrel Shotguns
Repeating Shotguns

The prices on these Arms are very low considering their beauty, accuracy and reliability. They are fully guaranteed and are made in the STEVENS famous Factory of Precision.

COME IN AND SEE THEM

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite Street, Quincy

Dec. 8 3t

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Advertise in The Ledger

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ For The People

ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK. BUILDING
R.D. CHASE Treas.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 386-3 Jan. 17-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Tenor Quartette
Music for all occasions
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-4 Oct. 6-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rate.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1301 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 5-tf

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED.
drawing or photo for free search and free advice, how to obtain patents, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to see us at
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

$498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
INFORMATION at OFFICE
B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

ANE & CO.
MENTS
LS ERECTED ANY METERY
THE D STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

. CURTIS,
and GLAZIER.
TAINED GLASS.
d PAPER HANGER
RE REFINISHED.
Spear Street, Quincy.

F. BURKE and Insurance
MORTGAGES
Notary Public
Bank Building
Jan. 17-tf

E. BULLOCK of Singing
Temple Quartette occasions.
remont St., Boston
10 Willow Avenue,
Quincy.
Oct. 6-tf

SULLIVAN
Insurance
Care of Property. of the Peace
Hancock Streets,

GAIDE & CO.
NSURANCE.
The Lowest Rates.
Department,
k Street, Quincy.
e, Quincy 97-3.

avings Bank
Every Business
rday, 8.30 A. M. to 3
8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
RENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

A. HAYDEN
Tuner
Hancock
Court, Quincy Point.
Nov. 3-tf

INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCES TRUSTS CARE OF PROPERTY

YOUR BELLS OR KEYS NITURE
Playthings BROKEN
D FOR S & HALL
n St., Quincy

ENTS
DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo and free report as to patentability. For free guide book, how to obtain patents, trade marks, and how to secure foreign patents, address, ALL COUNTRIES. Washington saves time, money and patient. Practice Exclusively Patent Practice Exclusively. Patents secured through the United States Patent Office, Washington, D.C.
NOW &

The Social Realm

Frank E. Parlin for several years a resident at Wollaston while superintendent of the Quincy schools was married on Saturday evening at Weymouth to Miss Marguerite L. McKeever. They are residing in Cambridge where Mr. Parlin is now superintendent of schools and will receive their friends after January fifteenth.

• • •

Mrs. Wilson Tisdale of Hancock street has recently purchased the Arthur Doble estate on Presidents hill, situated at the corner of Dimmock street and Munroe road. Her many friends on the hill are much pleased to welcome her as a neighbor.

• • •

The engagement is announced of Costas G. Emanuel, the well known City Square confectioner, to Miss Eva Prario of 5 Filbert street.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Torrey of Wollaston was a week end guest of relatives at Lovells corner, Weymouth.

• • •

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus first president of the Quincy Women's club has been giving a course of lectures on Art in the Italian Hill Towns at the Mary L. Burnham school at Northampton. Not only were the students and faculty present but many of the society people of the town.

• • •

One of Quincy's oldest and most respected women, Mrs. George L. Gill, reaches another milestone tomorrow in life's journey, Sunday being her ninety-first birthday. She will doubtless receive many reminders that she has friends far and wide who are interested in the happy event.

• • •

Mrs. George Hunt and children returned to her home in Pittsfield this week after a visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Chubbuck of Norh Weymouth.

• • •

Mrs. Joseph Barber of 92 Elm avenue, Wollaston Park, is to be hostess on Monday afternoon for the December meeting of the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R.

• • •

Alden Blanchard returned the first of the week from a week's visit to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Blanchard at Sherburn. Mrs. Blanchard who has been quite ill since moving from Quincy was much improved when her son left. Her friends here wish her good health and much happiness in her new home.

• • •

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents hill goes to Brookline Thursday morning to give one of her lectures on Italian art before the Emery bag club.

• • •

Mrs. Charles H. Belcher of Randolph is visiting her sister Mrs. Charles F. Wilde of Prospect avenue for a month.

• • •

Mrs. William B. Rice is to entertain the members of the Hospital Aid Association at her home on Adams street on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 29th, it being the annual meeting of the association. Much has been accomplished the past year and the association will start the New Year hopeful of even more good work to be carried on in the future.

• • •

The Thimble and Book club met with Miss Marion Vogler as hostess.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Alva M. Dow, nee Carrie Hilliard, of Middle street, Braintree, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born Thursday.

• • •

The father of the State of Maine club extends an invitation to all Quincy people born in Maine to meet at his house, 17 Quincy street, next Monday evening. Mr. Williams has secured A. L. Hayden and Miss Bertha Trepanier to assist in entertaining.

• • •

Mrs. Charles Bickford always active in social and club life is just now even more busy than usual. On Monday afternoon she is to have charge of the Quincy Alliance Christmas meeting and on Tuesday afternoon the play, "Pygmalion and Galatea" which her committee of the Quincy Women's club is to give at Quincy Music hall.

• • •

Mrs. E. E. Willey and daughter Mrs. Fred Burdett have returned from a visit to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Austin Stearns have been recent guests of his parents at Hanover.

• • •

The Current Events class at the Women's clubhouse on Thursday afternoon was greeted by Prof. Ward in the absence of Mrs. May Alden Ward and he gave a most interesting talk on present affairs in England.

• • •

An exceptionally good program will be the attraction at the meeting of Quincy Alliance on Monday afternoon in First Church chapel, it being the Christmas meeting in charge of Mrs. Charles Bickford. Rev. Ellery Channing Butler will read the Nativity; there will be readings by Prof. and Mrs. Bickford and songs by Mrs. Henry Tirrell and Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting.

• • •

The Atlantic Study club attended the lecture on Famous Paintings given by Prof. Elmendolf at Symphony hall Friday evening.

• • •

Tea Party day is to be observed Friday, Dec. 16, by the State Society of the Daughters of the Revolution by a meeting at the Parker house, Boston. There will be a buffet luncheon from 12 until 2, also a sale of homemade cake, candy, Christmas cards, etc., for the benefit of the Annapolis Memorial fund. At two o'clock a paper on Commodore Paul Jones will be given by Mrs. Parris T. Farwell of Wellesley Hills. Members may bring guests.

• • •

Miss M. Elizabeth Prescott of Federal avenue has returned from an extended visit with relatives in Pittsfield Loudon, and Concord, N. H.

• • •

Mrs. Dame of Botolph street entertained the Ladies' whist of Atlantic Wedensday evening. After the game ices and cake were served.

(Continued on Page 6.)

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Saturday morning meeting for younger boys was attended by 150 juniors of the association. H. W. Gibson, boys' secretary of the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, spoke on the subject of "Chums." Mr. Gibson himself is a great chum with boys of all ages, and he knew whereof he spoke. The boys were all attention during the address and wanted more when it was finished.

The contest for attendance of representatives of the different schools is continuing with Massachusetts Fields in the lead.

Mr. Ashley of Boston University will talk to the older boys in the Association building Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. After the regular meeting there will be a group meeting to talk over the gathering on January 1.

The Yale team of employed boys will entertain the Harvard, Dartmouth and Carlisle teams at a supper next Wednesday evening. Capt. "Bob" Fisho of the Harvard football team will be the guest of honor, and will talk to the boys after the supper.

The juniors are planning a costume party for Dec. 21.

A dual meet with Hyde Park is scheduled for next month. Trials will begin the first of the week.

The standing of the teams of employed boys is as follows: Harvard, 64.1; Dartmouth, 57.7; Yale, 49.8; Carlisle, 48.2.

The junior teams stand in the following order as a result of the contest up to today's: Red, 27.2; Crimson, 21.6; Orange, 20.9; Brown, 20.2; Green, 16.8; Blue, 16.3.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

WELL ORGANIZED BIBLE SCHOOL

Bethany Has Average Attendance of Over 300

The annual meeting of the Bethany Bible school was held Friday evening in connection with the regular church prayer-meeting. The secretary's report showed an average attendance for the year of 303. Largest attendance, 404, smallest, 123. The pin system was installed early in the year, and was productive of good results. For attendance six consecutive Sundays an enamel pin is awarded each scholar; for thirteen consecutive Sundays, a bronze pin; for 26, a metal pin, and for 39 a pin of silver, and for 52 consecutive Sundays one of gold. The international graded lessons have been installed in all departments making five diffeernt lessons studied in the school each Sunday.

The report of the treasurer showed a total of $475.75 received, and $212.53 disbursed, leaving a balance of $267.22 in the treasury. In addition to this, the gift funds of the organized classes the Makaria fraternity, the Philathea society, etc., would bring the total much higher.

Reports from the different departments showed progress and improvement. The cradle roll, beginners, primary, junior, intermediate and senior departments all reported a good year. The home department reported a membership of 103 divided into 11 classes, one, a correspondence class, and the other ten conducted by as many visitors.

Makaria Fraternity gave its membership as 98. The year has been a good one in every way. The gift fund has been large and much good has been done with it.

The Philatheas with a membership of 26 has also had a successful year. The class has supplied six teachers for the Sunday school and has done very effective home mission work about the city.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Assistant superintendent—Melville P. Hayward.
Superintendents of Intermediate department—Napoleon Corthell.
Juniors—Miss Mabel Baxter.
Primary—Mrs. W. G. Shaw.
Assistant—Mrs. Albert Hayden.
Beginners—Miss Addie Park.
Cradle roll—Mrs. T. King.
Home—Miss Mary F. Sampson.
The superintendeint of the whole school who is elected by the church, is Ernest W. Branch.
Secretary—Alvah Innis.
Treasurer—Charles Scammell.
Librarian—Harry Bates.
Messenger—Charles Hayden.
Secretary of Primary department—Miss Mararet Stewart.
Librarian of junior department—Mrs. E. W. Branch.
Teachers on executive board—Mrs. George Badger, Dr. C. T. Sherman.

BIG SALE IN QUINCY.

The sale of Red Cross stamps was large yesterday, as 1500 were sold in the Post Office alone. In all parts of the city these are on sale and the response to the appeals are ready and generous. Twenty thousand were sent to Ward Five, and the other wards received their proportionate share. The sale in the Post Office today is not quite as large as yesterday, but is withal satisfactory.

Stamps may be procured at the headquarters in Mr. Faxon's office any time. The general sale will be resumed the last two days of next week and will continue with the exception of Sunday all through Christmas week.

The Quincy anti-tuberculosis society will get 80 percent of the total receipts. Last year the treasurer of the society received about $180 from the sale of stamps, and it is expected that the results this year will be even more satisfactory. The cause is a noble one and one in which all of us are deeply interested since it will aid in giving a happier New Year to so many sufferers.

QUINCY CHORAL SOCIETY.

The annual concert of the Quincy Choral society will occur somewhat earlier than usual and is announced for Tuesday evening, Jan. 3. This makes such a short season of study for the members that they will probably plan to resume meetings later.

There has been some talk of giving a second concert but the matter is not definitely settled as yet.

All business plans for the "Creation" concert will be the same as those of previous years. Subscriptions are already being received and the attractive yearly circular will be issued early next week.

IN RAILROAD DISASTER

Recovered Large Verdict But Never Got the Money

Miss Margaret T. Garrity, who figured in the South Boston railroad disaster in November, 1908, died at her home at 86 Common treet last evening. Miss Garrity received such a severe shock at the time of the accident that she never recovered and her death came as a result of it.

When the matter came into court she was awarded $12,000, probably the largest verdict ever given in this county for a personal injury. The N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad asked for a new trial and the case is before the Supreme court. The railroad company claimed that the verdict was too large for one who received no bodily injury.

Miss Garrity was the daughter of the late Michael and Ellen G. Garrity of West Quincy. She is survived by four sisters and a brother, Patrick Garrity. The sisters are Mrs. Elizabeth Keating of Upland road, Mrs. William Fenton of Dorchester, Mrs. Mary Chisholm of Jamaica Plain and Miss Maria Garrity of West Quincy.

The funeral will be held Monday from St. Mary's church. Mass will be said at 9 o'clock.

QUINCY POINT RUNAWAY.

A runaway horse caused a good deal of excitement at Quincy Point on Friday. Peter Gacicia, the fruit man, stopped his horse in front of H. H. I. Smith's store and was just opening the door when the animal became frightened and started up the street toward Quincy centre. When he got in front of Yule's hotel, horse and pung went up on to the sidewalk. The animal broke away, leaving the pung undamaged on the sidewalk, and dashed up the street at a fearful rate. The East Weymouth car was waiting on the turnout just above Chubbuck street and the horse headed straight for it. The motorman jumped out of the car and by waving his arms scared the animal so that he veered to one side and missed the car by a few feet and now thoroughly terrified continued his flight at a rapid pace.

THE PHILERGIANS BRAINTREE.

The Philergians met on Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Rogers, in the chair. There was not the usual number present, owing to the snow storm. Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd gave a talk on "Comets and Balloons" and proved herself quite as interesting a talker as at her former appearance. Mrs. Todd is the wife of a Professor of astronomy at Amherst, and has allied herself with his work. She made an assent last May in a balloon with Mr. Glidden, the well known pilot and Mr. Todd to observe Halley's comet; and they established the fact that is quite possible to make telescopic observations from a balloon. She told of the great fear comets inspired in ancient times, even down to 1620 ,when the church considered it next to witchcraft to speak of a comet as a natural, or harmless occurance.

Halley was the first man to state that comets are superlunar, and in 1682 predicted that the comet then in the sky would come again in 1756. In honor of his discovery that comet was named for him. Last May, for several evening, clouds veiled Halley's comet and Mrs. Todd had an opportunity to ascend in a balloon. She described the journey as not at all frightful and the sky as clear as she had ever seen it.

Miss Margery White gave a report on the Food Sanitation Federation at Jamaica Plain on Nov. 2. The necessity of personal inspection of food supplies was emphasized. Mrs. Albert E. Avery spoke of the autumn meeting of the Federation with the Cantabridgia Clubs. A tribute to Julia Ward Howe the originator of the woman's club movement, formed part of the program —After five months of waiting, a young woman residing at Schmidt, Stevens county, Wash., northeast of Spokane, will get her diamond engagement ring, sent her last July by her fiance who at that time was a resident of Cranbrook, B. C. The ring was found baked into a wedding cake by Inspector William Hutchinson of the customs service when the cake was sent through the mails. Suspecting that there was something amiss, the customs officials opened the package, and, after using a hatpin as a probe, struck something hard, which later proved to be the plush box surrounding the ring. Ever since that time the lovelorn swain has been in communication with the customs officials, but it has not until Nov. 30 that the fine of $24, which would have been equal to the duty, was paid by the young man and the ring released. The ring and case were sent out to the young woman in the mails by Deputy Collector J. E. Daniels as soon as the fine was paid.

CAUGHT IN 'FRISCO

Former Bostonian Arrested For Alleged Fraud After Long Search

Boston, Dec. 10.—Frederick J. Herthel, once a well known real estate agent in Boston, is on his way from San Francisco, in custody of officers, to answer a charge of embezzlement brought by Mrs. Clara E. Vance, who claims that he defrauded her of nearly $30,000, six years ago.

Herthel, who had been missing since 1905, had made his way to San Francisco, where he entered in business and had established a reputation for business integrity and ability.

Since his disappearance, Mrs. Vance has utilized every resource to locate him. When located and arrested, he declared that he had been paying his old debt and would soon have been squared up if he had escaped discovery.

FORFEITS $45,000 BONDS

Lynn Man Fails to Appear In Court For Sentence

Salem, Mass., Dec. 10.—Philip Bromfield of Lynn, charged with receiving $27,500 worth of copper wire stolen from the General Electric company of that city, did not appear in the superior court here, when called for sentence by Judge Bell, and his bonds, totalling $45,000, were confiscated.

Bromfield had previously pleaded guilty to four out of thirty-six counts alleging that he had received the wire. Benjamin L. Smith is now serving sentence for stealing several thousand pounds of copper from the General Electric company. It is alleged that Smith sold the copper to Bromfield.

PAWNED VALUABLES BEFORE HIS FLIGHT

Davie, the Boy Broker, Is Located In Mexico City

Boston, Dec. 10.—Following the news that Robert E. Davie, who went through $350,000 of his own and other people's money in State street, was a few days ago living at the Hotel Lara in Mexico City, it was reported that Inspector Pelton will leave for Mexico City to arrest Davie.

Davie was located through a letter received from him by Ralph B. Dudley of the Hotel Nottingham, former manager of the Blue Ridge Iron company, of which Davie was treasurer.

It developed yesterday that Davie, through his various financial dealings, had dissipated the sum of $350,000. He is known to have left this city practically penniless, as his fur coat and whatever other valuables he possessed about him were found in pawn shops.

But through wealthy friends and associates Davie was enabled to borrow enough money to make his way to Mexico City, where he was living a few days ago at an expensive hotel.

A FOSS APPOINTMENT

Captain Pearson of Lowell His Choice For Adjutant General

Boston, Dec. 10.—Governor-elect Foss has selected Gardner W. Pearson of Lowell as adjutant general. He will announce the appointment of his staff on his return from Washington early next week. Mr. Foss last night sent a letter to Pearson, in which he says:

"I hereby notify you that upon taking office as governor of Massachusetts I shall appoint you to be the adjutant general, chief of staff, with the rank of brigadier general, Massachusetts volunteer militia."

WOMAN DECAPITATED

Hurled Under Trucks of Car as It Collides With Automobile

Stratford, Conn., Dec. 10.—In an accident believed to be the first of its kind in the world, Miss Jessica Saunders, a Mystic dressmaker, was thrown out of an automobile containing another girl and two Yale men, hurled under the trucks of a speeding trolley car and decapitated.

Benjamin C. Thompson of St. Paul had an arm broken, but the other two occupants, Stuyvesant Peabody, owner and driver of the car, and Miss Lillian Foster of Milford, were uninjured.

Church Goods Dealer Fined $1000

Boston, Dec. 10.—Joseph A. Jacques of Worcester, dealer in church goods, was fined $1000 by Judge Dodge in the United States court. He pleaded guilty to making false affidavits to the customs authorities in importing articles for church purposes.

Lynn Has $90,000 Fire

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 10.—The business section of Lynn was threatened by a fire which destroyed the six-story brick shoe factory of Patrick Sherry at 75 Munroe street and damaged three nearby buildings. The loss is set at $90,000.

Portuguese Pretender Busy

Lisbon, Dec. 10.—The newspapers say that Dom Miguel of Braganza, pretender to the throne of Portugal, has summoned Joao Almeida and other partisans to Austria to confer with him on plans for a Miguelist propoganda in Portugal.

For All Ayer's Pills are liver pills. All vegetable, sugar-coated. A gentle laxative for all the family. Consult your doctor freely about these pills and about all medical matters. Follow his advice. He certainly knows best. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

SOUTH BRAINTREE.

The many friends of the Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern of Worcester were delighted to welcome him on Thursday when he was in town.

Wednesday evening, the members of the Athletic association were entertained by Mrs. A. M. Chick of Pond street.

Mrs. James H. Kilbrith of Washington street entertained the members of the Ivaloo whist club Friday afternoon. Mrs. Oakes A. Bridgham made the highest score.

Wednesday evening at the Monatiquot school hall the members of the Braintree A. A. basket ball team played the Aero club. The score was 20-16 in favor of the Braintree A. A.

Joseph E. Hayden, commander of Antietam camp, S. of V., and division inspector of Massachusetts inspected the Col. Abner B. Packard camp S. of V. of Quincy Friday evening.

Next Wednesday, December 14, will be parents visiting day at the Noah Torrey school. Visitors will be welcome at both sessions when the regular school routine will be observed.

The triplets, Raymond, Ralph and Roland, Marriott of Springfield, nephews of Mrs. Alice Rogers, will celebrate the first anniversary of their birth, Dec. 11.

Frank C. Allen of Wakefield, will relate some of his interesting experiences in autograph collecting at the December meeting of the Men's club of the South M. E .church to be held in the vestry next Tuesday evening. The address will follow the supper.

The small attendance of scholars at the schools on Wednesday was doubtless due to a misunderstanding of the storm signal. Parents and children evidently forgot that the whistle is blown for both sessions and the morning alarm does not govern the entire day.

Joshua Horton killed a big fox on Monday. This is the second one he has secured this season. Mr. Horton is a Civil War veteran who lost one arm in the war and through an accident in later years, lost the use of an eye, facts which make his success as a hunter rather remarkable.

The Neighborhood club held an entertainment and sale at the home of Daniel E. Cain on Friday evening. The entertainment consisted of songs by Miss May White, readings by Miss Anna McGaughey and piano duets by Ray White and Charles Waters. Mrs. Helen Cain was chairman of the committee in charge of the cake table. Mrs. Edith Waters of the candy table, Mrs. Hannah Horton of the apron and fancy table, while Miss Ethel White had charge of the entertainemnt. The evening was both pleasant and profitable for the club.

K. of C. Election.

Last evening in I. O. O. F. hall South Braintree, the members of Braintree Council No. 1462, Knights of Columbus elected their officers for next year. The exact date of installation has not yet been decided upon. The following officers were chosen:

G. K., Dr. C. A. Sullivan.
D. G. K., Edward V. Heffernan.
Chan., Moses H. McGaughey.
Warden, John F. Madden.
Advocate, Joseph F. Mohan.
Rec. Sec., J. Raymond King.
Fin. Sec., John F. Kelly.
Treas., James G. Cuff.
Lecturer, Edw. J. Sullivan.
I. G., Daniel A. Ryan.
O. G., Joseph M. McRea.
Trustee, 3 years, John H. Sullivan.
Delegates to convention, Moses H. McGaughey and Dr. C. A. Sullivan.
Alternates, John H. Sullivan and Edward V. Heffernan.

Quincy Historical Society
LECTURE BY
Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.
"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."
Illustrated by Lantern Photographs
Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore
At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.
Wednesday, December 14, 1910, at 8 o'clock P. M.
Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.
EMERY L. CRANE.
Dec. 7 6t

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

BRAINTREE

Mrs. Edward Jones of Brooklyn, N. Y., will spend the Christmas holidays with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sanford of Rosedale.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Congregational church will hold its monthly Foreign Missionary meeting at the residence of Miss Margery White next Wednesday at 3 P. M.

The next meeting of the Men's club of All Souls' church will be held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 14. William S. Johnson, a former member of the state board of health will be the speaker.

A family party from Braintree and South Braintree went to Lowell Wednesday to attend the wedding of Owen Johnson and Miss Ruth Cheney. Mr. Johnson is a son of Mrs. Minnie Johnson of this town.

Miss Louise Cass, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cass of Vine street was given a birthday party Monday. About ten little ones enjoyed the occasion. Louise was delighted with her pretty birthday cake and souvenirs of the occasion.

J. H. Spaulding has sold the $14,000 place of Lawyer Leonard's on Monatiquot avenue to Mr. Stacy of the Stacy, Adams Shoe firm in Brockton, for a summer home. He has also sold a $2,500 lot of land on Monatiquot avenue to Mr. W. H. H. James of Brookline, upon which he is to build an $8,000 house. He is also in the firm of Stacy, Adams Shoe Co. of Brockton.

COCHATO CLUB BRAINTREE.

An evening of rare entertainment will be provided at the Cochato club next Friday evening, Dec. 16, when the famous Lotus quartet, Mrs. Helen Donovan Kearns, soprano soloist, and Miss Alice Ready Jordan, reader, will appear before the club members and friends. The Lotus quartet is one of the leaders in Boston and its members are true to Boston. They have had many flattering offers to go to other cities, including one from the Rockefeller church in Cleveland, Ohio, but they prefer to remain in the Hub. During the Chapman revival the quartet sang many times at the request of the great Evangelist.

Mrs. Kearns is soprano soloist at the Park Street church, Boston. Miss Jordan is one of the best known readers in that city.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-4t

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Quincy Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Quincy proof:

H. A. Vinton, 1366 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me of kidney trouble which had been in my system for at least ten years. I had pains in my back and loins and I believed my trouble to be rheumatism. I consulted a doctor and tried many remedies but found only temporary relief. Being advised to take Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and began their use. They quickly drove away the pains in my back and my health is better today than it has been for a long time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DIMOCK & PATTEN

Carpenters and Builders

Plans furnished and estimates given.
All work personally and promptly attended to.

133 PROSPECT AVENUE

WOLLASTON

Telephone 532-1 Quincy.

Dec 18—4y8

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT

late of Quincy in said County deceased:

Whereas, Annie L. Prescott, the administratrix with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance the first and final account of her administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of November, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Nov. 26-3t 26, 3 10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

S. ABBIE PRESCOTT

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased;

Whereas, Annie L. Prescott executrix of the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first account of her administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said executrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty second day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register

Nov. 26-3t 26, 3, 10

LOST

SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590 of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 21,906	Book No. 26,253
Book No. 27,351	Book No. 28,588
Book No. 30,767	Book No. 31,449
Book No. 32,397	Book No. 32,435
Book No. 32,885	Book No. 32,931
Book No. 32,978	Book No. 33,712
Book No. 34,023	Book No. 31,219
Book No. 35,253	Book No. 26,146

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

Dec. 3-3t 10-17

O'SULLIVAN'S

RUBBER SOLES

--- THE ---

Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.

10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

Quincy Daily Ledger

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 5	1.15	1.45
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.00
Thursday,	3.30	3.45
Friday,	4.15	4.45
Saturday,	5.15	5.45
Sunday,	6.15	6.45

BRIEFS

The Wollaston Glee club opens its season with a concert on Tuesday evening at the Wollaston Congregational church.

Sunday morning at Wollaston Baptist church Mr Robert S. Pinkham, a Wollaston boy and son of Charles A. Pinkham, 161 Warren avenue, will preach on the subject "Jesus Christ the Truth." Mr. Pinkham expects to enter the Baptist ministry and is a student at Newton Theological Institution, Newton Centre.

Ground has been broken for a new house on Bartlett street, North Weymouth, for Georgianna L. Jordan of this city.

Save your time and money by buying your Christmas presents in Quincy.

Miss Elizabeth Springham will present the work of the Deaconesses at evening service at Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday. A cordial welcome is extended to the public to attend this service.

The Kincaide stores are as usual the mecca for Christmas shoppers. Many are turning their thoughts to substantial ifts and find in mammoth furniture store just what they want, while at the Annex is an endless variety of inexpensive gifts that especially delight the children.

Christ Church Boys' club meets next Wednesday evening at seven o'clock.

Reapers circle of Christ church meets in the parish house Friday evening to arrange for their Christmas work.

The Pilgrim Fraternity will hold its second dance in Bett's barn, Wednesday evening, Dec. 14.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church meets on Friday evening to finish the gifts which are to go to the girls at Welcome house.

Miss Beryl Terry Arnold of Dorchester, formerly of Atlantic sang a group of songs at the meeting of the Boston Proofreaders' Association at Tremont Temple, Boston, Thursday evening. Miss Arnold has a sweet contralto voice that promises much for the future. She is a member of the Handel and Haydn society.

V. E. Miller has sold the Quincy Point cash market to Mr. Riley of Somerville.

Miss Maria Whitney had a very successful sale of Christmas gifts on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Elizabeth Faxon on Coddington street.

As there are to be no programs at the play of the Quincy Women's club at Music hall on Tuesday afternoon members may find it convenient to clip the cast of characters from the Ledger of Dec. 7 or today's Patriot to take to the play for reference.

Charles Conklin, superintendent of churches, will preach at the Universalist church Sunday morning.

Mr. Alfred Hall and family have removed to a new home at the corner of East Squantum street and Conant road.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is

Laxative Bromo Quinine

Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove's signature

on box. 25c

Fifteen Days to Xmas

DEC. 10

Don't Put Off Shopping Till Too Late

CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY

Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

The grasp, though gentle as a woman's hand, was not to be resisted. Scrooge rose, but, finding that the spirit made toward the window, clasped its robe in supplication.

They passed through the wall and stood upon an open country road with fields on either hand. The city had entirely vanished. Not a vestige of it was to be seen. The darkness and the mist had vanished with it, for it was a clear, cold winter day, with snow upon the ground.

"Good heaven!" said Scrooge, clasping his hands together as he looked about him. "I was bred in this place. I was a boy here."

"You recollect the way?" inquired the spirit.

"Remember it!" cried Scrooge with fervor. "I could walk it blindfold."

"Strange to have forgotten it for so many years," observed the ghost. "Let us go on."

They walked along the road, Scrooge recognizing every gate and post and tree, until a little market town appeared in the distance, with its bridge, its church and winding river. Some shaggy ponies now were seen trotting toward them with boys upon their backs, who called to other boys in country gigs and carts driven by farmers. All these boys were in great spirits and shouted to each other until the broad fields were so full of merry music that the crisp air laughed to hear it.

"The school is not quite deserted," said the ghost. "A solitary child, neglected by his friends, is left there still."

Scrooge said he knew it, and he sobbed.

They left the highroad by a well remembered lane and soon approached a mansion of dull red brick, with a little weathercock surmounted cupola on the roof and a bell hanging in it. It was a large house, but one of broken fortunes, for the spacious offices were little used, their walls were damp and mossy, their windows broken and their gates decayed.

They went, the ghost and Scrooge, across the hall to a door at the back of the house. It opened before them and disclosed a long, bare, melancholy room, made barer still by lines of plain deal forms and desks. At one of these a lonely boy was reading near a feeble fire, and Scrooge sat down upon a form and wept to see his poor forgotten self as he had used to be.

"I wish," Scrooge muttered, putting his hand in his pocket and looking about him, drying his eyes with his cuff, "But it's too late now."

"What is the matter?" asked the spirit.

"Nothing," said Scrooge, "nothing. There was a boy singing a Christmas carol at my door last night. I should have liked to give him something—that's all."

The ghost smiled thoughtfully and waved its hand, saying as it did so, "Let us see another Christmas."

Scrooge's former self grew larger at the words, and the room became a little darker and more dirty. The panels shrunk, the windows cracked, fragments of plaster fell out of the ceiling, and the naked laths were shown instead, but how all this was brought about Scrooge knew no more than you do. He only knew that it was quite correct; that every thing had happened so; that there he was alone again when all the other boys had gone home for the jolly holidays.

He was not reading now, but walking up and down despairingly. Scrooge looked at the ghost and with a mournful shake of his head glanced anxiously toward the door.

It opened, and a little girl, much younger than the boy, came darting in and, putting her arms about his neck and often kissing him, addressed him as her "dear, dear brother."

"I have come to bring you home, dear brother," said the child, clapping her tiny hands and bending down to laugh—"to bring you home, home, home!"

"Home, little Fan?" returned the boy.

"Yes," said the child, brimful of glee—"home for good and all, home forever and ever. Father is so much kinder than he used to be that home's like heaven. He spoke so gently to me one dear night when I was going to bed that I was not afraid to ask him once more if you might come home, and he said yes you should and sent me in a coach to bring you. And you're to be a man," said the child, opening her eyes, "and are never to come back here, but first we're to be together, all the Christmas long and have the merriest time in all the world."

"You are quite a woman, little Fan!" exclaimed the boy.

She clapped her hands and laughed and tried to touch his head, but, being too little, laughed again and stood on tiptoe to embrace him. Then she began to drag him, in her childish eagerness, toward the door, and he, nothing loath to go, accompanied her.

"Always a delicate creature whom a breath might have withered," said the ghost, "but she had a large heart."

"So she had," cried Scrooge. "You are right. I'll not gainsay it, spirit. God forbid!"

"She died a woman," said the ghost, "and had, as I think, children."

"One child," Scrooge returned.

"True," said the ghost—"your nephew."

Scrooge seemed uneasy in his mind, and answered briefly, "Yes."

Although they had but that moment left the school behind them, they were now in the busy thoroughfares of a city. It was made plain enough by the dressing of the shops that here, too, it was Christmas time again, but it was evening, and the streets were lighted up.

The ghost stopped at a certain warehouse door and asked Scrooge if he knew it.

"Know it!" said Scrooge. "Was I apprenticed here?"

They went in. At sight of an old gentleman in a Welsh wig sitting behind such a high desk that if he had been two inches taller he must have knocked his head against the ceiling Scrooge cried in great excitement:

"Why, it's old Fezziwig!"

Old Fezziwig laid down his pen and looked up at the clock, which pointed to the hour of 7. He rubbed his hands, adjusted his capacious waistcoat, laughed all over himself from his shoes to his organ of benevolence and called out in a comfortable, oily, rich, fat, jovial voice:

"Yo ho, there! Ebenezer! Dick!"

Scrooge's former self, now grown a young man, came briskly in, accompanied by his fellow 'prentice.

"Dick Wilkins, to be sure," said Scrooge to the ghost. "Bless me, yes. There he is. He was very much attached to me, was Dick. Poor Dick! Dear, dear!"

"Yo ho, my boys," said Fezziwig, "no more work tonight! Christmas eve, Dick! Christmas, Ebenezer! Let's have the shutters up," cried old Fezziwig, with a sharp clap of his hands, "before a man can say Jack Robinson!"

In came a fiddler with a music book and went up to the lofty desk and made an orchestra of it and tuned like fifty stomach aches. In came Mrs. Fezziwig, one vast substantial smile. In came the three Miss Fezziwigs, beaming and lovable. In came the six young followers whose hearts they broke. In came all the young men and women employed in the business. In came the housemaid with her cousin, the baker. In came the cook with her brother's particular friend, the milkman. In came the boy from over the way, who was suspected of not having board enough from his master, trying to hide himself behind the girl from next door but one, who was proved to have had her ears pulled by her mistress. In they all came, one after another, some shyly, some boldly, some gracefully, some awkwardly, some pushing, some pulling—in they all came, anyhow and everyhow. Away they all went, twenty couples at once, hands half round and back again the other way, down the middle and up again, round and round in various stages of affectionate grouping, old top couple always turning up in the wrong place, new top couple starting off again as soon as they got there, all top couples at last and not a bottom one to help them. When this result was brought about old Fezziwig, clapping his hands to stop the dance, cried out, "Well done!" and the fiddler plunged his hot face into a pot of porter especially provided for that purpose. But, scorning rest upon his reappearance, he instantly began again, though there were no dancers yet, as if the other fiddler had been carried home exhausted on a shutter and he were a brand new man resolved to beat him out of sight or perish.

When the clock struck 11 this domestic ball broke up. Mr. and Mrs. Fezziwig took their stations, one on either side the door, and, shaking hands with every person individually as he or she went out, wished him or her a merry Christmas. When everybody had retired but the two 'prentices they did the same to them, and thus the cheerful voices died away, and the lads were left to their beds, which were under a counter in the back shop.

During the whole of this time Scrooge had acted like a man out of his wits. His heart and soul were in the scene and with his former self. He corroborated everything, remembered everything, enjoyed everything and underwent the strangest agitation.

"What is the matter?" asked the ghost.

"Nothing particular," said Scrooge.

"Something, I think," the ghost insisted.

"No," said Scrooge; "no. I should like to be able to say a word or two to my clerk just now—that's all."

His former self turned down the lamps as he gave utterance to the wish, and Scrooge and the ghost again stood side by side in the open air.

"My time grows short," observed the spirit. "Quick!"

This was not addressed to Scrooge or to any one whom he could see, but it produced an immediate effect, for again Scrooge saw himself. He was older now, a man in the prime of life. His face had not the harsh and rigid lines of later years, but it had begun to wear the signs of care and avarice. There was an eager, greedy, restless motion in the eye which showed the passion that had taken root and where the shadow of the growing tree would fall.

(To be Continued.)

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

LIST REDUCED TO NINE

President Taft Considering Candidates For the Supreme Court

Washington, Dec. 10.—President Taft now has under consideration nine men from which he will select two to become members of the United States supreme court. Associate Justice Hughes will become chief justice.

From a list which carried hundreds of names the president has narrowed his probable nominees down to Francis J. Swayze of the supreme court of New Jersey, Joseph R. Lamar of Augusta, Ga., former justice of the Georgia supreme court; Gordon Russell of the United States district court of Texas; William C. Hook of Leavenworth, Kan., now a judge of the Eighth United States circuit; Willis van Devanter of Cheyenne, also of the Eighth circuit; John C. Pollock, Topeka, United States district judge; John B. Winslow of the supreme court of Wisconsin; George Sutherland of Utah; W. D. McHugh, an attorney of Omaha.

ARMY OFFICER A SUICIDE

Major General Randolph Puts Bullet Into His Head

Washington, Dec. 10.—Major General Wallace Randolph, U. S. A., retired, committed suicide by shooting himself at his home in the right temple with a 38-calibre revolver.

General Randolph was born in Pennsylvania July 11, 1841. He volunteered as private in the Seventeenth Pennsylvania infantry in 1861. He was breveted captain during the Civil war for gallant service in the defense of Winchester, Va. He was commissioned brigadier general of United States volunteers in May, 1898, and was retired Jan. 22, 1904.

MRS. EDDY'S BODY IS GUARDED IN TOMB

Two Men Always on Watch Beside Casket of Noted Leader

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 10.—Guarded day and night by two men, the body of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy rests in the receiving vault at Mount Auburn. A telephone has been installed in the tomb, and the place is also lighted by electricity. Four men have been engaged to guard the body, working in twelve-hour relays from 7 a. m. to 7 a. m.

To make their hours of duty more comfortable, a large booth on a raised platform will be built at the right of the guards' room. This will contain a couch, where the men may rest comfortably whenever they wish. At present the only furniture in the guards' room is the wooden parlor table bearing the telephone and two wooden chairs for the guards.

How long the guardianship will last for the four men is not known, but it will not be until spring at least before the vigil is abandoned.

WATER SUPPLY GIVES OUT

Five Thousand People Seriously Feel Effect of Long Drouth

Whitinsville, Mass., Dec. 10.—Whitinsville's water supply gave out as a result of the long continued drouth and 5000 water takers are without pure water for drinking and cooking purposes. Water from the "meadow pond" is being pumped into the mains and the users have been notified to boil all water before using.

As the town has two 1500 horsepower pumps available for fire purposes, and sufficient water in the meadow from which to draw in case of need, there is no additional fire hazard because of the drying up of the reservoir.

Strength Counts

in all life's affairs. Strength comes of pure blood;—good blood comes when stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are kept in proper condition by a little care and

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

James McGune,
108 Mercer St., Jersey City, N. J.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 919

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.

Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

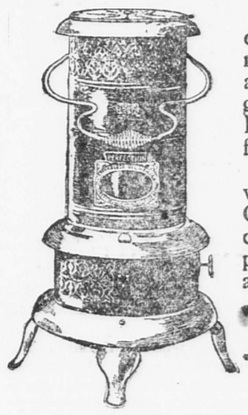
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Turn a Draught to Good Account



Often in winter you dare not open a window, even though the room be warm, because the cold air makes a draught that is dangerous. With a Perfection Oil Heater there need be no danger from draughts.

Open the lower part of the window a little, put the Perfection Oil Heater in front of it, and the cold draught will be turned into a pleasant, healthful current of fresh air. The gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless. Has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove to clean and drop back. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device therefor; it can be easily and quickly unscrewed for rewicking.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Has a cool handle. Filler-cap is put in place like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in japan or nickel, strong and durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company

(Incorporated)

ZOROID

Founded 1893

TRADE MARK

THE Sanborn System of eye examination measures up to the latest scientific requirements. It is simple, thorough and effective. It gets results.

The Sanborn system means glasses especially designed and made for your individual case, adapted for your face, your occupation, your personal requirements.

Zoroid Lenses
Get Results.

Briggs S. Palmer. President.

SanbornS

3 Winter St.~Boston.

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER

Dec. 7-10

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

His Own Dynamo

YOUR boy is willing to be driven by a necessity if it is made or imagined by himself.

Through our selling-plan he will create for himself the necessity for resourcefulness and some knowledge of salesmanship.

He must learn how by selling-talk to appeal to the heads and hearts of those whom he meets. Our system is so arranged that this will seem of immense importance and interest to him.

Selling THE SATURDAY EVENING POST will furnish an immediate incentive to your boy to study his language lessons with a zest which a vague idea of benefit in shadowy years to come cannot give.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Splendid training for boys who dislike grammar. If bright and ambitious, your boy can earn from fifty cents to $2.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH
40 NORTH STREET.

GAS SHOW

December 7-13

10 A. M. to 10 P. M.

MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON

A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.

Educational and Entertaining

Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.

11 Granite Street, QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW

BEAUTIFUL GIFTS

Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY SELL THE DAILY LEDGER

THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR

Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

PURCHASE OF DEATH WEAPON

Related by Salesman Who Sold It to a Woman

DRAMATIC SCENE IN COURT

Hattie LeBlanc Brought Face to Face With Witness, Who Is Positive That She Was Not the Purchaser—Epithets Applied to Husband by Mrs. Glover, According to Testimony of Laundry Employe Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 10.—The most dramatic moment in the trial of Hattie LeBlanc on the charge of murdering Clarence F. Glover was reached when the accused girl was asked to stand up in court to be identified, if possible, as the purchaser of the revolver with which Glover was killed.

Thomas J. Coffey, who sold the revolver in a Boston store, and who is now studying for the priesthood in Buffalo, was on the witness stand. He identified the death weapon. He said that he had sold it in March of last year to a woman. He said the woman, he should judge, was a little over 30 years of age, spoke English, and that he had showed her a 22-calibre baby hammerless weapon, and she asked if that would kill a man.

"I told her," testified the witness, "that it would kill a man if it hit him the right place. She asked me about larger revolvers. I showed her a 32 and a 38. She asked if they would kill. I said yes; that the 38 was the surest, being of the largest calibre. She bought the revolver and a box of cartridges, and the bill was $15.65. The woman was shorter than I am, but I can't say anything about her facial description."

Coffey said that Mrs. Glover was pointed out to him at the will hearing, but her face was veiled.

Lawyer Johnson, of counsel for Hattie LeBlanc, at this point asked that the accused girl be brought face to face with the witness. Hattie LeBlanc left her seat and walked up to within three feet of Coffey. She looked him squarely in the face.

"Is that the woman to whom you sold the revolver?" the witness was asked.

"It is not," he replied.

"You are positive of that?

"Yes, positive. That is not the woman."

J. H. Gardner, an employe of the Waltham Laundry company, testified that Mrs. Glover had told him how she beat her husband and Hattie LeBlanc with her fist until the man cried for mercy. He also recited a number of epithets that Mrs. Glover applied to her husband.

The witness said that Mrs. Glover told him that she could snoot Glover down because of his attention to Hattie LeBlanc, and that the courts would uphold and justify her.

Gardner said that he had known Mrs. Glover for many years. He said: "I cannot remember when in the past seven years that Mrs. Glover, in speaking of her husband, did not use vulgar language or profanity. 'Some day,' she said to me, 'he will be found with a bullet in him.'"

Gardner said that Mrs. Glover had always used epithets in referring to her husband, and that she told him that he was always going out with other women, and sooner or later she intended to put a stop to it.

Gardner testified that once Mrs. Glover, in speaking of her husband, pointed to Hattie and said. "There is the girl that can fix him!"

Gardner then declared that Hattie said: "Yes, I will fix him some time." He testified to this threat being twice repeated.

Mrs. Glover expressed the wish that her husband was dead, according to testimony from the lips of Seymour S. Glover which was introduced into the trial yesetrday.

Seymour S. Glover was the only one of the five brothers who was remembered in the Glover will. District Attorney Higgins questioned Seymour at a law office in Boston, asking him this question:

"Did you ever hear her (Mrs. Glover) wish he was dead?

"Yes," replied Seymour S. Glover.

The questions and answers were taken down by a stenographer and Lawyer Johnson succeeded in getting part of them into the case yesterday.

This testimony followed that of Irene LeBlanc Langley, in which she declared that her sister, Hattie LeBlanc, had declared that if she were convicted on account of Mrs. Glover she would kill herself.

Lillian LeBlanc, the 14-year-old sister of Hattie LeBlanc, called to the stand, gave startling testimony as to statements that Mrs. Glover had made derogatory to her husband shortly before he was killed.

Helped Found Grand Army

New York, Dec. 10.—General Henry E. Tremain, one of the founders of the Grand Army of the Republic, and one of the best known lawyers in this city, is dead, aged 70.

Bounty on Bear In Vermont

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 10.—The house has passed a bill providing a bounty of $10 on black bear.

GEORGE W. PERKINS

He Quits Morgan Firm to Work on Labor Problems

LABOR TO HAVE NEW CHAMPION

Perkins Resigns From Firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

WANTS TO DO PUBLIC WORK

Hopes to Extend Principles of Profit-Sharing and Other Plans Which Offer Practical Solution of Difficulties Existing Between Capital and Labor—Interested In Government Supervision Over Corporate Affairs

New York, Dec. 10.—George W. Perkins announced his retirement from the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. to devote his time to extending the principles of profit-sharing and other plans for solving the conflict between capital and labor. The announcement, given out yesterday afternoon after the close of business, follows:

"On Jan. 1 I will have been with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. ten years, and engaged in business activities over thirty years. I am withdrawing to devote more time to corporation work and work of a public nature in which I am deeply interested.

"In continuing my relations with the industrial and other business organizations with which I am connected, I hope to find further opportunities for extending the principles of profit-sharing and other benefit plans, which, experience has shown, offer practical solution of some of the difficulties existing between capital and labor.

"At Columbia university, two years ago, and at Harvard university last spring, I spoke of the importance of solving the new problems at present facing the country and which have followed the organization of the great co-operative combinations of capital, and it is my hope that the exeprience I have had may enable me to contribute something toward the adjustment of those matters, which seem to me to be of the largest consequence to the country."

In recent years Perkins has represented the firm in the great industrial organizations in which it is interested and the formal announcement of the firm indicates that his relations to those concerns will continue. In public addresses he has taken an advanced view of the relations of government to business and is deeply interested in government supervision over corporate affairs.

He was the originator of the profit-sharing plan of the United States Steel corporation and International Harvester company, and desires further to adapt those methods to other organizations.

Before he entered J. P. Morgan & Co., Perkins was vice president and general manager of the New York Life Insurance company.

INEZ MILHOLLAND ENGAGED

Suffragist to Become the Bride of New York Society Man

New York, Dec. 10.—It is reported that Miss Inez Milholland, a protege of Mrs. Oliver Belmont, and a worker in the cause of woman suffrage, is to marry Sydney Smith, a member of the Meadowbrook Hunt club and prominent society man.

Smith is reported to be a great favorite of Mrs. Belmont and he is usually a guest at all of her social functions. He is said to have been attentive to Miss Milholland for some time.

Consul General Ozmun Dead

Constantinople, Dec. 10.—Edward T. Ozmun, American consul general here, died after a brief illness. He was born in Rochester, Minn., Aug. 6, 1857.

Lives and Vessels Lost In Storm

Madrid, Dec. 10.—A score or more have perished in a gale which is lashing the bay of Biscay. Half a dozen fishing vessels have been lost.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

Even Newsboys at Hub Discuss Points of French Grammar—Fair Sex Must Hustle out of Hobble Skirts, Fashion Decrees—Doggerel at Provincetown Meeting is Deplored—Boston Stock Theatrical Company Creates Educational Advantages for High School Pupils.

This one is true, even if it did happen in Boston. Two youthful newsboys in animated argument caught the attention of a passerby the other day. Drawing near with a view to interfering if the pair should come to blows, the lady heard one declare vehemently: "I tell you 'livre' is feminine and should have 'la' in front of it!" "Aw, go on, kiddo!" replied the other contemptuously, "What you don't know about French would fill a library. Now take it from me, it's masculine, and follows 'le'. See?" The listener retired, somewhat surprised to hear linguistic controversies from that source so early in the morning, but rightly concluding that nothing more serious than a home-lesson was the basis of the argument.

It seems regrettable that a woman would be willing to rise in public and sing the ribald song reviling Senator Henry Cabot Lodge that was sung at a recent political meeting in Provincetown. The Boston girl, while not taking sides politically, cannot but regret that one of her sex should willingly become a party to so vulgar a demonstration of political antagonism as was evinced at this meeting, called by the Governor Elect, where many school children were in the audience in whose minds the insulting drivel set to the music of a popular song doubtless found lodgement. Whatever one's personal convictions regarding the statesmanship of our Massachustts Senator, no right minded person can fail to be disgusted with an expression of sentiment such as the following:

"Has anybody here seen Cabot?
H-E-N-R-Y?
Has anybody here seen Cabot? Have you seen his catlike eye?
Sure, his hair is gray, but he feels blue,
And he's selfish through and through;
Has anybody here seen Cabot? He deserves a hemp necktie."

Boston high school pupils have an opportunity unique in ordinary schooling. A local theatrical stock company on deciding to present a Shakespearean play made an arrangement with the Twentieth Century Club by which the company issued tickets to high school pupils who desired them at cut price rates. On the opening afternoon the house was filled by about 1,700 of these students, who thus had an opportunity of seeing a Shakespearean play presented by a good company (an event which is too often prohibitive on account of infrequency and cost of performances by visiting stars. It is planned to repeat this offer for five performances during the winter, three of these to be Shakespearean plays, one old comedy and perhaps one modern comedy. The plan works well, from the point of view of the English departments of the schools, and is intensely enjoyed by the students.

Hobble skirts, however numerous they may be on the Hub's fashionable thoroughfares, must go—along with the long coat and the freakish hat—said the members of the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association in their annual conference. Somehow, one hardly expects to hear a long howl go up from the assembled multitude. The only thing which restrains one from a burst of gratitude is the thought that this esteemed company probably has up its sleeve a substitute which will prove just as atrocious as the hobble.

Ethel Angier.

Boston, Dec. 9, 1910.

SUNNY MONDAY

You don't have to boil the clothes when you use Sunny Monday laundry soap. Hard water, soft water, cold water, hot water—all look alike to Sunny Monday, and it does its work equally well with any one of them.

Sunny Monday is white and contains no rosin, but, instead, a marvelous dirt-starter which saves time, and wear and tear on clothes.

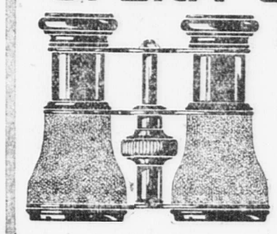
THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
CHICAGO

TO-NIGHT Cascarets

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

10c 25c. 50c. All Druggists

LLOYD'S OPERA GLASSES



Black Lemaire $5.00

Pearl Lemaire 10.50

CATALOCUE ON APPLICATION

BROWNIES

Kodaks and Films

ALL SIZES

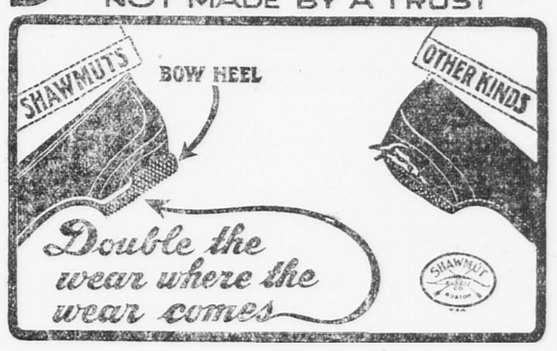
FROM $1.00 UPWARD

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St.
} BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE

ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

SHAWMUT RUBBERS

NOT MADE BY A TRUST



"SOLD IN QUINCY ONLY BY GRANITE SHOE STORE."

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL

THE SMOKELESS KIND

FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS

Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	24 degrees
December 10, 1909,	36 degrees
December 10, 1908,	26 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Hefferman's Shoe Store—Rubbers
Arthur Dunn—Potatoes
Notice
Probate Notice
Wanted
Mortgagee's Sale

BRIEFS

The vestry of Christ church meets Monday evening at the rectory.

Prof. John D. Buckingham announces "The Redemption" by Gounod as the oratorio to be sung on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at St. Mark's M. E. church, Brookline; the second in the series being given during December and January with Mr. Buckingham as organist.

Are you reading the Christmas serial story in the Ledger? It began Thursday and will continue through next week.

Mrs. Mary Chandler West who is to be the accompanist at the Quincy Alliance Christmas meeting on Monday afternoon and again for the Quincy Women's club play at Music hall on Tuesday afternoon is a newcomer to our city, recently becoming a resident at Wollaston. She is a musician of much ability and well known in Boston.

A large number of Quincy people are attending the Elmendorf course of travel talks at Symphony hall, Boston. Last evening and this afternoon his subject was "Famous paintings in the galleries of Europe.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church will hold their regular monthly business meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the home of the secretary Mrs. Herbert L. Parckard, 93 Standish avenue.

The funeral of Mrs. William Good who died last evening will be held from her late residence Sunday afternoon at 2.30.

St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls' Friendly society are holding a fair in the parish rooms Friday evening the 16th. There will be attractive tables of fancy work, handkerchiefs and aprons, also candy, grabs and a Japanese room.

Dickens' Christmas Carol the popular Christmas story is interesting many Ledger readers, young and old. It's a story that appeals at this season of the year.

Announcement comes from the headquarters of the American National Red Cross that Christmas Seals are being printed at the rate of a million a day and that already over 60,000,000 have been given out to agents in all parts of the United States. The demand for these holiday seals is greater this year than ever before.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

DEATHS

GOOD—In West Quincy, Dec. 9, Mrs. Joanna, wife of Mr. William Good of 15 O'Connell avenue, aged 51 years.

GARRITY—In Quincy, Dec. 9, Miss Margaret Garrity of 86 Common street.

MEAGHER—In Milton, Dec. 9, Mrs. Catherine T., wife of Mr. Stephen A. Meagher aged 73 years.

NASH—In Weymouth, Dec. 5, Mrs. Elizabeth Spear Nash widow of A. Prescott Nash, aged 79 years.

HARRIS—In Boston, at Massachusetts General hospital, Dec. 9, Mr. Joseph R. Harris of 70 Coddington street, Quincy, aged 55 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

SCHOOLHOUSE FOR CHURCH

Memorial Society May Use Building at Atlantic

A special meeting of the School Committee was held Friday evening to take action on the request of the Memorial church of Atlantic for the use of the main corridor of the Quincy school in which to hold services for a few Sundays until the new church is completed. It has been a rule of the School Committee not to allow the use of school buildings for other than educational purposes.

In this case the ground was taken that it was in the nature of an education service. Also that the church had been very kind to the pupils of the school in allowing the use of its piano for rehearsals for the graduation exercises. The use of the corridor was therefore granted.

Messrs. Bushnell, O'Hara and Barker were appointed to write the annual report of the committee.

BRIEFS

The funeral of Phineas Buckley was held Friday afternoon from his late residence on Flynt street, Norfolk Downs. Services were conducted by Rev. Wesley Wiggin, after which the body was taken to Whitinsville, where the burial service was held by the Grand Army and Masons.

Mrs. George L. Gill of Maple street received many souvenir postal cards today with well wishes for her 91st birthday anniversary tomorrow.

The Quincy Masonic bodies are to attend services at the Wollaston Congregational church Sunday afternoon in commemoration of St. John's day.

Miss Elizabeth Prescott of Federal avenue was one of the victims on Thursday of a pickpocket in a department store on Washington street, Boston, losing a pocket book with about $20. An arrest has been made and money found on person, so she may recover.

The funeral of Joseph R. Harris, who died at the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston yesterday morning, will take place Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. John's church. The body will be taken to St. Mary's cemetery in Canton for interment. When Mr. Harris was taken to the hospital it was thought he was suffering from a tumor but the growth proved to be a cancer and the operation was not successful.

It is announced that President Hobbs of the City Council, who was defeated for Mayor at the recent election, is to enter the contest again next year. Ex-President Walter F. Nichols made a similar announcement after his defeat.

Maude May Campbell has petitioned for a divorce from Charles Darwin Campbell, now of Memphis, Tenn.

Timothy J. Collins, local correspondent for the Globe, is having a few days' vacation.

The Salvation Army is starting to raise funds for Christmas dinners for the needy of our city. One of the women is stationed with one of the familiar boxes at the head of Granite street in City Square.

Neponset will hereafter have half hour service from Boston by electrics between 1 and 5 A. M. The cars will leave the Scollay square subway station and run via. subway, Dover street and Dorchester avenue.

—The Pennsylvania Hudson River tubes have been opened to electric traffic.

GET THEM QUICK
To the People of Quincy: I have received the last car of POTATOES
until spring.
They are the best of lot.
Orders left at 147 Water street, or sent to A. THUR DUNN, 508 Washington Street, Quincy. Dec. 10-3t

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair
Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

THREE SCORE AND EIGHT

Anniversary of Ex-Chief of Police Hayden

Joseph Warren Hayden, one of Quincy's ong time residents, is passing his 68th milestone today. He was born in Quincy, Dec. 10, 1842, and has always made Quincy his home. He has been prominently identified with the affiairs of the town and city. Under the town form of government he was a constable for twenty years. At that time constables were elected at the annual town meeting. Since Quincy has been a city he has been appointed every year. In his younger days he was an enthusiastic fireman and was for several years foreman of the old "Tiger," and is now a member of the Washington M. French Hose Association, whose members are all old firemen.

EX-CHIEF HAYDEN

In addition to being a constable for all these years he served several years on the permanent police force and was for a number of years Chief of Police, having first been appointed to that position by Mayor Hodges in 1894 and serving in that capacity under ex-Mayors Hodges, Adams, Keith and Bryant.

He has an enviable war record, having done valiant service during that great conflict between the North and South. His first enlistment was in March 18, 1862, in Co. M, 14th Mass. Regt. for three years, and at the expiration of his term he reinlisted and served until the close of the war. He was taken prisoner at the battle of Petersburg, at the battle of Weldon railroad, and was confined in many of the famous rebel prisons. Only those old veterans who were unfortunate enough to be taken prisoners know what the soldiers suffered in those vile prisons.

Although not actively engaged in business since he completed his last term as chief of police, he has done some constable work, and is today as he has been for many years the constable to whom the venires are sent for the drawing of jurors. Mr. Hayden and his wife live at the foot of Howard avenue, their home overlooking the Weymouth Fore river, and here today he is quietly observing his birthday anniversary amid the din of trip hammers in the Fore River shipyard.

JANITORS WANTED.

A civil service examination for the janitor service will be held in this city Dec. 23, and it looks as though there would be a large class to take the examination. There are at present three vacancies in the service, namely the Thomas Crane Public Library, and the Wollaston and Houghs Neck school buildings. There will also soon be another janitors position that is at the new Montclair school building. In order to take the examination applicants must have been residents of Quincy for six months previous to the examination ,and application papers must be filed at least ten days before the date of examination.

Social Realm

(Continued from Page 3.)

Mrs. A. A. Ellsworth of Russell park, Quincy, and Mrs. G. G. Ellsworth of Braintree were entertained by Madame Nordica on Saturday afternoon at the Boston Opera house at the presentation of the opera "Faust," followed by a delightful tea at The Lenox.

* * *

The many local friends of Mrs. Carl Benedict (nee Edith Brett) a former resident of South Braintree have received messages from her from Chicago where she is to remain through the approaching holiday season.

* * *

Members of the Quincy Historical society have received admission cards this week for a lecture to be given in First Church chapel on Wednesday evening, Dec. 14 by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D. His subject will be "The rise and development of New England industries" and will be illustrated by lantern photographs.

* * *

Unique invitations have gone out this week to the friends of the Quinc Women's club inviting them to enjoy Twelfth Night Revels with them at Alpha hall on the evening of January fifth. It will be a costume party and Mrs. Kitson, Miss Lane and others are busily at work planning costumes. It will undoubtedly be one of the jolliest as well as unique affairs ever held in our city. Mrs. John D. McKay of the Education committee, one of the most active club women in the city is looking after the details, ably assisted by her committee.

NEWTON VS. QUINCY.

When Newton meets Quincy on the local Y. M. C. A. "gym" floor tonight one of the fastest and best games of the year may be expected. Last weeks' game demonstrated that the local boys are rounding into form; their passing and shooting having been of first class.

Last year Quincy defeated Newton by the score of 17-15, when Jenkins threw the winning goal with but a half-minute to play. This year's Newton team has been greatly strenghtened by Muerer, who played last season with the crack Cambridge team. He plays center and a great game may be looked for when he and Jenkins get together.

The second teams will play between the halves. The first game commences at 8.15. Charles Harold of Winchester will referee the game.

Physical Director La Rose has arranged for a dual meet between Hyde Park and Quincy on Tuesday night, Dec. 27, at the local association. The events are as follows: 15 yd. dash, potato race, running high jump, running broad jump, three standing broad jumps, 12 pound shot put, and three lap relap race. The trials for the 15 yd. potato race and relay teams will be held the next two weeks.

WEATHERED FOUR HURRICANES.

The auxiliary Yacht Aloha built at Quincy for Commodore James of the New York Yacht club arrived in New York Friday, after a tempestuous voyage from Southampton, Eng. She encountered four hurricanes on her trip, and was blown 1794 miles off her course. Her hull and spars were racked by the mountainous waves, and her top masts and sails were carried away.

Capt. Bezanzon reports that the vessel stood up well during the hurricanes and proved herself a staunch craft. Quincy is particularly interested in the yacht, not only because she was built by the Fore River company but because she numbers among her crew a Quincy boy who is a son of Aubrey R. Keith.

SENIORS WIN.

The first of a series of basket ball games for the championship of the Woodward Institute was played Friday afternoon between the Seniors and Juniors, and was won by the Seniors by a score of 17 to 12. The trophy is a silver cup donated by the school. Miss Ruth Ekstrand and Miss Frances Curtin scored the points for the wining team, Miss Curtin making 13 of them. Miss Edith Mullen and Miss Rachel Hardwick did some clever blocking and passing for the Seniors, and Misses Clark Dasha and Croucher carried off the honors for the Juniors. The summary:

WOODWARD '11		WOODWARD '12
Ruth Ewstrand	rf	lb Helena Clark
		lb Helen Croucher
Frances Curtain	lf	rb E. Beckford
Edith Mullen	c	c Mary Beal
Elizabeth Torrey	rb	lf Esther Dasha
Isadore Beal	rb
Rachel Hardwick	lb	rf Grace Hunter

Score—Woodward '11 27. Woodward '12 12. Goals from floor, Miss Curtin 3, Miss Ekstrand 2, Miss Clark 2, Miss Dasha 2. Goals from fouls, Miss Curtin 7, Miss Dasha4. Referee Miss Maccarty. Umpire Miss D. Bean. Scorer, Mr. Rice. Time 10m halves. Attendance 200.

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Unitarian)—Rev. E. C. Butler, Russell Park, pastor; Rev. C. B. Ames, 121 Goffe street, assistant pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sermon by Rev. E. C. Butler. Sunday school at 12 M. Charles H. Johnson, Supt.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N. Hardy, Ph. D., pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Bible school at 12 M. Norwegian service at 3 P. M. Young People's meeting at 6.15 P. M. Evening church service at 7.30. Music by Boys' choir. Dr. Hardy will preach both morning and evening.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Holy Communion at 8 A. M. Morning Prayer and sermon at 10.30. Sunday school at Galahad Brotherhood at 12.05. Evening Prayer and address at 7.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington Street. Morning worship 10.30. Address by Rev. Dr. Charles Conklin, State superintendent of Universalist churches Subject "The Church militant." Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Y. P. C. U. at 6 P. M. Everybody cordially invited to these services.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, -- Franklin street—Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor, residence 208 Franklin street. Morning service at 10.30. Theme: "A Fickle Church." Sunday school and "Davis" class for men at 11.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Praise and Preaching service at 7 P. M. Theme: "A Young Man Breaking Home Ties." A cordial welcome is extended to all. Good singing. Seats free. "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH— Corner Quincy and Water streets. Rev. James A Matheson, minister. Preaching at 10.30. Bible school 11.45. C. E. service 6. Evening worship and praise 7. Young Peoples meeting Thursday at 7. Midweek prayer service Thursday at 7.30.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. Carl H. Raupach pastor. Residence 12 Hall place. Morning Worship at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.45 Junior League at 3 P. M. Epworth League at 6.15. Evening service at 7. Miss E. Springham will present the Deaconess work. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor. Residence 81 Prospect avenue. Tel 341-4 Morning service at 10.45. Sunday school at 12 15 Junior Endeavor meeting at 3.30 Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Morning service Mr. Robert Pinkham of Wollaston will preach on Subject: "Jesus Christ the Truth." At the evening service the pastor will preach.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Edward A. Chase, minister. Parsonage 20 Marion street, Tel. Quincy 654-1. 10.45 Morning worship Children's Sermon "Christmas Wishes." Sermon "The Preparation of Self for Christmas." Sunday school at 12.15. 3.30 A service of Fraternal Order and the Church. Music by the male quartette.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH— Corner Beale and Safford streets. Rev. Wesley Wiggin, pastor. Residence 52 Brook street, Telephone Quincy 378-2. 10.45 A. M. Mr. T. A. Hildreth, of Boston will present the Deaconess Cause and take a collection. Sunday school at 12 M. Junior Epworth league a 4 P. M. Epworth league at 6 P. M. Praise and Gospel service at 7. M. Sermon by pastor Friday 7.45 Prayer meeting.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory 525 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8 A. M. Morning prayer Litany and sermon at 10.30. Sunday school at 12 M. Evening prayer and and address at 7.30.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets, Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister, residence 67 Winthrop avenue Tel. Quincy 684-2. Morning service at 10.45 Sermon by minister. Subject, "A sermon for Young People." Kindergarden Sunday School in the vestry at 10.45. Evelyn Cummings Teacher. Sunday school session at 12.10 o'clock. Frank A. Page, superintendent. Y. P. R. U. at 7. Speaker, Rev. Charles R. Ames. Subject, "The human appeal of right living." Louis B. Weston will have charge.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Services in Music hall. Morning worship at 10.45 Sermon by pastor. Music by chorus. Sunday school at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Music by Young People's chorus. Everybody welcome.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (undenominational) Profection hall, Johnson building, Quincy Center. Divine servic s at 3 P. M. Lecture by J. T. Boulcott Subject "A New Heaven and a New Earth" II Peter 3: 13. Tracts free No collection.

Y. M. C. A. — Washington street. Service on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to be addressed by Mr. Ashley of Boston University.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Braintree, Post Office Block. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject "God the preserver of man." Golden Text "The Angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that feareth him and delivereth them." Psalm 34:7. Wednesday 7.45 P. M. a testimony and experienced meeting. Reading rooms open every week day from 3 to 5 P. M. Holidays expected. All are welcome.

Makaria
Fraternity
SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square
If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.
A warm welcome—Hearty singing—A helpful hour together.

—Thomas A. Edison has taken out over 900 patents, 700 of which were electrical. In all, this genius has brought out about 2,000 patentable ideas.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—9.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

WANTED

WANTED — Demonstrators and agents. Men or women. Whole or part time with guaranteed salary. Experience unnecessary. Apply at once to H. B. Smith, General Delivery, Quincy. Dec. 8-3t

ANY LADY can easily make from $18.00 to $25.00 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. This is a bonafide offer—one which will pay you to investigate, even if you can only spare two hours per day. No investment required. Turn your spare time into money. Write me at once for particulars. Address MARY B. TAYLOR, Box 30 Woman's Building, Joliet, Illinois. Dec. 10-1t

DIVORCE COURT.

The Superior court at Dedham has dismissed the divorce libel of Mary Park vs. James M. Park both of Quincy; also the libel of Mary S. Walsh of Quincy vs. Patrick H. Walsh of Newport, R. I. L. Bertha Bickford of Boston in her libel against George H. Bickford of West Quincy was given a decree nisi for intoxication, with right to resume her maiden name. Lelia Bertha Cook.

BALL IS ACQUITTED

Was Accused of Murder of Man For Whom He Had Worked

Concord, N. H., Dec. 10.—The jury in the case of Albert F. Ball of this city, charged with the murder of Charles H. Fellows of Bow, brought in a verdict of "not guilty." Ball was immediately released.

Charles H. Fellows, living in the town of Bow, was shot as he was driving into his yard on the night of Nov. 22, 1909. After investigation the authorities arrested Ball, who had worked for the Fellows family.

Total Population 91,500,000

Washington, Dec. 10.—When announced by the census bureau at noon today the total population of the United States was shown to approximate 91,500,000. This computation covers all the states except Montana, Washington, Georgia and Wisconsin.

NOTICE

A special meeting is called for Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11, at 2 o'clock at Hibernian Hall on Franklin street to take action on the death of Joseph Harris.

Per Order, Div. 5 A. O. H. by DANIEL MANNIX, V. Pres.
Quincy. Dec. 10-1t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk,ss. Probate Court.

TO the heirs at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of HELEN E. CARTER.
late of Quincy in said County, deceased intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hallock H. Hill of Quincy without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-first day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of December A. D. 1910.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 19

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale, contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Robert H. Fraser to James C. Fraser, dated November 5, 1902, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 934, Page 71, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage deed, on WEDNESDAY, January 4, 1911 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, viz:—The following parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy called Wollaston, being Lots numbered One (1) and Two (2) on "Plan of Lots of J. P. Quincy on Hancock Street, Wollaston, by H. J. Whitman, dated April , 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 735, Page 640, bounded and described as follows, viz:—Southeasterly on Beach Street, One Hundred (100) feet; Southwesterly on Lot numbered Three (3) Ninety-seven and 53-100 (97.53) feet; Northwesterly on Lots numbered Seventeen (17), Eighteen (18) and Nineteen (19) One Hundred and 30-100 (100.30) feet; and Northeasterly on Morton Street, Eighty-nine and 65-100 (89.65) feet.

Said premises are conveyed subject to the restrictions in deed from Josiah P. Quincy to grantee, dated July 1, 1901, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 901, Page 221. Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and municipal liens, if any.

$500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms to be then and there announced.

JAMES C. FRASER,
Mortgagee.
Quincy, Dec. 8, 1910.
Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 24

LOST

LOST--On Wednesday morning between Woodward Institute and depot, or in the depot a small blue pocket book containing a sum of money and four keys on a chain. Reward if Woodward Institute is notified. Dec. 10-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Large double runner covered baker's sleigh suitable for any business. W. H. Rule 133 North street, Hingham. Dec. 10-1t

FOR SALE--Two parlor stoves in good condition. Apply to 1260 Hancock street, Quincy. Left bell. Dec. 10-3t

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE or TO LET--Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 28-2. W and Sat. May 22-tf

TO LET

FOR RENT—House 5 rooms, bath and furnace. Hancock street opposite Merymount Park. Low rent to right party. R. D. Chase, Savings Bank Building. Dec. 10-tf

TO LET—Two connecting, sunny, furnished rooms. As two bed rooms or bed and sitting room, best location Wollaston Hill. 182 Warren avenue. Dec. 10-1 P-L

TO LET—Lower Suite of four rooms, all latest improvements. Rent. $13. Apply 52 Norton Street, North Weymouth. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—Upper suite, eight rooms, entirely separate, new plan combination fixtures and ranges, hot water heat, strictly modern, just finished, beautiful location. Apply 396 Highland avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 5-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2--11t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms at 40 South Walnut street. Apply 79 Elm street. Nov. 15-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 288 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 12, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

ST. JOHNS DAY OBSERVED BY MASONS OF QUINCY

Attend Special Services at Wollaston on Invitation of Rev. Bro. Chase

A Service for the Promotion of Brotherhood

An interesting service in commemoration of St. John's day was held Sunday afternoon at the Wollaston Congregational church. It was entitled a service for the promotion of brotherhood, and was attended by large delegations from Massachusetts lodge of Boston Rural lodge of Quincy and Wollaston lodge A. F. and A. M. of Wollaston; also St. Stephen's chapter, R. A. M., and Quincy chapter, O. E. S. of Quincy. The service was held by Rev. Edward Abbot Chase, pastor of the church, who is chaplain of Massachusetts and Wollaston lodges.

The Masonic bodies met at the apartments of Wollaston lodge and marched to the church, the entire centre of the edifice being reserved for them.

Music during the service was rendered by Wollaston lodge quartette, composed of Edward E. Bullock, Arthur F. Tucker, Herbert Y. Follett and George E. McGowan. Among their selections were "Johovah guide us," "Lord God of Israel." "Heart be still" and "Golden chains in circlets winding."

After the opening service, Rev. Bro. Chase took for his address "A New Light," the text being found in 1 John 1:5, 7. It was the story of the life of St. John, the Evangelist, a centre around whom others have moved. He was a self made man and came from a Syrian province, a small fishing town. He was a rough ashler. Like a solid rock capable of polish and reflecting his great life. One day there came to him a new light. It was that God is life. God's love is meant to be your love.

He then told how he came into friendship and fellowship. How he began to see a world of life. Then he began to extend that brotherhood. That was the supreme moment of his life. He went forth and gathered other young men about him. So they went up and down the land sheding the light and making the world God's world. Do you stop to think what it means to put a master in a group of men? How the little comes to widen. So it has come to pass in the few years of Wollaston lodge.

So St. John went about through Asia Minor, and in scarce two centuries that whole country had been flooded with brightness.

My message to you is, How do you look at the world in which you live? Do you see it as God's world? Does it seem to you God is saying to you, I want you to believe I am making my world, flooded by the light of truth, Character and love?

It makes a vast difference how a man estimates himself. Sometimes he forgets the power that is in him. He has got to recognize the best that is in him. All this comes to the man who has come to see the light that God gives him. Are you trying to do your work as God's son in his world? It is not good for us that we should work out life's problem alone. It behooves us all to remember that bond of love that can make us together a mighty force. Go out like St. John the Evangelist and make the world light. I ask you to think of yourself as a son of God in a world He is asking you to make His world. Take up your work. Do it faithfully until the end.

NINETY-FIRST BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. George L. Gill had several callers on Sunday, her 91st anniversary, while others sent remembrances including an elder down puff, fruit, confectionery, perfumes, birthday cards, card album, etc. The Fragment Society sent a blooming plant "to its oldest members," and Mrs. Charles A. Spear who is 88 years old, sent cards.

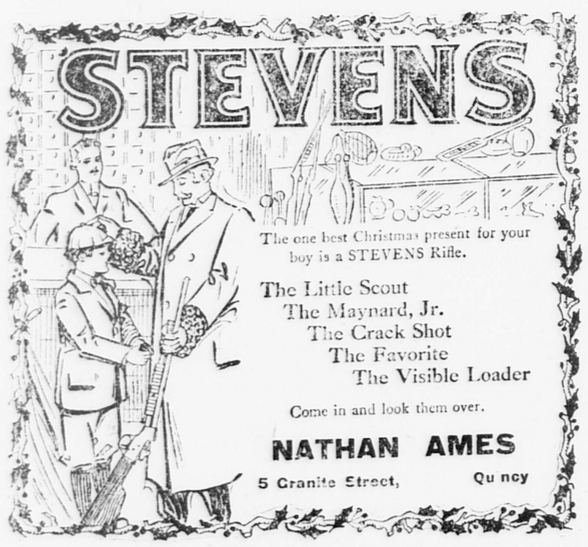
Among the gifts was an Old Farmers Almanac which is prized as much as anything. Mrs. Gill is celebrating her birthday by having her house slated.

—It is surprising to see how the common conscience is quickened by the exposure in their true character as offences against the common welfare of things which had been taken for granted as harmless, and how, as in the case of smuggling, the threat of jail added to fines brings complacent offenders to their knees with confessions of wrong-doing. There are many things current in society today which are not justifiable, but which are winked at because they are so common. "Everybody does it" seems to be a sufficient excuse. But, when everybody has his attention called to some conspicuous form of offence, then everything in the same class falls under suspicion and society begins to mend its ways.—Christian Register.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

STEVENS



The one best Christmas present for your boy is a STEVENS Rifle.

The Little Scout
The Maynard, Jr.
The Crack Shot
The Favorite
The Visible Loader

Come in and look them over.

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite Street, Quincy

Dec. 12 3t

THREE BREAKS REPORTED

But Very Little Booty Was Obtained Anywhere

Burglars were about Quincy again Saturday night and Sunday night, and once again has the Atlantic depot been the scene of a visit from these midnight unwelcome guests. The Atlantic depot seems to be fated for every little while comes the report of the depot being broken into. This time entrace was gained by forcing a window in the ticket office sometime after closing up Sunday night. Once inside the money drawer was forced open and the sum of 43 cents in change taken.

The other two breaks were made late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The places entered were the homes of Caesar Tantadina, at 32 Columbia street, and Angie Crosti, at 117 Liberty street. Both families were at home at the time but are said to have heard nothing of the burglars, who gained entrance by forcing a window. At the former house $19 in money and some small things were taken, and at the latter place all that was obtained was a pocketbook containing $1.50.

FUNERAL OF MISS GARRITY.

The funeral of Miss Margaret T. Garrity of 86 Common street was largely attended this morning. There was a high mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 9 A. M. with Rev. William Duffy as celebrant. Miss Mary McKay was organist and an augmental choir sang the Gregorian mass. Miss Teresa Keating sang Pie Jesu at the elevation, Mrs. James L. Fennessey sung Domini Jesu at the offertory, and Dr. Daniel B. Reardon sung Fractus Tremens at the Libera. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Nephews of Miss Garrity acted as pall bearers,—Thomas V. Keating, Joseph A. Keating, Henry Fenton and Frank Fenton.

The burial was in the family lot at St. Mary's cemetery, the director being E. L. Bean.

BRAINTREE BURGLARIES.

Burglars were about Braintree early Saturday evening and before 11 o'clock three houses had been broken into. The house of Henry W. Gore at 34 Vine street was evidently the first. There the house had been closed for the winter, and the family had removed all their valuables. The burglars forced a window and carried off a quantity of plated silver ware.

At the house of Carl H. Dahl, at 17 Vine street, the family were away for the evening returning about 11 o'clock There the burglars tried to force the front door, but failing in this they took off a storm window and broke in a window. A gold watch, necklace, rings and some other articles of jewelry were taken.

The third break was at the house of Charles H. Boyce, at 27 Lemoin street. There also the family were away for the evening returning about 11 o'clock. Entrance was made by forcing a window. A quantity of jewelry was taken.

From what can be learned it seems that the scheme worked by the burglars was to watch, and finding a house dark one would ring the door bell. If anyone answered an inquiry of some kind would be made and the man depart. If on the other hand there was no response to the bell an entrance would be forced and the burglars would then quickly complete their work.

VERDICT FOR $1,300.

In the superior court at Dedham this morning a verdict of $1,300 was returned in the case of John A. Akerstrom of Braintree vs. Henry M. Faxon of Quincy. This was an action of tort to recover $10,000 for injuries received April 28, 1908, by being struck by the defendants automobile while riding on a bicycle on Granite street.

—"Look for the label" on the really, truly "Christmas Candy"—"none genuine" without the Christmas seal on the box.

GREAT DAY FOR VICTORIES

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. Defeat All Comers

Y. M. C. A. basketball was surely in vogue Saturday and victory for the home teams seemed to be equally popular. In the afternoon the Intermediates and the Intermediate seconds walloped their opponents by good margins, and in the evening the Newton teams learned a few things about Quincy which surprised them. Four games on the home floor and all of them resulting in victories is a record good enough for any organizatin.

The Lowell Intermediates were huskier than the Quincy men, but they did not have the accuracy in shooting that the home team had. Trask with eleven baskets to his credit was the shining light of the game. S. Prout put up a good game against a much bigger opponent and shot two baskets. Holmes and Tirrell as guards blocked well and put up a good defensive game.

The summary:

QUINCY	LOWELL
Trask, c	c,Costello
S. Prout, Estey, lf	rb Humphrey
Bishop, S. Prout, rf	lb, Jordan
Holmes, rb	lf, Pendleton lf Bull
Tirrell, lb,	rf, Maxwell

Score—Quincy, 30; Lowell 18. Baskets form floor, Trask 11, S. Prout 2, Estey 1, Costello 3, Pendleton 3, Jordan 2, Humphrey 1. Goals from fouls, Trask and S. Prout. Time 15m halves. Referee LaRose.

The Intermediate second team had little difficulty in defeating the Union A. C. of Weymouth. Hunt played a good game for the home team shooting five baskets. R. Prout with three to his credit played well also. The visitors braced in the second half and got seven baskets. McBride and Richardson who were each responsible for three played the best game.

The summary:

QUINCYS	UNION
Hunt, lf	rb, Gardner
R. Prout, rf	lb, Ernest Callahan
	lb Morey
DuPlessis, E. Prout,c	c., McBride
Gearwar, rb	lf, Everett Callahan
Cantley, rb,
Cranshaw, E. Prout, lb	rf Richardson

Score—Quincy, 26; Union A. C., 14. Baskets from floor, Hunt 5, R. Prout 3, E. Prout 2, Cranshaw 2, DuPlessis 1, Richardson 3, McBride 3, Everett Callahan 1. Time 15m. halves. Referee Childs.

The Newton teams outweighed their opponents twenty pounds to the man, and before the contests started it looked like victories for the visitors. But the smaller players proved to be more agile and more accurate and the first team won 29 to 21, while the second scored 28 to their opponents 21. Gourlie, Claflin and Childs did the scoring for the home team; and Wiley, Decker and Bills shot all the baskets for the visitors. Gourlie and Claflin excelled for all round playing. Dineen looked small against his tall opponent, but he kept him hustling and played a good scrappy game. Rich played well also and Miller kept up his end while he was in the game. For the visitors Wiley and Bills did the best work.

The summary:

QUINCY	NEWTON
Gourlie, lf	rb, Decker, McKenzie
Rich, rf	lb Viles
Claflin, c	c, Bills
Childs, rb	lf Weeks, Viles
Dineen, Miller lb	rf Wiley

Score—Quincy 28; Newton 21. Goals from floor, Gourlie 5, Claflin 4, Childs 3, Wiley 4, Decker 3, Bills 3. Goals from foul, Gourlie 4, Wiley 1. Time 20m halves. Referee, LaRose.

The big game was hotly contested throughout and the victory for the

(Continued on Page 6.)

GET THEM QUICK

To the People of Quincy: I have received the last car of

POTATOES

until spring.

They are the best of lot.

Orders left at 147 Water street, or sent to ARTHUR DUNN, 508 Washington Street, Quincy. Dec. 10-3t

RECOUNTS IN WARD TWO

Leads of Histen and Foster Were Increased

A recount of the votes cast at the recent Municipal election in Ward Two, for Councilmen from the ward and for School Committee from the ward was held this morning by the Registrars of Voters. All of the candidates were present in person or represented at the recount. All of the morning was consumed in the recount, and as was expected, the result of the election was not changed by the recount, although there were some minor changes.

Among the candidates for the City Council, Corbett lost three votes, Duffy gained two, and Histen gained one. On the recount for School Committee, Foster gained one.

The following table shows the vote as returned by the election officers and as returned by the Registrars:

WARD COUNCILMEN.

	Election	Recount
Bass	282	282
Corbett	287	284
Duffy*	326	328
Histen*	296	297
Rich	276	276
Studley*	368	368

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Carey	321	321
Foster	326	327

* Eected.

Bags—"Jones is in an awful fix for a nervous man."

Jags—"How so?"

Bags—"The only way to keep his baby quiet is to ring the dining room bell, and the house dog howls whenever he hears it."—Brooklyn Life.

WOOD for SALE

$3.50 a Cord

59 Pond St.
South Braintree

Tel. 15-3 Braintree

Dec. 12-1f

R. E. FOY & CO.

Have you ever tried our

RED LILY

Canned Beets?

If you haven't you don't know what you've missed.

The sweet, tender, little red beets are packed in sanitary cans, and you'll find about 28 of them.

You will be surprised when you try them and you'll surely want a dozen cans.

For vegetable salad, they add color, flavor and zest.

Don't let another day go by without trying them.

Can 15 cts. $1.65 doz.

Just follow the crowd for the next few weeks and see our full line of choice canned goods

R. E. FOY & CO.

Water cor. Quincy St.

Dec. 12-2t

PHONE 117

GROCERY MARKET

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

KITSON MODEL SELECTED

For the Burns Memorial to be Erected in Boston

The Burns memorial association which has been considering designs for the proposed Robert Burns memorial at the Museum of Fine Arts, announced its decision Saturday, says the Herald. The judges, Robert D. Andrews, Cyrus E. Dallin and Philip L. Hale, have chosen design number 5, that of the Quincy sculptor, Henry H. Kitson. Of the other designs numbers two, three and one were considered as meritorious in the order named.

As yet all the money necessary to erect the memorial, which Mr. Kitson estimates would cost $30,000, has not been subscribed. Contributions may be sent to the secretary, Robert E. May, 33 Franklin street.

The Kitson model, which received the first award, carrying with it a cash prize of $500, was exhibited as model No. 5. It is exhedral, a bronze figure backed by marble. The figure of the post is represented walking erect, bareheaded, with a rough-cut cane in one hand, and under an arm a book and laurel leaf. Behind the figure of the poet is inscribed "A man's a man for a' that." Stone seats extend on either side of the exhedra. The keynote of the entire model is grace, both in th lines of the figure and the marble.

Model No. 2, which was honorably mentioned, receiving an award of $250, is by Richard Recchia of Boston. This model also is exhedral. The figure of Burns is youthful. He stands on the central of three pedestals, connected by a long stone seat. A long coat is thrown over one arm, while in the other hand he carries a hat. On the pedestal below the figure is inscribed simply "Burns."

The model of Augustus Lukeman of New York, No. 3, shows the poet standing with a notebook in one hand and pencil in the other. The figure is backed by a plough. Burns is bareheaded. The mounting is also exhedral The third award carries a prize of $150.

Richard E. Brooks of Quincy and Paris, whose model No. 1, received the fourth award og $100, has sculptured the poet along more rustic lines than the others. It is pedestal, showing Burns with one hand resting on a plough, while he is examining a flower held in the other hand. On the sides of the pedestal, enclosed in wreaths are Tam O'Shanter, Cotter's Saturday Night. To a Mountain Daisy, To a Mouse, Two Doge, To Mary in Heaven, Kirk's Alarm, Jolly Beggars, For a' hat and a' That, and Winter's Night.

BRIEFS

Two more fire alarm boxes were cut into the circuit this morning: Box 722, corner of Union and Washington streets; box 66, corner Billings and Prospect streets.

The Wentworth triplets were a month old on Sunday and all are flourishing. Mrs. Wentworth was able to take dinner with the family. Barbara, William and Laura now weigh over five pounds each.

Paul J. Revere W. R. C. 103 will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in G. A. R. hall at which time the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place to be followed in the evening by a whist party.

Rev. Dr. Hardy is to address members and friends of the Quincy Historical society at First Church chapel on Wednesday evening, his subject being, "The Rise and Development of New England Industries." Dr. Hardy is interested in old time history and events and has given much time and study in research into New England history.

Miss Marqand of Newburyport is the guest of Mrs. E. C. Butler of Russell park coming for the Alliance meeting this afternoon at First Church chapel as she is much interested in Alliance work. Miss Marquand went abroad this summer on the same trip taken by Mr. and Mrs. Butler and the meeting proved so mutually pleasant that the reunion today is the result.

Tomorrow is a great day with members of the Quincy Women's club for the long anticipated play is to be presented at Quincy Music hall. Members must present their yearly membership cards for admission and be supplied with guest ticket if taking a guest. The cast as printed in the Ledger of Dec. 7 or the Patriot of Dec. 10 if cut out and taken to the play will be useful as the club has decided not to have programs.

—The locks on the Caledonian Canal, Scotland are now lighted by electricity.

Opening
Of Toyland

The Children's delight. You can avoid the Boston crowds and do your shopping here with comfort and pleasure. Bring the little tots to see the very newest toys and games. Thousand of toys at Boston prices easy to buy easy to get home, 5 & 10 Cent Counters with the identical goods offered by the 5 & 10 stores, but you have the additional advantage of being able to find the 25 cent the 50 cent and higher priced Christmas articles right under the same roof. Everything at popular prices in Toys, Dolls, Games, Fancy China, Glass Ware, Ornaments, Notions, etc. Gifts for men, women and children from 5 cents and 10 cents to $5.00.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

Annex, 1459 Hancock Street, Quincy

A Few Doors From Our Furniture Store.

Dec. 12-1t

RUBBERS

Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers

50c Per Pair

Child's Sandals Good Quality	40c
Misses's " " "	45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes	$1.25

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Land is pretty valuable in some localities along the North shore especially at Beverly. The highest price yet paid was announced Saturday when William M. Wood of the American Woolen Co., purchased four acres at Prides Crossing at about $50,000 an acre. It is said some good prices have been offered in our own city at the Point but not for residential purposes.

Don't run yourself recklessly in debt to buy Christmas gifts. Don't go beyond your means. The spirit not the value of the gift is what every sensible person considers, or they should. The exchange of gifts on this glad occasion is a pleasant custom it should be continued, but only as it is commensurate with good judgment. Of what use is it to deny yourself of necessaries in order that you may be able to "give as good as you receive?" Be wise and yet be imbued with Yuletide spirit.

People who are prone to belittle their surroundings—their city and their State—should carefully consider the returns of the National census now complete. Massachusetts which was seventh in population by the census of 1900 has moved up to No. 6. Although a very small State in area only five States have a larger population—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Texas.

The percentage of gain for the country by the new census was less than 21, yet Massachusetts gained 20 per cent. Iowa actually fell behind while the percentage of gain was less in Alabama, Delaware, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The actual gain in population in Massachusetts was 561,070 in ten years which was only exceeded by California, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington.

Whatever the basis of apportionment in Congress Massachusetts will retain the same proportion as now, probably a gain of one representative. Thus the old Commonwealth is doing remarkably well and holding its own in population, valuation, manufactures etc. etc.

There are 18 different states that have less than a million population each but Massachusetts has over three million.

CHRISTMAS MAIL.

Some General Hints and Suggestions for Those Who Send Their Presents Through the Postoffice.

Mail your packages early.

Register valuable packages and letters.

Send tinsel post cards in a sealed envelope with a two-cent stamp affixed.

Don't seal packages with Red Cross stamps or Christmas seals unless you wish to pay first-class rates.

If you wish to send a post card inside of a tissue envelope put the stamp on the card and cut out a space in the envelope large enough for postmarking.

Label your packages, merchandise, photos, books, calendars, printed matter or magazines and papers as these articles go at different rates.

The name and address of the sender should be written on all letters and packages in the upper left hand corner in smaller writing than the addressee's name and address.

Have all packages and papers weighed as they cannot be forwarded without proper postage.

Mistress—"Bridget, breakfast is very late this morning. I noticed last night that you had company in the kitchen and it was nearly twelve o'clock when you went to bed."

Bridget.—"Yis, mum; I knowed you was awake, fur I heard ye movin' around, an' I said to myself y'd nade slape this mornin' an' I wouldn't distorrb ye wid an early breakfast mum."—New York Weekly.

BATTLESHIP CONTRACTS

Will Cost $1,000,000 More Under 8-Hour Law

The government has found that battleships built under the eight-hour day contract will cost over a million dollars more than formerly. A Washington dispatch of Saturday to the Globe says:

"Secretary of the Navy Meyer's propositions to increase the limit of cost of the battleships New York and Florida, the former from $6,000,000 to $7,500,000 and the latter from $6,000,000 to $6,400,000 have been received by the house committee on naval affairs.

Secretary Meyer says the effect of the eight-hour law, as evidenced by the bid of the Newport News Yard for battleship 35, opened Dec. 1, was to increase the total cost of the contract-built ship about 21 1-2 percent and the estimates from the New York navy yard for battleship 34 (the New York) by $1,500,000, a cost per ton of normal displacement (estimated at about 27,000 tons) of $227.77 as compared with a cost of $171.15 per ton of normal displacement for the Wyoming. The Wyoming's normal displacement is 1000 tons less than the New York and its contract price is $4,500,000.

Secretary Meyer inclosed an opinion of Atty. Gen. Wickersham in regard to the application of the eight-hour law to private ship building establishments. The attorney general holds that if the department cannot build the New York within the limit already fixed it would be improper to proceed further without additional legislation.

RED CROSS SEALS FOR RICH AND POOR.

In a western city, a well dressed gentleman stepped up to one of the tellers' windows in a bank over which hung the sign, "Red Cross Christmas Seals for Sale Here," and, after talking about the seal, and the purpose for which it was being sold, asked for ten dollars' worth. A little, ragged newsboy who came into the bank to sell his newspapers, and who had stood listening to the story of the seal, stepped up, after the gentleman had gone, and laid a penny upon the counter and said, "Gimme one of those stamps; my mother died of it—and my sister's got it."

INDIANS CHANGING THEIR NAMES

"Spokane Indians do not like Biblical names," said J. McA. Webster of Fort Spokane, recently. "If you should be dropped blindfolded into the Spokane Indian reservation you might easily imagine yourself in a Jewish synagogue. You hear Moses speaking to Isaac, Reuben whispering soft words to Judith, and possibly Benjamin, Aaron, Levi and Joseph in a heated controversy over money matters.

"When I first took charge of the Spokane and Colville Agencies six years ago I thought the Spokane Indians a very religious lot of people but I soon found it was in name only, and that they were not at all satisfied with the names." Almost the first day, said Captain Webster, an Indian came to him with an interpreter asking to have his name changed. He had a "very bad" name, he said. His name was Benjamin Isaac. Hundreds of Indians have asked to have their names changed and today they are "Tom, Dick and Harry;" Biblical characters are becoming scarce.

In the early days when the French Catholic priests were the only white men among the Indians in this country, the natives adopted their old picturesque, descriptive names, like "Good Thunder," "Afraid of a Cow," "Rain in the Face" and so forth, or else French names, but about 25 years ago an evangelical missionary changed all their names and caused the trouble which Captain Webster has had in furnishing common "American" names.

—All the sleeping and dining cars of the Louisville & Nashville railroad have been equipped with electric lights.

PETILLO GIRL HOME AGAIN

Child Returned by Kidnappers After Seven Weeks' Captivity

New York, Dec. 12.—With a partly healed knife-slash on one of her thighs, placed there to inspire terror in her heart by kidnappers in whose possession she had been for more than seven weeks, Mamero Patillo, 4 years old, was returned to her parents' home in Red Bank, N. J.

Frightened by the recent energetic action of the New York police in running down members of the "black hand" kidnapping gang, the child was left in the snow in front of the Petillo house, where she was found by her mother, who had heard Mamero's cries for help.

Beyond working out a theory, apparently well founded, that the child had been held captive in this city ever since she disappeared on Oct. 19, the police have made little progress toward trailing the kidnappers. That Mamero had been stolen for the purpose of extorting a ransom from her thrifty parents is agreed to by all who heard the child's story on her return.

TRIAL NEARLY ENDED

Case of Hattie LeBlanc Expected to Go to the Jury Tomorrow

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 12.—If the plans of the opposing counsel do not miscarry, the case of Hattie LeBlanc, charged with the murder of Clarence F. Glover, will go to the jury for a decision tomorrow.

Before court adjourned Saturday Mrs. Glover was asked by District Attorney Higgins, who had called her as his own witness, if she had purchased a revolver to shoot her husband; if she had threatened his life; if she had addressed to and about him the vile epithets witnesses for Hattie LeBlanc have testified that she used. Mrs. Glover made strong denials.

MUTINOUS MARINES ARE HEAVY LOSERS

Many Citizens Also Suffer In Latest Brazilian Revolt

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 12.—The government troops are again in control of the garrison on Cobra island, and the second mutiny of the naval forces has ended with a heavy casualty list, but in a way that probably will prevent further risings for some time to come.

The mutineers in the garrison, who composed a battalion of the marine corps, numbered about 600 men. Of these 200 were either killed or wounded. The others were taken prisoners while attempting to escape from the island.

Two hundred citizens were either killed or wounded while watching the bombardment from the streets of the city or along the waterfront.

Many government buildings were damaged, including the treasury, the foreign office and the departments of public works and telegraphs.

Two land batteries, two warships and several destroyers took part in the bombardment of the island.

EMINENT SURGEONS NAMED

Stokes May Secure Them For a Medical Reserve Corps

Washington, Dec. 12.—Surgeon General Stokes of the navy outlined a plan before the house naval committee for a medical reserve corps, to include in its membership Dr. Maurice H. Richardson of Boston, Dr. E. F. Finney of Baltimore and others of international repute. Stokes has secured the consent of Richardson and others to serve in the corps, should it be authorized by congress.

He has prepared a bill giving titles and commissions to the distinguished volunteers and this stands a fair show of adoption at this session of congress.

POSITIONS UNCHANGED

Next Parliament Will Stand the Same as Before Dissolution

London, Dec. 12.—It is seen now that the government will return with substantially the same majority as it had before the dissolution of parliament, and the future course of the elections has less live interest than the question of what will happen when parliament actually meets.

Both sides appear equally confident of gaining a few more seats the coming week. Up to the present 504 seats out of 670 have been filled.

The relative positions of the two parties are exactly the same in the new parliament as in the old.

Soldiers Fight Flames

Portland, Me., Dec. 12.—Two coast artillery companies from Fort Williams prevented a fire which destroyed the summer home of Frank B. Milliken at Cape Elizabeth from spreading through the large group of summer cottages nearby and sweeping them away. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

The Weather

Almanac, Tuesday, Dec. 13.
Sun rises—7:13; sets—4:29.
Moon sets—5:04 a. m.
High water—8 a. m.; 8:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Generally fair; continued cold; moderate northwest to north winds.

EDWARD D. WHITE

He Will Be Chief Justice of Nation's Highest Court

COPYRIGHT, 1905 BY HARRIS & EWING

TAFT DECIDES UPON WHITE

Democrat Appointed Chief Justice of Supreme Court

WILL CAUSE SOME SURPRISE

Generally Understood That Hughes Was Slated For High Honor, but President's Advisers Object on Ground of Inexperience—All Political Considerations Disregarded In Promoting Southern Soldier

Washington, Dec. 12.—Associate Justice Edward D. White of the United States supreme court is to be elevated to the chief justiceship of that tribunal. President Taft sent the nomination to the senate today at noon.

The announcement that White will be the new chief justice undoubtedly will cause some surprise, because it had been pretty generally understood for some time past that Justice Hughes was slated for that high honor. During the past few days, however, it became known that a change in the slate for head of the supreme court might be made.

Some of the president's closest advisers argued with him that Hughes' experience at the bar had not been sufficient to warrant his promotion at this time to the highest judicial position in the country. They claimed that Hughes' reputation as a lawyer had been gained principally in his conduct of two legislative investigations.

They agreed with the president that everything pointed to a most brilliant career on the bench for the former governor. At the same time, they offered the argument that Hughes was the youngest man on the bench and that his opportunity for promotion would come later when he would have had the advantage of maturing experience of having served several years on the bench.

Eliminating Hughes from promotion and eliminating all suggestions from outside the court, President Taft, it is said, turned naturally to Justice White. In doing so he disregarded all political considerations.

Justice White is a Democrat and was born in the parish of Lafourche, La., Nov. 3, 1845. He was educated at Mt. St. Mary's, near Emmetsburg, Md., Jesuit college, New Orleans, and Georgetown (D. C.) college.

He served in the Confederate army. In 1868 he was admitted to the bar in Louisiana, became a member of the state senate and in 1878 became an associate justice of the Louisiana supreme court.

From 1891 to 1894 he was in the United States senate and in 1894 was appointed an associate justice of the United States supreme court by Grover Cleveland.

So far as Washington can recall this is the first time that a chief justice of the political faith opposed to that of the administration has ever been appointed.

ROOT AND MORAN WIN

Clarke Finishes Six Inches Behind Them In Six-Day Race

New York, Dec. 12.—Root and Moran won the eighteenth annual six-day cycle team race in Madison Square Garden, Root leading all during the final one mile sprint and defeating Clarke by six inches.

Second place went to the team of Rutt and Clarke. Third place went to the Fogler-Hill team, Fogler finishing third in the final one mile sprint. The final score of the leaders was 2545 miles 3 laps.

Illegal to "Treat" to Drinks

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 12.—An anti-treating ordinance was adopted by the city commission, making the buying of an intoxicating drink for another person a misdemeanor.

MILTON AND GREATER BOSTON.

A question that Milton, like all the other municipalities in the Metropolitan district around Boston, will have to face soon in the present trend of events, is how closely it wishes to be allied with the city. It is going to be a delicate question to decide, for whereas Milton and other places are probably perfectly willing to give Boston any commercial prestige it can obtain by the addition of suburban members to its census figures, few of the Metropolitan communities have any desire whatever to sink their individuality in a Greater Boston, or to be merged politically with the city. The danger is that once the outside cities and towns consent to be advertised as a part of Boston, the way will be opened up towards a closer and closer union, which eventually may lead to annexation.

All the surrounding communities owe a great debt to Boston, for it gives them much that they could not have except by proximity to a large city; about that there is no question. And they should be willing to reciprocate by helping the city in gaining as much recognition and prosperity commercially as possible without injury to themselves. But in this process commerce and politics must be kept separate and that will be a hard task.

Milton may not object to having its people counted in a greater Boston for the purpose of advertising the city in business, but Milton will be extremely wary of anything that looks like an approach to making its population the basis of another Boston ward. The town, unless we are much mistaken, prefers to keep control of its own affairs, rather than to take a chance of occasionally obtaining recognition from a mayor and city council or a commission six miles away. The Greater Boston idea is being much agitated and Milton must beware lest it be scooped up with others and a good town be sacrificed to make a big city bigger.—Milton Record.

CHRISTMAS BUYING.

Christmas giving, with its concomitant, Christmas buying, is the duty of the rich, and the luxurious pleasure of the every-day citizen. Not the least significant aspect of Christmas buying lies in that with most of us it means the self-denying purchase for others of things we should like to have for ourselves, and it is just this aspect of the matter that takes from it all trace of the sordid. The crowds that now gaze in at the heartsome shop-window display of tempting things are perhaps thinking less of self than at any other season. Wives whose self-denial lasts throughout the year are now contriving what luxury shall be bought with their savings for husbands and children. Men wander helpless from shop to shop, bewildered by the sight of so many things that would please wives and children at home, but wholesomely forgetful of self. Even children, accustomed as they are to think of the Christmas season as a time of glad surprises, and fascinatingly mysterious bundles, are contriving what they shall buy for others with long hoarded pennies.

There are excellent persons who hold that Christmas giving, and consequently Christmas buying, should be abandoned as a silly and onerous tax upon millions who buy and give not in the true spirit of the season, but under a sort of social compulsion. Perhaps for those who feel thus as to the holiday season such a policy is in every way best as absolving them from the maintenance of a hollow and hypocritical pretence, but they are vastly mistaken if they suppose that the great majority of their fellow-citizens share their pessimistic view. Christmas buying, for those who have the wisdom to begin it early enough, is a delightful adventure, and with many it has the spice that comes of conscious extravagance. Then it is that we venture to buy for needy friends and relatives things that we might not give them perhaps at any other season without fear of wounding their pride. As it is improvident to postpone Christmas buying to the last moment, when stocks have been overhandled, and crowds are nervous and eager, so it is perhaps over-provident to buy too soon, as some forehanded folk do, for example, immediately after the holiday season, and nearly a year in advance of actual need. These shrewd economists miss the charm and sparkle of the Christmas shopping, the gaiety of crowds, the freshness of newly-opened goods—in fact renounce for themselves what their self-denying labors entitled them to have, the delicious refreshment of the Christmas spirit.—Boston Herald.

Marriage.

"Marriage," said the serious man, "is an education in itself."

"Yes," commented old Grouch, "it teaches you what not to do after you have done it."—Boston Transcript.

A Possible Danger.

Bill—I see aviation socks for men are the latest things.

Jill—Gee! Isn't there danger of 'em coming down?—Yonkers Statesman.

STOLE POSTAL FUNDS

Two Former Government Employes Are Sentenced to Prison

Portland, Me., Dec. 12.—After pleading guilty to the charge of the larceny of $1600 from the funds of the postoffice in this city, while he was employed as a clerk there, George H. Skillings was sentenced to serve one year and one day in the federal prison at Atlanta. The government recovered the entire amount of the stealings.

Edward J. Nelson of Newport, convicted of appropriating to his own use money given him to purchase money orders while he was a rural free delivery mail carrier, was sentenced to eight months in the Portland jail.

CLEARED BY GRAND JURY

Two Boston Men Charged With Manslaughter Are Exonerated

Boston, Dec. 12.—George A. Craffey, a local labor leader, and Patrick McLaughlin, both held for the Suffolk county grand jury charged with manslaughter, were exonerated when the grand jury reported.

Craffey was charged with causing the death of Albert Rome, following a meeting of the Lathers' union, of which Rome was president.

McLaughlin had been held on the charge of manslaughter in causing the death of Jeremiah Buckley.

Sure of His Oats.

Young Centaur—I'd like to have your daughter for my running mate, old hoss.

Old Centaur—H'm! What are your prospects?

Young Centaur—Why, yesterday morning, before the rallbirds got busy, I reeled off a mile in 1:23 flat—and didn't extend myself either.—Puck.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup 21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat 17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes 12 1-2c can
(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Preparation Being Made for Observance of Christmas

FIRST UNIVERSALIST.

On Sunday an appreciative audience listened to an eloquent sermon on The church militant by Dr. Charles Conklin superintendent, of Universalist churches of Massachusetts. At close of the service pledge cards were given out and those present responded liberally.

In the Sunday School the first twenty minutes was devoted to the rehearsal of the Christmas carols.

The Mission circle meets this afternoon in the church parlor.

The Dorcas society meets Tuesday evening with the Misses Hanson of Hancock street.

The Ladies Aid society meets Thursday afternoon in the church parlor.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

Rev. Carl G. Horst took his Sunday morning text from the 19th chapter of Leviticus, the 30th verse,—"Ye shall reverence my sanctuary." Man's need of God is primal. No where does man set up his abode but shortly follows an altar to his God, the temple where he must worship and bow down. Scientists, searching in darkest lands, find no tribe without religion in some form be it ever so crude or simple. Cities that are without walls, without gates, without means of furnishing comforts of life, all have altars erected to something which the heart of man may reverence.

Empires rise and fall, cities are built and pass away, great catastrophies overtake nations, but through all the church survives and marches on, and will so long as it stands primarily for religion. Our church buildings dedicated to the service of God, and consecrated by the devotion of those who labor and worship there, become dear to us through many sacred associations and are indeed to us holy ground.

The preacher made an earnest plea for a more reverential exterior in the house of God. A moment of silent prayer or the simple bowing of the head give a spiritual poise and receptivity that will leave one free to be led up to the high places ofworship. Over every church door might well be placed the simple text "This is none other than the house of God; and this is the gate of Heaven."

Rev. and Mrs. Carl G. Horst are at home to receive callers Monday evenings.

The Whatsoever circle of King's Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. W. Seiders, 240 South Central avenue this evening.

The Earnest Workers Lend-a-Hand circle will meet with Mrs. Page 107 Winthrop avenue, Tuesday, at 4 P. M.

The monthly meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 13. William E. MacClintock, president of the board of control of the city of Chelsea, will speak on "One form of government by commission." Dinner at 6.30.

The First Unitarian church in Revere, formerly known as "The First church of Christ in Rumney Marsh" will celebrate its two hundredth anniversary with appropriate exercises at 3 and 7.30 P. M. on Wednesday, Dec. 14.

A sale of toys will be held in the vestry from 10 to 11 o'clock on the forenoon, Dec. 17.

Red Cross seals have been issued for the holidays in aid of the Anti-Tuberculosis Fund. They may be had of Mrs. Charles S. Adams, 62 Brook street; Mrs. E. G. Thayer, 60 Willow street or Mrs. C. G. Horst, 67Winthrop avenue.

The chorus choir, under the efficient leadership of choirmaster Willis Clark, is busy rehearsing special Christmas music.

A special collection will be taken next Sunday morning to provide flowers for the altar at the Sunday morning service of worship. These flowers are after the service distributed among the sick in the parish.

The sereoptican lecture on the passion play by our pastor is to be repeated in the near future.

(Continued on Page 6.)

IT will be for YOU

A Merry Christmas

IF You Read Daily

THE Quincy Ledger

Home Trade will Help Quincy

THE ELECTROSCOPE.

Instrument by Which the Presence of Electricity Is Detected.

The electroscope is an instrument for the detection of electricity. It depends for its action on the principle that bodies charged with like electricity repel, while those charged with unlike electricity attract each other. The ordinary pith ball suspended on a silk thread is the simplest form of the instrument.

The most common type of electroscope is that devised by Bennett in 1787 and known as the gold leaf electroscope. It consists of two strips of gold leaf or thin aluminium foil suspended from the lower extremity of a conductor within a glass bottle or jar. The upper end of the conductor terminates in a ball or a plate in case the instrument is to be used as a condensing electroscope. If a body charged with positive electricity is brought near the knob of the electroscope the negative electricity will be attracted to the knob and the positive repelled to the leaves, which diverge. If now the finger is touched to the knob the positive electricity is drawn off and the leaves collapse, while the negative electricity is held bound. Removing the charged body, the leaves will diverge again, charged with negative electricity. In this case the instrument can be used to determine the nature of a charge of a body brought near it, as with a positive charge the leaves will collapse and with a negative charge spread farther apart.—Exchange.

A STUDY IN FIGURES.

Calculations Necessary to Produce the Nautical Almanac.

It may safely be said that no one outside the publishing office has read the entire Nautical Almanac from beginning to end, but each figure of the printed almanac is in the office examined twice and read three times.

The total number of figures exceeds a million; but, great as that number is, it is trifling compared with the number of figures employed in the calculations, as the almanac figures represent "bare" results only. The moon, for instance, requires for its calculation more than a million and a half of figures, and similarly with other branches of the work, such as the sun, the planets, etc. Contrary to the general opinion, practically every figure in the book is fresh from year to year.

The tables from which nearly all the work is calculated have been originally constructed from the labors of the astronomical observer and to a large extent from the observations of the sun, moon and planets made at the Royal observatory, Greenwich. Telescopes and other astronomical appliances are conspicuously absent, as the work of the staff is purely mathematical and not observational.—London Telegraph.

A Legend of Mount Omi.

Mount Omi, on the border between western China and Tibet, has the longest staircase in the world. On top of the mountain there stands a Buddhist temple, around which gather some of the hollest traditions of that religion and which is made a Mecca to the Chinese. To facilitate the ascent of its slippery sides some 20,000 steps have been cut in the mountain, forming a single flight, up which the pilgrim toils. Because of its inaccessibility few Europeans have ever visited the spot, but a number of travelers have ascended the stairway and are positive that it is no legendary myth. There is a legend that in earlier times the pilgrim was forced to ascend the mountain without artificial aids until the monks conceived the plan of requiring every pilgrim who would gain especial benefit of his journey to cut a single step.

Some Consolation.

He was a frugal Scot and when the collection plate came round dropped in a florin in mistake for the humble copper. Speedily discovering his mistake, however, he stepped softly down the aisle and requested the oof gatherer to give him back the coin, which request was politely but firmly refused. A shade of disappointment flitted over the northerner's face as he walked slowly back to his pew.

"Aweel," he said, "it's a loss, but there's some sma' consolation in reflectin' it's a bad one. It might have got me into trouble anywhere else."—London Telegraph.

Dickens and His Wife.

Commenting on the unhappy relations between Dickens and his wife, Goldwin Smith wrote in one of his last papers: "It was a common case. Dickens had married at a low level, and his wife had not risen with him; otherwise there was no fault on her side. The matrimonial history of writers of works of imagination has often been unhappy. Their imagination turns the woman into an angel, and then they find that she is a woman."

Two Is Company.

"Have you ever loved before?" asked the coy maid.

"Yes," yawned the worldly young man, "but—never before a chaperon, two small brothers and a pet bulldog."

And then she suggested a trip down the old road to see the stars.—Chicago News.

A Sugar Coated Pill.

"How did you persuade your daughter to learn kitchen work?"

"By calling it domestic science."—Pittsburg Post.

The way of the world is to make laws, but follow customs.—Montaigne.

GERMAN CENSUS QUIZ PUZZLING

Searching Questions Perplex Dutiful Subjects of Kaiser.

TOTAL MAY BE 65,000,000.

Population of 208,000,000 In 2135 Is Estimate of One Economist—American Increase Twice as Great Annually, According to Present Figures of Two Nations.

Germany is in the throes of a census and when it is over the fatherland expects to wake up and find itself the possessor of 65,000,000 souls, or a gain of 4,500,000 since 1905. The German population experts are deeply impressed by the announcement that the United States has over 90,000,000 inhabitants. The American rate of increase during the last ten years is double the rate at which Germany is growing.

The census of Germany is not taken by official question askers, as in the United States, but by means of a series of intricate blanks which every householder in the country is obliged to fill out. Millions of otherwise intelligent Germans spent many days wrestling with the mysteries of the census forms.

Some of Questions Searching.

These are some of the searching questions which the kaiser's perplexed subjects had to answer:

If you don't know the exact date of your birth how many full years old are you?

What's your main occupation in life?

Were your babies nursed on their mother's breast or by wet nurses or from a bottle?

Are you subject to epileptic fits?

How many of your house windows look out on the street?

What was your mother tongue—German, Dutch, Friesan, Danish, Wallonian, Polish or Lithuanian?

What are the names of the various rooms in your dwelling?

What is the religion of your servants?

How many bathrooms have you?

Do you cook with gas or other fuel?

What rent do you pay?

Sees 150,000,000 by 1980.

German economists cherish ambitious hopes for the future of Germany's population. One authority says there will be 150,000,000 by 1980. Another expert, Professor von Schmoller of the University of Berlin, peers into the distant future as far as 2135, when he sees a vision of 208,000,000.

"Such increase," he writes, "should, will and must come if we wish to remain a great and powerful nation, but we must have fruitful colonies abroad to take care of the surplus."

X RAYS CURING DEAFNESS.

London Physician Makes Important Discovery by Accident.

Mere chance has led to the discovery that certain forms of deafness can be cured by the marvelous power of the X rays. A fashionable specialist of London who treats poor people for small fees on certain days was visited not long ago by a patient who was suffering from facial neuritis and a bad ulcer on the tongue. These the doctor treated with the X rays, and the man rapidly improved.

Recently he began to complain that he could not sleep. He lived in a very noisy neighborhood, but as he had been deaf for the last thirty-six years as the result of a fall the street noises never bothered him.

The specialist investigated the case and found that there could be no doubt that the X rays had cured this man's deafness. He folowed it up by an equally successful cure of a working girl who had become deaf after scarlet fever and of another young woman who was made deaf by the explosion of a gas stove.

In nonscientific language the X rays seem to act on the artificial tissues that in growing fibrously in the ear cause the deafness. The X rays break these down and at the same time stimulate the minute ends of the tiny nerves, make them grow out again, and so they return to the parts of the ear which convey the sound vibrations to the brain.

SOLID PETROL FOR AUTOS.

Roumanian Makes Discovery That Enhances Motoring Pleasures.

Solid petrol is one of the latest joys offered to automobilists. It is the invention of a Roumanian doctor, and its uses are being demonstrated in London.

It is said to have many virtues. Among other things it burns without smell or smoke, its cost is two-thirds that of the liquid, it eliminates the use of a carbureter, is safely portable in a wooden box or even wrapped in paper, affords complete combustion, is of greater smoothness than the liquid, will develop greater power and is easily convertible into liquid.

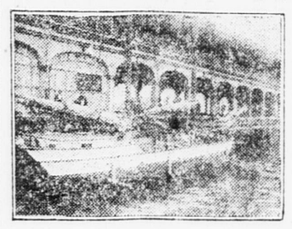
It is claimed that crude oil and paraffin can be solidified by the same process and that it is possible to run an automobile with solid paraffin. Solid petrol for ship engines, lamps and other purposes are other possibilities.

Match Wood Selected Stock.

In the making of the match it is necessary to obtain the best grade of wood. No sap wood, no knotty or cross grained timber is utilized by the factories.

For the Children

A Stanch Little Ship With a Big History.



An event of unusual historic interest recently took place in New York harbor. It was the decorating of the two masted schooner Polly with a memorial tablet telling of her valorous deeds in the war of 1812. The Polly was built in 1805 and is therefore 105 years old. She is sixty-one feet long, of old fashioned model and is still engaged in trade. The little schooner retains her original planking of three inch oak, and her eight inch ribs are as sound as when placed in her over a century ago. Under command of Captain Jud-than Upham the Polly sailed from Salem on Dec. 7, 1812, on the lookout for British merchantmen. Two days later she captured an English full rigged ship. In all she took eleven prizes. Once she fell a victim to superior force and was taken prisoner by the British frigate Phoebe. A few days later she was recaptured by a United States man-of-war and thus was spared for the honor which lately came to her.

New Year's Customs.

In some countries, notably in Great Britain and in some cities in the United States, the new year is welcomed in by festivities on the eve of the day. In Scotland, for instance, it is customary to celebrate New Year's eve with some festivity, which is prolonged until past midnight. At the stroke of 12 every one present wishes each other a "Happy New Year." The custom is also common in many parts of Germany, where the salutation is "Prosit Neu Jahr."

Similar to this custom are the religious "watch meetings" held in some of the churches in this country on New Year's eve. In England on New Year's eve in some houses a curious custom or superstition is observed. At the stroke of 12 which ushers in the new year the party, already waiting on the stairs, begin to ascend the stairway backward, taking a step at each stroke. Every step successfully mounted means a happy month, every stumble a reverse. Of course it is one of those playful superstitions which are not taken seriously.

A Trick Game.

Have, say, 100 toothpicks and agree with some one to take alternately from the heap any number not exceeding ten. The trick is to have the last toothpick or toothpicks whatever your adversary may do. For this remember the numbers 1, 12, 23, 34, and so on, increasing by 11 each time. Supposing you have the first draw, you take one pick only, and your opponent can never have a chance, for if he draws as many as possible at one time (ten) you take another one, making the total 12. Say now he draws eight picks, you take three, and so on, making whatever number he takes into 11. When you have got to 89 you will see that the other player has no chance. Two persons who know how this is done cannot play at it, because the first player must infallibly win. Supposing one who does not understand it to have the first draw, he will be sure to make a mistake somewhere in the game and enable you to attain one of the before named numbers (12, 23, 34, etc.), when you are quite safe to win.

Origin of Some Words.

The lemon, it is said, takes its name from the city of Lima.

Loadstone is a corrupt translation of Lydius lapus, the stone of Lydia.

The word money reminds us that the coinage of the Romans was struck at the temple of Juno Monieta, the goddess of counsel.

"Dollar" is from the German thaler, which is derived from Thal, the valley of Joachim, in Bohemia, where the silver works were situated that made this coin.

The word "panic" has a curious origin. According to Herodotus, the god Pan was supposed to have assisted the Greeks at the battle of Marathon, 490 B. C., striking such a terror into the Persian host that they fled to their ships in perfect dismay. From that time the Greek word panikon was used to describe unreasonable or sudden and overpowering fear.

New Year's Talk With Dolly.

Now, Dolly, dear, it's New Year's day,
And that's when peoples plan
To be so good the whole year round—
The goodest that they can.

I think you're old enough to make
Some resolutions too.
There's room for 'provement—deed there is—
In lots of things you do.

You can learn to be more neat.
It's really a disgrace
The way you spill your sawdust round
And dirty up your face.

You can quite make up your mind
Not to cry and pout
Just because your wig is gone
And one eye is losted out.

I hope you'll be much gooder now
And try and mend your ways.
It's such a 'sponsibility
To have a child to raise!

Woman's World

Mrs. Alma Powell Gives Feminine Dress Reform and Comfort.

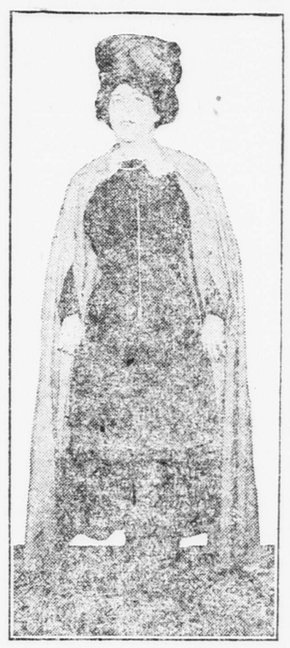


Photo by American Press Association.

MRS. ALMA WEBSTER POWELL IN HER NEW COSTUME.

Here is a case of pure love of her kind. Mrs. Alma Webster Powell makes an appeal to women to cast off the shackles of the hobble skirt and all absurdities of la mode and adopt the costume of common sense which she has designed for them. It is called a comfort costume and is made on princess lines that reach to the ankles and worn without corsets and with bloomers. To add style, without which no dress was ever a success, the material is handsome black velvet trimmed with hand embroidery of jet. For street wear boots and a military cape are added of black satin. In the house the frock is buttoned down to the feet.

The little hat pretty Mrs. Powell wears with the costume is made like the cap worn by officers in the Austrian army and can be fashioned by any woman for the modest sum of $1.

Every part of this attire from cap to twelve dollar boots is attractive, sane and simple in effect. Mrs. Powell in advocating this reform costume is entirely unselfish in her aim, for in doing so she gives up a wealth of Paris hats and gowns.

This costume if adopted by womankind will stamp out much sartorial envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness, as all costumes are made on the same style. It will remove class distinction, and the only bone of contention will be in the quality of the material used; otherwise Mrs. Rhinestone will be on an equal footing, so far as appearances are concerned, with Mrs. Diamond.

Mrs. Powell in her comparatively short life has played many parts. She is a singer of note; she is a suffragette and a law student—in fact, she is interested in everything that tends to public good, and her brain is a very active piece of machinery.

The inventor has adopted the dress herself, and she could wear so many smart gowns if she had the welfare of women less at heart.

A New Tea Guest.

The tame rabbit is now milady's pet. It's an English fad, and the up to date rabbit is in evidence at the 5 o'clock tea table.

RABBIT AT 5 O'CLOCK TEA.

The New Shoe Buckle.

Cut steel and rhinestone predominate in the shoe buckle for decorating the evening slipper this season. In the cut steel, which has a very refined appearance, the designs are very beautiful. The buckles made of this material seem to be the leading ones.

They are made oblong and large, and though this is actually the choice among the metals, there are other sizes and other metals still available, for, though it is quite new, it does not exclude any of the others that with some are still popular.

Rhinestone buckles are favored next to steel, and there is a wide variety of these from which to make a choice.

Small and large ornaments, square and round ornaments, oblong and star shaped ornaments—in fact, in the rhinestone one can get an ornament in almost any shape a person desires.

DISLIKES INNOVATIONS.

Hence the Rhino Blindly Attacks Anything New to Him.

Sir Frederick Treves, the distinguished British surgeon, in his book "Uganda For a Holiday" has a word or two to say about the rhinoceros.

"The rhinoceros is the embodiment of blind conservatism," he writes. "Its hide is impenetrable, its vision is weak, while its intellect is weaker. It has, however, two marked qualities—combativeness and a sense of smell. It is aroused to its maximum energy by the presence of anything that is new. This object need not be a thing that is aggressive or inconvenient. Its offensiveness depends upon the fact that it is unfamiliar, and the more unfamiliar the object is the worse the rhinoceros acts.

"When a rhinoceros smells a man he will charge him with maniacal violence, although the man may be merely sitting on a stool reading Milton. The massive beast will dash at him like a torpedo or a runaway locomotive simply because the smell of him is novel. Actuated by this insane hate of whatever savors of an innovation, the rhinoceros has charged an iron water tank on the outskirts of a camp and has crumpled it up as a blacksmith would an empty meat tin.

"A conservative rhinoceros with a senile dislike of anything new once charged a train on the Uganda railway, but with no more serious results than the tearing away of the footboard of a carriage. As regards the rhinoceros in this case, it appeared surprised that a thing composed, as it had imagined, of flesh and blood could be so hard. It went off with an additional grievance and an increased swelling of the head."

HUMAN DISSECTION.

Surgery and the Anatomists In the Olden Days.

For a long time Alexandria was the only medical center of the world, and the physician Galen, born about 130 A. D., had to journey from Rome to the African city even to see a skeleton. He sent his students to the German battlefields to dissect the bodies of the national enemies, while he himself used apes as most resembling human beings. Human dissection was revived in Bologna in the fourteenth century, where Madonna Manzolina later was professor of anatomy, undoubtedly one of the first women doctors, if not the very first. Leonardo da Vinci, painter of "The Last Supper," was a great anatomist, but dissection had fallen into disuse when Vesalius finally revived it about the middle of the sixteenth century.

Even in comparatively modern times anatomists have been the object of attacks by the populace. In 1765 Dr. John Shippen of Philadelphia was mobbed as a grave robber. Doctors' riots in New York occurred twenty-three years later and were due to the belief that the medical students robbed graves continually. It was the lack of opportunity to obtain subjects regularly that led to the practice of grave robbing and originated what Dr. Keene calls "a set of the lowest possible villains—the resurrectionists."—New York World.

Blighted Affections.

Now the ashes of my heart are entombed in my breast, as in a sepulcher of ice, yet once that heart was formed of fire and burned and raged until it perished, self consumed.—From "The Parricide."

Mean.

First Fair One—How dreadful it is to have a skeleton in the family! Second Fair One—I know, dear. Have you ever tried exercise?

The Happy Medium.

Squire's Daughter—By the way, do you spell your name with a large or a small N, Mrs. McNabe? Villager—Oh, middlin' large, miss.—London M. A. P.

VAN DYCK FOUND IN CHURCH

Masterpiece Was Left In Italy by Dutch Painter.

A large painting by Van Dyck representing the "Holy Family" has recently been discovered in a small country church at Moltedo, near Porto Maurizio, Italy.

When Van Dyck lived and worked in Genoa he fell in love with a beautiful girl, possibly one of his models, and fled with her to Moltedo, a small village picturesquely situated on a hill amid dense olive groves, where he spent some time in seclusion. When the painter returned to Genoa he left a painting about 6 by 4 in the country church of Sant' Anna, between the two villages of Moltedo and Vasia, and the rival citizens of the two villages realized that the picture was worthy of a larger church.

Its ownership was contested, and the inhabitants of Vasia locked it in the shrine of Sant' Anna and thought that the picture was safe. The inhabitants of Moltedo went there at night and removed the picture to their parish church of San Bernardo.

Here an expert discovered it some time ago and recognized it as a masterpiece despite its ruinous condition. This picture is one of the few paintings on ideal subjects left in Italy by Van Dyck, who is mostly represented in that country by his portraits, and it is distinguished by powerful coloring and a high degree of expression.

SWEDEN TO TUNNEL SEA.

Plans Subway to Denmark to Aid Scandinavian War Plans.

The Swedish parliament is discussing the project of a submarine tunnel between Sweden and Denmark. The undertaking is intended to enable the military forces of the three Scandinavian countries to co-operate in time of war. The tunnel would probably be made between Copenhagen and Malmo.

Glass Phone Poles Tried.

Germany is experimenting with glass telephone poles re-enforced with wire.

The Sanitary Smack.

When you meet a rosy-wootsy
In its downy 'ittle crib
Do not at the helpless ickums
Make the usual pecking jab.
Better to be hygienic,
As the medic men have said,
After you have shucked its bonnet
Place your kiss on baby's head.

No one knows how oft a precious
Has been introduced to germs
By the careless friends who kissed it
On the usual reckless terms.
Better skip the osculation—
So the medic men have said—
If you do not care to kiss it
On its fuzzy 'ittle head.

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Quincy Historical Society

LECTURE BY

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.

"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."

Illustrated by Lantern Photographs

Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore

At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.

Wednesday, December 14, 1910,

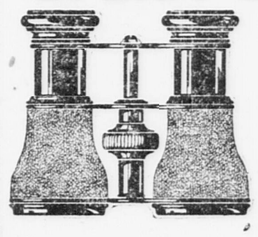
at 8 o'clock P. M.

Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.

EMERY L. CRANE.
Dec. 7 6t

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

LLOYD'S
OPERA GLASSES



LEISS
OPERA GLASSES
Black or Gold Finish
$40.00 and $45.00
Catalogue on Application

BROWNIES

Kodaks and Films

ALL SIZES

FROM $1.00 UPWARD

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE

ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1301 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE. REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photograph; we will report free; terms reasonable; we make preliminary search; we assist inventors; we help to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often secures a better patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug, Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

BRIEFS

A full moon on Friday evening.

Christmas a week from next Sunday.

The Vestry of Christ church meets tonight.

The afternoons are now at their shortest.

Several house burglaries are reported at Braintree.

The Whatsoever circle of King's Daughters of Wollaston will meet this evening with Mrs. W. Seiders, 240 South Central avenue.

Mrs. George G. Saville addresses the Junior Alliance at their meeting tonight in First Church chapel on "The Unitarian Idea: its Influence on Philanthropic Work."

District Deputy John J. Sullivan will pay a visit Tuesday evening to Merrymount lodge, A. O. U. W. He will be accompanied by Joseph M. Kelley of the committee on laws.

Administration has been granted on the estate of Annes A. Lincoln of Jennie W. Lincoln, bond $40,000; and on estate of Eliza A. Sargent to William P. Thompson, bond $3,000.

The speaker at the Wollaston Unitarian club on Tuesday evening will be William A. McClintock, chairman of the board of control of the Chelsea city government who will speak on "One form of city government by commission."

Ralph Winslow, his grandmother Mrs. Elbridge Cross and his aunt Miss Emmie Newcomb who have made their home for a few years on Granite street are now pleasantly located in Dr. E. E. Davis cottage on Foster street.

Among the creditors of William F. Hassett, the marble worker of Waltham who has filed a petition in bankruptcy, are: The Columbia Granite Co., Sampo Granite Co., and John Thompson & Sons of Quincy.

Chester I. Campbell of Wollaston, who is well know throughout business circles as the manager of big propositions, has been elected honorary treasurer of the Egypt Exploration Fund. His name was placed in nomination at the meeting held in the London Assembly by prominent Bostonians connected with the funds. His election means his filling a position which will cover, as its territory, the entire United States.—Boston Post.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

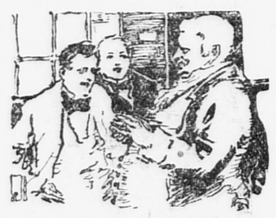
Thirteen Days to Xmas
DEC. 12
Lucky For You if You Shop Early

CHRISTMAS CAROL
BY
Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

He was not alone, but sat by the side of a fair young girl in a mourning dress in whose eyes there were tears,



"LET'S HAVE THE SHUTTERS UP."

which sparkled in the light that shone out of the Ghost of Christmas Past.

"It matters little," she said softly—"to you very little. Another idol has displaced me, and if it can cheer and comfort you in time to come, as I would have tried to do, I have no just cause to grieve."

"What idol has displaced you?" he rejoined.

"A golden one."

"This is the even handed dealing of the world," he said. "There is nothing on which it is so hard as poverty, and there is nothing it professes to condemn with such severity as the pursuit of wealth."

"You fear the world too much," she answered gently. "All your other hopes have merged into the hope of being beyond the chance of its sordid approach. I have seen your nobler aspirations fall off one by one until the master passion, gain, engrosses you. Have I not?"

"What then?" he retorted. "Even if I have grown so much wiser, what then? I am not changed toward you."

She shook her head.

"Am I?"

"Our contract is an old one. It was made when we were both poor and content to be so until in good season we could improve our worldly fortune by our patient industry. You are changed. When it was made you were another man."

"I was a boy," he said impatiently.

He was about to speak further; but, with her head turned from him, she resumed:

"You may—the memory of what is past half makes me hope you will—have pain in this. A very, very brief time and you will dismiss the recollection of it gladly as an unprofitable dream from which it happened well that you awoke. May you be happy in the life you have chosen."

She left him, and they parted.

"Spirit," said Scrooge in a broken voice, "remove me from this place."

He turned upon the ghost and, seeing that it looked upon him with a face in which in some strange way there were fragments of all the faces it had shown him, wrestled with it.

"Leave me! Take me back! Haunt me no longer!"

In the struggle, if that can be called a struggle in which the ghost, with no visible resistance on its own part, was undisturbed by any effort of its adversary, Scrooge observed that its light was burning high and bright, and, dimly connecting that with its influence over him, he seized the extinguisher cap and by a sudden action pressed it down upon its head.

HE COULD NOT HIDE THE LIGHT.

The spirit dropped beneath it, so that the extinguisher covered its whole form; but, though Scrooge pressed it down with all his force, he could not hide the light which streamed from under it in an unbroken flood upon the ground.

He was conscious of being exhausted and overcome by an irresistible drowsiness and, further, of being in his own bedroom. He gave the cap a parting squeeze, in which his hand relaxed, and had barely time to reel to bed before he sank into a heavy sleep.

Chapter Three

THE SECOND OF THE THREE SPIRITS.

AWAKING in the middle of a prodigiously tough snore and sitting up in bed to get his thoughts together, Scrooge had no occasion to be told that the bell was again upon the stroke of 1.

He felt that he was restored to consciousness in the right nick of time for the especial purpose of holding a conference with the second messenger dispatched to him through Jacob Marley's intervention. But, finding that he turned uncomfortably cold when he began to wonder which of his curtains this new specter would draw back, he put them every one aside with his own hands and, lying down again, established a sharp lookout all round the bed, for he wished to challenge the spirit on the moment of its appearance and did not wish to be taken by surprise and made nervous.

Gentlemen of the free and easy sort who plume themselves on being acquainted with a move or two and being usually equal to the time of day express the wide range of their capacity for adventure by observing that they are good for anything from pitch and toss to manslaughter, between which opposite extremes no doubt there lies a tolerably wide and comprehensive range of subjects. Without venturing for Scrooge quite as hardily as this I don't mind calling on you to believe that he was ready for a good broad field of strange appearances and that nothing between a baby and a rhinoceros would have astonished him very much.

Now, being prepared for almost anything, he was not by any means prepared for nothing, and consequently when the bell struck 1 and no shape appeared he was taken with a violent fit of trembling. Five minutes, ten minutes, a quarter of an hour, went by, yet nothing came. All this time he lay upon his bed, the very core and center of a blaze of ruddy light which streamed upon it when the clock proclaimed the hour and which, being only light, was more alarming than a dozen ghosts, as he was powerless to make out what it meant or would be at, and was sometimes apprehensive that he might be at that very moment an interesting case of spontaneous combustion without having the consolation of knowing it. At last, however, he began to think, as you or I would have thought at first, for it is always the person not in the predicament who knows what ought to have been done in it and would unquestionably have done it too. At last, I say, he began to think that the source and secret of this ghostly light might be in the adjoining room, from whence, on further tracing it, it seemed to shine. This idea taking full possession of his mind, he got up softly and shuffled in his slippers to the door.

The moment Scrooge's hand was on the lock a strange voice called him by his name and bade him enter. He obeyed.

It was his own room—there was no doubt about that—but it had undergone a surprising transformation. The walls and ceiling were so hung with living green that it looked a perfect grove, from every part of which bright gleaming berries glistened. The crisp leaves of holly, mistletoe and ivy reflected back the light as if so many little mirrors had been scattered there, and such a mighty blaze went roaring up the chimney as that dull petrifaction of a hearth had never known in Scrooge's time or Marley's or for many and many a winter season gone. Heaped up upon the floor to form a kind of throne were turkeys, geese, game, poultry, brawn, great joints of meat, suckling pigs, long wreaths of sausages, mince pies, plum puddings, barrels of oysters, red hot chestnuts, cherry cheeked apples, juicy oranges, luscious pears, immense Twelfth cakes and seething bowls of punch that made the chamber dim with their delicious steam. In easy state upon this couch there sat a jolly giant, glorious to see, who bore a glowing torch, in shape not unlike Plenty's horn, and held it up, high up, to shed its light on Scrooge as he came peeping round the door.

"COME IN AND KNOW ME BETTER, MAN!"

"Come in!" exclaimed the ghost. "Come in and know me better, man!"

Scrooge entered timidly and hung his head before this spirit.

"I am the Ghost of Christmas Present," said the spirit. "Look upon me!"

Scrooge reverently did so. It was clothed in one simple deep green robe or mantle bordered with white fur. This garment hung so loosely on the figure that its capacious breast was bare, as if disdaining to be warded or concealed by any artifice. Its feet, observable beneath the ample folds of the garment, were also bare, and on its head it wore no other covering than a holly wreath set here and there with shining icicles. Its dark brown curls were long and free—free as its genial face, its sparkling eye, its open hand, its cheery voice, its unconstrained demeanor and its joyful air. Girded round its middle was an antique scabbard, but no sword was in it, and the ancient sheath was eaten up with rust.

(To be Continued.)

Breakfast Effusion.

Oh, buckwheat cake, thou art a dream!
I watch you bake and whiff the steam
Of country sausage in the pan,
The gift of gods to mortal man!
What would old Omar in his tent
Have penned if he could have but spent
Some moments of each morn in feast
On rich brown buckwheats raised by yeast
And country sausage divine
Instead of musty bread and wine?
—Chicago News

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

FRANK H. HITCHCOCK
Renders an Account of His Stewardship

© 1910, by American Press Association.

REDUCTION IN POSTAL DEFICIT

Eleven and a Half Millions Chopped From Big Debit

HITCHCOCK MAKES REPORT

Postmaster General Renews Recommendation For Parcels Post—Loss In Rural Mail Service—Trustees In Charge of Postal Savings System Making Progress—Policy of the Department

Washington, Dec. 12.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued his annual report, which states in part as follows:

"A year ago the fiscal records of the postal service disclosed a deficit of $17,500,000, the largest in the history of the country. It the space of twelve months a reduction of $11,500,000 has been made in this deficit, the excess of expenditures over receipts as reported for the year ending June 30 last amounting to only $5,848,566.88.

"It is most gratifying to report that this unprecedented reduction has been made without any curtailment of postal facilities. On the contrary, the service has been largely extended.

"The recommendation made in the last annual report of the department for the introduction of a limited parcel post service on rural routes is earnestly renewed. It is believed that as soon as the postal savings system is thoroughly organized the postoffice department should be prepared to establish throughout the country a general parcel post.

"Next to the heavy loss resulting from the low postage rate on second class mail the principal inroad into the profits of the postal service is that made by the excessive cost of rural delivery. The large expenditures for rural mail service are far more justifiable, however, than are the much heavier payments required to meet the losses incurred on account of second class mail.

"The board of trustees created by the act of June 25, 1910, to control, supervise and administer the postal savings system has made substantial progress in perfecting a plan of operation.

"After a most careful investigation and numerous conferences with leading bankers the board unanimously decided to adopt the plan of using certificates of deposit instead of pass books.

"The department's present policy, as already indicated, is to extend the service as rapidly as is warranted by increasing population and to accomplish its saving not by the curtailment of postal facilities, but by handling in a more systematic and businesslike manner the constantly expanding volume of the mails. In furtherance of this policy there were established during the year over 1500 new postoffices, while the rural delivery system was greatly extended by putting into operation 515 new routes, traversing altogether 12,235 miles."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Avoid It Leave this tremendous alcohol question to your doctor. The danger is too great for you to decide alone. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic, entirely free from alcohol. Take it or not, as your doctor directs. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS

1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GAS SHOW
December 7-13
10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
MECHANICS BUILDING, BOSTON
A complete exhibition of up-to-date appliances for illuminating, domestic and industrial fuel purposes.
Educational and Entertaining
Complimentary Tickets can be obtained at office and agencies of
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.
11 Granite Street, QUINCY

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY
SELL THE DAILY LEDGER
THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR
Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

Commissioners' Notice

Room 609-10, 6 Beacon St.
Boston, Mass. Dec. 1, 1910.

The undersigned Henry E. Teasdale and Adolph I. Dinner were appointed on June 1st 1910, Commissioners of the estate of Patrick O'Brien, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, in this Commonwealth, by the Judge of Probate Court of said County of Norfolk, under chapter 142, Section 2, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts.

You are hereby notified that the final meeting of the creditors for an examination of their claims against aforesaid estate will be held at the above address on December 22, 1910 at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day. You are requested to present your claim for allowance on that day.

HENRY E. TEASDALE
ADOLPH I. DINNER
Commissioners.
Dec. 1-3t 1, 5, 12

Administratrix Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

ANGELO MALNATI

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

LUCY MALNATI Administratrix
(Address) 90 Intervale street
South Quincy Mass.
Nov. 28 3t 28 5 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of EVELINE MATTHEWS

late of Braintree in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Charles T. Crane of Braintree who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass. the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Nov. 29, 5, 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of ANNIE GILLOOLY

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by James T. Burke of Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 3, 5, 12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of JUDITH SPEAR

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Horace F. Spear the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, his first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the fourteenth day of December A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-ninth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
3t Dec. 2 5 12

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

People of Note

Snapshots at Celebrities Talked About

MILWAUKEE has been in the public eye much of late. First it elected a Socialist mayor, then a Socialist congressman, Victor L. Berger, and now its various Socialist officials have given a municipal ball, at which society folk and working people of both sexes met and danced as equals. Moreover, this was one ball at which there were no wallflowers. The floor manager saw to that as official "introducer."

It astonished even Mayor Emil Seidel to note the society people who attended and danced with the workers. Fashionable men appeared in evening clothes, but Seidel intends these adornments shall be left home next time, as well as decollete gowns and new hats. As it was, the costuming was moderate, and the silks and ginghams mingled in democratic manner.

EMIL SEIDEL.

"I think these gatherings have something about them that will make for the betterment of the city," said the mayor. "You know when we read about each other in the papers or hear each other talked about we sometimes think that the other fellows are awful fellows. But when we look into each other's eyes, as we did that night, we find that the other fellows are not so bad after all."

Mrs. Russell Sage has announced her plans for the disbursal of several more millions of dollars in aid of humanity in a model home colony on Long Island called the Forest Hills Gardens foundation. This is expected to go far in solving the problems of the small salaried middle class families who must live near a large city and yet cannot afford to live in it with comfort.

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE.

The Forest Hills foundation consists of 142 acres beyond Jamaica and thirteen minutes by railroad and tube into New York and is expected to furnish homes for 1,500 families. It is not to be a charitable venture, for the tenants will meet rentals of from $25 a month upward toward paying off principal and interest and owning a fine home in the end.

More than $2,250,000 has already been expended on the project by Mrs. Sage, and more than twice that amount is to be put into the upbuilding of the colony. Next will come a similar plan for laboring classes on less costly land.

One of the features will be a specially constructed railroad station at the entrance to the property. At the entrance will be a broad public square, with ornamental structures, in which will be the business offices, stores and shops, with nonhousekeeping apartments and single rooms on the upper floors. Back of the square will be the village green, two and a half acres. Bridges will connect the railroad station and the apartment houses, so that commuters may enter and leave trains without exposure in stormy weather.

James J. Hill, railroad and empire builder, has turned pessimist, and all because of the extravagance not alone of the American people, but of the entire world. While the result will be the loss of money and the throwing out of work of many thousands, Mr. Hill does not believe it will result in a financial panic and thinks the experience will be worked out by events.

J. J. HILL.

"Extravagance has been our great fault," he said. "We have been wasting entirely too much in nonproductive undertakings. As a rule, we have been given too much to adornments. We have become obsessed with 'the city beautiful' in municipal affairs. We have followed like policies in the state and national governments."

In the Limelight

Gossip of Persons In the Dispatches

ENGLISH nobility has a "bread and butter peeress," though the title will not be found in Burke or Debrett. The person so entitled is the Viscountess of Helmsley, daughter of the Countess of Warwick, who is known as a Socialist of pronounced tendencies. Though wealthy she prefers a simple outdoor life for herself and her children, which view is shared by her husband; hence the nickname.

The viscountess prefers a sunbonnet and print frock to silks and satins, yet she knows the latter as well, having appeared frequently at court. She is now twenty-six years of age and is the mother of two children. The viscount is heir of the first Earl of Feversham, and their home is at Nawton Towers, in Yorkshire.

VISCOUNTESS OF HELMSLEY.

The "bread and butter peeress" is a beauty and the daughter of a beauty and was educated in the public schools near Warwick castle, being sent to a Parisian finishing school on completing the high school course at home. This was one of the democratic ideas of the Countess of Warwick that aroused much comment among her relatives and friends, but she insisted that she wanted her children to know life as it really is and not as presented in one little circle.

It falls to the lot of but few men to be told they can name their own salary under certain conditions, and fewer still can fill these conditions. But the case of a man in such circumstances offering to fulfill the stipulations without accepting a cent is without precedent. Yet such a case is presented by Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, who represented Glavis in the Ballinger congressional hearing and who now urges the claims of eastern shippers against the railroads before the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Brandeis recently asserted before the commission that the railroads through inefficient management wasted $1,000,000 a day. This was answered by four western railway presidents in a telegram which said, "If you can point out a practical way by which a substantial portion of $1,000,000 daily may be saved several western railways would be pleased to tender you employment, allowing you to name your own salary."

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS.

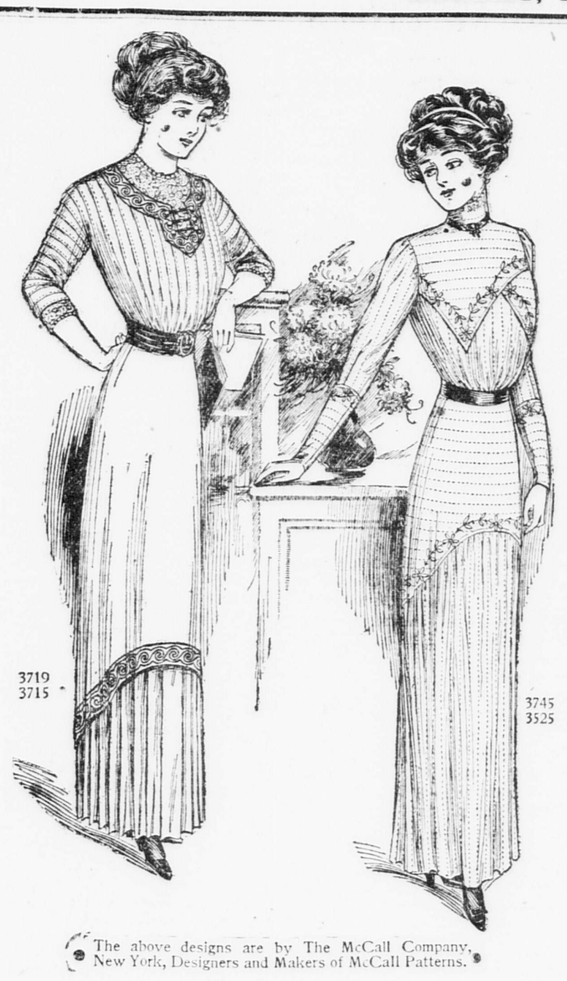
That might appear a facer to most people, for the statement appeared rather general in character. But Mr Brandeis is still at bat and replied that he believed that scientific management would accomplish the tremendous saving and suggested a conference of all railway presidents. He then added that he would not accept any salary for his services. Free legal work in the public interest is his hobby.

In speaking of novelties the demand of Mayor P. H. McCarthy of San Francisco that a grand jury sift charges that he had accepted bribes of $30,000 and $10,000 should certainly be reckoned. Such charges have frequently been matters of grand jury investigations in the metropolis of the Pacific coast, but never before at the request of the accused. However, Mayor McCarthy is in no danger, as the grand jury has declined to probe in the absence of specific charges.

P. H. M'CARTHY.

The mayor charged that certain business men, whom he named, had spread stories of his having accepted bribes and asserted that he had been waited upon by a trinity of newspaper editors, shown the proofs of his guilt and forced to beg for mercy, promising his resignation at the conclusion of the fight for the Panama-Pacific exposition.



The above designs are by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Glimpses Ahead—Skirt Novelties, Boleros and Eton Coats, New Trains.

It remained for a well known singer to carry the craze for plain skimped skirts to its legitimate conclusion. On a dare from a famous French dressmaker it is said she appeared on Fifth avenue a short time since in a meal bag dress divided at the foot after Turkish trouser fashion, but there is little likelihood of this style gaining favor here. The very latest in skirts is a veritable freak. The "uneven" skirt which is either long at the sides and shorter front and back, or reverses this arrangement. So far few have been made but that several of these should have appeared is surprising, when one knows how much stress has always been laid on having the bottom of the skirt even. It does not seem probable that this idea will be endorsed but one never can tell after the "Hobble" development, what form skirts may take.

THE ETON COMING BACK.

There can be no doubt that by Spring the Eton and Bolero coats will be with us again, for some very fetching models are being worn made after these designs. A charming model of white broadcloth trimmed with black fox, has an Eton jacket with a fur turnover cuff. It is single breated and fastened with Roman coins for buttons. An apricot broadcloth and velvet gown has an Eton jacket cut up a little in the back edged with sable, also wide Directoire reveres of the same fur. A very large gold button fastens the coat at the bust.

A BLACK VELVET DRESS.

A black velvet dress with the skirt cut girdle high above the waist line, and finished with a wide box plait front and back, is topped with a rather full bolero of gray lace woven with silver thread. This is finished with a narrow trimming of ermine at the bottom and is worn with a sable and erminine scarf and muff. Black velvet is the tip of the mode for all sorts of wear from the plain tailored velveteen or corduroy to the evening gown of softest chiffon texture.

DETACHABLE TRAINS.

Trains are in again but they are narrow and skimped in effect, and the best ones are separate from the skirt of the dress, like long box pleats. These are often detachable, and can be thrown over the arm in dancing in very convenient and graceful fashion.

BELTS AND BUCKLES.

Beaded belts to match or contrast with the dress, and belts of brocade picked out with beads or tinsel threads, as well as buckles formed of similar materials edged with heavy tarnished cords, are leaders here, and the college girls still cling to the monogram buckles and fobs with crushed belts of velvet or ooze or patent leather. Ribbon belts and peasant girdles come in a fascinating variety of styles. All ribbon fixings are apt to take on floral forms in places where bows or rosettes were formerly employed. For the corsage nestled in the fur muff or stole or tucked in among the feather or fur trimmings of the hat bewitching little bunches or sprays of ribbon rosebuds, or button roses nestle becomingly and many will be the pleased recipients of a "Christmas Rose" or two in this graceful form ready to be used as fancied. For the girls are busy making up lovely counterfeits of those shown in the shop at a small fraction of their cost, since the taste and skill of their making is the main item of expense.

LOVELY NEW NECKWEAR.

The novelties in neckwear are many but few have caught on like the velvet straps about eighteen inches long adorned at the ends with hanging buds made up in satin, with a wide opened rose about two inches above where the ends cross and form a sort of neck-lace necktie worn over frilly jabots of Irish lace or embroidered linen. Neckties of round satin piping adorned with the flowers are rather better style for older women. These finish at the front with long loops of the round satin and the same floral appendages which are often in lilac or white or old blue with green stems and calyx. Lucy Carter.

POPULATION OF 101,100,000

Estimated Number of Persons In the United States and Possessions

Washington, Dec. 12.—In the United States and all its possessions the Stars and Stripes protect 101,100,000 souls. This enormous number is the official estimate of the United States bureau of the census. It includes the Philippines, Samoa, Guam, Hawaii, Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone.

Within the borders on the North American continent, exclusive of Alaska, the United States has a population of 91,972,266 inhabitants. During the last ten years the states of the union had an aggregate increase in population of 15,977,691, which amounts to 21 percent over the 1900 figures.

The growth of the country was greater than has been anticipated by the expert statisticans who have closely watched the progress of the country's population.

WON'T ACCEPT JUDGESHIP

Elder Declines to Have His Name Considered For New Court

Washington, Dec. 12.—Samuel J. Elder, the Boston lawyer, whose name has been repeatedly mentioned in connection with a seat on the new court of commerce, has notified Senator Lodge he would not accept the place were it tendered him. His private interests, he said, were opposed to a career as judge of any court.

The Massachusetts delegation would have pushed the matter of appointment if Elder had consented to take the place.

Boy Shoots Brother In Play

Hartford, Dec. 12.—While playing "holdup" in their playroom Howard Muir, 14 years old, accidentally shot his 12-year-old brother Russell. The latter is in a precarious condition.

Great Potato Bake

Caribou, Me., Dec. 12.—Five potato houses were burned at New Sweden at a loss of $30,000. More than 60,000 bushels of potatoes were consumed in the flames.

Henry G. Carleton Dead

Hot Springs, Ark., Dec. 12.—Henry Guy Carleton, the playwright, died here of paralysis, aged 64 years.

OVERCOME BY GAS

Several Persons Narrowly Escape Death From Poisonous Fumes

Malden, Mass., Dec. 12.—A leaking gas main on Charles street, early Sunday morning, nearly caused the deaths of a score of people and drove men and women but scantily clad staggering into the wintry streets to avoid the deadly fumes.

Eight persons were severely affected. So potent was the effect of the gas, which had been inhaled deeply before the inmates of the house realized their danger, that the hurried services of physicians were necessary to save some of those affected.

For a time the lives of the sufferers were despaired of, for Mrs. Margaret Buckley and her twin sons and Miss Cora McKenna were in such condition that they have not fully recovered from the effects.

HUNGER-MADDENED DOGS RUNNING WILD

Authorities Are Asked to Check Their Depredations

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 12.—A pack of wild dogs numbering nearly 1000, which have been driven by the snow and cold from the Shuwangunk mountains, near Summitville, threaten to annihilate every living thing within a radius of twenty miles unless something is done by the authorities to check their depredations.

Veteran hunters throughout this section admit that a pack of wolves or wild dogs have existed in the mountainous part of the county, but not until recently have they given any serious trouble.

The game warden has been appealed to by the farmers for protection from the dogs, and in all probability a bounty will be allowed on every dog killed. Since snow fell, the dogs, unable to pick a living in the woods, have made raids on the farmers' live stock with disastrous results. Cattle, sheep, and even horses have been attacked and killed by the starving animals.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14 abcdefghi		5 41	5 47 ihgfedcba		6 16 r
r 6 16 abci		6 35	6 15 ihgfedcba		6 41 r
r 6 32 e		6 47	6 45 Exp.		7 00
r 6 40 abcf		7 00	7 15 hgfedcba		7 41 r
r 7 12 abcd		7 33	7 45 a		8 00
r 7 25 d		7 42	8 35 cb		8 53
r 7 34 Exp.		7 47	8 45 a		9 00
r 7 40 abcd		8 00	9 15 fedba		9 37 r
8 05 Exp.		8 20	9 45 a		10 00
r 8 12 abcd		8 30	10 15 ihgfedcba		10 41 r
r 8 31 Exp.		8 47	10 45 Exp.		11 00
			11 15 hgfedcba		11 41 r
r 8 51 ad		9 08	11 45 a		12 00
r 9 10 abcde		9 30	12 15 hgfedcba		12 41 r
r 10 01 a		10 20	12 45 Exp.		1 00
			1 15 fedcba		1 39 r
r 10 19 abcdefghi		10 45	1 45 a		2 00
11 04 a		11 20	2 15 ihgfedcba		2 41 r
r 11 24 abcdefghi		11 50	2 45 Exp.		3 00
12 04 a		12 20	3 15 hgfedcba		3 40 r
r 12 19 abcdefghi		12 45	3 45 a		4 00
1 14 a		1 30	4 15 fedcba		4 37 r
r 1 19 abcde		1 40	4 45 d		5 00
2 04 a		2 20	5 12 Exp.		5 28 r
r 2 19 abcdefgh		2 45	5 20 d		5 37
3 04 a		3 20	5 25 dcba		5 48 r
r 3 19 abcdefghi		3 45	5 40 Exp.		5 55 r
4 04 a		4 20	5 55 fedcba		6 19 r
r 4 24 abcdefgh		4 50	6 12 Exp.		6 27 r
4 39 b		5 15	6 30 cdba		6 50 r
r 5 24 abcdefg		5 55	7 00 fedcba		7 27 r
6 09 ac		6 27	7 15 a		7 38
7 04 b		7 20	8 15 fedcba		8 38 r
r 7 30 ac		7 45
r 8 07 abcdef		8 30	9 30 dba		9 51 r
r 9 01 abc		9 20	10 20 fedcba		10 43 r
			11 15 fedcba		11 38 r
r 10 07 abcdef		10 30	11 30 a		11 48
r 11 20 abc		11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43 abc		8 03	6 30 ba		6 49 r
8 30 Exp.		8 45	8 45 ihgfedcba		9 14 r
r 8 45 bcdefghi		9 13	9 05 Exp.		9 21
r 9 13 abc		9 33	10 15 ihgfedcba		10 42 r
9 31 a		9 47	11 15 ihgfedcba		12 42 r
10 23 ac		10 30	12 43 Exp.		12 59
11 00 Exp.		11 17	1 15 ihgfedcba		1 42 r
r 11 16 abcdefghi		11 43	2 15 hgfedcba		2 42 r
1 02 Exp.		1 17	3 15 ihgfedcba		3 42 r
r 1 16 abcdefgh		1 43	4 27 cba		4 49 r
r 3 10 abc		3 30	5 15 ihgfedcba		5 42 r
r 4 16 abcdefghi		4 43	6 15 ihgfedcba		6 42 r
r 5 07 abc		5 27	7 00 cba		7 19 r
r 6 16 abcdefghi		6 43	8 15 ihgfedcba		8 41 r
7 05 Exp.		7 20
r 7 11 abcdefghi		7 38	8 45 Exp.		9 01
r 8 11 abcdefghi		8 38	9 30 ihgfedcba		9 57 r
9 05 a		9 20	10 50 cba		11 07 r
r 10 42 abc		11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.03 11.00 A. M. 12.02, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.04, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.10 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.17, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.55, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.10, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 279-3. Residence 328-X.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	31 degrees
December 12, 1909,	27 degrees
December 12, 1908,	33 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Kincaide's Annex—Toy Land
Nathan Ames—Stevens Fire Arms
R. E. Foy & Co.—Red Lily Canned Beets
Andrew J. Lloyd—Opera Glasses
Wood for sale
Wanted

BRIEFS

The Daughters of St. George will make a visit to Victoria lodge of Boston on Wednesday evening.

The Sons of St. George will go to Brockton Friday evening to attend the 25th anniversary of the Earl of Shaftbury lodge.

Wollaston Glee club concert tomorrow night at the Wollaston Congregational church, the first in its series for this season.

Mrs. R. J. Davis of 206 Franklin street was called to Warren, R. I., last week owing to the serious illness of her mother.

ARREST IN GLOVER CASE.

Frank Delorey of East Milton, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Glover, wanted as a witness in the Le Blanc case, was arrested on a capias by Deputy Sheriff B. M. Young of Middlesex county Sunday night and lodged in the jail in East Cambridge for "safe keeping." He testified at Waltham today.

WINTER CLUB DANCE.

The first social of the newly organized Winter club of which Councilman Edward J. Sandberg is president, was held Saturday evening at Electa hall, and was participated in by upwards of 35 couples. Dancing was in order from 8 to 12 o'clock, refreshments being served during a short intermission. President Sandberg had charge of the floor, and was assisted by Andrew Johnson and Charles Person.

AN OLD SEA CAPTAIN.

The funeral of Captain Edwin Packard was held Saturday afternoon at the home of his son, Captain James Edwin Packard of Billings street, Atlantic. The Rev. Mr. Garland of the Methodist church officiated. The interment was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Captain Packard was born in Milton in 1824. His parents moved to Quincy when he was a boy. For many years he followed the boating business and was captain of the stone sloops "River Queen" and "General Grant" and in his day laid numerous sea walls and break waters in vicinity of Boston, Fall River and Newport, Rhode Island. He had been around up to two months ago; since then he has failed rapidly, and died of old age.

Their First Christmas.

Mr. Newlywed dooking at the red, white and blue necktie his wife had put on the tree for him)—Well, dearie, you are like mother in one respect.

Mrs. Newlywed—In what?

Mr. Newlywed—You give the same kind of ties that she used to give.—Judge.

With All Needful Apologies.

Mayme Witherspoon and Bob Cavendish
Were fond of each other as one could wish.
They eloped one night in the dark of the moon,
And that's how the dish ran away with the spoon.

—Chicago Tribune.

—A quarter of a million incandescent lamps were used in lighting the streets of Mexico during the recent centennial.

DEATHS

KNIGHTS—In North Weymouth, Dec. 11, Louisa M., daughter of Mr. William J. and Mrs. Cora M. Knights aged 1 year, 5 months and 7 days.

THURBER—In Quincy, Dec. 11, George H. Thurber in his 53rd year. Funeral services at late home 87 North street, Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 12-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

VICTORIES

(Continued from Page 1.)

home team reflects great credit upon the local association. Newton came with a big reputation to line up to, and for a time it looked as if she would be successful, but the wiry men from Quincy outplayed their larger and heavier rivals and won a decisive victory. Jenkins and Bates were the shooting stars for the home team, and Butters excelled for Newton. Every one of the Quincy men put up a fine game and ought to received honorable mention. Parker and Dackers put up a great defensive game as guards, and neither one of their men shot a basket. Captain Morris was in the game every minute and had a good eye for shooting baskets from the floor as well as when fouls were called. Cady did well in shooting goals from fouls, but did not get a chance to shoot any from the floor, thanks to the good work of Parker.

Jenkins was the individual star for Quincy. Jacobs, captain of the Newton team played a fast game but the Quincy defense was so good he shot but two baskets. Butters at centre played a good game. The return game at Newton should bring out an exceptionally fast game. The floor there is about twice as large as the one in the local association building and the team will need practice on long shots and passes before it enters the contest.

The summary:

QUINCY		NEWTON
Bates, lf		rb Muir, Butters
Morris, Parker, rf		lb Jacobs
Jenkins, c		c Butters, Muir
Dackers, rb		lf Merrill
Parker, Brooks, lb		rf, Cady

Score—Quincy, 29; Newton 21. Goals from floor, Jenkins 6, Bates 4, Morris 2, Butters 3, Jacobs 2 Muir 2, Cady 1. Goals from foul, Morris 4, Cady 5. Referee, Wiley. Time 20m. halves.

OTHER GAMES.

The Thayer Academy basket ball team was defeated Saturday by Winthrop High 36 to 12.

The Co. K team of Hingham defeated a team from the battleship New Jersey 32 to 13.

CREDITABLE EVIDENCE.

The venerable and learned justice, John M. Harlan, during a game of golf at Chevy Chase, explained the intricacies of evidence to a young man.

Justice Harlan illustrated well the case of conflicting evidence—how, when the statements of two witnesses are opposed, the more probable statement is to be accepted.

"It is like the boy and the house hunter.

"A house hunter, getting off a train at a suburban station, said to a boy:

" 'My lad, I am looking for Mr. Smithson's new block of semi-detached cottages. How far are they from here?'

" 'About twenty minutes' walk,' the boy replied.

" 'Twenty minutes?' exclaimed the house hunter. 'Nonsense! The advertisement says five.'

" 'Well,' said the boy, 'you can believe me or you can believe the advertisement; but I ain't trying to make no sale.' "

HER RECOMMENDATION.

A woman advertised for a cook and the only applicant was a hard-faced lady with a nasty eye.

"Where did you work last?" she was asked.

"At Mrs. Garrison's mem."

"Did she give you a reference?"

"No, but Mr. Garrison did."

"Why didn't Mrs. Garrison give it to you?"

"Well, you see, mem, she wasn't feeling well, and my parting arrangements was made with him. I give them every satisfaction, though, and you needn't think otherwise, for here's the letter.

It was a curiosity in its way and is given verbatim. The wealth of meaning conveyed by this little masterpiece can best be left to the imagination.

"To Whom it May Concern," read the letter. "The bearer has worked for us three weeks, and I am satisfied."—New York Evening Sun.

Opera In Dumb Show.

The late Clara Novello in her reminiscences tells how Malibran once appeared in "Sonnambula" without uttering a note. She had taken cold and was prevented from singing at the last moment, though crowds of early comers already filled the house. "On the manager telling her, in despair, that, besides loss of money, these disappointed people would be dangerous she said, 'I can't speak above my breath; I should have to do it in dumb show!' Bunn at once caught at this outburst as if seriously meant and on his knees begged her to try this, and she, fired by the novelty, did so. The grateful public raved in praise of this surprising tour de force, and the sensation it made filled the papers."

SUNDAY SERVICES

(Continued from Page 3.)

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

T. A. Hildreth, corresponding secretary of the Deaconess work, gave a very instructive talk at the Wollaston Methodist church Sunday morning on the work being done by that association. A collection was taken for it at the close.

Miss Florence Bennett was the leader of the Epworth League meeting, and the subject was: "The messenger and the Saviour."

The praise and gospel service Sunday evening was conducted by the pastor; subject "A wise choice."

The Sunday School board will hold a meeting this evening with J. A. Sedgwick at 240 Goffe street.

The Ladies' Aid will hold a business meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. A. B. Cassidy of 71 Winthrop avenue.

This church is interested in a mass meeting for stewards and workers for the "World in Boston, to be held Wednesday evening at Tremont Temple.

The Methodist Men's club will observe Ladies' night on Thursday evening. It will be a box social where each lady is expected to carry a box sufficient for two. The gentlemen will attend to the rest.

The heart of the Superintendent of the Sunday schooi was made glad on Sunday when the enrollment reached 200, but it is proposed to keep on working until the 200 mark is reached.

A box has been placed in the church for contributions to help the Sunday school at Christmas time.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

Rev. A. P. Hanson, the pastor, took the text for his Sunday morning sermon from Luke 24:46—"So Christ must suffer." The Sunday school session which preceded the morning service was well attended.

The Young Peoples society met at 4.30 in the afternoon. J. A. Peterson, the president, had charge of the meeting.

In the evening the pastor took for his text Eph. 4:25. "We are members one of another and one body inChrist" was the subject of his address.

The Christmas music will be rehearsed this evening by the choir. The regular rehearsal will be held on Tuesday.

The Kings Daughters will meet with Mrs. Alfred Carlson, 418 Granite street, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Sunday School Union of the Swedish Baptist churches of New England will hold its conference with the local church from the 15th to the 18th of the month. Rev. A. P. Hanson, pastor of the entertaining church, is corresponding secretary of the organization.

The program for Thursday, Dec. 15, includes prayer meeting at 7.30 led by Rev. A. P. Hanson, and at 8, address by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom, New England missionary of the Swedish Baptist churches. Text: 2Tim. 3:15.

On Friday Dec. 16, at 3.30, prayer meeting for parents and others who are interested in children and young people. led by Rev. G. W. Lindstrom of Brockton. At 7 meeting for children and young people, address by Rev. G. W. Lindstrom on King Josiah—2 Chron. 34:3. After meeting lead by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom.

On Saturday, Dec. 17, at 7.30, sermon by Rev. J. O. Backlund of Boston.

On Sunday, Dec. 18 Sunday school at 9.30.

Sermon at 10.45 by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom. Prayer meeting at 3.30, led by G. R. Blomquist of Quincy. Discussion at 4, based on Tim. 4:16; (1) Heed of Ourselves, Rev. G. W. Lindstrom; (2) Heed of our Doctrine, Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom; (3) Results which will follow, Rev. A. Lindbloom of Norwood. Open discusion at 4 o'clock. Prayer meeting at 7 led by Rev. S. E. Moberg of Brockton. Sermon at 8 by Rev. A. Lindblom. After meeting led by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

The pastor took for the text of his morning sermon, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and thy neighbor as thyself."

The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting and the evening service fitted in with the morning service. At the former a large attendance was present, and many took part in the meeting. Subject: "How must a Christian be different from others?" The pastor preached a very searching sermon in the evening of "The Value of a Soul."

The Sunday School children meet Wednesday and Friday evening to rehearse for the Christmas concert. The choir will practise Christmas music at its regular rehearsal.

The Young People's prayer meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening and the regular church prayer meeting will follow at 7.30.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The pastor continued his series of sermons on the letters to the seven churches at the Sunday morning service. The letter to Sardis, the fickle minded church, was the subject of Mr. Davis' sermon. The pastor pointed out that condemnation wts the first and foremost in the letter and that there was very little commendation.

The Davis class met at noon with its usual large attendance. Two men were welcomed into membership.

The meeting of the Christian Endeavor society was led by Miss Gladys Walters. The attendance was large and the young people had a fine meeting.

The theme of Sunday evening address to young men was taken from the story of the prodigal son, "The young man breaking home ties and its results.

A delegation from the Davis class will attend the meeting of the Walther class in Wollaston this evening.

The Bible study class will meet with Mr. Sass of Franklin avenue, Norfolk Downs, Tuesday evening.

The semi-annual meeting of the Davis class will occur on Wednesday evening.

The regular church prayer meeting wil be held on Thursday evening.

SWEDISH METHODIST.

Rev. Carl E. Rydstrom ,the pastor, preached at the Sunday morning service from the text, Zach 13:1. The audience was large and the sermon powerful.

The Sunday School children are making preparations for the Christmas concert and a portion of the time was given over to rehearsals.

The Epworth league meeting at 6.30 was led by Hjelmar Kjellander.

In the evening the pastor took his text from John 11:28. In addition to an excellent sermon the audience had an opportunity to listen to a splendid duet sung by Mrs. Charles Edgren and Miss Olga Olson, and a solo by Miss Olson.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o' clock in the vestry for its regular monthly meeting. Refreshments will be served.

On Wednesday evening the choir will meet for practice and a rehearsal of the Christmas music.

The regular prayer meeting will take place Thursday evening as usual.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

The theme chosen by the pastor for the morning sermon was "Jacob wrestling with the angel."

The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting was held at 6 o'clock with a large attendance. Subject: "How should a Christian be different from others."

The last address on the life of Joseph was delivered at the evening service. A very pleasing trio was sung by Mr. H. Marr, Mrs. Charles Campbell and Mr. McCreechie.

Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollas- Baptist church will address the Men's league Thursday evening at 7.30. This will take the place of the regular prayer meeting and everyone is urged to attend.

There will be a meeting of session Wednesday evening at 6.30.

The officers and teachers of the Sunday School will meet with Mr. John Russell, the superintendent, Wednesday evening, at 7.30.

BETHANY CHURCH.

The pastor took for his morning theme "The true estimate of values." The sermon was very ably delivered to a large congregation.

The Bible school classes were largely attended.

In the afternoon at 4 the Norwegian service was held in the chapel, Rev. Olof Jonsvold preached the sermon.

The Young People's meeting was lead by Charles Grassick. The attendance was not the largest of the year, but there was not sufficient time for all who wished to take part, to do so.

The evening meeting was well attedden. The boys' choir sang two very pleasing selections and the pastor, Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, preached an effective sermon on the 143d Psalm, the plan for a day.

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor will meet with Robert Pratt, 79 Coddington street, Tuesday evening at 7.15.

The Bethany Ladies' circle will meet in the chapel Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The Junior Ten of King's Daughters will give an entertainment including a play entitled "Maidens all Forlorn," Wednesday evening.

The Junior Christian Endeavor will hold its regular meeting Friday afternoon at 4.15.

The topic for the church prayer meeting which comes at 7.45 Friday evening is "Deepening fellowship."

The annual offering for the American Board will be taken next Sunday morning.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

The pastor preached ably in the morning on "The Kingdom of Heaven." The choir rendered special anthems which were greatly enjoyed. Otto H. Pearson and family of Glendale road who have recently moved to Quincy from Worcester were take into the church.

The Sunday school children met in the afternoon for special preparation for Christmas. The choir and the girls chorus rehearsed Christmas music.

In the evening the pastor preached on the theme, "Preparing the way for the Lord."

A confirmation class will be conducted this evening by the pastor.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

INCURABLE.

Some Interference Wireless Operators Cannot Overcome.

Few are the steamer passengers who fail to visit the wireless office aboard ship to watch the operation of the instruments and to question the operator. Needless to say, the technical understanding of the well meaning visitors is a variable quantity. The operator must listen to wondering exclamations, original suggestions for the improvement of the service, discourses on the relations between wireless telegraphy and spiritualism and other doubtful topics with uniform courtesy. At times, however, the strain is too great. It was a lady passenger with an eye for details who came to the wireless room and looked wonderingly in.

"Oh, here's the wireless! May I come in? Isn't it wonderful to think of sending those—those waves—you call them waves, don't you? How fascinating to work at this! Are those jars filled with water?"

"Those are condenser jars, madam, quite empty."

"Really? I don't believe I could ever understand it. That coil of wire looks like a birdcage."

"That is the inductance helix."

"What are those things over your ears?"

"The receiving telephones."

"Then you have telephone connection too. One can hardly keep up with the times these days. What does that coil do?"

"That is the receiving tuner and interference preventer."

"Wonderful! Does it keep out all interference?"

"Not all," replied the operator wearily. "Some kinds of interference can't be tuned out; we just have to stand it."—Youth's Companion.

Bathing Machines.

Somebody has inquired why "bathing machines," the comfortable privacy of which for ocean bathing has never attracted bathers in this country, are called machines, remarking that there is nothing of a machine about them except the horse which draws them to the beach. The answer has been found in the new Oxford Dictionary. It appears that a "machine" was originally a "structure of any kind, material or immaterial," and has nothing to do with machinery, a later word. Ships were called machines, and it would have been proper to speak of a pulpit as a machine.—Argonaut.

Laughter and Death.

He can be said to have won the game of life who at the last can laugh. That final speech of O. Henry, the short story writer, was finer than any story he ever wrote. Just as he was dying he turned to the doctor and said: "Pull up the curtain, doc. I'm afraid to go home in the dark." The speech had in it wide courage and a sense of values. One forgives the royal Charles much frivolity for the sake of his dying speech, "Gentlemen, I fear I'm an unconscionable time a-dying."—Harper's.

A Complicated Case.

"Of course, doctor, German measles are seldom serious?"

"I never met but one fatal case."

"Fatal?"

"Yes. It was a Frenchman, and when he discovered it was German measles that he had mortification set in."

Philosophy is nothing but discretion. —Selden.

—Contracts have been let for electric lighting plants for five of the principal cities of China. Important extensions are being made to the plants in Pekin, Shanghai and other cities.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2440

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST--On Wednesday morning between Woodward Institute and depot, or in the depot a small blue pocket book containing a sum of money and four keys on a chain. Reward if Woodward Institute is notified. Dec. 10-3t

By a Reach.

"Did he win her hands down?"

"No; up. He met her when he was hanging to a street car strap."

LEST WE FORGET.

A Critic Reminds Us How Our People Have Bucked Progress.

We of this big republic complacently affirm the glory of our national achievements and are not without temptation to acclaim them as proof of superior craft and judgment.

But herein do we forget that we are on record as having cast our vote against every move that has contributed to the present century's development.

We raised our voices in contemptuous protest against the first projected railways. Had the locomotive waited its signal from the people it would not yet have started.

When the electric telegraph was shown to us we brushed it aside as a toy and laughed its inventor to scorn when he offered to sell us his rights for a few thousand dollars.

We put into jail as an impostor the first man who brought anthracite coal to market. We broke to pieces Howe's sewing machine as an invention calculated to ruin the working classes, and we did the same thing to the harvester and the binder. We scorned the typewriter as a plaything.

We gathered together in mass meetings of indignation at the first proposal to install electric trolley lines, and when Dr. Bell told us he had invented an instrument by means of which we might talk to one another across the town we responded with accustomed ridicule, and only the reckless among us contributed it its being.—Atlantic Monthly.

Misfits, Stockings, Etc.

One uv the redeemin' features uv the Christmas misfit bizniz is the absunce uv an after holiday sale.

A big hole in a Christmus stockin' is perfectly exusabul pervidin' it's in the right place, the top.

Christmus comes but once a year, but it's a long time comin' an' a consitterbul longer time goin'.

It is perfectly right an' just thet a startled girl should show surprise when she hez accidentally stepped under the mistletoe.

Behold Santay Claus! He don't spend a great sight on his raimunt, yit Solomon in all his glory looked like a punctured tire beside him.—Bosten Herald.

Julius Caesar.

Caesar was assassinated March 15, 44 B. C., and was at the time of his death fifty-six years old. It is not alone as a military genius that his fame endures. By almost common consent he was the most remarkable all round man of antiquity—masterfully great not only as general, but as writer, statesman and administrator. In addition to these high accomplishments he was a great mathematician, philologist, architect and jurist. His conversational powers were extraordinary, and from all accounts he was in his manner one of the most attractive of men.

The Real Artist.

They say she is an artist with a genius very great.
She can paint a chubby Cupid on the heart,
And she pictures every chappy with his hobbling, empty pate
In a way the masters say is truly art.
She can draw a horse and wagon or a monkey or a man.
And at etching she can put on all the frills.
She can paint her cheeks, good gracious, just as natural—yes, she can—
But her papa draws the checks which pay her bills.

—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

An Inquiry.

Emparrassed.—It was a foolish thing to do. You should have quietly transferred it from your mouth to your spoon and placed it upon the edge of your plate without attracting notice. To leave the table would have been very disconcerting to your host and hostess and have given rise to the impression that you were suddenly taken ill.—Etiquette Column in Queen.

What was it—a black beetle in the soup?—Punch.

WANTED

WANTED—One special mechanic (machinist) at $4.48 per diem. A competitive examination will be held January 6, 1911, for the purpose of filling the above position. For further information address "Commandant, Navy Yard, Boston, Mass." Dec. 12-3t

WANTED—To rent a five or six room house $15 to $18 per month, bath In Quincy or five cent fare. S. E. McMullan, care of Sandberg Bros., Jewlers, Quincy Mass. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE--Two parlor stoves in good condition. Apply to 1260 Hancock street, Quincy. Left bell. Dec. 10-3t

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10.-2wP

TO LET

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2--11t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET—At 210 Franklin street cor. Ritchie road tenement of 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements. Fine location. Apply 220 Franklin street, South Quincy. Oct. 24-tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Tenement—4 Rooms. Modern improvements. 22-B Granite street. Only $10.00 per month.

Lodging Rooms--Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 26 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

As a FAMILY DAILY PAPER has no equal and is appreciated by ADVERTISERS

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 289 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

GOLDEN WEDDING AT BRAINTREE LAST NIGHT

Capt. and Mrs. James T. Stevens Entertain a Large Number of Friends

Mr. Stevens a Town Official and Was a Minute Man

A very important and enjoyable function took place Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. James T. Stevens of South Braintree celebrated the completion of fifty years of wedded happiness. In response to the beautiful invitations engraved in gold, over two hundred guests attended the festivities at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens on Tremont street, and from eight until ten o'clock the house was filled to overflowing with the many friends of this much esteemed and respected couple, the many beautiful gifts and expressions of good will testifying to the high regard in which Mr. Stevens and his wife are held by all who know them. The house ablaze with light from top to bottom was beautifully decorated with palms and yellow chrysanthemums and as the guests entered they were greeted by strains of sweet music from Cuff's orchestra of five pieces.

The following young men served most acceptably as ushers: G. Dallas Willis, Jr., Norton P. Potter and Leroy L. Day, all of Braintree and Harris S. Richardson of Winchester. Mrs. Stevens was gowned in black crepe de chine with lace and gold trimmings and she and her husband were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Thayer and Miss Anna May Thayer.

Refreshments were furnished by Carroll C. Whittemore, the well known caterer of Boston. The table as set for the feast presented a beautiful sight, an especial feature being fruit ices of all flavors overflowing from a cornucopia also fashioned from ices. Another piece made from frozen daintys represented two white doves kissing while numerous smaller doves were suspended beneath. As souvenirs of the evening each guest received a square of wedding cake enclosed in white boxes bearing in one corner an old English "S" surrounded by a golden wreath.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens received a great number of gifts, perhaps the most important one being a large hall clock with chimes, the offering of the directors of the Braintree Co-operative Bank. Then there was a large leather rocker, an electric parlor lamp and a cut glass dish sent as loving remembrances from sixty friends, also from fourteen other well wishers a massive couch upholstered in leather and a magnificent cut glass vase containing twelve huge yellow chrysanthemums. These were only a few of the many substantial tokens tendered, there being also noted a beautiful silver tea service and much more china, cut glass, etc.

Mr. Stevens in a member of the famous Minute Men of '61 and was immensely pleased to receive from one of his army comrades a complete history of the organization finely bound and fully illustrated.

There were guests present from Plymouth, Whitman, Rockland, Boston, Medford, Worcester, Brookline, Quincy, Braintree and other places.

Among the names of well known people invited are the following: Rear Admiral George F. Wilde, U. S. N. retired, of North Easton. Ex-Judges Edward Bumpus of Quincy and W. E. Spear of Boston. Judge Albert E. Avery of East Braintree, Alfred W. Donovan of Rockland, Thomas Carter of Boston, Col. Cranmore L. Wallace, Boston. Rev. D. W. Waldron, Boston. Ex-representatives C. C. Mellen and Horace R. Drinkwater, and Dr. William Gallagher, Benj. F. Dyer, town treasurer, Henry A. Monk, town clerk, together with the selectmen, Water Commissioners and the members of the school committee.

It was a matter of great regret to Mr. Stevens and family that his brother William M. Stevens of Taylor street was unable to be present because of illness. A brief sketch of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens may be of interest:

Capt. James T. Stevens was born in South Braintree, June 20, 1835 the son of Elizabeth and Benjamin Stevens. Three other children are also living, William M of this town, Mrs. Harriet M. Johnson and Miss Anna A. Stevens of Watertown. Mr. Stevens was educated in Braintree and was a pupil at the famous Hollis Institute. Leaving

(Continued on Page 3.)

GET THEM QUICK

To the People of Quincy: I have received the last car of

POTATOES

until spring.

They are the best of lot.

Orders left at 147 Water street, or sent to ARTHUR DUNN, 508 Washington Street, Quincy. Dec. 10-3t

No Gift In All The World Like Furniture

Let the unexpected and surprising thing happen in the home on Christmas morning in the shape of an unsuspected remembrance of some novel piece of furniture standing in the living room or parlor when the family comes down to breakfast. That's the very best way of expressing the Yule Tide spirit. Take us into your confidence—we will help you.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS

1495 Hancock St., Quincy Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings

Dec. 13 1t

DATE OF LOAN ORDERS PUT AHEAD AND PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

A Resolve Favoring an Increase in Teachers' Salaries Was Defeated by Vote of 7 Yes to 12 No.

The adjourned meeting of the City Council Monday evening was a lively one in a way for there was considerable debate on the street loan orders that have been pending for some time. These orders have been rejected once or twice, but they were finally passed Monday night, after changing the date of the bonds to April 1, 1911. The two main orders went through with but one negative vote, but the Merrymount order only got through with just the required number. Councilman Branch and Woodward were absent.

Councilman Bolster had his seat changed from the northerly corner to seat number 7 in the centre front formerly occupied by Councilman Snow.

TRANSFER WANTED.

A communication was received from the Mayor with enclosure from the Overseer of the Poor asking for a transfer of $1,000 from receipts from outside poor to the appropriation for that department. Laid on the table.

ELECTION EXPENSIVE.

The Mayor forwarded a communication relative to an additional appropriation for pay of city officers to pay for the special election held in Ward Two. Laid on the table.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATIONS

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Board of Health asking for an appropriation of $500 for miscellaneous expenses and contagious diseases, and $800 to carry on the scavenger work. Referred to Finance Committee.

MINOR LICENSES.

Several applications were received for minor licenses and from the Telephone Co., for attachments on Station street. Referred.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The Committee on Elections reported the result of the Municipal election as already printed in this paper, which was declared as read.

LEGACIES.

The Committee on Streets reported recommending that the following matters be referred to the next City Council: Orders 132, 221, 234, 235, and 237 of 1909; Communications from Mayor relative to widening Hancock street; petitions 12, 21, 75, 84, 92, 93, 99, 112, 120 and 121 of 1910, and orders 265 and 347 of 1910. Report accepted and recommendation adopted.

RETAINING WALL.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $600 for a retaining wall and catch basins on Willard street. Referred to Finance Committee.

NELSON STREET.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $2,200 to extend Nelson street from Arthur street to Copeland street. Order referred to Finance Committee.

OAKLAND STREET.

The Committee on Street reported an order for $825 to lay out a new street from Newport avenue to Oakland street. Referred to Finance Committee.

PUBLIC HEARINGS.

Public hearings were held at 7.45 o'clock on petitions of the Telephone Co., for attachments, location for poles and underground conduits; of the Electric Light Co., for location for poles; and of the Street Railway company, for a location for poles.

There was considerable objection to the petition of the Telephone Co. for a location for poles on Linden place. Dr. A. H. Gilson and Richard D. Chase spoke against the granting of the locations.

After the hearing, on motion of Councilman Moir, the company was given leave to withdraw on the petition for a location on Linden place.

Councilman Moir then offered orders granting the other locations and attachments which were ordered to a second reading.

PAY OF POLICE.

Councilman McDevitt offered an amendment to the police ordinance, which provided that when a reserve or special officer took the place of a regular officer he shall receive the same day as the man whose place he takes. Referred to Committee on Fire Department and Police.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Councilman McDevitt offered a resolve, that the School Committee be requested in making up its budget next year to allow for an increase in salaries for the teachers.

Councilman Bryant, Whiton, Cherrington, Richards, Nowland and Clark opposed, on the ground that the Council was not the proper place to take such action. It was entirely in the hands of the School Committee.

Councilman McDevitt, Smith and Flynn favored. It was perfectly proper that the council should put itself on record as being in favor of increase in salaries for the teachers.

On roll call the resolve was rejected 7 voting yes, and 12 no, as follows:

YES—Boyd, Cantfill, Carey, Flynn, Histen, McDevitt, Smith—7.

NO—Bolster, Bryant, Cherrington, Clark, Ericson, Gardner, Loud, Moir, Nowland, Richards, Sandberg and Whiton—12.

ABSENT—Branch, Woodward—2.

NOT VOTING—President Hobbs.

TRANSFER VOTED.

Councilman Bryant offered on order transferring $100 from the Excess and Deficiency Fund to the appropriation for pay of city officers. Order adopted.

SALARY OF CLERK.

Councilman Moir offered an order increasing the salary of the Clerk of the Council from $300 to $400 a year. Referred to Finance Committee.

OUTSIDE POOR.

Councilman Bryant offered an order transferring $1,000 from the receipts from outside poor to the appropriation for the Poor department. Ordered to a second reading.

GYPSY MOTH WORK.

Councilman Bryant offered an order transferring the receipts from gypsy moth work to the appropriation for suppression of gypsy moths. Ordered to a second reading.

MORE FOR MESSENGER.

Councilman Whiton offered an order increasing the salary of the City Messenger from $250 to $350 per year. Referred to Finance Committee.

POLE RESOLVE.

Councilman Whiton offered a resolve that the Commissioner of Public works be requested to submit to the Council a plan for one line of poles on the east side of Hancock street between City Square and Greenleaf streets to be used by all companys. Adopted.

LOAN ORDERS.

On motion of Councilman Smith the loan order for $7,500 to rebuild Crescent, Trafford and Brook streets, and Furnace avenue, was taken from the table. Trafford street and Furnace avenue which were stricken out some weeks ago were again added to the order.

Councilman Richards moved reference to the next City Council.

Councilman Smith opposed, and made some allusion as to the slowness of the Street Committee. This brought Councilman Moir to his feet in defence of his committee. There had been no pinching of shoes in his committee.

(Continued on Page 3.)

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

A Useful Holiday Gift

SEALPACKERCHIEF

When you break the seal you hold in your hand a snowy, unfingered, ready-to-use Handkerchief, fresh from the board of an adept laundress.

Banner	1	for	10c
Pioneer	3	"	25c
True Blue	2	"	25c
Gilt Edge	1	"	25c

GEORGE W. JONES

No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy

Dec. 13 1c-tf

LODGE AND CRANE BOTH INTERESTED

In Removal of Channel Rock and the Improvement of Fore River Channel

Quincy Men Also Before Board of Army Engineers

Senators Lodge and Crane, Representative O'Connell, Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, president of the Fore River shipbuilding company, and Frank Fessenden Crane, representing the city of Quincy, appeared before the board of army engineers Monday, says the Washington correspondent of the Globe, to urge the board to authorize Col. Abbott, the district engineer officer to complete the survey of Weymouth Fore River.

Authority for this survey was contained in the river and harbor bill passed last session, the object being the straightening of the river, the widening of the approach to Quincy point bridge and the removal of channel rock.

Col. Abbott had the preliminary survey made and his report on it was favorable. The river and harbor bill has passed the house, but it contained no mention of the Weymouth Fore river project, the matter having been held up by the board of engineers. If the board will act promptly Senators Lodge and Crane will offer an amendment to the river and harbor bill when it reaches the senate.

The business interests of Quincy are keenly interested in the government's action, as several public and business improvements are affected.

The Fore River company has most at stake at this time as it has under construction a large battleship for the Argentine Republic which it will have great difficulty in getting down the river unless the desired improvements in the channel are made.

Quincy has appropriated $60,000 to widen the bridge and draw and intends to erect a municipal dock in the event of the improvement of the river. In addition to this several large manufacturing concerns have signified their intention to put up factories at Quincy as soon as shipping conditions are better.

The cost of the desired improvements will be small, probably about $75,000.

—A square deal for all is a Red Cross Christmas Seal.

White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

Quincy Historical Society

LECTURE BY

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, Ph. D.

"The Rise and Development of New England Industries."

Illustrated by Lantern Photographs

Soloist, Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore

At the Chapel of the First Church (Unitarian) Quincy, Mass.

Wednesday, December 14, 1910, at 8 o'clock P. M.

Two ticket will be mailed to members and additional tickets may be obtained from the Secretary.

EMERY L. CRANE.

Dec. 7 6t

WOOD for SALE

$3.50 a Cord

59 Pond St.

South Braintree

Tel. 15-3 Braintree

Dec. 12-tf

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL Raspberry and Strawberry Jam 25c VARIETY TODAY 17 cent PER JAR At JOHNSON BROS.

IT will be for YOU

A Merry Christmas

IF You Read Daily

THE Quincy Ledger

Home Trade will Help Quincy

Why? Because

The Heat is Applied

When You Want It — Where You Want It

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite Street, Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

The practice of the City Council of 1910 of making loans to be dated the next year is one which should be discouraged, and Mayor Shea would be justified in vetoing the three loan order passed this week which are to be dated April 1, 1911. These are not the first loans which the City Council of 1910 has put over to 1911, for both the orders for the new schoolhouses fix Jan. 1, 1911 as the date of the loans. Here are five orders aggregating $134,000.00 which are dated in 1911.

The Inaugural Address of the Mayor last January showed the maturing Municipal debt of 1910 to be $107,375.00, but the City Treasurer had up to Dec. 1, negotiated new municipal notes for $130,015.00 on account of 1910, and here are $134,000.00 additional on account of 1911, a total of $264,015.00, and probably an attempt will be made to add to this before the City Council of 1910 goes out of existence.

The City Council of 1910 has also authorized loans of $50,000.00 for water extensions and meters, and $50,000.00 for sewer extensions. It looks as if this Council had established a record for borrowing. The total amount which the city can raise by taxation in one year for current expenses is $375,000.00, yet here is $364,015.00 by new loans. There are also "temporary loans of 1910 outstanding to the amount of $370,000.00.

MONUMENT DESIGNS.

"Bread cast upon the waters," which, in the case in point, means the effort to improve the designing of memorials, which has so frequently been a theme in these columns for years past, is returning with interest. Not only is there a decided change in the general question of design, but the desire on the part of the public for better work is manifest in many ways and in many directions. But the end is not yet, however promising the outlook may appear. A prominent worker in the arts craft movement asks, in a communication "Will public taste never become satiated with the everywhere inevitable 'three piece' sarcophagus, with or without its bulgin gtop but always encrusted with prodigal quantities of excrescent carving, yclept Romanesque, only leaving room for the family name, proclaimed in as large letters as the edge to edge space of the die will admit? * * * It is through the medium of good design that much improved conditions should accrue to the monumental trades, and designers should feel that the best sentiment should prevail in the designs they offer for publicity, for better art in design will make for themselves ad their employers a more dignified and prosperous condition." This is very excellent advice, and designers who make the effort to live up to it will reap their rewards; for the great republic is neither going to stand still in its progress towards higher and better things, nor is it going back, but, as in the past, it promises to go ahead, after its breathing spells, by leaps and bounds, as has been its habit for the last century.—Monumental News.

LAST DAY OF GAS SHOW.

Today is the last day of the Gas Show at Mechanics Building, Boston. All those interested in the progress of lighting and heating should apply at the office of the Citizens Gas Company for free tickets and visit this exposition, and they should go early for there was a big crowd there last evening. Several manufacturers of gas ranges have exhibits there.

Manufacturers and dealers in various kinds of mantles, lamps, shades, domes, etc., are also represented. Bread is being baked in a large baker's oven heated by gas. Clothes are being washed and dried by use of heat from gas. Many kinds of hot water heaters are there, which do the work in record time. It will surprise many to learn the new ways of using gas. Then there is entertainment by the Fadettes orchestra, Italian marionettes and moving pictures. The doors close at 10 P. M.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

TALK ON HANDWRITING

Walther Class Entertain the Davis Class

At their monthly social in the chapel of the Wollaston Baptist church on Monday evening, the Walther class entertained as guests the Davis class of the Calvary Baptist church of South Quincy.

The address of the evening was delivered by William E. Hingston of Wollaston, the well known handwriting expert, who spoke on the subject of "Expert testimony." Rivaling the stories of the famous Sherlock Holmes some of the conclusions arrived at seemed nothing short of marvelous, until explained by the speaker.

Mr. Hingston qualified as an expert through over thirty years' service in the big packing houses of the west as auditor and examiner of false entries. For the last ten years he has been called to practically all the court cases in New England in which a question of this nature arose, besides going often to New York and Washington.

Expert testimony, said Mr. Hingston, is simply arrived at through the science of the minute observation of details. He told of an instance where an old will was proved a forgery at a glance, because the kind of ink used had not been invented at the time when the will was purported to have been written.

In another case a certain sentence in a note was proved to be an interpolation after it had been overlooked by everyone else, by simply noting that the dollar mark of the foisted sentence contained but one stroke while the others in the note contained wo.

He told of running down the authors of black-hand letters and the way in which to tell the Sicilian writer from others. It seems that in the parochial schools of Sicily, pupils are taught to make the letters a and e in a manner different from elsewhere. This being known to the expert, it is fairly easy for him to determine the nationality in this instance. The French writer differs from the English in that his letters are more condensed.

It is not all handwriting, said the speaker, but the minute looking into details, and the application of common sense, and use of accumulated and general knowledge. Forgeries may be detected not simply by the difference in the formation of the characters, but in the manner of holding the pen, which shows up in the shading. Another thing is that the average writer uses his free arm while the forger has to use a cramped motion, and stop continually to follow the copy. The pauses show under microscopic examination, and the man is caught. Another thing is that at the conclusion of a stroke a forger habitually stops short while the natural writer allows the pen to gradually leave the paper ending in a hair line.

In thirty years, predicted Mr. Hingston, crime will be confined solely to the ignorant, because already criminals are finding it doesn't pay, and that of late years all of them have been caught.

The remainder of the talk related to false entries, mannerisms in handwriting, and facts regarding papers and inks, which proved so interesting that the audience were loath to have the talk end, and showing, as President Sparrow remarked in closing the meeting that, "the way of the transgressor is hard."

The speaker had with him several court exhibits which were examined with interest by those present. Following adjournment refreshments were served.

PLAYGROUND CONFERENCE.

Delcevare King attended the meeting of the New England Playground association which was held the last three days of the past week in Holyoke. Addresses were delivered by the most eminent authorities on the subject of playgrounds, including such men and women as Joseph Lee, president of the Playground Association of America; John J. Cronin, department of health division of child hygiene, New York city; Howard Bradstreet, director of park playgrounds, New York city; G. B. Affleck, Y. M. C. A. Training school, Springfield; Miss E. LeGarde, director of physical training in public schools, Providence, R. I.; Miss Beulah Kennard, president of Pittsburg Playground association; Edward A. Stitt, director of playgrounds and recreation centers, board of education, New York city, and many others. The meetings were held in High school hall, Public Library hall and Windsor hall. A large aggregation of representative men and women attended the meetings and much good is expected to come from them.

SCORES HOBBLE SKIRT

Minister Quotes Prophet of Old Regarding Modern Foibles

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Hobble skirts, expensive hats and jewelry were denounced by Dr. George L. Robinson of McCormick Theological seminary, who pointed out parallels to the evils of the days of Isaiah.

"They are much the same evils and foibles," he said, "which the prophet deplored and named as the source of a downfall which was bound to come," said Robinson in speaking on the book of Isaiah in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association.

"The prophet Isaiah gave warnings which seem to be especially pertinent today," said Robinson. "In Isaiah iii. 16 and 17, we have:

"'Moreover, the Lord saith, because the daughters of Zion are haughty and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:

"'Therefore the Lord will smite the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion.'"

MARINE HELD FOR MURDER

Charged With Killing Man In Argument Over Half a Dollar

Boston, Dec. 13.—John W. Carey died yesterday from a bullet wound received late Saturday night, and Corporal Edward Melvin of the United States marine corps was held for the grand jury on the charge of murder two hours later. Melvin was not allowed to furnish bail. Several witnesses were also held.

The two men were in a lodging house at 39 Wapping street, and an argument was started over a loan of 50 cents. Both men had been drinking and Melvin, it is alleged, drew his revolver and shot his friend.

Carey was 23 years of age and married. Melvin is attached to the receiving ship Wabash and a few months ago qualified as an expert rifle shot. He is 23 years of age.

POSTAL REFORM AS PARAMOUNT ISSUE

Cowles a Candidate For Depew's Seat In the Senate

Washington, Dec. 13.—James L. Cowles, secretary-treasurer of the Postal Progress league, has announced his candidacy for United States senator from New York to succeed Chauncey M. Depew. Cowles regards postal reform as a paramount issue before the people. He is an old-time Democrat.

While the candidacy of Cowles may not govern the New York legislature in its choice, it may be remarked that the issue of postal reform has reached a stage in congress where it appears almost certain that some action will be taken. Sentiment favoring a thorough investigation of express rates is growing rapidly.

The Postal Progress league will take up the campaign in New England very soon. It is said that the league will enter the campaign against every senator not committed to its ideas.

CHARLES H. BELLAMY DEAD

Founder of Springfield News and Author of Number of Books

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 13.—Charles J. Bellamy, founder and publisher of the Springfield Daily News, died at his home in this city of Bright's disease. He was 59 years old and was born at Chicopee Falls, Mass., on May 7, 1852. He was admitted to the bar in 1876. In 1880 he founded The Daily News, which he had published ever since.

Mr. Bellamy was the author if a number of books. He is survived by a widow and two children. A brother, Frederick Bellamy, an attorney of Brooklyn, also survives him. The late Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward," also was a brother.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Federal Court Hears of Killing of Turk on Postoffice Steps

Boston, Dec. 13.—Bogo Mucksian, a non-English speaking Armenian of Lowell, was placed on trial for his life before Judge Putnam and a jury in this city today, in connection with the death of Mohammed Ahmed, a Turk, who was shot on the steps of the Lowell postoffice on Sept. 23 last.

Both men met on the steps of the postoffice and after an exchange of words, Ahmed was shot, dying shortly afterward. The trouble which led to the shooting grew out of the death of Mucksian's wife about a year ago in Armenia.

Fifteen Years For Counterfeiter

New York, Dec. 13.—Guiseppe Boscarino, who was convicted of dealing at wholesale in counterfeit money, was sentenced by Federal Judge Hough to a term of fifteen years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Secretary Wilson Sick

Washington, Dec. 13.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his apartments at the Portland.

WILLIS VAN DEVANTER

Appointed to Place on Supreme Bench

TWO RECEIVE HIGH HONORS

Van Devanter and Lamar Selected For Supreme Court

NEW COURT OF COMMERCE

President Names Five Men For Various Periods of Service, Among Them Being Knapp, Who Is Promoted From Interstate Commerce Commission—Two Vacancies In Latter Are Also Filled

Washington, Dec. 13.—In addition to Edward D. White to be chief justice of the United States supreme court, President Taft sent these nominations to the senate Monday:

To be associate justices, United States supreme court, Judge Willis Van Devanter of Wyoming and Judge Joseph R. Lamar of Georgia.

To be judges of the new court of commerce, Martin A. Knapp, now chairman of the interstate commerce commission, for a term of five years.

Robert W. Archbald, now United States district judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania, term of four years.

William H. Hunt, now a judge of the court of customs appeals, formerly United States district judge of the district of Montana, term of three years.

John E. Carland of South Dakota, term of two years. This is a change from the original slate, Arthur C. Denison, United States district judge for the western district of Michigan, having first been selected for this place.

Julian W. Mack, now judge in the appellate court of the First Illinois district, term of one year.

To be members of the interstate commerce commission, B. H. Meyer of Wisconsin and C. C. McChord of Kentucky.

The appointments to the interstate commerce commission are to fill vacancies caused by the elevation of Knapp to the court of commerce, and the forthcoming retirement of Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri. The commission will elect its new chairman. The members of the commission who remain are Messrs. Clark, Harlan, Clements, Lane and Prouty.

The nomination of Justice White to be chief justice was immediately confirmed by the senate.

Judge Van Devanter is 51 years of age. He was born in Indiana and began practice in Marion. He moved westward with the people of his generation and established himself in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he now lives. He was made a chief justice of the Wyoming territorial supreme court by President Harrison. He came to Washington as assistant attorney general in the interior department in 1897, to remain in that position for six years. Eight years ago, when Mr. Hitchcock was thinking of retiring from the cabinet, Van Devanter was prominently mentioned for secretary of the interior. Van Devanter is popular with senators and representatives. He is an orator of reputation.

Judge Lamar was born in Ruckerville, Ga., in 1857. He is described as an old-fashioned southern gentleman of charming manner and of that type in which the south takes most pride. He was educated at the University of Georgia and Washington and Lee university; served in the Georgia state legislature and has been judge of the supreme court of Georgia since 1903.

Helen Boyle Must Stay In Prison

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—The state superior court affirmed the conviction of Helen Boyle, who is serving twenty-five years in prison for the part she played in the sensational kidnapping of Billy Whitla at Sharon, Pa. The woman had appealed to the higher court for a new trial.

LIQUOR DEALER IN PULPIT

Out Against Saloon at People's Forum

A very good audience was present Sunday at All Souls' church, Braintree, to enjoy the fifth meeting of the people's forum.

The speaker was George B. Hugo of Boston a liquor dealer who spoke on "The saloon from a liquor dealers point of view."

Strange as it may seem, Mr. Hugo is strenuously opposed to the use of strong drink, particularly in saloons, and believes that the problem can be attacked most successfully from within, therefore he retains his business. His knowledge, his earnest convictions, and the practical measures he has to offer, make him a speaker worthy of widespread and serious attention.

Mr. Hugo talked most interestingly on the various phases of his subject, and stated that he firmly believed the time would come when the saloon would be abolished. He contends that the liquor traffic can best be regulated by first suppressing the saloon, as it is there he thinks that more drunkenness and consequent crime originate than from any other source. He is especially hostile to the "treating" habit so common in saloons, and believes it to be a prolific breeder of intoxication.

Mr. Hugo has entered heart and soul into his self-appointed task and thinks that the curse of drink can be largely suppressed by those like himself, who are thoroughly familiar with conditions, rather than by temperance cranks and so-called reformers who know little of what they are talking about.

A number of pertinent questions were put to the speaker, and some of them were answered in such a way as to afford the audience much amusement. The meeting closed with a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Hugo.

Next Sunday afternoon, Mr. Charles Peublin will speak on "Man and Woman."

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry Store, Quincy.

R. E. FOY & CO.
Have you ever tried our
RED LILY
Canned Beets?
If you haven't you don't know what you've missed.

The sweet, tender, little red beets are packed in sanitary cans, and you'll find about 28 of them.

You will be surprised when you try them and you'll surely want a dozen cans.

For vegetable salad, they add color, flavor and zest.

Don't let another day go by without trying them.

Can 15 cts. $1.65 doz.

Just follow the crowd for the next few weeks and see our full line of choice canned goods

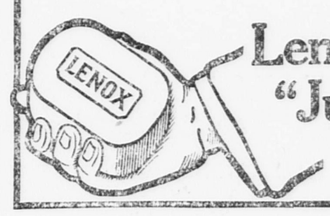
R. E. FOY & CO.
Water cor. Quincy St.
Dec. 12-21
PHONE 117

Lenox Soap

is worth knowing. Get acquainted with it. Your grocer will introduce you.

And the introduction will lead to a life-long friendship.

Colored clothes and white; woodwork; dishes; pots; pans—Lenox Soap is good for one and all.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

STEVENS

The one best Christmas present for your boy is a STEVENS Rifle.

The Little Scout
The Maynard, Jr.
The Crack Shot
The Favorite
The Visible Loader

Come in and look them over.

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite Street, Quincy

Dec. 12-21

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

The News and the Truth About It
The Best Home Newspaper
Reliable and Progressive
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

OLDEST and BEST

Largest Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in the City of Quincy and Norfolk County.

Goes into all the best Quincy homes where it is read by every member of the family. Established in 1889 the Ledger has forged ahead until it has become a household necessity. Its reading is as much a part of the day's routine as eating ones dinner. Making a speciality of clean readable home news has made the demand for advertising space such that the Ledger has recently doubled its capacity for space and circulation. Ask your newsdealer about its circulation. Constantly growing demand.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

BRAINTREE OCTOGENARIAN

Mrs. Mary A. Randall Observes Her Birthday

Friday, December the ninth was the eighthieth anniversary of the birth of one of Braintree's well known and highly respected women. Mrs. Mary A. Randall of Pearl street, bright and cheery, welcomed her many friends on that day in her usual hospitable and cordial manner. It is very hard to realize that she has seen eighty years she appears so young and well, and one is more mystified as to her secret of keeping young after talking with her for she remembers all dates with perfect ease and unerring accuracy.

Mary Amanda, daughter of Ezra Penniman and Mary (Holbrook) Penniman was born Dec. 9, 1830 in East Randolph, the town now known as Holbrook. She attended the schools in her native place until she was fifteen years of age and in 1845, well remembered because that was the year the Old Colony railroad was built, she came to Braintree to attend a private school which was taught by Miss Annie Blanchard of Weymouth. The following year she entered the Hollis institute where she remained for three years and Mrs. Randall remembers with much affection the teachers, William M. Thayer, Miss Abrams and Benjamin Kendall, long since deceased. Of all the classmates of her school days but few survive, Benjamin F. Dyer of Washington street being the only one in this vicinity.

In 1847 her parents removed to South Braintree, living in the house on Pearl street in which both died in after years. Mr. Penniman was engaged in driving the stage coach and carrying the mail for some time from Holbrook to Boston. When the Old Colony railroad was built, it naturally affected this mode of transportation which he continued to conduct for a while running from East Randolph to Braintree. Later he gave it up entirely and manufactured boots on the second floor ofthe old Union store, which business he continued until his death which occured April 1, 1866. He was chairman of the building committee when the South Congregational church was built and also an active member of the Town hall building committee.

Miss Mary made her home with her parents after finishing her school work and in 1853 was married to Russell F. Randall by the Rev. Mr. Phraner, pastor of the Congregational church. It is interesting to know that Russell Randall was the son of Apollus and Sylvia (Sturdevant) Randall of Easton and was born April 6, 1830. He attended the Braintree schools and was a student at Lester academy where he was a classmate of the late Judge Asa French.

Mr. Randall's father was a pioneer tack manufacturer and for years carried on a successful business in Braintree now the present tack factories under the firm name of Howard & Randall. His son, Russell Randall was employed for years as a conductor on the Old Colony railroad but later followed the shoe business until he retired from active duties. He passed away May 2, 1900 and his departure will be long regretted by hosts of friends and his immediate family.

After their marriage, which took place in Sing Sing, N. Y., where the bride was visiting at the time, the young couple made their home for about five years with the brides parents, removing then to the home which Dexter Holbrook afterwards purchased, where five children were born to them. Alice Linfield, Elmer Russell Lyman Dexter and twins Harry Bank and Ernest McClelland, who died in infancy. Residents remember the first born who afterwards married Orrin Jackson of South Braintree and who passed away in 1890 a victim of the lingering Brights disease. The second child lived to be only eighteen years of age and Lyman Dexter, who for many years was popular as a letter carrier in Providence, R. I., passed the last year of his life in his mother's home here tenderly cared for by mother and wife, but in spite of every attention laying down the burden of life April 21, 1907.

In spite of all these sorrows one always finds Mrs. Randall cheerful and optimistic the Christian woman she has always been. She became a member of the South Congregational church in 1857 when the Rev. Dennis Powers was pastor. For years she sang soprano in the church choir and has always been active and interested in all the societies connected with it. She has taught in the Sunday school for a long time and has been a faithful conscientious worker and attendant at all the church services. Mrs. Randall has practically spent all her life in Braintree although several years ago she was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Abbie Bonner of Greensburg, Indiana. Besides her one other cousin, Eugene Snell and his family of Holbrook, she has one grandson Russell Randall of Portland, Maine.

Miss Carrie Gardner who is making her home with Mrs. Randall, thoughtfully arranged a little dinner party in honor of the important day and covers were placed for six. The guests were Elisha Thayer, Mrs. Agusta Whitty, Miss Elizabeth Whitty, Miss Nellie Nye of Hingham, Miss Carrie Gardner and Mrs. Randall. Friends called during the day to offer congratulations and best wishes and various gifts serve to remind the recipient of a pleasant occasion and add to the list another pleasant memory.

GOLDEN WEDDING

(Continued from Page 1.)

school when only twelve years old he entered the employ of the Randall Tack Co., and learned his life's trade. He responded to Lincoln's first call volunteers and served his country well in the great war. He is a charter member of Post 87 G. A. R. and has served his state both as representative and senator.

He has held numerous town offices and has been chairman of the water commissioners ever since the present system was installed and president of the Braintree Co-operative Bank since its organization. He is also a prominent Mason, an active member of Delta lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Braintree, Pentalpha R. A. Chapter of East Weymouth and South Shore Commandery of East Weymouth.

Mrs. Stevens is a native of Braintree and was born Aug. 18, 1839, the daughter of George W. Willis and Myra A. (Arnold) Willis. Her parents died when she was thirteen years of age and she with her two brothers, Samuel A. Willis now of Worcester and George D. Willis of this town were brought up by David H. Bates of Braintree of former selectman and town treasurer. She was educated in the public schools of her native town and also attended a private school kept by Capt. Samuel D. Hayden of Braintree. She is highly esteemed by all, domestic in her tastes, hospitable by nature and interested in patriotic circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens were married Dec. 12, 1860 by the Rev. Richard S. Storrs, pastor of the First Congregational church, Braintree, the ceremony taking place at the parsonage. They spent the first eleven years of their married life in the house at the corner of Washington and Summer streets, South Braintree, known as the "David Bates" place and for the past thirty-nine years have occupied their present estate on Tremont street.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Stevens left for the war, April 15, 1861, about four months after his wedding.

Two children were born to them Mrs. Idella F. Thayer, the wife of Louis W. Thayer who with their daughter Miss Anna May have always resided with Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and George W. Stevens, associated with the Braintree Rubber Cement Co.

The guests departed about ten P. M. and the golden wedding is now a golden memory, something that those present will always remember with pleasure while for Mr. and Mrs. Stevens it will ever remain a shining reminder of the love and respect of their many relatives and friends who all unite in wishing them many years of continued health, happiness and prosperity.

QUINCY CHORAL SOCIETY.

Sunday rehearsals have always been popular with the choral members and the one arranged for Sunday afternoon was no exception to the rule. The tuneful choruses of "The Creation" have not presented any great difficulties to the singers and their concert should be given in a fine spirit of confidence, pleasant alike for chorus and audience. In watching the progress of rehearsals this year it is easy to see the great value of their previous study and of the friendly spirit which has existed between the members and their conductor, during each season.

BANK ADVERTISING.

A Troy, New York, bank man talked on "Financial Advertising" the other day before the Springfield, board of trade and told how his bank had grown to $7,000,000 in deposits from 12,000 depositors, when it had only 2,700 when the publicity campaign started. The bank used most approved forms of advertising but avoided the bill-board. It got its best returns from the newspapers, of which it bought the highest priced space. The institution is out for a $10,000,000 deposit account and will get it through the same means.

White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

SEVEN CASES SCARLET FEVER

Cause Closing of Wollaston School Until January

The scarlet fever scare in Wollaston has closed the Wollaston school until after the Christmas vacation and has brought the Board of Health to the centre of the infected district to ferret out the cause of he disease.

Seven cases were reported in two days, six of them pupils of the school. Two or three other cases have been reported, but the cultures have not been declared positive as yet. Three of the cases are on Taylor street, Dorothy Bates, Elmer Atwood and Sibyl Poutney; one, that of Ernest Thomas, is at the corner of Belmont street and Summit avenue; and the other two are on the other side of the railroad on Chester and Berlin streets, John Douherty and Cataline Colligan.

Dr. Burke and Dr. Sargent were called up shortly after the cases were reported, and when the situation was made clear, the school house was ordered closed. They are now occupied in findin gthe cause of the epidemic. The building will be thoroughly fumigated, and the families are quarantined so that further spread of the disease is prevented. The doctors feel confident that the schoolhouse was not the source of the scarlet fever germs, and inasmuch as the homes are not all in one section the seat of the disease is not to be placed in the homes. As yet no official opinion has been given out, and it is not unlikely that the direct fundamental causes will not be ascertained.

"GOLDEN NEW ENGLAND."

Perhaps not one in a thousand persons is aware that within 50 miles of Boston there is enough uncultivated land suitable for farming to feed the entire population of a district within that radius, and to afford a surplus for exportation. And such land sells as low as $50 an acre and less.

This is but one sample of a store of eye-opening information contained in a little story, "Golden New England," written by Sylvester Baxter for the Out look, which so attracted N. W. Harris and Co., the Boston bankers, that he had it handsomely reprinted in pamphlet form and is distributing it. Its aim is to make a Greater New England.

New England reaps $60,000,000 a year from summer visitors alone, says the pamphlet, a sum greater than the annual yield of the gold mines of Alaska and the Pacific slope, and by them her summer population is increased 25 per cent or more. New England corn and potatoes outclass Western ones, and, despite her small area, Texas, with 40 times the amount of cultivated land we have, has crops worth only five times as much.

New England's immense water-power energy, her educational methods, the work of the Massachusetts State College of Agriculture and of the state forestry department, the "Better Farming" special cars, the awakening of the railroads to the importance of fostering agricultural and manufacturing knowledge, the boom in New England apple growing all are treated in a most lively and optimistic way.

Harris and Co. will furnish copies of the booklet free, the only qualification being that the edition is limited to 40,000, over 25,000 of which are already spoken for. They are sending copies to their customers, including all the New England banks, and trust that this publicity will result in helping toward a "Greater New England."

—The great issue in United States politics during the next decade will be States rights. It is not likely to lead to any serious trouble, such as that which followed the assertion of States' rights in regard to negro slavery. A dispute as to whether the National or the State government shall have the last word to say regarding the organization and control of industrial corporations will not be settled by civil war, but it may result in years of party bickering and much heated discussion. The result of the duel, no matter which side wins, cannot fail to be good, because it will stir up the interest of the people and arouse the national conscience. The greatest bulwark of liberty is an awakened, informed and energized public opinion. —Toronto Globe.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
10c. 25c. 50c. All Druggists

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page 1.)

They had reported the orders early in the season.

In reply to a question by Councilman Sandberg, the Commissioner said the work would be done early in the spring and if the orders passed work could be planned early.

Councilman Bryant favored the order. These matters had been considered by this year's Council, and were thoroughly understood. Next year there would be new men and the matter would have to be gone over again.

Councilman Richards opposed. If work can not be done until next April they had better be referred to the new Council. He questioned if this was the proper time to do street work. It was time enough to raise the money when the work was done.

Councilman Flynn spoke at length in favor of the order.

Councilman Whiton spoke strenuously against the passage of the order. It was the first time he ever knew bonds to be dated five months ahead. He had always favored good streets, but had been opposed from the first to borrowing money for resurfacing streets, which these really were. It was a current expense, and the city had no legal right to borrow money in this way for current expenses. That should come in the budget. He was surprised at the suggestion to date the bonds April 1. He hoped the whole business would be killed.

The motion of Councilman Richards to refer to the next Council was lost.

The date of the bonds were then changed to April 1,1911, and the order was passed, Councilman Whiton alone voting no.

THE $4,800 LOAN.

On motion of Councilman Smith the loan order for $4,800 for West, Pleasant and Marsh streets was taken from the table. The date of the bonds on this order was alsoch anged to April 1, 1911, and the order passed, Councilman Whiton alone voting no.

A motion to refer to next year's Council by Councilman Nowland was first rejected.

JUNK ORDINANCE.

On motion of Coucilman Flynn the order amending the junk ordinance, so as to provide that no one shall store junk for commercial purposes without a license, was recalled from the committee, and passed.

On motion of Councilman Flynn the order relative to collectors of junk was recalled from the committee and rejected.

MERRYMOUNT ROAD.

On motion of Councilman Ericson, the order for $1,700 for Merrymount road was taken from the table and the date of the bonds changed to April 1, 1911.

There was considerable discussion on this order. Councilman Whiton claimed the amount was excessive and he also objected on the same ground as the other orders, borrowing money for current expenses.

Councilman Nowland argued that the gravel that would be taken from Hancock street when it was paved could be used on Merrymount road and for this reason not as much money as the order called for would be needed.

Councilman Bryant said that there were several streets in that vicinity that needed resurfacing and that the gravel could be used to good advantage on those streets.

The order was then passed, 15 voting yes and 4 no as follows:

YES—Boyd, Bryant, Cantfill, Carey, Cherrington, Clark, Ericson, Flynn, Gardner, Histen, Loud, McDevitt, Moir Sandberg and Smith.—15.

NO—Bolster, Nowland, Richards, Whiton—4.

ABSENT—Branch, Woodward—2.

NOT VOTING—President Hobbs.

Adjourned at 10.18 until Dec. 19.

ELMENDORF IN PARIS.

As the subject of his fifth and concluding travel-talk to be given in Symphony hall Boston next Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Dwight Elmendorf will present "Paris." No other city in the world affords such a variety and abundance of attractions, or such a range of pleasures. For nearly twenty years Mr. Elmendorf has devoted some portion of each year to photography in the French Capital, and his lecture will embrace just those things which his audience would desire to see, were they able to pack up and make the journey. The tour will include drives through the famous avenues such as the Champs Elysees, the Bois de Boulogne and the Avenue del'Opera, boat rides on the Seine and excursions to Longchamps and Versailles. There will be motion-pictures of street scenes, and balloon races, and a trip will be made to Rheims to witness the aviation meet held there last summer.

SUNDAY SERVICES

HALL PLACE M. E.

"The Imminence of God" was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon by the pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church. He spoke of God's nearness in the every day life, and showed that He was interested in all our daily tasks and that He helped us in solving the problems of our every day life. We should expect God's presence and leadership in the business life as well as in church, for He is with us, helping us to be ever true, regardless of circumstances. Under provocation He helps us, in adversity He helps us and when all others fail the ever present God is near at hand.

There was a good attendance at the session of the Sunday school and also of the Junior League. Miss Hilda Francis lead the devotional service on the topic: "The messenger and the Saviour."

At the 7 o'clock service the Deaconess Work was ably presented by Miss E. Springham of the New England Deaconess Association. She spoke first of the Bible Training School, the training which young women receive here and some of the great results of this training, of the Deaconess Home and the Institutional work carried on there among the children and the good that is being accomplished in this way. She told also of some of the conditions existing in some of the homes where the Deaconesses go on their errands of mercy and love, carrying cheer and sunshine to those within. Nor did she forget the Hospital and its in free service was given 261 persons. were nursed in the Hospital. $11,219 in free service was given 261 persons. 500 persons were nursed in their homes by the visits of the District nurse.

Miss Springham visited this church a year ago and it was a real pleasure to the people to listen again to her pleasing way of presenting this great work of the Methodist church, and enlisting the sympathy of her hearers in this branch of the Lord's work.

ITALIAN DRAMA.

The Rapone-Pozzl dramatic company presented a three-act drama Francisco Ferrer or Il Martire del Libero Pensiero, in Finland hall, Arthur street, Saturday evening, before a crowded house. The company came to Quincy fresh from a successful tour of the eastern states and met with great favor among the Italians of this city. Francisco Ferrer appealed very strongly to the audience, and was uproariously applauded at the conclusion of each act.

SUNNY MONDAY

Sunny Monday Laundry Soap will cost you but 5 cents. You may get six or seven bars of the ordinary yellow rosin soap for a quarter, but when you think that it represents the saving of clothes, the real economy lies in buying Sunny Monday.

It is a white Soap—contains no rosin—and one bar will go as far as two bars of ordinary laundry soap.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
CHICAGO

RUBBERS

Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers

50c Per Pair

Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

One Pill One pill at bedtime. Brings morning relief from the headache, indigestion, nervousness, biliousness, due to constipation. If your doctor approves, why not use Ayer's Pills? Then seek this approval without delay. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

ASKS $100,000 DAMAGES

Opera Star Brings Suit Against a Boston Newspaper

Boston, Dec. 13.—Florencio Constantino, leading tenor of the Boston Opera company, has brought suit for $100,000 against the Boston Transcript company, charging that an article appearing in that newspaper was libellous.

The Transcript's operatic critic in the article complained of asserted that "claques may be essential to the happiness and readiness of Mr. Constantino; they may be endurable in Buenos Ayres or in Santiago, but they are not the way of North American opera houses, and they have been unknown in Boston until the tenor brought his hither."

The tenor denies that he has employed strong-armed and leather-lunged men to applaud his stage comings and goings, and thinks that $100,000 will be enough for The Transcript to pay him for charges made in its critique.

Bill For Pension Increase

Washington, Dec. 13.—A modification of the service pension bill so as to provide for a minimum pension of $15 is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Dick. The present rate is $12.

Cholera Raging In Madeira

Funchal, Madeira, Dec. 13.—Asiatic cholera continues to rage here. Official reports give the figures since the outbreak at 422 cases and 136 deaths.

—A peat fuel plant is projected for Winnipeg.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Fresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedeba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedeba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abef	7 00	7 15	hgfedeba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 53
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
	8 05 Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	hgfedeba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedeba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedeba	12 47 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedeba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
	11 04 a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedeba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
	12 04 a	12 20	3 15	hgfedeba	3 49 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
	1 14 a	1 30	4 15	fedeba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
	2 04 a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 29	d	5 37
	3 04 a	3 20	5 25	deba	5 58 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
	4 04 a	4 20	5 55	fedeba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
	4 59 b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedeba	7 21 r
	6 09 ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
	7 04 b	7 20	8 15	fedeba	8 38 r
r 7 39	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	d'a	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedeba	10 33 r
			11 15	fedeba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedeba	9 14 r
r 8 44	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedeba	10 42 r
	9 31 a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedeba	12 42 r
	10 23 ac	10 30	12 43	Exp.	12 59
	11 00 Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedeba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	ihgfedeba	2 42 r
	1 02 Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedeba	3 42 r
r 1 15	abcdefgh	1 44	4 27	eba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedeba	5 42 r
r 4 14	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedeba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	eba	7 19 r
r 6 10	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedeba	8 41 r
	7 45 Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 8	9 30	ihgfedeba	9 57 r
	9 05 a	9 20	10 50	eba	11 09 r
r 10 43	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.20 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.05, 7.37, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M,

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M. 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.10, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.56 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 6.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets,
QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 380-4 Jan. 17-tf

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 516-2. Oct. 6-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY 8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1888
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
For The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo. of invention for free report. I can advise, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to see us at
910 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
EST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

FUNERAL OF MR. HARRIS.

The funeral of Joseph M. Harris, of 70 Coddington street, was held Monday from St. John's church, and was largely attended, including a large delegation of the A. O. H., of which he was a member. A requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Brennan, the regular choir singing the Gregorian mass. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery, Canton.

CONCERT AND DANCE.

Saturday evening was an unusually enjoyable one for the students at the Quincy Mansion school and their friends. A concert was given early in the evening by the Phillips Andover Glee and Banjo clubs. The vocal selections, solos and chorus, were given with a snap and enjoyment as only college men can render them, as were the banjo and mandolin selections. After the concert there was an informal dance and refreshments were served, rounding out a most happy evening.

BATTLESHIP WORK.

The torpedo boat destroyer, built at Quincy, was reported completed Dec. 1, the Sterett 99 per cent completed and the Walke 73 per cent. Good progress was also made in the month of November on the submarine boats Skipjack and Sturgeon.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Saturday, Dec. 10:

Ernesto Fadanelli, Miss Dora Hanley, Samuel Katz, Thomas Kiggins, M. Francysriek Kwieciyski, M. Foglia Luigi, Miss L. Marcham, Miss Mary McDonald, Miss Catherine McKenzie, James McMillam, Luigi D. Nardis.

—One of the largest paper mills at Duluth is to be electrified. The Popular river has been developed to yield 1,000 horse-power.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 275-3 Residence 323-3.

Twelve Days to Xmas
DEC. 13
Thirteen Is Lucky if You Do Xmas Shopping

CHRISTMAS CAROL
BY
Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

The Ghost of Christmas Present rose.

"Spirit," said Scrooge submissively, "conduct me where you will. I went forth last night on compulsion, and I learned a lesson which is working now. Tonight, if you have aught to teach me, let me profit by it."

"Touch my robe!"

Scrooge did as he was told and held it fast.

Holly, mistletoe, red berries, ivy, turkeys, geese, game, poultry, brawn, meat, pigs, sausages, oysters, pies, puddings, fruit and punch, all vanished instantly. So did the room, the fire, the ruddy glow, the hour of night, and they stood in the city streets on Christmas morning, where (for the weather was severe) the people made a rough but brisk and not unpleasant kind of music in scraping the snow from the pavement in front of their dwellings and from the tops of their houses, whence it was mad delight to the boys to see it come plumping down into the road below and splitting into artificial little snowstorms.

It was a remarkable quality of the ghost (which Scrooge had observed at the baker's) that, notwithstanding his gigantic size, he could accommodate himself to any place with ease and that he stood beneath a low roof quite as gracefully and like a supernatural creature as it was possible he could have done in any lofty hall.

And perhaps it was the pleasure the good spirit had in showing off this power of his or else it was his own kind, generous, hearty nature and his sympathy with all poor men that led him straight to Scrooge's clerk, for there he went and took Scrooge with him, holding to his robe.

Then up rose Mrs. Cratchit, wife of the clerk, dressed out but poorly in a twice turned gown, but brave in ribbons which are cheap and make a goodly show for sixpence, and she laid the cloth, assisted by Belinda Cratchit, second of her daughters, also brave in ribbons, while Master Peter Cratchit plunged a fork into the saucepan of potatoes and, getting the corners of his monstrous shirt collar (Bob's private property, conferred upon his son and heir in honor of the day) into his mouth, rejoiced to find himself so gallantly attired and yearned to show his linen in the fashionable parks. And now two smaller Cratchits, boy and girl, came tearing in, screaming that outside the baker's they had smelt the goose and known it for their own, and, basking in luxurious thoughts of sage and onion, these young Cratchits danced about the table and exalted Master Peter Cratchit to the skies, while he (not proud, although his collars nearly choked him) blew the fire until the slow potatoes, bubbling up, knocked loudly at the saucepan lid to be let out and peeled.

"What has ever got your precious father, then?" said Mrs. Cratchit. "And your brother, Tiny Tim, and Martha warn't as late last Christmas day by half an hour."

"Here's Martha, mother!" said a girl, appearing as she spoke.

"Here's Martha, mother!" cried the two young Cratchits. "Hurrah! There's such a goose, Martha!"

"Why, bless your heart alive, my dear, how late you are!" said Mrs. Cratchit, kissing her a dozen times and taking off her shawl and bonnet for her with officious zeal.

"We'd a deal of work to finish up last night," replied the girl, "and had to clear away this morning, mother."

"Well, never mind so long as you are come," said Mrs. Cratchit. "Sit ye down before the fire, my dear, and have a warm, Lord bless ye!"

"No, no! There's father coming!" cried the two young Cratchits, who were everywhere at once. "Hide, Martha, hide!"

So Martha hid herself, and in came little Bob, the father, with at least three feet of comforter, exclusive of the fringe, hanging down before him and his threadbare clothes darned up and brushed to look seasonable and Tiny Tim upon his shoulder. Alas for Tiny Tim. He bore a little crutch and had his limbs supported by an iron frame.

"Why, where's our Martha?" cried Bob Cratchit, looking round.

"Not coming," said Mrs. Cratchit.

"Not coming!" said Bob, with a sudden declension in his high spirit, for he had been Tim's blood horse all the way from church and had come home rampant. "Not coming upon Christmas day!"

Martha didn't like to see him disappointed, if it were only in joke, so she came out prematurely from behind the closet door and ran into his arms, while the two young Cratchits hustled Tiny Tim and bore him off into the washhouse that he might hear the pudding singing in the copper.

"And how did little Tim behave?" asked Mrs. Cratchit when she had rallied Bob on his credulity and Bob had hugged his daughter to his heart's content.

"As good as gold," said Bob, "and better. Somehow he gets thoughtful sitting by himself so much and thinks the strangest things you ever heard. He told me coming home that he hoped the people saw him in the church because he was a cripple and it might be pleasant to them to remember upon Christmas day who made lame beggars walk and blind men see."

Bob's voice was tremulous when he told them this and trembled more when he said that Tiny Tim was growing strong and hearty.

His active little crutch was heard upon the floor, and back came Tiny Tim before another word was spoken, escorted by his brother and sister to his stool beside the fire, and while Bob, turning up his cuffs—as if, poor fellow, they were capable of being made more shabby—compounded some hot mixture in a jug with gin and lemons and stirred it round and round and put it on the hob to simmer Master Peter and the two ubiquitous young Cratchits went to fetch the goose, with which they soon returned in high procession.

Such a bustle ensued that you might have thought a goose the rarest of all birds—a feathered phenomenon, to which a black swan was a matter of course—and in truth it was something very like it in that house. Mrs. Cratchit made the gravy (ready beforehand in a little saucepan) hissing hot, Master Peter mashed the potatoes with incredible vigor, Miss Belinda sweetened up the apple sauce, Martha dusted the hot plates, Bob took Tiny Tim beside him in a tiny corner at the table, and the two young Cratchits set chairs for everybody, not forgetting themselves, and, mounting guard upon their posts, crammed spoons into their mouths lest they should shriek for goose before their turn came to be helped. At last the dishes were set on, and grace was said. It was succeeded by a breathless pause as Mrs. Cratchit, looking slowly all along the carving knife, prepared to plunge it in the breast, but when she did and when the long expected gush of stuffing issued forth one murmur of delight arose all round the board, and even Tiny Tim, excited by the two young Cratchits, beat on the table with the handle of his knife and feebly cried "Hurrah!"

There never was such a goose. Bob said he didn't believe there ever was such a goose cooked. Its tenderness and flavor, size and cheapness were the themes of universal admiration. Eked out by the apple sauce and mashed potatoes, it was a sufficient dinner for the whole family. Indeed, as Mrs. Cratchit said, with great delight, surveying one small atom of a bone upon the dish, they hadn't eaten it all at last. Yet every one had had enough, and the youngest Cratchits in particular were steeped in sage and onion to the eyebrows. But now, the plates being changed by Miss Belinda, Mrs. Cratchit left the room alone—too nervous to bear witness—to take the pudding up and bring it in.

Suppose it should not be done enough! Suppose it should break in turning out! Suppose somebody should have got over the wall of the back yard and stolen it while they were merry with the goose, a supposition at which the two young Cratchits became livid. All sorts of horrors were supposed.

Hello! A great deal of steam. The pudding was out of the copper. A smell like a washing day! That was the cloth. A smell like an eating house and a pastry cook's next door to each other, with a laundress' next door to that! That was the pudding. In half a minute Mrs. Cratchit entered, flushed, but smiling proudly, with the pudding, like a speckled cannon ball, so hard and firm, blazing in half a quartern of ignited brandy and bedight with Christmas holly stuck into the top.

"Oh, a wonderful pudding!" Bob Cratchit said, and calmly, too, that he regarded it as the greatest success achieved by Mrs. Cratchit since their marriage. Mrs. Cratchit said that now the weight was off her mind she would confess she had had her doubts about the quantity of flour. Everybody had something to say about it, but nobody said or thought it was at all a small pudding for a large family. It would have been flat heresy to do so. Any Cratchit would have blushed to hint at such a thing.

At last the dinner was all done, the cloth was cleared, the hearth swept and the fire made up. The compound in the jug being tasted and considered perfect, apples and oranges were put upon the table and a shovelful of chestnuts on the fire. Then all the Cratchit family drew round the hearth in what Bob Cratchit called a circle, meaning half a one, and at Bob Cratchit's elbow stood the family display of glass—two tumblers and a custard cup without a handle.

These held the hot stuff from the jug, however, as well as golden goblets would have done, and Bob served it out with beaming looks, while the chestnuts on the fire sputtered and crackled noisily. Then Bob proposed:

"A merry Christmas to us all, my dears! God bless us!"

Which all the family re-echoed.

"God bless every one!" said Tiny Tim, the last of all.

He sat very close to his father's side upon his little stool. Bob held his withered little hand in his as if he loved the child and wished to keep him by his side and dreaded that he might be taken from him.

"Mr. Scrooge," said Bob—"I'll give you Mr. Scrooge, the founder of the feast."

"The founder of the feast indeed!" cried Mrs. Cratchit, reddening. "I wish I had him here. I'd give him a piece of my mind to feast upon, and I hope he'd have a good appetite for it."

"My dear," said Bob, "the children. Christmas day."

"It should be Christmas day, I am sure," said she, "on which one drinks the health of such an odious, stingy, hard, unfeeling man as Mr. Scrooge. You know he is, Robert. Nobody knows it better than you do, poor fellow."

"My dear," was Bob's mild answer. "Christmas day."

"I'll drink his health for your sake and the day's," said Mrs. Cratchit, "not for his. Long life to him. A merry Christmas and a happy New Year. He'll be very merry and very happy, I have no doubt."

The children drank the toast after her. It was the first of their proceedings which had no heartiness in it. Tiny Tim drank it last of all, but he didn't care twopence for it. Scrooge was the ogre of the family. The mention of his name cast a dark shadow on the party which was not dispelled for full five minutes.

"GOD BLESS EVERY ONE!" SAID TINY TIM.

And now, without a word of warning from the ghost, they stood upon a bleak and desert moor, where monstrous masses of rude stone were cast about as though it were the burial place of giants, and water spread itself wheresoever it listed—or it would have done so but for the frost that held it prisoner—and nothing grew but moss and furze and coarse, rank grass. Down in the west the setting sun had left a streak of fiery red, which glared upon the desolation for an instant like a sullen eye and, frowning lower, lower, lower yet, was lost in the thick gloom of darkest night.

(To be Continued.)

BIGAMIST GOES FREE

Has Two Wives, Yet Law Makes No Provision For Punishment

New York, Dec. 13.—Although Charles W. Harrer is a bigamist and admits it, he can neither be freed from either wife nor punished for his offense.

Harrer was taken into court on a charge of bigamy and admitted that, although he was married to Jennie Green in Newark, N. J., in 1893, he took Edna Cooper as his wife in New York in 1904. His confession was useless as testimony unless corroborated by another witness.

The first wife could not be found, and the second wife has disappeared since last week, when she was in court in an action to annul her marriage. Harrer was accordingly set free.

A divorce was refused the second wife on the ground that she knew Harrer had a wife when she married him.

MAY GET PERMANENT TARIFF COMMISSION

Beveridge Will Press Early Action on His Measure

Washington, Dec. 13.—Senator Aldrich indicated that the country may expect action by the committee on finance looking to the appointment of a permanent tariff commission. This statement was prompted by Senator Beveridge, author of a tariff commission bill, which is resting with the committee on finance.

The Indiana senator expressed himself in a manner which was interpreted to mean that he would take advantage of every rule of the senate to insist upon tariff legislation at this session. He then asked Aldrich several pointed questions as to the intentions of the finance committee, calling attention to what he designated "a crystallization of public sentiment in favor of a tariff commission."

Senator Aldrich said the committee appreciated the extent of the demand for a permanent tariff commission and he was confident it would bring in a report in a short time which would be entirely satisfactory to Beveridge.

Paradise.

I would like to go to heaven,
For I'll tell you plain and flat
I would like to hear a service
Where they do not pass the hat.
—Puck.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fourteen-Year-Old Boys

BUSINESS men do not seek the fourteen-year-old boy. He gets on their nerves. Yet five millions of them drop study before they reach the High School—not to support parents, but because the parents think the boys better off out of school than "fussing" with teachers.

Too much theory is bad for a boy. Satisfy his instinct for something practical to do, and he'll stay in school.

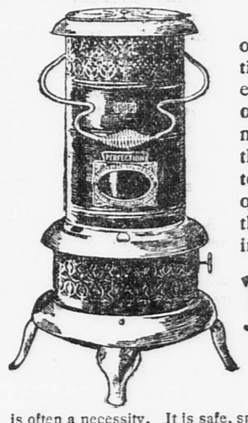
Selling THE SATURDAY EVENING POST will satisfy your boy's craving for varied training and will unconsciously demonstrate to him how essential education is to success in that work and in his whole life.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

BOYS WANTED.—Any bright fourteen-year-old boy can get one hundred or more customers and can earn from $2.50 to $5.00 or more each week without interfering with school or other duties. Apply to

HERBERT J. SMITH
40 NORTH STREET.

For Business Use



There are a great many places and occasions when the possibility of getting extra heat immediately effects an economy by decreasing the discomfort of the worker. In the office, in the early morning or late at night, before or after the steamheat is on, it is of importance to have extra heat. In the builder's outside office, in the shipping room, in the checker's shack, on exposed lofts, in railroad stations, in studios, the

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is often a necessity. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. Apply a match, and it gives heat quickly. With four quarts of oil it burns nine hours. Has automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

It has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

MAKES WORK EASIER

Quincy People Pleased to Learn How It Is Done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties
With a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier.

They cure backache.
They cure kidney ills.

James P. Daugherty, Hammond Place Quincy, Mass. says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to let other sufferers know what they have done for me. I was bothered a great deal by backache and had but little strength or energy to get through with my day's work. I took many so-called kidney cures, but did not succeed in finding relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at the Cox Drug Store. I was surprised and gratified by the prompt way in which they relieved me. My back was soon strong and free from pain and I felt better in every respect. I would go to considerable trouble to get anyone to use Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have so much confidence in their merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 920

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

WOULD BE HIS MURDERESS

Dying Man's Accusation Against His Young Wife

FACE TO FACE IN HOSPITAL

Wealthy Clubman Declares He Fully Realizes What He Is Saying In Ante-Mortem Statement—Cries "You Shot Me" In Frenzy of Anger—Does Not Want to Ever Look Upon Her Face Again—Woman Is Locked Up

Philadelphia, Dec. 13.—With face livid with rage and pain, Herbert M. Clapp, 35, wealthy clubman and sportsman, raised himself upon an elbow on his cot in St. Joseph's hospital and, pointing a trembling finger at his pretty young wife, branded her as the person who would be his murderess should he die from a bullet wound received at his apartments, 1511 West Girard avenue.

"You shot me!" shouted the man in a frenzy of anger. "You said you'd 'get' me, and you've 'got' me. What are you doing here? Get out, get out, I say; I never want to see you again."

Mrs. Marie L. Clapp, a former manicurist in a fashionable hotel in this city, against whom the dying man's terrific accusation was lodged, cowered at the end of the bed, where she had been standing, guarded by two detectives. She made a half involuntary movement toward the door of the room and then, restrained, cried in anguish:

"That's not true; that's not true."

"Your're telling a lie," cried Clapp with wrath as he sank back upon his pillow, exhausted by the exertion.

"You stood fifteen feet away from me and said: 'D—— you, I will kill you,'" continued the man, still excited, but in a less shrill tone of voice.

"I was coming from the bathroom to the bedroom to slap you in the face for the things you had said to me, when you shot me."

"Do you realize what you are saying?" asked Magistrate Morris, who was transcribing Clapp's words into a sworn ante-mortem statement.

"I certainly do realize what I am saying," replied the man. She is the best shooter I ever saw. She is neither afraid of God, man nor the devil.

"I met her when she was nothing but a manicurist. I married her in Texas. I have a lawsuit now on my hands with her for some deeds to which she forged my name. She left me last winter for a gambler. I took her back and forgave her.

"She shot me—that's all. Take her away. I don't want to see her again," and the dying man turned his face away from the woman.

On the strength of Clapp's ante-mortem statement, the woman was held without bail to await the outcome of her husband's injuries. At the hearing she sobbed unrestrainedly and refused to make any statements whatsoever. Later, however, she talked to the police.

She is said to have admitted that Clapp was not shot in an attempt to end his own life, as she first asserted when questioned. She declared that the shooting followed an all-night quarrel, which had its inception Sunday afternoon.

The trouble, she declared, reached its height Monday, when Clapp demanded that their sleeping room window should be left wide open. When she remonstrated with him he pulled a revolver from beneath his pillow and, pointing it at her, declared that he would kill her if she did not let him alone.

He was shot, she said, when she tried to wrest the weapon from him.

TYPHOID AT ANNAPOLIS

Special Board of Naval Surgeons to Investigate the Epidemic

Washington, Dec. 13.—Medical Inspector Edgar at the Boston navy yard has been appointed president of a special board to investigate the epidemic of typhoid at the naval academy at Annapolis. The other members are Surgeon Parker, Surgeon Butler and Passed Assistant Surgeon Mink. The board will report at the naval academy at once.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the board's appointment it was admitted that the typhoid epidemic is giving the navy department no little concern.

Convict Afflicted With Leprosy

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 13.—Specialists have announced that Ernest Williams, serving a seven-year term in the state penitentiary on a forgery charge, has leprosy. The man will be removed to some leper colony immediately. He has a wife and child at Sapulpa, Okla.

Rich Man Shoots Wife and Kills Self

Newark, N. J., Dec. 13.—Charles F. Croselmire, a wealthy retired manufacturer, 62 years old, shot his wife, 50 years old, then sent a bullet into his head and another into his breast. He died instantly. Mrs. Croselmire is in a critical condition.

UNION OFFICERS FREED

Judge Criticises Testimony of Both Sides In Contempt Proceedings

Boston, Dec. 13.—In his decision finding that the international officers of the Photo-Engravers' union were not in contempt of the strike benefit injunction secured by Folsom & Sunergren and William B. Wright of Boston, Judge Pierce sharply criticised the evidence offered by both sides in the contempt proceedings.

Judge Pierce says that he finds the officers not in contempt because the strike was declared off before Oct. 24, when the injunction was issued. Of the testimony his decision reads: "It would be a waste of time to analyze the testimony. Much of it was not commendable on both sides. It was false in spirit though true in fact. It was diplomatic. It was not intended for the elucidation of the truth, but for victory. It might have deceived the court and in finding contempt a wrong might have been done."

DEATH OF DR. REICH

He Became Noted as a Critic of Modern American Women

London, Dec. 13.—Dr. Emil Reich, the sharpest critic of American women of the present day, died at his home in this city. The American woman was criticized by Reich in both his lectures and writings without mercy.

Dr. Reich wrote on a great variety of topics and in some of his lectures spoke with great frankness upon such subjects as "Women," "Marriage" and "Love." He was an exhaustive writer on social topics.

Although born in Hungary in 1854, and educated there, Reich, during the latter years of his life, resided in London. He had an insatiable love for travel and spent a great deal of time in the United States and France. His criticisms of American manners and customs and especially of American women are very free.

GOTHAM JEWELER HAS THE HOPE DIAMOND

Famous Gem Quietly Brought Into This Country

New York, Dec. 13.—That marvelous bit of blue carbon, best known as the Hope diamond, which was dug out of the earth in India centuries ago, is now in New York intact.

Yesterday afternoon it was brought from a safe deposit vault in the rooms of a Fifth avenue jeweler and laid on a table in its bed of white silk, surrounded by many small white diamonds, which seemed like satellites to the gleaming gem which had adorned the persons of kings and potentates and of many of the world's greatest beauties.

How the famous gem got into this country without even a line of publicity the jeweler who has it did not explain, but it is considered probable that it was brought in quietly, so that thieves might not be tempted by it.

EMMA EAMES TO WED

Paris Hears That She Is to Become the Bride of De Gogorza

Paris, Dec. 13.—Emma Eames, the noted opera singer, it is announced on excellent authority, is to wed Emilio De Gogorza, the baritone, with whose name hers has frequently been linked. The latter's wife brought suit against Mme. Eames for $100,000 for alienation of affections.

The alienation papers were served while Mme. Emilio De Gogorza was suing the baritone for divorce, mentioning Eames as holding her husband under a spell, and as the artistic affinity of the signor.

Eames and De Gogorza first became close friends during a concert tour soon after her divorce from her artist husband, Julian Story.

OUR MONEY IN RUSSIA

Government Expected to Encourage Propositions of Americans

St. Petersburg, Dec. 13.—John H. Hammond, the American mining engineer and promoter, has arrived here in the interest of a financial group to investigate the possibilities for the investment of American capital in Russia. The proposals include the construction of grain elevators, development of irrigation, lighting, street car service and the building of sewers.

Gregory M. Wilenkin, the Russian financial agent at Washington, is here co-operating with Hammond. The Vremya is inclined to think that the government will encourage the American enterprise.

Senator Thornton In Office

Washington, Dec. 13.—John R. Thornton, successor to Senator McEnery of Louisiana, was inducted into office in the senate yesterday afternoon. The oath was administered by President pro tempore Frye.

The Weather

Almanac, Wednesday, Dec. 14.
Sun rises—7:13; sets—4:30.
Moon sets—6:27 a. m.
High water—9 a. m.; 9:30 p. m.
Forecast For New England: Fair and continued cold; moderate northwest to north winds, except brisk over extreme southeast portion.

WOMAN NEAR DEATH SPOT

Witnesses Say She Was Wife of Murdered Laundryman

THE LE BLANC DEFENSE RESTS

Johnson Makes Earnest Plea For Youthful Client, Whose Wrongs He Is Unwilling to Parade Before the World by Placing Her on Witness Stand—Again Asserts That Glover's Widow Is a "Vampire"

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 13.—Two witnesses were produced by the defense Monday in the trial of Hattie LeBlanc, who testified that they saw Mrs. Lillian M. Glover, the murdered man's widow, near the Waltham laundry, the scene of the shooting, on the night of Nov. 20, 1909. They were James D. Dumont of Athol and Miss Nellie Walsh, at present a domestic in the home of Judge Bond, the trial Judge in the case.

Two other witnesses were produced on Saturday by the defense, Issac Walker and Charles E. Benner, who testified to seeing a woman answering in every way to the description of Mrs. Glover, leave the alleyway leading from the laundry to Moody street and hurry away from that locality.

At 2:51 the defense finally rested. All of the evidence in the trial upon which Hattie LeBlanc's life depends had been placed before the jury.

Attorney Johnson began his argument shortly after the court reconvened at 3:25 yesterday afternoon. The courtroom was crowded to suffocation and the bar enclosure was packed with attorneys to hear the lawyer make his plea before the jury for the life of the girl.

"This is not a case where it is necessary to place the defendant on the stand," said Johnson. "I believe this case is one which appeals to your manhood. I don't want to be a party to such a thing as took place when Evelyn Thaw was placed on the stand. We have here a poor little girl only 17 years old, who was brought into this family when she was but 14. You may know from what you have heard what happened to her there. She was a pure, good, little girl when she went into that family.

"I would not be a party to parade the grievous wrongs of that little girl before the newspapers of a morbid world. I take the responsibility of not placing her on the stand.

"No tribunal that exists can reverse your finding this side of the judgment seat of God. Your duty is the nearest to omniscience that there is on the face of the earth. If you find this defendant not guilty there is no power on this earth that can reverse that verdict. You are to determine life or death. See to it that you find beyond a reasonable doubt before you send the soul of this little girl to the great beyond.

"There are others not of the court that we must speak of as we pass by. There is Clarence F. Glover. He is dead. It is difficult to speak ill of the dead, even in these halls where the truth must be told. What must we say of this man who takes this little girl, the man who should be her protector, and maltreats her in her own home, for maltreatment it is, even though she gave consent. He obtained possession of her mentality as well as of her body. Clarence F. Glover reaped the wages of sin, but no more than he deserved, wherever the blow came from that struck him down.

"Then there is the woman to whom I point my hand. And I say again, as I said when this trial opened, that woman is a vampire.

"Study her career. I pass over her younger years and I leave to you the inferences to be drawn by her shiftiness when I questioned her in regard to "Lena." We have the facts from which you must determine just the kind of a woman Mrs. Glover was. She said she was married in 1890 to Clarence F. Glover, but she had no marriage certificate. Suppose she was married. Were their relations for ten years those of even an ordinary husband and wife?"

Johnson recited the lines of Rudyard Kipling's "The Vampire" and asserted that no fitter description could be written of Mrs. Clarence F. Glover, widow of the slain Waltham laundryman. He declared this woman had met this man in his youth, stripped him of morals, of health, and then to get his property his life itself was taken.

He accused the Waltham police officers who have testified against Hattie LeBlanc of giving perjured evidence upon the witness stand to bolster up the government's case.

He alleged that the district attorney had hounded the innocent and protected the guilty "like the snapping turtle who, having fixed his jaws in the hand of the victim, clings until his head is severed from his body."

Post Seeks a Divorce

New York, Dec. 13.—Augustus T. Post, the aeronaut, has filed suit for divorce, alleging that his wife had not been legally divorced from her first husband.

GIFT OF $400,000

Made to Dartmouth College by Graduate of Class of '51

Hanover, N. H., Dec. 13.—A gift for the further enlargement and strengthening of the teaching power of Dartmouth college has been made by Edward Tuck of Paris, a graduate of the college in the class of 1861. This added endowment is in the form of standard 7 percent securities of the par value of $100,000.

It is Tuck's wish that the income thus accruing to the college be used solely for the purpose of adding to the impulse and inspiration to higher scholarship among students by strengthening the teaching staff both in numbers and efficiency.

PENOBSCOT IS CLOSED

Winter Weather Prevents Further Navigation This Season

Bangor, Me., Dec. 13.—While steam navigation is still possible on the Penobscot to Bangor there is so much ice in the river that all regular lines have ceased service to this port, partly to avoid damage to the boats, but chiefly on account of liability of being caught by a sudden cold snap and thick ice.

The schooner James Young, loaded at Sterns Mills for Boston, was towed out today, marking the closing of navigation for 1910.

When Meals Lack Relish

do not wrongly blame the cooking—or the butcher or the grocer. Probably the fault is in your own condition. The little mistakes of life—perhaps some overeating, maybe insufficient exercise—are apt to throw the digestive apparatus out of gear. Of course, if you continue to have no appetite your body will not be nourished—and worse will follow. In time you will be weak, or run-down, ready to suffer from attacks of disease. But there's no need to worry—correction is not difficult if—right away, before it is too late—you

Seek the Help of the well-known, always efficient and thoroughly safe family remedy, Beecham's Pills. This wonderful medicine tones the stomach, helps the liver, clears the bowels. With these important organs of digestion in good order your appetite will return—you will be glad when meal time comes; your food will really do you good. Blues and bad tempers—a bad taste and furred tongue—headaches and the general no-good feeling naturally disappear after a few inexpensive doses of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Don't fail to read the valuable directions with every box

At all druggists 10c., 25c.

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"

This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.

Try a Ton at Once

C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

If You Were Aware of all of the ability of Pears' Soap to repair the harm caused by common soaps; and its wonderful effect in keeping the skin in a condition of perfect health—fresh and clear—if you knew how matchless for the complexion it is—you would choose Pears' Soap every time, no matter what it cost. But you ought to know

How Inexpensive Is

the famous Pears' Soap. Its price is as low as that of ordinary soaps. It is absolutely pure, and of highest quality in every particle—and every particle is usable. When one cake is worn to wafer thinness, moisten it—place it on the next cake. It will stay all right. There's never any waste and always the utmost fullness of satisfaction in using

Pears' Soap
15 cents a cake for the unscented.

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY
SELL THE DAILY LEDGER
THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR
Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	30 degrees
December 13, 1909,	36 degrees
December 13, 1908,	33 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Gifts
Citizens Gas Light Co.—Gas Stoves
George W. Jones—Scalpackerchief Wanted

BRIEFS

Monday night was Quincy night at the opera and a party of seventy ladies and gentlemen from Quincy enjoyed Madame Butterfly.

Councilman-elect Craig of Ward There was an interesting spectator at Monday nights meeting of the City Council.

The Ladies Aid society of the Quincy Point church will meet with Mrs. George Bailey of South street, on Wednesday, for an all day sew and box lunch.

The annual banquet of the Granite Manufacturers' Association of Quincy will be held this evening at 6 o'clock at the New American House, Boston. An attendance of over 100 is expected.

The Ledger Office is having its usual run on white paper by people who like it to do up their Christmas gifts. Thousands of sheets are sold each year during the holidays.

The Amalgamated Society of Engineers held a very successful dance in Electa hall Monday evening. Over 50 couples were present to enjoy dancing from 8 until 11.30.

It is in the wind for the Council of 1910 and the Council of 1911 to have a banquet on inauguration night at one of the Boston hotels. Several years ago these things were a yearly function, but none have been held for several years.

A host of friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Emma Shufeldt Moore is to be the soloist at the meeting of the Quincy Historical society on Wednesday evening, at the Unitarian chapel. Mrs. Moore will render songs appropriate to the theme of Dr. Hardy's address. Miss Bertha L. Hanson will serve as Mrs. Moore's accompanist.

A Christmas recital will be given at the Quincy Mansion school this evening. The program consists of piano solos and duets, violin solos and vocal selections. The majority of the pieces are seasonable including Santa Claus march, Merry Christmas waltz, Christmas by Tschaikowsky, Christmas Bells, Christmas Morn, Santa Claus and many others.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

DEATHS

WAINWRIGHT—Entered into rest, on Dec. 12th, Rev. Francis C. Wainwright, son of the late Rev. Francis Chetwood Wainwright, and grandson of the late Bishop Wainwright.

McDONOUGH—In Brighton, Dec. 12, Mary J., beloved wife of William P. McDonough and daughter of the late Stephen and Johanna Crimlish. Funeral from her late residence, 18 Bennett, Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 8 A. M. Requiem mass at St. Columbkille's church at 9 A. M. Relatives and friends are kindly invited.

THURBER—In Quincy, Dec. 11, George H. Thurber in his 53rd year. Funeral services at late home 87 North street, Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 12-2t

GLOVER—In Braintree, Dec. 13, Mrs Susan S. wife of Mr. James F. Glover of 515 Middle street, aged 86 years.

FOSTER—At Sailors Snug Harbor, Dec. 12, Mr. William H. Foster, aged 69 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

LONG RECORD BROKEN

Mrs. George W. Glover Killed by Fall at Her Home

Mrs. Susan S. Glover, aged 86 years, of Braintree, was instantly killed at her home 515 Middle street this morning by falling down stairs. Mrs. Glover got up about 4 o'clock and started to go down stairs to call the family. In some way she tripped and fell headlong down the stairs breaking her neck and causing instant death. Dr. Brett was called and also Medical Examiner Frasier, but the woman was beyond help.

Mrs. Glover was the wife of James F. Glover and leaves a son and daughter. She was born in Weymouth, her maiden name being Susan Safford Thayer. It was on Sept. 19, 1847, that they were married by Rev. Jonas Perkins of the Union church, 63 years ago last September. They were the longest married couple in Braintree and possibly in Massachusetts. Mr. Glover was 90 years old last January.

BRIEFS

Glee Club concert at Wollaston this evening.

Probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy tomorrow.

The City Council Committee on Finance meet Thursday evening.

The Boiler Makers held their regular meeting in Protection hall Monday evening.

The Bricklayers and Masons met in Room 22, Johnson building, Monday evening for regular monthly business.

There will be a meeting of the degree staff, John Adams aerie 1180, in room 24, Johnson building tonight.

Mrs. William P. McDonough formerly of Quincy died on Monday at her home, 18 Bennett street, Brighon.

There are but few cases of scarlet fever in the city outside of the four or five cases among the school children of Wollaston.

In the superior court at Dedham, on Monday, Louis A. Parks who was indicted for setting fire to the Hardwick polishing mill in Quincy, was placed on probation.

Mrs. John H. Westfall, wife of Truant officer John H. Westfall of Allston, was on Monday allowed $30 counsel fees and $20 a month alimony while the divorce libel filed by her husband is pending. The allowance was made in the superior equity court.

The cases of William J. Mullen, Frank Finn, William F. Conway and Abram S. Foss who were indicted by the grand jury for breaking and entering the clothing store of Payson Mitchell at Quincy Sept. 29, and the larceny of goods valued at $240, is on trial in the superior court at Dedham.

While waiting for the Council to convene Monday, evening there was much shaking of hands and the air was full of congratulatory remarks to the successful candidates for the City Council. Some regrets were also expressed that some of the members had voluntarily retired from public service. As next Monday will probably be the last meeting of the City Council of 1910 it is then that tears will be shed and bouquets offered.

A serious accident was narrowly averted Sunday afternoon at 2.30 at Savin Hill and Dorchester avenues when there was a collision between an elevated car bound for Quincy and another bound toward Fields Corner. The Quincy car swung into Dorchester avenue just ahead of the other car and the two came together with a crash. None of the passengers were injured and the glass was not even broken.—Globe.

CLAN McGREGOR ELECTION.

The annual meeting of Clan Megregor, O. S. C., was held Monday evening. The contest for the several offices was a keen one. Those elected were:

Chief—Alfred O. Diack.
Tanist—George Murray.
Cor. Secretary—James Reid.
Fin. Secretary—John Russell.
Treasurer—Alexander W. Russell.
Chaplain—John Bissett, Sr.
Seneschal—M. Alex McDonald.
Junior Henchman—Howard Johnstone.
Auditors—J. Smith, William Ross, and David Drummond.
Finance Committee—Alex Cowe, Alex Mutch.
Clan Physician—Dr. Healey.

The officers will be installed the second Monday in January by Royal Secretary Peter Kerr.

CHRISTMAS AT QUINCY MANSION

Two Plays Presented by Pupils of the School

The approach of Christmastide was very beautifully and very fittingly observed Monday evening at the Quincy Mansion school by the production of two plays, Dicken's "Christmas Carol" and a folk legend entitled "The Secret Tree. The beauty of the first play is too well known to need any extolling, and the manner in which the "best Christmas story ever written" was presented by the young ladies is beyond criticism. Miss Helen Cumming a graduate of the school and of Wellesley college, has been coaching the members of both casts. Miss Cumming was president of the Barnswallows at Wellesley, and was foremost in dramatics throughout her college course. The efficiency of her coaching combined with the natural talent of players brought out the beauty of the lines and the scenes to their fullest extent. The cast included:

Scrooge	Margaret Kerr
Bob Cratchill,	Edith Stone
Fred,	Evelyn Lawton
Marley's Ghost,	Edith Robinson
Boy	Mabel Gatchell
Spirit of Christmas Past,	Lucretia Perry
Spirit of Christmas Present,	Beatrice Gillam
Spirit of Christmas Future,	Helen Hutchinson
Younk Scrooge,	Genevieve Parsons
Scrooge's Sweetheart,	Elizabeth Ellsworth

The plot of the second play, "The Secret Tree," was taken from a true story of Colonial days. The scene was laid in Plymouth where the colonists are preparing to celebrate Christmas. The children, one of them a little lame girl, are told a story of the old time Christmas in England in the opening of the play, and they are very anxious to have a tree. The spirit of the Puritan elders intervenes, but the tree is procured and despite the interruption of the children's pleasure by the outcropping of puritanism, the spirit of Christmas finally prevails and all ends well and happily. The cast was:

Dame Barden,	Margaret White
Ezekiel Barden,	Margaret Christian
Their sons,
Ezekiel,	Eleanor Drinker
Asaph,	Genevieve Parsons
Joel,	Gladys Gatchell
The Elder,	Mary Sheffield

All the participants conducted themselves well and showed an ease and ingeniousness which would have been a credit to veteran actors.

LESS EXPENSIVE.

A North Carolina young man resident in London married an English lady, and shortly after went to visit a bachelor uncle in Scotland. When uncle and nephew were over their walnuts and wine the old gentleman remarked:

"Weel, Bobby, ye hae gotten a wife!"

"Yes Uncle."

"What can she do?"

"Do! What do you mean?"

"Oh, can she sew a button on yer sark, or mak' yer parritch, or do any housework?"

"Not at all, uncle. The servants do all that; but I tell you what it is: She has the loveliest voice you ever heard. She's a grand singer."

"Man, could ye on' have gotten a canary?"

Felt Good, Anyhow.

"She wears such great, big, ugly shoes
And such an awkward style!"
"Ah, yes—and yours are number twos—
But see her happy smile!"
—Cleveland Leader.

—Beverly has been having a quick campaign to raise money for its Hospital, the final rally being held Saturday night. The amounts subscribed to date total to $9952.50.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

COMMANDERY K. OF T.

One Will Probably be Instituted in Quincy in 1911

Although the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar has refused to approve of the moving of the asylum of South Shore Commandery from East Weymouth to Quincy, it seems probable that before many months Quincy will have a Commandery of its own. At the meeting of South Shore Commandery Monday evening a petition was presented by a large number of Quincy Sir Knights for the institution of a new Commandery in Quincy.

In order to establish a Commandery in Quincy it is first necessary that South Shore Commandery release jurisdiction over Quincy. It is understood that South Shore Commandery is willing to do this, although action on the petition cannot be taken until the January meeting. As soon as this release is obtained the matter will go to the Grand Commander who will doubtless approve. The Quincy Commandery would then work for six months under South Shore Commandery at the expiration of which they will get their charter.

A canvass for members in the proposed new commandery has been made among sir knights residing in Quincy as well as among Chapter Masons, and it is understood that a charter list of over 150 names has already been secured.

TODAY'S COURT.

Donato De Alessandiro, Antino Maravelli and Ottavia Nokisio were arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy The former was fined $10 and the other two men $15 each.

The continued case of William Chamberlin for drunkenness and creating a disturbance on the steam cars at Quincy was heard. He was discharged on the disturbance complaint, and was fined $10; sentence suspended.

James Prouty was brought in on a default warrant for drunkenness at Weymouth; continued until Wednesday.

Jack Taylor was arraigned for threats at Braintree; case continued until July 1.

John F. Noolan and Daniel Fenton were fined $10 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

William Chamberlin was arraigned for drunkenness and for creating a disturbance on the steam cars at Quincy. Case continued until Tuesday.

A POLITICIAN'S STORY.

"Once," said a politician, "when I was younger I went up to Liverpool to make a political speech. My wife was with me. We arrived on a chilly, rainy miserable October afternoon. It was cheerless. She had a cold; I had a cold. The outlook was not good.

"We walked through the park, my wife reading me a lecture on the futility of politics.

"Just as she reached her peroration we saw an automatic machine that played music, weighed you, and dropped out a card telling your fortune.

"I stepped on the machine, put a penny in the shot, heard the music tinkle, and waited for the fortune. The card came out and I handed it to her.

"It said: Do not be discouraged. Your second marriage will be happier than your first!"—Tit-Bits.

Mister Rabbit.

Mister Rabbit runnin' f'um de crackin' o' de gun,
Bet you dat he skeered up, an' 'tain't a bit o' fun!

Run, Mister Rabbit!
Fin' a hidin' place.
Gi'e you half a dollar
Ef you beat 'im in de race!

Dey sholy wants ter git you whar de fire swine ter be.
Wouldn't have ter hustle of you des could climb a tree.

Run, Mister Rabbit!
Hunt a hidin' place.
It's wuth a silver dollar
Ef you run de winnin' race!
—Atlanta Constitution.

—For their work during the month of November, the mine workers in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania have received an increase of seven per cent on the rate of wages fixed by the Anthracite Strike Commission. The Commission, after awarding a general increase in wages, provided that there should be a further increase of 1 per cent for every advance of five cents in the average tidewater price of the domestic sizes of coal. As the average price was $4.86 in November, this entitles the mine workers to 7 per cent. more pay for the month. This applies to all classes of employes.

EASY FOR THE RED SOX

Defeat the Gianis by 225 in Makaria League

The Red Sox put it all over the Giants on Monday evening in the Makaria bowling league, winning two games out of three and leading on totals by over 200 pins. The Red Sox were at their best in the first string and the Giants started very weak, the totals were 726 to 538. The Red Sox let up a little in the second and found it so easy to defeat the Giants, that they were caught napping in the third string, which the latter won by 52 pins. The three string totals were: 2031 to 1816 in favor of the Red Sox. Stanley Bates of the Giants was high man on singles with 171 and Eggleton of the Red Sox led on totals with 461.

The summary:

RED SOX.

Chas. Ganzel	134	107	125	366
R. Ganzel	148	151	117	416
Eggleton	165	158	138	461
T. King (capt.)	128	138	123	389
H. Brooks	151	146	102	399
	726	700	605	2031

GIANTS.

Bonney	81	101	142	324
Melville	78	105	97	280
Frohwen	140	125	161	426
S. Bates	115	171	152	438
Dell (capt.)	124	119	105	348
	538	621	657	1816

EIGHT CENTS A DAY.

Workers' Pay In England When Board Was a Shilling a Week.

There was a time when a workman in England received 8 cents a day as an ordinary wage, when skilled artisans commanded 12 cents a day and when women worked in the field at such tasks as reaping straw, hoeing, planting beans and washing sheep for 2 cents a day, and a wise student of the subject has expressed the opinion that the British workman of that day was better off than he has ever been since then.

That sounds paradoxical. But the explanation is this: The workman who sold his services for 8 cents a day could buy good beef or mutton for 1½ cents a pound. Wheat cost him on the average only 18 cents a bushel. He could get board for 12 to 16 cents a week. The pay he would receive for fifteen weeks' services would suffice to purchase a supply of suitable foodstuffs, according to the standard of his time (consisting of wheat, malt and oatmeal), to maintain his family for an entire year.

Under these circumstances 8 cents a day—increased to 12 cents in harvest time—was a fair wage, and "times were good" for the average workman. —McClure's Magazine.

Overlooked.

It was in Italy. Dawson had just received his hotel bill, duly itemized.

"I guess it's all right," he said, running his eye over the items. "You don't seem to have forgotten much, if anything—lights, service, the use of plates at three meals a day—ah, yes, you have omitted one very considerable item."

"Ah?" said the landlord with a pained look on his face and an indulgent glance at the cashier.

"Yes," said Dawson, "you left out 350 freckles on my daughter's nose last Thursday."—Life.

Not Necessarily Personal.

"You used that word 'donkey' several times in the last ten minutes. Am I to understand that you mean anything of a personal nature?"

"Certainly not. There are lots of donkeys in the world besides you."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Real Pretty Excuse.

Bessie's Mother—Bessie, did you let that Mr. Snuggle have a kiss? Bessie—Yes, mamma. He said it would be a goodby kiss, and I was just dead anxious to have him go.—Puck.

The judicious reader of judicious advertisements always gets more than his money's worth.—Florida Times-Union.

An Old Song Resung.

The north wind doth blow,
And we shall have snow,
And what will the farmer do then, poor thing?
He'll sit in the barn
With hay, wheat and corn
And count up the profit they'll bring, poor thing!
—Indianapolis News.

Most of 'Em.

Hewitt—And the goose hangs high.
Jewett—Of course; all edibles are high.—New York Press.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-1. Haymarket 2440

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—On Wednesday morning between Woodward institute and depot, or in the depot a small blue pocket book containing a sum of money and four keys on a chain. Reward if Woodward Institute is notified. Dec. 10-3t

Knew Her Aim.

Willie Wiggles—Tommy Scrabbles' ma sent him to get a switch to use on him, and he fetched her a stone and told her to throw it at him.

BURNT CORK.

The Paste Used by Minstrel Performers When "Blacking Up."

The popular impression as to the application of burnt cork by minstrel performers and actors in general is that it is rubbed on the face and hands of the player from a cork whose end is charred in a convenient gas jet. This impression is, however, incorrect. The burnt cork used by minstrels and others is the product of the theatrical "paint factories," just as is any other cosmetic or pigment employed by the profession.

One house makes it in the following manner: The corks are placed in three tin vessels, resembling wash boilers, with holes punched in their sides and bottom. Alcohol is sprinkled over the corks, and they they are "fired." When the corks have been properly charred they are placed in muslin sacks, which are kneaded in barrels of water. This operation forces the powdered charcoal through the sacks into the water.

When all the charred corks have been worked through the sacks into the water in this way the water is drained through a close canvas sack, and what remains in that sack is ready for the performers. The stuff is put up in cans, from which, when the minstrel is ready to "black up," he takes a little of the black paste in his hands and applies it to his face, neck and sometimes his hands.—New York Herald.

Tung Po and Teamaking.

There is but one way of making tea, for—

Unless the water boiling be
To pour on water spoils the tea.

The teapot itself should be heated very hot before the tea is placed in it and the boiling water poured on. It should be scalding hot water or the leaves will float to the top.

No less authority than Tung Po, the Chinese poet, is quoted for a recipe for teamaking. He says: "Whenever tea is to be infused take water from a running stream and boil it over a lively fire. It is an old custom to use running water, boiled over a lively fire. That from springs in the hills is said to be best and river water the next, while well water is the worst. A lively fire is a clear, bright charcoal fire. When making an infusion do not boil the water too hastily. At first it begins to sparkle like crabs' eyes, then somewhat like fish's eyes, and lastly it boils up like pearls innumerable springing and waving about. This is the way to boil water."

"Touch Not the Queen."

Under this title a Paris journal professes to give an account of the tragic death of the queen of Siam, who was as greatly loved as her consort. Some years ago her majesty was boating with ladies of the court in a lake in the gardens of the palace at Bangkok. The boat overturned, and the queen could not swim. She was surrounded by numerous personages who could have saved her life, but no one has the right to extend the hand upon the queen. The king alone could have held her up and prevented her from sinking, and he was nowhere at hand. Respectfully the court allowed the queen to drown.

Chippendale's Own.

"Is it genuine Chippendale?"

"Absolutely, sir."

"But this looks like a crack right across"—

"Done by Chippendale himself, sir, in a fit of rage when he heard the union had called the men out."—London Punch.

The Other Was Important.

"Two great desires of my life have been gratified. One was to go up in an airship."

"And the other?"

"To get safely back to earth."—Exchange.

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced maker and saleslgirl for Millinery store. Apply at 3 Granite street, Quincy. Dec. 13-3t

WANTED—One special mechanic (machinist) at $4.48 per diem. A competitive examination will be held January 6, 1911, for the purpose of filling the above position. For further information address "Commandant, Navy Yard, Boston, Mass." Dec. 12-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two parlor stoves in good condition. Apply to 1260 Hancock street, Quincy. Left bell. Dec. 10-3t

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

TO LET

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 1. Dec. 2--11t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET—Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Erieson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 28-2. Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished, Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

As a FAMILY DAILY PAPER has no equal and is appreciated by ADVERTISERS

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 290 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 14, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

HIGHER PRICES IMPERATIVE IN GRANITE INDUSTRY

Considerable Work in Quincy But Profits Have Been Small, Say Manufacturers

President Murray Reelected at Meeting of Association

The granite manufacturers of the city turned out in large numbers on Tuesday afternoon for the annual meeting and banquet of the Granite Manufacturers Association at the New American House, Boston. Harmony prevailed and there was a stronger feeling that cooperation could secure all that was needed.

The election resulted in the reelection of President Murray, the list of new officers being:

President—John C. Murray.
Vice President—Alfred O. Diack.
Treasurer—James Joss.
Secretary—T. J. Dunphy.
Executive Committee—The President, Vice President and Treasurer ex-officiis with Joseph Walker, Andrew Johnson, Edward D. Marnock, Thomas Bishop, Edward H. Kavanagh and Gaspare Restelli.
Membership Committee — Robert Cantley, George Clark, Alexander Mundie, P. W. Mannex and Richard Gordon.

THE BANQUET.

The banquet which followed the business meeting was served in the large dining room on the street floor and was enjoyed by about 175. With the exception of a few guests all are identified with the granite industry of Quincy.

At the head table on the platform were:

President John C. Murray.
Mayor William T. Shea.
Seward W. Jones, president of National Association of Granite Industries.
Robert D. Smith, secretary of National Association of Granite Industries.
Thomas J. Dunphy, secretary of Quincy Granite Manufacturers Association.
Alfred O. Diack.
John L. Miller, chairman of School Committee.
R. F. Claflin, cashier National Granite Bank.
Frank F. Prescott, editor Daily Ledger.
Wellington W. Mitchell
Henry McGrath
William T. Spargo
A. M. Hunt
William J. Parker

The head table was set lengthwise of the hall on the side, and was attractive with chrysanthemums, pinks and other flowers. The members of the association were seated at large round tables accommodating nine or ten each.

The menu was very satisfactory.

President Murray presided at the post prandial exercises and was pleased at the large attendance. He referred to the large number of members who died during the past year, and to others who had retired from business, and welcomed the new blood. He thanked the members for his reelection, and said it had been the endeavor of the officers to elevate the granite business of Quincy. We had been successful in getting work, but not in getting proper prices. Prices must be increased. Referring to the demand of the granite cutters, he advocated an early settlement that we may know where we are at. By concerted effort prices for work can be increased.

MAYOR SHEA.

Mayor Shea when introduced also thanked the gentlemen present for his election as Mayor. He hoped all got their stone chips away during the year. (Laughter.) He also urged a speedy settlement with the Granite Cutters Union. A better state of affairs existed in the granite industry than a year ago. Enough men were assembled here to regulate prices of Quincy granite or anything else in Quincy. Quincy stone is the best established in the country.

His honor referred to the duties of Mayor and said it was purely a business proposition, the management of a large corporation. We are doing the best we can with the amount at our disposal. He proposed to go to the Legislature again in January and ask that the party designation of all candidates for city office be removed from the ballot and he wanted the support of this organization. This association should also be a help to the Mayor in other directions, and he invited suggestions and advice, not at election time, but throughout the year. (Applause.)

PRESIDENT JONES.

The president of the National Association told a number of good stories. It was not true, he said, that he could not say a good word for Quincy granite, for it was a fair granite. He had sold lots of it. He hit several Quincy men who sell Westerly and other granite. The National association was getting along well. The list of ratings alone was a great help to all manufacturers and Secretary Smith was a good man to look after it. Progress was also being made in securing better freight rates. But manufacturers have failed in one thing and that was, to get fair value for their work. It was really the one thing, and this association could do it. (Applause.)

Ex-Councilman Peter T. Fallon arose at this point to ask President Jones a question, but spoke at length in advocacy of municipal docks in Quincy. Shipment of granite by water might bring the railroads to terms.

R. F. Claflin spoke against party politics in city officers, and endorsed the books of ratings. He thought the country had passed through its commercial crisis, and that we might now look for an improvement. He thought the granite industry had suffered as little as any business, and that Quincy had maintained itself better than other places. Not until the country gets through meddling with industries will the country prosper. In Quincy very few rich men are in the business, but they have maintained themselves well. He paid a tribute to the honorable, upright class of men who were in the Quincy granite business.

Stanley J. Sullivan, a successful salesman of granite, was then introduced, and told several drummers' stories. He said he had been selling monuments for 18 years, and told the Quincy association they would have no trouble in raising the price of Quincy granite. No reason why you cannot get together.

John L. Miller referred first to the move of Mayor Shea to strike party designation from candidates for city offices. He said it amused him after the Mayor had knocked the Republican party to a frazzle. It seemed like a move to perpetuate him as king. We should give our dock and water front commissioner some standing, and start a municipal dock. We could have one within half a mile of City Hall on Town river. It would mean so much to the granite industry to the city. With such a dock we could have supplied all the granite for rip rap work on the Cape Cod canal. Dock should not be above the drawbridge. As soon as we begin to ship by water the railroad will be quick to respond.

During the evening all the up-to-date popular airs were rendered by an orchestra, and at 9.15 the banquet closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Established 1852
646-658 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

R. E. FOY & CO.
TENDER SWEET CORN
We have three brands that are Leaders
Hatchet, Lilac and Bridal Bell
And we can recommend everyone of them to be of first quality.
Kernels are large, sweet and tender and full of milk.
All of this corn is the best Maine packing.
Order some of it today.
2 cans 25 cts. $1.35 doz.
R. E. FOY & CO. Water cor. Quincy Street
Dec. 14-2t
PHONE 117
MARKET GROCERY

Collection of Ashes

Dec. 14, 1910.

Notice is hereby given of the days for the collection of ashes in the various wards of the city of Quincy.

Ward 6	Monday
Ward 1	Tuesday
Ward 5, west of R. R. track	Wednesday
Ward 5, east of R. R. track	Thursday
Wards 3 and 4	Friday
Ward 2	Saturday

Ashes must be out the morning of the days stated above in the respective wards otherwise they cannot be taken.

Per Order, Board of Health,
F. R. BURKE, Secretary.
Dec. 14-1t

LATEST

HATTIE LE BLANC ACQUITTED

Jury in Glover Case Make Quick Work of It

"Not guilty," was the verdict of the jury this noon in the murder case of Clarence F. Glover of Waltham, for which Hattie LeBlanc, a 17 year old girl was on trial. The case had been on trial for two weeks, but the verdict was reached in about fifteen minutes. The verdict was generally anticipated.

In charging the jury as to certainty of the crime Judge Bond said:

"Now I wish to refer to the certainty with which this crime must be proved. It is not enough for you to find that the defendant might have killed Glover or that possibly she killed Glover, or that probably she killed him.

"You must be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt. A reasonable doubt that is precluded only when the circumstances in the case are of a conclusive nature and of the tendency to point to a single conclusion. The jury have in all cases a certain difficulty. That is to decide who has told the truth.

There was a scene of jubilation in the court room and on the street when the verdict of the jury was announced. Miss LeBlanc will be able to spend Christmas at her Nova Scotia home.

THE W. R. C. ELECTION

Mrs. E. E. Marnock President for Ensuing Year

At the regular meeting of Paul J. Revere, W. R. C., 103 held Tuesday afternoon in G. A. R. hall. About fifty members were in attendance and the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Past President—Mrs. Cora Carman.
President—Mrs. Emma E. Marnock.
Senior Vice President—Mrs. Mary E. Powers.
Junior Vice President—Mrs. Mary P. Tilley.
Treasurer—Mrs. Laura E. Holt.
Chaplain—Mrs. E. Jennie Holton.
Conductor—Mrs. Mary E. Spooner.
Guard—Mrs. Sarah C. Williams.
First Delegate—Mrs. Annie G. Grignon.
Second Delegate—Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman.
First Alternate—Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell.
Second Alternate—Mrs. Marion Baker.

In the evening a public whist was given, the following were the successful ones: Mrs. Anna Gould, M. Lizzie Furnald, Mrs. Sarah C. Williams, Mrs. Lucy G. Fletcher, Mrs. Mary Thomas and Mrs. Beatrice Porterfield.

FIRE AT WOLLASTON.

The alarm from Box 56 at 9.27 this morning was for a fire in the basement of the house at the corner of Fayette and Brook streets, Wollaston, owned by Aurelia Merrill and occupied by Mrs. Keith. It caught near the furnace and was extinguished with a chemical stream with but little damage.

—Have you sealed your letter with a Christmas Seal?

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

WOLLASTON GLEE CLUB

Make a Hit with "The Merry Ducks" and other Selections

Before an audience of vast proportions the Wollaston Glee club under the direction of their conductor John A. Crowley, sustained their enviable reputation with their first concert of the season in the Wollaston Congregational church on Tuesday evening.

The club was assisted by Anna C. Cambridge, soprano; Edward E. Bullock, tenor; Mary T. Ellis violinists; and Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, accompanist. Although called into service through the sudden illness of William E. Weston, the club's regular accompanist, Mrs. Smith through her efficient work played no small part in the evening's success.

In her soprano solos Miss Cambridge disclosed a clear voice with a quality and range which proved especially pleasing to those present.

Miss Ellis on the violin was the recipient of continued applause owing to the style and technique displayed in the numbers in which she took part.

Edward E. Bullock, whose rare tenor voice ever finds favor with those of his home city, was at his best and kept the audience dwelling on every note.

For the chorus work of the club too much praise cannot be given. In perfect harmony and rhythm the club were at all times under the subjection of their conductor, producing effects worthy of an even more critical audience than Wollaston can produce.

The evening's program which follows would not be complete without a mention of the chorus selections "The Merry Ducks" its quack, quack, quack, chorus bringing down the house.

The following program was rendered:

March of the men of Harlech
Chorus
Sing, break into song — Mallinson
Miss Cambridge
Just being happy — Jacobsen
Chorus
Concerto — Vieuxtemps
Adagio-Religioso — Finale-Allegro
Miss Ellis
Babe of Bethlehem — Bartlett
Miss Cambridge, Miss Ellis
Mrs. Smith and Chorus
Love is the light of the world
Mr. Bullock — MacDonald
The long day closes — Sullivan
Chorus
Irish love song — Lang
Danza — Chadwick
Miss Cambridge
Kitty Magee — Parker
The merry ducks — Speiser
Chorus
Meditation (Thias) — Massenet
The butterfly — Hubay
Miss Ellis
Prayer of Thanksgiving — Kremser
Chorus

PLAY PRESENTED FOR LADIES ONLY

"Pygmalion and Galatea" a Delightful Matinee for Quincy Women's Club

Given Under Direction of Mrs. Charles Bickford

After weeks of anticipation the play of the Quincy Women's club was presented Tuesday afternoon at Music hall, all the club members and as many of their friends as possible being in attendance at the opening of the doors.

In the club calendar each committee provides an afternoon's program for the regular meetings of the club and for its afternoon the Art and Literature committee, Mrs. Charles Bickford chairman, decided to give the play "Pygmalion and Galatea."

The scene of the play is in Pygmalion's studio in Athens and is given in three acts. As the curtain arose it disclosed the studio with its pieces of statuary and the slave Agesimos at work during the absence of his master.

From the beginning the play went forward with fine action, each actor being letter perfect and fitting the part as to costume and acting as though it were but an every day occurrence with them. The cast was as follows:

Pygmalion, an Athenean sculptor,
Miss Marjorie Fay
Leucippe, a soldier,
Mrs. George L. Badger
Chrysos, an art patron,
Miss Mary Perkins
Agesimos, Chrysos' slave,
Mrs. Edward B. Marsh
Minos, Pygmalion's slave,
Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield
Galatea, an animated statue,
Miss Mollie Brown
Cynisca, Pygmalion's wife,
Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney
Daphne, Chrysos' wife,
Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell
Myrine, Pygmalion's sister,
Mrs. George H. Brown

What shall be said of the actors? What can one say of an all star cast where all were so good that to pick out one for special praise is hard? One perhaps may think the beautiful statue as portrayed by Miss Brown the bright particular star. Wasn't she good! Such grace of figure and action such sweet ingenuousness. Her interpretation was fascinatingly perfect in every detail. As a statue come to life she certainly succeeded in causing many complications and much trouble for every one she came in contact with. Falling in love with Pygmalion, caused jealousy on the part of his wife and led to difficulties that were only solved by her return in the last act to her pedestal and again become a marble statue.

In striking contrast was Daphne, so understandingly interpreted by Mrs. Tirrell. The arrogant matron with money and an overbearing idea of her importance was capitally well done, as was Chrysos by Miss Perkins, who imparted much individuality to the part. And Miss Fay as Pygmalion; Mrs. Gurney as Cynisca his wife; Mrs. Badger as Leucippe the warrior bold; Mrs. Brown, his sweetheart Myrine and the two slaves as portrayed by Mrs. Litchfield and Mrs. Marsh were more than satisfactory, each bringing much personality and understanding to the part.

Throughout the play there was frequent laughter and applause, also many curtain calls as well as flowers passed over the footlights.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the participants and there are others that contributed much although not visible to the audience,—Prof. and Mrs. Bickford who for weeks have attended rehearsals and directed the play to its final presentation. As stage manager, Prof. Bickford is to be congratulated on the success of the play. Miss Georgiana Lane was in charge of the make-up and others aided in many ways.

White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

WOOD for SALE
$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree
Tel. 15-3 Braintree
Dec. 12-1f

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

QUINCY MARKET
Specials for Today Only
Salt Pork 10c lb
Sirloin Steak 15c lb
Short Cut Rump Steak 23c lb
Good Rib Roast 10c lb
Thick End Corned Beef 12 1-2c lb
3 cans Peas 25c
Twenty other Bargains
QUINCY MARKET
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
Dec. 14-1t

Buy Furniture The Easy Way
It's difficult for some folks to save up money to buy new home furnishings. They make the start all right but before they get very far something else comes along and the money saved is used for other things. Now the easy and safe way is the best way. Come to this store—open an account—let us deliver to your house at once the things you need and we accept your promise to pay a little each week. It's our co-operative way of helping the man who finds it hard to make both ends meet under present conditions. Come in and talk it over.
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock St., Quincy. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 14—1t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 203 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

One seal for a penny, you'll take how many?
Red's for the glow of the Christmas cheer;
White's for the peace of the brand new year;
Green's for the brow, not for the bier,
Who'll drop a penny instead of a tear
To lessen the list in the brand-new year?

CHRISTMAS MAIL.

The following countries refuse to admit to their mails articles bearing non-postage 'Christmas' stamps, or other adhesive charity stamps or labels Guatemala, Portugal and Uruguay (if they resemble regular postage stamps.)

The following countries will admit articles bearing such stamps, but only when affixed to the reverse and not the address side: Antigua, Austria, Barbadoes, Bermuda, British, East Africa, British Honduras, British North Bornea, British Somaliland, Cayman Islands, Cyprus, Dominica, Falkland Islands, Gambia, Germany, Gibraltar, Gold Coast, Jamaica, Mauritius and dependencies, Montserrat, Nevis, Saint Christopher, Saint Lucia, Saint Vincent, Seychelles, Sierra Leone, Southern Nigeria, Trinidad, Turks and Caicos Islands, Uganda, Virgin Islands (provided they do not resemble postage stamps); Great Britain, Southern Rhodesia, Transvaal.

Articles liable to be refused admittance to any of the foregoing countries on account of the fact that they bear charity stamps, will not be dispatched from this country, but will be returned to the sender, if known. If the sender is not known, such articles will be sent to the dead letter office, Washington, D. C.

In addition to discrimination in this matter of placing Christmas stamps on mail matter, there is great need for discrimination as to the manner of sending articles through the mail. Some patrons place small articles in letter envelopes, sealed and making first-class mail matter, and that as a result the letters and oftentimes the articles are mutilated in the method of handling required by the department. All letters, by rule of the department, must be run through the canceling machine. Prior to placing them in the machine the post office clerks make a necessarily hurried touch examination of the letter packages, removing from the packages all letters which appear, through unusual shape, to contain articles. These package letters are then singly placed under the hand stamp and are thus sent on their way. But many times the touch system of inspecting the letters fails to reveal the presence of letters carrying articles, and the result is that the letters are put through the canceling machine, much to their damage. The contour of the enclosed article is quite apt to cause a tear of the envelope, and the pressure of the machine further mutilates the letters and sometimes destroys the value of the article itself.

Therefore, if patrons will bear this in mind, they will save themselves considerable trouble and mental anguish. If, instead of placing the small articles in sealed envelopes, thus requiring the high first-class rate, they would wrap the articles in some irregular shape, securely tied, the postage would be less and there would be far greater chance of the article going through to destination without being mutilated. These cautions are particularly applicable at this season of the year, just prior to the great gift-giving time, and the attention of patrons is urgently directed to the necessity for greater care in preparing packages for the mail, as well as for watchfulness as to the foreign country rules regarding the placing of Christmas stamps and seals on letters and packages.--Barre, Vt., Times.

PARENTS TO BLAME.

A Massachusetts judge, who deals every day with juvenile offenders, declares that the bad boy's misdemeanors are the fault of his parents. "If parents," he says, "had more common sense about bringing up their children there would be precious few 17-year-old, 16-year-old, 20-year-old burglars and pickpockets."

Perhaps, because they are women, mothers generally have more success in bringing up their boys. Not infrequently it happens that the father of a family is heeded quickly by the boys, while the mother's requests and commands are regarded lightly. This is because the mother has failed to regard her boys from a man's point of view. After all, in dealing with young sons, it is not so very difficult to get the father point of view and treat them as boys, instead of girls. The father's point of view is often most successfully missed by the very mothers who feel they have acquired it. One of these remarked the other day, with no little pride, as her young son tore, yelling, through the parlor. "Oh, yes, I always let Harry make all the noise he likes in the house. You know, if a mother doesn't let her boys have a good time at home they will soon go to very undesirable places in search of fun."

The mother was right in that conclusion. But she erred in her opinion about the sort of good time the boy ought to have at home. Without putting any hardship on the youngsters, it is easy enough to teach them that their good time must not interfere with the good time of other members of the family. Yelling is great fun—for the boy. It is torture for the mother who is trying to get a nap, and for the sister who is trying to get her Latin lesson. It is pretty certain that if the man of the house were at home the noise would stop in short order. This mother in attempting not to mollycoddle her boy had permitted him to impose shamefully on herself and on the rest of the family. She had overlooked the happy medium between the effeminate boy and the savage. Had she shown him how yelling and slamming doors troubled him when he wanted to read or write, the boy would soon have learned where legitimate fun ends and imposition begins.

Naturally, a boy has rights in the home. A few mothers err in repressing the boy unduly while he is in the house. He is a member of the family, and therefore he has privileges as well as obligations. He should have some tasks to do round the house, but he should be made to feel that he is doing them for a home which is his as much as it is someone else's, and not that he is doing them because "mother says he must and that's all there is about it."

The father, having been a boy himself, is more apt to see justice done. He knows that a boy must be recognized as a member of the household, but he also knows that a boy is only one member and not the whole, and he is quick to notice any usurpation of privilege as well as any withholding of it.

Why is it that if anyone must have an unattractive room, up in the garret, half full of broken down furniture it is the boy? His sisters have delightful rooms. Why is he given the worst in the house? Probably chiefly because mother attends to the household arrangements. She feels that a boy wouldn't appreciate dainty lace curtains, pink paper, polished furniture with rosebud dimity cushions—and she is correct. But a boy appreciates a boy-room and has a right to one.

Let him fix it up as he likes, only insisting that he keep it reasonably "fixed up." Don't store all the odds and ends of uselessness in his den. Give him solid wooden furniture, a desk for his papers, book shelves for his books and specimens, a good lamp to read by. Teach him to be careful of his furniture, but don't put in his room the white enamelled kind that soils and scars easily. Above all things don't paper his room so delicately that not a nail can be driven into the wall and not a class flag hung in the corner. Make the room, or, better, allow your son to make the room, a real boy's room. He will call it his "den." And you will find that instead of wandering about the street in search of amusement he will gather his boy friends together in his room for an evening's fun. Then if you want to gain the everlasting admiration of your son and his friends, slip down into the kitchen, prepare some little "spread" for the boys, take it up to them and have the good sense to withdraw so they may eat it by themselves.—Boston Herald.

—The Georgia railroad has installed telephones for train dispatching.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE
LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove. 25c.

WILLIAM B. LEWIS

Objections Raised to His Proposed Appointment

OPPOSITION TO LEWIS

Boston Negro May Not Be Made Assistant Atorney General

Washington, Dec. 14.—Objections to the proposed appointment of William B. Lewis, a negro attorney of Boston, as an assistant attorney general are being presented to Attorney General Wickersham.

President Taft's intention to appoint Lewis was learned semi-officially at the White House several weeks ago. Booker T. Washington called upon Wickersham yesterday to urge his approval of the appointment.

TWO WAITERS BUY BIG CHICAGO HOTEL

American People's Liberality In Tips Is Appreciated

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Max L. Tech and Carl Roester paid $1,000,000 and became the proprietors of the Congress Square and its annex. They took the title from Richard H. Southgate, and the new proprietors say their present fortune is based upon good service and a tip they received from Southgate twenty years ago when waiters.

Since then Southgate, who built the Auditorium and the Congress, has always favored these young men. They saved their money, bought a few small hotels and now will enter the business in Chicago upon a large scale.

"We owe our start," said Tech, "to the liberality of the American people in giving tips."

MYERS WILL IS INVALID

Estate of $6,500,000 Comes Into Direct Possession of Heirs

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 14.—The will of the late George S. Myers, millionaire tobacco manufacturer of St. Louis, has been declared invalid by the superior court. The court held that Myers was of unsound mind when he executed the instrument last April. The contest over the will involved property valued at $6,500,000.

Myers died recently at Redlands, Cal., leaving a will which placed the property in trust for a period of seventy-five years for the benefit of three daughters and grandsons. The result of the decision will be that the property goes directly to the heirs.

OVER SEVEN FEET TALL

New Arrival From Holland May Make Home In United States

New York, Dec. 14.—America has welcomed a new giant. He is Herman J. Onnes of Groningen, Holland, and stands 7 feet, 2½ inches in his stocking feet.

Onnes arrived on the steamship Noordam. He is a bachelor, 40 years of age, and is fairly well to do. The visitor says he may determine to make the United States his home, and with this idea in view will make a trip to Minnesota to see if he can find any land that might suit his fancy. And he is willing to marry.

INTEREST IS FLAGGING

Coalition Still In the Lead In Elections In Great Britain

London, Dec. 14.—The election continues to drag wearily along. The public has lost interest and the newspapers have given up publishing late editions.

The standing of the parties is as follows: Government coalition—Liberals, 199; Nationalists, 58; Independent Nationalists, 9; Laborites, 36; total, 302. Opposition—Unionists, 240.

Congressman Cook Near Death

Washington, Dec. 14.—Representative Joel Cook of Pennsylvania, who suffered a second stroke of apoplexy here last Saturday, has been taken to his home in Philadelphia. There is little hope of his recovery.

Steamer Burned to Water's Edge

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 14.—The steamer General Lee caught fire here and burned to the water's edge. The crew of fifteen had a narrow scape, but all were saved.

BALDWIN WAS NOT PRESENT

His Chair Vacant In New Haven Banquet Hall

ROOSEVELT IS CHIEF GUEST

No Step Taken by Governor-Elect Toward Serving Papers on Former President In Suit Which He Said Was to Be Brought—Colonel Warmly Welcomed Upon His Arrival In City and at Big Dinner

New Haven, Dec. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt, as the guest of the chamber of commerce at its annual banquet last night, made his first public address since the recent elections.

Mr. Roosevelt was cordially greeted by a gathering of upwards of 600 of the most representative men of the business, commercial interests and the professions of the state, for the banquet had more than ordinary significance through the presence of the chief guest, who so recently was in controversy with the late chief justice of the supreme court of errors, Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, and who as the Democratic nominee for governor overturned the political complexion of the state, and as the governor-elect had been invited to attend.

Judge Baldwin did not attend and the place assigned to him at the guests' table bore mute evidence of his absence.

Mr. Roosevelt was escorted from New York by a committee of the chamber, headed by President Ullman, and upon his arrival at the station here a very large crowd was in waiting.

As Roosevelt showed himself on the platform the men cheered and the women gave a Chautauqua salute so far as they could make their handkerchiefs show above the crowd. With a wave of his hat Roosevelt acknowledged the greeting and with a laugh and a happy remark to those who eagerly reached forth to shake his hand he edged his way through the crowd to an automobile which was in waiting.

The people who had greeted him were lined up through the station to the machine. Without delay Roosevelt was driven to the home of Ullman. Here a small number of friends were waiting to greet the guest.

At 7:30 Roosevelt and Ullman went to Woolsey hall, where a brief reception was held for the members of the chamber.

The coming here of Roosevelt had given rise to speculation as to whether Baldwin, following up the statement that he had made during the election canvass that a suit would be brought against Roosevelt on the basis of criticism contained in the Concord, N. H., speech, would attempt to serve papers in the action while he was in the state. At Baldwin's office earlier in the day it was stated that there was no reason to believe that any such step would be taken by Baldwin.

Mr. Roosevelt received the warmth of greeting from the chamber members which characterized the reception to President Taft a year ago. He sat at the table placed on a dais and the diners were at small tables all centred upon the dais. It was a notable fact that Governor Weeks was not present to represent the state nor was any member of the congressional delegation present, but the absence of these was due to other engagments, the governor attending a reception at Meriden to the national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, John E. Gilman.

The dinner was served in the dining hall of Yale university known as "Commons." The singing was led by a chorus of three dozen members of the chamber.

MUST PAY $10,000 DUTY

Mrs. Shonts' Failure to Declare Valuable Gems Was Not Wilful

New York, Dec. 14.—Collector Loeb disposed of the case of Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts, wife of the head of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, by assessing $10,800—the usual 60 percent—duty on jewelry appraised at $18,000 which was taken from Mrs. Shonts when she arrived from Europe last week.

The surveyor's investigation showed that there was no concealment of the jewelry, and that the failure of Mrs. Shonts to declare it was not wilful.

Lodge to Defend Himself

Boston, Dec. 14.—Senator Lodge will define his attitude on the revision of the tariff, reciprocity with Canada, free foodstuffs, direct election of United States senators and the income tax in a speech which he is to deliver in Symphony hall the first week of January.

White Slave Law Unconstitutional

Gainsboro, N. C., Dec. 14.—In the federal court here, two men, Quaster and Napier, charged with violating the white slave law, were found not guilty by Judge Boyd on the grounds that the law was unconstitutional in that it interfered with the principle of states rights.

SLAIN FOR HIS MONEY

Once Noted Lawyer Found Dead In a Chicago Lodging House

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Nathaniel B. Hyde, former United States commissioner for the southern district of Wisconsin, related to Governor Baldwin of Connecticut and a member of the New York and Wisconsin bars, was murdered in his room at his lodging house here. His head was battered in by a crowbar. Robbery is believed to have been the motive.

The slain man, who was more or less of a recluse, was a native of Vermont. His wife died ten years ago and since then he had been accounted eccentric. He was 76 years old.

DREADNOUGHTS DISARMED

Changes In Brazilian Navy as Result of Recent Mutinies

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 14.—Radical changes in the personnel of the Brazilian navy will be made, as a consequence of the two recent mutinies. The government has ordered the disarmament of the dreadnoughts Sao Paulo and Minas Geraes, the battleship Deodora and the scoutship Bahia.

Their crews have been already imprisoned in a fortress on the island of Villegaignon, in the centre of the bay. All of these warships will have new crews throughout.

DENIED EQUAL RIGHTS

Amendment Favoring Jews In Finland Rejected by Douma

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—The douma committee on the bill defining the rights of Russian subjects in Finland rejected an amendment giving the Jews equal rights.

The Octoberists favored subsequent legislation, and the Constitutional Democrats refrained from voting because they were opposed to meddling in Finnish affairs.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

A Useful Holiday Gift
SEALPACKERCHIEF
When you break the seal you hold in your hand a snowy, unfingered, ready-to-use Handkerchief, fresh from the board of an adept laundress.
Banner 1 for 10c
Pioneer 3 " 25c
True Blue 2 " 25c
Gilt Edge 1 " 25c
GEORCE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street, Quincy
Dec. 13 lo-tf

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods
Blue Label Ketchup 21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat 17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes 12 1-2c can
(This is a 17c value)
Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.
J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

READ DAILY LEDGER ADS.
QUINCY'S HOME NEWSPAPER

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

The Christmas meeting of the Charitable Tens Circle of King's Daughters will be held on Monday, December 19, at 3 P. M., at the home of Miss Spear 1168 Hancock street.

• • •

Two members of the Quincy Women's club contributed to the pleasure of another club on Monday afternoon, the Woman's club of Townsend, Mass. Mrs. Victor E. Miller gave her fine paper on "Celia Thaxter and her Island Garden" and Mrs. Frank J. Moore sang several of her poems set to music, making up a most delightful program.

• • •

Junior Friday club is to omit meetings during the Christmas holidays, their next meeting being on Jan. 2, a New Year's meeting.

• • •

Friday, "tea party day" is to be observed by the Daughters of the Revolution at the Parker house, Boston. The buffet lunch to be served between twelve and two o'clock is a new feature, sure to be appreciated. There will be a sale of Christmas gifts, an entertainment and reception.

• • •

Mrs. George W. Morton is hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday club with Mrs. William E. Alden in charge of the program. The club in its travels along the Mediterranean will reach at this meeting the beautiful Riviera and Western Italy.

• • •

Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern formerly of South Braintree, now of Worcester is the next speaker in the series of meetings by the Philergians of Braintree. His subject will be Robert Burns. There will be solos by Mrs. Albert L. Avery and a club tea. The meeting will be on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 20.

• • •

The Quincy Women's club does not meet again until Jan. 10th when ex-Governor Curtis Guild will be the speaker.

• • •

Wollaston Alliance holds its Christmas meeting on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 21. Mrs. H. L. Cate will give "The dawn of Christianity as illustrated by the story of Ben Hur" and there will be special Christmas music.

• • •

The regular meeting of the Hospital Aid association comes late in the month, the last Thursday the 29th being the fifth in the month. It will be the annual and will be held at the home of Mrs. William B. Rice, Adams street.

• • •

The midwinter meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs is to be held the first week in February at the Park Street church, Boston, the hostess club being the New Hampshire Daughters.

• • •

The Women's Missionary societies of the First Baptist church, Wollaston meet on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 21 with Mrs. C. E. Goodspeed of 94 Prospect avenue. The subject will be "India" and the speaker Miss Helen Newcomb.

• • •

Hon. Louis Brandeis who is very much in the public eye just now is to address the Quincy Women's club on April 11th under the auspices of the Philanthropy committee. He will speak on the Massachusetts Savings Bank Insurance and Pension System.

• • •

QUINCY ALLIANCE.

One of the Quincy Alliance meetings looked forward to each season is the Christmas party. This year it was held on Monday, afternoon in the chapel of First church and there was a large attendance. Besides the members an invitation had been extended to the Wollaston Alliance, Christ Church Guild, and the Mothers association all of which were represented.

Following the usual devotional service there was a short business session. It was announced that the Alliance would hold its children's Christmas party in the chapel Dec. 23 with Mrs. Thomas Fenno in charge and Mrs. E. G. Pratt would look after the refreshments.

Miss Marquand of Newburyport, who carried the greetings of the United States Alliance to the religious congress at Berlin last summer, gave a brief sketch of the trip and meetings. At the January Alliance meeting Mrs. E. C. Butler is to tell some of her experiences of the same trip.

The afternoon's program arranged by Mrs. Charles Bickford opened with a duet "The Lord is my Shepherd" sung by Mrs. Henry Tirrell and Mrs. N. S. Hunting, with Mrs. West at the piano. Other musical selections were "Calvary" by Mrs. Hunting; "I wait on the Lord" duet by Mrs. Tirrell and Mrs. Hunting and Mrs. Tirrell also sang solo parts in a reading given by Mrs. Bickford.

Several readings were given by Prof. and Mrs. Bickford full of the Christmas spirit, leaving the thought with the listeners that unselfishness, forgiveness and charity should be combined with the joyousness which the season brings. Both Professor and Mrs. Bickford were warmly greeted and the hearty encores after each reading showed the pleasure and appreciation of the audience, the singers also merited the cordial approval accorded them.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, Mrs. George W. Morton, Mrs. George G. Saville and Mrs. William B. Nichols. Refreshments were served in the church parlor the pourers being Mrs. Hunting and Miss Mary Nightingale.

D. A. R.

The Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. were entertained at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Barber 92 Elm avenue Monday afternoon, Mrs. Walter F. Jones, Regent in the chair.

Four new members were admitted. A committee to draw up constitution and by-laws was appointed as follows: the Regent, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Ida F. Waterhouse, Mrs. Edward A. Chase, Mrs. George T. Taylor, Mrs. William F. Kimball, Mrs. Joseph K. Barber and Mrs. Antoinette S. Paige.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Walter A. Poore and consisted of a group of songs by Miss Ida Louise Poore; an account of the unveiling of the Parker monument at Lexington, Oct. 20, read by Mrs. E. S. Tenney; Places of Historic interest in Quincy read by Mrs. Edward A. Chase and a short sketch of the six Josiah Quincys read by Mrs. Wm. S. Sayward. Miss Poore also sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. Jameson assisting.

JUNIOR ALLIANCE.

The Junior Alliance held its fifth regular meeting of the season in First Church chapel Monday evening. The subject of the evening, "The Unitarian Idea: Its Influence on Philanthropic Work," was presented by Mrs. George G. Saville in a delightful talk, in which she sketched the lives of Joseph Tuckerman, Dorothea Dix, Elizabeth Peabody, and Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, four prominent Unitarians whose noble work caused such great advance in the philanthropies of the last generation.

Dr. Tuckerman called "minister at large," to be remembered as the first to teach how to help the needy without pauperising them. Dorothea Dix accomplished the separate institution for the insane, and greatly improved prisons. Elizabeth Peabody, the aducator, the exponent of Froebel the Kindergartener, especially to poor children. Dr. Howe, whose enthusiasm for the Greeks and their liberty; and whose liberating of the blind, and the deaf-mutes, from the narrow life to which, previously, they had been left, made him world famous, and never to be forgotten.

Mrs. Saville interspersed these life-sketches with anecdotes gathered from her friends who had been personally acquainted with these four philanthropists.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Quincy Women's Club, the only one for the month, was held Tuesday afternoon at Quincy Music hall, the change from the clubhouse being necessary on account of so many desiring to attend the play arranged for the entertainment of the club by the Art and Literature committee.

For the first time since her election to the first vice presidency Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard presided over the deliberations of the club, the president Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney being unable to on account of taking part in the play. Mrs. Sheppard carried through the business graciously and quickly.

Reports by the secretary and treasurer were followed by committee reports. Mrs. Tenney of the Arts and Crafts committee said she would make no more announcements of sales as today was the last chance to buy Christmas gifts. Classes would be resumed after the holidays. Mrs. Shaw for the Civic committee reported the recent Assembly a success financially and socially. Also that jonquils and tulips had been planted at the clubhouse grounds for early spring blooming and chrysanthemums for the fall. Mrs. Mackay of the Education committee again announced the Twelfth Night Revels to be held by her committee on Jan. 5 at Alpha hall. Club members and friends were cordially invited to enjoy the frolic. It would be a costume party, any fancy or old time dress being suitable. Mrs. Smith of the Philanthropy committee said the recent talk at the clubhouse had convinced many that a paid secretary was a necessity in Quincy for associated charity work. A Thanksgiving party had been held at the Quincy Home and a Christmas entertainment was to be given there the evening of Dec. 20, Mrs. N. G. Nickerson being in charge.

Mrs. Sheppard said a word for the Red Cross Seals which were on sale in the hall and urged a liberal patronage.

While waiting for the play to begin the club enjoyed piano solos by Mrs. Mary Chandler West of Wollaston, whose selections and fine rendering called forth hearty encores before and between the acts.

An account of the play and participants will be found in another column.

FIVE PUBLIC BEQUESTS

Contained in Will of the Late Peter B. Turner

The will of Peter B. Turner was filed this morning with the register of probate. The will which it dated Jan. 31, 1908, makes a large number of private bequests and several public bequests, among which are the following:

Quincy Charitable society, $100.

Fragment society of the First church, $100.

Norfolk County King's Daughters Association, $100.

Quincy Historical society, $100.

Quincy City Hospital, $100.

Edward M. Wight, who is named as executor, is given the homestead on Saville avenue.

MONUMENTS TO WOMEN.

The statue of Frances E. Willard is the only one of a woman in the statuary hall of the national capitol.

A monument to Mary Ball Washington, mother of George Washington, has been erected at Fredericksburg, Va.

Margaret Haugherty, a baker, who left a fortune to the orphans of New Orleans, has a statue to her memory erected in that city.

Mary A. Cylahan, principal of a public school at Birmingham, Ala., for more than thirty years, has a statue in that city in Capital park.

There are two monuments to Hannah Dustin, a heroine of early colonial New England. One is at Concord, N. H., and the other at Haverhill, Mass.

Miss Jennie Wade, who was killed while baking bread for the Union soldiers on the battlefield of Gettysburg, has had a monument erected to her on the spot by the Woman's Relief corps of Iowa.

The most notable monuments in Elmwood cemetery, Memphis, Tenn., were erected in honor of Mattie Stephenson and Emily Sutton, who opened their doors to homeless victims of yellow fever in 1872 and nursed them until they both succumbed to the disease.

White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

NEW SAFES AT CITY HALL

Being Installed to Protect Public Records

Today is safe day at City Hall, as the new safes ordered to preserve public records have arrived, and are being put into position. One of the new safes goes into the Tax Collectors office, and another into the Board of Health office. In order to get these safes into the offices it was necessary to take down the casings about the doors, and a gang of men were at work Tuesday night after the hall closed doing this work. The safe now in the office of the Tax Collector will be moved into the office of the City Auditor on the Council chamber floor. In addition to the new safes, the large vault in the basement under the main entrance is being fitted with steel cases and shelves. The wooden shelves in the other vaults in the hall are also being removed and steel shelves being put in.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Quincy Employed Boys were defeated by the Lowell Employed boys on the floor of the latter last Saturday.

Trials for the indoor track team are held every evening. Quincy hopes to win the dual meet with Hyde Park on the 27th. The cups have been procured of the C. W. Hobbs Co., Everett, and will be on exhibition in Thompson's window Monday evening.

The Intermediates play Everett Intermediates Saturday afternoon at 3.30. The Juniors will play a team from one of the Braintree Grammar schools between the halves.

The Quincy 2nd team will play the Malden 1st team in the gymnasium Saturday evening. The latter won the first contest between the two by 2 points and the home team expects to come back Saturday.

The Employed Boys will play a Winthrop team alternating halves with the Quincy 2nd.

The 1st team will go to Bridgewater for a game with the Bridgewater Normal school.

Entries for the pool and checker tournaments for Juniors are coming in fast and the tournaments will be started next week.

The Quincy Adams extension club met in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. The usual large number turned out for the meeting.

The Wollaston club will meet in the vestry of the Wollaston Baptist church Thursday evening. "First Aid to the Injured" will be the subject of the speaker.

The Quincy Employed Boys hold a banquet this evening in the Association building. Captain "Bob" Fisher of the Harvard football team will be chief after dinner speaker. The banquet will be served at 6.30 in the assembly hall.

A. B. Claghorn, head of the social department of the Boston Y. M. C. A. will speak at the Saturday morning meeting. A general invitation is extended to all the boys in Quincy to attend this meeting at 9 o'clock on the 17th.

ZOROID

Founded 1893

TRADE MARK

THE Sanborn System of eye examination measures up to the latest scientific requirements. It is simple, thorough and effective. It gets results.

The Sanborn system means glasses especially designed and made for your individual case, adapted for your face, your occupation, your personal requirements.

Zoroid Lenses
Get Results.

Briggs S. Palmer. President.

SanbornS

3 Winter St.- Boston.

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER

Dec. 14-17

Milady's Mirror

"If a woman were so situated that she might have either a brush for cleansing her teeth or dental floss and a mouth rinse which would you consider she should choose?" was asked a well known dentist, and there was not a moment's hesitation in his answer.

"Floss and the rinse," he declared. "Dear me, if I could impress upon my patients the truth of this my income would decrease almost immediately.

"You see," he continued, "few persons apply a brush as it should be, and even when it is employed to the utmost it cannot remove all particles from between the teeth as thoroughly as would a piece of dental floss. If more persons would realize that minute pieces of food decay and create acids, and these constantly acting on the enamel cause cavities to appear, they would remove food particles after every meal and then use a mouth wash to disinfect the teeth and preserve the enamel.

"A brush is hardly more than a buffer for polishing the surface.

"Polishing the surface is necessary, of course. But when a toothbrush has been used in this fashion it should be held and drawn down on the upper jaw so that the bristles start at the tops of the teeth, finishing at the edges. This operation is reversed on the lower jaw by bringing the brush up. By this process many particles will come out.

"Following such treatment a piece of dental or soft silk embroidery floss should be passed between the teeth, and finally the mouth should be rinsed. Brush, floss and rinsing make the ideal care. Failing that, I should say use floss and a rinse.

"A mouth wash that is pleasant and effective is made by putting half a teaspoonful of spirits of camphor into a wineglassful of water.

"Another is made from one ounce each of tincture of myrrh and compound tincture of cinchona, diluted when used with twice this quantity of water.

"These are inexpensive and, if kept bottled on the washstand, can be used easily."

Good Aid For Beauty.

Do not go to bed tired and cramped and brain weary in a close room and lie in a huddled, tense heap, thinking for hours and tossing about. If you can't get relief to your lungs by fresh air before retiring insist upon plenty in the sleeping chamber. Undress and think and busy yourself in some trivial manner in a comfortable lounging robe. Do all your thinking before the light goes out, then go to sleep. Try to get the blood away from the head, not into it. To eat something light has this effect and induces sleep when reading would have the opposite effect. When you finally get ready for bed, draw some deep breaths of fresh air and lie down, not in a heap, but comfortably relaxed, a little on one side, preferably the right, so as to allow the heart free play.

A Healthful Stunt.

Digestion is largely a mechanical process, says a physician. Where the digestion is weak there is usually a weakness of the abdominal muscles, and with better diet, more thorough mastication, better rest and more regular habits must be included a system of exercise to strengthen the muscles and thus improve the peristaltic action of the stomach and the intestines, upon which digestion so largely depends. The massage roller is an excellent device for this purpose. Lie flat on the back, stretch the hands fully above the head, the finger tips touching the floor. Rise to the sitting posture, take hold of the feet and draw the knees up to touch the chest, stretch again and repeat. Walking on all fours is also beneficial.

For Your Hands.

A cooked potato is excellent as a means of cleaning and whitening the hands. The potato should be cut in half and rubbed over the backs and fingers after they have been soaked for a minute or two in warm water. Potato should be used in this manner instead of soap.

If the hands have become very much stained with ink, they should be rubbed with lemon juice. Should this fail to remove the stains, a good plan is that of adding a little pearl ash to water and dipping the hands in the solution, rubbing them well with a piece of flannel until the marks have disappeared. Care must be taken to avoid washing them with soap for some time afterward or the spots will reappear.

Beauty Showers For Brides.

In order that all brides may remain indefinitely as pretty as on their wedding day it is now becoming popular to give them things which will aid them in preserving their complexion. Beauty showers for the bride are miles ahead of linen showers. The beauty shower consists of every kind of crystal and silver receptacle for the toilet table, all filled with those magic lotions which promote good looks.

HELD IN $10,000 EACH

Man and Woman Charged With Kidnapping Are Indicted

New York, Dec. 14.—The Kings county grand jury handed down indictments charging Marie Rappo and Stanislaus Battenzo, two Sicilians, with kidnapping and holding for ransom Guiseppe Longo and Michael Rizza, the 8-year-old Brooklyn lads who were recovered in a raid by detectives.

Eight others of the band under arrest in connection with the kidnapping escaped indictment at this time.

When the indictments were handed down the ten prisoners were arraigned before Judge Fawsett. Battenzo and Marie Rappo were held in $10,000 bail each. The others were held in $1000 bail each as material witnesses.

LIVES OF UNHAPPY COUPLE SNUFFED OUT

Attempt at Reconciliation Ends In Double Killing

Malden, Mass., Dec. 14.—Alonzo W. Campbell, after instantly killing Mabel W. Campbell, his wife, in her parents' home at 44 Wyeth street, when she refused a reconciliation, turned his revolver on himself, firing three shots, the last through his heart.

Campbell's father-in-law, Mr. Coffin, had succeeded in effecting a meeting between Campbell and the latter's wife, hoping to end the quarrel which had kept the young couple apart for three months.

The Campbells were married in Malden nine years ago, and had five children. Two of the children have been with Campbell's sister in North Adams. Mr. Coffin had taken two, and Mrs. Campbell had the baby.

Their married life was very unhappy. Campbell drank at times, and was frequently out of work. Several times they had separated for short periods, but, until the last quarrel, these separations had been of short duration, always patched up by the efforts of relatives.

The Campbells were of the same age, 28 years.

The Syrian patrol halted before the open window of the khan's captive, a girl from the hills.

"A message from my lord the khan," said he, salating, and laid upon the edge of the lattice a spray of almond.

The girl ripped off the delicate blossoms and handed back the barren twigs.

"The answer," she said. — Youth's Companion.

Only a pair of dark brown eyes;
Only a dimple sweet;
Only the clouded autumn skies;
Only a muddy street.

Only a glance from the eyes of brown;
Only a friendly smile;
Only a maid in a fetching gown;
Only a bit of guile.

Only a boy with an ardent heart;
Only a gust of rain;
Only a glance at a taxi cart;
Only a sudden pain.

Only a deeply anxious thrill;
Only a frown of rue;
Only a lone lorn dollar bill;
Only a swift skidoo!

—Harper's Weekly.

Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

THE HESSIANS.

They Were Good Soldiers, and Some Became Good Americans.

There is a popular belief among some people that the Hessian mercenaries brought here by the British government to fight the Americans remained here after the war was over and that their descendants constitute a considerable element of the Pennsylvania Germans of today. Comparatively few remained here after the war, because the British government was under contract to return such as escaped the casualties of the war after it was over. The few that remained made good citizens, as they made the very best soldiers against the Americans, and whenever it was practical to do so they were put in the most responsible places by the British commanders.

The intense hatred at one time against the so called Hessian soldiers, some of which still lingers with the present generation, is very unjust, because they did not volunteer to fight against the Americans, but they were forced into the British service by the impecunious German princes who sold them to the British like so many slaves. The Hessian soldiers would sometimes take a notion to desert, and they invariably found refuge among some of the German colonists. A considerable number of them were left behind from time to time on marches, on account of sickness or wounds. These always found a ready welcome among German settlers; few of them ever found the way back to their native land.—"Pennsylvania Germans," by William Beidelman.

Romeo and Juliet.

"Wherefore art thou, Romeo?" wailed the actress in the balcony scene. "In this present demand for thief plays if thou wert a porch climber and I were a second story worker there might be some money in the box office."—Washington Star.

Easy.

It is easy enough to be pleasant
When life flows by like a song
And some other poor cuss
Is making a fuss
Because everything's gone wrong.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Kick.

"He's always kicking about something."

"What's the matter now?"

"His wife is going to pay $2 more for his Christmas present this year than last year, and he can't see where the money's all going to come from."—Detroit Free Press.

Unappreciated.

The coming of old winter
Makes cowards of us all.
We creep into our overcoats
And for our mufflers call.
We wish we were opossums
That we might hibernate,
But it would help a trifle
If dad would call us late.
—Pittsburg Dispatch.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 379-3. Residence 323-2.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5

DR. A. B. PACKARD

HARVARD '05

DENTIST

JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS

27 GRANITE STREET

Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY

SELL THE DAILY LEDGER

THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR

Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

BRIEFS

The Young People's Religious union of First church is to hold its Christmas meeting on Sunday evening the 18th with special music in charge of William Weston.

The Pickwick club meets tonight with Miss Stegmaier and will discuss Public Hygiene under the leadership of Miss Hattie E. Sargent and John O. Hall.

Bids were received by the School Committee this week for furnishing fuel for the schools. Several bids have been received and will be opened Thursday evening at a special meeting of the committee.

Another wedding is announced for tomorrow evening at Salvation Army hall on Greenleaf street, when Charles Berglund and Miss Selma Grahn will be united in marriage by Major Christophersen of Boston. The public is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Gavin are in charge of the next meeting in the Braintree Cochato club course, which will be a concert on Friday night by the Lotus quintet, (a male quartet with a soprano soloist) and Miss Alice Jordan, reader.

LICENSE VOTE UNCHANGED

Municipal Contests in Fourteen Cities of Old Bay State

Boston, Dec. 14.—Although marked by several sharp contests, both for mayor and on the license question, the results of the elections held in fourteen Massachusetts cities yesterday showed practically no turnovers. No changes were recorded on the license votes. Following are the general results:

City.	Mayor Elected.	License.
Beverly	Dodge, O.	No
Chicopee	Fletcher, R.	Yes
Everett	Wasgatt, O.	No
Lowell	*Meehan, D.	Yes
Lynn	Connery,	No
Malden	*Fall, O.	No
Medford	Taylor, R.	No
Melrose	*Moore, O.	No
Newburyport	*Burke, O.	No
Newton	No mayor elected	No
Salem	Adams, O.	No
Somerville	Burns, R.	No
Woburn	*Murray, D.	No
Worcester	*Logan, R.	Yes

* Indicates re-election; O indicates no party designation;  government by commission—no party designation.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Eleven Days to Xmas

DEC. 14

Have You Bought Mother's Present Yet?

IN FASHION'S REALM

Coats and Skirts Trimmed Enough To Give Character

Separate Blouse on Peasant Lines Of Softest Fabrics

It may be imagination that street coat suits are more dashing and stylish than ever before, but if it is a fancy it assuredly is suggested by fact. There is something indescribable about the coat and skirt of today. It is a graceful compromise between the entirely plain suit of other days and the dressy affair that the French tried to foist upon us last Winter.

The American figure is not built for the kind of coat suits that the French evolve. The peculiar part about it is that the French know this better than we do, and they acknowledge it to Americans. They are truthful artists at times, and they have so much superiority over the rest of the world in clothes that they are willing to admit inferiority when it is obvious.

When Americans were ordering coat suits this Fall in Paris it was rather interesting to hear the designers say that they couldn't imagine why we looked to them for our uniform street garb; "your people do this thing better in America," they would say "you are the masters of street clothes, and your coat and skirt are made better by your own people than they are anywhere else in the world.

"If we attempt to make your severe, mannish suit we invariably make it wrong. We do not give the snappy lines that your tailors do. If we make a suit for you that has trimming on it our very traditions make us build that suit into something distinctive and ceremonial.

"The well-dressed American woman does not care to wear conspicuous coat suits between 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon, and she has now taken up the French idea of not wearing a coat suit after that hour if she is on pleasure bent

"So it seems to us she is ground between two millstones when she comes to us for her street suits. She would do far better to patronize her own tailors. They understand her needs and her figure. They know her opportunities and her mode of living. We do not. We build for her as we do for Europe. She does not have the same viewpoint as our women. She does not lead the same life and she adapts her clothing to occasions according to a creed of her own."

Up until two years ago the American woman wore a distinctively plain coat and skirt without braid or elaboration of any kind. She then took up the French idea of trimming. She adopted coats with quaint collars and waistcoats, and many bands and buttons. Her skirt were over-trimmed and swept the ground. She was instantly out of the picture in American life. She lost her individuality, and yet she gained nothing from the French. She was neither fish, flesh nor good red-herring.

She was absurd in her long skirts during the day hours, attending to the street errands of her busy life. Her Directoire coat was incongruous with its flaps flying in the wind and its tight sleeves.

If she had kept this suit for afternoon calls, luncheons and weddings, she might have been better dressed, but with the advent of the French coat suit had also come the adoption of the one-piece frock for all indoor afternoon wear. She wore this under a long coat. The latter fashion was correct and in good taste, as it is more complimentary to your hostess and to the social condition in general to change from a street gown into a house gown when you become a guest.

But the one fashion left no room for the other, and the long skirt and elaborate coat were worn on the street generally as long as the fashion prevailed. The dressy coat suit with a long skirt is now only seen in velvet and velveteen, with a bodice that is so much a part of the suit that, joined with the skirt, it makes a one-piece frock. Such a suit is kept for indoor occasions, and the coat is usually removed.

This fashion is not followed in street suits. We have eliminated the long skirt and we omit most of the elaboration.

The main addition to the present street suit which gives it a smart look is the extra wide, loosely woven silk braid which is both expensive and perishable. This must be added for truth's sake. It is an admirable trimming, however, as far as artistic result goes. It has none of the ornateness of satin and velvet. It looks entirely practical, and is a fitting adjunct to rough-surfaced cloth.

The only smooth fabric that is used for street suits this season is blue serge, and one cannot really call it smooth. It is only so by comparison with the other cloths that go to make up the suits of the Winter.

Against the rough ratines, homespuns, tweeds, and camel's hair the coarse heavy braid stands out well. A band of it is nearly always used on the skirt, at or below the knees, for we have by no means gotten away from the fashion of cutting off the skirt in some way, even if we do not subscribe to the strict peasant band that was brought out in the summer.

There is not only the band of braid, but also wide tucks of varied width put below or above it. Such trimming would be disastrous to the short, stout figure, but it is a fashion nevertheless.

The skirt itself has grown shorter than even the first models shown in the Autumn. Evidently the smart tailors were a bit afraid to produce the excessively short skirt that Paris offered, but they needn't have been, because the American women have decided on it for themselves. Many of the skirts are cut off four inches from the ground, and two inches is usual.

With the extra high boots of tan and black kid that women wear on the streets the effect is not immodest or unbecoming. It is only when it is worn by a woman whose hips are too heavy for such shortness that it loses all smartness and becomes ugly. This is hard on the woman who is heavily formed, but most things are hard for her this winter.

Eternal vigilance is the price of her being well dressed, for she must watch every turn and twist of the styles to make them adaptable to her needs.

The fashion for a blouse to match or harmonize with the suit has become so acceptable to the majority that a white muslin one looks quite out of place when a coat is removed for any reason. They are worn under coats for the morning hours, but a woman should realize that the fashion demands she keep on her coat if she wears a white blouse. It is now the fashion to keep this on at luncheons or in public places of any kind, so one does not draw attention to one's self by doing it.

Far better wear wash silk blouses, however, than the white ones. The former have neutral backgrounds of colored stripes that match to some degree the colors used in the coat and skirt. Because of this they are not such a glaring contrast if one does wish to take the coat off.

Possibly the one thing that has put the white muslin blouse out of commission to a large extent is the extension skirt. It does away with the belt and buckle which, as accessories, are necessary to the white sheer waists. It is the cutting of the line below the bust from one color to another that is so bad, and as the extension skirt is the only one in style, it is easy to argue out the diminishing popularity of the white wash blouse.

When it is worn it should be regarded as a man regards his shirt, to be worn under the coat, and only that way. The smart woman of today would no more think of taking off her coat in a public place, if she wore a white shirt, than a man would. Custom has given in to fashion thus far.

For everyday hours the wash silk blouse is preferred. It, with the white muslin one, is the only one not made in peasant fashion. It has its armhole and its separate sleeve, even if it does not have a shoulder seam. The latter should really be abolished in every waist, and it will be an artistic error for the dressmakers to ever revive it.

The separate blouse, which matches the skirt in color, if not in fabric has become such a thing of beauty and variety that it rivals the evening wrap. Designers have gone on a veritable orgy in both of them. There is no end to their luxury and their style.

The woman who has a good pattern for the blouse can have several made at home, and thus have the variety and cleanlines that the white blouses give. Chiffon cloth is the mainstay of those who make these waists, and all the satins play a leading part. Marquisette, which was used in the summer for unlined blouses, has not made its appearance to any extent this winter

It needs a lining when it is in colors, and for this reason chiffoncloth is preferable to it, as a softer and more becoming material. This is merely a matter of extreme fashion, and does not hinder those who like marquisette for its wearing qualities, from making it up into blouses. It should be combined with satin, as chiffon cloth is thin and would not have a smart effect. The lining need no longer be of the some color, and it rarely is. Roman gold, ivory white, dead white, king's blue are each used in sheer fabrics; in many cases this color is not repeated in the gown. It may be in the hat or the muff, but even this is not necesary.

It is hard to get away from the touch of metal on these blouses. There are two popular ways of using it in small quantities. One is a twisted bowknot made of cloth of silver or gold, added to the front of the collar, and the other is a small Maltese cross of the same kind of frabric applied to the middle of the blouse above the bust.

An ornamental note can be given to the blouse by strewing this metal cloth with tiny colored crystals. This gives the Crusader effect that has by no means gone out of fashion.

It is quite a leap from clothes for the morning hours on the street to the last fantasy in headwear for the theatre, but as these new caps are so much discussed one would like to say a word about them before the social season is fairly launched.

It is doubtful if they are as becoming as the ornamental bandeaux, or the Alexandrian headdress, that has never been as popular in America as elsewhere. There is something very fetching about the three-inch band of metal cloth and crystals that is worn around the head, and slopes off to narrow ends just below the mass of curls and puffs that are heaped into the middle of the head a la Grecque.

Every one cannot wear a bandeau, however narrow it is. Certain types of faces will not stand this severity, even if the frivolous array of curls is in the middle.

Whether or not the theatre cap will be becoming to them is a question. The milliners think it will not go, although some debutantes are taking it up. These caps are made of spider webbed net in gold, silver and aluminium fabrics. They are shaped much like the breakfast cap, with a frill around the edge that falls against the hair. There is no lining nor under stiffening. The hair holds the net out.

The trimming is a wreath of tiny satin roses in varied colors. There are no ribbons nor buckles, although here and there one sees a jeweled cabochon. If one comes down to facts about them they are not unlike the immense silk hair nets worn by the women of the civil war over their abundant chignons. —Anne Ritten house in New York Times.

For Men Ayer's Hair Vigor is for men, too. It is a splendid hair-dressing. It is refreshing, cooling; and it keeps the scalp clean and healthy. It never changes the color of the hair, not in the least. Ask your doctor. J. C. Ayer Co. Lowell, Mass.

WOULD UNITE CHURCHES

Argument of Minister Who Favors Immersion by Presbyterians

Pittsburg, Dec. 14.—At the meeting of Pittsburg Presbyterians Rev. John D. Schaff of the Western Theological seminary, reporting for a committee of which he is chairman, recommended the elimination of the words "sprinkling and pouring" from the book of disciples, and the use of the word "baptize."

The adoption of the overture would mean that Presbyterian churches could immerse members just as they are immersed in Baptist and Christian churches. Schaff urges its adoption as being a means of bringing churches closer together.

SEBAGO LAKE VERY LOW

Portland May Soon Face a Very Serious Water Famine

Portland, Me., Dec. 14.—Sebago lake, from which Portland obtains its water supply, and the source of the Presumpscott river, which turns the wheels of Westbrook manufactories, is six feet lower than normal at this time of year.

There is only three feet of water over the in-take of the Portland water mains, and while the situation is not yet alarming, precautionary measures are being taken.

Shooting In Chicago Strike

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Joseph Lecak, 16 years old, was shot and a girl strikebreaker was beaten by three men as a result of a riot in the garment workers' strike. The shot which struck the boy was fired by a policeman who was trying to guard the boy from a mob of strikers.

May Yohe Has New Husband

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—May Yohe, the former London music hall singer, who married Lord Francis Hope and subsequently eloped with Major Strong of New York, has married F. H. Reynolds, a musician formerly attached to a musical comedy company.

The Weather

Almanac, Thursday, Dec. 15.
Sun rises—7:14; sets—4:30.
Moon sets—7:59 a. m.
High water—10 a. m.; 10:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair, with slowly rising temperature; moderate to brisk west to southwest wind.

The One It Was For.

Druggist's Clerk—I don't understand why Mrs. McTessler buys hair tonic. Both she and her husband have elegant crops of hair.

The Druggist—I guess you've never seen their baby.—Chicago News.

REVISE TARIFF BY SCHEDULE

Cummins Introduces His Resolution In the Senate

SAYS PEOPLE WANT CHANGE

Meets Opposition on Part of Republican Standpatters and Democrats on Claim That His Proposition Curtails Rights of Congress—Attack on Payne-Aldrich Law Draws Out a Somewhat Lively Discussion

Washington, Dec. 14.—Extraordinary interest developed in the senate over the joint resolution of Senator Cummins of Iowa intended to provide for tariff revision by schedule, by limiting amendments to the schedule under discussion.

A sensational feature was the announcement of Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island that, the country having "wisely or unwisely" turned to the Democratic party, he did not intend by any word or act to interfere with any of the responsibilities thus laid upon the Democratic party.

The Rhode Islander thought it desirable, he said, to revise the tariff "by subjects," but he doubted the adequacy of the Cummins rule; and he arose twice to state the position of the Republican party, that it should leave the Democrats free to deal with the tariff question in their own way.

Senator Lodge announced his sympathy with the policy of tariff revision by schedule, and, replying to Senator Bacon's objection to the senate's "strangling itself" by means of the Cummins resolution, sharply reminded the Georgia senator that the senate rules already were full of provisions limiting amendment and debate.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho, the stiffest standpatter in the senate, questioned the power of the Republican party to legislate again on the tariff, on the ground that it took orders only from national conventions and none had been held for two years. Cummins retorted that if all the states of the union, or a majority of them, should authorize tariff action in the state conventions, he would regard that as a mandate as binding as that of a national convention. "Would not the senator from Idaho?" he inquired.

"No," shouted Heyburn, "because that is not the forum that is responsible."

Senator Aldrich again expressed his belief in "scientific tariff revision," but thought the rule should be one agreed to temporarily and not be made a matter of law, as it would be by joint resolution.

Republican standpatters and Democrats alike opposed the Cummins resolution, on the ground that it curtailed the rights of congress, although Cummins pointed out that either branch was free to introduce a general tariff bill at any time, and thus open up the whole subject for revision.

The Iowa senator launched out with stinging sarcasm at both sides, stating that Democats who wanted to substitute a tariff for revenue bills of their own, of course, would vote against his resolution, as would Republicans who wantel the present law to stand until the Democrats should sweep the country and put through such a bill as they pleased. The Democrats, he hinted, would like the Payne law to stand as a "horrible example" for selfish and party reasons.

Senator Cummins' speech was the first attack of the session on the Payne-Aldrich law. He disavowed any intention of opening up a general tariff discussion. Still, he found it difficult to avoid a general expression on tariff questions.

"It is well known," he said, "that I consider excessive and inexcusable many of the duties levied by the law of 1909. I know also that many people believe that the law should be amended. During the recent political struggle I did not hear a single utterance by a Republican that did not admit that the law contains duties that ought to be changed and that it is the duty of congress to act speedily. The real issue," he said, "is whether we shall so amend our rules as to permit the amendment of the law, schedule by schedule."

"After an experience with five tariffs, I believe that some way should be devised for the amendment of tariff laws without entering into a general revision," said Mr. Lodge, planting himself squarely on Cummins' side.

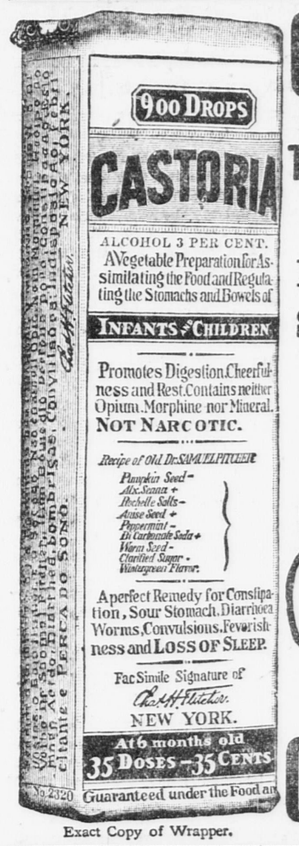
The debate drifted into a technical parliamentary discussion of the propriety of dealing with the subject by means of a joint resolution as is proposed by the Cummins resolution.

Assassin Dies In Prison

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—Suzanoff, the assassin of M. Plehve, the minister of the interior, four years ago, died in the Zarantus prison. It is not clear whether his death was the result of flogging or suicide.

Newspaper Pays $25,000 For Libel

London, Dec. 14.—Twenty-five thousand dollars was awarded Percy Coleman, an alderman and member of the London city council, by a jury in the libel suit brought against The Daily Chronicle.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

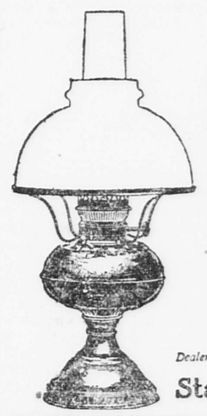
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

The Famous Rayo



Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does.

It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Why? Because

The Heat is Applied When You Want It — Where You Want It

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite Street, Quincy

RUBBERS

Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers

50c Per Pair

Child's Sandals Good Quality	40c
Misses's " " "	45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes	$1.25

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock, Street, Quincy

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$ $ $ $ $
for the people
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Coddington Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 935-3 Jan. 17-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 339-3 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1195 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 87-3.

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. How to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to us at
310 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

CHRISTMAS CAROL
BY
Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

It was a great surprise to Scrooge while listening to the moaning of the wind and thinking what a solemn thing it was to move on through the lonely darkness over an unknown abyss whose depths were secrets as profound as death. It was a great surprise to Scrooge while thus engaged to hear a hearty laugh. It was a much greater surprise to Scrooge to recognize it as his own nephew's and to find himself in a bright, dry, gleaming room, with the spirit standing smiling by his side and looking at that same nephew with approving affability.

"He said that Christmas was a humbug, as I live!" cried Scrooge's nephew. "He believed it too!"

"More shame for him, Fred!" said Scrooge's niece indignantly. Bless those women. They never do anything by halves. They are always in earnest.

She was very pretty, exceedingly pretty, with a dimpled, surprised looking, capital face, a ripe little mouth that seemed made to be kissed—as no doubt it was—all kinds of good little dots about her chin that melted into one another when she laughed and the sunniest pair of eyes you ever saw in any little creature's head. Altogether she was what you would have called provoking, you know, but satisfactory, too—oh, perfectly satisfactory!

"He's a comical old fellow," said Scrooge's nephew—"that's the truth—and not so pleasant as he might be. However, his offenses carry their own punishment, and I have nothing to say against him."

"I have no patience with him," observed Scrooge's niece. Scrooge's niece's sisters and all the other ladies expressed the same opinion.

"Oh, I have!" said Scrooge's nephew. "I am sorry for him. I couldn't be angry with him if I tried. Who suffers by his ill whims? Himself always. Here he takes it into his head to dislike us, and he won't come and dine with us. What's the consequence? He doesn't lose much of a dinner."

"Indeed, I think he loses a very good dinner," interrupted Scrooge's niece. Everybody else said the same, and they must be allowed to have been competent judges because they had just had dinner and, with the dessert upon the table, were clustered round the fire by lamplight.

"Well, I am very glad to hear it," said Scrooge's nephew, "because I haven't any great faith in these young housekeepers. What do you say, Topper?"

Topper had clearly got his eye upon one of Scrooge's niece's sisters, for he answered that a bachelor was a wretched outcast who had no right to express an opinion on the subject, whereat Scrooge's niece's sister—the plump one with the lace tucker, not the one with the roses—blushed.

After tea they had some music, for they were a musical family and knew what they were about when they sang a glee or catch, I can assure you, especially Topper, who could growl away in the bass like a good one and never swell the large veins in his forehead or get red in the face over it. Scrooge's niece played well upon the harp and, among other tunes, a simple little air (a mere nothing—you might learn to whistle it in two minutes) which had been familiar to the child who fetched Scrooge from the boarding school, as he had been reminded by the Ghost of Christmas Past. When the strain of music sounded all the things that ghost had shown him came upon his mind. He softened more and more and thought that if he could have listened to it often years ago he might have cultivated the kindnesses of life for his own happiness with his own hands without resorting to the sexton's spade that buried Jacob Marley.

But they didn't devote the whole evening to music. After awhile they played at forfeits, for it is good to be children sometimes and never better than at Christmas, when its mighty Founder was a child himself. Stop! There was first a game at blind man's buff. Of course there was. And I no more believe Topper was really blind than I believe he had eyes in his boots. My opinion is that it was a done thing between him and Scrooge's nephew and that the Ghost of Christmas Present knew it. The way he went after that plump sister in the lace tucker was an outrage on the credulity of human nature—knocking down the fire irons, tumbling over the chairs, bumping up against the piano, smothering himself among the curtains. Wherever she went, there went he. He always knew where the plump sister was. He wouldn't catch anybody else. If you had fallen up against him, as some of them did, and stood there he would have made a feint of endeavoring to seize you, which would have been an affront to your understanding, and would instantly have sidled off in the direction of the plump sister. She often cried out that it wasn't fair, and it really was not. But when at last he caught her—when, in spite of all her silken rustlings and her rapid flutterings past him, he got her into a corner whence there was no escape—then his conduct was the most execrable, for his pretending not to know her, his pretending that it was necessary to touch her headdress and, further, to assure himself of her identity by pressing a certain ring upon her finger and a certain chain about her neck, was vile, monstrous! No doubt she told him her opinion of it when, another blind man being in office, they were so very confidential together behind the curtains.

Then they played a game called yes and no, where Scrooge's nephew had to think of something and the rest must find out what, he only answering to their questions yes or no, as the case was. The brisk fire of questioning to which he was exposed elicited from him that he was thinking of an animal, a live animal, rather a disagreeable animal, a savage animal, an animal that growled and grunted sometimes and talked sometimes, and lived in London, and walked about the streets, and wasn't made a show of, and wasn't led by anybody, and didn't live in a menagerie, and was never killed in a market, and was not a horse, or an ass, or a cow, or a bull, or a tiger, or a dog, or a pig, or a cat, or a bear. At every fresh question that was put to him this nephew burst into a fresh roar of laughter and was so inexpressibly tickled that he was obliged to get up off the sofa and stamp. At last the plump sister, falling into a similar state, cried out:

"I have found it out! I know what it is, Fred! I know what it is!"

"What is it?" cried Fred.

"It's your Uncle Scro-o-o-o-ooge!"

Which it certainly was. Admiration was the universal sentiment, though some objected that the reply to "Is it a bear?" ought to have been "Yes," inasmuch as an answer in the negative was sufficient to have diverted their thoughts from Mr. Scrooge, supposing they had ever had any tendency that way.

"He has given us plenty of merriment, I am sure," said Fred, "and it would be ungrateful not to drink his health. Here is a glass of mulled wine ready to our hand at the moment, and I say 'Uncle Scrooge!'"

"WELL, UNCLE SCROOGE!"

"Well, Uncle Scrooge!" they cried.

"A merry Christmas and a happy New Year to the old man, whatever he is," said Scrooge's nephew. "He wouldn't take it from me, but may he have it nevertheless. Uncle Scrooge!"

Uncle Scrooge had imperceptibly become so gay and light of heart that he would have pledged the unconscious company in return and thanked them in an inaudible speech if the ghost had given him time. But the whole scene passed off in the breath of the last word spoken by his nephew, and he and the spirit were again upon their travels.

Much they saw, and far they went, and many homes they visited, but always with a happy end. The spirit stood beside sickbeds, and they were cheerful; on foreign lands, and they were close at home; by struggling men, and they were patient in their greater hope; by poverty, and it was rich. In almshouse, hospital and jail, in misery's every refuge, where vain man in his little brief authority had not made fast the door and barred the spirit out, he left his blessing and taught Scrooge his precepts.

It was a long night if it were only a night, but Scrooge had his doubts of this, because the Christmas holidays appeared to be condensed into the space of time they passed together. It was strange, too, that while Scrooge remained unaltered in his outward form the ghost grew older, clearly older. Scrooge had observed this change, but never spoke of it until they left a children's Twelfth Night party, when, looking at the spirit as they stood together in an open place, he noticed that its hair was gray.

"Are spirits' lives so short?" asked Scrooge.

"My life upon this globe is very brief," replied the ghost. "It ends tonight."

"Tonight!" cried Scrooge.

"Tonight at midnight. Hark! The time is drawing near."

The bell struck 12.

Scrooge looked about him for the ghost and saw it not. As the last stroke ceased to vibrate he remembered the prediction of old Jacob Marley and, lifting up his eyes, beheld a solemn phantom, draped and hooded, coming like a mist along the ground toward him.

Chapter Four
THE LAST OF THE SPIRITS.

THE phantom slowly, gravely, silently approached. When it came near him Scrooge bent down upon his knee, for in the very air through which this spirit moved it seemed to scatter gloom and mystery.

It was shrouded in a deep black garment, which concealed its head, its face, its form, and left nothing of it visible save one outstretched hand. But for this it would have been difficult to detach its figure from the night and separate it from the darkness by which it was surrounded.

He felt that it was tall and stately when it came beside him and that its mysterious presence filled him with a solemn dread. He knew no more, for the spirit neither spoke nor moved.

"I am in the presence of the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come?" said Scrooge.

The spirit answered not, but pointed downward with its hand.

"You are about to show me shadows of the things that have not happened, but will happen in the time before us," Scrooge pursued. "Is that so, spirit?"

The upper portion of the garment was contracted for an instant in its folds, as if the spirit had inclined its head. That was the only answer he received.

Although well used to ghostly company by this time, Scrooge feared the silent shape so much that his legs trembled beneath him, and he found that he could hardly stand when he prepared to follow it. The spirit paused a moment, as observing his condition and giving him time to recover.

But Scrooge was all the worse for this. It thrilled him with a vague, uncertain horror to know that behind the dusky shroud there were ghostly eyes intently fixed upon him, while he, though he stretched his own to the utmost, could see nothing but a spectral hand and one great heap of black.

"Ghost of the Future," he exclaimed, "I fear you more than any specter I have seen. But, as I know your purpose is to do me good and as I hope to be another man from what I was, I am prepared to bear you company and do it with a thankful heart. Will you not speak to me?"

It gave him no reply. The hand was pointed straight before them.

"Lead on," said Scrooge, "lead on. The night is waning fast, and it is precious time to me, I know. Lead on, spirit."

The phantom moved away as it had come toward him. Scrooge followed in the shadow of its dress, which bore him up, he thought, and carried him along.

(To be Continued.)

CLAPP WILL RECOVER

His Wife, Accused of Shooting Him, Released on $2500 Bail

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Although he is still in a serious condition, hospital physicians say that Herbert M. Clapp, the clubman and grandson of Mason, the "shoe-blacking king," will probably recover from the bullet wound he received.

Mrs. Marie Clapp, his wife, who was taken into custody by the police on the strength of a statement made by the wounded husband that she shot him, was released on $2500 bail.

WILEY IS CAPTURED BY CUPID'S DARTS

Food Expert Is to Take Suffragette For a Wife

Washington, Dec. 14.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley is to marry a suffragette. Miss Ann Kelner of this city is the girl who has promised to become the wife of the distinguished scientist and enemy of impre food. Miss Kelner and her mother are prominently identified with the suffragette movement in Washington, and both have frequently addressed public meetings demanding votes for women.

Dr. Wiley has been regarded as the most confirmed bachelor in Washington. When he is not hard at work in his laboratory looking for germs, or traveling about the country, telling the people what horrible things they eat, he can always be found at the Cosmos club, the seat of erudition in Washington.

GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Armenian Who Killed Turk at Lowell Escapes Death Penalty

Boston, Dec. 14.—Bogos Mucksian, a non-English-speaking Armenian of Lowell, was sentenced to imprisonment for life by Judge Putnam in the United States circuit court in this city, having been convicted of murdering Mohammed Ahmed, a Turk, whom he shot on the steps of the postoffice at Lowell on Sept. 23 last.

Mucksian was charged with murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is hanging, under the laws of the United States, but in consequence of the recommendation of the court and the expressed desires of the district attorney, to which the defendant and his counsel assented, a verdict of guilty without capital punishment was returned by the jury after fifteen minutes' deliberation.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

FAVORABLE TO MISS LE BLANC

How Lawyers View Judge Bond's Charge to the Jury

FAMOUS CASE CLOSES TODAY

Three Pleas Offered by Defense In Final Argument, One Being That Glover Was Slain by His Wife—District Attorney Claims That State Has Proved That Hattie Is Guity of the Crime

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 14.—Judge Daniel W. Bond adjourned court at 4:45 yesterday afternoon without giving the case to the jury, after devoting one hour and twenty-three minutes to instructing the twelve men who sit in judgment upon Hattie LeBlanc, accused of killing Clarence F. Glover. Attorneys who heard that portion of the judge's charge delivered yesterday declared it extremely favorable to the accused. The case will go to the jury today.

Judge Bond said that there was no controversy about the killing or the way it was caused. None of the previous hearings of defendant were evidence of the guilt of defendant.

"The jury will not think for a moment because an indictment has been found that it is evidence that this defendant must be guilty," he said. "Mere opportunity is not the same that you would have where the evidence showed an exclusive opportunity. The evidence does not show here that this girl ever used a pistol. Did she have the courage to use it?"

It was not necessary, said the judge, that a motive should be proven. The Glover statement on his death bed was excluded as "heresay" evidence. Such evidence is not allowed in capital cases.

The fact that a defendant does not testify, said the judge, is not to be regarded by the jury as any evidence against her. The law allows such questioning as Hattite was subjected to at the Waltham police station. Was she controlled by fear that night? he asked.

Judge Bond said there was no claim that the defendant went to the laundry by appointment. It was not necessary for the defendant to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that some other person committed the crime.

The jury should consider the relations between Glover and his wife, the court said. Did Mrs. Glover have an opportunity? Was she in the neighborhood?

Attorneys for state and defense argued Tuesday in the trial, the state contending through District Attorney Higgins that it had proved bevond a reasonable doubt the girl killed the man who wronged her, and the defense not only arguing that the girl is innocent, but that Mrs. Glover, widow of the murdered man, did the deed, and then schooled Hattie into playing a role.

Attorney Johnson, in his plea for the girl defendant, continued in pointing out fallacies of circumstantial evidence, and urged the jurymen not to let such evidence lead them astray.

Johnson said three pleas were offered by the defense; the first, a plea of not guilty, and the defense claimed that the government had not proven her guilty. The second plea is the theory that someone else did the deed. Johnson said that even if there is a likelihood of someone else's doing it, the defendant should have the benefit of this likelihood.

The third plea is that Mrs. Glover committed the murder. "It is not the defense's duty in trying to establish the defendant's innocence to prove Mrs. Glover guilty. All the defense means to do is to raise a reasonable doubt that someone other than Hattie LeBlanc killed Clarence Glover."

There was no pause between the pleas of the defense and the state. District Attorney Higgins said that just as a sick man turns to his physician in illness, the community, infested with crime disease, turns to the state's attorney.

"My purpose has not been to try Mrs. Glover," he said. "It has only been to discover the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. The only question for you to consider is, did Hattie LeBlanc shoot Clarence Glover?

"We don't have to prove that Hattie and Glover were in the laundry. She admits it. There is not a particle of evidence that Mrs. Glover was in the laundry—the only evidence along this line is by some witnesses that they saw some one that they thought was Mrs. Glover in the neighborhood of the laundry.

"This crime was committed at night and in secret, like most murders. I hold no brief for Mrs. Glover. I do not say that she is a woman who has had anything but a bad life.

"We cannot judge Hattie and Glover with absolute accuracy, but we do know of their intimacy, and given certain facts we know what emotion is likely to follow.

"Hers is not a case of outraged virtue on the night of the shooting. She went to the laundry with an avowed purpose of meeting Glover for the purpose for which she had met him many times before."

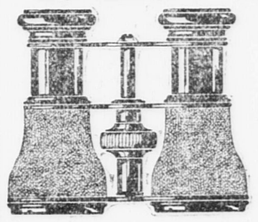
Most Ills of Life come from errors in diet, from too little exercise or from the mistakes we commit without thinking of consequences. These sicknesses may be slight at first, but they hinder work, prevent advancement or bring depression and spoil enjoyment. What is worse, they lead to serious physical disorders if not checked in time; but you CAN check them easily and quickly. They will Naturally Yield To such a safe, simple, reliable family remedy as Beecham's Pills. In every household where this famous and unequalled medicine is known, the whole aspect of life is changed for the better. Be ready to help yourself—and your family—to overcome trouble and to regain, and keep, good bodily conditions by having on hand for immediate use
BEECHAM'S PILLS
For females, Beecham's Pills are specially suitable. See instructions with each box.
Sold everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

STEVENS

The one best Christmas present for your boy is a STEVENS Rifle.
The Little Scout
The Maynard, Jr.
The Crack Shot
The Favorite
The Visible Loader
Come in and look them over.
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite Street, Quincy
Dec. 12 2t

LLOYD'S OPERA GLASSES


LEISS
OPERA GLASSES
Black or Gold Finish
$40.00 and $45.00
Catalogue on Application
BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St.
} BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	31 degrees
December 14, 1909,	50 degrees
December 14, 1908,	38 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Furniture
R. E. Foy & Co.—Tender Sweet Corn
Quincy Market—Special Bargains Today
Collection of Ashes
John H. Anderson, M. D.—Diseases of Eye
For Sale
To Let
Wanted

BRIEFS

Mrs. Owen Gibson is seriously ill at her home on Granite street.

A report of the session of Probate court this morning and other news is crowded out today, but will appear tomorrow.

Charles Cummings of Hancock street, a G. A. R. veteran 70 years of age, left Tuesday for St. Cloud, Florida, hoping by the change to be benefited in health.

Frank Fessenden Crane who has been attending the River and Harbor convention at Washington returned home Tuesday. An interview will appear in the Daily Ledger tomorrow.

Attention is called to the advertisement in today's Ledger of the Board of Health relative to the collection of ashes. Ashes to be collected must be out on the morning of the day of collection in order to be taken away.

Quincy chapter, O. E. S., are planning for a grand time on the occasion of the installation of the new officers Jan. 2. The installation will be held in the Masonic apartments and the ceremony will be performed by the grand matron and suit of grand officers.

WOULD-BE JANITORS.

The time for filing applications for taking the civil service examination for janitor expired Tuesday, and fourteen applications have been filed. The examinations which are held by the State examiner take place Dec. 23. There are now five vacancies in the janitor service to be filled and there will be one more as soon as the Montclair school building has been finished. The vacancies to be filled immediately are at the Public Library, the Massachusetts Fields, Wollaston, Willard and Houghs Neck school buildings.

Oxford Beats Cambridge at Football

London, Dec. 14.—Oxford university defeated Cambridge university by a score of 23 to 18 in the annual rugby football match played at Queens club.

—Something like a miracle happened in Iowa not long since. At a good roads meeting in DesMoines last spring the suggestion was made that a dirt road should be built across the entire State of Iowa, three hundred and eighty miles. Public spirit was aroused and a romantic scheme was suggested; namely that ten thousand men should go to work at the same moment and co-operate in the building. Iowa is a level tract of country, and the difficulties were so small that in one hour's time, after the road had been planned and the line surveyed, it was finished. Such a remarkable instance of co-operation shows what might happen in moral and social reforms if ten thousand men and women would take hold of any specific problem at the same moment, in the same spirit, and with a fixed determination to succeed.—Christian Register.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

CONFIRMED AS CLERK

And Lively Contest Is on for Assistant Clerk

At a meeting of the Executive Council this morning the appointment of Lawrence W. Lyons as clerk of the East Norfolk District court at Quincy was confirmed. Mr. Lyons will probably qualify tomorrow.

There is quite a contest on for the assistant clerk at the court. This appointment is made by the clerk but must be approved by the presiding justice. Among the candidates mentioned for the assistant clerkship are: William M. Marden of Quincy, Roger Lakin of Braintree, John J. Duggan of Quincy, Charles J. McGilvray of Quincy and John Moir of Quincy. There may possibly be others whose names have not been mentioned publicly.

OFFICERS OF LOYAL LADIES.

The Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor met Tuesday evening for the election of officers. Mrs. Thomas Gammons, the retiring president, presided over the meeting. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Margaret Stronach.
Vice President—Jennie McKay.
Recording Secretary — Marjory Milne.
Financial Secretary—Jennie Fyfe.
Treasurer—Alice Joss.
Chaplain—Annie Mutch.
Pianist—Annie Grant.

Christmas Customs.

The German name for Christmas is Weihnacht, the night of dedication, and the Greeks call Christmas the feast of lights.

Trimming houses and churches with evergreens at Christmas is said to have been done before the Christian era, the Romans having decked their temples and dwellings with green boughs during the saturnalia.

In Belgium the children fill their shoes with beans and carrots on Christmas eve and set them in the chimneypiece for the good St. Nicholas' horse. In the morning they expect to find the shoes filled with candy as a reward of good behavior.

In 1644 the English parliament ordained that Christmas day should be kept as a fast, and the order remained in force for twelve years. For shops to be closed was a crime, and market days were changed so as to fall on the great day. Soldiers searched the homes of those suspected of preparing for festivity.

Current Comment.

The price of pork chops has become as important a standard for the measurement of prosperity as the price of a bushel of wheat used to be.—Washington Star.

Still another biggest yet and most luxurious steamship is planned. Eventually, we suppose, no passenger vessel will be complete without a golf course, a porte cochere and outdoor sleeping porches.—Chicago News.

Switzerland is to invite the nations to a conference on the subject of improving the calendar. One needed reform would seem to be the introduction of a day of rest after Thanksgiving and Christmas.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

Tales of Cities.

Panama city has a national school of music and elocution, one of arts and trades, a national museum and a municipal library.

Honolulu is distinctly American in all but its semitropical aspect. Take away the palms and the flowering trees and it is almost any town of its size in the United States.

Calais, Me., is probably the only city in the world getting its water supply from a foreign country. For several years now the city has obtained its water from a large spring in the suburbs of St. Stephen, N. B. The reservoir is on the Canadian side.

His Critic.

"The greatest compliment that I ever received," says Opie Read, "was a criticism. Several years ago I went to Arkansas and visited the scene where one of my stories is laid. The landlord of the little hotel said to me:

"'Here comes a little old fellow to whom I loaned a copy of your book. He can't read, but his wife reads to him. Let's see what he says about the book.

"'"Hello, Jason, did your wife read that book to you?"

"'"Mawnin', sah. Yes, she done read it to me."

"'"Well, what do you think of it?"

"'"Huh? That ain't no book at all. I done lived hear fo' forty yeahs an' I done hearn folks talk that a-way all th' time."'"—Cincinnati Inquirer.

She Assisted.

Sitting before the fireplace,
Telling her stories new,
Says she, "While you pop chestnuts
I think I'll roast a few."
—Life.

CHELSEA COMMISSION

Explained by Chairman McClintock at Wollaston

A resume of the methods involved in the rehabitation of Chelsea after her disastrous fire and a minute study of the new charter proposed for that city, formed the chief points in the address of Hon. William E. McClintock, chairman of the Chelsea Board of Control, before the Wollaston Unitarian club on Tuesday evening.

Taking for his subject, "One form of government by commission," the speaker told of the board of control appointed by Acting Governor Draper on June 3, 1908, consisting of a commission of five members.

This commission form of government differed from any other in the country inasmuch as it was given the city by the Legislature, and its members appointed by the governor, with attention to special fitness, instead of being elected by the people. Of this commission two were engineers of long standing, one a financier, one a high school principal and the last a business man of 35 years' experience in and around Boston.

Mr. McClintock told of the manner in which the commision grappled with the first problem that faced the city—that of keeping the tax rate down, thus stimulating the building up of the city. This being combatted successfully by the application insurance returns to the budget, the commission applied itself energetically to replacing the public buildings taking tracts of land for schools, fire stations and other public buildings large enough to serve for all time and provide for any changes necessitated by increased population.

This act of the commission brought forth some criticism in the case of the City Hall for which one and one quarter acres had been set aside in the geographical centre of the city, formerly occupied by blocks of stores and apartments. In the opinion of the speaker this will be justified in years to come.

The flotation of bonds and loans and the excellent financial management by the commission was described in detail by Mr. McClintock. All this good was largely accomplished by the commission being able to get together and discuss matters quietly instead of hotly fighting them out in a city council as is the case in many cities and where various individuals have an interest in certain different parts of the city.

By the former means the commission was able to get together with the fire underwriters and draw up a set of building laws by which the city secured a lower premium and a blanket olicy that had not been possible under the old government.

When the board of control went into office it found cetrain department heads. The board made it a practise to try every man before changing, letting him understand he might stay if he attended to business and if not he must get out. To their credit there was hardly any change except in the health and licensing boards, all heads loyally making good and making possible a surplus in the budget.

Today the board is struggling with a committee appointed at a mass meeting to consider a new charter that will place Chelsea in line among cities adopting a practical modern form of government. Several schemes are suggested, one of which he explained.

At the conclusion of the address Eugene C. Hultman interrogated Mr. McClintock upon several subjects including the two-year term and the granting of franchise.

The usual roast beef supper was served, the blessing being asked by Rev. Carl G. Horst.

Henry of Navarre and the Rod.

Henry IV. of France was a firm believer in the adage, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." In a letter to the governess of his son he wrote in October, 1607: "Madame—I have to complain that you have not informed me of having flogged my son. I desire and request that you will flog him whenever he is disobedient or otherwise troublesome, knowing as I do that nothing will do him more good. I speak from experience, as at his age I was frequently birched."—Paris Gaulois.

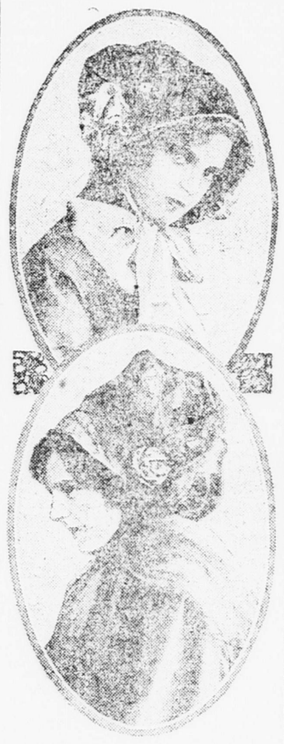
Just Made It.

Farmer Giles (who has just cashed a check)—I don't think this money's right. The Cashier—Would you mind counting it again, sir? I think you'll find it correct. Farmer Giles (having done so)—Yes, but you be careful, young man; it's only just right.—London Sketch.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

WINTER MOTOR BONNETS.

Mighty Natty Models For Cold Weather Spins.



BONNETS OF VELVET AND SILK.

Motoring is now such a usual mode of transit that automobile fashions are in a class apart, and both dressmakers and milliners make special designs to meet the needs of the fair autoists.

In the sketch are two fascinating bonnets for winter spins. Brown velvet is the material of the attractive model with wide strings of ivory satin. This same satin is used for the face quilling and for the choux.

The other bonnet is of shot taffeta silk in a queer peaked shape with veil to match and rosette of iridescent tissue.

Fads For Women.

Now that bamboo furniture is used so universally a suggestion about cleaning it may not go unnoticed. This cleansing should be done with soap and warm water to which salt has been added. And the mixture must be put on with a brush and then wiped off with clean rags until the article is dry and glistens.

Ordinary laundry soap will remove the natural gloss of the wood and leave it dull if salt is not added.

An authority on shoes says that patent leather should never be kept in a cold closet or one unduly warm, for the reason that both degrees of heat and cold cause the leather to crack.

Instead of these extremes a spot where the heat is medium should be found.

Cold is worse than heat for patent leather. When the shoes are to be put on the feet it will preserve them if the hand is passed over the shoes, smoothing them until they feel supple.

They are then less apt to crack. This gradual warming should never be omitted when patent leather shoes are first put on.

Postcard Shades.

A new and very charming use has been found for the hand tinted postcards which can now be obtained in such variety, says the Woman's Home Companion. They come with pictures of dainty Watteau shepherdesses, eighteenth century court beauties or Japanese girls painted upon them, and what could be more attractive than to make them into candle shades. They are made of a fine quality cardboard, so that the light penetrates them and shows up the pictures in delicate relief. There is only one caution to be observed in making a selection, and that is to choose pictures with rather simple motives. Each card must be trimmed a little, and if the figure in the foreground is large or complicated its beauty is liable to be marred by the cutting.

CHARMING EFFECTS IN CANDLE SHADES.

Shades can be made in various shapes—four, five and six sided. All the panels may be made of cards or only have one or two postal panels and fashion the others of white or colored paper. Passe-partout is ideal for binding the panels and joining them, and a lining of colored tissue paper—cerise, green or yellow—softens the light becomingly.

The Child's Credentials.

Deacon—Ah, my child, they tell me you are a good girl.

"Yes; they call me the holy terror of the neighborhood."

LIBERTY BELL.

Its Connection With the Declaration of Independence.

The famous Liberty bell was cast in London in 1752, brought to America and subsequently recast in Philadelphia. It bears the inscription, "Proclaim Liberty Throughout the World and to All the Inhabitants Thereof." It was cracked while being tolled after the death of Chief Justice John Marshall in 1835. It is kept on exhibition in Independence hall, Philadelphia. It has had a fictitious importance owing to the popular belief that its ringing proclaimed the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. Concerning this belief, however, Friedenwald in his "Declaration of Independence" (1904) says:

"There is no shadow of authority even for associating the ringing of the bell with the announcement of the agreement upon Independence. The mythical legend of the blue eyed boy waiting outside the door to give the signal to the man in the bell tower is the product of the fertile imagination of one of Philadelphia's early romancers, George Lippard, who first gave currency to it in his appropriately called 'Legends of the Revolution.' This book was published in 1847."—New York American.

Oh, You Hobble.

Sweet charity doth cover up
A multitude of sins,
And so the hobble skirt conceals
A multitude of shins.
—Yonkers Statesman.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ilhgfedcba	6 14 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ilhgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 49	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 35	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 51
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 57 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 50	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 47 r
r 10 04	a	10 10	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 15	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefghi	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
1 40	abcde	2 00	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 38 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	cba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 02	ac	6 27	7 05	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 20	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 40 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	5 14 r
r 8 45	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 50	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.20 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 7.35, 8.30, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.26, 8.21, 10.15, A. M. 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1125. A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25. P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2440

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO
QUINCY DIVISION
TIME TABLE
In effect Oct. 25, 1910.
Subject to Change Without Notice
Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.4[illegible] A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.15, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.39 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M
JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

WANTED

WANTED—A watchdog for factory. Terrior or bull. State lowest cash price. Address D. care of Ledger. Dec. 14 2t

WANTED—An experienced maker and salesgirl for Millinery store. Apply at 3 Granite street, Quincy. Dec. 13-3t

WANTED—One special mechanic (machinist) at $4.48 per diem. A competitive examination will be held January 6, 1911, for the purpose of filling the above position. For further information address "Commandant, Navy Yard, Boston, Mass." Dec. 12-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

TO LET

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Aply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14 tf

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2--11t

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 291 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 15, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

EVIDENCE THAT CITY IS GROWING FAST

Very Rapid Increase in Municipal Expenditures in Recent Years

Total for Eleven Months a Million And a Half

The city expenditures for 11 months of 1910 are already in excess of a million and a half dollars, according to the Dec. 1 report of City Auditor Fairbanks and City Treasurer Curtis. The exact figures are $1,507,242.82, which is over $50,000.00 in excess of the 12 months of 1909.

The City Treasurers' reports in the City Books show these expenditures for different years:

Year Mayor	Amount
1909, Shea	$1,455,689.45
1908, Shea	1,460,825.27
1907, Thompson,	1,345,819.50
1906, Thompson,	1,253,433.68
1905, Thompson,	1,219,168.18
1904, Bryant,	1,118,730.95
1903, Bryant,	1,140,837.78
1902, Bryant,	1,084,449.09
1901, Hall,	1,101,625.59
1900, Hall,	1,068,074.42
1899, Keith,	994,847.37
1895, Hodges,	759,848.66
1890, Porter	491,243.15

The expense this year is over three times what it was in 1890, twenty years ago, and has grown very rapidly in the past six years.

The large items of expenditure this year to date are:

Salaries school teachers	$104,873.23
City debt maturing	88,375.00
Water debt maturing	39,500.00
Sewer debt maturing	22,000.00
Interest water debt	24,825.50
Interest sewer debt	21,383.68
Interest city debt	18,774.77
Interest temporary loans	15,863.12
Salaries city officers	23,269.19
Highway expenses	27,019.19
Street lighting	24,235.07
Sewer construction	45,806.42
Water construction	42,077.84
Pay of firemen	20,298.56
Pay of police	22,607.49
Poor department	11,799.83
School supplies	11,313.14
School janitors	9,258.29
Houghs Neck schoolhouse	14,901.92
Permanent sidewalks	11,600.26
Surface drainage	10,657.94

And over 100 other items of less than $10,000 each.

—A square inch of clear conscience for a cent—the Red Cross Christmas Seal.

POLICE AUTO HAS A MISHAP

Hits a Telephone Pole and Officers Have Close Call

Quincy's new police automobile was badly smashed Wednesday afternoon and the two officers on the car at the time had a narrow escape from serious injury. The auto was responding to a call from Wollaston. Officer Cahill was driving the car, and on the seat with him was Wagon Officer Thorne. In turning from Adams street into Newport avenue the auto skidded on the incline, and before it could be stopped came up with a bang against a telephone pole.

Officer Thorne was thrown against the steering wheel, and somewhat shaken up and the guards and front of the car smashed and sprung. It was hauled to Gould's garage and quickly dismantled when it was found that the machinery was uninjured. A telegram was sent to the factory for the parts necessary to make the repairs and the auto will be in service again in a few days.

ACCIDENT TO PRIEST.

Two men were struck by a falling derrick at the new St. Francis church at South Braintree on Wednesday. Rev. Andrew J. Fitzgerald, the curate of the church was about the edifice and saw the big stick falling; he tried to dodge it but was hit on the left thigh. An Italian workman was hit on the left foot. Dr. C. A. Sullivan attended them, and does not regard the injuries as serious.

WILL QUINCY BE REPRESENTED?

Should Send Delegates to the Tariff Convention

The Quincy Granite Manufacturers Association, the Quincy Board of Trade and the Fore River Shipbuilding Company should be represented at the convention of the National Tariff Commission Association in Washington in January. All the commercial organizations of New England have been invited to send delegates.

"A square deal is tariff legislation, no favoritism" will be the slogan of the 200 or more New Englanders who will pull out of Boston, January 10, on a special train, bound for Washington. The details of the trip were announced today by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, which is making the arrangements.

The largest delegation from any section of the country—the feature of the convention—is what the commercial bodies of the six New England states intend to muster. They expect to wake up the whole country suddenly to the fact that New England men, who have the reputation of being "Tariff-hogs," really want to see the tariff taken out of politics and handled in a business-like way.

In the first place, the delegation itself will be made up of 150 sound business men, not politicians.

In the second place, it will go by special train, descending on Washington in a body an hour before the tariff convention opens.

In the third place, it will give a big New England banquet in Washington on the evening of the first day of the convention, to which will be invited all the senators and representatives from New England and at which the New England attitude on tariff matters will be clearly shown.

The business organizations believe that after such a showing of the real sentiment, the whole country will recognize without any further debate that New England is not a seeker for favors. They believe, as stated in the announcement which is being sent today to all the business organizations of New England, that the impression that New England has not stood for a square deal, is not only unjust but is harmful to New England, "because it prejudices the other sections of the country against New England upon other matters of national interest in which she is concerned."

The convention of the National tariff Commission Association is to be held at the New Willard Hotel in Washington, January 11-12. The purpose of this Association is to promote the creation of a permanent non-partisan tariff commission with authority to investigate all the industrial and commercial facts underlying the tariff problem and to report thereon for the information of Congress in the framing of future tariff legislation, and to the President for his guidance in the negotiation of commercial treaties with foreign nations.

BANQUET AT QUINCY POINT.

The A. O. F. S. club, composed of young people in the Quincy Point district, held their second banquet of the season Wednesday evening at the home of Frank Smith, one of their number on Washington street. There were nearly thirty in the party of young people, and they enjoyed themselves to the fill with games of various kinds and music. While the games were in progress the call came to the dining room, where Mrs. Smith had prepared a feast that was very tempting. Two tables had been arranged, each with a different color scheme, and about these the merry party were soon seated and enjoying the good things. The menu included lobster and chicken salad, rolls and coffee, and was pronounced delicious by all. The banquet was followed by more music and games until 11 o'clock.

ENGLISH BATTLESHIPS.

Contracts were let for the construction of two battleships provided for in the current year's naval program. The specifications call for vessels of 24,000 tons, having 27,000 horse power.

MAIDENS ALL FORLORN

Victims of a Base, Mean Trick by Teddy

A very interesting and entertaining program was given by members of the Junior Ten of King's Daughters in Bethany chapel Wednesday evening. A play entitled "Maidens all forlorn" was presented, and between the acts and preceding the performance some excellent instrumental music was given by several of the young ladies. Another feature between the acts was the sale of home-made candy by two of the ten, Miss Marjorie Welch and Miss Clarice Doble. The leader of the ten, Mrs. Everett Crane, was assisted by Mrs. W. G. Shaw, Mrs. Edward E. Miller and Mr. Ira Whittemore in making the arrangements for the evening.

The musical program consisted of duets by the Misses Gladys and Margaret Hunt; Zobo and piano duets, by Miss Eleanor Whittemore; and piano solos by Miss Mildred Andrews. An audience of over 100 applauded their performance, and that of the cast in the play, "Maidens all forlorn." You will cease to wonder at the title when you learn of the predicament in which they were placed. Three lively young girls, with Aunt Louisa as chaperon, off on a summer outing, with not a man in sight. Maude determined to write to Teddy and plead with him to come down. In his answer Teddy informed her that he could not possibly go, but he pitied the girls for the plight they were in, and was sending in his stead Dr. Jocelyn Denby, a chum of his, who was very good looking, fond of boating, bathing, tennis, sketching, etc. As the time of the doctor's arrival drew near, Bertha who was making the doctor a cigar case, hurt her finger with the needle; Maude in baking her pound cake burned her arm most horribly; and Elizabeth who had made an onslaught into a medical library, fell down stairs and was suffering from a severe sprain. Even Aunt Louisa who was of course horrified to think that "a man" was coming, was undergoing excruciating pain in her false teeth. Mrs. Maloney, the domestic, was the only one free from malady, but she had one husband and thus was excusable.

The doctor's arrival brought consternation to the colony, for Jocelyn who spelled her name with a "C" and was a charming young lady instead of "a amn." Her reception was frigid as may be imagined and aches, pains, the cigar case, pound cake, medical knowledge and even Aunt Louisa's gun and tennis racket were forgotten in the explosion of righteous indignation at Teddy's deceit.

The members of the cast conducted themselves creditably and gave a vividness to the scenes which was very pleasing especially to the male portion of the audience.

The cast:

Maude, ... Eleanor Whittemore
Bertha ..... Mariam Miller
Elizabeth ..... Margaret Hunt
Aunt Louisa ..... Mary Stewart
Mrs. Maloney ..... Gertrude Shaw
Dr. Jocelyn Denby ..... Gladys Hunt

NEW OFFICERS.

Society St. Jean de Baptiste held semi annual election of officers this week, and the following were elected for the ensuing term:

President—Auguste Deschimes.
First Vice President—Leo Dufour.
Second Vice President—Napoleon Lorendeau.
Treasurer—Charles C. Leclair.
Financial Secretary—Emile Badot.
Recording Secretary—Joseph Landry.
Trustees—Pierre Bertrand, Napoleon Lorendeau and Leo Dufour.
Janitor—Jacques Chouinard.
Physician—Thomas J. Dion.

LODGE ACCEPTS.

Senator Lodge has accepted the invitation of the committee of the Legislature to speak at a mass meeting in Boston on some date before the Legislature convenes.

White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

THE APPLICATION OF COMMON SENSE

A Big Factor in the Rise and Development of New England Industries

Dr. Hardy's Address Before the Historical Society

An unusually interesting lecture was given at the First church chapel Wednesday evening by Dr. Edwin N. Hardy under the auspices of the Quincy Historical society. Dr. Hardy took for his subject "The rise and development of New England industries."

The evening opened and closed with solos by Mrs. Emma S. Moore which were delightfully rendered.

Brooks Adams, president of the society, presided, and in opening said all societies of this kind must have some reason for living. There was nothing so good as to have some idea of the gap that spans us from the past. To bring forward the changes that have taken place is one of the reasons for this organization. He and the Historical society felt very much indebted to Dr. Hardy for much that the society had attained, and it was a great source of gratification that he could introduce Dr. Hardy.

In opening, Dr. Hardy declared the noteworthy contribution of New England to the world's history, is in her steady application of common sense to the problems of living, and the way in which she did it presented one of the most remarkable and fascinating chapters in the history of the human race. The best methods of studying the New Englander is what he did in the application of common sense to the actual problems of life.

Men of the Puritan type and New England two and a half centuries ago furnish almost the ideal condition for this experiment in living. The old Colonist, God fearing, resourceful, placed with his family in the heart of the forest, was practically sufficient unto himself. He could build his log cabin, furnish it and make the necessary tools for his work. His wife, with her own hands, could shear the sheep or pick the flax, make the cloth and clothe her husband with homespun. Nearly everything of the interesting simple and sweet life of those days was transformed from the crude material into the finished product by the ingenuity of the old settler and his family. The home was the fountain head from which all the streams of influence which have given New England her prestige at home and abroad have come.

This evening we turn our attention to one of these many streams of influence which have wrought as great changes as any and which has permitted every other phase of American life. It is the New Englander's application of common sense to the industrial problem of life. At the beginning, each settler was largely a jack-of-all-trades, circumstances making necessary the exercise of his ingenuity for the welfare of his household. Very soon, however, there was a natural differention of the people into the artisan classes, wherein each devoted his time to that which he could best do, and there arose an itinerant artisan, the cobbler, harness maker and cabinet maker, and others who went from house to house applying their special vocations.

Soon this plan became impracticable because it was easier to carry work to the men than to secure the man with his kit of tools. In every settlement there sprung up the small shop where special kind of service was rendered. As the work increased the artisan was overtaxed and the apprentice was secured who lived in the family as one of the members of his family and there learned his trade. Some of the simple parts of the work in the various occupations would be sent out to nearby homes to be finished by those able to do the work.

The most marked transition in the industrial evolution came at the close of the Revolutionary war when the seat of the manufactory was changed from the home to the shop outside. The apprentice system was inaugurated and piecework begun. This condition prevailed almost unchanged through the war of the Revolution. War invariably produces great economic changes and this was the case in the war of the Independence. Following the war there was a period of industrial depression which soon gave way to a remarkable development of our industries. But it is to be noted up to this time everything was done by hand and to a large extent the workman was qualified to produce the product from start to finish.

It may safely be said that at the beginning of the second quarter of the nineteenth century marked a great transition of New England life and industry. About this time they were beginning to build railroads, did canals and introducing machinery and steam

(Continued on Page 3.)

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES

Fownes	$1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined	$2.50 to $5.00
Working	25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS

Ladies'	50c to $4.00
Men's	75c to $5.00
Children's	50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co.
SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS

Full Dress	$1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee	50c to $2.00
Working	50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

WOOD for SALE
$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree
Tel. 15-3 Braintree
Dec. 12-tf -o-17-tf

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

QUINCY MARKET
Specials for Today Only

Salt Pork	10c lb
Sirloin Steak	15c lb
Short Cut Rump Steak	23c lb
Good Rib Roast	10c lb
Thick End Corned Beef	12 1-2c lb
3 cans Peas	25c

Plenty other Bargains
QUINCY MARKET
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
Dec. 15-1t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Quincy merchants report good Christmas business and earlier shopping than ever before. Probably the "shop early" slogan is resulting in some good and our people are realizing that in shopping early they not only get a better selection to choose from but at the same time lighten the burdens of the clerks who work very hard during the holiday season. There will be the late shoppers however, something forgotten to be bought at the last minutes.

The second series of 14 cities in Massachusetts voted on the License question Tuesday, and despite predictions to the contrary, No-License held its own and but three cities voted for the saloon. In Lynn and Newburyport the vote was close owing to the efforts of both liquor and anti-saloon interests. In Lynn, rallies were held for license as well as for no-license, and the most eminent advocates of both opinions addressed throngs of men for weeks before the decision was made. The majority for no-license was cut down to 191 but the victory was significant, and a great triumph for the anti-saloon forces.

Newburyport increased her No majority from 1 2to 14. The license question was the live issue of election day and both sides made strenuous efforts to win the victory. In view of the fact that the liquor interests were making an unusual effort, a number of the Boston papers predicted a victory for the saloon in four cities. The changes did not come, however, although the majority was slightly decreased in some of the "dry" cities.

In the November elections, 15 cities voted on the license question and all but four were in favor of license. Quincy was foremost in the No-License vote in November, and in the 29 cities which have voted, but one, Somerville, gave a larger majority for no-license.

If the 29 cities in the State which have voted, 15 have gone against the liquor interests. But two cities have changed opinion one way or the other; Gloucester changing from yes to no, and Haverhill opening its gates to the saloon. The no-majorities in 15 cities have decreased by 2884 and the yes majority in 14 cities has increased 2475. Evidently the advocates of the saloon have been at work with greater energy than hertofore, but their antagonists have done well to hold out against them. No-license must always prevail in the smaller cities of our state if law and order are to be preserved at their best. Those who are in favor of the saloon present but half the story in their plea for votes. They assure the grocer, the stationer and the druggist a better business, but fail to mention the increased demands upon the overseer of poor the policeman and the undertaker.

ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Tuesday evening was a busy one for the members of Antietam Camp, No. 32 Sons of Veterans at South Braintree. It was the occasion not only for the annual inspection but also the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year. The business of the evening was transacted with despatch and the following officers were elected for the year 1911:

Commander—M. C. Gillette.
S. V. C.—Alfred H. Holbrook.
J. V. C.—Albert L. Mooers.
Camp Council—W. H. Paine, I. N. Holbrook and H. H. Marston.
Treas.—Paul Monaghan.
Delegates—A. H. Holbrook and H. H. Marston.
Alternates—Chas. Pratt and Harry A. Cone.

There are some monir offices which will be filled by appointment of the commander. The installation will occur the second Tuesday in January and the installing officer will be chosen later. The camp was inspected by division organizer Arthur C. Beal, a member and past commander of Camp 17, Brockton.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
10c. 25c. 50c. All Druggists

BALANCE IN IN TREASURY

Financial Report of the No-License League

The citizens No-License league completed its campaign with a balance in the treasury this year. The work of the league has not been as prominent as usual, but it has been none the less effective and far reaching. The annual No-License rally at Music hall was omitted, but special meetings were held at all the churches for which speakers were supplied by the No-License League. The usual amount of advertising matter was sent out, including statistics and facts, as well as the plea for a large No vote. The "Vote No" buttons were also distributed in large quantities throughout the city. The interest in keeping the majority for No-License large this year was not less and the No vote, which was practically as large as last years, goes to show that the league is not neglecting its duty. The report of the treasurer, John F. Hunt shows an expenditure for printing and advertising $73.25; for postage and envelopes, $143.25; "Vote No" buttons $32.30, and miscellaneous $1.50, making a total of $250.30. All bills have been paid and a smalll balance remains in the treasury.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

If Massachusetts savings banks suffer from the competition of the postal savings banks, there will be cause for great wonder. Deposit certificates cannot be assigned. Money can be withdrawn only from the office in which it was deposited. Interest on deposit will be only two per cent. Even that amount will not be added to the principal. So far as this state goes, the postal savings bank will hold out small attractions to the thrifty. It may serve especial and occasional needs, but will not particularly commend itself under ordinary circumstances.—New Bedford Standard.

A Washington correspondent, speaking of the deaths of Vice Presidents of the United States, mentions the fact that Elbridge Gerry, the second Vice President, died in Washington, Nov. 23, 1814. When he died transportation was too primitive to permit the removal of his body to Massachusetts and his bones still lie in the Congressional cemetery. Vice President Clinton, the first one to die, was buried there also, but his body was two years ago removed to his native State by the patriotic societies of New York, the transfer being made with ceremony. The patriotic societies of Massachusetts have never moved in the matter of transferring Gerry's remains to his native soil. The tomb where his dust reposes is crumbling, and now would seem to be a good time to agitate for the removal. What more fitting place than old Marblehead, where he was born, July 17, 1744, for the erection of a suitable mausoleum, where for centuries it might be seen by the rising generations, who would thus be taught to reverence the memory of a statesman. It is something for the patriotic societies of Massachusetts to take into consideration. The two Adamses, father and son, are buried in Quincy, and Vice President Wilson is buried in Natick. The same honor should be shown to Gerry in the town of his birth, old Marblehead.—Lynn Item.

Here is an interesting proposition for men who like to try their luck in games of chance. A young woman, 20 years old, in Tacoma, offers herself as a capital prize in a lottery. She proposes to sell, 10,000 tickets at $1 each. The man who gets the lucky number gets the girl for his wife and gets half the money. If the winner refuses to marry the girl when he sees her, he forfeits his share of the $10,000 to her. If the girl refuses him she loses her share to him. If both are willing they divide the money. The girl, who claims to have invented the scheme herself, excuses herself on the ground that she "needs the money," and that the game is a fair one for both sides, and is not a violation of the anti-lottery law, that does not prohibit a man or woman from offering himself or herself as a prize. She will think it a lottery by the time she tries to send some of her literature through the mails, and Uncle Sam's postoffice inspectors clamp on to her dollars as they come rolling in. And the sporting men will be apt to find that it was a double lottery if any of them get her. Marriage alone is considered a lottery in the game of life, but when it is played as this suffragette wants to play it, the sport is high. —Haverhill Gazette.

CAPTAIN IN A HOSPITAL

Schooner Sinks After Crashing Into Another at Anchor

Boston, Dec. 15.—The three-masted schooner Belle Halliday of Boston was sunk off Chatham by a collision with the four-masted schooner General E. S. Greeley, and Captain Nathaniel Brown is at the Relief hospital suffering from a fractured skull and scalp wounds as the result of an accident which happened just before the collision.

After the two schooners crashed together the Greeley, which was anchored at the time, took the Belle Halliday's crew of six on board and cared for them until the freighter H. F. Dimock came alongside and took the injured captain and Steward Harwood to Boston while the four others of the Halliday crew remained on the Greeley and will continue to New York with the schooner.

The Belle Halliday, which was a three-masted schooner of about 600 tons, sailed from Boston for New York laden with paving blocks.

BOILERMAKERS YIELD

Great Strike Which Affected Fifty Thousand Men Is Ended

London, Dec. 15.—The boilermakers' lockout, affecting 50,000 men in the yards of the shipbuilding employers' federation, ended with the acceptance by the men of the terms made by the employers. The yards reopened today.

The lockout was instituted on Sept. 2. It was directly due to the action of the men in joining a number of sectional strikes in disregard to the agreement, into which they entered with their employers.

The strike has cost at least $5,000,000, the greatest damage being done in the great shipbuilding centres around Newcastle-on-Tyne.

FUND OF $10,000,000 IN BEHALF OF PEACE

New Foundation Is Created by Andrew Carnegie

Washington, Dec. 15.—Andrew Carnegie has transferred to a board of trustees $10,000,000 in 5 percent first mortgage bonds, the revenue of which will be used to "hasten the abolition of international war" and establishing a lasting world peace.

The formal transfer was made at a meeting in the rooms of the Carnegie Research foundation. The trustees organized by choosing as president United States Senator Root, the permanent representative of the United States at The Hague peace tribunal. President Taft has consented to be an honoorary president of the foundation.

The method by which the annual income of $500,000 shall be expended is left by Carnegie entirely to the trustees. When the establishment of universal peace is attained, the donor provides that the revenue shall be devoted to the banishment of the "next most degrading evil or evils," the suppression of which would most advance the progress, elevation and happiness of man.

CATCHES DOLLAR IN MOUTH

It Keeps on Downward and Young Pole Is Sent to Hospital

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Mike Popuvitch, a young Pole, lost a dollar in a bet in a double sense. He bet he could throw up a dollar and catch it in his mouth.

He got it in his mouth all right as it descended, but the coin entered with such momentum that before he could stop it it had passed down into the aesophagus, where it stuck.

He was tagen, in great agony, to a hospital, where surgeons successfully removed the dollar.

HEIRESS TO MILLIONS

Miss De Janon, Who Eloped With Waiter, to Get Buist Fortune

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—Roberta Buist de Janon, the 17-year-old girl who caused a country-wide sensation a year ago by running off with a hotel waiter, is an heiress to millions through the death of her grandfather, Robert Buist.

Buist's fortune is believed to reach $10,000,000, and Miss De Janon, it is said, will receive most of the estate under the will. Roberta de Janon is now in California under charge of a governess.

Doctor Leaps to Death

Pittsburg, Dec. 15.—Leaping from a window in the new homeopathic hospital, Dr. W. M. Proctor, one of the best known practitioners in the city, was killed. He was ill and had eluded the nurse.

More Battleships For England

London, Dec. 15.—Contracts have been let for the construction of two battleships provided for in the current year's naval program.

The Weather

Almanac, Friday, Dec. 16.
Sun rises—7:15; sets—4:30.
Moon rises—4:26 p. m.
High water—10:45 a. m.; 11:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; brisk to high southwest winds.

OLD SPOLIATION CLAIMS

Efforts to Make Uncle Sam Settle With French Government

Washington, Dec 15.—The century-old French spoliation claims were the subject of consideration in the senate Wednesday.

The claims, amounting to $840,000, constitute an essential part of the omnibus claims bill, and there was a determined effort to press them to final consideration. There was just as stubborn opposition, and Senator Bristow went to the extent of conducting a mild filibuster against them.

Senators Burnham, Gallinger, Smoot, Warren and others defended the bill, explaining that the spoliation claims had originated during the troubles with France at the beginning of the last century, and contended that this country had obligated itself to pay them.

VIEWS OF MRS. SNOWDEN

Suffragette Finds American Men Are More Easily Converted

New York, Dec. 15.—American men are easily converted to the support of woman suffrage and are much more sympathetic when approached on the proposition than are the women. Opposition to woman suffrage in America is mainly unintelligent.

Such are the conclusions of Mrs. Philip Snowden, the British suffragist, who was the guest of honor at a dinner by the Men's League for Woman Suffrage.

Six hundred guests listened to the speech of Mrs. Snowden and a number of others. Mrs. Carrie C. Catt declared it her belief that New York state would vote suffrage as soon as England.

"SECRETARY" WAS TO CALL FOR DIAMONDS

Plan to Rob Boston Jeweler Is Nipped In the Bud

Boston, Dec. 15.—A daring swindle involving some valuable diamonds was nipped in the bud by John J. Kingsley, the City Hall avenue jeweler. A man giving the name of a well known business man called Kingsley on the telephone and asked him if he would send him several high priced diamonds to look over at his house.

Kingsley informed the man that he would have several thousand dollars' worth put in a case and would send one of his clerks with them. This did not suit the alleged customer evidently, for he told Kingsley not to bother about taking the time of a clerk, but that he would send his secretary right over for them.

(-gv. ((Bmessage.kmafter

This last statement aroused the suspicion of Kingsley and when the alleged secretary arrived an officer was waiting and placed him under arrest. The police are now looking up the man's record.

BRAZIL'S SORRY PLIGHT

Wholly Unprepared to Cope With a Powerful Revolution

Rio de Janeiro, Dec. 15.—More than 2000 Brazilian sailors are under arrest and the fighting force of the republic is so demoralized that the government is unable to cope with a powerful revolution. This is the open fear expressed here.

With the crews of the warships Sao Paulo, Minas Geraes, Deodoro and Bahia awaiting court martial the battleships have been dismantled until they are practically useless as fighting machines. No one is allowed to enter the city until he bears a military passport and the barracks are filled with soldiers.

FOSS' COMING MESSAGE

Economy, Income Tax and Direct Elections Will Be Features

Boston, Dec. 15.—Governor-elect Foss completed the writing of his inaugural address last night. It is very short and concise.

It will recommend publicity in the affairs of the state, direct nominations, the direct election of United States senators, the passage of a state income tax, and a general policy of economy in the departments of the state.

ASKS FOR DEATH SENTENCE

Youthful Murderer Prefers It to Spending Life In Prison

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 15.—When 18-year-old George Bloohas, convicted of a murder here last summer, was sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment in Marquette prison, he begged the officers to hang him.

He said he would rather die than face the prospect of spending the rest of his days behind the bars.

Baby Burned to Death

Saugus, Mass., Dec. 15.—Joseph Langton, 5 years old, was burned to death here when the cottage owned by his father was destroyed by fire. The damage to the house is $2500.

Cuspidors In Milwaukee Ballrooms

Milwaukee, Dec. 15.—The health department has issued an order that cuspidors be placed in all ballrooms in this city.

PROBATE COURT AT QUINCY

Considerable Norfolk County Business Transacted

Judge Flint held Probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy Wednesday and transacted the following business:

WILLS ALLOWED.

Of Eveline Matthews of Braintree, Charles T. Crane executor, bond $400.

Of Margaret Lane late of Weymouth, Mary M. Lane executrix, bond $1,000.

Of Lucy A. Gardner late of Weymouth, Arthur N. Gardner executor, bond $6,000.

ADMINISTRATIONS GRANTED.

Thomas Otis, on estate of Hannah M. Otis late of Weymouth, bond $1,000.

Henry E. Teasdale, on estate of Daniel E. Cameron late of Quincy, bond $40,000.

Annie M. Cahill, on estate of Mary Cahill late of Quincy, bond $3,000.

James H. Webb, on estate of Eliza I. Webb late of Quincy, bond $1,500.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED.

First and final of Walter J. Collins, administrator of estate of Charles F. Collins late of Quincy, for $3,499.09.

Sixteenth of George H. Brown, trustee under the will of Irene Belser, for the benefit of Nellie Belser Dow, for $351.

Twentieth and final of Henry A. Johnson, trustee under will of Elizabeth L. Bennett late of Brookline, for the benefit of Sarah A. Matchett, for $4,580.25.

First and final of Horace F. Spear, administrator with will annexed of estate of Judith Spear late of Quincy, for $40,627.63.

First and final of Laurence H. H. Johnson, trustee under will of Elizabeth L. Bennett late of Brookline, for the benefit of Sarah A. Matchett and others, for $5,840.04.

First and final of Harvey W. Boyd, administrator of estate of Emma F. Nichols late of Randolph, for $929.32.

First and final of Harvey W. Boyd, administrator of estate of Charles W. Nichols late of Randolph, for $100,-$59.77.

Fourth of Eliot N. Jones, trustee of will of Harriet R. P. Stefford late of Wellesley, for $498.86.

First and final of Arthur B. Paine, administrator of Lela G. Paine late of Brookline, for $269.

First and final of Maurice P. Spillane, public administrator of estate of Elizabeth Phillips late of Medway, for $1,093.39.

First and final of John Neagle, administrator of estate of Catherine Neagle late of Quincy, for $1,042.50.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sarah I. Wood, administrator of estate of Myra J. Burrell late of Weymouth, was granted permission to sell real estate to the amount of $1,700.

John R. McGaughey, guardian of Francis W., Elizabeth F., Anna B., and Kathryne L. McGaughey, minors of Holbrook, were granted permission to sell real estate to the amount of $250.

Frederick Barnicoat was appointed guardian of the minor children of Daniel E. Cameron late of Quincy, bond $25,000.

John E. F., Louise M., Ignatius F., and Eleanor Frances Fratus of Cohasset were granted permission to change their sir names to Francis.

An inventory was filed on the estate tate of Catherine Hill late of Braintree; personal $280.26; real $3,500.

James K. Stewart was appointed guardian of William K. and Jessie P. Stewart, minors of Braintree, bond $100.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1256 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con

Bad Colds Some colds are worse than others, but they are all bad. Do not neglect them. Treat promptly, vigorously. First of all, ask your doctor about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co. Lowell, Mass.

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

R. E. FOY & CO.
MARKET GROCERY
TENDER SWEET CORN
We have three brands that are Leaders
Hatchet, Lilac and Bridal Bell
And we can recommend everyone of them to be of first quality.
Kernels are large, sweet and tender and full of milk. All of this corn is the best Maine packing.
Order some of it today.
2 cans 25 cts. $1.35 doz.
R. E. FOY & CO. Water cor. Quincy Street
Dec. 14-21
PHONE 117

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School
Woodward Institute
Public Schools
Parochial School

QUINCY HIGH.

The Sophomore class at a meeting held on Tuesday chose their class pin. The committee, which consists of Ethel Hatfield, Joseph Betts and Ethel Gifford are taking orders now and all who desire pins are requested to order them before the opening of Christmas vacation.

* * *

Ryder Gay '13 has left school until after vacation.

* * *

The Senior class met Tuesday after school to elect a representative on the Athletic committee. Frank Tirrell was elected.

* * *

Donald Berry '13 is back at school after an absence of 5 weeks on account of illness.

* * *

Practice for girls basketball teams is progressing under the direction of Miss Kirmayer.

* * *

Class basketball teams will be organized after the Christmas vacation.

* * *

The Junior class held a meeting Tuesday to nominate men for class representatives on the Athletic committee. Herbert Johnson and Kenneth Edwards were nominated.

* * *

All the money for the Freshman fund must be in before the close of school on Friday. The money will be used for beautifying the school grounds.

* * *

The double male quartet meets regular on Monday evenings at Hotel Greenleaf for rehearsals.

* * *

William Cranshaw received slight injuries Monday afternoon while doing gymnasium "stunts."

* * *

Miss Perkins, instructor in music, will take a number of the pupils who are especially interested in music to some of the best concerts in Boston during the winter.

* * *

The proposed date for the production of the cantata "Joan of Arc" is Feb. 21.

* * *

The double male quartet will sing at the Women's clubhouse in connection with the play of the Young Women's club.

* * *

The Athletic committee has voted that the members of the 1913 relay team shall receive their numerals.

* * *

H. Trask '13 shot 11 baskets in the game against the Lowell Intermediates last Saturday. Tirrell '11, S. Prout '12 Estey '13 and Holmes '13 were also on the victorious team.

* * *

"Rus" Bates '10 was one of the star performers in the big game with Newton on Saturday. He shot 4 baskets and played his usual good game in defense.

* * *

At a meeting of the Junior class held Wednesday after school the following were elected to office: President, Maurice Blackmur, Assistant business manager of the Golden Rod, Lester Chapman, representative on Athletic committee, William Edwards. In the contest for president, Willard Atkins was defeated by one vote. Johnson was nominated for the athletic committee but since the football captain is a member of it anyway, his name was withdrawn. An assistant manager of the Golden Rod was elected so that the business manager of the next editorial staff may enter upon his work with some little knowledge of the nature of his task.

* * *

The Senior class chose its motto at a recent meeting, "Facto probant" was chosen over a much longer and less definite maxim.

* * *

Interclass basketball games for girls will be started after the Christmas vacation. Later a game may be arranged with Woodward Institute.

* * *

Loyal Safford whose arm was fractured in the fall, is back at school in as good condition as ever.

Francis Foy who broke his collar bone last fall is recovering rapidly. Although his arm is still in a sling the break is well mended and the sling can be discarded soon.

* * *

Mr. Smith instructor in Physics and chemistry has procured a sextant for use in connection with his work.

* * *

E. Prout ex'11 has made the best time so far in trials for the Y. M. C. A. relay team.

* * *

George Finley has recovered from the attack of blood poisoning in his hand.

* * *

Among the candidates for the Y. M. C. A. track team are: Trask, Estey, Holmes, S. Prout, G. Finley, White, Tirrell. In the potato race, Trask, Holmes and S. Prout. Relay race, Trask, Estey and Holmes. 15-yard dash, Estey, Holmes. High jump, White, Tirrell, Finley, Running broad jump, Trask.

* * *

The final preparations for the football reception are being made by the committee in charge. It will be held in the gymnasium, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Q's will be awarded the members of the team and the occasion promises to be unusually enjoyable.

* * *

WOODWARD INSTITUTE.

The Juniors will give their party to the Seniors and their invited friends next Wednesday evening, Dec. 21. The party will be held in the assembly hall owing to the large number who are expected. The class officers have charge of the arrangements.

* * *

The first of the series of cup games in basketball were played last Friday. The Juniors challenged the Seniors for a series of two out of three games, the winner to hold the cup unless defeated by one of the other classes in a challenge series.

* * *

GRADED SCHOOLS.

The 6th grade at the Cranch school is preparing a Christmas program for the whole school under the direction of Miss Turner, the teacher.

* * *

The class pins for 8th grade scholars at the Gridley Bryant school have arrived and are considered very satisfactory.

* * *

The boys of the Massachusetts Fields school had a successful candy sale last week. The proceeds will go toward the expenses of the soccer team.

* * *

The candy sale at the Lincoln school last week netted $10.30.

* * *

The John Hancock scholars cleared $7.80 at their candy sale last Thursday.

* * *

Two more cases of scarlet fever were reported this morning. The children were pupils at the Wollaston school. The total number of cases for that school is now nine. The school was thoroughly fumigated Wednesday morning and the books used by the children who were infected with the disease were burned.

* * *

Four cases of scarlet fever have been reported in the Massachusetts Fields school. The school will not be closed unless other children come down with the disease.

* * *

The boys of the Lincoln and John Hancock schools are keeping up their practice in soccer football despite the snow and cold weather.

* * *

The teachers at the Quincy school will hold special Christmas exercises with the children in their own rooms.

* * *

Charles Williams, grade 6 at the Adams school, won first prize at the recent prize speaking contest of the Womens Christian Temperance union.

* * *

The results of the written examination in music given by Miss Perkins in all the graded schools, have been announced. The highest percentages in the different grades were made at the following schools: grade 7, Washington, 85.5 per cent; grade 6, Coddington 91.5 per cent; grade 5, Adams, 86 per cent; grades 4 and 5 Coddington, 85.7 per cent; grade 4, Massachusetts Fields, 84 per cent; grade 8, Wollaston, 79 per cent. In the Coddington school grades 4 and 5 are combined in singing so that their record, which is very good, is given with the other high percentages.

* * *

Special Christmas music and drawing in all the schools are in charge of the instructors in those subjects.

* * *

Miss Bernice Macomber has resigned her position as teacher of the 4th and 5th grades of the Massachusetts Fields school. Miss Grace Fisher has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

* * *

An expert came out from Boston this week with the school commissioner to look over the heating apparatus in the Coddington school. As a result of his examination auxiliary steam pipes will be put in the north rooms, numbers 5 and 12. It has been necessary to get on such a head of steam to keep these rooms warm that the other rooms were too warm and the steam was blowing off a large part of the time in the coldest weather.

* * *

Those who attended the candy sales at the schools last week were mostly children but a number of the parents appeared and helped out by making large purchases.

* * *

Before the Atherton Hough school is accepted by the city the commission wants several things changed and a few things added. The school committee will attend to the furnishing as soon as the building is accepted.

* * *

The Monday morning exercises at the Coddington school will be in keeping with the Christmas season. Mr. Bentley will talk to the scholars about Christmas and the music will be seasonable in character. The lantern cannot be used until the new window shades are procured. Otherwise some Christmas views might be shown on the screen.

* * *

The Wollaston school was closed on Tuesday by the Board of Health officers on account of the scarlet fever epidemic. The regular Christmas vacation begins next Wednesday Dec. 21, so that only about a week will be lost from the actual time.

* * *

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Quincy Schoolmasters Club meets for its annual dinner next Wednesday evening, Dec. 21, at the Boston City club. Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell of Arlington will be the speaker of the evening.

* * *

The evening school in drawing, cooking, civil service and in the commercial branches at the High school building closed Tuesday evening. The sessions in point of attendance have been most successful. No diplomas are given in any of the courses, but certificates were awarded in the drawing class. Of the class of 76 in drawing certificates were given to 68. Of the other courses the enrollment was sewing 19; cooking 17; civil service 14; and in commercial courses 24.

* * *

The evening schools at the Adams and Willard buildings will not close until the second week in January.

* * *

The date for the opening of the new school building at Houghs Neck is still uncertain, and it is said at the office of the School Committee that it is doubtful if it opens before the first of February. There still remains much to be done and the School Committee will not occupy it for school purposes until it has been accepted by the city. And the city will not accept the building until it is complete in every way. The school furnishings are in place, but there remains some work to be done by the plumbers and to the cement in the basement

* * *

The School Committee will meet Thursday evening to open bids for fuel.

* * *

The public schools will close next Wednesday until after New Years. Many of the teachers who live out of town will go home for the Christmas holidays.

* * *

The Quincy Mansion school closes today for the Christmas recess. There has been much of the Christmas spirit at the school during the past week and Mrs. Willard has given the girls many good times; a concert by the Phillips Andover banjo and mandolin club followed by a dance Saturday evening the plays Dickens' "Christmas Carol" and "The Secret Tree" on Monday, and the Christmas concert Tuesday. Today the girls scatter to their homes which are located in many states throughout the country.

QUINCY WELL ADVERTISED

At Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington

Frank Fessenden Crane who represented the City of Quincy at the River and Harbor congress at Washington returned home Tuesday night and reports an enthusiastic meeting. The congress was held at the New Willard hotel, and was attended by between 3000 and 4000 delegates from all over the country. New England was represented by Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston and Commissioner Crane of Quincy and Congressman W. S. Greene of Fall River. Mayor Fitzgerald was elected as spokesman for the New England delegation and made an earnest plea for the Atlantic seaboard and he was enthusiastically received.

President Taft welcomed the delegates and some stiring addresses were made. One thing the River and Harbors congress has accomplished is a bond issue of $50,000,000 to be expended on all the rivers, harbors and waters of the entire United States, under the direction of the United States Engineers and a commission to be appointed by the President.

Jerome Jones of Boston and Frank P. Crane of Quincy were elected as directors for the New England seaboard.

On Friday President Taft gave a special reception to the members of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways association who were attending the Congress, and Mayor Fitzgerald and Mr. Crane were among those present.

Some of the notable speakers at the congress were Congressman J. Hampton Moore, Gov. Harmon of Ohio, Champ Clark and Gen. Bixby of the United States engineers.

Mr. Crane speaks very highly of the courteous manner in which the New England delegates were looked after by Senator Lodge.

An incident not down on the program took place early Thursday morning, and while it created some laughter for a time, Quincy got the best advertising it has had for a long time. The night before Mr. Crane had shipped to him a large box of books issued by the Quincy Granite Manufacturers Association, illustrating numerous monuments and extolling Quincy granite. One of these he caused to be placed in every seat in the convention hall, so that when the meeting opened Thursday three or four thousand men from all over the United States were reading about Quincy granite. Most of the delegates took the pamplets home with them.

Mrs. Crane accompanied her husband on the trip and reports having had a glorious time.

CITY CHARTERS.

It was voted at the mass meeting of Chelsea citizens Wednesday, held for the purpose of considering the new city charter, to have the six forms that have been suggested for the new charter printed and sent to every voter of the city at least one week before the next meeting is held.

—There are 165 miles of street railways in Australia.

Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf engines. The circular saw was introduced revolutionizing all kinds of wood work. The cooking stove took the place of the old-time Dutch oven, matches, the place of the tinder box, railroad trains the place of the slow moving stage coach. The church and state were separated and a new life predominated everything. Greater changes have been wrought in the social, political and economic life of the race than in the eight decades previous.

COMMON SENSE

(Continued from Page 1.)

Dr. Hardy then sketched the wonderful changes in some of the industries from the fishing industry to the splendid marine service of the American navy. He briefly outlined the development of the building industry from the time of the old cross cut saw to the age of gang saws and industrial machinery. He suggested the wonderful changes in transportation which have become a great problem of the present day, showing the wonderful development from the time of the slow moving stage coach to the railroad trains, and ocean liners. The wonderful advance that had been made in the printing business from the day of the Franklin press to the mammoth presses used today by the Christian Science Monitor, showing that the news gatherer had become a profession in itself.

He then illustrated the evolution in some of the New England industries. The work of the shoemaker showed more clearly the changes wrought from the time the cobbler with his kit of tools passed from house to house doing the work of the whole family. Dr. Hardy also spoke of the present shoe manufactory with its many machines where a single pair of shoes passed through the hands of 105 different persons and fifty machines in the process of its manufacture. The old cobbler shop has been transformed into gigantic manufacturing plants employing thousands of workmen.

He also gave a few statistics showing the growth of the shoe business, it being estimated that the output of Massachusetts for year 1910 will be two hundred million pairs. He also spoke of the changes from the old fireplace and the introduction of hot air and steam for heating. Of the change in lighting fires from the old sundial and tinder box to the friction matches, in an interesting way he traced the genesis of modern photography from the old silhouette ambertype and daguerrotype to the product of today. The changes in equipages from the old two and four horse coach to the automobile of the present day. The old spinning wheel which made the cloth for the great cotton and woolen mills and showed by fashion plates that our grandmothers were not careless about adornment.

He revealed the tremendous changes made within the life of some now living, and that our task is the application of common sense to the problems of today less we surrender the heritage of the past.

Dr. Hardy's lecture was illustrated by 80 lantern slides and he held the closest attention of his hearers throughout his lecture.

—The City Council of Minneapolis is experimenting with electricity to purify the city water.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove's signature
on box. 25c

Furniture
The Ideal
Christmas Gift

Most every home needs something new in Furniture or Rugs. The custom of making the Christmas gift for the family something for the house—is growing more in favor every year.

The man who gives his family a new piano for Christmas brings joy to his whole family. Just so with Rugs and other furnishings for Parlor, Dining Room, Sleeping Room, Den or Kitchen.

Surprise your family with something for the house. Come here where prices are low and quality high. Open an account if you wish.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO., Quincy
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock Street. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 7-1t

THE UNITED STATES TOTAL POPULATION COMPARATIVE SUMMARY FOR 1910, 1900 AND 1890.

States.	1910.	1900.	*1890.	Increase. 1900 to 1910. Number.	Per cent.
The United States	93,402,151	77,256,630	62,979,766	16,145,521	20.9
Continental United States	91,972,266	75,994,575	62,947,714	15,977,691	21.2
Alabama	2,138,093	1,828,697	1,513,401	309,396	16.9
Arizona	204,354	122,931	88,243	81,423	66.2
Arkansas	1,574,449	1,311,564	1,128,211	262,885	20.0
California	2,377,549	1,485,053	1,213,398	892,496	60.1
Colorado	799,024	539,700	413,249	259,324	48.0
Connecticut	1,114,756	908,420	746,258	206,336	22.7
Delaware	202,322	184,735	168,493	17,587	9.5
District of Columbia	331,069	278,718	230,392	52,351	18.8
Florida	752,619	528,542	391,422	224,077	42.4
Georgia	2,609,121	2,216,331	1,837,353	392,790	17.7
Idaho	325,594	161,772	88,548	163,822	101.3
Illinois	5,638,591	4,821,550	3,826,352	817,041	16.9
Indiana	2,700,876	2,516,462	2,192,404	184,414	7.3
Iowa	2,224,771	2,231,853	1,912,297	†7,082	†0.3
Kansas	1,690,949	1,470,495	1,428,108	220,454	15.0
Kentucky	2,289,905	2,147,174	1,858,635	142,731	6.6
Louisiana	1,656,388	1,381,625	1,118,588	274,763	19.9
Maine	742,371	694,466	661,086	47,905	6.9
Maryland	1,295,346	1,188,044	1,042,390	107,302	9.0
Massachusetts	3,366,416	2,805,346	2,238,947	561,070	20.0
Michigan	2,810,173	2,420,982	2,093,890	389,191	16.1
Minnesota	2,075,708	1,751,394	1,310,283	324,314	18.5
Mississippi	1,797,114	1,551,270	1,289,600	245,844	15.8
Missouri	3,293,335	3,106,665	2,679,185	186,670	6.0
Montana	376,053	243,329	142,924	132,724	54.5
Nebraska	1,192,214	1,066,300	1,062,656	125,914	11.8
Nevada	81,875	42,335	47,355	39,540	93.4
New Hampshire	430,572	411,588	376,530	18,984	4.6
New Jersey	2,537,167	1,883,669	1,444,933	653,498	34.7
New Mexico	327,301	195,310	160,282	131,991	67.5
New York	9,113,614	7,268,894	6,003,174	1,844,720	25.4
North Carolina	2,206,287	1,893,810	1,617,949	312,447	16.5
North Dakota	577,056	319,146	190,983	257,910	80.8
Ohio	4,767,121	4,157,545	3,672,329	609,576	14.7
Oklahoma	1,657,155	790,391	258,657	866,764	109.7
Oregon	672,765	413,536	317,704	259,229	62.7
Pennsylvania	7,665,111	6,302,115	5,258,113	1,362,996	21.6
Rhode Island	542,610	428,556	345,506	114,054	26.6
South Carolina	1,515,400	1,340,316	1,151,149	175,084	13.1
South Dakota	583,888	401,570	348,600	182,318	45.4
Tennessee	2,184,789	2,020,616	1,767,518	164,173	8.1
Texas	3,896,542	3,048,710	2,235,527	847,832	27.8
Utah	373,351	276,749	210,779	96,602	34.9
Vermont	355,956	343,641	332,422	12,315	3.6
Virginia	2,061,612	1,854,184	1,655,980	207,428	11.2
Washington	1,141,990	518,103	357,232	623,887	120.4
West Virginia	1,221,119	958,800	762,794	262,319	27.4
Wisconsin	2,333,860	2,069,042	1,686,880	264,818	12.7
Wyoming	145,965	92,531	62,555	53,434	57.7
Alaska	64,356	63,592	32,052	764	1.2
Hawaii	191,909	154,001	.....	37,908	24.6
Military and naval	55,508	91,219	.....	.....	....
Porto Rico	1,118,012	§953,243	.....	.....	....

*The figures for 1890 given in the preliminary state announcements did not include the Indians specially enumerated.

†Includes 953,243 persons in Porto Rico (1899 census).

‡Decrease.

§According to the census of Porto Rico, taken in 1899 under the direction of the war department.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '95
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 279-3. Residence 223-3.

PETITION.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled. The undersigned, citizens of Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham in said Commonwealth, respectfully petition for legislation to provide for repairing, and altering the Weymouth Fore River Bridge in and over the tide waters of Weymouth Fore River in the Counties of Norfolk and Plymouth and Commonwealth aforesaid.

WM. T. SHEA,
EDWARD W. HUNT
WALTER W. HERSEY,
Bridge Commissioners or Trustees of said bridge.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Office of the Secretary
Boston, Dec. 7, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.
Dec. 8-3t 8, 15, 19

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Fettengill's, 1361 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 383-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
For The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1, SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS
INSURANCE
REAL ESTATE
MORTGAGES
MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
CARE OF PROPERTY
CONVEYANCING TRUSTS

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 176 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 540-3. Oct. 6-tf

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo of invention and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to see us.
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office.
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

ROYAL ARCANUM.

Wednesday evening the members of Monatiquot Council No. 987, Royal Arcanum, South Braintree elected officers for the following year as follows:

Regent—Fred R. Carmichael.
Vice Regent—George S. Derninger.
Orator—Hon. B. H. Woodsum.
Past Reg.—N. E. Hayden.
Sec.—Foster F. Tupper.
C.—Frank A. Reed.
Treas.—H. W. Mansfield.
Guide—Maurice A. Colbert.
Warden—Stafford S. Bridgham.
Sentinel—Edward Carter.
Trustee for 3 years— Rufus H. Woodsum.
Delegate to Grand Council—Millard F. Dyer.
Alternate—Foster F. Tupper.

The installation of officers will occur the second Wednesday in January.

OF QUINCY GRANITE.

William Eaton, a retired engineer, of 1 Stillman avenue, Brockton, has donated to the town of Sandwich, his native place, a beautiful granite monument as a memorial to his father, James R. Eaton, and a perpetual tribute to the soldiers and sailors who enlisted from Sandwich in the Civil war. The monument will be unveiled next Memorial day. It will cost about $3,000.

The monument will be of Quincy granite, and will be 32 feet 10 inches. The shaft will rest on three bases. The first or lower base will be eight feet six inches square, the others in proportion. The die will be four feet square and five feet in height and on the sides will be placed the inscriptions. The die will be capped in an artistic manner and dental work, so-called, will also adorn it. On the plinth, a part of the capping, will be an anchor and wreath, cannon, crossed swords and wreath.

The shaft will be round and of dark polished Quincy granite, and it will be surmounted by a figure of a soldier 7 feet tall, at parade rest, of Westerly granite.

"The monument will be somewhat like the memorial to the soldier dead at West Bridgewater," said Mr. Eaton, in speaking of his gift, "except it will have three instead of two bases."

At a special town meeting the town voted to accept the gift of Mr. Eaton and a sufficient sum of money was appropriated to grade and prepare the grounds in front of the Town Hall, where the monument will be erected. The town also voted to call the plot of ground that will be set apart for the monument as Eaton square in honor of Mr. Eaton.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Ten Days to Xmas
DEC. 15
Recall That Hint About the Gift For Father?

MISS LE BLANC FREED BY JURY

Verdict of Not Guilty Is Reached on the First Ballot

IS RECEIVED WITH APPLAUSE

Crowd In Courtroom as Well as Throng Outside Cheer, Clap Hands and Throw Hats In Air—Girl Who Was Charged With Killing Glover to Spend Christmas In Old Home—Murder Myster May Never Be Solved

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 15.—Hattie LeBlanc is free. The jury in the Middlesex superior criminal court took and hour and thirty-two minutes to leave the courtroom and return with the verdict for the defendant expressing its conviction that she did not kill Clarence F. Glover.

When the jury returned to the courtroom and Clerk Dillingham, addressing Foreman Fairbanks, asked if the jury had arrived at a verdict, not only the foreman, but several others of the jurymen as well, exclaimed emphatically: "Not guilty."

Immediately there was wild excitement in the courtroom. Men and women stood up, clapped their hands and shouted, so that not for some seconds could the court officers quell the disturbance.

When there was quiet, the clerk told Hattie that she was discharged from the indictment and might go hence sine die.

It took only one ballot of the twelve men who held the fate of the girl in their hands to acquit her. In prison for more than a year, on trial for two weeks and three days, the little girl was in a maze of emotions when she was liberated. She cried in her joy and she laughed in her grief.

Hattie was then taken over to the sheriff's office. A great throng was waiting for her outside the building. They cheered her all the way across to the jail.

At the request of the jurymen, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Tufts, counsel for the defense, went to the jury room to be congratulated by the jury. Both men shook hands with each of the jurors. When the jury left the room those in the corridors clapped their hands and cheered.

When they reached the street Johnson was at their head. Handclapping and cheering greeted them in the street. The jurymen and Johnson raised their hats and men in the crowd outside tossed their hats in the air.

"I am delighted with the verdict," said Hattie LeBlanc to newspaper reporters. "I am going home to spend Christmas with my mother and sisters."

"How did you feel, Hattie, while the jury was out deliberating?" she was asked.

"I felt sure of the outcome and it comforted me."

"What are you going to do in the future?"

"I do not know now; for a few days I shall stay with my friends and then I shall go back with my father to my home in West Arichat."

"I thank the judge, the jury and my counsel, Mr. Johnson, to whom I am very grateful."

Following the announcement of the verdict Assistant District Attorney Wier walked up to the bench and talked with Judge Bond about further action in the murder case, in view of the discharge of Hattie LeBlanc and the allegations that had been made against Mrs. Lillian M. Glover, the widow of the murdered man.

"I think," said the assistant district attorney, "that in view of what has come out in this trial, Hattie LeBlanc should tell her story to the grand jury."

Judge Bond told Wier that as the matter sands now there is not enough evidence against Mrs. Glover to justify action against her. Judge Bond said for publication:

"They will have to get more evidence before they could do anything in the way of convicting Mrs. Glover of the murder. There is not enough evidence as the case stands now to convict her of the crime."

In view of this statement by Bond the impression about the courthouse was that nothing further would be done toward clearing up the Glover murder.

Mrs. Glover Is Silent

Waltham, Mass., Dec. 15.—Mrs. Lillian M. Glover, who was a central figure in the trial, was at her home here when the jury brought in the verdict which freed her former servant from killing Mrs. Glover's husband. She said:

"I do not care to say anything about the verdict of the jury. I know what it is, but I won't say a word. I know all about what Judge Bond said, but I do not care to say anything about it."

This referred to Judge Bond's statement that Mrs. Glover cannot be convicted of the murder upon the evidence against her brought out during the LeBlanc trial.

Mrs. Alma Roche, former maid for Mrs. Glover said: "I knew she was innocent, therefore I was not surprised at the verdict. It was a fair one and the friends of Hattie feel glad."

NOTED SINGERS ENGAGED

Eames and De Gogorza to Marry, Says Report

PHOTO © by A. DUPONT

NOT LEGALLY DIVORCED

Claim of Wife of De Gogorza, Who Is to Marry Emma Eames

New York, Dec. 15.—"My wife won't let me," may be the refrain that Emilio De Gogorza, the baritone, will warble in excuse for not speedily carrying out his announced intention to marry Mme. Emma Eames, the American prima donna. Signora De Gogorza, wife of the baritone, does not believe him eligible to wed Mme. Eames, as he has not, to her knowledge, obtained a divorce and she considers herself his legal wife.

The American says that confirmation of the reported engagement of Mme. Eames and De Gogorza was given direct to The American correspondent by the diva herself in Paris.

The prima donna has told her friends that no date has as yet been set for the ceremony. It is believed here that the wedding probably will take place here next summer.

TWENTY-NINE LIVES THOUGHT TO BE LOST

Rescue Party Overcome In Virginia Mine Disaster

Norton, Va., Dec. 15.—Twenty-nine lives are believed to have been snuffed out in the explosion of gas in the Greene coal mine, two miles from Tacoma.

Twenty-six miners were entombed when the explosion occurred. In a heroic effort to rescue the imperilled men, Mine Superintendent Barrowman and three bank bosses descended the shaft and nothing has since been heard from them.

Soon after their entrance to the mine they signalled for the engineer to stop the elevator and it is believed that they lost their lives in a blast of flame which swept into the shaft.

Ten bodies have been removed from the mine and one man has been rescued, but he may not live to relate the fate of his fellow workmen.

EGGS WORTH $25 APIECE

Black Orpington Hen and Her Daughter Are Valued at $22,000

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—Winner over all others of her breed, Lady Washington, a raven black Orpington hen, worth $12,000, has only one of her kind as a rival, her own daughter. Her offspring is worth $10,000.

Whenever either chooses to do the commonplace thing of laying an egg that egg is worth $25. Both chickens are on exhibition at the fifth annual poultry show in this city. Lady Washington arrived yesterday from her home at Factoryville, Pa.

Stork's Twenty-Eighth Visit

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 15.—The twenty-eighth child has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Bonner at New Castle. Twenty-one of the children are living. Bonner is 49 years old and his wife is four years his junior.

Killed by False Teeth

Columbus, O., Dec. 15.—Charles Smith, 42, a railway locomotive tester of Marion, O., died here last night from the effects of swallowing his false teeth four weeks ago.

REFORM IN THE RULES OF HOUSE

Fight of Progressive Democrats Has Been Successful

A STATEMENT BY UNDERWOOD

Problem of Appointment of Committees to Be Adjusted by Democrats—Sentiment Against Giving Speaker the Power Too Strong to Be Ignored—Fight Over New Rules Started by Hughes of New Jersey

Washington, Dec. 15.—Champ Clark will not appoint the committees of the house in the Sixty-second congress. This was the definite statement made by Representative Underwood of Alabama, one of Clark's most intimate associates on the Democratic side, and heir to the chairmanship on ways and means in the event that the old method of appointming committees prevails.

The announcement of Underwood is the first statement from the conservative wing of the minority to the effect that the fight of the progressive Democrats for further reform in the rules of the house, although short, has been successful.

"It is now apparent, said Underwood, "that the next speaker of the house will not appoint the committees. It is evident that the country generally believes that the Democrats elected to the Sixty-second congress pledged themselves to take from the speaker the power of appointing committees. The Democrats are going to redeem every pledge made during the campaign, and reform of the rules is one of the pledges which will be redeemed.

"The sentiment against the speaker appointing committees has been crystalizing and it is now so strong that it cannot be ignored. I am not prepared to say how the committees will be selected. I am in doubt as to whether they should be selected by a committee on committees, or elected by the house or by some other method not yet suggested. It begins to look as though this is a problem with which the Democrats must wrestle from now until the Sixty-second congress meets next December."

Renewal of the fight on the house rules which signalized the past session was precipitated Wednesday by Representative Hughes of New Jersey. The point raised was whether a bill considered in regular order on the previous calendar Wednesday could be taken up again.

The question under consideration was whether a bill for the codification and revision of the laws relating to the judiciary, consideration of which occupied all the previous Wednesday, should again be taken up yesterday simply on the call of the chairman of the committee reporting the measure.

The question was raised by Hughes after Representative Moon of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on revision of the laws, had asked that the house proceed with the consideration of the bill for codifying the judiciary laws.

Representative Fitzgerald of New York led the Democratic side of the house in opposing consideration of the bill. He declared that the house under the rules could decide for itself what business it shall consider. It was declared by the Democratic members that the judiciary bill, which is lengthy, might be used as a buffer to prevent the house from taking up any other bills for many calendar Wednesdays to come.

Representative Sherley of Kentucky declared that the consideration of the bill, which is 203 pages in length, and contains 286 sections, might occupy every calendar Wednesday during this session. The house a week ago reached only section 11 of the bill.

After the discussion had proceeded for an hour, Speaker Cannon ruled that there were no precedents exactly fitting to the situation, but that the house should not be deprived of doing what it desired. Therefore he ruled that the house could settle for itself whether it would consider the bill.

By a vote of 146 to 51 the house decided to take up the measure.

REBELS DRIVEN OUT

Mexico Cleared of Organized Resistance to Government

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Mexican federal troops have completely routed the revolutionists in Chihuahua and captured the city of Guerrero, according to a telegram received by the state department from Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City.

"This cleared the state of Chihuahua and other parts of the country," said Wilson, "of all organized resistance to the government."

Miss Knollys Gets $2500 Verdict

London, Dec. 15.—Louvima Knollys, daughter of King George's private secretary, was awarded $2500 damages against the newspaper John Bull and its proprietor, Horatio Bottomly, M. P., for publishing a statement that she had eloped with an officer of the Household cavalry.

Danderine
Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows:
"When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips."
Another from Newark, N. J.
"I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other one preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

Cut This Out
FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

In Sudden Emergencies

like illness, it is often necessary quickly to raise the temperature of a room. For instance, in those hours between midnight and dawn, when the day temperature has been allowed to drop, if you are called upon to get up, the room is chilly and cold. It takes a long time to start up a furnace or fire and raise the temperature by ordinary means.

You can instantly heat a room to any desired temperature with a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be cleaned in an instant. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. It has a filler-cap which does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable and well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair
Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

Advertise in The Ledger

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Quincy People.

A one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other troubles injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric acid circulated in the blood.

Backache and pains and languor and nervousness come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes or fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Quincy cures are the proof.

Mrs. J. Boyle, 8 Marsh St., Quincy, Mass., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and can say they are unequaled for curing kidney disorders. They cured my system and in six weeks, time from kidney complaint from which I had suffered for a long time." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Worms

"Cascarets are certainly fine. I gave a friend one when the doctor was treating him for cancer of the stomach. The next morning he passed a specimen of a tape worm. He then got a box and in three days he passed a tape-worm 45 feet long. It was Mr. Matt Freck, of Millersburg, Dauphin Co., Pa. I am quite a worker for Cascarets. I use them myself and find them beneficial for most any disease caused by impure blood." Chas. F. Condon, Lewiston, Pa., (Mifflin Co.)

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 921

FUNERAL DESIGNS

ALL KINDS

at short notice our specialty.

PATTERSON, "The Florist"

92 South Central Ave.

WOLLASTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL Raspberry and Strawberry Jam 25c VARIETY TODAY 17 cent PER JAR At JOHNSON BROS.

WHEELER'S

Dry Goods Fancy Goods

CHRISTMAS

ADVANCE SALE OF

USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES

FOR

...CHRISTMAS GIFTS...

APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS

The Store for Ladies' Furnishings

City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES

--- THE ---

Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.

10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.

Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist, Ask for CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY

Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

They scarcely seemed to enter the city, for the city rather seemed to spring up about them and encompass them of its own act. But there they were in the heart of it, on 'change, among the merchants, who hurried up and down and chinked the money in their pockets, and conversed in groups, and looked at their watches, and trifled thoughtfully with their great gold seals, and so forth, as Scrooge had seen them often.

The spirit stopped beside one little knot of business men. Observing that one hand was pointed to them, Scrooge advanced to listen to their talk.

"No," said a great fat man with a monstrous chin; "I don't know much about it either way. I only know he's dead."

"When did he die?" inquired another.

"Last night, I believe."

"Why, what was the matter with him?" asked a third, taking a vast quantity of snuff out of a very large snuffbox. "I thought he'd never die."

"God knows," said the first, with a yawn.

"What has he done with his money?" asked a red faced gentleman with a pendulous excrescence on the end of his nose that shook like the gills of a turkey cock.

"I haven't heard," said the man with the large chin, yawning again. "Left it to his company, perhaps. He hasn't left it to me. That's all I know."

This pleasantry was received with a general laugh.

"It's likely to be a very cheap funeral," said the same speaker, "for upon my life I don't know of anybody to go to it. Suppose we make up a party and volunteer."

"I don't mind going if a lunch is provided," observed the gentleman with the excrescence on his nose. "But I must be fed, if I make one."

Another laughed.

"Well, I am the most disinterested among you, after all," said the first speaker, "for I never wear black gloves, and I never eat lunch. But I'll offer to go if anybody else will. When I come to think of it, I'm not at all sure that I wasn't his most particular friend, for we used to stop and speak whenever we met. Bye, bye!"

"Spirit," said Scrooge, shuddering from head to foot, "I see, I see. The case of this unhappy man might be my own. My life tends that way now. Merciful heaven, what is this?"

"MERCIFUL HEAVEN, WHAT IS THIS?"

He recoiled in terror, for the scene had changed, and now he almost touched a bed, a bare, uncurtained bed, on which, beneath a ragged sheet, there lay a something covered up, which, though it was dumb, announced itself in awful language.

The room was very dark, too dark to be observed with any accuracy, though Scrooge glanced round it in obedience to a secret impulse, anxious to know what kind of room it was. A pale light, rising in the outer air, fell straight upon the bed, and on it, unwatched, unwept, uncared for, was the body of this man.

He lay in the dark, empty house with not a man, a woman or a child to say he was kind to me in this or that and for the memory of one kind word I will be kind to him. A cat was tearing at the door, and there was a sound of gnawing rats beneath the hearthstone. What they wanted in the room of death and why they were so restless and disturbed Scrooge did not dare to think.

"Spirit," he said, "this is a fearful place. In leaving it I shall not leave its lesson, trust me. Let us go!"

Still the ghost pointed with an unmoved finger to the head.

"I understand you," Scrooge returned, "and I would do it if I could. But I have not the power, spirit. I have not the power."

Again it seemed to look upon him.

"If there is any person in the town who feels emotion caused by this man's death," said Scrooge, "show that person to me, spirit, I beseech you!"

The phantom spread its dark robe before him for a moment like a wing, and, withdrawing it, revealed a room by daylight, where a mother and her children were.

She was expecting some one and with anxious eagerness, for she walked up and down the room, started at every sound, looked out from the window, glanced at the clock, tried, but in vain, to work with her needle and could hardly bear the voices of the children in their play.

At length the long expected knock was heard. She hurried to the door and met her husband, a man whose face was careworn and depressed, though he was young. There was a remarkable expression in it now, a kind of serious delight, of which he felt ashamed and which he struggled to repress.

He sat down to the dinner that had been hoarding for him by the fire, and when she asked him faintly what news, which was not until after a long silence, he appeared embarrassed how to answer.

"Is it good," she said, "or bad?" to help him.

"Bad," he answered.

"We are quite ruined?"

"No. There is hope yet, Caroline."

"If he relents," she said, amazed, "there is. Nothing is past hope if such a miracle has happened."

"He is past relenting," said her husband. "He is dead."

She was a mild and patient creature if her face spoke truth. But she was thankful in her soul to hear it, and she said so, with clasped hands. She prayed forgiveness the next moment and was sorry, but the first was the emotion of her heart.

"What the half drunken woman whom I told you of last night said to me when I tried to see him and obtain a week's delay, and what I thought was a mere excuse to avoid me, turns out to have been quite true. He was not only ill, but dying then."

"To whom will our debt be transferred?"

"I don't know. But before that time we shall be ready with the money, and even though we were not it would be bad fortune indeed to find so merciless a creditor in his successor. We may sleep tonight with light hearts, Caroline!"

Yes. Soften it as they would, their hearts were lighter. The children's faces, hushed and clustered round to hear what they so little understood, were brighter, and it was a happier house for this man's death! The only emotion that the ghost could show him, caused by the event, was one of pleasure.

"Let me see some tenderness connected with a death," said Scrooge, "or that dark chamber, spirit, which we left just now will be forever present to me."

The ghost conducted him through several streets familiar to his feet, and as they went along Scrooge looked here and there to find himself, but nowhere was he to be seen. They entered poor Bob Cratchit's house, the dwelling he had visited before, and found the mother and the children seated round the fire.

Quiet—very quiet. The noisy little Cratchits were as still as statues in one corner and sat looking up at Peter, who had a book before him. The mother and her daughters were engaged in sewing. But surely they were very quiet.

"'And He took a child and set him in the midst of them.'"

Where had Scrooge heard those words? He had not dreamed them. The boy must have read them out as he and the spirit crossed the threshold. Why did he not go on?

The mother laid her work upon the table and put her hand up to her face.

"The color hurts my eyes," she said.

The color? Ah, poor Tiny Tim!

"They're better now again," said Cratchit's wife. "It makes them weak by candlelight, and I wouldn't show weak eyes to your father when he comes home for the world. It must be near his time."

"Past it, rather," Peter answered, shutting up his book. "But I think he's walked a little slower than he used these few last evenings, mother."

They were very quiet again. At last she said, in a steady, cheerful voice that faltered only once:

"I have known him walk with—I have known him walk with Tiny Tim upon his shoulder very fast indeed."

"And so have I," cried Peter—"often!"

"And so have I!" exclaimed another. So had all.

"But he was very light to carry," she resumed, intent upon her work, "and his father loved him so that it was no trouble—no trouble. And there is your father at the door."

"THE COLOR HURTS MY EYES," SHE SAID.

She hurried out to meet him, and little Bob in his comforter—he had need of it, poor fellow—came in. His tea was ready for him on the hob, and they all tried who should help him to it most. Then the two young Cratchits got upon his knees and laid each child a little cheek against his face as if they said: "Don't mind it, father! Don't be grieved!"

Bob was very cheerful with them and spoke pleasantly to all the family. He looked at the work upon the table and praised the industry and speed of Mrs. Cratchit and the girls. They would be done long before Sunday, he said.

"Sunday! You went today, then, Robert?" said his wife.

"Yes, my dear," returned Bob. "I wish you could have gone. It would have done you good to see how green a place it is. But you'll see it often. I promised him that I would walk there on Sunday. My little, little child!" cried Bob. "My little child!"

He broke down all at once. He could not help it. If he could have helped it he and his child would have been farther apart perhaps than they were.

He left the room and went upstairs into the room above, which was lighted cheerfully and hung with Christmas. There was a chair set close beside the child, and there were signs of some one having been there lately. Poor Bob sat down in it, and when he had thought a little and composed himself he kissed the little face. He was reconciled to what had happened and went down again quite happy.

Mrs. Cratchit kissed him, his daughters kissed him, the two young Cratchits kissed him, and Peter himself shook hands. Spirit of Tiny Tim, thy childish essence was from God!

"Specter," said Scrooge, "something informs me that our parting moment is at hand. I know it, but I know not how. Tell me what man that was whom we saw lying dead?"

The Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come conveyed him as before, though at a different time, he thought. Indeed, there seemed no order in these latter visions save that they were in the future, into the resorts of business men, but showed him not himself. Indeed, the spirit did not stay for anything, but went straight on, as to the end just now desired, until besought by Scrooge to tarry for a moment.

"This court," said Scrooge, "through which we hurry now is where my place of occupation is and has been for a length of time. I see the house. Let me behold what I shall be in days to come."

The spirit stopped. The hand was pointed elsewhere.

"The house is yonder," Scrooge exclaimed. "Why do you point away?"

The inexorable finger underwent no change.

Scrooge hastened to the window of his office and looked in. It was an office still, but not his. The furniture was not the same, and the figure in the chair was not himself. The phantom pointed as before.

He joined it once again and, wondering why and whither he had gone, accompanied it until they reached an iron gate. He paused to look round before entering.

A churchyard. Here, then, the wretched man whose name he had now to learn lay underneath the ground. It was a worthy place, walled in by houses, overrun by grass and weeds, the growth of vegetation's death, not life, choked up with too much burying, fat with repleted appetite—a worthy place.

The spirit stood among the graves and pointed down to one. He advanced toward it trembling. The phantom was exactly as it had been, but he dreaded that he saw new meaning in its solemn shape.

"Before I draw nearer to that stone to which you point," said Scrooge, "answer me one question. Are these the shadows of the things that will be, or are they shadows of the things that may be only?"

Still the ghost pointed downward to the grave by which it stood.

Scrooge crept toward it, trembling as he went, and, following the finger, read upon the stone of the neglected grave his own name, Ebenezer Scrooge.

"SPIRIT, HEAR ME!"

"Am I that man who lay upon the bed?" he cried upon his knees.

The finger pointed from the grave to him and back again.

"No, spirit! Oh, no, no!"

The finger still was there.

"Spirit," he cried, tight clutching at its robe, "hear me! I am not the man I was. I will not be the man I must have been but for this intercourse. Why show me this if I am past all hope?"

For the first time the hand appeared to shake.

"Good spirit," he pursued as down upon the ground he fell before it, "your nature intercedes for me and pities me. Assure me that I yet may change these shadows you have shown me by an altered life."

The kind hand trembled.

"I will honor Christmas in my heart and try to keep it all the year. I will live in the past, the present and the future. The spirits of all three shall strive within me. I will not shut out the lessons that they teach. Oh, tell me I may sponge away the writing on this stone!"

In his agony he caught the spectral hand. It sought to free itself, but he was strong in his entreaty and detained it. The spirit, stronger yet, repulsed him.

Holding up his hands in one last prayer to have his fate reversed, he saw an alteration in the phantom's hood and dress. It shrank, collapsed and dwindled down into a bedpost.

(To be Continued.)

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

MOTHER CHURCH IS REMEMBERED

Gets Residue of Eddy Estate After Other Bequests Are Paid

WILL IS FILED AT CONCORD

Sum of $10,000 Let to Glover and Each of His Children and $5000 to Adopted Son—Mrs. Stetson Given Diamond Brooch—New York Church Gets $175,000 to Pay Off Indebtedness—Mrs. Eddy's Household Remembered

Concord, N. H., Dec. 15.—The will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy was filed in the probate court here. It names Henry M. Baker of Bow, N. H., as sole executor and provides that he shall not be required to furnish securities on his official bond.

Mrs. Eddy says that she has already given George W. Glover, her son, four mortgage deeds bought of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of Kansas, and "moneys at various times." She hereby ratifies the transfers and gifts.

In addition she wills him $10,000 and the same amount to each of his five children. She bequeaths $1000 to George H. Moore of Concord, N. H.

"For the purpose of more effectually promoting and extending the religion of Christian Science as taught by me," Mrs. Eddy makes the mother church in Boston her residuary legatee, after various bequests are paid.

Among these other bequests is one of $100,000 to the Christian Science board of directors to be held in trust for the purpose of providing free instructions for "indigent, well educated, worthy Christian Scientists at the Massachusetts Metaphysical college, and to aid them hereafter until they can maintain themselves in some department of Christian Science."

Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy, her adopted son, gets $5000; Calvin A. Frye, $20,000, and there are several more bequests of $1000 to $3000 each to relatives and to attendants of the Eddy household.

By codicils Mrs. Eddy directs that an indebtedness of $175,000 upon the church edifice of the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, in New York shall be cancelled from her estate, and bequeaths her "crown of diamonds" heart pin to Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson of New York.

The will was filed in the probate office for Merrimac county at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Henry M. Baker. Judge Corning received and allowed the will in common form.

Mr. Baker immediately petitioned for its approval in solemn form and a hearing thereon was ordered to follow the mailing of notices as required by law.

The will was executed on Sept. 13, 1901, and re-executed as an original will, Nov. 7, 1903, the previous will having been lost or mislaid. There are two codicils, the first dated Nov. 7, 1903, and the second May 14, 1904.

WHIPPINGS ON BOTH SIDES

Baltimore Man and Bride Indulged In Regular Drubbings

Baltimore, Dec. 15.—Admitting that he had beaten his wife 130 times since they were married six months ago, John Yoreck gave as his excuse that his wife had beaten him 182 times in that period.

"Since we were married only half a year ago," said Mrs. Yoreck to Justice Loden, "he has beaten me regularly every Tuesday and Thursday, and three times on Sunday."

"And she has beaten me regularly once every day in the week, Sunday included," retorted Yoreck.

Justice Loden sent Yoreck to jail in default of bail.

ARRANGES FOR FUNERAL

Ohio Man Then Puts Contents of Shotgun Through His Heart

Newark, O., Dec. 15.—Timothy Foster, aged 30, unmarried, committed suicide last evening at his home near Alexandria by shooting through the heart with a shotgun. He used a cane to discharge the weapon.

Before taking his life Foster wrote to his sister, May, in Washington, giving the cause of his deed as ill health, and arranging for his own funeral.

Mohammedan Festival Ends In Row

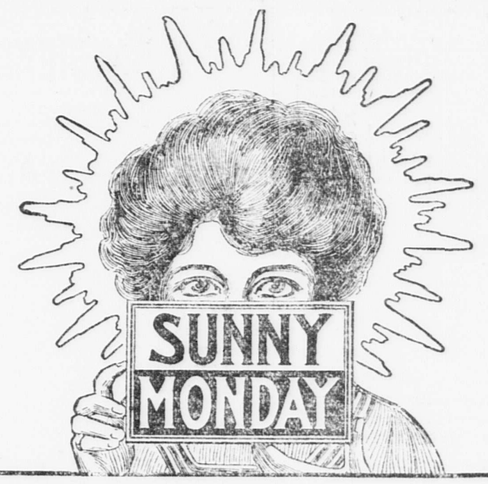
Calcutta, Dec. 15.—The Bakrid Mohammedan festival passed quietly until evening, when thirty-two Hindu policemen employed to guard one of the Mohammedan mosques refused to allow the Mohammedans to sacrifice cows and clubbed the worshippers.

Grahame-White Gets Gold Medal

London, Dec. 15.—The British Aerial league has presented Claude Grahame-White with a special gold medal in recognition of his services to British aeronautics.

Lake Passenger Steamer Burned

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Dec. 15.—The passenger steamship City of Ottawa was burned to the water's edge off Cape Vincent in Lake Ontario. No lives were lost.



SUNNY MONDAY Laundry Soap contains a wonderful dirt-starter which saves half the rubbing. It will double the life of your clothes. Its real virtues may not be apparent the first time you use it. You have perhaps been washing your clothes with a heavily-rosined soap, and it will take some time for Sunny Monday to undo what the rosin soap has done. But after three or four washings you will notice a decided difference in the whiteness of your clothes.

Sunny Monday will not shrink your flannels.

Sunny Monday will not make your woolens harsh and "nettley."

Sunny Monday will not fade your colored goods.

"Sunny Monday Bubbles
Will wash away your troubles."

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Makers, Chicago

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Why? Because

The Heat is Applied

When You Want it — Where You Want It

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite Street, Quincy

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY

SELL THE DAILY LEDGER

THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR

Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today. 40 degrees
December 15, 1909, 44 degrees
December 15, 1908, 45 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Furniture
George W. Jones—Christmas Gifts
Miss E. A. Perkins—Vocal Lessons
Quincy Market—Special Bargains Today
Probate Notice
Executrix Notice
Lost

BRIEFS

Deaconess H. R. Goodwin former Deaconess of Christ church will be the guest of St. Margaret's Guild on Friday evening.

Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever in Wollaston, there will be no session of the Unitarian Sunday school on Sunday.

Mayor Shea has directed Chief of Police Burrell to investigate the accident to the police automobile Wednesday and report to him as soon as possible.

Most Excellent Charles Dana Burrage of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons has appointed Edward E. Jameson of Wollaston to represent New Jersey.

Marion C. Gillette was on Tuesday evening elected commander of Antietam camp, S. of V., of Braintree. The camp was inspected by Arthur Beal of Brockton, division organizer.

Quite a few changes in the arrangement of the furnishing in the office of the Tax Collector have been made necessary by the putting in of the new safe.

Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany Congregational church officiated on Tuesday at the funeral of George Thurber of North street, a life long resident of Quincy Point. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston.

The will of Caroline Matthews late of Braintree, admitted to probate at Quincy on Wednesday leaves $50 to the Alaska Home Missionary, through the agency of the Ladies Baptist Home Missionary society of Braintree.

Most Worshipful Dana J. Flanders was on Wednesday reelected grand master of the Grand lodge of Masons of Massachusetts. Hartley L. White of Braintree was reappointed as district deputy grand master of the 24th district.

The Board of Health request that people putting out ashes for collection use smaller barrels. Many people are in the habit of using sugar barrels, which when full of ashes are too heavy for the men to lift readily. If the ashes are put in smaller barrels and only partly filled, much better service will result.

The first degree staff of Mt. Wollaston lodge went to Wollaston Wednesday evening and exemplified that degree of Odd Fellowship on five candidates. About 200 were present representing many of the Boston and neighboring lodges. The floor was so crowded that the best of work was impossible but Mt. Wollaston caused the visitors to sit up and take notice. Refreshments were served.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Joseph R. Harris and family wish to thank their many friends for the beautiful floral offerings and other kindnesses shown at their late bereavement.

Mrs. Joseph R. Harris.
Quincy Dec. 15, 1910. 1t

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

DEATHS

DALBY—In Scituate, Dec. 13, Mr. Israel Cook Dalby, aged 51 years.

NEWCOMBE—In Scituate, Dec. 12, Mr. Silas A. Newcomb, aged 35 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

NOWLAND ALSO A CANDIDATE

Making Contest Against Bryant for President of Council

Quite a contest has developed over the presidency of the next City Council between Councilman Bryant and Councilman Nowland, both of whom are out for the position. Both gentlemen have quite a following and are seeking support among the councilmen elect.

Mr. Nowland will be one of the third year members of the new Council. In 1909 he served on the Committee on Water Supply, Sewers and Drains and also the Committee on Licenses, Ordinances, Printing, Rules and Orders.

The present year he is also serving on both these committees, but is chairman of the former. Also served this year as a member of the special Committee on Financial Investigation. He is a lawyer by profession, and was for many years master of the Adams and Cranch schools. He is also interested in real estate and has developed considerable property near his residence on Edgemere road. Like Councilman Bryant he is a Republican in politics, but not a partisan.

Councilman Cherrington of Atlantic ward may be a candidate in case there is to be a contest.

EMINENT ARTISTS.

The attractive circulars issued by the Quincy Choral society this week announce a splendid array of talent for the Creation concert. Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams, soprano, needs no introduction here, having won the hearts of all at the concert last year. It is certain that our townspeople will be pleased to hear her again. Frederic Kennedy, tenor, although a young singer, is fast building up an enviable reputation and is sure to please. But it is the introducing of Frederic Martin, bass, of New York city, that the society emphasizes and indeed it should do so. The bringing of such an artist as this to sing a great part in Oratorio is indeed a worthy enterprise and is attracting the attention it deserves. The society still holds to its original plan of giving these great concerts at prices within the reach of all and this year the offering is surely a rich feast for music lovers.

BRIEFS

Miss Emily A. Gassett of the Tax Collectors' office is at Hartford, Conn., on a few days' vacation trip.

The snow which fell Dec. 6 is softening up considerable today under the higher temperature. It is the first thaw in nine days.

Sam Melville has fully recovered from his operation for appendicitis and returns to Toronto today to take up his duties with the storage battery concern with which he is connected.

At the regular meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose Wednesday evening the degree was worked upon 18 candidates by the officers of the lodge. A committee was also appointed to arrange to secure Electa hall for the regular meeting of the lodge. The lodge is growing fast, new applications being received at every meeting.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

The executives of the Y M. C. A. throughout the state met in the Boston City club Wednesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon session E. G. Gay, secretary of the Quincy association, presided. Frank P. Spear, director of the educational department of the Boston Y. M. C. A., gave an address on the subject, "The Young Men's Christian association as an economic factor." A. H. Whitford of Buffalo spoke on the topic, "Yesterday, today and tomorrow in the religious life of the association."

Mr. Gay was a member of the committee in charge of the conference.

In the evening about 200 business men, directors of associations through out the State dined at the City club and listened to some excellent speeches. Dr. Prosser of the State Board of Education, industrial department, told about "Industrial education." Dr. C. A. Moore of Brookline gave an address on "The Modern Man."

Among the Quincy men who attended were: R. D. Chase D. King, J. L. Miller, D. L. F. Chase, C. W. Bailey, H. B. Bailey, W. G. Shaw, George A. Sidelinger, George Forsyth and E. G. Gay.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

COLLINS--CRAIG WEDDING

Popular Young People of South Quincy Married

Miss Margaret A. Craig daughter of Forbes Craig, one of Quincy's well known granite manufacturers, and Ernest J. Collins, a well known South Quincy young man, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Independence avenue. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. James A. Matheson of the Water Street Presbyterian church, and was followed by a reception and wedding supper that was attended by seventy-five of the family and personal friends of the bridal party. Both Mr. and Mrs. Collins are very popular among the young people of South Quincy, and they were remembered with many beautiful gifts.

The bride was attended by Miss Jennie Cummins, and George Russell was the best man. The ushers were Robert Craig, John Capacicoli and Forbes Craig, Jr.

The bride looked very charming in a white silk, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore a nile green silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins left late in the evening for a wedding trip, returning from which they will reside on Parson street, where they will be at home after January 1.

PILGRIM FRATERNITY DANCE.

If the "maidens all forlorn" in Bethany chapel had known the state of things at Quincy Point Wednesday evening there would have been a different story on both sides. The Pilgrim Fraternity held their second barn party in Betts barn and there seemed to be a superabundance of men. Out of the hundred who were present, there were a few Pilgrim Fathers and Mothers, about 25 young ladies and the rest were men. However those who were unable to find young ladies for partners took one of their own number and several who were athletically inclined held a little carnival in the side room. Melville's orchestra furnished the music and it was very good music too. The young people enjoyed dancing until 11 o'clock. During the evening refreshments were served in the side room. At the next party, the "eligible bachelors" will have to bring partners of their own and not let George do it for them. "Jack" Melville served as floor director at this dance, and was all smiles as usual. The kindness of Mrs. Betts in giving the use of the barn to the fraternity should not go unmentioned. The committee was very fortunate in its arrangements and the evening is pronounced a success.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The alarm from box 42 at 8.46 Wednesday night was for a fire on the roof of a house on Smith street, owned by John Kilmartin and occupied by Gus Haag. It was caused by a defective chimney and caused a damage of $15.

LOCAL SPORTS.

There was a very large attendance at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. Nine tables participated, and the usual 25 hands were played, after which a lunch was served, consisting of spaghetti and tomato, hot rolls, fruit, coffee, crackers and cheese. The two best scores of the evening were made by James H. Lalley and S. T. McQuarrie. The former's score was an unusual one, but while it equalled the record it did not break it. He won in 18 out of the 25 hands, his wins totaling 45 and his losses 10, which gave him 81 plus percent. Mr. MacQuarrie's score showed the total number of points won to have been 50, and his losses 18, which gave him 73 plus percent.

* * *

There is a movement to use the old Saugus race track for an aviation field.

* * *

Walter J. Hackett of Quincy and John J. Cook, Jr., have withdrawn from the 20-mile amateur race at Charlestown on Saturday, but Frank Bruce of Quincy and Cataleno of Boston will take their places.

* * *

The Milton High basket ball team was defeated on Wednesday by Reading High, 19 to 12.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

BOB FISHER OF HARVARD

The Guest of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. Boys

As a proof that the hatchet is buried, Yale entertained "Bob" Fisher of Harvard Wednesday evening at a banquet in the Y. M. C. A. hall Wednesday evening. The Employed Boys of the local association are divided into teams which have taken the names of colleges. Yale, Sam Yates, captain, prepared the banquet with the assistance of the boys' director, and invited Mr. Fisher to attend as their guest. About 40 fellows sat down to supper. Each team had its own table and attendance counted in the score of the contest which is in progress.

Harvard, it is needless to say, was out in full force, and Yale showed no animosity by means of non attendance. Dartmouth had a full table, and Carlisle had six men present.

After an excellent chicken pie supper, Mr. LaRose was introduced as the first speaker. He reviewed the season and gave the scores of the teams as follows: Harvard, 70; Dartmouth, 6.8; Yale, 52.5; Carlisle, 51.1. Until two weeks ago, Carlisle was in the lead but a sudden slump sent her to the foot. This contest will continue up to January 1.

At the suggestion of Mr. LaRose, an athletic meet for all members of all teams will conclude the three months' contest. Another series will be held during the first three months of the new year. Probably the names of American league baseball clubs will be taken for the new contests. The appointment of captains was made and the following were selected: Albert Thomas, John McCarty, Robert Summers and William O'Brien.

"Bob" Fisher was then introduced and his remarks were listened to with keen interest by all the fellows. In the first place he disproved the statement that Harvard was merely a snob's college. He pointed out that the presidents of three classes were men working their way through college, and that many of the football, baseball and track men had to depend upon their own resources for support. Fisher was a graduate of Andover and had passed his "exams." for Yale when it became necessary for him to stay out a year and enter a business house in Boston. There he came in touch with Harvard and decided that he wanted to go there instead of Yale.

Harvard is a different sort of a place from what most people think it is. A poor man has every chance in the world to find employment, whether he is an athlete or not. Fisher is putting himself through college and everyone knows that he is one of the most popular men in Harvard. About 1500 men out of the 5000 in the university are dependent largely upon themselves for support.

In speaking of football he said that ambition was the big thing. First a man was ambitious to make the first squad, then to make the varsity team. Then to make the varsity team the best team in the country. The "bond of sympathy" he considered another very important factor. Every man on the team knew that every other man would do his best and would do all he could to help the other fellow do his best.

"You fellows in the Y. M. C. A.," he said, "can do the same thing as a man who is working his way through college. You are getting business training in learning your trades, and you can come here and form your friendships and do your team work.

Mr. Fisher appealed very strongly to all who heard him. Like all men, who are really big in the best sense of the word he is modest and inassuming and one would never guess from talking with him that he had made Walter Camp's All-America team for two successive years.

After the speaking, the Yale team, the Harvard team, and the speaker were cheered very heartily, and then the fellows went down to the gym. for another contest. The guest of the evening stayed to see Harvard wallop Yale in track and floor events.

--Already it is apparent that a strong fight will be made against Secretary Meyer's plan to close certain navy yards. The stations marked for extinction all have their friends who will do their best to have them maintained. No one seriously questions that the secretary is right in his recommendations. The difficulty will be in persuading congress to act accordingly.--Framingham News.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

SUPERIOR COURT.

William J. Mullen, Frank Finn, William R. Conway and Abraham S. Foss, all of Boston, were found guilty on Wednesday, of receiving stolen goods from the store of Payson-Mitchell Co., Quincy, and will be sentenced later.

Joseph H. Cutter charged with arson at Milton, in setting on fire the bungalow of Thomas E. Fitzgerald was placed on probation.

Louis A. Parks of Quincy charged with attempt to burn property of C. H. Hardwick Co., was placed on probation.

Hannah Blondie of Braintree, charged with being a common railer and brawler, was defaulted.

Benjamin T. Raymond for drunkenness at Weymouth was sent to the house of correction for four months.

Francis W. McCue, for drunkenness at Weymouth, was sent to the state farm at Bridgewater.

Joseph Gaillardet of Weymouth, for an assault upon an officer, was sentenced to the house of correction for three months.

WEST QUINCY ENTERTAINMENT.

A successful entertainment was given by the Ladies' Aid at the Hall Place M. E. church Wednesday night. The program included readings by Miss Ardis Raupach and Rev. Carl H. Raupach; violin selections by Master Percy Ames, accompanied by Mrs. Ames on the piano. A sketch enfitled "A chafing dish tragedy" in which Mrs. Blaisdell, Miss Frances Burke, Miss Jennie Doble and Clarence Trask appeared. Mandolin selection by Miss Ruth and Miss May Wright and a sketch entitled, "Maids and bachelors" the parts being taken by Mrs. William Allen, Mrs. Blaisdell, Miss Hilda Francis, Miss Jennie Doble, Miss Olive Grant, Miss Margaret Shirley, Miss Frances Burke, William Shirley, Joseph Francis, Clarence Trask, Enoch Fuller, E. Blaisdell, Julius Fuller and Merton Turner.

The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Blaisdell and Mrs. Bent.

At the close an apron and candy sale was held. Refreshments were also served. The apron sale was in charge of Mrs. George Hawes and Mrs. C. S. Jose. The candy was sold by Mrs. James McCormick and Mrs. William Allen. The ice cream was in charge of Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Badger and Mrs. Loud.

GUILD ENTERTAINED.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church met with a good attendance Wednesday afternoon at the home of the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Herbert L. Packard of Standish avenue. The president, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, presided. The usual reports were read and accepted.

Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge reported that the recent supper netted $50.00. A letter from Miss Jennie McIntosh was read and among other reports heard, Mrs. Howard D. Fowler, chairman of the sale of Work committee explained that part of the Great World in Boston to be held next April. It was voted to hold a fair in the spring. During a social hour, refreshments of chocolate and wafers were served. Mrs. Ernest L. Spaulding of Jaffrey, New Hampshire, poured.

HE MADE IT GO.

An amusing spectacle was furnished those who were in City Square Wednesday evening at about 10 o'clock. A lone automobilist whose machine refused to work was pushing the cause of his difficulty up the car track headed for Boston. The machine was a runabout of rather light construction, and the man did not seem to be exerting himself overmuch since he was gazing about casually in search of the deus ex machina.

Waiting.

Piker Pete—Wot ye worryin' 'bout Roadsy?

"Wonderin' w'en somebod'll spring a physical culsher game that'll fit our perfeshun."

--Nearly all the governors at Louisville thought the direct primary has come to stay. People are tired of seeing the hired men sitting around the parlor and ordering the owners of the property what to do.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 53
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 47 r
r 10 04	a	10 10	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 09
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 09
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 58 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 57
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 39	b	5 15	6 30	cdba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 30	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 44 r
r 8 45	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 21	a	9 47	11 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 59	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.0 , 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.30 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.25, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.11, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Dec. 14 between Wollaston and Alpha hall, gold chain with locket engraved "E. G." Reward if returned to 103 Grand View avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 15-3t

Executrix Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of
ANNES A. LINCOLN
late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to
JEANNIE W. LINCOLN, Executrix
(Address) 109 Lincoln Ave.
Wollaston, Mass.
Dec. 1st, 1910. Dec. 15, 22, 29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court

TO the heirs-at-law next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of
PETER B. TURNER
late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Edward M. Wight of Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 15, 22, 29

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

WANTED

WANTED--A watchdog for factory Terrior or bull. State lowest cash price. Address D. care of Ledger. Dec. 14 2t

WANTED—An experienced maker and salesgirl for Millinery store, Apply at 3 Granite street, Quincy. Dec. 13-3t

TO LET

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Dargin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 2100

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 292 — QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 16, 1910 — PRICE TWO CENTS

INCREASE IN GAS DIVIDEND

Net Earnings of Citizens' Gas Company Were $11,733 for Five Months

Early Prospects of Reduction in Price of Gas

The report of the Citizens Gas Company of Quincy issued on Thursday was the most satisfactory ever presented to stockholders.

First the company has declared a quarterly dividend of two per cent. which is an increase from one per cent. which has prevailed for two quarters, and makes three successive quarters on which dividends have been declared.

The amount of this dividend is now the same as declared by the Boston Consolidated Gas Co., and the Newton and Watertown Gas Co., also subsidiary companies of the Massachusetts Gas Companies. A quarterly dividend of two and one-half per cent. was declared by the East Boston Gas Co., and the trustees of the Massachusetts Gas Companies have declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1 a share on common stock.

From a deficit in earnings in November, 1907, the Quincy company has made good progress particularly in November of this year. Here are the November earnings for four years:

In 1907,	Deficit of $970
In 1908,	Surplus of $78
In 1909,	Surplus of $524
In 1910,	Surplus of $2,172

The net earnings of the Quincy company have averaged over $2,000 per month for five months as will be seen by these figures:

In 1907,	Deficit of $2,540
In 1908,	Surplus of $449
In 1909,	Surplus of $1,730
In 1910,	Surplus of $11,733

The indications are that the Quincy company can maintain dividends of two per cent. quarterly for the net earnings are at the rate of $30,000 or more annually.

The output of gas in Quincy in November, 1909, was 43.13 per cent. larger than in November 1908, and the output in November 1910 was 21.14 per cent. larger than in November, 1909. This is a tremendous increase as will be seen by comparison with other subsidiary companies. The percentage of increase of the Boston Gas Company was only 4.38; that of the Newton and Watertown company but 7.19; and that of the East Boston company but 12.35.

The increase in gas output for five months also makes a good showing for the Quincy company, as will be seen by these percentages:

	1910	1909
Quincy,	31.59	37.34
Newton and Watertown	21.00
East Boston	12.63	17.16
Boston Consolidated	3.79	2.51

From these figures it is very evident that an early reduction in gas rates can be made in Quincy, possibly to $1 per 1000.

R. E. FOY & CO.

IT is unnecessary to state that the chief feature of our store is QUALITY. If you are satisfied to pay good prices for poor quality, that is your own concern, but if you want to purchase first quality at money-saving prices come in and see us.

For SATURDAY

FOWL — Fresh Killed Western Fowl, not cold storage, but the very best that can come from Western New York and Ohio. You can't tell them from home fowl. 18 cts lb

CHICKENS — Fancy Native Chickens from nearby poultry farms. All killed and dressed within a day. They are of the highest grade. 23 cts lb

Genuine Spring Lamb is beginning to get scarce

LAMB — yet we have secured several choice hindquarters of Spring Lamb that we can sell for..... 15 cts lb

We have yet to learn of a customer who has not expressed the greatest satisfaction after eating our lamb.

This week we have several fancy rib roasts

BEEF — that are tender and juicy and if you are fond of a good roast, this is your opportunity for a fine roast beef dinner. 12 1-2 cts up Per lb.

GROCERY

PURE LARD Cut from the tub.	lb. 14c	MINCE MEAT, in Mason quart jars.	23c
RAISINS, Clean and fresh.	3 pkgs. 25c	PICKLED BEETS Spiced, in glass.	15c
CURRANTS, Clean new goods.	2 pkgs. 25c	ORANGES, Sweet Floridas.	doz. 27c
TURNIPS, White and sweet.	peck 30c	TURNIPS, Best Yellow.	peck 25c

MARKET

Loose Rolled Oats 10 lbs.	31c	Pastry Flour. 5 lb. bag	20c
Graham Flour. 5 lb. bag	18c	Pearl Barley. 6 lbs.	25c
Corn Meal. 5 lb. bag	15c	Butter Thins. 2 lbs.	25c

R. E. FOY & CO.

COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS. QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 16-17

Phone 117 or 153

SCARLET FEVER EPIDEMIC

Wollaston Sunday Schools Close for Two Weeks

At a meeting of the officers of the Wollaston Baptist Sunday school it was decided that the Sunday school should be closed for two weeks on account of the scarlet fever epidemic. The Christmas festival has been postponed indefinitely. This was to have taken place on the evening of the 24th but it was deemed wisest to postpone it and not run the risk of any further spread of the disease.

The other churches are taking similar actions and the remainder of the month will find Wollaston children without a Sunday school. Now that the cause of the epidemic has been located there is little more to fear but the usual methods of prevention must be applied. Plenty of fresh air and sleep and the avoidance of unnecessary contact in meetings, etc., are the best and simplest means of preventing the spread of the disease.

GEORGE H. THURBER.

The funeral of George H. Thurber was held from late home, 87 North street on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Among floral tributes were:

Pillow, Husband, from wife.

Pillow, Father, from daughters.

Pillow, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Porter and family.

Wreath, shop mates of daughter.

Wreath of galax leaves, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. S. McCurdy.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Thurber.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Prouty.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tilden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hayden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Water Hayden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. William Hayden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Hayden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayden.

Bouquet, F. W. Hayden.

Bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hayden.

CURRIER SAILS.

The tank steamer Currier which was launched at the Fore River Sept. 20, sailed Thursday for Newport News where she will coal before leaving for Havana. She will engage in the transportation of molasses from Cuba to ports in the United States. She is in command of Capt. Van Gilder.

A. O. H. ELECT.

Division 5 A. O. H. has elected these officers:

President—Thomas J. Walsh.

Vice President—Daniel Mannix.

Recording Secretary—James M. Cantfill.

Financial Secretary—Patrick Cremins.

Treasurer—Walter M. Barry.

Sargeant—Daniel Donahue.

Sentinel—Thomas Cotter.

Standing Committee—David Warner, Timothy Coughlin, Edward Powers, Matthew Fay, Martin Shaughnessey.

—The citizens of St. John, N. B., have taken vigorous measures to stamp out tuberculosis. There is an anti-tuberculosis association which began with an educative campaign and then opened a dispensary with doctors and nurses to give free advice to patients. Last week the ladies of the City organized a tag day, in which representatives of all the churches united and raised the sum of $2,314 to provide a fund for the dispensary. Other agencies are working for the same cause. A farm of 300 acres with a spacious residence and out buildings of modern construction, has been presented to this Province by its owner to be used as a sanitarium. It is located in Westmorland county, and the large area of grounds will make it possible to add the cottage system to the existing institution, which is, of course, of limited capacity.

☞White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

MEN'S CLUB LADIES' NIGHT

Xmas Tree One of the Things Provided for the Ladies

The men's club of the Wollaston Methodist church observed ladies' night on Thursday evening in the vestry. In spite of the storm without a goodly number were present and enjoyed the program of the evening.

Following the reports of the secretary and treasurer Editor Sedgwick brought forth a women's edition of the Wollaston Herald, the club publication.

The contents proved so good that a motion was carried to put Editor Sedgwick on salary. He was presented by A. N. Murray with a pay envelope of mammoth proportions which was purported to contain the first month's remittance.

A minature Christmas tree was then brought upon the scene and with Mr. Murray acting as the emissary of the good St. Nicholas presents were distributed to the ladies.

Secretary Belcher read from a pile of letters, which he claimed to have received from the ladies or "little girls" present, telling what each wanted for Christmas. As each was called forward they were presented with a suitable substitute.

Throughout the evening a burlesque of give and take was indulged in by the club's inveterate funmakers Messrs. Taylor, Sedgwick, Murray and Cassidy which brought forth roars of laughter.

The closing feature of the evening was an auction sale of box lunches by President Taylor. As the buyer of each box was privileged to share the same with the young lady bringing it, and some of the members of the male contingent had been tipped off as to the ownership of some of the boxes, the bidding was spirited to say the least.

Coffee was served and the evening ended with a feast of good cheer. The result of the auction sale was a substantial addition to the treasury of the Ladies' Aid society for whose benefit it was held.

NEW COMMANDER.

Paul Revere Post 8 S.G. A. R., has elected these officers who will be installed early in January:

Commander—Thomas Ring.

Senior Vice Commander—Francis P. Loud.

Junior Vice Commander—Edward J. Lennon.

Quartermaster—Andrew W. Gardner.

Surgeon—James W. Pierce.

Chaplain—Henry Chubbuck.

Officer of Guard—William M. Bird.

Officer of Day—Warren Dunbar.

Delegates to Grand Encampment—Comrades Dutton and Loud.

COLDEST OF SEASON.

Today is the coldest day of the season the mercury at noon indicating but 19 degrees. The nearest approach to today's record was on Dec. 11, when it was 20 degrees at noon. Not since Feb. 6, has there been a 19 degree temperature at noon. The coldest day at noon this year was 12 above zero which occurred on Jan. 4, and Feb. 7, and the coldest weather in 1909 was on Feb. 1, and Dec. 30 the temperature at noon on these days also being 12 above zero.

HALLELUJAH WEDDING

"Wooded Hill" and "Spruce Tree" Joined in Matrimony

An interesting ceremony took place Thursday evening in Salvation Army hall. The occasion was the wedding of Carl Berglund and Selma Grahn, two well known Swedish young people. Major Christopherson one of the division leaders in the Boston Salvation Army performed the ceremony before a hall full of friends of the bride and groom. The band and the orchestra connected with the local Army furnished accompaniment to the songs which were especially effective because of their spontaneity. Solos by Miss Henderson and Miss Annis contributed much to the occasion and an original poem by Mr. Linquist was received with great applause. Berglund means "wooded hill" and Grahn means "spruce tree."The poet saw opportunity for the exercise of his wit and according to those who understood the language he performed his task very cleverly.

After a series of songs and prayers by the Army and the leaders the wedding party advanced. The bride was attended by her sister, Elsie Grahn and the best man was Jnalmar Helund. The bride wore a gown of white silk trimmed with princess lace and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

After the marriage service, the members of the wedding party were called upon for testimonies and several members of the Salvation Army also testified.

After the ceremony in the lower hall was finished, the guests were invited upstairs for refreshments. Captain Olander of the local Army led the band in appropriate selections off and on throughout the evening and as minister to the gathered congregation was called upon to take part in other ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Berglund will make their home on Summer street after a short wedding trip.

REBEKAH ELECTION.

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge held its annual election Thursday evening electing the following officers:

Noble Grand—Miss Bernice Clark.

Vice Noble Grand—Mrs. Mary P. Smith.

Secretary—Miss Georgiana M. Thayer.

Financial Secretary—Miss S. Abbie Foltis.

Treasurer—Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.

Trustee—Mrs. Melissa McCormick.

The installation will take place Jan. 5

A social time followed the election. Miss Furnald who was again elected to the treasurership said that it was her 13th year in that position and before that she had served at Braintree for seven She was jollied a bit on giving her age away and owned up to being eighteen when she joined the Rebekahs.

—No package too big to carry the Christmas seal, and none too small to be without one.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

Nov. 29-tf

OUR CHRISTMAS SALE OF DEPENDABLE CLOTHING

IS NOW IN PROGRESS—To the man or woman of limited means it is a perplexing problem to decide where and what to buy as Christmas gifts for members of their immediate family, relatives and friends. To all such, we say, nothing is more appropriate or appreciated as a Christmas present by father, mother, brother, sister, son or daughter, uncle or aunt, lady or gentleman friend, than useful, sensible articles of wear. During this sale we present

A MOST TEMPTING ARRAY of GENUINE BARGAINS in RELIABLE APPAREL and CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We are confident that you will find at this store exactly what you are looking for at a price you will gladly pay.

"A CHARGE ACCOUNT."—We Open Accounts With All Trustworthy People in or within fifty miles of Quincy. It enables them to have without delay such clothing and Xmas goods as they now desire, the same to be paid for after Christmas, in convenient partial payments whilst earning the money.

Caracul Coats — Made from fine lustrous caracul, coat full length, splendidly made and lined.	12.50 to 32.50	Men's Overcoats — We show all models, each one representing the best overcoat values shown at our prices.	8.50 to 25.00
Ladies' Coats — In kersey, broadcloth and stylish mixtures. Latest styles. Fit and tailoring guaranteed.	4.98 to 28.50	Boys' Overcoats — If the boy is to have a new Overcoat, now is the time and here is the place to buy it.	2.98 to 12.00
Ladies' Suits — Beautiful suits in broadcloth serge, worsteds and fancy suiting; satin or silk lined, man tailored.	9.90 to 32.50	Men's Suits — Stylish, serviceable suits in cashimere, worsted, cheviot and serges. Well tailored and lined; splendid fitting.	7.98 to 18.50
Ladies' Dresses — We show the latest and most stylish creations in taffeta, messaline, lace and lingerie. Beautiful gowns suitable for street or evening wear.	8.50 to 37.50	Men's Suits — In fine quality of serge, worsted and novelty suiting, all of the new shades stripes and checks. Handfelled collars, hand made buttonholes.	19.98 to 27.50
Girls' Dresses — In fine quality serge, plaid, mixtures, and popular washable fabrics, such as ginghams, galateas, percales, etc.	1.49 to 9.50	Youths' Suits — Our young men's suits embrace the style, shape and dash that appeal to the young man "who knows." Satisfaction delivered with every purchase.	6.98 to 23.50
Girl's Coats — Ages 4 to 14, In Kersey, Caracul, stylish mixtures and Bear Skin, correct styles, all colors.	1.98 to 12.50	Boy's Suits — For style, quality, fit and hard usage our boy's suits can't be beat in 2 piece Russian and sailored models	1.98 to 8.50
Beautiful Furs — Our stock of furs embraces everything in Muffs, Scarfs, Pelerines and Fur sets, made from selected skins in Fox, Squirrel, Lynx, Marten, Mink, Opossum etc. Our prices save you money.	98c to 75.00	Stylish Hats — We show the latest and best styles in Derby and Soft Hats. All of the new blocks and desirable shades.	1.49 to 3.00

Ladies Fur Coats — We are prepared to supply your every requirement in Pony, Coney, Marmot and Near Seal Coats at prices ranging from	32.50 to 175.00	Stylish Shoes — We carry a full line of Ladies' Gents' Boys' and Girl's Shoes.	1.75 to 4.50	Men's Sweaters — We carry a fine line of Men's and Boys' Sweaters. All colors and Sizes.	.98 to 8.50

XMAS UMBRELLAS — Your wants in this line will be well satisfied from our splendid stock. Always acceptable as a Christmas gift. 1.98 to 7.50

COMMENCING DEC. 19TH OUR STORE WILL BE OPEN EVERY NIGHT UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Waists — In lawn, linon, batiste, taffeta and messaline all styles, all sizes all colors. Reduced in price. One-Fourth

Joyce Bros. & Co.

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

13-15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass.

Dec. 16-Dec. 17

Millinery — The balance of our stock of ladies and girls' hats, comprising this season's best styles, reduced in price One Third

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Cold! That weather man was wise all right.

Wellesley girls have given up Saturday matinees and are to devote the time to learning how to spell. Wonder what the Harvard boys will be willing to do along those lines? It is said the present school system does not turn out good spellers.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

Perhaps the world has discoursed too long and too volubly on the "secrets of success." Perhaps the means of success are so obvious that they are apt to be overlooked in the search for the "secret." At any rate the young man who won a prize offered by the New York Globe for the best short letter on success stuck to the obvious. He believed that the country boy had the better chance in the city because he had more imagination, because a more open mind, because he was not inured to the great achievements of man, and therefore the achievements of others inspired him and kept him from getting into a rut. That's the substance of the prize letter.

But the lesson applies to all, almost regardless of environment. For even a superficial knowledge of the world, and especially of life and accomplishments in this country, is calculated to furnish inspiration. Even in times when opportunities for the individual are becoming more circumscribed there is much to appeal to imagination. And imagination is necessary to enthusiasm and Emerson was about right when he said that nothing great had ever been achieved without enthusiasm.

Keep our eyes on the boy or girl, the young man or the young woman filled with enthusiasm. There is little in the blase youth, the chap who is never surprised never elated, or who has acquired a premature cynicism, to reward your attention or inspire your hopes.—Kansas City Star.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT.

Inez May Felt.

I am tired of getting and giving.
Of thinking Christmas a bore.
Of giving, because I am getting,
Just, that, and nothing more.
I am weary of crowding and pushing
'Mid the eager, jostling horde,
Of pinching and planning to purchase
A gift I can ill afford.

I am sick of the work and worry,
And the burdens that Christmas brings
The pride, the greed, and the barter,
And other grievous things.
I shall be glad when it's over,
This so-called Christmas cheer,
For the plan of the day is missing,
And the purpose, it is not clear.

Oh, Where is the Christmas spirit,
Of which the angels sang,
When God gave a gift to the people,
And Christmas day began?
Is the song but a distant echo,
Has peace given place to unrest,
Is the good-will lost in the barter
Of gifts that are not best?

When giving is no more a duty,
But a token of love from the heart,
Not a toy or a useless bauble,
But of one's self a part;
When all that is sordid and selfish,
And all that makes us forget
The old Christmas song and story
Is gone, with the fume and fret;

Then we will keep Chrisfmas truly,
For the peace, the good-will, and the cheer,
The love, the grace, and the glory,
And all that makes life dear,
Will enter our hearts, and the spirit
Whom we grieved and sent sadly away
Will come once again to bless us,
On this Merry Christmas day.

—Bloodless surgery is possible with the use of electricity. Electrodes are placed on each side of the parts to be operated on and the electricity stops the flow of blood in the region between the electrodes by the rapid coagulation of the albumen in the blood and tissues.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

HOW RED CROSS SEALS FIGHT CONSUMPTION.

It would be impossible to tell of all the good work that the money received from Red Cross Stamps last year has done during the past year, but a few instances may be cited.

In Chicago, a little over $9,000 was realized, and this money for five months supported eight free tuberculosis dispensaries, together with eleven visiting nurses, 1,850 new patients being examined and 8,760 visits made to the clinics. In addition to this for the same five months the Central office of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute was supported, and through this office hundreds of thousands of people were helped in that city and throughout the state of Illinois.

In Brooklyn, the $5,000 taken in from the stamp sale has gone to support a ferry boat day camp with an average daily attendance of 75. Many patients have been restored to health and usefulness as the result of this work.

In New York, the County Red Cross Day Camp on the roof of the Vanderbilt Clinic has given a chance for new health to hundreds of consumptives. Similar camps have fought the fight against tuberculosis in Kingston, N.Y., Schenectady, N. Y.; Washington, D. C. Kalamazoo, Mich.; Cleveland, Ohio, and in many other cities.

Special nurses have been provided from the Red Cross funds and in some cases, tuberculosis dispensaries have been established. Literature has been printed and distributed, lectures given, exhibits conducted, and legislatures, municipal and county authorities stirred to activity, as the result of the Red Cross Stamp sale of 1909. Every stamp has been a real bullet in the fight against tuberculosis.

REAL WINTER.

Quincy in common with other parts of New England experienced a touch of real winter Thursday night and for a time it looked as though the storm would be a repetition of the storm of Christmas eve a year ago. It beganto snow early in the afternoon but it was of the fine, light kind. As night came on the mercury began to drop, the snow and wind to increase. It grew rapidly worse and at 10 o'clock a howling blizzard was in progress. At that hour the snow was falling fast and the high wind was wafting it in blinding clouds around the street corners making it extremely unpleasant to be out in. The storm continued until late in the night although the amount of snow that fell was very small. The wind died down toward morning but the temperature did not rise so that at sunrise it was near the zero mark. In some parts of the city it even went below zero but the average temperature at 7 o'clock was about 4 above zero. The wind had died down however and it did not seem as cold. One had only to be out a few minutes however to learn by the tingling of the ears that the air was extremely cold if it did not appear to be. The sun came out bright and clear and the day gave promise of being an ideal day for Christmas shopping.

NOT MADE PUBLIC.

The sub-committee on Supplies of the school board opened bids Thursday night for furnishing the schools with fuel. After looking them over it was voted to refer them to the whole committee for action. The name of the bidders and their prices was not made public.

EXCEEDS CONTRACT.

The steam trawler Ripple the last of the two vessels of this type built by the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. went out Thursday for a trial run. She more than exceeded her contract for she averaged 12 knots on a four run. Her top run was at a speed of 13 knots.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TAFT ORDERS IT WITHDRAWN

War Report Showed Defenseless State of Country

UNABLE TO REPEL INVASION

Congressmen Who Have Read Story of Dickinson Seriously Concerned and May Insist Upon Vigorous Investigation of Conditions In the Army—House Cannot Receive Special Report In Confidence

Washington, Dec. 16.—President Taft will not permit the country to know the condition of the United States army, a condition which prompted Secretary of War Dickinson to write a report to congress which is regarded as the most sensational comment sent to that body since the Spanish-American war.

This was the decision reached by President Taft at a conference with Secretary Dickinson, Chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs, and Representative McLachlan of California. McLachlan was author of the resolution calling upon Secretary Dickinson to inform the house the exact condition of the army.

Mr. McLachlan was at first disposed to insist upon the house and the country having the information called for in his resolution. He changed his mind, however, when he conferred with the president, and as a result all copies of the report will be recalled and the war department will insist on all press associations suppressing publication of the copies which were intrusted to them for distribution.

President Taft's desire to suppress the Dickinson revised report has served to accentuate the gravity of the situation as set forth by Dickinson. Members of congress who have read the report are seriously concerned, and it is now regarded as certain that a vigorous investigation will be conducted with a view to determining the causes which have brought the army to a condition which would make it helpless before an invading army.

Despite the president's efforts to suppress the Dickinson report, its contents are so generally known that military attaches of foreign governments would have no difficulty in obtaining copies, and the reports probably will be made the basis of an inquiry by the military committees of the house and senate.

The house declined to receive the report in confidence. Hence it will not be sent at all. The president took the ground that all the facts as to the army and the fortifications along the coasts of the United States upon which congress could base any proposed action were contained in the regular annual reports of the secretary of war, the chief of staff and other subordinate officers of the war department. These reports already are in the hands of congress. President Taft agrees with some of the congress leaders that these conclusions and opinions should be held in strict confidence.

As the house cannot receive reports in confidence, the president decided it was best to withhold the original report in its entirety. He directed Dickinson to prepare a letter to the house giving the reasons for withholding the special report and inviting attention to the regular annual reports, which will be found to contain all of the actual information that helped to make up the reply to the McLachlin resolution.

MORSE PARDON PETITION

It Is Formally Presented to the Department of Justice

Washington, Dec. 16.—A formal petition for the pardon of Charles W. Morse was filed at the department of justice yesterday afternoon. A personal letter from Mrs. Morse, wife of the banker, addressed to President Taft, was delivered at the White House by Senator Hale. The letter was referred, with other papers, to the attorney general. The Morse petition was signed by 5000 names.

All the evidence in the case will be reviewed by Attorney General Wickersham, who will then make his recommendations to President Taft. It may be weeks or months before Morse's pardon is granted or denied.

Foss a "Progressive Protectionist"

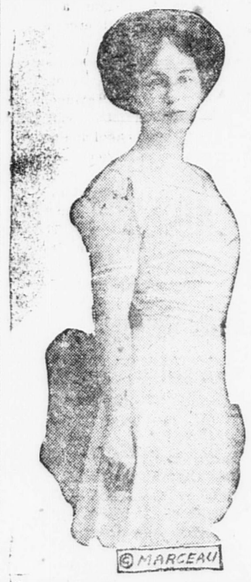
New York, Dec. 16.—Governor-elect Foss of Massachusetts declared in favor of an extension of reciprocity to every country on the American continent in his speech before the National Democratic club last night. Foss termed himself "a progressive protectionist," and said that the stand pat doctrines had driven him and thousands of others out of the Republican party.

New Record For Wireless

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 16.—What is declared to be a distance record for the transmission overland of a wireless message was established when the new wireless tower here was put into operation and greetings were exchanged with San Francisco.

YOUNG SOCIETY BUD

Miss Vivien Gould, Daughter of Mr. George Gould



TO WED LORD DECIES

Betrothal of Vivian Gould to British Nobleman Is Announced

London, Dec. 16.—The marriage engagement is officially announced of Lord Decies and Miss Vivian Gould, second daughter of George J. Gould of New York. Thus has been brought to a successful climax the dashing courtship of the English nobleman, which has progressed since he went to America to ride at the horse show of 1909 and there met the young heiress.

Miss Gould is in her 19th year. Lord Decies is 44 years old. He is well known as a soldier and sportsman.

Although Miss Gould has been going about to some extent in society she has not been formally introduced. Mrs. Gould intends to give a dinner dance Jan. 19 for her daughter, which will mark her formal introduction into society.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS MAKE A HEAVY RAID

Offices of Capital Investment Company Are Cleaned Out

Chicago, Dec. 16.—United States secret service officials raided the offices of the Capital Investment company. The main office and four of its branches were visited and papers, records and office furnishings confiscated. Sidman McHie is said by federal officers to be chief owner of the company. He is believed to be in Florida.

The raiders swept into the Rookery building, in the heart of the financial district, just at noon and created great excitement. A warrant has been obtained for the arrest of McHie by the government officials.

As soon as the contents of the office had been secured, a telegram from Aurora and one from Joiet, both in Illinois, announced that simultaneous raids there had been successful, from the government's standpoint, many papers and records being seized there also.

The firm is said to have thirty-three branches in the middle west, and to have done an extensive business in the buying and selling of stocks.

Thirty policemen and fifteen agents of the department of justice made the raid. About fifty clerks and managers were arrested.

REAL "SNOW WEDDING"

Daughter of Financier Lawson Becomes Mrs. Henry McCall

Egypt, Mass., Dec. 16.—A driving snowstorm beat upon the glass covered veranda as the shadows fell yesterday afternoon at the "snow wedding" of Miss Dorothy Lawson, daughter of Thomas W. Lawson, and Henry McCall, son of Congressman McCall of Winchester.

Miss Dorothy was the third of Lawson's daughters to marry from Dreamwold, and as her sisters had, one a "spring wedding" and the second a "June wedding," she chose for herself a "snow wedding."

Gun Bursts on Cruiser

Washington, Dec. 16.—One of the six-inch guns on the armored cruiser Pennsylvania burst at the muzzle while the ship was at target practice on the Pacific coast. There were no casualties. The accident was reported to the navy department from Mare island.

The Weather

Almanac, Saturday, Dec. 17.
Sun rises—7:15; sets—4:30.
Moon rises—5:38 p. m.
High water—11:45 a. m.; 12 p. m.

Forecast for New England: Fair, with slowly rising temperature; high northwest winds, diminishing.

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00

See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

Supply Your Kitchen Needs Now
You can't afford to risk health by using old cooking utensils—worn cut enamel, which chips off and causes stomach diseases—or rusty, leaky tinware, which spoils flavors and wastes food. Replace the old ware with "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Cooking Utensils
one of the many reliable lines we carry. We have just received a new lot. Come in and see these superior goods and get a souvenir free.
You can depend on anything you buy here
KINCAID'S ANNEX
1459 Hancock St.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-6
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

FUNERAL DESIGNS
ALL KINDS
at short notice our specialty.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone Connection.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

If you live at
Quincy Neck
You can get the Daily Ledger
after 3.30 P. M.
at the store of
J. S. Pierce

LOOK FOR EARLY AGREEMENT

Manufacturers and Cutters Meet to Consider New Bill

The first meeting of the joint committee from the Granite Manufacturers' Association and the Granite Cutters' Union who are considering the new bill of prices asked by the cutters was held Thursday evening. There was a general discussion of the proposed bill after which the two committees got down to business.

But little progress was made however at the first meeting and it was not expected that there would be. Frequent meetings will be held between the two associations until an agreement is reached. As has already been stated in the Ledger the demand means practically an increase of twelve percent for the workmen which includes the cutters, quarrymen, polishers and blacksmiths. If this increase is granted it means that Quincy will be paying a higher rate than is Barre, Vt., its greatest competitor. It would also mean a general advance in the price of rough stock and incidentally the price of the finished product.

On the other hand the cutters say that the price of all necessities have been constantly increased so that in order to meet these an increased wage is necessary. They claim that everything that man needs for the comfort of himself and family is constantly increasing and that wages are not increasing at a corresponding rate as they should to equalize matters.

However the best of feeling exists between the two associations and there is but little doubt that an agreement will soon be arrived at.

WHAT'S A SEAL?

"Mamma, what's a seal?" asked eight-year-old Mary, looking up from the paper, whose black head-lines she was laboriously deciphering.

"A seal is a little animal that lives in the ocean. We use its fur for coats and wraps," was the enlightening answer of the parent.

Mary puckered her brow for some minutes, and again interrogated, "Mamma, will seals stop plagues?" referring perhaps to some of the Biblical narratives she had heard told in Sunday school.

"Stop plagues! Why, child, what are you talking about?" cried the mother in amazement.

"Why here it says, 'Red Cross Seals Stop White Plague,'" triumphantly holding up the paper.

Then mamma explained to her little girl that the Red Cross Seal is a tiny stamp-like sticker which is placed on the back of letters and packages coming from Santa Claus and others. Every seal costs a penny, and every penny goes to fight and cure consumption, which is the real name of the white plague, and which is an awful sickness. Mamma told her of a little girl in their own neighborhood who had consumption, but who was given a chance to get well because the people had bought Red Cross seals.

Mary listened attentively, and finally touched by the closeness of the appeal, said, "Mamma, I think I'd rather have some of those seals than a new dolly."

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael W. Bradley was fined $15 for drunkenness at Milton.

William H. McAckron was fined $15 for exceeding the automobile speed limit at Milton.

Over 54 continued cases mostly for drunkenness were disposed of this morning.

—Since the women in the state of Washington have been given equal suffrage and a club formed for studying politics, under the auspices of the Washington Political Equality league, Mrs. F. F. Emery, anti-suffragist of Spokane and actively identified with woman's clubs and charitable work here, proposes to give mere man lessons in cooking. The idea started at one of Mrs. Emery's Sunday evening dinners, when, a number of young men being present, she announced that the men would have to wash the dishes. The woman's suffrage question brought up the suggestion that she teach the men how to cook, and the hostess declared her willingness. "I only meant to joke," said Mrs. Emery, "but I am ready to make good. The men have already learned the most important part, the dish-washing. When women vote the dinners should be ready when the women come home after the strenuous day's work in uplifting the politicians, and the men should learn how to run the kitchen right away."

HENRY CABOT LODGE.

His Standing on Humanitarian and Labor Legislation.

A concise statement of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's record as regards humanitarian and labor legislation is being prepared at the office of Rep. Norman H. White of Brookline, who is taking a leading part in the campaign for Mr. Lodge's re-election. This document will probably be ready for public distribution before the forthcoming meeting in Boston which the senior Senator will address. In speaking of the facts brought out by his survey of Mr. Lodge's legislative activities along lines of practical philanthropy Mr. White states his belief that the complete story will be much more impressive than most people, even those ordinarily familiar with recent political history, could have any idea.

"The prodigious amount of work Mr. Lodge has put in on various pieces of legislation affecting the workers of the nation almost staggers the imagination," says Mr. White. "Most of us from memory can refer to some individual act or acts which he has helped to get through. But a fairly comprehensive list of the laws for which he is mainly or in part responsible is an eye-opener. The Anti-Imperialist League adopted a resolution at its meeting the other day to the effect that Senator Lodge in his eighteen years of service in the Senate has not done a single thing for the advancement of human rights. The facts as we are digging them out of the Congressional Record and other documents show it is much more nearly true that hardly any legislation effecting human rights has been passed in these eighteen years in which Senator Lodge has not had a part on the right side. I doubt if any other single United States Senator or Representative can be shown to have had a finger in so many enactments for the benefit of humanity."

The data which Mr. White is gathering show that some of the labor legislation for which Mr. Lodge has stood dates back to the eighties. As a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1880-81 he tried to secure the enactment of an employers' liability law. He was defeated for re-election for the legislation by a combination of grocers and others because he had secured the passage of an amendment to the trustee process limiting the "garnishment" of wages to salaries above twenty dollars a week, thus preventing tradesmen, installment houses and book agents from causing hardships in the families of wage earners. He has never lost his interest in the important problems of the employers' liability as a list of his votes in Congress proves.

Another fact sometimes forgotten is that early in his career as a member of the National House of Representatives Mr. Lodge came out in favor of uniform brakes, patent automatic couplers and other apparatus to diminish the number of accidents to railroad employes. Under the title "A Perilous Business and Its Remedy," he wrote an article for the North American Review, Feb. 1892, which stated the duty of society toward the railroad men.

For several years past Mr. Lodge has been especially interested in child labor legislation. In the 1906 session a bill of his to regulate the employment of child labor was referred to the Committee of Education and Labor of which Mr. Lodge was not a member, and was reported back adversely, action being indefinitely postponed. A specially important contribution was the measure which passed the Senate in 1907 to regulate child labor in the District of Columbia. Senator Lodge's bill together with Senator Beveridge's to which he offered an amendment subsequently became law.

Senator Lodge's connection with the campaign for breaking up the white slave traffic is another subject into which Rep. White is delving. The record shows that the Committee on Immigration, of which Mr. Lodge is a member, last season reported a white slave traffic act which was drawn by certain United States district attorneys then engaged in the prosecution of the traffic as a result of the Immigration Commission's investigation. The bill, as is well remembered, was hung up in the House for weeks, and debated at great length, finally passing. On the last day of the session Senator Lodge called the bill up and secured its passage. This is the only scientifically drawn white slave law that has ever gone through Congress.

The Massachusetts Senator's work in favor of pure food legislation, food standards, railroad rate legislation, including his amendment which made pipe lines common carriers, regulation of undesirable immigration, meat inspection, hours of service legislation, designed to put an end to the railroads' practice of working their employees very long hours to their physical detriment and to the public peril from accidents, increased pay for railway mail clerks, commutation of United States prisoners for good conduct, promotion of industrial education, establishment of a national training and industrial institute, prohibition and use of opium and many similar matters of record are being looked up and tabulated by the Brookline man as the most effectual possible argument against Governor Elect Foss' assertions that Mr. Lodge has in some way been controlled by the interests and opposed to legislation for the common good.

MILTON BUDGET.

The new house which is being erected on Webster road will be occupied by Roy Morgan and family when it is completed.

A very successful Christmas sale was held in the basement of the Episcopal church Wednesday evening. Food and fancy articles found a ready sale and everything was sold before the evening was over.

Frank Delorey who was called in as a witness for the defense in the Glover case was discharge since his testimony was considered of no value.

The toboggan slide is bringing crowds to Cunningham park. A second slide is almost completed and the announcement of its opening will be received with great joy by the enthusiasts in the sport.

There is but little skating in Milton owing to the scarcity of water. The rink in Cunningham park has not been flooded yet and the High school boys are practicing on the river. A number of the young people in East Milton skate on the little pond off Pond street.

The Reading high school basket ball team defeated the Milton high school 19 to 12 on Wednesday. The next game will be played at North Easton on Saturday. The opponents will be the Oliver Ames school five.

George Eaton of Eaton street is convalescing rapidly after his recent operation for appendicitis. Many of his friends have visited him in his room in the Quincy city hospital and have found him very comfortable and cheerful.

Howard Ward son of the florist has moved into the new house on Adams street which was built by his father.

The covers have been put on the fountain and it is ready for the winter. A step is to be placed on the south side so that small children as well as the older ones can use the fountain in the spring.

The prospect for an ice crop on Eatons pond is not very good at present. Mr. Eaton has a house full of last year's ice left at Silver lake and it looks now as if he would have to depend on it largely for his next summer's supply.

The candy sale held in the High school last Wednesday in the interest of athletics netted $20.

The High school dance scheduled for Friday Dec. 23 has been postponed. The original intention was to limit attendance to members of the school but it was found impracticable to run it under such conditions and other arrangements will be made.

The Sophomores of the High school defeated the Freshmen at basketball by a score of 24 to 11.

A dance and social will be held in Cunningham gym. Wednesday evening.

Mr. Thomas has bought a lot on Grafton avenue and will erect a house on it as soon as possible.

The Cunningham Gym basketball team will play the Makarias of Quincy Saturday evening in the gymnasium.

The consolidated school will move into the new Vose school at the corner of White street and Brook road in the near future.

The High school basketball team defeated the Midgets of the Cunningham gym. 17 to 6 last Saturday. The Harris club of Somerville won from the Midgets by a score of 30 to 10 on Wednesday. The 1st team at the Cunningham gym defeated the Aero club of East Braintree 14 to 11.

The Men's club of the East Congregational church is preparing a mock trial to be given Feb. 15.

The McGuire stone sheds are being dismantled. A New Jersey firm has bought 1000 tons of granite and Bishop brothers of Quincy have purchased the derrick. The engine has not been sold as yet.

The bowling teams at the gym are preparing for the season and will start their schedule before very long.

The fire department was called to Milton academy last Monday for a fire in the boiler room. The blaze was soon extinguished and the loss was but a small one, being estimated at $50.

There are three horses at the East Milton hose house now instead of two. The going is too hard in winter for the tandem to make fast enough progress.

The stores are beginning to take on their Christmas attire and all trades are sprucing up for the holidays.

His Experience.

"Jasper," said Mrs. Grigson, who was looking over the morning paper, "here's a story of a woman who was robbed on a street car in broad daylight, and yet the thief got away unsuspected."

Mr. Grigson said that he had seen the item, but that it was either a typographical error or else the story was pure invention.

"Why do you say that?" asked his wife.

"Look at the item again. It says her purse contained $100 in currency, does it not?"

"Yes."

"It says there was also a receipted bill for a five dollar hat, does it not?"

"Yes."

"Well, no woman with $100 in cash in her possession would buy a five dollar hat."—Youth's Companion.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

Quincy Market

WE CERTAINLY HAVE

"Got Them Going"

LOOK AT THESE PRICES:

Salt Pork Mixed or Fat	10c
Leg Loin Lamb	11 1-2c
Fore Lamb - -	8c
Thick End Corned Beef	12 1-2c
Fancy Brisket	12 1-2c
Good Pot Roast -	8c
Good Rib Roast -	10c
Sirloin Steak	12 1-2c-15c
Boneless Rib Steak	12 1-2c
Round Steak -	18c
Rump Steak -	23c
Fresh Killed Fowl	15c
Beef Liver, 3 lbs. for	25c
Sweet Oranges	25c doz.
3 Cans Peas for	25c

☞Don't pay high prices for your XMAS TREES we have them from 15 cents up.

Next to Woolworth's 5 and 10c Store

Dec. 16—L-2t O-1w

TURKS SLAIN BY BEDOUINS

Revolt In Syria Has Assumed Serious Proportions

CAPTURE OF SEVERAL POSTS

Turkish Troops Annihilated by Tribesmen, Who Take Many Field Guns, Massacre Government Officials and Their Families and Apply Torch to Public Buildings—Resistance to Disarmament Program

Jerusalem, Dec. 16.—Reports from the Syrian vilayets where Bedouin revolts have been recently reported, indicate that the uprising is a serious one. Many Turkish officials have been massacred and at several military posts the troops were anihilated.

An Englishman, who was an eyewitness of some of the scenes of the uprisings, brings a details account to this city. Several companies of troops, he says, had been sent out with field guns to effect the disarmament of the Bedouins. The troops were scattered in small companies among the various tribes in the district east of the Jordan when the revolt broke out.

The revolt was carefully planned and executed. Bedouins were led by Chief Mejilla of El Kerak, whose father was a desert chieftain of international prominence.

The Bedouins, objecting to the disarmament program, planned an armed resistance and attacked the troops simultaneously at all the stations north of Maon. They were successful at every point, completely annihilating the troops, capturing sixteen field guns and killing many of the Turkish railway employes.

The victorious revolters then moved on El Kerak, which is a town of about 2000 inhabitants, located twenty miles east of the Dead sea. Here, too, they were successful. They massacred the government officials and their families and looted and burned the government buildings and schools.

It is asserted that the Christian residents and their buildings were spared. The garrison of El Kerak, consisting of a full battalion of infantry, is blockaded in the castle, awaiting relief from Damascus.

A party of eight American tourists, conducted by Agent Miller of Chicago, were set upon and robbed of their money while camping at El Kerak. The Americans were relieved of all their possessions, although not injured in any way. They succeeded in returning here in safety.

HE WANTS FULL WEIGHTS

Gaynor Quotes Scripture In Giving Advice to New Commissioner

New York, Dec. 16.—In notifying John L. Walsh that he had been appointed commissioner of weights and measures, Mayor Gaynor wrote the new appointee a letter expressing the hope that he would keep up the standard set up by Clement J. Driscoll, his predecessor, and adding:

"Keep in mind all the time how vile and heartless a thing it is to cheat by false weights and measures. And if you will repeat hourly the words of Proverbs: 'Divers weights and divers measures, both of them are alike abominations to the Lord.' I am certain you will both administer the office honestly and well, without favor to any."

LASTED THREE YEARS

Policeman Wins One Hundred Thousand Point Pool Game From Jeweler

Haverhill, Mass., Dec. 16.—Michael F. Barrett, a member of the state police, and Horace N. Noyes, a local jeweler, have just completed a 100,000-point game of pool, which they have been playing for the past three years at Noyes' home in West Newbury. This extraordinary game was won by Barrett by 164 points.

Up to the last quarter of the match Noyes was ahead with a comfortable lead. In the last 25,000 points Barrett overcame his opponent's lead and the two fought it out game by game to the end.

GOING TO PHILIPPINES

War Department Orders Funston to Command Department of Luzon

Washington, Dec. 16.—Orders issued from the war department assigned Brigadier General Funston, at present in command of the army service schools, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to command of the department of Luzon in the Philippine islands.

General Funston will relieve Brigadier General Potts, who will take command of the service schools at Fort Leavenworth. The changes will take place Jan. 15.

Six Night Riders Convicted

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 16.—R. H. Stapleton, George Brooks, Robert Robertson, J. E. Ptomey, W. B. Gunn and J. R. Gunn of Baldwin county were adjudged guilty of night riding by a jury in the United States district court. Sentence was deferred.

Afraid? Afraid to use hair preparations? Certainly not, if your doctor approves. Let him decide about your using Ayer's Hair Vigor for falling hair or dandruff. It will not color the hair, neither will it harm or injure. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

CHRISTMAS CANDIES.

Penoche. To make penoche, take four cups brown sugar, one cup milk; boil till sugar clings to side of dish; add 1 tablespoonful of vanilla, three cups of broken walnut meat. Pour into buttered tin and while warm cut into squares.

Granite Fruit Candy. Three cups granulated sugar, one half cup water, one fourth cup vinegar, boil one half hour, try in water if brittle, add one tablespoonful butter. One pound of mixed nut meats, one quarter pound each of dates and figs cut up, an ounce of red cinnamon drops or sugared anise-seed, pour into a small deep buttered pan. When cold, turn it out and break up into small pieces. Don't stir while cooking, and shake in the ingredients.

Sugar Wafers. Two cups of granulated sugar, six tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Boil until it threads, without stiring; add ten drops of oil peppermint or any resired flavoring and coloring matter; beat until it begins to grain, then drop on buttered paper, size of a quarter dollar.

Taffy. One cup granulated sugar, one cup molasses, butter size of small egg. Boil all together until it hairs, which will mean about 20 minutes' time. Any or no flavoring, pour thinly on to buttered tin sheets. Nuts or shredded cocoanut can be added.

Fig Fudge. Two cups granulated sugar, one-third cup of figs cut in very small pieces, one teaspoonful butter, small pinch ground ginger (or lemon, orange or vanilla flavoring), water enough to barely cover sugar. Boil altogether briskly for about five minutes, stirring constantly. When done, beat until thick and creamy, pour into buttered pans and cut in narrow oblongs.

Cream Walnuts. Melt a piece of fondant by stirring in a cup over boiling water; add vanilla and stir till like cream; drop almonds, walnuts or fruit into it, take them out on the end of a fork and drop on oiled paper. If the candy thickens return to the fire and stir till liquid again, remembering that the candy must be always in a vessel set in boiling water, and as the water cools it hardens. When all are dipped once, give them a second coat of candy.

Chocolate Creams. Melt unsweetened chocolate in a cup over boiling water, add an equal quantity of fondant; melt together; flavor with vanilla, and if thick add one or two teaspoons of hot water. Dip any flavored centers made from the fondant in this chocolate.

Grilled Almond Drops. Blanch a cup of almonds and dry thoroughly. Boil a cup of sugar and one-quarter of a cup of water until it "hairs," then throw in the almonds; let them fry, as it were, in this syrup, stirring them occasionally; they will turn a faint yellow brown before the sugar changes color; remove them instantly from the fire and stir until the syrup has turned back to sugar and clings irregularly to the nuts. To make them into drops chop them rather fine, mix them with an equal quantity of cream candy and when well blended form into balls and dip in melted fondant like the creams.

☞White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

PRISON PRODUCT BARRED

Decision of Judge In Pennsylvania Common Pleas Court

Pittsburg, Dec. 16.—Judge Miller, sitting specially in common pleas court, rendered an opinion which will have an important bearing on the sale of prison-made goods in Pennsylvania.

A Philadelphia firm sought an injunction against Warden Francis of the Western penitentiary to prevent him from using power machinery in the manufacture of mats. The mats were made by convict labor, but finished in a building within the prison walls by free labor.

The judge held that since the law provided that the product of a penal institution must not be made by power machinery, even only in part, the manufacture of mats must cease unless they are produced by hand or foot power machines.

COAST INTO MATRIMONY

Girl Whispers "Yes" on Sled and Knot Is Speedily Tied

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Dec. 16.—When speeding down a snow-clad hill on a sled with Miss Jean Whiting, Rodman V. Pitman asked, through the opening of his ulster collar, if she would marry him. She said "yes" just as the sled hit the bottom of the hill.

They carried the sled back to Miss Whiting's home, confided their secret to William W. Swan, her brother-in-law, got into his automobile and at midnight brought the Mt. Vernon city clerk downstairs in his pajamas to give them a license. Then they hurried around to Rev. Charles F. Canedy, pastor of the Trinity church, and he married them.

—In the 30 years of its existence the federal life-saving service has rescued 102,000 persons and preserved $166,000,000 worth of property. For this work life savers get less than a mechanic's wages and the cold shoulder when they grow old. How much longer will the United States government continue to deny them the retired pay most cities give policemen?—Boston Record.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store. Quincy.

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.

12 Cottland St., off Whitwell St.

Refraction and Diseases of the Eye

(Eyes examined for glasses)

Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.

Dec. 14 1m

Vocal Lessons and Harmony

MISS E. A. PERKINS

Director of Music in Public Schools

Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy

Hollander Building, Boston

Dec. 15-2mos

WOOD for SALE

$3.50 a Cord

59 Pond St.

South Braintree

Tel. 15-3 Braintree

Dec. 12-1f—o-17-1f

Quincy's Greatest Gift Shop

Never more attractive than this year. Worth while Christmas gifts that appeal to Everyone. The store that pleases people who wish to make a small outlay for gifts that are really worth while. The best to be found at 5 and 10 cents and under the same roof the greater gifts for 25-39-50-75 and 98c. Toys, Games, Dolls, Fancy China, Glass Ware, Ornaments, Fancy Boxes, Novelties, Brass Goods, Leather Goods, Burnt Wood Articles, Household Utensils, etc., etc., a few doors from our mammoth furniture store.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

Annex, 1459 Hancock Street, Quincy

A Few Doors From Our Furniture Store.

Dec. 16-1t

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-4 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for the People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1, SAVINGS BK. BUILDING
R.D. CHASE Treas.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photograph. We report if patentable and if free or not. Give advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us. 710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

PANIC IN SCHOOL CAUSED BY MISSTEP

Two Children Badly Hurt While Marching From Fire

Holyoke, Mass., Dec. 16.—The misstep of George Boisey, one of the 400 pupils of the parochial school of the Immaculate Conception parish, who were leaving because of a fire discovered in the basement, resulted in the general confusion of all and probably fatal injuries to Boisey.

The fire was discovered in a heap of rubbish and was considered sufficient cause to sound the school fire alarm.

Class by class the pupils hurried in good order from the different rooms. When Boisey reached the flight of a dozen stone steps to the street, he tripped and plunged forward, knocking down those before him.

The pupils who followed were unable to stop and piled up on those who preceded them until a great heap of struggling, shrieking children blocked the entrance. In the mix-up Boisey's skull was fractured.

The leg of one pupil was broken and several of the other children sustained minor injuries. The fire did no damage.

BACTERIA GOING TO COURT

New York Attorney Plans to Exhibit Eighteen Million During a Trial

New York, Dec. 16.—Eighteen million bacteria are going to be marched into the criminal branch of the United States circuit court and exhibited at the trial of S. E. Rosebrack, a dealer in eggs and bakers' supplies, who is on trial charged with selling frozen eggs.

"I will show you," said Attorney Smith to the jury, "that 18,000,000 bacteria were found in one cubic centimeter of samples of frozen eggs. This cubic centimeter will be brought into court."

One cubic centimeter is equal to about one-half a thimblefull.

—John H. Barker, owner of extensive car manufacturing interests at Michigan City, Ind., is reported to have left an estate of approximating $30,000,000, the bulk of which is bequeathed to his daughter, Catherine, 14 years old, making her one of the richest girls in the world.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Nine Days to Xmas

DEC. 16

Join the Early Shopping League RIGHT AWAY

EDDY BEQUEST OF DIAMOND PIN

Proves to Have Been Gift Returned to Mrs. Stetson

LEADER PRIZED IT HIGHLY

Friends of Excommunicated New York Woman Say It Shows She Had Not Lost Favor With Mrs. Eddy—Talk of Bringing Contest Over Will Which Left Residue of Large Estate to Mother Church

Boston, Dec. 16.—The Post says that the mention of the name of Mrs. Augusta Stetson, the excommunicated New York Christian Science leader, in the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy is explained.

Friends of Mrs. Stetson regarded the bequest of a diamond-crown breast pin as an indication that she had never lost favor with Mrs. Eddy. Some say that the gift was nothing less than vindication for her.

A Post reporter was told yesterday, by one in position to know, that in bequeathing to Mrs. Stetson the pin Mrs. Eddy was returning a gift.

About ten years ago the pin was presented to Mrs. Eddy by Mrs. Stetson. Mrs. Eddy prized the gift highly, and when she made codicils to her will in November, 1903, she considered the disposition of her diamond crown.

She decided that it should be bequeathed to Mrs. Stetson, the donor, and made that provision. The announcement of the bequest caused jubilation among the friends of Mrs. Stetson in New York.

When the bequest was made Mrs. Stetson was in the height of her power as a Christian Science leader. They pointed to the fact that Mrs. Eddy had not revoked the bequest after Mrs. Stetson's expulsion from the church, last year, as an indication that the latter continued to retain Mrs. Eddy's regard. The pin is valued at several thousand dollars.

George W. Glover, Mrs. Eddy's son, and Dr. E. J. Foster-Eddy, her adopted son, are still in Washington, where they went to consult with ex-Senator Chandler of Concord, N. H., who was their counsel in the "next friends'" suit. Chandler declined to state yesterday whether plans were being laid for a will contest.

Despite the settlement by which Glover accepted $245,000 and Foster-Eddy $45,000, after signing off all rights to Mrs. Eddy's estate, it is pointed out that several means of bringing a contest exist.

The two children of George W. Glover are not affected by the agreement and action could be brought in their name. The other manner in which the matter could be brought into court, as explained to a Post reporter by a prominent attorney, deals with an important law point.

There is an old law in the Massachusetts statutes which specifies that the income from the bequests for any one church shall not exceed $2000 per year.

The income of many times this amount, which would be derived from the $2,000,000 that the mother church has been left out of the $2,250,000 estate, is barred under this old law, he contends.

In discussing this issue the lawyer said: "This law has never been lived up to; but if the Eddy case should reach the courts because of this law, the heirs could not benefit.

"Should it be decided that the Christian Science church organization could not legally receive the large amount bequeathed to it by Mrs. Eddy the surplus would revert to the state."

NEW PENSION PROPOSITION

Provides For Old Fighters Who Served Nine Days or More

Washington, Dec. 16.—A bill granting pensions to any person who served nine days or more in the military or naval service during the Civil war, or sixty days in the war with Mexico, honorably discharged and now 62 years of age or more, was reported favorably by the house committee on invalid pensions.

The pension is graduated from $15 a month to those 62 years old, to $36 a month to those 75 years of age or over. Present pensioners are entitled to the benefits of the bill, under conditions to prevent duplication of pensions.

Five Years For Counterfeiter

New York, Dec. 16.—Vincenzo de Antonio, a wine dealer, who was convicted of being the wholesale dealer in the counterfeit notes made by the Lupo-Morello gang of counterfeiters, was sentenced to serve five years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Lone Bandit Robs Bank

Paradise, Kan., Dec. 16.—A lone bandit held up the State bank here and secured $2500. He forced the cashier to unlock the safe and tied the cashier and four other men with a rope before he left.

Congressman Cook Dead

Philadelphia, Dec. 16.—Congressman Joel Cook died here from a stroke of apoplexy. He was 66 years old.

IOWA'S NEW SENATOR

Lafayette Young, Newspaper Editor, Takes Dolliver's Place

YOUNG A "STAND PATTER"

Iowa Senator Has Something to Say About the Bay State

Washington, Dec. 16.—Senator Young of Iowa in his maiden speech in the United States senate aligned himself with the "stand patters" by opposing further tariff agitation. He spoke against the resolution introduced by his colleague, Senator Cummins, the "Progressive" leader.

"I charge that New England is drifting to a strange interpretation of the square deal," he said, "when they demand protection for their manufactured articles and free trade for our food products. I challenge any senator to state here that he believes the farmer is receiving too much for the raw materials produced by him.

"If Massachusetts shall decide in pursuance of her recent election to abolish the duties on farm products, there will arise a new band of insurgents, which will make the present band look like boy scouts."

PLACARDS ASKING ARREST OF DAVIE

Broker Charged With Larceny of Stock Valued at $117,550

Boston, Dec. 16.—Police circulars have been issued demanding the arrest of Robert E. Davie, the missing young broker. These charge him with the larceny of stock valued at $117,550 in two counts, which are the complaints of William H. Jackson and Mrs. Hannah L. Greenwood. The placards will be sent to all the cities and important towns in the country and many of them will be mailed to Central and South America, while others will be sent to Europe.

In the middle of the circular is a picture of the missing man and a facsimile of his signature. Below these it is stated that he is 25 years of age, but looks older, that he dresses well, walks with a quick step, has a stern expression and a slight scowl, but apparently is very religious. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs 175 pounds, and his complexion is medium, while his eyes are blue.

RITTEN THREE YEABS AGO

New Hampshire Man Has Just Succumbed to Hydrophobia

Nashua, N. H., Dec. 16.—Charles I. Richards, 48, died here of hydrophobia, which has been three years in developing from a dog bite received in the course of his duty as agent for the New Hampshire Women's Humane society.

The extraordinary length of time taken by the disease to develop its unmistakable symptoms has attracted considerable attention, and has led to an investigation as thorough as possible by Richards' attending physicians. As far as could be determined Richards had received no infection since he was bitten three years ago.

SILENT FOR TWO YEARS

Prisoner In Ohio Penitentiary Declared Insane on That Account

Bridgeport, O., Dec. 16.—After having spent two years in the penitentiary without having spoken a word, William Oliver, Jr., was brought back to St. Clairsville and adjudged insane.

The prisoner maintained his silence when taken into the probate court. It is claimed that he has not spoken for the past two years. He was regarded as the silent prisoner while at Columbus.

Double Tragedy Over Breakfast

New York, Dec. 16.—Because his wife refused to give him wheat cakes for breakfast, John Hynes shot her to death at their home in Long Island City and then fatally shot himself.

It Will Pay You to Know about your bodily condition—to get quick, safe and sure relief when your stomach is out of order, your liver torpid, your kidneys wrong and your bowels inactive. If at first sign of trouble with these important organs—when you have headache or feel dull and heavy—you will take a few doses of Beecham's Pills you will spare yourself a lot of unnecessary suffering. For your own good, and for the sake of your health and comfort you ought to know without delay

The Good Effect of the most popular and most reliable remedy in the world. Beecham's Pills help you to get rid of suffering; by putting your organs of digestion and elimination in good natural order they help you to secure the perfect health which enables you to enjoy life to the full and to at once eradicate disease germs which may assail you at any time. It will take only a few doses to prove to you the value of the well-known remedy

BEECHAM'S PILLS

At any druggist. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

TO START NEXT YEAR

Whitney Confirms Story of Proposed Trip to South Pole

New Haven, Dec. 16.—Definite assurance that Harry Whitney of this city intends to start next year, if possible, in search of the South Pole is contained in a telegram sent by Whitney from New Orleans to The Journal-Courier.

The telegram, which states that Captain Bartlett, who commanded the Roosevelt on its North Pole expedition under Peary, will accompany him, was in response to a query sent by The Journal-Courier to Whitney.

Official Returns From New York

Albany, Dec. 16.—John A. Dix was elected governor over Henry L. Stimson by 67,401 votes, according to the official returns of the November election, just completed. The total vote for Stimson was 622,299, and Dix 689,700.

Supreme Judges Confirmed

Washington, Dec. 16.—The senate confirmed Joseph R. Lamar of Georgia and Willis Van Devanter of Wyoming as associate justices of the supreme court of the United States.

Twelve Men Entombed

Denver, Dec. 16.—Twelve men are reported entombed in Shaft No. 2 of the Leyden Coal company at Leyden. The workings are said to be on fire and it is feared all are dead.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms.
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

"ADMIRALTY"

NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair
Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

Baby's Comfort for 15 Cents is secured by the one soap that never fails to help the most delicate skin—and never harms nor irritates. It is both safe and economical to use

Pears' SOAP

15c. a Cake for the Unscented

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT.

To the inhabitants of the town of Milton, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry S. Huntington, Martin McCue, Cornelia S. Townsend and Thomas S. McWhirk of said Milton; Charles C. Farnum of Randolph, in said County of Norfolk; Martha J. Troxell of Waltham, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; Annie M. Wilson of Newton, in said County of Middlesex; Sarah W. Frizzell of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; any heirs, devisees or legal representatives of Sarah McWhirk, and of John McWhirk, late of said Milton, deceased, who have not released their interest in the premises hereinafter described; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Elizabeth G. Balkam and Albert W. Balkam of said Milton, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Highland Street in said Milton, bounded southwesterly by said Street, southeasterly partly on land of Cornelia S. Townsend, and partly by land of the Town of Milton, northeasterly by land of Martin McCue, and northwesterly by land of Henry S. Huntington, and containing two and 6-10 (2.6) acres.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twenty-seventh day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

(Seal)

CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.

Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled.

The undersigned, citizens of Hingham, Quincy, and Weymouth, respectfully petition for legislation authorizing and directing the construction of a new bridge with necessary approaches and ways thereto, replacing the present bridge over the Weymouth Back River so-called, connecting the town of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk and the town of Hingham in the County of Plymouth, and for the taking by purchase or otherwise, in fee simple, or in such form of right, easement, or privilege, as may be deemed expedient, such property lands, rights or easements including locations or ways now used or occupied by any street railway company, and for such further legislation as may be necessary to carry out the purposes as aforesaid, also to provide for the payment of the costs and expenses of removing the present bridge constructing the new bridge, with a suitable draw therein and of acquiring and constructing the necessary approaches and ways as aforesaid and to provide for the care, maintenance, and repair of said new bridge and for the operation of said draw.

Walter W. Hersey, Wm. T. Shea
Walter T. Jones, John Curtis,
Wm. L. Foster, Harrison A. Keith
Edward W. Hunt, Michael B. Geary,
Bradford Hawes, Dennis J. Ford
W. J. Dunbar, Henry O. Fairbanks,
George L. Newton, Warren W. Adams,
A. Francis Barnes, John A. Duggan

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Office of the Secretary,
Boston, Nov. 29, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Hingham Journal, Weymouth Gazette and Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.

Dec. 2-3t 2, 9, 16

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES

--- THE ---

Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.

10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

CHRISTMAS CAROL

BY

Charles Dickens

The famous Yuletide tale which, with its story of Tiny Tim, has touched millions of hearts and wrought for human kindliness.

(Continued from last issue.)

Chapter Five

THE END OF IT.

YES, and the bedpost was his own, the bed was his own, the room was his own. Best and happiest of all, the time before him was his own to make amends in.

"I will live in the past, the present and the future!" Scrooge repeated as he scrambled out of bed.

He was so fluttered and so glowing with his good intentions that his broken voice would scarcely answer to his call. He had been sobbing violently in his conflict with the spirit, and his face was wet with tears.

"The spirits of all three shall strive within me. O Jacob Marley! Heaven and the Christmas time be praised for this! I say it on my knees, old Jacob; on my knees!

"They are not torn down," cried Scrooge, folding one of his bed curtains in his arms; "they are not torn down, rings and all. They are here! I am here! The shadows of the things that would have been may be dispelled. They will be. I know they will!"

His hands were busy with his garments all this time, turning them inside out, putting them on upside down, tearing them, mislaying them, making them parties to every kind of extravagance.

"I don't know what to do!" cried Scrooge, laughing and crying in the same breath and making a perfect Laocoon of himself with his stockings. "I am as light as a feather, I am as happy as an angel, I am as merry as a schoolboy. I am as giddy as a drunken man. A merry Christmas to everybody! A happy New Year to all the world! Hello here! Whoop! Hello!"

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO EVERYBODY!"

He was checked in his transports by the churches ringing out the lustiest peals he had ever heard. Clash, clang, hammer, dingdong, bell! Bell, dongding, hammer, clang, clash! Oh, glorious, glorious!

Running to the window, he opened it and put out his head—no, fog, no mist; clear, bright, jovial, stirring, cold—cold, piping for the blood to dance to; golden sunlight, heavenly sky; sweet, fresh air; merry bells. Oh, glorious, glorious!

"What's today?" cried Scrooge, calling downward to a boy in Sunday clothes who perhaps had loitered in to look about him.

"Eh?" returned the boy, with all his might of wonder.

"What's today, my fine fellow?" said Scrooge.

"Today," replied the boy. "Why, Christmas day."

"Do you know the poulterer's in the next street but one, at the corner?" Scrooge inquired.

"I should hope I did," replied the lad.

"An intelligent boy," said Scrooge, "a remarkable boy. Do you know whether they've sold the prize turkey that was hanging up there? Not the little prize turkey—the big one!"

"What—the one as big as me?" returned the boy.

"What a delightful boy!" said Scrooge. "It's a pleasure to talk to him. Yes, my buck!"

"It's hanging there now," replied the boy.

"Is it?" said Scrooge. "Go and buy it."

"Walk-er!" exclaimed the boy.

"No, no," said Scrooge; "I am in earnest. Go and buy it and tell 'em to bring it here that I may give them the direction where to take it. Come back with the man and I'll give you a shilling! Come back with him in less than five minutes and I'll give you half a crown!"

The boy was off like a shot.

"I'll send it to Bob Cratchit's," whispered Scrooge, rubbing his hands and splitting with a laugh. "He shan't know who sends it. It's twice the size of Tiny Tim."

The hand in which he wrote the address was not a steady one, but write it he did somehow and went downstairs to open the street door, ready for the coming of the poulterer's man. As he stood there waiting his arrival the knocker caught his eye.

"I shall love it as long as I live!" cried Scrooge, patting it with his hand. "I scarcely ever looked at it before. What an honest expression it has in its face! It's a wonderful knocker! Here's the turkey. Hello! Whoop! How are you? Merry Christmas!"

It was a turkey. He never could have stood upon his legs, that bird. He would have snapped 'em short off in a minute, like sticks of sealing wax.

"Why, it's impossible to carry that to Camden Town," said Scrooge. "You must have a cab."

The chuckle with which he said this, and the chuckle with which he paid for the turkey, and the chuckle with which he paid for the cab, and the chuckle with which he recompensed the boy, were only to be exceeded by the chuckle with which he sat down breathless in his chair again and chuckled till he cried.

He dressed himself "all in his best" and at last got out into the streets.

He had not gone far when coming on toward him he beheld the portly gentleman who had walked into his counting house the day before and said, "Scrooge & Marley's, I believe." It sent a pang across his heart to think how this old gentleman would look upon him when they met, but he knew what path lay straight before him, and he took it.

"My dear sir," said Scrooge, quickening his pace and taking the old gentleman by both his hands, "how do you do? I hope you succeeded yesterday. It was very kind of you. A merry Christmas to you, sir!"

"Mr. Scrooge?"

"Yes," said Scrooge; "that is my name, and I fear it may not be pleasant to you. Allow me to ask your pardon. And will you have the goodness"— Here Scrooge whispered in his ear.

"Lord bless me!" cried the gentleman as if his breath were gone. "My dear Mr. Scrooge, are you serious?"

"If you please," said Scrooge—"not a farthing less. A great many back payments are included in it, I assure you. Will you do me that favor?"

"My dear sir," said the other, shaking hands with him, "I don't know what to say to such munifi"—

"Don't say anything, please," retorted Scrooge. "Come and see me. Will you come and see me?"

"I will!" cried the old gentleman, and it was clear he meant to do it.

"Thank'ee," said Scrooge. "I am much obliged to you. I thank you fifty times. Bless you!"

He went to church, and walked about the streets, and watched the people hurrying to and fro, and patted children on the head, and questioned beggars, and looked down into the kitchens of houses and up to the windows, and found that everything could yield him pleasure. He had never dreamed that any walk, that anything, could give him so much happiness. In the afternoon he turned his steps toward his nephew's house.

He passed the door a dozen times before he had the courage to go up and knock. But he made a dash and did it.

"Is your master at home, my dear?" said Scrooge to the girl. "Nice girl—very."

"Yes, sir."

"Where is he, my love?" said Scrooge.

"He's in the dining room, sir, along with mistress. I'll show you upstairs, if you please."

"Thank'ee. He knows me," said Scrooge, with his hand already on the dining room lock. "I'll go in here, my dear."

He turned it gently and sidled his face in round the door. They were looking at the table, which was spread out in great array, for these young housekeepers are always nervous on such points and like to see that everything is right.

"Fred!" said Scrooge.

"Why, bless my soul," cried Fred, "who's that?"

"It's I—your Uncle Scrooge. I have come to dinner. Will you let me in, Fred?"

Let him in! It is a mercy he didn't shake his arm off. He was at home in five minutes. Nothing could be heartier. His niece looked just the same. So did Topper when he came. So did the plump sister when she came. So did every one when he came. Wonderful party, wonderful games, wonderful unanimity, won-der-ful happiness!

But he was early at the office next morning. Oh, he was early there! If he could only be there first and catch Bob Cratchit coming late! That was the thing he had set his heart upon.

And he did it—yes, he did. The clock struck 9—no Bob; a quarter past—no Bob. He was full eighteen minutes and a half behind his time. Scrooge sat with his door wide open that he might see him come into the tank.

His hat was off before he opened the door—his comforter too. He was on his stool in a jiffy, driving away with his pen as if he were trying to overtake 9 o'clock.

"WILL YOU LET ME IN, FRED?"

"Hello!" growled Scrooge in his accustomed voice, as near as he could feign it. "What do you mean by coming here at this time of day?"

"I'm very sorry, sir," said Bob. "I am behind my time."

"You are?" repeated Scrooge. "Yes, I think you are. Step this way, if you please."

"It's only once a year, sir," pleaded Bob, appearing from the tank. "It shall not be repeated. I was making rather merry yesterday, sir."

"I AM ABOUT TO RAISE YOUR SALARY."

"Now, I'll tell you what, my friend," said Scrooge; "I am not going to stand this sort of thing any longer. And therefore," he continued, leaping from his stool and giving Bob such a dig in the waistcoat that he staggered back into the tank again—"and therefore I am about to raise your salary!"

Bob trembled and got a little nearer to the ruler. He had a momentary idea of knocking Scrooge down with it, holding him and calling to the people in the court for help and a strait waistcoat.

"A merry Christmas, Bob," said Scrooge, with an earnestness that could not be mistaken, as he clapped him on the back—"a merrier Christmas, Bob, my good fellow, than I have given you for many a year. I'll raise your salary and endeavor to assist your struggling family, and we will discuss your affairs this very afternoon over a Christmas bowl of smoking bishop, Bob!

"Make up the fires and buy another coal scuttle before you dot another i, Bob Cratchit!"

* * * * * * *

Scrooge was better than his word. He did it all and infinitely more, and to Tiny Tim, who did not die, he was a second father. He became as good a friend, as good a master and as good a man as the good old city knew or any other good old city, town or borough in the good old world.

He had no further intercourse with spirits, but lived upon the total abstinence principle ever afterward, and it was always said of him that he knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge. May that be truly said of us, and all of us. And so, as Tiny Tim observed, God bless us every one!

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE OF

LOCAL AND BOSTON THEATRES

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

Following is the repertoire of the Boston Opera Company at the Boston Opera House for the seventh week, and it will be noted that the regular Wednesday evening subscription performance has been transferred to Thursday evening, Dec. 22d, when in conjunction with the opera I Pagliacci by Leoncavallo, the Imperial Russian dancers Anna Pavlova and Nikall Mordkin and complete ballet will present The Arabian Knights.

Monday evening, Dec. 19 will be presented Carmen, in French by Bizet, with Maria Gay in the title role, and Giovanni Zenatello in the role of Don Jose.

Thursday evening, Dec. 22, will be given I Pagliacci in Italian, with Carmen Melis as Nedda, and Florencio Constantino as Canio. Carlo Galeffi will be Tonio, Foranri Silvio, and Giaccone, Beppe. The opera will be followed by the Imperial Russian dancers, and complete ballet, in the Arabian Knights.

Friday evening, La Haranefa in French will be repeated with the same cast as last week, Fely Dereyne as Pilar, George Baklanoff as Ramon, and Robert Lassalle as Pedro. Andre Caplet will conduct. The Imperial Russian dancers will repeat their dance of Thursday evening The Arabian Knights, with a complete ballet.

The opera Saturday matinee Dec. 24th will be Mefistoffle in Italian by Boito, with Alice Nielsen as Margherite, and Carmen Melis as Elena, Florencio Constantino as Faust, and Jose Mardones as Mefistofele.

The opera to be presented at the Saturday evening performance at popular prices from 50 cents to $2.50 will be Otello, in Italian, by Verdi with Giovanni Zenatello as Otello, Baklanoff as Iago, and Jose Mardones as Lodovico. Frances Alda will sing Desdemona, and Maria Claessens Emilia. Arnaldo Conti will conduct the performance.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The annual musical production chosen by Mr. Craig for the Christmas holiday season will be "Jack and the Beanstock," and its first performance will be given Friday evening, Dec. 23d. For the first four days of the coming week the Castle Square theatre will be closed to the public in order that preparations may be made for a complete staging of this remarkable musical extravaganza. "Jack and the Beanstalk" was originally performed by the Boston Corps of Cadets some dozen years ago, and it was such a huge success that it was immediately put upon the professional stage, and it has ever since remained one of the most popular shows of its kind. Its authors, R. A. Barnet, who wrote the words and lyrics, and A. B. Sloane, who wrote the music, are unrivalled in their line, and they are both Bostonians. For Mr. Craig's production of "Jack and the Beanstalk" he is preparing new stage settings, the costumes will be brilliant and novel, and the music will be played by an enlarged orchestra under the leadership of Joseph Marr. In the cast will be Mary Young as Jack, Donald Meek as the Fairy Queen, George Hassell as Old King Cole, Wilfred Young as Sinad the Sailor, Bert Young as Haitewurk, W. Walker as the Giant, Folrence Shirley as Little Miss Muffett, Marie Curtis as Old Mother Hubbard. The box office of the Castle Square will remain open all next week for the sale of seats for this production.

PARK THEATRE.

This is the Merry Yuletide, the season of happiness and good will and all the rest of it. Naturally you have been reminded of it, and perhaps it has put you out of sorts, for it isn't always easy to feel that Christmas spirit that song and story tells us should be rampant at this time. Christmas has worries for a lot of us. Some of us don't find any fun in Christmas shopping, and we are afraid we'll overlook somebody who on Christmas morning sends us some nice gift, or that we'll spend money on a person who doesn't remember us, which is most annoying, or again it is pretty hard to make the money go around among all we wish to do something for, and so on through the whole list of Merry Yuletide miseries. But there's a cure. It's a sure one, too, no matter how weighty your Christmas trials. It's "Seven Days," the comedy now at the Park Theatre in Boston. Here's where you'll get happiness and brightness. "Seven Days" will make you so merry that all the world will seem glad and gay. It will give you laughter that will carry into the New Year and start off 1911 in the jolliest possible spirit. If you are shopping and get worn out and discouraged, drop in and see "Seven Days." Get two hours and a half of gaiety that will last many times seven days. You couldn't make any one a better Christmas present than "Seven Days," nor could you give yourself a jollier treat either. You needn't hang up your stocking for this Christmas gift. In fact, it would be better not to for the play is funny enough without having the Park Theatre decorated with suspended hosiery. Anyway, the stocking hasn't been made that is big enough to hold the fun in "Seven Days." The wit and merriment and laughter would overflow any stocking ever hung up or taken down. And remember, as the side show man says, this is the last chance. "Seven Days" is nearing the end of its Boston run. It closes on Saturday night, Dec. 31, New Year's Eve, and hikes back to New York to make old Manhattan laugh. See "Seven Days" and you'll have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year no matter what happens.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

At the Hollis Street Theatre for two weeks beginning Monday evening, Dec. 19th, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees and special Christmas matinee Monday, Dec. 26th, Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger and Henry B. Harris will present Ruth St. Denis in a series of dances depicting the religion and customs of ancient Egypt in conjunction with the Imperial Russian Court Balalaika Orchestra, in selections from the folk songs and famous composers of their native land. Ruth St. Denis, who appeared last season in her Hindu dances, has selected for presentation this season four dances, founded on the religion and customs of ancient Egypt. The first is a dance entitled "Prayer to the Nile Gods." The inspiration for this was derived from the custom of the ancient Egyptians, who rendered prayers and gave thanks to the Gods for the annual rise of the Nile. The second dance is called "The Tambours." It is taken from the custom of the aristocracy in giving memorial banquets called feasts of eternity During these feasts offerings of wine were made, gifts interchanged, music was played, and then the dance. The third dance is called "The Mystery of Isis" and is divided into two parts. The fourth dance "The Festival of Ra" is divided into three parts. The Imperial Russian Court Balalaika orchestra will introduce as its portion of the program the famous folk songs of Russia, in addition to classical selection by famous composers. It is said that these instruments create melody of such strangely beautiful quality that it absolutely defies definition. At least no one of the great critics on the New York press has yet been able to find a comparison for it. W. W. Andreeff is the conductor of the orchrestra and he is a musician of great prominence in Russia and on the continent. The Balalaika orchestra has been for two years the sensation of Europe and since Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger have introduced the organization in this country it has gained tremendous vogue.

WITH THE ACTORS.

No play in recent years has made so distinct an appeal to old and young alike as has "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," the dramatization of the Kate Douglas Wiggin "Rebecca" stories by Mrs. Wiggin and Charlotte Thompson, presented by Klaw & Erlanger at the Republic Theatre in New York. Alan Dale recently interviewed Edith Taliaferro, who plays the role of Rebecca. In response to the question as to whether she considered the stage a bad thing for children Miss Taliaferro, who has spent fifteen years on the stage as a child actress, replied: "Why it is lovely. The grown actors treat us all so charmingly. I have never heard one case to the contrary. They are delighted when we get applause and they encourage us and pet us. Of coure they are not so fond of us when we are over twelve, but while we are tots we get the tenderest sort of treatment. Scope is given to the child to be natural. The child is allowed to wander about the stage in this own way and there is little interference. Years ago, of course, children were novelties. Today they are expected to act as easily and as cleverly as if they were adults."

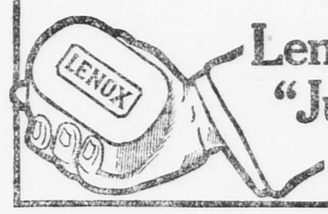
A good soap at a fair price.

No, madam, soaps are not "all alike."

They differ in size, shape, quality and price; also in what they do and the way they do it.

The ideal soap is a soap that is of convenient shape and good quality, and, at the same time, sells at a fair price.

Lenox Soap fulfills these requirements.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

The Famous Rayo

Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

Once a Rayo User, Always One

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS

27 GRANITE STREET

Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Why? Because

The Heat is Applied

When You Want It — Where You Want It

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite Street, Quincy

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	19 degrees
December 16, 1909,	43 degrees
December 16, 1908,	44 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 12 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Administrator Notice
E. E. Foy & Co.—Saturday Special
Merigan's New Market
Kincaide's Annex—Christmas Gifts
Quincy Market—Bargains in Meats
To Let

BRIEFS

Reapers' circle of Christ church meets tonight to arrange for their Christmas work.

Merigan's new market opposite Quincy Music hall has some special inducements for Saturday.

Mrs. H. F. Hammond of Saville street has been called to Hanson because of the illness of her father.

Chief Burrell reports that repairs on the police auto are being rushed and that the auto will probably be in service again by Saturday or Sunday.

The Red Cross seals are again on sale at the Post Office and can be found there from now on until Christmas.

St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church is to finish the gifts going to the girls at Welcome House at a meeting tonight. It is hoped all members will be present and assist in the work.

In the superior court at Dedham Thursday Simoni Marchisiani was sentenced to six months in the house of correction for assault on his brother August at Quincy.

Mrs. R. G. Davis has retuned from Warren, R. I., where she was called on account of the sickness of her mother. Her mother is reported as being a little better but not wholly out of danger as yet.

On account of the scarlet fever epidemic which is prevalent in Wollaston the Wollaston Methodist church will not only close its Sunday school for the next two weeks but will also forego the proposed Christmas entertainment. The other services of the church will continue as usual.

At a meeting of the Central Labor Union held Thursday evening the wage increase asked for by the Coal Teamsters' Union No. 333 was unanimously endorsed. The increase asked is 50 cents a week for each man employed. A committee was appointed to confer with the coal dealers and urge the granting of the increase.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. James H. Webb and family wish to thank their many friends for the beautiful flowers and words of sympathy extended to them in their late bereavement.

Mr. James H. Webb.
Quincy, Dec. 16, 1910. 1t.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. George H. Turber and family express their thanks to neighbors and friends for expressions of gratitude and flowers during their recent bereavement.

Quincy, Dec. 16 1t

MARRIAGES

BERGLUND—GRAHN — In Quincy, Dec. 15, by Major Christopherson of Boston, Carl Berglund to Selma Grahn.

COLLINS—CRAIG—In South Quincy, Dec. 14, by Rev. James A. Matheson, Mr. Ernest J. Collins to Miss Margaret A. Craig, both of South Quincy.

DEATHS

BELLIVEAU—In Quincy, Dec. 15, Mr. Luke Belliveau of 115 Centre street, aged 57 years.

WATERS—In Quincy, Dec. 15, George Waters of 7 Beacon street, in his 88th year.

EMANUEL—In Quincy, Dec. 15, Agesilaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas G. Emanuel, of 239 Whitwell street aged 15 days.

JONES—In Braintree, Dec. 15 William M. Jones, of 153 Middle street in his 85th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BRIEFS

The football reception will take place in the High school gymnasium this evening.

The Verdanda Temperance society held a dance in Electa hall Thursday evening.

The Scandia lodge, order of Vasa met in Protection hall Thursday evening.

The Adams A. A. dance and prize waltz will be held in Alpha hall this evening.

Miss Lottie M. Crabtree whose summer home is at Squantum is Boston's sixth largest taxpayer. She is assessed for $1,383,000.

The Jewish Progressive society held their regular meeting in Room 22 Johnson building Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Now is a good time to subscribe for the Quincy Daily Ledger, the old, reliable, family daily that is always welcome in the home.

Mrs. Alma N. Anderson, a prominent Finnish woman of Boston, is to lecture this evening at eight o'clock at the Willard Evening school on "The need of learning English and the advantages of an education." The public is invited to attend.

Friday is young people's day in the Sunday school conference at the Swedish Baptist church. A meeting for parents and others interested in children and young people will be conducted by Rev. G. W. Lindstrom of Brockton at 3.30. At 7 o'clock in the evening Mr. Lindstrom will talk to the children and young people about Josiah, the boy king. An after meeting will be led by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom.

MEETING MEN'S LEAGUE.

The regular prayer meeting was omitted at the United Presbyterian church last evening and a public meeting of the Men's league was held in its place. Devotional exercises were conducted by the paster after which Rev. Joseph A. Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church was introduced as the speaker of the evening.

Owing to the heavy storm, the audience was not large but those who did brave the tempest felt doubly repaid for it. Mr. Walther gave a very practical and earnest address and a powerful appeal to those present to give the best that they had to Christ. The topic of the address was, "Imitating the example of the ancient worthies." The Bible references were taken from the epistle to the Hebrews. In closing the address Mr. Walther emhasized the fact that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever." He is the same in love, in power and in his willingness to help.

GRANITE BOWLING.

The new Granite Bowling league was formed at the Granite street bowling alleys Thursday evening with the following officers: President, William McKenna; Secretary, G. S. Grant; Treasurer, George McKay. The league will consist of four teams and the secretary is now working on the schedule. The teams will probably roll on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

Double Stamps
Saturday, Dec. 17
Merigan's New Market
1522 Hancock Street
Opposite Music Hall

Short Legs Lamb	14c
Fore Quarters Lamb	9c
1st cut Roast Beef	12 1-2c

Dec. 16-1t

SWEDISH CONFERENCE.

The opening sessions of the conference of the Swedish Sunday schools of New England were held Thursday evening in the Baptist church at Brewers corner. In spite of the storm the attendance at both meetings was large. The first session was a prayer meeting conducted by Rev. A. P. Hanson, pastor of the church. This was followed by a preaching service with a powerful sermon by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom state missionary of the Swedish Baptist churches. His text was taken from II Tim. 3:15.

Healstrom string band furnished excellent vocal as well as instrumental music during the evening and accompanied the congregational singing. The meetings made a very auspicious beginning for the four days' conference.

LUKE BELLIVEAU.

Luke Belliveau of 115 Centre street died at his home last evening. Mr. Belliveau was employed at the Fore River Ship and Engine company. He leaves a widow Mrs. Victoria Belliveau and one daughter, Selina, the noted singer. The funeral will be held at St. John's church Monday morning.

SIRES AND SONS.

President Taft's mail amounts to about 1,000 letters a day and 4,000 newspapers and books.

This year's Nobel prize for medicine goes to Dr. Albrecht Kossel, professor of physiology at the University of Heidelberg.

Dr. Robinson, the new director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, is a Bostonian by birth. He was formerly director of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

The Rev. Zed H. Copp, probation officer of the District of Columbia, believes heaven has golden streets and palaces built of precious stones. He has preached a sermon to prove that this belief is correct.

Chancellor Roscoe C. Day of Syracuse university never follows the typewritten copies of his public speeches which he has supplied in advance to the newspapers. He says he warms up to his subject after he begins to address a crowd.

Erich Korngold, an Austrian boy composer, only thirteen years old, had his musical pantomime, "Der Schneeman," brought out in Vienna at the Royal Opera House recently with great success, and it has now been taken on by theaters in Breslau, Leipzig and Prague.

M. Edmond Blanc is looked upon as the real ruler of Monaco. He pays $350,000 a year for the gambling concession he holds and thus provides the greater part of the revenue of the principality. In one respect M. Blanc is a disappointed man. He cannot gain admission to the French Jockey club.

Pen, Chisel and Brush.

Holman Hunt spent seven years on his great painting, "The Triumph of the Innocents," and then was not at all satisfied with it, while "The Shadow of Death" took him three years.

Sir Moses Ezekiel has been unanimously chosen by the Confederate Memorial association to model the monument to the south's dead that is to be erected in the National cemetery at Arlington, just outside of Washington.

Paul Johann Ludwig Heyse, the veteran poet and novelist who has just been awarded the Nobel prize in literature, is probably best known to the general public through his play "Mary of Magdala" and his novel "Children of the World."

Love and the Laundry.

"The only thing I find to say against you is that your washing bill is far too extravagant. Last week you had six blouses in the wash. Why, Jane, my own daughter never sends more than two."

"Ah, that may be, mum," replied Jane, "but I 'ave to! Your daughter's sweetheart is a bank clerk, while my young man is a chimney sweep. It makes a difference, mum."—London Tit-Bits.

The Main Loss.

"Did the specialists remove anything when they operated on Millyuns?"

"Oh, yes; about half of his income!"—Baltimore American.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

CUBS STILL RETAIN LEAD

Last Night's Matches in Makaria Bowling League

The Makaria bowling league rolls on with the Cubs well in the lead. Thursday's contest gave them another sweeping victory with 4 more points to their credit. No very high score was made but the members of the team bowled consistently and the totals averaged up pretty evenly. R. Stewart made the best score for three strings, 259 and Morris's 95 for a single string was the best in the match. The Tigers seemed to be off their game and Curtis' 245 for three strings was way ahead of the score made by any of his team mates.

The summary:

CUBS.

Parker	84	82	84	250
BATES	80	80	74	234
Jenkins	87	75	66	228
R. Stewart	71	94	94	259
Morris	79	69	95	243
	401	400	413	1214

TIGERS.

Curtis	80	73	92	245
Richards	57	78	70	205
Glover	69	77	50	196
Brooks	63	83	70	216
Jones	72	76	73	221
	341	387	355	1083

The Pirates were unable to smuggle more than 2 points from the Athletics in their contest. The former won the first string and had the highest total while the Athletics won the second and third strings by narrow margins. The teams were incomplete since the Pirates had but four men and the Athletics played with three men and a dummy. Michael made 102 the best score for a single string and Giles with 251 carried off the honors for the best three strings.

The summary:

PIRATES.

Hoxie	79	74	66	219
E. Nicoll	81	89	82	243
Stewart	71	97	80	248
M. Nicoll	88	77	84	249
	319	328	312	959

ATHLETICS.

Giles	82	91	78	251
Dunbar	78	79	74	231
Michael	60	88	102	250
Dummy	71	74	66	211
	291	332	320	943

The standing of the teams in the Makaria league has changed considerably since last week. The Red Sox have grabbed second place breaking the four fold tie. The Pirates have stepped above the Giants and the Athletics have toed the line with the Tigers:

The standing:

	Won.	Lost.	Per-Cent.
Cubs, Morris	10	2	.833
Red Sox, T. King	7	5	.583
Pirates, M. Nicoll	6	6	.500
Giants, Dill	5	7	.416
Athletics, Michael	4	8	.333
Tigers, Jones	4	8	.333

K. OF C. LEAGUE.

In the Columbus club league Dorchester defeated by a score of 3 points to 1. Quincy won the third string owing to Shortle's 120 which was one of the best in the match. Walsh was the star man for the home team making at total for three strings of 323.

Shortle was the star man for Quincy. His total of 317 was 50 pins ahead of any of his team mates and second only to Walsh's in the match.

The summary:

DORCHESTER.

	1	2	3	Total
Clancy	100	87	79	266
Lynch	97	84	107	288
Maguire	93	78	73	244
Lambert	106	84	83	273
Walsh	82	125	116	323
Totals	478	458	458	1394

QUINCY.

	1	2	3	Total
Bliss	81	79	85	245
Shortle	98	99	120	317
Caton	80	90	85	255
Sullivan	89	80	88	257
Keating	91	93	83	267
Totals	439	441	461	1344

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

Aviation.

Germany's aerial navy now numbers fourteen vessels.

Scottish aviators experience difficulty in experimental flights on account of the heavy atmosphere or damp cold encountered.

The Royal Aero Club of the United Kingdom has taken the somewhat surprising step of forbidding the flying over towns or thickly populated areas on the ground that it is attended with considerable risk to the public and also useless in furthering the progress of aviation.

Still More Painful.

The Young Politician—I can assure you there is nothing more painful than having to make—er—er—one's first speech in public. Young Politician's Wife—Oh, yes, there is, dear! Young Politician (displeased)—Then what is it, pray? Young Politician's Wife (sweetly)—Having to listen to it, my dear.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.41 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.36 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.06 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.0 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abcd	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 35	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 54
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 57 r
r 8 05	Exp.	8 29	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 29 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefghi	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 50 r
r 5 21	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 30	ac	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dcba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 45	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 51	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 15	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 3 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 17	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 15	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.20 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.45, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.35, A. M., 12.13, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 11.35, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.10, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Dec. 14 between Wollaston and Alpha hall, gold chain with locket engraved "E. G." Reward if returned to 103 Grand View avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 15-3t

☞Your Christmas letters and gifts will carry added cheer and happiness if you will decorate them with Red Cross Christmas Seals. These bits of brightness have become a mighty weapon against Tuberculosis. Think of what might be done with A Million for Tuberculosis. In 1908 enough of these little seals were sold at one cent each to produce $150,000. In 1909 the sale brought $240,000. In 1910—what shall it be? You can help to give the answer.

Administrators Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of

DANIEL E. CAMERON

late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY E. TEASDALE, Adm.
(Address) 23 Adams Bldg
Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16 1910 Dec. 14 3t-16, 23, 30

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

TO LET

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electrics. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street. Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Dargin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
9 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2430

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 293 | QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 17, 1910 | PRICE TWO CENTS

RECEPTION TO FOOTBALL TEAM

Girls of Quincy High Show Appreciation of the Many Victories Won

Presentation of Q's by Head Master Howlett

The annual football reception was held in the gymnasium of Quincy High school last evening. The faculty, the football team and members of the two upper classes were invited, and about 200 students and teachers accepted the invitation. The "gym" was decorated with flags and school colors and a banner bearing the symbols—"Q 11—D O" played a prominent part.

After the sixth dance James D. Howlett, headmaster of the school,

(Continued on Page 2.)

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
Established 1870
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
660-668 Washington St, Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Quincy Market
WE CERTAINLY HAVE
"Got Them Going"
LOOK AT THESE PRICES:

Salt Pork	Mixed or Fat	10c
Leg Loin Lamb		11 1-2c
Fore Lamb	- -	8c
Thick End	Corned Beef	12 1-2c
Fancy Brisket		12 1-2c
Good Pot Roast	-	8c
Good Rib Roast	-	10c
Sirloin Steak		12 1-2c--15c
Boneless Rib Steak		12 1-2c
Round Steak	-	18c
Rump Steak	-	23c
Fresh Killed Fowl		15c
Beef Liver, 3 lbs. for		25c
Sweet Oranges		25c doz.
3 Cans Peas for		25c

Don't pay high prices for your XMAS TREES we have them from 15 cents up.
Next to Woolworth's 5 and 10c Store
Dec. 16—L-2t O-1w

MAYORALTY CANDIDATE PASSES AWAY

Jason G. Witham Sought the Office in Early Years of Quincy City Government

JASON G. WITHAM

Jason G. Witham, who was the Democratic candidate for Mayor in 1889, died yesterday at his home in Sudbury, in his 70th year.

Mr. Witham was born in Wells, Maine, March 8, 1841. His only educational advantages were those afforded by the public schools, and both his parents dying early, he was compelled to seek employment when but fifteen years old. The year of his majority, 1860, he came to Boston, and for three years worked in a grocery store. Since then he has been in the dry goods commission business.

Mr. Witham was married July 9, 1872, his estimable wife being a Chelsea lady. The following year he removed to Wollaston, where he resided at No. 26 Grand View avenue for many years. He has one son and a daughter. The only secret society with which he was connected was the Wollaston lodge, Knights of Honor. He was a past dictator, having acceptably "passed the chairs."

In March, 1877, Mr. Witham was one of the Democratic candidates for School Committee and received the highest vote. In 1880, the Butler Democrats refused to support him, but the Adams Democrats and the Republicans renominated him and he was re-elected by a rousing majority. In 1883 he was re-elected for the third term, and in 1884 and in 1885 was chairman of the board. After nine years of service he declined a renomination in 1886. It was while he was a member of the School Committee that the public schools of Quincy obtained a national reputation for which they have since been noted.

Mr. Witham was also at one time one of the Managers of the Adams Academy.

In 1885 and 1886 he was appointed a member of the "Committee of Fifteen" annually selected in town meetings to consider the annual budget, and report their recommendations thereon.

Mr. Witham was the candidate for Mayor both in 1889 and 1890 but was defeated. He was a quiet, modest and exemplary citizen. Funeral services will be held Monday at Woodlawn cemetery at 2.30 P. M.

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 332 Quincy

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

GIRLS' FAIR AT WOLLASTON

Attractive Scene at St. Chrysostoms Church

The parish rooms of St. Chrysostom's church never looked more attractive than Friday afternoon and evening when St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls' Friendly society held its fair. The tea room was cosily fitted up and lights from Japanese lanterns carried out the effect. Miss Ruth Bean was in charge assisted by Miss Dorothy Bean and Miss Nichols.

At the candy table, decorated in green and red, were Miss Robina Atkins, Mildred Bean, Helen Ketchum, Lillian Purdom and Elsie Whitehead.

At the pretty red booth were sold dainty handkerchiefs. Miss Lydia Hennigar was in charge assisted by Miss Amy Rhodes and Miss Nettie Parlee.

The apron table was gorgeous with holly trimmings in charge of Miss Beatrice Butler, Carolyn Wilkinson, Maud Allezhauser and the Misses Clean.

The fancy table daintily gotten up in pink, was in charge of Miss Pearl Belyea, Miss Edna Fowler and Louisa Ross.

Christmas bells decorated the ice cream and cake table, at which was Miss Ruth Parker, Miss Mabel Anderson, Miss Louisa Wilkinson and Miss Jean Gorham.

The grabs were in charge of Miss Helen Croucher, Zoe Fowler, Edith Atkins and Gertrude Allen.

HOW TO CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS.

Rev. G. W. Palengren will preach a pecial sermon on this interesting and timely subject Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the Garfield street church. The public is cordially invited to come and hear it. Special singing will also be rendered.

—The slogan of this year's campaign is, "A Million for Tuberculosis."

ARREST FOLLOWS HOUGHS NECK FIRE

Man and Woman Narrowly Escape From a Cottage That Was Totally Destroyed

Man Sentenced to Two Months in House of Correction

There was a peculiar fire at Rock Island early last evening at which a cottage and its contents were completely destroyed, and up to late at night the owner of the cottage was unknown. The night was bitter cold and the wind fanned the flames which made a bright illumination. The cottage burnt quickly however, and the illumination that lighted up the sky was soon gone. Box 119, one of the new boxes, located on the corner of Rockland and Rhoda streets, was sounded for the fire at 5.48. Many did not know where the box was located, and there was considerable speculation as to where the fire was.

Jimmie Malone was on hand early with the Houghs Neck combination but so rapidly did the fire burn that the cottage was practically destroyed when he arrived.

As Chief Williams drove to the fire he passed a man and woman coming from the direction of fire both much the worse for liquor. When he arrived at the cottage he was informed that a bottle of gasoline and liquor had been found, and he connected the parties he had seen with the fire.

As Chief Williams started back to Quincy he again overtook the couple and questioned them but could get but little satisfaction. He then informed the police, and when the couple arrived in Quincy they were arrested by Officers Murray and Corbett as they left the street car. They were locked up on the charge of drunkeaness, and gave their names as Fred McAvoy of Weymouth and Lulu Deane of Braintree. It is alleged that the couple had been stopping at the cottage for the past three days.

During the night the woman had to be attended by City Physician Hallowell. This morning they were in condition to tell their story. it seems the woman owns the house, and had sent down a lot of lumber to make some additions. An oil stove had been lighted to get supper, and it suddenly exploded. McAvoy tried to extinguish the fire with a bed quilt, but soon became hemmed in by the flames and as a last resort was obliged to smash out a window, jump out and pull the woman after him.

Both got somewhat singed, and the woman thoroughly chilled with the cold as her furs had been burned with the building. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at $800. Both were arraigned in court for drunkenness. The woman was put on probation until March 1, and McAvoy sent to the house of correction for two months.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Matthew Thompson, becoming angry in a restaurant in the Fore River district, threw a bottle which landed on the forehead of Gordon Morrison, breaking the skin and raising quite a bump. The men were at lunch, and in the spirit of fun some of the men began to throw pieces of bread at Thompson. He repeatedly told them to keep quiet but to no avail. He then said if they did not stop he would throw a bottle. As he said these words a piece of bread hit him in the face. Then he bottle flew and Morrison went down. In court Morrison was willing to acknowledge satisfaction, but the court said the matter was too serious as it might have resulted in a fatality. A fine of $15 was therefore imposed.

ANOTHER CONTRACT.

The steam trawler Ripple which had her trial trip this week will be ready for delivery before Jan. 1, being the third trawler that the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. has built for the Bay State Fishing Company. The company has just awarded a fourth contract for another trawler, to be known as the Crist, which will be a duplicate of the Ripple.

The Murray club of the Universalist church are to hold a candy sale on Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Miss Harriet Lombard of Cottage street.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES

Fownes	$1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined	$2.50 to $5.00
Working	25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS

Ladies'	50c to $4.00
Men's	75c to $5.00
Children's	50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co.
SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make
American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS

Full Dress	$1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee	50c to $2.00
Working	50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black
RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers
High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

If you are up early enough and are not too busy the sunrise these cold winter mornings is well worth seeing. It was particularly brilliant this morning.

Too bad all those youngsters at Wollaston have to miss the Christmas festivities at school and Sunday school on account of the scarlet fever epidemic. Their parents will however give them all the better time at home and the well ones can be thankful they are able to enjoy the holidays even if they do miss some of the good times.

Several electric lights seem to be out of commission. One especially is missed early in the evening on dark nights the one on Washington street opposite Maple. This lights both entrances to the Post Office and is the only light nearby as those on the building are not lighted until later in the evening. In the meantime people have to find their way up the steps the best they can.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

People with subtile consciences are again discussing the question whether it is permissable to allow young children to be deceived by the Santa Claus myth.

Certain it is that nothing should be told the kidlets that can in any way affect their tendency to truth telling. All children lie until they are made to find out the position of truth in the universe by a judicious application of the birch or other persuaders. Those who never learn it in that manner acquire the information in much more expensive ways later on, whether in the social condemnation of their neighbors, or by jail sentences.

But if the parents deceive the little ones in one thing, how can they expect truth in anything? is the case made out against our old friend Santa, who is in danger of falling under the ban of the moralists.

Children live a life of luxuriant fancy. Much of their life is spent in conversation with their "imaginaries." If they talk about what these creations of a frolicsome humor say or do, no parent thinks of reproving them.

At last the child becomes rationalist enough to argue that Santa could not possible make toys enough for all the children. If he thinks at all about the fiction that his parents have encouraged, it probably seems to him merely that they have had their imaginaries like him. That makes his parents the sharer of his play spirit, and helps bring him and his father and his mother closer together, a highly desirable end. If the youngster should ever be detected in a real lie as the result of the Santa fiction, one interview with father equipped with the usual weapons for cultivating a love of truth, ought to establish the distinction between imagination and deception.—Beverly Times.

GRADE CROSSINGS PROTECTION.

It would be well for the public and for the railways at large if more roads would adopt the system of guarding dangerous grade crossings now in vogue on the Lehigh Valley system.

Of course there is only one way absolutely to safeguard a grade crossing. That is by its elimination. But the times are not ripe for the total elimination of crossings at grade, though a long step has been made along this line in the New England States. The Lehigh does the next best thing by equipping its crossings with automatic signals not unlike those used for its own block signaling.

A standard type of "banjo" signal is set up at the blind crossings. This is arranged to show red when a train is anywhere within a mile of the crossing. A red disc is shown during the day and a red light at night. To supplement this visionary display a gong rings incessantly so long as a train is within the danger zone.

Nothing but extreme carelessness could be advanced asthe cause of an accident under such conditions. The signals are maintained by the same crew and with the same care as the regular block devices which control the operation of Lehigh trains. The company aims so to equip every one of its crossings where a clear view of the track in either direction cannot be had.—Grand Rapids (Michigan) Press.

THE PRIZE WALTZERS

Frank Kelly and Miss Nellie Galvin Get Award

The second annual dance of the Adams A. A. was held last evening at Alpha hall, and was attended by upwards of 75 couples. One of the features of the dance was a prize waltz, $5 in gold being presented to the best waltzing couple. The prize waltz was held at 9.40, and eleven couples participated. The judges were Russell Parker of Quincy, Andrew Burrell of Weymouth, and William Kirkland of Roxbury. It was announced at the start that it was to be a strictly glide waltz with no fancy exhibition, and all the entries were good dancers.

The winners were decided by the process of elimination. Four couples were first eliminated, then two and two, leaving three from which to pick the winner. The judges decided this couple to be Frank Kelley and Miss Nellie Galvin.

General dancing then continued until midnight. Carey's orchestra furnished the music and the floor was in charge of Herbert J. Dickie who was assisted by David K. Dackers, David Brownrigg, Charles Abate and Beorge M. Hanson.

The officers and members of the association are: President, Duncan MacLennan; Secretary, Charles Abate; Treasurer, George M. Barry; Members David J. Brownrigg, Alex McKee, Wm. H. Carson, Geo. Milne, James Collins, John Mulcahy, David K. Dackers, R. Naclerio, H. J. Dickie, Michael Plant, Dan Flanagan, John Raleigh, Perry Galvin, Wm. Small, George M. Hanson, R. N. Tinney.

ILLUSTRATED LIFE OF CHRIST.

At Bethany church on Sunday evening the pastor will give an address on the early life of Christ. The address will be illustrated by forty beautiful colored stereopticon pictures. All the lantern photographs are reproductions rom the paintings of William Hole the artist who is ranked with Holman Hunt and Tissot, and who like them studied his subjects in Palestine at the very sites where the important historical incidents actually took place. This set of slides is new and very few have seen them. Those who have seen them consider them exceptionally fine. The public is cordially invited to the service.

ELMENDORF TOURISTS.

Many Quincy people were among the thousands who flocked to Paris last evening and passed through the intricate maze of its wonders guided by a master hand, Elmendorf, at the beautiful illustrated lecture by him at Symphony hall. With the rare skill of an artist who had studied long and lived long in the city of which he spoke, he took the people through it by devious ways and pulled aside the curtains that they might look upon its choicest gems.

PASTORATE DECLINED.

Rev. Ernest F. Carritt, who was called to the First Universalist parish of this city, was unable to accept Mr. Conklin, the State superintendent of churches is seriously considering the suggestion that he take charge of the church temporarily until a regular pastor can be ecured. Rev. W. P. Burnell, who will occupy the pulpit tomorrow, has preached here before and was very well liked by the parishioners.

Put this seal with message bright,
On all the mail you send.
Every penny helps the fight
The dread White Plague to end.

Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

NEW OFFICERS.

St. Ambrose court, 172, M. C. O. F., has elected the following officers for ensuing year:
C. R.—Mrs. Alice T. Ash.
V. C. R.—Mrs. Catherine O'Brien.
Treas.—Mrs. Annie G. Watson.
R. S.—Miss Susie Pickering.
F. S.—Miss Mary F. Pickering.
S. C.—Mrs. Georgie O'Brien.
J. C.—Miss Annie Shea.
I. S.—Miss Mary L. McCue.
O. S.—Miss Annie Berry.
Trustees—Mrs. G. Bizzazero, Mrs. Susie McGilvray and Mrs. Margaret Elcock.
Delegates—Miss Catherine M. Shea and Mrs. Mary D. Mahoney.
Alternates—Mrs. Mary L. Sheahan and Mrs. Agnes T. Reardon.
Court Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Young friends of Miss Frances G. Cain of Standish avenue gave her a party Friday evening to help her celebrate her sixteenth birthday, and Miss Ella M. Whitehead presented her with a gold signet ring in behalf of those present. A jolly evening was spent playing games. Refreshments of chocolate, cake and candy were served. At the party were: Helen Croucher, Helena Clark, Beatrice Costello, Edna Grey, Elizabeth Furnald, Grace Hunter, Isabel Cain, Ella Cain, Ella Whitehead, Dana Cahill, Anthony Cain, Leonard Harkins, Perley Friend, Fred Kingsbury, Steadman Howarth, Bowdtoin Smith and Ralph Smith.

RALLY AT WOLLASTON.

A World in Boston rally will be held at the Wollaston Methodist church, Sunday evening. This meeting is to inform the people of all Wollaston churches, what this exposition is to be. Rev. Wesley Wiggin will have charge of the rally and a speaker from Boston will be present. There will be special singing and rally songs will be sung. All Wollaston stewards are urged to come.

VESPER SERVICE.

At the monthly musical service at the Wollaston Congregational church on Sunday at 4 o'clock the following program will be rendered:

Grand Chouer in E flat	Guilmant
Andante from Grand Piece Symphonoque	Franck
Cornet Solo Reverie	Gruenwald
March Pontificale	Tombelle
Cornet The Rosary	Nevin
Pastoral Symphony from the "Messiah"	Handel
Cornet The Lost Chord	Sullivan
Hallelujah Chorus from the "Messiah"	Handel

Mr. Ernest L. Meheffey, organists
Miss Alice Batchelder, cornetist
The subject of the minister's talk will be "The Life that Counts." The public are cordially invited.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to Antonio Ruscitto, Liberty street extn.
Albert H. Ball to John S. Sherburne, Oakland avenue, Willow street.
Hilda Carlson to Elsie B. Smith, Hilda street, Beale street.
John T. Cavanagh Daniel B. Lydleman, Casco street.
Charles M. Conant to Maurice E. Kilpatrick, East Squantum street, Faxon road, Sharon road, Colby road.
Charles M. Conant to Frederick E. Jennings, Clark street.
Wilton A. Dunham to Sarah E. Atwood, Houghs Neck.
Wilton A. Dunham to William H. Perkins, Houghs Neck.
Mary A. Faxon to Charles R. Sherman, Beale street.
Estelle C. Hutchings to Frederick L. Dalney tr., South street, Scannell street, Quincy avenue.
Maurice E. Kilpatrick to Charles M. Conant, Clark street.
Andrew Milne et al trs to A. William Erikson, Glendale road.
Albert Nelson to Catherine M. Devaney, Dysart street.
Herbert W. Pinkham to Jeanette E. Wetmore, Sewall street, Sunn Creek.
John E. Poland by dep. shff to Charles W. Lee, Freeman street, $112.
Alice C. Pope et al to Lizzie E. Breassole, East Squantum street.
Patrick J. Ryan to Elmer E. Pooler, Marshall street.
John S. Sherburne to Charles R. Sherman, Oakland avenue, Willow street.
Charles R. Sherman et al to Nathan G. Nickerson, Park street.
Thomas Swithin to Estelle C. Hutchings, South street, Quincy avenue, Scannell street, $5170.
George A. Wetmore to Herbert W. Pinkham, Sewall street, Sunny Creek.
Fred W. Wood et al trs to Agnes E. Woodman, Billings road.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box 25c

RECEPTION

(Continued from Page 1.)

took the floor and gave the "Q" to 17 men who had represented the school on the football field. The past season has been one of the best a Quincy team has ever had Mr. Howlett said that he would not call it the best, because he believed some of the alumni were present "Rus" Bates and others.

In speaking of the Dorchester game, he said that the first thing he remembered was seeing Harmon go through the Dorchester line for about 15 yards and scoring the last touchdown. And the last thing he remembered was leaping over three rows of women over a board fence and running up to the team where he was landed upon by all Dorchester. "But" he said, "I arrived in Quincy by way of Boston, in time to see the snake dance which celebrated the victory recorded on the banner over the clock."

Hrll Howlett suggested that a new dance should be placed on the program and that it should be called "the Quincy fancy" with apologies to Portland and Dorchester. And he wished that the men of the school would so mix the red of the school colors with the red corpuscles of their blood that legend might be a prophecy fulfilled that Quincy would win a victory over every team she met in football basketball, baseball and track.

In making the presentation, he said that many schools could give the men who represented her on the field more than a letter, and Quincy would like to do more, but she was one of those mothers, alma mater some of us call her, who can present to her children only good her good name, a name without wealth but with a world of honor, and with that name she presented her heartiest thanks and good wishes.

Q's were presented to the following 17 men: Captain Hill, Manager Blackmur, Arthur, Chapman, Curch, Edwards, Harmon, Holmes, Johnson, Larkin, Manning, Pfaffmann, Prout, Rice, Smith, Tirrell and White. As each man advanced to receive his letter he was greeted with deafening applause. Johnson was hailed as next year's captain. When Manning went forward the applause lasted for some minutes. As soon as he could make his voice heard, Mr. Howlett, greeted him as "not only a member of the victorious Quincy team but a member of that mighty though mythical team, the Greater Boston all-scholastic."

In closing his remarks the headmaster gave as a toast to the team: "May they triumph on every field of life."

The call "Quincy this way," was responded to by the members of the team and many of the rooters. Cheers were given for Kersberg, the coach, and the two captains, Hill and Johnson.

Dancing was then resumed and the familiar strains of "the last dance tune" awoke the gathering to the reality of things shortly before 11. The High school orchestra furnished excellent music.

The committee in charge of the reception deserve great commendation for the manner in which the arrangements were made and carried out. The committee were: Cora Barnicoat (chairman), Eleanor Whittemore, Louise Prout, Dorothy Kingsbury, Gertrude Labadie and Annie Cumming.

The chaperons for the reception were Miss Brown, Miss Salsman, Miss Kirmayer and Miss Holt.

WANTS TO WED AT 100

Hurry-Up Wooer Is Turned Down by Girl of 76

Columbus, O., Dec. 17.—William Cain, who says he is nearly 100 and has been married four times, wants another wife. He has traveled nearly all over the world, and yesterday afternoon he landed in the infirmary.

There he set eyes on "Irish Kate, who is only 76, and the belle of the poorhouse. At once Cain proposed marriage to her.

"I do not believe in this May and December business, she said, and she refused his proffered hand and heart. Cain was greatly dejected. He said that he felt sure he had found his affinity.

The Weather.

Almanac, Sunday, Dec. 18.
Sun rises—7:16; sets—4:31.
Moon rises—6:52 p. m.
High water—12:15 a. m.; 12:30 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; not so cold; diminishing west winds, becoming variable.

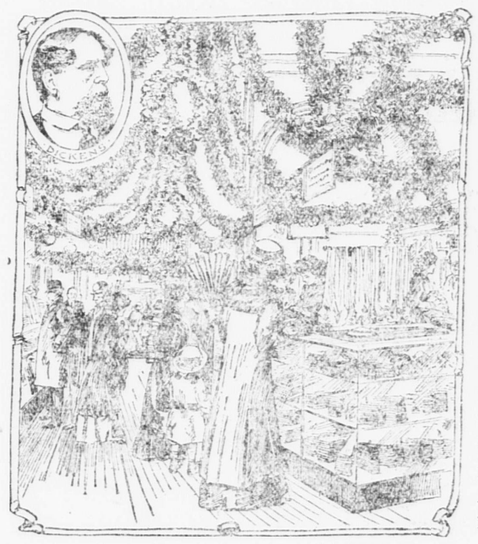
Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Practical Xmas Gifts in the Laurel-Arched Xmas Dickens Booths At Shuman Corner



A Merry Christmas to you. May your heart be gladdened by its coming.—Dickens.

We welcome all New England to our Xmas Dickens Booths, crowded with thousands of splendid gift suggestions for everyone. We have prepared a novel and beautiful Christmas bazaar, full of the joyous holiday spirit so well expressed by the great Dickens in his immortal Christmas stories. A few suggestions for useful and welcome gifts:

Men's and Ladies' Sweaters	2.35 to 12.00
Men's and Ladies' Umbrellas	1.00 to 18.00
Men's and Ladies' Gloves	1.15 to 6.50
Men's and Ladies' Travelling Bags	5.00 to 25.00
Men's and Ladies' Slippers	1.50 to 3.00
Men's House Coats	5.00 to 15.00
Men's Bath Robes	2.75 to 15.00
Men's Lounging Robes	10.00 to 25.00
Men's Sets—Suspenders, Arm Bands and Garters to match	50c to 1.00
Hose, Tie and Handkerchief to match	1.00 to 2.00
Hose and Tie to match	75c to 1.50
Men's Neckwear	50c to 3.00
Men's Initial Handkerchiefs	25c to 1.00
Men's Suspenders	50c to 3.00
Men's Mufflers	50c to 10.00
Men's Hose	25c to 2.50

Guaranteed Everwear Hose Box of 6 Pairs	1.50 to 3.00
Men's Fur Gloves	5.00 to 25.00
Men's Caps	1.00 to 25.00
Men's Canes	1.00 to 20.00
Men's Leather Articles—
Collar Boxes	1.00 to 5.00
Toilet Cases	2.00 to 15.00
Travellers' Clocks	1.50 to 18.00
Drinking Cups in Cases	50c to 4.00
Ladies' Blanket Robes	3.95 to 8.00
Eiderdown Robes	3.95 to 5.00
Ladies' Hand Bags	1.00 to 15.00
Ladies' Toilet Cases	1.50 to 10.00
Novel Dickens Plates, imported expressly for us, with a Dickens character in colors on each	1.00

LADIES' FUR SETS AND ODD PIECES 25% DISCOUNT

Convenient Merchandise and Glove Bonds furnished if desired

The smaller articles will be packed in pretty holiday boxes, with beautiful gift cards enclosed. Our little patrons will be given attractive Xmas souvenirs at the Dickens Booths.

A. SHUMAN & CO. Shuman Corner BOSTON

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good, but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and black-heads. After taking Cascarets they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel fine when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets." Fred C. Witten, 76 Elm St., Newark, N. J.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 922

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20c CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CONN. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD DENTAL
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 324-3.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-che-ster's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist, Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair

Child's Sandals Good Quality	40c
Misses's " " "	45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes	$1.25

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

GAS READING LAMPS
— MAKE —
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

The Social Realm

Miss Alice Dinegan returned Friday from Poughkeepsie, New York, for the Christmas holidays.

• • •

Many out of town guests enjoyed the Quincy Women's club play at Music hall on Tuesday afternoon and seemed almost as enthusiastic over the fine performance as the Quincy ladies who were acquainted with the actors and therefore took a more personal interest.

• • •

Mrs. John O. Holden has returned from New York where she has been visiting her son Mr. Arthur B. Holden.

• • •

Clifford Bean is at home for the holiday season. Mr. Bean expresses great enthusiasm for the west and will return to Devil's Lake, North Dakota after a short visit here.

• • •

Several from Quincy were at the Parker house, Boston, yesterday afternoon participating in the D. R. celebration of Boston Tea Party day.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kennard, their daughter Musa and son Kenneth of Woodbine street have arrived at their winter home at Largo, Florida. They are not returning to Wollaston until the spring.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Lightfoot of Prospect avenue are leaving today to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents at Leesburg, Virginia, Mr. Lightfoot returns in two weeks, when Mrs. Lightfoot goes to Williamsburg to visit relatives for six weeks.

• • •

Quincy night at the Boston Opera house on Monday was a great success and there will probably be several more during the season also some Saturday matinee parties. Mr. John Morgan of the Boston Opera Company was in town last week arranging for the Quincy dates.

• • •

Mrs. Ross Kittredge Whiton was in town the first of the week, coming to attend the play on Tuesday of the Women's club as the guest of Miss Flora Underwood. Mrs Whiton was an interested member of the club until her removal from the city and always receives cordial greetings whenever she visits here.

• • •

Members of the Atlantic Study club avalled themselves of the privilege of seeing the Frick collection of pictures at the art museum, Boston, and felt fully repaid for the visit.

• • •

Mrs. Clarence B. Underwood returned the first of the week from Baltimore where she went the middle of November to spend Thanksiving with her daughter Mrs. Louis B. Bradford.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Collins who have an attractive bungalow at Adams shore are pleasantly located for the winter months at 309 Huntington avenue, Boston.

• • •

The Quincy Women's club has reason to be proud of its presidents, who all seem especially talented. Mrs. E. C. Bumpus the club's first president is much in demand for lectures on Italian art and is also a water color artist of note; Mrs. George W. Morton who surprised and delighted club members last season in the club's vaudeville entertainment is most versatile and at home in dramatics, music or club work; Mrs. Chandler W. Smith is a thorough musician, whose talent is the pride of the club; Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney the present head of the club has for several years won distinction in amateur dramatics, giving to her characterization, however, talent and understanding that is far beyond the amateur. Since her portrayal of Cynisca, wife of Pygmalion in the club play the other afternoon she has been showered with compliments and the club is also congratulating itself on having so versatile a president.

• • •

Lysander S. Richards on his trip south stopped over at Atlantic City for a week. He is spending the month of December in Washington and had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fessenden Crane who were at the capital attending the Waterways convention. Mr. Richards and daughter expect to continue their trip south in a few weeks stopping at Richmond and other cities along the way.

The Billiken club met with Mrs. Ernest Moore of Atlantic street. The meeting took the form of a house warming since Mr. and Mrs. Moore have recently moved into their pretty new apartment. The annual election of officers was held and the following were elected: Miss Adelia Barker, president, Miss Cora Harding secretary, Miss Florence Hill treasurer. After the business a chafing dish supper was served. The next meeting will be held with Miss Martha Jenkins of Billings street and will be a Christmas party.

• • •

Mrs. Ernest Leonard Spaulding of Jaffrey, New Hampshire, was the guest this week of her uncle Mr. Herbert L. Packard and Mrs. Packard of Standish avenue.

• • •

Mrs. Sylvester Miller of Bigelow street entertained a few friends at bridge on Monday afternoon when some good scores were made and a most delightful afternoon enjoyed.

• • •

Quincy friends have heard of the safe arrival of Mrs. Wilson Tisdale at St. Louis. She is en route for California, where she will spend the mid-winter.

• • •

The T. L. Sturtevants of Adams street will again spend the winter in the south, going first to St. Augustine where they will board their yacht for a cruise.

• • •

Miss Helen Rhines left Thursday for Rockville, Connecticut to pass the week end, going down to participate in the Junior Prom of the High school.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cavanagh have forsaken Houghs Neck for the midwinter and are now located in Dorchester.

• • •

The Atlantic Shakespeare society met at the home of Miss Mary Hinkley on Billings street Thursday. The 4th act of King Richard the 3d was the afternoon's study.

• • •

Mrs. George Emerson of Hancock street has returned from a visit with relatives in St. Louis.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ricker, nee Annie Graham, are spending the winter with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Hazen E. Ricker at their beautiful new home on Whitney road. Mrs. Ricker recently gave a most delightful neighborhood party for them, which was largely attended and most enjoyable.

• • •

Hans G. Blom of Oakland avenue sailed Tuesday from New York for Europe where he will spend the Christmas holidays with his parents at Christianssand, Norway. His father is a prominent officer of the navy. Mr. Blom will also spend several weeks with his brother in Germany before his return to this country in April.

• • •

Miss Ruth Kemp is spending the week end with a former room mate, Miss Sarah Howes of Bridgewater Normal school at Bridgewater.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Blanchard of Wellesley are spending the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Wood of Upland.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Huston of High School avenue passed quietly on Friday their silver wedding anniversary.

Old Drywater—"My boy, in all creation you won't find any animal except man who makes a habit of smoking."

"Young Puffs—"Yes, sir; but neither do I know any other animal that cooks his meals."—Harper's Bazar.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

WOOD for SALE
$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree
Tel. 15-3 Braintree
Dec. 12-tf--o-17-tf

ARTISTIC CALENDAR.

Among the most prominent contributors to art in the United States is found the name of Albert Herter. His works are seen and mentioned prominently, in all parts of the world and the prizes and medals he has won at national and international expositions would rival the number awarded to any artist in the country. As a mural decorator Mr. Herter has been very successful and as a delineator of alleorical art he is famous but the summit of his success has been reached through painting of home life. One of the greatest of these paintings is entitled "Where Love Abides." The mother is seen sitting by the window with a sleeping babe in her arms. On the floor another child has gone to sleep over her blocks and doll. The ruddy glow of the lamp suggests the warmth within and through the window by which the mother is sitting with the curtain drawn aside, one can get a suggestion of the chill outside. The mother's face is a picture of tenderness and devotion as she watches for the cheery face of the father returning home.

A reproduction of the original painting has been published and the picture makes a very appropriate head piece for the calendar of the home furnisher. H. L. Kincaide & Co., have secured the use of the reproduction for their 1911 office calendars, and the picture with its border of green presents a very attractive appearance.

BRIEFS

Dr. Emrich of Boston was the speaker at the Point church prayer meeting last evening.

The Sons of Veterans held the last meeting of the year last evening in Grand Army hall.

Water meters are to be installed before the first of January in the houses on Spear street and the immediate vicinity. The work of metering is to be pushed this winter.

H. H. King, student secretary of the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, will speak to the older boys of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 3.30 in the Association building.

Charles Strattard, treasurer of the Colonel Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, inspected the camp in South Boston Friday evening. On Dec. 27 he is going to Abington for the purpose of inspection.

Mr. Taylor, the new English teacher of the Boston Y. M. C. A. day school, spoke to the younger boys of the local association this morning. About 80 boys were present Massachusetts Fields still leads in the attendance contest.

On Thursday evening Huntington Hardwick will speak on his experience in Labrador with Dr. Grenfell at the meeting of the Galahad club of Christ church. The talk will be illustrated by stereopticon and promises to be interesting.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans had a largely attended meeting this week. Nominations were made for officers and a special committee was appointed for the joint installation with the Sons of Veterans in January.

—President Taft has issued an order this week requiring all department clerks to work seven and one-half hours instead of seven.

WHO SHALL PAY COST OF BRIDGE?

Increase in Size of Battleships Makes Larger Drawbridge at Quincy Point Necessary

Petition Already Sent to the Legislature

The trustees of the Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham bridges have petitioned the Legislature "for legislation to provide for repairing and altering the Weymouth Fore river bridge" between Quincy Point and North Weymouth.

Alteration is made necessary because of the increased size of battleships being built. The drawbridge has not really sufficient opening for ships of the North Dakota type, but today the United States government in contracting for much larger ships.

The Fore River Shipbuilding Company, located above the bridge, is now building a dreadnought for the Argentine navy, which must make several trips through this bridge either in 1911 or 1912, as she steams out for her trial trips or returns to the dock. The opening in the drawbridge is one of the largest in the country—100 feet—but is only two feet wider than the beam of the Argentina ship which is altogether too close. Her builders do not believe it possible to avoid ramming one side or the other or both, of the bridge.

On a chance the ship might pass all right, its builders believe, but the Fore River Company is unwilling to take the risk and has asked for a widening of the draw to 150 feet and for the repair of the fenders, which are now in bad shape from the salt water.

The report that the Fore River ship yard had offered to pay part of the expense was denied by Frank F. Crane the expert who has been looking after the case for Mayor Shea.

When the bridge was first built $70,000 was appropriated. The Fore River Company bid under this figure and by securing the contract was able to build a bridge such as it wanted. In order to do this it was compelled to use about $55,000 more than the bid called for.

Previous to the building of the present steel bridge, the wooden bridges between Quincy and Hingham were maintained by Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham. When the present bridge was built the cost was apportioned over a larger area, the South Shore towns, Norfolk county and the street railway being assessed. It really seems as though the United States government or State of Massachusetts should contribute largely to the cost of such a bridge as this, the increased cost being due wholly to the size of battleships.

TODAY'S COURT.

Matthew Thompson was fined $15 for assault on Gordon Morrison at Quincy.

Fred McAvoy was sentenced to two months in the house of correction for drunkenness at Quincy.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

DIMOCK & PATTEN
Carpenters and Builders
Plans furnished and estimates given.
All work personally and promptly attended to.
133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 532-1 Quincy.
Dec 18—1yS

An Ideal Christmas Gift
"A WATCH"

A "365 days in the year" pleasure, provided, of course, that it is a good timepiece.

¶ We sell movements of proven merit and cases of which you will feel constantly proud.

WATCHES FOR WOMEN
In Gold Filled $4.50 to $20.00
In Solid Gold $15.00 to 30.00

WATCHES FOR MEN
In Gold Filled $5.00 to $32.00
In Solid Gold $30.00 to $50.00

WATCHES FOR BOYS
$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, upward

WATCHES FOR GIRLS
$2.00 to $30.00

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Tel. 987 L
Dec. 10-17-21--o-10-1w

Ideal Christmas Gifts

THAT COST NO MORE THAN TRINKETS OR ORNAMENTS. SOMETHING USEFUL FOR EVERY DAY AND THE GIVER WILL LONG BE REMEMBERED.

CARPET SWEEPERS	$2.50 to $3.75	SMOKERS' SETS	$2.50 to $5.00
WRITING DESKS	5.00 to 15.00	BOOK CASES	1.25 to 30.00
FOOT RESTS	1.00 to 3.00	MUSIC CABINETS	5.00 to 15.00
TELEPHONE STANDS	5.00 to 10.00	ROOM PICTURES	1.00 to 5.00
3 FOLD SCREENS	1.25 to 7.50	CLOTHES POLES	98c to 5.00
FANCY LAMPS	2.50 to 10.00	HAMPERS	98c to 3.50
MORRIS CHAIRS	5.75 to 20.00	SEWING BASKETS	1.50 to 55.00
EASY CHAIRS	7.50 to 35.00	WASTE BASKETS	35c to 1.50
ROCKING CHAIRS	2.50 to 10.00	TABOURETTES	50c to 2.50
NEW PIANOS	200 to 450	PIANO CHAIRS, PIANO SCARFS,

COUCHES, DRESSING TABLES, BRASS, BEDS, SHAVING STANDS, CHIFFONIERS, CLOCKS, HALL LAMPS, GLENWOOD RANGES, KITCHEN CABINETS, PARLOR SETS, ROOM RUGS, SIDE BOARDS, BUFFETS, DINING TABLES, LIBRARY, PARLOR AND DEN TABLES, MISSION CHAIRS, HALL STANDS, AND HUNDREDS OF THE IDEAL CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR THE HOME AND FAMILY. TIME PAYMENTS IF YOU WISH.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec 17--1t--o-1w

R. E. FOY & CO.

GROCERY

IT is unnecessary to state that the chief feature of our store is QUALITY. If you are satisfied to pay good prices for poor quality, that is your own concern, but if you want to purchase first quality at money-saving prices come in and see us.

For SATURDAY

FOWL Fresh Killed Western Fowl, not cold storage, but the very best that cancome from Western New York and Ohio. You can't tell them from home fowl. 18 cts lb

CHICKENS Fancy Native Chickens from nearby poultry farms. All killed and dressed within a day. They are of the highest grade. 23 cts lb

Genuine Spring Lamb is beginning to get scarce

LAMB yet we have secured several choice hindquarters of Spring Lamb that we can sell for..... 15 cts lb

We have yet to learn of a customer who has not expressed the greatest satisfaction after eating our lamb.

This week we have several fancy rib roasts

BEEF that are tender and juicy and if you are fond of a good roast, this is your opportunity for a fine roast beef dinner. 12 1-2 cts up Per lb.

PURE LARD Cut from the tub.	lb. 14c	MINCE MEAT, in Mason quart jars.	23c
RAISINS. Clean and fresh.	3 pkgs. 25c	PICKLED BEETS Spiced, in glass.	15c
CURRANTS, Clean new goods.	2 pkgs. 25c	ORANGES, Sweet Floridas.	doz. 27c
TURNIPS, White and sweet.	peck 30c	TURNIPS, Best Yellow.	peck 25c

Loose Rolled Oats 10 lbs.	31c	Pastry Flour. 5 lb. bag	20c
Graham Flour. 5 lb. bag	18c	Pearl Barley. 6 lbs.	25c
Corn Meal. 5 lb. bag	15c	Butter Thins. 2 lbs.	25c

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

MARKET

Dec. 16-17

Phone 117 or 153

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 549-4 Quincy. Nov. 5-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 516-2. Oct. 6-tf

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People

ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to our office.
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA SNOW & CO.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 124 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
EAST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	A. M.
Monday, Dec. 12	7.15	7.45
Tuesday,	8.00	8.45
Wednesday,	9.00	9.30
Thursday,	10.00	10.30
Friday,	10.45	11.15
Saturday,	11.45	12.00
Sunday,	12.15	12.30

BRIEFS

A special meeting of the parish of Christ church is called for Tuesday evening to discuss better heating facilities for the church.

Johnson Bros. are presenting their customers some very attractive placque calendars. They are in two designs.

On account of the exposure of so many children to scarlet fever it has been deemed wise to suspend all sessions of the Wollaston Baptist Sunday school and Junior Endeavor society for two weeks.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church, Monday, Dec. 19, at 7.45 P. M.

Galahad Brotherhood of Christ church is arranging for a laymen's supper to be given Jan.4 in the parish house. Rev. W. E. Gardner will be the speaker.

C. F. Pettengill has issued very pretty calendars for 1911 which are in demand.

Owing to the approaching holiday season the regular monthly meeting of the Wollaston Parents-Teachers association will be omitted.

John L. Hamilton of Elm avenue has returned from a business trip to New York.

Several of the children of the Quincy school have found great pleasure in contributing towards a Christmas box which will be sent to Boston for the distribution of the gifts.

A Christmas party is to be held at the Quincy Home on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Philanthropy committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson has the affair in charge which is a guarantee of a good entertainment for the inmates.

Christ Church Men's club will have a debate at its meeting next Wednesday night on the question as to whether the high cost of living can be laid to the tariff. The debaters will be Alex. Fryer and Charles W. Hanscom.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets 10c 25c 50c
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP All Druggists

Eight Days to Xmas

DEC. 17

Remember the Children of the Poor This Xmas

FOR JUST ONE ENGAGEMENT

Our Reserve of Ammuniton Would Last No Longer

OPINION OF CHAIRMAN HULL

Western Members of Congress to Unite In Asking For Protection of Pacific Coast—Many Coming to Conclusion That Hobson Was Correct In His Contention That Country Is In No Position to Defend an Attack

Washington, Dec. 17.—Members of congress are becoming more and more concerned about the condition of the army, notwithstanding the effort of President Taft to minimize the seriousness of the situation as set forth in the special report prepared by Secretary Dickinson in response to a resolution from the house of representatives.

Chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs contributed a new sensation when he declared that the reserve supply of ammunition of the field artillery would be exhausted in one engagement. Hull expressed the view that the field artillery was the weak point in the land forces of the national defense and he believes that it will continue to make the entire army vulnerable unless congress strengthens it immediately.

This statement was made by Hull as he left the White House and, while he is not prepared to say that he communicated his pessimistic views to President Taft, it is believed that he went over the situation with him in great detail.

That the members of congress representing western states are disposed to demand legislation looking to the strengthening of the army is indicated by several members of the Pacific coast delegation. The Pacific coast members are seriously concerned about the conditions as set forth by Dickinson. In addition to this they declare that the naval protection for the Pacific coast is totally inadequate. They will demand that the government give them protection all along the coast in the shape of torpedo boats and submarines.

It is now considered probable that a bill will be drafted to meet the demands of the Pacific coast in the event that the naval appropriation bill does not come up to the expectations of members from that section of the country; or else there will be an elaborate series of amendments prepared for insertion in the naval bill when it is brought into the house.

It is now becoming apparent that there is a genuine war scare among many members of the house. Members who heretofore were disposed to scoff at the suggestions of Representative Hobson that this country was in no condition to defend itself against an attack on the west, are coming to the conclusion that Hobson has been correct in his views of the situation, this change of mind of course, being due to the fact that Dickinson's report practically confirms all that Hobson has been saying on the lecture platform for the past two years.

FREE BATHS OPPOSED

Congressmen May Be Deprived of An Anticipated Luxury

Washington, Dec. 17.—Members of the house of representatives who desire to take baths in the future will have to do so at some place other than the elegantly appointed room in the house office building fitted up for that purpose, provided the house finally adopts and the senate concurs in an amendment made to the appropriation by the committee which was considering the bill.

The section appropriating salaries to the attendants at the bath was stricken out and a further amendment provides for the sale of the bathroom fittings and the return of the money to the treasury of the United States.

UP TO MODERN STANDARD

Japan Proposes to Spend $41,000,000 Next Year on Her Navy

Tokio, Dec. 17.—Japan is going to spend $41,000,000 on her navy during the fiscal year of 1911-1912. This was announced in the government budget. In explanation the ministry says that Japan must keep the navy to the modern standard, notwithstanding that "relations between Japan and the foreign powers at this time are peaceful."

Next year's estimate for railroad construction is $26,000,000. A loan for this purpose will be undertaken. Marquis Katsura, premier and minister of finance, takes a cheerful view of the financial condition of Japan.

Direct Vote For Senators

Washington, Dec. 17.—By a vote of 2 to 1 a sub-committee of the senate committee on judiciary authorized a favorable report on a resolution for a constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

ELEANOR FRANCES' HOUSEHOLD LETTER.

Wholesome Holiday Dainties Easy to Prepare that Don't Make You Sorry Later.

Christmas and the hospitality of the holiday season make special demands upon housekeepers and a list of tried receipts that are delicious yet not too rich are sure to be interesting.

NEW YEAR'S CAKES.

One cup butter, two cups sugar, two eggs, half cup milk, three cups flour, half teaspoonful salt, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, two tablespoonfuls caraway seeds. Cream butter and sugar together, add well beaten eggs and milk, sift the flour, salt and baking powder together and add the seeds. Roll out thin on a well floured board, cut into any desired shape and bake on greased pans in a moderate oven, about ten minutes.

CINNAMON CRISPS.

One third cup of butter, two-thirds cup of sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, one and one half cups flour, one teaspoonful baking powder, one-fourth cup of milk. Beat the butter and sugar, and when light and creamy add the cinnamon, flour and baking powder sifted together. Use just enough milk to make a dough that can be easily rolled out. Roll very thin, cut into rounds and squares and bake in a moderate oven.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING.

Dilute two-thirds of a can of Eagle brand condensed milk, with one and one-fourth cups of water. Beat eight eggs very light, add to them half the milk and beat both together. Stir in gradually one pound crumbled crackers, then add one pound suet, chopped fine, one grated nutmeg, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful cloves, a pinch of salt, and two pounds of raisins seeded and chopped. Lastly the remainder of the milk. Pour into a pudding mould and steam six hours. Serve with a hard or creamed sauce.

GERMAN MACAROONS.

One half pound brown sugar, one half pound ground almonds, three egg whites, juice of half a lemon. Waxed paper. Put whites of eggs in bowl and stir in sugar slowly, strain and add the lemon juice, and put the almonds in a little at a time. Mix smoothly and drop by teaspoonfuls about two inches apart on waxed paper placed in flat baking tins. Bake in slow oven till golden brown.

BAVARIAN CREAM.

One pint of half milk, half cream, or diluted Peerless evaporated milk, three eggs, one-third cup cold water, two-thirds cup sugar, one-half pint whipped fresh cream or the evaporated if preferred, one tablespoonful granulated gelatine. Soak the gelatine in cold water. Cook the yolks of the eggs and thinned cream in a double boiler stirring constantly until the spoon coats; add the dissolved gelatine and let the mixture stand until cold, then beat very light, and add the whipped cream carefully. This must be very cold to whip well whether fresh cream or evaporated is used. Turn into a wet mould and chill or into the little paper cases so often used for Bavarian creams on festive occasions. This same recipe can be varied by using fruit juices in place of the milk for dissolving the gelatine. The whipped cream folded in after the same fashion and, as only the yolks of the eggs are used for this cream, the whites can be made into macaroons or other cake where whites only are employed.

MERINGUES A LA CREME.

Six whites of eggs, nine ounces of pulverized sugar, half a pint of cream whipped, three ounces of sugar, with cream, a slight flavoring of vanilla. Whip the eggs to a stiff froth, add a few drops of vanilla. Turn the sugar over the eggs all at once and cut it together carefully so that the eggs will not liquify. Sprinkle sugar over a tin and place tablespoonfuls of the mixture at intervals. Sprinkle them with a little sugar on top. Place in a moderate oven with the door open for half an hour, so that they will dry thoroughly, allowing them to remain some fifteen minutes longer to brown slightly. The whole secret is in the baking of these cakes. While still hot, scoop out carefully the soft part, and fill the shells with whipped cream after they are cool. Place in the refrigerator to set the cream, and sprinkle tops with powdered nuts before serving.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

Weak Lungs We strongly recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. We believe it prevents, protects, soothes. What does your doctor recommend? Take only the medicine he approves. Trust him every time. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass

You can make no mistake in dealing with us, our prices are the very lowest consistant with first quality Goods

Blue Label Ketchup	21c bot
Hecker's Buckwheat	17c pkg
Willbert Tomatoes	12 1-2c can

(This is a 17c value)

Our Meats are of the very best. A full line of Vegetables and Fruits at low prices.

J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
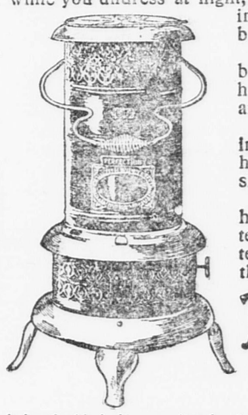
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Temporary Heat Quickly

Did you ever stop to think of the many ways in which a perfect oil heater is of value? If you want to sleep with your window open in winter, you can get sufficient heat from an oil heater while you undress at night, and then turn it off. Apply a match in the morning, when you get out of bed, and you have heat while you dress.



Those who have to eat an early breakfast before the stove is radiating heat can get immediate warmth from an oil heater, and then turn it off.

The girl who practices on the piano in a cold room in the morning can have warmth from an oil heater while she plays, and then turn it off.

The member of the family who has to walk the floor on a cold winter's night with a restless baby can get temporary heat with an oil heater, and then turn it off. The

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. Apply a match and it is immediately at work. It will burn for nine hours without refilling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless. It has a damper top and a cool handle. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be quickly unscrewed for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
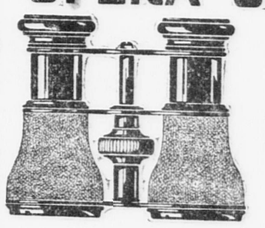
(Incorporated)

LLOYD'S OPERA GLASSES



LEISS
OPERA GLASSES
Black or Gold Finish
$40.00 and $45.00
Catalogue on Application

BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

Advertise in The Ledger

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Quincy women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail—pains, headaches, dizzy spells, disordered urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the deadly approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Quincy woman's words:

Mrs. Deborah Prouty, 39 Quincy avenue, Quincy, Mass., says: "I am in a position to speak in the highest terms of Doan's Kidney Pills. My back ached nearly all the time and caused me considerable trouble. Any sudden movement or an attempt to stoop, set sharp pains through my loins. My health was much run down and I had but little strength or energy. I was very much alarmed about my condition. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store, as I knew of many other people who had used them with success. The contents of three boxes convinced me that they were the best kidney remedy to be had. I am now in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale, contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Robert H. Fraser to James C. Fraser, dated November 5, 1902, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 934, Page 71, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage deed, on WEDNESDAY, January 4, 1911 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, viz:—The following parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy called Wollaston, being Lots numbered One (1) and Two (2) on Plan of Lots of J. P. Quincy on Hancock Street, Wollaston, by H. J. Whitman, dated April , 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 735, Page 640, bounded and described as follows, viz:—Southeasterly on Beach Street, One Hundred (100) feet; Southwesterly on Lot numbered Three (3) Ninety-seven and 53-100 (97.53) feet; Northwesterly on Lots numbered Seventeen (17), Eighteen (18) and Nineteen (19) One Hundred and 30-100 (100.30) feet; and Northeasterly on Morton Street, Eighty-nine and 65-100 (89.65) feet.

Said premises are conveyed subject to the restrictions in deed from Josiah P. Quincy to grantee, dated July 1, 1901, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 501, Page 221. Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and municipal liens, if any.

$500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms to be then and there announced.

JAMES C. FRASER,
Mortgagee.

Quincy, Dec. 8, 1910.
Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 24

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk,ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

HELEN E. CARTER
late of Quincy in said County, deceased intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hallock H. Hill of Quincy without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-first day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy The last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of December A. D. 1910.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 19

LOST
SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590 of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 21,936	Book No. 26,795
Book No. 27,851	Book No. 28,388
Book No. 30,567	Book No. 31,449
Book No. 32,597	Book No. 32,435
Book No. 32,885	Book No. 32,961
Book No. 32,958	Book No. 28,712
Book No. 34,029	Book No. 31,219
Book No. 35,253	Book No. 36,146

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Dec. 3-3t -10-17

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

COOK'S TRIP TO THE NORTH

Explorer Gives Further Impressions of His Journey

SUFFERED FROM BRAIN FAG

Huge, Misshapen Creatures Writhed Along the Horizon During His Polar Nightmare—No Living man Could Have Undergone Experience Were He Premeditating a Lie—Says Story of Gumdrops Was a Fake

New York, Dec. 17.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Brooklyn traveler, has sent word to his friends here that he will reappear next week, following his self-imposed exile of one year. Cook will arrive from Europe probably on next Wednesday. The doctor has confessed that he did not know whether he reached the North Pole or not, and in today's issue of Hampton's Magazine he tells of the mental and physical stress he labored under on his journey. Cook, speaking of the trip over ice, says:

"There was little in the white waste about me to occupy my attention. Sometimes a spot on the horizon or the twist of a dog's tail would fascinate me and hold my attention for many minutes.

"During this time, from the early days of our journey, everything centred about the idea of the Pole. Then, to bewilder one, to set one laughing with silly amusement or to fill one with a sense of awe, there early began a procession of mirages and optical illusions. The mental effect I find it difficult to analyze. Sometimes these exaggerated transformations had the effect of bringing far off objects apparently near to us. This often caused confusion in estimating distances.

"Just after Heiberg land had become a dull haze behind us these fantastic unrealities of the north began to manifest themselves most. Peaks of snow were transformed into volcanoes, belching smoke; out of the pearly mist rose marvelous cities with fairy castles; huge creatures, misshapen and grotesque, writhed along the horizon.

"These spectral denizens of the north accompanied us during the entire journey, and when, fagged of brain and sapped of bodily strength, I felt my mind swimming in a sea of half-consciousness, they filled me almost with horror, impressing me as the monsters one sees in a nightmare.

"Traveling in wind that seemed to petrify the flesh, the temperature minus 46 degrees or even minus 59 degrees F, the lashes of our eyes froze together as we winked and when we rubbed them and drew apart the lids the icicles broke the tender skin. Our breath froze on our faces. Often we had to uncover our hands and apply the warm palms to the face before it was possible to see.

"When I recall the many hairbreadth escapes from death, the hazards we took and feel again that physical and mental suffering I wonder whether any living man would do this were he premeditating a lie.

"That I did travel upward of 2500 miles in some direction, even my enemies credit. Whether I went directly north or was diverted at times does not, cannot, change the facts of my experience. We were compelled on our journey to go in various directions; to find a way. We made wide detours; at times we had to retreat and find new passages.

"Perhaps, in so doing I did become confused and overestimated my progress. If that is so, it is a fact neither I nor anyone can settle now. Wherever I went, however, I maintain it was northward, and I did reach a spot which I believed to be the Pole.

"One day was very like another. Beyond the eighty-third parallel life was devoid of pleasure. The intense objective impressions of cold and hunger assailed the body, robbed the mind of inspiration and exhilaration.

"At times it was impossible to perspire, and the toxin of fatigues, generating unearthly weariness, filled the brain with fag. When perspiration oozed from our pores it froze in the garments and the warmer portions of our bodies were fringed with snow. Daily, unremittingly, this was our agony.

"Accused of being the most colossal liar of history, sometimes I feel that more lies have been told about me than about any one ever born.

"As a popular illustration of the sort of yarns that were told, let me refer to the foolish fake of the gum drops. The fact is, that I never heard the gum drop yarn until I came to New York. We took no gum drops with us on our Polar trip, and, to my knowledge, no Eskimo ate a gum drop while with me."

Kills Husband and Surrenders

Washington, Dec. 17.—After killing her husband, Cecil Lomax, by shooting him in the head in his room, Mrs. Mattie Lomax walked to the police court and asked to be arrested on the charge of murder. She pleads self-defense.

WILLIS L. MOORE
Weather Bureau Chief Accused of Mismanagement

ATTACK ON CHIEF MOORE

Charges Against Head of Weather Bureau by Former Employe

Washington, Dec. 17.—James Berry, who resigned as chief of division of the United States weather bureau last August, as he alleges, "under circumstances that left no other recourse," has addressed a letter to President Taft, charging Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, with "gross mismanagement, extravagance and irregularities" in the weather bureau.

Berry charges, among other things, that Moore wrote a book on descriptive meteorology, using the services of government employes in their working hours, and making illegal use of the mailing frank "in disseminating notices to promote the sale of the book."

ASKS NO HELP FROM THE GOVERNMENT

San Francisco Will Spend $15,000,000 For Exposition

Washington, Dec. 17.—San Francisco and New Orleans have made known the conditions on which each city wants an exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal. From the standpoint of economy San Francisco presented the best proposition and one which appeals to many members of congress. The claims of the two cities were presented to the committee on rules.

San Francisco announced that it was ready to spend $15,000,000 on the exposition and that it did not ask congress to spend a penny. All it asks is that San Francisco be designated as the place for the exposition and that foreign nations be asked to exhibit. If the government is willing to exhibit, San Francisco will be glad, but will not even make that demand.

New Orleans, on the other hand, wants $1,000,000 of government money to assist it in maintaining an exposition and will not guarantee any money until congress promises that the exposition shall be held at New Orleans. It is probable that the rules committee will soon bring in a rule giving the house an opportunity to decide where the exposition shall be held.

GUERRA QUITS CUBAN ARMY

He Also Declines Special Mission to Study European Armies

Havana, Dec. 17.—President Gomez has accepted the resignation of Major General Guerra as commander-in-chief of the army. The relations between the commander-in-chief and the president have been strained for some time, and Guerra recently offered his resignation which, however, at the time President Gomez declined to accept. It is understood that Guerra insisted upon retiring.

The president has offered the general a special foreign mission to study the armies of Europe, but this was declined.

RAIDED AS BUCKET SHOP

Federal Officers Descend on Another Branch of Chicago Concern

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Additional raids on concerns alleged to be bucket shops were made by secret service men of the department of justice.

Special agent Danneberg led a squad of policemen into the offices of Murphy & Co. and raided it as a branch of the Capital Investment company, and as a bucketshop. Documents were taken to the federal building and the employes were arrested.

$50,000 Fire Aboard Ship

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 17.—Damages to the steamer Maryland, which was badly burned amidships while en route from Norfolk to Cape Charles, are estimated at $50,000.

BARGES AND MEN MISSING

Believed to Have Gone Down on Edge of Cape Cod

MANY WRECKS DURING GALE

Five Schooners and a Barge Succumb to Heavy Seas, Their Crews Being Rescued After Long Hours of Terrific Fighting Against Storm—Search Being Made For Ten Men Who Composed Crews of Barges

Boston, Dec. 17.—Three coal barges with their crews, totalling ten men, are missing, five schooners and one barge are known to be wrecked, their crews barely snatched from death, and reports of other disasters are hourly expected—the toll of the first severe gale this winter.

The extent of the damage may not be known for days. So far but ten men are reported to have been lost, and the barges on which they were believed to have foundered along the outer edge of the Cape.

Even in the sheltered upper harbor the gale nearly cost the lives of three sailors who had been blown adrift, trying to get aboard their vessel, to be picked up after hours of exposure in the water or on ice covered, wave washed flats.

The six wrecked vessels are the schooner Stephen G. Loud, waterlogged off Highland light; schooner Abbie G. Cole, foundered on Stone Horse shoals; schooner Thomas B. Garland, wrecked on the rocks at Grea Point, Nantucket; barge Maywood, foundered off Pollock Rip; schooner S. A. Fownes, foundered off Monomoy Point, and schooner N. E. Ayer, waterlogged off Stone Horse shoals, and taken in tow by the Gresham.

The crews of these vessels were rescued in a heavy seaway, every one of them exhausted by long hours of terrific fight against the storm and seas that froze where they hit.

Three barges are believed to have foundered somewhere along the outer coast of Cape Cod after being cast adrift by the parting of tow lines, driven helplessly ashore, or becoming waterlogged and sinking out of sight of other vessels.

Two of these were in the string of tows of which the Maywood was one. Three barges, the Scranton, the Binghamton and the Maywood were in tow of the tug Margaret, bound from Boston to New York.

They were all coal laden. The Margaret, now searching along the coast for the Scranton and the Binghamton, or for traces of their wrecks, has aboard the four men of the Maywood, which foundered almost before the tug could rescue the crew.

In the tremendous seas off the Rip, it is believed that the Scranton and the Binghamton could not have weathered the gale that sank the Maywood of the same string.

The other barge thought to have foundered between Highland light and Nausett was one of a string of the barges of the Consolidation Coal company, which the tug Cumberland lost in the storm.

These barges were Nos. 5, 12 and 24. One is anchored off Highland light with the Cumberland, the other has been reported anchored off Nausett Beach, both apparently safe, but from the third nothing has been heard.

Which of the three is not certain.

China Buys Austrian Arms

Vienna, Dec. 17.—China has ordered from the Skoda works at Pilsen, in Bohemia, several field batteries and carriages and munitions for them. This trial order amounts to about $200,000.

Short Baseball League Schedule

New York, Dec. 17.—The National league decided upon a season of 154 games for 1911, the season to begin on April 12, and to end on or about Oct. 12. Last season 168 games were played.

SUNNY MONDAY

There is not an ounce of rosin in Sunny Monday Laundry Soap. Rosin is used in all other laundry soaps—because it is cheaper than the fats and oils used in Sunny Monday. Sunny Monday costs more to manufacture than any other laundry soap of which we know. It is kind to clothes—will not shrink flannels or woolens, or turn clothes yellow.

Sunny Monday is just as pure as its whiteness indicates; it is the safest and most economical laundry soap you can use.

THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
CHICAGO

SACO SAVINGS BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS

Depositors Will Receive Hundred Cents on the Dollar

Saco, Me., Dec. 17.—The Saco Savings bank, which was established in 1870, closed its doors following a conference between the trustees of the institution and the state banking authorities. The bank's deposits are estimated at $1,409,000.

Hundreds of depositors had withdrawn their savings after disclosures in connection with the failure of the York County Savings bank. The Saco bank has been obliged to sell many of its securities at a sacrifice and rather than sustain a heavier loss the trustees voted unanimously to close the doors. The depositors will all be paid 100 cents on the dollar. No formal notice was given of the closing.

DEATH OF "ELI PERKINS"

Author and Lecturer Had Been Sick For Many Years

Yonkers, N. Y., Dec. 17.—Melville D. Landon, better known as "Eli Perkins," author and lecturer, died at his home here at the age of 71. He had been ill for several years. His wife and daughter survive him.

Landon was born in Eaton, N. Y., on Sept. 7, 1839. In Civil war days he served on the staff of General Chetlain, and after reaching the rank of major retired from the army in 1864, and then for a few years was a cotton planter in Louisiana and Arkansas. He served also for a time in the treasury department in Washington. In the late sixties Landon traveled in Europe and became secretary of the United States legation in St. Petersburg. He returned to the United States in 1870, and then gave his time to lecturing and writing.

POLICEMAN BEAT HIS WIFE

Appeals From Sentence of Six Months In House of Correction

Malden, Mass., Dec. 17.—Thomas F. Hewitt, for sixteen years a patrolman in Everett, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction for beating his wife. On a similar charge brought by his father-in-law, Louis F. Taft, he was fined $25. He appealed and was held in $600 bail for the superior court.

Judge Bruce said that the beating was brutal, vicious and cowardly and that Hewitt knew what a wife-beater was expected to receive at his hands. Taft was assaulted when he tried to protect his daughter.

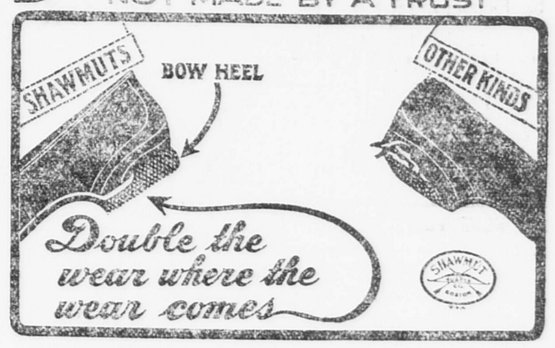
They Will Agree with you—and help you to keep your stomach and other organs in the proper condition on which your good health must depend
BEECHAM'S PILLS
Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

SHAWMUT RUBBERS
NOT MADE BY A TRUST



"SOLD IN QUINCY ONLY BY GRANITE SHOE STORE."

ZOROID
Founded 1893
TRADE MARK
Do you know that your eyes change as you grow older?
Your glasses need changing as your eyes change, stronger lenses should replace those that were just right for you two or three years ago.
If you have worn the same glasses several years you will be surprised to find how much easier you can work, how much clearer you can see with a new pair of lenses a little stronger.
Have your eyes examined and see for yourself. Telephone for appointment.
Briggs S. Palmer. President
Sanborns
3 Winter St. Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 17-21-24

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	24 degrees
December 17, 1909,	40 degrees
December 17, 1908,	32 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Gifts
Citizens Gas Light Co.—Gas Lamps
William Patterson—Christmas Plants
John W. Sanford Co.—Zoroid Lenses
Wanted—position as nurse.
Found—Sail boat
To let—Rooms for housekeeping.
To let—Rooms

BRIEFS

The Water department is getting ready to send out its New Years reminders that water bills are now due.

The Finnnish lodge of Good Temperance will hold a Christmas party in Electa hall this evening.

The big safe that was formerly used by the Tax Collector has been moved to the Council chamber where it will be used by the City Auditor.

The Sunday school and Christmas tree festival of St. Chrysostom's church has been postponed on account of the scarlet fever epidemic.

The Men's club of St. Chrysostom's parish meets on Monday night and will be addressed by William Jessup Sholar of Boston. His subject will be "Occult laws governing man's success or failure."

Two small yachts are frozen up in the ice off the Quincy Yacht club house. The yachts which had been hauled up on the shore were carried out into the bay by the high wind Thursday night.

Candidates at the recent municipal caucuses and elections have begun to file their returns with the City Clerk under the corrupt practice act. Up to the present time all papers received read: "Nothing received; nothing expended."

Quite a radical change has been made in the arrangement of the furnishing in the City Clerk's office at City Hall. The big safe which was behind a jog in the office has been removed to the Depot street side and the cabinet sets have been changed about. The improvement is a good one.

WALKER FOR SENATOR

Foss Thinks Him the Man Who Could Win Against Lodge

Boston, Dec. 17.—Governor-elect Foss stated last night that Speaker Walker of the house of representatives came as near being the right man to oppose Senator Lodge as any man that he knew of in the political arena today.

Asked if he would support Walker against Lodge, the governor-elect said:

"I haven't said I would support Mr. Walker, but I will say that he has been coming fast as a progressive and as a man who truly represents the people.

"Governor Draper cannot be elected against Senator Lodge," said Foss. "You can make up your mind that the people are boss this year."

Post and Postal Bank.

Postal bank's the best of schemes—
That I can't deny—
But I must confess it seems
Not for such as I.
That's unless there chance to be Less financial cramp.
Then I'll tell 'em, "Credit me
With a postage stamp."
—Judge.

An Invitation Withdrawn.

Come, fly with me—
Oh, I forgot
That bobble skirt!
You'd better not.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

DEATHS

WITHAM—Dec. 16, at his home in Sudbury, Mr. Jason Getchell Witham. Funeral services will be held at the chapel, Woodlawn Cemetery, Monday, Dec. 19, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Kindly omit flowers.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Large Attendance at the Swedish Baptist Church

The second day of the Sunday School conference at the Swedish Baptist church brought out larger audiences than the first day. In the afternoon at 3.30 a parents meeting was held. Rev. G. W. Lindstrom of Brockton spoke on the training of children and young people in the things of the better life. The 7 o'clock service was for young people and the audience was even larger than was anticipated. Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom conducted the after service. Haellstrom's string band furnished special music.

The meeting this evening will be held at 7.30. Rev. J. O. Backlund of Boston will give the address.

The conference will be completed tomorrow with Sunday school at 9.30, preaching service at 10.45 sermon by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom, prayer meeting at 3.30 led by G. R. Blomquist of Quincy, and a discussion of pertinent topics from 4 to 5.30 led by the visiting pastors.

In the evening Rev. S. E. Moberg will conduct the prayer meeting at 7 o'clock, and Rev. A. Lindbloom of Norwood and Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom of Boston will have charge of the last service.

MOTION PICTURES IN COLORS.

The Quincy members of the Appalachian Mountain club and others from this city were in the large audience at Huntington hall, Boston last evening and witnessed a marvellous exhibition of motion pictures by Gilbert H. Aymar of Allenstown, Penn. Perhaps the most remarkable series of views shown was "From bud to Blossom," depicting a large variety of flowers in actual growth. The speed of growth—as the image was shown on the screen—was magnified from 6,000 to 12,000 times, but the colors and definition of the buds and flowers were accurately reproduced.

K. of C. EVENTS.

The annual visitation of Deputy Charles J. Brady to Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, was held Thursday evening and formal announcement made to Quincy council of the granting of a charter to the new council at West Quincy, which would be instituted Sunday, Jan. 1, at Greenleaf hall. The first degree will be exemplified by Quincy council, and the second degree by John J. William council of Roxbury.

The announcement of the installation of the new officers of Quincy council was made. It will be held Jan. 2, at Greenleaf hall.

A debating club in connection with the council was formed with John A. McGowan as president, George Powers and secretary Timothy J. Collins, George B. Gavin and John J. O'Hara as literary committee. Debates will be held following the regular business sessions of the council.

CLERK LYONS QUALIFIES.

Lawrence W. Lyons, who was appointed by Gov. Draper as clerk of the District court, and confirmed by the Governors council on Wednesday qualified for the office yesterday and filed his bond which was approved.

Mr. Lyons said this morning that he had not appointed the assistant clerk as yet but might announce the appointment Monday.

LARGE STOREHOUSE.

The Tubular Rivet and Stud Co. are building a large storage building adjoining their factory at Wollaston. It is of wood, one story high, 31 feet wide and 127 feet long.

Social Realm

The Quincy Tennis club dance on the twenty-eighth will have a long list of patronesses, those on the list being: Mrs. Angier, Mrs. Bigelow, Mrs. Binnian, Mrs. Brigham, Mrs. Burgin, Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Burkhardt, Mrs. Davy, Mrs. Drinkwater, Mrs. Faxon, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. C. T. Hardwick, Mrs. S. C. Hardwick, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Hultman, Mrs. Hunting, Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Keyes, Mrs. King, Miss Lane, Mrs. Lane, Miss Macfarlane, Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Smith, rs. Sprague, Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant, and Mrs. W. W. Whitcher.

* * *

Mrs. Kitson has been able to make arrangements with Raymond, the Boston costumer, furnishing costumes for the Twelfth Night Revels at very reasonable rates. There are monk's garb and dominoes for those who cannot be persuaded to wear the more picturesque attire. Subscription to the Twelfth Night Revels are being received by the Education Committee of the Quincy Women's club, the committee being, Mrs. George L. Badger, Mrs. Stanley Bone, Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. William Cummings, Mrs. Percy Holman, Mrs. H. H. Kitson, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. James M. Nowland, Miss Helen T. O'Reilly, Mrs. Albert M. Parker, Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Miss Eliza C. Shenahan, Miss Clara E. G. Thayer, Miss Clara Thompson and Mrs. John D. Mackay.

THE CREATION.

The fact that the Quincy Choral society will sing Haydn's "Creation" at its third annual concert brings to mind some of the interesting things in the life of the composer, Haydn was one who enjoyed the universal admiration and respect of his contemporaries and in his later years was affectionately called "Papa Haydn" by the youthful composers about him. Indeed it has been said by later critics that he was given a position out of all proportion to his real greatness by some of those gifted ones and that they were composing music at the time which will outlive his own. Be that as it may, he had the divine spark; and while some of his compositions will doubtless become obsolete, it is not probable that any choral society will ever exist which will not sing his great oratorio sooner or later.

When Haydn decided to compose "The Creation" he had never seen the ocean in a storm and it is said that he was taken to sea in the midst of a tempest that he might thereby become inspired to write such music as would illustraie the beginning of the world. In one amusing old print he is depicted seated in a large chair on the deck of a vessel ,surrounded by a number of admiring friends, and in the midst of a raging tempest. Although the composer's chair seems to be stationary, all else is in commotion; mountainous waves, furious winds, lightning and heavy rain; under the scene is engraved—"Haydn Composing the Creation."

While it is not likely that he made its acquaintance in just the way this old engraving says, there can be no doubt that the composer who could write that wonderful aria "Rolling in foaming billows" knew well the grandeur and beauty of the sea in a tempest.

Even to think of those arias makes the blood of old choral singers run a bit faster and the opportunity to hear them sung by such splendid artists as are announced by the Quincy Choral society should be appreciated by every lover of music in our city.

THE AFTERNOON FIRE.

The alarm from Box 171 at 1.10 this afternoon was for a fire on the top floor of the old Whicher tenement block. The fire started from a box of hot ashes in an apartment occupied by a Hebrew family, and it was necessary to tear away part of the partition to extinguish it. There was considerable smoke but little fire. A chemical stream was sufficient to extinguish it. The loss will not exceed $50.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY

SUNDAY SERVICES

FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Unitarian)—Rev. E. C. Butler, Russell Park, pastor; Rev. C. B. Ames, 121 Goffe street, assistant pastor. Morning worship at 10.30. Sermon by Rev. C. B. Ames. Sunday school at 12 M. Charles H. Johnson, Supt. Y. P. R. U. Christmas Service at 7 P. M.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N. Hardy, Ph. D., pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Address by Rev. George A. Hall of Brookline. Bible school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15 P. M. Evening church service at 7.30. Illustrated address by the pastor on "The Early Life of our Lord." The 40 colored lantern photographs used are reproductions of the famous painting of William Hole.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Holy Communion at 8 A. M. Morning Prayer Litany and sermon at 10.30. Sunday school and Galahad Brotherhood at 12.05. Evening Prayer and address at 7.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (undenominational) Protection hall, Johnson building, Quincy Center. Divine services at 3 P. M. Lecture by A. W. Gleason. Subject "The Ends of the Ages." Tract's free. No collection.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Quincy Point.—Rev. Charles P. Marshall, pastor. Sailors' sing Harbor service at 9 A. M. Morning worship at 10.45 Subject "The Life that is Christ." Sunday school at 12 M. Evening service at 7.30. Subject "The Invitation."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, — Franklin street—Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor, residence 209 Franklin street. Morning service at 10.30. Theme: "A Patient Church." Sunday school and Davis class for men at 11.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6 P. M. Praise and preaching service at 7 P. M. Theme "Christ's Interest In a Young Man." A cordial invitation is extended to all to meet with us. Good singing. Seats free. "Come let us return thanks unto the Lord for His goodness and kindness to us.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Fort Square. Rev. A. M. Thompson pastor Residence 82 Glendale road Quincy. Morning service 10.30. Sunday school and Men's League at 11.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7. The pastor will preach a both services. All are welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner Quincy and Water streets. Rev. James A. Matheson, minister. Preaching at 10.30. Bible school 11.45. C. E. service 6. Evening worship and praise 7. Young Peoples meeting Thursday at 7. Prayer and praise Thursday at 7.30. Motto for the week: "Let example outweigh argument."

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. Carl H. Raupach pastor. Residence 12 Hall place. Morning Worship at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.45. Junior League at 3 P. M. Epworth League at 6.15 P. M. Evangelistic service at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor. Residence 21 Prospect avenue. Tel 341-4 Morning service at 10.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Preaching by the pastor morning and evening. Morning subject "God's Anger with the wicked." Evening subject "Jesus Christ, one who receiveth sinners and eateth with them."

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Edward A. Chase, minister. Parsonage 20 Marion street. Tel. Quincy 634-1. 10.35 Morning worship Children's Sermon "Christmas Candles." Sermon "Christmas Hospitality." Sunday school omitted because of Scarlet Fever. Monthly Musical service at 4.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH—Corner Beale and Safford streets. Rev. Wesley Wiggin, pastor. Residence 52 Brook street, Telephone Quincy 378-2. 10.45 A. M. Sermon by pastor. Sunday school at 12 M. Junior League meeting at 4 P. M. Epworth League meeting at 6 P. M. Subject, "From the Watch Tower." leader, Mr A. B. Cassidy. 7 P. M. A representative of The World in Boston will speak Special music. Everybody invited. Friday 7.45 P. M prayer meeting.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Services in Music hall. Morning worship at 10.45 Sermon by pastor. Music by chorus. Sunday school at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. 7 P. M. A stereopticon lecture on "Western Life."

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington Street. Morning worship 10.30. Address by Rev. W. P. Farnell. Sunday school at 12 o'clock, Y. P. C. U. at 6 P. M.

Y. M. C. A.—Washington street. Service on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, to be addressed by H. H. King, student secretary of Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Braintree, Post Office Block. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject "Is the universe, including man, evolved by atomic force." Golden Text "We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned." Revelation 11: 17. Wednesday 7.45 P. M. a testimony and experience meeting Reading rooms open every week day from 3 to 5 P. M. Holidays excepted. All are welcome.

Makaria
Fraternity
SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square
If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.
A warm welcome—Hearty singing—A helpful hour together.

—This week lobsters begin to come from Canada to the American market, and it will be interesting to note what effect this will have on prices. For a long time the prices of this delicious crusticean has been practically prohibitive, so far as the average citizen is concerned, and if the new source of supply makes it possible for him to indulge his appetite in that direction once more, it will be a source of pleasure to many, to whom that luxury has long been denied.—Milford Gazette.

SPORTING NOTES.

Basketball shares with bowling the honors of the season. Today's contests include: Y. M. C. A. Intermediates vs Everett Intermediates, and Y. M. C. A. Juniors vs. South Braintree Grammar school in the afternoon. Y. M. C. A. 2nd vs. Malden 1st and Y. M. C. A. Employed Boys vs Winthrop in the evening.

* * *

The first team of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. goes to Bridgewater for a game with the Normal school team.

* * *

Makaria plays Cunningham Gym at Milton tonight.

* * *

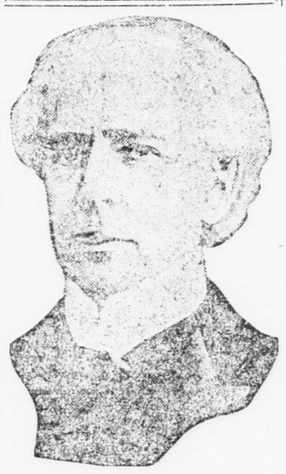
There will be no soccer football games today, owing to the condition of the fields. Fore River had a game scheduled with Charlestown at Charlestown. The McGregors had no regular game scheduled but could arrange for playing a postponed game if the ground was right.

* * *

With three bowling leagues represented in Quincy the fans should be satisfied. The Makaria league bowls at the Y. M. C. A. alleys on Monday and at the Granite street alleys Thursdays. The new Granite City league will use the Granite street alleys Mondays and Wednesday. The Columbus club league does not bowl in Quincy. All the matches are rolled on the Dorchester alleys. The next match will be with Jamaica Plain, Dec. 22.

PREMIER LAURIER

He Offers No Hope of Speedy Tariff Revision



TIME NOT YET RIPE

Laurier Tells the Farmers They Must Wait For Tariff Revision

Ottawa, Dec. 17.—The delegation of 1000 Canadian farmers presented their demands to the Canadian government yesterday and received their answer.

As a result there are 1000 disappointed strangers in the Canadian capital. The reply of the government, made by Premier Laurier, that the time was not ripe for revision of the tariff, did not come up to the expectations of the delegation.

The farmers asked for the immediate revision of the tariff downward; for free trade on agricultural implements, cement, lumber and fish and natural products of Canada and the United States; for a larger measure of preference to Great Britain and a program which would lead to free trade with England in ten years and finally for direct taxation.

A CARLOAD OF BABIES

Homeless Little Ones Are to Be Adopted by Southern Families

Chicago, Dec. 17.—A carload of babies passed through Chicago from a foundling home in New York city. They are billed to Houston and San Antonio, Tex., where each will be adopted by some southern family. There were fifty-two babies in the car, and not one was over 3 years old.

Their foster parents will meet the babies at Houston and San Antonio. An agent of the New York foundling hospital, an institution conducted by the Sisters of Charity of New York city, has traversed the district, finding homes for these youngsters.

Six nurses are looking after the party on its long trip. "This institution makes a practice of sending about three carloads of babies west each year," said R. J. Carmichael, district passenger agent of the Illinois Central railroad, who has charge of the party.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Between John Horrigan's shed Federal avenue and 10 Goddard street, gold watch in black case. Finder will be rewarded on applying to Thomas Robertson, 10 Goddard street. Dec. 17-3t

LOST—Dec. 14 between Wollaston and Alpha hall, gold chain with locket engraved "E. G." Reward if returned to 103 Grand View avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 15-3t

FOUND

FOUND—In Quincy Bay a small Sail Boat. May be had by proving property and paying charges. Notify "B," Ledger office. Dec 17—3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A pung, with pole and shafts, 4x12 feet body. Woodsum's Express, 65 Hancock street, South Braintree. Dec. 17-O-L 1t

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy. All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

Mail Frauds Charged

Philadelphia, Dec. 17.—Six men were arrested here by postal inspectors in connection with the government's crusade against persons suspected of using the mails improperly. Four of those arrested are officers of the Chain Shoe stores syndicate, and two are officers of the Pine Heights company, a land concern.

Laughed Himself to Death

Lacrosse, Wis., Dec. 17.—Laughing heartily at the joke of a friend, Albert Sommers, 58 years old, gasped and sank to the ground. He died a few hours later. Physicians say that the strain of laughing induced a stroke of paralysis.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT

To Bartholomew J. Griffin and Hiram H. Frieze of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Francis H. Wall of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry Plummer Bailey, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William H. Crosby of said Boston, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in that part of said Quincy known as Houghs Neck, on Manet Avenue, being lot thirty-nine on a plan of seashore lots made by Whitman Breck and Company, Surveyors, recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on said Manet Avenue where the line which divides the land from lot forty on said plan intersects the Southerly line of said Manet avenue, thence running in a westerly direction along said Southerly line of Manet Avenue forty nine and 62-100 (49.62) feet to the line of lot thirty-eight on said plan, thence turning and running in a Southerly direction along said line of lot thirty-eight one hundred feet to the line of lot ninety-six on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot ninety-six in an easterly direction thirty-nine and 25-100 (39.25) feet to the line of lot forty on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot forty in a northerly direction one hundred feet to the point of beginning, and containing 4443 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the ninth day of January A. D. 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal)
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder.
Dec. 17-3t 17, 24, 31

WANTED

WANTED—Woman to do washing and ironing. Apply at 64 Merrymount road. Dec. 17-1t

WANTED—Refined lady desires position as nurse. $10.00 per week. Address E. A. Whitney, 119 Farrington street, Wollaston. Dec 17—1t

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.
RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-O-1w

TO LET

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—3, 4, or 5 rooms fully furnished. Every convenience for housekeeping. Also 5 and 10 room apartments unfurnished. All within 5 minutes of Quincy R. R. station. Address C. F. Spear, 1168 Hancock street. Dec. 17 1t

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electries. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street. Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 413-1. Haymarket 241

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 294 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 19, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

HEARING ON BRIDGE

Harbor Commissioners to Give One on Wednesday

A hearing will be held before the Harbor & Land Commissioners Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, on the question of widening the draw of the Fore River ridge at Quincy Point to 150 feet, or whether it shall be left at its present width and become liable to destruction when the big Argentine battleship tires to go through.

The hearing is based on a petition for permission to repair the bridge and widen the draw, filed by the trustees of the bridge. President Bowles will probably attend the hearing, as will also Mayor Shea, and Messrs. Crane of Weymouth and Hersey of Weymouth, the three trustees. The trustees set forth the need of immediate and substantial repairs to the bridge at an estimated cost of $30,000 and an additional cost of $25,000 to widen the draw to 150 feet.

It is well known that the piers are in bad shape and in need of repair, and that if the Argentine ship should hit the piers in passing through the whole structure might be demolished. It is understood that the bridge trustees will urge that the repairs and widening of the bridge be made.

BRIEFS

Miss Blanche M. Galvin was on the committee for the annual musicale given on Saturday evening by Boston chapter of Trinity college.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Taylor of 118 Merrymount road welcomed a son to their home on Sunday. As they already have a little daughter a son is most pleasing.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held tonight, and will doubtless be house cleaning night for several of the committees. One more meeting will probably be necessary the latter part of the week.

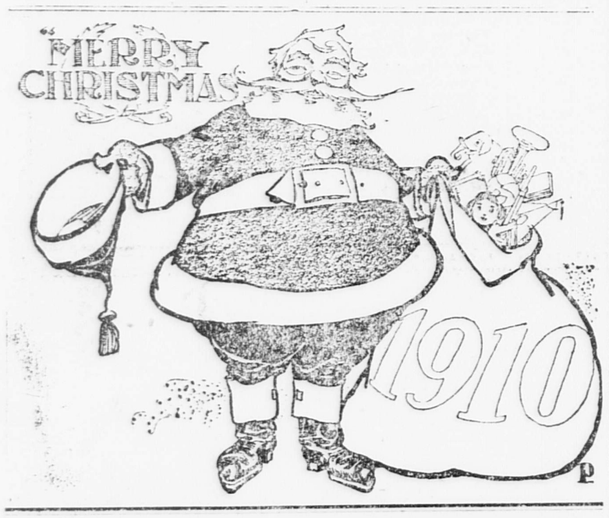
The unique proclamations of the committee for the Twelfth Night Revels printed at the Ledger Office are but a forerunner of what may be expected on the night of the party. Quaint costumes, many surprises and a jolly time is assured.

TODAY'S COURT.

Allison Pratt of Weymouth and Cornelius J. Maguire of Braintree were arraigned for drunkenness and their cases continued on probation on payment of costs.

John Fraser was fined $25 for creating a disturbance on a street car at Weymouth.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.



PIANOS

At this store you can secure the highest piano quality at the lowest price. Beautiful mahogany case piano with rich sweet tone and perfect touch. You can enjoy our cooperative plan of paying, enabling you to have a new piano for your home on Christmas.

Trade here where you are known rather than among strangers who may sell you a piano entirely different than represented. Our pianos are guaranteed for life. Will you spend a few minutes and look them over?

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS
1495 Hancock St., Quincy Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 19-1t

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION

We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.

Everything that goes with it at

PETERSON'S
394 Washington Street, Quincy

NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Very Anxious to Build the New Battleship

Navy yard men at Brooklyn are getting excited over their claim that they should build the battleships. According to a New York dispatch to the Globe:

"After a disorderly meeting in which Secretary of the Navy Meyer was openly denounced in the strongest language, 300 navy yard workmen organized in Arcanum hall, Fulton and Bridge streets, Brooklyn, Saturday night to fight for the building of the new superdreadnought New York in the Brooklyn yard.

"A committee of 19 men, representing as many different trades in the yard, was appointed and this week a committee of three representatives from each trade will enter a formal protest at Washington and demand an investigation of affairs at the yard.

"The meeting, presided over by William MacKenzie, a pattern maker, for the first few moments threatened to develop into a free-for-all fight, when several members got into a wrangle over the organization. Finally the old association, the affiliated trades of the Brooklyn navy yard was reorganized with MacKenzie as president and John Walsh as secretary.

"A resolution was read and adopted condemning as false the reports in the newspapers that the men of the yard could not do the work under the eight-hour law restriction for the $6,000,000 appropriated.

"Samuel Saxon, a machinist, urged the men to fight as a unit to secure the building of the ship in their yard. He said: It is time that the public was made aware of the existing conditions at the yard. Let the public know that it is not because of the eight-hour law that Secretary Meyer said the ship could not be built in the Brooklyn navy yard, but because he has an interest in several private yards, to which he intends to assign the building of the ship.

"Yes, shouted Edward A. Lefere, Jr., another navy yard worker, we all know Meyer's interest in the General electric trust and the private shipbuilding trusts, but the public doesn't. Turn on the light. Already he has ordered the convicts on the island to paint the ships and next they'll be building them."

QUINCY MEN PROMINENT.

James F. Burke of this city was re-elected president of the Norfolk County branch of the Catholic Archdiocesan federation, at the annual convention held Sunday at the Cathedral, Boston. About 85 delegates, representing the 42,000 members, were present. The aims of the federation were discussed by several of the priests in the Norfolk county district, including Rev. John P. Cuff of the Church of the Sacred Heart at Atlantic.

In addition to President Burke, Quincy has also among the board of officers Daniel J. Nyhan of Atlantic, one of the vice presidents, and Thomas J. Lavery of Wollaston, treasurer. Conrad Mischler of Braintree is marshal and Mrs. J. B. Hanley of East Weymouth librarian. Other officers are: Vice presidents, Mrs. William J. O'Brien of Hyde Park, Miss Alice J. Keelan of Dedham, M. P. McCarthy of Walpole, Philip Doherty of Franklin and D. J. Daly of Brookline. Financial secretary, Miss Catherine M. Gormley of Hyde Park. Recording secretary, Peter B. Hart of Medway. Auditors, Joseph E. Farrell of Hyde Park, Daniel J. Slattery of Norwood and Michael Driscoll of Brookline.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Saturday, Dec. 17:

L. Barron, Miss Ozithe Cyr, D. J. Doherty, William Edwards, Jack Ellis, Miss Edith Elrick, C. N. Fitts, Miss Grace Hill, Tevi Hjuninen, Geo. Koehlerb, Mrs. Phillip Mcqie, Miss Katie McSorley, Mrs. Caroline Rich, Mrs. Mirtie Roberts, Jaakka Soldan, Mrs. J. T. West, Dr. Rosko O. Wood.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

HEADQUARTERS MAY MOVE

Unions of Granite Cutters Will Soon Take Vote

There is a possibility that the headquarters of the Granite Cutters' National Union, which have been located in Quincy for a number of years, may be moved to some other granite centre after the first of May. Under the new constitution of the Union a vote on the future location of headquarters must be taken in May 1911. Under this same constitution, certain conditions must exist in the city where the headquarters are located. It is understood that Quincy does not meet all of these conditions at the present time.

BURGLARS REPORTED.

A number of small breaks were reported to the police on Sunday. They were as follows:

The house of Gaetano di Bona, 61 Center street, which was entered through the cellar window and an overcoat and three inside coats taken, one of which contained $2 in money.

The house of Emil Djerf, at 5 Wilson street, where an overcoat belonging to Hjalman Niemi was taken in the pocket of which was $2; also a suit of clothes belinging to Peter Djerf containing $4.75. The clothing was found in an adjoining yard but the money was gone. It is said that the outside door was not locked Saturday night.

At the house of Charles Martin, at 121 Centre street, the door was also left unlocked, and thieves entered and carrie d away several bottles of beer.

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

The Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution held their annual Christmas party on Saturday afternoon in Sewall hall, Boston, and it was largely attende d and enjoyable.

Those to receive were: Mrs. F. W. Dana, director of Bell Rock chapter of Everett and Dana Mayo, president; Miss Marion D. Tucker, director of Caleb Stark chapter of Newton and Clifford Greene president; Constance Woodbury president of Countersign chapter of Allston; Mrs. M. E. Jackman director of Cradle of Liberty chapter of Boston and Dorothy Allen vice president; Miss Lillie B. Allen, director of Daniel Townsend chapter of Lynn; Miss Doris Cummings, president of John Adams chapter of Quincy. The program opened with the singing of "America" by the young people with Mrs. Charles F. Cottrell as soloist. Then followed the "Salute to the Flag," recitations and music by members of the junior society. A delightful feature was the singing of groups of children's songs by Mrs. Cottrell.

Refreshments were served and the party was rounded out with a dance. Each member contributed a gift to the Christmas box to be sent to one of the charitable organizations of the city and distributed to poor and needy children.

ON HER MAIDEN TRIP.

The tank steamer Currier, which left the Fore River yards Thursday on her maiden trip to Newport News, had a rough experience according to a wireless received at the Fore River on Saturday. She ran into a blizzard Thursday night between Cape Cod and Nantucket, and Capt. Van Gilder reports he had a terrible night of it. He said that the Currier weathered the storm in good shape, and that her machinery worked well throughout the storm.

A wireless received by the Fore River Sunday from the Currier states that she was proceeding under natural draft and that while considerably shaken up by the storm she was not damaged. The dispatch also stated she would proceed under forced draft after leaving Norfolk.

BROBERG—ERICKSON.

Mr. Carl Emil Broberg and Miss Sarah Elvira Erickson, both of Quincy, were joined in marriage by Rev. A. P. Hanson at the parsonage Saturday evening. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson. Their home will be at 56 Nightingale avenue.

GAS COMPANY DIVIDENDS

Vice President R. Grant Makes a Statement

Editor Daily Ledger:

Referring to the article in the Friday evening, December 16, issue of the Quincy Daily Ledger, relative to dividends paid by this company, permit me to call your attention to some of the items contained therein, which are not only incorrect, but very misleading.

The article states that this Company declared a quarterly dividend of 2 percent and that the amount of this dividend is now the same as declared by the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. and the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Co.

The dividend declared on December 15 is not a quarterly dividend, but together with the dividend of 1 per cent paid on September 30, 1910 covers the six months ending December 31, 1910.

The fiscal year of the company begins July 1, each year; therefore, from July 1, 1910 to December 31, 1910, the Citizens' Gas Light Company will thus have only paid a total dividend of 3 per cent for the six months, or at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. paid a dividend of 9 per cent, and the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company paid a dividend of 10 per cent; therefore, the statement that the amount of the dividend now being paid by the Citizens' Gas Light Co. is the same as that paid by the Boston Consolidated and the Newton & Watertown companies is entirely erroneous.

Permit us also at this time to call your attention to the fact that from the time when the present owners of the Citizens' Gas Light Co. acquired the property, viz., in the spring of 1906, until March 31, 1910, no dividend was paid on the capital stock, thus making a period of four years during which no dividends were paid.

Beginning with the first full fiscal year of the present ownership—said year beginning July 1, 1906 and ending June 30, 1907—the company showed a deficit of $5,554.27; for the year ending June 30, 1908, a deficit of $8,065.99; for the year ending June 30, 1909, a deficit of $3,662.24.

In the year ending June 30, 1910, there was a surplus of $916.90, after providing for two dividends of 1 per cent each, paid on March 31, 1910 and June 30, 1910, amounting to $7,660.00.

The dividends paid by this company (including that which is to be paid on December 31, 1910) are as follows:

1 per cent March 31, 1910
1 per cent June 30, 1910
1 per cent Sept. 30, 1910
2 per cent Dec. 31, 1910

You will thus see that the above covers the calendar year of 1910 and makes in all 5 per cent for the year.

When considering the fact that during the four years referred to, no dividends were paid at all, and the fact that during the calendar year of 1910, dividends at the rate of 5 per cent have been declared, we cannot conceive how it can possibly be considered that this is a reasonable return on the investment over a period of practically five years.

We believe that with the above information and facts you will agree with us that the article referred to is not only misleading, but unfair, and thereby affects the relations of the company with its customers, and we trust that you will give this letter the same publicity as that which was given to the article mentioned.

Yours very truly,
R. GRANT,
Vice President,
Citizens' Gas Light Co.
Dec. 17, 1910.

—The Belgian government is selling its regular postage stamps at slightly more than their face value, the additional revenue going for the building of a sanatorium for consumptive working women.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

PRESENTED A PURSE

Friends of Swan P. Johnson Give Him Surprise

One of the most successful surprise parties ever held was celebrated in Protection hall, on Saturday evening. The gentleman so agreeably surprised was Swan P. Johnson of Isabella street. Mr. Johnson had a serious accident in the Ballou quarries on the 17th day of June last, in which he had one of his legs badly crushed. He has been in the Quincy Hospital since that time, up to a few days ago when he was taken to his home. His leg is still in plaster paris and the question is whether he will ever be able to use it again or not.

All the seats in the hall were occupied and quite a few had to stand in the rear, also in ante-room. The evening was spent in speech making, referring to Mr. Johnson's misfortune, and in songs and declamations. Refreshments were also served.

Mr. Johnson was referred to as an honest man; a man who has worked hard all his life, and has always been faithful to his employer. He has a family of ten children, more than half of whom are still unable to make a living.

Mr. Johnson was presented with an envelope, containing quite a number of dollars, as a Christmas present, with the hope this will give happiness and hope to his heart and home and make him feel that although the world is hard to live for a man who cannot help himself, there is still in the innermost corner of the human heart a tender feeling for the unfortunate members of mankind, and that the society whose principles are, "The fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man," still exists and has quite a few members.

Mr. Johnson wished to express his most sincere gratitude to all who have participated in this kind act to him.

ASSISTANT CLERK.

The apointment of an assistant clerk of the District court which was expected today was not made. Clerk Lyons had a conference with Judge Avery after which it was decided to hold the appointment in abeyance until the first of the year, as Judge Avery is going away on a brief vacation trip The announcement of the appointee therefore will not be made until his return.

TRAINS DELAYED.

An engine of the inward express train due to pass through Quincy at 7.07 this morning broke her excentric while passing Quincy Adams, causing some delay to the trains following. The engine was disconnected and the train pushed in by the train following.

IN NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

Rupert F. Claflin, cashier of the National Granite bank, received a telegram from New York this morning stating that his son-in-law Nixon Elmer had been successfully operated upon for appendicitis and that he was resting comfortably. Mr. Elmer was taken seriously ill with appendicitis Saturday, and was immediately taken to a hospital, where he was operated upon that evening.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

GRAND CHRISTMAS DANCE
ALPHA HALL Quincy
ALPHA HALL Quincy
DECEMBER 26
3 to 11.30 P. M.
LADIES 25 CENTS GENTS 50 CENTS
Music—CAREY'S POPULAR ORCHESTRA
Management of W. E. BROWNE and CHARLES W. MUNROE
Proprietors of Houghs Neck Bungalow
Dec. 19—2t—19-24

FOY — Merry Christmas — FOY

Christmas Specialties

Begin to do your Christmas shopping today

A little money spent here will go a long way in giving your home that cheery look on Christmas Eve and Christmas day.

TREES --- TREES

CHRISTMAS TREES

Just the right shape and size with plenty of branches for decorating.

25 cts., 50 cts., 75 cts. up.

For your windows there is nothing better than a set of good wreaths. Ours are choice

Laurel 25c, Princess, 18c, Holly 15c

Decorate the tree with pop corn and iced star crackers. The whiteness and sparkle make the tree look like fairy land.

3 pkgs. Pop Corn, 25c. Iced Stars, lb. 15c.

GROCERY MARKET

Good wholesome "nibbles" for the children; and the grown folks will eat them, too.

NEW MIXED NUTS, this years goods.....lb 17c
ENGLISH WALNUTS, very meaty.....lb 22c
FANCY DATES, in cartons.....8 pkgs for 25c
FRESH TURKISH FIGS, new goods.....box 15c
FANCY OLIVES, in glass.....10, 15 and 25c

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS
Dec. 19-20

Phone 117 or 153

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

The man who cannot laugh does not know what it means to live.

An exchange says it is more blessed to give than to receive, and also more expensive.

Mr. Carnegie bravely continues his fight against dying rich but the odds are against him.

The rain may be a blessing to the farmers and others who depend on wells for their water supply. In many parts of New England serious droughts have been reported.

Mr. Rockefeller's proposed foundation gift of more than $1000,000,000 is again before Congress which seems to be appalled at the immensity of the benefaction and afraid it may have a flare back.

Don't make the mistake of sticking Red Cross stamps on the face of letters. Uncle Sam positively refuses to allow it. Put them on the backs. Every Red Cross stamp you buy means so much more added to a fund to fight tuberculosis.

The general sale of Red Cross seals is meeting with unqualified success. The stamps have been on sale daily at the Post office since Friday. Most of the drugstores in the city are selling the seals and prominent storekeepers in all wards are cooperating with the Anti-Tuberculosis society in making the sale this year even larger than it was a year ago. Mr. Faxon's office on Granite street is the headquarters.

We hear a lot of talk nowadays about trusts, high prices, graft and all sorts of corruption but still the old United States looks good to us and we wouldn't want to change our residence to any other country on the globe. Evils may be rampant and the country going to the dogs but we don't believe it. Other lands may hold out inducements but there's no place like home and we don't want to be where we can't hear the eagle scream.

Representative Hobson of Alabama, he who sank the old ship in the harbor entrance at Santiago, has introduced a bill in Congress for the appointment of a Board of National Defense, the object of which is to secure cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of the government with a view to harmony in a defensive policy. By the terms of the bill the War Secretary is to be president of the council and the other members the Secretary of the Navy, the Chairmen of the House Military and Naval Affairs, and also the Senate and House Finance Committee.

When looking over your Christmas shopping list see if there aren't a number of items on it that can be purchased right here at home thereby saving time, trouble and temper to say nothing of shoe leather. Make the Christmas of the local merchants a happy one by trading with them. They need the money just as much if not more than the great department stores and have some attractive goods from which to select. Bargains are not always to be found in the city and just at this time of year it is a great advantage to buy at home and avoid the crowds and confusion of Boston stores and streets.

Much credit is due the police of Hyde Park for capturing two desperate burglars on Saturday evening. Especially Lulet. Edward J. Welch, who took no chances of being shot when he had a burglar cornered, but shot first, seriously if not fatally wounding one of the two burglars who had entered the house of Alexander Keltie.

The officers surrounded the house, and Lieut. Welch seeing one of the zurglars at a window preparing as he thought to shoot, quickly drew his own revolver and winged his man. It is an old western custom to shoot first, and ask questions afterwards, and police officers are fully warranted in carrying out this same plan in a case like this. Burglars as a rule are desperate men and when cornered do not hesitate to shoot in order to escape, and the officer who is placed in such a position and gets the first shot is to be commended. There are too many desperate characters at large, and officers should take no chances.

The events of the week in Congress have been full of interest and there are indications pointing to what the national legislature may be able to accomplish during the present short session. Among the most interesting is an apparent agreement between the insurgents and the regulars in the Senate on the tariff question, relating particularly to the consideration of special subjects, as for example, the woollen schedule, the cotton schedule, lumber, coal, etc., separately and without consideration of the tariff question as a whole. There is also apparently a much closer agreement in Congress with reference to the support of a bona fide tariff commission for a thorough and honest investigation and report upon this question.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

A newspaper notes with more or less sorrow that the American people spend an enormous amount of money for Christmas. They do, and we're glad of it. It shows that they appreciate the day and its significance. It shows that they are willing to make the little ones and some of the old ones happy for a space. It shows that the holiday stands apart as a great and glorious season. And, to talk plain business facts, the celebration of Christmas is a great thing for a lot of people; it brings out money and puts it into circulation and it helps business and helps salaries and wages. It is the one time of year when practically everybody who has anything worth while to sell makes some money, which is a good thing for him, for his family, for his employes and for the families of those employes. Don't discourage Christmas giving and Christmas buying—they're great things from any angle.—Brockton Enterprise.

RED CROSS SEALS.

Samuel Hopkins Adams Makes Strong Plea for Holiday Stickers.

Suppose, in your newspaper, you were to see this head-line heavy-typed across the middle of the page. Dead—200,000 Americans! A Million More in Desperate Peril!

It would startle you, wouldn't it? Undoubtedly. But the sensational expression of the fact, not the fact itself would administer the jolt to your faculties. For the fact is constantly before us all, and startles nobody. Two hundred thousand Americans died last year of consumption. One million more are now beset by the same peril. These, in turn, are infecting or will infect their hundreds of thousands of others. All needless; all preventable; all a sheer and terrible waste of life.

Possiby you yourself will be one of the hundreds of thousands stricken. There is at least one chance in nine of it Probably someone near and dear to you will be a victim. There is more than an even chance of that.

What are you going to do about it?
What can you do about it?
Buy a Red Cross Seal.

Sounds absurd, doesn't it? In the face of the most potent scourge of the human race, devastation more sweeping than that of war or earthquake, you are invited to do your part with a penny stamp. Well, a stamp isn't much in itself, but it may typify mighty forces. It was a stamp which, typifying tyranny, lashed this country into the struggle for nationality. And now these stamps typify the struggle against the nation's mightiest foe of today. Every one of these little squares means a cent for the campaign. Sixty million of them have already been issued and distributed over the length and breadth of country. You can get them from your church, from your local anti-tuberculosis organization, from the Y. M. C. A.; or, failing these, write to the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis at 105 East 22d Street, New York City.

Fifty million seals means $500,000. What can $500,000 do toward saving a million consumptives? Not much, it is true. But it can do miracles toward preventing the further spread of the disease through eighty million Americans. Every seal means a warning. Every warning may mean a life saved. Education and education only, persistent, unremittent letting in of the light,—that and that alone will wipe out the Great White Plague.

So, whether you buy one of the gay little red and green seals to put on the back of an envelope, or ten thousand wherewith to paper a room, you will be doing your part in the great campaign. A million for tuberculosis it its battle cry, and the red cross flag on the seal, its banner. It is the war of one and all upon a common enemy. Get into the fight, though it be only a cents worth.—Samuel Hopkins Adams.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

HUGHES BOOM IS ALREADY ON

Supreme Court Justice Urged as Presidential Nominee

POWERFUL FORCES AT WORK

Desirous of Encompassing Taft's Defeat In National Convention of Republicans, but Do Not Want Roosevelt to Receive Nomination—Chance of Four Presidential Candidates—Soreness Over Chief Justiceship

Washington, Dec. 19.—Justice Hughes of the United States supreme court is to be pressed to permit his name to be used as New York's candidate for president in 1912. Back of this announcement, which is made on the best authority, lies a chain of interesting political circumstances. In summary, they may be set forth thus:

Powerful forces within the Republican party, believing that President Taft if nominated could not be elected to succeed himself, are desirous of encompassing his defeat in the national convention.

Other elements wish to defeat him because they want new men and new policies to come to the front in the party.

It is recognized that Mr. Taft, as matters stand, is likely to have the east, south and a considerable support from the far west, along with Ohio. This would be sufficient to force his nomination. The question has been and is, how is this Taft phalanx to be broken?

There are plenty of people in New York who would be willing to help take the Empire State's delegation away from the president, but they do not want to risk giving it to Theodore Roosevelt. Therefore the proposal has been brought forward of making Hughes a candidate for president, in order to keep the state's delegation away from either Taft or Roosevelt.

With this accomplished, it is calculated that the Taft strength in New England and the south would disintegrate and it would at length be possible to carry the contest into the convention, with a free fight for all the aspirants and a fair chance for everyone.

In that situation, it is calculated that there would be at least four presidential candidates before the convention. They would be President Taft, Senator LaFollette, Senator Cummins and Justice Hughes, with the possibility always looming large in the background that the name of Roosevelt might be injected with sensational effect at some critical moment.

Justice Hughes is the key to the situation. He has not been consulted, and is not likely to be. He has a record of never interfering with political management, ever when his own political fortunes were involved.

Incidental to this story, but related with much gusto among prominent public men who have been let into the secret, is the story that Hughes is much displeased that he was not designated for chief justice of the United States.

"He was promised the place," declares a veteran senator, in a little group which was discussing the sacred inside gossip which is presumed never to leak out. "He was promised the chief justiceship when he went on the supreme court, and the promise was withdrawn after it was too late for him to change his mind."

The story in inside circles is that Hughes has been greatly displeased over the treatment accorded him by President Taft.

WEEDING OUT HORSE CARS

Storage Battery Lines Displace Some of Them In New York

New York, Dec. 19.—This morning storage battery electric cars displaced the old horse cars on the Twenty-eighth street crosstown line. Fifteen cars have been built for the Third Avenue Railway company on a new plan.

They are twenty-seven feet in length, weight six tons, and, with a capacity of twenty-six passengers, can make a speed of fifteen miles an hour.

New York is the first city in the United States to adopt the storage battery car.

Dies In Her 105th Year

Dupois, Pa., Dec. 19.—Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker died at her home near here in her 105th year. She had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for more than eighty-five years. Until a short time ago she had retained her physical and mental faculties to an extraordinary degree.

The Weather

Almanac, Tuesday, Dec. 20.
Sun rises—7:17; sets—4:32.
Moon rises—9:21 p. m.
High water 2 a. m.; 2:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Colder, with fair in south and local snows in north portion; brisk to high south winds, shifting to west.

RESCUES TWO CREWS

Revenue Cutter Gresham Lands Shipwrecked Sailors at Boston

Boston, Dec. 19.—The United States revenue cutter Gresham steamed into the harbor yesterday, bringing the crews of the wrecked schooners Abbie G. Cole and S. A. Fownes and towing the derelict schooner Stephen G. Loud.

The government craft shows no scars from the great seas she surmounted, or visible evidence of the perils undergone, the hardships endured by the officers and crew in their patrol of the coast during the tempests and cold of the past week.

On her deck were grouped the members of the crews she had rescued from death. These men had been found benumbed by cold and starving, clinging desperately to their wave-buffeted craft, expecting every comber that dashed over their useless vessels would bring an end to their lives.

AVIATOR WHITE HURT

Machine Completely Wrecked While Making a Trial Flight

Dover, Eng., Dec. 19.—A large number of aviators have been waiting here to compete for the $20,000 offered by Baron De Forest for the longest flight across the English channel in 1910, the flight to be made by an Englishman in an English built machine.

Grahame-White ascended for a trial flight in a strong wind. His machine soon began to rock and he was unable to restore its equilibrium. It turned over and plunged to the ground and was completely wrecked.

The aviator fell a little to one side. It was thought at first that he had suffered concussion of the brain, as he was unconscious, but he soon recovered consciousness and it was found that he had received nothing more than some bad cuts about the face. It is expected that he will be about again within a week.

TWENTY COUPLES WED IN A BUNCH

Members of Sect Which Failed to Recognize Cupid

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 19.—Ignoring a law that ignored Cupid, that neither recognized love nor marriage, forty members of the Israelite colony, twenty men and as many women, were married at the sect's headquarters here Sunday. A local justice of the peace tied the twenty knots.

The Israelite colony was established here about eight years ago by Benjamin and Mary Purnell. In that time, with but one exception, there has not been a wedding at the colony, which numbers several hundred, until yesterday's event.

According to the popular interpretation, Benjamin's faith failed to recognize the little god of love. Recently William Hannaford defied Benjamin's edict by marrying his sweetheart. Twenty other young men and women also fell before the darts of Cupid, and the result was twenty engagements.

GET TEN MONTHS EACH

Drew and Wardell Sentenced For False Weighing of Sugar

New York, Dec. 19.—Charles D. Drew and Charles H. Wardell, former head government weighers, who were convicted last September of having been in a conspiracy to defraud the United States out of full duty through false weighing of sugar, and having accepted bribes from Thomas S. Doyle, an employe of the Arbuckle docks in Brooklyn, were sentenced in the United States circuit court to ten months' imprisonment in the penitentiary on Blackwell's island.

Immediately after imposing sentence Judge Martin granted a stay of six days to allow counsel to appeal. Delay in passing sentence was due to motions made in their interest, all of which were at last denied.

DUMB FOR MANY WEEKS

Sick Woman Suddenly Recovers Voice and Then Dies

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 19.—Recovering her voice suddenly after having been dumb many weeks, Mrs. Albert Hook, aged 20, called her husband and other members of the family to her bedside, bade them farewell in a firm tone and died.

She had been ill for a year, and her voice strangely ringing through the house startled the family to believing she had been miraculously restored to health, but when they reached her she was dying.

Poor Cigarmaker Gets Fortune

Tampico, Ills., Dec. 19.—Phillip Kempf, a cigarmaker, earning $16 a week here, was summoned to Rochester, N. Y., where a fortune of $50,000 awaits him. It was left by an uncle.

Never Sick In Hundred Years

Columbus, O., Dec. 19.—An apostle of pure water and fresh air, John Nolan died yesterday, aged 100 years. Nolan was never sick a day. He did not wear glasses.

LE BLANC GIRL IS INNOCENT

But Judge Says She Knows Who Murdered Glover

HE NAMES SUSPECTED WOMAN

Says He Would Have Set Verdict Aside If Jury Had Convicted Hattie—Nothing Has Happened to Change Higgins' Opinion That Cape Breton Girl Was Slayer—What Jurors Have to Say

Boston, Dec. 19.—The Post says: Judge Daniel W. Bond, who presided at the LeBlanc trial, last night told a Post reporter named the person—a woman—who in his opinion murdered Clarence F. Glover.

He also declared his belief that Hattie LeBlanc knew who killed Glover, although he was emphatic in his belief in her innocence. He did think she was in the laundry at the time of the shooting and he believes she knows who fired the fatal shot.

"There is ground for believing," Judge Bond said, "that when Hattie returned to the Glover house from the laundry Mrs. Glover suggested that it was best for her to hide until she could be got away."

He declared Hattie LeBlanc to be absolutely immune from prosecution as an accessory to the murder of Clarence Glover, in event any other person should be named as the one who actually did the shooting.

Continuing his discussion of the famous murder mystery Judge Bond intimated that his belief in Hattie's innocence is so strong that he would have set the verdict aside had the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

He said that he felt that nothing had been brought out in the trial to justify further action by the government, and that the whole matter might as well be dropped.

The publication of Judge Bond's comments upon the trial in which he presided upon the bench caused a sensation yesterday.

District Attorney Higgins was deeply interested in a copy of the interview shown to him by a Post reporter.

"There is nothing I care to say about the trial in any of its phases, or as to what may happen in the future," said the district attorney. "I performed the duty that was mine to perform as honestly and as well as it was in my power to do it.

"There is no doubt about who killed Clarence F. Glover. I believe Hattie LeBlanc killed him. If I had not believed it I would not have tried to convict her of the crime. Nothing happened before, or during, or since the trial to change my opinion of the case. I think any fair-minded person who has considered the evidence intelligently should think the same. I don't care to comment upon anything Judge Bond may have said."

Jurors in the Hattie LeBlanc trial declared to the Post yesterday that even if the accusation of Clarence F. Glover against the girl had been admitted as his dying statement, their verdict would not have been affected.

Several of the jurors referred to Mrs. Glover, the widow, in very plain terms. She was called "smooth" by one. Several referred to her as an unreliable witness.

It was intimated by several that the verdict for acquittal was reached on the first ballot. But, because of a pledge taken in the jury room, no juror would state just how the verdict was reached.

Hotel For Tramp Animals

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Tramp dogs and cats in Chicago are to have a $20,000 hotel, the gift of society women who are interested in the work of decreasing the suffering of dumb animals.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

☞White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

TELEPHONE 1208 HOURS 9-12 2-6
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

POSTPONED BY STORK

King George Will Not Be Crowned on the Queen's Birthday

London, Dec. 19.—King George originally planned to have coronation day on the 26th of next May which will be the queen's 43d birthday. But he postponed that important event, according to a report prevalent in court circles, because the stork ordered him to do so.

Queen Mary's accouchment is expected in March. This will be the first birth at Buckingham palace in fifty-four years. The last child born to King George and Queen Mary was Prince John Charles, July 12, 1905.

Dix In Demand at Dinners

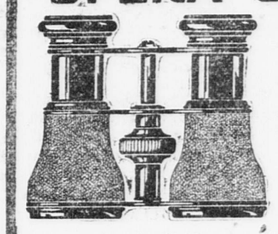
New York, Dec. 19.—Governor-elect Dix marched from the field of banquets Saturday night, smiling and victorious, a veteran of twenty-three engagements in one week.

AIDS AN OLD FOE

Buffalo Bill Meets an Indian Who Nearly Got His Scalp

Omaha, Dec. 19.—Cloudy Face, an Arapahoe Indian chief, who once came near getting Buffalo Bill's scalp, was last night helped by the former Indian fighter when he found the old warrior hungry, sick and destitute in the Union depot in this city. After giving the red man a square meal Colonel Cody purchased for him a ticket back to the reservation and started him homeward to Wyoming.

Cloudy Face had been without food for so long that he was unable to tell Cody how he reached Omaha. He was once one of the most wily and intrepid foes of the whites, and for years there was sworn enmity between him and Cody. He came nearer than any other Indian ever did to getting Buffalo Bill's scalp.

LLOYD'S
OPERA GLASSES


IMPORTED
Black Morocco $4.50
Pearl 6.50
Catalogue on Application
BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Dates Announced for Observance of Christmas

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The pastor spoke on the letter to the sixth church, the church in Philadelphia, at the morning service. This was characterized as the church of patience.

The Sunday school and Davis class met at noon with large attendance.

Miss Gladys Walters led the Christian Endeavor service.

In the evening the pastor gave another of his series of sermons for young men. Topic: "Christ's interest in the young man."

The Bible study class will meet with Mrs. Hobart, 13 Verchild street, Tuesday evening at the usual hour.

The regular prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening at 7.30.

SWEDISH METHODIST.

The pastor preached in the morning from the text I Cor. 6:20. "For ye are bought with a price." The sermon was well delivered and powerful.

The Sunday school hour was given over to rehearsal for the Christmas concert.

The Young People's prayer meeting was led by David Wolander. This meeting was very well attended.

The evening service was led by the pastor. His address was on the subject: "What God is and what God gives." Text: 84th Psalm 12th verse. Miss Olga Olson sang two very pleasing solos.

During the week the choir and the Sunday school children will make final preparations for the Christmas services.

On Christmas Sunday the early morning service will be held at 5.30. Topic: "Christ coming into the world." The choir will render special anthems. At 6.30 in the evening the children's concert will be given. William Gelotte, superintendent of the Sunday school will have it in charge.

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. Carl H. Raupach took for the subject of his Sunday morning service, "The Illuminating power of love," taking for his text 1st Cor. 13-12, "For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known."

The Sunday school was held at the usual hour and was well attended. Junior League was held at 3 P. M.

Miss Katherine Hodgkinson lead the Epworth League at 6.15.

At the evening service the pastor took for his text "Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then, said I, here am I; send me."

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the vestry, Monday at 7.45 P. M.

Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7.45.

The Christmas tree for members of the Sunday school will be in the vestry Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Members of the congregation and their friends are invited.

Next Sunday evening the Sunday school will render a Christmas concert at 7 o'clock.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

The New England conference of Swedish Sunday Schools closed Sunday evening in Pastor Hanson's church at Brewer's corner. All the meetings of the day were well attended and the addresses were powerful and spiritual Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom of Boston spoke at the morning service on the theme "Our secret influence."

Rev. S. E. Molberg of Brockton conducted the afternoon prayer meeting, and in the evening Rev. A. Lindbloom spoke from the text "One thing I know that I was blind and now I see" The subject was "How to see things in the right light." The after-meeting was led by Rev. E. A. Lagerstrom. The meeting consisted largely of prayer and testimony. The orchestra and the church choir furnished special music.

Mr. G. W. Blomquist led the prayer meeting in the evening.

The Saturday evening meeting was addressed by Rev. J. O. Backlund of Boston. He delivered a splendid sermon from the text: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul."

The choir will practice the special Christmas music Tuesday evening.

The regular prayer meeting will take place on Thursday at 7.30. Friday evening the decoration committee will do the decorating in the vestry and church auditorium.

The early morning service will be held at 5.30 on Christmas morning.

The children's concert will take place Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

WOLLASTON M. E.

Rev. Wesley Wiggin, the pastor preached an excellent sermon Sunday morning from Matthew 13:33. He showed the leavening power of the gospel in the hearts of men.

No sessions of the Sunday school or Junior League were held, and will also be omitted next Sunday.

"From the watch tower" was the subject at the Epworth League meeting with A. B. Cassidy leader.

At the 7 P. M. service a speaker from Boston told of the World-in-Boston movement. A pleasing duet was sung by Masters Will Jackson and Frank Dunham.

The Queen Esther circle will meet Wednesday evening with Miss Nettie Crittendon, Taylor street.

Christmas vespers are announced for next Sunday at 5.45 P. M.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The impressive story of the death of David and his charge to Soloman to be strong and show himself a man, was the scripture reading chosen by Rev. Carl G. Horst at the Wollaston Unitarian church on Sunday morning. Following this scripture lesson was a helpful and sincere exhortation to all young men to early choose the path leading to supreme and complete mastery over all that hinder in the development of the higher self. Earthly possessions pass away but character is immortal, and to man alone is given the opportunity to make the choice between good and evil. In the vegetable and animal world, the sphere is already determined, but man holds his destiny in his own hand, and in manfully and nobly gaining the mastery over temptation he experiences a sense of power that is cumulative.

The question a high minded young man should ask himself as he faces his life work is not where the day leads so much as what he is going to be and what he can contribute to the sum of helpfulness in his day and generation.

On account of the prevalence of scarlet fever in the community the sessions of the Sunday school both at 10.45 and 12 o'clock were omitted.

The Young Men's League (to which all men under eighty are welcome) met as usual in the church auditorium after the morning service of worship to consider "The church in its relation to social service."

The annual collections to meet the expenses incident to the Christmas festival of the Sunday school was taken Sunday. Those who were not present are requested to send their contribution to Frank A. Page, 107 Winthrop avenue.

Rev. Carl G. Horst attended today the sessions of the Ministerial Union of Boston.

Tuesday evening, Dec. 20, the Wollaston Social club will hold its regular monthly meeting. The committee in charge have arranged a fine program.

Wednesday, Dec. 21, at 2.30, the Ladies' Aid Alliance will meet in the vestry. A paper on "The dawn of Christianity, as illustrated by Ben Hur," will be given by Mrs. H. L. Cate of Canton. There will be special Christmas music. Mrs. R. L. Turner, the well known soloist will sing.

The Wollaston Unitarian church which in three years will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary, is supported by voluntary subscriptions. It has no endowment, it does not rent its pews; its seats are all free and it extends a hearty welcome to all irrespective of creed, color or nationality.

The service of worship, the music and the sermon next Sunday morning will all be appropriate to Christmas. The holy communion will be celebrated at high noon.

The Young People's Religious Union meeting Christmas Sunday evening will be led by Miss Persis A. Thompson, who will speak upon "The Spirit of Christmas."

A special collection will be taken Christmas morning to enable the flower committee to purchase flowers for the altar, which are then sent to the sick in the parish.

Monthly vespers, largely musical with a short sermon will be resumed the second Sunday in January.

After the New Year a series of special services for the deepening of the moral and spiritual life will be conducted in the church by prominent out-of-town ministers.

On account of scarlet fever in the fifth ward the Christmas entertainment, which was to be held next Friday evening is postponed.

(Continued on Page 6.)

NOT EVERYBODY DISAPPOINTED

Rain Is Very Much Needed by Ice Men and Others

The rain today will be a source of regret not only to belated Christmas shoppers, but to store keepers as well. Everybody hoped that the clear cold weather of last week would continue this week ,as it was ideal Christmas weather. The local storekeepers have made unusual preparations for Christmas and never have they carried as large a line of seasonable goods as at present.

On the other hand the ice men are glad to see it rain. The Meadow Brook ice company have plenty of water in their pond and Saturday had between eight and nine inches of ice. The other ice men were not as fortunate, for while the weather has been cold there was not water enough in either Sheppard's or Eaton's pond to make ice, so that they had none. They say that the season was an unusually dry one and that they have been unable up to the present time to get more than five or six inches of water in their ponds. This is the general complaint everywhere in New England.

BLESSED AND BAPTIZED

Church Rites Over Grand Duke Cyril's Automobile Sleigh

Paris, Dec. 19.—A curious and picturesque spectacle was seen on the Isle de la Jatte in the Seine. It brought into contact, so to speak, the latest phase of modern inventive production and one of the most characteristic rites of the Greco-Rusian church.

Grand Duke Cyril of Russia has caused to be constructed for his use and automobile sleigh, propelled by means of a turbine wheel, which acts in relation to the air as a steamship screw does in water. It is designed to travel across the snow-covered Russian steppes at the rate of sixty miles an hour.

The ceremony performed on the Isle de la Jatte was the blessing and baptism of this machine by clergy of the Russian church. Two popes in their archiac robes officiated. Grand Duchess Victoria was present.

TWO GET LIFE SENTENCE

Italians Admit Killing and Robbing Fellow Countryman

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 19.—Pleading guilty to murler in the second degree, Antonio Scalli and Vincenzo Jamello, both of North Adams, charged with the murder of Giovanni Gannaizzo, also of that city, were sentenced to life imprisonment when they appeared before Judge Crosby in the Berkshire county superior criminal court. The two Italians were taken to the state prison at Charlestown today.

Both men confessed to killing their countryman on the night of Sept. 18, 1909. They said they had been drinking. They took all the money they could find on Gannaizzo and fled to Cheshire. They were arrested two days later. Scalli is 19 years old and Jamello 22.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN BURGLAR FIGHT

Police Catch Robbers Who Tunnelled to Jewelry Store

London, Dec. 19.—The death rol resulting from a fight between the police and burglars in a Cutler street house totals four. The house was occupied by the burglars, who were attempting to make their way into a jewelry store at 119 Houndsditch, when they were surprised by the police. A fierce exchange of shots followed and Sergeant Tucker was killed, Sergeant Bently and Constable Choate were fatally wounded and died in a hospital, while one of the assailants of the police died in a Whitechapel bake shop.

Occupants of the bake shop were arrested. The proprietor of the jewelry store is Henry Harris and he stated that precious stones to the value of $100,000 were in the vaults. The burglars had tunnelled beneath the Harris store.

—"If you want to chase away the blues, use pink lamps," says Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett. Will someboy please give us a pink lamp for a Christmas present?—Somerville Journal.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

LODGE TO SPEAK.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge will speak in Symphony hall, Boston, on the evening of January 3. Announcement to this effect was given out last week. At this meeting Senator Lodge will speak on many issues and the public will be given a chance to hear the real facts regarding them. He will then, it is expected, answer the many alleged misleading accusations that have recently been brought against him by his Democratic adversaries.

Representative Norman H. White, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts House, who is making a thorough investigation of the statements against Senator Lodge contained in the pamphlet issued by Dudley M. Holman ,on behalf of Mr. Foss, during the latter's recent tour of the Cape, said that practically all these charges, so far as examined, were either misstatements of facts, or if true, entirely ignored the underlying facts, and were grossly misleading.

"That pamphlet, issued and distriuted at the Foss meetings on the Cape," said Mr. White yesterday, "charged that the senior senator from Massachusetts voted for 22 increases of duties, and was not recorded on 22 yea and nay votes, and that in no instance did he vote for a reduction of duties, but did vote against a tax on tea.

"It is not enough to speak, but to speak true. Senator Lodge voted for more than 650 reductions below the existing Dingley law. Also, after the tariff bill passed the House, Senator Lodge voted in favor of 35 offered amendments reducing the rates in the Payne bill. The Foss circular does not mention these 35. Did Mr. Foss forget them? They were reported by Senator Lodge's committee. Nearly all Republicans voted for them and nearly all Democrats voted for them. Mr. Foss has not shown Senator Lodge's real record. He does not mention everything, just a little, that's all.

"The only fair judgment on a senator's vote on the tariff bill is his vote on the completed bill.

"Senator Lodge voted for the Payne bill. Under the terms of that bill duties were decreased on articles whose yearly consumption is $4,951,878,575, and increased on articles whose yearly consumption is $878,756,074. Thus for one dollar increase the Payne bill made five dollars decrease, and most increases were on luxuries, spirits, wines, silks, etc. The annual consumption of luxuries on which duties were increased amounts to $637,903,649 out of the total consumption of $878,756,074, mentioned above.

"Yet the pamphlet circulated at the Foss meetings on the Cape bears this paragraph—'Scan this record carefully and see how Senator Lodge voted in every instance both on bill and amendment, against any proposition to lower the cost of living to the people and how he voted to increase it on every suggestion of special privilege.' Is this statement fair?

"The fact is that Mr. Foss and his friends mention only votes of Senator Lodge in which he declined to vote for further decreases after many reductions had already been made. Of course the Governor-Elect does not tell the people of these reductions, but is willings to leave the public in the dark as to the real and fundamental facts and conditions."

BRAINTREE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

The beautiful weather and the famous speaker scheduled called out a large audience to the meeting of the forum yesterday afternoon at All Souls' church, Braintree. All present had their pleasurable expectations fully realized and it was conceded by everyone that this was the finest meeting yet held both as regards entertainment and instruction. The address was given by Mr. Charles Zueblin, a former professor in Chicago University and now "Professor-at-large to the American People." He spoke on "Man and Woman" treating his subject with such profound thought and at the same time interjecting such flashes of sparkling wit that his hearers were delighted and found the time for closing the meeting had come all too soon. Mr. Zueblin was very aptly introduced by the pastor of the church, Mr. Freeman, as "Mr. Zueblin of America."

The speaker's remarks were chiefly concerned with the ponderous topic of evolution but at the same time delivered in such terse and pleasing fashion as to be very helpful and instructive to all. He dwelt on the economic, political, social, moral and intellectua a development of man and woman and drew some interesting parellels showing the differences between the sexes in respect to character, temperament, disposition etc. Mr. Zueblin is a firm believer in woman's suffrage, co-education and the absolute equality of the sexes, arguing that such equality will result in the highest development of the human race.

He has some pronounced and sensible ideas on courtship, marriage and family life, also the instruction of children regarding the great facts of life and existence. Mr. Zueblin is a most forceful and entertaining man and one who is in demand from one end of the country to the other to lecture on matters of civic concern. At the conclusion of his talk the speaker answered several questions and was tendered a rising vote of thanks by the assemblage.

There will be no meeting next Sunday, the 25th, but on January 1st Rabbi Charles Fleischer will speak on "Progressive Religion." Rabbi Fleischer is a powerful and convincing speaker and should bring out a large audience. He is a man much in the public eye, one who speaks on timely topics and who commands the respect of all.

ADVERTISED GOODS PREFERRED.

"I buy advertised articles by preference," says C. H. Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, "but I never write to the advertiser." Millions of others do likewise, and the advertiser has no knowledge of how widely he has influenced the public save in the gradual swelling of his receipts.

Advertising has become such an absolute essential of modern business, that most people have come to regard it as the inevitable accompaniment of a winning enterprise. If some one suggested that you patronize Jones' store out at Lone Cross roads, it would not seem possible to you that Mr. Jones could get business enough in that lonely neighborhood to keep good asortments and sell goods on a narrow profit margin.

Just the same ,if anyone suggests that you patronize a non-advertising store, you regard it as improbable that any such store can have trade enough to enable it to serve the public efficiently.

WANTED RED CROSS SEALS BEFORE SHE DIED

A man walked up to a Red Cross Christmas Seal booth in New York a few days ago, and after fumbling around till he found a dollar in his pocket, asked for a hundred seals. He seemed to want to say something, and the chance being given, he told how these greetings were to be put on some letters, cards, and little packages his wife was to send out this Christmas.

"She told me to be sure to get them," he said, "and so I came here before going to the shop, for it's the last Christmas she'll have a chance to remember those she loves. The doctor says she may hold out till after New Year's but her cough's so bad now I don't much think she will."

Then he turned quickly and hurried away.

A CHRISTMAS PARTY.

"The original entertainment was given by a Sunday-school teacher to her class of boys and girls," says Alice P. Robinson in Woman's Home Companion "and was intended to instruct as well as amuse. The children were old enough to have some idea of geography.

"Soon after the children reached the teacher's home, she conducted them into a room decorated to represent Norway. Here they were greeted in a most cordial manner by a maiden dressed in the costume of Norway, who told them the story of Christmas in that land, which is called Yulepeace instead of Christmas, and is celebrated by feasting and all quarrels are made up. She spoke of the preparation made by the mothers, the way the gifts are distributed from the trees, how the birds are remembered with bunches of wheat placed outside the windows on poles, that all animals are given extra portions of supper, and how strangers are treated on Yule-peace day. After the story little girls in the native costumes of Norway appeared from behind the pine trees with trays of dainty sandwiches.

"Then they went into another room where dainty articles from Holland were displayed in a very artistic manner. After a hearty welcome from a maiden in the typical Dutch costume, some time was spent looking at the pretty things before she began the story of how the Dutch people keep Christmas—as a holy day. Among other things she told them that the Dutch children think Santa Claus comes driving a white horse instead of deer, and they clean their wooden shoes and fill them with hay and oats for the white horse. Here ice cream was served in little wooden shoes with flags of the country stuck in them like sails.

"They next visited Denmark. Here was a pretty Christmas tree with dainty gifts for each one. A young lady in the native dress told how Christmas is celebrated there.

"Then they went to a pretty room decorated with American flags and bright holly wreaths and other greens —that was America. Here they had a merry time eating nuts and fruits and playing games."

☞White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias ,Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 392 Quincy

WOOD for SALE
$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree
Tel. 15-3 Braintree
Dec. 12-tf--o-17-tf

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box $1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14-1m

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 585-3 Jan. 17-tf

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report, free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA.SNOW & CO.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague Cor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

BRIEFS

Soft today.

Quincy may have a green Christmas after all.

Today's rain was a disappointment to most people.

Mrs. Grace Perkins of Whitman is spending a week with Wollaston firends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cashell have been spending a few days with Brockton friends.

"Winter begins" on Forefathers day, Thursday, Dec. 22, says the Old Farmer's Almanac.

Mrs. Hittie Cady of Whitman is the guest for a week of Mrs. Rosander Drake of this city.

This afternoon should be two minutes longer than a week ago, but the day is not pleasant.

Wilfred Robert the youngest son of H. R. Curwen of Wayland street, is seriously ill at his home.

The Christmas season is here and Christmas parties will be held every day this week, as well as next Monday.

Perhaps you have put off your Christmas shopping until too late. There is not much satisfaction in tramping about on stormy days.

Paul R. Blackmur, the former city Solicitor, was elected on Saturday a member of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Bar Association.

A Christmas entertainment is to be given tomorrow night for the inmates of the Quincy Home by members of the Philanthropy committee of the Quincy Women's club.

The civil service examination for the Quincy janitor service to be held this week Friday will be held at the rooms of the Civil Service commission at the State House, Boston.

Work is a little quiet in the granite district just at the present time although no more so than is usual at this season of the year. Manufacturers say they look for no rush in business until after the holidays and they have some line on how the new bill of prices will read.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

Six Days to Xmas
DEC. 19
About Time to Order That Christmas Tree

93,402,151 NOW LIVE ON UNCLE SAM'S LAND

Census Does Not Include "Little Brown Brothers" of Philippines, Which Would Make the Total 101,100,000.

Cities Show Heavy Growth and Agricultural States Corresponding Decline. Many Remarkable Increases Noted.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

THE population of the United States is 93,402,151. This includes Alaska, Porto Rico and Hawaii, but excludes the Philippines, Guam, Samoa and the Panama canal zone. Including the Philippines according to the census of 1903 and an estimate of Guam, Samoa and the canal zone, the population for the nation and its possessions is 101,100,000. The population of the United States proper, exclusive of Alaska and the island possessions, is 92,035,874.

We now know how big we are. Having asked everybody about his birthplace and his wife's relations, we have cast up the totals into long and headachy columns of figures that proclaim to the world our numerical greatness.

It is quite a showing—over 90,000,000 people for the United States proper, and more than 100,000,000 if we include the United States improper, consisting of the little brown brother of the Philippines. I defy any human being to form even the remotest conception of what ninety millions mean, but whatever it is we have it.

It is some comfort to know that never in human history has a nation grown so rapidly. Since the republic was founded, a little more than a century ago, we have multiplied our population by thirty. On an average we have doubled our size every twenty-five years. If Senator Hoar was right in declaring that a column of figures could move an American to tears, the whole nation should fairly boo-hoo over the 1910 census.

Cities' Growth Increasing.

The one big fact that stands out of the result is that most of the growth in the last decade has been in the cities. Some of the country districts have actually gone backward. One agricultural state, Iowa, has shown a decrease. Some of the very small towns and villages have shown the same tendency. But the cities from 10,000 upward have almost all advanced, some of them enormously. In the list of the world's ten largest cities the United States has three.

We have one city exceeding 4,000,000 in population, two exceeding 2,000,000, three exceeding 1,000,000, or four if the environs of Boston were included in that city; eight exceeding 500,000, eighteen exceeding 300,000, twenty-eight exceeding 200,000 and fifty exceeding 100,000. These fifty are distributed through twenty-six states. New York, Massachusetts and Ohio each has five; Pennsylvania, California and New Jersey each contains three; Missouri, Michigan, Minnesota, Connecticut and Tennessee can boast two each, and the other fifteen range from Rhode Island to Oregon. At the head of these forty-nine cities stands, of course, New York, at the foot Albany.

Of cities between 25,000 and 100,000 there are 175, with the list yet incomplete. These are distributed through thirty-seven states. Massachusetts heads the list with twenty; Pennsylvania comes next with seventeen; New York follows with sixteen; New Jersey and Illinois have eleven each; Ohio has nine; Texas and Iowa each have eight; Michigan and Wisconsin each boasts seven; California and Connecticut each claims five; Indiana, Virginia and Rhode Island each contains four; Georgia, Kentucky, Missouri and Kansas follow with three each, while there are twelve states with two each and six with one each. Of cities below 25,000 the number is legion. In this class the returns as yet are scattering.

Smaller Cities Grow.

On the whole, the smaller cities have grown more rapidly than the larger ones. The rate of increase in those above 100,000 has been 31.8 per cent, while the showing is 39.4 per cent in those between 25,000 and 100,000. Sixteen of these smaller cities have more than doubled their population in the decade. The largest growths have been that of Oklahoma City, which has the enormous percentage of 539.7 increase to its credit. Muskogee, in the same state, is but little behind. Other cities in this group that have trebled or doubled their growth are Pasadena, Berkeley and San Diego, Cal.; Flint, Mich.; Fort Worth, El Paso and Dallas, Tex.; Tampa and Jacksonville, Fla.; Huntington, W. Va.; Schenectady, N. Y.; Tacoma, Wash.; Wichita, Kan., and Waterloo, Ia.

The largest growth in cities of over 100,000 is that of Birmingham, Ala., which increased at the rate of 245.4 per cent. Los Angeles was a close second with 211.3 per cent. Seattle had 194 per cent. Other cities in this class that more than doubled their population were Portland, Ore.; Spokane, Wash., and Oakland, Cal. Notable gains were also made by Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Denver, Atlanta and Richmond.

One most gratifying feature of the returns is the growth of the south, especially of southern cities. Charlotte, N. C.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Lynchburg, Va.; Macon, Ga.; Norfolk, Va.; Portsmouth, Va.; Roanoke, Va.; Shreveport, La., and several other cities, in addition to those already mentioned, show something of the advance movement in the new south.

San Francisco Undaunted.

Another pleasing fact is that despite her disastrous earthquake and fire San Francisco has increased from 342,782 in 1900 to 416,912 in 1910. Oakland and Berkeley are virtually parts of San Francisco, and both have grown prodigiously. If the two be added to the larger city the total population is increased to more than 600,000. Moreover, the enormous increase of Los Angeles and other California cities shows something of the growth that might have taken place in San Francisco had it not been for her disaster. Taking the cities of Los Angeles, Oakland, Berkeley, Sacramento, San Diego, San Jose and Pasadena, they show an aggregate increase from 260,252 in 1900 to 653,317 in 1910, or 151 per cent. If San Francisco had enjoyed a like growth she would have had in 1910 a total of 860,383.

While it is too much to claim that but for her calamity she might have reached this result, since a large city is not apt to show as great a percentage of increase as a small one under similar conditions, it is entirely within bounds to say that the city beside the Golden Gate would have gone up to a half million or 600,000 but for her disaster. The more force is lent to this contention by the fact that some of the increase in other California cities is due to the fugitives from San Francisco.

Boston's Suburbs Separate.

The Bostonians claim that the census figures represent only a part of the population of their city, since Boston actually includes Cambridge and a number of other cities that are returned separately. If there were a greater Boston, as there is a greater New York, her population would be 1,206,791 instead of the 670,585 now returned.

In like manner the Twin Cities in Minnesota can contend that the two are essentially one in all but name and that a true rating can only be given them by consolidation. Thus if Minneapolis and St. Paul were combined we should have 516,152, ranking as the ninth city in the country.

There are many other cities that would considerably augment their population by a little expansion. The case of San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley has already been mentioned. Likewise Omaha and South Omaha practically constitute one city. If the two were joined together they would have 150,097 instead of the 124,096 given to Omaha now. The cities in northern New Jersey would be most affected by consolidation, however. Thus Elizabeth, the Oranges and several smaller villages contiguous to Newark would give the metropolis of New Jersey more than half a million. Bayonne, Hoboken, West Hoboken and several other towns are really a continuation of Jersey City. If these were added the total population would run a close second to the greater Newark.

State Lines Retard Totals.

All the expansions mentioned could be readily made, since the cities to be consolidated are in the same states. There are a number of cases, however, where state lines intervene. Notable among these are Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan. Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., furnish another case in point, and so do St. Louis, Mo., and East St. Louis, Ill. Then there are Cincinnati, O., and Covington, Ky.; also Philadelphia, Pa., and Camden, N. J. Chicago would also gain enormously by adding contiguous Indiana territory.

The most conspicuous case of the sort, however, is that of New York and the cluster of cities and villages in northern New Jersey. For twenty or thirty miles, or even more, men commute daily from New Jersey into New York. In business interests and in all other ways, except that of residence, they are as much New Yorkers as those living on Manhattan Island. All north Jersey is practically becoming one solid city, made up for the most part of commuters. The tunnels under the Hudson river are rapidly adding to this class. It is a conservative claim that there are at least 1,000,000 of these Jerseyites who really belong to the great city, and some estimates have put the number considerably higher.

Within the fifteen mile radius of New York are to be found ten New Jersey cities of more than 25,000 inhabitants each, Jersey City, Newark, Paterson, Bayonne, East Orange, Elizabeth, Hoboken, Orange, Passaic and West Hoboken having a combined population of 1,094,303. Within the same radius are a vast number of smaller cities and villages, such as the other Oranges, the Montclairs, Hackensack, Bloomfield, Plainfield, Englewood, Rutherford, Arlington, Nutley and many more with a population that would swell this total to probably 2,000,000. Of course all these are not New York commuters, but the vast majority are.

Gotham's Radius Large.

Besides, Yonkers, Mount Vernon, New Rochelle and other cities in New York state are really a part of New York city, although not in the corporate limits. A large number of commuters also go into Connecticut. If all of these were added to the metropolis its total population would probably exceed 6,000,000.

The states likewise show gains. New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio retain their relative rank as first, second, third and fourth respectively, but there is a shift in fifth place and in most of the others. Texas goes to fifth place, Massachusetts to six, and Missouri becomes seventh. The state of Washington shows the greatest growth in the decade, with Oklahoma a close second. Both have more than doubled their populations. Nevada has also shown a great growth, although she remains at the foot of the list despite her gain. Others that show phenomenal growth are New Mexico, California, Colorado, Florida, Oregon, the two Dakotas and Washington. The average increase the country over is approximately 20 per cent. A comparison shows that the great industrial states are well over this figure, while the agricultural states usually fall behind.

The most phenomenal growth in the entire nation, outside of one or two of the recently admitted commonwealths, is on the Pacific coast. The south averages well and has kept abreast of the entire country. The states without industries other than farming are the ones that suffer most. Yet a close analysis shows that the loss here has not been so much in the rural districts themselves as in the small villages and towns.

Padding Causes Recounts.

Several western cities were accused of padding, and recounts were ordered. The most conspicuous cases were those of Seattle, Tacoma and one other city in Washington. Portland, Ore.; Fort Smith, Ark., and some others were also involved. Reductions were made by the recounts, and a few enumerators were arrested. The reverse process occurred in Atlantic City, N. J. There the mayor complained that the showing was too small, and a recount showed a slight increase.

Taking the country as a whole, we are a rather large proposition. One prophet looks ahead 250 years and says we shall then have one-half the people on the globe, a trifle under 2,000,000,000, to be prophetically exact—evidently a case of census figures on the brain. But without boasting we are a mighty people, not only when counted by the head, but when measured by other standards—for example, the power to do things. As for the future, we still have plenty of room, and who can set the bounds on the coming years?

RANK OF STATES.

1. New York.	25. Arkansas.
2. Pennsylvania.	26. South Carolina.
3. Illinois.	27. Maryland.
4. Ohio.	28. West Virginia.
5. Texas.	29. Nebraska.
6. Massachusetts.	30. Washington.
7. Missouri.	31. Connecticut.
8. Michigan.	32. Colorado.
9. Indiana.	33. Florida.
10. Georgia.	34. Maine.
11. New Jersey.	35. Oregon.
12. California.	36. South Dakota.
13. Wisconsin.	37. North Dakota.
14. Kentucky.	38. Rhode Island.
15. Iowa.	39. New Hampshire.
16. North Carolina.	40. Montana.
17. Tennessee.	41. Utah.
18. Alabama.	42. Vermont.
19. Minnesota.	43. New Mexico.
20. Virginia.	44. Idaho.
21. Mississippi.	45. Arizona.
22. Kansas.	46. Delaware.
23. Oklahoma.	47. Wyoming.
24. Louisiana.	48. Nevada.

[If the territories were included Porto Rico would rank 31, the District of Columbia 44, Hawaii 49 and Alaska 52, the states below these numbers moving down accordingly.]

GROWTH IN 120 YEARS.

The first census of the United States was taken in 1790. There were at that time seventeen states. The total population of the nation was 3,929,214.

COAL MINE TESTS BY THE GOVERNMENT

Pittsburg, Dec. 17.—With a big coal mine, operated by experienced miners and other employes, the United States bureau of mines is about to start experimental work on the largest scale ever attempted in any country. The Pittsburg Coal company has turned over to the bureau an important mine at Bruceton and the work will begin next week.

The bureau's experts will experiment in the production of mine explosions, give lessons on rescue work under actual conditions; show the proportion of pure air needed for each employe; explain ventilation, particularly as it applies to work following an accident; test mining machinery, and give great care to the elimination of dust as a possible cause of explosions.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

GAS READING LAMPS
--- MAKE ---
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

"ADMIRALTY"
NEW RIVER COAL
THE SMOKELESS KIND
FOR YOUR STEAM PLANTS
1435 TONS
Just Unloaded from Barge "THAXTER"
This Steam Coal makes more steam with less ash per ton than any coal sold in this market. You will save trouble and worry by using this Coal.
Try a Ton at Once
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair
Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

PETITION.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in General Court assembled. The undersigned, citizens of Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham in said Commonwealth, respectfully petition for legislation to provide for repairing, and altering the Weymouth Fore River Bridge in and over the tide waters of Weymouth Fore River in the Counties of Norfolk and Plymouth and Commonwealth aforesaid.

WM. T. SHEA,
EDWARD W. HUNT
WALTER W. HERSEY,
Bridge Commissioners or Trustees of said bridge.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Office of the Secretary
Boston, Dec. 7, 1910.

I direct the publication of the foregoing petition in the Quincy Ledger.

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary.
Dec. 8-3t 8, 15, 19

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Norfolk,ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of

HELEN E. CARTER
late of Quincy in said County, deceased intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Hallock H. Hill of Quincy without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-first day of December A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of December A. D. 1910.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 19

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

PREPAREDNESS FOR CONFLICT

Topic of Taft's Address Before Arbitration Advocates

WAR SCARE WITHOUT BASIS

At Peace With All Nations of the World, but We Have Not Reached the Point Where War Is Impossible —Favors Fortification of Panama Canal and Retention of the Present Regular Army

Washington, Dec. 19.—President Taft, addressing the closing banquet of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, allayed "the so-called war scare which has furnished pabulum for the newspapers during the last few days." He declared that "there is not the slightest reason for such a sensation, because we are at peace with all the nations of the world, and are quite likely to remain so."

He said his purpose in outlining the preparedness of the United States for war "at a peace meeting" was to show by contrast the great worthiness of the movement for a permanent court of arbitral justice and universal peace.

The president summarized the condition of the national defenses and urged that a policy of "wise military preparation" be pursued. He emphasized the fact that the American people never would consent to the maintenance of a standing army sufficient to cope with that of the greater powers.

The president urged the retention of the present regular army, the improvement of the national militia, the passage of the pending volunteer bill to go into operation should war be declared, and the passage of a bill now before congress providing for a force of additional officers who will be "able in time of peace to render efficient service in drilling the militia of the state," and, finally, the accumulation of guns and ammunition, "to equip and arm the force we could collect under our colors in an emergency."

President Taft asserted that the best method of ultimately securing disarmament among nations was the establishment of an international court and the development of a code of international equity.

Declaring that the country has not reached a point where was is impossible, he cited the Panama canal question. He said:

"Take thus the question of the Panama canal. We have a property which when completed will be worth $400,000,000—at least it will have cost us that. It has been built not alone to farther the cause of the world's commerce, but also to bring our eastern and western seaboards closer together and secure us the military benefit enabling our naval fleet to pass quickly from one ocean to the other.

"Now the works of the canal are of such a character that a war vessel might easily put the canal out of commission. We are authorized to police the canal and protect it, and we have the treaty right to erect fortifications there.

"It is said that we could neutralize the canal and, by inducing all nations to agree not to attack the canal, secure its immunity from injury. But the trouble is that nations are quite as likely as men to violate their obligations under great stress like that of war."

HOMICIDE AND SUICIDE

Mother and Daughter, Each a Widow, Are Killed by Gas

Orange, N. J., Dec. 19.—Four wide open gas jets in three adjoining rooms caused the deaths of Mrs. Josephine Harriman and Mrs. Bella Zeliff, mother and daughter, both widows, in East Orange.

The deputy county physician declares it to be a case of suicide and homicide, but could find no indication of which woman turned on the gas.

Mrs. Harriman was 70 years old and her daughter, Mrs. Zeliff, who conducted a dressmaking establishment, was about 40.

TAKES PLACE OF SINGERS

Phonographic Music at Funeral of Rich Widow of a Turfman

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 19.—Phonographic music took the place of singers at the funeral here of Mrs. Byron McClelland, widow of a widely known turfman, and one of the wealthiest women in the south.

While dying Mrs. McClelland heard a record of sacred music by a quartet of noted singers, and she requested that the machine be used at her funeral.

Chinese Church In New York

New York, Dec. 19.—The only Chinese church in the country, save that of San Francisco, was organized here with Rev. Huie Kin as pastor. It will be known as the First Chinese Presbyterian church of New York. It has seventeen members.

SENATOR LORIMER

His Election to Congress Has Been Investigated

Photo by American Press Association.

FREED OF BRIBE TAINT

Lorimer Did Not Distribute Money to Secure Seat In Senate

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senator William Lorimer of Illinois was given a clean bill of health by the subcommittee on privileges and elections, which investigated charges of bribery made in connection with his election to succeed Senator Hopkins.

The sub-committee asserted that the evidence did not show Lorimer had been connected with the alleged distribution of a "jackpot" or any money to influence the legislature in the preferment of himself for the senatorship.

MISTAKE OF GROCER SHAKES UP A TOWN

Customers Got Gasolene In Mistake For Kerosene

Readsboro, Vt., Dec. 19.—One woman dying, several injured and the sides of dwelling houses blown out, are some of the results of a series of explosions which occurred here when the inhabitants started their Sunday morning fires with gasolene which had been left by the village grocer.

The grocer had secured a barrel of gasolene which he distributed about the village in gallon and half gallon lots, under the impression he was selling kerosene.

For two hours detonations in town and hillside, exploding stoves, bursting lamps, and dynamite effects in the use of the strange kerosene, turned the town into confusion.

Mrs. George Johnson, 39 years old, one of the customers of H. B. Billings, who received the mixture labelled kerosene, was fatally burned by the explosion of a lamp filled with the unstable liquid.

LANGE'S BODY IS FOUND

Lieutenant Was Pilot of Balloon Lost Some Weeks Ago

Bremen, Dec. 19.—A fishing cutter found in the North sea the body of Lieutenant Lange, pilot of the balloon Saar. The Saar and eight other balloons started in a race from Essen-on-the-Ruhr, Rhenish Prussia, Nov. 13. Seven of the ballons made a safe landing the following day, and later the Hessen descended in North Germany.

The Saar was never head from, although twenty-two German torpedo boats and other war craft searched the North sea for several days. Lieutenant Lange, Lieutenant Rommeler and a civilian, Herr Zimmerman, were on board the Saar.

BOOM FOR LIPPITT

Dinner In Senatorial Candidate's Honor Largely Attended

Providence, Dec. 19.—The candidacy of Henry F. Lippitt for the senatorial toga, which is to be cast off by United States Senator Aldrich on March 4, was "boomed" at a dinner given for that purpose here.

Senators Aldrich and Wetmore and Representative Sheffield came from Washington to lend their support to Lippitt, who is Aldrich's choice for his successor, while many other prominent Republican leaders and manufacturers of the state were guests.

Nashua Boy a Rhodes Scholar

Providence, Dec. 19.—Warren C. Johnson of Nashua, N. H., now a student in the Newton theological seminary, was selected to be the next Rhodes scholar from this state, to take up his residence in Oxford in October, 1911.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

Hub's Colored Janitors Admire Paintings of Multi Millionaire Frick—Story That a Soap Bubble is Only One Two-Millionth of an Inch Thick is by No Means the Thinnest of all Stories—Pathetic Letters of Little Children to Santa Claus—Suffrage Happenings in the Modern Athens.

A hot air notice in a Boston daily newspaper is to the effect that some one has measured the thickness of the film of a soapbubble and reports that it is one 2,500,000th part of an inch. This information will inevitably add greatly to the progress of our civilization. The bubble is not half so thin, however, as some of the statements made by a certain estimable Governor Elect regarding the Senator whom he hopes to displace.

Art has drawing power as well as the circus or the religious revival. The Frick collection of world-famous masterpieces which has been on exhibition for two weeks at the Museum of Fine Arts has at times hardly been visible for the crowds. Thousands of people from cities and towns miles away from the Hub have thronged in to see these treasures of painting. An indication personally noticed of the point to which high art has evidently attained in the modern Athens lay in the incident of two colored gentlemen, evidently janitors, who seriously surveyed and passed profound criticisms on the works by Rembrandt, Gainsborough and the other immortal artists represented in the exhibition. Some of the things they said were not less worthy of repetition than the remarks of sage critics from the daily press. George Gray Barnard, the well known sculptor, who came on from New York especially to visit the Frick paintings, was enthusiastic over the perfection of the new museum, both in construction and possessions. He considers that it is one of the finest in the world and he spent much time among the different collections. Mr. Barnard was also highly approving of the Hub's further improvement in the proposed treatment of the entrance to the Public Library, and he sees much hope for the future of art inthis city in the fact that the New England Puritanism is no longer a stumbling block in its path. This latter conclusion is drawn from the fact that the replica of the Parchante in New York, which has been presented to the new Museum, is no longer held in the low esteem of old, but rather appreciated as in excellent work of art.

A Boston newspaper which with the aid of its readers annually plays the part of Santa Claus to the poor children of the city, is receiving its usual flood of missives multiplied many-fold this season. The continued and extreme cold weather has played havoc with the children of the poor, and the reporters on their rounds of investigation meet with heartrending scenes. Quaint notes from little ones, addressed to the Santa Claus Editor, are carefully preserved and frequently turned over to interested subscribers for personal attention. Last year many hundreds of readers of the paper took one or more of the little notes undplayed the part of Santa themselves, thereby making their own Christmas doubly happy. The offices of the newspaper are a sight for a few days before Christmas, as everything from tin horns and drums to warm wooly mittens and stockings, from bags of candy to baskets of provisions, are sorted out and consigned to those sources where investigation has proved they will be most welcome. A naively pathetic example of some of the little notes which are received by the busy editor is one from a little suburban girl:

"Dear Santa Claus: I write you this leter to let you now, my 3 sisters and I would like some toys for Christmas. My mother is not working and my father is in the insane asylum for 5 years. My sisters age are Francis 5, Hattie 8, Mary 10 and Josephine 12 years. Josephine."

Another little tot explains that her Papa cannot give Santa any money this year, because "he has to pay the baby's way to Heaven."

The sudden and startling severing of relations between the noted opera singer Baklanoff and Director Henry Russell of the Opera Company on the eve of the first presentation in this country of the new opera "La Habanera," in which Mr. Baklanoff was to sing, had all the earmarks of an amazingly good press agent's story, but it nevertheless interested the music loving public of this vicinity tremendously. All the knowing ones suspected at the outset that the differences between the two gentlemen would be settled amicably, and tearfully, without the wholesale ostracism of the famous baritone which Mr. Russell's ultimatum would involve. At the same time anything that will stir New England up to the advantages brought to this section by the opera is a good thing.

Any New Englander who has been at Provincetown or elsewhere on Cape Cod in the winter season will rejoice that the movement for establishing a pension system for retiring life-savers who have passed the best part of their lives in this work has received a new impetus. These brave fellows, who risk their lives and the support of their families on a moment's notice of danger to others are miserably underpaid, their meagre sixty-five dollars a month being barely enough to support their families, to say nothing of saving anything for declining years. The only just recognition of their faithful services would be to see that they should not want for the comforts of life after they reach the age where their strength is not equal to the task of facing the angry waters. The movement for this pension has been strongly upheld in Boston, where the terrors of the "bleak and rockbound coast" bring home to many people the peril which attends the life-saver's work.

What with girl newsies selling the Woman's Journal to Christmas shoppers, with young women meeting in a class for suffrage speaking under the instructorship of Miss Florence Luscomb and with many meetings of one kind and another planned for the next few months, the advocates of equal suffrage at the Hub are not, so to speak, letting the grass grow under their feet as midwinter approaches. On Dec. 16 occurred the big memorial meeting at Faneuil Hall to honor the late Julia Ward Howe, a gathering to which hundreds of Bostonians were attracted by the fame of the speakers as well as by reverence for the departed—the list including the beautiful Madame Lydia Lipkowska of the Boston Opera Company, Mrs. Lionel Marks, the most distinguished of living women playwrights; Rev. Anna H. Shaw, president of the New York State Suffrage Association, and Max Eastman, founder of the New York Men's League for Woman Suffrage. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presence of a number of girls from the New England Conservatory of Music, selected to sing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and other patriotic music. The crowding of people to these suffrage affairs is an indication that a very keen interest has been aroused in the subject in eastern Massachusetts. Tremont Temple, for example, is notoriously a difficult hall to fill, by reason of its vast size. Yet when the local Socialists the other day brought Mrs. Philip Snowden and Albert Suedekum of the German Reichstag upon the platform at a meeting which was somewhat broken up by the necessity of Mr. Snowden's going back to England, an audience of more than two thousand people was present. Again at Lowell, Mrs. Snowden the other day spoke on "Woman Suffrage in England" to a big gathering. The attendance at this year's New Voters' Festival, in Boston, at which several well known suffragists spoke was also an evidence of the very keen public enthusiasm for the establishment of truly democratic conditions of the suffrage.

Ethel Angier.

Boston, Dec. 16, 1910.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Black Bean Soup. Wash one pint of black beans, cover with one quart of cold water, and let soak over night; in the morning pour off the water, and pour over three pints of cold water; cook, covered, until tender, four or five hours; add one tablespoonful of salt the last hour; rub through a strainer; add the strained beans to the water in which they were boiled; return to the soup kettle; melt one tablespoonful of butter; add two tablespoonfuls of flour; stir this into the hot soup; let boil, stirring constantly; add a little pepper; cut two hard boiled eggs in slices; slice thinly one lemon; put all the slices into the tureen and pour the soup over; serve very hot.

Almond Cakes. One pound sifted flour, one-half pound butter, three-fourths pound sugar, two eggs, one-half teaspoon ground ginger, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, four ounces of almonds blanched and chopped very fine. Two ounces of raisins finely chopped. Mix all the dry ingredients together, then rub in the butter, add eggs and spices last of all; roll out half an inch thick; cut in fancy shapes and bake in a slow oven. These are excellent.

Kisses. Put a dot of butter on top of marshmallows and put on butter-thin crackers and bake five minutes, do not let stay in too long or they will spread.

German Fruit Tarts. Crust—Two cupfuls of sifted flour, one teaspoonful of baking-powder, one-third cupful of sugar, three level tablespoonfuls of butter, one egg, one-third cupful of milk. Mix all dry ingredients, then rub butter in with finger-tips until it crumbles. Beat egg into milk, then stir it into the flour with a fork. Place on a well-floured board and roll a little thicker than pie-crust and line sides and bottom of deep layer-cake tins, selecting those having removable sides. For filling use any small fresh fruit that is in season—halved and stoned plums, sliced apples or peaches. Sugar fruit liberally, and if desired pour a custard of one egg to one-half a cupful of rich milk or cream over it before baking. When ready to serve take off the rim of tin and leave tart on bottom sheet, sprinkle with confectioner's sugar, or if suited to the fruit, heap with whipped cream.

Headaches Hard headaches. Dizzy, sick headaches. Burning, throbbing, splitting headaches. And the great majority are all due to constipation. Anything better than Ayer's Pills? Let your doctor decide. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

TO BURN LIQUID FUEL

Battleships and Destroyers to Do Away With Use of Coal

Washington, Dec. 19.—The use of oil as fuel on the railroads of the United States during the last year greatly increased, and the results of its introduction as a fuel in the United States navy have fully met expectations. Steamship companies also are equipping their vessels with oil burning plants.

In the navy last year two battleships, the North Dakota and Delaware, were equipped with oil burning plants and four battleships now in the course of construction will burn oil as auxiliary to coal. Fifteen destroyers also will be equipped for burning fuel oil.

WITHDRAWN FROM SALE

Two Cruisers Transferred to Naval Militia of Pacific States

Washington, Dec. 19.—Orders were issued from the navy department withdrawing from sale at auction the cruisers Boston and Concord and transferring them to the naval militia organizations of Oregon and Washington.

The highest bids for the boats were absurdly small, that in the case of the Boston being only $20,000, while the ship originally cost nearly $1,000,000.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Crescent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	hgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	hgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 49	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 23	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 54
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 46	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 09	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
	8 05 Exp.	8 23	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 36	10 15	hgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 45 r
r 10 04	a	10 50	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	hgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 15	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 37 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	deba	5 58 r
r 3 19	abcdefgh	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 50 r
r 5 34	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 30	ac	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 20	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 45	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	hgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	hgfedcba	10 42 r
9 34	a	9 47	12 15	hgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 39	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	hgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	hgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 13	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 2 10	abc	3 30	5 15	hgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 13	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	hgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	hgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	hgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.01, 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.20 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35, 11.25, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M. 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.35 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 6.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Neponset, 6.23, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.59, 12.29 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.

and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	45 degrees
December 19, 1909,	32 degrees
December 19, 1908,	32 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Pianos
R. E. Foy & Co.—Christmas Specialties
Peterson's Suggestion
Andrew J. Lloyd—Opera Glasses
Alpha Hall—Grand Christmas Dance
Probate Notice

BRIEFS

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. first team was defeated Saturday by Bridgewater Normal school by a score of 38 to 13. Jenkins and Parker did the scoring for Quincy the former, shooting 3 baskets and the latter 2. Morris shot 3 baskets from fouls.

The new 100-foot schooner Enchantress, built for William E. Iselin, was launched from Lawley's yard Saturday, and was christened by Mrs. Iselin. When in commission she will be one of the finest schooner yachts on the Atlantic coast.

Announcement is made of the marriage in Chicago on Wednesday Dec. 14, of William I. Johnson of Quincy, to Miss Harriet, daughter of Mrs. Fern O. Adams of Chicago. Mr. Johnson, who is connected with a Boston Leather house, has recently been transferred from Boston to Chicago. He is the son of Mrs. John Johnson of Gothland street.

Death of Chilian Minister

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senor Don Anibal Cruz, the Chilian minister to the United States, died suddenly of heart disease.

Jews Must Leave Mery Oasis

St. Petersburg, Dec. 19.—The governor general of Turkestan has ordered the expulsion of the Jews from the Mery oasis and their redomiciliation in Bakhara.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the relatives, neighbors and friends who sent beautiful flowers and extended their sympathy I desire to give my heartfelt thanks.

James F. Glover.

Braintree, Dec. 19-1t L-024-1w

BIRTHS

TAYLOR—In Quincy, Dec. 18 a son to Mr. George A. and Mrs. Laura Tupper Taylor of 118 Merrymount road.

MARRIAGES

BROBERG—ERICKSON— In Quincy, Dec. 17, by Rev. A. P. Hanson, Mr. Carl Emil Broberg to Miss Sarah Elvira Erickson, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

HOLLIS—In Braintree, Dec. 17, Mr. Caleb Sumner Hollis, of 61 Cherry street, aged 89 years.

LINCOLN—In Hingham, Dec. 16, Mrs. Phoebe Cordon Lincoln, widow of Allen A. Lincoln, aged 91 years.

MITCHELL—In Scituate, Dec. 16, Mrs. Mary Gregg Mitchell, aged 97 years, 1 month.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BASKET BALL AT Y. M. C. A.

Quincy Teams Again Very Successful

The Quincy 2d team had little difficulty in defeating the Malden team by a score of 32 to 10. The home team played with more snap and showed great accuracy in shooting baskets. Gourlie and Childs were the best scorers for Quincy, the former shooting 4 and the latter 5. Claflin and Rich secured 2 each. Dineen who was put in during the last two minutes of play shot two goals from foul with great accuracy, amid much cheering from the spectators.

The summary:

QUINCY 2d	MALDEN
Childs, Rich, rf	lb Raymond
Gourlie, lf	rb, Gardner
Claflin, c	c, F. Tucker
Miller, Dineen, rb	lf, G. Tucker
Rich, Miller, lb	rf, Lewis

Score—Quincy, 32; Malden, 10. Goals from floor, Gourlie, 4; Childs, 5; Claflin, 2; Rich, 2; Lewis, 1; Gardner, 3. Goals from foul, Gourlie, 3; Dineen 2; Childs, 1; Lewis, 2. Referee, Atcheson. Time, 15 and 20m. halves.

INTERMEDIATES LOSE.

In one of the fastest games played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this year, the Everett Intermediates defeated the Quincy Intermediates by a score of 32 to 29. In the first half Everett had it pretty much her own way but Quincy came back and in the second half was the superior of the two teams. Trask was the star man for Quincy shooting 8 baskets, Bishop shot 3 and Holmes 1. For Everett, Campbell the centre, and Harrison the captain, were the star performers. The former secured 9 and the latter 4 baskets. George Brickley shot 3 baskets for Everett. The game was well played throughout and Quincy lacked but a few moments time to win the victory since Everett was weakening at the end.

The summary:

EVERETT	QUINCY
L. Chanler, lf	rb, Holmes
R. Chanler, lf	rb, Robertson
Brickley, rf	lb, Tirrell
Campbell, c	c, Trask
Harison, rb	lf, Bishop, Estey
Menzis, lb	rf, S. Prout
Marshall, lb	rf, Findley

Score—Everett, 32; Quincy, 29. Goals from floor, Trask, 8 Bishop, 3; Holmes, 1; Campbell, 9; Harrison, 4; Brickley, 3. Goals from fouls, Trask 5. Referee—Parker.

JUNIORS WIN.

The Quincy Juniors played a team from the Noah Torrey school of South Braintree bewteen the halves of the Intermediate game. Andrews and Robertson were the star performers for Quincy. Wesley Brown shot two goals but unfortunately one of them went in the wrong baskets and gave Braintree her only score. Final score 18 to 2 in favor of Juniors.

EMPLOYED BOYS.

The Winthrop team did not show up for a game with the Employed Boys, so two picked teams of Quincy Employed Boys, played instead, Thomas, Pinel and MacDonald were the star performers. MacDonald secured 6 baskets, the largest number for a single player shot in the game.

OTHER GAMES.

The Milton High basket ball team was defeated at North Easton Saturday night 34 to 11.

The Clapp Memorial A. A. team won from Melrose Y. M. C. A. 60 to 17.

The Braintree A. A. was defeated at Hingham by the Mystery club 22 to 18.

SPORTING NOTES.

Frank Bruce and Patsy Cataleno finished fifth in the amateur 20-mile relay race conducted by Co. B of the Fifth regiment, at Charlestown on Saturday night. The winners were Fowler and Silva.

INQUIRY PLAN TURNED DOWN

Russian Students Quit Work In Protest Against Prison Cruelties

St. Petersburg, Dec. 17.—The students of nearly all the high schools have ceased work in protest against cruelties which, it is alleged, are being inflicted upon political prisoners in various parts of the empire.

At a meeting of students held here resolutions denouncing the prison authorities were adopted. At Moscow an indignation meeting, organized by the students of Moscow university, was broken up by the police.

The duma yesterday discussed the interpellation of the opposition members regarding the wholesale flogging of political prisoners in Siberia, but a motion that an inquiry be made into the situation was rejected.

SUNDAY SERVICES

(Continued from page 3.)

FIRST CHURCH.

Rev. Charles Bulkley Ames occupied the pulpit at the First church Sunday morning, preaching a sermon on "Patience."

Sunday evening the Young Peoples Religious Union held a Christmas service. There was special musical selections and reading of Christmas selections by Rev. Charles B. Ames and Mrs. George G. Saville.

Saturday evening the regular Christmas festival of the Sunday school will be held in the chapel. The school will gather in the chapel at 6.30 and sing carols, after which there will be a pleasing entertainment to be followed by a Christmas tree.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Holy communion service was held at 8 o'clock. The regular morning prayer and litany came at 10.30 followed by a sermon by the rector.

The Sunday school and Galahad brotherhood met at noon, and at 7 o'clock in the evening the rector conducted a prayer service with a short address.

The Galahad brotherhood will meet in the rectory Tuesday evening at 7.30 for a short business session.

A special parish meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for the consideration of improvements in the church building.

The Galahad club will be addressed by Huntington Hardwick of Quincy, Thursday evening at 8. He will give a stereopticon talk on his experiences with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

The Men's club debate will occur Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Alexander Fryer and C. W. Hanscom will debate on the question: "Is the high cost of living due to the tariff system."

The Children's festival will be held Saturday, Christmas eve, at 7 o'clock. The carol service will be followed by an address. Then the tree will be illuminated and the presents distributed to the children.

The annual Guild service will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Henry S. Nash of the Theological school Cambridge will be the speaker.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

Rev. Gerhard H. Palmgren, pastor of the church spoke on a very timely topic at the Sunday evening service of the church. "How to celebrate Christmas" Text 1 Cor. 5:8.

Mr. Palmgren said in part: "Holidays are of as much importance to us as the oasis is to a traveller on the desert, they are what the Lord's day is after a week of toil. The Scandanavians are lovers of holidays because they are and always have been a hard working people and they welcome the change with great joy.

But the best and holiest things may be abused, the celebration of our national holidays prove this.

Thanksgiving which should be a sacred day becomes a day of feasting and unholy living and the original thought is almost obliterated. This abuse is to be deplored.

The same may be said of Christmas. Sacred memories are connected with this holy season among our people but also memories of the opposite occur. Dissipation and unholy living are too often associated with it. The speaker on his way home from a Christmas morning service saw two intoxicated men fighting. The scene made a painful and discordant impression on those who had just been hearing of "Peace on earth, good will to men" in sermon and song.

The so-called Christmas dances which are so common among our people are wholly un-Christian and that way of observing the season ought to be banished.

The custom of making Christmas is often abused. The beautiful origin of the idea coming from God's priceless gift to mankind is often lost sight of and the giving is oftentimes carried too far.

A workman known to the speaker spent $100 on Christmas. Most of the presents were vain and worthless and were given to unworthy persons. He was praised of course by the recipients but did God approve of such gifts?

Our money could be spent for charity and other purposes which would bring much more happiness and real joy.

On the other hand, selfishness should receive its death blow at Christmas time for it is wholly anti-Christian. A careless and everyday-like spending of the season is a bar to the purest and sweetest Christmas joy.

Many people sleep the greater part of the forenoon and show by dress and action that they are without the Christmas spirit. Taking part in the Juliotta should be general and lastly, a personal acceptance of Christ in the heart, home and church is necessary for receiving the holiest of Christmas blessings."

The Juliotta will be observed at 5 o'clock next Sunday morning. There will be special music and a service befitting the best and holiest day in the year for the people of the church.

The children's concert will be given at 6 o'clock in the evening of Christmas Sunday.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. James A. Matheson, the pastor took for his text of the morning, Rom. 6.23, "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life." This service as well as the others called out a large audience.

The Sunday school atendance was very large. The Primary department had over 75 children present.

At the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting the East Norfolk Union delegates to Sagamore and Springfield gave excellent reports of the meetings they attended. Mis Ruth Taylor spoke for Sagamore and Miss Ida L. Thomas for Springfield.

Rehearsals for the Christmas exercises will be carried on during the week.

The Young People's prayer meeting will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening and the regular church prayer meeting will follow it.

The Christmas tree and concert will be held Monday evening.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. A. M. Thompson, the pastor took for his morning theme, "Christians as Epistles of Christ." The service was well attended, and the Sunday school had the largest attendance it has had for for a long time.

The young people's meeting at 6 in the evening was addressed by Miss Ruth Taylor of Wollaston, the Union delegate to Sagamore. Miss Taylor gave an excellent address on the summer institute at Sagamore beach. The evening service at 7 was addressed by the pastor on the topic, "The church relation to social questions." The special anthem rendered by the choir was of a high order.

Special Christmas services will be held next Sunday and the children will have their Christmas tree and concert Monday evening.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

The morning service was addressed by Rev. George A. Hall of Brookline. A fine sermon was delivered to a large congregation.

In the evening an illustrated address was given by the pastor, Rev. Edwin N. Hardy. "The topic was "The early life of Our Lord." About 40 colored views from paintings by William Hole, were used for illustration.

The annual Christmas entertainment for Bethany Bible school will be held Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in the chapel. The Christmas concert by the Sunday school children will take place Sunday evening at 6.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

The pastor spoke at the morning service taking for his topic: "The bridegroom's friend and the bridegroom." In the evening the topic chosen was: "He is in our midst."

During the week, rehearsals for the concert and the special service, Christmas morning will be held in the church.

The Julotta will be held at 5.30 Christmas morning. This is the biggest service of the year for the people of the church and it is expected that the church will be overcrowded as usual. The pastor will take for his subject: "There goes a message of joy throughout the world."

There will be special instrumental music, Christmas anthems by the choir and songs by several soloists. High mass will be observed by the congregation.

Special decorations will be arranged and the church will be lighted by hundreds of candles.

At 7 o'clock sharp Sunday evening the children's festival will take place. An especially good concert is expected this year because the committee have been hard at work for some time. The program will probably take three hours. A Christmas tree will be prepared for the younger children and gifts will be presented to the members of the Sunday school.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST.

At the Universalist church on Sunday morning the pulpit was occupied by Rev. W. P. Burnell of Mansfield, who preached an instructive sermon.

The Sunday school Christmas concert and frolic will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 27.

The Murray club hold a candy sale on Thursday afternoon and evening at Miss Harriet Lombard's, Cottage street.

WASHINGTON ST. CONG'L.

The pastor preached in the morning on the theme: "The life that is Christ." Previous to the morning service the usual meeting was held with the old people at Sailor's Sung Harbor.

The evening service was well attended. The pastor spoke on the subject, "The Invitation."

The Sunday school services had a large attendance. The children are rehearsing for the annual Christmas concert to be given Sunday evening in the vestry.

Dinner Pail and Lemon Won Seat In Congress

STURDY dentist, who made his campaign with a lemon, a tin pail and three feet of garden hose as his ammunition, will represent the Twenty-fifth New York district in congress in December, 1911. This man, Dr. Theron Akin, transformed a 6,106 Republican majority into one of 254 for himself.

Until the Sixty-second congress convenes Dr. Akin will take care of the two offices he now occupies—justice of the peace and president of the village of Akin, near Amsterdam, in the Mohawk valley. Those jobs keep him tolerably busy, because he is the auto speed regulator of that section, and, as many motorists can testify, he regulates with success. His village platform is:

No grafting, a full day's work, complete obedience of the law, no tax dodging and your money's worth if you are a citizen.

Dentist Akin has a great dislike of bosses, and this dislike includes Colonel Roosevelt, and he made it the star plank of his brief platform, in which he described his policies as follows:

Foe of bosses, champion of direct primaries.
Beef, 25 cents a pound.
Liver, 14 cents a pound.
Wages, $1.25 a day.
Absolutely and unqualifiedly in favor of the conservation of our natural resources, free air and free sunlight.

Dr. Akin proved a great campaigner, as good as his ancestors who settled early in the Mohawk valley and fought off Indians. His quick wit, rugged, shrewd visage, piercing eyes, dry, humorous voice and popularity made him a foe hard to cope with, and with such aids as the hose, dinner pail and lemon he couldn't lose.

He suggested to a friend, who was something of an insurging Republican, though not necessarily an insurgent of the Kansas stripe, that he might be a good man to go to congress and beat Cy Drury, G. O. P. machine candidate. The idea was acted upon, and "doc" was nominated by a progressive Republican convention, ditto Democratic and finally the Independence league.

DR. THERON AKIN.

He made his first speech in the Amsterdam Opera House, and though apparently embarrassed he won out with this talk:

"You men know I can't make a speech. I'm going to talk to you. Teddy Roosevelt has been going up and down telling you what the issues of this campaign are—not. He made a lot of fuss six years ago about the full dinner pail. You heard a lot about it in 1908. Now, Teddy has just gone through here making a lot of noise without saying anything. I was near his choo-choo car the other day, and when he had gone I picked this up along the track. He had dropped it."

The "doc" leaned over behind the table and brought to light a battered tin dinner pail.

On the side of it was printed in white letters, "1910."

"Now," drawled the doctor, "we'll see what the full dinner pail of 1908 contains in 1910."

Pulling off the cover, he produced a big juicy lemon.

"That's where you come in," he said, But that was as far as he got. The audience saw the point, and the lemon was launched as the campaign issue.

The hose issue was brought out a few years previously when a railroad and a trolley line thought they would cross the Akin land without asking. The "doc" permitted the rail laying and all improvements up to the running of the first trains. Then he blocked the way with a motorcar and three feet of garden hose. The latter he used to beat the division superintendent over the head with when physical arguments were tried, and it ended the debate. Later both roads settled the bill and now pass unmolested.

On his house to house canvass Akin used the lemon and dinner pail and hose as his arguments and carried all three with him as evidence.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three insertions 50 cents, 6 insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Lady's gold open face watch in Wollaston or Norfolk Downs. Finder return to 187 Fayette street, Wollaston. Reward. Dec. 19-3t

LOST— Between John Horrigan's shed Federal avenue and 10 Goddard street, gold watch in black case. Finder will be rewarded on applying to Thomas Robertson, 10 Goddard street. Dec. 17-3t

English Doesn't Express It.

Housewife—Wonder what is Esperanto for "cook?"

Husband—Bet it's something unfit for publication.

MUST PAY OWN BILL

Katherine Gould Responsible For Purchase Amounting to $3165.08

New York, Dec. 17.—The judgment of $3165.08 given in the supreme court against Mrs. Katherine C. Gould, wife of Howard Gould, for furs and clothing, was affirmed in the appellate division of the supreme court, first division.

Mrs. Gould admitted that she had bought various articles from a millinery company, and that she had refused to pay for them on the ground that the articles were necessaries of life and her husband was responsible for the cost of them.

The jury found the sales had been made to Mrs. Gould, and her credit, rather than that of her husband, had been relied upon by the millinery company and gave a verdict against the defendant. Mrs. Gould appealed, but the upper court found nothing in the verdict unjust and refused to disturb it.

Short Stories.

The population of the Samoan Islands, according to last year's census, was 6,780.

Invitations have already been issued by the executive committee for a meeting in 1911 of the International Medical association to contribute to the suppression of war.

In eighteen years, with the increase in steam vessels and decrease in sailing ships, the deaths annually due to wrecks and other casualties to ships have decreased to about one-third.

Get Up Refreshed.

The doctors say one should always be glad to get up in the morning. To want to lie in bed is a sign, they say, that your night's rest has not refreshed you—that you are accumulating fatigue.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 214

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

JOSEPH F. BERRY,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased;

Whereas, George H. Brown, the trustee under the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the eleventh account of his trust under said will.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said trustee is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 19-3t—19, 27, 3

FOUND

FOUND—In Quincy Bay a small Sail Boat. May be had by proving property and paying charges. Notify "B," Ledger office. Dec 17—3t

WANTED

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.

RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-O-1w

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished front room, near center. For particulars address "Room" Ledger Office. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A single house of 7 rooms. All improvements. Rent $18.00. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A suite of 4 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Rent $15.00 located at 84 Farrington street. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electrics. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street. Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 295 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 20, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

ONLY ONE AUTO FIRE WAGON

Favored by the City Council at the Present Time Lengthy Debate

Several Orders Referred to Next City Council

A large amount of business was accomplished at Monday night's meeting of the City Council. It was the last regular meeting of the year, but as there are several matters that require another reading before they are passed, another meeting will be necessary. This meeting will be held Friday evening, Dec. 30.

The one subject that called forth any great debate, was the order for a new automobile fire wagon. The original order called for $10,000 for two such wagons, but the Finance Committee amended it to read $5,500 for one wagon and this was passed.

Councilman Carey, Sandberg and Woodward were absent.

JURORS.

A venire was received for the drawing of six traverse jurors. The Mayor and City Clerk assisted by Councilman Moir drew the following according to law: R. A. Paquet, M. W. Choate, Fred L. Badger, Joseph A. Barry, Michael Arnold and William D. Burns.

PETITIONS.

A petition received from the Telephone Company for attachments was referred to the next City Council.

Councilman Moir presented a petition for a skating surface in Ward Six, which was referred to the Executive.

The Committee on Streets reported reference to the next City Council on petitions for pole locations and attachments. Report accepted.

FINANCE REPORTS.

The Finance Committee reported as follows:

Reference to the Executive, on the communication from the Board of Health relative to medical inspectors for the schools. Report accepted.

No legislation necessary on the report of the special committee on Financial investigation. Accepted.

Reference to the next Council on the communication from the Mayor rela-

(Continued on Page 3.)

NEW NAME WANTED

For New Council of Knights of Columbus

A meeting of the charter members of the new council of the Knights of Columbus to be instituted at West Quincy was held Monday evening at St. Mary's hall at which the officers of the new council were elected.

The council will be instituted Sunday afternoon, Jan. 1, at Greenleaf hall. The first degree will be worked by Quincy council, the second degree by John J. Williams council of Roslindale. The third degree will be worked at the Town Hall, Braintree, on Jan. 10, by one of the deputies.

The name of the new council has not as yet been decided upon. It was desired to name it St. Mary's council, but as there is another council in the state by the same name some other name will probably have to be selected.

The officers elected for the council were as follows:

Grand Knight—Charles J. McGilvray.
Deputy Grand Knight—John J. Mahoney.
Recorder—Frank Hebert.
Chancellor—James E. Geary.
Warden—John F. Boyce.
Advocate—Robert J. Teasdale.
Inside Guard—Thomas Connor.
Outside Guard—John J. Barry.
Trustees—William H. Teasdale, Dr. John P. Reynolds and John J. King.
Chaplain—Rev. Henry T. Grady.

CIVIC LEAGUE.

The first meeting of the season of the Civic League will be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening, Jan. 3, when a banquet will be served at 6.30. Hon. George H. Smith, of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker, and his subject will be "Greater Boston."

—A square inch of good will for a cent—a Christmas seal.

Piano For Sale

A Merrill Piano, ebony finish. Cost $400 cash. Will sell cheap. Address D. T. S., Ledger Office.

Dec. 20-tf

ROOSTER CASE IN COURT

Owner Wanted for Bird at East Milton

A combination of Harrison Square liquid stimulants and a rooster owned by some person unknown got John Simons of West Quincy into trouble Monday. Simons began his Christmas celebration by going to Harrison Square and filling up. Late in the afternoon he was seen by Officer Haley going through East Milton with a rooster tucked snugly under his coat. He was halted and asked to explain the presence of the rooster. His explanation was not very clear and he was locked up.

He said that as he started for home he had a dollar ill in his posket and a pretty good load on. He met a man with a rooster who wanted to sell it. Simons said he offered seventy cents for the bird which the stranger said was all right. He took the bird and passed over his dollar bill expecting to get the change. Instead of getting that he says the man took the money and ran down the street. He did not know the man, but gave several different descriptions of him.

The court after hearing his explanation continued the case until next Wednesday, hoping in the meantime that the Milton police may be able to locate the owner of the bird.

CHRISTMAS TRAIN SERVICE.

Following the usual custom, the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad has posted notices, announcing the discontinuance on Monday, December 26, of several local trains into Boston in the morning, and out of Boston in the evening. In order to provide ample service for residents in nearby towns, several express trains will make local stops on this day. Those who plan a rail trip on Christmas should consult the posted notices or make inquiries of ticket agents.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

Nov. 29-tf

REPORT ON PLAYGROUND

Much Was Accomplished During Summer on a Small Expenditure

A Small Balance Reported in the Treasury

The Quincy Playground Committee of One Hundred held a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building Monday evening. The reports of the officers were given, and plans for the work of the coming summer were discussed.

The treasurer reported all bills paid and a small balance in the treasury. When the scheme was proposed, $250 was asked for and $286 was raised, $200 from contributions and $86 from membership fees.

The disbursements were as follows: Supervision, $100; Apparatus and supplies, $93.08; Printing and postage, $91.52. Total expenditure $284.60, leaving $1.40 in the treasury.

The report of the secretary shows efficient work on the part of the instructors and progress in the development of a system of supervision and training.

The report is as follows:

"As the work which was done by the Committee on the grounds in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. building during July and August has been reported in the local papers in considerable detail, I will give a review in general only.

"The grounds were opened on July 6, under the general supervision of Mr. C. M. Gifford with Miss Ella Packard as assistant.

"Mr. Gifford attended to the setting of the apparatus, constructing most of it himself. A suitable lot of apparatus was therefore provided at a minimum of expense. Mr. Gifford turned the work over to Mr. Clee on August first, and Mr. Clee in turn retired on the 15th of August, leaving the work in the hands of Mr. LaRose, who succeeded Mr. Gifford as Physical director in the Association.

"While the changing of supervisors may have hindered the continuity of the work somewhat, it kept the enthusiasm up to the last, as each man brought fresh interest and spirit to his work.

"The children were handled in groups owing to the small grounds, the small children of both sexes and the large girls coming in the forenoon, and the large boys in the afternoon.

"The daily attendance showed a gradual increase from the start, and averaged from 75 each session to 125 averaging for the two months about 100 at each session, or nearly 200 daily at the two sessions.

"The general personnel of the children is noteworthy, they represented eight or nine different nationalities, and came from all grades of homes. The majority coming from the homes of the poorer class.

"They came from as far away as the lower end of Main st., Edison park and Sumner street in Ward Two, and from the Quincy Adams section of Ward Three; the majority were from Ward One, but the territory was large which was drawn from. Parents came with their little ones some, but not in large numbers.

"The striking lesson which is learned from our experience this summer confirms our theories that supervision is the all-important factor of the whole matter.

"This was proven from the fact that the attendance always increased in proportion to the amount of organization which was instituted by the supervisors; that is, team games, tournaments and leagues increased the daily attendance 25 per cent and there was less mischief and less accidents than when the organized play was slackened.

"Theg rounds proved decidedly too small again this year both from the standpoint of efficient handling and in the effect upon the neighbors, who justly complained, but we who were closest to it feel that the experiment was a good one, proving the need to be real and the value of supervision fundamental."

—The General Electric Company has perfected a device to thaw out frozen water pipes without opening the ground.

If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

Quincy Market

XMAS SALE

Sirloin Steak 15c lb
Porter House Steak 20c lb
Best Top Round 20c lb
Boneless Rib Steak 12 1-2--15c lb
Fore Quarter Lamb 8c lb
Lean Corn Beef 7--8c lb
Mixed Nuts 16c lb
Nice Sweet Orangas large 25c doz
Grape Fruit, large 3 for 25c
Cape Cod Cranberries 12 1-2c qt

Remember we will have plenty Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Fowl and Chickens at a very low price.

Come in and look our goods over before you buy elsewhere.

QUINCY MARKET

Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c stor

Dec. 20-2t--o-1w

WOOD for SALE

$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree

Tel. 15-3 Brai tree

Dec. 12-tf--o-17-tf

COAL

C R R

Barge No. 4

Just Unloaded

562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG

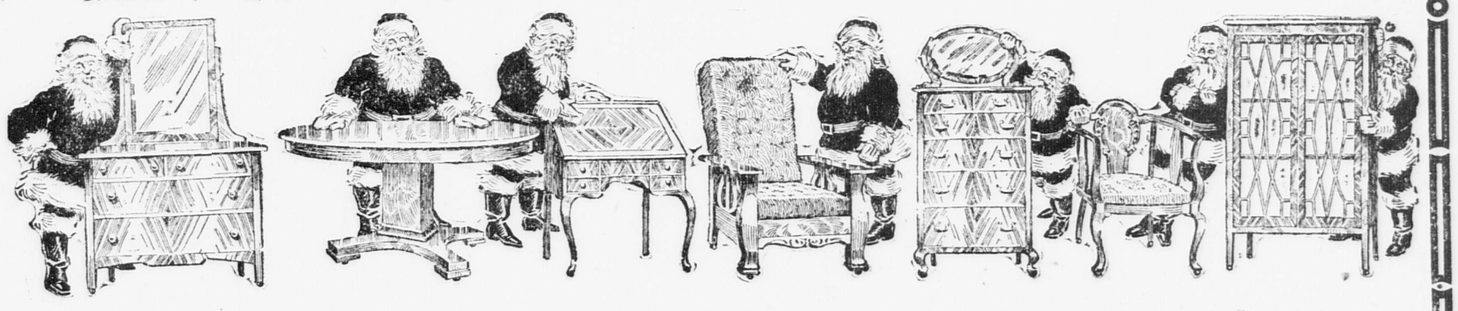
Direct from the Mines

Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter

REMEMBER

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street



A Handsome Piece of Furniture---Is the Ideal Gift

JUST think of the wide scope you have to choose from. Just think of the real happiness you bring into your home by selecting as a gift for the family, something everyone can enjoy for years to come.

A Beautiful New Piano, Parlor or Room Rug, Parlor Set, Odd Chair or Divan, Dining-Room Table, Buffet, China Closet or Chairs, Brass Bed, Mattress, Bureau, Chiffonier or Table, a Glenwood Range or Kitchen Cabinet, a Desk, Foot Stool, Sewing Basket, Vacuum Cleaner, Carpet Sweeper, Fancy Lamp, 3-Fold Screen, Couch, Hamper, Book Case, Clothes Pole, Picture, Hall Stand.

These make ideal gifts. You can find the quality high and prices low at this store. We gladly open an account if you wish.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & COMPANY

New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers

..OPEN EVENINGS 'TILL CHRISTMAS..

1495 Hancock Street, Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

SPECIAL.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Norfolk county. It takes years to build up a big circulation; the Daily Ledger has been steadily increasing for 25 years. Most everybody reads the Daily Ledger.

The capital of the United States is, as is usual during the Congressional session, the arena of conventions, or the stage from which great enterprises are launched. What could be grander than the proposed national park to extend from Baltimore to Washington and to include two hundred thousand acres of forest, hill and dale? It is estimated that the cost will be six millions of dollars. The two cities are practically forty miles apart, but they are connected by two steam roads, two electric roads and by a boulevard almost completed, over which automobiles pass in less than an hour.

Andrew Carnegie, whose benefactions amount now to 180 millions of dollars, has just added a donation of ten millions of dollars for the promotion of peace throughout the world. The nations will continue to build battleships and levy armies, but it is impossible that a donation so munificent shall not have the influence of its inspiration. The Secretary of War has just returned from a trip around the world and has startled Congress by a confidential document sent to the House of Representatives stating that this country is unfit for war, lacking the right kind of men, guns, ammunition and fortifications. This confidential report is said to be sensational in its details. In view of Mr. Carnegie's ten million dollar donation to the cause of peace,this report from the Secretary of War is peculiarly clashing.

There is much lobbying in Congress by two provincial cities, New Orleans and San Francisco, to have Congress appropriate for an International Exposition in celebration of the completion of the Panama Canal. Both of these cities are, as it were, on the "jumping off" places of the country, one on the Gulf's edge and the other on the Pacific, both of them remote from centres of population; and while they claim that they do not want financial assistance, but only national recognition, everyone knows what that means in the beginning. The proper situation for a National Exposition in celebration of so great an event, should be at the capital of the country. There is now no city in this hemisphere better adapted to an International Exposition than Washington, D. C. The Potomac Park is practically within the center of the city, easily accessible to every part of it, and Washington is within five hours of New York, three hours of Philadelphia, forty-five minutes from Baltimore, and within twenty-four hours of Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Louisville, Atlanta and all intermediate places.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

The secretary of war has sent a secret report to Congress concerning the unprotected Pacific coast, and because it was secret, Congress refused to accept it. Not, however, until after some members had had an opportunity to examine it, and they very promptly made known the gist of the report. Secretary Dickinson and General Wood both declare that we have not soldiers enough to resist an invasion, were one to be attempted. A large body of recruits are needed every year to take the places of the men whose terms of service annually expire. Even if the army could be kept up to the required standard in that way, the force would not be sufficient. There is a disposition to make light of the recommendations. No enemy is in sight, and no nation appears to be disposed to invade our territory, and so those who have no occasion to study the situation assume that there is no danger. We were unprepared in 1861, for the four-year's struggle that followed, because the North declined to believe that the South meant business. The complacency of our government at that time cost the country much treasure and many lives that need not have been sacrificed. There is no actual danger that is imminent, but the preparation for an emergency should not be turned aside with a sneer, or put away with the thought that nothing can harm us. Just how much of preparation is needed, how great an increase of the armed force of the United States, how much is necessary in the way of fortifications, is a matter of high importance and requires careful consideration. Hobsonism is not needed, and neither should sluggish conservatism be encouraged, but a middle course might be discovered that would meet immediate wants, and set at rest the fears that are occasionally aroused. When the Panama canal is completed the defence of our coasts upon the two great oceans will be an easy matter. If we are not menaced by a great sea power on the Pacific before that time the country may be assured of permanent peace.—Salem News.

As might have been expected in the crisis in which Salem now finds itself in respect of a prospective water famine, the expediency of a metered service has become a topic of discussion. To be sure, the volume of discussion is not yet a pronounced one; but people are talking, and there are favorable aspects of the case which cannot be blinked away by any sort of sophistry. The News has so often dealt with the subject of a metered supply—and quite exhaustively, the unbiased observer would agree, were a search of the files to be made—that we do not propose to go deep into details at this juncture. It may suffice, however, to offer the reminder that a general installation of meters means a conservation, and an everyway valuable one, of water supply. It checks needless waste, because of the fact that the individual pocket nerve is touched. At the same time, the rates where meters are in use are so much lower than the general faucet charge that the measured service contributes to a two-fold benefit; it lessens the cost to the consumer, while at the same time it negatives wanton waste. There are any number of cities where extensive and therefore very expensive additions to water supply have been rendered imperative, not by community growth, but by indiscriminate water waste. Huge water debts are thus created, against which sinking funds must be set apart, along with heavy interest charges. A consumer with a meter in the cellar of his house, store or business block does not allow water to run to waste throughout the night in cold weather, as a precaution against the freezing of pipes. He either shuts off the supply, during that period, or else he proceeds to take such care of his pipes that freezing is eliminated from the contingencies.—Salem News.

Although this country may be unprepared to meet foreign invasion, from the tone of newspapers in other countries it is evident that there are other nations also perfectly willing to get along with peace for awhile. However that is no reason why the United States shouldn't patch up her broken fences. But this is not rendered any the easier when there are so many practical politicians running so much governmental work. —Framingham News.

Wine In Spain.

In Spain wine is as much a staple as bread.

Schiller's Liking For Apples.

One habit of Schiller's was a passion for the smell of an apple. He used to cut an apple into quarters and keep them in the drawer of his writing table.

Costly Cigars.

The Rothschilds smoke the most costly cigars that are made—the Henry Clay sobranos, which cost $1.50 each. These are wrapped in gold leaf and placed in little inlaid cedar wood cabinets.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

DIVIDENDS DECLARED

Savings Bank Insurance Is Proving Successful

The many Quincy people who have policies in the People's Savings bank of Brockton, and the Whitman Savings bank are pleased at the divdends just declared.

Upon the recommendation of the State Actuary, the trustees have reported the following dividends for the life insurance departments of their institutions, the second financial year of which closed on October 31 last.

Upon monthly premium policies which have been in force one year a dividend of 8 1-3 per cent. was declared, and this dividend amounted to one month's premium.

On monthly premium policies which have been in force two years a dividend amounting to one and one-half month's premium was declared. This dividend is 12 1-2 per cent. of one year's premium. This dividend will also be paid on all policies which reached their second anniversary during the present financial year.

Monthly premium policies when they shall have been in force three years will receive dividend amounting to one and two-thirds monthly premium. This dividend is about 14 per cent, of one year's premium.

At first only monthly premium policies were issued by the insurance departments of the banks, but it was soon found that here was a demand for policies payable either annually, semi-annually or quarterly. Therefore, the insuring banks began to issue three forms of policies on the annual premium basis—straight life, twenty-payment life and twenty-year endowment. The rates on these policies are believed to be the lowest rate on policies of similar amounts obtainable in any mutual legal reserve company.

The number of policies and the amount of insurance in the Whitman Savings Bank and the People's Savings Bank of Brockton have shown a satisfactory increase during the last year, and at the end of the financial year there were 3318 policies in force insuring $1,367,363.

DR. GRENFELL'S WORK.

No doubt many fellows of High school age will remember what a pleasant evening they spent not long ago as the guests of the Galahad club of Christ church It will be remembered that the speaker on that occasion was Percy L. Wendell the All-American left half-back for 1910. This club has been particularly fortunate in securing speakers this year, and is planning for another big meeting on Thursday evening of this week. Huntington Hardwick of this city, the star football player of Groton school the past year, has been secured to tell of his experiences while in Labrador the summer past. Mr. Hardwick travelled with Dr. Grenfell, known the world over from the great work he is carrying on in the "far North," and will condense the interesting experiences of an entire summer to an evening's address. Nowadays there is so much discussion (since the discovery of the North Pole) as to just how much real use these countries can ever be put to that it will be most interesting to hear from one who has been there his view of the question.

In addition to the address Mr Hardwick has a great many "snap shots" which he himself took, and which will be on exhibition at this talk. A reflectoscope has been secured to project these pictures on the screen so that a very clear idea may be obtained as to this distant country In view of the fact that this is such an unusual opportunity the club has again decided to have an open meeting, and all fellows interested are urged to come at eight o'clock sharp and enjoy themselves.

—Twelve barrels of condemmed catsup, have been dumped into Boston harbor. If there are any oyster beds near by, we may get oyster cocktails ready made.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

(Special)

New York, Dec. 17, 1910.

Approach of the holidays naturally has a quieting effect upon business. The financial outlook, however, though not entirely free of shadows, has its encouraging features. Chief of these is the ease in money. What with contraction of credit, retrenchment in expenditures, dullness of trade and lessened speculative activity, the supply of loanable funds is steadily accumulating, and unless business recovery develops after the new year, there will be a glut of idle money. This, however, is the usual swing of affairs following any period of extraordinary activity. It is also one of the most natural and efficient cures for business depression. As long as general conditions remain sound--and there is no reason to consider them otherwise--money will gradually come back into circulation, flowing through the arteries of commerce and performing its useful and beneficent function in restoring business activity. Low rates of interest indicate insufficient employment for money. Funds, however, will not long remain idle on low returns. If not required in actual business, money will soon seek investment in high-grade securities. As the latter were the first to feel the depressing effects of high interest rates, they will also be the first to feel the stimulus of low interest rates. Already the bond market is beginning to show the effects of cheap money. There is a good investment demand for better class bonds, which today are selling down at a very attractive level.

The feeling is still abroad that values generally are upon an inflated basis. This may be true of commodities, but not of securities, which are now selling considerably below high levels. As to commodities, some reaction has already set in, particularly in food products; and the recession there must ultimately result in a partially reduced cost of living. As yet, however, these reductions have not reached the consumer, largely because middlemen are endeavoring to maintain their old scale of profit as long as possible. The most serious problem which producers have to face is the high cost elements. How this is to be reduced, is a problem yet to be solved. Some reduction may be had in raw materials, but this will not be sufficient and cannot offset the greatly increased cost of wages and the advances in rents, taxes, etc. The best solution would appear to be in securing more efficiency in labor. Wages have risen, hours have been shortened and output restricted until these factors have been a very serious element in increased costs. Under present conditions it is almost impossible to ask labor to accept lower wages. Labor, however, can materially relieve the situation to its own advantage by encouraging a policy of greater efficiency and larger production. Labor is after all the chief consumer, and while insisting upon advanced wages, has been unconsciously diminishing the purchasing poyer of its wages and increasing its own cost of living.

As the year draws to a close general business is quiet in nearly all departments. Fortunately there are no serious indications of unsound conditions. at the West some financial strain is reported, the lower prices for farm products having induced farmers to hold back supplies, but in this there is nothing serious. The South continues prosperous, owing to the large profits of cotton growing; and the country as a whole shows the activity and energy inevitable with a rapid-growing population. The East is still decidedly pessimistic, while the West maintains its characteristically optimistic attitude. The true course probably lies between the two extremes. Our iron trade, usually considered the best barometer, continues unduly depressed and is running only about half its capacity. This state of affairs is due to the inability of the railroads to raise funds. Should they succeed in placing contemplated issues, and should the Interstate Commission allow some reasonable advances, the prospects are that this situation will soon be relieved and that the railroads, the largest buyers of iron and steel, will once more place their orders for construction and equipment with customary freedom. If much longer delayed a rush of orders must follow. if only to fill the vacuum created by long postponement. The immediate outlook of the stock market is encouraging rather than otherwise. As for the more distant future, that can be more accurately gauged when we have fairly entered the new year.--Henry Clews.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

POPULATION OF FIFTY LARGEST CITIES IN UNITED STATES.

	1910.	1900.	P. C. Gain.
1. New York	4,766,883	3,437,202	38.7
2. Chicago	2,185,283	1,698,575	28.7
3. Philadelphia	1,549,008	1,293,697	19.7
4. St. Louis	687,029	575,238	19.4
5. Boston	670,585	560,892	19.6
6. Cleveland	560,663	381,768	46.9
7. Baltimore	558,485	508,957	9.7
8. Pittsburg	533,905	451,512	18.2
9. Detroit	465,766	285,704	63.0
10. Buffalo	423,715	352,387	20.2
11. San Francisco	416,912	342,782	21.6
12. Milwaukee	373,857	285,315	31.0
13. Cincinnati	364,463	325,902	11.8
14. Newark	347,469	246,070	41.2
15. New Orleans	339,075	287,104	18.1
16. Washington	331,069	278,718	18.8
17. Los Angeles	319,198	102,479	211.3
18. Minneapolis	301,408	202,718	48.7
19. Jersey City	267,779	206,433	29.7
20. Kansas City	248,381	163,752	51.7
21. Seattle	237,194	80,671	194.0
22. Indianapolis	233,650	169,164	38.1
23. Providence	224,326	175,597	27.8
24. Louisville	223,928	204,731	9.4
25. Rochester	218,149	162,608	34.2
26. St. Paul	214,744	163,065	31.7
27. Denver	213,381	133,859	59.4
28. Portland, Ore.	207,214	90,426	129.2
29. Columbus	181,548	125,560	44.6
30. Toledo	168,497	131,822	27.8
31. Atlanta	154,839	89,872	72.3
32. Oakland, Cal.	150,174	66,960	124.3
33. Worcester	145,948	118,421	23.3
34. Syracuse	137,249	108,374	26.6
35. New Haven	133,605	108,027	23.7
36. Birmingham	132,685	38,415	245.4
37. Memphis	131,105	102,320	28.1
38. Scranton	129,867	102,026	27.3
39. Richmond	127,628	85,050	50.1
40. Paterson	125,600	105,171	19.5
41. Omaha	124,096	102,555	21.0
42. Fall River	119,295	104,863	13.8
43. Dayton	116,577	85,333	36.6
44. Grand Rapids	112,571	87,565	28.6
45. Nashville	110,294	80,865	36.5
46. Lowell	106,294	94,969	11.9
47. Cambridge	104,839	91,886	14.1
48. Spokane	104,402	67,554	183.3
49. Bridgeport	102,054	70,996	43.7
50. Albany	100,253	94,151	6.5

Herring Fisheries.

There are two seasons for catching herring on the west coast of Europe. One begins late in May or early in June at the Orkney islands and follows the shoals of herring down the east coast of Scotland and England until it reaches Yarmouth, where it ends late in September or early in October.

☞White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

FOY ~ Merry Christmas ~ FOY

Christmas Specialties

Begin to do your Christmas shopping today

A little money spent here will go a long way in giving your home that cheery look on Christmas Eve and Christmas day.

TREES --- TREES

CHRISTMAS TREES

Just the right shape and size with plenty of branches for decorating.

25 cts., 50 cts., 75 cts. up.

For your windows there is nothing better than a set of good wreaths. Ours are choice

Laurel 25c, Princess, 18c, Holly 15c

Decorate the tree with pop corn and iced star crackers. The whiteness and sparkle make the tree look like fairy land.

3 pkgs. Pop Corn, 25c. Iced Stars, lb. 15c.

GROCERY MARKET

Good wholesome "nibbles" for the children; and the grown folks will eat them, too.

NEW MIXED NUTS, this years goods.....lb 17c
ENGLISH WALNUTS, very meaty.....lb 22c
FANCY DATES, in cartons.....3 pkgs for 25c
FRESH TURKISH FIGS, new goods.....box 15c
FANCY OLIVES, in glass.....10, 15 and 25c

R. E. FOY & CO.
COR. WATER AND QUINCY STS.
QUINCY ADAMS

Dec. 19-20

Phone 117 or 153

READ DAILY LEDGER ADS.
QUINCY'S HOME NEWSPAPER

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make
American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box $1.00
Four Colors or all black
RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.

Dec. 16-L&O tf

LOVE FEAST IS PLANNED

For the City Councils of the Years 1910 and 1911

It has been practically decided that Inauguration night will be celebrated by the City Councils of 1910 and 1911 together with numerous city officials by a grand banquet to be held at one of the Boston hotels. Definite arrangements have not been fully completed as yet. Monday evening at the Council meeting Councilman Moir circulated a paper for signatures of those who would attend such a banquet, if one were held, and upwards of thirty signatures were obtained.

These do not include many of the Council of 1911, who will serve for the first time. They however will be seen and invited to participate in the affair.

MAN'S AGE SHOULD BE 120

Says Mr. Sholar Addressing the Men's Club

With the subject, "Some occult laws which govern man's success or failure," William J. Sholar of the Sholar Business Building Service, delivered a most interesting talk before the Men's club of St. Chrysostom's parish on Monday evening. Although the speaker at times delved so deeply into the unknown as to seem visionary to the uninitiated, his theme contained many incontrovertible facts.

He spoke of the colloquialism, "I want ter know," as a survival of the old New Englander's desire to know and find things out. This should be our attitude, said Mr. Sholar. At the present day foreigners are beating us out in getting knowledge and, if we are not careful, will "wear us to a frazzle."

The ordinary man's vision is circumscribed, and is so narrow in fact that sometimes he can scarce see beyond the end of his nose. A horizon surrounds each individual life, and the era now is when men are beginning to stretch this radius and enlarge their area.

In apprehending the universe we grasp the fact that all that lies without lies also within us, and, as that is, so am I. If I am a failure I am a discord; if a success, I am in accord. A man who has not learned to be master of himself is a discordant note, and is out of harmony with the rhythm of the universe. In self mastery we are learning the occult laws of success and failure.

Man is spirit not body. The spirit works through the body by means of feeling, thinking and will power. We should be masters of the house in which we live. Dependant upon the knowledge and care of this house lies our success or failure in business.

The time is coming when if a man dies of disease we shall mark above his grave "This man died a disgrace to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts." Man's average age is 45 and womans three years less. It ought to be 120, if we do not want to say that the lower order of animals beat us out in the game of life.

From this the speaker went deeply into the psychic laws underlying human existence using many instances of horoscopic, telepathic and clairvoyant phenomena to strengthen his assertions.

Mr. Sholar was followed with intense interest by those present, and the absent members certainly missed a most pleasant evening. Over refreshments of coffee and doughnuts Mr. Sholar endeavored to answer a broadside of questions from members either taking exception to or seeking further knowledge upon the subjects touched upon. At its conclusion the speaker was extended a rising vote of thanks.

Secretary Hamilton read, at the business meeting, a communication from the Civic League of Quincy inviting the club to attend a meeting at Y. M. C. A. hall. Announcement was also made of the club entertainment which will take the form of a stereopticon lecture on "Ireland" to be held in Wollaston hall on the evening of January 16.

—One of the very first commercial street car systems, using the overhead trolley, was intalled in Kansas City.

MANY EVENTS AT Y. M. C. A.

And Holiday Week Will Be a Busy One

The electrical night school had its bi weekly session Monday evening. Mr. Hastings is very much pleased with his class, and the members find their instructor very satisfactory, so that excellent progress is being made.

The grammar school basket ball teams which are to take part in the Y. M. C. A. tournament next week, will meet for practice in the gymnasium Thursday and Friday mornings of this week. Eight teams have entered already, and it is hoped that all the grammar schools in the city will be represented by teams in the tournament. A boy does not have to be a member of the Y. M. C. A. to play on a team in this tournament beginning Tuesday Dec. 27.

Final trials for the track team will be held this evening. The best time for three laps on the track has been bade by Phelan, E. Prout and W. Cranshaw are second and third. Probably these three will be on the relay team. The fourth man is not decided upon yet. The four Quincy contestants in the potato race will be: Wilson, Parker, Trask, and McCarty.

Hyde Park is coming with a strong team and an interesting meet is anticipated next Tuesday, Dec, 27.

The 1st and 2nd basketball teams are planning to play the Boston Y. M. C. A. teams in Boston Thursday evening. The games scheduled for the Boston teams on that date were cancelled and Quincy is adding these contests to her schedule.

Next week will be a lively one at the local association. Special athletic contests of various kinds will take place every evening including, track and field events, basketball, bowling and swimming. The vacation season will not be dull for those boys interested in athletics and aquatics.

FLYING AT WOLLASTON.

Wollaston is certainly vecoming enthused upon the subject of aeronautics, when on the same evening two different organizations will independently hold meetings pertaining to this pursuit.

This evening at the Wollaston Congregational church the Men's club will listen to a stereopticon lecture by J. Emery Harriman upon "Aerial navigation and motive power," in which he will make particular reference to the safety and stability of flying machines.

In the Wollaston Unitarian vestry a great "Aero Meet" is scheduled for the entertainment of the members of the Wollaston Social club. It is announced that contests for supremacy in altitude, accuracy, speed, duration and get away will be made, and that there will be no postponement on account of weather or wind velocity.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

No Alum, No Lime Phosphate

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page 1.)

tive to repairs of the city scales. Accepted.

Reference to the next Council on the petition of A. J. Ericson for refund of half cost of edgestones. Accepted.

Reference to the next Council on the order for $5,500 to purchase a Memorial hall for the Grand Army. Accepted.

Reference to the next Council on the order for $200 for non-spitting signs. Accepted.

An amendment to the order accepting Clairmont avenue adding the borrowing clause. Read and ordered to a second reading.

Reference to the next Council on the order for $350 for a new scavenger wagon. Accepted.

Reference to the next Council on the order refunding John Schatzel $19.50 taxes. Accepted.

An amendment to the order appropriating $600 for retaining wall and catch basins on Willard street. The amendment added the borrowing clause. Read and ordered to a second reading.

Reference to the next Council on the order extending Nelson street from Arthur street to Copeland street. Accepted.

Ought to pass on the order laying out a new street from Newport avenue to Oakland avenue. Order passed.

An order making transfers from receipts for scavenger work to the appropriation for miscellaneous and contagious and scavenger appropriations of the Board of Health. Adopted.

AUTO FIRE WAGONS.

The Finance Committee reported a substitute order for one automobile fire wagon instead of two in original order.

Councilman Richards offered a minority report that the order ought not to pass. He moved the adoption of the minority for the majority report.

In support of his report, he said he favored an auto fire wagon, but the question is if the city is in a position to buy at the present time, and go further into debt. In our present financial condition we should consider absolute necessities. If it was not absolutely necessary it should go to the next City Council. All things being equal and right, he would favor, but the matter of streets and schools must be considered. It was up to the City Council to consider what the financial condition is and go slow. He was free to confess that last year he did not know the financial condition and there may be some Councilmen today who do not know. There are other matters which must be attended to. He then quoted figures showing how the debt had been increased the present year. We have no insurance on our city buildings or workmen employed by the city. No business man would conduct his affairs that way. It would be a good thing to establish a sinking fund to take care of the insurance. Our present borrowing capacity is $194,498. Out of this must come $120,000 for schools and $74,000 for street and other orders. If we are here to represent our constituents, we should conduct these matters from a business standpoint.

Councilman Bryant—If we need our auto fire wagon it is as good financing to buy this year as to let it go over to next year. The loan is so arranged that but $1,500 comes due next year, so that the borrowing capacity next year will be increased just so much. If we cannot afford it, we practically say the next Council will do the same. The figures quoted by the gentleman are correct. The question is, if it is for the general benefit of the city. I think we need it. The quicker we get to a fire the better. Five minutes saved in getting at a fire may prevent a great loss.

Councilman Whiton—All knew that the more we go into figures the less we know, unless we are expert accountants. The debt has increased but do you realize that Quincy has also increased 36 per cent. As we increase our expenses naturally increase. We do owe $1,800,000 yet our assets are over $3,000,000. If we leave this until next year our borrowing capacity is cut just so much. Minutes count at fires. We can save enough in insurance alone to pay the expense.

Councilman Cherrington—The auto fire wagon is beyond the experimental stage. If he could he would wipe out the present department and put in all auto apparatus.

Councilman McDevitt said human beings interested him more. He could recall when West Quincy had lost in population. Why should he be interested in auto wagons when the Finance Committee sent his street order over to next year.

Councilman Bryant said that between 600 and 700 permits for new houses had been issued this year. What have we done to increase the efficiency of the fire department to take care of this increase? All we have done is to replace a broken down steamer. We want things somewhere near right. We have our efficient chief, and if we do not keepthe department up we will have a big fire some day.

Councilman Ericson favored an auto wagon. It was important to get to fires early.

Councilman Smith moved the previous question.

On request of Councilman Gardner, Chief Williams appeared before the Council, and in reply to questions by different Councilmen said. Extra protection was needed. That none of the present apparatus would be discontinued by the proposed auto. It would enable the department to get at a fire quicker. The department today was up to a fair average of efficiency. Five or six minutes would be saved in getting to some fires.

The motion to put the main question was lost.

The minority report of Councilman Richards was rejected.

The amendment of the Finance Committee was then adopted, the rules suspended, and the order passed, Councilman Richards voting no.

NEXT MEETING.

Councilman Flynn moved that when the Council adjourn it be until Tuesday, Dec. 27.

Councilman Bryant moved an amendment making the date Dec. 22.

It was suggested by President Hobbs that the two gentlemen get together and agree upon a date.

Councilman Bryant withdrew his amendment.

President Hobbs said unless objection was made both motions were withdrawn.

This brought Councilman Flynn to his feet to protest. He denied that he had withdrawn his motion.

President Hobbs said there was no need of discussion. He would entertain a motion.

Councilman Flynn then moved the date of the adjournment be Dec. 30.

Councilman Clark moved to amend to Dec. 29.

Amendment lost, and motion to fix date of adjournment at Dec. 30 prevailed.

TO NEXT COUNCIL.

Upon motion of Councilman Whiton the order for an assembly hall at the Quincy school building and the question of a playground site in Ward One were taken from the Public Buildings Committee and referred to the next Council.

TRANSFER.

Councilman Bryant offered an order transferring $800 from the appropriation for street lighting to repairs of pubic buildings. Ordered to a second reading.

PAY OF POLICE.

Councilman McDevitt had the order relative to pay of persons and special police officers withdrawn from the Committee on Police, and he offered a substitute order pending that when reserve or special officers took the place of a regular officer they should receive the same pay as the officer whose place they took. Referred to Ordinance Committee.

PERMITS GRANTED.

On motion of Councilman Bryant the following matters in the calendar were taken up and passed:

Granting Citizens' Gas Light Co. permission to lay mains.

Granting Q. E. L. & P. Co. location for poles.

Granting N. E. T. & T. Co. location for poles.

Granting N. E. & T. & T. Co. atachments.

Granting N. E. T. & T. Co. attachments.

Granting N. E. T. & T. Co. location for poles.

Granting N. E. T. & T. Co. underground conduits.

Granting O. C. St. Ry. Co. location for poles.

Granting Q. E. L. & P. Co. location for poles.

Transferring receipts from gypsy moth to gypsy moth.

Transferring $1,000 to appropriation for Poor Department.

ABATEMENT ORDER.

On motion of Councilman Smith, the order making transfers for the abatement of taxes, was taken from the table and rejected. The opinion of the City Solicitor on the question was placed on file.

The order appropriating $1,000 for the use of the special Committee on Finance investigation was taken from the table, and no legislation necessary voted.

The communication from the Mayor returning Order 113 was taken from the table, and no legislation necessary voted.

Adjourned at 9.20 until Friday evening, Dec. 30.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 322-3.

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

OUR CHRISTMAS SALE OF DEPENDABLE CLOTHING

IS NOW IN PROGRESS—To the man or woman of limited means it is a perplexing problem to decide where and what to buy as Christmas gifts for members of their immediate family, relatives and friends. To all such, we say, nothing is more appropriate or appreciated as a Christmas present by father, mother, brother, sister, son or daughter, uncle or aunt, lady or gentleman friend, than useful, sensible articles of wear. During this sale we present

A MOST TEMPTING ARRAY of GENUINE BARGAINS in RELIABLE APPAREL and CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We are confident that you will find at this store exactly what you are looking for at a price you will gladly pay.

"A CHARGE ACCOUNT."—We Open Accounts With All Trustworthy People in or within fifty miles of Quincy. It enables them to have without delay such clothing and Xmas goods as they now desire, the same to be paid for after Christmas, in convenient partial payments whilst earning the money.

Caracul Coats 12.50 to 32.50
Made from fine lustrous caracul, cut full length, splendidly made and lined.

Ladies' Coats 4.98 to 28.50
In kersey, broadcloth and stylish mixtures. Latest styles. Fit and tailoring guaranteed.

Ladies' Suits 9.90 to 32.50
Beautiful suits in broadcloth serge, worsteds and fancy suiting; satin or silk lined, man tailored.

Ladies' Dresses 8.50 to 37.50
We show the latest and most stylish creations in taffeta, messaline, lace and fingerie. Beautiful gowns suitable for street or evening wear.

Girls' Dresses 1.49 to 9.50
In fine quality serge, plaid, mixtures, and popular washable fabrics, such as ginghams, galateas, percales, etc.

Girl's Coats 1.98 to 12.50
Ages 4 to 14, In Kersey, Caracul, stylish mixtures and Bear Skin, correct styles, all colors.

Beautiful Furs 98c to 75.00
Our stock of furs embraces every thing in Muffs, Scarfs, Pelerines and Fur Sets, made from selected skins in Fox, Squirrel, Lynx, Marten, Mink, Opposum etc. Our prices save you money.

Men's Overcoats 8.50 to 25.00
We show all models, each one representing the best overcoat values shown at our price.

Boys' Overcoats 2.98 to 12.00
If the boy is to have a new Overcoat, now is the time and here is the place to buy it.

Men's Suits 7.98 to 18.50
Stylish, serviceable suits in cashimere, worsted, cheviot and serge. Well tailored and lined; splendid fitting.

Men's Suits 19.98 to 27.50
In fine quality of serge, worsted and novelty suiting, all of the new shades, stripes and checks. Hand-felled collars, hand made buttonholes.

Youths' Suits 6.98 to 23.50
Our young men's suits embrace the style, shape and dash that appeal to the young man "who knows." Satisfaction delivered with every purchase.

Boy's Suits 1.98 to 8.50
For style, quality, fit and hard usage our boy's suits can't be beat in 2 piece Russian and sailored models

Stylish Hats 1.49 to 3.00
We show the latest and best styles in Derby and Soft Hats. All of the new blocks and desirable shades.

Ladies Fur Coats 32.50 to 175.00
We are prepared to supply your every requirement in Pony, Coney, Marmot and Near Seal Coats at prices ranging from

Stylish Shoes 1.75 to 4.50
We carry a full line of Ladies' Gents' Boys' and Girl's Shoes.

Men's Sweaters .98 to 8.50
We carry a fine line of Men's and Boys' Sweaters. All colors and Sizes.

XMAS UMBRELLAS
Your wants in this line will be well satisfied from our splendid stock. Always acceptable as a Christmas gift.
1.98 to 7.50

COMMENCING DEC. 19TH OUR STORE WILL BE OPEN EVERY NIGHT UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Waists
In lawn, linegrie taffeta and messaline all styles, all sizes all colors Reduced 1-4 price.
One-Fourth

Joyce Bros. & Co.
HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED
13-15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass.
L-Dec. 20-1t

Millinery
The balance of our stock of ladies and girls' hats comprising this season best styles, reduced to prices
One Third

—Edison, the great inventor, upon being interviewed concerning his religious views, declares his belief in the existence of a Supreme Being and sums up his religion in the following sentence: "The only religion needed in this world is the golden rule. If everybody practiced it there would be no more trouble or poverty or unhappiness. It is a perfectly practicable proposition and wouldn't be hard for most of us to follow if we got a little encouragement from our neighbors." --Chelsea Record.

Rich Hair We publish all the ingredients of Ayer's Hair Vigor. Your doctor can thus quickly decide any hair question. He can see at once it cannot color the hair. Ask him about falling hair, dandruff, thin hair. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION

We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.

Everything that goes with it at

PETERSON'S

334 Washington Street, Quincy

RUBBERS

Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers

50c Per Pair

Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 540-2. Oct. 6-tf

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 340-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK. BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
10c. 25c. 50c.
TRY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
All Druggists

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
910 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

KEELER GOES TO SING SING

Bigamist Who Married Women and Then Robbed Them

New York, Dec. 20.—Harry B. Keeler, the dentist, who is under indictment for bigamy, was sentenced to four years and eleven months in Sing Sing prison for the larceny of $11,216 from Mrs. Wilhelmina Lynch, one of his victims. Keeler pleaded guilty to the larceny charge.

Keeler married Mrs. Lynch, and after obtaining possession of her money fled. He is under indictment for marrying two other women who claim that he defrauded them of their earnings.

Work For Federal Grand Jury

Chicago, Dec. 20.—A federal grand jury was sworn in before United States District Judge Landis to investigate the Capital Investment company, raided last week as a "bucket shop," the alleged brick trust and the oleomargarine industry.

Two Brothers Killed In Fight

Bluefields, W. Va., Dec. 20.—Two men are dead and one dying as a result of a fight between Emmet and Lafayette Easterling, two brothers, and Urban Nash, at Tacoma, Va. Nash, mortally wounded, killed both brothers.

Private Bank Assigns

Watkins, N. Y., Dec. 20.—The Farmers & Merchants' bank, a private institution, has closed. A general assignment for the benefit of creditors has been made.

Telegraph-Cable Merger

London, Dec. 20.—Negotiations have been completed for the amalgamation of the Western Union Telegraph company and the Anglo-American Cable company.

HOUNDED BY WIFE'S SPIRIT

Missouri Man Now Seeks Relief In the Divorce Court

Kansas City, Dec. 20.—In a petition for divorce filed here, Marvir Minnear, a bookkeeper, alleged he had been hounded by his wife's spirit and it was more than he could stand. The wife, says the petition, declares she possesses power to separate her spirit from her body and send it where she likes.

Minnear alleges she accused him of inconstancy, basing her charges on her power to have her spirit shadow him and make report to her on all doings.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

Five Days to Xmas
DEC. 20
Mail or Express Gifts on Time This Year

JUSTICE HARLAN

He Administers the Oath to Chief Justice White

WHITE IS SWORN IN

Formally Assumes Duty as Chief Justice of Supreme Court

Washington, Dec. 20.—Edward D. White, the new chief justice of the United States supreme court, was formally sworn in Monday.

The supreme court room was crowded for the ceremony, which was simple but impressive. The oath was administered by Associate Justice Harlan, dean of the court, who has been acting chief justice since the death of the late Chief Justice Fuller. Later the court delivered opinions, heard motions and adjourned for the holiday recess, to reassemble Jan. 3, 1911.

RETURN ON TERMS THEY HAD REJECTED

Employes of Missouri Pacific Railroad Lose Long Contest

St. Louis, Dec. 20.—The striking machinists, blacksmiths, boilermakers and sheet-metal workers of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain system will return to work tomorrow. The settlement was agreed upon between the officials of the company and representatives of the striking employes last night.

According to the statement of General Manager Sullivan, the settlement is a complete victory for the company. The men go back to work on the terms offered May 1, which they rejected. The foremen, numbering nearly 150, will not be taken back.

DENY STORY OF BOOM

Friends of Hughes Say He Is Not Candidate For Presidency

Washington, Dec. 20.—There has been much gossip in political circles in Washington following the elevation of Justice White to the chief justiceship of the supreme court of the United States. This gossip has centred to a great extent in the supposition that the failure of President Taft to appoint Justice Hughes to the position leaves the latter in a position where he would be available for the Republican nomination in 1912.

Justice Hughes has steadfastly refused, since his elevation to the supreme bench, to talk for publication; nevertheless, it can be said on the best possible authority that he recognizes the fitness and propriety of the appointment of Justice White as chief justice; that he is not and does not intend ever to be a candidate for the presidency, and that he is happy in his work and desires to be left alone to do it to the best of his ability.

THREE TO FIVE YEARS

Sentence Imposed Upon Boston Broker Convicted of Larceny

Boston, Dec. 20.—Almon D. F. Adams, the State street broker and money lender, was sentenced by Judge Stevens of the superior court to the state prison for a term of not less than three nor more than five years at hard labor.

Adams was convicted of the larceny of about $800 worth of securities, the property of James H. Robinson, and which had been left with Adams by Robinson to secure other purchases of stock.

Child Bride Gets Divorce

Kokomo, Ind., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Goldie Curtis has been divorced from Allen Curtis. She was a bride of 15 and he a groom of 19. Mrs. Curtis said her husband cursed her because sehe wanted to go to church.

Would Restore Army Canteen

Washington, Dec. 20.—In the interests, as he explained it, of "true temperance in the army," Representative Bartholdt of Missouri introduced a bill providing for the restoration of the army canteen.

Lehmann Assumes Office

Washington, Dec. 20.—Frederick W. Lehmann of St. Louis, recently appointed solicitor general, was formally sworn in at the department of justice.

OBJECTION TO "REED RULES"

Senators Engage In an Interesting Controversy

SHERMAN STANDS BY GUNS

Rules That Senators Paired May Be Counted as Part of Quorum—Hale Delivers Sharp Lecture to Vice President, While Carter and Smith Try to Soften the Blow—Trouble Over Point of "No Quorum"

Washington, Dec. 20.—No Reed rules for the United States senate. For more than an hour that body suspended all other business and, figuratively speaking, went up in the air ten feet and came down in a solid mass upon the head of Vice President Sherman for attempting to inoculate the upper branch with the virus of house procedure.

The incident, which attracted attention all over the Capitol, grew out of the action of the vice president in counting as present for the purpose of a quorum senators who had announced pairs. An amendment had been rejected by a vote of 16 to 25, less than a majority of the senate, which is its constitutional quoum. The point of "no quorum" was raised and Sherman calmly announced that, including the nine senators who had announced their pairs, a quorum was present.

This action, so close a reflection of the methods by which Thomas B. Reed blocked filibustering Democrats from stopping the business of the house, was almost unnoticed Saturday, but yesterday the senators came up loaded for bear.

Mr. Culberson, the Democratic leader, brought the matter before the senate by objecting to the approval of the journal and Mr. Hale, the Republican floor leader, in his most solemn manner proceeded to read a lecture to the vice president that must have made Sherman's ears tingle. The matter involved was immaterial, said Hale, but it was the invariable rule of the senate that a quorum be disclosed by senators voting aye and no.

"I hope the chair will very carefully consider the question before seeking to enforce any other rule," said Hale. No other test case has been recognized by the senate. Pairs are counted as absentees. If a senator paired is counted as part of a quorum, the purpose of the pair is violated. The chair did what never was done before."

Mr. Carter tried to ease the situation by remarking that a senator was under no obligation to arise in his seat and announce his pair. The action of the vice president in counting senators who had announced pairs was not in violation of the rules. Culberson remarked that the remarks of the vice president were not a casual statement, but a deliberate ruling. "The chair so intended it," interjected Sherman calmly.

Senator Smith came in with an excited word in support of Sherman. "The senators who announced their pairs were present and should have been counted," he said. "If they should not be counted it would be in the power of any senator to break a quorum."

Mr. Heyburn here entered the fray with a quotation from the rules so explicit that when he had finished little more remained to be said on his point. He showed that pairs are unofficial, existing only by unanimous consent. They are not provided for in the rules of the senate, and any senator, or even the vice president, has power to break them. Heyburn showed by the rules, which, he said, have no counterpart in any other body, that the only test of a quorum is a roll call and it cannot be supplemented or influenced by counting. "I don't want the senate for a minute to recognize this ruling."

Senator Bailey agreed, and added that the vice president was not chosen by the senate, but by the people. "The senate cannot be too careful," he warned, "in seeing to it that the presiding officer executes the rules of the senate as they are and does not try to amend them."

Vice President Sherman assisted the senate to the extent of remarking: "I intend to rule that the roll call disclosed the presence of a quorum;" but he was overborne by several senators, who pointed out that it was clearly his duty to order their names called and not to count them.

The vice president later ruled that the amendment over which the controversy arose had been defeated and was not before the senate, thus standing by his guns. Previous to this, however, the journal had been approved, several senators voting no, and in view of this fact and on suggestion of Hale, who pointed out that the senate had "almost unanimously" disagreed with the vice president, the matter was dropped.

No "Swallow-Tail" For Cruce

Oklahoma City, Dec. 20.—Governor-elect Cruce has declined to attend his own inaugural ball because he doesn't want to wear a "dress suit." Society women are chagrined.

BACK TO ANCIENT TIMES

Herdsmen and Shepherds to Guard Animals on Harriman Estate

New York, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Mary Harriman, widow of E. H. Harriman, is going back to the first principles in farming—back to the time of Abraham, whose cattle were watched on the plain by cowherds.

The old stone walls are to be torn away and crushed into macadam and the wood fences burned. The 10,000 acres of land in the Ramapo valley are to be thrown into one great fenceless plantation and the herds of fine Jerseys, Guernseys and Holsteins are to be watched by herdsmen. It is expected that the herders will wear something like the Tyrolean cowherd's costume.

Another innovation will be the presence of a large flock of fine sheep, which will be cared for by shepherds carrying crooks and accompanied by fine sheep dogs.

TO OPEN ON JAN. 3

Preparations For Test of Postal Savings Bank System

Boston, Dec. 20.—Postmasters from various parts of New England go to Washington this week at the request of Postmaster General Hitchcock to receive instructions in the new postal savings banks system, which will be put into operation throughout the country Jan. 3. The postmaster general says that everything will be in readiness on that date for the first test of the system.

During the past few days postmasters at the twelve offices in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states held a conference with the officials at Washington and received instructions in regard to the system.

VESSEL HITS LEDGES IN PENOBSCOT BAY

Sixteen Men Escape, but Schooner Is a Total Wreck

Rockland, Me., Dec. 20.—The Boston fishing schooner Matiana, Captain Bishop, struck on Bay ledges in Penobscot bay, and is a mass of wreckage. The crew of fifteen men, including the captain, put off in five dories and after rowing ten miles reached here safely.

The schooner, which was built only two years ago and was worth $15,000, had a fare of 7000 pounds of mixed fish. Bishop is a stranger in these parts and, while trying to make the harbor, was off his course.

Allen F. Sylvester, a watchman, nearly 70 years old, who was notified of the wreck by the first arrivals, became so excited at the news that he died half an hour later from heart trouble.

The Weather

Almanac, Wednesday, Dec. 21.
Sun rises—7:18; sets—4:32.
Moon rises—10:31 p. m.
High water—2:45 a. m.; 3:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair; colder in Maine; moderate to brisk west winds.

☞White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

One Reason
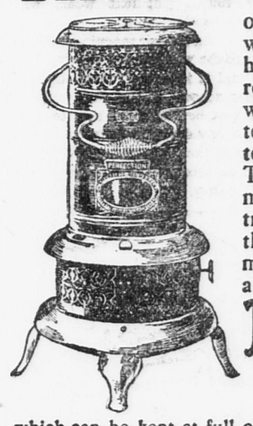
For Its Popularity is the known superior merit which has made Pears' Soap famous. It holds its fame by deserving it—by a continuance of highest quality for more than one hundred and twenty years. Another reason for its popularity Is That Everyone Can Afford to profit by its delightful emollient properties. Pears is absolutely pure and keeps the skin in perfect health. It is not necessary to use common soaps which often do harm, where at an equally low price you can purchase
Pears' Soap
15 cents a cake for the unscented

That Cold Room


on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a
PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time.
Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.
An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost.
An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant.
The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a cool handle.
Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY

JUST IN TIME

Some Quincy People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late.
Be sure to be in time.
Just in time with kidney ills.
Means curing the back.
Before backache becomes chronic;
Before serious urinary troubles set in.
Doan's Kidney Pills will do his.
Here is Quincy testimony to prove it.

Nicholas Albanese, 16 Gilmore St., Quincy, Mass., says: "I was annoyed by attacks of vackache for some time, often while at work, sharp, shooting pains darted through my loins, causing me great miserey. I also had dizzy spells and my sight seemed to be affected. I tried many remedies, but did not receive relief and as a last resort, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at the Cox Drug Store and in a short time after using them, I was helped. I have no hesitation in giving Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for my cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 392 Quincy

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-3mos

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
86 Washington St., Quincy

Bad Breath

"For months I had great trouble with my stomach and used all kinds of medicines. My tongue has been actually as green as grass, my breath having a bad odor. Two weeks ago a friend recommended Cascarets and after using them I can willingly and cheerfully say that they have entirely cured me. I therefore let you know that I shall recommend them to any one suffering from such troubles."—Chas. H. Halpern, 114 E. 7th St., New York, N. Y.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 923

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

IT will be for YOU
A Merry Christmas
IF You Read Daily
THE Quincy Ledger
Home Trade will Help Quincy

POWER HOUSE IS BLOWN UP

Results in Nine Deaths and Injury to Over a Hundred

MANHATTAN ISLAND SHAKEN

Breaking of Gas Main When Runaway Car Crashes Into It Causes Explosion Which Leads to Remarkable Scenes—People Uninjured Sit Helpless In Streets, Numb From Shock—Property Loss of Half a Million

New York, Dec. 20.—The very heart and backbone of Manhattan island were shaken by a terrific explosion of illuminating gas in the auxiliary power house of the Grand Central station. Nine persons, two of them women, were killed, 125 were injured and property was damaged to the extent of $500,000.

Four workmen, who are missing, are believed to have perished, and of 125 injured, 98 were removed to hospitals. Of these eight may die. An investigation by the police, the district attorney's office and the coroner's office is under way. Traffic on the New York Central railroad ceased entirely for some hours, but the new station itself, now in process of construction, was not damaged.

The injured include laborers and other employes of the railroad, pedestrians, bystanders and others in the vicinity of the accident. A passing surface car, carrying seven passengers, was lifted from its trucks and hurled into an automobile running alongside. Four of the seven passengers were killed outright, but the chauffeur of the motor car was only cut and bruised.

The force of the explosion ran north and south for two miles along the rocky ridge that is the backbone of the island and east and west laterally for a mile. Foundations were jarred, walls were shaken out of plumb, windows were blown in by the thousand, ceilings came crashing down on the heads of those beneath, and the pavements were littered with pulverized glass that topped the shoe soles. The full amount of the property damage is as yet unavailable and may exceed the rough and conservative estimate of $500,000.

The loss to the New York Central Railroad company includes the physical damage done to the power house, which was utterly wrecked; the delay to construction work and the damage done to cars standing near the power house. The loss to shopkeepers and property owners in the vicinity will spread over a wide range of items. Christmas displays were blown backward into the shops, sucked into the street or cut to ribbons by flying glass. Whole fronts of buildings were left without a window.

As nearly as can be determined, this is how the accident occurred:

A train load of empty passenger cars, hauled by an electric motor, in charge of Albert Seagrotte, got out of control of the brakes, crashed into a steel and concrete buffer post, snapped the post off and rammed a pile of lumber behind the post into a 2½-inch gas main, connecting with the taps from which the tanks of the passenger cars are charged at 250 pounds to the square inch.

When workmen set to clearing away the strewed lumber, it is assumed that one of them dropped a steel tool across the third rail; there was a flash of electricity and the great reservoir of accumulated gas exploded.

What happened then will never be adequately told.

The roof of fire house No. 2, directly across the street from the power house, lifted like a magic carpet. A shower of glass, bricks, mortar and splintered timbers began to rain down on the pavements. In an instant the streets were filled with prostrate men and women, blown flat by the shock of the detonation and the rush of air. They sat dazed where they fell, picking slivers from their flesh.

A moment more and crowds beseiged the drug stores, begging for aid and clamoring for telephones. Then the clattering gongs of ambulances began to racket between the tall buildings. The tenements to the east of Lexington avenue poured thousands into the streets. Whole houses were emptied in a twinkling.

The prevailing human note of the spot and the moment was numbed incapacity to believe what the sense testified to. Men and women sat stock still, suffering from nothing worse than shock, and got up again and moved off stiffly when someone laid a hand on their shoulders and spoke to them with authority.

That the death list did not reach into the hundreds was seemingly a dispensation of Providence. Half an hour later the streets directly in front of the power house would have been crowded with school children. No incoming or outgoing passeners were passing. If a crowded suburban train had stood on the rails instead of empty cars when the walls of the power house blew out, it is difficult to imagine what the resultant horror would have been.

A CHRISTMAS FAIRY STORY.

By AILEEN ORR.

THERE was once upon a time a little black boy called Billy. He had lived all his short life in a black camp with his parents and a number of other aborigines of the tribe. Billy had never been very kindly treated, and as he had a soft heart himself he sometimes felt it very much.

Now, one Christmas time, being left alone as usual, with no presents of any sort and no treat, he began to think of all the stories he had been told about the white children's Christmas and determined then and there to find out what it was really like. He had heard of the Christmas hills in a country many miles off and planned to go there, believing from their name that these must contain all the mysteries of Santa Claus and other joys from which he had always been isolated.

With a loving farewell to his own mia mia—the little shelter of branches which he had built for himself against the thunderstorms—he set off with only a piece of opossum skin hung round his waist for clothing and a boomerang in his hand.

Billy journeyed for many hours over paddocks and wire fences, wading bravely through creeks, water holes and bracken undergrowth, where the snakes were very numerous and poisonous, till he found himself in a beautiful valley between a blue and a purple mountain. Approaching a vineyard, he asked an old gardener where the Christmas hills lay.

"Yonder," said the man, pointing straight in front of them toward the blue mountain. "This is Yarra glen."

The little black boy was very hot and thirsty, for the sun had been beating fiercely upon him all the way along, so he begged a few of the round juicy grapes which hung in rich profusion on the vines.

"By all means," said the good natured gardener as he picked him the largest bunch he could find, ripe and inviting, with the bloom upon them. Billy thanked him, saying he hoped some time to be able to return his kindness, and, taking the fruit, he continued his way with a light heart.

As he climbed and climbed, rising higher and higher, the glen grew smaller and smaller below him till he could not see the old man any more. Soon the hill became so steep and slippery that he was forced to draw himself up from tree to tree by holding first on to one branch and then another. Blue gum and wattles rose high above him in monotonous grandeur till he began to wonder where the Christmas trees and stockings were and how they grew. Feeling thirsty again, he was putting some more grapes into his mouth, when suddenly he perceived a poor old woman lying on the ground, looking very faint and ill.

"GIVE ME SOME, KIND YOUTH."

"Give me some, kind youth!" she gasped. "I have been sunstruck."

"But I have traveled many miles on foot and am parched with thirst," said Billy.

"I am dying," groaned the other feebly. "Have pity."

Whereupon, moved to sympathy, he gave her all he had left.

To his astonishment as she was eating them she turned into a lovely fairy queen all dressed in soft, shimmery blue, the color of the sky.

"As you have done me a service," she said, "I mean to reward you in the way you most want. You shall have a real Australian Christmas."

Billy was overjoyed and at her bidding followed her through the bush till they reached a wonderful garden filled with brilliant flowers and fruit which surpassed his wildest dreams. Strawberries grew in masses all along the borders, and the trees were laden with luscious ripe peaches, nectarines, figs and every other southern fruit he had ever thought or heard of in or out of season.

Here they entered, and the blue fairy summoned ten other little fairies just Billy's own size and age to wait upon and entertain him. They were all in different colors, so that as they flitted about him in the sunlight with their floating gossamer gowns they looked like a rainbow.

Feast the little darky boy;
Give him pudding, fruit and toy;
Sing and dance and merry make;
Don't forget the Christmas cake
For the goodly darky boy!

Having sung and danced for him, they then set the Christmas dinner on a long, narrow table out in the garden. There were strawberries and cream, and grape cake, minie pies (Gunsler made so many that Christmas he never missed those the fairies stole), chocolates, pineapple dumplings, and last, but most important, instead of a hot plum pudding with holly, as the cold countries have, there was a huge ice cream pudding, with precious stones instead of raisins through it, and a piece of yellow wattle blossoms stuck in the top.

Five fairies sat at one side of the table and five at the other, while Billy sat at the foot, and the blue queen at the head. They filled their glasses with magic wine, so that all who drank would be lucky all the new year round. Each fairy's wine matched her dress; the green one had green wine, the pink one pink wine and the purple fairy purple wine, and so on till it came to Billy, and his was black with a crimson light in it, and he thought it more delicious than anything he had ever tasted. Then they were given each a large slice of the grape cake, and afterward anything they wanted till they had appetite left for only the ice pudding, which on such a hot day was most refreshing. Each fairy found in her share a precious stone again to match her dress. The yellow fairy got a topaz, the heliotrope an amethyst, the blue a sapphire, and so on till it came to Billy, who, after eating for some time, suddenly closed his white teeth upon something very hard and, taking it out and looking at it, found it was an opal with every one of the fairy colors combined gleaming in it.

All the fairies gathered round him and exclaimed, "That is a magic opal, and the owner of it will some day become chief of his tribe." Hearing this, he put it in his mouth under his tongue for safety, for, as he had no clothes, of course he had no pocket. The fairies then, seeing he had no stocking to hang up, presented him instead, for a Christmas box, with a new boomerang, telling him it was a charmed one, so that whenever he wanted anything he had only to throw the weapon high into the air and it would return with the object of his choice and lay it at his feet.

THE GOBLIN KNOCKED HIM DOWN.

But alas, there was a wicked little goblin peeping through from the bough of a peach tree, and, though he had not heard about or seen the boomerang, he had caught all regarding the magic opal and had seen Billy place it under his tongue. So when the little black boy had bidden goodby, thanking the fairies for his Christmas feast, and started home again he was waylaid in the bush by the evil goblin, who had followed him out of the garden to rob him. Billy refused to give up his stone and cried for help, but the goblin knocked him down and beat him till he lost consciousness. Then the wicked creature forced open his mouth, stole the magic opal and ran away with it as fast as he could. When poor Billy recovered he soon noticed that the opal was gone and guessed who had taken it, but he was in despair of ever finding it again, so, sitting miserably on the ground, he opened his mouth wide and cried long and loud. But this he soon realized was a silly, useless thing to do. Just then he spied his boomerang, which he had quite forgotten, on the ground nearby, and, remembering what the blue fairy had told him, he picked it up, and, jumping to his feet, he threw it skillfully high into the air.

Away it swung without touching the trees, and, sure enough, as the goblin, a couple of miles off, was just admiring his plunder, the boomerang lifted it out of his hand before his very eyes and carried it back to the feet of its rightful owner. Billy shouted for joy, and, putting it once more in his mouth, he took his wonderful toy under his arm and sped down the hill. When he reached the vineyard he saw the gardener still at work, so, asking him what he would most like as a token of gratitude for the grapes, the old man looked him up and down and answered, "There is not much a little fellow like you could do for me."

"I can do my best," said Billy.

"There is only one thing I want," said the gardener sadly, "and that is the little daughter I lost in the bush a year ago."

No sooner said than the boomerang went whizzing through the air as before, and in a few moments it came floating swiftly back through the blue haze with a little fair headed child seated happily and safely upon it. With joy too deep for words, the old man clasped her in his arms, and Billy triumphantly left them together and journeyed on again over paddock and fence till at last he found himself back in the black camp where his little mia mia and aborigine companions were. When they found how successfully he could throw and the wonderful things the boomerang brought back he grew so very popular and rich that they at length made him chief of the tribe. Then he married a sweet little black girl with the tightest, tiny black curls and the blackest possible eyes. Round her neck he hung the magic opal, and as she wore it always they lived happily ever afterward.—Leslie's Weekly.

CAME FLOATING SWIFTLY BACK.

Why Not These For the Girl?

A signet ring, bangle bracelet, sash and hair bow sets, postcard album, die stamped monogram stationery, hand bag, sewing set in fancy case, music folio and rolls, a stunning leather belt or sterling silver buckle, a dainty pendant and thin gold chain, wood burning outfit, a camera, silk petticoat, a pair of white kid party slippers, a silk rubberized raincoat, roller skates, doll house, white spangled fan, leather desk set, metal trimmed pincushion and jewel box combined.

NEW HOUSE IS FOR REVISION

Shown In Careful Poll of Sentiment on Tariff

LOWER SCHEDULE IS CERTAIN

Nearly Three Hundred Members Will Vote For Change In Measure, While "Stand Patters" Number but Sixty-One—Some Doubt as to Wisdom of Appointment of Tariff Commission—Views of Representatives

New York, Dec. 20.—Two hundred and eighty-six members of the next house of repesentatives, 90 more than the needed majority, are in favor of tariff reduction. That tariff relief is in sight when the next congress goes into session was made known by a poll of all but 43 of the 391 representatives in the next house made by the New York Herald, the result of which is told in a copyrighted article.

The poll taken of 348 legislators shows that 177 of the 228 Democrats are for "tariff for revenue only," and 30 are for a reduction in the Aldrich-Payne schedules, but are still protectionists.

Of the Republicans only 61 "stand patters" could be found, while 79 of the total of 162 Republicans left in the house believe that it is necessary to revise the present tariff, while at the same time keeping the principles of protection well to the fore.

The views of the representatives were obtained by personal interviews and confidential letters. The 43 men whose stand was not procured are evenly divided between the Republicans and the Democrats and would not change the general result.

In making the poll a good deal of sentiment for revision by commission was found, provided that the commission be created by congress and report back to it, instead of being the creation of the president and reporting to him. The majority, however, said that they were in doubt as to the wisdom of the appointment of such a comaission. In any event, they said, it should make its report to congress and not to the president.

The 61 Republicans who declared themselves irreconciliable "stand patters" did so without exception on the ground that the present tariff was "the best tariff the country ever had." Furthermore, they said, the country needs industrial and commercial rest, and new tariff legislation would seriously disturb that rest.

Of these "stand patters" only 16 came from the middle west, while 28 are from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, West Virginia and Maryland, which together contain a big part of the most highly protected industries.

DENIAL FROM FRAZIER

Tennessee Senator Says He Did Not Vote to Clear Lorimer

Chattanooga, Dec. 20.—United States Senator Frazier of Tennessee denies he signed the report of the sub-committee of the committee on privileges and elections of the senate which found the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois free from scandal.

Instead, he says, he filed a statement in which he declared his belief that seven of the votes cast for Lorimer in the legislature were tainted. Lorimer was elected by seven votes.

It had been repoted that all members of the sub-committee signed the report which gave Lorimer a clear record.

MINISTER WEDGE WEDS

Former Pugilist Takes a Nebraska Girl For His Bride

Omaha, Dec. 20.—Rev. Frederick R. Wedge, better known as "Kid" Wedge, former pugilist, was last evening married to Miss Prudence Tracy, postmistress of Florence. Wedge will go to San Francisco to reside, where he has been engaged in missionary work for the last year.

After leaving the prize ring five years ago Wedge studied for the ministry in the Omaha theological seminary, earning money to get through school by giving boxing lessons in clubs about town.

Cleaned Them Out.

First Girl—Was your bazaar a great success? Second Girl—I should think so. All the gentlemen had to walk home. They hadn't even a penny in their pockets to pay their tram fares. —London Tit-Bits.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CAKE AND FROSTING.

(Fanny Farmer)

Caramel Cake—Cream half cup butter, add one cup sugar, two eggs, half cup milk, to which is added half cup hot riced potatoes and one cup flour mixed and sifted with two teaspoons baking powder and half teaspoon each of clove, cinnamon and nutmeg; then add half cup grated chocolate and half cup chopped walnut meats. Bake in a loaf about one hour. Cover with Fudge Frosting—Boil together one cup sugar, quarter cup milk, two tablespoons butter and one square chocolate fifteen minutes, adding chocolate after other ingredients have boiled ten minutes. Remove from fire, add half teaspoon vanilla, and beat until creamy.

Grape Fruit Cake, too, was something quite new. Still, it is rather strange that as we have found it convenient and desirable to use grape fruit in so many dishes, as the key note of the situation or as but an incident, that it has not before this appeared in cakes. This was the manner of Miss Farmer's presentation of it in its latest attempt to please:

Cream one-quarter cup butter, add one cup sugar, two eggs, one-half cup grape-fruit juice, one three-quarters cups flour sifted with two and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-quarter teaspoon soda. Beat thoroughly and add one-third cup grape-fruit pulp. Bake in shallow pan thirty-five minutes. When cool, split and fill with Grape-Fruit Filling—Beat the yolks of three eggs until thick, add one cup sugar gradually, and continue beating; then add one-half cup grape-fruit juice, grated rind of one lemon and one-quarter cup butter. Cook until thick.

Grape-Fruit Frosting—To two teaspoons grape-fruit juice add one teaspoon brandy and enough confectioners' sugar to make stiff enough to spread.

Rock cakes, another item in the lecture, were much pleasanter than their name would indicate. To make them: Cream one-half cup butter, add one-half cup sugar, two small eggs, two cups flour mixed and sifted with one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-quarter cup each of chopped nut meats and raisins. Make into balls the size of a half-dollar and bake on a buttered pan.

Marshmallow cakes, highly favored by those who "proved" them in the eating were these: Beat the whites of five eggs until stiff and dry, and add gradually three-fourths of a cup of sugar sifted with one-half teaspoonful cream of tartar. Sift into the mixture one-half cup bread flour, add one teaspoonful vanilla and bake in buttered muffin rings placed on a buttered sheet. Cover with Marshmallow frosting. Place in the oven one-half pound marshmallows, being careful not to brown them. When partially melted add to a boiled frosting made by boiling one cup sugar and four tablespoons water together until it threads, then pouring onto stiffly beaten white of one egg and adding one-half teaspoon vanilla. Beat mixture until stiff enough to spread.

Caramel filling and caramel frosting, suitable for a hundred or more kinds of cake, were also set forth:

Caramel filling. Caramelize one-half cup sugar and add one-half of it to one and one-half cups scalded milk. When caramel is dissolved add one-half cup sugar mixed with one-third cup flour, and cook twenty minutes. Add beaten yolk of one egg and one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Caramel frosting. To the remainder of caramel add one cup sugar and boil until it threads. Pour on to the beaten white of one egg and beat until stiff enough to spread, flavoring with one-half teaspoon vanilla.

LIVE ON PENNY BUN A DAY

Girl Strikers In Chicago Suffering For Want of Food

Chicago, Dec. 20.—A story of how ten girl strikers subsisted on one sugar coated penny bun each day, for two weeks, was told at labor headquarters, illustrating the suffering among the 45,000 half starved garment workers.

Union officials questioned the girls, and they reluctantly admitted the truth of the story.

Cudahy Left $11,000,000

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Michael Cudahy, the meat packer, left an estate worth $11,000,000, according to the will, which was filed yesterday. Several hospitals and similar institutions are given specific sums, and his widow and seven children are to receive annuities.

A Better Chance.

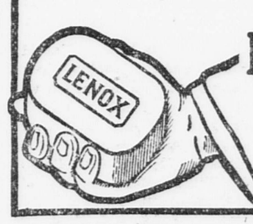
From a giant, ghost or goblin
I should do my best to flee.
But I'd rather have the trio
Than the wireless after me!
—Lippincott's.

Clean water and Lenox Soap—

That is the combination that suits the majority of women.

One is as important as the other. You cannot expect to have clean clothes if you do not use clean water. Nor will you get rid of the dirt, without injuring the clothes, if you do not use good soap.

Lenox Soap is good soap.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

GAS READING LAMPS
--- MAKE ---
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	40 degrees
December 20, 1909,	35 degrees
December 20, 1908,	38 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Furniture
C. Patch & Son, Inc.—Coal
Quincy Market—Xmas Sale
Notice to Bidders
Wanted

BRIEFS

Harold Miller of Franklin street has gone to Lewiston, Maine, for a visit over the holidays.

The Barbers' Union held their regular monthly meeting in room 22, Johnson building, Monday evening.

Mrs. Wrigley of 24 Coddington street, gave an informal dance in honor of Miss Elsie Turner's birthday, Monday evening.

The nominating committee of the Board of Trade will meet Wednesday evening to make selection of candidates for offices in 1911.

The Blacksmith's Union met in room 24 Johnson building on Monday evening for their regular monthly business session.

Union 505 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters announce their first grand dance for Friday evening, Jan. 6, at Alpha hall.

The loyal Order of Moose met in Protection hall Monday evening. The membership is reported to be 86, including those initiated on this evening.

The Order of the Eastern Star met in Electa hall Monday evening for its regular monthly session. Two were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

Dr. and Mrs. Hardy were called to Grafton, Mass., on Monday to the funeral services of Mrs. Charles Y. Lingley, an aunt of Mrs. Hardy. Dr. Hardy assisted at the services, which were held at the Congregational church.

The subject for debate by the Men's club of Christ church tomorrow evening will be "Resolved—That the tariff is mainly responsible for the high cost of living." Charles W. Hanscom, the well known labor organizer will take the affirmative, and Alexander Fryer the negative. Both men have very strong opinions in the matter and a hot debate is assured. Refreshments will be served.

DEATHS

NEWCOMB—In Woburn, Dec. 19, M Charles H. S. Newcomb, formerly of Quincy Point, aged 67 years.
Funeral services on Thursday Dec. 22, at 2 P. M., at First Universalist church, Quincy. Relatives and friends invited. Dec. 20-2t BLAISDELL—In Bridgewater, Dec. 18, Mr. Charles A. Blaisdell, formerly of Quincy, aged 55 years.

ROGERS—In Marshfield, Dec. 17, Mr. Alfred Rogers, aged 63 years.

GOWD—In Weymouth, Dec. 19 Olive J., daughter of Mr. Paul and Mrs. Theresa Gowd.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

MASON AND CHURCH MEMBER

Death of Charles H. S. Newcomb a Former Resident

Charles H. S. Newcomb, a former resident of Washington street, Quincy Point, died on Monday, at Woburn, after a week's illness.

It was 10 to 12 years ago that Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb moved to Somerville, where Mrs. Newcomb passed away. Recently Mr. Newcomb purchased an estate in Woburn where he lived with his daughter, Mrs. John Harris, an only child. He was 67 years of age. He left three sisters in Quincy, Mrs. T. A. Addison, Mrs. Clara Brown and Mrs. Lucy Waterman.

Mr. Newcomb was a carpenter by trade. He was for many years a prominent member of the First Universalist church of Quincy, serving as a member of the parish committee and in other positions. He also became a member of Rural lodge of Masons many years ago, and was a life member at the time of his death.

Funeral services will be held at the Universalist church on Thursday at 2 P. M. and will be attended by Rural lodge of Masons.

BRIEFS

Maple lodge K. and L. of H. holds its third whist party in its series tomorrow evening at Protection hall.

The Companions of the Foresters will meet this evening in Clan McGregor hall for the annual election of officers.

Many guests from Quincy were present at the wedding of John J. Petrell of South Braintree and Miss Amelia Dianto of Randolph which took place Monday noon at the home of the bride's parents in Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Purcell of Babcock street, Houghs Neck, entertained a number of friends Saturday evening at the "Little Dick" cottage. There was a pleasing musical program by the guests.

The annual banquet of the West Quincy Improvement association will be held the latter part of January, probably Jan. 27, at St. Mary's hall, and the members of the association and their friends are looking forward to a grand time.

The Granite city club will observe the night before the holiday by its usual display of hospitality. Open house to members and their friends will be the rule. Monk's orchestra will be present to furnish music, and an appetizing lunch is promised by the entertainment committee.

But few more days are left in which belated shoppers may make purchases of Christmas gifts, and the local stores are having a big trade. The local stores have never looked more attractive than they do at the present time, for all are displaying an unusually large line of seasonable goods.

A "63" party was held in Clan McGregor hall Monday evening. There were twelve tables filled, and a very jolly party. Souvenirs were awarded as follows: 1st, Alexander Black, 1043; 2d, Alexander Maver, 929; 3d, John Hackett, 72; 4th, Otto Gelotte, 828; 5th, William McIntosh, 811; 6th, Thomas Raleigh, 789. The consolation prize was awarded to A. I. Dixon, who had a score of 425.

MANY STARVING IN CHINA

Over a Million Children, Mostly Girls, Have Been Sold

Pekin, Dec. 20.—Winter is intensifying the famine in the Yang-tse-Kiang districts. The authorities are endeavoring to suppress the sale of children. This has been so extensive that the number is estimated at over a million. The majority of the children are girls.

The roadways are dotted with starving and dead. The relief committee is now making appeals abroad for aid.

Countess Going Insane

Venice, Dec. 20.—Countess Tarnowska, the beautiful noblewoman who was condemned to several years' imprisonment for murder, is going insane. Wardresses have to watch her in her cell constantly.

Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
9 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10; Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

CHRISTMAS AT HOUGHS NECK

All the Children to Receive Present from Santa

The ladies of Houghs Neck are making great preparations for the annual Christmas festival which the all-the-year residents have for several years given to the children of the beach. The festival this year will be held in Browne's dance hall, and the date is Thursday evening. The ladies having the affair in charge are: Mrs. N. J. Regan, Mrs. J. L. Harvey, Mrs. Hiram Darrow, and Mrs. Ruby Darrow. They have made a personal canvass for funds and a good sum has been collected.

A canvass of the beach discloses that there are about 250 children, and each and every one will be made happy at the festival by some gift. Santa Claus has been seen, and has promised to be present in person to distribute the presents. In addition to the gift, each child will be given a bag of candy, nuts and pop corn.

A large Christmas tree has been secured which will occupy a place of honor in one corner of the room, and this will be loaded with things that will make the children's eyes twinkle with delight. There will also be a musical program and some few addresses Coffee and ice cream will be served to the adults, and after the tree there will be dancing until 11 o'clock

The Sunday school of the Union chapel will hold its annual Christmas tree and festival on Wednesday evening. Miss Ella Acorn, superintendent of the school, has charge, and she will be assisted by Wallace Higgins, Theresa Slaunwhite and Doris Smith. The program will include musical selections and distributions of gifts. With these two attractions Houghs Neck will have a busy social week.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Monday marked the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Edward J. Fagan, pastor of the Church of the Holy Family at Rockland to the priesthood. In honor of the event Rev. Father Fagan celebrated a special mass at the church at 8 A. M. He entertained a number of his fellow priests and friends at a dinner at the rectory.

Rev. Father Fagan was born in West Quincy Jan. 15, 1860. After completing his education in the public schools of that city he entered Boston College and graduated from that institution in 1882. He studied for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimore, Md., and was ordained as a priest at Brighton Seminary in 1885.

His first appointment was at St. John's church at Hopkinton, where he remained as curate for ten years. His next appointment was at St. Patrick's church at Brighton and he remained there from 1891 to Oct. 7, 1907 when he was appointed pastor of the Church of the Holy Family in Rockland, succeeding Rev. James H. O'Neil, who was transferred to East Boston. His three years' work in Rockland has endeared him to his parishioners and he has made many friends among the townspeople.—Brockton Enterprise.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

MAKARIA BOWLING

The Red Sox Take Three of the Four Points

Some close strings at bottle pins were bowled Monday evening in the Makaria League by the Red Sox and the Tigers. The latter captured the first game by 11 pins, the totals being 624 to 613. The Red Sox took everything else however, winning the second string 673 to 667, and the rubber 637 to 620. On totals the Red Sox lead by 14 pins, and they thus won three points to one for the Tigers. Eggleton of the Red Sox bowled the best string, but had a close rival in Lee Brooks of the Tigers, who led on totals.

The summary:

RED SOX

T. King	133	136	134	403
R. Ganzel	150	139	133	422
Eggleton	91	151	158	400
Morris	141	141	96	378
H. Brooks	98	106	116	320
	613	673	637	1923

TIGERS.

Jones	129	119	125	373
Glover	122	148	150	420
Frohwein	115	130	107	352
M. Nicoll	102	118	100	320
L. Brooks	156	152	138	446
	624	667	620	1909

HARVARD AND YALE

Open the New Granite Bowling League

The Granite bowling league opened its season Monday evening in the Granite street alleys. The four teams of the league have chosen the names of prominent colleges and Harvard and Yale rolled in the opening contest. The Blue won the first string by 10 pins, but the Crimson came back in the second string and took it by 18 pins. The third string was very close and Yale nosed out a victory by 1 pin. Harvard led in the totals by 7 pins. Captain Wentworth of the Crimson had highest single string with 110, and also captured the honors for highest three strings by a pinfall of 271.

The summary:

HARVARD.

Olson	72	90	90	252
Payne	82	87	78	247
Bergfors	82	67	67	216
Atkins	81	87	71	239
Wentworth	76	85	110	271
	393	416	416	1225

YALE.

Hanson	93	70	82	245
Hough	76	82	87	245
F. Gillis	73	80	71	224
Duff	74	84	101	259
Tully	87	82	76	245
	403	398	417	1218

The other two teams in the league will bowl Wednesday evening at the Granite street alleys. The teams will match up as follows:

DARTMOUTH	PRINCETON
F. Erickson, capt.	McKay, capt.
Everson	Halquist
McKenna	G. Erickson
J. Gillis	Furniss
Gustafson	McQueen

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Montclair links of the Wollaston Golf club are practically free from snow and ice and there will probably be some Christmas golf matches.

* * *

The Quincys will meet the Jamaica Plain team in the Columbus club bowling league on Thursday evening.

* * *

In the Makaria league on Thursday evening the Cubs will meet the Giants and the Tigers will meet the Pirates.

* * *

A smoke talk will be held in the rooms of the Copeland club this evening at 8 o'clock.

* * *

"Jim" Flaherty has bought out Powers' pool room on Copeland street, next to S. K. Ames's store.

BATTLESHIP CONTRACT

Quincy May Build One or Two for Portugal

The Fore River Ship Building Co. may have an opportunity to build a battleship for Portugal. A special naval commission has recommended the acquisition of three 19,000 ton battleships of a speed of 21 knots each. The vessels will carry 10 guns. They also recommend three 3,000 ton 22 knot cruisers, twelve 30 knot torpedo boat destroyers, and six submarines. The dispatch from Lisbon states that American shipbuilding firms will be asked to bid on these vessels. The success in getting the Argentine ships will encourage the Fore River company to try for some of these vessels.

SALVADOR ISLAND SINKS

Carries Down 170 Persons as It Disappears Into a Lagoon

New Orleans, Dec. 20.—In a report published here it was learned that 170 men, women and children were drowned when the island in the Hopango lagoon, situated in the republic of Salvador, disappeared, following a series of earthquakes.

The sinking of the island into the lagoon occurred at a time when many of the people were asleep. Rumblings were heard all evening and shocks became more apparent. About 1 o'clock in the morning watchers on the mainland heard the sound of guns from the people on the island.

Shortly afterward boats arrived filled with frightened men, women and children, who reported that the island was slowly sinking under their feet.

The Hopango lagoon is a lake southeast of the city of San Salvador. It is about five and a half miles in length. A minor volcanic cone rose from its waters in January, 1880. The lagoon is about twenty-five miles from the Pacific coast, in mountainous country.

CLAIM DAVIE IS BANKRUPT

Creditors File Petition Against Missing Boston Broker

Boston, Dec. 20.—Robert E. Davie, the missing State street broker, was petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy in the United States district court at the instance of three creditors whose claims amount to nearly $3700. They are Francis J. Kelter, $2200; London Harness company, $126; and Collins & Fairbanks company, $350. They allege an act of bankruptcy in that Davie showed preference in the payment of creditors.

Kelter claims his money is due on a note, and the other two creditors have claims for merchandize sold to Davie.

CHINESE TONGS MAY AGREE UPON PEACE

Week's Truce While Special Committee Is Negotiating

New York, Dec. 20.—Notice of a week's truce between the warring tongs of Chinatown was posted on the bulletin board of the quarter and there is hope that a permanent treaty of peace may soon be signed. A special committee of merchants has begun negotiations.

The responsible merchants have always been opposed to tong warfare because it hurts business, and this time, it is said, they backed their arguments with an ultimatum from the Chinese Business Men's association of Hong Kong, which threatened an embargo on all supplies from home if the tongs not only of New York, but of other cities in which there are Chinese colonies, did not mend their manners.

The battle of the tongs broke out here originally over a quarrel about gambling privileges and has since been kept alive by personal spites.

NEGRO SEGREGATION

Baltimore's New Ordinance May Lead to Court Proceedings

Baltimore, Dec. 20.—Henceforth no white person may move into a block in Baltimore where the majority of the residents of that block are negroes, nor may a negro move into a block where the majority of the residents are white.

This is the mandate laid down in the so-called E. H. West segregation ordinance which was signed by Mayor Mahool yesterday afternoon. It is expected that the act will be taken to the courts to test its constitutionality.

—North Carver must stand at the head of the list of healthy towns, not having a funeral for two years.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Lady's gold open face watch in Wollaston or Norfolk Downs. Finder return to 187 Fayette street, Wollaston. Reward. Dec. 19-3t

LOST— Between John Horrigan's shed Federal avenue and 10 Goddard street, gold watch in black case. Finder will be rewarded on applying to Thomas Robertson, 10 Goddard street. Dec. 17-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

FOR SALE — Two second hand pungs. Apply to R. E. Foy. Water street, corner Quincy street. Dec. 14-tf

NOTICE TO BIDDERS.

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 20, 1910.

Sealed proposals for furnishing in place Steel Vault Fittings will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, Room 1, City Hall, until 10 A. M. Saturday, December 31, 1910, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

Plans and specifications of the work may be obtained at Room 1, City Hall.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for the sum of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) payable to the order of the City of Quincy, which check will become the property of the City if the bidder fails to sign the contract within six days after it may have been awarded to him.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to accept the bid deemed best for the City.

RANDOLPH BAINBRIDGE,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Dec. 20-1t

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14 abcdefghi	3 45	5 41	5 47 ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16 abci	6 35	6 15 ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32 e	6 47	6 45 Exp.	7 00
r 6 40 abef	7 00	7 15 hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12 abcd	7 33	7 45 a	8 00
r 7 25 d	7 42	8 35 cb	8 51
r 7 32 Exp.	7 47	8 45 a	9 00
r 7 40 abcd	8 00	9 15 fedcba	9 37 r
8 05 Exp.	8 20	9 45 a	10 00
r 8 12 abcd	8 30	10 15 ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31 Exp.	8 47	10 45 Exp.	11 00
		11 15 hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51 ad	9 08	11 45 a	12 00
r 9 10 abcde	9 30	12 15 hgfedcba	12 41 r
r 10 04 a	10 30	12 45 Exp.	1 00
		1 15 fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19 abcdefghi	10 45	1 45 a	2 00
11 04 a	11 20	2 15 ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24 abcdefgh	11 50	2 45 Exp.	3 00
12 04 a	12 20	3 15 hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19 abcdefghi	12 45	3 45 a	4 00
1 14 a	1 30	4 15 fedcba	4 37 r
r 1 19 abcde	1 40	4 45 d	5 00
2 04 a	2 20	5 12 Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19 abcdefgh	2 45	5 20 d	5 57
3 04 a	3 20	5 55 dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19 abcdefghi	3 45	6 40 Exp.	5 58 r
4 04 a	4 20	5 55 fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24 abcdefgh	4 50	6 42 Exp.	6 27 r
4 39 b	5 15	6 30 ecba	6 10 r
r 5 34 abcdefg	5 55	7 00 fedcba	7 21 r
6 09 ac	6 27	7 15 a	7 38
7 04 b	7 20	8 15 fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 39 ae	7 45
r 8 07 abcdef	8 30	9 30 dcba	9 51 r
r 9 01 abc	9 20	10 20 fedcba	10 43 r
		11 15 fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07 abcdef	10 30	11 30 a	11 48
r 11 20 abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43 abc	8 03	6 30 ba	6 49 r
8 30 Exp.	8 45	8 45 ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 46 bcdefghi	9 13	9 05 Exp.	9 21
r 9 13 abc	9 33	10 15 ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31 a	9 47	12 15 ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23 ac	10 30	12 43 Exp.	12 59
11 00 Exp.	11 17	1 15 ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16 abcdefghi	11 43	2 15 hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02 Exp.	1 17	3 15 ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16 abcdefgh	1 43	4 27 cba	4 49 r
r 2 10 abc	3 30	5 15 ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16 abcdefghi	4 43	6 15 ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07 abc	5 27	7 00 cba	7 19 r
r 6 16 abcdefghi	6 43	8 15 ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05 Exp.	7 20
r 7 11 abcdefghi	7 38	8 45 Exp.	9 01
r 8 11 abcdefghi	8 38	9 30 ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05 a	9 20	10 59 cba	11 09 r
r 10 42 abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.00, 9.00, 11.20 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15 5.15, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. - Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

FOUND

FOUND—In Quincy Bay a small Sail Boat. May be had by proving property and paying charges. Notify "B," Ledger office. Dec 17—3t

WANTED

HOME WORK Experienced crocheters. Please call between 9 and 12. Room 8 D. & M. Block.
Quincy, Dec. 20-1t

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN, Fore River Shipbuilding Co. Dec. 20-3t

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.
RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-O-1w

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished front room, near center. For particulars address "Room" Ledger Office. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A single house of 7 rooms. All improvements. Rent $18.00. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A suite of 4 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Rent $15.00 located at 84 Farrington street. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electrics. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street. Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 296 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 21, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

CHRISTMAS AT THE QUINCY HOME

One-Act Play "A Picked-Up Dinner" Presented by Wollaston Dramatic Club

Mayor Shea and Overseer Elcock Among Guests

The inmates at the Quincy Home were given a Christmas entertainment Tuesday evening by the Philanthropic committee of the Quincy Women's Club. About a dozen ladies, members of the committee and club members from Wollaston went to the home off Sea street and enabled the people there to spend an evening which will long be remembered as the pleasantest in the year.

Early in the evening, Ethel Vaughan, daughter of the superintendent of the home, rendered several very pleasing piano solos. Following this members of the Wollaston Dramatic club presented a one-act play entitled "A Picked Up Dinner." Mrs. John Thompson, wife of a wealthy merchant had given her husband a letter to mail and John, as husbands sometimes do, forgot to mail the letter. In fact he changed his coat before going down to the office and left the letter at home in the coat pocket. The letter was one of great importance, an invitation for the Fortesque Smith's to dine with the Thompsons. The Smiths were very valuable acquaintances and were cultivated quite carefully by the Thompsons.

Mrs. Thompson discovered the facts about the letter and when that nice reliable Mr. Brown stopped at the door for a moment he was given the missive to mail. Thompson did not know this and his wife decided to punish him for his forgetfulness, so when he got home in the evening, Mrs. Thompson had a cold dinner consisting of pickles, cheese, cold meat, bread and butter and beer, awaiting him. She explained that this, and the fact that she wore a kimona, was for old time's sake, a sentimental reminder of the days when they were poor.

All went well until the subject of the Fortesque Smith's was brought up. Then Thompson became agitated, buttered his bread with the cheese and stirred his beer with a fork. The wife was hurried out and Thompson hustles the dinner under the table lest the Smith's should arrive and see it. By chance he overhears his better half telling Biddy, the servant, all about it, and immediately plans revenge for the trick his wife is playing on him. He tells her that he met Brown and received the letter from him but still forgot to mail it. Mrs. Brown is now alarmed and the dinner which Biddy has in the meantime restored to its proper place is again put under the table this time by Mrs. Brown.

Finally peace is restored and all is apparently well again when a letter from Brown arrives in which he states that he forgot to mail the letter. Both are now in great consternation, and they join in removing the dinner and putting it under the table.

Thompson and his wife were both thunderstruck, and the whole affair was to be deprecated, for as Thompson said "If this gets into the Quincy Daily Ledger we will never hear the end of it."

In the midst of the agony and schemes for excuses, a telegram arrives from the Fortesque Smiths in which they beg to be excused from dining that evening. Great joy follows this announcement and Mrs. Thompson decided that she will never have a picked up dinner again.

The members of the cast took their parts very creditably and brought out all the fun there was in the play. Mrs. N. G. Nickerson as Biddy, had all the sedateness and the brogue of a typical Irish housekeeper, and exhibited high dudgeon at the repeated folly of the Thompsons in putting the dinner under the table and threatening all the while to leave her place the next morning. Ernest W. Arnold as John Thompson and Mrs. George Fleming as Mrs. Thompson, his wife, displayed ability in impersonation and took their parts with ease and naturalness.

The play seemed to please the audience very much as was evidenced by the applause at its conclusion.

Mayor Shea found time to get down for part of the time. He was greeted with great enthusiasm by the people of the Home. The Mayor assured them that all was being done for them that was possible and that during the coming year the city would do all it could to make them more comfortable. Before going he wished them all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Mr. Elcock brought them the best wishes of his department and assured them that in spite of mistakes and misunderstandings, the overseer was trying to do his best. He praised the work of the superintendent and his wife and trusted that the New Year would be a happier one and Christmas a merrier one than those which had passed by.

Oranges and candy were then distributed and ice cream and cake were served to all.

A Jack Horner Pie which was made for the women of the home afforded much pleasure. Strings leading out through large holes in the top of a large box were fastened to packages within. On drawing them out the recipients discovered that the packages contained bed slippers, a pair for each of the women.

The party of women from the club departed a little before nine after spending about two hours as dispensers of good cheer. The beaming faces of the inmates more than repaid the ladies for their endeavors to give them Christmas joy.

Mrs. N. G. Nickerson, a member of the committee had charge of the evening's program. Mrs. Chandler Smith, chairman of the committee and ten other ladies assisted in making the entertainment a success.

OCEAN MAIL SUBSIDY.

The legislative outlook for ocean mail subsidy was discussed at a dinner at the White House last night when President Taft entertained Senators Gallinger and Hale and Representatives Humphrey, Dwight and others at dinner. The president is very anxious that congress shall pass at this session a measure by mail subsidy or other subvention adequate to guarantee the establishment and rapid development of an American merchant marine. The prospect for legislation at this session will be discussed.

GRANITE FIRMS LOSE.

Several granite manufacturing firms, a furniture manufacturer and a contractor and builder were burned out in a fire at St. Johnsbury, Vermont, early Sunday morning. The loss is placed at $40,000. Conley & Vernon, granite manufacturers, loss $3,000, insurance $1,500; Union Granite company, loss $4,000, insurance $1,000; St. Johnsbury Granite company, loss $3,500; Laird granite works, loss $10,000; J. E. Walker's granite works, loss $1,200, insurance $700.

—The burglars captured at Hyde Park Saturday night have both been identified as New York professionals with a police record.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

CITY HALL CHANGES

Some Officials Much More Convenient Quarters

Some changes are contemplated in the arrangement of the offices at City Hall. The office of the Mayor is now a very small room with absolutely no ventilation unless a window is opened, and if this is done a head cold is almost sure to result. Then the office of the City Solicitor is in the same room which oftentimes proves inconvenient for if the Mayor wants to see anyone in private the City Solicitor must retire to the City Messenger's office.

Just what changes will be made have not been decided as yet. It is contemplated, however, to join the office of the City Engineer with that of the Mayor making one large Mayor's office with one end partitioned off for the office of the City Solicitor and the law library.

It is then contemplated to move the City Engineer's office to the top floor or rather the Council chamber floor. If this is done a Committee room and Clerk's office will probably be built along the south side of the Council chamber. Although it is possible it may be located at the westerly end of the chamber over the stairway that formerly led to the lower floor.

These changes will probably be made soon after Inauguration day and will result in a great improvement all round.

COMPANIONS OF FORESTERS.

The annual meeting of Circle Daughters of Viking, Campanions of the Foresters of America, was held Tuesday evening in Protection hall. The following officers were elected, and will be installed the second Tuesday in January.

Chief Companion—Miss Anna Carlson.

Sub. Chief Companion—Mrs. Gertrude Almquist.

Recording Secretary— Mrs. Ida Ericson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Matilda Pearson.

Right Guide—Mrs. Lillian Carlson.

LeftGuide—Miss Cecelia Ericson.

Inside Guard—Mrs. Hilma O'Brien.

Outside Guard—Mrs. Hilma Johnson.

Trustee for three years—Mrs. Maria Thompson.

Circle Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.

—The iceman is all smiles. The letter carriers are all frowns. The clerks are all tired. Santa Claus is preparing his pack. Pardon, but you know there are three more shopping days before Christmas, don't you?—Mansfield News.

SPECIAL OF SCHOOL BOARD

Only One Bidder for the Coal Supply

A special meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening at which the contract for furnishing coal to the public schools was awarded to the Neponset River Coal Co., the lowest bidder, at the following prices:

White Ash, $6.90 per tone.
Lehigh Egg, $6.90 per ton.
Lehigh Broken, $5.90 per tone.
Georgie's Creek, $4.70 per ton.

The resignation of Miss Julia A. Simmons of the Quincy school was accepted.

Miss Mary Marden one of the longest teachers in service was granted a leave of absence for three months.

NAVAL REPAIRS.

Secretary Meyer has been accused of favoring the private shipyards, but it appears as though he was looking out for the navy yards pretty well. Repairs aggregating $1,190,000 on naval vessels are provided for in estimates submitted to congress this week for use in the next fiscal year. Secretary Meyer asks for authority to expend from the appropriated funds $500,000 each on the Georgia and Virginia, for modernizing their turrets; $120,000 on the Arethusa, $25,000 on the Iroquois and $45,000 on the Nero.

MASONIC ELECTION.

Massachusetts lodge of Masons believes in reelecting faithful officials. On Monday James C. Bates of Wollaston was reelected secretary for the 18th year. The tyler enters his 23d year and the organist his 30th year. William W. Chute was reelected worshipful master and Rev. Bro. Edward A. Chase of Wollaston was reappointed chaplain.

—The outward seal of inward Christmas joy—the Christmas seal.

Piano For Sale

A Merrill Piano, ebony finish. Cost $400 cash. Will sell cheap. Address D. T. S., Ledger Office.

Dec. 20-tf

AERIAL NAVIGATION AND MOTIVE POWER

Novel Theories Advanced by an Inventor of Flying Machines at Wollaston

At Meeting of the Congregational Men's Club

Advancing some novel theories for mechanical flight that may revolutionize the basic principles of the present heavier-than-air machine, J. Emery Harriman, Jr., C. E., of Boston, publicly displayed on Tuesday evening, for the first time, complete drawings of his proposed flying machine, pateants for which were granted last October.

Mr. Harriman was well qualified to speak on "Aerial navigation and motive power" his subject before the Wollaston Congregational club—in view of his previous experience and research. As early as February 8, 1904, almost seven years ago Mr. Harriman filed application for patents on flying machines, and after six years and eight months in the patent office, received allowance of nine valuable claims in October two months ago.

In May, 1904, Mr. Harriman addressed the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, and later the Boston Society of Arts, upon mechanical flight. Mr. Harriman's line of study has been for the stability and safety of the flying machine. In addition he has given considerable study to motive power and has completed two rotary steam engines that have made record tests at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

After giving an entertaining history of man flight from 1783, when Montgolfier brothers first ascended in their fire balloon, up to the wonders of the present day Mr. Harriman said in part:

Thus far all known flying machines have been rigidly constructed and all have more or less closely followed the designs of the Wright brothers, using their principle of wing flexing to maintain their stability. With the

(Continued on Page 3.)

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

THIRD CONCERT
Quincy Choral Society
ARTHUR S. WONSON, Conductor
QUINCY MUSIC HALL
Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7.45 P. M.
Haydn's CREATION
SOLOISTS
MRS. GRACE BONNER WILLIAMS, Soprano
FREDERIC KENNEDY, Tenor
FREDERIC MARTIN, Bass
Chorus of 100 Voices
Boston Festival Orchestra
JOHN W. CROWLEY, Principal
Tickets $1.00, 75 and 50 cents
On sale at C. C. Hearn's
ALL SEATS RESERVED
Doors open at 7 o'clock
Dec. 21, 24, 27, 28, 31, 2--6t

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
Established 1843
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646-656 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Santa Claus Has Arrived

Dear old Santa Claus in his Arctic Suit is here ready to meet the little tots and learn from their own lips just what they want him to bring down the chimney.

Just see the Toys and Gift Things. Thousands of articles at 5 and 10 Cents, 25c., 50c., 75c., and higher.

Quincy's greatest Gift Store and Toy Shop—open every evening—goods delivered free.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Annex, 1495 Hancock Street, Quincy
A Few Doors From Our Mammoth Furniture Store.
Dec. 21-1t

R. E. FOY & CO.
MERRY CHRISTMAS

FANCY FRESH-KILLED, YOUNG
NORTHERN TURKEYS
NO OLD BIRDS AMONG THIS LOT.
EACH AND EVERY ONE IS YOUNG AND TENDER.
Quality considered, prices as low as any in the City.

MARKET
SOUTH SHORE CHICKENS 25 cts. lb.
TENDER YOUNG GEESE 22 cts. lb
GROCERY
Sweet Cider, gal. 35c
This price includes the Jug
Boiled Cider, bottle 25c
Excellent for cooking purposes
Maraschino Cherries, 25c
Mince Meat, jar 23c
Price includes a Mason jar.
Neufchatel Cheese, 5c
Fresh and Sweet.
Best Seeded Raisins 12c
Florida Oranges..23c doz.
Malaga Grapes..15c lb.
Tangerines..27c doz.
Have you bought your CHRISTMAS TREE?
We have some very choice trees right from the Maine woods. 25c. 50c up.
WREATHS—Holly, Princess, Laurel
Cape Cranberries
Fancy Celery,
Native Onions,
Apples,
Grape Fruit,
Lemons,
Pecan Meats
Almond Meats
White Cape Turnips
Yellow Turnips
Figs, Olives, Dates
Pure Sugar Christmas Candy--2 lb box 25cts.
WATER STREET R. E. FOY & CO. QUINCY STREET
'PHONES 1 7--153
Dec. 21--22--23

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

SPECIAL.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Norfolk county. It takes years to build up a big circulation; the Daily Ledger has been steadily increasing for 25 years. Most everybody reads the Daily Ledger.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Pastors and choirmasters of the Quincy churches who desire the programmes of their Christmas music published in The Patriot and Quincy Daily Ledger, Saturday, Dec. 24, must have their manuscript in this office not later than Friday morning, Dec. 23.

The call for a sane Christmas is not so bad says the New Bedford Standard but it does not mean a stingy Christmas.

Why was not Brookline told to enter the Metropolitan water district instead of building a new reservoir. Brooklines help is needed to pay the cost of the Metropolitan reservoirs.

Quincy proposes to be up and coming, and will have a "flying squadron" for its Fire deparment. They come high, but a city covering as much territory as Quincy needs as auto combination wagon. How often the remark has been made—"It is too bad to give the horses such a long run!"

It is very evident that the Citizens Gas Company is getting in a good financial position. No one claims the dividends, as yet, have been large, but the stock will soon make big returns. The more successful the company, the better service and better rates, it will be able to give its consumers.

Hyde Park is moving for a five cent fare to Boston on the street cars the selectmen having petitioned the Legislature that Hyde Park and Dedham selectmen be authorized to grant locations to the Boston Elevated or West End railways and that the Old Colony road lease its lines to either of the two companies. This is the first step in the five cent fare fight.

Colonel Isaac F. Kingsbury, who retires the first of January from the office of city clerk and clerk to the aldermen of Newton, probably has one of the longest records for service in the state; 27 years. He resigns now because he believes that a younger man should have the place. Such long service not only speaks well for the man but for the city of Newton for the office must have been free from politics and graft and the city's business well conducted.

An unusual effort is being put forward this season toward raising a million dollars toward stamping out tuberculosis. The sale of Red Cross seals gives every one an opportunity to contribute their mite to this fund. One cent buys a seal and every cent helps. All seals sold in Quincy goes for the work here, right in our own city. Have you bought some? Are you helping in this fight? They may be bought at the Post Office every day this week; at many of the local stores, and at 17 Granite street.

Shop today or tonight, don't delay. The advice which the press have been offering for the past month that Christmas shopping should be attended to early, has had a perceptible influence on the trade this season, and merchants report good business. The trade is not all over. There are thousands of people who have their purchases yet to make. There is no time like the present. Don't delay longer. Christmas shopping grows harder every day you put it off.

How much are you worth to the world? The California Board of Health has figured it out that the commercial value of babies is less than cost. When the child is twenty years of age it has cost $4,150 and is commercially worth $4,000 a net loss of $150. If you wish to find out your commercial value according to the California basis the following may help you: The average citizen of 30 has a commercial value of $16,000, made up of $4,000 value and $12,000 earnings between the ages of 20 and 30, while his actual cost is only $10,-150. The figures are based on a report by the State Labor Commissioner showing the net earning capacity of the average citizen of the State of California, capitalized by 6 per cent interest.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

The school system of Massachusetts is reaping what it has sown, and the crop is far from satisfactory. One-half of the students at Wellesley are poor spellers and a special course has been introduced in the hope of correcting the evil. More than a quarter of a century ago our educators decided that children should read before they could spell. Learning the alphabet was to be a mere detail. Words were pictures that meant something and the child should be taught their meaning, but their relation to the letters which formed them was regarded as superfluous. If words were never to be written the letters might be ignored, but as thoughts must occasionally be expressed in writing, how to spell is quite essential. It is discovered in Wellesley that 50 per cent of the girls in that famous college for women are deficient in orthorgraphy and it is necessary to go back to first principles and instruct them in that almost lost art. The girls are not to blame; it is the system that has carried them through the primary and preparatory courses that has placed them in the mortifying position in which they are discovered. The graduates of the grammar and High schools of a generation ago could read, write and spell correctly. Now those who can do that form the exception, and the mass of scholars require special training when they desire to fill positions where accuracy is expected. Possibly there may come a time when our educators will drop the word reading system that ignores the letters, just as they have discarded the vertical writing system, and train children in the art of spelling. Punctuation is also receiving attention at Wellesley, the neglect of it being shown as a defect. It is a good sign when an educational institution like Wellesley, recognizes a fault and sets about correcting it. But what of the pubic schools through which the Wellesley girls went on their way to college? Will they take up the work so long neglected and establish their scholars in the fundamentals of a good education?—Salem News.

"With a largely-extended postal service," an exchange remarks, "Mr. Hitchcock has also been able, during the past year, to effect a saving of $17,500,000." There is no question that the postmaster-general has vigorously shaken up the dry bones in his department. Progress has been the sentiment to which he is responsive, and the country as well as the postal service itself is better off for the stimulation of business principles in the conduct of affairs. If congress would only go to his aid in the matter of abolishing at least some of the more flagrant abuses of the franking privilege, a still better financial showing could be made. And what would add to public satisfaction over the showing is the fact that no legitimate interest would in any degree be adversely affected by this step.—Salem News.

Federal Troops Beaten

Chihuahua, Mex., Dec. 21.—Forty-two wounded government soldiers were brought in here, thus confirming reports that a troop train was shot to pieces in the mountain trap known as Malpaso. The federals lost twenty-one killed and ten missing and forty-two wounded.

Strike Riots Becoming Serious

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 21.—Rioting in the strike of the street car employes here is becoming so serious that deputations of citizens asked the mayor to station a company of militia in the city.

☞This year the choice of holiday gifts shows a strong inclination on the part of the purchaser to consider the genuine desires and needs of the recipient. To those who wish to express their interest in the real welfares of their friends, the gift of a pair of Shawmut rubbers offers an excellent opportunity. The very fact that women are wearing boots of more delicate fabric and lighter weight than have been used for many years, makes the fit, style and quality of the rubber more important than ever. The small boy values a good pair of rubber boots beyond all other earthly possessions, and his favorite sports put his rubbers to the severest practical tests. Shawmut rubbers are made of the best materials; they have set a new standard for durability. At the heel where the hardest wear comes, the rubber is extra thick in order to "double the wear where the wear comes."

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 823-3.

SAVINGS BANK INSURANCE.

The Insurance Departments of the Savings Bank Report Their Dividends for the Year Just Closed.

The second financial year of the Insurance Departments of the Whitman Savings Bank and the People's Savings Bank of Brockton closed October 31st, 1910, and at that time the second full year of business for Savings Bank Life Insurance ended. Since then the State Actuary has calculated the legal reserve upon the policies in force and determined the surplus available for dividends. The State Actuary recently recommended the following scale of dividends to the trustees of the Whitman and Brockton Banks, which was adopted by them on Monday evening, December 12th:

Upon monthly premium policies which have been in force one year a dividend of 8 1-3 per cent was declared and this dividend amounted to one month's premium.

On monthly premium policies which have beeen in force two years a dividend amounting to one and one-half month's premium was declared. This dividend is 12 1-2 per cent of one year's premium This dividend will also be paid on all policies which reached their second anniversary during the present financial year.

Monthly premium policies when they shall have been in force three years will receive dividend amounting to one and two-thirds monthly premium. This dividend is about 14 per cent of one year's premium.

The effect of these dividends can be shown by comparison of the $250 monthly policy on the life plan issued to a person at the age of 25, with a similar policy in industrial insurance. The premium on such a policy issued by the Insurance Departments of the Savings Bank amounts to 50 cents per month or $6 a year; a similar industrial policy would cost $7.22 per year. As a dividend of one monthly premium was declared at the end of the first year this makes the Savings Bank policy cost $5.50 the first year as against $7.22 on the industrial policy or 23.8 per cent less than the industrial policy. As a second year's dividend has been declared amounting to a month and a half's premium, the Savings Bank policy costs for the second year $5.25 or 27.3 per cent less than an industrial policy. When the Savings Bank policy has been in force three years a dividend will be received amounting to 83 cents and therefore, the cost of such a policy for the third year is $5.17 or 28.4 per cent less than the industrial policy.

At first only monthly premium policies were issued by the Insurance Departments of the Banks, but it was soon found that there was a demand for policies payable either annually, semi- annually or quarterly. Therefore, the insuring banks began to issue three forms of policies on the annual premium basis,—straight life, twenty-payment life and twenty-year endowment. The rates on these policies are believed to be the lowest rate on policies of similar amounts obtainable in any mutual legal reserve company.

The Trustees of the Banks have now declared a dividend on all annual premium policies which have been in force one year or which shall reach their first anniversary during the current fiscal year. Upon the straight life policies which have been in force one year, a dividend of about 5 1-2 per cent was declared. On the twenty-payment life policies a dividend of about 4 1-2 per cent was declared. Upon the twenty-year endowment policies a dividend of about 3 1-2 per cent was declared. On all these policies the amount of the dividend varies a little according to the age of the policy-holder.

The Trustees also voted that upon the second anniversary of these policies a dividend should be paid of about 6 per cent on straight life policy; a dividend approximately 5 per cent upon the twenty-payment life; and a dividend of a little over 4 per cent on the twenty-year endowment policy.

On deferred annuity policies 30 per cent of one monthly premium will be paid on their anniversaries during the current year In addition there to 30 per cent of one monthly premium on policies issued in the financial year ending October 31, 1909, which received no dividend last year.

The number of policies and the amount of insurance in the Whitman Savings Bank and the People's Savings Bank of Brockton have shown a satisfactory increase during the last year, and at the end of the financial year there were 3,318 policies in force insuring $1,367,363.

In addition to the above there were outstanding sixty-one annuity policies representing payments of $9,364.92.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE
LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove. 25c

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

AWARDED TO ONLY BIDDER

Newport News Company Will Build Battleship

Because of the eight-hour-day clause, most of the shipyards of the country refused to put in bids for the new 27,000-ton battleship Texas. The Newport News company who put in the only bid, was on Tuesday awarded the contract at $5,820,000. But for the eight-hour requirement the Fore River Company would probably have been a successful bidder.

RED CROSS SEALS CURE.

Every consumptive uncared for is a public danger. Yet only one-tenth of the cases are in the hospitals and sanatariums of the country. That means that nine-tenths of the victims are fighting the dread enemy in their homes, either intelligently or otherwise. But in both classes there is tremendous need for help.

The plan of the Christmas Seal inaugurated in this country by the Red Cross means a great recruiting for the army already enlisted to battle with the plague. It is good fighting for it shoots straight at the mark. It means a certain cure for many who would have gone uncured, because the pennies and the dollars spent this season for seals will be transformed speedily into life-saving milk and eggs.

Above all, the plan is admirable because it is educational—because it will help to teach both old and young that it is the duty of one and all to help lift the burden of tuberculosis which weighs upon the whole community.

Those are the practical material merits of the Red Cross Stamps. But there is another side. Those little "Merry Christmas" squares are gifts that not only do good, but will do the giver good. Each of us will be enriched by what is given—Philadelphia North American.

--John Wannamaker once said: "Give me a man who knows how to advertise and by his system produces results and I'll pay him liberally." He had many applicants. The man who landed the job believed that two-thirds of the apportioned advertising fund should be applied to publicity in the newspapers and carried out the plan. He made good, so did Wannamaker.--Mansfield News.

Quincy Market
XMAS SALE
Sirloin Steak 15c lb
Porter House Steak 20c lb
Bast Top Round 20c lb
Boneless Rib Steak 12 1-2--15c lb
Fore Quarter Lamb 8c lb
Lean Corn Beef 7--8c lb
Mixed Nuts 16c lb
Nice Sweet Oranges large 25c doz
Grape Fruit, large 3 for 25c
Cape Cod Cranberries 12 1-2c qt
Remember we will have plenty Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Fowl and Chickens at a very low price.
Come in and look our goods over before you buy elsewhere.
QUINCY MARKET
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
Dec. 20-3t--o-1w

SENATOR LODGE AND DUTY.

Senator Lodge has always been responsive to the call of duty. He has consented to address the members of the Legislature early in January, and Symphony hall has been selected as the place ,and the first Tuesday in January the time for the meeting. He had not intended, nor did he desire, to speak at all in connection with his own candidacy for re-election as a senator of the United States. He would much prefer to let his record of service speak for him and simply ask for it the considerate judgment of his fellow citizens whom the senators and House members represent. But, to those who have extended an invitation to him to come on and speak for himself, he says: "I regard the invitation with which you have honored me as a duty, and I accept it." It is a novel situation, but he did not debate it, nor does he consider it essential to his success, but whatever a body of Massachusetts men have asked him to do he has done cheerfully and acceptably. He will speak on what he has sought to achieve and the address will be one of his best. He approaches the task with reluctance, as above indicated, but he recognizes a duty, and from that he never has shrank. The election takes place two weeks later than the time set for the address, and when that day arrives the opposition to his re-election will have disappeared.—Lynn Item.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

WOOD for SALE
$3.50 a Cord
59 Pond St.
South Braintree
Tel. 15-3 Braintree
Dec. 12-tf--o-17-tf

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William J. Tilley to Alice C. Jones, dated May 19, 1909, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk book 1110 page 585 for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY the seventeenth day of January, 1911, at 3.30 o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of said Quincy called Houghs Neck and being lot No. 71 on a plan of Sea shore lots at Quincy Great Hill, Houghs Neck, belonging to James Mears dated September 1881, surveyed by F. M. Hersey, C. E. and recorded with Norfolk Plans, Plan Book 9, Plan No. 375, containing 6090 square feet, and bounded and described as follows: Northerly by lot seventy on said plan one hundred five (105) feet; Westerly on lot Fifty on said plan fifty-eight (58) feet; Southerly on a walk fifteen (15) feet wide as shown on said plan one hundred five (105) feet; Easterly on Mears Avenue, formerly called Park Avenue fifty-eight (58) feet; together with a right of way over said Avenue and walk and to and from the beach.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by Martha Mears by deed dated October 29, 1898 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 828, Page 91. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions mentioned in said Deed so far as the same are now in force and applicable hereto.

The above described property will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments if any due the City of Quincy. $500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms at sale.

ALICE C. JONES,
Mortgagee.

George E. Adams, 18 Tremont street, Boston, Attorney for Mortgagee.
Dec. 20, 1910. 3tDec.-21, 28, 4.

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '03
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

An Ideal Christmas Gift
"A WATCH"

A "365 days in the year" pleasure, provided, of course, that it is a good timepiece.

¶ We sell movements of proven merit and cases of which you will feel constantly proud.

WATCHES FOR WOMEN
In Gold Filled $4.50 to $20.00
In Solid Gold $15.00 to 30.00

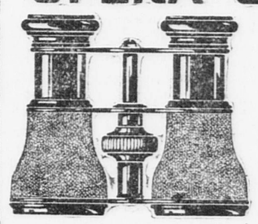
WATCHES FOR MEN
In Gold Filled $5.00 to $32.00
In Solid Gold $30.00 to $50.00

WATCHES FOR BOYS
$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, upward

WATCHES FOR GIRLS
$2.00 to $30.00

WILLIAMS' JEWELRY STORE
1473 Hancock Street, Quincy
Tel. 987 L
Dec. 10-17-21--o-10-1w

LLOYD'S
OPERA GLASSES



IMPORTED
Black Morocco $4.50
Pearl 6.50
Catalogue on Application

BROWNIES
Kodaks and Films
ALL SIZES
FROM $1.00 UPWARD
315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St.
} BOSTON
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

THE RED CROSS SEAL.

I'm little, but I travel far,
My mission is to lessen grief.
To search among the plagues that are
And banish from the world their chief.

However poor you chance to be,
Or young or old or weak or strong
Your servant I will gladly be,
So that you too. may help along,

I help to rid the world of dread,
To darkened places I give light,
I lift up many a weary head
I am a watchman in the night.

I bring a message of good cheer,
I preach the creed of brotherhood;
I show the way and make it clear,
My object is the common good.

I lift the fallen, aid the weak,
I watch beside the infant's cot;
I bring the color to his cheek
Who languishes where hope is not.

I swing the gates of gloom ajar,
I help to make the future bright;
I'm little, but I travel far;
I am a watchman in the night.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

• • •

John Adams Chapter Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution of this city enjoyed the annual Christmas party of the Society in Boston on Saturday afternoon. Small gifts were donated to the Christmas box for distribution among the needy children of the city.

• • •

Wollaston Alliance is holding this afternoon its annual Christmas meeting in the vestry of the Unitarian church. There will be speial music and Mrs. H. L. Cate will speak on "The dawn of Christianity as illustrated by the story of Ben Hur."

• • •

Ex-Governor Curtis Guild is to be the speaker at the next meeting of the Quincy Women's club. His subject will be "Origin and changes of the Flag of Massachusetts and of the American Flag." The meeting will be on Jan. 10 at the club house.

• • •

The women's missionary societies of the Wollaston Baptist church met this afternoon with Mrs. Charles E. Goodspeed of 94 Prospect avenue to listen to an interesting paper on missionary work in India by Miss Helen Newcomb.

• • •

Quincy Alliance is to hold its Christmas party for children on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas Fenno who is in charge has completed arrangements for giving the children a good time and Mrs. E. G. Pratt will see that all have some good things to eat.

• • •

On Thursday afternoon Dec. 29 the Hospital Aid association will meet with Mrs. William B. Rice of Adams street for its annual meeting. The nominating committee has prepared a ballot to be presented for officers for the coming year and the annual reports of the year's work will be read. New members have been added and the Association is an active working force.

• • •

After the holidays the Arts and Crafts committee of the Quincy Women's club is to resume its classes in dressmaking, millinery or whatever there is a demand for. The classes this fall have been so well attended that new ones will be formed as soon as arrangements can be made.

• • •

The New England Associate Alliance is to meet Jan. 19 in the First Congregational church in Arlington. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president is arranging for the meeting which will be an all day one with box luncheon at noon.

• • •

Everyone is becoming interested in the Twelfth Night Revels. People are only beginning to realize the possibilities for fun which this evening will afford. The Education Committee of the Quincy Women's club are receiving subscriptions for the Revels. Raymond, the costumer, is displaying all sorts of costumes for this affair; trunk in attics are being searched for old-fashioned costumes, books with historical portraits are sought for in the public library, and persons with originality are planning costumes out of surprising materials. Never was as evening's entertainment received with the same enthusiastic response. People are glad of something in the way of a novelty and the Revels offers that. A fine hall, good music, refreshments, dancing, varied costumes and all this to be preceded by merry making. Mrs. Kitson ,the well known sculptor, is planning the entertainment, assisted by the members of the Education committee.

Club women in our city will regret to learn of the death of John Colby Abbot on Sunday at his home in Boston. He was one of the speakers the year the Quincy Women's club was formed and has been known for years for his artistic entertainments. Funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon at the Church of the Advent.

• • •

JUDGE LINDSAY AT NATICK.

The Woman's club at Natick was especially fortunate recently in securing Judge Ben Lindsay of Denver for an evening meeting. His subject was: "The Misfortunes of Mickey." Mickey, he said, was a real boy, as well as a type of the hundreds of thousands of children who come before the courts, each year. One day, three little boys were brought before him, charged with burglary. They were poor and ragged and did not know even what the term burglary meant. After they understood the charge, the poorest and most ragged, who was Mickey, gave his own defense. He said they lived by the railroad tracks and were told there were watermelons in one of the box cars. They found no watermelons, but bottles containing something that looked good and was labeled "California Fig Syrup." They drank freely of this, and he assured the judge, they had already suffered enough for their misdoing without any further punishment being put upon them.

This confession appealed to the Judge and he realized that was no real case of burglary, but the policeman was sure the boys ought to be put back in jail. It was their fault he could not catch the whole gang for they would warn the others when he approached and the gang would run away. A proper understanding of such children would show that they were not bad for the sake of being bad, but, allowing for their environment, lack of opportunity and neglect, they were as good as they could be. With regard to children, the State has neglected the psychology of the case. It has judged the acts of the children and not taken into consideration, that they are individuals, possessing human souls. Arouse in the child, interest and an appeal to that will be effective. If a child can become interested in the game of righteousness, he will be as eager to play that as he before was to be lawless. Judge Lindsay in one of the Southern States, had a very bad boy with whom to deal. He was thirteen years of age and was accused of stealing grain from a box car. No one could make him tell who was with him or how many times he had been in the car. After gaining the boy's confidence, the Judge told him to bring the other boys with him the next day and they would talk it over together. This he was eager to do, but the next day he returned alone and not until the Judge sent them a letter saying no one knew who they were and if they would come to court and promise to behave they would not be imprisoned that time, did they come. Then the seven in the gang came bringing eight others who were interested in this new method of procedure.

Most of the boys who appear in court are victims of love of fun and adventure, who have not learned where it legitimately ends, and who have no place in which to develop their natural gifts which diverted from good ends turn into destructive deeds.

The old idea of the courts was that property rights should be protected at all costs regardless of the persons involved. After a while came the probation system, in which Massachusetts took the lead. Then Colorado took the last step where human rights were to have the preference over property rights. As the boy was of more importance to the state than the thing he took, it was more important to do for the boy. The struggle to gain this was hard. A bill to put the legal responsibility on men and women for the moral welfare of the child was bitterly opposed. Through the testimony of Mickey and twenty-two other boys who had endured the horrors of the jails, the bill finally became a law.

The co-operation of the home, the neighborhood and the school are all necessary to guard the child against the evil influences of wrecked homes, homes, grafters, poverty, ignorance and vice. Give the child justice and the loyal instincts within him will respond and the child will be saved.

Hurricane Sweeps Newfoundland

St. John's, Dec. 21.—Newfoundland is in the grip of a hurricane declared to be the worst that has been known on the island for many years. Already much damage to fishing property and other property along the coast has been reported.

GRADUATION OF NURSES

Training School at Hospital Grants Three Diplomas

The first public graduation of the nurses training school at the City Hospital was held Monday, when Miss Margaret C. Carey, Miss Edith L. Burkett and Miss Jean E. Russell were graduated. The exercises were held in the main room of the Rice pavillion, the new addition. The diplomas and hospital pins were awarded by Fred B. Rice president of the board of trustees.

Miss Etta Y. Mayer, who will not complete her course for nine months yet was allowed to participate in the exercises as there will be no public graduation at that time. She will not receive her diploma however until the expiration of her course.

Brief addresses were made by President Rice and Dr. John A. Gordon, who spoke on the work of the trained nurse. There were also musical selections. Following the exercises a reception was given the graduates during which a light lunch was served.

Monday evening Miss Carey was given another reception by her friends at her home on South street, which was attended by the intimate friends of the young graduate. Among those present were Miss Blanche M. Thayer, matron at the Hospital, and Rev. Neil P. Brennan of St. John's church. The evening was passed in a social manner, Miss Carey being showered with well wishes for future success in her chosen profession.

AERIAL NAVIGATION

(Continued from Page 1.)

present rigidly fixed wings of the aeroplane, safety and stability depend upon propelled forward flight, or gliding to make the wing flexing mechanism operative. If for any reason the engine stops or anything interferes with forward flight the machine loses its stability and is precipitated with its operator to earth, resulting in serious injury or death.

In my mind there is only one way to prevent these terrible accidents, namely: By adjustable wing angles. With the possibility of maintaining horizontal alignment or upward angles of the wings there is introduced the opportunity to lower all weight below the sustaining wing areas, making possible perpendicular descent in upright position with retarded motion, thereby affording safety to the operator.

With the present machines the operator must be an equilbrist and if flying machines are to come into universal use this should not be necessary.

Such a machine, as before mentioned, is of simple mechanical construction, the wings of each side being pivoted on the central longitudinal line and the desired angle being obtained and maintained either by weight of the operator, by mechanical means or by connection with the motive power.

With an upward angle to the wings there is a factor of safety in the additional reserve area that automatically increases on the downward side while decreasing on the upward side, thus properly presenting its additional area in proportion to its tilt from the horizontal line. In the present rigid, straight tip-to-tip aeroplane there is no such factor for safety.

To my mind a machine of this design may be so constructed that without an operator, the vertical and horizontal rudders may be set, the motor started, and the machine made to arise, fly, and alight approximately at the point aimed at, even though the points be miles apart. As a machine of war, offensive or defensive, this certainly would be a formidable weapon, as it could carry and place a bomb much further and with greater accuracy than the longest range of cannon.

Mr. Harriman concluded with a comprehensive study of engines describing the reciprocating and the turbine, and in particular dealing with the rotary engine of which he has made so great a success.

Combined with the lecture were shown over 200 slides clearly depicting all phases of flying machines and engine work. Mr. Harriman was extended a hearty vote of thanks with the desire that he might be seen in his proposed machine flying over Wollaston at next year's meet.

At the business meeting the benevolent policy of the club was discussed at length and upon motion was referred to the executive committee. A roast lamb supper preceded the program of the evening.

NEW YORK VICTIM.

Miss Mary B. Pope, who was killed in the explosion at substation No. 1 of the New York Central's power plant, at 50th street and Lexington avenue, New York, Monday morning, was on her way to the Grand Central station, to board a train for Boston. She intended to spend Christmas with her mother, who lives on Adams street Dorchester, says the Globe.

In her stay in New York Miss Pope has been living at 136 East 40th street. She has been employed as a kindergarten teacher in a private school in New York city, and according to her letters had been looking forward to her intended vacation with great eagerness.

Miss Pope was 44 years of age. She is survived by a married sister, Mrs. Hedges of Weymouth, at whose home Miss Pope's mother was when she received the news of the fatal accident. Until she received the position in New York Miss Pope lived in Dorchester, and was well known as a popular and brilliant young woman. Her father was the late Henry D. Pope.

Miss Pope's body was hurled against a side of the car and crushed almost beyond recognition. It is thought that the body will be claimed and brought to Boston immediately for burial.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A Costume party for Juniors will be held in the Association building this evening at 6.30. The different groups will be costumed as Negroes, countrymen, sailors, cooks, Indians and cowboys. Prizes will be given for best dressed group and for the most efficient "stunt" characteristic of the people represented. Games and refreshments will follow the contest.

The College club banquet is scheduled for Jan. 13. The All-American tackle, end and quarterback, Fisher of Harvard, Kilpatrick of Yale and Sprackling of Brown, will be the guests of the club. Their second ladies' night will be held on the evening of Jan. 27.

A unique trophy is offered for the basketball tournament for the extension clubs of the Y. M. C. A., a miniature basketball in bronze, mounted on a pedestal. The Atlantic, Wollaston, Quincy Adams and Quincy Point extension club will compete for the trophy next week.

A very handsome assortment of cups which will be given as prizes for the dual meet with Hyde Park next Tuesday, are on exhibition in the main hall of the Association building.

A four-cornered track meet will be held in the Newton Y. M. C. A. building on Jan. 12. The Associations represented by teams will be: Somerville, Newton, Brockton and Quincy.

BUY RED CROSS SEALS.

To those who have faith in the future of our country and in the success of the experiment in civil government which was begun in these United States, in 1776, there are few more encouraging things than the increasing altruism of our citizens shown by the increasing interest which they take in the many movements which, while they promise them no personal advantage, aim to improve the race by helping to lessen sickness and poverty and suffering in their less fortunate brothers. Of such movements there are few which can so justly appeal to all of us as does the Red Cross Christmas Seal movement, which annually gathers from the kind hearts in our midst during the Christmas season money wherewith to lighten the terrible burden of suffering around us.

Of all the causes of suffering in this world, there is none that can vie with tuberculosis, which yearly claims a seventh of all those who cross to the other side; and, moreover, reduces to beggary, and too often to crime, the many who are dependent upon these sick workers for their support. Therefore, it seems to me that it should only be necessary to call this splendid charity to the attention of our citizens in order to have it well supported, and to guarantee that everyone during the glad Christmas season, when all hearts are softened and purse strings loosened, will take the trouble to remember it, and in the midst of their happiness to remember also the happiness of the many who are less fortunate than they. It will only demand of us all a little forethought, a little trouble and a trifling expense, and so generous a people as ours will not allow an appeal for such a charity to fall on closed ears. Let us all, then make this Christmas notable by remembering the Red Cross Seal and by taking pains to see that one such is affixed to every present we send to those we love and to every letter that goes carrying words of good cheer to our friends.—Dr. Charles L. Minor.

De Beaufort Fined as Disorderly

Chicago, Dec. 21.—Count Alexander von Mourik de Beaufort was found guilty of disorderly conduct and his fine was fixed at $10 and costs. De Beaufort was arrested at St. Luke's hospital, where, it was alleged, he became riotous when barred from his wife's room.

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

A CHRISTMAS PUNCH.

Into one quart of water grate the yellow rinds of three lemons and two oranges. Add two pounds of sugar and stir until dissolved. Simmer gently 15 minutes. Strain and return to the kettle which should be a porcelain lined or white granite one and add to it one glass each currant jelly, raspberry and quince. Heat, strain again, then cool before adding a pint of grape juice and a can of grated pineapple.

Cover and set aside over night. When ready to serve add a pint each preserved cherries and peaches cut in bits. Put a quart of this mixture in the punch bowl, add two quarts cold water, a pint of ginger ale or one cupful ginger tea that has been steeped, strained and chilled. Replenish the flowing bowl as needed observing the same proportions.—Emma Paddock Telford.

White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION

We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.

Everything that goes with it at

PETERSON'S
394 Washington Street, Quincy

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY

Quincy Daily Ledger
FOR SALE AT.
BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. L Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

A TOTAL OF $35,000,000

Rockefeller Makes Final Gift of $10,000,000 to Chicago University

Chicago, Dec. 21.—John D. Rockefeller has completed the task he set for himself in the founding of the University of Chicago. Public announcement is made of a "single and final gift" of $10,000,000, which includes all the contributions that Rockefeller had planned to make to the university. This sum, which is to be paid in ten annual installments, beginning Jan. 1, will make a total of approximately $35,000,000 that Rockefeller has donated to the university.

Mr. Rockefeller says he now believes the school should be supported and enlarged by the gifts of many rather than those of a single donor. This, he believes, will be better accomplished if the public understands the limit of his contemplated assistance. The founding of new departments he leaves to the trustees, as he says funds may be furnished by other friends of the university.

NO-LICENSE BY ONE VOTE

Unexpected Result of Municipal Election In North Adams

North Adams, Mass., Dec. 21.—After many years in the license column, with twenty-one saloons and several clubs enjoying the privilege of liquor selling, North Adams at the annual city election swung over into the no-license ranks.

The result of the voting on the license question was a surprise on every side. The vote was yes 1478, no 1479. Last year there was a majority of 258 for license.

Charles L. Frank, Republican, was elected mayor. The city government remains Republican.

Triple Murder Charged

Durham, N. C., Dec. 21.—Three charred bodies found in the ruins of the burned home of J. L. Sanders, near Hester, led to the arrest of Nathan Montague, a negro, on charges of criminal assault, murder and arson.

Saxon King to Hunt In Soudan

Berlin, Dec. 21.—King Frederich August of Saxony will leave Dresden in February for a hunt of several weeks in the Soudan. He will embark at Genoa.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

Four Days to Xmas

DEC. 21

Be Kind to the Weary Shopgirls

IN FASHION'S REALM

Velvet Very Much the Fashion This Season

Fur Band Trimmings All the Rage

The promise that this was to be a velvet and fur season has come true. The latter is more worn than the former, however. There was a time when velvet, even of the best quality, was used for short skirted street suits as a substitute for cloth. This was done by those who had the money to buy many gowns, and in this case was not so flagrant a violation of taste; but other women invested their small dress allowance on the one suit and appeared in it whether the weather was fair or foul.

They wore it shopping, and on errands of all kinds in the morning, lunched in it, and wore it when they had to hang on the strap of a trolley car. No fashion could make this correct, and it is to be earnestly hoped that it will not be repeated this winter.

One of the most difficult tasks that an adviser and a dressmaker has is to persuade the woman of moderate means out of getting the most extreme fashion for the one frock. It is always the person on a small allowance who wants to invest the whole of it in a suit which should only be one of many in a rich woman's wardrobe.

She will reiterate the fact that a velvet walking gown is in first fashion, and she wants to be in style, and yet the person who really knows how to dress assures her that certain things are in style only for a certain set of people, and that her lack of money does not put her in that set.

A velvet walking gown ,therefore, is not advocated for the woman who has not two or three other suits to fall back on, and who rides in a trolley car, does not pretend to be fashionable and has not enough money to get a new suit when the velvet is spotted and dusty from the weather.

If a woman of moderate means wants a striking frock for social occasions she can choose velvet with every one's approval. She may wear it under a fur coat, for these garments are no longer luxuries among the rich, but are possessed by the great majority, or she can wear it under a smart cloak of cloth, satin and fur.

When she chooses a velvet gown, however, she must be quite sure of her social programme. She wants to feel secure about enough invitations for luncheons, card parties ,or small dinners with the theatre afterward, before she invests in a fabric that will only be available for such occasions.

If she decides on one, she should choose black, if it is becoming to her. And she can always make it becoming by putting dead white at shoulders and neck, or mounting the white over a color. Nothing is so good looking, and yet remains so inconspicuous for a length of time as black and white. One can keep on wearing it as a combination, whereas a colored velvet gown would be recognized every time it was put on.

There is a shade of morning glory purple that is exceedingly fashionable for these gowns when veiled with gray; deep claret red is another tone that is much approved; elephant gray is in fashion, bronze brown is used with a black veiling, or one in a more coppery tone. These are attractive, but the woman who chooses one of them must remember that the color will be so entirely impressed on the minds of her friends that she will not want to wear it after the first day of spring. She will not be able to save it over for another season.

When one considers the price of a good velvet gown, and realizes the usual dress allowance of the woman who is not rich, then black and white which stands the test of several seasons, seems the wisest choice.

Fur is as elegant a material as velvet when one comes to think of it, and yet it can be worn in good taste at all times. After all it is nothing more or less than the hide of an animal which is grown for weather protection, and is worn by the roughest human being in the uncivilized waste places of the world.

In other days fur represented an immense outlay of money ,and it was almost out of the reach of women who were not well off. Today the semi-precious pelts are within the reach of the average purse. The price fluctuates up and down, but there are always enough at a moderate figure to satisfy the woman who buys fur for the season and not for a lifetime.

Sable, either Hudson Bay, fisher or Russian; ermine, either spotted or spotless; chinchilla, real or imitation, are among the royal furs that no woman should wear in the morning on the street. It is quite true women do wear them, some of whom should know better, but nothing can alter the fact that it is in bad taste.

The furs that can be worn every day, not only with warmth but with sartorial propriety, are pony skin, moleskin, opossum, sealskin, dyed otter, and dyed muskrat. These may all be bordered with skunk, or black fox. The latter is also a fur that one can wear in the morning, costly as it is, and lynx is another.

Silver and white fox should be kept for the most elaborate afternoon affairs. They do not belong to the street nor to busy hours. The French women consider it in good taste to wear ermine, without the black tails, to race meetings, to the matinee, and when driving in the Bois. But the American woman who attempts to follow the French woman, except in silhouette, is making a vast error in taste. The two nations do not look at clothes from the same view point.

The woman who would appear at an open-air horse show in a white satin gown trimmed in black fox, covered with a great coat of ermine, would be too conspicious for her pleasure. Yet this was the dominant costume that was reported as fashionable for afternoon wear at the French races last month.

There is a happy fashion this winter of using bands of fur as trimming for street suits. It is not new, but it is done in a manner that makes it appear original. The flat fur is preferred to the kind that has long hair. True, it doesn't wear, as well because of its smooth silky surface, but it serves the need.

The shops have made a specially in the last few weeks of selling what they call fur cloth. It is a woven stuff, frankly manufactured and not grown by an animal, treated in such a way that at a short distance it gives the appearance of a smooth fur. It is not expensive, and is admirable as a trimming for rough-surfaced cloth suits that are to do everyday service

Taupe is so fashionable this winter, and it is such a difficult shade to match because of its queer mingling of gray, brown and violet, that many tailors have tried this moleskin cloth with good effect of coat suits of this color instead of braid. A three-inch band of it is put at the hem of a coat, and this is further supplemented by a deep sailor collar, two-inch turnover cuffs, and sometimes a tiny waist-coat, which shows above the revers and keeps the chest warm.

By the way, these acessories are rather new and should be adopted by all women who do not care to wear fur around the neck, yet must have the upper chest protected in some way. The coat that buttons to the neck does away with any such addition, but the usual one with its revers to the bust often offers nothing more than a covering of chiffon cloth and china silk to the air.

The days of flannel shirts are over and hygiene and common sense, with the improved way of living, have taught women that the only way to keep well is to dress lightly. They need to have warm outer coverings for the street, but the heat of their rooms demands light clothing in the house.

All this is good sense and is approved by every one, but there is always that unprotected Y-shaped wedge from neck to bust which so often remains uncovered and which the doctors tell us is such a vulnerable spot. The wearing of fur close around the neck is entirely disapproved by a majority of women because of its tendency to give a sore throat, therefore something else must be thought of to protect that wedge.

To that end the tailors have invented this V-shaped waistcoat ,which is cut off straight across the base of the neck and runs down under the first button of the coat. It may be of fur, if one so desires, but most women prefer velveteen or satin lined with chamois, or one of the rough corded silks that go well with coat suits. It is buttoned in to the coat so that it can be removed on mild days without ripping. It is fastened in a straight line with small metal buttons that harmonize with those on the suit.

In keeping with this plentiful use of inexpensive fur on the rough coat suits of the day is the widely adopted fashion of fur hats that cover the coiffure and that are practically untrimmed. These are of plush, sealskin, moleskin, and all the other soft, smooth-surfaced furs.

One does see them in sable, in fox, and in minor pelts that are long haired, but the smart ones have a closely cut surface. They are newer than the others, and as a rule they are more becoming. One of the fallacies among a good many people is that long-haired fur is becoming. One always hears the expression, "It softens the face." This opinion is also attached to marabou, to feathers, and to fluffy things.

The truth of it is that many of these fluffy things are most unbecoming to the majority of women. The usual American face needs smooth things against it—that is, over and under it—and even age itself is often not made softer by flying tendrils that often look disorderly.—Anne Rittenhouse in N. Y. Times.

Old Colds Do not know what to take? Then why not find out? Your doctor knows. Leave it all to him. If he says, "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," then take it. If he says something else, take that. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

WASHING BROOMS IN SUDS.

Method Used by Careful Housekeepers to Prolong Their lives.

On wash day, when plenty of suds are left over, plunge all the brooms into the hot, soapy water and shake them about in it. It will clean them, make them more flexible and greatly prolong their lives.

A good way to wash clotheslines is to wind them on a long board and scrub them with a scrubbing brush. In this way you keep them from getting tangled. It is hard to wind them when washed in the tub.

When a large bath sponge is apparently worn out, do not throw it away as useless, but crochet a bag with some soft knitting cotton and put the old sponge into it, finishing the bag off at the top. In this way the sponge is made useful for a longer period.

The following mixture makes a bath bag that adds refreshment to the bath: A pound and a half of new bran three-quarters of a pound of almond meal, eight ounces of grated castile soap. Make bags five niches square and fill each with three tablespoonsfuls of the mixture.—Boston Herald.

ABOUT EGGS.

When a New York lecturer told her audience that the best way to boil an egg was not to boil it at all many listeners looked surprised. Evidently they had not been boiling eggs that way.

An egg will cook slowly in water several degrees below boiling point and the result be more palatable than if the egg is prepared in madly boiling water, the audience learned. It's a saving of fuel, too, if one is cooking over the gas jet or an alcohol lamp. When the water boils, the flame can be turned out, the eggs put in the pan and the pan covered. Taken out in from seven to ten minutes the white of the egg instead of being tough and leathery will be a tender perfectly cooked pulp, most grateful to the stomach.

"As an article of diet an egg bears the same relation to the kitchen as the indefinite articles bear to the parts of speech. They hold everything else together," the audience was told as the lecturer briskly whipped the white of an egg to a stand alone froth, "and because of its great nutritive value housekeepers need not worry too much even if they do have to pay as high as 5 cents for a first class egg. Five cents worth of first class meat would not go any further or afford any more nourishment."

To know whether one is getting a strictly fresh or a strictly storage egg, an egg entirely satisfactory for boiling or one which would better be scrambled is not easy, the lecturer conceded. She said a perfectly fresh egg fills the shell from end to end, while in a stale egg there is a little gap at one end, smaller or larger according to its relative freshness or staleness. In other words, the older the egg the more it shrinks and the the less it weighs. Drop a couple of eggs in a bucket of water and the fresh egg will go to the bottom, or down farther than the stale egg. The staler the egg the nearer the top it stays.

Among the recipes for keeping eggs, fresh indefinitely was one from an old cookbook, which in short was "boil a minute keep a year." Immersing it in boiling water one minute stops up the egg's pores by forming a thin outside cooked layer of egg, the remainder of the egg still being raw. A better plan than this, the lecutrer thought, was greasing the egg with lard and packing them in meal. At one time farmers near the Mississippi river used to pack eggs end up in hogsheads of lard after which they could be transported safely, easily and kept for months in almost perfectly fresh condition. Lard, it is said, does not impair the flavor of the egg as some up-to-date preservatives do, and eggs packed upright will keep fresh longer than if packed on their side.

"I have known housekeepers who thought the color of the shells of eggs made considerable difference in the flavor and delicacy of certain articles of diet made mostly of eggs, but there is absolutely no difference between the contents of a brown or a white shelled egg in nourishing properties or flavor."—Christian Science Monitor.

TARIFF WAR NOW IMMINENT

Controversy With Germany Over Potash Becomes Acute

PRESIDENT IS URGED TO ACT

Pointed Out That Nation Will Be Humiliated If We Fail to Enforce Law Enacted Expressly to Prevent Discriminations—How the Matter Is Viewed by Administration Lawyers and Tariff Experts

Washington, Dec. 21.—Pressure upon President Taft to impose the maximum duties of the Payne act upon dutiable imports from Germany in retaliation for the imperial export tax upon polish exports has been so strong and insistent that the country may be truly said to be nearer a tariff war than ever before.

It can be said on high authority that the proposition is being given "very serious consideration," nor is the advice to impose the surtax coming altogether from high protectionists. As a leading Republican senator said:

"The law itself is on trial. We either must enforce it or or we must abandon it, and confess that it is good for nothing. If it cannot be invoked now when we have a real grievance, how about the next time? In what position will the United States be left before the world if she fails to enforce a law enacted expressly to prevent just such discriminations as this?"

This doctrine fully as much as the intrinsic merits of the potash case is the material factor in the present situation. The cabinet has held one special meeting devoted exclusively to discussion of the potash controversy and the subject can hardly be avoided at the meeting.

It is definitely established that the lawyers of the administration and the tariff experts have been compelled to construe the German action as "unduly discriminatory" within the meaning of the Payne law. The subject has been studied from all points of view, and no other conclusion can be reached.

The administration is now confronted with the definite question whether or not to act, with the possibility of a disastrious tariff war on the one side and of national humiliation on the other. The hint from the German embassy that the possibilities of diplomacy have been exhausted and the case is clearly in the field of the executives has not been lost upon the advisers of President Taft.

To say that the situation is acute is to state mildly a fact of enormous importance to the country. In view of recent developments, the chief hope of avoiding a serious outcome would appear to lie in the fact that the maximum duties will not become operative for ninety days after the issuance of the president's proclamation. Within that time Germany would have time to change her policy should she desire.

☞White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias ,Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 392 Quincy

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1425 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

Good Health is the Target of your aim—or should be—and first in importance. Get and keep good health and you can work with hope—find life worth living—rise after nights of restful sleep—have energy and ambition—know content. If you are out of health, or in poor condition, see what
BEECHAM'S PILLS
can do for you. Your food will taste right and nourish you better—your bowels will be regular and your nervous system corrected. Your blood will be purer and you will feel more cheerful. Your whole system will be benefited and you will know why so many thousands have found that Beecham's Pills hit the target and Hit Right Every Time
Sold Everywhere. In boxes, with valuable directions, 10c. and 25c.

COAL
CRR
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

GAS READING LAMPS
— MAKE —
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

Advertise in The Ledger

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ For The People

ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

R. D. CHASE QUINCY MASS. INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CARE OF PROPERTY CONVEYANCING TRUSTS

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 57-3.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Tettemgill's, 1321 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 5-tf

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA-SNOW & Co.

KELIHER GETS PRISON TERM

Sentence of Eighteen Years Imposed Upon "Big Bill"

HE AIDED IN LOOTING BANK

Found a Tool In Coleman, Who Was Easily Persuaded to Betray His Trust, and Who Is Now In Jail For Term of Fifteen Years—Keliher Out on Bail of $50,000 Pending Decision on Bill of Exceptions

Boston, Dec. 21.—William J. Keliher, who was convicted several months ago for aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in misapplying the funds of the National City Bank of Cambridge, was sentenced to the state prison for a term of eighteen years. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Hale of the United States circuit court. Keliher has recently been out on bail.

In moving for sentence District Attorney French said:

"The trial, which consumed four weeks and resulted in a verdict of guilty on all the counts, revealed a story which is unexampled in the criminal history of this country. It was a story of the deliberate temptation and cold-blooded ruin by the defendant of a young man of weak character and without moral principal who occupied a position of trust, with the intent to induce him to betray that trust and to obtain control, for the benefit of a gang of swindlers and gamblers, of whom the defendant Keliher was one, of the funds of the institution in which Coleman was employed.

"The plan was successful—probably far beyond the expectations of those who devised it—and $200,000 at least of the assets of the bank went into the pockets of this defendant and his associates through the instrumentality of a fake faro game operated in New York.

"The evidence showed, briefly, that Keliher and his associates had studied and knew Coleman's character, were aware of his opportunities, and deliberately marked him out for ruin and, with him, the bank in which he was employed. Coleman himself did not profit by the crime. All, or substantially all, of the money went into the hands of this defendant and his associates, of which Coleman was the mere tool.

"That he was a willing tool cannot, of course, be denied, and that there was little, if any, palliation for his offense in the mind of the court is indicated by the fact that he has been condemned to spend the better part of his life in jail as an explation for his crime and a warning and example to others."

Judge Hale declared that the defendant had been given a fair and just trial, defended by able and skilful counsel. He said that he was satisfied that Keliher was a greater offender than Coleman. Judge Hale then asked Clerk Darling for the indictment, and at once wrote upon it "eighteen years." The sentence was then read aloud by Darling.

All through the proceeding, "Big Bill" sat by himself and chewed gum strenuously. He did not seem perturbed over the sentence.

The trial was one of the most sensational in the history of federal prosecution in this district. Coleman, who pleaded guilty of misapplying funds of the bank and was sentenced to fifteen years in the Greenfield jail, was the most important of the many witnesses against Keliher. Coleman told a remarkable story of his numerous trips to New York city in the company of "Big Bill" and of the loss of large sums of the bank's funds. Witnesses were introduced by the government to show that offices were run by the faro gang in Boston for the purpose of swindling many citizens.

Before sentencing Keliher, a bill of exceptions taken to the testimony at the trial was signed by Judge Hale. The United States circuit court of appeals will have the bill before it in January for arguments, and in the interim the execution of "Big Bill's" sentence has been stayed. The case advances to the court of appeals upon a writ of error, which was sworn out yesterday by counsel for the defense.

Keliher was released in $50,000 bail furnished by a bonding company pending a decision on the bill of exceptions taken by his lawyers at his trial. "Big Bill" took his sentence with characteristic calmness. He did not move a muscle nor exhibit a tremor of any kind.

Ice Gorges Cause Dangerous Flood

Wheeling, Dec. 21.—Vast ice gorges threaten immense damage along the Ohio river. The water is rising rapidly and hundreds of persons are fleeing from their homes in the lowlands.

The Weather

Almanac, Thursday, Dec. 22.
Sun rises—7:18; sets—4:32.
Moon rises—11:57 p. m.
High water—3:45 a. m.; 4:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair, moderate to brisk west winds.

MARTIN A. KNAPP

President Taft Has Named Him to Head New Court

KNAPP IS CONFIRMED

Rumors of Opposition to His Judgeship Prove Unfounded

Washington, Dec. 21.—Martin A. Knapp was confirmed by the senate as an additional circuit judge of the Second judicial circuit, and he will take his place on the bench of the court of commerce as soon as that tribunal is organized. Knapp was chairman of the interstate commerce commission.

President Taft was responsible for the dispatch in the case of Knapp. It had been reported to him that Knapp might be legislated out of a position if C. C. McChord were confirmed in advance of the court appointments. So far as the session of the committee on judiciary was concerned no opposition developed against the confirmation of Knapp.

MALONE TO TAKE UP GLOVER CASE

Will Go Over It With Chief of State Police

Boston, Dec. 21.—Interest in the Glover murder mystery reached a high pitch when it became known that the commonwealth, represented by Attorney General Malone, had decided to go over the case thoroughly with Chief Whitney of the state police with a view to taking further action in it.

"I might have conferences with others interested in the case," said Malone. "However, I imagine that all the evidence in the case which is in the possession of the district attorney's office is known.

"Yes, I have full right to reopen the case, present it to the grand jury and conduct a further investigation if it appears that more can be learned in the case.

"I have always thought it best that the man who presented a case to the grand jury should try it. You understand that my successor takes office in January. However, this would not necessarily influence me in reopening the case."

TWO LIFE-SAVERS DROWNED

Were Trying Out New Boat When It Turned Turtle In Squall

New York, Dec. 21.—Two members of the volunteer life-saving crew at Rockaway Beach, L. I., Bruce Bond and David Jamison, perished when the new boat they were trying out, with three other members of the crew, upset in the surf.

William Cassidy, one of the five, was taken from the water in an exhausted condition, while the two others made their way ashore.

The five men were some 200 yards off the beach, when a heavy squall struck them, and the boat turned turtle. It is supposed that the missing men were seized with cramps and went down.

ISLAND DID NOT SINK

Story of Great Loss of Life In Salvador Is Declared Untrue

San Salvador, Dec. 21.—The report emanating from Port Limon, C. R., that as a result of a terrific earthquake an island in the Ilopango lagoon, in the interior of Salvador, had disappeared, with the drowning of many women and children, is entirely without foundation.

Only a slight earthquake has occurred recently in this section, without damage to property or loss of life. Ilopango lagoon, which lies to the southeast of San Salvador, is in a normal state.

Mrs. Shaw Weds Marble

Boston, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Nettie E. Shaw, who last May secured a divorce from her husband, ex-Senator James F. Shaw, the street railway man if this city, following her discovery in Santa Barbara, Cal., in the company of her husband's chauffeur, H. K. Marble, has become the wife of the latter, according to reports which have been received from Stamford, Conn.

SHOPLIFTERS' HOME RAIDED

Found to Be Actually Packed With Stolen Articles

BOSTON POLICE STAGGERED

Place Seemed Uninhabited Until Entrance Is Forced and Every Conceivable Sort of Merchandise Is Revealed—Four Wagon Loads of Loot, Valued at About $10,000, Is Taken Charge of by Bluecoats

Boston, Dec. 21.—The Kneodler family, whose house at 34 Newark street was found stacked from cellar to roof with thousands of dollars' worth of stolen goods, spent last night at Charles street jail, after ineffectual attempts to have accepted as bail deposits in savings banks in small towns throughout the state.

The family is believed to have been operating successfully for the last ten years, since they left Portsmouth, N. H., where they had lived during the life of Frank Kneodler, Mrs. Lena Kneodler's dead husband.

Shoplifting, burglary, express robbery and every other form of obtaining loot is credited to them. In addition to the stack of less easily disposable loot found at the house, it is claimed that scores of good sized savings bank accounts are hidden around in small towns.

Mrs. Lena Kneodler and her daughter, Margaret, were arrested Monday, charged with shoplifting at a Roxbury department store. They gave at first assumed names, but were identified by Officer Trainor as the Kneodlers.

The search of their persons at the station house disclosed a "shoplifters' carryall," a big canvas bag, worn under the outer skirt. This led to the discovery and search of their home.

While the mother and daughter were being arraigned in the Roxbury court yesterday, Frank, 25, a son, and Lillian, 23, another daughter, were recognized in the courtroom and placed under arrest.

The search of the house staggered the searching squad. The dwelling is a low, ramshackle shack, at the end of a blind alley. The alleyway is unkept. About the house are stable yards, where express teams and brewery wagons are left out over night. The shutters were closed. The place seemed uninhabited.

When entrance was forced to the house, the place was found jammed with every conceivable sort of merchandise.

The house was a mass of trap doors and closets. One stairway in the back to the second floor was packed solid with provisions of every description. In another cubby hole was stacked a complete butcher's outfit, and festooned from the walls were strings of sausage, fowl, geese and other kinds of provisions.

On the upper floors silverware was stacked up in heaps. About the rooms were all sorts of furniture. Under the beds were stored jams, preserves, food in jars, crackers by the case, boxes of shoes, rubbers and cases of paint, hardware, mats, laces, tinware and rugs.

Women's dresses of the latest design, and of patterns ten years old, filled one room, interspersed with the most expensive of furs. There were also trimmings, goods in the piece.

On every floor, under stairways and in the walls were all sorts of hidden nooks and store places, all filled with treasure.

There were four big furniture wagon loads of loot for the police to take charge of, and its value is placed at $10,000. Some of it had been in the house for ten years. Much of the stolen property could not have been brought to the house except by teams. The place is believed to have been the storehouse of organized express thieves, who steal a whole team load.

AMES' SEAT IS SAFE

Carmichael, Who Contests It, Has Not Fulfilled Requirements of Law

Washington, Dec. 21.—The contest of James H. Carmichael against the election of Representative Ames will have no standing in the house of representatives, according to several members of the committee on elections.

The law provides that the contesting candidate shall file notice of his contest with the successful candidate within thirty days of the election. Carmichael has not done this, although he has filed notice of his contest with the clerk of the house.

HOPE IS ABANDONED

No Trace of Missing Barge and Five Men Who Manned Her

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Dec. 21.—Barge No. 12 of the Consolidation Coal company, which broke away from the tug Cumberland off Nauset, on Cape Cod, in Friday's blizzard, has been given up as lost with Captain Adams and his four men.

The coal company ended its efforts to locate No. 12 and its crew after the return here last night of the tugs Cumberland and Georges Creek.

INSPECTING HER JEWELS

German Empress Is Under Guard While She Is Thus Engaged

Berlin, Dec. 21.—Sentries have been placed at the doors of the royal apartments in the palace, this unusual guard being a precautionary measure because the crown jewels are there for their annual inspection by the empress.

In addition to the state jewels, which are practically priceless, the empress is also re-arranging her private jewels, and as these are worth at the lowest estimate $500,000, the posting of sentries is not an extravagant precaution.

Part of her jewels came to the kaiserin from the two first German empresses, others were given to her by the emperor and still others, including the famous yellow diamond, by the deposed Sultan of Turkey. The principal stones in the imperial diadem were found in the carriage of Napoleon after the battle of Waterloo.

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

Maine Counties Object to Paying Bills of Sturgis Deputies

Portland, Me., Dec. 21.—On an appeal from the supreme court of Maine the county officials of Cumberland, Androscoggin and Penobscot counties will carry the question of the constitutionality of the state enforcement law, popularly known as the Sturgis law, to the supreme court of the United States.

The counties are endeavoring to determine whether they are legally bound to pay the bills incurred by the Sturgis deputies in enforcing the law. These deputies go from county to county and assess charges on the county where they work instead of the state.

Cumberland, Androscoggin and Penobscot counties have been called on for large sums lately, the bill against Cumberland amounting to about $3000.

LOANED $100,000 OVER CENTURY AGO

County In Virginia Now Asks Uncle Sam to Settle

Washington, Dec. 21.—A claim against the federal government more than 100 years old was presented to members of congress by a delegation of citizens from Alexandria county, Va.

More than 100 years ago the state of Virginia, acting on the advice of Chief Justice Marshall, lent the federal government $100,000 to be used in the construction of the Capitol on ground ceded to the government by the same state.

Several years later the state legislature transferred the claim to Alexandria county with the understanding that the money, if collected, should be used in the construction of a boulevard between Washington and Mount Vernon.

The claim has not been pressed vigorously, but now Alexandria county wants to build the boulevard and they want the government to return the money.

KIDNAPPER CONVICTED

No Delay on Part of Justice In Dealing With Italian Woman

New York, Dec. 21.—Justice dealt the Black Hand a quick blow in Brooklyn with the conviction in less than six hours of a woman kidnapper. She is Maria Rippa, a frail, weazened Italian woman of not more than 30 years.

A jury in the county court found her guilty of abetting the kidnapping of little Michael Rizzo and Giuseppe Longon. The penalty is not less than five years and not more than fifty years in state prison. Sentence will be passed on Tuesday.

The woman sat stolidly through the proceedings.

WAS BEST WHEN DRUNK

Woman Finds Fault With Husband Who Mended His Ways

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 21.—Mrs. Hazel Garabedian, wife of Bedros Garabedian, was a witness against her husband in court on a charge of assault and battery. She said:

"When my husband used to get drunk he was a good man and kind man, but now that he has mended his ways and is sober I can't live with him."

Judge Utley remarked that this was peculiar, but he fined Garabedian $10 for twisting his wife's wrist.

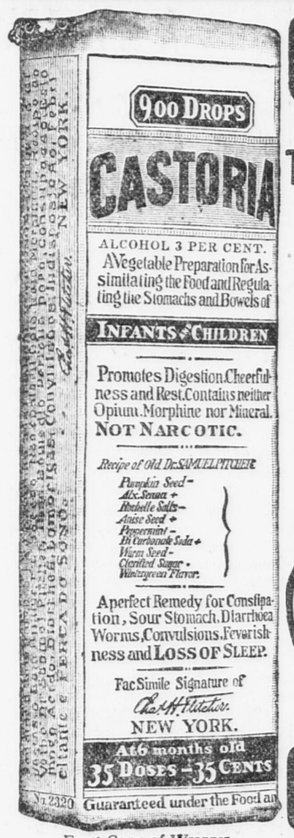
Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

RUBBERS
Ladies' Low and High Heel Rubbers
50c Per Pair
Child's Sandals Good Quality 40c
Misses's " " " 45c
Men's 1 Buckle Overshoes $1.25
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

The Famous Rayo
Is the Lamp of Real Beauty
because it gives the best light of all lamps. The Rayo gives a white, soft, mellow, diffused light—easy on the eye because it cannot flicker. You can use your eyes as long as you wish under the Rayo light without strain.
The Rayo Lamp is low-priced, and even though you pay $5, $10 or $20 for other lamps, you may get more expensive decorations but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. A strong, durable shade-holder holds the shade on firm and true. This season's new burner adds strength and appearance.
Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

ZOROID
Founded 1893
TRADE MARK
Do you know that your eyes change as you grow older?
Your glasses need changing as your eyes change, stronger lenses should replace those that were just right for you two or three years ago.
If you have worn the same glasses several years you will be surprised to find how much easier you can work, how much clearer you can see with a new pair of lenses a little stronger.
Have your eyes examined and see for yourself. Telephone for appointment.
Briggs S. Palmer. President
Sanborns
3 Winter St.- Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 17-21-24

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Kincaide's Annex—Christmas Gifts
R. E. Foy & Co.—Christmas Turkeys
City Ordinances
Quincy Choral Society Concert
Proposals

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	35 degrees.
December 21, 1909,	34 degrees
December 21, 1908,	42 degrees
December Noon Maximum,	13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum.	13 years, 2

BRIEFS

Councilman Bryant will be a judge of Rhode Island reds at the National Poultry show in New York next week.

One of those famous Smith clam chowders will be served at the rooms of the Granite City club tonight after the whist tournament.

The Thomas Crane Public Library will close Saturday at 6 P. M. and will not open again until Tuesday morning at 10.

Patrick J. McGrath, U. S. N., son of Mrs. Catherine McGrath of 25 Farrington street, died at the Mt. Pleasant camp this morning.

The trees looked beautiful early this morning, all the branches laden with light snow which sparkled in the sunlight.

The public schools of the city closed today for the Christmas holidays. They will reopen Monday, Jan. 2.

Most people were glad to see the ground covered with snow this morning, as it makes it seem more like Christmas. There seems little prospect of a green Christmas this year.

The skating rink on Coddington street is being flooded. The news will be greeted with great enthusiasm by the young people who have been clamoring for a good place to skate.

The Sewer department is sending out a big bunch of unwelcome Christmas presents this week in the shape of bills for main sewer assessments. Over 800 of these were issued.

Arrangements are being made for a joint public installation of the officers of St. Francis court and St. Ambrose ladies court, M. C. O. F. The installation will be held early in January.

Word has been received of the death at Bridgewater on Tuesday of Charles Blaisdell formerly of Quincy. When in Quincy Mr. Blaisdell resided off Granite street. He has been a resident of Bridgewater for some years.

☞Don't forget the date of the Quincy Choral Society concert, Tuesday night Jan. 3.

DEATHS

FERGUSON—In Quincy, Dec. 21, Genevieve, infant daughter of Mr. Edward R. and Mrs. Alexanderine G. Ferguson of 9 Phipps street, aged 1 month, 21 days.

McGRATH—In Quincy at Camp Mt. Pleasant, Dec. 21, Patrick J. McGrath, U. S. N., son of the late Edward and Mrs. Catherine McGrath, of 25 Farrington street, aged 19 years.

NEWCOMB—In Woburn, Dec. 19, Mr. Charles H. S. Newcomb, formerly of Quincy Point, aged 67 years. Funeral services on Thursday Dec. 22, at 2 P. M., at First Universalist church, Quincy. Relatives and friends invited. Dec. 20-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

AERO MEET A NOVELTY

Getaway, Accuracy, Duration and Other Contests

The Wollaston Social society, is becoming noted for giving unique entertainments and the "Aero meet" held in the Unitarian vestry on Tuesday evening was no exception. To a committee composed of Winthrop E. Southworth, Dr. John Merrill, Miss Goodnow, Miss Horner and E. Thornton Walters are due the thanks of those present for a most delightful evening.

To facilitate matters sides were chosen, the same being captained by Irving L. Shaw and G. Ernest Carr respectively. The first contest of the evening was the "getaway," the object being to inflate and fly toy balloons, the first successful one being the winner.

Next came the "accuracy contest," those competing attempting to roll a gas ball nearest a given circle. Great merriment was caused by the "battle in the clouds." In this each side attempted to blow four of their balloons across a given line, while preventing their opponents from doing the same.

In the "bomb dropping contest" oyster crackers were used, each attempting to place them in a small ship on the floor. The "speed contest" was a great test for wind, while in the "distance contest" the members attained almost juvenile skill in the throwing of paper gliders.

For "duration" rubber balloons with a whistle attached were blown up, the person with the longest breath winning this event.

For "altitude" the well known "T D" and soap bubbles came into play, the contestants endeavoring to reach the ceiling by this treacherous means. The "Boston Light contest" was a relay race in chareg of the two captains.

The series of contests resulted in an overwhelming victory for Captain Shaw's side. Refreshments of punch and fancy crackers were served the thirsty aviators during the evening.

LOCAL SPORTS.

At the regular meeting of the North Quincy A. C. Tuesday evening the following were elected members of the club: Harry Tabb, Murray McLeod, Chester Ashton of Wollaston and Walter Crook of Neponset. After the meeting refreshments were served. The bowling team of the club includes: Lyons, Curtis, Quinlan, Tabb and McLeod and will bowl the Limits of Somerville in January.

NEW ORDINANCES.

Four of the recent amendments to the City Ordinances are advertised by the City Clerk today. They are those relating to the salary of the Chief of Police, salaries in the Police department, salary of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, and the new ordinance relative to pensions for firemen.

The telephone company is preparing to lay underground conduits on Hancock, Alleyne and Adams streets toward East Milton, which will remove wires from those thoroughfares.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

PROPOSALS

CITY OF QUINCY

The School Committee of the City of Quincy will until TUESDAY, December 27 at 5 P. M. receive proposals for the furnishing of the following equipment for the High School:—30 mechanical drawing tables of a type to be described at the Superintendent's office, 12 motor driven wood turning lathes. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Address proposals, in a sealed envelope, distinctly marked "Proposals for Supplies" on the outside to

ALBERT L. BARBOUR,
Superintendent of Schools.
December 21, 1910. 1t

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

HEARING THIS MORNING

On Widening the Opening in Quincy Point Bridge

A hearing was held before the Harbor and Land Commissioners this morning on the petition of the trustees of the Fore River bridge at Quincy Point to widen the draw.

A petition for authority to raise the necessary money has already been filed with the Secretary of State to be acted upon by the Legislature when it convenes Jan. 1. In addition to this, it is necessary to obtain permission from the Harbor and Land Commissioners to widen the draw. The hearing this morning was a matter of form, but it was attended by Mayor Shea, representing the trustees, and President Bowles of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. It was pointed out that the bridge was badly in need of repair as some of the piers were in bad shape. Also that the draw at its present width was not large enough to admit the passage of the Argentine dreadnaught building at the shipyard. The opening of the draw at the present time is but two feet wider than the battleship which means that there would be but a foot leeway on each side, and if perchance in passing through it should strike the abutments there would be grave danger of demolishing the whole bridge.

There will be some opposition to the proposition to widen the draw when it comes before the Legislature, on the ground that as the widening is purely for the benefit of a private corporation the towns south of Quincy should not be called upon to bear any part of the expense.

BRIEFS

The Quincy Catholic club announce a whist party, for charity, at Colonial hall Wednesday evening Jan. 4.

Local stores are open every night this week to accommodate Christmas shoppers.

Now is the season when the small boy opens your office door and cries out "Any calendars, Mister?"

Postmaster Hammond has extra letter carriers on duty this week to handle the heavy Christmas mail.

A week from next Monday will be Inauguration day for the City of Quincy—the 23d under the city government.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward A. Chase of Wollaston announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Hatch, to Mr. Sheldon D. Dunlap of Philadelphia.

Two more fire alarm boxes were cut into the fire alarm circuits this morning. They are: Box 331, corner of Franklin and School streets; Box 524, corner of Woodbine and Berlin streets.

The snow storm Tuesday evening was rather unexpected. It commenced shortly before 8 o'clock, although at that time it was a very fine storm, almost like rain. About 11 o'clock, however, it came down in big flakes. It was a damp snow and had it continued that way all night it would have raised havoc with telephone wires.

A baby party is to be given by the Young Women's club on Saturday evening, December thirty-first. Each member is requested to wear their childhood dresses, and bring a small gift for Santa's pack. A play, The Children's Conspiracy, will be given under the direction of Miss Mabel E. Lovejoy, chairman of Entertainment committee, and a good time is promised to all who attend.

The telephone company in making a plan for a new lay out of poles on the east side of Hancock street between City Square and Greenleaf street, so as to eliminate some of the surplus poles that now line the sidewalk. This is the outcome of the order of Councilman Whiton, requesting the Commissioner to present a plan to carry out the work of doing away with some of the poles. in some places there are as many as three poles in a bunch.

Frederic Martin of New York City, who is to sing at the "Creation" concert on Tuesday evening Jan. 3, is one of the greatest bass singers in the country; in every way an oratorio singer of splendid reputation. In whatever part of the country he appears, it is always to receive the highest praise of local critics and the enthusiastic applause of his audience. Mr. Martin not only has a splendid voice, but has magnetism and power as well and seems never so happy as when singing. His personality is that of a genial, generous nature, and one of the most attractive things about any appearance of his is the feeling that he enjoys singing for people almost as much as they enjoy hearing him.

FOR ILLEGAL REGISTRATION

Two Men at Houghs Neck Arraigned Today

Heber R. Benn and Walter F. Benn, two well known residents of Houghs Neck, were arraigned in court this morning on a complaint sworn out by Alfred N. LaBrecque, a candidate at the recent municipal caucuses for Councilman at large, charging them with illegal registration.

Walter F. Benn was arrested late Tuesday afternoon and bailed and Heber R. Benn was produced in court by his counsel. The case went over until Thursday. Up to this time the proceedings went along smoothly. But the complainant insisted that the parties give bonds as he was afraid they would run away.

Lawyer McKay, counsel for the defendant, then sailed into the complainant ,accusing him of yellow journalism, etc., etc. Mr. McKay was in dead earnest, and his argument caused the face of the complainant to redden.

The court decided to hold Heber on his own recognance.

It is claimed by the complainant that the Benn's when registered swore that they were born in Maine, when he claims their birthplace was New Brunswick. Their votes were also protested on these grounds when they attempted to vote at the Municipal election.

It is rumored that the animous back of the proceedings is that they were not supporters of the candidacy of the complainant. Something interesting is looked for when the cases are heard Thursday.

THE NEW YORK BLOWUP

Searching Inquiry Fails to Place the Blame For the Disaster

New York, Dec. 21.—A searching inquiry by three municipal departments, the coroner, the district attorney's office and members of the fire department, failed to throw any light on the direct cause of the explosion in the power sub-station of the Grand Central station, which resulted in the death of ten persons, the injury of more than 100 others and a property damage estimated at $2,000,000.

Experts are to be engaged to probe the cause. Each investigation was conducted independently, dozens of witnesses were examined, every inch of ground about the scene was explored, yet so far as can be told no headway was made toward fixing the blame for the disaster.

BANK IN TORONTO SUSPENDS PAYMENT

Its Thirty-One Branches In Ontario Are Also Closed

Toronto, Dec. 21.—The Farmers' bank, with head office in Toronto and thirty-one branches in various places throughout Ontario, has suspended payment. W. R. Travers is the general manager. The bank was organized about five years ago. Deposits in the various branches are, roughly speaking, $1,4000,000.

The suspension was brought about by the failure of the bank to meet its liabilities of $20,000 at the clearing house. The bank instituted proceedings against a former manager and clerks at Lindsay for conspiracy and evidence as to the bank's condition brought out at the trial caused runs on branches and it was decided to suspend.

No official statement regarding the status of the Farmers' bank or of the cause of its suspension are available. The doors of the institution are closed. According to Travers, the business of the bank and its branches may be resumed next week.

MORMONS ARE HELD UP

Immigrants Must Give Definite Account of Their Plans

Portland, Me., Dec. 21.—The immigration officers at this port are exercising more than ordinary care in the examination of a party of Mormon converts who arrived here from Liverpool on the steamer Dominion. Fifteen are being held up. Of the sixty-three in the party, twenty-three who were missionaries and ten converts were passed immediately.

After a rigid examination fifteen more were allowed to proceed. The remaining fifteen are being detained until they can give a more definite account of their plans in coming to this country.

—Worcester is facing a water famine in its public water supply.

UP TO CONGRESSMEN

Agricultural Committee Inclined to Sidestep Ballinger-Pinchot Row

Washington, Dec. 21.—The Ballinger-Pinchot controversy will have to be fought out on the floor of the house between the regular and progressive forces.

The members of the house agricultural committee, to which the majority and minority reports were referred by the house, have determined to sidestep all responsibility in the form of a report, it has become known. Chairman Scott and his colleagues of the committee have determined that it is up to the house to thresh the matter out on the floor.

There will be a sharp battle before the controversy is finally put to rest. The committee will turn in the reports without a word of comment.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55,6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22,A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) .Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. .Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.

and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M

JOHN T, CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Lady's gold open face watch in Wollaston or Norfolk Downs. Finder return to 187 Fayette street, Wollaston. Reward. Dec. 19-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest registration section in Quincy. All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 319 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 15, an ordinance concerning salaries be amended by striking out the figures "$1,400" after the words "Chief of Police" and inserting in place therefor the figures "$1,500."

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 320 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 19, an ordinance establishing a Police Department, be amended as follows:— Strike out Section 9, and insert in place therefor the following:—

Sec. 9. Salaries paid the Police Department shall be as follows: Lieutenant, $1,200 per year; Sergeants, $1,150 per year; Patrolmen, $2.75 per day for the first two years and thereafter $3 per day; Reserve Police $2.75 per day when detailed for service: Special Police $2.50 per day when detailed for service. Continuous duty by a member of the Reserve Police shall be counted as time served when appointed to the permanent force.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 335 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 1, "an ordinance establishing the fire department of the City of Quincy" be amended by adding the following section:—

Section 20. The City Council shall, at his own request, or at the request of the Chief of the Fire Department, if, i n the judgment of said Council, he is no longer able to perform active service as a fireman, retire from active service and place upon a pension roll, any member of the Fire department of the City of Quincy, whom the City Physician of said city certifies in writing to be permanently disabled, mentally or physically, by injuries incurred while in the performance of his duty as fireman, call-fireman or substitute call-fireman, from further performing duty as such member, or any member of said department who has served faithfully in said department for not less than twenty years and who is either sixty-five years of age, or over, or who in the judgment of said council is incapacitated for useful service therein, and every member so retired shall annually receive as a pension one half the amount of compensation received by him at the time of his retirement, such amount to be paid by the city which shall appropriate money therefor.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 345 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 15, concerning Salaries be amended by striking out the figures $800. for Salary of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and inserting in place therefor $1,400.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

WANTED

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN, Fore River Shipbuilding Co. Dec. 20-3t

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.
RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-0-1w

TO LET

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—Furnished front room, near center. For particulars address "Room" Ledger Office. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A single house of 7 rooms. All improvements. Rent $18.00. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—A suite of 4 rooms and bath, first floor. All improvements. Rent $15.00 located at 84 Farrington street. Apply at 85 Safford street, Wollaston. Dec. 19-3t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electrics. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—New apartments on Bradford street. Each with five rooms kitchenette, bath, storeroom, closets, dumb waiter, gas and electricity; separate cellars, steam heat. Inquire of W. R. Lofgren 19 Cottage street. Dec. 15-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms--Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10 : Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 214

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 297 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 22, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Debated by the Men's Club of Christ Church Last Evening

Some Said It Was the Tariff But Others Disagreed

The debate of the Men's club of Christ church was held Wednesday evening in the parish house. The question was: "Resolved,— that the tariff is mainly responsible for the high cost of living."

The debate brought out a large crowd and a goodly number of arguments, in fact it was the best debate of the year thus far.

Charles W. Hanscom the representative of the Central Labor Union, the affirmative and Alexander Fryer was to represent the negative. Owing to his inability to be present the latter sent a manuscript which Rev. Mr. Armstrong read.

Mr. Hanscom argued that the tariff was the mother of the trusts. Havemeyer and his sugar trust buy the legislature. The present tariff is higher than it has ever been before, it is 10 percent higher than it was during the Civil war. The tariff is a tax which is paid by the consumer. The tariff is not wholly but mainly responsible for the high cost of living.

Mr. Fryer argued that the gold output was largely responsible for the high cost of living. Excessive waste also played an important part. He believed that capital must be attacked, the middleman must be eliminated, and the consumer could then get the products from the producer direct and at less cost.

N. M. Spencer looked at the situation very optimistically. He did not believe there were any hard times when people can spend so much money going to the theatres, etc.

Mr. Armstrong believed that watered stock was mainly responsible for the high cost of living. The whole question lies on the definition of "a reasonable profit," he said.

Mr. Marr considered the tariff the main factor. He believed that so called protection paved the way for extortion. Jefferson and Hamilton argued on this issue, and it is more live today than it was then.

Mr. Walker believed that the tariff was the salvation of the country. He cited examples of Great Britian, Australia, free trade countries, in which the condition of the working man is deplorable.

Mr. Newton considered the comparison between England and America unfair, because there was too much charity in England and when a man could get along without working the tendency would be not to work.

Mr. Armstrong believed that the comparison was unfair because America was a young country, and her natural resources would give a good living to any man with brain and brawn.

No vote was taken but the affirmative seemed to have more supporters than the negative, although strong arguments were offered by both sides.

After the debate refreshments were served and several announcements were made. The Point Church Men's club extended an invitation to the Christ church Men's club to join them Dec. 28, and hear Street Commissioner O'Rourke of Boston.

The next meeting of the Christ church Men's club will be held on Jan. 2, when one of the head workmen at the Waltham Watch factory will give an illustrated talk on the subject: "Making a watch."

EARLY VISIT FROM SANTA

Had Presents for Children at Houghs Neck

Santa Clause made his appearance at Houghs Neck on Wednesday night and made everybody happy. It was at the Christmas festival of the Sunday school of the Union chapel attended by 125 or more. A pleasing entertainment was first given, including a piano solo by E. Acorn, recitations by Ethel McEwan, Florence Sweares, James Murray, Rose Chapman, Sadie Thorn and Eva Shunwhite; a song by Maud Brown, and stereopticon pictures of "The little match girl" and "The elephant's revenge," both of the stories being read by Miss Doris Smith.

At the close of the program the curtain used for the stereopticon pictures was drawn aside, and disclosed a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Santa Claus entered to the tune of "Jingle Bells." There was a present for each of the 125 members of the Sunday school, and Santa Claus also gave each child a pretty box of candy. It was a very jolly Christmas party. In closing the song was sung "God be with you till we meet again."

FORMER RESIDENT.

Mrs. Evelyn G. Bussell formerly of Quincy Point, died on Tuesday at Brookville. She was a daughter of Noah and Mary A. (Sargent) Bosworth. Her husband, Charles H. Bussell died some years ago. She is survived by a son and daughter, Fred W. Bussell and Mrs. Joseph A. Wilde, also by two sisters and a brother, Mrs. George Higgins of Atlantic, Mrs. Amos M. Howard of Brookville, and Winfield Bosworth of Barre, Vt. She was 53 years of age.

TODAY'S COURT.

William Leahy was arraigned for violation of the liquor transportation law at Randolph. Case continued until Dec. 24.

James Ruboleno was arraigned for neglecting to send his child to school at Weymouth, and was fined $10.

Leon J. Owen was arraigned for violation of the liquor law at Weymouth. Case continued until Dec. 24.

James F. Callahan was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy.

The continued cases of Heber R. and Walter F. Benn for illegal registration at Quincy, was called.

☞Save the date, Tuesday night, Jan. 3, for the Choral Society oratorio at Music hall. Large chorus, orchestra and soloists.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

FIRST PRIZE TO INDIANS

At Costume Party of Juniors at the Y. M. C. A.

The Junior Costume party at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening was what might be termed "a howling success." The boys were divided into groups, each group choosing its own style of dress. The following were chosen: Cooks, Sailors, Farmers, Negroes, Indians and Cowboys.

Prizes were offered for best dressed group, most efficient group "stunt," and for the best dressed individual in each group.

The Indians were given first prize in both group contests. The little band of Redskins did a very efficient stunt. They marched in, Indian file and conversed in Indo-English. It seems that their chief was lost and they were searching for him. At length he was discovered dead and the tribe did the death dance about him. Henry Erickson won the individual prize.

The Cooks had a pie-eating contest which furnished the most amusement of all the stunts. Stanley Smith won the prize in this division.

The Sailors sang and danced a hornpipe. Frank Fulton was given first prize.

The Farmers had a country school with John Clark as master. Frederick Torrey received first prize for costume.

The Coons sang "Way down yonder in the cornfield," and did some clog dancing. Leslie Andrews was chosen for first prize.

The Cow Boys captured a Negro and made him dance by means of some threatening looking revolvers. Henry Northrup was awarded first prize in his division.

After this contest was completed there were games and refreshments, after which the Scout yell was given in a manner which threatened the rafters, and then the party broke up. Some little time later groups of Negroes, farmers, etc., were seen on Hancock street, and needless to say they were the focus of many curious glances. The groups will meet again next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of having their pictures taken in costume.

—Good morning! Have you used Christmas Seals?

PRESIDENT BOWLES NOT SUCCESSFUL

In Convincing General Board of Navy That Turbines Were Best for New Battleship

Reciprocating Engines Have Been Decided Upon

One of the most animated controversies in the Navy Department for many years was ended Wednesday, says the Washington correspondent of the Transcript, when the contract for battleship No. 35, the new Texas, was awarded to the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. The fact that this contract provides that the new battleship shall have reciprocating engines is of more than ordinary interest, because it indicates that the sister ship, the New York, also authorized at the last session of Congress, will have the same type of propelling machinery. For some time the type of engines has been under discussion. Some naval officers have insisted that the turbine should be installed. The Bureau of Steam Engineering, however, recommended a return to the reciprocating engine, and this view was supported by the chief constructor. The question was submitted to the General Board, where the preference was for the turbine. Francis T. Bowles, formerly chief constructor of the navy and now head of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company at Quincy, Mass., and also head of the company which manufactures the Curtis type of turbine, appeared before the General Board and made a strong argument in favor of the turbine as against reciprocating engines.

One proposition favored by the general board was a combination of machinery by which small reciprocating engines could be used at slow speed, with turbines for high speed. It was insisted that this arrangement would make for economy of operation. It is understood that the general board finally came to the same conclusion as the engineers, however. While the ship with reciprocating engines costs about $100,000 more than the same ship turbines, it was figured that in the American navy the vessels would be required mostly to make long voyages, where economy of cruising and the facility to repair damage to engines were important factors which could not be overlooked, and which, according to the view of the engineer in chief, should govern.

The conclusions reached are something of a surprise and are severely criticised by some partisans, who insist that the installation of the reciprocating engine on new battleships is a step backward. The Navy Department reached its decision, however, after taking into consideration the most important aspects of the case, and the strategists came to the conclusion that the military necessities were fully met by reciprocating engines. By the award the Navy Department has protected itself against the chance, of which there have been rumors, that battleship No. 35 would be built at a navy yard, as well as No. 34.

The decision in favor of reciprocating engines does not necessarily settle the question for all time, as various propositions are pending before the Navy Department which make use of turbine equipment, with due consideration for economy of operation. One type is the turbine reduction gear to be tested on one of the colliers now under construction, and another is the turbo-electric type designed by the General Electric Company, in Schenectady, N. Y. That firm proposed to install its machinery on battleship No. 35, but the Navy Department did not wish to assume the risk of the installation of mechanism which had not been tried on board ship.

QUINCY BUILT TRAWLER.

Ralph S. Thomas has been given command of the steam trawler Spray, and sailed Wednesday on his first trip in her. He is a brother of Capt. William Thomas of the knockabout Helen B. Thomas. Capt. Herbert Green, who was transferred from the Spray to the Foam, took the latter out Wednesday. Capt. Michael Green, who has had the Foam since she went into commission, is attending to the fitting out of the last otter trawler, the Ripple.—Globe.

For the Best Girl in all the world, For Grandfather or Grandmother, For Mother or Father, For Sister or Brother—Why not an Easy Chair? We have over fifty styles to choose from—prices ranging from $5.00 to $25.00.

Then we have so many other nice things for the home that make ideal gifts, we wish you would call and look them over. Everything from a Piano to a Glenwood Range. You do a two fold service at a single price, when you buy home furnishings for Christmas. Look—you can open an account—and pay a little each week if you wish. Come here to the quality store.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO., Quincy
New England's Lowest Priced Home Furnishers
1495 Hancock Street. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings
Dec. 22-1t

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS
A Useful Christmas Gift
That will Delight Every Boy and Girl

We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.

Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-1t

Quincy Market

Come to a Distinctive Market where stock is abundant and comprehensively displayed and where prices are undoubtedly the lowest. You get a little more here than elsewhere for your money regarding the quality and that is what the public wants. Remember all goods are guaranteed.

Talk about Turkey, Turkey, well they are almost as cheap as fowl.

Fancy Chickens, Fowl, Ducks, Geese, all plentiful, nothing but the best.

Best Cape Cod Cranberries 12 1-2 cents.

Xmas Trees 15 cents to 50 cents. All you want.

Watch for the ad for Friday and Saturday.

QUINCY MARKET
Next to Woolworth's 5 and 10c Store
Dec. 22-1t

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

SPECIAL.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Norfolk county. It takes years to build up a big circulation; the Daily Ledger has been steadily increasing for 25 years. Most everybody reads the Daily Ledger.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

Pastors and choirmasters of the Quincy churches who desire the programmes of their Christmas music published in The Patriot and Quincy Daily Ledger, Saturday, Dec. 24, must have their manuscript in this office not later than Friday morning, Dec. 23.

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Christmas falls on Sunday this year, but MONDAY, Dec. 26, will be generally observed as a Holiday, and the office of the Daily Ledger will be closed all day. See Tuesday's paper for the news of the holiday.

The city should ask the government to change the gutters on the post Office building. In stormy weather the water runs across the Washington and Maple street sidewalks, making nasty going and in the winter freezes making it dangerous for pedestrians. There have been several bad falls there this winter and some narrow escapes. The water could go under the sidewalk just as well and into the drain.

It is indeed good news that our young people are to have a place to skate. It would be hard to find a better outdoor rink than the meadows off Coddington street. They are easy of access of good size, no danger of any one getting drowned and not expensive to maintain. Skating is healthful sport and a play ground is as essential in the winter as in summer, more so perhaps as it is stuffy indoors and fresh air is none too plentiful.

It would be interesting to compile the water rates of the cities and towns of the Metropolitan water district. There is a great variation, although all get their water from the same source. In Quincy the minimum rate is $16 per year or $8 every six months. Some people with meters wonder why their semi annual bills are always $8, but the reason is that they are called upon to pay that where as a matter of fact they use less water. In Medford the minimum rate is $12 per year, but the aldermen have just adopted a report which recommends that the minimum charge be $9. The Medford report also recommends a ten per cent reduction in all existing rates.

MANY VIOLATIONS OF LAW

Much Oleomargarine Sold as Real Butter In the Nutmeg State

New Haven, Dec. 22.—The high price of butter which has prevailed during the past year has caused an increase in licensed dealers in oleomargarine from 27 to 150 within six months.

The resultant growth of violations of the laws regarding this product has been such that State Food and Dairy Commissioner Porter is instituting a campaign against the violators.

Numerous complaints against restauranteurs and dealers in New Haven and Fairfield counties are already in the hands of prosecuting officers and more are to follow over the rest of the state. In many cases renovated butter and even oleomargarine are sold as real butter.

—Women jurors in the State of Washington are said to be quite equal to the men in at least one respect—they seek to dodge the job and their excuses are said to be quite as interesting as those put up by males who don't want to serve.—

☞White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

DRIFT OF OPINION.

Underlying the proposal that in the future the nations shall agree to submit all disputes arising among themselves to a central international arbitral court with judicial powers, vested by its creators with authority to pass upon the questions at issue with finality and assured that its decrees shall be enforced, is the belief in some quarters that settlements arranged through arbitration, as it is at present understood and practised, are oftener influenced by expediency and sentiment than dictated by prudence and justice.

This newspaper has already discussed the central idea in the circular addressed by Secretary Knox to foreign governments in advocacy of the institution of such a court. Its purpose is to bring about settlements of international disputes which shall be the result of calm and impartial and judicial examination of the evidence, the facts and the law involved. Under the arbitration plan one or other of the disputants is now often led to make unwarrantable demands because of its high standing among the great powers, or to make unwarrantable concessions for fear of offending. Likewise, arbiters are often influenced to propose terms of settlement framed rather with a view to temporary peace than to the merits of the points at issue. In all such cases the decision, although accepted, is certain to be unsatisfactory, because unfair, to one of the parties. In a true sense the matter is not settled at all, for, as among men so among nations, differences are never finally adjusted until they are adjusted rightly.

The world's peace in the future seems likely to depend upon the confidence which arbitration, diplomatic or judicial, shall inspire among the disputant nations. If it must be that disagreements shall arise, and that human impulse and human passion must be taken into account, yet if the nations shall feel assured that justice will be granted them before an international arbitral court, the appeal to arms which in the past often followed the first denial of a claim for reparation of a real or fancied wrong will be postponed. And postponement is always a great gain in behalf of conciliation.

The nations want all the good that is obtainable through the medium of new methods; they may be depended upon to hold fast to all the good that is in the old ones. Where the judicial idea may be the better employed it should be resorted to; but ordinary tact, charity, fraternity, the sense of moral obligation prompting men to do the right thing by their fellow men, should more than ever be counted on to do their helpful work. Every means of bringing about the reign of peace on earth and good will among men should be called into action.—Christian Science Monitor.

SANTA CLAUS.

"I want to talk to you seriously, my dear," ventured Adam, a couple of Christmastides after they had been evicted from Eden. "Now that we have moved out of Paradise, where everything was true, we must shake off a lot of the old superstitions that may have been beautiful in our undeveloped state, but which are useless now. The children are growing up, and it is isn't right that we tell them lies. I propose that we explain to them that Santa Claus is a myth. We must do it gently of course, but I think it is wrong to let them believe in this old falsehood any longer."

"You are right, Adam," sighed Eve. "But, oh, dear! I've got the tree all ready, and Ive been telling them all about Santa Claus, and they are so excited. They're so little, Adam. Suppose we wait till next year before we spoil their fun."

Adam grumbled, but he gave in. They waited till next year; they waited a cycle of years, till the Child came and shamed their materialistic vanity; and then they waited nineteen centuries more, and Santa Claus kept coming.

O world, dear! Your children are so little yet! Let's not tell them till next year!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ONE EJCEPTION.

First Clerk: "Isn't it fine the way the shoppers are coming in! I never knew them to do so much buying so early."

Second Clerk: "It's fine, all right, with one exception."

"Who is that?"

"It's Mrs. Jimpson. She did her buying so awfully early that she's already commenced exchanging things! "—Plain Dealer.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 828-3.

ENTOMBED IN ENGLISH MINE

More Than 300 Men Meet Terrible Fate

FIRE FOLLOWS AN EXPLOSION

Gallant Attempts to Rescue Victims Prove Unavailing and Only Eight Are Saved—Rising Gases Checked by Obstructions and Driven Back Upon Unfortunates—Pitiful Scenes Around Mouth of Colilery

Bolton, Eng., Dec. 22.—More than 300 colliers lost their lives in an explosion in the Little Hulton colliery of the Hulton Colliery company which is located a short distance outside this city.

The explosion occurred soon after the miners had entered the pit to begin work. Its force was terrific. Later investigation showed that the lower passages had been blocked.

Heroic efforts were made by rescue parties all day long, but a fierce fire which followed the explosion prevented the rescuers from penetrating beyond 400 yards into the workings.

Late last night all the rescuers were called out of the mine and a conference was held, at which Government Inspector Gerard, the engineers and the mine manager were present.

The cause and extent of the disaster were in doubt for several hours. The first rescuing party to reach the scene succeeded in bringing seven men and a boy to safety and later recovered the bodies of ten victims who had no chance of escape.

At the moment of the explosion flames spread though the affected passages and smoke and poisonous gas fumes filled the shaft. The plight of the miners was rendered more desperate by a mishap to the machinery of the shafts where the cages refused to move for a time, preventing a quick escape and interfering with the ventilation.

The rising gases were checked by obstructions and driven back upon the entombed men. Meantime the fire raged fiercely and it is supposed that many who were not killed by noxious fumes were burned to death.

The rescuers were unable to go directly to the spot where the miners were entombed, and there was some delay while they sought access to the place through adjoining leads.

Word of the accident was carried quickly to the homes of the miners and presently thousands of persons surrounded the mouth of the colliery. As always on the occasion of such disasters, the anxious thong included hundreds of half-crazed wives and children, and the pitiable scenes familiar to coal mining districts were enacted.

One of the eight miners who escaped said that the force of the explosion was such that the limbs of many were blown off. The ten bodies recovered were discovered lying close to the mouth of the pit. In each case death was due to asphyxiation.

For a time the lives of 700 men were in jeopardy, as a mine communicating with the one in which the explosion occurred was also damaged by the shock and it was some time before its 400 occupants could be reached and brought to the surface.

GASTON QUITS CONTEST

Says Foss Has Made Election of Democratic Senator Impossible

Boston, Dec. 22.—William A. Gaston announces his withdrawal as a Democratic candidate for United States senator against Senator Lodge. Gaston in an interview last night said:

"Governor-elect Foss has made it impossible for any Democrat to be elected United States senator. Therefore I withdraw from the contest. It is evident that he will only support a Republican of what he calls the progressive type to oppose Senator Lodge. I am a Democrat and would not support a Republican in this contest."

SEIZED AS BAD FOOD

Ketchup Said to Have Been Manufactured From Decayed Tomatoes

Boston, Dec. 22.—Three hundred and fifty cases of tomato ketchup, containing 8400 bottles, were seized by United States Deputy Marshal Waters at the freight sheds of the New Haven road in South Boston for alleged violation of the pure food laws.

The complaint was sworn out by Drs. Adams and Rayner of the pure food bureau. The ketchup was shipped here from Mount Holly, N. J., and is alleged to have been manufactured from decayed tomatoes.

McChord and Meyer Confirmed

Washington, Dec. 22.—The senate confirmed C. C. McChord of Kentucky and B. H. Meyer of Wisconsin, to be members of the interstate commerce commission.

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

MEN'S CLUB.

In the vestry of the Congregational church, South Braintree, Wednesday evening, the Men's club enjoyed a fine supper consisting of roast lamb, green peas, baked potatoes, squash, beets, rolls, coffee, fruit, ice cream and orange sherbet. The ices were most excellent and were furnished by C. M. Price & Co. of Weymouth.

This firm very kindly donated the orange sherbet and also the napkins and their courtesy was much appreciated by the club. Edward Cuff rendered several bass solos, as only he can sing them, and was ably accompanied by Leroy Day. Then there was singing by the entire club while waiting for the speaker, Mr. C. E. Jennings of Quincy who was detained because of a delayed train, but arrived soon after and gave a thoroughly enjoyable talk on "The Criminal Side of Post Office Work." Mr. Jennings is an inspector in the employ of the post office department and kept his hearers intensely interested. He gave many humorous and pathetic anecdotes of his work and his dramatic illustration of the way a yeggman blows a safe was exceedingly vivid.

He is a fluent speaker, very much in love with his work and his words carried conviction. His remarks were received with loud and long applause and a rising vote of thanks was tendered him by the club. Mr. J. E. Hayden was the efficient chairman of the supper committee assisted by H. W. Borden, Ellis Dyer, M. C. Gillette, Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Gillette. The meeting was a most enjoyable occasion and those who failed to attend missed a very pleasant evening.

USUAL PRELIMINARIES.

"We must economize this year," says the man.

"Yes," the woman agrees.

Then she goes right ahead and does as much Christmas buying as she did last year, and the year before that and the year before that.

And the man pays the bills.

Just the same way he always pays them.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c

AMERICAN RED CROSS · MERRY CHRISTMAS · HAPPY NEW YEAR

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
10c 25c. 50c. THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP All Druggists

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

R. E. FOY & CO.
MERRY CHRISTMAS

FANCY FRESH-KILLED, YOUNG NORTHERN TURKEYS
NO OLD BIRDS AMONG THIS LOT.
EACH AND EVERY ONE IS YOUNG AND TENDER.
Quality considered, prices as low as any in the City.
SOUTH SHORE
CHICKENS 25 cts. lb.
TENDER YOUNG
GEESE 22 cts. lb
Sweet Cider, gal. 35c
This price includes the Jug
Boiled Cider, bottle 25c
Excellent for cooking purposes
Maraschino Cherries, 25c
Mince Meat, jar 23c
Price includes a Mason jar.
Neufchatel Cheese, 5c
Fresh and Sweet.
Best Seeded Raisins 12c
Florida Oranges..25c doz. Malaga Grapes..15c lb. Tangerines..27c doz.
Have you bought your CHRISTMAS TREE?
We have some very choice trees right from the Maine woods. 25c, 50c up.
WREATHS—Holly, Princess, Laurel
Cape Cranberries, Fancy Celery, Native Onions, Apples, Grape Fruit, Lemons,
Pecan Meats
Almond Meats, White Cape Turnips, Yellow Turnips, Figs, Olives, Dates, Pure Sugar Christmas Candy--2 lb box 25cts.
WATER STREET R. E. FOY & CO. QUINCY STREET
'PHONES 1 7--154
Dec. 21—22—23

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

COAL
C R R
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

GAS READING LAMPS
--- MAKE ---
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School — Public Schools
Woodward Institute — Parochial School

QUINCY HIGH.

The Golden-Rod will be issued after the Christmas vacation. Various unavoidable delays have made the appearance later than usual this year.

* * *

The basketball squad will be allowed to use the gymnasium for practice during the vacation. The first practice was held Wednesday afternoon. In addition to the candidates for the first team, boys trying for class teams donned their uniforms, and practiced shooting baskets and passing the ball.

* * *

Candidates for the girls' basketball team practiced in the gymnasium Tuesday afternoon.

* * *

The money raised by the Freshman class for the granite post and shrubbery which will be put in southwest corner of the grounds was deposited in the Mount Wollaston bank Wednesday morning, and will be allowed to draw interest until spring when the improvements will be made on the grounds. The amounts raised in the different freshmen rooms are as follows: Room 2, $9.60; room 6, $8; room 7, $6.56; room 8, $11; room 9, $4.60; room 10, $11.25; room 11, $5; room 12, $7.50; room 13, $8.15. Total $71.66.

* * *

Robert Pratt '12 is working in Pettingill's store during the holiday season. He will return to school at the opening of the new term.

* * *

"Bill" Cranshaw '11 will represent the Y. M. C. A. on the relay team in the dual meet with Hyde Park next Tuesday.

* * *

H. Trask, '13, will be one of the four Quincy contestants in the potato race.

* * *

Cook, '12, is employed at Kincaide's annex during the holiday season.

* * *

The girls' glee club practiced Tuesday morning. This club, composed of junior and senior girls will sing at the concert on Feb. 21 in connection with the double male quartet.

* * *

The Swanson brothers, '14, are working in Boston during the vacation season. They will return to return to school in January.

* * *

Estey, '13, is a prominent candidate for the Y. M. C. A. track team. He will be one of the Quincy representatives in the 15 yards dash in the dual meet with Hyde Park on Tuesday.

* * *

Mr. Fenner, instructor in history and commercial arithmetic, will spend his vacation at his home in Worcester.

* * *

The class in advanced physics had a midyear examination Wednesday morning.

* * *

Elizabeth Sayward, '11 and Mildred Sayward, '13, have been quarantined in their home for about a week owing to a case of scarlet fever in the family.

* * *

Most of the football men have had the new Q's sewed on their sweaters.

* * *

Hunt '14, Estey '13, Robertson '11 and Sidelinger '10 have been selling Red Cross stamps in the Post Office during the past week.

* * *

The High school friends of Edwina Sweetland gave her a postal card shower on Tuesday. She has been out of school for about a week on account of illness.

* * *

The orders for the 1913 class pins were sent to the manufacturer Wednesday afternoon.

* * *

Mr. Howlett, headmaster of the school, will spend his vacation in Quincy getting out the annual report and looking out for numerous other things which need attention. Most of the teachers will spend their vacation quietly at home.

* * *

Mr. Robinson, instructor in mathematics will go to Bowdoin college for the first part of the vacation to attend a Fraternity celebration.

White '14 will be one of the Quincy entries in the high jump at the meet Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Tirrell, '11, will also contest in the high jump if his ankle heals sufficiently. Holmes '13, will take part in the sprints.

* * *

Several of the High school girls took part in the play given by the Junior Ten of King's Daughters at Bethany chapel last week. Among them were Eleanor Whittemore, Mary Stewart and Margaret Hunt.

* * *

The books purchased with the money from the Rock Island fund, have arrived. The interest on $1,000 amounting to about $40, was sufficient to procure 18 new books for the school library.

* * *

GRADED SCHOOLS.

The 8th grade scholars at the John Hancock school held a social after school on Wednesday.

* * *

Miss Perkins, supervisor of music, has been uniting two or three grades in the different schools for special Christmas music. Wednesday afternoon Christmas music and stories furnished a diversion for the scholars.

* * *

At the Coddington school the first grade scholars had a Christmas tree Wednesday afternoon.

Monday morning the scholars gathered in the assembly hall for special Christmas singing. Miss Perkins played selections on the piano and Mr. Bentley gave a short talk on Christmas and its meaning.

* * *

The Quincy school had special exercises Wednesday morning. All the scholars gathered in the upper hall for a series of Christmas songs. The first four grades joined in filling a box of toys for the Day Nursery children's Christmas.

* * *

At the Massachusetts Fields school the last half hour Wednesday afternoon was devoted to the telling of Christmas stories and singing carols.

* * *

The 6th grade scholars at the Cranch school prepared an entertainment for the whole school under the direction of Miss Turner. The program consisted of the following: Song, "In Little Bethlehem" by the sextet.; recitation, "Hilda's Christmas" by Mary Macomber; solo, "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" by Dorothy Hall; dialogue, "Christmas Stocking Tales," song "Awake and Joy" by the sextet; recitation, "Jest 'Fore Christmas" by Vernon Arbuckle. The display in the corridor of Christmas articles made by the scholars of all grades, attracted a great deal of attention.

* * *

No more cases of scarlet fever have been reported at the Wollaston schools. The total for the two schools is 16; 12 at the Wollaston school and the remainder at the Massachusetts Fields. One case was reported at the Willard school in the latter part of last week, but no new ones have been heard from since. About 10 cases of measles have been reported in the Wollaston district mostly children connected with the Wollaston Congregational church.

* * *

Mr. Upton, master of the Willard school will spend his vacation at his former home in Camden, Miane.

* * *

Mr. Goodspeed master of the Massachusetts Fields and Wollaston schools, will spend all but a few days of the Christmas recess at his home in Wollaston.

* * *

Miss Florence Howe of Bigelow street, a teacher at the Quincy school at Atlantic will enjoy the holidays in New Jersey and Connecticut.

* * *

Miss Grace E. Drumm, teacher in grade 2 at the Willard school, will spend her vacation in Chatham, N. Y.

* * *

The pupils of the Willard school had a very enjoyable time Wednesday afternoon singing their Christmas songs, participating in the exercises, and in the lower grades partaking of a treat which was provided by the teachers.

* * *

Miss Alice Hatch, a teacher at the Washington school will spend her vacation in Marshfield, Mass.

Miss Lucy H. Atwood, master's assistant at the Willard school, is spending her vacation in Bridgewater.

* * *

Miss Mary G. Murray, teacher at the Washington school, was confined to her home during the first part of the week on account of sickness.

* * *

Miss Ellen Fegan, teacher in grade 5 at the Willard school, was present at the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of her brother Rev. Edward J. Fegan of Rockland. Father Fegan was born in West Quincy and celebrated his first mass at St. Mary's church.

* * *

Miss Mary B. Keating, grade 1 of the Willard school, was absent the latter part of last week on account of sickness.

* * *

Miss Marcin S. Strange, grade 8 of the Willard school will be in Marshfield during the Christmas recess.

* * *

Miss Clara M. Shaw, grade 7 at the Willard school, will spend her vacation in Bridgewater.

* * *

WOODWARD INSTITUTE.

Alice Lakin and Dorothy Bean sold Red Cross stamps in the Post Office Tuesday afternoon.

* * *

The basketball squads are practicing for class games. Probably a school team will be chosen by Miss Maccarty after the vacation to play the girl's team of the Quincy High school.

* * *

The mid-year examinations in all departments were held last week.

* * *

School closed Wednesday at 1 o'clock, and will reopen at the usual hour Monday morning, January 2.

* * *

The Junior class gave the annual reception to Seniors and their friends Wednesday evening in the large reception hall of the Institute. The room was decorated with national colors and the colors of the two classes:—1911, green and white; 1912, blue and white. A reception was held before the dancing began. In the receiving line were: Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Miss Towne, Miss Burke, Miss Esther Beckford and Miss Rachael Hardwick. About 75 people were present to enjoy dancing to Sayward's quartet. Among the guests of the evening was Frederic W. Plummer, former principal of the school. This was one of the few events of the year to which men could be invited, and although it gave things rather a foreign aspect, no one seemed dissatisfied. The committee on arrangements was: Miss Esther Dasha and Miss Mary Beale.

* * *

EVENING SCHOOLS.

The Adams evening school is making a good record this year. The attendance is keeping up well and interest in the work holds good. The ages of pupils range from 16 years to 65, and 14 nationalities are represented. A number of the Argentine naval officers are attending the sessions of the school.

* * *

The Willard evening school is maintaining a high standard of excellence also. The attendance has been about the same as it was during the first few weeks. Mrs. Anderson spoke to the pupils at the last session. The subject of her address was: The need of learning the English language.

* * *

SCHOOL NOTES.

The annual banquet of the Quincy Schoolmasters' Club which was to have been held at the Boston City club Wednesday evening was postponed until sometime in January. So many of the masters were going away for vacation that it was considered inadvisable to try to hold the meeting.

* * *

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS.

The figures of the Catholic schools prepared for the 1911 Catholic directory have just been made public by the supervisor of the diocesan schools, and shows a substantial gain over the previous year. The report covers Suffolk, Norfolk, Plymouth, Middlesex and Essex counties, the five counties that make up the Boston diocese. The report states:

"The parishes with schools now number 85 a gain of six over the report for the year 1909.

"There are 26 high schools, the same number as last year.

"The total number of children in the parish schools is 54,716 a gain of 2574 pupils over last year.

"The boys in the elementary schools number 23,754, and there are 207 in the high schools, a total of 23,961 boys in the parochial schools under the supervision of Fr. Lyons.

"The girls in the elementary schools number 22,719 and in the high schools 1036, making a total of 30,755 girls in the various parish schools and a grand total, as above stated, of 54,716 receiving the benefits of a sound training, both religious and secular, and saving the various municipalities in which the schools are located hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"This great tax has been voluntarily assumed by the Catholics of the archdiocese of Boston and tells its own story of the sacrifices faithful parents are willing to make for the proper education of their little ones.

"The number of teaching communities is 27, the number of teaching brothers is 78, the number of teaching sisters 985—and there are 51 lay teachers.

"Last year the school buildings represented an investment of more than $2,700,000 and this year the figure will approximate the vast sum of three millions of dollars. In Boston, experts have calculated that the investment in school buildings represents $150 per year for each child in attendance.

* * *

THAYER ACADEMY.

The Thayer college council will meet at the home of Miss Anna B. Thompson on Friday, Dec. 30. The council consists of graduates of the school who are now in college.

The academy basketball team will play a team of Alumni on the after noon of Dec. 30.

Christmas recess began Friday, Dec. 16, and will continue until Jan. 2.

The midyear examinations were given from the 12th to the 16th of December.

* * *

OTHER SCHOOLS.

Eighty girls of the Brockton High school responded this week to the call to organize a girl's glee club.

* * *

A dinner will be tendered to the champion Malden High school football team on Thursday, Jan. 5.

* * *

Six of the assistant superintendents of Boston's public schools have been selected by the School Board to visit the schools in six different cities of the country and investigate their methods and features of work, some of which, it is thought likely, may be applied profitably to the local schools. These envoys are Walter S. Parker, Jeremiah E. Burke, Augustine L. Rafter and Frank V. Thompson, Ellor Carlisle Ripley, Maurice P. White.

* * *

Albert W. Lewis has been reelected a member of the Everett school committee for three years, which will make 39 years of consecutive service.

* * *

The board of education at Rochester, N. Y., voted this week to abolish the five fraternities and five sororities in the high schools on the ground that they "promote exclusive and undemocratic class distinctions, fix premature and artificial social standards, detract seriously from the regular work of the schools, stimulate extravagant habits and involve a burdensome expense."

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

A man, whose name is said to be Paranto, a resident of Quincy, was injured in the fan manufactury at Braintree this morning, by being caught in the machinery. He was removed to the Quincy City Hospital.

CARD.

Editor of the Quincy Ledger:

Through the columns of your paper I desire to express my heartfelt thanks to those citizens of Ward Two who voted for me at the recent city election. Although my candidacy failed to be successful by a few votes, I cannot but feel grateful to those citizens who expressed their confidence in my ability to represent them by favoring me with their highest gift in the measure of citizenship—their suffrage. One of the pleasing features of the result was the large number of Republicans who were broad-minded enough to forget party designations when it came to choosing their representatives in the council. To the many Republicans who voted for me I desire to assure them that I appreciate what they did for me. Such an endorsement as I received was not without its honor, although the candidate failed of election. At some future date I may be able to prove that this expression of confidence is not unmerited.

M. F. Corbett.
10 Sumner street, Dec. 14, 1910.

—The torpedo boat destroyer Trippe was launched at Bath on Tuesday, being christened by Mrs. John S. Hyde the wife of President Hyde.

☞Tickets for "The Creation" by the Quincy Choral Society, go on sale today at C. C. Hearn's.

HIGH SCORE AT WHIST

Granite City Club Also Planning for Chrisimas Party

One of the highest, if not the highest score, ever made at the whist tournament of the Granite City club, was made Wednesday evening by S. T. MacQuarrie. His card showed 53 points won and 11 lost, which gave him 82.8 per cent. This was some better than his card of a week ago when he won 58 and lost 18, a trifle over 72 per cent. The second high score was made by Representative Thomas, who won 33 points and lost 12, giving him 73 per cent.

The Wednesday evening tournaments are growing in popularity, that of this week being participated in by ten tables. There were some guests at the tournament, one of whom was Capt. Aguirre, one of the Argentine naval officers stationed in Quincy, who secured 46 per cent. Capt Aguirre was very much pleased with his evening's entertainment, as it enabled him to meet a number of Quincy business men whom he had not met before.

At the conclusion of the tournament a piping hot Smith clam chowder was served, which on a cold night seemed to touch the right spot. During the latter part of the evening Mayor Shea and President Stone of the Board of Trade, both of whom are members, dropped in to enjoy the chowder.

Saturday night the usual Christmas celebration for members and their friends will be held. Monk's orchestra will be present all the evening, and several of the clubs well known vocalists will contribute. Refreshments with hot coffee and cider will be served.

WHO ARE TRUSTEES?

The hearing before the Harbor and Land Commissioners Wednesday on the petition to widen the draw of the Quincy Point bridge was not of long duration, for a snag was struck early in the hearing causing the commissioners to adjourn the hearing until next week. The question came up of who were the trustees of the bridge. There seemed to be some question as to where the trustees obtained their authority as such. It was to determine this that the hearing was adjourned.

ON GOVERNOR'S STAFF.

Quincy lodge of Elks has been honored by Gov.-elect Foss, who has selected Joseph W. Bartlett, one of its members, as a member of his personnal staff. Mr. Bartlett formerly resided at Norfolk Downs but is now located at Waban. He is a son of Gen. Charles W. Bartlett, with whom he is associated in law practice. He is a Heutenant of Co. D, 1st Corps Cadets, having enlisted in 1901.

QUINCY COURT OFFICERS.

At a regular meeting of Quincy court, M. C. O. F., held Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall, the following officers were elected:

C.R.—Michael Dorley.
V. C. R.—Catherine F. Donovan.
F. S.—Margaret E. O'Hara.
R. S.—Mary E. Thompson.
T.—Mrs. Lucy G. Howard.
S. C.—Alside Carron.
J. C.—John Meaney
I. S.—James Sulivan
O. S.—Patrick K. Ward.
Trustees—David R. Frazier, John Heffernan and Robert E. Foy.
Delegates—David R. Frazier and John Heffernan.
Alternates—Patrick K. Ward and Hugh P. Tracy.

The above officers will be publicly installed Sunday afternoon Jan. 1, at 2.30 in Alpha hall.

MILK MAN WRECKED

Large Pung Struck by Express Automobile

There was a peculiar automobile accident on Independence avenue Wednesday evening, which came near resulting seriously for Joseph H. Trott, a Braintree milk man. Mr. Trott was driving toward home when a large auto truck supposed to belong to the New England Coal and Coke company struck him. The truck was being used by Woodsum's express, who had been trying it out. The auto had been to Braintree and had delivered its load and was on its way back to Boston.

In trying to get out of the car track, the auto skidded and smashed into the pung of Mr. Trott. The pung was badly smashed, and Trott thrown out and somewhat shaken up, but not seriously injured.

After striking the pung the auto bounded back and struck a telephone pole. This collision not only smashed the auto but split the pole, so that the wires and cross arms hung down into the street.

Trott was removed to his home in Braintree and the wrecked pung and auto left on the scene until morning.

ELKS CHRISTMAS.

Quincy lodge of Elks, as is its usual custom, is preparing to make many needy families in its jurisdiction happy on Christmas day. Baskets containing many good things to eat, as well as some gifts for the children, are being made up, and these will be distributed in time for their contents to be enjoyed Christmas day. This is one of the many good features of the Elks. They go about doing good in a quiet way and many a family has had cause to give thanks that Quincy lodge exists. Some of this work is done with funds taken from the lodge treasury, with additions made by individual members. The distribution of the baskets is in charge of an efficient committee and the names of the families who receive them are known only to the committee.

CONTRACTOR WALKS AWAY WITH PLANS

Leads the Treasury Department to Curtail Privileges

Washington, Dec. 22.—The startling rumor that the plans for the new bureau of engraving and printing and the remodelling of the assay office at New York had been stolen from the treasury department proves to have been an exaggeration of a much less momentous incident.

Until recently Supervising Architect Taylor has kept open a room which contractors were free to visit and consult the plans and specifications in which they were interested. That room is now closed as an object lesson, in consequence of the discovery that one contractor has taken away a set of specifications for the proposed bureau of engraving and printing.

Duplicate specifications exist and no harm is done, but Taylor is determined to show the contractors that they must not abuse the privileges he has granted them.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

It is the simplest thing in the world to make a hot biscuit perfectly with

ROYAL Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

And when made it is the most delicious of foods.

And you are absolutely confident of its absolute wholesomeness.

No Alum
No Lime Phosphate

A CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION.

A correspondent of a New York paper, who has a summer camp in the northern part of that State, writes that the county poorhouse is near his bungalow. It looks all right in summer, but he thinks it must be pretty bleak in winter. It has occurred to him to send to each inmate a Christmas card. Some of them, he is informed, never had a bit of mail arrive. In addition to the card, he is going to send each one a box of candy, remembering that old folks generally have a sweet tooth. It is a good idea, and may be applied by some benevolent people near home. Every one who has a summer camp far away from home knows someone whom they meet during their vacation to whom a slight present like that proposed by the New Yorker would be very acceptable. Why not try it during the present Christmas season?—Lynn Item.

—This is a time of feverish activity in church circles. For some weeks the boy has regarded Sunday school attendance as a good sporting proposition. The choirs meet twice a week to practice their more or less reverent warblings, while out in the country a fine opportunity for Cupid's darts is offered the young folks by long tramps through woodland solitudes in search of evergreen trimmings. In spite of all freakish aspects a man must be a withered up old cynic who does not respond to this symphony of greenery, music, child voices, and the memory of earth's most sacred leader. The warring old pagan world for the first time heard a message of love and peace when Jesus was born. His birthday means more to everyone of us in terms of hope and joy than all the other anniversaries put together. Suffering and want are endured by some of us, but in the main it can be a mery Christmas to us if we will but have it so, particularly if we try to make it merry for some one else.—Beverly times.

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14-1m

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools.
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to us at
210 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Behanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

BRIEFS

Cold this morning.

Monday will be observed as a holiday.

The Daily Ledger will not be issued next Monday.

Most of the stone sheds will shut down Friday night until after Christmas.

The Murray club of the Universalist church hold a candy sale tonight at the home of Miss Harriet Lombard.

Bids for the new school buildings at Wollaston and Montclair will be asked early in January, as the funds become available on Jan. 1.

The letter carriers go out heavily ladened at every delivery. If they were supplied with heavy white whiskers they would be true pictures of His Majesty, St. Nick.

The committee on nominations of the Board of Trade held a meeting on Wednesday evening, and nominated a "double list" for the annual meeting in January. President Eugene R. Stone and Vice President A. W. Thompson. are candidates for president.

The warm wave that came Monday was of but short duration, for real winter weather is again with us. This morning the air was sharp and clear with the glass registering but 12 above zero at 7 o'clock. There was but little wind and the air was clear and bracing; the ears would soon begin to tingle if exposed. It is ideal Christmas weather and bids fair to continue as such until after the holiday.

Rosted Alive In Brick Oven

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—Baked almost beyond recognition, the body of William Folks, aged 28, was discovered in an oven in the Tansey brickyards, Frankfort, where he was employed. It is supposed that he crawled into the oven to sleep, and when the fire was ignited, was roasted to death.

Pardon For Wife Slayer

Boston, Dec. 22.—Governor Draper last night signed the pardon granted to George Huber by the executive council. Huber was sentenced in 1904 to state prison for life for the murder of his wife in Monterey.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

☞White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

Three Days to Xmas
DEC. 22
Now, Have You Forgotten Anybody?

RIOT IN ODESSA

One Student Killed and Three Dying After Fight With Police

Odessa, Dec. 22.—An attempt by the police to disperse a students' meeting in the precincts of the university led to a serious riot, in which one student was killed, three were mortally wounded, and others received slight wounds. Seven policemen were severely injured.

The police had requested the students to withdraw. In answer a shot was fired in the air. The dean called upon the prefect and a strong detachment of police and Cossacks surrounded the university building.

The prefect, while mounting the steps, was greeted with a volley of revolver shots from the windows of the institution. The police replied with two volleys. Two hundred and thirty-five students were arrested.

PRESIDENT TAFT DELAYS

Still Hoping That Tariff War With Germany May Be Avoided

Washington, Dec. 22.—Another southern congressional delegation called on President Taft to urge drastic action by the United States in retaliation against Germany because of the increased export duty established by that country on potash shipped to the United States.

The potash situation is becoming rather acute, but President Taft is still hopeful that some satisfactory arrangement with Germany can be reached. The subject probably will be taken up again by the cabinet on Friday.

The present state of negotiations has not been made public because the president believes that publicity at this time might interfere with a successful culmination.

MURDERED MAN WHO SEVERELY BEAT HIM

Aged Slayer Pleads Guilty and Is Released on Parole

Pittsburg, Dec. 22.—Bent with his 70 years, and crippled from the beating by the man whom he later shot to death, John Bennett, a veteran of the Civil war, who pleaded guilty of murder, was freed on parole by Judge Fraser and his oft-expressed wish that he might be at home with his family before Christmas is realized.

Bennett will not have to serve imprisonment for the shooting, having been in jail since Oct. 15, awaiting disposition of his case. The action of the court in allowing the prisoner to go is without precedent in this country.

Bennett shot and instantly killed Carl Peterson, who had set upon him and beat him until he was barely able to crawl home. Peterson then followed and began to assail the character of Bennett's wife. The old veteran tottered to a corner of the room, reached for his old army musket, which was loaded with shot, and fired at his assailant, killing him instantly.

CAUGHT BY FALLING WALLS

Twenty-Four Philadelphia Firemer May Have Been Killed

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—Twenty-four firemen are feared dead and twelve others are in hospitals as a result of a fire in the leather factory of Freelander & Co.

While the firemen were fighting the flames from the roofs of adjoining dwelling houses, the south wall of the big building crashed down upon them. At the same time there were at least thirty-five men on these buildings and all were carried down.

Four of them were able to extricate themselves from the mass of bricks and twisted iron girders, but it is thought that twenty men are still in the ruins.

OLD OFFENDER SENTENCED

Dairy Swindler Is Given Four Months For Mail Frauds

Boston, Dec. 22.—Judge Brown, in the United States circuit court, sentenced James T. Mulhall to four months in the Cambridge jail, the defendant having pleaded guilty to an indictment returned against him more than five years ago for using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Mulhall swindled numerous New Hampshire farmers out of dairy products worth about $15,000. He has been serving sentences in other jails of the country, until he was sent to this city to answer to the local indictment. Mulhall is 60 years old.

Shackleton to Make Arctic Trip

London, Dec. 22.—Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, who reached farthest south in his regent expedition, will sail for the Arctic region in June. Spitzbergen will be the objective point of his expedition.

Markham Heads Illinois Central

New York, Dec. 22.—Charles H. Markham, identified with oil interests in Pittsburg, was elected president of the Illinois Central railroad to succeed James T. Harahan.

Hungary Bars American Meat

Budapest, Dec. 22.—The minister of commerce has upheld the protests of the agrarian party against the importation of American meat.

CONGRESSMAN RAINEY

He Wants Expenses of Roosevelt Investigated

Photo by American Press Association.

ROOSEVELT'S EXPENSES

Owes Two Railroads Close to $200,000, According to Rainey

Washington, Dec. 22.—A determined fight will be made by Representative Rainey of Illinois, one of the Democratic leaders, to bring the question of former President Roosevelt's traveling expenses squarely before congress.

One of the stockholders of the Southern railway yesterday wrote Rainey that if Roosevelt had paid for all the transportation furnished him on his orders while he was in the White House, it would have cost him $75,000 on that line alone, and data furnished Rainey, he says, include an estimate of $120,000 as the amount that Roosevelt as a matter or right owes the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. Rainey's recent resolution demanding information as to all of Roosevelt's traveling expenses while he was president has brought out a large correspondence.

NO CONTEST OVER WILL OF MRS. EDDY

Sons May Insist, However, Upon Naming Burial Place

Washington, Dec. 22.—William E. Chandler, counsel for the heirs of the late Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, says that in his opinion there will be no contest over the will, but the heirs are expected to oppose the burying of Mrs. Eddy's body in Mount Auburn cemetery in Cambridge.

He says that Mrs. Eddy's sons, George W. Glover and J. Foster-Eddy, are determined to have her buried in the family plot in Tilton, N. H., where lie the bodies of Mrs. Eddy's father and mother. The only obstacle will be the finding of a personal request on her part to be buried elsewhere.

No mention of any resting place is mentioned in the copy of the will now in the hands of Chandler.

READY TO FACE CRITICS

Cook Due to Arrive at New York Today on the George Washington

New York, Dec. 22.—Today, after one year and twenty-five days from the time Dr. Frederick A. Cook disappeared from his friends and foes, he is due to sail up New York harbor again, but no longer a hero.

There will be reporters to question him, but no maidens from Brooklyn will hang garlands about his neck, and no deputation will wait upon him to present him with the freedom of the city.

Dr. Cook's publishers here are authority for the statement that he is a passenger on board the steamship George Washington, due to dock this afternoon.

KILLED FELLOW WORKMAN

Boston Stableman Convicted on the Charge of Manslaughter

Boston, Dec. 22.—William H. Chamberlain was convicted of manslaughter in causing the death of Daniel McKenzie in a stable in Brighton avenue, where both were employed, by a jury in the superior criminal court. The prisoner is 50 years old.

The men had several quarrels during the night and on the morning of Aug. 27 McKenzie was found unconscious. He died of a fracture of the skull on the way to a hospital.

The Weather

Almanac, Friday, Dec. 23.
Sun rises—7:18; sets—4:33.
Moon rises—12:40 a. m.
High water—4:45 a. m.; 5 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Increasing cloudiness and warmer, followed by snow; moderate northwest and west winds, becoming variable.

CHINA'S BOYCOTT LIFTED.

"China's boycott on American-made goods has been lifted as a result of the visit of the honorary commercial commissioners of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast," said C. Herbert Moore, former mayor of Spokane, on returning home from a stay of four months in the orient. "There is every reason to believe that China will become one of the best customers of the United States," he continued, "and from now on the volume of exports to that country may be expected to increase very rapidly and substantially.

"In many places we found the intelligent and progressive Chinese eager for a representative form of government. This desire is spreading with rapidity, and there are many in the orient who belive that the advocates of this reform will be successful. The plan to establish a parliamentary body is generally favored.

"We were informed in many cities in the empire that the prominent Chinese regard the United States as their best friend because of this country's firm stand as to the integrity of China and in favor of the open door policy. Another thing that has contributed largely to our relations with progressive, awakening China is the fact that the effective crusade against the opium traffic originated and is being largely carried on by Americans.

"The progressive signs of China's advancement toward modern improvement are in evidence on all sides. Railroad building is being carried on in many directions, and up-to-date methods and equipment are employed in transportation.

"One of the best signs is the almost universal desire on the part of the younger generations for education upon the American and European standards. We were told that many of the older families are preparing to send their sons to institutes of learning in America, and if only half of the number promised come to this country the student bodies of our universities and colleges will be largely increased during the next few years.

"We found the commercial men and bankers of China fully alive to the benefits to be derived from trade with the United States as a measure to encourage peaceful relations and promote progressive and prosperous intercourse. Progress in China is exceedingly favorable.

"We were entertained everywhere and one every hand with great consideration and politeness and were entertained in many cities. We had audiences with the prince regent, and the governors and viceroys and commercial bodies were lavish in their entertainment. They made us feel that they regard the United States as a good friend.

"We found many American-made goods are adapted to the Chinese needs and that they will use them in preference to the articles manufactured in Europe. China already is importing considerable flour and lumber from the Pacific and Northwestern states, and arrangements are under way to provide apples and fruits grown in the Pacific country. We also were told there is a growing demand for necessities and luxuries manufactured in midlewestern and eastern cities and that this is bound to increase."

The commissioners, who represented the commercial organizations of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, San Diego, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma and Spokane ,also visited important points in Hawaii, Japan and the Philippines, where they were received with signal honors. The delegates are highly gratified with what was accomplished on the trip and they belive that much good will follow in future trade relations with American houses.

HELD IN $3000 BAIL

Assistant Treasurer of Redeemable Investment Company Arrested

Boston, Dec. 22.—The third arrest in connection with the government's investigation of the Redeemable Investment company of Boston came when John I. Traphagen, assistant treasurer of the company, was taken into custody following the report of the grand jury which had indicted him secretly, along with Rev. Norman Plass and Charles H. Brooks, for using the mails in furtherance of an alleged scheme to defraud.

All three have been indicted jointly on the same charge. After he had been imprisoned in the steel cage in the marshal's office for about four hours, Traphagen was released on $3000 bail, a money lender going surety for him.

A New Naturalist.

The wheat, my child, is grown in land,
In fields beside the road.
I never quite can understand
Why people say 'tis sowed.
'Tis sewed, as any one may see,
For in the field it gleams
As plain as anything can be
In long and sightly seams.
—Chicago Post.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

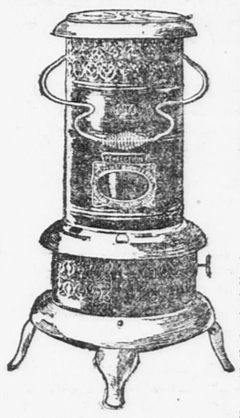
Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Hair Help Ayer's Hair Vigor has no effect whatever upon the color of the hair. It cannot possibly change the color in any way. But it promptly stops falling hair, and greatly promotes growth. Ask your doctor first. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

You Can Work Near a Window



in winter when you have a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a portable radiator which can be moved to any part of a room, or to any room in a house. When you have a
PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.
The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.
The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.
Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION
We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.
Everything that goes with it at
PETERSON'S
394 Washington Street, Quincy

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY
SELL THE DAILY LEDGER
THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR
Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One. How It Can be Done in Quincy.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Quincy residents would do well to profit by the following example.

Richard Smith, South Central avenue, Wollaston, Mass., says: "I suffered from backache and kidney trouble for a long time. I had dull pains through the small of my back and on arising in the morning, I was so stiff and lame that I could hardly dress myself. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and in a short time after beginning their use, I was relieved. After I had taken the contents of two boxes of this remedy, I was in good health and I have had no kidney trouble since. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for this change in my condition and I gladly recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Insomnia

"I have been using Cascarets for Insomnia, with which I have been afflicted for twenty years, and I can say that Cascarets have given me more relief than any other remedy I have ever tried. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as being all that they are represented."
Thos. Gillard, Elgin, Ill.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c. 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C.C.C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 924

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of PETER B. TURNER
late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Edward M. Wight of Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3t Dec. 15, 22, 29

Executrix Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of
ANNES A. LINCOLN
late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to
JEANNIE W. LINCOLN, Executrix
(Address) 169 Lincoln Ave.
Wollaston, Mass.
Dec. 1, 1910. Dec. 15, 22, 29

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 392 Quincy

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HOUSEWORK IS HER FIRST TASK

Wealthy English Girl Found In "Pillar of Fire" Colony

IS LOCATED IN NEW JERSEY

Determined to Be Initiated Into All Branches of the Sect—Was Held by Immigration Authorities at Request of Her Father, Who Wished Her Deported, but He Failed In His Efforts

Bound Brook, N. J., Dec. 22.—Performing the duties of general housework, at which she will remain until she shows an aptitude for some special line of endeavor, Miss Lily M. Allen, the English gil whose wealthy father, a retired merchant of London, tried to have her deported when she came here to join the "Pillar of Fire" sect, and over whose whereabouts a mystery developed, has been found in the colony of the sect in this city. She was washing dishes when discovered by those who were seeking her.

Miss Allen does not wish to return to England, but is determined to be initiated into all the branches of the "Pillar of Fire" sect and to gain promotion in the ranks. After she graduates from the household work line she will be sent out with other converts to various towns to sell the pamphlets and other publications of the sect.

Miss Allen arrived on board the St. Paul on Dec. 2. She was held by the immigration authorities on the strength of a cable sent by her father, who wished her deported. It was stated that she was under age. This Miss Allen denied, saying that she was 26 years old.

Miss Allen was released through the instrumentality of Senator Kean of New Jersey and members of the sect, it is said. She immediately came to the Bound Brook colony. After she leaves the colony, which is a sort of college for the converts, she may go to any one of five or six large cities in which the sect is intrenched.

Miss Allen is said to be independently wealthy. She became interested in the order in London, where she was attracted to it by some of its street meetings. She became attached to the London branch and was persuaded to come to Bound Brook to take a course of studies.

One of the tenets of the sect is that any one who joins the colony must bring to it all the material property he or she possesses and join in the work for the general good.

EXPRESSMEN ON STRIKE

Demand Ten-Hour Day and a General Wage Increase

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 22.—Failing to obtain an increase in wages and a ten-hour day, the expressmen belonging to the New England division of the Railroad Expressmen's union went on strike this morning. The men effected are those employed by the Adams and the American Express companies as depot men and train messengers.

The expressmen claim that under the present conditions they work between twelve and eighteen hours a day at wages ranging from $55 to $70 a month. They have demanded a ten-hour day and a general wage increase averaging 25 cents a day.

THE NEWARK HOLOCAUST

No Individual Responsible, According to Finding of Coroner's Jury

Newark, N. J., Dec. 22.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the cause of the death of Carrie Robrecht, one of the twenty-five victims of the Newark disaster a couple of weeks ago, have rendered their verdict. Coroner Steiner gave it out in part as follows:

"We find that Carrie Robrecht came to her death by misadventure and accident caused by a fall, and not as the result of a criminal act, either of omission or commission, on the part of any individual or individuals, whether as private citizen or public officials."

PRISON FOR WHITE SLAVER

Convicted of Luring Young Girl From Brooklyn to Bridgeport

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 22.—Convicted of "white slave" trading, John R. Carroll, a former singer in moving picture shows in Brooklyn, was sentenced to not less than three or more than five years in prison.

Carroll was found guilty of having brought Ruth Dressel, an 18-year-old Brooklyn girl, whom he met at a dance in that city, to Bridgeport for immoral purposes.

Death of Old Financier

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—James V. Watson, a former president of the Philadelphia clearing house and probably the oldest financier in this city, is dead, aged 93 years. He was identified with a number of financial institutions and charitable organizations.

THE MISTLETOE BOUGH

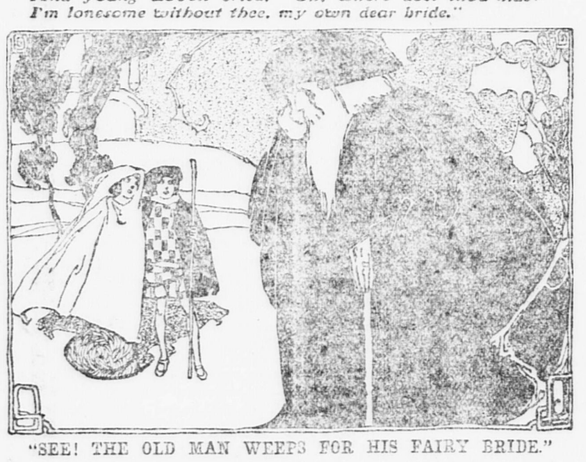
By THOMAS HAYNES BAYLY

BEHELD HIS BEAUTIFUL CHILD.

THE mistletoe hung in the castle hall,
The holly branch shone on the old oak wall,
And the baron's retainers were blithe and gay
And keeping their Christmas holiday.
The baron beheld with a father's pride
His beautiful child, young Lovell's bride.
While she with her bright eyes seemed to be
The star of the goodly company.

"HERE TARRY A MOMENT—I'LL HIDE, I'LL HIDE!"

"I'm weary of dancing now," she cried.
"Here tarry a moment—I'll hide, I'll hide!
And, Lovell, be sure thou'rt first to trace
The clew to my secret lurking place."
Away she ran, and her friends began
Each tower to search and each nook to scan.
And young Lovell cried: "Oh, where dost thou hide?
I'm lonesome without thee, my own dear bride."



"SEE! THE OLD MAN WEEPS FOR HIS FAIRY BRIDE."

They sought her that night, and they sought her next day.
And they sought her in vain when a week passed away.
In the highest, the lowest, the loneliest spot
Young Lovell sought wildly, but found her not.
And years flew by, and their grief at last
Was told as a sorrowful tale long past.
And when Lovell appeared the children cried:
"See! The old man weeps for his fairy bride."

THE BRIDE LAY CLASPED IN HER LIVING TOMB!

At length an oak chest that had long lain hid
Was found in the castle. They raised the lid,
And a skeleton form lay moldering there
In the bridal wreath of that lady fair.
Oh, sad was her fate! In sportive jest
She hid from her lord in the old oak chest.
It closed with a spring, and, dreadful doom,
The bride lay clasped in her living tomb!

NEVER A WORD OF CRITICISM

English Courts Have Entire Confidence of the People

INVESTIGATOR IS SURPRISED

Says Procedure Here Is Fifty Years Behind—Delay and Uncertainty Unknown In Old Country, Where Criminal Judges Receive Salaries of $20,000 to $40,000 a Year—Other Differences Pointed Out

New York, Dec. 22.—According to Judge John D. Lawson, dean of the law school of Missouri university, at Columbia, Mo., the procedure of American law courts, especially in criminal cases, is fifty years behind that of the English courts. He has just returned home after four months spent in England as special commissioner of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, investigating the subject.

"I was surprised myself at this finding," said Lawson, "for it is my conviction that in every other trade, calling and profession we are ahead of the world. We hope, however, with the co-operation of leading lawyers and judges in this country, to reform our own procedure so that the work of our courts will be done as promptly and efficiently as anywhere in the world."

Judge Lawson's report to the Institute is now on the press, but he consented to outline the chief features of difference which he found between the English and the American methods of conducting criminal cases.

Delay and uncertainty are unknown in the English courts. The tribunals have the confidence of the people. There is never a word of criticism uttered against the courts. This is in striking contrast with the conditions in our own country.

Every case that comes before an English court is tried promptly. This is not because there are more judges in that country; indeed, the reverse is true, but the judges do more work. There are no ill-trained judges on the English bench. All have had long experience and they are paid salaries to make their positions desirable.

"A police judge in London," said Lawson, "gets a salary of $7500, more than the judges of the supreme court of the state of Missouri. Criminal judges are paid approximately between $20,000 and $40,000 a year. These salaries are unheard of in this country."

One of the striking things which impressed Lawson was the absence of technicalities in the English courts. There these legal pitfalls, which are the bane of American jurisprudence, are unknown.

If John Doe has slain Richard Roe the former is simply charged with murder, and it is not necessary to charge in the indictment with what weapon, at what time and in what manner the deed was done. The way in which the false spelling of a name or the omission of a word may make for delay in our own criminal procedure is too well known. Despite the gowns and wigs, the work of an English criminal court is conducted far more informally and in a more direct and business like manner than that of a similar body in our own country.

In England retrials are almost unknown and there is no such thing as appellate procedure. If a case is in one court it is in every other court for any purpose that may be required, instead of ordering a retrial for the submission of testimony ruled out in a lower court, an English criminal judge will simply admit the testimony and render a decision on the spot.

BODY SHIPPED AS PORK

Breaking of Head of Barrel Reveals Its Gruesome Contents

Montreal, Dec. 22.—With the finding of the body of a man believed to have been murdered in Jarvis, Ont., and which had been packed in a barrel, the police are confronted by a baffling murder.

The barrel in which the body was found had been shipped as pork to the Canada Cold Storage company and the discovery of its contents was made by accident.

One of the heads of the barrel was broken in transit and in endeavoring to fix it a workman found that it contained a human body.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

MADE COIN IN PRISON

Two Burglars Serving Long Terms Indicted For Counterfeiting

Boston, Dec. 22.—Patrick Hanley, who is an inmate of the Charlestown state prison under a twenty-five-year habitual criminal sentence for breaking and entering at Lynn, was indicted by the United States federal grand jury on the charge of counterfeiting. He was indicted individually and with Mira Johnson, another inmate of the Charlestown prison for a term of three to five years for breaking and entering in this city.

The government found that both men had been making spurious coin with a mould and other equipment which were seized.

COVERS 322 MILES

Lagagneux Establishes New Record In a Bleriot Aeroplane

Paris, Dec. 22.—The world's record for a sustained flight in an aeroplane was broken by Paul Legagneux, the French aviator, who covered 322 miles in five hours and fifteen minutes, while competing for the Michelin prize worth $4000. Legagneux flew in a Bleriot monoplane. Unless the distance is beaten before Jan. 1, 1911, Legagneux will win the cup.

Legagneux now holds not only the distance record, but that for height as well, having risen to an altitude of 10,499 feet on Dec. 9.

A REAL LIGHTWEIGHT

California Baby Weighs but Pound and a Half at Birth

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 22.—California's champion lightweight baby, who tips the scales at one and one-half pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reggs, this city.

He is fed fifteen drops of milk every quarter of an hour. The mite of humanity is perfectly proportioned and, according to the doctors, will grow into a strong, healthy child.

Cincinnati Has $2,000,000 Fire

Cincinnati, Dec. 22.—Fire in the modern factory district of this city caused damage estimated at $2,000,000, the death of a fireman and an unknown boy and the injury of six other firemen. An entire block was swept away.

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.
Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.41 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.23, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.30 A. M., then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.
JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams.
Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 09
r 6 40	abef	7 09	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 09
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 56
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 09
r 7 40	abcd	8 09	9 15	fedba	9 37 r
8 05	Exp.	8 29	9 45	a	10 09
r 8 12	abcd	8 40	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 09
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 09
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 10
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 09
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 09
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 09
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 37 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 09
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 38 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 59	b	5 15	6 30	cdba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 25 r
6 02	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 39	ac	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 45	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 50	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 2 19	abc	3 50	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 59
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 30	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.00, 4.09, 5.01, 6.05, 7.09, 9.00, 11.20 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35, 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M,

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.11, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Chairs
Joyce Bros. & Co.—Christmas Goods
Hefferman's Shoe Store—Christmas Shoes
Quincy Market—Christmas Turkeys
Found

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	24 degrees
December 22, 1909,	34 degrees
December 22, 1908,	31 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

BRIEFS

Forefathers' day.

Feb. 3 has been selected as the date for the annual concert and ball of the Quincy Police Relief Association.

Judge Avery of the District court is away until New Years and Judge Pratt is holding court.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Bethany church will hold its Christmas party Friday afternoon at 4.15.

The Amalgamated society of Engineers held their regular meeting in room 22, Johnson building, Wednesday evening.

The Amalgamated society of Carpenters and Joiners held a meeting in room 24, Johnson building, Wednesday evening.

The meeting of the Civic League announced for Jan. 3 has been postponed indefinitely on account of a conflict with the concert of the Choral society.

The Washington Social club opened its series of Forty-five parties on Tuesday evening, and 40 participated. Prizes were won by William Cain, Jr., John Lewis and Arthur Dunn.

Maj. Arthur Blake, who has been appointed on the staff of Governor-elect Foss, is a son of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Blake of Dedham, who is a daughter of the late Patrick McGrath of Quincy.

The Galahad Brotherhood has elected these officers: President, William Walker; vice president, A. W. Macleod; treasurer, N. M. Spencer; secretary, Roy Prout; assistant secretary, William C. Pearce.

Weekly meetings of the committees representing the Granite Cutters' Union and the Granite Manufacturers' association are being held in an effort to bring about an early agreement on a bill of prices.

☞Haydn's "The Creation" is to be presented by the Quincy Choral Society at Music hall Tuesday evening, Jan. 3.

Piano For Sale

A Merrill Piano, ebony finish. Cost $400 cash. Will sell cheap. Address D. T. S., Ledger Office.

Dec. 20-tf

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

BIRTHS

BARLOW—In Wollaston, Dec. 18, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Mason Barlow of Lincoln avenue.

DEATHS

BUSSELL—In Brookville Dec. 20, Mrs. Evelyn G., widow of Charles H. Bussell, formerly of Quincy Point, aged 53 years.

PACKARD—In Boston, Dec. 21, Mr. William Packard, aged 66 years, 2 months.
Funeral Friday, Dec. 23, at 2 o'clock at residence of his sister, Mrs. R. D. Chase, 236 Goffe street, Quincy.

ANDREWS—In Hingham, Dec. 21, Mr. Benjamin Andrews, in his 54th year.

COSGRAVE—In Hull, Dec. 19, Mr. Henry Cosgrave, in his 66th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BOTH FOUND GUILTY

Cases of the Benn Brothers Placed on File

The cases of Heber R. Benn and Walter F. Benn for illegal registration came up this morning before Judge Pratt in the District court. After some delay a new complaint was sworn out by Alfred LaBrecque, alleging that the defendants made false answers to the Registrars of Voters.

The complainant was represented by J. J. McAnarney and John D. McKay appeared for the defendants. At the very start a snag was struck, when Mr. McAnarney asked for a ruling if a certified copy of the records of the Registrars of Voters would be received.

Mr. McKay strenuously objected to the court ruling on the question until it was brought up, and insisted on the case going to trial in the usual way. The court should not say how it is going to rule until the facts are presented. in criminal cases the best evidence should be had. It is an astounding proposition to offer copies of records when the officers can be obtained. Mr. McAnarney quoting the statutes that certified copies were sufficient.

After some further argument this affidavit was admitted. It was, in effect, that when they registered they gave their birthplaces as Hulton, Me.

The first witness was Inspector Goodhue, who stated that in reply to questions, Heber had stated he was born in New Brunswick.

Sergt. Hanson who booked Walter when he was arrested, testified that in answer to the questions on the commitment slip, he gave his birthplace as New Brunswick.

Officer Phillips testified as to where the two defendants lived at Houghs Neck.

For some unknown reason the complainant in the case did not testify. Had he done so the cross examination would have probably showed what was behind the case.

In his arguments, Mr. McKay scored the police for not informing the defendants of their rights when asking questions.

He was interrupted in his argument by Mr. McAnarney, who desired to put in a paper he had overlooked. Objection was made but the paper was allowed. It was a copy of a marriage certificate issued May 8, 1899, in Boston when the defendant gave his birthplace as New Brunswick.

After a consultation with the court Heber was put on the stand to tell his story. He said his father was born in Hodgston, Me., but moved to Debeck, New Brunswick, where the defendants were born. When Heber was 18 and Walter 17, they came to Hulton, Me., and after Governor Powers had gone over the matter they were allowed to vote and did so in 1904 and 1906. When they came to register here they were told by a prominent citizen that to save time and expense all that was necessary, as they understood, was to tell where they had voted.

Mr. McKay started in to ask Heber some questions about the complainant's candidacy for Councilman. Mr. McAnarney objected, and the questions were withdrawn.

The court then found the two defendants guilty and placed the cases on file.

BRIEFS

Rural lodge of Masons attended this afternoon the funeral of Charles H. S. Newcomb at the Universalist church.

The Stone Cutters' Union held their regular monthly meeting in Clan McGregor hall Wednesday evening.

The regular weekly Scottish dance took place in Electa hall Wednesday evening. A jolly crowd of about 50 couples was present to enjoy dancing until a late hour.

Mrs. E. J. Holton of Edwards street entertained the True Blue Whist club this afternoon. Whist was enjoyed for two hours during which refreshments were served.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Hall Place M. E. Epworth League was held in the vestry Monday evening. At the close of the business meeting a Christmas tree social in charge of the fourth vice president was enjoyed by all.

William Packard, for many years a resident of Quincy, died at the Boston City Hospital this morning after a week's illness. He was in his 67th year. Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. on Friday from the residence of his sister, Mrs. R. D. Chase, Goffe street.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

TUCKER—MONAGHAN.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized at 125 Plain street, South Braintree, Wednesday evening, when Miss Ethel Jeannette Monaghan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Monaghan was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to William Tucker of 128 Plain street, South Braintree. The South Congregational church having no resident pastor, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. George H. Parkinson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South Braintree, at seven o'clock. The bride was charmingly gowned in embroidered white lawn with lace trimmings and was attended by her life long friend and classmate, Miss Edna N. Sypher of Newport avenue. Louis F. Monaghan, oldest brother of the bride assisted as best man. Immediately after the ceremony which was witnessed only by members of the immediate family the young couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's parents and by the bridesmaid and best man.

Refreshments of ices and cake were served and Mr. and Mrs. Tucker left for a short wedding trip but they plan to return to take their Xmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Monaghan. Guests were present from Boston, Hull and Ipswich.

Miss Ethel Monaghan was born in Dorchester, August 20, 1892, but has lived in South Braintree most of her life, as her parents moved here when she was only nine months old. She attended the public schools and graduated from the High school in the class of 1909. While there she took the business course and since her graduation has practised stenography somewhat. The Delta Alpha club of which she is a member surprised her at her home Tuesday evening and gave her a linen shower.

William Tucker, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker of Quincy has since his parents' death made his home with his sister, Mrs. George Mansfield of Plain street. He is employed as an asbestos worker with a Boston firm and his five years' residence in Braintree have gained him many friends who hope that he and his bride may enjoy many long years of happiness and properity.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

His Angel Sermon.

"'Long 'bout Christmas time," said Brother Dickey, "I don't want folks ter put me off by tellin' me dat de angels 'll come ter my relief. De house I lives in is no place fer angels, kase de win' blows de soot down de stovepipe, an' de ol' stove smokes so de angels would think dey wuz in de yuther place fer sho', an' de soot would make der wings too black ter bresh de pearly gates. 'Sides dat, angels is clothe too thin fer winter, an' dey ain't got no blankets or ol' overcoats ter give 'way. Howsomever, de human angels is all right, an' I makes no rejections to one wid a ham in his han' an' a sack er flour under his arm. Let de wings go. De angels wid two good walkin' foots an' a full han' is good enough fer me!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Aldrich Under the Knife

New York, Dec. 22.—United States Senator Aldrich was successfully operated upon at Roosevelt hospital to relieve a strained tendon in his right hand.

The Exception.

Wigwag—I hear you are always lucky at poker.

Henpeckke—Well, not always; I met my wife in a poker game.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

PRACTICAL CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Our stock is especially strong in the display of such goods as make practical, useful Christmas presents, the kind that will keep green the memory of the giver during the coming year, and be treasured for their real value.

"A Charge Account"

We Open Accounts With All Trustworthy People

in or within 25 miles of Quincy. It enables them to have without delay such clothing and Xmas goods as they now desire, the same to be paid for after Christmas in convenient partial payments whilst earning the money.

Our Prices Are the Lowest Obtainable for Equal Quality of Merchandise

Our Men's and Boys' Department

Embraces the following: Hats, Caps, Suits, Overcoats, Raincoats, Trousers, Rubber and Teamsters' Coats, Sweaters, Umbrellas and Shoes.

Our Ladies', Misses' and Girls' Department

Embraces the following: Suits, Coats, Dresses for Street and Evening Wear Skirts, Raincoats, Sweaters, Petticoats, Waists, Millinery, Shoes, Kimonos, Dressing Sacques, Furs, Fur Coats and Sets, Girls' Dresses, Coats, Bonnets, etc.

SPECIAL XMAS PRICES

Ladies' Furs

$5.00 Coney sets	Now $2.98
10.00 Opossum sets	Now 7.50
25.00 Wolf sets	Now 18.98
35.00 Fox sets	Now 27.50
40.00 Blue Wolf sets	Now 28.98
50.00 Black Fox sets	Now 38.50

Ladies' Winter Coats

$7.00 Ladies' Thibet coats	Now $4.98
10.00 Ladies' cheviot coats	Now 7.50
14.00 Ladies' plaid mixture coats	Now 10.98
17.00 Ladies' broadcloth coats	Now 12.50
20.00 Ladies' kersey coats	Now 16.50
18.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 14.98
25.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 17.50
32.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 23.98

Girls' Stylish Winter Coats
Age 6 to 14

$3.00 Girls' coats	Now $1.98
4.00 Girls' coats	Now 2.69
5.50 Girls' coats	Now 3.98
8.00 Girls' coats	Now 5.98
10.00 Girls' coats	Now 7.50
12.00 Girls' coats	Now 8.98
14.00 Girls' coats	Now 10.50

Men's Suits

$11.00 suits	Now $9.98
18.00 suits	Now 14.50
22.00 suits	Now 16.98
25.00 suits	Now 18.50
27.50 suits	Now 22.98

Men's Overcoats

$15.00 overcoats	Now $10.50
16.00 overcoats	Now 12.98
19.00 overcoats	Now 16.50
23.00 overcoats	Now 18.98
25.00 overcoats	Now 19.98
30.00 overcoats	Now 21.50

Boys' Suits

Russian, Sailor and Two-piece models.

$3.00 suits	Now $1.98
4.50 suits	Now 2.98
5.50 suits	Now 3.98
6.50 suits	Now 4.98
7.98 suits	Now 5.98

Boys' Overcoats

$5.00 overcoats	Now $2.98
7.00 overcoats	Now 4.98
10.00 overcoats	Now 7.50

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING THIS WEEK

Joyce Bros. & Co.

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

13-15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass.

L-Dec. 2 -1t

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

FOUND

FOUND—A sum of money. Loser may have it by proving property and paying charges. Apply to 67 Winthrop avenue, Wollaston. Dec. 22-3t

LOCAL SPORTS.

At hockey on Wednesday the Milton Academy team defeated St. George school 3 to 0.

* * *

The bowling team of the Squantum Yacht club took all three games with Poland's Specials on Tuesday evening, the first by 21 pins, the second by 20 pins, and the third by 17 pins. The totals were 1288 to 1230. Lyons of the Poland team rolled the best string—104 and had the best total—272.

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 319 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 15, an ordinance concerning salaries be amended by striking out the figures "$1,400" after the words "Chief of Police" and inserting in place therefor the figures "$1,500."

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 320 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 19, an ordinance establishing a Police Department, be amended as follows:— Strike out Section 9, and insert in place therefor the following:—

Sec. 9. Salaries paid the Police Department shall be as follows: Lieutenant, $1,200 per year; Sergeants, $1,150 per year; Patrolmen, $2.75 per day for the first two years and thereafter $3 per day; Reserve Police $2.75 per day when detailed for service; Special Police $2.50 per day when detailed for service. Continuous duty by a member of the Reserve Police shall be counted as time served when appointed to the permanent force.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 335 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 1, "an ordinance establishing the fire department of the City of Quincy" be amended by adding the following section:—

Section 20. The City Council shall, at his own request, or at the request of the Chief of the Fire Department, if, i n the judgment of said Council, he is no longer able to perform active service as a fireman, retire from active service and place upon a pension roll, any member of the Fire department of the City of Quincy, whom the City Physician of said city certifies in writing to be permanently disabled, mentally or physically, by injuries incurred while in the performance of his duty as fireman, call-fireman or substitute call-fireman, from further performing duty as such member, or any member of said department who has served faithfully in said department for not less than twenty years and who is either sixty-five years of age, or over, or who in the judgment of said council is incapacitated for useful service therein, and every member so retired shall annually receive as a pension one half the amount of compensation received by him at the time of his retirement, such amount to be paid by the city which shall appropriate money therefor.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 345 Nov. 7, 1910.
ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 15, concerning Salaries be amended by striking out the figures $800. for Salary of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department and inserting in place therefor $1,400.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.
Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic.
Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

WANTED

HOME WORK Experienced crocheters. Please call between 9 and 12. Room 18 D. & M. Block.
Quincy, Dec. 22-1t

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN, Fore River Shipbuilding Co. Dec. 20-3t

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.
RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-O-1w

TO LET

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—In Wollaston in private family 2 furnished square rooms with set bowl. Hot water heat. Near depot and electrics. Address E. Wollaston P. O. Dec. 16-6t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L.
Dec. 2-18t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 4484. Haymarket 214

Read Ledger Advs.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 298 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 23, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

HUNTINGTON HARDWICK TELLS OF LABRADOR

While an Assistant of Dr. Greenfell for Two Months Last Summer

Illustrates His Talk Before the Galahad Club

One of the most pleasurable and profitable evenings spent by the Galahad club and its friends was that of Thursday when Huntington Hardwick gave an illustrated talk on his experiences with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador.

Last summer instead of going to a pleasure resort he went to the far north and spent two months in service with the "Angel of Labrador." The country is barren and rocky except in Hamilton's Inlet. Here there is a stretch of timberland about 150 miles in length. The vegetation in the rest of the country consists of mosses and stunted firs.

The people are ignorant and slovenly and in need of civilization and bodily cure as much as of spiritual doctoring. The natives of Labrador and Newfoundland are half breed Esquimaux, all of them fishermen first, last and all the time. Despite their frequency upon the water they are never known to go into it, so that it has been said with a considerable degree of veracity that a native gets but two baths in a lifetime, one when he is born and one when he dies.

Uncle Tom, the cook of the party Mr. Hardwick was in, had not taken a bath for 50 years and he was then 69 years old. One day the boom swung over and knocked him overboard. Thus the rule stated above does not always work, for the chances are that Uncle Tom will get four baths before he finds his final resting place.

Dr. Grenfell has founded four hospitals at St. Anthony, Battle Harbor, Indian Harbor and at Harrington Bay. In these the people are cured of all manner of loathsome diseases which are bred and nourished by ignorance and filth.

Dr. Grenfell and his first assistant, Dr. Little, are greatly beloved by nearly all the people, the latter almost as much as his superior. Certain traders from Newfoundland and some of the natives nurse a hatred against them because of fancied interference, but as a whole the people look upon these noblemen as the administering angels which they are.

Mr. Hardwick's duties were many and varied. He served as undertaker, dentist, carpenter, formast hand, hospital assistant, as a digger of ditches, in fact he was called upon to serve as board of health, street commissioner, medical adviser and general jack of all trades.

He was with Dr. Grenfell himself for about a month. The doctor has to go the rounds of his hospitals quite frequently and his assistants are needed sometimes more in one place and sometimes in another. Mr. Hardwick was in St. Anthony, N. F., and Battle Harbor, Labrador, most of the time. In going from one place to the other he was pressed into service as a sailor. The trip was full of excitement

(Continued on Page 3.)

A New Piano For Christmas

No gift in all the world brings so much happiness as a new Piano and more Pianos are sold at Christmas than during the entire year. You can have untold happiness and pleasure with your new piano if you buy it here. We guarantee the highest piano quality and it's more to your interest to trade in a store you know and where you are known than to go among strangers and buy a Piano you know nothing about and which later might prove not as represented. You can have your Piano Christmas and enjoy our cooperative plan of paying if you choose.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS

1495 Hancock St., Quincy Open Monday, Friday and Saturday Evenings

Dec. 23-1t

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

NO BIDDERS FOR CUTTERS

Shipyards Not Interested Because of Eight Hour Clause

A Washington dispatch of Thursday to the Globe says: For the first time the U. S. government wants to build ships and finds no bidders. Every shipyard in the country has refused to bid on the two new revenue cutters authorized by congress, because it was provided they should be built with eight-hour labor. Each of the ships was to cost $250,000. Just what will be done, officials of the revenue cutter service have not decided.

THE LATE MR. NEWCOMB

Was Well Known Carpenter Some Years Ago

The funeral of Charles Henry Sherburne Newcomb, a former resident of Quincy Point, who died at Woburn on Monday, was held at the Universalist church on Thursday at 2 P. M. Rev. F. W. Gray, who was his pastor at Somerville, conducted the service, and spoke in eulogy of his late friend. He had found him greatly interested in church work and always a helper. He also knew him in his home life. Mrs. Florence Cutter presided at the organ, and Mrs. Harriet Hanscome of Woburn contributed three beautiful selections: "Still, still with Thee," "Somewhere" and "Face to Face."

Masonic services followed the church services being conducted by Worshipful Master Albert M. Parker and Chaplain Charles Sampson of Rural lodge of this city.

There were several beautiful floral tributes, including pillows, wreaths and large sprays. The interment was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston.

Mr. Newcomb was born at Quincy Point, Sept. 18, 1844, son of Bryant Baxter Newcomb and Caroline Baxter (Crane) Newcomb. He received his education at the public schools of Quincy and at the age of seventeen, having learned a trade, he went to sea as carpenter. His many voyages carried him to all parts of the globe. On his return he engaged in house building and many of the structures of Quincy and Weymouth are credited to his plans and skill.

His wife, Henrietta Baxter Newcomb, passed away in Somerville five years ago, where they had taken up their residence in 1902.

Socially and in business affairs, Mr. Newcomb was held in high esteem by his former acquaintances here and by the later day friends in Somerville and Woburn.

A member of the parish committee of the First Universalist church and of the Rural lodge of Masons, he leaves many to sympathize with his only daughter, Mrs. John Harris and his sisters, Mrs. Clara S. Brown, Mrs. Lucy B. Waterman, Mrs. Thomas A. Addison and Miss Ida M. Newcomb.

—Washington clerks in the government employ and Washington business men are alike protesting over the proposed increase of a half-hour in the day's work of clerks. The clerk's reasons can be readily guessed. The business men say that letting the clerks out a half-hour later will in various ways work harm to mercantile interests.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞Christmas is most here. Are your gifts all done up? If not call at Ledger Office for white wrapping paper. Two cents for a large sheet.

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TREE AT HOUGHS NECK

Mayor Shea Tells Children New Schoolhouse Is Ready

The annual Christmas festival and tree given to the children of Houghs Neck by the Houghs Neck Associates was held Thursday evening at Brown's hall, and was a happy occasion for the nearly two hundred children, who with their parents crowded the hall. The ladies' committee in charge included: Mrs. N. J. Regan, Mrs. William Darrow, Mrs. J. L. Harvey and Mrs. F. J. Leonard and they did their work well.

Dan Maloney, president of the Associates, and his committee also worked hard, and success crowned their efforts. In one corner of the hall was a large Christmas tree, heavily laden with bags of candy, presents and long strings of pop corn. Near this stood St. Nick, who was impersonated by Richard Ring. He was the one person in all the hall on whom all fixed their eyes.

Every child got a bag of candy and a present besides from the tree, which were handed out by Frank Catarius, William Norteman, Jr., and William Hudson.

In addition to this there was a plate of ice cream and cake for every one both large and small, also hot coffee. With all of these is it any wonder that the children had a glorious time.

There was still another present for the children, that was not on the program. For this Mayor Shea impersonated Santa. He was introduced by President Maloney and during the temporary suspension of the shouts and laughter of the children, Mayor Shea said: "You children are gathered together for a happy time and I am glad to see you enjoying yourselves. I have come down tonight to make you a Christmas present. To tell you that the school you have so long waited for will be ready for use next Wednesday. The furniture is being put in today, and any time after Wednesday you may occupy it."

This little speech brought out long applause. President Maloney said the residents had purchased a flag larger than any in the city at the present time, and that the Associates would raise that flag on the building when they held their celebration which would be sometime next week.

A letter of regret was read from Supt. Barbour of the public schools regretting he could not be present.

Then came an entertainment of vocal and instrumental music and reading. The youngsters were taken home early. Then the older boys and girls took hold, and there was a social dance that continued well into the night.

It was a happy time for all and as Dan Maloney said, if Houghs Neck continues to grow as it had, it would be difficult to find a hall large enough for the celebration next year.

—A cent for every seal and a seal for every cent.

☞Save a little of your Christmas money for "The Creation" concert on Tuesday Jan. 3.

A VETERAN QUARTETTE

Four Old Timers Enjoy a Dinner Together

It was Thursday night, and they met by chance, in a City Square restaurant four of Quincy's long time residents whose united ages were 295 years. First one happened in, then another until all four stood together. A supper was proposed, and these four were soon seated around a table enjoying a feast of the season. They were John Whitney Hall, at one time a Chief of the Fire Department, now 77 years of age; Albert Keating, a veteran of the Civil war, and a former lumber dealer, now 75 years of age; Wyman Nightingale, also a veteran of the Civil war, who in his younger days beat the big bass drum in Quincy's famous brass band. Wyman although now 70 years of age can give some of the young fellows points on playing the drum. The fourth man was Charles Crane, at one time market man, who now owns up to being 73 years of age.

Perhaps it was not a jolly party, these four gathered about the festive board living over again the days when they were young and Quincy was but growing town. Many changes have taken place in the old town since the days of the old Universalist levees, when everybody gathered in the Town Hall and danced the quadrille, the Virginia reel and Portland fancy whose changes were called off in a deep bass voice by Dick Elliott, who would now and then pause in his sawing of the old bass viol to shout "All hands around," and the like.

They were a long time at the dinner and as they looked at the throng constantly coming and going, there were few that they recognized among them, Yes, Quincy has outgrown the good old days, and new faces are seen everywhere.

PRACTICAL CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Our stock is especially strong in the display of such goods as make practical, useful Christmas presents, the kind that will keep green the memory of the giver during the coming year, and be treasured for their real value.

"A Charge Account"

We Open Accounts With All Trustworthy People

in or within 25 miles of Quincy. It enables them to have without delay such clothing and Xmas goods as they now desire, the same to be paid for after Christmas in convenient partial payments whilst earning the money.

Our Prices Are the Lowest Obtainable for Equal Quality of Merchandise

Our Men's and Boys' Department

Embraces the following: Hats, Caps, Suits, Overcoats, Raincoats, Trousers, Rubber and Teamsters' Coats, Sweaters, Umbrellas and Shoes.

Our Ladies', Misses' and Girls' Department

Embraces the following: Suits, Coats, Dresses for Street and Evening Wear Skirts, Raincoats, Sweaters, Petticoats, Waists, Millinery, Shoes, Kimonos, Dressing Sacques, Furs, Fur Coats and Sets, Girls' Dresses, Coats, Bonnets, etc.

SPECIAL XMAS PRICES

Ladies' Furs

$5.00 Coney sets	Now $2.98
10.00 Opossum sets	Now 7.50
25.00 Wolf sets	Now 18.98
35.00 Fox sets	Now 27.50
40.00 Blue Wolf sets	Now 28.98
50.00 Black Fox sets	Now 38.50

Ladies' Winter Coats

$7.00 Ladies' Thibet coats	Now $4.98
10.00 Ladies' cheviot coats	Now 7.50
14.00 Ladies' plaid mixture coats	Now 10.98
17.00 Ladies' broadcloth coats	Now 12.50
20.00 Ladies' kersey coats	Now 16.50
18.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 14.98
25.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 17.50
32.00 Ladies' caracul coats	Now 23.98

Girls' Stylish Winter Coats

Age 6 to 14

$3.00 Girls' coats	Now $1.98
4.00 Girls' coats	Now 2.69
5.50 Girls' coats	Now 3.98
8.00 Girls' coats	Now 5.98
10.00 Girls' coats	Now 7.50
12.00 Girls' coats	Now 8.98
14.00 Girls' coats	Now 10.50

Men's Suits

$14.00 suits	Now $9.98
18.00 suits	Now 14.50
22.00 suits	Now 16.98
25.00 suits	Now 18.50
27.50 suits	Now 22.98

Men's Overcoats

$15.00 overcoats	Now $10.50
16.00 overcoats	Now 12.98
19.00 overcoats	Now 16.50
23.00 overcoats	Now 18.98
25.00 overcoats	Now 19.98
30.00 overcoats	Now 21.50

Boys' Suits

Russian, Sailor and Two-piece models.

$3.00 suits	Now $1.98
4.50 suits	Now 2.98
5.50 suits	Now 3.98
6.50 suits	Now 4.98
7.98 suits	Now 5.98

Boys' Overcoats

$5.00 overcoats	Now $3.98
7.00 overcoats	Now 4.98
10.00 overcoats	Now 7.50

STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING THIS WEEK

Joyce Bros. Co

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

13-15 Granite St., Quincy, Mass.

L-Dec. 2-1t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.
Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50
Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L
Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Christmas falls on Sunday this year, but MONDAY, Dec. 26, will be generally observed as a Holiday, and the office of the Daily Ledger will be closed all day. See Tuesday's paper for the news of the holiday.

There are only 228 cities in the United States with a population of over 25,000, and Quincy is not very near the bottom of this list, as only fifty exceed 100,000. By the census of 1890 there were 190 larger than Quincy, and in 1900 but 170 larger. Probably only 160 are larger today, as Quincy is more than holding its own. We are a rapidly growing city.

PILGRIM'S SLOGAN.

The Pilgrim Publicity Association, with its headquarters in Boston, has formally adopted as its slogan or motto the phrase "New England Quality." Since the days of the first Pilgrims nearly 300 years ago, whatever New England has done she has done well. Her manufactured articles have been known all around the world as the best that could be produced, and generations of inventive genius and skilled workmen have more than kept her standard of value in the forefront of the advancing age. There are two requisites necessary to create a nation-wide or world-wide market for New England products. First, "New England Quality," with all that is implied in the term as history has made it; and, second, the getting into closer touch with the prospective purchaser through advertising; and it is the purpose of the Pilgrim Publicity Association "to assist in the advancement of New England by studying and improving the methods of promoting business through advertising; to promote among New England manufacturers and merchants a thorough understanding of the power of good advertising, and in other ways to assist in the development of New England's commercial enterprises and it resources."

SOUTH STATION OPERA CARS.

In response to numerous appeals from opera patrons who complain that there are delays in reaching the South station from the Boston opera house, even when they leave before the performance is over, the management, in cooperation with the Boston Elevated Railway Company has arranged to have special cars leave the opera house at 11 o'clock direct for the South Station. These cars will leave at 11 P. M. sharp, whether the opera is over or not, and thus enable suburban patrons to catch their trains. In most cases the opera is over some minutes before 11 o'clock.

—Andrew Carnegie has given another ten millions, this time for a peace foundation fund. A most noble and princely gift for a noble cause. Andrew made most of his money putting armor plate on war ships. Then Morgan helped him out with a hundred million. Now he is bound to die poor and seems to be working over time in the attempt. If his object of universal peace is attained he will be the greatest human benefactor since the advent of the Saviour.--Milford, N. H., Cabinet.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

HIS CAUTIOUS TEMPERAMENT.

Senator Stewart of Nevada told this story of Mark Twain's early days in Carson City:

"At that time," said Senator Stewart, "the humorist had not attained to the philosophic calm which comes with college degrees. He was a journalist and an unterrified one. In Carson City he boarded at the home of his brother, who was a modern citizen and a Christian. One morning he was the guest of this brother at breakfast. We had just seated ourselves at the table when a voice drawled from the stairway above:

"'Have you read the Scripture lesson this morning?'

"'Yes,' was the reply.

"'Had family prayers?' continued the voice from above.

"'Yes, Sam,' said the host, smiling at me.

"There was a pause, then came the further question:

"'Said grace?'

"'Yes,' responded the patient head of the household.

"'All right ,then,' came the cheerful comment from the stairway; 'I'll be right down."

OPPORTUNITY'S MISTAKE.

"This is the opportunity of a lifetime, madam," declared the smooth-tongued canvasser as he stood at the door.

"Seems to me I've heard that before," thought the housewife.

"Opportunity knocks at every one's door—but only once," continued the caller.

"That's where you're mistaken, young feller," snapped the woman as she reached behind her. "Opportunity has knocked at my door eight times this week so far. I'm out four dollars and ten cents, an' nothin' to show fer it. Jest in case he should knock again I be'n savin' this kettle o' hot suds—"

But Opportunity departed hurriedly.—Woman's Home Companion.

CHILDHOOD'S HEART.

Jae Lowell.

Christmas eve!
Oh, hear the whispers and the murmurs light and low,
As the troupe of night-gowned youngsters gather round!
As they pin the empty stockings by the fireside in a row,
As they pause and hold their breath
at every sound!
Then away to bed they canter, to the dreams they all believe,
To the dreams of dear old Santa—
Christmas eve!

Christmas morn!
Oh, hear the babble as they tumble out of bed!
Hear the pat-a-pat of footsteps on the stair,
How the sweet excitement muddles
each and every little head,
How they wave the bursting stockings in the air!
There are notes akin to sweetness in the sounding drum and horn,
For there's much of life's completeness—
Christmas morn!

Christmas noon!
Oh, hear the laughter, see the glow on every face,
As the old and young about the table throng!
Every voice is sweet as music, every move is made with grace,
As they pass the steaming festive dish along.
Is there ever deeper pleasure, is there ever fairer boon
Than the joy of Plenty's measure,
Christmas noon?

Christmas night!
Hark, hear the lisping of the weary little lips,
As they bid their toys and treasures fond good-by;
Hear the mother's gentle kisses, as the boat to Nodland slips,
And the lashes slowly shut o'er every eye.
Christmas-tide has then departed with its glory and its light,
But it leaves us truer-hearted
Christmas night!

—It is announced that an apartment house is to be erected on Fifth avenue, New York, to hold eighteen families and the rent of each flat is to be $20,000. It is reported that five of the apartments have been already rented. There is probably not another city in the world where such wasteful extravagance would be practiced. —Banker and Tradesman.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

WON'T GIVE OUT ANY INTERVIEWS

Cook Says They Would Be Fragmentary and Misleading

HE ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

Spent Greater Part of Last Month In United States Working on His Story —Believes He Reached Pole—Wrangle Over Explorer Causes Formation of Rival Camps Among Passengers on George Washington

New York, Dec. 23.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook came back to his native land on the steamship George Washington as calmly as if there had never been a North Pole controversy.

He looked well and said little; in fact, a typewritten interview handed to reporters embraced all that he had to say with the exception of the necessary formalities of conversation thrust on him by an interviewer.

Of far more dramatic interest was a heated controversy among the steamship passengers concerning the impression he had made upon them. The doctor still asserts that he believes he was at the Pole. Here is the statement in part:

"I have no statement to make other than that which I have carefully prepared and which is now being published. Any interview I might give would necessarily be fragmentary and doubtless misleading also, so I shall not now give out any interviews, and any purporting to come from me will not be authorized.

"I will say, however, that I was in the United States less than a month ago. I arrived in Quebec on Oct. 29, went to Troy, N. Y., then to Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

"I was in the two last named cities about three weeks, writing, revising and correcting proofs of my story. I registered under an assumed name, because I was very busy. No other precautions were taken to keep my presence concealed.

"I left Poughkeepsie on the night of Nov. 23, and went directly to Halifax, where I sailed for Europe on the same steamship line, on the same steamer and just a year from the time I sailed from the same port when I left America in 1909.

"I do not know what my plans for the future will be. I have no plans whatever for going on the lecture platform. I have not returned to America with the intention of making money out of my Arctic experiences. I have come back solely for the purpose of rehabilitating myself and my family by setting matters right with my countrymen."

The argument among the George Washington's passengers developed when the doctor's sympathizers aboard wished it understood that he had been received with no shadow of discrimination by the other passengers. His enemies wished it made clear that he had been shunned.

The minute the newspaper men who had gone down the harbor on the revenue cutter stepped into the saloon, representatives of both sides descended on them, persons who in ordinary circumstances dodged publicity as they would the plague, swooped down on the reporters and fairly buttonholed them in their eagerness to present their case first.

The doctor himself was spared the embarrassment of this hubbub. He met the reporters at the ladder when they boarded the ship, perfectly poised, with a steady hand and clear eye for all of them. It was the same Cook, a little less tanned and worn than when they had seen him last, but with the same lock of hair hanging down over the forehead, the same reticent half-smile and the same scrubby mustache.

"In half an hour, gentlemen, I will have a statement for you. Just make yourselves at home in the ladies' saloon," he said, and led the way himself. It was perceptible that eyes followed him wherever he went, but he spoke a few words here and there to a friend, shook hands and excused himself without a trace of self-consciousness.

ALL IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

Ohio Girl Gets New Husband Immediately After Divorce

Napoleon, O., Dec. 23.—Divorced and remarried within fifteen minutes was the record made here by Mrs. May Leytel, 18. She obtained a divorce from Maxwell Leytel without contest.

Charles Wooley, 28, was waiting at the courtroom door. He escorted her down stairs to the probate judge for a license and across the street to Justice Bretz's office, where the ceremony was performed.

A Nervy Cuban Bandit

Havana, Dec. 23.—The bandit Solis, who recently captured a boy named Fernandez and raised the amount of ransom demanded to $10,000, after the payment of $6000 had been refused, has succeeded in carrying off another prisoner and in obtaining payment of $10,000 from his relatives.

DR. HUTCHINSON MAKES APPEAL.

Famous Writer and Lecturer Says Red Cross Seals Will Save Thousands of Lives.

"Peace on earth, good health to men!" is the new Christmas greeting. Or, as the revised version has it "Peace on earth to men of good will," peace on earth to men of good health, the only real and permanent peace known.

Not all the strains of the multitude of the heavenly host singing together, and of the anthems that rise from Christmas Day congregations, beautiful and inspiring as they are, can bring peace to the hacking cough, or cheer to the gaunt bosom of the consumptive. The heartiest Christmas spirit, the most cordial of Christmas greetings ,are poor substitutes for sunshine, fresh air and good food. A turkey for the poor once a year, while fa better than cod liver oil, is not enough. What they need is a beefsteak every day!

Our Christmas customs ,admirable and beautiful as they are in theory, have too largely degenerated into a sweet antiphonal service of selfishness —"giving to those who can give to us again"; precisely as the lowly Nazarene, whose birth we are supposed to be celebrating, forbade us to do. Each year we sit down with a groan and a pencil to figure up: "Let's see, how many have we got to send presents to this year. What did they send us last Christmas, and how much did it cost?"

Any benevolent tyrant who would abolish the silly slavery of the present customs, and make it a misdemeanor for any person of sound mind to send a Christmas present to anyone over fifteen years of age, or in receipt of an income of more than fifty dollars a month, would be hailed as a real benefactor of humanity.

But while waiting for this Millennium, here is a chance to take the curse off our custom-made selfishness. In this wide and prosperous land of ours, at this joyous season, there are two hundred thousand homes in which the return of Christmas chiefly points mutely to the vacant chair by the hearth, emptied since last year's carols were sung; who see in the first snowflakes but a winding sheet for the new and yet ungrassed mounds in God's acre.

In those homes are a third of a million innocent children, and happy, glad-faced boys and girls, bearing already in their tender bodies the seeds of the dread disease, half of them destined to an early death, or a blighted and stunted life.

Five dollars apiece a year from each of us, properly applied, would stop this harvest of death, and break this pathetic procession of child victims to the altar of the Moloch of Ignorance. Intelligence and money would have saved the lives of 10,000 of the past year's victims. A little more money and a little more intelligence would prevent the further spread of the disease, and heal ninety per cent of these smitten children.

Do you want to aid in promoting the spread of such intelligence in every city and every county of the Union, in awakening the hygienic conscience of the Nation to stamp out this plague? Then put down first and largest upon your list of expenditures for Christmas,—Red Cross Seals!

Dr. Woods Hutchinson.

—Every year 420,000 adults die in England, five-sixths of them leaving absolutely no property, although $1,500,000,000 passes annually at death, half of it bequeathed by 2,000 persons. This fact explains England's political turmoil—Volumes could not say more. —Boston Common.

☞What better Christmas present can you make your family than a year's subscription to the "home daily" the Quincy Daily Ledger? Try it and see and at the end of the year you will become a permanent subscriber. Once a reader, always a reader. tf

WRITING TO DEAR OLD SANTA CLAUS.

R. E. FOY & CO.
MERRY CHRISTMAS
FANCY FRESH-KILLED, YOUNG
NORTHERN TURKEYS
NO OLD BIRDS AMONG THIS LOT.
EACH AND EVERY ONE IS YOUNG AND TENDER.
Quality considered, prices as low as any in the City.
SOUTH SHORE CHICKENS 25 cts. lb.
TENDER YOUNG GEESE 22 cts. lb
Sweet Cider, gal. 35c
This price includes the Jug
Boiled Cider, bottle 25c
Excellent for cooking purposes
Maraschino Cherries, 25c
Mince Meat, jar 23c
Price includes a Mason jar.
Neufchatel Cheese, 5c
Fresh and Sweet.
Best Seeded Raisins 12c
Florida Oranges..23c doz. Malaga Grapes..15c lb. Tangerines..27c doz.
Have you bought your CHRISTMAS TREE?
We have some very choice trees right from the Maine woods. 25c, 50c up.
WREATHS—Holly, Princess, Laurel
Cape Cranberries, Fancy Celery, Native Onions, Apples, Grape Fruit, Lemons,
Pecan Meats
Almond Meats, White Cape Turnips, Yellow Turnips, Figs, Olives, Dates, Pure Sugar Christmas Candy--2 lb box 25cts.
WATER STREET R. E. FOY & CO. QUINCY STREET
'PHONES 1 7--153
Dec. 21--22

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS
A Useful Christmas Gift
That will Delight Every Boy and Girl
We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.
Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION
We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.
Everything that goes with it at
PETERSON'S
394 Washington Street, Quincy

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

ALL NEWS AGENTS OF THE CITY
SELL THE DAILY LEDGER
THOSE WITH CARRIERS WILL DELIVER IT AT YOUR DOOR
Are You Keeping Posted On Home News?

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS

Plans of Some of the Quincy Churches

CONGREGATIONAL WOLLASTON.

At the 10.45 morning service the pastor Rev. Edward A. Chase will preach a Christmas sermon and the following music will be rendered:

Prelude—Offertory Read
Processional—It came upon the midnight clear
Anthem—Angels from the realms of glory
Carol—Holy night, peaceful night
Carol—Anthem—There were shepherds
Offertory—Melodie Bizet
Solo—Holy night
Recessional—Hark the herald angels sing
Postlude—March Whiting

In the evening at seven o'clock there will be a Christmas talk on "The Childhood of Jesus," illustrated by stereopticon pictures.

AT BETHANY CHURCH.

Morning service at 10.30.
Prelude—Organ and Piano
Beethoven
Carol—"Ring the Bells for Christmas"
Lord
Anthem—"And the Glory of the Lord"
Handel
Solo, trio and chorus "The Heralds of the King" Bartlett
Response—Swan song from Lohengrin
Wagner
Anthem—"Sing O Heavens" Tours
Carol—"Listen, Lordings, unto me"
Osgood
Postlude—Priests March Mendelssohn

The musical program of the morning will be largely repeated in the evening at 7.30 with special Christmas sermon by the pastor.

The music will be rendered by the church chorus, the boys' choir, with Mrs. Emma S. Moore soprano, Mr. A. L. Hayden, baritone, as soloists. Miss Bertha L. Hanson pianist, Madame Beale Morey organist and musical director.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Masses will be celebrated on Sunday, Christmas day, at 5, 6, 8 and 10.30 A. M.

At 5 o'clock there will be a high mass at which Thurton's mass will be sung by a quartet: Miss Mary Burns, Miss Josephine McCarthy, Dr. T. R. Donavan, M. E. Mahon.

The 8 o'clock mass will be the children's mass and Christmas anthems will be sung by the children.

At the 10.30 mass, which will be solemn high, Turner's "Mass of the Good Shepherd" will be sung with the following:

Veni Creator Galvin
Quartet
Adeste Fideles
Quartet and chorus
Miss Helen Galvin, Miss Angela McCarthy, Denis Sweeney, Dr. D. B. Reardon.
Solemn vespers at 7.30 P. M.
Gregorian vespers by chorus
Antiphones
Men's choir
Jesu Redemptor Palestrina
Quartet
Alma Redemptoris Spelman
Miss Helen Galvin
Adeste Fideles
Quartet and chorus
O Salutaris Stewart
Edward Sullivan
Tantum Ergo Rossi
Men's chorus
Laudate Domnum Stearns

HALL PLACE M. E.

The annual Christmas tree and social of the Hall Place M. E. Sunday school will be held in the vestry on Saturday at 7 P. M. Friends of the school are invited to attend.

☞White paper 2 cents a sheet at Ledger Office. tf

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

TELEPHONE CONNECTION HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO FLY

Brookline to Enter the Next Meet at Quincy

An aeroplane, built by Brookline High school students, will be entered in the aviation meet next summer at Quincy was the announcement made Thursday in the Monitor by Philip Nordel, president of the Brookline High School Aeronautical Society.

Members of the society say that this will be the first high school in the United States to take part in such a meet with a heavier than air machine made by pupils of the school.

Work on the machine will be begun early in February and it is proposed to have all in readiness for flights by June 1. Under the guidance of the faculty adviser, John C. Packard, the members of the society are separately working upon plans to be submitted on the first day of the reopening of school. Either a "baby" Wright or a Curtiss model is considered most likely to be chosen.

Following the acceptance of the model each of the five members will give a few hours each week to the actual work of construction. From time to time assessments will be levied on the members for money to carry out the program, and it is expected that aid will come from other scholars in the school. It is proposed in the event of being unable to purchase the right kind of motor for the machine, that an engine be built in the manual training school.

Who the aviator will be when the machine is completed is yet a mooted question. In February a glider owned by Dana Estes will be brought out upon a great hill on the Estes estate and practise in gliding undertaken. Carl Sylvester of the Harvard Aeronautical Society will coach the boys.

Members of the society who are planning the aeroplane and who will have a hand in its manufacture are Philip Nordel, Frederick Estes, Bryant Hawes, Henry Collard and Ross Berkowitz.

NEW OFFICERS.

Quincy court, M. C. O. F., has elected these officers, who will be installed Jan. 1 at Alpha hall:

Chief Ranger—Michael Dorley.
V. C. R.—Catherine E. Donovan.
F. S.—Margaret E. O'Hara.
R. S.—Mary E. Thompson.
Tyler—Mrs. Lucy G. Howard.
S. C.—Alside Carron.
J. C.—John Meaney.
I. S.—James Sullivan.
O. S.—Patrick Ward.
Trustees—David R. Frazier, John Heffernan and Robert E. Foy.
Delegates—David R. Frazier and John Hefferman.
Alternates—Patrick K. Ward and Hugh P. Tracy.

—Do you suppose asks the Somerville Journal that George Washington realized that in 1910 he would be the father of a country of 95,000,000 people?

☞If you want white wrapping paper, large sheets at 2 cents per sheet call early at the Ledger Office before the supply is exhausted. tf

MILTON.

The Portland, Me., Y. M. C. A. 1st and 2nd teams will play the Cunningham gym. teams at basketball Monday afternoon and evening. There will be two games for each team. A year ago the home teams went to Portland for similar contests.

George Eaton is home from the Quincy hospital and is recovering rapidly from his operation for appendicitis.

Milton Academy defeated St. George's school at hockey Wednesday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0.

The hockey rink in Cunningham park will be flooded in the near future.

Ralph Eaton will start on a business trip through New England shortly after Christmas.

Joseph Walters of Pond street who has been confined to his home for several days on account of a severe cold is about town again.

The Cunningham gym teams defeated the Makaria 1st and 2nd teams at basketball last Saturday.

The fire alarm was rung in at box 54 for a fire in the milk house owned by Mr. Bowley on Blue hill road. A fire was kindled in the house before breakfast. Mr. Bowley was seated at the table when he happened to glance out of the window and saw the flames breaking out through the roof. The building was totally destroyed before the fire department arrived, and a wagon or two were burned up. The loss was estimated at $100.

Red cross seals are for sale at the Post office in East Milton.

The dance at the gymnasium which was to have been held Wednesday evening was postponed until next month.

The Men's club of the East Congregational church are working up a Mock Trial which will be given Feb. 15.

All the churches are preparing special Christmas music for the morning services and the children are rehearsing for the concerts.

All the stores are reporting good business and plenty of it. The windows have all been clad in holiday attire.

The second toboggan slide at Cunningham park has been completed and both are used by large crowds every afternoon and evening.

The Sharon high school basketball team cancelled the game with Milton high school which was scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 21. The return game which was to have been played at Sharon Mar. 22 has been cancelled also.

Milton High school will play a team of Alumni in Cunningham gym. Saturday afternoon.

The High school will open its hockey season in a game at the Newton rink on Wednesday afternoon. The Milton boys have been practicing on the river as often as they could and they hope to make a good showing in the opening contest.

The Sophomore class meeting which was to have been held the first of the week was postponed until after the vacation.

The High school building will be remodelled in the near future.

Miss Emma Huntington, the English teacher at the High school has resigned her position to complete her studies for an M. A. at Radcliffe college.

The Cunningham gym bowling team defeated the Veteran Firemen in a league game Wednesday evening.

The schools closed Thursday afternoon for the Christmas recess. The new term will begin Jan. 3rd.

Christmas exercises were held in the Belcher school Thursday afternoon under the direction of Miss Patterson. In addition to the Christmas songs and recitations a play was presented by the 8th grade pupils. "In the Albany Terminal Station" was the title of the sketch.

The postoffices look like store houses and the carriers like pack animals these days. The offices will close at 10 A. M. on the holiday. The first delivery will be made by the carriers.

The Midgets will furnish a little excitement in the gym Saturday evening in their basketball game with a strong team from the other side of Boston.

Walter Farrell, who is teaching in Concord, N. H., has returned home for Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Elizabeth Everson and daughter are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Poulton of East Milton.

Thomas Johnson is spending the Christmas holidays at his home on Adams street.

Eleanor Wheeler and Rachael Burbank of East Milton are home from Wellesley college on their Christmas vacation.

Grace Van Ham, the little daughter of Cornelius Van Ham carrier at the East Milton postoffice, is able to sit up a little every day. She was severely burned last fall and her recovery has been slow.

C. G. Mullen has put a new sign on his store in East Milton square.

Miss Hazel Patterson, Miss Elsie Kelly and Miss Johnson of Washington street are home from Bridgewater Normal school on their vacation.

The chicken business seems to be rushing in Milton. Three roosters were stolen from a man on Horton place on Tuesday of this week.

Edmund Hodges received a spray of mistletoe in full bloom from J. E. Quimby who is in Pinehurst, North Carolina.

The annual football reception will be held in Milton town hall this evening. The committee in charge consists of the following: James Burbank, Frank O'Hearn, William McGuire, Dan O'Connell and Mr. Hazelton, the coach. Tower's orchestra of Hingham will furnish the music. During the intermission the "M" will be awarded to the football players. The dance will be open to the public and it is expected that a large number will be present.

SUDDEN DEATH IN BOSTON

Atlantic Man Long Identified with the Railroad

Frank O. Lathrop of 40 Billings street died suddenly in Boston on Thursday. He was taken ill in the South station, and was being taken to the hospital in an ambulance when he passed away.

For many years Mr. Lathrop was in the employ of the N. Y.; N. H. & H. R. R., formerly at Atlantic where he was tower operator and station agent. Later he was assistant yard master at the South Terminal.

About a year ago he was taken ill with heart trouble, was in the hospital two weeks and when he went home the physicians gave him only a few days to live. His wife's careful nursing put him on his feet and he was able to work again. He was given charge of the railroad's telephone service in South Boston and was there till he died.

Mr. Lathrop was a native of Quincy and many years ago lived at Quincy Neck.

He leaves a wife, two brothers, William, who works in Taunton for the New Haven road; and Edward, who works in Cuba, and a married sister in Newport, R. I.

TALK ON LABRADOR

(Continued from Page 1.)

and danger caused by threatening icebergs and storms blowing in from the sea.

On inland journeys the great husky-dogs or wolf-dogs were the means of locomotion. These slinking, cruel animals are the bane of the native's existence, and yet they could not do without them because of their usefulness. They will attack any kind of an animal and many of the Esquimaux have lost their children by means of the cruel jaws of these carnivors.

Dr. Grenfell has a herd of reindeer which he is training to take the place of the dogs for purposes of hauling timber, etc. They have to be kept on an island three miles out so that the dogs cannot get at them and devour them.

Mr. Hardwick had about 50 views which were thrown upon the curtain by means of a reflectorscope, which was very kindly loaned by Mrs. Willard of the Quincy Mansion school. The views were all very clear and the subjects were happily chosen. The rugged coastline, the schooners and steamers of Dr. Grenfell's fleet, herds of reindeer, local "characters" and pictures of Dr. Grenfell and Dr. Little were among them. Several of the views gave an idea of the immensity of the icebergs and as Mr. Hardwick explained there is nine times as much under water as there is above the surface. Thus they are oftentimes grounded and it is dangerous to get near them lest they topple over and crush the ship to a pulp.

The hospital work is carried on by expert surgeons with willing assistants who are anxious to help. Dr. Grenfell, himself, disclaims any greatness. He says he is there just to help. But those who have seen the remarkable operations he has performed and have come within the radius of his wonderful personality can be forgiven for hero-worship and they are sure to come away better men.

Dr. Grenfell came to this "Land of the Great Unwashed" to make the people clean in mind, body and soul. Progress must necessarily be slow because of ignorance and habits that have been forming through many generations, but there is progress and the countless cures Dr. Grenfell and Dr. Little and the other surgeons have made, have paved the way for trust and the breaking down of the walls of ignorance and superstition which have so long shut out the light.

THE NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

Mayor After Conference Promises It Next Wednesday

Considerable comment has been made first and last about the Houghs Neck school building, and the delay in finishing, and some people had begun to get the idea that the building would never be finished. It was this comment that brought out an interesting conference at the school building Thursday afternoon. The parties to the conference were Mayor Shea, Commissioner Bainbridge, Contractor Crowley, Architect Bailey and Inspector of Plumbing Keniley.

Everything was gone over thoroughly. Then there was a heart-to-heart talk which was later adjourned to City Hall. Here the law was laid down, and a weight put on it. As a result the things needed to be done to complete the building were commenced this morning. The school furnishings that have been stored at the City stables will commence to move toward the building, and the Mayor has promised that everything shall be in readiness for school next Wednesday.

TODAY'S COURT.

Emily Albanise was arraigned for larceny of clothing at Quincy. Case placed on file.

—If the war talk in Washington were not so regular and infallible an accompaniment of the presentation of a great army and navy appropriation bill, its reason would be less likely to be palpable to the majority of the people. What we have paid for war, what the nations have paid that have gone deepest into "preparedness," are not difficult to remember. And the figures swell with enormous rapidity. In pensions alone we have paid $4,073,000,000 since '60. Our army and navy expense has risen since 1888 from $55,000,000 to $285, 000,000; England's from $153,000,000 to over $315,000,000. —Boston Record.

Quincy Market

Come to a Distinctive Market where stock is abundant and comprehensively displayed and where prices are undoubtedly the Lowest. You get a little more here than elsewhere for your money regarding the quality and that is what the public wants. Remember all goods are guaranteed.

TURKEYS! TURKEYS!

from 23c up

We have a very fancy Lot of Vermont Turkeys
Come in and see them.
Nothing Better in the City.

Fancy Chickens, Fowl, Ducks, Geese, all plentiful, nothing but the best.

Best Cape Cod Cranberries 12 1-2 cents.

Xmas Trees 15 cents to 50 cents. All you want.

QUINCY MARKET
Next to Woolworth's 5 and 10c Store
Dec. 23-2t

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbrellas, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.

THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00

See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel
STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box
$1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1465 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14-1m

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED
IN ANY CEMETERY
IN THE
UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 540-2. Oct. 6-tf

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK
$$$$$
for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger
FOR SALE AT.
BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK & DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

BRIEFS

A Merry Christmas.

More snow is predicted for Christmas.

Miss Eva Brown goes to Vermont for the holidays.

There was a change of the moon this morning in the east.

More Christmas programs of the churches will appear in the Saturday Daily Ledger.

These are the shortest days of the year, but the sun will continue to rise later and later.

Pooles orchestra of eight pieces will furnish the music at the annual dancing party of the Quincy Tennis club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howe and daughter of Lynn will be guests of W. E. Howe and family of Bigelow street for the holidays.

Miss Ethel Randall of Spear street, who has been at the City Hospital for twelve weeks, expects to be at home for Christmas.

Mrs. Louis Rounds of Bigelow street is entertaining at the Christmas season her mother and her brother and family of Portland, Maine.

The Sunday schedule instead of the week-day schedule will be in effect on the street railway on Monday, which will be observed as a holiday. The first car leaves City Square for the Dudley street elevated at 6.59 A. M.

Troops Chasing Manobos

Manila, Dec. 23.—The army is energetically pursuing the rebellious Manobos tribesmen in Mindanao island. Troops of the Second cavalry are punishing the perpetrators of the outrages on the planters in the Davao district.

Fire Destroys Boston Hotel

Boston, Dec. 23.—The Hotel Epicure, a little corner building at Hayward place and Harrison avenue extension, was burned to the ground. There was no one in the place when the fire started. The loss is $75,000.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

White wrapping paper to do up your Christmas gifts in at the Ledger Office at 2 cents a sheet or 20 cents a dozen sheets. tf

Two Days to Xmas
DEC. 23
Last Call For Christmas Shopping

MEMBERSHIP OF 440

Smallest the Next House Can Have Without Some States Losing

Washington, Dec. 23.—A house membership of 440 is the smallest number under the census bureau method of apportionment that will result in not decreasing the present number of representatives from any state, as announced in a detailed statistical statement submitted to the house committee on the census.

The statement was arranged to show the exact effect under any particular proportion of representatives to the population under the returns of the thirteenth census. It starts with a minimum of 390, which is one less than the present size of the house, and ends with a maximum of 440, each table showing whether on such a calculation a state's representation would be diminished, increased or unchanged.

The readjustment always brings out the threat of gerrymandering and a merry political fight is in prospect when the bill emerges from committee.

HONK HONK DISCARDED

Mrs. Longworth Starts Whistling Fad at National Capital

Washington, Dec. 23.—Whistling girls and crowing hens may come to a bad end in Washington, but they do not care if they do and society is whistling itself gayly into the holiday season. It's the new fad.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth started the fad and is doing great work in keeping it up. She whistles on the streets, in her automobile or on her shopping tours.

The honk honk and the electric bell on Mrs. Longworth's automobile are getting rusty from lack of use. When she reaches a crosswalk she whistles and pedestrians make a dash for safety.

PACKED IN BARREL BY BODY SNATCHER

Corpse Was Shipped to Montreal Labelled as "Poultry"

Montreal, Dec. 23.—The police have established the identity of the rope wrapped body found solidly frozen in a barrel marked "poultry" at a local cold storage warehouse. It is that of Matthew Johnson, the aged janitor of a Presbyterian church at Jarvis, Ont. Johnson died Nov. 13 and was buried at Jarvis.

John McSorley of Jarvis, who studied medicine twenty-five years ago, but never practised, is held by the police in connection with the matter. His name appeared as that of the original consigner of the barrel.

McSorley, according to the police, has long brooded over alleged misuse of bodies for purposes of dissection. He is said to admit shipping a barrel to this city, but says it contained turkeys.

Jarvis, Ont., Dec. 23.—Under direction of federal inspectors, the grave of Matthew Johnson, who died Nov. 13, was opened yesterday. It was empty.

DIED SAVING HER JEWELS

Petrified Body of Woman Unearthed In Ruins of Pompeii

Rome, Dec. 23.—The most interesting discovery for a long time has been made at Pompeii. Workmen who were digging for the foundation of a new building outside the area of the buried city found the body of a woman which had been petrified. Both the hands were full of jewels.

Evidently the woman fled from the eruption that overwhelmed Pompeii, carrying her valuables, and was buried in the downpour of lava. The jewels are excellently preserved, having been protected from the ashes and lava by the body. They consist of bracelets, necklaces, rings, amulets studded with gems, and a pair of earrings.

PAROLES FOR SIXTY-EIGHT

Christmas Presents For Inmates of Boston Penal Institution

Boston, Dec. 23.—Penal Commissioner Gore passed out sixty-eight Christmas presents that brought real happiness to the recipients. The gifts were in the shape of paroles for sixty-eight of the prisoners confined at Deer island.

All who were liberated had been confined for minor offenses and their release was decided upon after investigation by the probation officers and the penal commissioner.

Christmas Dinner For Horses

Kansas City, Dec. 23.—All the horses of Kansas City have been invited, through their owners, to attend a Christmas dinner to be given by the Humane society. Each horse will receive a large sack of oats and hay enough to make it feel fat.

The Weather

Almanac, Saturday, Dec. 24.
Sun rises—7:19; sets—4:34.
Moon rises—1:42 a. m.
High water—5:45 a. m.; 6:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Snow in north and snow or rain in south portion; colder in west portion; brisk south winds, shifting to northwest.

LIST OF DEAD REACHES 360

Bolton Mine Disaster Far Worse Than Was Thought

EXPLOSION IN LITTLE HULTON

Not a Soul Escaped Alive, Those Rescued Being From an Adjoining Pit —But Little Hope of Any Further Men Being Taken From Mine Alive —Enactment of New Mining Laws Likely to Result

Bolton, Eng., Dec. 23.—The disaster at the Little Hulton colliery, which was wrecked by an explosion, followed by fire, is greater than was at first thought. It is probable that at east 360 lives were lost. It now appears that the men supposed to have been rescued from this mine came from an adjoining pit that was also seriously damaged. Rescuing parties who are boring away to the centre of the catastrophe have passed 150 bodies.

Heroic efforts were made by rescue parties, but a fierce fire which followed the explosion prevented the rescuers from penetrating beyond 400 yards into the workings.

Government Inspector Girard issued a report after making a descent into the pit, in which he stated that it was impossible that any of the miners are still alive. He added that nothing could be done except to bring up the bodies found lying in the shaft.

This report was communicated to the anxious crowds around the pit mouth, after which the bishop of Manchester conducted a touching service in the open air and the people slowly dispersed.

Late in the night, however, the colliery fans were started again and the air was found to be fairly good. Arrangements were then made for relays of rescuers to go into the mine every three hours. Towards midnight two more miners were found alive. They were terribly burned and are in a critical condition.

A flicker of hope still animates the rescuers that more men may be found alive. Doctors, nurses and ambulances are still on the scene, and relatives, mostly women, are lingering in the vicinity. Among the incidents was the death of a rescuer who, anxious to reach his two sons, who were entombed, got in advance of his comrades and forfeited his life from after-damp.

This is the second great mine disaster in England this year, an explosion having occurred in the Wellington colliery at White Haven, Cumberland, on May 12, in which 136 miners were killed, and is almost certain to cause a new demand for better regulations of the work in mines. During the last ten or fifteen years the methods of production in the coal mining industry have changed, the double shift is commoner, the use of machinery is more widespread and electric power is being largely employed. In brief there has been greater intensity in the exploitation of mines and the coal owner has manifested much zeal in applying science to the increase of profits.

"This is, of course," says The Daily News, "entirely legitimate, but have the precautions for safeguarding the lives of workers been correspondingly developed? The evidence of the death rate suggests that they have not, and scattered about in various reports there is other confirmatory evidence."

The Express says the whole subject of coal mining will have to be reviewed in the light of recent experience.

DUCK HUNTING IN AIRSHIP

Latham Pops Over a Few Birds and Chases Others Out to Sea

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23.—Hubert Latham, the French aviator, went duck hunting at the Bolsa Chico club in a monoplane. He circled over the feeding grounds of the wild fowl, driving his machine at a high rate of speed, and frightening the birds into the air in flocks of thousands.

With a double-barrelled shotgun Latham fired ten times at the ducks, killing a few and crippling others. Latham pursued the birds out to sea, following them for three miles. After a half-hour of hunting Latham landed at the clubhouse.

"RATS" WILL BE PLENTIFUL

200,000,000 Chinese Queues Likely to Glut Human Hair Market

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 23.—The date set for the removal of queues from the heads of male Chinese was Dec. 5, and when the steamship Aymeric left China a few days before the edict was being generally observed.

Assuming that nearly 200,000,000 queues will be cut off, the human hair market may be glutted.

German Crown Princess In Cairo

Cairo, Dec. 23.—The Crown Princess of Germany and her suite arrived here, having disembarked from the Lutzow, on board which they voyaged from Colombo.

A BARBAROUS RELIC

Passaic Husband-to-Be Thus Considers an Engagement Ring

Passaic, N. J., Dec. 23.—At a party at the home of Nathan Ruskin of Sherman street the engagement was announced of their daughter, Gertrude, to Dr. Morris Korshet, a Passaic physician and Socialist. Dr. Korshet surprised the guests by presenting Miss Ruskin with several books of dramatic poetry and fiction instead of an engagement ring.

"In times long gone by," he said, "man either captured his honored female partner or purchased her from her parents with presents. He placed a crude ring upon her finger. It was regarded as a symbol of inferiority and made the wearer appear in the light of personal property. Miss Ruskin will not be my chattel but my equal, my companion and helpmate."

GIVEN PUBLIC FUNERAL

Honors For Three London Policemen Murdered by Burglars

London, Dec. 23.—A public funeral was given to the three police officers who were shot down by Russian terrorists whom they had frustrated in an attempt at burglary. St. Paul's cathedral, where the services were held, was crowded, the throng including representatives of King George and of the cabinet. The lord mayor and the sheriffs of London attended in full state.

Hundreds of floral pieces were sent by all classes of society and enormous crowds thronged the route of the procession from the cathedral to the cemetery.

Although hundreds of Scotland Yard men are searching for them night and day, the murderers are still at large.

PROVINCE IN DANGER OF DEVASTATION

Floods and Famine Drive Chinese People to Desperation

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 23.—Floods have caused great loss of life and severe famine in the Anhui province of China, affecting 2,500,000 persons, according to Rev. E. Lobensteine, a returning missionary from North Anhui, who arrived on the steamer Aymeric.

"So desperate were the people that thousands banded together, robbing any who had food supplies, and for weeks scarcely a night passed without many murders," said the missionary.

"The floods caused great loss of life. The rapid rise of water swept away scores of villages, thousands of persons being drowned. A railroad engineer reported that one of the bridges near there had been choked up with bodies.

"The situation during winter will be terrible—far worse than during the famine three years ago. The starving can be reckoned by hundreds of thousands and relief committees should be organized at once."

HAMMOND MEETS THE CZAR

Outlines Scheme For Investing American Money In Russia

St. Petersburg, Dec. 23.—Emperor Nicholas gave an audience to John H. Hammond, the American mining engineer, who gave the emperor an outline of the plans which he and his associates have for the investment of American capital in Russia.

The emperor and the ministry are said to be favorably impressed with the proposed enterprise. This includes the construction of grain elevators and the development of a system of irrigation.

Mr. Hammond had an interview with Premier Stolypin today and will be the guest at dinner of Ambassador Rockhill tonight. He will be dined by Financial Minister Kokovsoff on Saturday evening and start for home on the following day.

KING MANUEL'S PLANS

Deposed Ruler to Attend College Lectures and Make Tour of World

London, Dec. 23.—The Daily Mail announces that deposed King Manuel, after going into residence next month in a house recently rented for him at Richmond, will attend lectures at Oxford university and other centres of learning.

He has no intention of obtaining a degree, but as his tastes and inclinations are literary and scientific, his regular attendance at lectures may be counted upon with certainty. Later he will tour the world, including America.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Why Cough Ask your doctor about coughs. Ask him if your own is necessary. If not, then why cough? Does he recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral? Ask him, and let his answer be final. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Ancient Instruments.

The forceps, the probe and the speculum are all considered instruments of modern invention, but specimens of them were found in the ruins of Pompeii.

Winter Fodder In Kashmir.

In Kashmir they have a novel method of putting fodder up for winter use. The country lies in a valley among the Himalayas. The chief industry of the people consists in raising fine wool and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world. As in winter snow lies some five or six yards deep, supplies of hay are hung among the branches of trees, where they are easily reached by the flocks of sheep.

Addison's Essays.

Addison wrote his essays in the Spectator to be read at the tea tables of the upper classes and attempted by this means to improve the condition of society.

Tongue Boring.

Until the reign of Queen Anne an English army officer was liable to have his tongue bored through with a hot iron for blasphemy.

Too Much For the Goats.

Because sweetbrier became too abundant in Tasmania goats were introduced to head it off, as it were, by eating it, but the brier came out ahead by killing the goats.

It is Unrivalled in purity—in the qualities which make Pears' Soap the leading agent in producing and maintaining a radiant beauty of complexion. Low in cost; high in all good qualities is Pears' SOAP 15c. a Cake for the Unscented

FLOWERING PLANTS
For Xmas Gifts
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 392 Quincy

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON

Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41
r 6 16	abci	6 35
r 6 32	e	6 47
r 6 49	abcf	7 00
r 7 12	abcd	7 33
r 7 25	d	7 42
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47
r 7 40	abcd	8 00
8 05	Exp.	8 20
r 8 12	abcd	8 30
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47
r 8 51	ad	9 08
r 9 10	abcde	9 30
r 10 04	a	10 20
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45
11 04	a	11 20
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50
12 04	a	12 20
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45
1 14	a	1 30
r 1 19	abcde	1 40
2 04	a	2 20
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45
3 04	a	3 20
r 3 10	abcdefghi	3 45
4 04	a	4 20
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50
4 59	b	5 15
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55
6 09	ac	6 27
7 04	b	7 20
r 7 30	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30
r 9 01	abc	9 20
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30
r 11 20	abc	11 40

FROM BOSTON

Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
6 45	Exp.	7 00
7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
7 45	a	8 00
8 35	cb	8 53
9 45	a	9 00
9 15	fedba	9 37 r
9 45	a	10 00
10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
10 45	Exp.	11 00
11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
11 45	a	12 00
12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
12 45	Exp.	1 00
1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
1 45	a	2 00
2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
2 45	Exp.	3 00
3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
3 45	a	4 00
4 15	fedcba	4 37 r
4 45	d	5 00
5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
5 20	d	5 37
5 25	dcba	5 48 r
5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
6 30	ecba	6 50 r
7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
7 15	a	7 38
8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
9 30	dcba	9 51 r
10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
11 30	a	11 48

SUNDAYS

Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
9 05	Exp.	9 21
10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
12 43	Exp.	12 59
1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
4 27	cba	4 49 r
5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
7 00	cba	7 19 r
8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
8 45	Exp.	9 01
9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
10 50	cba	11 03 r

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.01, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09., 11.20 P. M

Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO
QUINCY DIVISION
TIME TABLE
In effect Oct. 25, 1910.
Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.12 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.42 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.23, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

WHEELER'S

Dry Goods Fancy Goods

CHRISTMAS

ADVANCE SALE OF

USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES

FOR

....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....

APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS

The Store for Ladies' Furnishings

City Square - Quincy

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

Administrators Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of

DANIEL E. CAMERON

late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY E. TEASDALE, Adm.
(Address) 23 Adams Bldg.
Quincy, Mass.

Dec. 16 1910 Dec. 16 3t-16, 23, 30

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

HOLIDAY TIME FIRE HORROR

Chief and Twenty-Four of His Men Killed In Chicago

AN EXPANSION OF COLD AIR

Causes Wall of Warehouse In Stockyards to Collapse, Burying Men In Ruins—Fourteen Dead In Philadelphia Fire—One Man Saved After Being Pinned In Ice-Bound Ruins For Thirteen Hours

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Fire Chief James Horan, Assistant Chief William J. Burroughs and twenty-three men were killed under falling walls in a million dollar fire at the stockyards plant of Morris & Co.

Fifteen firemen were seriously injured, including two captains, who may die.

Mayor Busse spent ten hours personally directing the search for the body of Horan, who had been a lifelong friend. The chief's body was recovered late last night, after a railroad wrecking train with derricks and steam shovels had been used to clear away the burning ruins. The bodies of nineteen men have been found.

The fire broke out afresh at 8 o'clock last night, after it had taxed the strength of the fire department for sixteen hours.

Acting Chief Seyferlich sent a general call to outlying stations for fresh men. These, aided by police reserves, continued the fight and the search for bodies of the dead.

Insurance men said that the killing of the chief and his men was not due to an ammonia tank explosion, as first supposed, but to the expansion of cold air in the beef warehouse, due to the heat from the fire. This, it is said, forced the four-story wall to give way and collapse. The force behind the wall was as strong as if an explosion had occurred.

Apparently maddened by the death of their chief, who was popular in the department, firemen threw themselves recklessly into the work of clearing away the fallen wall. More than fifty men dropped from exhaustion, and were carried back from the intense heat of the burning warehouse.

Despite the work of many engine crews the fire continued to burn stubbornly and still burns.

Not since the days of the Iroquois theatre tragedy, which, like the disaster of yesterday, was a holiday time horror, have such pathetic scenes attended a fire in Chicago.

The bodies of victims were taken to undertaking rooms near the fire. Widows and children of the dead men, white faced and frantic, crowded into the place. The bodies were so badly mutilated in most cases that the police would not permit relatives to view them. In several instances women struggled with policemen in attempts to see their dead.

Mayor Busse called a special meeting of the city council. A committee of fifteen aldermen was selected to take charge of relief work for the families of the dead and to make arrangements.

FOURTEEN LIVES LOST

Man Pinned in Philadelphia Ruins Shows Remarkable Grit

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—Fourteen firemen and policemen are known to be dead and more than forty are in hospitals suffering from injuries from which some will not recover as the result of the collapse of the walls of the burning five-story factory of David Friedlander, dealer in leather remnants.

William Glazier, who was held fast in the ruins for more than thirteen hours, is in a hospital suffering from pneumonia but his condition is reported to be greatly improved and the physicians have hopes of saving his life.

Pinioned beneath an immense iron girder, Glazier gave one of the greatest exhibitions of fortitude on record. When he was found alive, held down by tons of debris, physicians wanted to amputate his legs in order that he might be removed. He protested, saying: "I will get out all right and in plenty of time. What good would I be without my legs? I would rather trust to the boys getting this junk away."

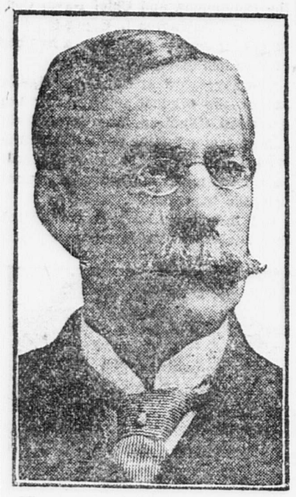
The records of the police and fire departments show that 100 firemen, sixty policemen and ten police surgeons were engaged in the work of rescuing Glazier. It took sixty gallons of oxygen, two quarts of Jamaica ginger, three pints of whisky, strychnine and other drugs, rubber smoke hood, two rubber tubes, a suction pump, many picks, shovels, axes, saws, crowbars and other tools and twelve hours of time to bring him out alive.

It is reported that the authorities are convinced that the fire was of incendiary origin and expect to make an arrest.

The mass of debris is frozen solid and it may be several days before any additional bodies are taken from the ruins.

SENATOR MONEY

Wants Tariff War Against Germany



URGES A TARIFF WAR

Money Wants Drastic Action Against Germany For Potash Tax

Washington, Dec. 23.—Hernando D. Money, Democratic leader of the senate, called upon President Taft to urge that drastic action against Germany be taken in the potash case.

Senator Money is the head of a long line of southern senators who have invaded the White House lately upon the same errand. They point out that the expense of fertilizer will be increased disastrously if prices are raised to meet the German export tax and they are ready to back the president in a policy of retaliation.

President Taft is resisting this pressure with all his strength and hoping for an amicable outcome, but the situation is no less serious today than it has been for some time.

RECORD VOYAGE BY THE MAURETANIA

Liverpool to New York and Back In Twelve Days

Fishguard, Dec. 23.—The Mauretania, which left Liverpool Dec. 10, in an attempt to make a record voyage to New York and return in twelve days, arrived here at 10:22 o'clock last night. The quick voyage across the ocean and back and the rapid taking on of cargo at New York, enabling the continental passengers to reach their destinations before Christmas, is a source of the greatest satisfaction.

The first special train left for London at 10:55 o'clock and a special with the continental mails and passengers at 11:47. The passage of the Mauretania from New York occupied 4 days 15 hours and 57 minutes. She maintained an average speed of 25.07 knots.

INQUIRY IS COMPLETED

Radical Changes Are Looked For In the Boston Custom House

Boston, Dec. 23.—Investigation of the Boston custom house has been completed by the special treasury agents who have had the matter in charge for several weeks. The report of their findings has been forwarded to the department at Washington. No changes in the service will be made until the report is considered by the Washington authorities.

The treasury officials who have completed the big task refrain from discussing the result of their work upon instructions from Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh. There is some expectancy in the customs force that radical changes wil be ordered as a result of the inquiry.

GOING TO THE DEVIL

Minister's Opinion of Those Who "Switch Over" Christmas Day

St. Paul, Dec. 23.—"The business men, shopkeepers, employers and the newspapers seem to forget that Christmas is a religious occasion, and cannot be switched over to Monday for secular reasons," declared Rev. Samuel G. Smith, pastor of the People's church.

"Those who talk about celebrating the day on Monday are giving themselves over to mammon and are literally going to the devil," he says.

British Spies Sentenced

Leipzig, Ger., Dec. 23.—Lieutenant Brandon and Captain Trench, the English military officers who confessed making sketches of the German fortifications at Borkum, were sentenced to four years each as spies. They will be imprisoned in a fortress.

Twenty Years For Lyncher

Newark, O., Dec. 23.—Twenty years in the pentientiary was the sentence passed upon Montella Watha, who was convicted of manslaughter on a charge of having taken part in the lynching of Carl Ethrington, a "dry" detective, last July.

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE OF

LOCAL AND BOSTON THEATRES

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE.

Following is the repertoire for the eighth week of grand opera at the Boston Opera House, and which includes a third appearance of the celebrated Russian Dancers, Anna Pavlowa and Mikael Mordkin, supported by their Complete Imperial Russian ballet of twenty-six. Monday evening Dec. 26, the third performance of the season of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" in Italian will be given, with Jelne Korolewicz in the role of Leonora. This will be Mme. Korolewicz's first appearance in Boston; she is a member of the Chicago Grand Opera Co. Giovanni Zenatello, who made such a sensational success on his first appearance as Otello, will sing the role of Manrico. Carlo Galeffi will be Count de Luna, and Maria Gay, will be heard in the role of Azucena. Moranzoni will conduct.

Aida by Verdi in Italian will be presented on Wednesday evening at 7.45 with Carmen Melis as Aida, Maria Gay as Amneris, Zenatello as Radames, Antonio Scotti as Amonasro, and Jose Mardones as Ramfis. Conti will conduct.

"Carmen" will be repeated Friday evening at 8, with Maria Gay in the title role. Alice Nielsen as Micaela, Florencio Constantino as Dan Jose, Dingh Gilly of the Chicago Opera as Escamillo. Andre-Caplet will conduct Saturday matinee at 2 I Pagliacci in Italian will be presented with Fely Dereyne in the role of Nedda, Zenatello as Canio, Galeffi as Tonio, Fornari as Silvio. Followed by Anna Pavfowa and Mikael Mordkin and the complete Imperial Russian ballet in various dances.

The popular priced performance on Saturday evening at 8 will be La Traviata in Italian by Verdi. Alice Nielsen will sing the role of Violetta, Elvira Leveroni the role of Annina, andAnne Roberts will be Flora. Florencio Constantino will sing Alfredo and Ramon Blanchart will be Giorgio. Roberto Moranzoni will conduct.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The opening performances of "Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Castle Square have been immediately triumphant. For the third year in succession, Mr. Craig has chosen a musical piece as his Christmas production, and for the third time he has succeeded. "Jack and the Beanstalk" bids fair to rival if not to excel "The Circus Girl" in popularity. It is made up of a great variety of things, singing, dancing, humor, specialties and spectacular effects, and it bids fair to have a longer run at the Castle Square than it has ever before received in Boston. Every feature of the piece contributes to its success. Mary Young's Jack is delightful in every way and at every moment, and Mr. Craig has never appeared to better advantage in a light comedy role than as Sinbad the Sailor. Florence Shirley makes a captivating Fairy Queen, George Hassell is an Old King Cole who has stepped right out of the pages of Mother Goose, and nothing more comical than Donald Meek's Fairy Queen has ever before been seen on the Castle Square stage. It is even better than his Biggs in "The Circus Girl." Two large holiday audiences are promised at the Castle Square for Monday's performances of "Jack and the Beanstock," and seats are now on sale for the two coming weeks.

WITH THE ACTORS.

"Seven Days" brings its engagement to an end next week at the Park, to be followed on Jan. 2 by "Arsene Lupin."

Edmund Breese in Mackay's "The Scarecrow" is the new attraction booked for the Tremont.

David Warfield comes to the Hollis Street theatre J m. 2 in a new Belasco play.

Next week the attraction at the Majestic will be "Madam X."

Olga Nethersole is booked to appear at the Shubert on Jan. 2.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Vegetable Soup. Put one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter into the soup kettle, and when it is melted add two potatoes, two carrots, and a head of celery, sliced thin. Fry until all are a golden brown, then add a sprig of parsley, a tablespoonful of salt, a little pepper, and two quarts of cold water. Cover, and cook slowly for an hour or more.

Peanut Cookies. Cream tablespoon butter, two tablespoons sugar and one egg, add a half cup flour, a half-teaspoon baking powder, one saltspoon salt, two tablespoons milk. Add one pint of shelled and chopped peanuts. Drop by teaspoonful on a well buttered pan or paper. Place one-half nut on top of each cookie and bake in a slow oven twelve or fifteen minutes.

Chestnut Stuffing for Turkey. Boil the chestnuts thirty minutes, after blanching, drain and chop; add salt, pepper and a lump of butter; mix with half the quantity of mushrooms and stuff turkey with the mixture.

☞Call early and avoid the rush. White wrapping paper for your Christmas parcels 2 cents a sheet, 20 cents a dozen. tf

1868 LIPPINCOTT'S 1910
MONTHLY MAGAZINE

42 YEARS YOUNG WHAT IS IT LIKE?

It is a high-class, pure-spirited magazine of cleverness. It contains one complete copyrighted novel in every issue, besides a half-dozen capital short stories, pleasing poetry, readable articles, and the jolly-best humor section you ever saw. Every month you will find a group of terse and timely articles of absorbing interest . . . . . .

SPECIAL FEATURES

12 GREAT COMPLETE NOVELS. 6 ARTICLES ON OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
75 FASCINATING SHORT STORIES. 5 ARTICLES ON "THOSE NERVES."
200 PAGES OF NEW HUMOR.

2000 Pages Yearly of Fiction, Fact, and Fun

25c per copy THE BEST OBTAINABLE $2.50 a year

LIPPINCOTT'S

East Washington Square PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SEND FOR OUR SPECIAL MAGAZINE OFFERS

GAS READING LAMPS

--- MAKE ---

BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS

USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL

We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging

from $4.50 to $15.50

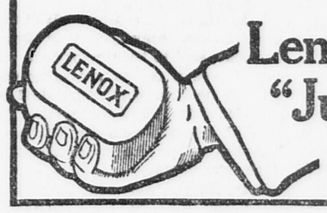
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,

11 Granite Street, Quincy

Lenox Soap is good value.

It will do anything that more expensive soaps will do; and, at the same time, it costs so little that you can use it freely without feeling that you are wasteful or extravagant.

Buy a cake. Compare it with the soap you are now using—with any soap you have ever used—and you will find, as tens of thousands of housekeepers have found, that Lenox Soap is better value than any other soap.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

The Famous Rayo

The Lamp with Diffused Light

should always be used where several people sit, because it does not strain the eyes of those sitting far from it.

The Rayo Lamp is constructed to give the maximum diffused white light. Every detail that increases its light-giving value has been included.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp. You may pay $5, $10 or even $20 for other lamps and get a more expensive container—but you cannot get a better light than the Rayo gives.

This season's Rayo has a new and strengthened burner. A strong, durable shade-holder keeps the shade on firm and true. Easy to keep polished, as it is made of solid brass, finished in nickel.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

COAL

CRR

Barge No. 4

Just Unloaded

562 TONS PEA

434 " LEHIGH EGG

Direct from the Mines

Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter

REMEMBER

C. PATCH & SON, INC.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today. 35 degrees
December 23, 1909, 38 degrees
December 23, 1908, 19 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.—Christmas Pianos
Quincy Market—Christmas Turkeys
To Let

SPECIAL.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Norfolk county. It takes years to build up a big circulation; the Daily Ledger has been steadily increasing for 25 years. Most everybody reads the Daily Ledger.

BRIEFS

Mrs. C. R. Saffell, of Montreal, is in Quincy for the holidays at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hill.

The Odd Ladies had their regular bi-weekly meeting in Clan McGregor hall Thursday evening.

Lack of a quorum prevented the meeting of the West Quincy Improvement association scheduled for Thursday night from being held.

The Street Railway Employees' Union met in room 22, Johnson building, Thursday evening for their regular monthly session.

The report that the Sayward family of Wollaston was quarantined because of sickness proves to have been erroneous.

Owing to the inauguration day banquet of the City Council, the annual feast of the Knockers' club will be postponed until some future date.

Many charitable people will be busy tomorrow distributing gifts among the needy of the city. In the most cases the identity of these representatives of Santa Claus will never be known.

The ladies of the Quincy Catholic club are arranging to carry Christmas cheer into the homes of many needy families. Christmas dinners will be given a number of families and the children will be made happy with mittens and books.

Chester R. Gurney of Standish avenue is home from Springfied, where he is studying at the Y. M. C. A. Training school. Gurney is popular in Y. M. C. A. circles and his friends are glad to see him and hear of his school experiences.

The families on the list of the Overseer of the Poor will be supplied with roast pork and the fixings for their Christmas dinner. At the Quincy Home useful presents will be made to the unfortunates, and they will be supplied with a boutiful Christmas dinner.

As far as known, none of the ice men have commenced to harvest their crop of ice. The Meadow Brook Co. have some fine ice about ready to be housed, but the other local ice men are not so fortunate as they have not water enough in their ponds to make ice.

DEATHS

LATHROP—In Boston, Dec. 22, Mr. Frank Orlando Lathrop of Atlantic, aged 53 years.

TILDEN—In Cohasset, Dec. 22, Miss Mary Oakes Tilden, in her 68th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

OWNERSHIP OF WHARF

Question Which Has Bothered a Large Contractor

Councilman Sandberg, who has a contract with the government for upwards of 7,000 tons of granite, to be used on Lovell's island, has been put to considerable inconvenience owing to a dispute as to the ownership of wharf property near the Electric Light power station.

It is said there are two deeds of the property, one conveying it to John Cashman, said to have never been recorded, and a second conveying the property to Mrs. Wild. This deed is recorded. Mr. Sandberg secured a lease of the wharf from Mrs. Wild, and had piled it high with granite that was to be shipped today.

Everything appeared to be serene when John Q. A. Field appeared on the scene with a lease obtained from Mr. Cashman, and ordered Mr. Sandberg to take his material away forthwith. It was a peculiar situation, and one that meant considerable expense to Mr. Sandberg.

At this point, Henry M. Faxon, who owns the adjoining wharf, came to the rescue and gave Mr. Sandberg permission to use his wharf. Derricks were quickly put in position and this morning the granite was moved to the Faxon wharf from which it will be shipped today or tomorrow. The ownership of the first wharf is still in dispute.

This incident clearly shows the need of a municipal dock with equipment for handling granite.

BRIEFS

The Verdanda society held a very enjoyable dancing party in Electa hall Thursday evening.

The Improved Order of Heptasophs held their regular monthly meeting in Protection hall Thursday evening.

Turkeys are plenty in the Boston market. For this season 30,241 packages were received, against 21,449 last December.

The International Order of Good Templars held their regular meeting in room 24, Johnson building, Thursday evening.

The funeral services of Patrick McGrath, U. S. N., took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic, this morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. McGrath entered the navy as a yeoman about three years ago. He became a victim of tuberculosis after a year in the service and was taken to Mt. Pleasant camp in Quincy as soon as patients were received, and there he died last Tuesday.

BOY SCOUTS.

The purpose of the Scout Law is to organize the boys of the United States into units and systematically to teach them patriotism, discipline, obedience, courage, self-reliance, self-control, gallantry, courtesy, thrift, usefulness, helpfulness and cheerfulness, in order to supplement existing educational advantages for boys.

The movement was brought to this country through Mr. W. D. Boyce of Chicago, who relates a pretty little incident of his first meeting with a Boy Scout.

"A little lad of twelve noticed my futile efforts," said Mr. Boyce, "and led me with a lantern in the right direction. I thanked him and offered him a penny. But he said: 'Thank you, sir, but I am a Boy Scout, and we never take tips for doing kind acts.'

"What are the Boy Scouts?" I asked him in surprise. Then he told me that all Boy Scouts were in honor bound to do one kind act every day, without reward or hope of personal remuneration."

The movement is not one of hazardous reform, but simply approves organizing the clean-cut, red-blooded boys so that they will help others and be loyal to their country.—Joe Mitchell Chapple, in the National Magazine.

Mexican Ruins.

Mexico has many ancient ruins, particularly in the states of Oaxaca, Chiapas, Yucatan and Morella. Those of Mitla, in Oaxaca; Palenqua, in Chiapas; Uxmal, in Yucatan, and Xochimilco, in Morelia, are among the most famous and interesting. Some of them represent whole cities and are supposed to be from 2,000 to 3,000 years old. They all show the most elaborate carvings which closely resemble the Egyptian hieroglyphics.

Norway.

Although Norway is a maritime nation and has a larger percentage of its inhabitants engaged in seafaring than any other country, agriculture is its leading industry.

FOUR NOW NEAR THE TOP

In the Makaria Bowling League Contest

The past week has been a disastrous week for the Cubs who have led the Makaria bowling league, and also for the Tigers at the foot of the list. The Red Sox, Pirates and Giants were most successful and are now pushing the Cubs hard. The Athletics did not bowl this week, and the standing to date is:

	Won	Lost
Cubs, Morris	10	6	.625
Red Sox, T. King	10	6	.625
Giants, Dell	9	7	.562
Pirates, Nicoll	9	7	.562
Athletics, Michael	4	8	.333
Tigers, Jones	6	14	.300

PIRATES VICTORY.

On Thursday evening the Tigers might have won with a full team, but Dummy was weak and the Pirates won two out of three games and led on totals by 36 pins. Stewart was high on singles with 102 and led on totals with 269.

The summary:

PIRATES

Hoxie	92	80	75	247
Nicoll	70	75	82	227
MacKenzie	61	80	98	239
Capt. Nicoll	84	81	86	251
Stewart	83	84	102	269
	390	400	443	1233

TIGERS.

Richards	79	95	88	262
Frohwein	76	67	82	225
Glover	85	83	75	243
Jones	78	94	84	256
Dummy	61	75	75	211
	379	414	404	1197

LIFT FOR GIANTS

The Cubs forfeited on Thursday to the Giants, and added four points. Melville was high on singles and Parker and Dill were tied on totals. The score of the Giants was:

Mellville	92	73	70	235
S. Bates	66	75	83	224
Dell	78	78	88	244
Parker	76	90	78	244
Allen	66	71	73	210
	378	386	392	1156

LOCAL SPORTS.

In the Columbus club league, Jamaica Plain defeated Quincy at the Dorchester alleys Thursday evening by a pinfall of 1446 to 1297. Shortle again led his team for single string with 116 and for 3 strings with 289. McGrath of the opponents made 121 for single string and 314 for 3 strings.

FROM NEAR THE HUB!

From some examination papers in a Massachusetts—we repeat, Massachusetts—town:"

"Capillarity is when milk rises up around the edge of bottle and shows good measure."

"The settlers gave a Thanksgiving dinner to the Indians for their kindness, and to the Lord for fair weather. They kept up their festivities for three days, eating all the time. A party of sixty Indians warriors came, rolling their warwhoops down the hill."

"Henry VIII, by his own efforts, increased the population of England 40,000.

"Esau wrote fables and sold them for potash."

"The Lupercal was the wolf who suckled Romeo and Juliet at Rome."

"Lincoln has a high forehead which is a sign of many brains."—Everybody's.

MIXED EMOTIONS.

A Bostonian tells of a clean, well-set-up young Irishman, who formerly saw service in the British Navy, but who is now engaged in business at the Hub.

"When are you going to get home rule in Ireland, John?" the Bostonian once idly asked.

"The only way that we'll get home rule in ould Ireland," said the Celt, "will be if France—an' Russia—an' Germany—an' Austria—an' maybe Italy—if they would all join together to give those blackguards of England a rare ould batin', That's the only way, sir, we'll get home rule."

Then, as he looked cautiously round, a twinkle of cunning was added to his expression. "An' the whole lot of 'em together couldn't do it, sir. Oh, it's the grand navy we've got!"—Lippincott's.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

DARTMOUTH IS LEADING

But Contest Is Young in the Granite League

The Dartmouths by their victory on Thursday evening took the lead in the Granite bowling league, but the league is yet in its infancy, and it is too early to prophecy. The standing is:

	Won	Lost
Dartmouth, Erickson	3	1	.750
Harvard, Wentworth	2	2	.500
Yale, Hough	2	2	.500
Princeton, McKay	1	3	.250

DARTMOUTH—PRINCETON.

On Thursday evening Dartmouth won the first game by 9 pins, none of their rivals scoring 80. The Princetons did their best work in the second, and won 12 pins. The rubber was however a walkover for the Dartmouths, and gave them a big lead on totals. F. Erickson of the victors was high on singles and totals.

The summary:

DARTMOUTH

McKenna	86	81	82	249
J. Gillis	75	77	87	239
Gustafson	68	72	81	221
Everson	82	63	70	215
F. Erickson	80	93	103	276
	391	386	423	1200

PRINCETON

McKay	79	68	73	220
Barry	74	82	73	229
Furniss	78	66	62	206
G. Erickson	79	88	79	246
Hallquist	72	94	84	250
	382	398	371	1151

Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL

Both Quincy Teams Defeated in Boston

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. first and second teams were defeated by the teams of the Boston Y. M. C. A. in Technology gymnasium Thursday evening by scores of 32 to 16 and 36 to 17.

The first team started off with a rush and scored 8 points in the first few minutes of play. Bates, Jenkins and Trask shot the baskets. It was Trask's first appearance on the first team and although he was a little nervous he acquitted himself well Parker was disqualified by the executives of the A. A. U. the first of this week because he served as assistant instructor in gymnastics in Newton a year ago. He will be unable to play until a year from next March.

Morris, Bates and Jenkins were the stars for Quincy and Benson was the best man on the Boston team. Only one foul was called during the game and the goal was not shot from that.

The summary:

QUINCY	BOSTON
Dackers, rb	lf, Ross
Bates, lb	rf, Cherry
Jenkins, c	c, Ziegler
Trask, lf	rb, Benson
Morris, rf	lb, Foster

Score—Boston, 32; Quincy 16. Goals from floor—Morris 3, Bates 2, Jenkins 2, Trask 1, Benson 6, Cherry 4, Ziegler 3, Foster 2, Ross 1. Referee—Martin.

SECOND TEAMS.

The second team was defeated by about the same score as the first. Gourlie and Rich were the stars for Quincy and Harrison and Beaton excelled for Boston. The game was scrappier than the other one and although Quincy was beaten her showing was respectable.

The summary:

Quincy 2d.	Boston 2d.
Rich, rb	lf Beaton
Dineen, Newcomb, lb	rf Harrison
Claflin, c	c MacMillan
Gourlie, lf	rb Weis
Childs, rf	lb Weir

Score,—Boston, 36; Quincy, 17. Goals from floor,—Rich, 2, Dineen, Childs, Newcomb, Gourlie, Harrison 6; Beaton, 6; MacMillan, 3; Weis, 2. Goals from fouls,—Gourlie, 3. Referee,—Martin.

"It must be such a pleasure to sing as you do. Does your husband sing too?"

"Well, John John wants to sing awfully—and he does."—Harlem Light

AMERICA PLANS A GIBRALTAR

Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, Is Site to Be Inspected by Capps.

The United States government has practically abandoned its idea of establishing a powerful naval base in the Philippines, and Chief Naval Constructor Washington L. Capps is going to the far east to pass upon a number of sites tentatively selected.

The navy yard at Cavite, in Manila harbor—the original selection for the American Gibraltar—does not contain enough water for the purpose, and the station at Olongapo, on Subig bay, will be a mere repair station, as it cannot be made impregnable.

But it is essential that the United States should have a strong oriental station, and, while Pearl Harbor is likely to be the selection, it will not mean the abandonment of Olongapo as a plant where the American Pacific fleet can put in for repairs. The report of the constructor will determine the amount of the appropriation which will be asked of congress.

PEARL HARBOR AND CHIEF NAVAL CONSTRUCTOR W. L. CAPPS.

When his work in the Philippines is concluded the chief constructor will return to the United States by way of Europe, taking advantage of the opportunity to make a thorough study of recent developments in naval construction in the great navy yards of the European maritime powers. Incidentally he is also to look into the development of the aeroplane for naval use

JOHN BIGELOW 93, BUT YOUNG

Opens Museum In Native Town and Completes Book.

John Bigelow, historian and diplomat celebrated his ninety-third birthday recently and made a busy day of it too Indeed, he was so busy putting the finishing touches to a new book, the concluding volume of "Retrospections of a Long Life," that he could not devote the time to receive his congratulating friends until afternoon. At that time many notable figures gathered at the old house facing Gramercy park, New York city, close by the old home of his staunch friend Samuel J. Tilden Letters and telegrams came from all parts of the country congratulating the "first citizen of New York city" on his apple cheeked youth.

JOHN BIGELOW.

Mr. Bigelow recently completed another onslaught on the tariff—his pet aversion—entitled "Building Temples of Peace With Untempered Mortar," and also opened the Bigelow museum at Malden, N. Y., his native town. The museum, a gift of the aged author, is also a library and lecture hall. The nucleus of the library consists of historical papers and books covering events contemporaneous with the diplomat's life and activities. The museum contains many memorials of Malden, which was partly founded and built up by Mr. Bigelow's father.

The nonagenarian was born Nov. 25, 1817, and was educated at Union college. He was one of the editors of the New York Evening Post from 1849 to 1861, during William Cullen Bryant's regime, and was minister to France from 1864 to 1867. He has made an annual visit to France ever since and expects to repeat it next summer.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

Aerial Flights.

When his motor stops 6,000 feet up in the air the intelligent aeroplane operator knows that it is time to come back to earth.—Chicago News.

Aviation is playing havoc with the language. Hangar may be necessary and aerofan will pass, but air girl is too much.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Thirty-four aviators have met with fatal accidents during the last year. Still, some of them might have stepped on rusty nails if they had remained on the ground.—Binghamton Republican.

A More Beginner.

Gaddle—Well, old man, Youngley's in your class now.

Popley—How do you mean?

Gaddle—He's a proud papa too.

Popley—Huh! He's only an amateur. —Catholic Standard and Times.

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 319 Nov. 7, 1910.

ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 15, an ordinance concerning salaries be amended by striking out the figures "$1,400" after the words "Chief of Police" and inserting in place therefor the figures "$1,500."

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.

Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 320 Nov. 7, 1910.

ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 19, an ordinance establishing a Police Department, be amended as follows:— Strike out Section 9, and insert in place therefor the following:—

Sec. 9. Salaries paid the Police Department shall be as follows: Lieutenant, $1,200 per year; Sergeants, $1,150 per year; Patrolmen, $2.75 per day for the first two years and thereafter $3 per day; Reserve Police $2.75 per day when detailed for service; Special Police $2.50 per day when detailed for service. Continuous duty by a member of the Reserve Police shall be counted as time served when appointed to the permanent force.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.

Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

CITY OF QUINCY

IN COUNCIL.

No. 335 Nov. 7, 1910.

ORDERED:

That Ordinance No. 1. "an ordinance establishing the fire department of the City of Quincy" be amended by adding the following section:—

Section 20. The City Council shall, at his own request, or at the request of the Chief of the Fire Department, if, i n the judgment of said Council, he s no longer able to perform active service as a fireman, retire from active service and place upon a pension roll, any member of the Fire department of the City of Quincy, whom the City Physician of said city certifies in writing to be permanently disabled, mentally or physically, by injuries incurred while in the performance of his duty as fireman, call-fireman or substitute call-fireman, from further performing duty as such member, or any member of said department who has served faithfully in said department for not less than twenty years and who is either sixty-five years of age, or over, or who in the judgment of said council is incapacitated for useful service therein, and every member so retired shall annually receive as a pension one half the amount of compensation received by him at the time of his retirement, such amount to be paid by the city which shall appropriate money therefor.

Passed to be ordained Nov. 21, 1910.
Attest—GEORGE T. MAGEE,
Clerk of Council.

Approved Nov. 25, 1910.
WILLIAM T. SHEA, Mayor,
A true copy. Attest:—
HARRISON A. KEITH,
City Clerk.
Dec. 21-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic.
Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

WANTED

WANTED—Experienced bookkeeper with some knowledge of typewriting. Steady position with a Quincy business house located near city square. Address F. N. Ledger office.
Dec. 23-3t

WANTED

All kinds of help in stitching room, also girls to learn.
RICE & HUTCHINS, INC.
South Braintree.
Dec. 17 L-6t-O-1w

TO LET

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L.
Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms with bath. Dec 17-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephone:—Quincy 448.1. Haymarket 214

Read
Ledger Advs.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 299 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 24, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

BIG JUMP IN QUINCY'S METROPOLITAN PARK ASSESSMENT

BOULEVARD RATE MORE THAN DOUBLED

Cost and Maintenance of Charles River Dam and Basin are New Factors

Brookline Escapes Easy on Boulevards

Only two cities of the Metropolitan district will pay a larger assessment for Metropolitan boulevards the next five years than Quincy. Only Boston and Cambridge. Brookline with all its wealth and close proximity to the boulevards will pay one-tenth less. Milton which has been favored in the construction of boulevards will pay about the same as Brookline. Medford will pay a trifle less than Quincy. The only other city or town paying over three per cent is Revere. Those cities paying between two and three per cent are: Somerville, Newton, Malden, Lynn, Everett and Nahant.

Here are the highest 13 out of the 39 in the district:

	Per Cent
Boston	.46943
Cambridge	.05317
Quincy	.04393
Medford	.04294
Milton	.03957
Brookline	.03815
Revere	.03093
Somerville	.02929
Newton	.02602
Malden	.02644
Lynn	.02480
Everett	.02184
Nahant	.02020

If these assessments were levied on "valuation" as all taxes should be levied Brookline, instead of paying less, would be called upon to pay four times as much.

METROPOLITAN PARK

Coming to the assessment for Metropolitan parks the basis is more favorable to Quincy, for seven cities and towns will pay larger assessments. The thirteen paying over one per cent are:

Boston	.59453
Cambridge	.05328
Brookline	.04655
Lynn	.03691
Newton	.03400
Somerville	.03241
Malden	.02135
Quincy	.01478
Everett	.01368
Waltham	.01351
Chelsea	.01289
Milton	.01188
Medford	.01142

THE BASIS.

The commission in making up the apportionments took into account to a certain extent the population and valuations of the cities and towns in the metropolitan district, as well as their proximity to the various parks, boulevards, beaches, etc., for which they are taxed. Originally Boston was required to pay 50 per cent, of the cost of maintenance of all these features of the metropolitan district and of the interest and sinking fund requirements.

Under the present law the apportionments are based on the valuations of the cities and towns as to the greater portion of them, the exceptions being in the cases of what are known as the "fringe" towns, which skirt the outer edges of the reservations.

Eighty-five per cent, of the apportionment for parks is based on valuations of cities and towns as fixed by the statutes of 1910. The remaining 15 per cent is apportioned according to population between the "fringe" towns of Braintree, Canton, Dover, Hull, Nahant, Hingham, Westwood and Weymouth.

The apportionments for boulevards were based on valuations of cities and towns in the district, the commission taking into consideration the fact that cities and towns having boulevards within their limits are exempted from the cost of their maintenance as roads and should therefore contribute a larger pro rata share to the district.

Apportionments for Charles river dam and basin, as well as the Nantasket Beach reservation, are made on the basis of valuations.

The apportionment for parks represents costs of maintenance and sinking fund and interest requirements; for boulevards, one-half of the interest and sinking fund requirements, one-half of the expense of care and maintenance and one-half of the office and running expenses of the Metropolitan park commissioners occasioned by roadways and boulevards, the remaining half being paid by the state; for Nantasket beach reservation, the sinking fund and interest requirements, and the care and cost of maintenance.

Two apportionments are made for the Charles river dam and basin, the first for maintenance, and the second for the sinking fund and interest requirements.

The award making the apportionments for the 39 cities and towns in the metropolitan district for the five years beginning Jan. 1, 1910 was filed by Commissioners Ernest H. Vaughn, Charles G. Bancroft and Frederick S. Hall in the supreme court yesterday.

The amount to be paid into the state treasury this year for parks in the metropolitan district is $884,169.06;

(Continued on Page 3.)

☞Don't forget to get tickets for the "Creation" concert on Tuesday evening, Jan. 3.

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Established 1860
646-658 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Quincy Market

Come to a Distinctive Market where stock is abundant and comprehensively displayed and where prices are undoubtedly the Lowest. You get a little more here than elsewhere for your money regarding the quality and that is what the public wants. Remember all goods are guaranteed.

TURKEYS! TURKEYS!
from 23c up
We have a very fancy Lot of Vermont Turkeys
Come in and see them.
Nothing Better in the City.

Fancy Chickens, Fowl, Ducks, Geese, all plentiful, nothing but the best.
Best Cape Cod Cranberries 12 1-2 cents.
Xmas Trees 15 cents to 50 cents. All you want.

QUINCY MARKET
Next to Woolworth's 5 and 10c Store
Dec. 23-2t

CHRISTMAS IN CHURCHES

Special Music and Festivals for Children

FIRST CHURCH.

There will be special Christmas music at First church Christmas Sunday at the 10.30 morning service. The regular quartet will be assisted by Miss Alice Gleason of Boston, violinist. Rev. Ellery Channing Butler will preach the sermon. The musical program will be as follows:

Service Prelude—"Fantaisie" Dubois
Anthem—"Arise! shine" Arthur Foote
Anthem—"Cradle Hymn" violin obligato Barnby-Gow
Anthem—"Peace on earth" violin obligato Mrs. H. H. A. Beach
Offertory solo—"Andante Religioso" Thome

The Sunday school will hold special services in the chapel at 12 noon. Christmas carols will be sung and Supt. Charles H. Johnson will give a talk on the Christ child as the Good Shepherd, illustrated by lantern photographs.

UNITARIAN CHURCH WOLLASTON.

The order of Christmas service at the Wollaston Unitarian 10.45 A. M. will be as follows on Christmas Sunday:

Organ prelude
Doxology
Introductory service
Carol Anthem "The Birthday of a King" Neidlinger
Responsive reading from the Psalms
Gloria, choir and congregation
Congregational hymn
Christmas offering
Anthem "Hark! the glad sound" Myles Foster
Scripture lesson
Anthem "O sing to God your hymns of Gladness" Gounod
Prayer
Organ response
Carol "See amid the winter snow" Goss
Sermon
Congregational hymn
Benediction
Recessional Amen.
Organ postlude

Immediately after the morning service the Holy communion will be celebrated.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Morning service at 10.30 A. M. when Mr. Matheson pastor of the church will preach his Christmas sermon and there will be special music by the choir. The order of service will include:

Organ Prelude and cornet solo by Wendall Clark.
Anthem, "Down Through the Ages."
Anthem, "Their Message Sweet," Christmas sermon.
Anthem, "Tidings of Great Joy."

The Christian Endeavor also plan to hold a musical service at 6 P. M.

The leader for the evening will be Miss Ruth Kemp, and the choruses, "Sing for Joy," "Bells of Christmas," and "Like Silver Bells" will be sung by seven young ladies; a solo, "Little heart-doors open wide," by Mary Smith. The subject of the evening will be, "Be born in us today."

There will also be special music at the evening service at 7 P. M.

The Christmas entertainment for the Bible school will be held Monday evening, December 26.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

The Junior Christian Endeavorers of Bethany church had their Christmas entertainment Friday afternoon in the chapel. The regular meeting was omitted but the singing of carols and the recitations and stories made a very acceptable substitute for the regular order of things.

There were games of all kinds, a short entertainment consisting of carols, stories and recitations. A chorus of 20 voices sang the opening carol, "There's a song in the air." A Christmas story found in Luke was repeated by all the children. Christmas recitations were given by Miriam Hardy and Helen Rogers. Miss Augusta Crane read a story entitled: "A boarding-house Santa Claus." The Endeavorers then sang such familiar songs as "O little town of Bethlehem" and "Once a little baby lay." Members of the Y. P. S. C. E. served ice cream and cake. About 50 children were present to enjoy the good times.

The Christmas tree celebration and entertainment for the Sunday school children will be given this evening at 6 o'clock.

The Sunday evening concert by the children will be omitted this year.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

Christmas services will be held as follows:

Sunday 5.30 A. M. "Jul-otta." The program to include.
Singing by congregation, "Var helsad skona morgon stund."
Bible reading and prayer.
Selection by choir, "Stova dag."
Sermon by the pastor, subject: "Gods giving" Es. 9:6.
Selection by choir, "Ava vare Gud."
Benediction.

Evening service at 6.30. Young Peoples meeting at 7.30; preaching by the pastor; subject: "Room for Christ."

Monday 6 P. M., the Sunday school Christmas entertainment. The church will be decorated for Christmas. All are cordially invited to attend.

(Continued on Page 2.)

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

WITHOUT PROMISES

Mr. Bryant Not a Party to Any Deals

Editors Daily Ledger:

In an editorial on the contest for the Presidency of the City Council of 1911, the Quincy Telegram in its issue of Thursday night says:

"It is regrettable that so many 'deals' are being attempted. * * The Councilman who votes for a candidate with the expectation of being placed on an important committee is unworthy of the office he holds."

As one of those mentioned in connection with the Presidency of the Council, I want to state as emphatically, as I can, that no "deals" are being attempted or will be allowed in connection with my candidacy. One attempt to secure from me a promise has met with a prompt refusal on my part, and any similar attempt will be dealt with in the same manner.

If I am elected to the Presidency it will be without promises to place any Councilman on "important committees," without any attempt to curry favors by even hinting or suggesting such placing of Councilmen and without resorting to the circulation of untrue stories concerning other candidates which has been the method pursued by certain people wishing to accomplish my defeat.

If I am elected to the Presidency every Councilman-elect may rest assured that all committee appointments will be made solely with a view towards increasing the efficiency of the City Council, and not because of any promises made before the election as a payment for votes offered or given me.

Yours very truly
C. M. Bryant.

ENCAMPMENT OFFICERS.

Manet Encampment No. 75, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers Friday evening:

C. P.—Charles Barron.
S. W.—Walter H. Walker.
H. P.—C. Frank Foster.
Scribe—George C. Ela.
Treas.—Frank L. Carlton.
J. W.—Walter P. Hill.

Trustee for three years—Frank Badger.

Representatives to Grand Encampment—Frank Badger, Aubrey R. Keith, Andrew S. Johnson and Herbert D. Gearwar.

TO ONE AND ALL

GRAND CHRISTMAS DANCE
ALPHA HALL Quincy
ALPHA HALL Quincy
DECEMBER 26
3 to 11.30 P. M.
LADIES 25 CENTS GENTS 50 CENTS
Music—CAREY'S POPULAR ORCHESTRA
Management of W. E. BROWNE and CHARLES W. MUNROE
Proprietors of Houghs Neck Bungalow Dec. 19—21—19-24

WITH OUR EMPLOYEES
WE JOIN IN WISHING ALL A
Merry Christmas
WE SHALL BE OPEN THIS EVENING
UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK
R. E. FOY & CO.
Dec. 24-1t

VISIT
KINCAIDE'S GIFT SHOP
TO-NIGHT
TOYS IN ABUNDANCE, CHRISTMAS TREE ORNAMENTS, GIFTS FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN OF ALL AGES, NOVELTIES, FANCY BOX PAPER, FANCY CHINA, GLASS WARE, BRASS GOODS, NICKLE GOODS, DOLLS, GAMES, MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, AND THOUSANDS OF USEFUL GIFTS AT 5 AND 10 CENTS. IN THE SAME STORE THE BETTER GIFTS AT 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 AND UP TO $5.00.
Just a Few Doors from Our Furniture Store
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
Annex, 1495 Hancock Street, Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

HOLIDAY NOTICE.

Christmas falls on Sunday this year, but MONDAY, Dec. 26, will be generally observed as a Holiday, and the office of the Daily Ledger will be closed all day. See Tuesday's paper for the news of the holiday.

A Merry Christmas to all.

Welcome home college men and women.

Calendars are arriving each day. Quincy merchants are putting out some exceptionally handsome ones this season.

Pittsfield school children are worse off than the Wollaston youngsters for there are over 2,000 ill with the measles. This Christmas seems to be not quite so happy as usual for the young people.

It is not an altogether merry Christmas for some of the granite cutters up in Barre, Vt., for 600 are out of work because of lack of orders. The explanation is that all the spring orders have been filled and there are not orders enough ahead to warrant the manufacturers tying up their capital.

The demand for Red Cross seals has been greater each day as Christmas approached and they will probably be used right through the holidays up to New Years. In Quincy the response has been most liberal, the supply at the Post Office giving out one day so that a fresh lot had to be sent for. The committee had 40,000 to dispose of and if all go it will mean over $300 for the Quincy camp.

The Ledger has had in mind for sometime to publish a list of dates of entertainments to take place in our city. We are becoming such a large town there is something going on most every night and it often happens that dates conflict for entertainments which might be avoided if the public was informed of those already filled. This list will be a great help to those getting up entertainments if clubs, societies, churches and kindred associations send to the Ledger office the dates of their entertainments as soon as arranged for. The list will be published each Saturday for the month. Those booked for January so far as known will be found on the sixth page of today's Ledger. Send in your dates.

THE FIXTURES.

A New York commercial traveler says that before old Georgia "went dry" he was one day in a saloon in that state when a man entered, nodded to the owner of the place, who was also the bartender, seated himself and meditated.

Presently he addressed the owner of the saloon.

"Reckon yo' wanter to sell out, Bill?"

For some 10 minutes Bill continued his occupation of filling pint flasks from a jug. Then he looked up.

"Mount," he admitted

"How much—cash?" the other inquired. Bill filled another dozen flasks.

"How much you give forthe whole shebang—buildin', stock, good will, an' all?" he inquired cautiously.

"What about the fixtures?" Bill asked.

"O, they go along with the rest of the outfit," Bill assured him; "fo-teen colonels, ten judges, nine majors, an' a right smart sprinklin' of hoss doctors."
—Harper's Weekly.

CHURCHES

(Continued from Page 1.)

M. E. CHURCH, WOLLASTON.

Rev. Wesley Wiggin pastor of the Wollaston M. E. church will take as the subject of his sermon at the 10.45 service Christmas Sunday "The wonderful Christ" and the following music will be rendered:

"There were Shepherds" C. Vincent
Folk song, "Silent Night, Hallowed Night" V. E. Beeker
"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" Mendelssohn
"Come Thou Almighty King," Charles Wesley
"Joy to the World" Isaac Watts

There will be no session of the Sunday school or Junior league. A vesper service will be held at 5.45 when the music will be as follows:

Prelude J. Baptiste Calkin
Hark, Hark, my soul, Shelly
Soprano solo—"The Birthday of a King" Neidlinger
Christmas Joy C. E. Wilson
Nazareth Gounod
Duet, Christmas Shelly
Miss Lydia Schrader, Soprano
Fred A. Suttermeister, tenor
George Wilbur, bass.
Mrs. A. F. C. Darling, contralto.
Mrs. F. G. Bennett, organist.
Miss Bertha Teed, pianist.

QUINCY POINT CHURCH.

The following music will be rendered Sunday at the morning service of the Washington Street Congregational church:

Organ Prelude
Offertory—Christmas Hymns Guilmant
Anthems — "Rejoice! Rejoice! this Blessed Morn," Spence
Anthem—"Joy to the World," Williams
Tenor solo by John Hendy
Organ Postlude—"March Solonnelle," Lemargre

CHRIST CHURCH.

Christmas Day there will be two celebrations of The Holy Communion, the first at eight o'clock, the second at 10.30 with festival procession, special music and sermon. The evening service will be held at the usual hour, seven o'clock with address and singing of carols by the choir. The Rev. Dr. Manchester of Wollaston will assist the rector at both morning services so that neither of them will be unduly prolonged.

Following is the musical program for the 10.30 morning service Sunday at Christ church:

Kyrie, Gloria, Creed Sursum Corda, Sanctus, Agnus Dei Tours
Offertory—"Blessed be the Lord God of Israel—Barnby

At 7.30 in the evening there will be Christmas carols.

The Christmas party for senior members of the Sunday school will be held Thursday evening Dec. 29. Games, dancing and a special entertainer.

The annual Christmas festival of the junior and primary members of Christ church Sunday school will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the church. There will be singing of Christmas carols by the choir and schools. Mrs. Emma S. Moore will sing "The Wonderful Tree," and there will be a brief address on Christmas by the rector. The tree will be illuminated and there will be a distribution of candy and presents to the members of the school.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S

Services for Christmas day will be as follows:

MORNING PRAYER at 10.30.

Processional—O Come, all ye faithful J. Reading
Venite A. Beacon
Gloria Patri Beethoven
Te Deum Smart
Jubilate Oxford Chant
Introit—It came upon the midnight clear R. S. Willis
Kyrie Eleison King Hall
Gloria Tibi King Hall
Hymn—Sing, O sing, this blessed morn H. Smart
Offertory—The whole Earth is at Rest and is quiet J. Varley Roberts Presentation Bourgeir's
Sursum Corda King Hall
Sanctus King Hall
Encharistic Hymn—Here, O my Lord, I see thee face to face E. Dearle
Gloria in Excelsis—Old Chant
Nunc Dimittis J. Barnby
Recessional—Hark! the herald angels sing Mendelssohn

EVENING SERVICE.

Processional—O come all ye faithful J. Reading
Magnificat Stainer
Nunc Dimittis Stainer
Anthem Hymn—Calm on the listening ear of night J. B. Dykes
Hymn—O little town of Bethlehem L. H. Redner
Offertory—The whole earth is at rest and is quiet Roberts
Presentation L. Bourgeois
Recessional—Hark! the Herald Angels Sing Mendelssohn

DAVIE SAID TO BE PENNILESS

Now on Uncle's Ranch In Small Town In Colorado

WILL SURRENDER TO POLICE

"Boy Broker" Accused of $400,000 Swindle by Means of Stock Deals Will Soon Return to Boston—Many Charges Against Him to Be Dropped —Stood High In Estimation of Prominent Clergymen and Politicians

Boston, Dec. 24.—Robert E. Davie, the missing "boy broker," who is accused of swindling customers out of $400,000 or more by means of stock deals, and for whom a warrant is held in Boston, is coming back to Boston and will surrender himself to the police here. The surrender will take place any time now within the next four weeks, it is announced.

Davie is now on a ranch owned by his uncle in a small town thirteen miles from Denver.

It is now known that Davie went direct to Chicago when he left Boston. There he wrote a letter to an uncle in Mexico. That letter was returned to his former business associate, Ralph B. Dudley. Immediately after writing the letter Davie went to Denver and later to the ranch of his uncle.

It is understood that Davie will return to Boston practically penniless. Plans for his surrender are now being made by the Boston police. The bigger charges against Davie, many of which were brought by his friends and relatives, are to be dropped.

Davie lived for some years in an apartment in Brookline, where he took his bride, a daughter of Lawyer James E. Cotter. They lived together a few months, when she left him and went to her home.

Davie was born in Lafayette, Ind., where Rev. J. W. Chapman formerly preached. Chapman and Davie were great friends and Davie took a prominent part in the evangelistic work that Chapman and Alexander carried on in Boston.

In this way Davie became acquainted with many of the prominent clergymen of Boston. He entertained at dinner men prominent in political circles and in the business world. Caruso sang at one of his social events.

After disappearing from Boston Davie was seen in New York. He attempted to cut a swath at the New York horse show, held in that city recently, but was not very successful. He was a successful exhibitor at horse shows in Boston, Newport and on the North Shore.

The first actual complaint against Davie was Mrs. Hannah L. Greenwood, the wife of an evangelistic worker, who charged that Davie swindled her out of $10.550 in a stock deal. It was upon her complaint that a warrant was sworn out for Davie's arrest.

MUST SUPPORT HIS FAMILY

Judge's Ruling In Case of Man Who Is Seeking a Divorce

Newburyport, Mass., Dec. 24.—A non-support case of unusual interest was tried in police court here, the plaintiff being Mrs. Marion B. Fields. Her husband is Ernest L. Fields of Hyde Park, who is an electrical contractor.

At the conclusion of the testimony Judge Simpson ordered that Fields pay his wife $25 and each week the sum of $7 for the support of herself and two small children.

It was brought out during the hearing that the husband is now seeking separation from his wife through the divorce court. Mrs. Fields left her husband some months ago and came to this city.

DEATH LIST OF TWENTY-FOUR

Another Fireman Succumbs to Injuries Received In Chicago Blaze

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Alexander D. Lennon, a captain in the fire department who was injured at the stockyards fire of Thursday, died last evening. This makes the official list of dead twenty-four.

Coroner Hoffman, following a day's investigation with members of a jury, announced that the inquest will be opened next Wednesday.

The citizens' relief committee established headquarters at a down town bank yesterday. It was announced that a fund of $250,000 is desired. Of this sum $50,000 had been subscribed up to last night.

COAST FLEET FOR CUBA

Of Ten-Knot Speed and Draft Not to Exceed Six Feet

Washington, Dec. 24.—For the protection of her coast, Cuba is contemplating the construction of six vessels adapted to coast guard service, according to advices received by the state department.

These vessels will have a speed not less than ten knots, and a draft not exceeding six feet. The tenders invited for the construction of the vessels will close Jan. 8.

NEW YORK FINANCIAL NEWS.

(Special)

A somewhat better tone has been maintained in the security markets during the past week, and this in spite of the inactivity which usually develops during the holiday season. The main cause for betterment has been the investment situation. This is probably more satisfactory than at any time for several months. The decline in prices has brought many securities to a level that now offers more reasonable returns. Money is easy, and the low rates obtained for loanable funds naturally divert attention to interest-bearing securities. For this reason the bond outlook is much brighter and there is already a larger inquiry for desirable issues.

The January disbursements will be larger than usual, being estimated as high as $226,000,000; and a fair proportion of this sum always seeks reinvestment in Wall street. Another encouraging feature is the better demand for American investments by European buyers. There have been fairly liberal sales of bonds to Europe during the last few days, and international banking houses report conditions as favorable to the further placing of good issues.

American requirements for new capital are still very pressing, and unless all signs are mistaken, the next few weeks will witness considerable offerings of new securities. Our railroads are especially in need of funds to carry out projected improvements and will if possible make large demands upon new capital supplies. Their ability to finance new undertakings is largely dependent upon the treatment they receive at the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Fortunately there is every reason to expect that they will receive fair consideration and be allowed to make some advances in rates. The situation of the railroads is anything but satisfactory. Traffic is already beginning to decline and some of the Western roads are curtailing their service and enforcing various economies. In view of the heavy increase of expenses the future is one that will require considerable skill and patience on the part of railroad managers.

The close of the year finds general business in a very quiet condition. Conservatism prevails everywhere. The steel trade is still running at about one-half its capacity in the cruder forms and there are no signs of early revival in sight. Everything depends on the railroads. Possibly if the latter place their bonds satisfactorily, orders for cars, equipment, etc., will be forthcoming. The textile trades are also quiet and efforts are being made for general and concerted curtailment. There is nothing unsound in the situation, but a gradual settling down process has begun, which must run its course before real recovery can be expected. Economy is now being practiced not only in business, but at the home, and in nearly every direction curative tendencies are at work which will in due season pave the way for a fresh forward movement.

The stock market does not always move in sympathy with business affairs. It often discounts events in advance. The present depression in trade has doubtless been fully anticipated on the Stock Exchange; hence the latter is more or less cheerful while pessimism prevails eleswhere. Should no unfavorable developments take place still further improvement is possible.—Henry Clews, Banker.

A CHRISTMAS THOUGHT.

Jessie L. LEONARD.

Why not say just "A Merry Christmas"
To each one that you pass?
Perchance no one else may think of it,
And many have none, alas.

Each time you speak in cheerful tones
New joy wells up in you.
And ere you know it, you're brimming full,
Anxious good deeds to do.

After all it takes such a little thought
To make some heart be glad,
Then why not begin this very day
To lighten one that's sad?

The costly gift may be out of reach
To send that absent friend,
But oh, the comfort of a cherry note,
With love from end to end.

Around you invisible forces are spread,
Which buoy up your soul,
While they carry on your message sweet,
Making it reach its goal.

And think you not the Father above
Sees His child in your deed,
Blessing again your gifts to the world-
Kind words in time of need?

Then send forth your happy greetings,
Assured it will give joy,
While peace encompasses you around,
Good will without alloy.

You may not know here which heart was helped
O'er dreary wastes of pain;
But up in God's country you shall know,
And find your words again.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Fownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co.
SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box $1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

WILL CONTEST SETTLED

Town Drops Claim to $140,000 Which Will Go to Woman's Relatives

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 24.—The contest over the will of the late Mrs. Mary A. Mason of Great Barrington is settled, the town of Great Barrington, the principal beneficiary under the will, relinquishing claim to property valued at $140,000 in favor of a sister and niece of the testatrix.

Mrs. Mason died April 7 last, and in her will bequeathed $300,000 to the town of Great Barrington, a portion to be used for a library and nearly $250,000 for the establishment of a hospital.

Relatives contested the will, and the settlement was reached yesterday. Under the terms of the settlement the town will receive $30,000 for library purposes and $50,000 in cash and property valued at $110,000 for the establishment of a library. The contesting relatives of the testatrix receive $140,000 worth of property.

The Alphabets.

The letters in the various alphabets of the world vary from 12 to 202 in number. The Sandwich Islander's alphabet has the first named number, the Tartarian the last.

A Record Rose Tree.

Frenchmen contend that the finest rose tree grows in the marine gardens at Toulon. It is a Banksia, which has been known to bear 50,000 blooms at one time. It covers a fifteen foot wall to a width of eighty feet.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c

DIMOCK & PATTEN
Carpenters and Builders
Plans furnished and estimates given.
All work personally and promptly attended to.
133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 532-1 Quincy.
Dec 18—tyS

GAS READING LAMPS
--- MAKE ---
BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY GIFTS
USEFUL and ORNAMENTAL
We are showing some most attractive and artistic designs at prices ranging from $4.50 to $15.50
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT CO.,
11 Granite Street, Quincy

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
Do Your Christmas Shopping NOW
BEAUTIFUL GIFTS
Umbreilas, Handkerchiefs, Cloves, Aprons, Ribbons, Waist Patterns, Linens, Furs, Sweaters, Hand Bags, Pocket Books, Hosiery, are a few of our gifts.
THE SHIRT WAIST STORE

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

The Social Realm

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Townsend, nee Laura Hawkins, of Mt. Vernon street, Boston have sent out invitations for Thursday evening, the 29th, when they give a program of Christmas music in the studio occupying the top floor of their spacious house. The Townsends were recently married and have had two at homes for their friends generally.

• • •

Radcliffe girls are home for the holidays, the college closing Thursday until Jan. 3.

• • •

Next week promises to be a busy one socially. College men and women are enjoying vacations and much is being done for them in the way of house parties, dances and pleasant entertainment.

• • •

At the military ball recently given by Worcester academy, Miss Florence Barker of Hancock street was a leader of the grand march.

• • •

The annual meeting of the Hospital Aid association comes in the Holiday season, being on Thursday afternoon, the 29th. Mrs. William B. Rice of Adams street is to be hostess for the meeting. She will have a cordial welcome for those attending and hopes any lady interested in the work of the Hospital will attend the meeting.

• • •

A New Year's reception is to be held Monday afternoon, January second, in the Unitarian building, Beacon street, Boston, from four until six o'clock by the American Unitarian Association, the National Women's Alliance, the Young People's Religious Union and allied associations.

• • •

Word has been received of the safe arrival at St. Augustine, Florida of Mrs. Lois Boynton of Grand View avenue and Miss Eliza Miner of Old Colony avenue where they are registered at the Monson house until April.

• • •

Professor and Mrs. Paul Nixon, Dorothea Thompson, of Brunswick, Maine, are the guests of Mrs. William Thompson of Upland road, during the Christmas recess of Bowdoin college.

• • •

An after the holiday event looked forward to with pleasant anticipation, not alone in musical circles but by our townspeople generally, is the concert of the Quincy Choral society. Haydn's "The Creation" will be rendered by the full chorus and the Boston Festival orchestra, assisted by Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams, Frederic Kennedy and Frederic Martin.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gray and daughter will be entertained at the annual family Christmas party at Concord, Mass.

• • •

Rev. and Mrs. Edward A. Chase of Wollaston announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Hatch, to Mr. Sheldon D. Dunlap of Philadelphia.

• • •

Daniel W. Bond, Walter E. Burke, E. Tyler Brigham, Martin E. Erismann, Henry E. Frick, Lorenzo H. Gilson, Henry R. Holden, Arthur P. Homer, J. Brooks Keyes, Delcevare King, Warren C. Ogden, Charles A. Price, John S. Pfaffman, F. Morton Smith, Robert Sibley, Carl R. Sheppard and Moreton T. Swallow are to usher at the dance of the Quincy Tennis club on Wednesday night. It will be the club's fifth annual party.

• • •

Dr. B. F. Bowles of Wollaston being unable to attend to the duties of his office, has gone to Nova Scotia for a short time. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bowles and expects to return after the New Year.

• • •

William Farnum Smith of Omaha, Nebraska, is spending the holidays at his boyhood home, the guest of his brother Frederick H. Smith of Washington street.

• • •

Mrs. H. H. Bain of Dennis on the Cape came up Wednesday to spend Christmas with her son B. H. Bain and Mrs. Bain of Prospect avenue.

• • •

Mrs. Wellford of Highland avenue has gone to Brockville, Canada to spend Christmas with her daughter.

Quincy members of the Cochato club, Braintree, are looking forward to the New Year's eve dance on Saturday evening in the club hall. Mrs. Franklin K. Patch is chairman of the committee, assisted by Miss Lora A. Emerson, Herbert E. Curtis and Mr. Patch. The annual ball of the club comes on January thirteenth.

• • •

Mrs. William Gasset and family of New York are spending the holidays with Mrs. Eliza Hall of Newbury avenue.

• • •

Miss Josephine Nicholson, of Presidents hill left Monday for Helena, Mont., where she will make her home.

• • •

Miss Edith Howe of Newport avenue has gone to Harrisburg Pennsylvania to spend the Christmas holidays with her sister Mrs. John Brownell.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cummings of Elm avenue are enjoying the Christmas festivities with Mr. Cummings parents at Philadelphia.

• • •

Miss Anna L. Woodward and Mr. James Woodward of Brooklyn, New York are enjoying the Christmas festivities with their relatives the Francis F. O'Reillys of Brook street.

• • •

Miss Georgiana C. Lane of Presidents hill left this morning with the T. L. Sturtevants for St. Augustine, Florida, where she will spend a month with them cruising in southern waters in their yacht the Gray Duck, which preceded them by water to St. Augustine.

• • •

Mrs. George T. Bailey of Gloucester is spending the Christmas holidays with her daughter Mrs. Arthur Stanley of Elm avenue.

• • •

Quincy friends of Rev. and Mrs. Merrill C. Ward of Norway, Maine, will be interested to learn that a son was born to them on Wednesday. Mr. Ward was formerly minister of the First Universalist church in this city.

• • •

Miss Alice Manchester of New York is on from New York to visit her parents Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Manchester of Prospect avenue over the holidays.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burton and Miss Florence Burton of Everett are stopping over the week end with the Howard D. Fowlers of Phillips street.

• • •

The second in the series of entertainments and dances in the Y. P. R. U. course will be a concert by the Arlington Glee club assisted by Miss Kate M. Thomas, violinist. It will be given in First Church chapel on Wednesday evening Jan. 6.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Barlow of Lincoln avenue are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son born December eigheenth. They have a little daughter Louise and the advent of a son is most pleasing. He has been named Mason Barlow, Jr.

(Continued on Page 6.)

--An abuse has gradually creapt into our election methods which ought speedily to be abated. It is not akin to the old-fashioned sins of bribery and corruption which were secretly practised, but the effect is, nevertheless, pernicious. The spending of huge sums of money to secure the election of a public officer naturally crowds out of the race all self-respecting poor men. Members of the British Parliament are not paid salaries, and for the honor of the position candidates are often willing to spend large sums of money. Attempts heve been made to make this expenditure a crime to be punished. One result of the non-payment of salaries has been that, since members of the laboring class have been elected to Parliament, their associates have been compelled to subscribe money for their support in order that they might represent them in the councils of the nation. For this reason a proposition has been made that salaries shall be paid to all members. In this country, where public officers are paid, whether as legislators or members of the executive, often sums of money are expended by candidates far in excess of any returns which may come through the payment of salaries, and such practices should, in the interest of good citizenship, be abolished.—Christian Register.

LOAFING AT THE DEPOTS

Agent Assaulted Who Attempted Reform

John Reynolds and Frederick Mellow, two well known South Quincy young men, were arrested Friday evening by Officer Denneen, for assault and battery on Kennard Simpson, ticket agent at the Quincy Adams station.

It has been the habit of certain young men to loaf about the Quincy Adams station evenings and make a nuisance of themselves. The railroad officials are trying to break up the use of railroad stations for loafing places. Thursday evening the two young men mentioned were loafing about the station, when they were approached by the ticket agent and told they must get out. Instead of doing so it is alleged that without further provocation they turned on him and punched him and then ran out.

The assault was reported to the railroad officials, and a warrant was sworn out by Thomas M. White, a railroad officer. The two young men were arraigned in court for assault and battery. The cases were continued until next Tuesday for hearing.

BOULEVARD RATE

(Continued from Page 1.)

for the Nantasket reservation, $55,586.90; for boulevards, $214,797.25, and for the total cost of Charles river dam and basin up to July 6 last, $3,877,817.69.

Of these amounts, Quincy is to pay for park assessments, .01478 per cent; for boulevards, .04393; for Nantasket Beach reservation, .01309; for maintenance of Charles river dam and basin, .01313; for sinking fund and interest requirements Charles river dam and basin, .01173.

The Assessors of 1910 placed in the Quincy levy this year the sum of $15,379.35 for Metropolitan park assessments, which included all parks, boulevards, etc. According to the new basis, which dates from Jan. 1, 1910, the amount should have been over $23,000.00, and $40,000.00 to $50,000.00 extra for the Charles River dam and basin. Here is a shortage of over $50,000.00 to be provided somehow by the city. Had it been included in the tax levy of 1910 the rate would have been over $1.50 higher.

No one at City Hall could tell the Daily Ledger what the basis of apportionment had been in the past, but from the Metropolitan Park board the Ledger learns that it was as follows:

For parks,	.01165
For boulevards,	.02064
For Nantasket,	.01161

Thus it will be seen that Quincy's assessment for boulevards will be more than double what it has been. For parks it will be higher, and for the Nantasket beach reservation less. A new and expensive factor is the Charles River dam and basin, both the cost and the mainteance.

LA FARGE EXHIBIT.

Oil paintings, drawings, water colors and stained glass windows, the work of John La Farge, will compose the special memorial exhibition of that artist's work at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts in Boston next week. The public opening will take place Wednesday, Dec. 28.

Prominent among the exhibits will be the magnificent La Farge owned by the museum called "The Three Wise Men." More than 125 works will be on exhibition. The largest number will come from Major Henry Lee Higginson of Boston, who possesses more than 30. Other Bostonians who will loan from two to six pictures are Dr. W. Sturgis Bigelow, Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears, Mrs. Samuel D. Warren, Mrs. S. Parkman Blake, Washington B. Thomas, Thornton K. Lothrop, Mrs. Daniel Merriman and Mrs. Mary L. Ware.

The La Farge estate of New York has promised several interesting exhibits. The collection will show all phases of the artist's work, for among the exhibits will be several studies he made for the great stained glass windows of Trinity church, his Samoan water colors, several of his exquisite flower studies, the well-known canvas entitled "Paradise Valley," and some architectural studies for church decorations as well as many miscellaneous drawings and color studies.

☞The great attraction of the New Year is the Quincy Choral Society concert at Quincy Music hall, Jan. 3.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The first matches in the round robin basketball tournament of the Extension clubs were played Friday evening. Quincy Adams defeated Atlantic 34 to 11 and Wollaston defeated Quincy Point 17 to 2.

The Basketball league teams have been chosen as follows: Adams—Williams, capt; Wollaston — Dresser, capt., Massachusetts Fields—Torrey, capt., Cranch—Bates, capt., Washington—Roach capt., Freshmen—Daniels capt., Coddington—Shaw, capt., Hancock—Summers, capt.

The schedule of games: Tuesday at 9.30 Freshmen vs Washington, at 10.30 Wollaston vs. Coddington. Wednesday at 9.30, Adams vs. Mass. Fields, at 10.30 Cranch vs Hancock. The semifinals will be played Thursday morning at 9.30 and 10.30, and the finals Saturday afternoon between the halves of the Intermediate game.

A bowling tournament for Intermediates will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2.30. From 4 to 5.30 there will be Junior games in the gymnasium.

At 8 o'clock in the evening on Tuesday the dual meet with Hyde Park will take place. The Quincy entries are as follows: 15 yards dash, Phelan, F. Avery, J. Claflin, W. Cranshaw, Wilson, E. Prout.

Running high jump: McArdle, Wood, Brooks, White,

Running Broad jump: Wilson, Trask, Buckley, McCarty, Gourlie.

Three broad jumps: McArdle, Buckley, Claflin, Church, Booth.

8 potato race: Wilson, McCarty, Trask, McInnes.

12 pound shot put: Claflin, R. Bates, G. Booth.

Relay team. Phelan, Prout, McArdle W. Cranshaw. Alternates: McInnes, Wood.

The Intermediates will play the Braintree Five at basketball Wednesday afternoon at 2.30.

The Employed Boys athletic meet will take place Wednesday evening.

The Senior 1st team will go to Chelsea for a game with the Chelsea Y. M. C. A. 1st.

Swimming events for Juniors will be held Thursday afternoon at 2.30. The Seniors will have their aquatics in the pool at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

The Juniors will have an all day trip to Charlestown on Friday. The Navy yard will be inspected.

The Extension clubs will play basket ball in the evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

A Junior athletic meet will take place Saturday morning. This will end the team work for the year.

The Intermediate basketball team will play the Melrose Intermediates in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

In the evening the 1st and 2nd teams will play the return games with the Boston Y. M. C. A. teams on the home floor.

NEW YEAR'S CONCERT.

Friends of the Quincy Choral society are hoping that the many social events planned for Christmas week may not overshadow the "Creation" concert announced for Tuesday evening, an. 3.

All humanity must experience a feeling of quickened life at the beginning of a New Year, and what could be a better celebration of this gracious season than the spending of an hour or two in the thrall of that ever-new old story, "The Creation"; set to music by a master mind, full of the wonder and beauty of the beginning of all things temporal, of life in all its forms as we know and love it, and of thankfulness to the giver of all good.

Surely the chorus "Sing the Lord ye voices all" will find a response in every heart for the blessing of our glorious New Year.

THIRD CONCERT
Quincy Choral Society
ARTHUR S. WONSON, Conductor
QUINCY MUSIC HALL
Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7.45 P. M.
Haydn's CREATION
SOLOISTS
MRS. GRACE BONNER WILLIAMS, Soprano
FREDERIC KENNEDY, Tenor
FREDERIC MARTIN, Bass
Chorus of 100 Voices
Boston Festival Orchestra
JOHN W. CROWLEY, Principal
Tickets $1.00, 75 and 50 cents
On sale at C. C. Hearn's
ALL SEATS RESERVED
Doors open at 7 o'clock
Dec. 21 24, 27, 28, 31, 2--6t

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

To the readers of the Ledger, one and all, we wish a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. May the year bring good measure of all the things in life worth having, but if there should be some sorrows, trials and adversity let us remember the words of Gibbon:

"Our lives are songs, God writes the words and we set them to music at leisure—and the song is sad or the song is glad as we choose to fashion the measure."

HANDSOME CALENDAR.

J. F. Sheppard & Sons are putting out some handsome calendars for the coming year. The large figures of the pad appeal to the business eye while the reproduction of the painting, "Bringing Home the Bride," by Fletcher C. Ransom satisfies the love for the artistic in coloring and sentiment. Fletcher C. Ransom is the most successful living painter of American farm life. He paints what he knows, not from casual observation, but from actual experience, for he was born and brought up on a farm in the Middle West. His reputation as a draughtsman led Collier's Weekly to select him as their representative at the front in the Spanish-American War, and he was present at the fighting in Cuba. Since the war he has devoted himself less and less to illustrating, and more to the serious work of painting in oil. He sees in the life of the farmer boundless material for picture-making and expects to devote his career to the interpretation of that life.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al trs to William Farquharson et al, Brook avenue.

Frank C. Andrew to Reuben Chapman, Pine street.

Lura E. Babcock to Lydia A. Mann, Taylor street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Lucy E. L. Sherman, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Manuel B. Roach, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to William A. Youlden, Adams Shore.

Horace A. Eaton et al to Valentino Di Flavio, Water street.

William E. Fitzgerald et al to Hannah Fitzgerald, Copeland street.

Joseph H. Gannett to Lysander W. Nash, Cedar street.

George B. James et al trs to Henry G. Lavelle, Highland avenue.

Maud Livingston to Benson B. Banker, Squantum street.

Rodolfo Monti to James Cozzaglio et ux Ashland street.

Edmund M. Parker to Old Colony R. R. Co., Billings road.

Thomas Swithin et al trs to George A. Mayer, Glenwood way.

Herbert T. Whitman to Alice E. Parker, Merrymount road.

ALLIANCE PARTY.

The annual Christmas party given by the directors of the Alliance of the First church to needy families and children was held Friday afternoon in the chapel of the church, and was an enjoyable occasion for scores of mothers and their children. During the first part of the afternoon there were games of various kinds for the children. All entered heartily into the spirit of the games, the bright faces and happy laughter of the children telling better than words of what a good time they were having. A little later an adjournment was made to the dining room where refreshments were served. Here each child got a bag of candy and some little gift to remind them that although not well off in the world's goods Santa Claus had not forgotten them. It is hard to say who enjoyed the party the most, the children or the ladies in charge.

HEREDITARY PENSIONS.

The New Lord Rodney, 18 years old, inherits with his title the annuity of $10,000 granted by a grateful country to his forefather, Admiral George Rodeny, and his heirs forever, in acknowledgment of the Admiral's victory over the French in 1782. Another of these hereditary pensions is the $25,000 a year payable to the Nelson earldom so long as that title shall exist. One of the political cartoons published for election purposes makes capital out of this pension. "Horatio Nelson," it reads, giving each sentence a separate line, "The Victor of Trafalgar, Had a brother, Who had a nephew, Who had a son, Who is the present Lord Nelson," who "has received $25,000 a year for sixty-seven years, which with a moderate interest amounts to over $2,750,000. For what? Because "He had a father,

"Who had an Uncle,
"Who had a Brother
"Named Horatio Nelson."

Then comes in largest lettering, "He voted against old-age pensions for the aged poor."

☞"I say, Blossom, how do you pronounce c-a-s-t-o-r-i-a?" "Why, castoria of course; how else could it be?" "Well, the doctors pronounce it harmless."

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

BRIEFS

At the vesper service at All Souls' church, Braintree, on Sunday at 4.30 P. M., the music will be entirely instrumental, furnished by three members of the Boston Symphony orchestra and Jennie Hocking Hunt organist of the church.

Hand in hand with the rumor concerning the buying up of the tract of land along the creek on the west side of Washington street, comes the report that the Tubular Rivet and Stud Company have bought the property on the east side owned by the Baker Yacht Basin, Inc. The land will make an excellent site for some industry. The shipping problem will be simple and money will be saved by means of marine shipments. Whether the land on the east side has been purchased by the Wollaston concern or not is not definitely known, but certainly some industrial plant will be established there before many moons.

First Church Sunday school sent several barrels of toys to Morgan Memorial, Boston, for Christmas.

The young people of Ward Six have petitioned for a skating rink. The place proposed is between Atlantic street and the Boulevard. Street Commissioner O'Neil is doing all he can to help the project along.

St. Stephen's day will be observed by a holy communion at 7 A. M., on Monday at St. Chrysostom's church; St. John's at 7 A. M.. Tuesday, and Holy Innocents at 7. A. M. Wednesday.

The children of the Point church will have their Christmas tree and entertainment this evening at 6.30. The Sunday services will be of a special Christmas character, both with regard to the music and the addresses.

The little daughter of Albert Cain is recovering from her attack of pneumonia.

The Signal Corps is planning one of its good shows which is sure to make a hit. Several Atlantic young ladies are helping in the musical numbers.

The lecture on "Food Sanitation, Markets, etc.," to have been given last month at the Quincy Women's club by Mrs. C. O. Tyler of Abington has been postponed to Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31 at 3 P. M.

WHEELER'S
Dry Goods Fancy Goods
CHRISTMAS
ADVANCE SALE OF
USEFUL and FANCY ARTICLES
FOR
....CHRISTMAS GIFTS....
APRONS
HANDKERCHIEFS
FANCY STOCKS BELTS
JABOTS
BOWS
POCKET-BOOKS
BAGS PERFUMERY
STATIONERY
CALENDARS
The Store for Ladies' Furnishings
City Square - Quincy
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD DENTAL
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

Read
Ledger Advs.

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS
A Useful Christmas Gift
That will Delight Every Boy and Girl
We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.
Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

A CHRISTMAS PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Holiander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

R.D CHASE
QUINCY MASS. MONEY
INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCING TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
CARE OF PROPERTY

ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and offers the fullest protection.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office.
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW &

Quincy Daily Ledger

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A.M.	P.M.
Monday, Dec. 19	1.00	1.30
Tuesday,	2.00	2.15
Wednesday,	2.45	3.15
Thursday	3.45	4.15
Friday,	4.45	5.00
Saturday,	5.45	6.15
Sunday,	6.30	7.15

BRIEFS

Harvard closed Friday for its Christmas recess.

The communion service of First church will be held on Sunday, New Year's day, after the regular morning service.

The joint committee on installation of the Sons of Veterans and the Woman's auxiliary met this week. The joint installation will take place in Union hall, Kincaide building on the evening of Jan. 11. The installation officers will be J. T. Wellington, P. C., of Norwood and Mrs. Estelle Richards, P. D. P., of Weymouth. After the installation refreshments will be served, and a reception will be given to the new officers.

The Fore River association football team will play the Boston Americans in Boston Monday afternoon.

Pupils of the Quincy school held a Christmas Song Fest in the hall Wednesday morning under the direction of Miss Perkins, supervisor of music. After each grade had sung its Christmas numbers, Mr. Sampson announced that a piano had been presented to the school as a Christmas gift. This will be greatly appreciated for all such occasions in the future. The eighth grade had special exercises in its room. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental pieces and appropriate reading to celebrate the holiday.

Mrs. Emma Schufeldt Moore is to sing at the vesper service at four o'clock on Sunday at the Emmanuel church, Braintree.

The Thomas Crane Public Library will close today at 6 P. M. and will not open again until Tuesday morning at 10.

Children of First Church Sunday school assemble tonight at 6.30 in the church for a carol service and address by Rev. C. B. Ames, and at 7 march to the chapel for the Christmas tree festivities and to receive gifts from Santa Claus.

Smith college closed Wednesday to reopen Jan. 5.

The Washington Social club had a ver ysuccessful card party Thursday evening. Nine tables were filled, the largest number so far in the winter's series.

The large number of gifts contributed by the primary grades of the Quincy school found their way to the Quincy Day Nursery to help in the Christmas distribution of presents there.

Rev. Edward Norton is to give a short talk to the children o fthe South Congregational Sunday school at South Braintree at their Sunday night concert.

Mrs. Metcalf of Washington street is recovering rapidly from her recent operation.

Rev. Dr. Manchester of Wollaston will assist Rev. Richard E. Armstrong at the eight and the half-past ten services at Christ church on Christmas Sunday.

The Point church Men's club will meet in the vestry of the church next Wednesday evening. Mr. O'Rouke, street commissioner of the city of Boston, will be the speaker of the evening. Invitations have been extended to the other men's clubs in the city to attend the meeting.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

Christmas Eve

DEC. 24

A Merry Christmas to All Our Readers

PETTANZA FOUND GUILTY

Second of Band of Kidnappers Convicted In New York

New York, Dec. 24.—It required but fifteen minutes' deliberation for a jury in Judge Fawcett's court in Brooklyn to determine the guilt of Stanislaus Pettanza, one of the ten Italians arrested in connection with the kidnapping of 8-year-old Guiseppe Longo and Michael Rizzo.

Pettanza is the second member of the band to be convicted. Maria Rappa was found guilty on the same charge on Tuesday, and both face sentences of from five to fifty years' imprisonment. Eight of the band are still awaiting trial.

The Longo boy was placed on the stand in Pettanza's trial. He retold the story of his kidnapping in detail. With a knife and rope he demonstrated how he had cut the fastening so that the police could get into the room where he was found.

BECOMES VICTIM OF YEGGS

Explosive Left In Safe Kills Man Attempting to Repair It

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Attempts of burglars two weeks ago to rob a building in Kiminel, Ind., resulted in a man's death here yesterday afternoon. The victim was trying to repair the damage done to a safe which had been brought to a repair company here. Stephen Pavletik, a safe repairer, endeavored to open the door, which had been wedged shut and the combination dial destroyed.

A sledge hammer blow on the door to straighten a corner touched off a charge of nitro glycerine which had been behind the door ever since the attempted robbery. The safe door was blown off, crushing Pavletik's head. The explosion caused considerable commotion in the business district.

$1,000,000 TO FOUND HOME FOR SPINSTERS

Philadelphia Woman Leaves Large Fortune to Charity

Philadelphia, Dec. 24.—In the will of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Garrett, filed here, there is a bequest of property and cash, valued at $1,000,000, from which is to be established a home for single women. The land, consisting of 200 acres, is situated in Newton Square, Delaware county, Pa.

It is one of the richest pieces of farm land in the state. Besides the property Mrs. Garrett leaves the residue of her estate, which is estimated at $500,000, with which to build suitable buildings and provide for the maintenance of the home.

Mrs. Garrett, in her will, directs that all single women shall be admitted to the home, up to its capacity.

Prior to leaving the bulk of her estate to charity, Mrs. Garrett left about $500,000 to relatives.

Mrs. Garrett was the widow of Caspar S. Garrett, founder of many paper mills. He died about fourteen years ago. Mrs. Garrett died on Dec. 19, leaving no direct issue.

CHANGES IN CHINA

Cutting of Queues and Change In Dress Alarm Certain Merchants

Shanghai, Dec. 24.—There is considerable excitement over the question of a change in dress by the Chinese and the cutting off of queues, which is believed to have been caused by a misinterpretation of an imperial decree on this subject.

The agitation for a new style of dress for Chinese and the elimination of queues has been going on for some time, and recently the hair cutting has been indulged in by thousands of Chinese.

The silk and cotton merchants have become alarmed, especially over the change in dress, and yesterday they made a demonstration at Pekin against the innovation.

WILSON DENOUNCES SMITH

Governor-Elect Accuses Candidate For Senator of Deception

Trenton, Dec. 24.—Governor-elect Wilson, in a remarkable statement, publicly pillories former United States Senator Smith of Essex, who seeks to go to the United States senate, and accuses him of the grossest deception in leading Wilson to believe prior to the election that he (Smith) would not be a candidate while at the same time Smith was lining up his forces to land the plum.

Dr. Wilson favors James E. Martine to take the place of John Kean, Republican, whose term is about to expire.

Hunting Fur For King

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 24.—Fear of a scarcity of ermine for King George's coronation in London next June has resulted in special inducements being offered to the trappers for the furs.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, Dec. 25.
Sun rises—7:19; sets—4:34.
Moon rises—2:44 a. m.
High water—6:30 a. m.; 7:15 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair in south, local snows in north portion; much colder; brisk to high southwest to west winds.

GREAT VICTORY FOR PREMIER

Spanish Deputies Vote In Favor of Religious Liberty

"PADLOCK BILL" IS PASSED

Measure Which Had Already Passed the Senate Prohibits Introduction of New Religious Orders In Spain—Seal of Disapproval Had Been Set Upon It by the Vatican and Catholics Made Bitter Fight

Madrid, Dec. 24.—After a stormy all-night session the chamber of deputies passed the government's padlock bill by a vote of 108 to 20. When the discussion of the bill was resumed in the chamber the Catholic members, following their tactics of obstruction, introduced endless amendments, and Premier Canalejas moved that the chamber sit until the bill was voted. This motion was adopted.

This is a notable victory for Canalejas, obtained after a bitter fight involving not only the opposition in Spain, but the Vatican, whose seal of disapproval was set upon the legislation even before it had been submitted to the cortes.

The final fight was waged until the deputies were pretty well exhausted physically. Amendment after amendment was voted down. At 7 o'clock in the morning Canalejas intervened and in a strong speech disclaimed any hostility upon the part of the government toward the religious orders. He insisted, nevertheless, upon the necessity of passing the bill in order that the government might resume complete negotiations with Rome.

Senor Salaberry, the Integralist, responding, declared that the opposition would fight to the bitter end, but Senor Candido, leader of the Carlists, finally surrendered, saying that he did so out of pity for the stenographers, after, however, registering a final protest on behalf of the pope, who, he said, would be grieved greatly. The final vote was taken at 9:30 o'clock, after which the chamber adjourned.

As originally drawn, the bill prohibited the creation of further religious establishments in the country until the revision of the concordat had been completed or definite laws on the subject passed. In the senate the government accepted the amendment of Baron Lirio limiting the period of interdiction against new congregations to two years.

The senate passed the measure on Nov. 4, the vote being 149 to 58. The majority in the upper chamber was greater than had been anticipated. Its passage in the lower house had been expected.

The objection to the measure by the holy see was based on the contention that whereas negotiations were under way for the revision of the concordat of 1851, Spain could not in good faith adopt any legislation adversely affecting the congregations until these negotiations had been concluded. It was claimed that in the meantime the status quo should be maintained.

Premier Canalejas insisted upon a program of religious liberty and maintained that the matter covered by the "padlock bill" was not properly a subject of diplomatic exchanges between Madrid and Rome. In this attitude he has appeared to have the support of King Alfonso.

Much bitterness was engendered and Canalejas, himself an avowed Catholic, bore the brunt of the clerical opposition. As a consequence of the unchanged positions of the government and the Vatican, the negotiations over the concordat were interrupted and the relations between Madrid and the holy see severely strained.

WETS WIN BY SEVEN VOTES

Joy of North Adams Temperance People Transferred to Saloon Men

North Adams, Mass., Dec. 24.—The joy of the temperance people over the conversion of North Adams from the ranks of the license cities to those of no-license, indicated by the vote at the annual city election Tuesday, was short lived, for a recount last night put a different light on the matter.

When the votes were first counted they showed a majority of one vote for no-license. The recount showed a majority of seven votes for license and the city will continue to have the open saloon at least for another year.

FIRETRAPS IN NEW YORK

Skyscrapers as Well as Factories Declared to Be Unsafe

New York, Dec. 24.—"There are a thousand factories in New York city as bad as that in which the frightful fire took place in Newark and where twenty girls were burned to death."

This sensational statement was made before the legislative investigating committee by Franklin W. Wentworth of Boston, secretary of the National Fire Protective association. Wentworth also declared that many of the downtown skyscrapers were anything but fireproof.

CLAPP PROSECUTES WIFE

Wealthy Philadelphian Swears He Was Deliberately Shot

Philadelphia, Dec. 24.—H. M. Clapp, the wealthy clubman who was shot in the neck and seriously wounded during a quarrel with his wife in their apartment on Dec. 12, appeared before a magistrate and swore that she had deliberately shot him. She was held in $2500 bail, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

Clapp testified that Mrs. Clapp shot him when he was about to slap her face during a quarrel which was caused, he stated, by her "staying out late." He said she returned home at 1:30 o'clock in the morning, telling him that she had been on an automobile ride. He declared he had reason to believe this was not true.

STRIKES BECOMING FAR TOO NUMEROUS

Lynn Shoe Manufacturers May Move Shops Elsewhere

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 24.—Twelve hundred shoe workers are idle here as a result of the strike called at the shop of Brophy Bros. by twenty-five heelers, when the firm refused to discharge a non-union heeler. The firm posted a notice on the doors declaring that their shop would be closed for two weeks because of the heelers' strike.

The Randall Adams company, where there are fifteen lasters on strike, and the firm of Hennessy, Maxwell & Hannigan, with twenty-five lasters out, are expected to close their shops. This will make 1900 men and women idle in the three shops, owing to an initial strike of only sixty-five operatives.

Threats made by some of the manufacturers to move their shops elsewhere unless the calling of strikes for every petty grievance is done away with adds to the general feeling of uneasiness.

Boy Postoffice Robber Sentenced

New Orleans, Dec. 24.—For robbing the stamp drawer of the postoffice at Berwick, La., of $5 in pennies, Marshal Bowdreaux, 14 years of age, was sentenced in the United States circuit court to seven years in a reformatory.

Daughter Born to Royalty

Madrid, Dec. 24.—A daughter was born to Princess Louise, wife of Prince Charles of Bourbon-Siciles. Princess Louise of Bourbon Orleans married Prince Charles Nov. 16, 1907.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets
10c. 25c. 50c. SIMPLY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP All Druggists

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR 20 CENTS A LB. TODAY AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Run Down? Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. There is not a drop of alcohol in it.
You have a steady, even gain, day by day. Ask your doctor about it. Secure his approval first, then go ahead. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

PETERSON'S SUGGESTION
We suggest that you leave your order for that Turkey with us. We received a great deal of commendation for our Thanksgiving Birds, and they are always plumper at Christmas. Leave your order early to get a first choice.
Everything that goes with it at
PETERSON'S
394 Washington Street, Quincy

COAL
CRR
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

ZOROID
Founded 1893
TRADE MARK
Do you know that your eyes change as you grow older?
Your glasses need changing as your eyes change, stronger lenses should replace those that were just right for you two or three years ago.
If you have worn the same glasses several years you will be surprised to find how much easier you can work, how much clearer you can see with a new pair of lenses a little stronger.
Have your eyes examined and see for yourself. Telephone for appointment.
Briggs S. Palmer. President
Sanborns
3 Winter St.- Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 17-21-24

Endorsed at Home

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Quincy Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Quincy adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

John R. Duffy, 14 Copeland St., Quincy, Mass., says: "I am so favorably impressed with Doan's Kidney Pills that it gives me pleasure to recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney complaint. I am fully convinced that this remedy will do all that it is claimed to do. If anyone would like to obtain further details regarding my case, I will be glad to answer any questions."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's— and take no other.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT

To Bartholomew J. Griffin and Himan H. Frieze of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Francis H. Wall of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry Plummer Bailey, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William H. Crosby of said Boston, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in that part of said Quincy known as Houghs Neck, on Manet Avenue, being lot thirty-nine on a plan of seashore lots made by Whitman Brock and Company, Surveyors, recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on said Manet Avenue where the line which divides the land from lot forty on said plan intersects the Southerly line of said Manet avenue, thence running in a westerly direction along said Southerly line of Manet Avenue forty nine and 62-100 (49.62) feet to the line of lot thirty-eight on said plan, thence turning and running in a Southerly direction along said line of lot thirty-eight one hundred feet to the line of lot ninety-six on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot ninety-six in an easterly direction thirty-nine and 25-100 (39.25) feet to the line of lot forty on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot forty in a northerly direction one hundred feet to the point of beginning, and containing 4443 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the ninth day of January A. D. 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

(Seal)

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Dec. 17-3t 17, 24, 31

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue of a power of sale, contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Robert H. Fraser to James C. Fraser, dated November 5, 1902, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 934, Page 71, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, will be sold at public auction on the premises described in said mortgage deed, on WEDNESDAY, January 4, 1911 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, viz:—The following parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy called Wollaston, being Lots numbered One (1) and Two (2) on "Plan of Lots of J. P. Quincy on Hancock Street, Wollaston, by H. J. Whitman, dated April , 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 735, Page 640, bounded and described as follows, viz:—Southeasterly on Beach Street, One Hundred (100) feet; Southwesterly on Lot numbered Three (3) Ninety-seven and 53-100 (97.53) feet; Northwesterly on Lots numbered Seventeen (17), Eighteen (18) and Nineteen (19) One Hundred and 30-100 (100.30) feet; and Northeasterly on Morton Street, Eighty-nine and 65-100 (89.65) feet.

Said premises are conveyed subject to the restrictions in deed from Josiah P. Quincy to grantee, dated July 1, 1901, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 901, Page 221. Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and municipal liens, if any.

$500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms to be then and there announced.

JAMES C. FRASER, Mortgagee.

Quincy, Dec. 8, 1910.

Dec. 10-3t 10, 17, 24

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

AVIATOR GRACE STILL MISSING

But Little Likelihood of His Being Found Alive

WIDE SEARCH IS CONDUCTED

Indications Point to His Having Been Lost In North Sea—Had Evidently Lost His Reckoning and Was Swallowed Up In Fog When Last Seen—Friends Have Faint Hope of Safety of Airman Trying For Prize

London, Dec. 24.—With no tidings received of Cecil S. Grace, the American aviator who disappeared in the fog Thursday afternoon, while attempting a return flight from Calais, France, to Dover, in an aeroplane, the belief strengthens that the North sea holds somewhere in its turbulent breast the story of the tragedy.

While a great army of motor cars were searching every nook and corner of the east coast of England, warships scattered along the shores and dotting the North sea swept the waters with wireless inquiries concerning the lost airman.

His friends still cling to the hope that Grace, through a discovery of an error in reckoning, while in the fog, or by some lucky chance, has reached the coast of Suffolk or Norfolk, while the more optimistic talk of a record flight terminating in the north of England, or a rescue by some vessel bound for a distant port.

Here the wish is regarded as the father of the hope, and aviators generally regard the airman as lost. Many craft have churned into port from the North sea and portions of the channel, but none brought word of Grace.

Grace went out for the Baron de Forest prize of $20,000 offered to the aviator who in a British-made aeroplane shall cover the greatest distance, including the passage of the English channel, during the present year. T. Sepwith had set a mark of 174 miles. The days during which the record of Sepwith might be eclipsed were few, and Grace decided to make the try in the face of adverse weather conditions.

A heavy fog hung over the channel and obscured the aviator soon after he ascended at Dover. He crossed the channel safely, and two hours and a half from the start passed over Calais. He reached the Belgian frontier and was going fast after Sepwith's figure when he encountered adverse winds that compelled him to turn back. He alighted west of Calais, and at 2:10 o'clock again ascended, pointing his aeroplane toward Dover.

Grace was once more enveloped in the fog that had become more dense. Those who saw the start say he took a northeasterly course. It is evident that he lost his bearings, for had he had his proper direction he would have reached Dover without trouble. He had the power and his aeroplane must have behaved well.

Instead of approaching Dover, however, he was sighted later far to the northeast over the Goodwin Sands, the exceedingly dangerous shoals that extend off the southeast coast of England, some seven miles east of Deal.

At this point the airman made a grave mistake in his reckoning, for with land but a few miles on his west he veered to the east, and when last seen was heading over the North sea. At this point he was swallowed up by the fog, and since then, except for the negative inferences to be deducted from the absence of news, nothing whatever has transpired to throw light on his whereabouts.

NOT A TONG WAR

Boston Chinaman Shoots Landlord In Dispute Over His Rent

Boston, Dec. 24.—Following a dispute over room rent, Fong Sing, aged 30, of 4 Tyler street, fired a shot from a revolver at his landlord, Mock Queu, aged 36, in the hallway of 4 Tyler street last night.

The landlord's cries brought a score of Chinamen into the house, and word was sent to the police station that another tong war had started. Six officers rushed to the house, but after the landlord had told his story agreed there was no war.

Sing fled but was soon arrested and held on the charge of assault with a loaded revolver.

Freight Conductor Killed

Boston, Dec. 24.—Clarence Cusevan, 47, a freight conductor in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, was crushed to death under the wheels of his own train last night while connecting up the train in the freight yards. James H. Jellison, a brakeman, had his foot crushed in an attempt to rescue Cusevan.

Queen Helena Plays Santa Claus

Rome, Dec. 24.—Queen Helena played Santa Claus, visiting the San Giuseppe hospital with a lady-in-waiting and a member of the king's retinue. She distributed gifts among the needy patients, carefully hiding her identity.

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH

May Be Ousted From the Ways and Means Committee

Photo by American Press Association.

ON LONGWORTH'S TRAIL

Cannon's Friends Moving to Punish Roosevelt's Son-In-Law

Washington, Dec. 24.—A threefold plot to punish Representative Nicholas Longworth, snub his father-in-law, Theodore Roosevelt, and compliment John Dwight, Republican whip of the house, is being framed by the friends of Speaker Cannon on the Republican side of the house.

It will be an attempt to oust Longworth from the ways and means committee. He is entitled to re-election to the committee. But the plan is to rebuke him signally for his eleventh-hour desertion of Cannon and for his belated progressiveness, which was evinced in the tail end of the 1910 campaign.

PORTUGAL WORKS OUT NEW REGIME

Details of Governmental Structure of New Republic

Lisbon, Dec. 24.—The plan of government for the new Portuguese republic has been elaborated by the provisional cabinet. It is based upon the parliamentary system of France, with certain modifications adopted from the United States.

The president of the republic will be chosen by parliament for a term of five years, and he will be ineligible for re-election until a regular term has intervened.

As in France, the cabinet will be appointed by the president, in accordance with the political complexion of the legislative body, but the ministers of war, marine, finance and public works, being considered non-political, will continue irremovable in the event that the government loses the confidence of parliament. Members of parliament will be elected for three years.

SALOONS MUST CLOSE

Monday Declared to Be Legally Christmas Day In Rhode Island

Providence, Dec. 24.—Monday, Dec. 26, is legally Christmas day in Rhode Island, according to a decision handed down by the full bench of the supreme court.

The court was asked to decide the question by Governor Pothier, upon the protest of the Woonsocket saloon keepers that according to law they could not be ordered to close Monday.

The statute provides that all saloons shall be closed on Christmas day, and the dealers declared that Monday was not really Christmas.

Holiday Marriages at Cut Rates

Nashville, Dec. 24.—Squire J. L. Weakley of this city, not to be outdone by the Youngstown, Mo., magistrate, says that he will go the westerner $1.90 better and marry couples during the holidays for 8 cents. This Missouri man made a holiday bargain price of $1.98.

Brave Boy Blows Off Intruder's Head

Macon, Ga., Dec. 24.—While an unknown intruder wrestled with his mother, in their home on the outskirts of Macon, Wichtel Smith, 12 years old, seized a shotgun and blew the stranger's head off.

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

"To Who" Says a Visitor at the Hub, but His Bad Grammar is Forgiven—He's Only an Owl, Looking for the New Zoo—Sad Fate of Children Who Eat Too Much Candy—Savings Bank Life Insurance Looks Good—One on Teddy and One on Boston's Enterprising Newspapers—Nothing New for Street Car Conductors to Practice Public Speaking.

There is jubilation among the holders of the savings bank life insurance policies in Massachusetts since the statements of the results of business for the year ending Oct. 31, 1910, have been published. Holders of policies which have been in force two years or which reach their second anniversary during the present financial year will receive a dividend of 12 1-2 per cent of their yearly premium, which materially lessens the cost of their insurance. Those holding premiums which have been in force for one year receive 8 1-3 per cent, or one month's premium. The trustees of the Whitman and Brockton banks which are conducting the insurance business say that the number of policies and the amount of insurance shows a satisfactory increase during the last year, and the prospects for the future are very promising.

The fate of the two little children who got their fill of sweets for once in their lives should be a warning to all those who yearn for boundless stretches of candies in which to munch to their hearts' content. James and Christina, whose last names we will charitably leave undivulged, live in West Lynn, and have been busily helping their uncle in his store during the Christmas rush. The other day they were in the basement of the store packing Christmas candy for delivery. The uncle had occasion to go to the basement and found to his horror the apparently lifeless bodies of his helpers stretched on the floor. It was discovered at the hospital to which they were hurried that the boy, aged seventeen and old enough to know better, had eaten too much candy and had fainted from acute indigestion. Whether the girl had done likewise, or whether she was frightened into a faint by her brother's condition, is not certain. The moral is obvious.

Enterprising are the newspapers of Boston and extraordinary the discoveries their alert correspondents make. One of them the other day gave the address of a man who committed suicide as "living over a saloon at 17 Quincy street, Cambridge." There are no saloons—theoretically at least—in the University City and the designated number is the address of the President of Harvard University! Acting, however, on the clue furnished by this newspaper account, another brilliant editor sent a reporter post haste out to Cambridge to investigate. The young man inflicted himself on President Lowell just as his guest, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, was going to bed. The reporter was with difficulty convinced that no kitchen barroom was connected with the establishment. Still another Boston paper last week made a monumental discovery. Boston street car conductors were to be given lessons in elocution. This is the day of rapid transit courtesy, so it was observed. Already the Boston Elevated Railway Company with its "Women First, Please" signs is endeavoring to check the practice of men and boys jumping aboard moving cars before the women and girls have even a fighting chance for seats. And now—as the yellow paper represented the case somewhat derisively—the company is at last about to improve the speech and manners of its own employees. Conductors have been ordered to take vocal lessons and sing Christmas carols in order to live up to the requirements. They are expected to find the natural key of their voices and speak freely, not permitting the tone to become hard; to study to speak pleasantly and always to face the person spoken to; to keep the lungs and throat open and center all extra effort in the middle of the body and not in the throat, and to do other things taught in every good school of public speaking. The joke about this humorous little story of the Boston Elevated's very laudable attempt to make the announcements of streets intelligible to their patrons is that these rules and regulations for conductors' guidance have been posted up at the car barns for many years past; that they were widely commented upon when first adopted and that they have worked out very successfully in practice, as every visitor to Boston notes. This is really one of the many respects in which the street car service of the hub has long surpassed that of many other cities—its conductors do not, as a rule, make their announcements as if swallowing hot potatoes.

"To Who," he said, but not being a Bostonian by birth, he was forgiven his ungrammatical speech. The unusual spectacle of a large grey owl perched on one ofthe trees in the King's chapel burial ground, the well known headquarters of the English sparrows, where he is said to have gazed unblinkingly at the City Hall, is taken as direct evidence of the approval felt in the bird and animal kingdom regarding the recent decision of the City Council to appropriate $119,000 from the Parkman fund toward establishing a proper zoological garden and aquarium in the modern Athens. The owl was ever a wise old bird, and of course was first to grasp the advantages presented in the new zoo. Other cities, as a rule, are obliged to buy inhabitants for their zoological gardens, or depend upon gifts therefor, but Boston, apparently, is to be different. Mayor Fitzgerald feels that this is one of the most remarkable tributes to his administration, and Secretary MacMoore is quoted as expressing his belief that many other birds and animals are on their way and will doubtless have to be cared for in garages until the zoo is ready for them. The owl, however, has thus far had nothing to say for publication. At any rate, Boston is to have its zoo and aquarium, after thirty long years of agitation by the Zoological Society, the indefatiguable animal painter, Alexander Pope, and many others. In a few years the Boston girl will be able to talk back to New York cousins and get even for some of the slurring things the Gothamites are always ready to say about our provincial little burg. Ethel Angier.

SANTA CLAUSES ARE SAFE

Warrants For Their Arrests Not Recognized by Chief of Police

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 24.—John Doe warrants for sixteen Salvation Army Santa Clauses and kettle men who have been soliciting Christmas funds on the streets were issued by a police magistrate.

The warrants, all of which charge vagrancy, are on complaint of "Sister" Flora M. Pilkiss, a street missionary, who made an attack upon some of the Santa Clauses, upsetting their kettles of money.

Sister Pilkiss asserts "there are no Santa Clauses, and it is a shame to deceive the children." Police Chief Doal has refused to serve the warrants.

OPPONENT FOR LODGE

Is Still Being Sought by Democrats of the Bay State

Boston, Dec. 24.—The Democratic members of the legislature are still seeking a candidate for United States senator. Ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, who was managing the campaign of William A. Gaston, is in a receptive mood.

Representative Thomas P. Riley, chairman of the Democratic legislative committee, gave out a statement in which he said that either John R. Thayer of Worcester, James B. Carroll of Springfield, Josiah Quincy of Boston or John W. Cummings of Fall River would have the unanimous support of the Democratic members of the legislature.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Cheerfulness

pays and cheerfulness replaces grouch when stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are helped naturally to do their duty by

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

Headache

"My father has been a sufferer from sick headache for the last twenty-five years and never found any relief until he began taking your Cascarets. Since he has begun taking Cascarets he has never had the headache. They have entirely cured him. Cascarets do what you recommend them to do. I will give you the privilege of using his name."—E. M. Dickson, 1120 Resiner St., W. Indianapolis, Ind.

Pleasant. Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 925

FLOWERING PLANTS

For Xmas Gifts

Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.

Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.

PATTERSON, "The Florist"

92 South Central Ave.

WOLLASTON, MASS.

Telephone 392 Quincy

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN

SEND FOR

HOLMES & HALL

38 Washington St., Quincy

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

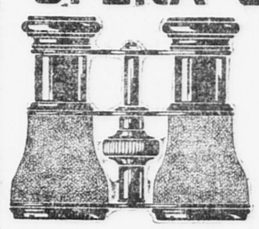
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

LLOYD'S OPERA GLASSES



IMPORTED

Black Morocco $4.50

Pearl 6.50

Catalogue on Application

BROWNIES

Kodaks and Films

ALL SIZES

FROM $1.00 UPWARD

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.

1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE

ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

Dry Your Clothes on a Wet Washday

With a New Perfection Oil Heater

When clothes can't be hung outside, and must be dried in a room or cellar, the New Perfection Oil Heater quickly does the work of sun and air. You can hang up the wet clothes, light your Perfection Oil Heater, open the damper top, and the heat rises and quickly dries the clothes.

Do not put off washing to await a sunny day in order to avoid mildew. Dry your washing any day with hot air from a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless.

It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and can always be easily unscrewed for rewicking.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not need to be screwed down, but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in japan or nickel, strong and durable, well-made, built for service and yet light and ornamental. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company

(Incorporated)

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	52 degrees
December 24, 1909,	32 degrees
December 24, 1908,	31 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Lincalde's Annex—Christmas Gift Shop
R. E. Foy & Co.—Merry Christmas
Lost
To Let Probate Notices

SPECIAL.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Norfolk county. It takes years to build up a big circulation; the Daily Ledger has been steadily increasing for 25 years. Most everybody reads the Daily Ledger.

COMING EVENTS.

Jan. 2—Banquet—City Council.
3—Oratorio—Quincy Choral So.
4—Whist—Quincy Catholic Club.
5—Twelfth Night Revels—Women's Club.
6—Arlington Glee Club—Y. P. R. U.
6—Dance—Union 305.
10—Ex-Gov. Guild—Women's Club 2.30 P. M.
13—College Club Banquet—Q. Y. M. C. A.
13—Dance—Cochato Club. Braintree.
24—Musicale—Women's Club, 2.30 P. M.
31—Sanitation Lecture—Women's Club, 3 P. M.
Feb. 3—Ball—Quincy Police Relief Asso.

BRIEFS

Mr. Chubbuck of Washington street was taken ill Friday. The doctor thought he had a slight shock.

The Civic League meeting announced for Jan. 3 will probably be held a month later, having been postponed because of conflict in dates.

There was a general exchange of Christmas remembrances among the clerks in the several offices at City Hall this morning. Mysterious packages, neatly wrapped in white paper and tied with colored ribbon were flying about lively just before the closing hour.

After today the Woman's Exchange of the Quincy Women's club at the store of W. G. Shaw will be discontinued, but there will be the usual exchange at the clubhouse each club afternoon.

☞Save a little of your Christmas money for the "Creation" concert Jan. 3.

BIRTHS

WARD—In Norway, Maine, Dec. 21, a son to Rev. and Mrs. Merrill C. Ward.

DEATHS

LATHROP—In Boston, Dec. 22, Mr. Orlando F. Lathrop in his 54th year. Funeral services at late home, 40 Billings street, Atlantic, Sunday, Dec. 25, at 9.30 A. M. Relatives and friends invited.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BRIEFS

Miss Hayward gave a party to her dancing classes in Colonial hall last evening.

The Bricklayers and Masons held their regular meeting in Electa hall Friday evening.

Wonder why Mayor Shea was going about with a piece of misletoe in the buttonhole of his coat this morning.

Miss Nellie Barnard is home from the hospital and is recovering slowly from her recent illness.

The Sunday school of the Memorial church will hold its Christmas exercises at Music hall tonight at half past seven.

The clerks at the Quincy post office were kept at work until after 11 o'clock last night in order that there might be no delay in getting off the Christmas mail.

The funeral services of William Packard were held at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. D. Chase, 236 Goffe street, Friday afternoon. Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, pastor of Bethany Congregational church, conducted the services. Interment was at the Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Frederic Kennedy of Portland, Maine, who is to sing at the "Creation" concert, is tenor soloist at the Rogers Memorial church at Fairhaven. His fine voice and pleasing personality have won many admirable press notices and he is rapidly coming to the front as a concert and oratorio singer.

The Christmas festivities of the Memorial Congregational Sunday school will be held Saturday evening in Music hall. There will be a Christmas tree with Santa Claus dispensing the gifts. This will be followed by a social hour. Sunday evening a concert will be given by the school, Miss Jessie French in charge.

The snow storm predicted for Friday night turned out to be rain. It was not until long toward noon today, however, that it began to rain hard. Then it came down hard quickly carrying away what snow and ice there was in the streets. There is time enough yet, for the rain to turn to snow so that there may be a white Christmas.

TRIPLETS REPORTED.

The Herald has a dispatch from Newton, Miss., which says: Mrs. William Norman, 42 years old, living near here, has become the mother of her 17th child. She gave birth to a nine-pound boy, and later, two more boys, 10 and 11 pounds, respectively, arrived. The triplets are healthy and vigorous. The 14 children previously born to the woman are all alive. The father is a farmhand and his wages are $9 a week.

NORTH ADAMS WET.

The no-license workers in North Adams were rejoicing over their victory by one vote on election day. A recount was demanded and last night it was announced that the town would be wet for another year. The result of 1480 to 1473 on the recount.

LOCAL SPORTS.

It is rumored that George Twohey, who has been backing Bob Somerville the wrestling champion, has leased the Scenic building where the sporting public will be given an opportunity to see the best athletes in the East. Running races, wrestling and boxing matches and all kinds of athletic contests will take place during the winter.

CHILEAN BATTLESHIPS.

The Globe prints the following Washington dispatch: Bids for the construction of the two new Chilean battleships will be opened in London Jan. 10, and it is said at the state department that the prospects are favorable for securing a modification of the proposed contract so that British shipwrights will not be given a particular advantage in the bidding over American interests.

There has as yet been no change, however, in the original plan, which provided that the armor and armament for the two vessels must be bought in England. American contractors, it is said, will bid for the vessels and it is believed here that the discriminatory provision will be eliminated.

—The C. E. Tayntor Granite Co., of Barre and New York has been put in an embarrassing situation, because of report of dissolution. It seems they had charters under the laws of New York and also of Maine. No business has been done under the former which was recently annulled; hence the report. The company will continue as a Maine corporation.

—Which would you rather do, asks the Somerville Journal, keep the grass trimmed with the lawnmower, or take care of the furnace regularly and shovel snow every little while?

SOME SHOPLIFTING HERE.

It is not perhaps generally known that there has been more or less petty shoplifting in the Quincy stores during the past week, particularly in the 5 and 10 cent stores. Officers in these stores at night and quite a number have been caught in the act. The shoplifters caught have not been confined to poor people by any means, for some of them were well dressed as well as being well known to the officers who caught them.

In one case a woman and young child was caught, the shoplifting being done by the child under the direction of her mother. In this case the people were evidently poor, for the child wore no rubbers and her shoes were old and cut at the bottom.

In every case the offenders were taken before the manager of the store, who refused to prosecute.

FLEET FOR CUBA.

A dispatch from Washington says: For the protection of her coast, Cuba is contemplating the construction of six vessels adapted to coast guard service, according to advices received by the State Department. These vessels will have a speed of not less than 10 knots, and a draft not exceeding six feet. The tenders invited for the construction of the vessels will close Jan. 8.

It is understood that the Fore River Ship Building Co. is to make a bid for these vessels.

CHINESE CRUISER.

American naval shipwrights have managed to secure another contract from abroad says a Washington dispatch to the Record. Though the boat is a little one, being a training cruiser of 2,600 tons for the Chinese navy, it is believed to be the precursor to other orders. This contract of the signing of which the state department has just been notified is probably the result of the visit to this country last summer of the Chinese commission headed by Tsai Hsun.

AT BRAINTREE.

Sunday morning at All Souls' church the pastor, Rev. Daniel Leroy Freeman will have for his sermon "The Spirit of Christmas." Special music has been arranged the church quartet being assisted by Henry Eichheim, violin, and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt will preside at the organ. A special collection will be taken at this service for the Sunday school. The program will be as follows:

Prelude (Organ and Violin)—"Romanze" Franz Ries
Canticle—"Lift up your heads" Coleridge-Taylor
Selected Sentences and Invocation
Responsive Service
Anthem—"The pillars of the earth" Rogers
Scripture Reading
Anthem—"Be ye all of one mind" Godfrey
Scripture Reading
Violin Solo—"Erotikon" Grieg
Prayer
Soprano and Bass Duet—"Come unto Me" Morrison
Hymn
Sermon—"The Spirit of Christmas"
Offertory (Organ and Violin)—"Ave Maria" Schubert
Entrance of the Kindergarten Class
Hymn
Benediction
Postlude

In the afternoon at 4.30 o'clock there will be vesper service which promises to equal the standard of those given in the past by All Souls' church. There will be a string trio Henry Eichheim, violin, Emil Ferir, viola, Rudolph Nagel, 'cello, assisted by Mrs. Hunt at the organ. The program:

Quartet—"Traum-Pantomime" Humperdinck
Invocation
Trio—"Pastorale" Godard
Scripture Reading
Trio—"Excerpt from Samson et Dalila" Saint-Saens
Hymn
Quartet—"The Lord's Prayer" Miskow
Prayer
Violin Solo—"Reve d'Enfant" Ysaye
Address—"Peace on Earth"
Offertory (Quartet—"Ave, Maris Stella" Grieg Quartet—"Symphony in B Minor (First Movement) Schubert
Benediction
Postlude

TODAY'S COURT.

John Reynolds and Frederick Mellow were arraigned for assault on Kenneth Simpson at Quincy. Cases continued until next Tuesday.

Antonio Rizzi was arraigned for threatening assault at Weymouth. He was put under bonds to keep the peace.

Mrs. Stiles—"I shall never invite Mr. Funniman to dinner again."

Mr. Stiles—"Why not? He is a very entertaining chap."

Mrs. Stiles—"That's just it. He tells such funny stories that he makes the butler laugh."—Harper's Bazar.

Social Realm

(Continued from page 3.)

Miss Helen Wade now of Milwaukee and her brother, Howard G. Wade of Chicago, are to spend the Christmas holidays with cousins in Sioux City, it being too far to come east to spend it with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund R. Wade of Elm avenue.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Low go over to New York today to spend the Christmas holidays with Mr. Low's father. They will return after the New Year.

* * *

Mr. John Evans of Copeland street left Thursday for Washington, D. C., to be the guest of his daughter Mrs. Arthur Vinton Curtis.

* * *

N. S. Sanford of Freeman street is spending two weeks at Oxford, Cumberland County, Nova Scotia.

* * *

Plans for the Twelfth Night Revels are nearing completion. The patronesses are: Mrs. Redfield Allen, Mrs. Albert E. Avery, Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Joseph Dasha, Mrs. E. E. Davis, Mrs. Frank S. Davis, Mrs. W. H. Doble, Mrs. Sarah E. Edwards, Mrs. Frank A. Emery, Mrs. H. M. Faxon, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, Mrs. Melvin T. Holbrook, Mrs. Henry Holden, Mrs. N. S. hunting, Mrs. E. E. Jameson, Mrs. H. L. Kincaide, Mrs. Theo. King, Mrs. Russell C. Low, Mrs. Robert E. Park, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, Mrs. Walter E. Piper, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Miss Edith Randall, Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Mrs. Elmer Ricker, Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs. W. G. Shaw, Mrs. Joseph M. Sheahan, Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. James H. Stetson, Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Mrs. John F. Welch.

* * *

Mrs. Shirley F. Nutting is the guest of Mrs. John Hall over the holidays.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hayden of Minneapolis, Minn., are spending the holiday with Mr. Hayden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hayden of 9 Hancock court.

BRAINTREE PHILERGIANS.

Tuesday, Dec. 20, the Philergians met, with Mrs. William F. Rogers, the president in the chair. Mrs. William Gallagher reported on the art conference of the State Federation held Dec. 2, at the Art Museum.

The following Philergian meeting Jan. 3 is to consist of an illustrated lecture by Dr. Benjamin Sharp on "Alaska and Siberia." Mrs. George O. Wales gave a brief sketch of his life and activities. He is a zoologist connected with Woods Hole and the University of Pennsylvania ,and has traveled extensively in connection with his work, once accompanying Peary to the Arctic region.

The afternoon program consisted of a lecture on Robert Burns by the Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern. He emphasized the national character of Burns' poetry, and that he did not turn to history or the classical world for inspiration; and that all his poetry on nature, was colored with the human element. Mr. Crathern left with the audience, a feeling of sympathy for Burns' miserable life. Mrs. Albert Avery sang "Highland Mary," "Auld Lang Syne" and other of Burn's songs. A tea ended the program with Mrs. William F. Hathaway and Mrs. Walter E. Morrison serving.

THE BOSTON TRANSCRIPT.

Why Its Circulation and Influence Increases.

The persistent aim of the makers of the Boston Transcript is to conduct a newspaper fair to all, assuming that every story has two sides, each having rights to be respected. Nowadays a daily paper that is clean and wholesome in its news columns, and at the same time instructive from a literary point of view is not to be found in every city. Such a paper wherever found should be preferred to all others. In Boston, the Evening Transcript has the circulation of character. It is universally understood to be the best family daily in that city. It has been published with the same policy—in fact, by the same family—for eighty years. This paper is the only one in Boston that a man may take into his home with absolute certainty that it contains nothing that he would not have his wife and children see. If you want a clean, able, fair minded paper send for sample copy.

—We don't blame a man for wanting to be a leader, but it is better to follow a good example than to set a bad one.

SUNDAY SERVICES

CHRISTMAS SUNDAY

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Unitarian)—Rev. E. C. Butler, Russell Park, pastor; Rev. C. B. Ames, 121 Goffe street, assistant pastor. Morning worship at 10.30 Sermon by pastor. 12 M. Christmas session of Sunday school with illustrated talk by Supt. C. H. Johnson.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Holy Communion at 8 A. M. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30 A. M. Carol service and address at 7 P. M.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington Street. Morning worship 10.30. Address by Rev. John Evans Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Y. P. C. U. at 6 P. M.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Quincy Point.—Rev. Charles P. Marshall, pastor. Sailors Snug Harbor service at 9 A. M. Morning worship at 10.45 Subject "The Coming of God." Sunday school at 12 M. Evening service at 7.30. Subject "The Meaning of Christmas."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, -- Franklin street—Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor, residence 208 Franklin street. Morning service at 10.30. Theme: "The church that lacked with plenty." Sunday school at 11.45 A. M. Davis class for men at the same hour. All men invited. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Praise and Preaching service at 7 P. M. Theme, "An Inquiry." A Christmas sermon. A cordial invitation is extended to all. "Behold we bring you good tidings of great joy." Come and hear the "good tidings."

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Fore Square. Rev. A. M. Thompson pastor Residence 182 Glendale road Quincy. Morning service 10.30. Topic; "Christmas Sermon." Sunday school and Men's League at 11.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7. Rev. Dr. Kneeland will preach. The choir have arranged a good program for these services. All welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Corner Quincy and Water streets. Rev. James A Matheson, minister. Morning worship at 10.30 Christmas sermon. Bible school 11.45. Men's class at same hour. C. E. at 6 Evening worship and praise at 7. Christmas music at all services on Christmas day. Thursday Young People's meeting at 7 P. M. Preparatory prayer service 7.30 P. M.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. Carl H. Raupach pastor. Residence 12 Hall place. Morning Worship at 10.30. Sermon appropriate to Christmas. Sunday school at 11.45. Christmas concert by the Sunday school at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M. A cordial welcome for all.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor. Residence 81 Prospect avenue. Tel 341-4 Morning service at 10.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Sunday school and Junior Endeavor society omitted. Preaching by the pastor morning and evening. Morning subject "At Bethlehem's Manger." Evening subject "The Wise men of old and the Truly wise men of today."

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Edward A. Chase, minister. Parsonage 20 Marion street. Tel. Quincy 664-1. 10.45 Morning service and Christmas sermon. No session of Sunday school. Evening worship at 7, subject, "The childhood of Jesus," illustrated by stereopticon pictures.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH—Corner Beale and Safford streets. Rev. Wesley Wiggin, pastor. Residence 52 Brook street, Telephone Quincy 378-2. 10.45 A. M. Sermon by pastor subject "The Wonderful Christ." No session of Sunday school or Junior League. Vespers at 5.45.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory 593 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 7 A. M. Morning service and sermon at 10.30. Evening prayer and address at 7.30.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Services in Music hall. Morning worship at 10.45 Christmas sermon by pastor. Special Christmas music by chorus. 7 P. M. Christmas concert.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (Independent national) Protection hall, Johnson building, Quincy Center. Divine services at 3 P. M. Lecture by H. P. Gleason Subject "The Suggestion of God's Eternal Purpose in the First Commandment." Tracts free No collection.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Braintree, Post Office Block. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject: "Christian Science." Golden Text "And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold I make all things new. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely." Revelation 21: 5, 6 Wednesday 7.45 P. M. a testimony and experienced meeting Reading rooms open every week day from 3 to 5 P. M. Holidays excepted. All are welcome.

Makaria Fraternity
SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square
If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.
A warm welcome—Hearty singing—A helpful hour together.

BRAINTREE

Herbert Mann, a student at the Manor school, Stamford, Conn., is at his parents' home on Mt. Vernon avenue for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenleaf of Mount Vernon avenue have gone to New Britain, Conn., to spend the holidays with Mrs. Greenleaf's parents Mr. and Mrs. Puthill.

Mrs. Henry S. Blanchard who has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Caleb S. Hollis of Cherry street, returned to her home in Allston Wednesday.

On Christmas Sunday morning at the First Congregational church, the music rendered by the quartet will be taken from Dudley Buck's celebrated cantata, "The Coming of the King." This is a grand composition musically and no one should miss the opportunity of hearing it.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Black dog with long hair brown legs and head. White on end of tail. Reward if returned to M. Jansson, 4 Prospect Hill, West Quincy. Dec. 24-3t

SOUTH BRAINTREE.

Rev. Andrew J. Fitzgerald of Washington street is rapidly recovering from the effects of his recent accident.

Rev. Edward Norton of Quincy will occupy the pulpit at the South Congregational church, Sunday morning. His theme will be "The World's Sunrise."

Mrs. L. M. Moody and Mr. and Mrs. George Plummer have moved from Hall avenue to Somerville. Their many friends hope that good fortune will abide with them.

Difficulties with a transformer in South Braintree square on Saturday night was the cause of darkness in many homes and some stores where electric lights were installed.

At the meeting in G. A. R. hall Thursday night of the social whist club eleven tables were in play. The highest scores were made by Fred Weston, Jerry DeCoste, Andrew Nichols and Read Stedman.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of Sarah B. Plummer, late of Meddybemps, Maine, having estate in said County of Norfolk, deceased, testate:
WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration with the will annexed on the estate of said deceased not already administered, to Helen B. Jenness of Boston, Mass., or some other suitable person. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all devisees and legatees named in said will seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 24-3t 24, 31, 7

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the trusts under the will of Sarah B. Plummer late of Meddybemps, Maine, having estate in said County of Norfolk, deceased:
WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court by Helen B. Jenness of Boston in the County of Suffolk praying to be appointed trustee under the will of said deceased, which has been proven in said Court, in place of Charles M. Jenness a deceased trustee. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-third day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 24-3t 24, 31, 7

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court
To the next-of-kin and all other persons interested in Robert Voight of Quincy in said County of Norfolk minor:
WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court by Irene M. Forbes of Quincy in the County of Norfolk praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person as guardian of said minor. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the fourth day of January A. D. 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed as aforesaid. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Kindred at least seven days before said Court.
Witness James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
3-tDec. 24-31 Jan. 2

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL
Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
25c VARIETY
TODAY 17 cent PER JAR
At JOHNSON BROS.

WANTED

WANTED—Experienced bookkeeper with some knowledge of typewriting. Steady position with a Quincy business house located near city square. Address F. N. Ledger office. Dec. 23-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy. All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—Burroughs combination billiard and pool table with fixtures, all in good repair. Price $15.00. Inquire at 109 Billings street, Atlantic. Dec. 8-15t 10,-2wP

TO LET

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms--Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x48 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 300 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 27, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON IN QUINCY CHURCHES

Attractive Musical Programs at Many of the Sunday Services

Sunday School Festivals on Saturday and Monday

The Swedish churches followed the custom of the mother country in celebrating Christmas. The early morning service the Julotta was held in all four churches at 5.30 in three of them and at 5 o'clock in the fourth. The day was ushered in at that hour by the church bells.

SWEDISH METHODIST.

The church was well filled at 5.30 Sunday morning for the annual Christmas service. The pastor took for his text "When the shepherds heard the song of the angels." Three special Christmas anthems were rendered by the choir. The church was decorated with trees and the national colors of Sweden and the Stars and Stripes.

The children's concert was given at 6.30 Sunday evening. The program was excellent in every particular. Songs and recitations by the children, piano solos and duets, readings and carols all contributed to the enjoyment of the evening. A Christmas tree was prepared for the children. Each was given a box containing candy and oranges. The pastor Rev. C. E. Rydstrom, the organist Miss Walborg Peterson and the Sunday school superintendent were presented with purses of gold by the church. The church was crowded with children, parents and friends, all of whom were very appreciative and generous with their presents and their applause.

SWEDISH BAPTIST.

The Julotta was held at 5.30 Sunday morning. The attendance was unusually large and the special anthems by the choir were especially good. The pastor delivered an eloquent sermon on the subject: "God's giving."

The Sunday school concert was given Monday evening. Most of the program consisted of songs and recitations by the different classes. Two splendid carols were sung by the choir Miss Edith Gibson rendered an excellent violin solo, with Miss Mildred DeBoer accompanying on the piano. The Baraca class sang a Christmas song which was very well rendered.

Following the usual custom, the church presented Bibles to all those whose 15th birthdays came during the year. The young people who received bibles were: Carl Ahlstrom, Knute Blomquist, Esther Carlson, Lillian Carlson, Florence Lund, Clarence Lundin and Phillip Landerholm.

The pastor presented books to 12 boys and girls who were in his special bible study class. Apples and candy were distributed among the children. The pastor received a very handsome sum of money as a gift from the church.

WOLLASTON M. E.

There was special music at the Christmas service at the Wollaston M. E. church on Sunday morning. The pastor's subject was "The wonderful Christ. Christmas vespers were held at 5.45, the subject of the pastor's talk was "The birthday of a King."

The time of the red and blue contest of the Epworth League is two thirds gone, and the score is 400 to 247 in favor of the Blues.

The Pilgrim Union will meet Thursday evening at Mattapan. Supper at 6.30. Election of officers at 7.30.

Next Sunday the sessions of the Sunday School and Junior League will be resumed. Love feast at 10.15 in the vestry. Communion at close of the morning sermon.

FIRST CHURCH.

There was a good attendance at the Christmas festival of the Sunday School of the First church Saturday evening although rainy. The Sunday school gathered in the main church at 6.30 and sang Christmas carols and listened to a Christmas story by Rev. C. B. Ames. An adjournment was then made to the chapel where there was a Christmas tree with Santa Claus. Here carols were also sung and there were presents for all of the children. The festival was in charge of Superintendent Charles H. Johnson and all had a grand good time.

Sunday morning Rev. E. C. Butler preached an interesting sermon on the church and the state which he said should come together again for the common good.

Immediately following the morning service there was a Sunday School service. This service was a story of Child Christ the Good Shepherd and was illustrated with stereopticon views. The story was given by Superintendent Charles H. Johnson. The school sang a number of carols which were illustrated with the stereopticon.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

A rich musical program was rendered at Bethany church Christmas Sunday under the direction of Ellen Beale Morey, the organist, including carols, anthems, a trio, hymn and selections from Beethoven, Wagner and Mendelssohn by organ and piano for prelude, response and postlude. Miss Bertha L. Hanson was the pianist, Mrs. Emma S. Moore and Albert L. Hayden the soloists, and both the church chorus and the boys choir participated. "Christmas pictures" was the subject of the sermonette by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Hardy. The church was prettily decorated with evergreen and large Christmas bells.

There was also Christmas music at the evening service, and the sessions of the Bible school and young people were largely Christmas services. Miss Margery Melcher, the National secretary, was leader of the Endeavor meeting.

The heavy rain somewhat interfered with the Christmas festival of the Bible school on Saturday evening, but many young people attended, and had a jolly time.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

The Sunday evening service was of a special Christmas character. The pastor preached a fine sermon on the theme "Where is he that is born King of the Jews?" In the sermon he pointed out that the whole world was looking for a great king. In China, in Chaldea, Persia, Egypt and Arabia as well as in Palestine everyone was awaiting the birth of the Son of God. The life of Christ was followed in answering the question; first, his birth; then his conversation with the wise men, his healing the sick and his ministry, and finally Gethsemane and the resurrection. Special Christmas music was rendered by the soloist, Miss Blodwen Walters.

The children's entertainment was held Monday evening. The program was extensive and every number was well presented. Songs, recitations, dialogues and a short address by the pastor all furnished enjoyment to a large and attentive audience. A solo, "Under the snow," by Margaret Ingles, was especially well rendered. The children were given the usual presents of candy and oranges and the pastor was presented with a purse of gold by the church. J. E. Mundie, president of the Davis class, made the presentation speech.

HALL PLACE M. E.

The annual Christmas tree social of the Hall Place M. E. Sunday School was held in the vestry Saturday evening. An entertainment consisting of chorus singing, recitations and a duet, in charge of Miss Ada Williams was given at 7 P. M., after which Wesley Williams, as the representative of Santa Claus, paid a visit to the children and distributed presents and good things to eat to all. The committee in charge consisted of the officers and teachers of the Sunday School.

Rev. Carl H. Raupach preached an excellent sermon on "The Christmas Prophesy" at the Hall Place M. E. church Sunday, taking his text from Luke 1-78 and 79, "Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us to give light."

Sunday School was held at 11.45. In the absence of both the superintendent and his assistant, Rev. Carl H. Raupach took charge. Both the Junior League and Epworth League services were omitted.

At 7 P. M. the Sunday School rendered its annual Christmas concert, with the program including recitations by Grace Newcomb, Charles Polli, Elizabeth Williams, Ethel Newcomb, Mabel Hayden, Paul Raupach, Lillian Williams, Sarah Fuller, Violet Jilbert, Ralph Newcomb, John Roberts, Gertrude Trottman, Hannah Roberts, Emily Polli, Herbert Fuge and Robert McCormick; songs by the school; exercise by Ethel Nichols, Edna Miller, and Addie Newcomb, exercise by Milton Campbell, Henry Nichols and Russell Williams; exercise by Sadie Clark, Edith Trask, Hildred Hanson and Ethel Miller.

The church was prettily decorated in red and green with bright ornaments, the decorating being in charge of Miss Hilda Francis, Miss Ada Williams and Clyde Hannaut.

(Continued on Page 6.)

AFTER ENGLISH CUSTOM

Old Country Christmas Party at Electa Hall

Christmas was celebrated Saturday night in a genuine old country style at Electa hall, the participants being former residents of East and West Hartlepool, twin towns on the northeast coast of England, now living in Quincy. There were nearly two hundred people on hand, two thirds of whom were children, who made the best of the occasion and enjoyed themselves to the limit.

A beautiful Christmas tree laden with toys decorated one end of the hall. "Geordie" Burgess, in handsome scarlet robe and huge beard impersonated Santa Claus, and dispensed to the children as they passed before him, those presents which delight the hearts of the youngsters; dolls and dinner sets, drums, trumpets, tool sets and the like.

Another feature was the appearance of the Bucking Broncho, the versatile Burgess assuming this role also. After endeavoring to prevent several husky boys from sticking to his back for several minutes "Geordie" voted in favor of dancing and singing and was chased from the room by the youthful cowboys.

An excellent program was arranged the contributors being Mrs. H. Newson, Miss Ingles, Messrs Atkinson, F. Pringle, P. Garland, E. Gardner (alias Miss Kennedy,) W. Ingles, T. Sudron, G. Castle, G. Burgess, R. Greenhough and W. Dowell. There was a bountiful saply of refreshments on hand, served by the committee: Messrs R. Winship, chairman, G. Burgess, W. Dowell, H. Short, R. Thompson, M. Thompson, W. Ingles, P. Garland, G. Castle, and W. Robinson. Gilbert Booth presided at the piano, and the crowd adjourned at midnight after singing the American and English National anthems and Auld Lang Syne.

DWELLING BURNED.

The house at 381 Liberty street, East Braintree, owned by Augustus T. Wentworth and occupied by him and his family was totally destroyed by fire Sunday evening.

The alarm was sounded about 8.15 by John Ryan from box 125, he having been informed by a passerby that the building was in flames. It is probable that the fire had been burning for some time and it is thought to have been if incendiary origin as the family were away, the fires practically out and no matches lying about.

The house and contents which were partly insured were a total loss and Mr. Wentworth and family were taken care of at the home of his father Mr. F. E. Wentworth who lives near. The fire was officially declared out at 10.15 o'clock and nothing but a smoking heap of ruins was left of a snug little home. The sympathy of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth is extended to them in their misfortune.

SCHOOL STREET FIRE.

Box 331, one of the new fire alarm boxes, located on the corner of School and Franklin streets, was sounded shortly after midnight Sunday morning for a fire in the boarding house of Mrs. James Park, situated on the corner of School and Marsh streets opposite the Police station. The fire was caused by one of the boarders smoking a cigarette in bed which set the bed clothing on fire. The fire made a dense smoke and seemed more serious than it was. The women folks ran across the street in scant attire and remained in the Police station until the excitement had died down. The fire was quickly extinguished with a loss of $50.

NOT AT PRESENT.

The Argentine Government has decided to delay the construction of a third dreadnought, which is to be identical with those for which the Fore River Shipbuilding Company was awarded the contract. The Cabinet recently approved the building of a third dreadnought, but it is thought desirable to await the result of tests of new guns that are projected.—Transcript.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEDICATION

Address Will Be By Thomas F. Fitzgerald of Boston

Houghs Neck residents are arranging for a fitting dedication of the new school building. The dedication will be in charge of the Houghs Neck Associates and will be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. During these hours the building will be open for public inspection, and there will be an address by Thomas F. Fitzgerald of Boston. A lunch will also be served in the basement of the new building. One of the features of the dedication will be raising of a large American flag, which will hereafter fly over the school building. The Associates will meet Wednesday evening to complete plans for the dedication.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Arthur Keeler of Tyler street, Norfolk Downs, is seriously ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bent and two children of West Quincy are spending the holidays with relatives at Concord.

There was much entertaining in Quincy over the holidays and house parties were the rule.

John Adams Thayer was a holiday guest of his nephew James H. Slade of Edgemere road.

There is a new Adams express office located at the Montclair station with D. A. Thomley as agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bates of Wollaston announce the engagement of their daughter Marian to Mr. Chester E. Tenney of Weymouth.

William C. King of Kent street, who was in his 81st year passed away on Sunday. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook gave a Christmas tree party to her music pupils on Monday evening at her home on Holbrook road.

William Williams of Stafford Springs Conn., and Ernest Williams of Villanover, Pa., are home for the Christmas holidays.

The Sunday school of the First Universalist church will hold their Christmas concert and tree in the vestry of the church this evening at seven o'clock.

Charles S. Tuck of Billings road, who has been confined to his home for three weeks on account of illness resumed his duties with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company last week.

IN MOTHER CLASS.

Chief Constructor Watt, of the U. S. navy, has recommended to the Navy department that the Columbia and Minneapolis be turned into "mother ships" for submarine boats.

QUINCY POST OFFICE.

Letters unclaimed for week ending Saturday Dec. 24:

G. W. Bissonnette, Ed. Carroll, E. C. Crawley, Mr. Dugan, Joe Galbrath, Julius Jemery, Mrs. A. Levens, Carmine Marchianne, Luigi Parquale, E. C. Piper, Henry Roussell, Jerry Sanhier, Hilma Teirila, Prof. George G. Wilson.

DIARY FOR 1911.

A valuable 38 page diary for 1911 may be obtained by sending 4 one-cent stamps to D. Swift & Co., patent lawyers, Washington, D. C. This diary is worth 25 cents and contains a memoranda and date for each day in the year; the census of 1900 and 1910 of the States; nearly 300 of the largest cities; synopsis of useful every-day information; business laws; patent laws and how to obtain and sell a patent; business forms, postage rates; and the amount of corn, wheat, oats, tobacco and cotton produced in each State.

☞Haydn's "Creation" to be given by the Choral society at Music hall Jan. 3, is creating much interest and a great demand for tickets.

HOLIDAY AT CLUB ROOMS

Granite City Club Have a Christmas Party

Good cheer reigned supreme Saturday evening at the rooms of the Granite City club. There was an unusually large attendance of members and some guests. There was no special program in the way of entertainment, but Monk's orchestra was present, and from 8 to 12 o'clock furnished a musical program that included all the popular airs. The billiard and pool tables were in constant use, and most of the card tables.

At 10 o'clock all gathered about the tables in the card room at which time refreshments were served. These included salad, fruit of all kinds, cider, and hot coffee. Every member and guest was presented with a half pound box of confectionary to take home for the ladies. Then each was given one of John Johnson's special brand of cigars.

No special gifts had been planned, but one of the members feeling particularly generous had brought a lot of toys which he took great delight in presenting to a few selected friends. Taken all together it was one of the most enjoyable night before a holiday evenings in the history of the club.

—The Brockton post office handled over 100,000post cards in the few days preceding Christmas.

☞Heard in passing, "Have you got your tickets for the "Creation" concert?"

K. OF C. CLUBHOUSE.

The new council of the Knights of Columbus at West Quincy has been fortunate in securing a desirable clubhouse, having rented the apartment of fire rooms at 252 Copeland street, over Ames market. The furnishings include a piano, mission furniture and kitchen utensils. The rooms were informally opened Saturday evening, and the members are very enthusiastic.

THIRD CONCERT

Quincy Choral Society

ARTHUR S. WONSON, Conductor

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7.45 P. M.

Haydn's CREATION

SOLOISTS

MRS. GRACE BONNER WILLIAMS, Soprano

FREDERIC KENNEDY, Tenor

FREDERIC MARTIN, Bass

Chorus of 100 Voices

Boston Festival Orchestra

JOHN W. CROWLEY, Principal

Tickets $1.00, 75 and 50 cents

On sale at C. C. Hearn's

ALL SEATS RESERVED

Doors open at 7 o'clock

Dec. 21, 24, 27, 28, 31, 2--6t

CURTICE BROS. BLUE LABEL Raspberry and Strawberry Jam 25c VARIETY TODAY 17 cent PER JAR At JOHNSON BROS.

THE STORE FOR LADIES' FURNISHINGS

WHEELER

Neckwear, Belts, Gloves, Aprons, House Dresses, Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear.

The "Belle" Shirtwaists, May Manton Patterns.

Percales, Prints, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Outing Flannels.

G. W. WHEELER

City Square, Quincy

GRAND CLEARANCE SALE

Beginning Thursday, Dec. 29

Bargains in Every Department

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

The Shirt Waist Store

PETERSON'S SUGGESTIONS

Better BREAD

People use

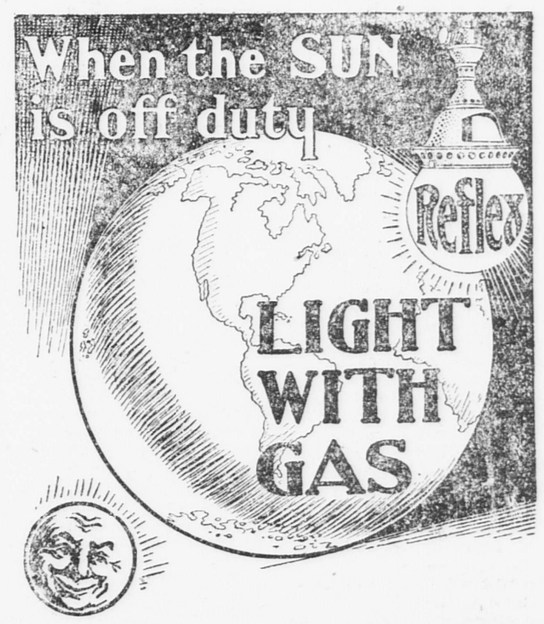
PERFECTION FLOUR

Hundreds of People use our Perfection Flour. We want One Hundred more to become better bread eaters.

ORDER A BAG TODAY.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy



The Reflex Inverted Gas Burner

Price $1.75 Installed

The best substitute for sunlight

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT COMPANY

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite St., Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

The Coffee Trust seems not to have heard of the decrease in the cost of living.

The decayed egg business in New York seems to have been mighty fresh and vigorous.

With all the talk about prices coming down, a half-dollar beef roast remains vest-pocket size.

Some statesmen when they are divorced from the Government payroll act as if they were entitled to alimony.

George Bailey, of the Houston Post, won nine hats on the recent election, but alas, lost his head over the result. Tough isn't it?

New York's "Four Hundred" is a thing of the past, says Frederick Townsend Martin. Too many chorus girls have broken in, probably.

It is reported that now that Col. Gaston is not in the field for the United States senatorship that Hon. Josiah Quincy would like the position.

Moody Boynton and his bicycle railroad are to the front again. He was at the state house last week getting points to present to the legislaure. He contemplates beginning work next summer with the route as orginally laid out from Boston to Fall River via Quincy and Brockton.

It is a question in the minds of many law abiding citizens whether the policy of the Quincy merchants of letting shoplifters go free of punishment is a good thing. That this form of thievery is on the increase in our city is a well known fact, a fact that should receive careful consideration. Is it good heartedness on the part of merchants or a dislike to take the time to push the cases in court? It would seem as though in most cases something more than a heart to heart talk is needed to stamp out the evil.

Did it ever occur to you that the Christmas season is not an entirely joyous one? For many it is full of sadness, memories of other days, or a bereavement too fresh to permit of Christmas cheer. This year Christmas has been much intermixed with joy and sorrow. The week before recorded fires, accidents and causalties that were wide spreading and saddened many firesides. Considering all these things how doubly fortunate are those with no vacant chairs, and no misfortunes and how good for the world at large that there are those who can be joyful and spread joy at this glad season of the year.

It is good to see that our storekeepers are not so greedy after trade as are many in Boston. In Boston some of the so-called better class stores not only work their clerks hard right up to Christmas but in many cases also on the holiday to get ready for a grand clearance sale the day after. This is not only morally wrong but foolish for shoppers as well as clerks are tired out and do not want to start bargain hunting. Why not take a few days to rest up in and let people replenish their depleted purses? In Quincy the stores recuperate a few days from the Christmas rush, look over the stock and about the first of January clearance sales are in full swing, with good bargains offered.

DRIFT OF OPINION

The "Get rich quick" schemes are now being investigated by the postoffice department, because the mails must be used to secure cash in any sort of a plan. The government officials do not bother any concern unless it is plainly a fraud, and such are easily detected. Of course there are many visionaries who start companies and sell stock in dreams, but they really do expect to make money for investors. Such operations are purely speculative. The companies started by tricksters who represent that they are actually making money are the kind the federal officials are after. For instance, if a company should advertise that it would sell stock and made glowing statements regarding its earnings and ability to pay large dividends, and investigation showed that the concern was either not doing business, or was losing money instead of making a profit, then that would be a clear case of obtaining money by false representation, and the backers of the enterprise would be liable to prosecution. A good deal of Salem cash has been lost in wild-cat schemes, and some of the concerns have been of local origin. A few have been so clearly fradulent that it is a wonder prosecutions have not followed the exposure of the rascality. However, as a rule the individual amounts have been small, and the losers have not felt that it would be worth while to start legal proceedings. With the new attitude of the postoffice department there's a possibility that the search-light will be turned on the smaller places, especially if complaints are made. Following this line, it is said that the incoming grand jury may have its attention called to some peculiar financial transactions in this county during the last year or two.—Salem News.

Judge Richardson of the Massachusetts superior court, once more explains to a municipal officer that he has no right to discriminate by awarding contracts to contractors who employ only union labor and who do not make the lowest bid. If the officer in question were building, say, a house for himself for which he was going to pay with his own money, nobody would interfere with him. If he chooses to pay the highest price for the sake of benefitting or recognizing any sort of men, that is his own affair. When it comes to his using the public money in any such way, however, that is another matter. He must spend that money for the benefit of the public, and not for a church, a political party, or a labor union. The principle, or the lack of principle, is the same in one case as in another. This is elementary, and why Boston's superintendent of buildings needs to be taught the lesson by the superior court does not appear.—New Bedford Standard.

The cold air fad, winter bathing and open air fad are becoming so popular that it is not strange that the White Mountain hotels and the Boston & Maine railroad contemplate an extensive advertising of that section as a winter resort. And why not? Thousands used to go to Canada every year to witness the ice carnivals. Ski clubs, snow shoeing and tobogganing in the winter ought to furnish as much amusement as golf and mountain climbing in the summer. Then there will be the pleasant evenings about the open fire places while the wind outside howls a hundred miles a minute or thereabouts.—Spencer Leaders.

A TWELFTH-NIGHT PARTY.

"The sixth of January lends itself for merriment and gaiety out of the usual order, and certainly nothing could be so unique or furnish more real pleasure than an evening en masque," says Woman's Home Companion.

"After all the guests have arrived, at a signal merry bells are jingled, the music starts, and all fall in line and march around the room, swinging hands in a circle; at another signal they arrange themselves about the table, on which reposes the wonderful 'Twelfth-Night Cake of Mystery.' The cake is always placed on a thick mat of holly, with twelve lighted candles arranged around it on the table, the shades of which carry out the special color scheme selected. Over the cake swings a large cotton bell, containing a small metal bell; the hostess rings this to signify that the cake is ready to be cut. Each guest cuts a slice; he who gets the one containing a pea is made King, and the one finding a bean becomes Queen.

"The monarchs are crowned with much ceremony, and together they lead the dance or games of the evening and preside at the head of the festive board. The unlucky possessor of the slice concealing a clove becomes the King's jester, is supplied with a peaked cap and bells, and is expected to amuse the crowd.

"The refreshments should be suggestive of the occasion, and all kinds of rich and palatable viands may be served. The centerpiece may be a Twelfth-Night pie, covered with cream paper, to represent crust, with a perforated slice for each guest. Through the crust pass a ribbon attached to a souvenir placed in the pie; have the ribbon extend to each plate, and fasten to a place card pinned to a tiny, grotesquely dressed doll. Belfano, the Santa Claus of Twelfth Night, should be standing on top of the pie; he may be represented by a tall doll, dressed in an odd hood and long red cloak, in which he is supposed to appear.

"At the conclusion of the feast the hostess draws the first string, after which the others follow her example; the paper easily tears, and great is the excitement as Belfano's ridiculous and odd gifts are drawn out and unwrapped."

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy. Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-3.

ATLANTIC ENTERTAINMENT.

The young people of the Epworth League of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church gave an entertainment in the vestry of the church on Thursday evening, Dec. 22. The program consisted of violin solos by Mr. Hager. Mr. Hager also played the violin accompanied by the phonograph. Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook sang "A dream" by J. C. Bartlett and "A china tragedy." Miss Holbrook played two piano duets with one of her pupils, Miss Eldiene Young; Miss Young is a pianist of skill and grace and is rising in her art. An orchestra consisting of Miss Edna Crockett and Miss Mary Beal, violinists, and Miss Alice Beal, pianist, rendered several selections. A five piece orchestra, consisting of Lewis Bardard, first violinist, Harry Bardard, second violinist, Frank Bardard, 'cellist, Clifton Young, drummer and Miss May Young, pianist, also rendered a number of selections.

A series of tableaux called "A Bachelor's Reverie" were shown. Rev. John Garland took the part of the the bachelor. The parts of the old sweethearts were taken by Miss Emily Keeler, Miss Lucia Cheney, Miss Alice Beal, Miss Mary Beal, Miss Mabel Cheney, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Mabel Stewart, Miss Addie Poquett, Miss Tinah Libey. The part of the bride was taken by Miss Marguerite Holbrook.

At the close of the entertainment, Mr. Cheney played two selections of Frank C. Stanley's on the phonograph. Mr. Stanley was a personal friend of Mr. Cheney's and died in New York just a week ago. Ice cream and cake was served to all at the end of the evening.

CHRISTMAS WEATHER.

Sunday and Monday were ideal days for Christmas. Sunday the air was clear and the ground free from snow and not too cold. It was a fine day to be out of doors, and many people were about making Christmas calls and exchanging gifts. Monday the morning dawned pleasant, but the sun soon became overcast and hazy, and it had every appearance of snow. The snow held off, however, until late in the afternoon and the fall then was not enough to cause any discomforture for travellers. As a whole, both days were all that could be desired unless one wanted lots of snow and sleighing. Automobiling was good and it was surprising to see so many cars out.

SAILORS CHRISTMAS.

Christmas was observed in the usual manner at Sailors Snug Harbor and at the National Sailors Home. Only the necessary work was performed, and the "old salts" were given a typical Christmas dinner with all the "fixins." There were some interchanges of Christmas gifts. After dinner they gathered in the smoking rooms, and while contently smoking their pipes, sea yarns were spun and experiences of their early days lived over again.

RAILROAD MEN ATTEND.

The funeral of Frank O. Lathrop, for many years a trusted employe of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., was held Sunday afternoon from his late home, 40 Billings street, Atlantic, and was largely attended, many of the railroad employes being among those present. The services were conducted by Rev. John Gartland of the Atlantic M. E. church. The burial was at Newport, R. I.

HEAVY CHRISTMAS MAIL.

There are probably none more glad that the Christmas holiday has gone than the letter carriers. It seemed as though there were never so many packages forwarded by mail as this year. For nearly a week now the letter carriers have gone out heavily laden with packages yet they were unable to keep up with the inward rush of thousands of packages and Christmas cards. Sunday morning the main room of the Quincy post office was piled high with packages yet to be delivered. Many of these were taken out Sunday, yet Monday morning found almost as many more. A large force of extra clerks and carriers were on duty all day Monday, so that by night a good part of the packages had been delivered to the parties to whom they were addressed. There were still many packages that arrived in the late mails Monday that will be delivered today. It will be the end of the week however before the deliveries resume their normal condition.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c

BILLS SETTLED BY UNCLE SAM

Senators Avail Themselves of Many Little Luxuries

BROMO-SELTZER TO LEMONS

Small Items of the Pharmacy and Toilet Alone Reach More Than Two Hundred Dollars—Sofa Pillows, Taxicab Rides, Feather Pillows For Bathroom and Other Things Paid For by the Government

Washington, Dec. 27.—The vanities, follies and eccentricities of statesmen are brought a trifle further into the limelight through the secretary of the senate's annual report, made public this week.

It discloses the little odds and ends of luxury and comfort near a senator's heart when it can be obtained at government expense; also are shown some of the ups and downs incident to ordinary life.

Among the necessities it is shown that 78 cents was paid in order that Senator Stone might have the daily and Sunday Post-Dispatch from May 10 to June 30, 1910. A dollar was utilized in buying La Follette's Magazine for Stone. The weekly London Times was sent to Senator Gore from Jan. 15 to June 30 for $2.50.

Now for luxuries:

It seems that many senators became infatuated with the desire to have velour sofa pillows in their rooms over at the senate office building. Accordingly twenty-seven of these were purchased. The price ranged all the way from $2.37 to $3.50 a pillow.

From May 1 to June 28 there were 232 cases of apollinaris "splits" furnished the senate, costing $1856. Taxicabs for taking senators home at the close of sessions cost $110.

Twenty-six boxes of lemons were used during the month of July. It required two barrels of granulated sugar, costing $36.33, to sweeten them.

Five gallons of witch hazel cost $3.25.

One dozen bottles of soda mint and pepsin tablets to cure indigestion were purchased for $2. A dozen bottles of Jamaica ginger, for more severe cases, cost $4.20. Three large bottles of bromo-seltzer were worth $2.

Nineteen dozen of assorted hair brushes took $320.

Ten cases of "Pride of the Kitchen" soap were obtained for $27.50. Twenty-four dozen whisk brooms cost $50. One bag of ground alum salt cost $1; two ounces of quince seed, 20 cents; one quart of castor oil, 49 cents; one dram oil of rose, $1 and two bottles of sal hepatica, 30 cents. Two thousand quinine pills were bought. The small items of the pharmacy and toilet cost $215.47. The barber's accessories, including three blackhead removers, cost $32.20.

One pound of sunff, to replenish the two boxes just within the senate chamber, cost 80 cents.

Two ounces of violet extract for the famous bathrooms in the senate office building cost $1.20. One quart of olive oil for the same place represented 75 cents.

Four 20-inch best feather pillows for the senate bath room cost $7.74. Shoe polishing materials aggregated $12.97.

One marble bust of Theodore Roosevelt took an even $300 from the senate contingency fund.

HELD IN $2,000,000

Former Premier of Portugal and Many Others Are Arrested

Lisbon, Dec. 27.—Former Premier De Castro, twelve former governors and directors of the Portuguese Credit Foncier bank, all of them ex-cabinet ministers, and the chief accountants, treasurer and cashier of the bank were arrested on a charge of using illegal methods in connection with the administration of the institution. All of them were released on bail.

Castro, who is a paralytic, was unable to appear before the magistrate and his bail was fixed at $2,000,000. This was furnished by four capitalist friends.

SKATED INTO AIR HOLE

Girl Student and Y. M. C. A. Official Meet Death at Boston

Boston, Dec. 27.—Lella S. Call, an 18-year-old student at the Deaconess training school, and Earl W. Peterson, the assistant secretary of the religious work at the Boston Y. M. C. A., skated hand in hand into an air hole in the ice of the Charles river basin last night, and plunged to their death in the icy waters beneath.

The bodies of Miss Call and Peterson were recovered within an hour after the accident took place by a detail of police.

Bangor Has $130,000 Fre

Bangor, Me., Dec. 27.—Fire last night badly damaged the four-story brick building occupied by the Sawyer Boot and Shoe company, the Thomas W. Burr Advertising company, Bangor Moccasin company and others. The total loss is estimated at $130,000.

BRIEFS

Mr. Dana Dicey is building a house at Montclair.

Mrs. Olin A. Holbrook is confined to her home with a severe attack of bronchitis.

Miss Eva Weymouth of Glover avenue was a guest over the holidays of friends in New Durham, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Edward Russell of Russell park entertained her son Mr. Harry E. Russell and Mrs. Russell over the holidays.

Miss Addie Poquett of Atlantic left Saturday morning for Alburgh, Vermont, to spend a month with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bernstein of Brockton have been spending the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Wallin of Parker street.

D. E. Wadsworth & Co. are preparing for a grand clearance sale beginning Thursday. They report a big Christmas sale.

Mrs. Effie Rhines, Miss Helen Rhines and Miss Luella Hunt of Miller Stile road were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rich, nee Rhines of Gloucester.

The officers of Wollaston lodge of Masons will be installed at a special communication to be held tonight. The installing officer is Wor. Lafayette G. Blair who will be assisted by Charles Pierce as deputy grand master.

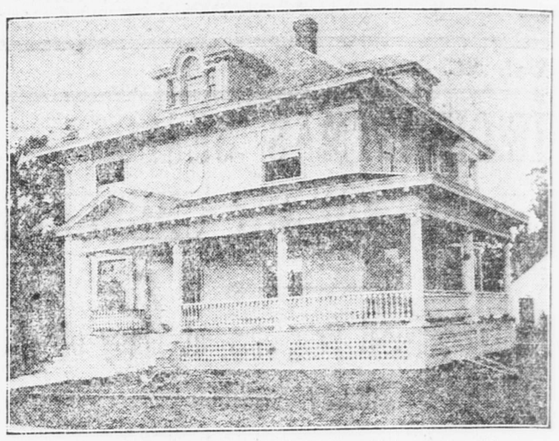
Miss Louise C. Richards of Washington, D. C., formerly of Quincy died suddenly at her home on Dec. 22. She was born in Quincy 74 years ago and was the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Lysander Richards, and is a sister of Lysander S. Richards of Marshfield Hills. She has lived in Washington for nearly forty years.

A beautiful musical Christmas service was held at All Souls' church, Braintree, Sunday afternoon. The music was entirely instrumental, the organist Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt of his city being assisted by Henry Eichheim, violin; Emil Ferir, viola; Rudolph Nagel, cello, all of the Boston Symphony orchestra. There was a large attendance from Quincy to enjoy the fine music.

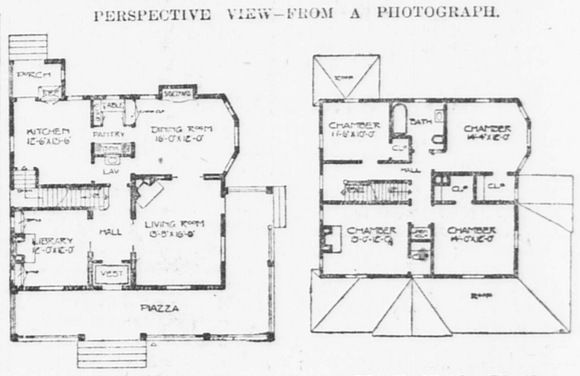
IOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

A COLONIAL AT MODERATE COST.

Design 397, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.



PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.



FIRST FLOOR PLAN. SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

A design that has been duplicated a number of times, popular on account of the convenience of arrangement and the many comforts provided for. The exterior is of simple colonial design. From a broad piazza that continues around two sides of the house one enters a large vestibule, thence into a central hall from which the stairway leads to the second story. There is a library twelve feet square at the left of the hall and a living room about 14 by 17 at the right, all connected by sliding doors. The dining room has a built in sideboard and a china closet. There are four chambers and a bathroom upstairs. Finish in first story, red oak, with birch floors; in second story, pine to paint, with birch floors. The house is thirty-four and a half feet wide and thirty and a half feet deep. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $4,200.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 397 for $25.

GLENN L. SAXTON.

DO YOUR TRADING WITH US. GET FULL VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND AND 50 CENTS CASH FOR EVERY $10.00 IN SALE CHECKS YOU RETURN TO US.

HANDKERCHIEFS
Silk or Linen Initial or plain
5c to $1.00

GLOVES
Cownes $1.50 to $2.00
Fur Lined $2.50 to $5.00
Working 25c to $2.00

UMBRELLAS
Ladies' 50c to $4.00
Men's 75c to $5.00
Children's 50c to $1.50

SWEATERS
$1.00 to $6.00
See our American Knitting Co. SPECIAL
You can save from 50c to $2.00 on this Make

American Lady SHOES For Women

NECKWEAR
Save time and money by coming direct to us
25c 50c 75c $1.00

SHIRTS
Full Dress $1.00 to $2.00
Soft Negligee 50c to $2.00
Working 50c to $2.00

FANCY ARM BANDS
25c 50c 75c $1.00

PAJAMAS, NIGHT SHIRTS
50c to $2.00

OUR SPECIAL
Interwoven Toe and Heel STOCKINGS
Four Pair in Xmas Box $1.00
Four Colors or all black

RALSTON SHOES FOR MEN

SUSPENDERS
in Xmas Boxes
25c 50c 75c $1.00

MUFFLERS
25c 50c 75c $1.00
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00 $2.50

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS
Men, Women and Children
50c 75c
$1.00 1.25 1.50 1.75 2.00

OVERGAITERS and LEGGINS
25c to $1.00

RUBBERS
The Reliable Goodyear Glove
Low Prices for high grade Rubbers

High Cut Storm SHOES
Men and Women Boys and Girls

GEORGE W. JONES
No. 1 Granite Street - Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16-L&O tf

CHRISTMAS WEDDINGS

Two or More Pretty Ceremonies at Holiday Season

One of the prettiest home weddings of the year took place Saturday evening, Christmas eve, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, of Rodman street, South Quincy, when their daughter, Miss Agnes M. Lamb, was united in marriage to Mr. John Taylor of Waverly. The ceremony was performed at the stroke of seven by Rev. James Matheson of the First Presbyterian church.

The house was tastefully and appropriately decorated with evergreen, the bridal couple and their attendants standing beneath an arch of holly.

The bride was gowned becomingly in a white duchess satin trimmed with marabout and wore a wreath of white roses. She carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses tied with white chiffon. The maid of honor, Miss Anna R. Giles, wore a draped nile green mousseline de soie and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and ferns tied with pink chiffon.

The best man was James A. Lamb a brother of the bride. The flower girl and ring bearer was little Miss Winifred Lamb of Rockland, a niece of the bride, who was daintly attired in white and caried a basket of sweet peas.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mr. George Thomson a cousin of the bride and pianist of Thomson's orchestra.

The ushers were William Lamb a brother of the bride; Robert Johnson and Frederic Greenough of Braintree, Arthur Sanderson of Somerville.

After the ceremony a Bohemian buffet luncheon was served. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received from the many friends of the couple. Friends and relatives were present from Roslindale, Malden, Waverly, Watertown, Somerville, Rockland, Braintree and Quincy.

Amid showers of rice and confetti Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on the midnight train for New York. They will be at home to their friends after Jan. 1, 1911, at Trapalo Heights Park, Waverly.

KELLEY—MAC DONALLD.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Christmas eve at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Mac Donald, 24 Chestnut street, the bride being her daughter, Jeanie Elizabeth, and the groom Ernest Edward Kelley of Florence, South Carolina, son of David T. Kelley of this city. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. J. A. Matheson of the First Presbyterian church, witnessed by about twenty-five guests. Palms and cut flowers decorated the rooms.

The bride was gowned in blue, carried a bouquet of bride roses and sweet peas, and wore a brooch a gift from the groom. The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Chick of Quincy, and she also wore blue and a brooch, a gift from the bride. Charles MacDonald, brother of the bride, was best man, and as a souvenir of the happy event was the recipient of a pearl scarf pin.

There was an informal reception after the ceremony, and later they left for a two weeks' trip to New York, Philadelphia and Wilmington, the bride looking most charming in a traveling suit of gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley will make their home at 24 Chestnut street, where they will receive their friends when they return from their travels.

Old Doctor Kills Self

Boston, Dec. 27.—Dr. Albert Reeder, an old eclectic physician, ended his life by inhaling gas in his apartments at 134 Massachusetts avenue. A few weeks ago he had a paralytic shock from which he suffered mental effects which, it is thought, were responsible for his suicide.

—Economy for business reasons and purposes is always a good policy, and justifies itself. Bu t economy as a political cry, and for party purposes, is usually a snare. The president has asked for the lowest estimates for next year's requirements, and has considered the question on business grounds. Now if Congress will vote in the same spirit we should see good results. Neither party can offord to play politics with a matter which goes to the root of the national well being. This time the republicans are preparing the bills. Next time the duty will devolve on the democrats.—Washington Star.

TITLE FOR VIVIEN GOULD?

May Be Baroness Decies After Gorgeous Coming Out Party.

Close on the heels of the announcement that the coming out party of Miss Vivien Gould will surpass the golden splendor that marked the debut of her sister Marjorie, now young Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, comes the rumor that the second daughter of George J. Gould is to become the bride of an English nobleman, John Graham Hope Horsley Beresford, Baron Decies, aged forty-four. The baron is a distinguished soldier, being lieutenant colonel of the Seventh hussars, winner of the distinguished service order in the campaign against the Mad Mullah and © 1910, by American Press Association.

MISS VIVIEN GOULD.

veteran of the Matabele and Boer wars He is now a guest of the Goulds at Georgian Court, Lakewood, N. J.

Miss Gould is not yet eighteen years old, and New York society has seen but little of her. Though the inheritor of millions, she has been reared democratically and is an outdoor girl. She rides to hounds and as a fancy dancer has awakened applause from professional judges.

If Miss Gould marries Baron Decies she will find in him a kindred spirit so far as the sports afield are concerned. He is a polo player of international reputation and brought his stable with him to America, probably knowing of the Goulds' fondness for that pastime.

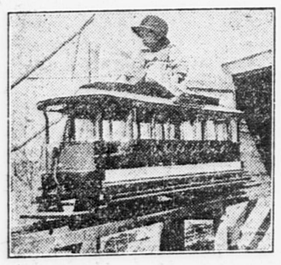
The coming out party is to be a wondrous affair. That of her sister was held at the Plaza hotel, where the entire second floor was reserved for the Goulds and their guests and transformed into a bower of flowers. The cotillion favors were of gold.

Miss Gould is tall, slender, dark and lissom, with a rich color, clear, brilliant eyes and a remarkable complexion of the traditional roses and cream.

MODEL TROLLEY CAR FOR SON

Inventor Makes Youthful Heart Glad With Mechanical Toy.

In the realm of model makers one of the most remarkable is Lester L. Kneeland of Lynn, Mass., whose prize achievement has been his recently completed trolley car. It is six and a half feet long, weighs 140 pounds and is a perfect model of a practical, ordinary size trolley, has motors, brakes and all the innumerable equipments and runs under electricity on a tiny circular track in his yard. Even the car wheels are ball bearing. It is fitted to use two motors if necessary, while the brakes are so finely adjusted that they can be drawn up to prevent the wheels from turning in the slightest. Out of a disused pocket flashlight he devised the headlight for the miniature trolley.



PERFECT LILIPUTIAN TROLLEY CAR.

There is a tiny fare register even on the car, and it works as accurately as those in common use on the big cars.

Mr. Kneeland has been working since 1907 on this model, and the result of his labors is being sought by several railroads that desire to use it as an advertising medium.

"But they haven't got it away from me yet," he says, because this model is the favorite plaything of his son.

The man is a natural genius in this particular line, model making. He began his endeavors by constructing a locomotive that was two and a half feet long and weighed only forty pounds. A rich Haverhill man forthwith secured it as a toy for his son. Then Kneeland constructed an electric clock with a dial twelve inches in diameter.

CHRISTMAS SKATING

Plans Being Made for Other Skating Ponds

Monday was an ideal day for skating and hundreds of young people enjoyed this invigoratifng sport. High School pond was crowded with young people all day, as was also the pond on the meadow off Hancock street near Beale street, Wollaston. In fact every pond where there was ice was crowded.

Mayor Shea has been trying to have a skating pond off Coddington street, out lack of water has prevented the meadow being flooded. It is thought, however, that the heavy rain of Saturday may furnish sufficient water. Mayor Shea said Saturday that he had been trying to make arrangements for a skating park at Atlantic, as requested in a petition presented to the City Council by Councilman Moir, but up to the present time had been unable to find a suitable meadow that could be utilized.

CHRISTMAS ENGAGEMENT.

The sixth annual reunion of the Charles F. Bates family was held at the Herbert H. Albee home, Highland avenue on Monday. Twenty members of the family sat down to dinner at 1 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bates; Miss M. Elizabeth Bates of Swarthmore. Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren Bates and baby Helen Louise of Dorchester; Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Bates and little Mary of Hanover; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Albee and daughter Elizabeth and baby Virginia, Carrol E. Bates and daughter Elinor of Taylor street; Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher and baby Carolyn of Braintree; Miss Marian H. Bates of Brooklyn and Chester E. Tenney of Weymouth. After the dinner Santa Claus appeared with gifts at the Christmas tree. Mr. and Mrs. Amos D. Albee, Richard Harper, Miss Harper, Miss Isabel Albee and Kenneth Albee of Harvard Medical school were guests at the Christmas tree. Owing to scarlet fever Mrs. Carrol E. Bates and Dorothy were unable to be present. A pleasing feature of the reunion was the announcement of the engagement of the youngest daughter, Miss Marian Hall Bates to Chester Edward Tenney. After their wedding, which is planned for next June they will make their home in East Braintree.

TODAY'S COURT.

William A. Hearn was fined $5 for loitering is a railroad station at Quincy. Case placed on probation until March 1.

William Duggan was fined $10 for drunkenness at Milton.

Frederick Mellow was fined $15 for assault on Kenneth Simpson, ticket agent at the Quincy Adams station.

GUEST NIGHT.

Friday evening, Dec. 30, will be the guest night of the St. Mary's Catholic Guild, at St. Mary's hall, West Quincy. A splendid two act farce entitled "Carroty Nell" which has been in rehearsal by several members of the guild for some time, will be presented. The farce will be followed by refreshments and a social good time. During the evening Rev. Henry T. Grady, pastor of St. Mary's church and Rev. William Duffy will address the audience.

BURTON HOLMES COMING.

Burton-Holmes has just finished the most successful opening circuit, in Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis, of his entire career, his audiences averaging thirty per cent larger than ever before and making numerous extra lectures in each of the cities necessary. He is now beginning a five weeks' circuit in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington and Cleveland. During the holiday season Mr. Holmes is booked to return to Chicago, where he will repeat "The Passion Play" for the seventh time this season, after which he will begin his New York, Brooklyn and Boston appearances. Friday evening and Saturday will be devoted to a double series in Boston at Tremont Temple, beginning about the middle of January.

☞An important date—Jan. 3—Quincy Music hall—Choral Society "Creation" concert.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

THE COURTSHIP OF A QUOTATION FIEND.

Andrew Blake was a quotation fiend. He could not help it. His father quoted before him, and his grandfather before him, so Andrew came by his misfortune legitimately. Andrew was educated in a country school in the district of Cedar Narrows, southern Ohio. His peculiar memory had stored up quotations from all the school readers of twenty-five years ago, and he quoted from the Bible as well. Andrew was in love. The object of his regard was Desire Wentworth, second daughter of Dr. Wentworth, and a shy, refined looking girl she was. Andrew had been in love with Desire off and on ever since Dr. Wentworth's arrival at Cedar Narrows, which was when Andrew was ten and Desire seven years of age. His attention was attracted to her the first day of the summer school when he heard Will Watson cry out:

"Hey! gals' things don't b'long on this side, 'ceptin' teacher's. Take them duds down from there."

Andrew saw a flaxen-haired girl whose pouting lips were quivering and whose big blue eyes were filling with tears and he shouted: "Charge, Chester charge!" and drove Will Watson out into the school yard, where he beat a wild tattoo on his back. After that Desire's sunbonnet in summer and hood and shawl in winter hung next to the teacher's wraps on the boy's side of the school house.

Desire admired Andrew and was charmed with his rendering of "The Psalm of Life," and "Antony's Oration over the dead body of Caesar," at the literary society which met every other Friday night. Desire herself was too timid to recite anything, but she wrote beautiful essays on "Spring," "Flowers," and kindred subjects. So thought Andrew, and he was considered a good judge of essays, having recited so many.

As was the custom, Andrew graduated from the district school at the age of twenty-one by ceasing to attend. As he was leaving the school house on his last day of school he was heard to exclaim:

"Farewell, a long farewell to all my greatness! This is the state of man; today he puts forth the tender leaves of hope; tomorrow—"

"He goes to planting potatoes," put in Will Watson who was standing near.

This was true. Andrew at once took charge of his mother's farm, and tried to free it from debt that had burdened it since his father's death. This task was accomplished by the time he was twenty-five, and he began to entertain serious thoughts of marrying. His mother was perfectly willing he should, as she was getting along in years and needed help about the house.

"It is not good for man to be alone," quoth Andrew, but he feared to tell his love lest he should tell it "in mournful numbers," and life would be to him thereafter but "an empty dream."

"Here comes Desire's quotation mark," said Nancy, Desire's sixteen-year-old sister, one Wednesday evening in blustering November.

"Nancy Wentworth, why do you talk so?" said her mother reprovingly as she saw Desire's flushing cheek.

"Well, I think myself it's time he proposed," said Phebe, the oldest girl, who was embroidering, the regulation Christmas gift for the new minister. Here he has been coming twice a week for six or eight years, and all he does is to quote. I don't believe he ever had an original thought in his life."

There came a knock at the door and Nancy tiptoed out into the kitchen, followed by Phebe with her embroidery. Desire's cheeks were flushed and tears were not far from her eyes, for she was sensitive on both points upon which her sisters had touched. While she enjoyed Andrew's quotations herself and was proud of his wonderful memory, she did not like to have him laughed at; and as she had been expecting a proposal from him for more than a year now its delay somewhat nettled her peaceful disposition. So when she opened the door for Andrew this evening she was not altogether herself.

"Good evening," said Andrew, "'The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow, and what will poor robin do then poor thing.'"

"Good evening, Andrew," said Mrs. Wentworth, as she placed a chair for him. "How does your mother stand this first cold snap?"

"Not very well, I'm sorry to say," replied Andrew. "'Yes, the year is growing old, and his eye is pale and bleared.'"

"You ought to get some one to help your mother, Andrew," said kindly Mrs. Wentworth; "the work is too hard for her."

"Yes, I have been thinking of it, "Come over into Macedonia and help us," said Andrew looking at Desire.

This was too much for the gravity of even Mrs. Wentworth, and she made her escape from the room as soon as she properly could. Desire saw the half-concealed amusement of her mother and it did not tend to smooth down her already ruffled feelings.

Andrew had not yet noticed anything unusual in Desire's conduct, he was so filled with his own intentions. He had started out that evening determined that "sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish" he "would give his heart and his hand" to Desire. He was resolved that there should be no quoting in the matter either.

"If it snows tonight won't the merry sleigh bells jingle tomorrow," said he after Mrs. Wentworth's departure.

"I suppose they will," said Desire in a constrained tone.

"Desire," said Andrew, fearing an interruption, and coming to the point at once, "I came over to ask you a question of great importance to me. "To be or not to be, this is, O, I beg your pardon."

Here he paused, much confused, and Desire's heart nearly popped out of her mouth. Before he could proceed Nancy came in from the kitchen to get a skein of silk for Phebe's embroidery, and seeing the embarrassment of both she guessed how matters stood and immediately began humming an old song her grandmother had taught her.

"Mr. Frogg went a-courting and he did ride, ah, ah!
Mr. Frogg went a-courting and he did ride,
With sword and pistol by his side, ah, ha!"

"Did you ride over, Mr. Blake? inquired she innocently.

"No, said Andrew, doubly confused at being addressed as Mr. Blake by the saucy Nancy. 'I walked. "A horse, a horse! my kingdom for a horse!'"

"O," said Nancy as she left the room, "are you so anxious to go as that? I guess father will let you take old Dobbin."

Desire was so mortified over Andrew's quoting, and so indignant at Nancy's conduct that she could control her feelings no longer, so when Andrew turned to her again and said:

"Desire I love you, 'Love me little, love me long," she exclaimed:

"Andrew Blake, I don't see how you can quote on so serious a matter," and bursting into tears she rushed from the room to her own chamber where she spent the greater part of the night weeping, much to the dismay of the conscience-stricken Nancy who roomed with her.

Andrew was almost paralyzed. He sat and gazed at the door through which Desire had fled for some time before he could gather himself together and murmur:

"Come back, come back, he cried in grief,
Across this stormy water,
And I'll forgive your Highland chief,
My daughter. O—"

"Dang it!" ejaculated he, "what in tophet am I always quoting for?"

As he took up his hat and departed crestfallen, he said on passing through the gate:

"Banished from Rome! What's banished but set free from all;" and then he gritted his teeth together and never uttered another word that night nor the next day, except in mono-syllabic answers to his mother's questions. She, poor woman, began to worry at once, thinking he was going to have a run of fever.

Desire did not go to the literary society the following Friday evening, the following Sunday was her day for staying at home with Grandma Wentworth, who was unable to leave her room. The three girls with their mother took turns in staying at home with her on Sundays, and Andrew was not in the habit of calling on Desire's Sunday at home, so she did not see nor hear anything of him until the next Wednesday when his mother came to a quilting at Mrs. Wentworth's.

Desire had scarcely spoken to Nancy for a week and that young lady was nearly heart-broken over it, and was ready to make any amends that lay in her power. She said to Will Watson the night before the quilting as he went to the door with him:

"I am awful sorry I went into the room when I did, and it was really wicked in me to quote that way, but do you know I couldn't help it?" There were tears in her eyes but she was shaking with laughter.

Will Watson threw back his head and gave a loud guffaw, which reached the ears of Andrew Blake, who was passing by unseen in the dusk of the evening. "There was a sound of revelry by night," said he as his heart sank into his boots. He was certain it was Desire that Will Watson was talking with. He had heard of the frequent visits of Will at the Wentworth's during the last week, and he knew it was not the superior Phebe he was going to see, as she was too much taken up with the new minister to notice so common place a person as Will Watson. The thought that Nancy could be the attraction never entered Andrew's head. To him she was still the little girl who had taken mortal offense at him a year or two ago when he came upon her in tears in the garden one day and said:

"Little Nancy Etticotte
In a white petticote
With a red nose."

Nancy had fled into the house with her apron thrown over head, and she had never forgiven till within the last month, when she said to her grandmother:

"I suppose I'll have to make up with Andrew Blake, as I don't believe in family quarrels."

So the pangs of jealousy were added to those of mortification in Andrew's breast as he passed the Wentworth home that evening, and he was unqualifiedly miserable.

"It does beat all what ails Andrew," said Mrs. Blake at the quilting next day. "He ain't eat scarcely nothin' in a week. I baked some raised biscuits for breakfast this mornin', knowin' he is fond of 'em, but he only took a little bite of one, and when I asked him why he didn't eat his biscuit he said: "Man shall not live by bread alone.' I told him he needn't, there was plenty of fried potatoes and ham and eggs besides a dish of apple butter, but he jest shet his lips up tight, and said no more and eat no more."

"Mebbe he is goin' to have the black measles," said Mrs. Rounds, who was always on the lookout for disease, and who really enjoyed an epidemic. "They are havin' a run of 'em over at Lowell, and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if they reached here before Christmas.

"Tain't the black measles nor othin' like 'em," continued Mrs. Blake. "I'd think he was going crazy if craziness run in our family, but it don't neither in his father's nor mine. He's almost stopped a quotin', and that scares me more than anything else, for that does run in the family, and when a family trait stops showin' itself its like the measles struck in, dangerous to think on. Mebbe he'll begin to quote somethin' and then stop sudden and grit his teeth together, and nothin' I can say'll make him open his mouth again only to answer my question up short and sharp like. I can't make it out. I believe he's fell away five pounds in the last week; he'll starve himself to death if he don't stop soon."

"Does he sleep well nights?" inquired Mrs. Rounds, for she was always interested in a new case. "You'd better give him some wormwood tea."

"I don't believe he sleeps at all," responded Mrs. Blake, "I hear him trouncin' around way after I've gone to bed, and he's up and out long enough before daylight. Last night he nearly set me distracted awalkin' the floor. I got up and went to his room to see what did ail him, and jest before I opened the door I heard him sayin':

"O Nellie Gray, O Nellie Gray,
Is this your love so warm?
The love that loves'—

And then he stopped short and said: 'Dang it.' I opened the door and said: 'Andrew Blake, be you a swear—in' and your great grandfather on your mother's side a Campbellite preacher,' and he said: 'Never mind, mother, go to bed, I'll be all right in the mornin'. The tears were runnin' down his face, and I can't make out what ails him."

Desire, who had been listening to Mrs. Blake's story turned cold and hot by turns. Her resentment towards Andrew for interpersing quotations in his proposal had died out, and she was longing for a sight of him. He was a manly, handsome fellow, and she sadly missed his low musical voice with its quotations. Nancy had also overheard what Mrs. Blake said and she suddenly resolved on action.

"Mrs. Blake, here's a prescription I want you to give Andrew as soon as you get home," said she, privately, handing Mrs. Blake a note when she was starting away that evening, "tell him to follow the directions and he will be all right before ten o'clock tonight.

And he was. No one ever knew whether he proposed in quotations the second time or not and Desire did not care. Nancy was careful that the front room should be vacant that evening except for the lovers.

"The course of true love never runs smooth," said Nancy to Will Watson the night before Christmas; "I declare, Will, if I visit them very often I'll be as bad as Andrew himself. Only this morning Sister Phebe called me into her room and solemnly told me that the Wentworth family can't stand more than one quotation fiend at a time, and she hoped I would curb my propensity in that direction hereafter."

"She probably didn't like what you said to the minister last night," observed Will.

"It was his own fault. Only the other day I heard him say to Phebe that he was as much interested in Desire as though she were his own sister. And how could I help saying:

"How beautiful a thing it is to see
Brothers and sisters dwell in unity,'
When he led Desire across the room to show her where to stand tomorrow?"

"Both the minister and Phebe seem greaty interested in this affair," said Will in an amused tone.

"I should say so," responded Nancy, "he has been over here no less than four times this week. I do hope Andrew won't quote during the ceremony tomorrow as he did when we were practicing last night. When you handed the minister the ring, Andrew said:

'Round as the ring which has no end,
So is my love,'

Then stopped short and said, 'I beg your pardon.' I should not have laughed if you hadn't looked as solemn as an owl. Will Watson, if you make me laugh tomorrow I'll never speak to you again the longest day I live."

"Let me see," said Will, there is one longest day in each year, and if you live sixty years yet that would be two months of silence. No. I assure you I won't make you laugh tomorrow."

Desire looked the picture of sweet innocent maidenhood, and Andrew's handsome form had a more manly bearing than ever, when they took their stand, supported by Nancy and Will Watson, under a bell of evergreens.

Everything went smoothly until the minister came to the words: "If any know just cause or impediment why this marriage should not proceed, let them now declare it"—here he paused a moment.

"Or henceforth hold their peace," added Andrew, who had become familiar with the marriage ceremony during the week.

The minister was embarrassed, Desire confused, and Andrew much mortified, while Nancy turned purple in the face and looked at the floor. Just at the close of the ceremony she caught sight of Will Watson's solemn visage, and hid her face in her handkerchief. Some of the guests thought Nancy Wentworth was weeping because her sister was leaving her, but Will Watson knew better.—Emma Seevers Jones, in Good House Keeping.

A GOOD LAMB CHOP FOR
20 CENTS A LB. TODAY
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS
Nov. 29-tf

Best Pill For 60 years we have had perfect confidence in Ayer's Pills. We wish you to have this same confidence also. First of all, ask your doctor. Obtain his endorsement. He knows best. Then go ahead. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS

We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.

Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

GET THE HELP QUINCY GROW HABIT

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.

12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.

Refraction and Diseases of the Eye

(Eyes examined for glasses)

Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.

Dec. 14-1m

JAMES F. BURKE

Real Estate and Insurance

AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES

Justice of the Peace Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

EDWARD E. BULLOCK

Teacher of Singing

First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette

Music for all occasions.

Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston

Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.

Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

Vocal Lessons and Harmony

MISS E. A. PERKINS

Director of Music in Public Schools

Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy

Hollander Building, Boston

Dec. 15-2mos

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property.

Justice of the Peace

Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

A. M. DEANE & CO.

MONUMENTS

MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES

Aug. 1. 1y

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ For the People

ESTABLISHED 1889

SAVES $ FOR YOU EARNS $ FOR YOU LOANS $ TO

DEPOSIT $1 To $25 Per Month

MORTGAGE HERE. REPAY BY INSTALMENTS

OWN YOUR HOME.

SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE, Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING

R. D. CHASE Treas

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 348-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.

FIRE INSURANCE.

The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates

Insurance Department,

1405 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Telephone, Quincy 276.

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photograph for search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.

Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & Co.

Quincy Daily Ledger

FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK & DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. Sprague Cor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	P. M.
Monday, Dec. 26	7.30	8.00
Tuesday,	8.15	9.00
Wednesday,	9.00	9.45
Thursday,	9.45	10.30
Friday,	10.30	11.00
Saturday,	11.15	11.45
Sunday,	11.45	12.00

The Long and Short of It.

Shorty McWade—Shure ye are twice as high as meself, an' I kin do more wurruk than ye kin.

Tall Tim—Nothin' strange about that. Ye're nearer yer job.

BRIEFS

But four more days of 1910.

Does today seem like Tuesday?

The afternoons have increased six minutes in length.

Dan Harty was a Christmas guest of Mrs. W. P. Riordon of Brockton.

Sergt. Hanson has been confined to his home for a few days with a severe cold.

Miss Sallie B. Morse of Whitman has been spending a few days at her old home in Wollaston.

Theodore Corey of Colgate college, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Corey of South Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Winthrop, Me., were the guests over the holidays of Mrs. R. M. Keene of Washington street.

Miss M. Elizabeth Bates of Swarthmore, Penn., is spending the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Lillian K. Albee of Highland avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Wells, who is 78 years old, was greatly favored by Santa Claus. She had a box from New York. There were gifts in it for each year of her life and each piece was tagged separately, among them was a gold piece.

The heavy rain Saturday afternoon and evening disappointed the storekeepers. While there were many late shoppers about City Square until late in the evening ,the crowd was not what it would have been had the weather been favorable.

The members of the Quincy Point church, Men's club are looking forward to an interesting meeting on Wednesday evening when L. K. Rourke, Commissioner of Public Works, Boston, gives his postponed lecture on the "Panama Canal." As a former engineer in charge of the work of construction on the Isthmus, Mr. Rourke is well qualified to talk on this subject and of late he has been in great demand to speak on the matter. A large gathering is expected to hear him, as in addition to the members and their friends, delegations are expected from the other Men's clubs in the city.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

ROBS HUNDRED PASSENGERS

Lone Bandit Holds Up a Missouri Pacific Train

CONDUCTOR IS CLEANED OUT

Army School Officer Receives Bullet Wound In Scalp When He Refuses to Comply With Demand—Scares His Victims by Use of Revolver—Conductor Tries to Drop Telegram at Station, but Is Prevented

Kansas City, Dec. 27.—Officers are hunting for the bandit who, single handed, robbed more than one hundred passengers on a Missouri Pacific train between Kansas City, Kan., and Leavenworth Junction.

The man boarded the train from the rear at Leavenworth Junction, in the outskirts of Leavenworth, Kan., and left it at Northwestern Junction in Kansas City, Kan., after getting a large amount of money and valuables.

As the train pulled out of Leavenworth Junction, the robber opened the rear door of the parlor car and confronted the astonished crew and passengers with a revolver.

The only man wounded by the robber was Captain Newbold, a student officer of the army school at Fort Leavenworth. When the passengers in the Pullman were ordered to throw up their hans Newbold did not comply quickly enough to suit the robber, who fired. The bullet inflicted only a slight scalp wound.

After cautioning Newbold and another passenger to keep quiet, the robber turned around as A. J. May, the conductor, entered the compartment. He, too, was ordered to throw up his hands, and he did. May was then robbed of his money and watch.

Among other passengers in the Pullman who were robbed was Miss Sadie Beach of Leavenworth. She was more courteously treated than the other passengers.

When the bandit reached her, he did not point his revolver at her, but taking hold of her purse, exclaimed impatiently, "Oh, give me that pocketbook." He got the purse.

Entering the day coach, the robber shoved the revolver into the face of the first passenger he met and then fired through the window. This thoroughly intimidated the passengers, who complied with his demands.

Several of the passengers saved their money by dropping it beside their seats or simply handing the man what small change they had. To two passengers who handed him a small amount of money the man returned it, telling them that if that was all they had they could keep it.

After the robber left the Pullman Conductor May stepped to the rear, intending to drop a telegram at a small station. Before he could do this the bandit returned and ordered May inside the car. Then, leaving the Pullman, he cut the air signal rope in two places. This was a needless precaution, however, as the train had no air signal connections.

By the time the man had finished his work, the train had reached Northwestern Junction. There he dropped from the steps of the smoking car and disappeared. The entire job took only twenty-five minutes.

The man is described as small in stature, well dressed, wearing a brown suit and a black cap. Over his face was a black mask.

NEW RECORD FOR HEIGHT

Hoxsey Soars 11,474 Feet In Gale of Forty Miles an Hour

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 27.—Seventy-five thousand people saw Arch Hoxsey of the Wright team of aviators break the world's record for altitude here. He soared more than two miles up into the sky, his barograph registering 11,474 feet, or almost 1000 feet above the altitude of 10,499 feet recently attained by Legagneux at Pau, France.

Hoxsey accomplished his feat in a forty-mile gale that wrecked Hubert Latham's Antoinette monoplane, and kept more cautious aviators on the ground.

CAT ATTACKS A MAN

Imbeds Teeth In His Palm and Hangs on For Twenty Minutes

New York, Dec. 27.—For twenty minutes a frenzied cat clung to William Butler's right hand yesterday afternoon, its teeth imbedded in his palm. Unable to shake the animal off, Butler's terror grew until he shrieked for bystanders to come to his aid.

A man twisted the cat's tail until it broke its hold and Butler was taken to a hospital. While in a restaurant he had stopped to pet the animal, as it passed.

The Weather

Almanac, Wednesday, Dec. 28.
Sun rises—7:20; sets—4:36.
Moon rises—5:51 a. m.
High water—9 a. m.; 9:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Cloudy, with snow in north portion; moderate south and southwest winds.

FOUR IN THE FIELD

Democratic Aspirants For Hale's Seat In the Senate

Augusta, Me., Dec. 27.—The election of a United States senator, to succeed Eugene Hale of Ellsworth, direct primaries, a corrupt practices act, resubmission of the liquor amendment to the constitution, a new form of ballot, consolidation of state departments and a material curtailment of state expenditures are a few of the matters which will claim the attention of the Seventy-fifth Maine legislature when it convenes Jan. 5.

The nomination of the Democratic members in caucus, which this year is equivalent to an election, is sought actively by four candidates, George F. Haley of Saco, an attorney; Obadiah Gardner of Rockland, a farmer; Charles F. Johnson of Waterville, an attorney, and William M. Pennell of Portland, a real estate dealer.

GETS A CHRISTMAS GIFT OF $60,000

Waiter Awakes to Find Letter Telling Him of His Fortune

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 27.—One of the happiest and most surprised men in Paterson is Harry Reiser, who, upon opening a letter, learned that he had fallen heir to $60,000. Reiser is a waiter employed in one of the downtown restaurants.

When Reiser got up yesterday he found a letter awaiting him. Upon opening it he learned that his grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Sacks, of Gerlinger, Baden, Germany, had left him a fortune of $60,000.

Lonis Reiser of Chicago sent the glad news to the waiter, and asked him to come to Chicago to prove his kinship.

Some years ago Reiser received a fortune from his father. He spent it quickly and was forced to go to work as a waiter. In his spare time he did odd jobs.

He did not think that his grandmother would remember him in her will, and when he received the letter notifying him that was wealthy once again he was overcome with joy.

WIRE STRUNG ABOUT NECK

Playful Act of Young Man Results In His Electrocution

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 27.—An insulated electric light wire wound about his neck in sport brought death to William J. McGrady, aged 23, in the cellar of 106 Woodman street.

Wires crossed in the street half a mile away caused a short circuit, which so increased the voltage in the wire McGrady held that the current passed through the insulation into the young man's body.

As he was standing on the ground the current passed through his body, 3000 volts of it, and killed him. Three chums of McGrady were knocked down by shocks while rushing to his aid.

POLICE TO CARRY RIFLES

Drastic Action to Rid Suburb of Pittsburg of Burglars

Pittsburg, Dec. 27.—Chagrined by the escape of a score of burglars during the last month for lack of long range weapons, William Bennett, chief of police of Braddock, a suburb, has ordered ten regulation Springfield rifles.

The rifles are of the regulation army type, 45-calibre and deadly in execution. On their arrival from Chicago Braddock night policemen will be armed with these until lawlessness is a thing of the past.

LOSES THREE FINGERS

Violinist Must Give Up His Profession Because of Fireworks

Rome, Ga., Dec. 26.—As a result of his first experience with fireworks, Alexander Skibinski, a well known Russian violinist, never will be able to play his violin again.

Skibinski, who has been in this country only since September, went to a store and called for Roman candles. Instead he was given a giant firecracker. The cracker exploded in his hand, tearing away three fingers. Mrs. Skibinski, who was standing nearby, was rendered permanently deaf in one ear by the explosion.

Balloonist Killed by a Fall

Havana, Dec. 27.—Frederick Brown, a circus performer, while attempting to make an ascension in his balloon here, struck a projection of a building and was killed.

Whisky Kills Little Boy

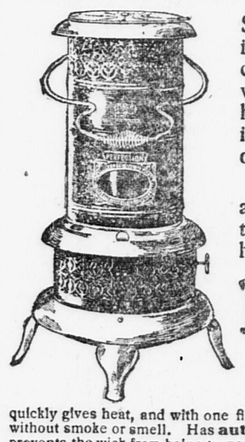
New York, Dec. 27.—Five-year-old Michael Dediase climbed on a chair and took from a closet a bottle of whisky. He drank more than a pint and died in half an hour.

The Dory.

In considering boats the dory, a flat buttomed, lap streak boat, though but twelve or thirteen feet long, is the safest that floats.

TO-NIGHT Cascarets 10c. 25c. 50c. "THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP" All Druggists

People Who Work Indoors With Their Hands



Seamstresses, watch-makers, artists, draughtsmen, and many others, cannot properly handle their tools with cold, stiff hands. Many a lost hour or two on cold winter mornings results from the delayed heat of furnace or stove.

The Perfection Oil Heater in a few minutes gives the temperature that assures the worker warm hands and pliable muscles. The quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS

27 GRANITE STREET

Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

"The Ideal of Perfection" one eminent authority says, "Pears' Soap realizes more closely than any other." "Most refreshing and agreeable of balms for the skin" says another. Try Pears yourself and you will agree that this wonderful and famous soap sold

At An Ordinary Price is of the highest quality in every particle. It cleanses thoroughly—repairs the harm common soaps may have done and is matchless for the complexion. Pears is economical, goes farthest, lasts longest. In every particular your good taste and your judgment will approve

Pears' Soap

15 cents a cake for the unscented

DEAD MAN AT CONTROLLER

Crowded Trolley Car Goes Four Squares at Top Speed

Philadelphia, Dec. 27.—For a distance of four squares a crowded trolley car on the Ridge avenue line ran without a guiding hand at the controller because Harrison M. Heilman, aged 63 years, the motorman, died as the car was crossing Nineteenth street.

At Eighteenth street some passengers were struggling to reach the doors to leave the car, but the motorman disregarded the conductor's signal. The car gathered momentum and pedestrians scurried from its path until at Fifteenth street it was at top speed. Meanwhile the conductor worked his way to the front platform where he found the motorman leaning over the controller. He pushed the man away and the body dropped to the floor. The conductor brought the car to a standstill just before Broad street was reached.

Meanwhile the passengers became panicstricken, but since the car was one of the pay-within type none could leave it.

Heilman's death was almost instantaneous from heart disease.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams. Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41
r 6 16	abci	6 35
r 6 32	e	6 47
r 6 40	abcf	7 00
r 7 12	abcd	7 38
r 7 25	d	7 42
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47
r 7 40	abcd	8 00
8 05	Exp.	8 20
r 8 12	abcd	8 30
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47
r 8 51	ad	9 08
r 9 10	abcde	9 30
r 10 04	a	10 10
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45
11 04	a	11 20
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50
12 04	a	12 20
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45
1 14	a	1 30
r 1 19	abcde	1 40
2 04	a	2 20
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45
3 04	a	3 20
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45
4 04	a	4 20
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50
4 50	b	5 15
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55
6 09	ac	6 27
7 04	b	7 20
r 7 30	ac	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30
r 9 01	abc	9 20
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30
r 11 20	abc	11 40

FROM BOSTON Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
6 45	Exp.	7 00
7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
7 45	a	8 00
8 35	cb	8 53
8 45	a	9 00
9 15	fedba	9 47 r
9 45	a	10 00
10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
10 45	Exp.	11 00
11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
11 45	a	12 00
12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
12 45	Exp.	1 00
1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
1 45	a	2 00
2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
2 45	Exp.	3 00
3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
3 45	a	4 00
4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
4 45	d	5 00
5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
5 20	d	5 37
5 25	dcba	5 48 r
5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
5 55	ledcba	6 19 r
6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
6 30	ecba	6 50 r
7 00	fedcba	7 24 r
7 15	a	7 38
8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
9 30	dba	9 51 r
10 20	fedcba	10 48 r
11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
11 30	a	11 48

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 06	6 30 ba 6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45 ihgfedcba 9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05 Exp. 9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15 ihgfedcba 10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15 ihgfedcba 12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 43 Exp. 12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15 ihgfedcba 1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15 hgfedcba 2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15 ihgfedcba 3 42 r
r 1 15	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27 cba 4 49 r
r 2 10	abc	3 30	5 15 ihgfedcba 5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15 ihgfedcba 6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00 cba 7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15 ihgfedcba 8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45 Exp. 9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30 ihgfedcba 9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50 cba 11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.30 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and over 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.29, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.05 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. .Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.

THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Quincy People.

A little backache at first.
Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.
Urinary disorders quickly follow:
Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.
This is the downward course of kidney ills.
Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Quincy citizen.

Mrs. George L. Nott, 99 North street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I have every reason for holding a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled a great deal by headaches and dizzy spells which were so severe at times that I had to grasp something for support to keep from falling. My sight was also affected, spots often appearing before me and my back ached intensely. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store and began their use. I was helped from the first and after I had taken the contents of five boxes, my case being of long standing, I was cured. Other members of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills with equally good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SOUR STOMACH

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

Harry Stuckley, Mauch Chunk, Pa.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 926

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

TO all persons interested in the estate of

JOSEPH F. BERRY,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased;

Whereas, George H. Brown, the trustee under the will of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the eleventh account of his trust under said will.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said trustee is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register
Dec. 19-31--19, 27, 3

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

FLOWERING PLANTS
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias
Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 332 Quincy

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
98 Washington St., Quincy

At JOHNSON BROS.
CANNED ASPARAGUS
20 CENT VARIETY TODAY
15 CENTS PER CAN

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1405 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

TO KEEP TABS ON THE HORNET

Gunboat Is Ordered to Honduras to Aid Cruiser

THE OVERTHROW OF DAVILA

State Department Will Not Permit It to Be Accomplished by Expedition From United States—Our Policy Regarding Central American Republics at Stake—Monroe Doctrine Looms Large in the Present Difficulty

Washington, Dec. 27.—Following the receipt of important news bearing on the likelihood of an armed revolutionary expedition against Honduras, the navy department, after cooperation with the state department, ordered the United States gunboat Yorktown to proceed with dispatch from Corinto, Nicaragua, to Amapala, Honduras.

The Yorktown will aid the cruiser Tacoma in keeping a watchful eye on the Hornet, which left New Orleans last week under suspicious circumstances. Again the American navy is called upon to keep peace and order in Central America.

Two phases of the state department's general policy may easily be affected by the Hornet's expedition. One is the desire of the department to prevent armed expeditions being sent to Central America from the United States, and the other is preserving quiet in Honduras, which republic is under obligations to pay the British bonded debt of about $12,000,000, the finances of which have just been reconstructed by American bankers.

The Monroe doctrine makes it inexpedient for Great Britain to step in, as some British statesmen would desire, and see that the obligation is carried out.

It is said that there is no desire on the part of the United States government to interfere in the affairs of any of the Central American republics, but it takes more than bald statements by interested persons to convince the better served by someone else.

The steaming of the Hornet from New Orleans has again brought up the question of determining what is an "armed expedition" for solution.

It is generally believed in Central American diplomatic circles that the Hornet is bound for Honduras and that, after putting out to sea, the vessel will take on necessary munitions of war, convert herself into an armed warship and endeavor to carry out the purposes of the revolutionists.

Had the vessel mounted guns before leaving New Orleans, it is argued, she would have been forcefully detained as "an armed expedition" against a friendly power by the United States government. Yet by putting out to sea and then fitting herself up she appears to technically avoid this charge, although to all practical purposes she is a vessel which leaves the United States to operate against a friendly power.

INTRUDER IN HIS PARLOR

New York Policeman Shoots Him and Is Held Without Bail

New York, Dec. 27.—Although George Walker, single, 34 years old, who was shot by Policeman Matthew J. McGrath, the athlete and hammer thrower, when McGrath found him in the parlor of his home at 208 East Fifth street, has five bullet wounds in his body, he is still alive in the Kings county hospital.

McGrath is held in jail without bail to await the result of Walker's injuries. Mrs. McGrath denies the statement Walker made to the police to the effect that he had been invited to the house. Mrs. McGrath said she had never seen him before.

McGrath told the police that he did not fire on Walker until Walker fired a shot at him.

NO NEWS OF GRACE

But Relatives of Missing Aviator Have Not Abandoned Hope

London, Dec. 27.—Many North sea trawlers came home for Christmas, but none of them brought news of Cecil S. Grace, the young aviator who disappeared on Thursday, while attempting a return flight from Calais to Dover.

The mission of the tugs sent out to scour the waters along the coast has been equally fruitless, and there is but slender hope that Grace is alive. Grace's relatives, however, have not abandoned hope and they are continuing the search with undiminished effort.

Caroline Islanders Revolt

Brisbane, Australia, Dec. 27.—Advices received here from Ponape, Caroline islands, are to the effect that the natives in Ponape revolted and murdered four Europeans and five friendly natives.

Twins Burned to Death

Byron, W. Va., Dec. 27.—A lamp exploded in the bedroom at the home of Eldo Bech here and burned to death twin boy babies, 6 months old. The home with all its contents was burned.

GEORGE HACKENSCHMIDT

He Succeeds In Taking Two Falls From Roller

GREAT WRESTLING BOUT

Hackenschmidt Defeats Roller In Long and Fierce Contest

Boston, Dec. 27.—Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," succeeded in taking two falls from Dr. Ben Roller at Mechanics' building last night. It was one of the fiercest bouts ever seen on any mat, and was witnessed by a great throng of spectators.

After Roller had broken the deadly hammerlock for the fifth time, Hackenschmidt got mad and tore after Roller like a mad man. Roller's undoing came when the Lion got a further arm nelson, and then rolled him onto his back. The time was 1 hour 7 minutes 27 seconds.

In the second heat Roller was not strong or speedy as at the opening, although he still had his great defensive skill and made Hack work for every inch.

Hackenschmidt finally succeeded in getting a quick fall on Roller, a body roll, and won the second fall and the match in 15 minutes 23 seconds.

EXPLOSIONS PART OF GAMBLERS' WAR

Dynamite Bombs Set Off Near Gotham Club Recently Raided

New York, Dec. 27.—As the culmination, the police say, of a feud of long standing between Harlem gamblers, two dynamite bombs were exploded within five minutes of each other in vestibules of Harlem houses. Several thousand dollars in damage was done and the neighborhoods were thrown into an uproar.

Both bombs went off shortly before 3 o'clock in the morning, a block apart, in One Hundred and Sixteenth street. Before the terror from the first explosion had been quieted there came another more violent crash a block away. This blew away both the inner and outer doors of the building and routed neighboring residents from their beds.

Both places are near a club raided not long ago by Clement Driscoll, first deputy police commissioner. After the raid the commissioner announced that gamblers had raised a fund of $15,000 to kill him.

IRON WORKS BLOWN UP

Dynamite Outrage Perhaps Due to General Labor Troubles

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 27.—The Llewelly iron works were partly wrecked by an explosion, presumably of dynamite. The explosion tore out the front of the building, smashed windows for more than a block and awakened persons more than two miles away. The night watchman was slightly injured.

Who placed the supposed charge of dynamite is unknown to the police, but it is believed to have been the outcome of general labor troubles, in which the Llewellyn company has been involved.

REFUSES A PARDON

Life Prisoner Prefers to End His Days Behind the Bars

Galveston, Tex., Dec. 27.—Thirty years an inmate of the state prison, Garret Weidman, a life-term convict, has refused a pardon. He is 65 years of age.

Years ago he was a prosperous farmer in Stonewall county and had a family. In a quarrel over a land deal he shot and killed a neighbor in 1880. He was given a life sentence. Since his conviction his wife and children have died.

Broker Sues For $250,000

Boston, Dec. 27.—John R. Hall, a broker, has brought suit against the Redeemable Investment company and four officers of the concern for the alleged use of his name without warrant in the manipulation of the company's business. Five actions, each for $50,000, have been entered by Hall.

BIG QUESTIONS RAISED BY COMPENSATION

State Insurance May Have to Come

STATE HOUSE ANXIOUS PLACE

Proposed Act Disregards Carelessness —Maximum Compensation Is $3000 —Principal Radical Departure From Massachusetts Laws—Hearing Dec. 28 at State House

Widespread interest and no little anxiety have greeted the tentative report of the state commission on the compensation of injured workingmen. The principal is not a new one in European countries, but the application of it in Massachusetts is so radical a departure from our laws as to cause doubt in the minds of everybody, whether employer or employee.

The act provides that a workman injured in the course of his employment shall be compensated by a regular payment of part of his weekly wages. He may have been careful or careless, he is to be compensated just the same. In theory the consumer is to bear the burden. Practically the employer bears it first and then transfers it to the consumer.

The law contemplates cutting short the litigation attendant upon accident cases. And therefore so far as the act applies the present employer's liability law is suspended. The text of the bill had hardly been made public when questions began to be asked. One or two labor men wanted to know why the liability law could not have been left exactly as it was. It is pointed out that in England the workman is not deprived of his right to bring an action under the statute as well as at common law in addition to his rights under the act.

State Insurance Proposed

On the other hand a number of the small manufacturers of the state have been writing to the state commission asking how the act is going to effect their business. They are fearful that their insurance rates will be greatly enchanced, or that if they do not carry liability insurance they might be literally wiped out by one or two serious accidents. The law provides that in case of total disability or disability lasting for a period of 300 weeks there may be compensation limited for that period to $10 a week, a maximum of $3000.

Those who have discussed the matter say that their fears are by no means fanciful. The act applies to employers generally who regularly employ more than five men or women or minors. It reaches the farmer and the shop keeper just as it reaches the millionaire manufacturer.

So real has this danger appeared that a demand is being made for some system of state insurance which shall give the small employers protection at minimum insurance rates and thereby not operate as a burden upon industry during the process under which the employer shifts the burden upon the consumer by raising the price of his commodities.

One of the things most strongly urged upon the commission during its deliberations was that the act ought to contain the principal of contribution like the German law, which says that the employee himself shall give something to a common fund out of which he shall be paid in case of accident. The labor men have steadily opposed the contributory idea and their views seems to have been adopted by the state commission.

Keep Liability Act?

It is expected that the labor men will now seek to keep the liability act at the disposal of the injured man, as is the case in England. Up to the present time they have stubbornly refused to swap one for the other.

From the employer's side come further criticisms of the proposed law. They point out that in England where is was said the amount of litigation would be decreased there has in fact been an increase. And they say that the facts show that compensation in lieu of damages has tended to increase carelessness. It has also tended to remove from employment those suffering in any degree from any infirmity due to age or sickness.

Newspapers Critical

Some of the newspaper editorials have expressed some thoughtful ideas upon the subject matter of the proposed law. On Dec. 21 the Boston Post called attention to the suspension of the liability act and urged that nothing be done to take away the remedies a workingman should have. The Boston Herald on Dec. 20 cut very deep into the subject with an editorial on cost, which said:

"The workman of Massachusetts must remember that he cannot afford to see our industries laboring under a handicap which does not exist in New Hampshire or Connecticut."

The first hearing upon the new draft is set for Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 28, at the state house. There is also an evening hearing at the state house and one on the evening of the following day at city hall in Worcester.

POWER FAILS AVIATORS

Garros and Hamilton Manage to Land Without Disaster

New Orleans, Dec. 27.—From unseen levels above the clouds that hung over Lake Pontchartrain, Roland C. Garros, a French aviator, was driven to earth by a frozen carpuretor.

At his greatest altitutde, 7125 feet, the frozen carburetor refused to supply his engine and the propellers were barely turning. He pointed abruptly down, and at lower levels, in warmer air, the carburetor thawed and with the engine exploding normally, he landed under full control.

Charles K. Hamilton had a narrow escape from plunging into the crowd when, in circling the course, the vibration of his engine loosened two staybolts, loosening the engine from its bed. He could get no power and only by clever manipulation managed to clear the crowd, hurdle the outside fence and land on the inner field, directly in front of the grand stand.

GORED TO DEATH BY BULL

Fate of New Hampshire Man Long Honored by His Town

Hollis, N. H., Dec. 27.—James E. Hills of the Pine Hill road was killed by a ferocious bull in his barn. The mangled body was found by relatives after Hills had been away from the house for some time.

He had gone out to his barn, driven out the cows, and was caring for the bull when the animal is believed to have turned on him. His clothes were torn off, a rib broken and his skull fractured.

Hills was one of the best-known residents of Hollis, 68 years old, and had been selectman, representative, member of the school board, and at the time of his death was road commissioner.

He had been a lifelong member and was a deacon in the Congregational church. He leaves a wife and family.

HOTEL NIGHT CLERK HELD UP BY ROBBER

Former Employe of Boston Hostelry Is Under Arrest

Boston, Dec. 27.—Pushing the muzzle of a revolver under the nose of Jerome Carey, night clerk in the Hotel Westminster, a guest with luxuriant black whiskers, who had registered at 2:30 a. m. yesterday morning, coolly ordered Carey to hand over the money and valuables in the office safe.

Carey was unable to open the safe so the stranger ordered him to clean out the cash till. The clerk handed over about $45. The robber was insisting on more when two scrub women entered the hotel lobby. He put the money in his pocket, backed to the entrance doors, pocketed his revolver and disappeared. The handsome black whiskers were found by the night watchman a few minutes later lying on the sidewalk opposite the entrance.

George Ellis, 20 years old, who was until Nov. 23 employed as cashier in the hotel cafe, was last night held by the police on a charge of being the daring holdup man.

SON WITNESSES TRAGEDY

West Virginia Man Saws the Head Off His Landlord

Bluefield, W. Va., Dec. 27.—Sawing away continuously for ten minutes, Hamilton Cook almost completely severed the head of Frank Bennett from his body at the home of the latter at Lex.

Cook, who was a boarder at Bennett's home, found his victim in bed. Bennett's 12-year-old son, who witnessed the operation, aroused some neighbors, who rushed to the house only to find that Cook had fled.

He was captured in the mountains near by, after being wounded in the arm, and was brought to the Meadwell jail. The men are said to have quarrelled before over domestic troubles.

"I think Mr. Doolittle is an awful clever man," said Maud Littleton, in one of her confidential chats with her friend Polly Perkins.

"Do you?" said her friend. "I don't. I think he's awfully stupid."

"Oh, but he knows lots more than most men," went on Maud. "For one thing, he knows when to go when he's making a call, and for another thing he never puts his foot in it, for the reason that he never says anything."—Harper's Bazar.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

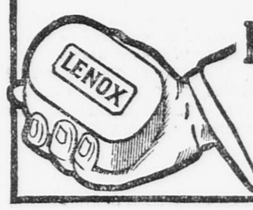
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Why we advertise Lenox Soap.

We hope, by advertising, to induce thousands of women, who have never used Lenox Soap, to give it a trial.

If we can do that, the advertising will pay; for a woman who buys one cake of Lenox Soap and gives it a fair trial, is almost certain to keep on buying it.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

COAL
CRR
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, Inc.
1422 Hancock Street

QUINCY POINT
Readers of the LEDGER
Can always buy one after 3.30 P. M. at Stores of
E. H. LOW
GEO. E. SPRAGUE
L. A. COOK
GEO. W. CRAGG
H. H. I. SMITH

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today. 38 degrees
December 27, 1909, 30 degrees
December 27, 1908, 44 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years, 67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years, 2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

G. W. Wheeler—Ladies' Furnishings
Citizens Gas Light Co.—Gas Burners
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.—Clearance Sale
Peterson's Suggestions
Probate Notice
Administrator's Notice
Wanted
Lost

BRIEFS

Yesterday was St. Stephens day, and today St. John Evangelist day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Smith of Somerville were guests on the holiday of Mrs. J. O. Williams of Goffe street.

The monthly business meeting of the Swedish Baptist church will be held this evening.

The monthly business meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Presbyterian church will be held this evening.

Carl Ahlstrom of Granite street is visiting in Manchester, N. H., during vacation.

William Weeden of Cranch street is home from Norwich, Con., for the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Sherwin, nee Troupe, of West Townsend were guests over the holiday of Mr. and Mrs. S. Troupe of South Quincy.

The Baraca class of the Swedish Baptist church meet with G. R. Blomquist, 106 Nightingale avenue, this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Badger of Crescent street entertained over the holidays, Mrs. Badger's parents Mr. and Mrs. Tucker of Brookline, N. H.

Quincy people entertained a large number of guests at the Christmas season. It was particularly noticeable at the railroad stations late in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Browning and Mrs. Charlotte Morrow were guests at a house party over the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brown of Pleasant street, Brockton.

NOW A PRIEST.

Word has been received in Atlantic that Rev. J. H. Whitaker, for a number of years pastor of the Memorial Congregational church, has been ordained to the priesthood at Baltimore by Cardinal Gibbons.

☞Now that Christmas is over there is quite a rush for tickets for the "Creation" concert on Jan. 3 at Music hall.

MARRIAGES

KELLEY—MAC DONALD—In Quincy, Dec. 24, by Rev. J. A. Matheson, Mr. Ernest Edward Kelley of Florence, S. C., to Miss Jeanie Elizabeth Mac Donald of Quincy.

TAYLOR—LAMB—In South Quincy, Dec. 24, by Rev. James Matheson, Mr. John Taylor of Waverly to Miss Agnes M. Lamb.

DEATHS

KING—In Quincy, Dec. 25, William J. King in his 81st year.
Funeral services at his late home 51 Kent street, Wednesday, Dec. 28 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.

RICHARDS—In Washington, D. C., Dec. 22d, Miss Louise C. Richards, daughter of the late Lysander Richards and sister of Lysander S. Richards, formerly of Quincy, in her 75th year.

SPEAR—In Indianapolis, Dec. 26, Allen, son of Mr. William Ray and Mrs. Hattie Maude (Fay) Spear formerly of Quincy, aged 14 years.

Di NICOLANTONIO—In Quincy, Dec. 24, Marie daughter of Mr. Nicolo and Mrs. Philomena DiNicolantonio of 78 Union street. Aged 3 years 26 days.

WILLIAMS—In Weymouth, Dec. 23, James C., son of Mr. James C. and Mrs. May A. Williams of 3 Federal street, aged 1 year 15 months.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

FATAL FALL.

Word reached Quincy this morning of a sad accident to Quincy people at Indianapolis. Allen Spear, the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ray Spear, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fay, was fatally injured on Monday. He fell from a tree while at play in the morning and died in the evening. His mother will be remembered as Miss Hattie Maude Fay, her parents formerly residing on Greenleaf street in this city. After her marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Spear lived for many years at Randolph and only recently moved to Indianapolis. The body will be brought to Randolph for interment, probably on Thursday.

LOCAL SPORTS.

Dual meet at the Y. M. C. A. this evening—Quincy vs. Hyde Park.

* * *

The Makaria five is the only Quincy basket ball team registered by the N. E. A. A. A. U. Other nearby teams among the 38 are: Clapp Memorial Association of Weymouth, Cunningham Gym of Milton, Braintree Quintet of Braintree and Mystery club of Hingham.

* * *

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. five will play at Chelsea on Wednesday evening.

* * *

Thayer Academy basket ball team will meet the Alumni team on Friday.

* * *

The Milton High school basket ball five was defeated on Saturday by the Alumni team 20 to 11. The Milton High juniors defeated the Winthrop Midgets 24 to 7.

* * *

Christmas goif was enjoyed at the Montclair links by fifteen or more. R. R. Freeman made the best gross score, 89, and W. G. Kendall had the best net—95—24—71. Others to return cards were V. M. Smith, C. H. Kendall, M. Alden, J. Mulcahy, E. P. Comins, W. F. Kearns, M. J. Mackey, J. J. Gallagher and M. Barlow.

* * *

Severad from Quincy attended the wrestling matches at the Mechanics Building, Boston, on Monday. Hackenschmidt won in two straight from Dr. Ben Roller, the first fall in 1 hour, 7 minutes and 27 seconds; the second in less than 16 minutes.

* * *

The Clapp Memorial team won its game with Carmack A. A. on Monday. 41 to 11, but lost to Boston Y. M. C. A. 26 to 10.

A DARKY DIALOGUE.

In a Southern town one morning a colored man called upon a neighbor. He was met at the door by his friend's wife, and the dialogue ran something like this:

"Kinder cold dis mawnin'."

"Kinder. Think mebbe it's gwine to rain."

"Mebbe it is. Is Dan in?"

"Shore; he's in.'

"Kin I see him?"

"No, sirree!"

"But I wants to see him bad."

"I's sorry, but ou can't see him. Dan's dead."

"Go 'way! You's jokin'!"

"No, I ain't jokin'. He's dead all right."

"He die sudden?"

"He die very sudden."

"Yo' shore 'bout dat?"

"Jest as shore as I kin be."

At this point the caller hesitated a moment, and then added:

"He say anything 'bout a bucket o' white-wash befo' he died?"—Lippincott's.

—Canada has begun to realize says the Banker and Tradesman what it costs to build a battleship and keep it running. Doubtless, the sentiment of universal peace and the disarmament of nations would be received with a good deal of cordiality in Canada before they get in any deeper.

CAROLS AT HOSPITAL.

The patients at the City Hospital were made as far as possible to for get their ills on Christmas day. During Sunday and Monday they were allowed to see their friends, and as many of the visitors brought gifts and flowers it was a joyous occasion for all. Sunday afternoon the choir of Christ church visited the Hospital and sang Christmas carols, the beautiful music searching out every nook and crevice of the wards. After the song service the choir was given ice cream by the matron and nurses.

AIR BATHS.

Air baths are the latest prescription for the seeker after health. These are positively recommended as a magic preventive for avoiding winter colds. At first they may seem too difficult of accomplishment, but if one will only try one will see how astonishing the results are.

And the beauty of this magic air bath is that it is simplicity itself. There is no cumbersome apparatus, no tiresome visits of the masseur, no pounding and punching of an inoffensive body. One merely has to lie still and allow gentle breezes to blow upon the body.

If it is begun in time it will enable one to defy the winter cough and cold, bronchitis and neuralgia. One need only expose the skin, so the enthusiasts say, to the air for fifteen or twenty minutes, a half hour or an hour, night and morning, to annihilate the horrid cold germs which are everywhere ready to seize upon any one who gets a chill, and so lays herself open to attack.

Hence the danger of draughts and wet feet. Our usual habits give the skin no opportunity of hardening itself. It is treated like a hothouse plant. We cover it every moment.

If one would indulge in the beneficial air bath one must spend twenty minutes before retiring without one's clothing. Then in the morning bathe and do up the hair before covering the skin with the day's clothing. These measures alone constitute an effective air bath, and will lessen the sensibility of the skin and liability to cold in a few days' time.

A more elaborate way for taking the air bath is recommended by a noted physician. Select the sunniest room in the house. If the window is overlooked by neighboring houses place a low screeen before it. Then undress, wrap yourself in a sheet and blanket and lie on the floor in the sunshine.

A FINE DODGER.

Carol's grandfather had served in the war, and Carol liked to hear of the many battles in which he had fought. One day after listening to the vivid recital of many heroic deeds Carol said:

"Grandfather, you went through all those battles?"

"Yes."

"And the shot and shell fell all around you?"

"Yes."

"And soldiers were falling and dying everywhere?"

"Yes."

"Well, grandfather, what a fine dodger you must have been!"—Delineator.

TIRED OF HIM.

At a trial in Scotland a lady got into the witness box to be examined, when the following conversation took place between her and the opposing counsel:

Counsel—How old are you?

Miss Jane—Oh, weel, sir, I am an unmarried woman and dinna think it right to answer that question.

The Judge—Oh, yes; answer the gentleman. How old are you?

Miss Jane—Weel-a-weel, I am fifty.

Counsel—Are you not more?

Miss Jane—Weel, I am sixty.

The inquisitive lawyer still further asked if she had any hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied.

"Weel, sir, I winna tell a lie. I kinna lost hope yet," scornfully adding, "But I widna marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palaver already."

A GOOD PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

CHRISTMAS IN CHURCHES

(Continued from Page 1.)

SACRED HEART.

The Sunday School of the Sacred Heart church at Atlantic held its Christmas festival Monday evening at Music hall with Cornelius M. Duggan as Santa Claus. There was a very pleasing entertainment which included an address by Laurence Herne; readings by Miss Bertha Kersen, Mary Walsh, John Dolan, Mildred Dolan,, Mary O'Dougherty, Laurence Herne, Alice Mortieman, Catherine Donahue, Mary Shea, Peter Creeden, Mary Burns, May Creeden and Bernard Hanna; piano selections by Arnold Shene, Mary Stephens and Treffley Shene; vocal solos by Henry Dolan, Catherine Keohane, Nellie Duggan, Dorothy Grant and Arthur Sullivan; cello solo by Beatrice Costello, violin duets by Mabel Walker and Loretta Murphy, Thomas Denahy and Frank Lavery; jig and reel by Grace McDonnell. Bags of candy were presented to all of the children by the pastor, Rev. John P. Cuffe, and the curate, Rev. James McNiff, presented each with a Christmas card.

ATLANTIC M. E.

The Sunday school of the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church held their annual Christmas tree entertainment in the vestry of the church on Saturday evening at 6.30.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

The Christmas music at the Sunday morning service at the United Presbyterian church included three carols rendered by the regular choir. The solo parts were rendered by Messrs. Purkess, Eglesham and MacLean. Mrs. Duncan MacKellar was organist. The selections were:

Carol—Hark the Herald Angels sing Mendelssohn
Carol—Hail Thou ever Blessed Morn Anon
Carol—Let us go to Bethlehem Roberts

The evening service was largely attended. The choir rendered three selections all of which were especially good. Carol—Come all ye faithful. Anthem, "Glory to God in the Highest" by Danks and Gounod's Nazareth.

Dr. Kneeland, general secretary of the New England Sabbath Protection League was the speaker at the evening service.

The children's concert was given Monday evening. Songs and recitations were given by the younger children. A number of the classes furnished special exercises. Miss Marion Russell's class did especially well. The boys and girls were each given a box of fruit and candy from the tree. The work of Mrs. Malcolm McKenzie, Mr. John Russell, Miss Butler and others as well had much to do with the success of the concert. They sacrificed themselves considerably in training the children and preparing the tree and the presents.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Congregational Christmas services were held both morning and evening. The pastor took for his morning theme: "Unto you is born a Savior." Special emphasis was laid on the first two words Unto you. We sometimes forget that he is our Savior as individuals and think of him as only the Savior of the others.

In the evening the topic for the sermon was rejoice. At both services the choir rendered Christmas anthems. In the morning "Down through the ages" "Their message sweet" and "Tidings of great Joy," were all beautifully sung.

The Christian Endeavor society had a special musical service.

A sextet of young ladies sang three selections. Mary Smith sang a very pleasing solo entitled "Little heart doors open wide."

The Sunday school entertainment was held Monday evening. The lecture room was crowded and many people were obliged to stand up.

The younger pupils gave songs and declamations and the school rendered severals carols.

A short Christmas address was given by the pastor. The teachers and scholars gave each other Christmas remembrances and the Sunday school gave the younger ones presents which were taken from the tree.

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

The Julotta was held at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The seating capacity of the church was taxed to its uttermost during the service. The pastor delivered an excellent Christmas sermon and the special anthems by the choir were well rendered.

The Sunday school concert was one of the best ever given by the children. Songs and recitations by individuals and carols by the school furnished the material for the greater part of the program. The pastor spoke briefly to the children after the concert and then the presents were distributed among the smaller one. Decorations were very artistically arranged by the older members of the school and added greatly to the attractiveness of the scene.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

The early morning service was held at 5.30 with an unusually large attendance. The pastor spoke on the subject: "There goes a message of joy throughout the world."

Three anthems were sung by the soloists and the choir.

O Holy Night by Adams a baritone solo with chorus. Mr. Fritz Swanson sang the solo part. The Birth of Christ by E. Lun. The solo parts for soprano, alto and bass were taken by Miss Sadie Nelson, Miss Annie Ryden and Mr. Swanson.

The third anthem was Stenhammer's Hosanna, by the full chorus.

The rendition of all the musical selections was excellent. Miss Emma Witting accompanied the singers on the organ.

The children's festival was held Sunday evening. A program of three hours' duration was presented to a still larger crowd than was present in the morning. Many who wanted to get in were unable to do so.

The children took their parts well and the dialogues, recitations and songs were very well received by the audience. The different numbers on the program were given both by classes and individuals.

A tree was provided for the children. From it were plucked many presents for all, candy, apples, books, cards and a variety of appropriate gifts for the boys and girls.

The pastor gave a short address on the importance of Sunday school work in America.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The annual Christmas festival of the Sunday school of Christ church was held Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. At that hour the junior and primary members of the school gathered in the church where Christmas carols were sung by the school and choir. The school then marched about the church singing carols. A short address was made by the rector, Rev. Richard E. Armstrong. Then came the Christmas tree, illuminated with many electric lights, its branches bending beneath the weight of gifts which were later distributed among the members of the Sunday school. As the tree was illuminated Mrs. Emma S. Moore sang "The Wonderful Tree." The school joining in the refrain.

Both the early morning service and the regular 10.30 A. M. service at Christ church on Sunday were largely attended. A holy communion service was observed at both of these services. At the 10.30 service the rector, Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, preached a Christmas sermon. In the evening there was a carol service and sermon by the rector. Rev. Dr. Manchester of Wollaston assisted the rector at both the morning services.

CHRISTADELPHIANS.

The Christadelphian society had a Christmas celebration in Electa hall Monday evening. A Christmas tree was prepared for the children, and later all sat down to a turkey supper. The evening concluded with a service of worship.

VERY CONSOLING.

Mr. Brown had gone up to the attic and hanged himself. While the sorrow of the widow was keenest her neighbor, Mrs. Jones, came to comfort her. Mrs. Jones, because of her reputation for always saying the wrong thing, had secured the consent of her own family to make the visit only on her promise that she would talk about subjects foreign to the cause of her friends grief. She commenced on safe ground by talking about the weather.

"Rather nice weather we've been having, Mrs. Brown."

"Yes," said Mrs. Brown; "but it has been too wet to get our washing dry."

"Oh, well, you needn't worry about that, Mrs. Brown, as you have such a nice attic to hang things in."—Lippincott's.

JUST DISSOLVED.

"So you broke your engagement with Miss Spensive?"

"No, I didn't break it."

"Oh, she broke it?"

"No, she didn't break it."

"But it is broken?"

"Yes, she told me what her clothing cost and I told her what my income was, then our engagement sagged in the middle and gently dissolved."—Houston Post.

Some days ago two little fellows of seven and eight years heard older people speaking of skeletons. The seven-year-old boy listened inteatly to the conversation, when the older boy, with an air of superior knowledge, said abruptly,—

"You don't know what a skeleton is, and I do."

"So do I!" replied the younger. "I do know. I know for certain, I do!"

"Well, now, what is it?"

"It's bones with the people off!"—Lippincotts.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—On the 8.29 Elevated car leaving Quincy Square Sunday evening Dec. 25, a leather bag lettered M. E. C. containing children's clothing Reward if returned to R. A. Cole, 356 Hancock street, Atlantic. Dec. 27-3t

LOST—Black dog with long hair brown legs and head. White on end of tail. Reward if returned to M. Jansson, 4 Prospect Hill, West Quincy. Dec. 24-3t

A CURIOUS BIRD.

The Crested Hoactzin When Hatched Has Four Legs.

The crested hoactzin of British Guiana is the only survivor of a certain race of birds most of which are now known only as fossils. The hoactzin inhabits the most secluded forests of South America, and its survival beyond its congeners is doubtless owing to its retiring habits and to the fact that it feeds on wild arum leaves, which give its flesh a most offensive davor, rendering it unfit for food.

The chief peculiarity of the hoactzin consists in the fact that when it is hatched it possesses four well developed legs. The young birds leave the nest and climb about like monkeys over the adjoining limbs and look more like tree toads than birds.

The modification of the fore limbs begins at once after hatching, when the claws of the digits fall off and the whole clawlike hand begins to flatten and become wing shaped. Feathers soon appear, and before full growth is reached not a vestige remains of the original character.

The adult birds not only have no claws upon their wings, but their thumbs even are so poorly developed that one would hardly suspect that in the nestlings we have the nearest approach to a quadruped found among existing birds.—London Tit-Bits.

When Tabby Raises Her Battle Cry.

Despite the cat's softness, laziness, fluffiness and purring amiability, her piercing wavery in the night startles and exasperates us beyond all bearing—not by its loudness, but by a certain vicious, weird, half terrifying, half infuriating note in it that makes us spring to arms with the bootjack or other substitute for the boomerang, as the warwhoop of our tribal enemies did a century or centuries ago, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Success Magazine.

One of Mark Twain's wise old frontiersman had caught this note when he explained to the tenderfoot that animal speech had rules of composition and grammer, just like human speech, and that "the reason a cat riles ye so ain't on account of the noise she makes, but on account of the sickenin' bad grammar she uses." And he was right, for the grammar of scalp lifting and the whole alphabet of battle, murder and sudden death tingles and screams in the rasping cry.

Teeth.

All decay of the teeth begins from without; consequently if the teeth's surfaces be kept scrupulously clean they cannot decay.

Administrator's Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of ELIZA J. WEBB
late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.
All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to JAMES H. WEBB Adm.
Quincy, Dec. 27, 3t 27, 3, 10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles M. Jenness late of Meddybemps in the State of Maine having estate in said County, deceased, intestate:
WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Helen B. Jenness of Boston without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December A. D. 1910.
JOHN D. COBB, Register.
Dec. 27-3t 27, 31, 7

CALIFORNIA SLICED PEACHES
20 CENT VARIETY
TODAY 15 CENTS
AT JOHNSON BROTHERS

WANTED

WANTED—A young Swede girl for general house work. Apply to A. Johnson, 168 Glendale Road, Quincy, Dec. 27-3t

WANTED—Girl for general housework. C. F. Pettengill, 53 Revere road. Dec. 27-tf

WANTED—Experienced bookkeeper with some knowledge of typewriting. Steady position with a Quincy business house located near city square. Address F. N. Ledger office. Dec. 23-3t

TO LET

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

FOR RENT—Six room suite, best location in City Square, all modern improvements, apply at once to James F. Burke, Agent. Room 4 Savings Bank Bldg., Quincy, Mass. Dec. 1-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 56 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x45 feet and 26 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 301 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 28, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

CENTRE STREET HOUSE DAMAGED $1,000

Stubborn Fire Which Was Confined Within the Walls

May Have Been Smoldering for Several Hours

Box 138 was pulled at 4.50 Tuesday afternoon for a peculiar fire in the house at 79 Centre street occupied by John Cappaccioli and owned by Forbes Craig. When the fire department arrived the blaze was cropping out of the rear gable and there was an abundance of smoke all through the house. The interior gave very little evidence of fire except by the smoke. The portieres between the dining room and parlor were ablaze and when they were torn down there seemed to be no palpable reason why the recall should not be rung in.

When Chief Williams arrived the order for hooks was given, and the dining room ceiling was torn down, revealing the fire. The blaze was almost wholly confined by the plastering until it reached the gable at the rear of the house. The source was traced to a point in the kitchen wall behind the door into the front hall.

The cause of its origin is unknown, but the course of the flames could be traced between the ceiling and second floor, across the dining room, up to the second story between the partitions at the rear of the house, and then into the gable and through the attic.

The Chief believed the fire had been going for several hours before there was any appearance of it on the surface. After the ceiling of the dining room was torn down, the chemicals were brought into use, and further destruction was prevented. But even so, the joists and floor boards were nearly burned through giving evidence of the duration of the fire.

The source was near a hot air pipe, but there was a very slow fire at the time of the Chief's investigation, and it seemed hardly probable that it could be laid to an overheated furnace. It is not likely that the cause of the fire will be discovered although further investigation may reveal some new factor.

When the flames began to shoot out of the roof of the house, a conflagration was feared by the neighbors since the houses in the row were quite close together, and the wind was right to sweep the blaze up the line. The fire department arrived in good season however and confined it to the house at No. 79. The recall was sounded at 5.42 after nearly an hour of fire fighting on the part of the men.

Chief Williams estimated the loss of the building and contents at $1,000 which is covered by insurance.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED.

At a conference of the four coal dealers and the committees from the Central Labor Union and the Coal Teamsters Local Union held last night to discuss the new scale of wages they failed to come to an agreement.

At the next meeting of the Central Labor Union the question will be decided as to what action will be recommended to organized labor by the Central Labor Union of this city. It was stated at the meeting that there are over 3,000 union men in Quincy at the present time, and if all union men will patronize the union drivers who deliver their coal it will materially assist this union to reach an agreement with the coal dealers.

Charles W. Hanscom.
Room 8, Johnson Bldg.

NEW OFFICES.

Work changing the arrangement of some of the offices at City Hall, as outlined in the Daily Ledger several days ago, has commenced. The room on the Council chamber floor now used as a committee room will be enlarged by moving the partition into the council chamber, and a new office for the committee room will be built adjoining it. The committee room will be occupied by the City Engineer.

On the first floor a door will be cut through into the office now occupied by the City Engineer so that the Mayor will have a main office and a private office. The window facing the railroad track in the Engineer's office will also be made into a doorway as an exit from the Mayor's office. These changes will be made as soon as possible, and will probably be ready for occupancy soon after the new year.

APPRECIATIVE.

Master John Byrne wishes to thank his Ledger customers for their kind gifts, and to wish them all a Happy New Year.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co.
646-658 Washington St., Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

Santa Claus Stops Over a Day and Has A Busy Night

At the Universalist church vestry on Tuesday evening the members of the Sunday school held their Christmas festival. Shortly after 7 o'clock a concert consisting of carols, recitations by the children, and vocal solos were enjoyed. As the concert was closing sleigh bells were heard and Santa Claus appeared. At the same time the curtain to the stage was raised disclosing two laden Christmas trees. With the help of others, Santa Claus distributed presents to all members of the Sunday school, after which ice cream and cake were enjoyed. At the close a march was played on the piano, the children forming in line and marching around the vestry each receiving a box of candy from Santa Claus. Music and games were then enjoyed for a short time. All united in wishing Santa Claus a Happy New Year.

At the Universalist church next Sunday morning, by request, the Christmas music will be repeated.

ACTIVITY AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Newsy Budget of Sports and Other Attractions

The intermediate bowling match was won by Capt. Robertson's team which had a lead of 30 pins over Trask's men. S. Prout was high man on strings.

The basketball team of intermediates play the Braintree Quintet this afternoon.

William Epes, a cousin of H. S. Epes of Grand View avenue, Wollaston, visited the local Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday. Mr. Epes is secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of Susquehanna, Pa.

The opening matches in the basketball league were played Tuesday morning and this morning. Team 4, Daniels, captain, defeated team 7, Roach, captain, 15 to 6.

Team 8 defeated team 2 by default. This morning team 6, Torrey, captain, defeated team 1, Williams, captain, by a score of 10 to 9. Team 3 Bates, captain, defeated team 5, Bowen, captain, by default. The semi-finals will be played tomorrow morning.

The Employed Boys athletic meet will be held in the gymnasium this evening.

The first basketball team goes to Chelsea this evening for a game with the quintet of the Chelsea Y. M. C. A.

The relay team will be entered in the athletic carnival of the I. A. A. C., which will be held in the Scenic Temple on Jan. 8. Probably several individual contestants will represent the association also.

The Saturday morning meeting for younger boys will be one of great interest to all. A stereopticon story of the life of "Ted" a street arab with a checkered career will be told to the boys. "Ted" was a real boy and the history of his early life as presented in this story is true. Every boy should know it.

The Sunday afternoon meeting for older boys will be the biggest meeting of the season. Mr. Allan C. Emery of the firm of Goodhue, Studley and Emery wool merchants, will give the address. Mr. Emery is noted throughout the state for his business ability as well as for his splendid manhood and every older boy should get in touch with his personality.

At the Christmas tree festival at the Universalist church last night Supt. Hobart said he rather expected Santa Claus to be present and wondered where he was. A little girl eager to help out said he had been at her house. Santa kept his appointment and arrived all right soon after.

SCHOOLS HAVE BALANCE

Sum of $150 Unexpended Out of $153,683.13

The financial statement of the School Committee for the year submitted to the committee at its meeting Tuesday evening, shows a balance on the right side of the ledger of $150. This balance is due to the fact that in making up the budget allowance was made for janitors services at the Houghs Neck school, as it was expected the building would be in use before the end of the year. The appropriation made in the annual budget passed by the City Council was $153,474 to which was added the sum of $209.13 received from tuition, books and supplies bringing the grand total up to $153,683.13. The financial report is as follows:

RECEIVED.

Appropriation by Council,	$153,474.00
Received from tuition, etc	209.13
Total,	$153,683.13

EXPENDED.

Salaries,	$116,817.61
Janitors,	10,100.00
Books and Sundries,	14,271.52
Fuel,	8,000.00
Transportation,	1,984.00
Rent,	360.00
Evening Schools,	2,000.00
Total,	$153,533.13
Unexpended balance,	150.00

The committee on text books recommended the adoption of "Household Hygiene" for the public schools. Adopted.

Miss Gertrude Eddy was elected a teacher at the Quincy school.

Dr. Bushnell presented the annual report of the School Committee which was accepted and will appear in print in the City Book.

The Superintendent was authorized to make his annual report in print.

It was voted to name the new school building to be erected in Montclair as the Montclair school.

A hearing was given on the petition that the children from Germantown and Adams Shore be allowed to attend the Coddington school instead of the Houghs Neck school.

After the hearing it was voted to assign the children of these two sections to the Coddington school.

WEST QUINCY MAN DEAD

Veteran of Civil War and Prominant in Societies

Hiram W. Campbell, a well known resident of West Quincy, died at his home on Copeland street this morning. Mr. Campbell has been in poor health for some time, although confined to his home but a week. Mr. Campbell came to Quincy from Maine and was a stone worker, which occupation he followed for many years. He was a veteran of the Civil war, although not a member of Paul Revere post, having served in a Maine regiment. He was a charter member and past grand of Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., and a past protector of Maple lodge, K. and L. of H. In politics he was a Republican, having served on the Ward Four committee for many years. He also served for several years as one of the election inspectors in precinct two. He was a widower, his wife having died some time ago. He leaves a son, James H. Campbell and a daughter, Mrs. Fred L. Badger.

YOUNG NORTHERN
GEESE 20c lb
at JOHNSON BROS.

NEW MASTER INSTALLED

Work Impressively Performed by Lafayette G. Blair

The officers of Wollaston lodge of Masons were installed Tuesday evening at a special communication. The installation, which was unusually impressive was performed by Wor. Lafayette G. Blair of Cambridge, assisted by Wor. Charles E. Pierce of South Boston, a member of Rural lodge of Quincy as grand marshal.

Wor. Smith B. Harrington of Wollaston, a member of Mt. Olive lodge of Cambridge, was also on the suite. The Grand officers were received with due honors, and were escorted to the lodge room by Wor. Bros. Fay, Copeland and Howard, and Bros, Semner, Farwell, Rowe and Davis.

The officers installed are:

Worshipful Master—Charles E. Monroe.
Senior Warden—Charles E. Cherrington.
Junior Warden—Carrol E. Bates.
Treasurer—I. Woodbury Pinkham.
Secretary—Alfred H. Richards.
Chaplain—Rev. Edward A. Chase.
Marshal—Charles F. Austin.
Senior Deacon—John Morgan.
Junior Deacon—George A. Smith.
Senior Steward—Hugh H. Ralph.
Junior Steward—Arthur B. Hillman.
Sentinel—Charles B. Hoxie.
Organist—Herbert Y. Follett.
Tyler—William P. Chase.

Refreshments were served after the installation which was followed by a social hour.

MAYOR SHEA AS GUEST

Councilmen and City Officials to Dine at Youngs

The inauguration day banquet of the City Council of 1910 and 1911, as well as the various city officials, will be held next Monday evening at Young's hotel, Boston. There will be a reception from 6 to 6.30, and dinner will be served at the latter hour. Mayor Shea will be the principal guest of the evening, and after dinner there will probably be some flow of oratory. Tickets may be secured of the committee, Councilmen John Moir and John D. Smith, or of the clerk of the Council. The committee are planning for a rousing good time.

THIRD CONCERT
Quincy Choral Society
ARTHUR S. WONSON, Conductor
QUINCY MUSIC HALL
Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7.45 P. M.
Haydn's CREATION
SOLOISTS
MRS. GRACE BONNER WILLIAMS, Soprano
FREDERIC KENNEDY, Tenor
FREDERIC MARTIN, Bass
Chorus of 100 Voices
Boston Festival Orchestra
JOHN W. CROWLEY, Principal
Tickets $1.00, 75 and 50 cents
On sale at C. C. Hearn's
ALL SEATS RESERVED
Doors open at 7 o'clock
Dec. 21, 24, 27, 28, 31, 2--6t

QUINCY Y. M. C. A. WIN FROM HYDE PARK

In Dual Meet of Six Events Including a Relay Race

Hyde Park Was First in the 15-Yard Dash

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. track team defeated the athletes from Hyde Park in a duel meet at the association building Tuesday evening. It was a sweeping victory for the Quincy men who had a lead of 36 points at the finish. Hyde Park got one first, in the 15 yard dash. Margeson defeating Phelan by a foot. Quincy took a big fist full of points in all the other events and allowed Hyde Park to pick up the one or two points that squeezed out between her fingers.

"Jim" Claflin broke two association records by heaving the 12-pound shot 41 feet, and by clearing 18 feet 9 1-2 inches in the broad jump. In the high jump McArdle had very little difficulty in winning at 5 feet 1 inch. Wood also of Quincy was second with 5 feet. Wilson lived up to his reputation in the potato race by getting first place and McInnes finished a good second.

In the final floor events, McArdle in his imitation of the kangeroo covered 29 feet 9 1-2 inches in three standing jumps. Buckley of Quincy was second with 28 feet 11 1-2 inches.

The relay race was quite exhilarating, although Phelan's fall on his second lap prevented Quincy's lapping her opponents. In attempting to pass Margeson, Phelan ran up on the floor at the lower end of the gymnasium and fell. He picked himself up immediately and before the end of the race had recovered part of the lead which was handed over to him by Prout. All the Quincy men ran well and distanced their opponents.

Jack Cass of Hyde Park was not what his name implies. He was entered in every event and got points for his team in four of them. He also ran in the relay race. Krebs of the visiting team displayed good form in the high jump but was unable to land better than third place. Margeson won 7 points for his team with a first in the 15 yard dash and third in the potato race.

Quincy has a good team this year and we may expect her to make a good showing inthe four cornered meet at Newton on Jan. 12. In this meet McArdle and Claflin led in point winning with 10 points each. Wilson was next with 9. Buckley scored five points and Phelan, Bates, Wood and McInnes contributed 3 each. Booth had 2 to his credit and Brooks 1.

The summary:

15 yard dash, first heat—J. Cass 1st and W. Cranshaw 2nd; second heat—Phelan 1st and Schreeman 2nd; third heat—Margeson 1st and Avery 2nd.

Heat for second men—won by Cranshaw.

Final heat—Margeson, 1st; Phelan 2nd; Cranshaw and Cass tied for 3rd.

12 pound shot—1st, Claflin 41 feet; 2nd, Bates 35 feet 4 1-2 inches; 3rd, Booth 32 feet 4 inches; 4th, Cass 31 feet 8 inches.

Potato race: first heat—Margeson 1st; Prout 2nd,; second heat—Wilson 1st; McInnes 2nd; final heat—Wilson 1st, McInnes 2nd, Margeson 3rd.

Running high jump; 1st—McArdle 5 feet 1 inch; 2nd—Wood 5 feet; 3rd—Krebs 4 feet 11 inches; 4th—Brooks 4 feet 9 inches.

*Running broad jump, 1st J. Claflin, 18 feet 9 1-2 inches; 2nd—Wilson 18 feet 4 inches; 3rd—Buckley 17 feet 9 inches; 4th—Cass 17 feet 1 1-2 inches.

Three standing broad jumps: 1st, McArdle, 29 feet 11 inches; 2nd—Buckley, 28 feet 11 1-2 inches; 3rd—Cass, 27 feet 5 1-2 inches; 4th—Wilson, 27 feet 5 in.

Relay race: Won by Quincy (W. Cranshaw, McArdle, E. Prout, Phelan) over Hyde Park (J. Cass, Brown, Mortenson, Margeson.)

Officials—Starter, Gifford. Clerk of course—LaRose. Judges at finish—Clee, Ratther, Blanchard and King.

* Association record.

Mothers' Association

Meeting Place: Bethany Church
Time: 3 o'clock, Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1911

Speaker: MRS. ELLEN RICHARDS of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Subject: "Foods for School Children."

☞ When such a speaker is secured to come to Quincy without compensation, it behoves us to see to it that she is greeted by a representative audience. Will the women of Quincy co-operate in this matter.

MARTHE C. MACKAY, President.
Quincy, Dec. 28-6t

Quincy Market
SPECIAL
Fresh Crisp Ginger Snaps 7c
Sirloin Steak 15c
Leg and Loin Lamb 11 1-2c
Lean Corned Beef 8c
Smoked Shoulder 12 1-2c
NUF SED
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
Dec. 28-1t

Read Ledger Advs.

GRAND CLEARANCE SALE
Beginning Thursday, Dec. 29
Bargains in Every Department
D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
The Shirt Waist Store

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Aeroplanes and pork are still falling.

How will Joe Cannon look with an "ex" before his name.?

"Scandal about rotten eggs" in Buffalo. There is also liable to be a scramble about them.

Some of the western cities are paying 86 cents a pound for butter, which is one reason why it is called golden.

John D. Rockefeller's name has been omitted from Cleveland's social register." Another case of conspicuousness by absence.

The militant British suffragettes of England should, by all means, be given the same rights as man ruffians jail rights.

Ballinger says he is ashamed of the State of Washington because it voted for woman suffrage. While the State of Washington, if it has any sense of shame, must be ashamed of Ballinger, on general principles.

Congress has adjourned for the holidays and is devoting itself in a versatile way, according to individual tastes, to the enjoyment of Christmas festivities. An unusually large contingent will remain in Washington. This was not the way in days of yore, when free railroad passes or bribes were as thick as leaves in velambrosa. Now let the various constituencies of our ninety-million nation send members to Congress untainted with other insiduous bribery, and we will have still other reforms and be farther from the decline and fall which historians say is inherent in all nations.

Quincy should appeal from the report of the special commission appointed to apportion the cost of Metropolitan parks and boulevards and especially the large apportionment for the Charles River dam and basin. One per cent may at first seem small, but the cost of the dam and basin has been nearly four million dollars, and one per cent is really heavy.

As the Daily Ledger figures it, the assessment upon Quincy this year for sinking fund and interest for the Charles River dam and basin is $45,486.80. Whether this sum is required annually we do not know. But $45,000.00 would build a schoolhouse in Quincy each year; or it would pay the annual expenses for highways, bridges, street sprinkling and removal of snow; or it would pay all the expenses of the Fire department, and buy a new auto truck.

Boston, Cambridge, Brookline, Newton, Somerville, Watertown, Waltham and the Charles river towns should pay larger percentages. The improvement has been of great benefit to all these towns, but actually no benefit to Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Hingham and South Shore towns. A very small portion of the people of Quincy know anything about this basin, or the work that has been done. It is safe to say that fifty percent of the people of Quincy do not today know that any improvement has been made. Why should they be assessed?

Occasionally Quincy people go to the north of Boston and they then envy the towns of Revere, Lynn, Swampscott, Nahant, Somerville, Everett, Malden, Medford and Melrose their boulevards but when it comes to taxation Boston and Cambridge are the only cities to pay heavier assessments, and the other towns get off easy. Quincy has two short sections of boulevard less than four miles in all. They have no connection with each other and lead to nowhere. Some day they may be appreciated, but not until they are connected and extended.

DRIFT OF OPINION

The public has little to learn with regard to the high cost of living. From the railroads much instructive information has reached it with regard to the high cost of supplies. The high cost of building material, also, is now being brought home to all those engaged in constructive work. Even the United States government is not immune to the influence of prevalent conditions in the building material market. Estimates based upon prices of a few months ago will not do now; they must be revised upward.

A single instance will serve to illustrate. The sum of $900,000 was appropriated for a new appraisers' building in Boston. One half of this sum was to be used in purchasing a site. There appears to be no new demand with regard to the ground upon which the building is to stand. But the building itself, from all appearances, will cost $100,000 more than the amount available. The bids received have all been rejected because they exceed the amount provided for in the estimates by about the sum named.

The building is to be a plain one. There is to be no ornamentation whatever. Materials required in its construction are all ordinary, commonplace. The essential thing is that it shall be commodious and substantial. Nevertheless, contractors cannot erect it today for a price which would have netted them a fair profit only a short time ago, and for the simple reason that everything entering into work of this character, in the way of material, is higher than it ever has been before.

This state of things has no relation to geography. High prices are confined to no section, peculiar to no quarter. Everything, save money, is advancing in value. Never was there more point than is given now to the old joke told of George Washington, who, so it runs, when a boy, was able to throw a dollar across the Delaware river because a dollar went farther in his time than in ours. Measured in this way, the person attempting to emulate the father of his country could not today throw a dollar a fourth of the way across the stream named.

And here we get back to fundamentals in economics. One of them is that it is not our income but our outgo that really counts. Another is that it is not the gold or silver in a dollar, or what is printed on its face, but what you can buy for it, that gives it value. John Stuart Mill, Prof. James Laurance Laughlin, William Jennings Bryan, the author of "Coin," and some millions of others, have discussed this matter more or less freely, and more or less exhaustively; but it has not as yet been settled quite satisfactorily, and it looks as if we might hear from it again.—Christian Science Monitor.

NET IS SPREAD OUT FOR ILLEGAL VOTERS

More Than Seven Hundred Men Under Indictment In Ohio

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Governor Harmon will ask the legislature as soon as it convenes for an investigation of the buying of votes in Adams county.

The wholesale buying of votes as developed by the investigation by the special grand jury at West Union has stirred up the governor. He has assured Judge Blair that he will cooperate with him in every way to unearth the illegal voting.

Seven hundred and fifty-eight are now under indictment and by the end of the week it is expected that at least 1500 will be in the net. Yesterday 124 more true bills were returned. Thirty-five, who pleaded guilty, were fined and disfranchised for five years.

HER SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Woman Pays $5300 to Father of Girl She Killed With Auto

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Rose Seidel Tresselt, wife of a well known business man, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the circuit court here for having run over with her automobile and killed Irene Cox, 9 years old.

Mrs. Tresselt was sentenced to twenty-one years in prison, but the sentence was suspended. She paid John A. Cox, father of the girl, $5300. Mrs. Tresselt is wealthy in her own right.

CHRISTMAS DIPLOMACY.

Lady—"My husband won't wear those shirts I bought him for Christmas. I didn't think he would. And now I'd like to exchange them."

Clerk—"For what, madam?"

Lady—"Well, you might let me look at some lace handkerchiefs and some silver hatpins."—Puck.

Papke Loses to Australian

Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 28.—Billy Papke, who claims the middleweight championship of the world, lost to Dave Smith, the Australian middleweight champion, on a foul, in the tenth round. Smith led the fight throughout.

Work Resumed on Maine Wreck

Havana, Dec. 28.—After having lain off for Christmas workmen on the batttleship Maine wreck have resumed operations. The engineers expect to expose the wreck to view not later than April 1.

JOHN EVANS SEES PRESIDENT

Attends His Church at Washington Christmas Morning

Washington, D. C., Dec. 26, 1910.

Dear Editor:

I promised my dear friends in Quincy that I would write to them through the medium of the Ledger. Now please tell them that I am having the time of my life here with my dear son and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis of 1114 E. Capital street. Day before Christmas I enjoyed myself wonderfully visiting the markets. I want to tell you about some of the customs here and through the southland, every family rich and poor must have a Christmas tree for this great festival. There were surely enough, the markets and stores were flooded with all kinds of trees, holly, moss, mistletoe, in fact any green thing that grows. No matter where you go, you meet men, boys, girls, yes and even ladies carrying a tree on their back. I think there could not be a house, especially where there are children that were left without a Christmas tree.

JOHN EVANS.

Another custom here at all times, the ladies no matter how well to do carry their baskets to the market. They go from one stall to another until their baskets are so full that there is no room for more. The rich women never think of sending their cooks or servants, but delight in carrying their own baskets.

Christmas, Sunday morning, I went to All Souls' church, the President's church. The service commenced at 11 A. M. and I was there fifteen minutes before so as to find room. All visitors were given seats in the rear, until the regular attendants and the President arrived. At eleven sharp in came Mr. Taft with two secret service men. He walked all the way from the White House over slippery sidewalks. When he reached his pew, very few people had noticed him, but my eagle eye spied him all right. Indeed no one would ever take him for anyone but an ordinary worshipper. He sang, read the selections, listened as attentively to the sermon as any one there. He is partly baldheaded, a large, portly, kind looking man. I was close to him, but he did not impress me as did the strenuous Roosevelt. Mr. Pierce the minister took for his text, "And he became to them that believe the cause of eternal salvation." Mr. Pierce has just got a raise in salary from $2,500 $5,000 and has besides $15 every time he offers a prayer in the senate as its chaplain. I thought from listening to his sermon that he was not worth the money or our own ministers in Quincy are greatly under paid.

Sunday afternoon I visited Mrs. Laing and her son and daughters, formerly well known residents of Quincy. Their friends will be glad to hear that they are all well and nicely situated in their new home at Mt. Pleasant.

Today is the day after, and now comes another custom, every few minutes the door bell rings and what do you think! the news boy, the garbage man, the street sweeper, in fact, all the folks that have done the most trivial service during the year, although well paid for it come to your door with a paper asking for a Christmas present and everybody contributes.

Well, I don't want to tire you with my first letter for I intend to write again. In my next I may take you with me through the city of Baltimore where our own Massachusetts boys were halted, stoned and some killed on their way to defend this Capital in 1861.

John Evans.

COLDS CAUSE HEADACHE
LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. Grove. 25c.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

BONDS NOT TO MARRY.

When Miss Margaret Perkins went to work as telephone operator in a local hotel today the management required her to give a bond not to marry within six months. This instrument, duly signed and sealed, holds Miss Perkins' bondsmen liable to the extent of $500 in the event she becomes a bride on or before June 21, 1911. The sureties are prominent business men. The reason for this unusual requirement by the hotel management is that a half dozen telephone operators have married within as many months, the last two being Miss Florence Joyce, who recently married a rancher, and Miss Olive Bourne, who has gone to Rockland, Mich., to join her intended husband.

"I am not engaged to marry any one, nor do I expect to enter into an engagement during the coming six months," said Miss Perkins, a comely brunette, "and for that reason my bondsmen have nothing to fear. Of course, I have received a proposal or two, but I am not ready to settle down for life. The making of a bond is a matter of business with the management of the hotel," the operator continued. "There is more or less trouble every time a new operator is 'broken' in, the rule being that as soon as a girl becomes efficient she deserts the switchboard to join heart and hand with some mere man. As I said, I am not ready to become the wife of any man, therefore the management has nothing to fear so far as I am concerned. The two young women working on the other eight-hour shifts will also be required to give bonds, I am informed."

A. G. Benson, manager of the house, believes that Miss Perkins and the other operators will carry out their agreement to the letter.

BIG HAULS BY TRAWLERS.

The new otter trawler Ripple built at Quincy is expected to start on her first trip today. The Foam came in Monday with her first catch, under Capt. Herbert Green. He registered at the exchange 60,000 pounds of haddock 300 pounds of cod, 8000 pounds of scrod and 2000 pounds of sole. Capt. Ralph Thomas, who came in Tuesday with his first catch on the old steam trawler Spray, had not done so well, and hailed 37,000 pounds of haddock.—Globe.

I. O. O. F. OFFICERS.

Mt. Wollaston lodge, No. 80, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers Tuesday evening.

N. G.—Walter H. Walker.
V. G.—Arthur H. Dunston.
R. S.—James S. Baker.
F. S.—Arthur W. Stetson.
Treasurer—E. Frank Mitchell.
Trustee for three years—Tobias H. Burke.

L. O. L. OFFICERS.

Quincy lodge, L. O. L., No. 194, has elected these officers for the year 1911:

Worthy Master—W. B. Jones.
Deputy Master—Alexander Morrison.
Recording Secretary—H. A. Sprowl.
Financial Secretary—A. T. Sinnerburg.
Treasurer—Gustaf Lundberg.
Chaplain—Richard Rendle.
Director of Ceremonies—Arthur Philips.
First Conductor—A. Beaton.
Second Conductor—William Littlewood.
Inside Tyler—George Lyons.
Outside Tyler—Charles Archibald.
Trustee—Andrew Stewart.
Delegate to Grand Lodge—Andrew Stewart.
Foreman of Law—James Treeburn.
The installation will take place Tuesday evening, Jan. 10.

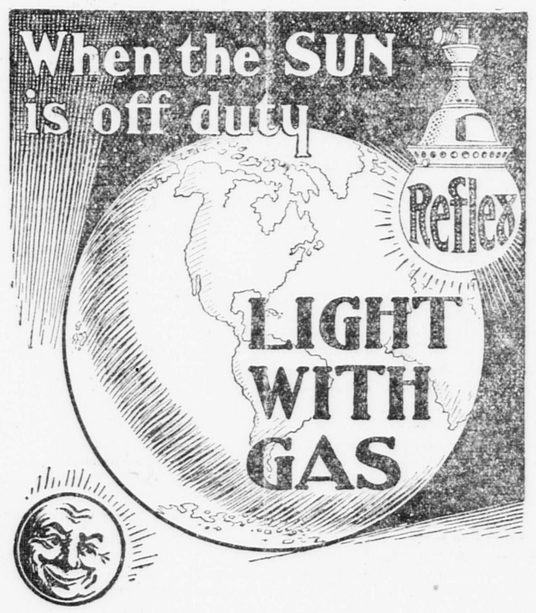
RECEIVER FOR BATH BANK

Trust Company Will Liquidate People's Safe Deposit and Savings

Bath, Me., Dec. 28.—The Bath Trust company was appointed receiver to liquidate the People's Safe Deposit and Savings bank, whose doors were closed on Nov. 28, by Associate Justice Spear in the supreme court upon recommendation of State Bank Examiner Skelton, at whose instance the bank was closed.

Oscar C. Rogers, treasurer of the latter bank, and Joseph M. Tratt, its attorney, were appointed masters to pass upon the claims presented to the bank.

BLUE LABEL SOUPS
Large Cans $2.75 doz.
[Regular 30ct value]
JOHNSON BROTHERS



The Reflex Inverted Gas Burner
Price $1.75 Installed
The best substitute for sunlight
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT COMPANY
Phone Quincy 181 . 11 Granite St., Quincy

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

MAYOR SHEA'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

WILL APPEAR IN FULL IN

THE DAILY LEDGER

OF MONDAY

Together with a full

REPORT OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF 1911

And the Business of the Opening Day.

SEVERAL OTHER INTERESTING FEATURES

may be expected in this issue of

THE DAILY LEDGER

NEWSY EVERY DAY

WOMEN'S CLUBS

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND SEASONS' PLANS

The last meeting of the year and also the annual of the Hospital Aid association, will be held tomorrow, (Thursday) afternoon with Mrs. William B. Rice of Adams street. Annual reports will be given by the officers, followed by the election of officers for 1911. Every woman in Quincy should be interested in the Hospital and will find a welcome in the Association. Now is a good time to join as the new year is beginning. Attend the meeting tomorrow.

* * *

Mrs. Ellen Richards of Massachusetts Institute of Technology is coming to Quincy to speak to our mothers. Her subject is Foods for School Children. There is no better authority upon this subject. Mrs. Richards is sought after by clubs and societies all over the country, because she can tell so much about foods and their values. All mothers want to give to their children the most nourishing food which can be obtained and prepared, because it is a recognized fact that children may be fed and still not nourished. A child who needs more nourishment than he is receiving cannot do its best in the way of physical nor mental growth. Mrs. Richards is a specialist in the line of foods for children. Every woman who loves her children should come and learn what she can from Mrs. Richard's talk. There is no admission fee. It is the regular meeting of the Mothers' association to be held Wednesday, Jan. 4, at 3 o'clock at Bethany church.

* * *

Fragment society of First church will not hold its January meeting on the usual first Wednesday of the month having postponed it to Wednesday, Jan. 11.

* * *

Wollaston Alliance is to observe its annual "neighborhood meeting" on Wednesday, Jan. 4, a good program having been arranged for the afternoon.

* * *

Junior Friday club has its first meeting of the New Year on Monday afternoon, Jan. 2, with Miss Edith Randall of Spear street as the hostess and Mrs. William Whitney in charge of the program which will be a continuation of the study of France.

* * *

Twelfth Night Revels is something new in Quincy. It is the aim of the Education committee of the Quincy Women's club to follow the old English custom of keeping Twelfth Night. There the Christmas festivities lasted until Jan. 6th, twelve days after Christmas and the winding up of all the fun and merrymaking always came on this 6th of January, which was called Twelfth Night. After that the Christmas greens were taken down and every one went to work in earnest until Easter time. Our Twelfth Night Revels must come on Jan. 5th, because it was not possible to make arrangements for the 6th. We have during the winter a number of pleasant dances, but it is predicted that this year's Revels will be so enjoyable that it will become an annual affair. The problem of costumes is solved, arrangements having been made by Mrs. Kitson for costumes at a very trifling expense.

* * *

Mrs. May Alden Ward lectures this evening at eight o'clock on "History in the Making." The lecture will be given at the Women's Educational and Industrial union, 264 Boylston street, Boston.

* * *

Mrs. James M. Nowland of Edgemere road entertains the Friday club at her home on Jan. 6, when the club will continue its travels along the Mediterranean under the leadership of Mrs. Francis Abele, Jr., the special subject being Sicily and other islands.

* * *

Dr. Benjamin Sharp is to give an illustrated lecture on Alaska and Siberia at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 3, of the Philergians of Braintree at Cochato hall. The club has its annual gentlemen's night on Jan. 17.

* * *

The January meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Women's clubhouse. The Nursery has behind it a year of great success for never in its history has more interest been taken by members or more accomplished for the good of the Nursery. The outlook for the new year is unusually bright.

Mrs. C. O. Tyler's lecture on Food Sanitation which was postponed on account of a bad storm, is to be given on Tuesday afternoon Jan. 31 at the Women's clubhouse under the auspices of the Home Economics committee of the Quincy Women's club. It is hoped all homemakers will save the date and plan to attend.

* * *

Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, begins the new year with a meeting on Monday afternoon Jan. 2, at the birthplace of President John Adams. The meeting will be held in the sunny south parlor. If however the day should be unusually cold or stormy, so that many members cannot attend, the meeting will be postponed.

* * *

At the meeting last week of the Brighthelmstone club of Brighton and Allston Miss Mildred Sheldon Bass of Wollaston carried the audience with her through the transformation of Scrooge the Miser into Scrooge the Benevolent in Dickens' Christmas Carol. Her interpretation of the various characters in the ever-delightful story made the afternoon wonderfully interesting to the listeners. The story was carefully abridged to bring it within the compass of an afternoon's entertainment.

* * *

Quincy club women are interested in the announcement that Edward Howard Griggs is to give a course of lectures on Thursday evenings in Jordan hall, Boston, beginning Jan. 5. There will be eight lectures with "The Philosophy of Plato and Its Relation to Modern Life" for the subject.

* * *

The next meeting of the Quincy Women's club will be held at the clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 10.

* * *

The Daughters of the Revolution of Massachusetts are to tender a reception to Mrs. Adaline F. Fitz, president general of the National society on Tuesday the tenth of January, from three until five o'clock at hotel Vendome, Boston. Members of the society in Quincy are planning to attend.

* * *

The Milton Woman's club has voted a small contribution to the National Playground association. Milton has such good playgrounds that residents appreciate the needs of other towns less fortunate.

BLUEBIRD OF HAPPINESS.

With the appearance o f Maeterlinck's famous play in America women will soon be as eager to wear a "Bluebird"—that elusive symbol of happiness which the searchers never quite find—as has London and Paris for the past season.

These mascots, with their assurance of good fortune, come in the shape of dainty bird brooches, enameled in blue, with a shimmer of silver showing on the wing feathers.

Pendant blue birds in gold or silver are worn on light chains around the neck. Hatpins of them rival the Chantecleer ones, and are not half so common.

A novel English use of this mascot is to have a good-sized bluebird fashioned in plush to perch on the top of a motor car. If this is too conspecuous, a small mascot is given a place inside near the bouquet holder.

A bride this season will give bluebird charms for the chatelaine to each of her bridesmaids.

—"Old Robert Thomas" in his almanac says "As the weather grows colder without, our hearts should grow warmer within." A very pretty sentiment, and one which everybody can take note of and endeavor to exemplify. There is a general belief that the seasons are changing; that we have shorter winters than was the case half a century ago. Those who have kept a record of the seasons know to what extent it is true, but there is little doubt but that some influence is in operation to render the climate in this vicinity more mild than it used to be. One old philosopher remarks "There don't seem to be so much time as there used to be." There are too many forms of amusement to take up the attention, and that may be one reason for the seeming lack of leisure. December of all the months, offers the most opportunities for the using of spare time, and if it is well used no complaint need be made.—Lynn Item.

WHAT WOMEN CAN DO.

Striking Exemplification of their Power in Organized Social Service Shown by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston.

Just a women's club? No, a big, powerful Association, working for the educational, industrial and social advancement of women. It has its headquarters in a four-story building of faded red brick near the entrance to the Subway and the Public Gardens. There are show cases outside, with children's dresses, hats, fancy work and jars of clear, colored jellies. Perhaps you've seen them? The little world inside that building is like a hive of good-natured bees. Every person there is busy, busy, for there is much work to be done.

Work? The 250 employees have all that they can do. The Union's three different lines of activity are going on all the time—educational, industrial and social—and these comprise some 16 branches. They range from school luncheons to legislation, from business agency to economic research. Some new task is taken up each year, and the earlier lines of endeavor are continued so that the scope of the Union's work is constantly enlarging.

Thirty-three years ago a group of women met every Sunday afternoon to study various topics of interest under the leadership of Dr. Harriet Clisby. In the springtime of that year a special meeting was held to consider the need for organization among women, and from that meeting of 42 members, the present Union was formed. The first work attempted was that of opening a reading room not far from Park Street Church, and in a short time an employment agency, information department and various classes and committees for moral and spiritual development were added. Then came the Department for the Protection of Women, which had as its aim "to obtain for working women wages wrongfully withheld from them by dishonest employers." This committee worked strenuously and did an immense amount of good. Lawyers offered their services, and at the end of the second year after it began the department had adjusted two hundred complaints and recovered $830 for those to whom it was due.

Every year the work grew wider in scope. The Food Sales Department, which started with a shelf full of things in a small sized parlor secretary, during the year of 1909-10 handled almost $90,000 worth of business. The Union's lunch rooms, including the New England Kitchen, took in $186,000 more.

In the Autumn of 1906 the Union established what are known as the "Trade School Shops," now three in number, to supplement the work of the Boston Trade School for Girls. The object of these shops is to give to girls who have finished their course in the Trade School an extra year of training, in order to fit them more fully for the work of the business world. In the rooms of the Union the shops are opened under the directorship of Miss Florence M. Marshall, and here from 17 to 24 young girls every year are taught millinery, the making of infants' wear and dressmaking. They are paid for what they do, and each girl is carefully watched and guided, to the end that her individual possibilities may be developed. Special emphasis is laid on the relation of employer to employee, the problems which the employer has to face are explained, and the young workers are given some insight into the general theory of business. Here, also, is an opportunity for the woman who wishes to become a teacher of industrial branches to acquire a practical knowledge of her subject. The Trade School Shops may be regarded as a working laboratory where may be gained a first hand knowledge such as it is impossible to find in any school.

The year before the Trade Shop movement was inaugurated another experiment was tried—something entirely out of the ordinary in the educational world. To be sure, lectures and classes for employees had been established from time to time in different department stores, but the idea of several of these stores co-operating in the training of their saleswomen was entirely new. In spite of considerable opposition a class in salesmanship was started by the Union in the Fall of 1905. Three classes were graduated and placed during that year, but there was little demand for training on the part of pupils. The classes were small and many of the applicants were too young and physically unfit for saleswomen. In September, 1907, it was decided that only by very energetic co-operation on the part of the stores could such a course be made sufficiently popular to attract women of suitable type. Representatives from the leading department stores formed an advisory committee, and with their assistance an arrangement was made so that the stores themselves should set the stamp of their approval upon the work of the Union.

Each store selects six of its most intelligent saleswomen every three months, and sends them to the school of salesmanship five mornings in each week. The girls work at the store every afternoon and on Monday mornings, and receive the same wage as they were receiving previously. The work of the school, conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Lucinda Prince, comprises such subjects as commercial English, store arithmetic, the study of textiles and design, personal hygiene and salesmanship. These lessons of salesmanship are not unlike the practice work for teachers in normal schools. Real goods are sold by the members of the class to real purchasers, while the others look on and criticise the sales girl's methods. Then, also, the girls are encouraged to observe what actually happens in their stores each day, to analyze the sales of other clerks in the department, and the characteristics of different classes of customers. Experience has shown that such training as the girls receive at the school makes them worth much more to the stores which employ them. They receive higher salaries and greater responsibilities than would have been possible without such training.

Department stores in other cities were not slow to appreciate the advantages of such a school as that conducted by the Women's Union in Boston, and no sooner had the plan proved feasible than there arose a demand from all parts of the country for women trained in the art of teaching salesmanship, to conduct schools similar to that in Boston. For this reason there has recently been established, in connection with Simmons College, a normal course for the training of teachers in this work. Simmons gives the theoretical training; the Salesmanship School the actual experience. For the next few years this will be distinctly pioneer work, and women who have been graduated from this course should be sure to obtain interesting and lucrative employment.

The Union endeavors in every way possible to co-operate with other agencies for social betterment in the city. In the year 1907, the Union, acting in co-operation with an advisory committee from the Association of Head Masters of Boston High and Latin Schools, began supplying hot luncheons at cost to 14 of our Boston High Schools. This work was originally started under the leadership of Mrs. Ellen H. Richards in 1894 by the New England Kitchen, which was the pioneer in the school lunch movement in America. The work of supplying hot luncheons has continued up to the present day; and during this last year the number of pupils fed every session has been about 4,000 and the prices of food have ranged from 3 to 10 cents per order.

In 1906, a Research Department was established in the Union, under the leadership of Miss Mabel Parton, for the purpose of investigating different problems connected with the welfare of the wage-earning woman of today. Later, when illness compelled Miss Parton's resignation, the work was continued by Dr. Susan M. Kingsbury, of Simmons College.

In this department are several women who are engaged in the study of the actual position of the woman at work; the means by which she secures work; opportunities for the trained woman in lines other than teaching; the protection of the woman at work; woman's organizations, and other kindred topics. This is made possible by fellowships given by different colleges to their graduates, and by other persons who are interested in the work being done. The department of research co-operates with all the other departments of the Union in securing information which may be useful to them in their various lines. In June of this year the preliminary report of one of the investigations was published under the title of "Vocations for the Trained Woman." This report has been the occasion of much comment, since the conclusions there reached are new and vitally important.

One of the departments of the Union which has been doing most effective, if unspectacular, work is the Department of Law and Thrift. Miss Caroline Cook, who is in charge of this department, is a woman well versed in the technicalities of the law, and her aid and advice have proved exceedingly helpful to many persons who were in difficulty. In connection with this department is an Emergency Loan Fund. This is a fund for the making of small loans at a low rate of interest on good security. It frequently happens that families who are not well off have borrowed money at a high rate of interest from salary loan associations, and finding themselves unable to pay when the day of settlement arrived, have become entangled in legal complications. At this point the Union has stepped in and adjusted the difficulty, sometimes by making from its emergency loan fund a loan sufficient to cover the amount of indebtedness. The rate of interest charged by the Union is so small as to be paid off usually without great embarrassment.

Perhaps the latest and most interesting line of work which is being carried on by the Union is that of the appointment bureau for trained women, under the charge of Miss Laura D. Gill, formerly Dean of Barnard College. The aim of the department is to "find free scope for the native taste of well trained women in remunerative ways; to increase the scale of renumeration for all women by making their work better because more self-expressive; and lastly, to throw the influence of trained women into many social and civic movements needing their thought and effort." Its special endeavor is to open non-teaching occupations to the college trained woman. Miss Gill is endeavoring to reach all the young women who are now in our New England colleges, with the idea of showing them the necessity of deciding before the termination of their college career what occupation they wish to pursue, and of commencing at once to prepare for such a position. This year a special campaign will be conducted among the members of the entering classes in college, in order that they may choose their studies for the next four years with the definite idea of learning what will be most useful in after life. Miss Gill does more than supply positions for women who are ready to work. By far the greater portion of her time is filled with giving advice with describing the conditions of the business world as they actually are, and with assisting young women to discover their own abilities and limitations. As Miss Gill says, "The hardest thing in the world is to tell the truth about yourself." It is her aim to show others how to find that truth.

There are many other departments of Union work; such as the library which is just started and which is making a specialty of material that relates to women in industry; the room registry; food sales department; handwork department; and information bureau. The Department of Social Work is especially interesting. Its chief activity is advising people; directing them to different organizations which may be of aid to them; giving them information of all kinds; helping those who are in trouble. The work is of necessity wide in scope and indefinite in character, and its influence, though as far reaching, is less tangible than that of the other departments. As Miss Laura E. Gilman, the director of the department, says in speaking of her work, "We try to continue the old lines of work as well as to branch out into the new. Every woman in need of advice is welcome here, be she young or old, rich or poor. We want to help them all."

The Union has between four and five thousand members, among who are women known and honored throughout the country. Last year its 12 trustees included the President of Mount Holyoke, the President of Wellesley, the Dean of Radcliffe and the Dean of Simmons. The Union is a great and powerful instrument for good.—May Ayres in The Boston Common.

BOSTON ART MUSEUM.

The demand for the companionship of representatives of the Museum in visits to the galleries has become greater than the three assistants who have hitherto acted as Docents can meet with due regard to their other duties. In order to maintain and develop the service, the officers of the Museum have united in offering to act as Docents on one day in each week, so far as their other work will permit, each within the limits of his own department, and the officers of each department on a different day. The assignment of Docent days will be as follows:

Monday, Print Department; Tuesday, Classical Art; Wednesday, Chinese and Japanese Art; Thursday, Egyptian Art; Friday, Western Art; Saturday morning, Pictures.

Visitors desiring to see a department of the Museum under the guidance of a Docent are invited to apply by letter to the Secretary of the Museum. Applications at the desk at the entrance will continue to be considered, but, owing to the other demands on the officers, are less likely to be successful. Applicants by mail will receive a card giving the day and hour of the apopintment, and entitling the holder to the attendance o fthe officer named on the card within his department for one hour from the time stated. The number of persons in one party is limited to twenty-five. Those holding cards of introduction to the Docents are not exempt from the usual admission fee to the Museum.

Unless by exception, Docent service covering the whole Museum will be discontinued in future. Visitors and groups desiring to see all the departments at one visit will be invited to make use of the Leaflet Guide to the Museum, now in preparation, naming more important exhibits in each department.—Museum of Fine Arts Bulletin.

DANCE AT WOLLASTON

Several College Men Were in The Party

Many members of the Quincy High school past and present were among those attending the dancing party given in Wollaston hall on Friday evening by Harold M. Gore and Philip S. Barnes, two of Wollaston's popular young men.

The dance has come to be one of the fixtures of the Christmas holidays, largely patronized by the younger set of Wollaston and Quincy. That of this year proved no exception, as was evidenced by the number of young men encircling the hall with their fair partners to the music of Merrill's orchestra.

The dance was enlivened by the presence of a number of the Amherst "Aggie" boys, classmates of Gore, coming from Braintree, Marlboro, Hyde Park, Ware and South Acton.

The affair was matronized by Mrs. George H. York and Mrs. Henry S. Barnes.

Among those present were: Misses Eleanor Whittemore, Helen Seavey, Dorothy Sayward, Iva Briggs, Dorothy Packard, Helen Browne, Marion Browne, Esther Briggs, Catherine Gay, Ruth Parker, Edna Rhodes, Corinne Picard, Clara Bushnell, Catherine Johnson, Elizabeth Torrey, Caroline Sprague, Bessie Brooks, Muriel Badger, Nettie Pote, Sybil Marsh, Marion McClune, Gladys Bain, Lillian Mead, Margaret Ellis of Melrose, Mabel Rich of Hyde Park, Hazel Coy, Mildred Page of Melrose.

Messrs. Carl Smith, Ralph Blake, Clarence Armstrong, Sylvester Brown, Ralph Hendrie, Starrett White, Max Pinkham, Eli Marsh, Harold Marsh, Gordon Jameson, Brewster Walker, Theodore Corey, William Northrop, William Murphy, Malcolm Hinkley, Harold Prout, Demi Gourlie, Reginald Sprague, Joseph Hogan, Walter Lakin, Harold Briggs, Raymond Hall, Gordon Jenkins, Lawrence Pope, Leon Browne, Stanley Churchill, Glover Howe, Harold Leathers, Franz Marceau, Horace Bickford, Ralph W. Piper, Stanley Freeborn, Dudley French.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

SAVE DOCTOR BILLS.

It was an association of gentlemen, professionally physicians and chemists, all of whom were born in the drug trade, so to speak, and who have been connected with it all their lives, who first gave to the world Castoria, which as every one knows is a pleasant and effective remedy for the ailments of infants and children. It has always been recognized as a meritorious preparation, and its reward has been the greatest popularity ever enjoyed by any remedy ever put upon the market; attained, not by flamboyant advertising or appeals to ignorance or vulgar prejudice, but by inherent merit. All physicians recommend it, and many, very many, prescribe it.

Many parents call in the family physician. Many other parents take advantage of what the physician told them when he was first called in consultation. All good family physicians say: "Give the children Castoria." Healthy parents know this remedy of old, for they took it themselves as children. It was more than thirty years ago that Castoria made a place for itself in the household. It bore the signature of Charles H. Fletcher, then, as it does to day. The signature is its guarantee, which is accepted in thousands of homes where there are children.

Medical Journals are reluctant to discuss proprietary medicines. Hall's Journal of Health, however, says "Our duty is to expose danger and record the means for advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health by regulating the sytem, not by stupefying it, and our readers are entitled to the information."

—A man in Boston got six months for stealing two cents, Public opinion will be unanimous that he deserved it says the Brockton Enterprise. Any man in these days who hasn't learned that the only safe plan in thieving is to do the thing grandly ought to be locked up as foolish.

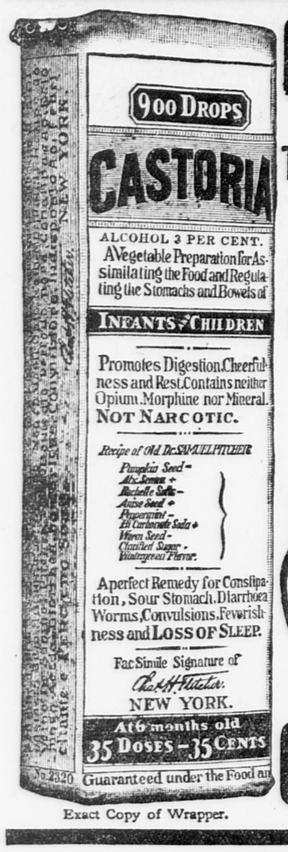
☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLES
Large 30ct Cans
Today for 25ct
at JOHNSON BROS

PETERSON'S SUGGESTIONS
Better BREAD
People use
PERFECTION FLOUR
Hundreds of People use our Perfection Flour. We want One Hundred more to become better bread eaters.
ORDER A BAG TODAY.
J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy

THE STORE FOR LADIES' FURNISHINGS
WHEELER
Neckwear, Belts, Gloves, Aprons, House Dresses, Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear.
The "Belle" Shirtwaists, May Manton Patterns.
Percales, Prints, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Outing Flannels.
G. W. WHEELER
City Square, Quincy

A GOOD PRESENT
For Every Day in the Year.
A Year's Subscription to the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from
THE HOME DAILY



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS

We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.

Special $1.50

Sizes 8 1-2 to 2

A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle

Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00

Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE

1375 Hancock Street, Quincy

Dec. 22-tf

COAL

C R R

Barge No. 4

Just Unloaded

562 TONS PEA

434 " LEHIGH EGG

Direct from the Mines

Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter

REMEMBER

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	P. M.
Monday, Dec. 26	7.30	8.00
Tuesday,	8.15	9.00
Wednesday,	9.00	9.45
Thursday,	9.45	10.30
Friday,	10.30	11.00
Saturday,	11.15	11.45
Sunday,	11.45	12.00

Boom of the Nail Trimmers.

"The supply of 'Florodora' sextets seems to be running out."

"Why do you think so?"

"The manicurists are catching most of the rich old bachelors."

BRIEFS

George Weston of Newport avenue is at home for a ten days' holiday from Brown university.

Miss Ruth Hardy of Wollaston avenue has arrived from Oberlin, Ohio where she is engaged in a course of study at Oberlin college.

The Pickwick club observes its thirty-eighth anniversary on Wednesday, Jan. 4, the executive committee having the affair in charge.

Friends of Rufus F. Leach of Safford street will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly convalescing from his sudden illness of last week.

Theodore Corey of South Central avenue returned for Christmas from Hamilton, N. Y., where he is putting in his freshman year at Colgate University.

Harold M. Gore of Newport avenue and Ralph Blake of Park street are home from the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst where they are students.

Rathburn Sprague of Park street and Franz R. Marceau of Wollaston avenue are in Wollaston for the holidays from Hanover where they are attending Dartmouth.

Lawrence F. Loring of Willow street left Monday for New York city where he will spend the holidays with friends and join in the customary festivities that welcome in the New Year in that metropolis.

Harold M. Gore and Philip S. Barnes, two Wollaston young men gave their annual Christmas dance Tuesday evening. A large number of past and present high school members were present.

Although on account of the scarlet fever epidemic, the children of the Wollaston Unitarian Sunday school were obliged to forgo the usual Christmas entertainment they did not miss all of the pleasure incident thereto. Three diminutive representatives of Santa Claus, in the persons of Horton Page, Stanley Cummings and Fred Rollins, delivered at the house of each scholar the box of sweets generally found on the Christmas tree.

LABOR WAR IS FEARED

Persistent Rumors of General Strike or Lockout In Lynn

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 28.—Rumors of a labor war of large proportions in Lynn, to be started the first of January, are current in this city. Both the union leaders and the shoe manufacturers deny that a general strike or a lockout is contemplated, nevertheless the reports that something of the sort is under consideration are so recurrent that the situation is considered grave.

Meantime business men of the city are making efforts to bring about a conciliation of the manufacturers and the union workers where strikes are in progress.

Through the efforts of the state board of conciliation and arbitration in regard to the strike in the factory of Brophy Brothers on Market street, an arrangement was arrived at by which 700 employes who have been idle for a week returned today. There are still about 550 shoe operatives out, however, in two other factories.

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES

--- THE ---

Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.

10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

IN FASHION'S REALM

One-Piece Gowns Popular With Smart Corduroy and Velvet Coats.

Directoire Styles More and More Fashionable as Season Advances.

Cold weather presses home the need for a readjustment of the autumn wardrobe. The clothes that we thought were warm enough in October are insufficient in December, and we have an uncomfortable feeling that they will not serve at all for the next three months unless drastic changes are made.

The trouble with any wardrobe that has no margin is that we are usually too warmly or too thinly clad. No one costume will serve for every day. We have offered to us an infinite variety of weather, and it taxes the patience and the ingenuity of even a clever woman to provide exactly the right clothes for its whimsies.

When one can wear a comfortably warm one-piece frock in the open day after a day with merely the addition of a velvet or fur shoulder scarf and muff for the colder days, when the question of clothes is simply settled. Neither the one-piece frock nor the shoulder scarf serves for the present nor will it do so for the months to come.

On the other hand, the hardest of humans cannot wear a warm fur coat every day. It has been tried by many, and advocated by many, as a means of using one-piece frocks for daily wear. It is not a good plan. The weight of the coat always tires the shoulder muscles and drags down the back and neck. On mild days its heat is not to be endured.

All of which means that a fur coat is an admirable luxury, especially for evening wear, cold and rough days, and for use when driving in a trap or a motor. There is no doubt that it has heavy demands made upon it, and pays back in service for its cost, but experiment has proved that it cannot take the place of every other coat except at the risk of one's health. Then what?

I asked this question of the tailors, for I wanted to know what was being done. A fact is better than a theory if one would be helpful. The answer of all was the same—that short corduroy and velveteen coats were being made for one-piece frocks to be worn when a fur coat was not needed.

One of the best tailors told me that his workroom had been busy for weeks, since the first snappy day, in matching the materials for those coats to the cloth of the one-piece frock. This is not an easy task, as every one knows who has tried to match even in the same material the almost irridescent tones of the day. Fortunately for the patience of the tailor and the patron, black is the favorite combination with many colors.

In the light of the last few seasons the combination of a black coat, especially a short one, with a colored gown, seems in bad taste. It sounds worse than it is. It is true that black cannot be used without judgment and consideration, but both of those qualities must be brought to bear on the present problem if the result is to be satisfying.

The velveteen coat is not as serviceable for the morning hours as the corduroy one, and for that reason it is not advocated. There is no doubt that velvet and velveteen are enjoying a wide popularity, but they should only be used by the woman who uses a trap of some sort if she goes out in the morning, or by the woman who only wishes coats for the afternoon social hours.

When the fashion is taken up by the woman who must wear that coat at 9 o'clock in the morning it is a bad choice.

The corduroy coat is quite in good taste to wear in the morning, and it also serves admirably for the afternoon. True, it is a weave of velveteen but its use has always been an everyday one, so it ranks with cloth, cheviot, and homespun. It is worn in black over black frocks, over certain shades of brown, over dull magenta, and olive green.

The woman who is not sure of her color eye will do better, however, if she matches the color of her gown in the corduroy and has a coat of it. The material comes in nearly all of the fashionable colors in the winter, and one is sure to get at least a harmonizing tone, if not an exact one.

The model for these coats is distinctly Directoire. The so-called sack coat is not used. A more boyish, a more jaunty model is the choice. The underarm line is straight, it is true, but the back and the front are not broad. There is no fullness and the fronts have no darts.

The shoulder lines are not extended and there is no padding. The latter point is very important. The coat that is built up is out of running. Canvas and wadding are avoided. Seeming breadth of figure is not obtained by cutting the armholes on an artificial line and then holding out the material by a built-up shape of crinoline between it and the lining.

It may be impossible to make a good-looking coat for certain figures without doing this, but the tailor of today who knows the best fashion avoids such an old-fashioned method. He knows that it brands him at once as being behind the style. There is no necessity of making an artificial bust for the woman who has none, because there is no longer a defined waist line. The straight line from shoulder to hem is a necessity if one would have the fashionable silhouette.

In choosing corduroy for a separate coat to go over a one-piece frock one should get the wide wale instead of the narrow one. It has more character to it, although it is not especially adapted to short and broad figures.

The shops offer many widths of it, and one should have a true eye in choosing it, as the same judgment must be used with it that goes to the choosing of the stripes. Among the novelties in this weave is a two-toned stripe such as one sees in men's silk socks, mufflers, and cravats.

This so-called accordion effect is very popular, and where it can be gotten in velveteen and corduroy it is effective. For example, a one-piece frock of dull green camel's hair will have a short coat of black and green corduroy with small oxidized silver buttons and a high collar faced with green satin.

These two-toned effects are also used with a one-piece black frock, but the combination does not seem in good taste to me. The black coat is more dignified and attractive.

In the old days one would have lined such coats with black or white or a colored brocade. None of these are first choice now. A plain silk is used, in weave closely resembling the Japanese and Chinese silk. It is claimed that it gives excellent wear.

If one cannot find this without serious inconvenience, then the meteor satins are good. Plain, old-fashioned satin, the kind that is used for gowns, does not seem to be first choice for linings.

Among the colors chosen are Mandarin yellow, burnt orange, several shades of blue, especially the tone known as Chinese; also purple and bright green. The stone-gray linings which one used to find in so many coats are now considered dull and negative. The floral kind that held its own season in and out has disappeared. One sees it on handsome fur coats, but not on the better made street coats.

There is no excessive wrinkling in the lining as there used to be. There are flat plaits here and there to give a safe fullness and keep the material from pulling and the lining from wearing out.

The latter is always wrinkled to a certain extent, otherwise we would all have ill-fitting coats. The absence of crinoline or canvas and of gathers in the sleeves at the armholes makes it much easier to put in agood-looking lining than it was in other days, and the shortness of the coat saves money on the amount of lining. However, you do not get the benefit of this if you order the suit from a tailor.

The corduroy and velveteen coats fasten up to the neck. If one insists upon it then the tailor will make a turnover collar and short revers. The smart model, however, is single-breasted and fastens to within one inch of the base of the neck. The collar that is attached to this is of the First Consulate variety, which, of course, means Directoire again, as the styles of these two periods were mingled and confused.

It is about two and a half inches high, with its outward sweep faced with satin and the two points in front ornamented with applied pieces of metal and velvet in vivid colors. Scarlet, gold, green, and yellow are among the velvets that are chosen for this bit of adornment. They are usually cut in a formal shape and outlined with gold, silver, or aluminium braid. The latter has leaped into high favor, and it is certainly less glittering than the others, and therefore more suitable for wear in the open.

On some of the coats there is a bow of satin or velvet under the Consulate collar, but it is prettier without. A Romanesque pin of one after the Byzantine model is more effective, and it is not unfit as an ornament for a Directoire coat.—Anne Rittenhouse in New York Times.

Be Proud Then why rest contented with thin, scraggly, rough hair? Ayer's Hair Vigor gives softness and richness to the hair, makes it thicker, heavier. Cannot change the color. Safe to use? Ask your own doctor. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

LLOYD'S EYEGLASSES AND SPECTACLES

KRYPTOK BIFOCAL GLASSES

Combining Far and Near Glasses in a Single Pair; KRYPTOKS make separate Glasses for Far and Near, wholly unnecessary for they give you both in one handsome, durable, economical single pair.

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St.
75 Summer St. } BOSTON

1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE

ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

The Famous Rayo

Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does.

It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

TACTLESSNESS IN DRESS.

There is a tactlessness in dress that is almost as inexcusable, and can as nearly often wreck a woman's chances of happiness, as tactlessness of speech. This, perhaps, is somewhat of an exaggeration, but there is enough truth in it to warrant women giving it their attention.

We all know how ill at ease a woman is who is not suitably gowned. If, unfortunately, she has chosen a high neck gown when other women are clad in low neck ones, she has reached the most acute stage of discomfort. If she clothes herself in a tailor-made when the occasion calls for an afternoon frock, she is still uncomfortable, but not so absolutely wretched as in the first instance.

The woman of small income should, therefore, have in her wardrobe several simple gowns that will suit every occasion rather than one or two extremely handsome ones. It seems that the plain coat and skirt are the form of attire for which the largest number of occasions exist just now. And a good looking tailor suit is absolutely essential if a woman wishes to be well dressed. They can be had with good lines and of a smart cut in nearly all the shops, but one should be careful not to select one that is overtrimmed.

A simple theatre frock of some light, attractive color slightly round at the neck and with the short sleeve, is also a very necessary garment. Then if one possesses a black crepe de chine dinner gown, low in the neck, with lace or net sleeves, one has the three essential garments in a woman's wardrobe, and one can always feel that one is in no danger of finding herself without a suitable frock for any occasion.

BURNED IN EFFIGY

Cleveland Negroes Think Political Boss Gave Them "Double Cross"

Cleveland, Dec. 28.—"What's the matter with Starlight? He's dead."

Such was the paeon of triumph sung by 200 negroes as they stood in front of A. D. Boyd's cafe and witnessed the burning of Boyd in effigy.

Boyd, who is better known as "Starlight," has been the political "boss" of the negro voters of Cleveland for ten years. Last week it was whispered about that Boyd had "double-crossed" his people. The matter was invsetigated, with the result that the "boss" was burned in effigy before his own eyes.

Boyd has endeavored to drive certain negro gambling clubs out of existence, it is charged, as they hurt his trade.

SEIZURE OF "CANNED' EGGS

Nine Tons of Stuff Unfit For Food Taken In Jersey City

Jersey City, Dec. 28.—Raiding the plant of the Merchants' Refrigerating company at Warren and Jay streets, United States Marshal Beckman and a number of aides seized nine tons of canned eggs.

The raid was made on a warrant obtained from Commissioner Carpenter, following evidence gained by the government food inspectors. The stuff seized was described as being "unfit for human beings to consume."

This seizpre was the biggest of its kind yet undertaken by the department. The goods will be destroyed under orders from the United States court.

ASSAULTS IN GYPSY CAMP

"Chief" Ties Members of His Band to Trees and Beats Them

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 28.—A small riot was precipitated near Wadesboro, in a camp of several hundred gypsies, when a man who gave his name as "Chief Mitchell" entered the tent of another member of the band, and, it is charged, attacked a woman. County officers were summoned and several arrests followed.

At a preliminary hearing Mitchell was held without bail to answer the charge of criminal assault, a capital offense in this state. Officers who went to the scene found several men and women tied to trees and severely baten.

Mitchell claims that as he is chief of the band, he has committed no wrong.

Layoff at Portsmouth Navy Yard

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 28.—Money gave out in the machinery division of the manufacturing department at the navy yard yesterday and work was suspended until Jan. 3, when the regular monthly allowance will be available.

The Weather

Almanac, Thursday, Dec. 29.

Sun rises—7:20; sets—4:37.

Moon rises—6:51 a. m.

High water—9:45 a. m.; 10:30 p. m.

Forecast for New England: Snow in north portion, rain or snow in south; moderate, variable winds, becoming northeast and east.

"Why do you hate him so?"

"He has been knocking me to the girl I go with."

"What did he tell her?"

"What my salary is."—Houston Post.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette. Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 326-2. Oct. 6-tf

R. D. CHASE
QUINCY MASS. MONEY
INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES
PROPERTY CARE OF CONVEYANCES TRUSTEES
ASSETS, $498,000.
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cotbland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., in ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
710 Eighth Street, Near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.
CA SNOW & CO.

BANK CLOSED IN NEW YORK

State Authorities Take Possession of the Northern

IRREGULAR TRANSACTIONS

Superintendent of Banks Issues Statement Concerning Institution With Nine Branches Having Deposits Aggregating Over $6,000,000—Crowds of Depositors Bemoan Their Losses —Insurance Department Interested

New York, Dec. 28.—The Northern Bank of New York, which has several branches in Harlem and the Bronx, has been taken possession of by Superintendent of Banks Cheney. The institution has deposits aggregating over $6,000,000. The Northern bank was formerly known as the Hamilton bank, which had difficulties during the panic of 1907.

The closing of the doors of the Northern bank did not come as a surprise to those who had knowledge of the bank's condition.

The following statement regarding the suspension of the Northern bank was made by Superintendent Cheney:

"The superintendent of banks has taken possession of the Northern Bank of New York, the main office of which is located at 215 West One Hundred and Twenty-Fifth street, with nine branches situated at various points throughout the city.

"The banking department has been conducting an examination of this institution for several days, and because of discovered conditions and also certain irregular transactions that have taken place during the time the examination has been in progress, the superintendent of banks deemed it necessary to take possession for the protection of the depositors.

"The superintendent has appointed Arba K. Alford, an examiner in the department, special deputy superintendent of banks, as agent to assist him in the liquidation.

"This institution has a capital of $700,000 and a book surplus at the time of its last published statement, Nov. 10, 1910, of $185,965.11. Its deposits at that time were $6,912,582.62.

"No further statements will be made until a complete inventory of the assets is obtained."

Crowds of depositors gathered at the doors of the main bank and the several branches and there tearfully bemoaned their losses. Many of the depositors were small storekeepers. The police maintained order by keeping the depositors on the move.

State Banking Superintendent Cheney and State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss visited District Attorney Whitman and had a talk with him. Both state officials carried several books and many papers.

It is understood that the conference resulted in the decision to place the affairs of the bank before the grand jury. Whitman merely said that the affairs would be gone into thoroughly and that if any criminal act had been committed indictments would be found.

Just what connection the state insurance department has with the bank's affairs could not be learned, but it is said that some insurance company was involved. The state officials refused to make any statement.

Joseph H. Robin, chairman of the executive committee of the bank, and a shareholder and director in many other corporations, is in the private sanatorium of Dr. Carlos McDonald, at Central Valley, N. Y., whither he was committed last Saturday by Justice Amond of the state supreme court, at the request of his sister, on the certificate of two physicians.

Dr. McDonald said over the long-distance telephone that professional ethics would not permit him to discuss the case, but James H. Gifford, of counsel for the bank and one of its directors, stated that examining physicians had diagnosed the case as acute paranoia, and that Robin tried to kill himself in his apartments last Saturday night, but was restrained by a nurse.

END OF LONG STRIKE

Baltimore and Ohio Machinists Out a Year and a Half

Baltimore, Dec. 28.—After being out eighteen months the striking machinists of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad system reached an agreement with the company and will return to work.

It is understood that certain concessions were made by both parties, which made the settlement mutually satisfactory.

Quakes In California

Imperial, Cal., Dec. 28.—A series of light earthquakes beginning Monday night continued yesterday. There were two shocks of more than usual force. No damage resulted.

Death of Chief McCurtain

McAlester, Okla., Dec. 28.—Green McCurtain, principal chief of the Choctaw nation, died in his home in Kiuta, Okla.

A HUGE SHOE FACTORY

One to Be Built at Haverhill Will House Eight Large Firms

Haverhill, Mass., Dec. 28.—One of the largest buildings in the world to be devoted exclusively to shoe manufacturing is to be begun here at once, and is expected to be completed by July 1 next. The building will accommodate eight shoe manufacturing companies, will be eight stories high, built of steel and concrete, with an aggregate of 93,000 square feet of floor space.

According to the plans of the promoters of the enterprise between 2000 and 3000 operatives will be housed in the building. Already six of the eight factories in the building have been leased.

A feature of the proposed structure is the fact that it will be equipped with its own power plant.

ADMITS HOLDUP IN HOTEL

Daring Robber Was In Need of Money to Go to New York

Boston, Dec. 28.—George Ellis, the young man who was formerly cashier in the Westminster hotel, who was arrested for holding up the night clerk at the point of a revolver and robbing him of about $45, made a full confession to the police that he was the mysterious highwayman-guest. He was arraigned and held in $2200 for trial.

"Yes, I am the robber," admitted Ellis. "I wanted to go to New York. I did not have any money. I did not know how to get the money, but I naturally thought of the place where I used to work.

"I do not know what caused me to do it except that I was desperate and out of money."

EDNA GOODRICH IS SEEKING A DIVORCE

Turkey Dinner Figures In Suit Against Nat Goodwin

New York, Dec. 28.—Nat Goodwin, actor and late partner in the mining stock firm of B. H. Schaftels & Co., recently defunct, has been served in a suit for divorce by Edna Goodrich, who was the fourth Mrs. Goodwin.

The incident that led to the institution of the divorce suit, it is learned, occurred in Toronto last Thanksgiving day. A friend of Miss Goodrich says:

"Mr. Goodwin had gone to Toronto several days before the holiday to avoid unpleasant interviews on the subject of his connection with the mines promoting firm.

"Miss Goodrich sympathized with her husband and decided to give him a pleasant surprise. She prepared an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, and with it in a basket Miss Goodrich, accompanied by a maid, boarded a train that set her down in Toronto on Thanksgiving eve. She had given no hint of her coming and arrived at Goodwin's hotel unannounced.

"What she discovered is all in the papers in the case which are in the hands of her attorney."

TRIO OF ALLEGED THIEVES

Held For Postoffice Robbery After Being Trailed by Hounds

Bangor, Me., Dec. 28.—After being trailed by bloodhounds and arrested, two of them in a barn at Palmyra and the other at a railroad station, George Sullivan, George Fleming and Robert Thompson were arraigned before Commissioner Hamlin and formally charged with breaking and entering the postoffice at Hartland.

After hearing the testimony of Postmaster Varney of Hartland and others who were concerned in the chase, Hamlin found probable cause and ordered the men held in $500 for the next term of the district court. Being unable to furnish surety the three men were committed to jail.

AMERICANS IN PERIL

Missions, Hospitals and Schoolhouses Burned In Chinese Uprising

New York, Dec. 28.—Cables received from China have caused grave fears for the safety of American men and women missionaries in the province of Kwang Tung on account of an uprising in which missions, hospitals and schoolhouses were burned in Lien-Chow.

The Presbyterian board of foreign missions, with headquarters in this city, has cabled to bureaus in both Canton and Pekin to ascertain if all the Americans are safe.

Former Pugilist Dies In Cell

Bangor, Me., Dec. 28.—Mike Daley, former lightweight pugilist, was found dead in a cell at the police station here. City Physician Burgess turned in "sudden death, no autopsy," on the death certificate. A coroner decided an inquest unnecessary.

Chicago's New Fire Chief

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Assistant Fire Marshal Charles E. Seyferlich has been appointed chief of the Chicago fire department to succeed James Horan, who was killed while fighting the fire at the Morris plant in the stockyards.

JAMES H. VAHEY

He May Enter Contest For Seat Held by Lodge

IN A RECEPTIVE MOOD

Vahey Willing to Lead Fight For Lodge's Seat In the Senate

Boston, Dec. 28.—James H. Vahey is a "receptive" Democratic candidate for United States senator against Senator Lodge. He stated last night that if a majority of the Democratic members of the legislature should name him as the party candidate he would make the fight.

Mr. Vahey is opposed to a caucus of the Democratic members of the legislature. He states, however, that in his opinion the Democratic members of the legislature should hold a "conference," at which all should join in a discussion of the general availability and fitness of the candidates that may be mentioned.

LIGHT ON LIQUOR FROM BEER BOTTLE

Unique Method of a Minister to Illustrate His Point

Washington, Dec. 28.—Rev. E. O. Taylor of Boston threw a great deal of light on the liquor problem in a lecture in the Memorial United Brethren church.

"Now," he said, "many of you see no harm in a little beer now and then. There is harm in beer. It is an alcoholic beverage just as well as whisky I will show you what a little beer can do."

The preacher poured alcohol distilled from a bottle of beer into a receptacle. He struck a match and lighted it. The church lights were turned off. For ten minutes the minister proceeded to denounce the demon rum. Meanwhile the beer lamp flickered into a dying flash and the church lights were turned on again.

NEW APPORTIONMENT SURE

Decision Reached by Congressional Committee on the Census

Washington, Dec. 28.—The enactment of a new congressional apportionment law was made practically certain when Congressman Crumpacker, chairman of the house committee on the census, announced that he and his committee are in favor of action at this session of congress upon such a measure.

Many plans of reapportionment of the representatives have been submitted, but the indications are that forty-four additional members will have to be authorized, bringing the total membership up to 435. Thirteen states would lose one or two seats if the membership were left at 391.

WEDDED ON DEATH BED

War Veteran Makes Daughter of Old Comrade His Heiress

Philadelphia, Dec. 28.—Happy in the consciousness that he had won as his bride the 27-year-old daughter of a comrade in the Civil war, and that he thus had made her heiress of his small estate, Leon A. Canter died on the bed from which he had been carried in order to wed the girl.

His bride was Miss Emma M. Moore, who was also his word, and during her guardian's long illness she went daily to St. Joseph's hospital, where he had been confined to a cot with an incurable malady, and had been in almost constant attendance upon him.

A Tiny Mite of Humanity

Galt, Ont., Dec. 28.—A baby boy which weighs less than a pound and is eight and a half inches long has been born to Mrs. John Harvey. The baby is apparently healthy and the physician believes it will live.

Actor Worthing Drops Dead

Detroit, Dec. 28.—Frank Worthing, leading man with Grace George, now playing at the Garrick theatre here, dropped dead in the theatre just before the performance last evening.

Held Up the Wrong Man

Kankakee, Ills., Dec. 28.—John Walton stabbed a holdup man to death and routed two others with a knife when he was held up near his home.

DESERVING OF DEATH PENALTY

Comment of Judge In Sentencing Two Kidnappers

THEY STOLE TWO CHILDREN

Twenty-Five to Forty-Nine Years In Prison the Punishment Meted Out to Maria Rappa and Pattenza—Woman Declared to Be Lacking Every Instinct of a Mother and Qualities of Goodness

New York, Dec. 28.—A crushing blow to the kidnapping bands who have been working in this and other cities was administered by Judge Fawcett in county court in Brooklyn when, after unmercifully scoring Maria Rappa and Stanislao Pattenza as a menace to the community and deserving of the death penalty, the court gave them the maximum sentence for kidnapping, an indeterminate period of from twenty-five to forty-nine years and ten months in state prison.

They were convicted recently in quick trials of having abducted and held in captivity 8-year-old Guiseppe Longo and Michael Rizzo, 7 years old, sons of well-to-do Brooklyn Italians.

The Longo boy was kidnapped on Nov. 19 last and a few days later the Rizzo child disappeared. The Longo boy's parents soon received a letter demanding $15,000 for the return of their child.

The case, being put in the hands of Deputy Police Commissioner Flynn, a clue was obtained to the whereabouts of the supposed kidnappers and in a sensational raid on a house in East Sixty-Third street, the Longo child was found and ten prisoners were taken, two of them women.

Guiseppe Longo was the chief witness against both prisoners at their trials. The prosecution alleged that Pattenza was the chief of the kidnapping band and that Maria Rappa was one of his most important aides.

In sentencing the Rappa woman Judge Fawcett said he regretted that he could not impose the death penalty, which would be none too severe.

"It is almost unbelievable," said the judge, "that you could have held these broken-hearted children for twenty days, knowing the terrible suffering of their distracted parents. You have given birth to children. Your own children lived in the very room where little Guiseppe Longo was held a captive. You have neither the spirit nor instinct of a mother.

"The God-like mother love is better shown in beasts than in you. A good mother is the holiest thing alive, but you give no qualities of knowing anything of goodness."

The judge declared that if there had been an atom of mother love in the breast of the prisoner she would have turned the little prisoner loose. The court declared that the cruel, unnatural part played by the Rappa woman branded her as an undesirable member of society.

"The limit of punishment is not too severe for you," said Judge Fawcett. "Your children will be treated kindly."

Pattenza was given a similarly severe scoring, which he took coolly.

Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William J. Tilley to Alice C. Jones, dated May 19, 1909, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk book 1110 page 585 for breach of the condition contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY the seventeenth day of January, 1911, at 3.30 o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

A certain parcel of land situated in that part of said Quincy called Houghs Neck and being lot No. 71 on a plan of Sea shore lots at Quincy Great Hill, Houghs Neck, belonging to James Mears dated September 1881, surveyed by F. M. Hersey, C. E. and recorded with Norfolk Plans, Plan Book 9, Plan No. 375, containing 6090 square feet, and bounded and described as follows: Northerly by lot seventy on said plan one hundred five (105) feet; Westerly on lot Fifty on said plan fifty-eight (58) feet; Southerly on a walk fifteen (15) feet wide as shown on said plan one hundred five (105) feet; Easterly on Mears Avenue, formerly called Park Avenue fifty-eight (58) feet; together with a right of way over said Avenue and walk and to and from the beach.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by Martha Mears by deed dated October 29, 1898 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 828, Page 91. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions mentioned in said Deed so far as the same are now in force and applicable hereto.

The above described property will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments if any due the City of Quincy. $500.00 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms at sale.

ALICE C. JONES,
Mortgagee.

George E. Adams, 18 Tremont street, Boston, Attorney for Mortgagee.
Dec. 20, 1910. 3tDec.-21, 28, 4.

Mistakes MayHappen
to you,—as they do to everyone. If you eat too fast, do not masticate properly, or take food that does not agree with you, digestive derangements are almost sure to come, and indigestion generally leads to very serious physical troubles.
BEECHAM'S PILLS
relieve and cure indigestion. They have a quick and tonic action on the stomach and its nerves, and so they give direct aid to digestion. They carry away also the indigestible matter. With their use dyspepsia, hiccoughs, bad taste, unpleasant breath and flatulence disappear. You should be careful and remember Beecham's Pills
Will Right The Wrong
Sold everywhere.
In convenient boxes 10c. and 25c.

FLOWERING PLANTS
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 332 Quincy

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 322-3.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	e	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 40	abef	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 53
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47	8 46	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 57 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
			11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 45	a	12 00
r 9 10	abcde	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 57 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 28 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	iedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 39	b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 50 r
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 30	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 43	Exp.	12 59
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27	cba	4 49 r
r 2 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	cba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50	cba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.20 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35, 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6,17, 11,25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.41 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.22,A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays, 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M., (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) .Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. .Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	44 degrees
December 28, 1909,	30 degrees
December 28, 1908,	44 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

John W. Sanborn Co.—Zoroid Lenses
Quincy Market—Special Bargains
Mothers' Association
Johnson Bros.—Northern Geese
To Let
Wanted
Lost

BRIEFS

The Loyal Ladies of Clan McGregor held their regular meeting in Clan McGregor hall Tuesday evening.

The many friends of Mr. A. F. Macleod will be sorry to learn that he is confined to his home on Spear street, threatened with pneumonia.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Aid association will be held tomorrow at the home of Mrs. William B. Rice, Adams street.

Bethany church is being rewired in part. The fire regulations require lights at all exits from the building and the necessary additions are being made.

Mrs. Nellie F. Libby, Dept. S. V. P. of the W. R. C. and Mrs. Caroline R. Morse, Chairman of the Department Executive board were guests of Paul J. Revere, W. R. C. at their meeting in G. A. R. hall Tuesday evening.

Leo R. Lewis lectures on "Famous Teachers of Music during Ten Centuries; their methods and their books" at the Boston Public library on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The lecture will be illustrated and is free.

The funeral of Allen Spear, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ray Spear, nee Fay of Indianapolis whose death was the result of a fall from a tree, will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock in the Baptist church at Randolph.

Readers of the Ledger will be pleased to note that Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the Wollaston Unitarian church, who has been confined to his home on Winthrop avenue the past week by sickness, is rapidly convalescing and will probably be able to occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

Mrs. Grace Bonner Williams who made such a good impression on Quincy people last season by her singing in the Choral society concert is to sing at the "Creation" concert at Music hall next Tuesday evening. She is also to be the soloist in the same production to be given in Boston Easter Sunday by the Handel and Haydn society.

The Meadow, that popular new skating ground off Hancock street Wollaston, which has recently been flooded by the city, proved the mecca of hundreds on Monday. This area which is one of the largest in the city was black with people and attracted skaters from all over the city. Early in the afternoon there were between four and five hundred present. Several swift hockey matches which were in progress were witnessed by a large number.

FRESH JERSEY CREAM
17ct jar at
JOHNSON BROTHERS
the only store in town
where you can buy
Pure Jersey Cream

DEATHS

CAMPBELL—In West Quincy, Dec. 28, Mr. Hiram W. Campbell in his 67th year.
Funeral services at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick L. Badger, 43 Crescent street, Friday, Dec. 30, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 28-2t

SUNELL—In Quincy, Dec. 27, Mr. Victor Sunell, of 70 Copeland street, aged 27 years, 5 months and 11 days.

WILLIS—In Braintree, Dec. 28, Mr. William R. Willis of 121 Hollis avenue, aged 73 years and 8 months.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BRIEFS

Saturday will be the last day of 1910.

The annual meeting of the Houghs Neck Associates will be ehld tonight.

Annual dance of the Quincy Tennis club tonight.

Clear and pleasant today, with temperature a little above the freezing point.

The Machinists met in Electa hall Tuesday evening for their regular business session.

The Loyal Orange lodge held its regular bi-weekly meeting in Protection hall Tuesday evening.

The Marmabediell club will have a Christmas party in Colonial hall this evening.

Mr. Strattard, treasurer of the Quincy camp, Sons of Veterans, inspected the Abington camp Tuesday evening.

C. P. Gould of Adams street is entertaining his father and mother from Connecticut.

Miss Ethel Prout is home from Rutland, Mass., where she has been treated successfully for consumption.

The John Morgans of Standish avenue spent Christmas with Rev. and Mrs. Morris H. Turk of Natick.

Miss Maria Josselyn of Dorchester spent Christmas with her nephew Roderick D. Hall and Mrs. Hall of Davis street.

Another new box was cut into the fire alarm circuit this morning. Box 161, Newport avenue, opposite Wollaston foundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville N. Estes of Berlin street have returned from Nashua, New Hampshire where they were guests over Christmas of Mrs. Estes' mother.

Gordon Warren of Prince Edward Island, was the Christmas guest of Harold Thomas of Newton street, Mr. Warren is a student at Newton Theological seminary.

Abner B. Packard Camp S. of V. have extended an invitation to Paul J. Revere Corps to attend their installation in Union hall on January 11, which has been accepted.

Owing to more extensive preparations to two farces "Who is who" and "A case of suspension" to be given in the Wollaston Unitarian vestry by the Wollaston Dramatic club, have been postponed until the middle of January.

Mrs. Adelaide McGrath, chairman of the Soldiers' Home committee of Paul J. Revere Corps, W. R. C. will visit the Soldiers' Home at Chelsea on Saturday afternoon accompanied by several members of the corps.

Thursday, Jan. 5, has been selected as the date for the dinner of the Civic League at the Y. M. C. A. building. There will be two speakers, David F. Edwards of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and Ralph G. Wells of the Greater Boston committee.

A party of the English residents of South Quincy carrying out their old home custom marched from house to house Sunday and Monday singing Christmas carols. It is a very pretty custom and one looked forward to by our English residents.

Mrs. Elisha D. Atkins of Bromfield street entertained at dinner Monday. Covers were laid for twenty-five. Captain Atkins is at home for the Christmas festivities for the first in eleven years and it was a jolly party which they entertained.

Arrangements have been made for a special car to accommodate the Quincy members who desire to attend the meeting of Aleppo temple, Mystic Shrine, to be held at the Mechanics Building, Boston, Friday evening. The car will leave City Square at 6 o'clock and run direct to the building. Returning the car will leave Mechanics Building for Quincy at midnight.

TELEPHONE MANNERS.

Do telephones lead to politeness or otherwise? When they first came into use the answer to this question would have been emphatically in the negative, but now that they are almost universally prevalent an era of good manners and "thank you's" seems to be in full swing. In some communities it is not even possible to quarrel over the telephone, although the two women who took part in the following conversation came near it:

"Hello! Is this Mrs. Weston?"

"Yes."

"This is your next door neighbor, Mrs. Lawrence. I thought you might be interested to know that at the present moment your son Thomas is sitting on one of the sheets which are bleaching on my lawn and is building a large pile of mud on it."

"Oh, thank you, Mrs. Lawrence!" exclaimed the mother. "And may I return the favor by informing you that your setter Rab has just rooted up my two new rosebushes and that he seems to be chewing the buds!"

"Oh, indeed! Thank you! Goodby!"

"Not at all. Thank you! Goodby!"

FRENZIED MOB AFTER NEGRO

Railway Station In West Virginia Town Is Besieged

SOLDIERS ARE ORDERED OUT

Man Held For Trial on Charge of Assaulting Farmer's Daughter Is Pushed Into Express Company's Concealed Vault For Safe Keeping—Sheriffs Take Chance of His Suffocation While Awaiting Assistance

Weston, W. Va., Dec. 28.—A mob is besieging the local railway station to prevent officers removing William Furby, a negro, to the prison at Clarksburg. State troops are on the way from Clarksburg by special train to prevent a lynching.

At Furby's trial yesterday afternoon Flora Anglin, a farmer's daughter, declared she was the victim of three criminal attacks at his hands.

The appearance of Miss Anglin's father, an aged man, upon the platform of the station, telling the crowd that the story of his daughter was as true as steel, set the mob wild with excitement.

Prosecuting Attorney Swint made repeated attempts to appeal to the people from a truck on the depot platform, but the truck was drawn from beneath him and the crowd yelled him down. The officials were wholly unable to cope with the situation.

At 7:15 last night the mob burst open the door of the express room, where the sheriffs and their prisoner had locked themselves in. All the window lights were broken and the mob demanded the negro. But the latter was pushed, for safe keeping, into the concealed vault of the express company, where he had hardly a breath of air.

An appeal to Governor Glasscock at Charleston for state troops was followed immediately by an order for the mobilization of the militia at Clarksburg, Grafton and Parkersburg, and their dispatch here by special train. Until the arrival of the soldiers it was necessary to confine the negro in the airless vault. Although that might mean death to him from suffocation, it was considered a greater peril to release him while the mob's frenzy was at such a height.

After the negro's hearing he was held to the grand jury without bail to answer to the charge of assault and attempt to murder. The Anglin girl took the stand herself after all other witnesses and spectators had been excluded from the courtroom and told how Furby attacked her while she was returning from the dairy on her father's farm last Saturday night.

Despite her struggles he dragged her fully 300 yards, and following the attacks he was strangling her, she said, when a railroad flagman came running to her rescue. The negro ran to a horse hidden near by and made off, but the animal fell, throwing the rider. His shoulder was dislocated and he was easily captured.

Following the hearing a mob collected at the courthouse and demanded the negro. After swearing in a number of special deputies to strengthen hs regular force, Sheriff Alfred succeeded in getting his man to the railroad station, planning to take the 5:50 train for Clarksburg. It was an hour late, however, and the mob meanwhile grew to such proportions that when the train did arrive the authorities were unable to carry out their plans.

"CORN BEER" CONFISCATED

Beverage Used Exculsively by the Apaches Is Very Intoxicating

Washington, Dec. 28.—About 800 gallons of tiswin or tulapai, an intoxicating drink, manufactured by the Apache Indians, has been confiscated by the Indian office agents at Fort Apache, Ariz. A bottle of the liquor, which is also known as "corn beer," was received by the bureau of Indian affairs here and will be turned over to chemists for analysis.

The liquid, according to the officials of the Indian bureau, is exclusively an Apache beverage and is very intoxicating. It is a weight-producing drink, Indians addicted to its use becoming very fat.

CAPITAL OUSTS JEWS

Hundred Lose Their Right of Residence In St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg, Dec. 28.—The expulsion of Jews asserted to be residing illegally in St. Petersburg has been begun.

As a preliminary step 101 have been deprived of membership in artisan guilds, thereby losing their right of residence in the capital.

Five Trainmen Killed

Gallipolis, O., Dec. 28.—Five men were killed in a wreck between two fast freight trains near here. The disaster is believed to have been caused by a failure of one of the crew to observe orders. All of the dead men were members of the train crews.

PLANS FOR DEDICATION

Children to Have Prominent Part at Houghs Neck

A mass meeting of the residents of Houghs Neck was held Tuesday to arrange for the formal dedication of the new school building. As announced in the Daily Ledger, the dedication will be held on Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock with a flag raising.

James E. Whall will preside at the exercises, and the flag will be presented to the city by Capt. Fosdick, in behalf of the children of Houghs Neck. In all the exercises the children will have a prominent part.

The flag will probably be accepted in behalf of the city by Mayor Shea.

Following the flag presentation and raising of the colors, adjournment will be made to the school building, where brief exercises will be held. Leo P. Noonan will make the address expressing the thanks of the residents for the building, and there will also be brief remarks by Thomas F. Fitzgerald of Boston, Capt. Fosdick, Mayor Shea and others. Refreshments will be served in the basement of the building.

VICTOR SUNELL.

Victor Sunell, a well known Finnish resident, died Tuesday morning at his home 70 Copeland street, after a long illness, aged 28 years. Mr. Sunell was a stone worker, but had been unable to do any manual labor for some months, owing to a disease of the bones. His funeral took place on the afternoon of his death, and was very largely attended by the Finnish residents of the city including the Finnish Workingman's society of which he was a member. The respect in which he was held by his native people was shown by the fact that nearly two hundred men and women headed by a band followed the remains from his late home to the Mt. Wollaston cemetery, where the burial took place. Directly behind the hearse came the officers of the society headed by a woman each wearing a wide red sash across the shoulder and heart. At the grave the body was consigned to mother earth with ritualistic services.

AT ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S.

Christmas was observed in St. Chrysostom's church with the usual special and impressive services. At 7 A. M. Holy Eucharist and singing of carols by the choir, in imitation of those who sang the first Gloria in Excelsis, when they told the "glad tidings" to the Shepherds at Bethlehem.

At 10.30 A. M. holy communion and a sermon filled with the Christmas spirit by the rector, Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra. An inspiring musical program was rendered at the second service.

The church was elaborately decorated with evergreen, laurel and wreaths. The altar was beautifulily decorated with calla lilies and with the white embroidered hangings always symbolical of the Christmas season, and a large silvery star with electric lights softened by greenery all added to the festivity.

Added to the memorial gifts to St. Chrysostom's church is a Litany service book which has just been given. The book is handsomely bound in red similar to the bible and Altar service book and is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hamilton in memory of Mary A. Hamilton and Jeannie P. H. Silo, mother and sister of Mr. Hamilton.

There was general disappointment that the plans for Sunday school could not be carried out, Christmas eve, because of the threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

HAVANA BOASTS OF LEFT HAND THIRD SACKER.

The Havana (Cuba) team boasts of a third baseman who is somewhat of a freak in several ways. In the first place the third sacker is a left handed thrower, something rare among infielders. He is of Spanish and Chinese parentage, yet boasts of the good old Irish name of Moran. It would make some sure enough son of Erin threaten to do things if he could see the gentleman who boasts of so celebrated an Irish name. This fellow Moran, by the way, is quite a ball player. He plays the third sack brilliantly, is an adept hunter as well as a hard hitter and, like all the other natives, is fast on his feet.

CHRISTMAS AT ATLANTIC

Tree Festival of the Memorial Church

The annual Christmas tree social of the Atlantic Memorial Sunday School was held in Music hall Saturday evening. An entertainment consisting of a solo by Miss Jardine Davison, and two monologues by Miss Phyllis Smith, kept the children amused until the arrival of Santa Claus, represented by Henry Von Emden, who distributed presents and good things to eat to all.

The social was in charge of Walter F. Blake, assisted by Miss Hazel Davison, Miss Margaret Read, and Miss Alice Waterhouse.

Sunday morning Rev. T. W. Davison preached an interesting sermon, his subject being, "The Babe of Bethlehem." The choir rendered several pleasing Christmas anthems.

At 7 P. M. the Sunday School gave its annual Christmas concert. The program included several recitations by members of the school, also solos by Miss Eleanor Phillips, Miss Augusta McMann and Master James Kennedy. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Davison and Superintendent Walter F. Blake, and singing by the Young People's choir. The work of Miss Marjorie Young, Miss Ellen Buckley, Miss Grace De Wolf and Miss Jessie French had much to do with the success of the concert.

Rev. Mr. Davison received a substantial amount of money in gold from the people of the parish.

ELECTION OF FORESTERS.

The annual meeting of St. Francis Court of Foresters was held Tuesday evening and these officers elected:

Chief Ranger—Joseph McNeally.
Vice Chief Ranger—Edward Finn.
Financial Secretary—M. F. Riley.
Recording Secretary—N. Grignon.
Treasurer—William Callahan.
Senior Conductor—Daniel Fitzgerald.
Junior Conductor—George Smallet.
Inside Sentinel—M. Flarity.
Outside Sentinel—Leo Dufour.
Trustees—William T. Shea, James Doyle and James Fennessy.
Court Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.
Delegates— Joseph J. McNeally, William T. Shea, Arthur B. Murphy and James H. Elcock.

It was voted to hold a joint public installation of the officers of St. Francis and St. Ambrose courts early in January, the date to be subject to the convenience of the deputy.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Mayor Shea has put his "Think Cap" on, and is outlining in his mind what he will have to say in his fourth annual inaugural address next Monday, when he is again sworn into office. This morning the Mayor said that he had not written a line of his inaugural as yet, for he was somewhat handicapped, as the City Council had not adjourned and he did not know what that body might do at the last meeting.

The City Council selected an unusual late date for adjourning this year, and it was not possible to get the figures he desired to incorporate in his inaugural, from the City Auditor until the Council of 1910 wound up its business. However the Mayor assured the Ledger that he would deliver an inaugural address as usual on Monday.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

A meeting of the Catholic federation will be held Sunday evening in the new parochial school on Phipps street. The meeting will also be the occasion of opening the new hall, and the whole building will be open for public inspection that evening. A pleasing entertainment will be given is connection with the meeting.

CHALLENGE.

Frank Bruce and Domenic DiRanio of the Italian American A. C. of Quincy are willing to run a relay with any other relay team representing a club. Would like to run Cook and Hackett of the Brookline Gym A. A., or DeMar and Upham of the North Dorchester A. A. Are willing to run any distance from 10 miles to the full marathon of 25 miles if any team will take up the challenge. The Italian team will locate the hall and get backing.

Can be found at 55 Canal street, Quincy Mass.

Bruce and DiRanio
Quincy, Dec. 28, 1910.

TODAY'S COURT.

Thomas H. Keane of Weymouth was fined $5 for drunkenness.

Martin Kain was sentenced to three months in the house of correction for drunkenness at Quincy. Sentence suspended until March 1.

Fred Cushman was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy.

"Pa!"

"Well, son, what is it?"

"This mythology book speaks of the husband of Venus being a lame god. Which one of the Greek gods was lame?"

"Why—er—Olympus, of course. Use your head a little and don't ask so many questions!"—Cleveland Leader.

ZOROID
Founded 1883
TRADE MARK
Christmas work often brings
On EYE STRAIN
Eye Strain indicates that the eyes need assistance in the form of glasses.
You Feel That You Cannot LOSE TWO or THREE DAYS For An Examination.
WE EXAMINE your eyes and deliver the glasses in 24 hours
The glasses are ground in our own workshops, equipped with every facility for the highest grade work.
Results Are Absolutely Guaranteed
Briggs S. Palmer. President
Sanborns
3 Winter St.- Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 28-31

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Monday night in vicinity of Quincy Station, a Black Fur Automobile Mitten Gauntlet. Notify Quincy Garage. Dec. 28-3t

LOST—On the 8.29 Elevated car leaving Quincy Square Sunday evening Dec. 25, a leather bag lettered M. E. C. containing children's clothing Reward if returned to R. A. Cole, 356 Hancock street, Atlantic. Dec. 27-3t

LOST—Black dog with long hair brown legs and head. White on end of tail. Reward if returned to M. Jansson, 4 Prospect Hill, West Quincy. Dec. 24-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy. All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Stone masons. Apply 22 Berkeley street, Bigelow park. Dec. 28-1t

HOME WORK —Experienced crocheters wanted. Call Room 18 Durgin & Merrill block between 9 and 12. Dec. 28-1t

WANTED— Experienced girl for general housework. Mrs. C. F. Pettengill, 53 Revere road. Dec. 27-tf

WANTED—A young Swede girl for general house work. Apply to A. Johnson, 168 Glendale Road, Quincy, Dec. 27-3t

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN. Fore River Shipbuilding Co. Dec. 28-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished room. 117 Upland road, N. B. Corthell. Dec. 28-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Furnished Rooms; also rooms for light housekeeping. House recently renovated, papered and painted and in first class condition. Apply to 55 Washington street, between P. O. and Y. M. C. A. Nov. 28-1m

TO LET
Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.
Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.
City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 302 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 29, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

NEW PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATES

James E. Wall Wins in Close Contest with Henry W. French

A New Year's Supper to be Held Next Monday Evening

The annual meeting of the Houghs Neck Associates was held Wednesday evening at Associates hall, and brought out a large attendance. The main contest at the election was over the choice of president for the ensuing year. There were two candidates in nomination, James E Wall and Henry W. French the first president of the association.

The Australian ballot was used, with the result that Mr. Wall won, the vote being, Wall 24 and French 20. The full board of officers elected follows:

President—James E. Wall.
Vice Presidents—Oliver G. Fosdick and A. R. Hammond.
Secretary—Hiram Darrow.
Financial Secretary—Neil J. Regan.
Treasurer—John R. S. Ross.
Ward Committee as follows:
Ward one—Fred Scott.
Ward Two—Jeremiah Connell.
Ward Three, Angus A. Brown.
Ward Four—Waldo L. Hutchins.
Ward Five—Charles E. Decker.
Ward Six—P. F. O'Brien.
Directors at large—Michael G. Coughlin, Angus A. Brown, David Fenner and D. J. Maloney.
Auditing Committee—Oliver G. Fosdick, P. F. O'Brien and Michael G. Coughlin.

After the election there was some further discussion on the opening of the new school building and the plans for the dedicatory exercises to be held Saturday afternoon, at which time the residents are expected to turn out as one man.

It was decided to hold the usual new year's supper Monday evening, Jan. 2, at which time the new officers will be installed.

FRESH JERSEY CREAM
17ct jar at
JOHNSON BROTHERS
the only store in town
where you can buy
Pure Jersey Cream

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

COAL

C R R
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

SCHOOL COAL TO COST MORE

Local Dealers Had But Little Interest in Award

The fact that none of the Quincy coal dealers submitted bids for furnishing fuel to the schools brings out a peculiar situation, which is that the one bidder received the contract at his own price, and if all reports are true it will cost the city considerably more for fuel for the schools next year than the past year.

One of the reasons advanced by the local dealers for not submitting bids is that the School Committee have of late awarded all their contracts to out of town dealers. Another is that some time ago the local men made up their minds not to bid again, and therefore did not lay in the supply of certain kinds of coal as they should have done had they intended to bid.

On the recent contract there was but one firm to bid, and that an out of town concern. Before the committee awarded the contract, however, the local dealers were obliged to submit prices and did so, although the time for filing bids had closed several days before.

When the figures were put up before the whole committee it is reported that the vote was a tie between awarding the contract to a Quincy or out of town firm, and that the chairman settled the tie by voting for the out of town dealer.

NEW MASONIC DISTRICT.

The Masonic districts in this vicinity have been reorganized, and the Quincy lodges are no longer with the Brockton and Bridgewater lodges. The number of the Quincy district has also been changed from No. 24 to No. 26. The newly constituted district is made up of lodges in a contiguous territory viz: Rural of Quincy, Wollaston of Wollaston, Delta of Braintree, Norfolk Union of Randolph, Orphan Hope of Weymouth and Old Colony of Hingham, Rt. Wor. Hartley L. White of Braintree continues as district deputy grand master, being installed on Tuesday. He is a past master of Rural lodge of Quincy and a most efficient and popular deputy.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT.

Those who read in Boston papers that a Sunday School at Brockton had indefinitely postponed its Christmas tree festival that it might aid a little boy in the hospital, probably did not associate the unfortunate boy with Quincy. But little Willie Bowers formerly lived on Granite street in this city. This was about three years ago, and at that time the little fellow was almost helpless in his legs. Kind friends, however, rendered assistance and he was successfully operated upon.

The family has since been living at Brockton. Willie has recently spent several weeks at the Carney hospital in Boston, suffering from infantile paralysis. His case enlisted the help of the Unity church, and people of the church and children of the Sunday school contributed liberally. On Monday Willie was able to return home and he was showered with presents and good cheer. The children of the Unity Sunday School consider it one of their best Christmases, as they realize that they may have saved the life of a little boy.

COURT JOHN ERICSON.

The annual meeting of Court John Ericson, No. 155, Foresters of America, was held Wednesday evening and these officers elected:

Chief Ranger—William Ericson.
Sub-Chief Ranger—Charles Jackson.
Treasurer—August O. Johnson.
Financial Secretary—Swan Cederstrom.
Recording Secretary—Charles Carlson.
Senior Wodward—Oscar Almquist.
Junior Wodward—Axel Glandt.
Senior Beadel—Emil Peterson.
Junior Beadel—Charles Friberg.
Trustee for three years—Kondrad Svanson.
Lecturer—Lars Dahlberg.
Physician—Dr. John H. Ash.

The officers will be installed the second Wednesday in January.

TRUE FACTS ABOUT THE PANAMA CANAL

Quincy Point Men's Club Get Them First Hand from the Former Engineer

Louis K. Rourke Willingly Answers All Questions

One of the most profitable and enjoyable evenings ever spent by a body of men in Quincy was that of the members of the Point Church Men's club and their friends on Wednesday evening. Not only were they privileged with hearing the truth about the Panama canal, but they received the whole truth from one who had full charge of the work there, Louis K. Rourke, former engineer in chief of the Panama canal, and now superintendent of streets in Boston.

Before the speaker of the evening was called upon, President Hendry informed the audience that no music had been prepared by the club, but Mr. Murray of the Wollaston M. E. church Men's club must have divined this, for he brought his full orchestra along. Whereupon the two little Italian boys who frequent the streets with accordion and tambourine came forth and sang, "Has anybody here see Kelly," and danced a clog which brought forth great applause.

In introducing the speaker, Mr. Hendry pointed out the importance of the canal to the world and the great interest which the world has in the work down there.

Mr. Rourke's speech in part is as follows: The idea of digging a canal through the Isthmus dates back to the time of Balboa's discovery of the Pacific. The French government first undertook the task but failed because of scanty capital, lack of equipment and lack of knowledge for fighting the yellow fever germ. However great credit is due them for starting the canal. Their equipment was the best they could procure at that time and their plans were accurate. A sum of $300,000,000 was spent but half of it was eaten up by graft. In the year 1904, the United States decided to build the canal. President Roosevelt was very strongly in favor of the project.

The French possessions, including railroads, excavations, dredges and machinery were bought for $40,000,000, a price which Mr. Rourke considered a good bargain. The Republic of Panama received $10,000,000 for rights, land, etc.

The type of canal was the subject of much discussion but finally Congress voted for the wisest and most practical type, an 85 foot level lock canal. The canal runs southeast from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The great river system coming from an unknown source furnished a serious problem for the engineers. One of the rivers has been known to rise 40 feet in a night. The canal follows the river for about 30 miles. Then dams are erected forming an artificial lake. Eight miles of sea level with a channel 45 feet deep and 500 feet wide is followed by a series of locks which will lift the ships 85 feet to lake Gatoon twenty-five miles in length. A lock at the other end will lower the ships from the lake in 30 minutes and two locks will take them down to sea level. Then an 8 mile sail will bring them to the open sea. The canal is sufficiently large to accommodate the traffic of the world for some time.

The engineering problem was rivalled by the sanitary problem. Twenty million dollars has been spent by Col. Gothals, the present engineer, in cleaning up the country and it has been money well spent.

The problem of feeding and caring for the army of 90,000 workmen is also a difficult one. The government furnishes everything and conveys it to Panama on its own ships and trains thus saving much money and an opportunity for graft. The pay roll of $1,500,000 a month is no little item in the general expenditure.

Two very remarkable things about the building of the canal are the magnitude of the undertaking, the freedom from graft in a $75,000,000 contract.

The building of the canal is a war measure, and if the proposed world peace treaty is carried through there will be no need of the canal on that score. In time of war, both Atlantic and Pacific coasts could be protected with a much smaller navy than we now have. The inter-continental railroads would have to reduce their fares and by this and other means the canal will pay for itself in time.

After the canal is completed in 1914, forts should be built and filled with red-blooded, United States soldiers. By changing every two or three years so as to avoid the deadly work of the climate our country can keep the control of the canal well in hand. Then if the United States wants the canal open to everyone, it will be open and if she wants it closed it will be closed and no other nation can have anything to say about it.

At the conclusion of the speech Mr. Rourke expressed his willingness to answer questions. Some of the most interesting facts brought out by the questioners were these. The region in which the canal is located is outside the earthquake zone and no trouble will arise from volcanic action. The means of providing for prevention of disaster in case of accident are well taken care of. Twin locks and preventative emergency dams made of sheets of steel will shut off the water one hour after an accident. The excavation is done by dredges and suction pumps. The disposal of the refuse is a big problem also. Mr. Rourke had two million yards excavated in the month of March 1909. Most of it was dumped in the Pacific ocean and the ocean will stand for quite a good deal.

The report that the foundation of the dam was giving way was false. A corner of one dam spread a little but no serious damage came from it.

The coming of the nothern people has been a great thing for the natives. They are being educated and made clean. The country will be a valuable asset to the United States as a producer of vegetation.

The audience of over 100 men were enthusiastic over the revelations concerning the canal and Mr. Rourke was given a very hearty vote of thanks.

The speaker, by his personality and his familiarity with all the problems of the work, gave evidence of his fitnes for the task of superintending the great work. As street commissioner in Boston he carries out undoubtedly the same principle as was used in Panama, "a square deal for all and no special favors for anyone." In Panama he worked for the best interests of the country and in Boston he is working for the best interests of the city and the people.

The next meeting of the Point church club will be held on Jan. 25. It will be a Burns evening since it is Robert Burn's birthday. The spirit of fellowship among the men's clubs of the different churches is good and at the meeting last evening there were representatives from Christ church and the Wollaston Methodist church.

ST. MARY'S CHRISTMAS.

The annual Christmas entertainment of the Sunday school of St. Mary's parish was held Tuesday at St. Mary's hall, and proved to be a grand time fornearly 800 children. The hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion, and a moving picture show held their attention for nearly two hours. There was also songs, with Miss Mary McKay at the piano. At the conclusion of the entertainment each child was presented with a box of candy. The affair was under the direction of Rev. Henry T. Grady, assisted by Rev. William J. Duffy.

SEVERAL LOVE SETS AT TENNIS CLUB BALL

A Brilliant Party at Which the Ladies Took Most of the Honors

Inspiring Music by Poole's Orchestra of Eight Pieces

One of the prettiest dancing parties of the season was the fifth annual ball of the Quincy Tennis Club at Quincy Music hall on Wednesday evening. There were both single and double tournaments, and as they were played to inspiring music by Poole's orchestra of eight pieces, they went with a dash; in fact there were several love sets. The gowns of the ladies were more elaborate than on the outdoor courts in summer, and it was a brilliant party.

From 8 to 8.15 there was a reception by the three matrons: Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur, in white lace; Mrs. Henry M. Faxon in green satin; and Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, in black velvet trimmed with white lace. There was a large attendance including many from out of town.

The hall was prettily decorated with red, white and blue and flags. Chinese lanterns on the stage made a pretty back-ground for the music.

The program of twenty numbers included only one square dance, the Portland Fancy, but it was one of the most popular numbers, and danced with a zeal. The waltz-moonlight was also a favorite. Two steps, schottisches and waltzes completed the order.

The ushers who were distinguished by tennis rackets as boutonniere were Messrs. Daniel W. Bond, Walter E. Burke, E. Tyler Brigham, Martin E. Erismann, Henry E. Frick, Lorenzo H. Gilson, Henry R. Holden, Arthur P. Homer, J. Brooks Keyes, Delcevare King, Warren C. Ogden, Charles A. Price, John S. Pfaffmann, F. Morton Smith, Robert Sibley, Carl R. Sheppard and Moreton T. Swallow.

The patronnesses of the ball were: Mrs. Edward H. Angier, Mrs. Homer Lane Bigelow, Mrs. William H. Binnian, Mrs. E. Tyler Brigham, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. Edward A. Burkhardt, Mrs. J. Winsor Davy, Mrs. Horace Drinkwater, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Richard R. Freeman, Mrs. Harold M. Gage, Mrs. Henry I. Hall, Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. Sydney C. Hardwick, Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Theophilus King, Miss Georgiana C. Lane, Mrs. Carlton C. Lane, Miss Maud Macfarlane, Mrs. Warren G. Ogden, Mrs. Alvah H. Pierce, Mrs. Charles A. Price, Mrs. Harry E. Russell, Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague, Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant and Mrs. Williams Ward Whitcher.

MAY REPAIR THE BRIDGE

But Legislative Authority Necessary to Widen Draw

The harbor and land commissioners decided Wednesday to grant a license to the trustees of the Weymouth Fore River bridge for repairs, it being shown by the testimony of engineers and photographs that it is at present in a dangerous condition says the Globe.

Last week the commissioners gave a hearing on a petition of the trustees for authority to make repairs and at the same time to widen the draw to permit the passage out of the battleship now building at the Fore River yards for the Argentine Republic.

City Solicitor McAnarney attorney for the trustees at the adjourned hearing said he had found that the trustees had no authority without legislative sanction to change the draw and that part of the petition was abandoned.

Representatives of Cohasset and Hingham suggested that the repairs should be made at the same time the draw was widened, if legislative authority was given, in order to save expense, but Mr. McAnarney and Commodore Crane of Quincy convinced the commission that the need of repairs was imperative in the near future.

MILDRED GRAY HUSTON
Public Stenographer
Room 25 Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Telephones: Office 2132; Residence 4-4-3
Dictations by the Hour or Letter.
Typewriting of All Descriptions
Circular Letter Work done on the Mimeograph or Typewriter. Envelopes Addressed.
Dec. 29-3t

YOUNG NORTHERN GEESE 20c lb
at JOHNSON BROS.

NOWLAND OR CHERRINGTON

Said to be Slated for President of Council

It was reported this morning that a caucus of the members of the new City Council favorable to the candidacy of James M. Nowland for president of the council was held Wednesday evening, and that the slate was made up.

It is claimed that there are twelve if not thirteen of the Council who are pledged to vote for Councilman Nowland or anyone that they may agree upon.

In the event of Councilman Nowland's election as president it is more than probable that Councilman Cherrington will receive the appointment as chairman of the Finance Committee.

On the other hand it is rumored that Coucilman Nowland would as soon serve as chairman of this committee as President, and if he should so decide his strength in the council will probably be thrown to Councilman Cherrington as President of the Council.

Just who the twelve or thirteen men are that are supporting the opposition to Councilman Bryant is not known.

☞ Heard in passing, "Have you got your tickets for the "Creation" concert?"

Mothers' Association
Meeting Place: Bethany Church
Time: 3 o'clock, Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1911
Speaker: MRS. ELLEN RICHARDS of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
Subject: "Foods for School Children."
☞ When such a speaker is secured to come to Quincy without compensation, it behoves us to see to it that she is greeted by a representative audience. Will the women of Quincy co-operate in this matter.
MARTHA C. MACKAY, President.
Quincy, Dec. 28-6t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription
By the year $6.00
By the month .50

Telephones
During day Quincy 425
Evenings 869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Bone grafting has been pronounced possible. But the grafter is usually after something more than a bone.

Mexico simply could not stand the strain of being the model Latin-American republic any longer.

It's pretty generally conceded that the dissolution of the sugar trust will show a big lump of fraud.

Dr. Cook simply moved and voted to make unanimous the verdict that he is the champion American prevaricator.

Two men who began life as waiters now own one of Chicago's biggest hotels. You never can tell what they'll buy with the tip you hand them.

Mr. Hitchcock, the Postmaster General, seems to favor a parcels post wherever the express companies have not made other arrangements.

The Charleston News and Courier boasts that Charleston lends more money than any other city in the country. This will help to make a lot of us think a whole heap more of it.

The editor desires to extend sympathy to Bro. Moses Gilbert Billings of the Milford Gazette, because of the death of his wife and helpmate Mrs. Edith Louise Billings, who was prominent in church and club work.

Books that have been in use for fifty years by the Assessors of Beverly are to be discarded and the card system adopted. Quincy adopted the card system a few years ago and finds it much better although at the time of the change it necessitated a great amount of extra clerical service to get the system started.

The policy of the president of the New England Wholesale Shoe Dealers' Association of "Get together and stick together" and persistently advertise is pretty good policy for most any organization It is also good for a community. If residents of a city or town would get together and work for the town as a whole instead of for themselves how that town would prosper.

This will soon be a noiseless world or at least the holidays will be noiseless. All through the spring, papers talked up a noiseless Fourth of July, and now out in Chicago they are planning for a noiseless New Year. Venders of horns and bells are to be barred from the streets. These New Year customs do not prevail in and around Boston.

The Cuban situation is exciting much interest in political and official life. President Taft stopped in Cuba on his recent return from Panama. He talked with representatives of both factions. The President of Cuba, it seems, wants to perpetuate his presidency by reelection. President Taft, perhaps, does not consider this unnatural, but the ways and tricks of perpetuation in Cuba, in Mexico, in Central American in fact, wherever Spanish precedents and customs prevail, are not according to Anglo-Saxon ideals, although they may find parallels in Anglo-Saxon practice. Our grandmotherly interest in our Latin neighbors may yet result in our giving them a Porto Rico or Philippine government under the flag. There have been official denials of early interventions in Cuban affairs. Nevertheless, it is known that the entire American battleship fleet with twelve or fifteen hundred marines aboard will be at Guantanamo early in January and it is said that five thousand United States soldiers fully equipped can be landed in Cuba in three days.

☞Now that Christmas is over there is quite a rush for tickets for the "Creation" concert on Jan. 3 at Music hall.

Nodd—"Is your wife convalescing?"
Todd—"Yes. She is getting strong enough to keep another servant."—Life.

PARTY FOR MUSIC PUPILS.

Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook gave a party to her music pupils on Monday evening. Owing to the snow storm which threatened to be a bad one there were several who were unable to attend. Games were enjoyed during the first part of the evening and later ices and fancy cakes were served.

There were piano duets by Miss Eldeine Marguerite Young and Miss Holbrook; piano solos by Misses Anna Frances Byorkmann and Mabel Doring; vocal solos by Miss Holbrook and readings by Misses Dorothy Fratus and Anna Byorkmann.

It seems that Santa Claus had been around and had left a present for each pupil. Miss Holbrook's pupils presented her with a silver mesh bag.

Among those present were: Misses Anna Byorkmann, Sarah Tuttle, Louise Tuttle, Marion Hallett, Florence Nelson, Agnes Nelson, Elizabeth Nelson, Annie Thomas, Mabel Doring, Ethel Young, Eldiene Young, Ruth Parker, Dorothy Fratus, Gladys Hammond, Ruth Ewell, Teresa Mercer, Annie Mercer, Mrs. Blanche Hallett, Mrs. Wyeth and Master Albert Ewell.

DONATIONS TO CAMP.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Association acknowledges recent contributions to the Mt. Pleasant Fresh Air camp as follows:

Quincy Catholic club—table and barrel apples.

Opportunity Ten of Unity Circle of King's Daughters, through Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Livermore—jellies and preserves.

Mrs. William B. Rice—two turkeys and fruit for Thanksgiving and $5 and fruit for Christmas.

Dr. McCausland—gifts to each patient, also to Mr. Campbell and Mrs. Clinton.

Mr. Campbell—gifts to each patient.

EATING AN APPLE.

"Do you know what you're eating?" said the doctor to the girl.

"An apple, of course."

"You are eating," said the doctor, "albumen, sugar, gum, malic acid, gallic acid, fiber, water and phosphorus."

"I hope those things are good. They sound alarming."

"Nothing could be better. You ate, I observed, rather too much meat at dinner. The malic acid of apples neutralizes the excess of chalky matter caused by too much meat and thereby helps to keep you young. Apples are good for your complexion. Their acids drive out the noxious matters which cause skin eruptions. They are good for your brain, which those same noxious matters if retained render sluggish. Moreover, the acids of the apple diminish the acidity of the stomach that comes with some forms of indigestion. The phosphorus, of which apples contain a larger percentage than any other fruit or vegetable, renews theessential nervous matter of the brain and spinal column. Oh, the ancients were not wrong when they esteemed the apple the food of the gods—them magic renewer of youth to which the gods resorted when they felt themselves growing old and feeble. I think I'll have an apple," concluded the doctor."—New York Tribune.

TO AN OLD LOVER.

There is silvery frost on your hair, old boy,
There are lines on your forehead, too;
But your clear eyes speak of the peace and joy
That dwell in the heart of you.
For the passing of youth you have no regret,
No sighs for the summer gloam
And the lover's moon. They are with you yet
In the light of the lamp at home.

In your summer of youth, in that sunny hour
That will come to you never again,
When you wooed your love, as the bee the flower,
The sweets that you gathered then
You have hived and stored for your later life,
And your heart is the honeycomb—
Ah, I've seen your face when you kissed your wife
In the light of the lamp at home.

Oh, you rare old lover! Oh, faithful knight!
With your sweetheart of long ago.
You are many days from the warmth and light
Of the summers you used to know;
But you need not yearn for the glamour and gold
Of the fields you were wont to roam.
Oh, the light for the hearts that are growing old
Is the light of the lamp at home!
—Catholic Standard and Times.

Baby Forgotten In Fire

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 29.—In the excitement which attended the burning of the home of Gustave Marsh here an 18 months old child was forgotten and was burned to death. The loss on the house was about $3000.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

CO-OPERATIVE BANKS.

Their Value In Building Up Homes And For Investment.

As Quincy already has two cooperative banks one in Quincy centre and one at Wollaston, with talk of another at West Quincy, an address given recently before the Commercial club at Natick by James J. Nolan may be equally interesting to Quincy people.

Mr. Nolan from his close connection with the co-operative banks of Massachusetts since the establishment of the Pioneer in Boston in 1877, make him competent to speak upon this subject, and his address contained much valuable information.

The history of Co-operative banking briefly given is that it started in a chain factory in 1877 and had the endorsement of such men as Josiah Quincy and Ex-Gov. Brackett. The speaker paid a splendid tribute to Josiah Quincy and the public work which he accomplished. The Savings' Bank Commissioners of Massachusetts in '94 said:

"The Co-operative bank system, so admirably planned at its inception, so carefully guarded by subsequent legislation, the past history of which has so clearly demonstrated its safety and its influence for good, is an agent for the accumulation of the savings of our people which cannot fail to recommend itself to anyone who will carefuly study its methods and its results."

In explanation of the system, Mr. Nolan said a share at $1.00, which must be paid monthly, matures or reaches $200 in about twelve and one-half years and then the depositor finds that for $150 actually set aside he has $200.

A borrower of the bank who desires $1,000 pays as dues $5.00 and interest $4.17 making a total of $9.17. At the end of the period of twelve years the accumulations pay off the $1,000.

The money is bid off at the monthly meeting, premiums being from five cents upward. If a borrower should be compelled to pay a high premium when money is scarce, he can later bid at a lower price and rate. If a depositor withdraws within three to five years, 25 per cent is retained, after that he gets full value. A co-operative bank is permitted to loan on first mortgages and in bonds of cities and towns only and are stable.

The source of revenue of a co-operative bank is its fines. Payments are compulsory and a failure on the part of a depositor subjects him to a fine of one or two cents a share. There are no high priced officers and no salaries other than for secretary. He eulogized the savings banks of Massachusetts as the best in the world but the co-operative banks teach the lessons of thrift and home building.

Should a borrower meet misfortune the directors have the power to extend the loan. There are $60,000,000 in co-operative banks in Massachusetts and depositors receive from five to six per cent. There are 142 co-operative banks in Massachusetts with $60,000,000 loans. There are at present six thousand of these associations in the United States with assets of $800,000,000.

The co-operative bank should appeal to all because of the safety of funds, the equality of benefits and simplicity of methods. Only seven banks have liquated in over thirty years and with a single exception all paid one hundred cents on the dollar and that over 94 per cent. What other institution can show such a record?

In his closing argument, Mr. Nolan said:

"You may prove to a man by argument that he is doing wrong, without being able to induce him to do right. You may show him the harm he does himself by intemperance; he is convinced, promises amendment, but appetite is stronger than words, and he is soon back to his old habits again. Now the co-operative bank makes no argument in favor of temperance, but it gives the man addicted to drink an object lesson which is likely not only to convince him that he is doing wrong, but to induce him to change his ways. It shows him practically the way to check his extravagance and points to results that are evident and tangible. His neighbor has taken stock in the co-operative bank and he now pays his dues, instead of spending his surplus cash for a harmful luxury. He has quit the companions with whom he used to spend his Saturday nights, and now prefers the company of his wife and children. Peace, contentment and happiness have come to his home. The example of a man like this in a neighborhood, and many of them may be found, is a stronger argument in favor of temperance than any lecture on the subject could possibly be. Words may move, but example will draw. The practical work of saving is seen, the good results are noted, and the man who has long squandered his earnings for drink is encouraged to follow the example of his neighbor; and he joins the army of shareholders in the co-operative bank near by.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY

MUST FURNISH GOOD WATER

Minnesota Cities Liable For Deaths Cause by Polluted Supply

St. Paul, Dec. 29.—The supreme court of Minnesota has handed down a decision that municipalities in this state are liable in damage suits for the death of citizens who contract disease through drinking polluted city water.

This decision was given in two cases arising from the recent typhoid epidemic in Mankato. The court does not hold that the Mankato residents who sued the city are entitled to verdicts, but it does hold that suits can be maintained against the city and that the city is liable if damages can be proved.

The state board of health, investigating the Mankato epidemic, found that it was due to sewage which had polluted the city water. There were many cases of typhoid and several deaths before the source of the pollution was found, the fault corrected and the epidemic halted.

POLICE REPORT ON A PLAY

Leads to Discovery of a Literary Man on the New York Force

New York, Dec. 29.—Mayor Gaynor has discovered that the New York police force has a literary policeman who has been acting as a censor of plays on which complaint has been made. A report from Sergeant Quackenbos, made to Police Commissioner Copsey, finds nothing offensive in a certain play, but says:

"As to the relative merits of the play, personally I consider it weak and insipid, devoid of force and the plot much injured by the apparent effort to eliminate from it everything forceful and decided, with the evident intention of placing upon it a construction so loose and open that even the most biased opinion should find no cause for reproach."

DONS OVERALLS AND WORKS AS LABORER

Pastor Who Tries to Make Both Ends Meet Loses Pulpit

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 29.—Rev. A. G. Mills, pastor of the Christian church of this city, found that he could not make ends meet with a salary of $100 a month, so he went to work as a road laborer. Now he has received notice from the church board that his services are no longer required.

The sight of the minister in overalls had occasioned much gossip, but the rulers of the church declare that it was not shame for his humble attire that induced them to dismiss him. "We paid him for all his time, and we thought we ought to have it," is the way one of the trustees put it.

Mr. Mills, who came here from New York and has a family of three children, says that he borrowed money to pay for the journey across the continent and was trying to earn enough to pay the debt.

THE GOODWINS AT PEACE

Agreement Regarding $15,000 In Favor of Wife of Actor

New York, Dec. 29.—Legal difficulties between Nat C. Goodwin and Mrs. Goodwin, formerly Miss Edna Goodrich, which threatened to go to the courts, were settled when Goodwin called at the office of Herman L. Roth, a lawyer, and entered into an agreement regarding the disposition of property valued at $15,000.

Roth, who has been acting as counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, said that an understanding was reached with the agreement favoring Mrs. Goodwin. He denied that the matter had anything to do with divorce proceedings, and declared that no action looking toward a separation is pending.

SHOCK FELT MILES AWAY

Five Men Killed and Many Hurt When Ton of Powder Explodes

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 29.—Five persons were killed, a score injured, and an extensive property damage resulted when workmen at the plant of the American Smelter and Refining company, endeavoring to destroy a slag pile, accidentally exploded 2400 pounds of blasting powder.

The explosion partly wrecked the plant and many small houses in the vicinity, while window glasses three miles distant were broken. All the dead are Mexicans.

DETROIT ORDERED SOLD

Old Cruiser Goes For $20,000 to Be Converted Into Junk

Washington, Dec. 29.—The old dismantled, out of date third class cruiser Detroit has been ordered sold to R. R. Corbett of New York for $20,000 by Secretary of the Navy Meyer.

The Detroit is at the Boston navy yard and will be delivered at once to the purchaser, who was the highest bidder. Her only value is as junk.

"Padlock" Law Promulgated

Madrid, Dec. 29.—The "padlock" law, dealing with the religious congregations, having received the assent of the king, has been promulgated.

LETTER FROM BALTIMORE

Is Very Unlike Boston, Says John Evans

Baltimore, Dec. 27, 1910.

Editors Daily Ledger:

"I promised to take your readers with me throught this great southern city. It seems that we have entered into a new atmosphere altogether, everything is so different from Boston and New England cities. There are great changes since I visited here before, nearly half the city having been destroyed by fire. The plucky Baltimoreians have built a new city grander and far better on the ashes of the old.

I entered the city through the Royal station on the Pennsylvania railroad.

I remember and could almost see the seven hundred loyal soldiers of the Sixth Massachusetts, who answered the first call of the noble Lincoln, after that memorable review by Gov. Andrew from the steps of the State House at Boston; the first troops to answer the call for the defence of our Capital, which stood in great need. I could almost see them with a full band and regimental staff alighting from the train and as soon as they formed in line marching quietly towards the Camden street station to take the train to Washington. The rabble and the mob tried to stop them, by throwing stones and using all the weapons at their command. In spite of all this our boys in blue managed to get through but the first blood of the Rebellion was shed on that eventful 19th of April 1861. Four of our Massachusetts boys were killed that day, and thirty-six wounded.

An ordinance was passed by the city to cut off all northern troops from coming throuh the city, also to destroy the railroad and bridges for miles from the city. I visited Fort McHenry where Capt. John C. Robinson stood as loyal in those troublous times, and where afterwards on June 27th, 1861, Gen. Banks, confined Marshal Kane of the Baltimore police. I also visited Perryville on the Susquehanna where Gen. Butler arrived on the 20th of April and took the steamboat Maryland to Annapolis trying to get to the Capital without entering this once rebellious city, I also went to Federal hill which Gen. Banks fortified and which had a full command of the whole city.

This part of our great country is full of interest to me, where once the whole section was in turmoil and full of treason. Now it is as loyal and as patriotic as any other part.

But please excuse my flight of imagination of course I have seen lots of other things, great buildings, docks, stations, and thousand other wonderful achievements, but above all my whole mind was centered on the past history as I have read it so many times.

Of course I have lots to tell you dear readers of my visits to the Capitol, Congressional Library, Treasury, Washington monument, etc., also my trip to Mt. Vernen, Alexandria, Va., Chevy Chase and many other places. If I thought you would be interested I would take you with me around to see all these places, because you can trust me as your guide. I have been here before you know.

I remain yours truly,
John Evans.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 523-3.

BLUE LABEL SOUPS
Large Cans $2.75 doz.
[Regular 30ct value]
JOHNSON BROTHERS

TO-NIGHT
Cascarets
10c, 25c, 50c.
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP
All Druggists

Nervous? Let your doctor prescribe the medicine. He knows best. The fact, however, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has such strong tonic properties, and is entirely free from alcohol, may make it precisely to his liking. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

DEATH RATE IS HIGH

Official Report on Spread of Infantile Paralysis In Rhode Island

Providence, Dec. 29.—A recapitulation of the epidemic of anterior poliowyelitis, commonly known as infantile paralysis, which prevailed in this state the past summer, shows that the total number of cases was 231.

The figures are made public by Dr. Swarts, secretary of the state board of health, and date from last March. Of the 206 cases of which the board received detailed information 26 proved fatal, a death rate of 12½ percent. Of this number of cases 113 were males and 93 females.

PASTOR AND DEACON FIGHT

Former Loses a Finger and Adversary Is Minus His Nose

Fort Worth, Tex., Dec. 29.—Losing his razor early in a fight with Deacon Morton Nichols, Rev. D. J. Jones, pastor of Mount Zion African church of Fort Worth, bit off Nichols' nose. Nichols retaliated by chewing off Jones' right index finger. Both appeared at the police station.

The pastor, against whom a charge of maiming was placed, was released on bond, signed by practically all members of Mount Zion church. The trouble originated over church affairs.

Girl Flies In Aeroplane

Lyons, France, Dec. 29.—The little daughter of Rev. James McFarr of New York made an aeroplane flight here.

—Christmas week fires doing damage to the total of over four million dollars, and causing the death of 42 persons, is an unfortunate record, and one which would be difficult to equal by foreign countries where more progress has been made to prevent destruction by fire.—Old Colony Memorial.

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston, b Norfolk Downs, c Atlantic, d Neponset, e Pope's Hill, f Harrison Square, g Savin Hill, h Cresent Avenue, i South Boston, r Quincy Adams
Exp.—Express train.

TO BOSTON			FROM BOSTON
Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston	Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41	5 47	ihgfedcba	6 16 r
r 6 16	abci	6 35	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 41 r
r 6 32	c	6 47	6 45	Exp.	7 00
r 6 49	abcf	7 00	7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
r 7 12	abcd	7 33	7 45	a	8 00
r 7 25	d	7 42	8 35	cb	8 51
r 7 52	Exp.	7 47	8 45	a	9 00
r 7 40	abcd	8 00	9 15	fedba	9 27 r
8 05	Exp.	8 20	9 45	a	10 00
r 8 12	abcd	8 30	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 41 r
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47	10 45	Exp.	11 00
r 8 51	ad	9 08	11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
r 9 10	abcdg	9 30	12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
r 10 04	a	10 20	12 45	Exp.	1 00
			1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45	1 45	a	2 00
11 04	a	11 20	2 15	ihgfedcba	2 41 r
r 11 24	abcdefgh	11 50	2 45	Exp.	3 00
12 04	a	12 20	3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45	3 45	a	4 00
1 14	a	1 30	4 15	fedcba	4 37 r
r 1 19	abcde	1 40	4 45	d	5 00
2 04	a	2 20	5 12	Exp.	5 38 r
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45	5 20	d	5 37
3 04	a	3 20	5 25	dcba	5 48 r
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45	5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
4 04	a	4 20	5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50	6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
4 50	b	5 15	6 30	ecba	6 50 r
r 5 24	abcdefg	5 55	7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
6 09	ac	6 27	7 15	a	7 38
7 04	b	7 20	8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
r 7 39	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30	9 30	dba	9 51 r
r 9 01	abc	9 20	10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
			11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30	11 30	a	11 48
r 11 20	abc	11 40

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30	ba	6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 47	ihgfedcba	9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05	Exp.	9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15	ihgfedcba	10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15	ihgfedcba	12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 45	Exp.	12 59
11 06	Exp.	11 17	1 15	ihgfedcba	1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15	hgfedcba	2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15	ihgfedcba	3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 44	4 27	eba	4 49 r
r 2 10	abc	3 30	5 15	ihgfedcba	5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15	ihgfedcba	6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00	eba	7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15	ihgfedcba	8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45	Exp.	9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 28	9 30	ihgfedcba	9 57 r
9 05	a	9 24	10 50	eba	11 09 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.05, 7.09, 9.09, 11.00 P. M Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35 11.35, 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25,—P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.11, 7.15, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLES
Large 30ct Cans
Today for 25ct
at JOHNSON BROS

Read Ledger Advs.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO

QUINCY DIVISION

TIME TABLE

In effect Oct. 25, 1910.

Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 5.55, 6.15, 6.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.45, 6.10 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.35 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M. then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.23, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M. then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.36 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing, 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M., then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

High School
Woodward Institute
Public Schools
Parochial School

The School Committee are undecided when the Atherton Hough school will be opened. Although the new building is to be dedicated this week the School Committee say that until the building is officially accepted by the city and turned over to them the date can not be fixed, the chances are however that it will be opened for school purposes Monday, Jan. 9.

* * *

The action of the School Committee on Tuesday evening rescinding its vote of several weeks ago, assigning the Adams Shore and Germantown children to the Atherton Hough school at Houghs Neck, and deciding that they shall continue to attend the Coddington school meets with general favor among the parents of those sections. Germantown and Adams Shore are practically half way between the two buildings, and the argument advanced by the parents was that it was handier to come to the Coddington than to the Atherton Hough, particularly in winter weather, as there are not apt to be as many snow drifts on the Quincy side of the causeway.

* * *

QUINCY HIGH.

The basketball team is practicing in the gymnasium during vacation in preparation for the opening games next week. The outlook for the season is very optimistic and the five men who represent the school on the floor should bring her as much credit as did the eleven who represented her on the field in the fall.

* * *

Many of the High school pupils are employed in Boston and Quincy stores during the vacation.

* * *

Hammond Pride '09, a sophomore at Amherst college, is spending his vacation at home.

* * *

Harold Gore '10 gave a party in Wollaston Tuesday evening which many former and present pupils at High school attended. Gore entered Massachusetts Agricultural college last fall and represented the college on the football team in several games.

* * *

Mr. James D. Howlett, the headmaster, is busily engaged in preparing the annual report of the school.

* * *

Glover Howe '10, a freshman at M. A. C. in Amherst, is spending his vacation at his home in Wollaston.

* * *

Allison Marsh '09, a sophomore at Amherst college, is spending his vacation with his parents on Irving place.

* * *

Theodore Corey '10 is home from Colgate university for the holidays.

* * *

Stanley Sherman '08, a junior at Amherst college, is spending his vacation at his home on Greenleaf street.

* * *

Carl Ahlstrom '14 is visiting in Manchester, N. H., during the Christmas vacation.

* * *

Ralph C. Blake '09 is home from Massachusetts Agricultural college during the Christmas recess.

* * *

Enor Lundin '10 is home from Colgate university for the Christmas vacation.

* * *

W. Cranshaw '11 was one of the four runners on the relay team which defeated Hyde Park on Tuesday. Cranshaw also got a place in the 15-yard dash.

* * *

H. Trask '13 is playing on the Y. M. C. A. 1st basketball team.

* * *

E. Prout ex '10 is a member of the Y. M. C. A. relay team.

* * *

Ruth Epes '10 is home from Wellesley college during the holiday season.

* * *

Gladys Bain '10 is home from Dana hall for the Christmas recess.

* * *

W. Edwards '12 was Santa Claus at the children's festival in the Unitarian church.

* * *

Mr. Robinson, instructor in mathematics, has returned from Bowdoin college and is spending the remainder of the vacation in Auburndale.

The senior committees which can do their work before graduation week will begin their work shortly after school opens again.

* * *

Morris E. Bumpus, ex '08, is home from Williams college for the Christmas recess.

* * *

W. Phillips Hardy '10 has fully recovered from his attack of the mumps and will return to Thayer academy next week at the close of the vacation.

* * *

R. Estey '13 has been appointed official scorekeeper for Y. M. C. A. athletic events.

* * *

GRADED SCHOOLS.

The Atherton Hough school dedication service will be held on Saturday. A large American flag will be presented to the school by the scholars. About 120 pupils from the Coddington will go to the Houghs Neck school as soon as it is opened.

* * *

The seating problem will confront the superintendent and principals anew when the children who were barred by the raising of the age limit enter the different school in January. Those who have reached the age of six between September and January can enter and in the district to the north where there is difficulty in seating the pupils now, there will be a problem to face. In all the buildings however, there are some extra rooms which are used for offices, libraries, store rooms, etc, which can be pressed into service if necessity demands. So the situation can be met although it may cause some little inconvenience for a time.

* * *

The Wollaston school children will return to their building Monday morning. During the vacation everything has been thoroughly fumigated, and all possibility of further spread of the disease which caused the closing of the school has been eliminated.

* * *

Many of the teaching staff of the graded schools come from out of town, and all of them have gone to their homes for the vacation. About one-fifth of the entire teaching staff of the city were educated in the Quincy schools and live in this city.

* * *

WOODWARD INSTITUTE.

Many of the graduates of the school who have gone to schools of higher education are home for the holidays. Marion Thomas '08, who conducts a kindergarten in Nashua, N. H., is spending her vacation at home. Those home from the different colleges are: Marian Johnson and Ethel Hersey from Wellesley; Helen Fitzgerald, Esther Sidelinger and Jessie Pratt from Radcliffe; Marguerite Davis from Vassar.

* * *

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL.

The hall in the new parochial school on Phipps street will be opened for occupancy the first time Sunday evening for a meeting of the Catholic federation. The whole building will also be open for public inspection on this evening.

* * *

OTHER SCHOOLS.

At ice hockey on Wednesday Wellesley High defeated Brookline High 3 to 0.

* * *

The basketball team of the Melrose High school is on a tour of western Massachusetts and on Wednesday evening defeated Chicopee High 20 to 17.

* * *

The New England interscholastic athletic association will hold its annual track and field meeting Feb. 25 in Mechanics building, under the auspices of the Boston A. A. George V. Brown, manager of athletics for the B. A. A. already is making arrangements for team races at the meet. It is understood that an effort will be made to do away with the shotput at the meet this winter, as many believe that it is too dangerous an event where the space is limited.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c

Principals of the Brockton schools are happy in the raise of salaries the school board at its final meeting of the year increasing the salary of two men teachers to $2400; of five men teachers to $2100; and one woman teacher to $1500.

* * *

A meeting of persons interested in the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation has been called, to be held at Boston University, Friday afternoon, at three o'clock. The object will be to hear reports from delegates and to consider ways and means of advancing the interests of the Federation. The idea of forming such a Federation of Teachers' clubs is being received very favorably throughout the State. The Somerville Teachers' Association has voted unanimously to join and the executive committees of several other large clubs have decided in favor of federation. Dr. David P. Snedden commissioner of education, has indorsed the movement. A constitution has been adopted, but the election of officers has been postponed for the action of delegates who will be chosen for this purpose by the clubs that vote to federate.

PROFESSION OF TEACHING.

The Brockton Enterprise comments as follows:

Teaching is, or ought to be if the teacher likes the profession, most interesting at times. Of course it has its heart-breaking moments, but so does everything else in the workaday world It has its diversions and it has its hours of ease. There is a good, long summer vacation, during which the teacher can give the laugh to the people who have to keep on laboring fifty weeks in the year—some of them fifty-two. In a city at least the remuneration is worth while, and there are many teachers of the better grade who find the financial reward above what the average man in some other professions accumulates.

The opportunity to make lasting friendships is by no means the least attractive feature of a teacher's life. A teacher who has "made a hit" with a scholar is never held in anything but grateful remembrance. You can say sharp things about a man's business friends, and you may even, if you do it diplomatically, point out the shortcomings of his favorite son and get away without a return. But show yourself to say something disparaging about the old teacher who guided the man's footsteps along the paths of learning in his boyhood, and the chances are that you will hear a comeback, and a good, sharp one, too, just about as quickly as the other fellow can think of the proper thing to say that seems to him to cover the situation.

Let the old teacher meet any body of students that he taught in other days, and note the friendship and the deference shown him by the crowd. Did you ever see any happier crowd on earth than a body of women clustered about some veteran instructress who taught them in their girlhood time? No matinee idol could hold their attention half as long, and nobody but a close relative could bring out such expressions of love and of esteem—in fact a lot of close relatives couldn't do the trick.

The valedictorian may be jollying the school committee on countryside graduation day, and the kindly taxpayers who have to pay the tax to run the schools anyway may be largely topics of fun to the essayist, but when she comes to the "To you, dear teacher" point she means business, and so does the class that hangs tense on the words of thankfulness and praise to the instructor that come in pat at that moment. It is all sincerity there, and the only trouble with the words is that the essayist can't find those strong enough to tell the teacher just what the class thinks of him or her or of him and her. To be sure there are no independent fortunes, perhaps, in teaching; but there are not many in any work, and most teachers seem to get along pretty comfortably.

HIS ONLY ATTACHCHABLE ASSET.

A Kansas City man recently wrote to a lawyer in another town of the state, asking for information touching the standing of a person there who had owed the Kansas City individual a considerable sum of money for a long time.

"What property has he that I could attach?" was one of the questions asked.

The lawyer's reply was to the point:

"The person to whom you refer," he wrote, "died a year ago. He has left nothing subject to attachment except a widow."—Home Magazine.

—And now it is proposed to have a "pure fabric" law, so that when things are labeled all wool and a yard wide they will be that. Shoddy will be labeled shoddy and cotton clothing that sells for all wool will be shown up by the salesman and the label in its true light. The proposition at any rate will assist clothing and cloth salesmen in keeping one of the ten commandments better than they do now.—Spencer Leader.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Last week at Braintree, under auspices of Penniman School Association Supt. Ralph L. Wiggin gave a very interesting address upon "Parental Co-operation and School Problems." On account of the Christmas activities the attendance did not overtax the Penniman school hall but the regret is that more of our citizens did not hear the address. Mr. Wiggin can only be reported in part as follows:

"The school is the response to the demand of the people for the preservation of traditions and history. In this country we have a full and free education for all the young no matter what the condition of life. As the problems of occupation of life are worked out, while we take toll from the past, we insist that the chief thing is life in the present the "now" and that our schools give to the world the individual fitted for the world.

The first educative force in the life of the child is the family, or the education of the home environment. To the home and to the school the privilege is to teach. The privilege should not be surrendered from the one to the other. Peculiar forms of duty belong to the school, peculiar forms to the home. In the teacher's task the word to teach means in its broadest sense, to lead out into the beauties of life. Because there is a paid teaching force, the home has in no wise lost the full measure of its responsibility in the perfect training of children. The attitude of the home for the school should be sympathetic, helpful, cooperative for all best interests and kindly inquiring into the why wherefor of the school work. This attitude is best expressed in parents associations, where full and free discussion can be given to all school problems. Promptness and regularity, gained in the schools form valuable habits in the after lives of men and women. The physical welfare of children should be looked after. The parents by consulting with the teachers could give the strongest approval to that part of the school work which has as its basis the physical well being of the child.

The day is not far distant when the study of Eugenics and it's practical application is to be a form of part of our faith.

Children should be given a few of the fundamental facts of life. It is now the peculiar duty of the home, and the special privilege of the church that the teaching of fundamental life principles be left to them.

We have this common interest to make the very best of the boy and girl who is our charge. The school has charge of the children but 5 hours out of twenty-four. Take out nine hours for sleeping; this leaves some ten hours to be accounted for by the home and street. Here was pointed out the different ideals the children have in regard to conduct. here is a certain training of the street that sometimes reveals the stamina of children in the attitude toward truth, in respect to property rights of others, in regard to kindness to animals. We must give the children sympathy and kind attention, but we should be careful not to give too much of our sympathy and kind attention, lest in some way we take away from the very moral fiber which we are trying to develop, some of the iron of control that must be of necessity in the after life of the child.

By illustration from other fields of work, it was pointed out that the human product would not pore through a mould and human character could not be defined by business terms. Habits are formed largely by imitation. Good habits are a necessity to good conduct, and good conduct as prescribed by ethical law, is the basis of happy community living. The schools try to set these right habits with their effect on right living. We begin with the kindergarten where the very first lessons of service, self help, social control, cooperation and skilful manipulation of the muscles that shall steady little hands for the more difficult and complexed work of the grades are learned.

In our reading, we strive towards good English good thought and good story after the style of the old and new masters. What a world of good a meeting of teachers and parents could accomplish in this one particular, of what the child should read and how to get him to read it with the interest that would demand more of the same.

The power of suggestion both in the home and the school was pointed out as a valuable means of placing the child in the right light between the home and the school. It was advised that parents withhold judgment until a careful talk with teacher, principal, or superintendent had given the proper view point.

The schools are founded on justice, justice tempered by love to be sure, but yet that justice that says to the individual pupil; "no special privileges for you to the detriment of your fellow student, or what is by far the better way of understanding, to your own undoing. The schools need the help and cooperation of the homes more and more, and the very fact of this parents association and similar associations is proof that here in Braintree we do get, and are to get the help, the needed sympathy and advice that do so much to set right relations in the view point that we have of the best thing for the boy and girl.

Play upon playgrounds should be organized and carefully supervised. A short description of the method of organized play as carried on in our schools was given. Play is an activity for which we have inherited adjustments, and should be given full expression. It has a value both intellectual and moral, upon the intellectual side developing alertness; upon the moral side developing the spirit of fairness. It was pointed out that an interesting evening could be spent in studying the social and moral effects of organized play upon the boy gangs for the larger cities. Acknowledgement was made to the Philergians of their work in encouraging children to have for their own use some form of home garden. The real pleasure and pride that children take in this work and the real use that they make of the products, does much to husband the good old New England characteristic of thrift. If the home gardens should turn the minds of some toward agriculture into what healthier life or occupation could they go. Then, too, it must be remembered that it takes as many brains to be a successful farmer as to be a business-man, lawyer, or doctor, and that the monetary returns from successful farming are not to be despised.

Good schools, well kept schoolgrounds are one of the best advertisements a town can have. Tools have a place in education. It was urged upon the association that they take up the study of the social demand for this work, carefully scrutinize all plans, thus solve the question as parents, who have at heart the very best interests of the children.

In every topic upon the "Training for Citizenship," the conclusion of every speaker is generally, that we are not turning out boys and girls fitted for citizenship from our public schools. We are, just the same, i. e., we are turning them out and not wholly unfit. The next generation will give us a fine testimonial to that effect. It was pointed out that the school city used the idea of suggestion, to right action by calling attention to the fact that the pupil who may be an offender has helped to make the laws. Under the idea of the school city, the teacher does not surrender any of his power, for instead of forcing into the law he leads the children into the law and in many instances into an appreciation of the spirit of law. The school city makes use of the fundamental instinct for society. It is not argued that the school city will produce masters in jurisprudence or supreme court judges. Our only care is, will it produce a type of citizen who knows what to do with his ballot and who will understand its immense power?"

Many things were enumerated in which parents associations could interest themselves and in this way keep active and progressive movement in the schools of Braintree. Musical selections were given by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wood. Mr. Wood is a pleasing violinist and his wife an able accompanist. A they have taken up their abode in East Braintree undoubtedly their playing will be often enjoyed.

At the close of Superintendent Wiggin's talk, questions were asked relative to the schools of Braintree. Many interesting things thus being drawn out were presented and cleared up. Interesting remarks were made by Principal Chapin of the High school, and by Principal Currier of the Noah Torrey school.

CHRISTMAS DANCE.

The Marmabediell club had a very pretty party in Colonial hall Wednesday evening. About 25 couples were present to enjoy dancing from 8.30 to 11.30.

The hall was tastefully decorated in green and red with Christmas tree and branches of evergreen to give a seasonable flavor. The chandelier in the centre of the hall was trimmed with evergreen and red and a bell hung down in the middle. When the waltz german was announced, two of the of the hostesses pulled the ribbon streamers issuing from the bell, and brought down a shower of cardboard bells which were cut in two and had to be matched up.

Several moonlight waltzes added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. The chaperons were Mrs. Edward Lovejoy and Miss Mary Parker. The dance orders called forth much praise. The designs were drawn and painted by Miss Edith Lovejoy, a member of the club.

Not a little of the enjoyment was furnished by the excellent music which came at the hands of Mr. Cuffe of Braintree. The committee in charge of the dance are to be congratulated on the success of the occasion. The following were on the committee: Miss Mary L. Brown, Miss Mabel Lovejoy, Miss Ella Packard and Miss Edith Lovejoy.

MARK TWAIN ON THE POTATO.

"Among the many pranks of Mark Twain's journalistic days," said a Virginia City editor, "was the concoction of a speech that was put upon a famous Senator.

The Senator had attended a Virginia City banquet, but had not spoken. He had a sore throat. A brother from a rival paper reached the banquet late.

"What did the Senator speak about?" the newcomer whispered to Mark Twain.

"'He made a very interesting speech on the potato,' was the reply.

"'The potato, eh? That's odd. Let's have the points, will you?'

"'With pleasure,' said Mark Twain, and he dictated a half-column that the reporter duly printed the next morning as the distinguished Senator's valuable contribution to agricultural science. The speech began like this:

"'Ladies and gentlemen, had it been my lot to be born and reared in Ireland, where my food would have principally consisted of the potato—that most salubrious and nutritious root—I should now be, instead of the poor, infirm, stunted creature you see before you, a tall, stout, athletic man able to carry an enormous weight.'"

Jones—"That new preacher knows his business."

Mrs. Jones—"What makes you think so?"

Mr. Jones—"He waited until Bobby got whipped before he tried to convince him that fighting was wrong."—Kansas City Independent.

MAYOR

SHEA'S

INAUGURAL

ADDRESS

WILL APPEAR

IN FULL IN

THE DAILY LEDGER

OF MONDAY

Together with a full

REPORT OF THE ORGANIZATION

OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF 1911

And the Business of the Opening Day.

SEVERAL OTHER INTERESTING FEATURES

may be expected in this issue of

THE DAILY LEDGER

NEWSY EVERY DAY

PETERSON'S SUGGESTIONS

Better BREAD

People use

PERFECTION FLOUR

Hundreds of People use our Perfection Flour. We want One Hundred more to become better bread eaters.

ORDER A BAG TODAY.

J. PETERSON & CO.

394 Washington Street, Quincy

GRAND CLEARANCE SALE

Beginning Thursday, Dec. 29

Bargains in Every Department

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

The Shirt Waist Store

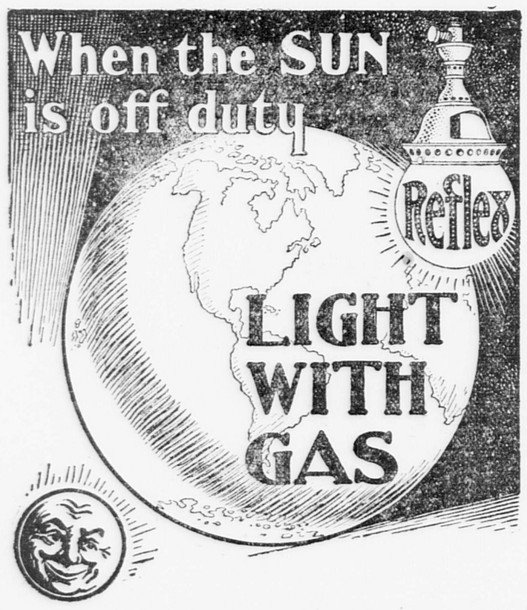
Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS

27 GRANITE STREET

Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY



The Reflex Inverted Gas Burner

Price $1.75 Installed

The best substitute for sunlight

CITIZENS GAS LIGHT COMPANY

Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite St., Quincy

A GOOD PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.

A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

Quincy Daily Ledger

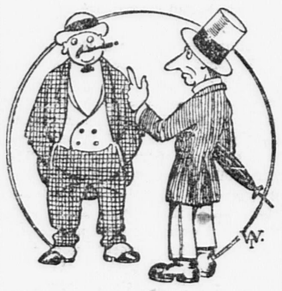
FOR SALE AT.

BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Klttredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessler's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK & DOWNS—Branschied & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
WEST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	P. M.
Monday, Dec. 26	7.30	8.00
Tuesday,	8.15	9.00
Wednesday,	9.00	9.45
Thursday,	9.45	10.30
Friday,	10.30	11.00
Saturday,	11.15	11.45
Sunday,	11.45	12.00

Business Versus Sentiment.



Moralist—Ah, kind friend, it is deeds, not words, that count.

"Oh, I don't know. Did you ever send a telegram?"

BRIEFS

Lewis C. Ramsdell of Lynn spent Christmas with his sister Mrs. Elmer E. Gray of Newton street.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ryden came over from Woodlynne, New Jersey, Saturday to spend a week with the James Deanes of Whitwell street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius U. Tirrell of Standish avenue have returned from the Cape where they went last week Friday to spend the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller and sons Leslie and Everett of Willet street spent Christmas at Marblehead with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson of Standish avenue have returned from Dresden, Maine, where they spent Christmas with Mr. Nelson's parents.

Charles McDonald who came on for his sister's wedding and to spend Christmas returned today to St. Louis, where he is employed with the Telepost Co.

KNOWN IN ATLANTIC.

News of the drowning of Earl Peterson on the Charles river Monday afternoon came to the people of Atlantic as a shock. It will be remembered by those attending the M. E. church during the early summer that the Rev. Deane Peterson who supplied the pulpit was assisted by his brother Earl Peterson who sang for him nearly every Sunday. The young lady drowned with him was Miss Call who attended the Deaconess' Training school. Mr. Peterson was interested in the Young Men's Christian Association of Boston and a great worker in People's Temple of Boston. He was studying music at the New England Conservatory of Music with the view of becoming a singing Evangelist. Miss Call was one of the organists at People's Temple and was deeply interested in church work.

The Metropolitan Park Commission is considering ways and means of making the Charles river a safe skating ground by putting up signs announcing holes and thin ice. This ought to have been done before as there have been several drownings the past year or two.

Chicago Fire Inquiry Begun

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Inquiry by Coroner Hoffman into the causes of the fatal stockyards fire of last week, when Fire Marshal James Horan and twenty-three others were killed, has opened. The first witness was the watchman who discovered the fire.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

GIFTS OF $125,000 IN GOLD

Shoe Manufacturer Gives Employes $5 For Each Year of Service

Boston, Dec. 29.—Thomas G. Plant of Jamaica Plain has given $125,000 worth of gold pieces, fresh from the mint, to his shoe factory employes. It was in the nature of a parting gift, for the first of the year Plant will retire from the business he has built up. Every dollar of the gift was from Plant personally, but in February a dividend amounting to $50,000 will be declared in favor of the employes.

All the employes of four years' service and more were given $5 for each year they had been connected with the firm. Thus a man or woman who had been in the Plant service for four years received $20, while one whose period of service extended over a period of five years received $25, and so on.

FALLS FROM A TRAIN

One of Worcester's Leading Citizens Meets Instant Death

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 29.—George D. Webb, one of the most prominent men in this city, was instantly killed by falling from a train yesterday afternoon. Webb, who was president of the Webb Granite company, one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States, had been on a business trip to Boston.

Mr. Webb organized the Webb Granite company many years ago, and has since been connected with almost every bank and many large business enterprises in Worcester. He had devoted large sums of money every year to various kinds of charitable work, and at the time of his death he was said to be worth several million dollars. He was 60 years old.

WALKER ISSUES AN APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Fears He May Lose Speakership Through a Coalition

Boston, Dec. 29.—Speaker Joseph Walker issued an appeal "to the people of Massachusetts" yesterday to prevent the election of Martin M. Lomasney, Democrat, to the speakership of the house. The appeal is regarded as signifying that Walker has awakened to the fact that some of his party associates are so unfriendly that he has addressed his appeal to their constituents to bring them to his support.

It is only within a few days that the speaker and his friends have had any apprehension over the result of his re-election as speaker. It requires 121 votes to elect the speaker, and the Republicans have 127 members of the incoming legislature, the Democrats 112 and the Socialists 1. There are from 20 to 30 Republican progressives, most of whom are against the re-election of Senator Lodge, and some of these members are suspected of being unfriendly to Walker.

TWO DROP TO DEATH

Pilot and Passenger Fall With an Aeroplane In France

Paris, Dec. 29.—A passenger-carrying monoplane, with Aviator Laffon and M. Paula, fell 250 feet shortly after leaving Issy on a round-trip flight to Brussels, and both men were killed. Laffon had set out to win the $30,000 prize offered by the Automobile Club of France for a round trip to the Belgian capital within thirty-six hours.

The disaster took place shortly after the machine left the aerodrome at Issy and was caused by the motors going wrong. The machine, a big two-seated affair, was smashed to pieces.

LONG HATPINS BARRED

Wearing Them With Points Unguarded Punishable In Kansas City

Kansas City, Dec. 29.—An ordinance was passed by both branches of the city council last night making it a misdemeanor, with a penalty of $1 to $200, to wear hat pins with the points unguarded. It was introduced by Dr. Jackson, alderman from the Thirteenth ward, as a measure for the protection of helpless and unprotected mankind.

"I asked the legal department two weeks ago to prepare the ordinance," Jackson said. "My motives are purely humanitarian. I have treated several cases of wounds in the face and around the eyes from hat pin jabs."

English Spies In German Prisons

Leipsic, Ger., Dec. 29.—Lieutenant Brandon and Captain Trench of the English army, who were convicted and sentenced as spies to four years' imprisonment for sketching the fortifications on Borkum island, were removed to two separate fortresses yesterday to serve their sentences.

The Weather

Almanac, Friday, Dec. 30.
Sun rises—7:20; sets—4:38.
Moon rises—7:53 a. m.
High water—10:30 a. m.; 11 p. m.

Forecast for New England: Snow in north, rain or snow in south portion; moderate to brisk south to southwest winds, becoming variable.

ROBIN DRAGS OTHERS DOWN

Crash Reveals Him as New Comet In High Finance

WAS IN MANY ENTERPRISES

Savings Bank of Which He Is President Refuses to Pay Depositors—Ordered Out of Sanitarium In View of Criminal Proceedings Foreshadowed In Newspapers—Grand Jury to Investigate His Doings

New York, Dec. 29.—With the closing of the Northern Bank of New York and its nine branches in this city, the embarrassment of other concerns which he controlled and his own commitment to a sanitarium as an incurable paranoic, the meteoric financial career of Joseph G. Robin appears to have come to an end.

The crash in the business world caused by the closing of the bank, which carried 25,000 deposits, aggregating $7,000,000, revealed Robin as a new comet in high finance. The president of the bank is Frank L. Grant.

At the New York office of Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss it was learned that Robin obtained $300,000 instead of $100,000, as at first supposed, from the Northern bank on Friday, while men from the office of the state superintendent of banks were there.

The Washington Savings bank, of which Robin is president, yesterday refused to pay its depositors, demanding the legal sixty days' notice. On July 1 the deposits were $1,410,-205.65.

The daring of the young operator, who, it is believed, has dragged down to financial destruction at least six other institutions, outstrips the deeds which sent Charles W. Morse to the federal penitentiary.

Involved with Robin are William L. Broer, cashier of the Northern Bank of New York; Anthony Stumpf, vice president of the Aetna Indemnity company, who is also vice president of the Rochester Title and Guarantee company, and William V. Lomax, secretary of both the two last named companies.

Robin is declared by his friends to have become demented over his plight, after having made two attempts at suicide, and was on Monday adjudged an incurable paranoiac by Drs. McDonald and Flint. On their certificates Robin was committed by Justice Amend to the sanitarium of Dr. McDonald at Central Valley.

Robin was yesterday ordered out of the sanitarium by McDonald. Robin was brought to New York city by his sister. McDonald issued the following statement concerning his action:

"In view of the criminal proceedings foreshadowed in the newspapers, I requested Dr. Louise Rubinovitz, Mr. Robin's sister, to remove him from the sanitarium, which she did today."

These proceedings were taken without the knowledge and much to the disgust of State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss and State Superintendent of Banks Cheney, who are now in charge of the Northern Bank of New York and its branches, as well as the seemingly endless chain of enterprises which Robin dominated.

District Attorney Whitman had a long conference with Hotchkiss, and it was stated the entire matter will be presented to the grand jury for the January term, on Tuesday next. According to the evidence sumbitted to the district attorney more than one official of the bank is deeply implicated, and the indictment of these and possibly others is expected.

The indictment of Robin, which is declared to be certain, will permit an investigation to test his mental condition.

Mr. Whitman says he has undertaken to learn whether Robin displayed any symptoms of paranoia before the state officials began to look into the methods of his transactions in the Aetna and the Guarantee companies and the Northern bank. He says that so far as he can learn these symptoms did not appear until it became known that an exhaustive investigation was being made and that hints were thrown out that a grand jury investigation might result. "I will not be satisfied with the examination made by the alienists employed by Robin's sister," said Whitman.

It is likely that an application will be made to the supreme court to have alienists, employed by the state, examine Robin.

Robin, the chief stockholder of the bank, has had a remarkable career. He is 34 years old. When he came to this country from Russia, sixteen years ago, he was virtually penniless. He had only a common school education, and became a newspaper reporter, but soon found that his talents were better suited for the business world. He drifted into the real estate market and then into finance. After that his rise was rapid. He aimed to be a millionaire many times over. He lived in style at the Beaux Arts, 80 West Fortieth street.

RESCUED FROM MOB

Soldiers Take Charge of Negro Who Was Locked In Vault

Weston, W. Va., Dec. 29.—State troops rescued William Furby, a negro, from an infuriated mob of several hundred persons. The mob had waited all night outside the local railway station to prevent his removal to Clarksburg jail.

The sheriff had to lock the prisoner in the safe in the express office at the railroad station, where he was nearly suffocated. The soldiers placed him aboard the special train on which they had arrived and sped off to Clarksburg. The mob made a feeble demonstration against the soldiers, but fled before threats to shoot.

Before the train could be started several shots were fired into it from behind buildings. All the windows were broken.

AT MILE-A-MINUTE CLIP

Express Train Dashes Along While Engineer Is Dying

Philadelphia, Dec. 29.—For miles the fast Pittsburg express of the Pennsylvania railroad traveled at the rate of sixty miles an hour while the hand of the dying engineer, Henry C. Beck, grasped the throttle.

Beck's illness was not noticed until after the train with its load of more than 100 passengers had taken some dangerous curves at a terrific rate and had passed crossings without sounding the whistle.

Then Beck's fireman found Beck unconscious and immediately brought the train to a stop at Wittmer, five miles east of Lancaster. Before Beck could be removed to a hospital he expired without regaining consciousness.

PENITENT OHIOANS ARE PAYING FINES

Scene In Court Somewhat Resembles a Social One

West Union, O., Dec. 29.—The "bought and sold" voters of Adams county are in a panic. The crush has become so great that Judge Blair cannot find time to hear long confessions. Yesterday more than a hundred men who had not been indicted and whose names had not been mentioned in connection with the buying and selling of votes flocked into the courtroom and confessed to having sold their franchises.

Judge Blair's methods in listening to the pleas of guilty are extremely informal. He knows a large proportion of the voters of the county by their first names. The judge sits on one side of a plain table, the indicted man on the other.

"How about it, John, are you guilty?" asks the judge. "I reckon I am, judge," is the usual reply.

"All right, John, I'll have to fine you $10 and you can't vote any more for five years. And I'll just put a six months' workhouse sentence on top of that, but I won't enforce it as long as you behave." "All right, judge, you've got the goods on me."

HELD AS BURGLARS

Two Artillerymen Are Taken Into Custody by Boston Police

Boston, Dec. 29.—Two Fort Banks soldiers, in the guise of detectives, yesterday rifled the apartments of Catherine Peiser at 7 Chambers street, according to the police, and stole jewelry valued at $800.

Later the young men, who, the police say, have broken into at least three other houses, were arrested while attempting to dispose of some of the alleged stolen property. It is stated that most of the Peiser loot was found in their possession.

They were booked as James E. King, 23, and George Wagenhaeuser, 26, of the One Hundred and Fifty-second coast artillery, Fort Banks, Winthrop.

WEDDING LONG POSTPONED

Couple Finally Married on a Nineteen-Year-Old License

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 29.—The marriage license granted in 1891 to Philip Ciano and Teresa Lavere of Hazelton, of which all record had been lost, no clergyman making a return on it, was returned yesterday. The marriage license clerk was surprised to receive a report of the marriage from Rev. A. Caprino of Hazelton. He married the couple on the license granted nineteen years ago.

It appears that after the license was granted some trouble arose between the couple and the wedding was postponed.

FLOWERING PLANTS

Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.

Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.

PATTERSON, "The Florist"

92 South Central Ave.

WOLLASTON, MASS.

Telephone 392 Quincy

PATENTS

PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent. Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 710 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CASNOW & Co.

Vocal Lessons and Harmony

MISS E. A. PERKINS

Director of Music in Public Schools

Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy

Hollander Building, Boston

Dec. 15-2thos

EDWARD E. BULLOCK

Teacher of Singing

First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette. Music for all occasions.

Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston

Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.

Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

Piano Tuner

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock street, Quincy.

Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.

12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.

Refraction and Diseases of the Eye

(Eyes examined for glasses)

Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M. Dec. 14 1m

JAMES F. BURKE

Real Estate and Insurance

AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES

Justice of the Peace Notary Public

Room 4, Savings Bank Building

Tel. 585-3 Jan. 17-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property.

Justice of the Peace

Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.

FIRE INSURANCE.

The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.

Insurance Department, 1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

A. M. DEANE & CO.

MONUMENTS

MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES

Aug. 1, ly

ASSETS, $498,000.

QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$ for the people

ESTABLISHED 1889

SAVES $ FOR YOU

EARNS $ FOR YOU

LOANS $ TO YOU

DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month

MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS

OWN YOUR HOME.

SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS BK BUILDING

R.D. CHASE Treas.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,

PAINTER and GLAZIER.

LEADED STAINED GLASS.

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.

15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street. Quincy.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Quincy People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Quincy.

P. J. Garrity, 367 Granite St., Quincy, Mass., says: "Some time ago I suffered so severely from kidney disease that I could hardly get about. I was restless at night and could not find any position that was comfortable. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and contained a heavy sediment. I was rapidly growing worse and was at a loss to know what to do, as the many remedies I tried failed to help me. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a supply at the Cox Drug Store. After I had taken the contents of four boxes, I was in good health. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Bad BLOOD

"Before I began using Cascarets I had a bad complexion, pimples on my face, and my food was not digested as it should have been. Now I am entirely well, and the pimples have all disappeared from my face. I can truthfully say that Cascarets are just as advertised; I have taken only two boxes of them."

Clarence R. Griffin, Sheridan, Ind.

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 927

Executrix Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of

ANNES A. LINCOLN

late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JEANNIE W. LINCOLN, Executrix
(Address) 109 Lincoln Ave.
Wollaston, Mass.

Dec. 1', 1910. Dec. 15, 22, 29

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court

TO the heirs-at-law next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

PETER B. TURNER

late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate by Edward M. Wight of Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JAMES H. FLINT, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

35 Dec. 15, 22, 29

STORAGE
— FOR —
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1435 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

IF YOUR
DOOR BELLS
LOCKS OR KEYS
FURNITURE
Children's Playthings
ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

JOHN F. HILL

May Be Succeeded by Congressman Weeks

NEW CHAIRMAN BEING SOUGHT

Some One Needed to Vitalize Republican Organization

TAFT IN FAVOR OF WEEKS

Bay State Congressman Has Shown Fairness and Ability In Handling Large Matters of Legislation and Politics—Open Secret That Republican National Committee Needs Intelligent Supervision

Washington, Dec. 29.—Washington's political circles are keenly interested in the story that President Taft will use his influence to secure the election of Representative John W. Weeks of Massachusetts as chairman of the Republican national committee.

It can be said upon the highest authority that Weeks not only is innocent of any knowledge that the White House is considering him for this responsible position, but that he is by no means anxious to assume its duties.

As the Massachusetts member of the Republican campaign committee, Weeks has been a success. He has collected money for the organization where probably no one else could get it, and his advice in the conduct of campaigns has been useful and effective.

He is, in fact, almost the one man in congress whom Republicans of all classes would follow, because of his fairness and his proved ability in the handling of large matters of legislation and politics.

It has long been an open secret that the Republican national committee has needed intelligent supervision. Frank H. Hitchcock did wonderfully good work in corralling southern delegates favorable to the nomination of Mr. Taft in 1908, but his experiences with northern men have been less successful.

Ex-Governor Hill of Maine, who succeeded Hitchcock upon the latter's resignation, has been content to go through the motions of natonal chairman and to await the selection of someone who would vitalize the organization.

It can be said that Weeks will give little encouragement to his own selection and, on the other hand, that if he is sincerely convinced that he can serve the party efficiently in its need, he will take the proposition under consideration. Of course, the election of a Democratic house will relieve him of his chairmanship of the committee on postoffices and postroads and leave him free for such political duties as may come his way.

The whole tendency in American politics today is towards the elevation of the western rather than eastern men, but Weeks is of the broad-gauge quality that makes sectionalism a secondary issue. Now that the campaign in his behalf appears to have been started, politicians will await the outcome with interest.

Bedouins Routed by Turks

Constantinople, Dec. 29.—Turkish troops sent against the Bedouins have driven the revolters out of the El Kerak district in the vilalyet of Syria, near the Dead sea, after a sanguinary engagement. The Bedouins lost 450 killed and 600 taken prisoners. The Turkish losses were seven officers and seventy-seven men.

Spelling Match With 14,000 Errors

Lee, Mass., Dec. 29.—In 83,000 attempts to spell words given out in a spelling match between grades 7, 8 and 9 of the Lee public school, 14,000 errors were made. Spinach was missed eighty-six times, and the pupils had a terrible time with macaroni.

A DIVORCE CASE.

There was a man called Bronckhorst—a three cornered, middle aged man in the army, gray as a badger, and, some people said, with a touch of country blood in him. That, however, cannot be proved. Mrs. Bronckhorst was not exactly young, though 15 years younger than her husband. She was a large, pale, quiet woman, with heavy eyelids, overweak eyes and hair that turned red or yellow, as the lights fell on it.

Bronckhorst was not nice in any way. He had no respect for the petty public and private lies that make life a little less nasty than it is. His manner toward his wife was coarse. There are many things including actual assault with the clinched fist, that a wife will endure, but seldom a wife can bear, as Mrs. Bronckhorst bore, with a long course of brutal, hard chaff, making light of her weakness, her headaches, her small fits of gayety, her dresses, her queer little attempts to make herself attractive to her husband when she knows that she is not what she has been, and, worst of all, the love that she spends on her children. That particular sort of heavy handed jest was specially dear to Bronckhorst.

I suppose that he had first slipped into it, meaning no harm, in the honeymoon, when folk find their ordinary stock of endearments run short, and so go to the other extreme to express their feelings. A similar impulse makes a man say, "Hutt, you old beast," when a favorite horse nozzles his coat front. Unluckily, when the reaction of marriage sets in, the form of speech remains, and, the tenderness having died out, hurts the wife more than she cares to say. But Mrs. Bronckhorst was devoted to her Teddy, as she called him. Perhaps that was why he objected to her. Perhaps—this is only a theory to account for his infamous behaviour later on—he gave away to the queer, savage feeling that sometimes takes by the throat a husband 20 years married, when he sees, across the table, the same, same face of his wedded wife and knows that, as he has sat facing it, so must he continue to sit until the day of its death or his own. Most men and all women know the spasm. Only lasts for three breaths, as a rule, must be a "throw back" to times when men and women were rather worse than they are now and is too unpleasant to be discussed.

Dinner at the Bronckhorst's was an infliction few men cared to undergo. Bronckhorst took a pleasure in saying things that made his wife wince. When their little boy came in at dessert, Bronckhorst used to give him half a glass of wine, and naturally, the poor little mite got first riotous, next miserable and was removed, screaming, Bronckhorst asked if that was the way Teddy usually behaved, and whether Mrs. Bronckhorst could not spare some of her time to teach the "little beggar decency." Mrs. Bronckhorst, who loved the boy more than her own life, tried not to cry—her spirit seemed to have been broken by her marriage. Lastly Bronckhorst used to say: "There! That'll do—that'll do. For God's sake try to behave like a rational woman! Go into the drawing room." Mrs. Bronckhorst would go, trying to carry it all off with a smile, and the guest of the evening would feel angry and uncomfortable.

After three years of this cheerful life—for Mrs. Bronckhorst had no woman friends to talk to—the station was startled by the news that Bronckhorst had instituted proceedings in the criminal court against a man called Biel, who certainly had been rather attentive to Mrs. Bronckhorst whenever she appeared in public. The utter want of reserve with which Bronckhorst treated his own dishonor helped us to know that the evidence against Biel would be entirely circumstantial and native. There were no letters, but Bronckhorst said openly that he would rack heaven and earth until he saw Biel superintending the manufacture of carpets in the Central jail. Mrs. Bronckhorst kept entirely to her house and let charitable folks say what they pleased.

Opinions were divided. Some two-thirds of the station jumped at once to the conclusion that Biel was guilty but a dozen men who knew and liked him held by him. Biel was furious and surprised. He denied the whole thing and vowed that he would thrash Bronckhorst within an inch of his life. No jury, we knew, could convict a man on the criminal count on native evidence in a land where you can buy a murder charge including the corpse, all complete, for 54 rupees, but Biel did not care to scrape through by the benefit of a doubt. He wanted the whole thing cleared, but, as he said, one night, "He can prove anything with servants' evidence and I've only my bare word." This was about a month before the case came on, and beyond agreeing with Biel, we could do little. All that we could be sure of was that the native evidence would be bad enough to blast Biel's character for the rest of his service, for when a native begins perjury he perjures himself thoroughly. He does not boggle over details.

Some genius at the end of the table whereat the affair was being talked over said: "Look here! I don't believe lawyers are any good. Get a man to wire to Strickland and beg him to come down and pull us through."

Strickland was about 180 miles up the line. He had not long been married to Miss Youghal, but he scented in the telegram a chance of return to old detective work that his soul lusted after, and next night he came in and heard our story. He finished his pipe and said oracularly:

"We must get at the evidence. Oorya bearer, I Mussulman khit and methraniayah, I suppose, are the pillars of the charge. I am on in this piece, but I'm afraid I'm getting rusty in my talk."

He rose and went into Biel's bedroom, where his trunk had been put, and shut the door. "I hadn't the heart to part with my old make ups when I married. Will this do?"

There was a loathy fakir salaaming in the doorway.

"Now lend me 50 rupees," said Strickland," and give me your words of honor that you won't tell my wife."

He got all that he asked for and left the house while the table drank his health. What he did only he himself knows. A fakir hung about Bronckhorst's compound for 12 days. Then a mehter appeared, and when Biel heard of him he said that Strickland was an angel full fledged. Whether the mether made love to Janki, Mrs. Bronckhorst's ayah, is a question which concerns Strickland exclusively.

He came back at the end of three weeks and said quietly: "You spoke the truth, Biel, The whole business is put up from beginning to end. Jove, it almost astonishes me. That Bronckhorst beast isn't fit to live."

There were uproar and shouting, and Biel said: "How are you going to prove it? You can't say that you've been trespassing on Bronckhorst's compound in disguise!"

"No," said Strickland. "Tell your lawyer fool, whoever he is, to get up something strong about 'inherent improbabilities' and 'discrepancies of evidence.' He won't have to speak, but it will make him happy. I'm going to run this business."

Biel held his tongue, and the other men waited to see what would happen. They trusted Strickland as men trust quiet men. When the case came off, the court was crowded. Strickland hung about in the veranda of the court till he met the Mohammedan khitmatgar. Then he murmured a fakir's blessing in his ear and asked him how his second wife died. The man spun round, and as he looked into the eyes of Estrecken Sahib his jaw dropped. You must remember that before Strickland was married he was, as I have told you already, a power among natives. Strickind whispered a rather coarse vernacular proverb to the effect that he was abreast of all that was going on and went into the court armed with a trainer's gut whip.

The Mohammedan was the first witness, and Strickland beamed upon him from the back of the court. The man moistened his lips with his tongue, and, in his abject fear of Estreeken Sahib, the fakir, went back on every detail of his evidence; said he was a poor man, and God was his witness that he had forgotten everything that Bronckhorst Sahib had told him to say. Between his terror of Strickland, the judge and Bronckhorst he collapsed, weeping.

Then began the panic among the witnesses. Janki, the ayah, leering chastely behind her veil, turned gray, and the bearer left the court. He said that his mamma was dying, and that it was not wholesome for any man to lie unthriftily in the presence of Estreeken Sahib.

Biel said politely to Bronckhorst: "Your witnesses don't seem to work. Haven't you any forged letters to produce?" But Bronckhorst was swaying to and fro in his chair, and there was a dead pause after Biel had been called to order.

Bronckhorst's counsel saw the look on his client's face, and, without more ado, pitched his papers on the little green baize table and mumbled something about having been misinformed. The whole court applauded wildly, like soldiers at a theatre, and the judge began to say what he thought.

* * * * * * *

Biel came out of the place, and Strickland dropped a trainer's gut whip in the veranda. Then minutes later Biel was cutting Bronckhorst into ribbons behind the old court cells, quietly and without scandal. What was left of Bronckhorst was sent home in a carriage, and his wife wept over it and nursed it into a man again.

Later on, after Biel had managed to hush up the countercharge against Bronckhorst of fabricating false evidence Mrs. Bronckhorst, with her faint, watery smile, said that there had been a mistake, but it wasn't her Teddy's fault altogether. She would wait till her Teddy came back to her. Perhaps he had grown tired of her, or she had tried his patience, and perhaps we wouldn't cut her any more, and perhaps play with "little Teddy" again. He was so lonely. Then the station invited Mrs. Bronckhorst everywhere, until Bronckhorst was fit to appear in public when he went home and took his wife with him.

According to the latest advices, her Teddy did "come back to her," and they are moderately happy, though, of course he can never forgive her the thrashing that she was the indirect means of getting for him.

* * * * * * *

What Biel wants to know is, "Why didn't I press home the charge against the Bronckhorst brute and have him run in?"

What Mrs. Strickland wants to know is: "How did my husband bring such a lovely, lovely Waler from your station? I know all his money affairs, and I'm certain he didn't buy it."

What I want to know is, "How do women like Mrs. Bronckhorst come to marry men like Bronckhorst?"

And my conundrum is the most unanswerable of the three.—Rudyard Kipling.

DARING HOLDUP IN DAYLIGHT

Two Men Demand All the Money In Chelsea Junk Shop

THE PROPRIETOR TERRIFIED

Crowd of Workmen Press Into His Store, Drawn There by Series of Yells, but Make Haste to Get Out Again When Revolvers Are Leveled at Them—Yeggs Easily Make Their Escape

Chelsea, Mass., Dec. 29.—Two armed would-be hold-up men, scared from the junk shop of Morris Kirle, 23 Arlington street, by a rush of men attracted by screams of the terrified junk dealer, held the crowd at bay with leveled revolvers and eventually made their escape toward Everett in broad daylight yesterday.

The attempt was one of the most daring recorded in Chelsea. It was about 2:30, in a locality where people, many of them husky workingmen, are passing continually within call.

Kirle was in his store when two men entered as if on business. One was about 24 years old, five feet six inches tall, of light complexion. He wore a light felt hat. The other was of dark complexion, about three inches taller than his pal, and wearing dark clothes and derby hat.

Before Kirle had a chance to glance at them, they had both drawn revolvers, which they shoved into his face. Both quietly demanded that he get all the money in the place and hand it over.

Terrified, Kirle let out a series of yells. Rushing to his assistance immediately came a growing crowd of workmen from Arlington street. They pressed into the store, then stopped, confronted by the leveled guns of the two.

The hold-up men coolly advanced to meet the crowd, and shouted at them to clear out, that they intended to shoot. The crowd scattered, seeking shelter wherever it offered.

Still with leveled guns, the two walked out into Arlington street, waving back the more daring with the muzzles of the revolvers.

So quietly and coolly did they walk off that before the crowd could collect its wits the men had slipped around a corner and had disappeared. The last seen of them they had separated and were going in opposite directions. The police could find no trace of them.

It is believed that they made their way into Everett and then met. The Everett police were notified, but also failed to locate them.

DEATH OF MARY KIRK

Leper Had Been In Quarantine For More Than Two Years

Aiken, S. C., Dec. 29.—After being in quarantine at her home in this city for more than two years, Miss Mary V. Kirk, a leper, died last night.

Miss Kirk contracted leprosy in Brazil nineteen years ago while serving as a Presbyterian missionary. She had been treated by specialists of world-wide reputation, but was pronounced incurable. The fact that she was a leper did not become known here until two years ago.

When an attempt was made to remove her to a pest house, an injunction was procured and the case was bitterly fought in the courts for more than a year. She never left her own home.

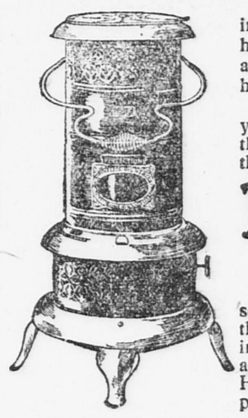
Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fresh Air in Winter



In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS

We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.

Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00

HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

THE STORE FOR LADIES' FURNISHINGS

WHEELER

Neckwear, Belts, Gloves, Aprons, House Dresses, Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear.

The "Belle" Shirtwaists, May Manton Patterns.

Percales, Prints, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Outing Flannels.

G. W. WHEELER
City Square, Quincy

The News and the Truth About It

The Best Home Newspaper
Reliable and Progressive
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

OLDEST and BEST

Largest Circulation and Best Advertising Medium in the City of Quincy and Norfolk County.

Goes into all the best Quincy homes where it is read by every member of the family. Established in 1889 the Ledger has forged ahead until it has become a household necessity. Its reading is as much a part of the day's routine as eating ones dinner. Making a specialty of clean readable home news has made the demand for advertising space such that the Ledger has recently doubled its capacity for space and circulation. Ask your newsdealer about its circulation. Constantly growing demand.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	47 degrees
December 29, 1909,	23 degrees
December 29, 1908,	35 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Mildred Gray Huston—Public Stenographer

BRIEFS

The School Committee of 1911 will meet for organization next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. I. F. Cushman of Boston will substitute for Miss Marden of the Washington school during her three months leave of absence.

Three of the 19 portraits which adorn the walls of Faneuil hall are of patriots who were born in Quincy: John Adams, John Quincy Adams and John Hancock.

The Houghs Neck Lady Associates have elected these officers: President, Mrs. Thomas Buchan; Vice President, Mrs. Hiram Darrow; Secretary, Mrs. A. Medros; Treasurer, Mrs. Walter H. Sturgis.

There will be a very interesting game of basket ball Friday afternoon at Thayer academy, Braintree, at three o'clock. The academy team will have as their opponents the strong alumni team.

Brief services were held in Boston Wednesday for Earle D. Peterson who was drowned with Miss Lelia Call while skating on the Charles river Christmas day. The body was sent to his home in Oshkosh, Wis., for burial.

Ex-Councilman Fred R. Snow, formerly of Marlboro street, who left Wollaston last spring to engage in business in Toronto, Canada, is renewing old acquaintances in this city for a few days.

Residents of Wollaston miss the customary blows of the whistle on the factory of the Tubular Rivet and Stud company. Although the signals of the local factory are blown for the past few days it has evidently become disconnected from the fire alarm circuit and people in the vicinity do not hear the fire alarms, test whistles or curfew at present.

COURT HOUSE PLANS.

Chairman Merrill of the County commissioners, with Commissioners Stone and Richardson, were in town this noon in connection with the new Court House building, to be erected in Quincy at an early date. They were accompanied by William Chapman of Wollaston, the well known architect, who has prepared preliminary plans of the proposed building. Soon after their arrival the plans were submitted to Judge Avery, to suggest any changes that may be deemed necessary. These changes will probably be embodied in the complete plans when shown.

As has already been stated, the site selected for the new building is on Coddington street, and work on the foundation will be commenced in the early spring. The plans however are not in shape to give out any details.

☞An important date—Jan. 3—Quincy Music hall—Choral Society "Creation" concert.

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb

DEATHS

MILNER—In Marshfield, Dec. 27, Mrs. Anna M. Milner, widow of John S. Milner.

CAMPBELL—In West Quincy, Dec. 28, Mr. Hiram W. Campbell in his 67th year.
Funeral services at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frederick L. Badger, 43 Crescent street, Friday, Dec. 30, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 28-2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

HUSBAND REPORTED GONE

Also House Furnishings and Savings of Wife

When Mrs. Alena Rinne of Water street applied to the court this morning for assistance in finding her husband, and getting back some of the articles taken from her home Tuesday night, a story of silent suffering for many months was disclosed.

August Rinne is the name of the husband and he is 31 years of age. He is a fine looking man and a jeweler by trade. He has been employed in Boston for some time, and is said to have earned a good salary. The couple were married nine years ago, but have not lived together for the past ten months. That her husband had been unfaithful to her was known by Mrs. Rinne for a long time, but she kept her own counsel, hoping against hope to win her husband back.

Finally she took her young son, now four years of age, and went to Finland, where she remained three years, returning last September. Since her husband left her she has been supporting herself and child. Occasionally her husband would come to Quincy for a few days, and a short time ago he returned and on his bended knee asked forgiveness. He was forgiven and plans were made to again commence housekeeping.

Mrs. Rinne took her hard earned money to buy furniture, and things looked bright again. But the husband did not come back until Tuesday night. Then he came in the dark while she was absent at work, and entering the house carried away everything of value including her savings.

Wednesday she went to her pastor, and to him she told the story of her suffering for years. Inquiry at the place where he was employed in Boston brought out the fact that he had left there suddenly, the only word of his going being a letter received stating that certain articles belonging to his employer would be found in a hotel where he boarded. It is thought that he will seek employment in some watchmaking town.

ANDERSON—MANN.

The wedding of John G. Anderson, the former amateur golf champion of Massachusetts, and Miss Ivaud Irene Mann, took place Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lee H. Mann, in Linden Heights, Ohio. Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Anderson of Cambridge and was for a number of years connected with the Boston Floating Hospital and is now an instructor in the Fessenden school, West Newton. He received a number of gifts, letters and telegrams from friends. Pupils of two of the classes in the school sent $50 in gold. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home in West Newton.

WHIST SCORES.

There was the usual good attendance Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club, and the high scores ran close. James E. Neary was high man with 66.2 per cent and Warren H. Rideout second with 66.1 per cent. For the month the best percentage was made by James E. Neary, with 155 points won and 88 lost, giving him 63.7 per cent. The second high man was Nathan Ames, with 152 won and 97 lost, giving him 61 percent. The consolation was captured by Charles H. Penniman with 78 won and 147 lost or 34.6 per cent.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE ATTEND.

The funeral of William J. King was held Wednesday afternoon from his late home 51 Kent street, and was largely attended, a delegation being present from Granite lodge, Sons of St. George, of which he was an honored member. Services were conducted by Rev. Richard E. Armstrong of Christ church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery where the burial services of the Sons of St. George was preformed.

—Several St. John, Halifax, Moncton, Dalhousie and Memramcook men are interested in the Atlantic Coal Company, Ltd., just organized with $280,000 capital, to operate the Jubilee coal mine, three and a half miles from Maccan, N. S. The Company is said to have secured contracts with the Intercolonial Railway, and there is said to be a field of 15,000,000 tons of coal available. The Company's headquarters will be at Maccan, which is on the line of the Intercolonial.

BASKET BALL AT Y. M. C. A.

Intermediates Lose at Home—Seniors at Chelsea

The intermediate basketball team was defeated by the Braintree quintet Wednesday afternoon by a score of 32 to 11. The visiting team played a brilliant game and deserved the victory. Minchin, left forward, shot 8 baskets from the floor and one from a foul. None of the home players shot more than one basket from the floor. The visitors outweighed the Quincy team by a great many pounds and every player was a star man. Holmes did well to hold his man down to 2 baskets, and S. Prout, though greatly outweighed, played a good defensive game. Trask did not go in until the second half since he was saving himself for the Chelsea game in the evening. Findley, Robertson and Estey, three substitutes each got a basket, and Bishop and Tirrell of the regulars shot one apiece.

The summary:

BRAINTREE	Y. M. C. A.
Alden, rf	lb, Holmes
Minchin, lf	rb, Tirrell
Long, c	c, Trask
	c, Estey
Wood, lb	rf, Bishop
	rf, Estey
	rf, Findley
Wilson, rb	lf, S. Prout
Smith, rb,	lf, Robertson

Score—Braintree, 32; Quincy, 11. Goals from floor—Minchin 8, Alden 2, Long 2, Wilson 2, Wood 1, Tirrell 1, Findley 1, Bishop 1, Estey 1, Robertson 1. Goals from foul—Alden, Minchin, Bishop. Referee—La Rose. Time—15 and 20 minute halves.

CHELSEA WINS.

The first team of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. was outclassed at Chelsea on Wednesday evening when a big score game was played. The score was 57 to 25 in favor of Chelsea, and the summary tells the story:

CHELSEA	QUINCY
Kettlety, rf	lb, Bates
Willand, rf
Kelly, lf	rb, Dackers
Mulloy, c	c, Jenkins
Jameson, rb	lf, Morris lf, Rich
Tierney, lb	rf, Claflin

Score, Chelsea Y. M. C. A. 57, Quincy Y. M. C. A. 25. Goals from floor, Kelly 9, Kettlety 2, Mulloy 8, Tierney 5, Jameson, Morris, Claflin 2, Jenkins 2, Bates 4. Goals from fouls, Mulloy 7, Jenkins 2, Bates 5. Referee, Hoyt. Umpire, Hoyt. Scorer, Hardacker. Timer, Henderson. Time, 20m halves. Attendance, 450.

FIRE LOSS ADJUSTED.

The loss occasioned by the fire in the house of Forbes Craig on Centre street, Tuesday evening, was settled Wednesday. That morning the insurance adjuster came to Quincy and in company with Chief Williams went to the house and the Chief gave the estimates of what it would cost to make the necessary repairs. It was agreed that this cost would be $725 on the building. The adjuster agreed to this, and it was satisfactory to Mr. Craig. This morning carpenters began work making the repairs. It was a remarkably quick piece of work for almost inside of forty-eight hours after the fire the loss was adjusted and repairs commenced.

Knee Hobble Is Latest.

The hobble skirt is supposed to be down and out in Europe, though still rampant in America. But the fad in a modified or exaggerated form has reappeared in Paris with an actress the vehicle of its introduction. Mlle. Pierat, one of the leading women at the Comedie Francaise, now appears in a shackled gown, but it is at the knees and not the ankles that the hobble appears. The gown is brought in during a sketch portraying a country girl who has married a man about town and found herself speedily neglected. During his absence from Paris she becomes the smartest thing in the French capital, and the change brought about by her gowns, cigarettes and coquetry causes the husband to fall in love with her. It is in the knee hobbled gown that the captivation is effected, and the new style has quite resurrected the much abused mode in Paris.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

HARVARD NOW AT TOP

Yale and Princeton Take Two Points Each

Yale and Princeton divided honors on Wednesday evening in the Granite league, and Harvard by defeating Dartmouth three out of four took the lead in the league. The standing to date is:

	Won.	Lost.	Per-cent.
Harvard (Wentworth)	5	3	.625
Yale (Hough)	4	4	.500
Dartmouth (Erickson)	4	4	.500
Princeton (McKay)	3	5	.375

HARVARD—DARTMOUTH.

Capt. Erickson's team set a rapid pace in the first game with Harvard, for Dartmouth won by 35 pins. Then they weakened, and Harvard won by 45 pins. The rubber was exceedingly close, being won by Harvard by one pin—385 to 384. On totals Harvard led by 11 pins which gave her three points. Capt. Erickson of the Dartmouths was high on singles with 107, and also on totals with 270.

The summary:

HARVARD.

Olsen	72	90	74	236
Payne	80	76	64	220
Bergfors	69	86	75	230
Atkins	70	84	84	238
Wentworth	87	76	88	251
	378	412	385	1175

DARTMOUTH.

McKenna	90	78	81	249
J. Gillis	83	77	80	240
Gustafson	53	60	81	194
Everson	80	72	59	211
F. Erickson	107	80	83	270
	413	367	384	1164

YALE—PRINCETON.

The Yale-Princeton game was closely contested throughout. Princeton won the first string by 4 pins, and Yale the second by 20 pins. The rubber went to Princeton by 11 pins, but on totals Yale was ahead 1142 to 1137, so the honors were divided. Tully of Yale was high man on singles with 92, and also on totals with 247, but had a close rival in Hallquist.

The summary:

YALE.

Hanson	72	82	65	219
Hough	79	77	75	231
F. Gillis	78	72	70	220
Duff	80	73	72	225
Tully	78	77	92	247
	387	381	374	1142

PRINCETON.

Barry	82	78	69	229
Furness	82	71	81	234
G. Erickson	68	72	80	220
Hallquist	87	68	90	245
Dummy	72	72	65	209
	391	361	385	1137

HE WAS SCARED.

There used to be a sheriff in a green Mountain county of Vermont who, for forty years, had driven his prisoners—murderers, moonshiners, thieves—through the woods in his buggy to the county jail, and yet who had never carried a revolver nor used a pair of handcuffs in his life. He had a strong hand, a brave heart and a stutter.

"Weren't you ever afraid?" some one asked him one day.

"W-well, I 'llow once I w-wuz t-t-tol'rable well skeert," he admitted slowly. "I h-heard S-Si P-Perkins, the b-barber, wuz g-gone d-daft an' wuz c-carvin' p-people up an' I c-calculated it wuz my official d-dooty to g-go an' arrest him. So I w-went d-down to S-Si's shop, an' w-went in, an' S-Si c-come at me w-with a r-razor in each h-hand. An' then I 'llow I wuz t-t-tol'rable well skeert."

"What did you do?"

"W-w-well," said the old sheriff, spitting thoughtfully into the sand box beside the stove, "I wuz s-so s-s-skeert that I t-took 'em a-a-away from him."—Everybody's

He Was Considerate.

She—I should like that lovely pearl necklace. Look what beauties they are. He—It's better not to have such large pearls, my dear. People always think they are false.—Journal Amusant.

"What's to prevent me from kissing you?" demanded the bold lover.

"My goodness!" exclaimed the girl. But it didn't.—Smart Set.

—George D. Webb, the president of the Webb Granite company at Worcester, was killed on Wednesday by falling from a train near Millbury. The company has quarries in Milford, Fitzwilliam and Marlboro.

NEW LIFE IN BILLIARD GAME.

International Amateur Fixtures Likely to Make For Good.

AMBITIOUS PLANS ARE MADE.

American Simon Pures to Try Their Luck In Big Tournaments to Be Held Abroad—Foreign Cue Artists Coming to This Country.

Amateur billiards has achieved a hitherto unprecedented place in sport in this country, which promises to reach its highest development this season. The international and national championships in Classes A and B, determined upon recently, mark a milestone. Never before have two European champions such as Jacques Darantierre of France and Albert Poensgen of Germany competed in this country at the same time. Besides their likely appearance here, however, there is another story. It means that at least two of the leading Americans are later to compete in the Paris and probably Berlin tournaments before the summer season as a return of courtesy. In a word, an international entente cordiale has been established as to amateur billiards that should materially make for good.

At the time of playing the national Class A championship at the Hamilton club, Brooklyn, early in 1910 the endeavor was made to send an American to the tournament in Paris. The time was too late, however, so the plans had to be deferred until this season. While nothing definite has been determined upon at this time, still it is believed that Edward W. Gardner, the present champion, and J. Ferdinand Poggenburg and Charles F. Conklin, the ex-champions, are to return with the Europeans.

It is the work of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players that has brought this desired situation about. The organization has stood fearlessly for pure amateurism. The rule says:

"An amateur billiard player is one who has never competed in any open-to-all contest, nor played for a purse or a division of gate money, nor received pecuniary benefit in any way from such contests.

"One who has never at any period of his life been a proprietor of or employed in a billiard room, nor ever taught or pursued billiards as a means of livelihood, nor ever been engaged in the manufacture or sale of billiard tables."

This rule makes no compromise whatever with professionalism, and amateur billiards can suffer no taint in this country so long as the rule is the foundation of the association. Because of this rule and its administration the association has gradually grown to a position of supreme strength where it may now reach out for international conquests.

Throughout the administration of Robert C. Kammerer of the New York Athletic club as president there has been remarkable success. The auxiliary associations in the various states are forming and affiliating with the parent body in New York, which is the headquarters. This work has necessarily been slow, but it is developing to the point where newer men of considerable skill will be seen in the championship tournaments of the future.

The revision of the association's book of rules and directions is now in progress. Its phraseology is concise and to the point. Every detail of tournaments and matches is covered. Even this trite bit is included: "It is the spirit of pure amateurism to win fairly rather than by technicalities."

At this time every indication points to a remarkable advancement along the lines of amateur billiards in this country. In addition to the international and championship tournaments, plans also are formulating for a tournament at three cushion caroms, which has in two seasons established itself so firmly among those who wield the cue and strive for mastery with the fascinating ivory balls.

Mat Artists Popular In Vienna.

Wrestling is almost a national sport in Vienna, and royalty attends the bouts on the mat.

She will not wear a hobble skirt. She says the style is much too pert and that no woman of good taste would so deharmonize her waist. Besides, she says she thinks the style will last for a little while, because to any one it seems the fad is going to extremes. Whene'er her hobbled sisters pass she only sighs and says: "Alas, how can a lady of good sense incase herself in that pretense? Just see her trip and wabble by! Would I appear in that? Not I! And how the horrid men folks stare at her as she goes here and there. Oh, if she knew just what they said I know she'd blush a rosy red. Besides, the style is awkward too. I don't care if they claim 'tis new." And so she carefully explains her preference for fuller trains and for a petticoat that's wide and will not be with giggles eyed when she is tripping down the street. Besides, you see, she has LARGE FEET! —Life.

Slouchy Duke In Charge of Coronation

AT present writing one of the busiest men in Great Britain is the Duke of Norfolk, who is arranging every detail of King George's coronation and will be master of ceremonies on that great occasion.

Who is the Duke of Norfolk?

His grace is premier nobleman of all the empire, hereditary earl marshal, one of the richest peers in all the kingdom, who of all the long list of nobility is privileged to walk, stand or sit next to royalty itself. Of all the twenty-eight dukes of Great Britain he is No. 1. Those other dukes with whom Americans are most familiar—because they have American wives—the Duke of Marlborough and the Duke of Manchester, come No. 19 and No. 19 in the list of precedence. Their titles are dated long after the Duke of Norfolk's, which was granted to his ancestor, the first duke, in 1483. He is the fifteenth of the line and is now sixty-three years old.

The duke is called the worst dressed man in all England, for he cares nothing for style and will stick to an old suit of clothes until it is almost in rags. On account of his dress he has had many amusing experiences. One day he chanced to be standing outside a railway station in his shabbiest attire. A lady bustled out of the waiting room, apparently in a very great hurry. Casting an eye at the poorly clad figure in the ill fitting clothes, she promptly surmised that the man was hanging around for any old job he might pick up.

DUKE OF NORFOLK.

"Here, you," she called, "fetch me a cab, and be quick about it! I'm late now."

She didn't know that she was addressing the first of all the peers of England. The duke didn't let her know either. Instead, he meekly trotted off like a hard up porter and brought a cab around quickly. He gratefully accepted the sixpenny bit the lady thrust at him, touched his cap and carefully closed the cab door for her. That sixpence is one of his most cherished possessions today.

The duke is the only person in all the empire who can give orders to the king and queen, to say nothing of the princes and princesses of the blood royal; the only one who enjoys the chief perquisites after a coronation; the only one who prescribes just what their majesties shall wear when they are crowned.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Monday night in vicinity of Quincy Station, a Black Fur Automobile Mitten Gauntlet. Notify Quincy Garage. Dec. 28-3t

LOST—On the 8.29 Elevated car leaving Quincy Square Sunday evening Dec. 25, a leather bag lettered M. E. C. containing children's clothing Reward if returned to R. A. Cole, 356 Hancock street, Atlantic. Dec. 27-3t

WANTED

WANTED— Experienced girl for general housework. Mrs. C. F. Pettengill, 53 Revere road. Dec. 27-tf

WANTED—A young Swede girl for general house work. Apply to A. Johnson. 168 Glendale Road, Quincy. Dec. 27-3t

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN. Fore River Ship building Co. Dec. 28-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished room. 117 Upland road, N. B. Corthell. Dec. 28-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L. Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Half house six rooms, all all improvements. Apply 74 Arnold street Quincy. Dec. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Lodging Rooms--Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x43 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '08
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS. BE SURE TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S LEDGER

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 303 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 30, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

ONLY THREE WERE QUINCY BORN

Sketches of the New Councilmen Who Number Eleven in New Council

Five Members Under 30 Years and Three Over 50 Years

The City Council of 1911 will have a larger number of new men than any Council since 1906. The last three Councils had but 8 new men each, but next year there will be 11. In 1905 there were 11, and in 1906 there were 13, while in 1904 there were only 3. The following summary contains all members both old and new, and it will be seen that only three are Quincy born:

Name and district	Year.	Age.	Birthplace.	Business
Charles W. Bailey, Ward Five	First	38	Scituate,	Banker
George A. Bolster, at large,	Second	48	Blackstone,	Druggist
Harry T. Boyd, Ward Four	Second	27	Quincy,	Shipyard
Ernest W. Branch, at large	Second	48	Maine,	Civil Engineer
Charles M. Bryant, at large	Twelfth	53	Lowell,	Merchant
M. A. Campbell, Ward Three	First	39	P. E. I.,	Manufacturer
Chas. E. Cherrington, at large	Fourth	42	Boston,	Accountant
Robert B. Craig, Ward Taree	First	32	Scotland,	Granite
Frank J. Duffy, Ward Two	First	25	E. Brookfield,	Clerk
Charles A. Ericson, Ward One	Second	37	Sweeden	Builder
Daniel F. Forde, Ward Four	First	39	Ireland	Fireman
Arthur C. Gardner, Ward Five	Third	49	Milford,	Merchant
Edward P. Histen, Ward Two	Second	25	Lowell,	Telephone
Horace T. Jenkins, Ward Six	First	23	Quincy	Real Estate
William J. Leslie, Ward Five	First	34	Maine,	Clothing
James M. Nowland, Ward One	Third	50	New Brunswick	Lawyer
Edward F. Parlee, Ward Six	First	48	New Brunswick	Builder
John R. Richards, Ward Three	Third	45	England	Granite
John R. S. Ross, Ward One	First	37	Boston	Clerk
Edward J. Sandberg, at large	Second	44	Sweeden	Contractor
John D. Smith, Ward Four	Third	24	Quincy,	Clerk
Ernest E. Sodergren, Ward Six	First	28	Conn.	Telephone
Harry G. Studley, Ward Two	First	39	Cohasset	Engineer

Sketches of the new members are given below:

WILLIAM J. LESLIE

One of the two new members from the Wollaston ward, has been a resident of Quincy for thirty years, and of Wollaston for the past eight. He was born in Rockland, Me., March 8, 1876, but educated in the public schools of Quincy, as he came to this city when a child. He is deeply interested in the welfare of the city and its various organizations, and is an active member of three of those located in Wollaston a member of the vestry of St. Chrysostom's parish ,the Men's club of that church, and the Unitarian club. For ten years he served as a member of Company K, Fifth regiment ,enlisting as a private and subsequently holding the different ranks up to first lieutenant. During the Spanish war he served his country as a member of Co. K, Fifth Mass. Infantry, U. S. V. He occupies an important position with one of Boston's largest wholesale clothing establishments.

ROBERT B. CRAIG

Who enters the new Council from Ward Three, is one of the best known young men of that section. He was born in Scotland in 1878, but came to America with his parents at the age of two years and settled in Quincy where he has since resided. He obtained his education in the public schools of the city, graduating from the Willard school. He then learned the granite business, afterwards taking up the blacksmith business at which he is at present employed. He is a member of Clan McGregor, O. S. C.

FRANK J. DUFFY

One of the two new members of the City Council from Ward Two, was born in East Brookfield, April 25, 1885, and came to Quincy with his parents in 1893. He attended the public schools of the city and the Adams Academy from which he was graduated in the class of 1902. Leaving school he entered the employ of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., commencing at the bottom round of the ladder and by diligent attention to business has worked himself up to an important clerical position with the company. He has been a frequent attendant at meetings of the City Council, and has therefore received an insight into the methods of conducting business. He is a member of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, and is a brother of the late Rev. Michael Duffy.

JOHN R. S. ROSS

Who has the distinction of being the first resident to represent Houghs Neck in the City Council, is a Boston born boy, although he has been a resident of Quincy for many years. He was born March 18, 1873, and received his education in the Boston public schools and at Comer's Commercial college. He came to Quincy in 1891 and entered the employ of John F. Merrill, going from there to Houghs Neck in 1900, to take charge of the general store of Arthur H. Dunham, where he has since resided. His general obliging manner has made him many warm friends among the residents of that section of the city, and he was their unanimous choice for Councilman. He is a member of Wollaston Masonic lodge, St. Stephens Chapter, South Shore Commandery and Aleppo Temple Mystic Shrine, the Quincy Yacht club, Quincy lodge of Elks, Granite City club and Houghs Neck Associates.

CHARLES W. BAILEY

The new Councilman elect from Ward Five, was born in Scituate, in the fall of 1872. He does not claim to remember the big Boston Fire of that year as he was only 18 days old at the time of that disaster.

His boyhood was spent in his native town, where his father was for many years town clerk and chairman of the school committee. He was graduated from the High school at the age of fifteen years, having worked at odd hours and vacation times in the shoe factories of the town.

After finishing school he worked for one year in his father's jewelry store and repair shop, and in 1889, when sixteen years of age, secured a position with the Boylston National Bank of Boston, where for more than twenty-one years he has remained, working in every department of the bank, at the present time holding the position of assistant cashier.

He is a trustee of the estate owning the large block on South street, Boston, which is occupied by the United States Leather Company. This estate also owns one-half of the Sudbury building, and of three large buildings at the corner of Tremont street and Appleton street.

He is a member of the Boston National Bank Cashiers' Association, of the Boston Bank Officers' Association, and of the Boston Baptist Social Union.

He came to Wollaston twelve years ago, at the time of his marriage ,and has been for five years past treasurer of the Baptist church. He is also a director in the Quincy Young Men's Christian Association, and a director of the Wollaston Co-operative Bank. He has never held public office.

Mrs. Bailey is interested in their two sons and daughter, and also in public affairs, being a member of the Quincy Women's club, and secretary and treasurer of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Wollaston.

ERNEST R. SODERGREN

Who will be one of the three new representatives from the Atlantic ward in the Council of 1911, was born in New Britain, Conn., twenty-eight years ago, and received his education in the public schools of that place. At the age of fourteen years he moved with his parents to Cambridge, where he made his home until he married one of Dorchester's fair daughters, Miss Mabelle E. Smith, when he took up his residence in Dorchester. In the winter of 1904-05 he built his present home on Hunt street where he has since resided. He is a large real estate holder in Quincy, and is at present employed as foreman in the plant department of the N. E. T. & T. Co He is a member of Wollaston lodge of Masons and several other social organizations. He is a thorough Republican and has taken an active interest in political affairs ever since he came to Quincy. For the past two years he has served as secretary of the Ward Six Republican Committee.

MURDOCK A. CAMPBELL

One of the two new members of the City Council from Ward Three, is a native of Prince Edwards Island, where he was born in 1871. He received his education in the public schools of his native town, and came to Quincy in 1888, where he was employed for two years as a carpenter. He then served his time as a granite tool maker at which he was employed for a number of years. He now conducts a manufactory for patent wheels for polishing granite at South Quincy. The position of Councilman is his first public office, although he has been interested in local affairs for many years. He is a member of Bay View, L. O. L., and of the Royal Black Knights.

HORACE T. JENKINS.

The youngest member of the new Council, is one of the new men from Ward Six. He was born in Quincy, Aug. 20, 1887, and is now in his 24th year. He was graduated from the Quincy school at Atlantic in 1901, and from the Quincy High school in the class of 1905. He afterwards attended the Bryant & Stratton commercial school for two years, and has since been engaged in the real estate business in Boston. He has served on the Republican committee of Ward Six. He resides with his parents.

(Continued on Page 3.)

QUINCY MARKET

CHALLENGE SALE

Leg Loin Lamb, the best in the Market	12c
Fore Quarters Lamb	8 to 10c
Fine Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast	12 1-2c
Smoked Shoulder	12 1-2c
Good Pot Roast	8 to 10c
Short Cut Rump Steak, the best heavy beef	25c
Sirloin Steak	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Best Cape Cod Cranberries	12 1-2c
Fresh, Crisp Ginger Snaps	7c

MANY OTHER BARGAINS

Come in and see our goods and the prices will suit you.

QUINCY MARKET

Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store

L 30-31 O 31

FALSE ALARMS NUMEROUS

Three Sounded in City Within Twelve Hours

The fire department was called out twice Thursday afternoon by false alarms, and once this morning. The first two were from Box 66, located on the corner of Billings and Prospect streets at 2.52, and Box 614 at 4.06 located on Glover avenue. Both of these boxes are new ones, fitted with break glass keys, and they are both located in the same neighborhood. In both cases but one round was sounded, and to those not familiar with the location of the new boxes they were somewhat mystifying.

It was a hard three-mile run to the box from the Central station, the muddy streets making it particularly hard for the horses, so that when the steamer returned to the station from the second alarm the horses were all in, and as they passed through City Square they could hardly drag the heavy piece of apparatus.

According to Officer Larkin, both of these alarms, were sounded by little girls, who wanted to see how the boxes worked. They smashed the glass over the key and opening the door of the box pulled the hook part way down. For this reason but one sound of the box was sounded.

Chief Williams and the Steamer company did not wait for the second round, but started immediately. Beside the Chief and the Central station steamer, the alarms called out two pieces of apparatus from Wollaston and one from Atlantic. It is probable that some action will be taken to curb future curiosity on the part of children to see how fire alarm boxes work.

The third false alarm came from Box 321 located on Intervale street near Brooks avenue, almost in the heart of the South Quincy granite district. This box was sounded at 2.10 A. M. and when the department arrived no fire could be found.

The officer on duty in that section reported to Chief Williams that he heard someone break the glass over the key and then run away. The officer hastened to the box and found the door open. He at first thought there was a fire somewhere, but soon became convinced that the alarm had been pulled in by some maliciously inclined person. Some day parties who have the habit of sounding false alarms will be caught with the goods and a heavy sentence will await them when brought into court.

MRS. HENRY HORST.

Word has been received in Wollaston of the death in Gressen, Germany, on December 28th of Mrs. Gertrude Horst, mother of Rev. Carl G. Horst of Wollaston, at the age of 71. She is survived by seven sons and one daughter. Of these one son is located in South America, one in St. Louis, Missouri and one in Wollaston, while four sons and a daughter dwell in Germany. Her husband Henry Horst passed away in 1891, five days from the time he learned of the ordination of his son, Rev. Carl G. Horst, into the Christian ministry. Of the seven sons three are clergymen. Mr. Horst visited his mother this summer while abroad attending the Religious Congress at Berlin and has a pleasant memory to look back upon.

Mothers' Association

Meeting Place: Bethany Church

Time: 3 o'clock, Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1911

Speaker: MRS. ELLEN RICHARDS of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Subject: "Foods for School Children."

☞ When such a speaker is secured to come to Quincy without compensation it behooves us to see to it that she is greeted by a representative audience. Will the women of Quincy co-operate in this matter.

MARTHA C. MACKAY, President.

Quincy, Dec. 28-6t

YOUNG NORTHERN GEESE 20c lb at JOHNSON BROS.

Phone 117

COUNCIL OF 1910 A STRENUOUS ONE

Four Meetings Over Four Hours Long and One Nearly Five Hours

88 Communications, 134 Petitions and 590 Orders

What will probably be the last meeting of the City Council of 1910 will be held tonight, the meeting being necessary to clear up some of the business that required two readings. The City Council of 1910 has been a strenuous one, for it held several midnight sessions, after which the members were sent home in special cars.

Up to the present time the Council has held 32 meetings and has been in session 70 hours and 37 minutes. The meetings have ranged from five minutes to 4 hours and 50 minutes. The shortest meeting was held Sept. 9, and the longest Feb. 21. Other long meetings were March 21—4 hours, 50 minutes; May 2—4 hours, 37 minutes; May 16—4 hours, 30 minutes; June 20—4 hours, 45 minutes. There have also been several meetings of three hours and over duration.

But one member has a clean record for attendance at every meeting. He is Councilman John D. Smith of Ward Four.

Councilmen Bryant and Ericson have nearly a clean record having been absent but one meeting each.

The banner record for being absent belongs to Councilman Woodward of Ward Six who is supposed to have moved to Cuba sometime ago although his seat was never declared vacant. His absent meetings number 18, not including that of tonight.

President Hobbs has been absent from three meetings, all of which were special meetings called principally to draw jurors.

In all, not including tonight's meeting, the Council has received 88 communications and 134 petitions. The orders introduced and reported by the several committees number 590. Some of these were rejected and some have been sent over to the next City Council, but a large part were passed.

FORESTERS' ANNIVERSARY.

The fifth anniversary of the degree staff of Court John Adams, Foresters of America, was celebrated Thursday evening in Clan McGregor hall. Dancing was in order until 11 o'clock, when the gong sounded and supper was served by a committee of the Independent Companions of the Foresters, Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. Lillie and Mrs. Kelly. About 150 men and women were seated about the tables to do justice to the excellent turkey supper which was served. The post prandial exercises consisted of instrumental and vocal selections, and an able speech by the president of the staff, Mr. J. A McLaughlin.

Dancing was resumed shortly after 12 o'clock, and continued until 2. Thompson's orchestra furnished the music. Thanks to the efforts of the degree club committee with the able assistance of the ladies, the evening was one of the most successful and enjoyable in the history of the organization.

STREET CAR CASE.

Gustave Bergstrom of East Boston was fined $15 in court this morning, for creating a disturbance on a street car at Quincy, Dec. 17. On that day Bergstrom boarded car at Neponset for Quincy. On this same car were two Italians and another man somewhat befuddled by liquor. On the way up the latter asked several questions about the weather, at which the Italians took offense, and in swinging their arms about it is said Bergstrom lost his collar and tie. Then it is alleged he struck out, and the next minute there was a general mixup. Passengers stood up on seats to get out of the way, and the conductor gave the emergency signal to stope the car. Then some one shouted look out for the knife, and Bergstrom was hustled out through the front vestibule.

MILDRED GRAY HUSTON

Public Stenographer

Room 25 Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.

Telephones: Office 2132; Residence 4-4-3

Dictations by the Hour or Letter.

Typewriting of All Descriptions

Circular Letter Work done on the Mimeograph or Typewriter. Envelopes Addressed.

Dec. 29-3t

SCARLET FEVER AT WOLLASTON

One Case Proves Fatal—a New Case Reported

One of the scarlet fever cases at Wollaston has proved fatal, and a new case has been reported, so that the Wollaston school will not reopen next Monday, and the sessions of the Sunday schools will not be resumed on Sunday.

The fatal case was in the family of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Thomas, at the corner of Belmont street and Lincoln avenue, which should be one of the healthiest localities in the city. Little Ernest Lee Thomas was a promising boy of 10 years and 5 months; a fine fellow of good character, polite and well liked. His sickness developed Brights disease and he passed away on Thursday.

The new case is in the family of Charles R. Brown on Fayette street.

It is probable that all the other schools of the city, including the Massachusetts Fields will reopen on Monday, but children will be carefully inspected.

SUMMER HOME BURNED.

The summer residence of Ellis Hollingsworth of South Braintree, the paper manufacturer, on the West side of Vineyard Haven harbor, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The loss will be about $30,000. It is believed that a fire left burning in the building by workmen engaged on repairs started the blaze.

—Because he's public-spirited and works all the year round for the good of the city, the people of Augusta, Ga., have given the editor of their "Chronicle" a $1500 silver service. Heard anybody ever the likes of that before? —Hartford Courant. Well hardly ever. Editors up north would die of the shock if such appreciation was shown of their efforts.

Entertainment and Dance

GIVEN BY

John Adams Commandery, No. 355, K. of M.

ELECTA HALL, QUINCY,

Friday Evening, Jan. 6, 1911

Tickets 35 Cents

Including Refreshments

Dec. 30-31- Jan. 5

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

STOCK REDUCING SALE

We have finished taking account of stock and find that we must reduce some of our lines. Here are prices that can't be beaten in this city. Just compare them with what you've been paying, and note the reductions. And don't forget the quality. Quality comes first with FOY.

New Quaker Oats	pkg. 9c	FOY	Turkish Figs	2 boxes	25c
Corn Starch	" 5c		Butter Thins	2 lbs.	25c
Pure Lard	lb. 14c		Society Teas	per lb.	10c
California Pea Beans	2 qts. 25c		Yellow Eye Beans	qt.	10c
5 lb. bag Corn Meal	15c		5 lb. bag Graham Flour		18c
California Lemons	doz. 25c		Large Cal. Navel Oranges		30c

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR !!!

Beat this if you can. Ask others what they charge for it. This is YOUR chance.

A Barrel of GOLD MEDAL Flour, and a 5 lb. bag of our best pastry flour for $7.25

R. E. FOY & CO.

Water cor. Quincy Street

FOR YOUR SUNDAY DINNER !

Fresh killed fancy YOUNG GEESE almost given away.

Weigh between 10 and 11 lbs.

If you have never eaten one now is your chance.

18 cts lb

R. E. FOY & CO.

Phones 117 and 153

MARKET GROCERY

Phone 153

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1889

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

The flying trip of Grahame-White, the British aviator, to this country was not only an aerial, but a box-office success.

Colonel Bryan thinks that Colonel Roosevelt is out of the race for 1912. Meantime we reckon Colonel Roosevelt is thinking "you are another."

If Senator Lodge has the acumen he is generally credited with he has discovered ere this that the ultimate consumer is a pretty substantial "myth."

"Cuba is becoming gradually Americanized," says a magazine writer. Rapidly we should say. Only the other day a visiting ball team was mobbed in Havana.

James J. Hill denies that he said a panic was coming, and, furthermore, he insists that he sees no present cause for alarm. Another round-about case of charging it on the reporter.

Mr. Bryan is out in a disclaimer of further presidential aspiration and he has named four candidates who in the order given are in his opinion, eligible to the office. We have heard of them before. They are Faulk of Missouri, Harmon of Ohio, Gaynor of New York and Wilson of New Jersey.

Notwithstanding this country has the best fire fighting equipment in the world, it each year loses more than two hundred millions of dollars by fire. This is four or five times as much as is lost in all the European countries. The president of one of the fire insurance companies has said that if the loss by fire in this country could be cut down to seventy-five millions a year, the saving would be equivalent to adding a billion of dollars to the wealth of the country every ten years. The conditions are bad, but better than in former years, for concrete and steel are to some extent protecting cities from the holocausts of former days.

But one other state in the United States is as thickly populated as Massachusetts, and that is Rhode Island. In Little Rhoddy there are 508 people to the square mile and in the Bay State 418. New Jersey has 337, connecticut 231, New York 191, Pennsylvania 171, Maryland 130, Ohio 117, Delaware 103 and Illinois 100. All the other states have less than 100. Nevada has less than one person to the square mile and Wyoming about the same.

In Massachusetts a population of 12,000 is required before adopting a city government, but in the West it is different, and cities there would be small towns here. Few states have 33 such prosperous cities as Massachusetts and so many large flourishing towns.

A bill to regulate the sale of fire arms is a move in the right direction, and the draft of District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk county seems to cover the case. Some of the features are:

Sale of firearms forbidden except by licensed dealers.

Weapon of any kind, loaded or unloaded, from which missile can be discharged, is a "fireman."

Every purchaser of firearm must give full name, residence and occupation.

Dealers must make detailed record of each sale and send copy to local chief of police.

Record books kept by dealers must be poen to inspection by police.

No firearms shall be sold or rented to a minor or intoxicated person.

Act shall not apply to antique fire-arms used as curiosities or ornaments.

In case of riot or great public excitement sale may be forbidden.

Fee for licenses shall be $10 in cities and $5 in towns.

Penalty for infringement of provisions of license—Fine of $50 to $500 or imprisonment for not over one year.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

The Cleveland, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce objected to the Salvation Army custom of giving a Christmas dinner to the poor of that city, and many a needy one went hungry to bed. The Chamber decreed that custom was unnecessary and spectacular and that it advertised the fact that there are poor people in Cleviand. We do not understand that the Chamber denies the presence of poor people, only they did not want it advertised. It was said by one of old that "Ye have the poor always with you," and what was true in the first century is no less true in the 20th. The action of the Chamber advertises it as ashamed that here are so many poor in Cleveland, and that the members are too proud to relieve the suffering or permit others to do it. The Salvation Army should not have ceased their efforts because of the unfriendly opposition, and that the "soldiers" gave up their usual custom is almost as remarkable as the action of the Chamber. There will always be the unfortunate or the improvident who require assistance, and to withhold it at the Christmas season stamps those responsible for it as lacking in Christian charity. —Lynn Item.

Nothing is more surprising to one who comes in contact with all sorts and conditions of men than the natural impulse to seek goodness and especially to acquire knowledge which is to be noted in very humble individuals. In the Shenandoah Valley during the Civil War nothing was more pathetic than to see an old ex-slave coming to the sanitary commission to get an old-fashioned blue covered Webster's spelling book. To him that was the key of civilization and emancipation and of everything that was good in the white man's lot that he had missed. But in the Ghetto and the gutter the same phenomenon may be noted. Some of the most brilliant scholars in our public schools are boys and girls whose immigrant parents were ignorant of the advantages which the children appreciate and seek with eagerness. The wonder of it also is that in the most obscure homes are boys and girls who have in them the sparks of genius and even extraordinary abilities, which opportunity will develop.—The Christian Register.

That the Pullman Company is to reduce the price of some lower and of all upper berths is news that the travelling public will receive with delight. That the principle of a lower price for the upper berth is inciedntally established for all time will be of especial joy to all.

But it must be admitted that the change will cause the disappearance of many of our most familiar travelling characters. We fear, for instance, that we shall never see again the large two-fisted American who "never can sleep a wink in an upper berth." Along with him will go the important person who "must have a lower or nothing, sir." We may even miss the woman who can't bear the climb up into the pesky thing.

In their places will come a new band. We shall have the valetudinarian, who, after studying the new rate card, will declare that he "must have the fresher air which is characteristic of the upper berth." We shall have the travelling man who has just discovered that he sleeps better "because of the rocking motion of an upper." We shall have the lady who thinks a lower berth not sufficiently retired.

In other words, there will be one more human and humorous illustration of the vast influence of economic law upon human thought and action. It will be revealed to the world in a long succession of top-heavy Pullmans swinging along through the night with every low-priced "upper" filled and most expensive "lovers" vacant.—Chicago Evening Post.

FUNERAL AT BRAINTREE.

The funeral of William R. Wills was held Friday afternoon at his late home 121 Hollis avenue, Braintree, the interment being at Waltham where he lived for many years and was for forty years foreman in the Waltham watch factory. Mr. Wills was a mason, a member of the Royal Arcanum and a member of the Joseph Hooker brigade in the civil war. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter.

Masonic Vow Against Profanity

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Dec. 30.—As the clock struck 12 300 Masons at a banquet table celebrated St. John's day by registering a mental vow to never again use profane language.

Army Appropriation of $92,000,000

Washington, Dec. 30.—The army appropriation bill, carrying a total of $92,000,000, or $3,000,000 less than the estimates, will be ready to report to the house next week.

Yellow Fever at Managua

Managua, Nic., Dec. 30.—Several cases of yellow fever have occurred here. An epidemic is feared.

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 323-2.

NEWSY MILTON BUDGET

Sports, School Items, Church Notes and Personals

Orville W. Smith, the grocer, was presented a Morris chair as a Christmas present from his customers. Mrs. Smith was also remembered and received a silver service.

It is rumored that the estate of John Newcomb will be settled the first of the year.

The Silent Five defeated the Portland, first team on Christmas evening, by a score of 17 to 12. The Midgets had little difficulty in handing the Roxbury Centrals a defeat.

Milton High school opened the hockey season Wednesday afternoon when she met the strong Newton High school team on the rink of the Braeburn Country club in Newton. The Milton boys displayed unexpected strength and held their opponents to 0 to 0. Emerson, Mullen and Erisbie, a new man on the team, were the star performers for Milton. O'Hearn, Walsh and Marchant are also new men. With such an auspicious opening, the hockey season should be one of unparalleled success for the school.

The primary scholars of the First Baptist church, East Milton, will give a cantata this evening.

The rink at Cunningham park is flooded, and the big skating pond is also in readiness for freezing The hockey rink is now surrounded by a four-foot fence, which will greatly improve the situation for the hoskey teams teams since the ice can be kept in better shape.

The Alumni defeated the High school basketball team on Saturday by a score of 20 to 11. The next game for the school team will be a league game with Canton High school at Canton.

Benjamin Flynn of Church street is recovering from blood poisoning in the hand.

A dance will be held in Ellsworth hall on the 7th of January. The proceeds will go to the Boston Floating hospital.

Oscar Bates of Adams street is home from a business trip through the South and West.

A bowling match between the Hose 1 and Hose 2 teams will be rolled off in the alleys at the Central fire station this evening.

The fire department was kept busy on Christmas day by answering three alarms. All three fires were slight. The first two alarms from boxes 47 and 68 were for chimney fires. The third from box 451 was for a fire on the Dorchester side of the river.

The friends of Cornelius Van Ham, the popular postman, gave him a very substantial Christmas remembrance. in the shape of a sum of money. Mr. Van Ham has been unfortunate of late, his daughter just recovering from severe burns, and his son just coming down with diphtheria. The kindness of his friends will help greatly in putting a brighter aspect on things in general.

The children of the Mission church will have their Christmas tree and concert this evening. The festival for the children of St. Michael's was held last Saturday. Owing to unfortunate weather conditions the attendance was not very large, but those who did appear reported a fine time. The Baptist and East Congregational churches had special Christmas services for the congregations and Christmas trees and concerts for the children.

The Right Reverend William Lawrence, bishop of the diocese, will administer the rite of confirmation to the classes at St. Michael's Episcopal church on Sunday morning.

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

A very enjoyable Christmas party was held in the parish house of Christ church Thursday evening by the senior department of the Sunday School. W. L. Thomas, the superintendent of the school, had- charge of the arrangements. Games were played during the early part of the evening. Then Prof. Wilson of Boston entertained the audience for an hour with a sleight of hand performance and tricks in magic. Dancing was next in order and about 70 young people participated in it. Ice cream and cake were served in the latter part of the evening and the party broke up at about 10.30 after a very pleasant evening.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
That is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the World over to Cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

THE MARRIED MANNER.

"It's nice to be married," said the middle aged matron to her intimate friend. "It's such a privilege to be the only woman to whom your husband doesn't bother to be polite. When John stepped on my skirt yesterday and tore a hole in the back breadth, all he said was, 'Why the dickens do you wear your skirts so long?' if I'd been any other woman he'd have rated himself for his awkwardness and apologized most humbly."

"Well, if John spoiled your skirt, he'll get you a better one to make up for it," observed the friend. "I've known you and John pretty familiarly ever since I was your bridesmaid, and he certainly is nice in that way."

"John's a good husband," said the other, emphatically. I'm not complaining of John. But don't you think—I feel horrid to be criticising my own man behind his back, but, as you say, you know us pretty familiarly—don't you think that even solid goodness and loyalty fail to make one a perfectly happy woman when the deference of the courtship days begins to fade away?"

"I know," agreed the intimate friend. "I shall never forget what a blow it was to me, the first time 'Jim' came home without the bunch of flowers he'd never failed to bring me since we were married. Why, he wouldn't have thought of interposing a newspaper between my face and his during a meal in our engaged days, but all I see of 'Jim' now at breakfast is a printed sheet. And that difference in the way of speaking—when does it begin to creep into a man's conversation with his wife?"

"I can recall the very time John first spoke to me differently," said John's wife. "It was about some trifle we had discussed once, as it happened, before we married. I didn't look at it as John did. He set me right. He had set me right the first time we discussed it—but, mercy! so gently I didn't know what was happening. I knew the second time. And yet he wasn't rude, you understand, it was just the married manner. John and 'Jim' aren't the only ones."

"The married manners!" said Jim's wife, thoughtfully. "Well, I suppose a man wants to have a wife with whom he can take the shoes off his manners, so to speak, and sit down in slippers at his own fireside."

"But slippers needn't be ugly," said John's wife. "Some slippers are nice looking."—New York Tribune.

—"The World in Boston," socalled, to be held next spring, will be an event of great interest. People who now take no active part in missionary work will be attracted to the exposition.—Chelsea Record.

WHY HE QUIT THE CHURCH.

Bishop Willard Francis Mallalieu, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is opposed to the diminutive salaries that congregations, able to do better, sometimes pay their pastors.

"I once knew an excellent young man," said he, one day in Boston to a New York Sun man. "He was in the church, just married, on a small salary but contented and happy. Twelve or fifteen years went by. I had lost sight of this young minister—forgetting him, as we all do sometimes—when suddenly I met him on Tremont street, dressed well, but not at all clerically.

"We shook hands. He said he was doing excellently.

"'What church?' I said.

"'Oh,' he said, 'no church—the whole-sale hat business.'

"'But why did you leave the church!' I asked.

"'For seven reasons,' said he.

"'And what,' said I, 'were they?'

"'A wife,' he answered, 'and six children.'"

ACCEPTED THE INVITATION.

A society woman wrote to an army officer at Fort Sam Houston: "Mrs. Smythe requests the pleasure of Captain Bunker's company at a reception, July Sixteenth."

Next day she received this note of acceptance:

"With the exception of three men who have the measles and one who is in the guardhouse, Captain Bunker's company accepts Mrs. Symthe's kind invitation for the sixteenth."--Everybody's Magazine.

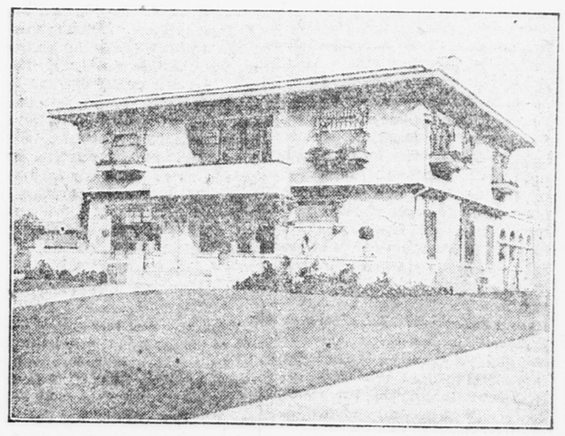
Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLES
Large 30ct Cans
Today for 25ct
at JOHNSON BROS

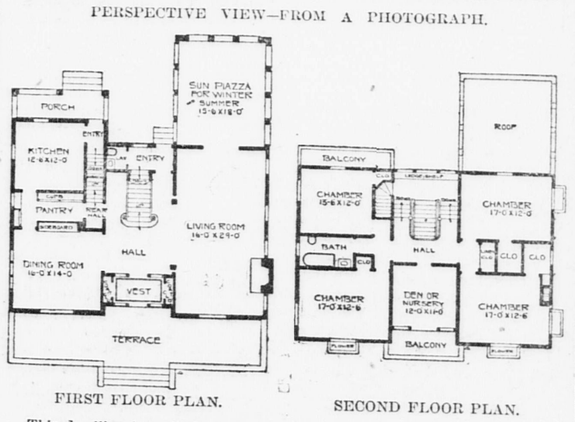
FLOWERING PLANTS
Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.
Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.
PATTERSON, "The Florist"
92 South Central Ave.
WOLLASTON, MASS.
Telephone 302 Quincy

A NOVEL DESIGN WITH SUN PIAZZA.

Design 897, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.



PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

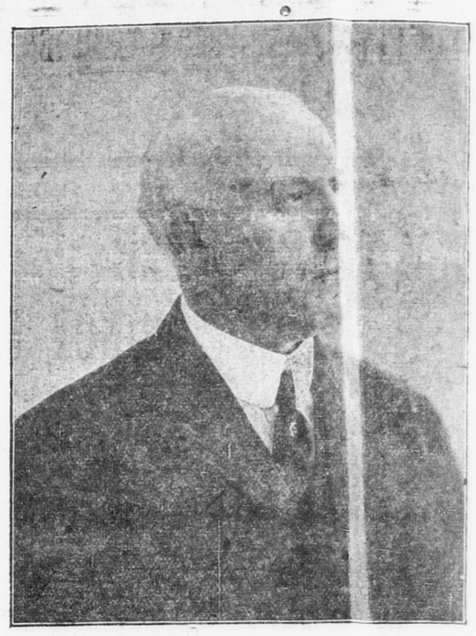


FIRST FLOOR PLAN. SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This dwelling has all the important features found in homes that cost up to $50,000, among them the sun piazza at the rear of the living room, inclosed sash then being dropped down into pockets. Other features are the open fireplace and the large symmetrical central hall. In the second story there are four chambers, a bath and another large room which can be utilized as a guest room, den or nursery. Height of the first story is nine and a half feet and the second story eight and a half feet. Width forty-six feet, depth thirty feet, over the main part. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $9,000.

If you are interested in a home of this character you may write me through the editor of this paper, and I shall be pleased to consider the matter with you. The price of plans will be furnished upon application.

GLENN H. SAXTON.



MAYOR SHEA'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

WILL APPEAR IN FULL IN

THE DAILY LEDGER

OF MONDAY

Together with a full

REPORT OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF 1911

And the Business of the Opening Day.

SEVERAL OTHER INTERESTING FEATURES

may be expected in this issue of

THE DAILY LEDGER

NEWSY EVERY DAY

EXCELLENT SYSTEM

Heating Plant at John Hancock School One of Best

The official test by the Massachusetts State Inspector of the new heating and ventilating plant installed last summer in the John Hancock schoolbuilding shows that this is one of the best, if not the best, heating and ventilating plant in the city of Quincy.

After making the test, State Inspector Burfitt remarked that the plant was an excellent one, and that although the building was being tested under poor weather conditions, the result was very satisfactory to him.

The State requirements are that 30 cubic feet of fresh air shall be supplied for each pupil per minute through the inlets, and that the same amount shall be exhausted through the vent ducts.

In this case, the inspector found, under poor testing conditions, that an average of 36.1 cubic feet of fresh air was being supplied every minute for each of the 504 pupils in the building, through the inlets, and 41.3 cubic feet of foul air was being exhausted through the vent ducts.

This splendid test reflects great credit on the Stone-Underhill Heating & Ventilating Co., who engineered and installed this plant.

Following is partial list of some of the school-buildings in New England where the heating and ventilating plants have been installed during this past summer by the Stone-Underhill Heating & Ventilating Co.:

New school-building, Stratford, Conn.
New school-building, Seekonk, Mass.
New school-building, Plymouth, Mass.
New Grammar school, Mystic, Conn.
New Grammar school, Greenfield, Mass.
Houghs Neck school, Quincy, Mass.
Henry Waitt school, Revere, Mass.
New school-building, Beachmont, Mass.
West End school, Whitinsville, Mass.
City school, South Attleboro, Mass.
Grammar school, Agawam, Mass.
John Hancock school, Quincy, Mass.
Grammar school, Attleboro, Mass.
Primary school, Attleboro, Mass.
Superintendent's building, Attleboro, Mass.
New Grammar school, Brewer, Maine.
Chandler school, Somersworth, N. H.
White school, Winchendon, Mass.
High school, Yarmouth, Mass.
New school, Madison, Maine.
High school, Falmouth, Mass.
Trescott school, Hyde Park, Mass.
Hemmenway school, Hyde Park, Mass.
Grammar school, West Acton, Mass.
Grammar school, Acton Center, Mass.
New school, Barnstable, Mass.
New Grammar school, East Saugus, Mass.
New Grammar school, Amherst, Mass.
New High school, New Milford, Conn.
New High school, Presque Isle, Maine.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC.

The excellent musical program of Christmas Sunday at Bethany church will be repeated at the Sunday evening service, as follows:

Prelude, The Pastoral Symphony Handel
Carol, "Ring the bells of Christmas" Beethoven
Anthem, "And the glory of the Lord" Handel
Solo, trio and chorus, "The heralds of the King" Bartlett
Response, "Come unto Me" Handel
Carol, "Listen, Lordlings unto me" Osgood
Anthem, "Sing, O Heavens" Tours
Postlude, Hallelujah Chorus Handel

Madame E. Beale Morey organist and musical director. Mrs. Emma S. Moore, soprano; Mr. A. L. Hayden, baritone. The church chorus and boys' choir.

NEW STOCK.

The Old Colony street railway has petitioned the railroad commission for approval of issue of 3000 addtional common shares to be offered proportionately to stockholders at $100 a share. The company asks that the directors be authorized to issue the new shares in instalments from time to time, or in one issue, as they deem advisable. The proceeds will be used to pay for extensions, building car barns, acquiring and equipping additional rolling stock and for permanent investments and improvements.

ONLY THREE WERE QUINCY BORN

(Continued from Page 1.)

DANIEL F. FORDE

Who represents the West Quincy ward, was born in Ireland, Dec. 3, 1871, so that his election to the office of Councilman came almost as a birthday present. When three years of age he came to this country with his parents. He attended the Willard school until 14 years of age, when he entered the employ of the Granite Railway Co., by whom he has since been continuously employed, his present occupation being that of fireman. He married Miss Mary R. Canton of Quincy in 1894. Six children have been born to Councilman and Mrs. Forde four of whom are now living. He is a past chief ranger of Court Roger Wolcott, F. of A.; a deputy chief ranger of Court John Adams, F. of M.; past grand of Granite lodge, L. O. O. F., M. U., also a member of Division 4, A. O. H., and the Willard associates and the Ward Four Tammany club.

HARRY G. STUDLEY

The first Republican that has been elected to the City Council from Ward Two for some years was born in Cohasset, Aug. 28, 1871, and received his education in the public schools of his native town. Leaving home he entered the employ of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. where he learned the machinist trade, afterward taking up steam yachting, serving as an apprenticeship in the engine room until he was able to pass the necessary examination to give him an engineer's license enabling him to run any sized steamship.

For five years he was chief engineer of the steamer Cape Cod, and then entered the employ of the Electric Boat Co. where he has been employed as chief engineer of the yacht Starling which is used to convoy the submarines on their trial trips.

He is a member of Delta lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Braintree, and a thirty-second degree mason of the Essex consistory, also a member of Aleppo Temple, Mystic Shrine. Aside from these he is a member of the Marine Engineers' Association, Yacht Masters and Engineers' association of America, the Pilgrim Monument association and the Washington Social club.

EDWARD F. PARLEE.

Councilman elect from ward six was born March 18, 1862, in Waterford, N. B. He was educated in schools of Sussex Kings County. He came to Lowell, Mass, in 1883, and worked for three years learning a trade as carpenter. Then came to Quincy and enjoyed privilege of night school, taking up architectural drawing, later acting as foreman for different contractors and builders.

Became a member of Rural lodge of Masons Quincy in 1890. Lived in Braintree eight years, doing business there during that time. Had a call to take position of inspector of buildings during the construction of the Boston Elevated . Came from that work to Montclair, Quincy, about eight years ago, and has been doing business as architect and builder in Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth up to the present time.

"NO MEN ALLOWED."

The newspaper scribes who are assigned to cover the guest night of St. Mary's Catholic guild at St. Mary's hall tonight should consider themselves extremely fortunate, for with the exception of Rev. Henry T. Grady, pastor of St. Mary's church, they will be the only gentlemen present. The ladies are to present the play "Carroty Nell," and as the characters are to be impersonated by some of West Quincy's fairest daughters, the gentlemen are very anxious to attend, and would even be willing to part with considerable coin for that privilege. But the edict has gone forth, "No men allowed," newspaper men excepted. During the first part of the evening there will be refreshments, a musical entertainment and address by Rev. Henry T. Grady. Then the curtain of the looked for play will be raised for the first act, and the reporters will hug themselves in exultation of being the favored ones of their sex.

TODAY'S COURT.

Martin Kain was sentenced to three months in the house of correction for drunkennes at Quincy.

George Ahern was sentenced to one month in the house of correction for drunkenness at Milton.

Gustave Bergstrom was arraigned for creating a disturbance on a street car at Quincy Dec. 17. He was fined $15.

—Take them up tenderly, lift them with care, the wrecked toys that yesterday all seemed so fair.—Record Herald.

HOSPITAL AID REPORTS

Annual Meeting Held With Mrs. William B. Rice

Bad weather did not prevent members of the Hospital Aid association from attending the annual meeting held on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. William B. Rice of Adams street, about fifty being present. Considerable sewing was accomplished before Mrs. Harry L. Rice president called the meeting to order for the business session.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read, followed by the annual reports. Mrs. James H. Slade, secretary gave a resume of the meetings for the year and work accomplished.

The report of Miss Prescott, treasurer, showed the Association to be in good financial condition and is as follows:

On hand Dec. 30, 1909:

Endowment fund	$354.81
Quincy Savings Bank	112.08
Nat. Mt. Wollaston Bank	180.92
Cash	7.00
	$654.81
Receipts:
Membership dues	$313.00
Whist parties	21.00
Mrs. W. B. Rice, life membership	25.00
Gift	.50
Women's Guild Christ church	5.00
Interest	5.63
Interest Endowment fund	14.30
	$384:43
Total receipts	1039.24
Disbursements:
Supplies for Hospital	$454.99
Printing, postage etc.,	9.40
	$464.39
On hand Dec. 28, 1910:
Endowment fund	369.11
Quincy Savings Bank	173.71
Nat. Mt. Wollaston Bank	4.13
Cash	27.90
	$574.85
	$1039.24

Etta M. Prescott, Treasurer.

Audited Dec. 28, 1910, Otho A. Hayward.

The report of Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur of the purchasing committee was of special interest, as it showed a great amount of sewing done and articles made for the Hospital, as well as blankets, sheets, etc., purchased. The report was as follows:

Articles made: 30 rollers, 51 bandages, 72 perineal straps, 42 dish towels 109 towels, 84 napkins, 83 bed-pan covers, 9 nightengales, 40 small doctor's towels 29 hot water bag covers, 9 men's wrappers.

Articles purchased: 14 1-2 dozen sheets, 43 pairs blankets, 4 dozen wash cloths, 5 dozen towels, 4 dozen pillow slips, 72 women's flannelette gowns 12 scarfs, 24 bed spreads, 2 bales wadding.

A letter was read from Miss Blanche Thayer superintendent of the Hospital, expressing appreciation of all the Aid association had done the past year for the Hospital, the new ward necessitating a larger supply than usual.

Miss Amey F. Newcomb, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the names for officers for the coming year as follows:

President—Mrs. Harry L. Rice.

1st Vice President—Mrs. W. W. Whitcher.

2d Vice President—Miss Gertrude Sampson.

Secretary—Mrs. George B. Huntington.

Treasurer—Miss Etta M. Prescott.

All were unanimously elected and a vote of thanks given Mrs. Slade, the retiring secretary for her faithful work during the past year.

The afternoon closed with an informal social hour during which members congratulated each other on the success of the year and the enthusiasm all felt for the future. New members are joining and interest is increasing at each meeting.

Afternoon tea was served by the hostess and the meeting adjourned to meet in January with Miss Prescott.

A DREADFUL WOMAN.

That woman next door is really dreadful, John," said a young married woman to her husband. "She does nothing but talk the whole day long. She cannot get any work done, I'm sure."

"Oh," remarked the husband, "I thought she was a chatterbox. And to whom does she talk?"

"Why, my dear, to me, of course," was the reply. "She talks to me over the back fence."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MANY EVENTS AT Y. M. C. A.

Sports, Educational Classes, and Visit to Bunker Hill

The Employed Boys athletic meet was held Wednesday evening in the gymnasium. The Harvard and Carlisle teams were tied at 13 points at the finish, Dartmouth had 9 and Yale had 5.

The basketball league semi-finals were played Thursday morning. Team 4 defeated team 8 by a score of 16 to 1, and team 6 defeated team 3 by 16 to 11. Team 3 played with only four men and did well to hold their opponents down to eight baskets. Solon McGinnis was the star of the game. Team 4 and team 6 will meet for the finals on Saturday.

Junior swimming events were held in the pool Thursday afternoon.

This morning all the juniors started for Charlestown where they will spend the day inspecting the navy yard and Bunker Hill monument.

Solon McGinnis, who played a star game in the basketball league contest on Thursday will join the Intermediate squad, and may play against the Melrose Intermediates Saturday afternoon. The Quincy Intermediates will entertain the visiting team at a baked bean supper so that they can stay over and witness the big game in the evening.

The second round of games in the Extension club championship series will be played this evening, Quincy Adams vs. Quincy Point and Wollaston vs. Atlantic.

The second term for the classes in mechanical drawing will begin Tuesday evening, Jan. 3. L. B. Doane of the Fore River engine draughting department will complete his fourth year as instructor. During the first term there was an enrollment of 26 men, and it is expected that the number will be increased during the second term, owing to a reduction in the price of the course.

"Ted," a real boy, will be the subject of the stereopticon story at the meeting for younger boys Saturday morning. After the meeting there will be an athletic meet for Juniors.

At 2.30 Saturday afternoon the Intermediates will play Melrose Intermediates, and the finals of the basketball league will be played between the halves.

The first and second teams will endeavor to wipe out the defeats at the hands of the Boston Y. M. C. A. teams at 8 o'clock in the return games on the home floor. Fast and hotly contested games are expected.

WHEN THE WORM TURNED.

Samuel Kalisch tells the following story of a famous lawyer he knew several years ago.

"This lawyer," said Mr. Kalisch," had a fashion of browbeating every witness that came on the stand for the opposite side in the case.

"Once he was examining a rather meek-looking man who steadfastly refused to give a plain answer to any of the lawyer's questions. At last in replying to one question the witness answered that he was unable to say either yes or no.

"'Now, that is a ridculous answer,' said the lawyer. 'Do you mean to tell me that you could possibly ask me a question to which I could not answer yes or no?'

"'Well,' said the witness, as he leaned forward and looked at his tormentor, "will you please tell the court, by answering yes or no, if in your estimation you are really as stupid and foolish as you look?'"

THE GOOD WILL HABIT.

A habit of holding a kindly attitude of mind toward everybody has a powerful influence upon the character. It lifts the mind above petty jealousies and meannesses: it encircles and enlarges the whole life.

Where we meet people, no matter if they are strangers, we feel a certain kinship with and friendliness for them, if we have formed the good-will habit.

In other words, the kindly habit, the good-will habit, makes us feel more sympathy for everybody. And if we radiate this helpful, friendly feeling others will reflect it back to us.

On the other hand, if we go through life with a cold, selfish mental attitude, caring only for our own ,always looking for the main chance, only thinking of what will further our own interests, our own comfort, totally indifferent to others ,this attitude will, after a while, harden the feelings and the affections, and we shall become dry, pessimistic and uninteresting, says Home Chat.

SALARY OF CITY OFFICIALS

Sums Paid by Commission Government at Haverhill

Haverhill is a city of 44,115 population, a little over a third larger than Quincy, and it may be of interest to note the salary list adopted in that city for 1911. Haverhill is under a commission government with a small board of aldermen, who are paid for their services. The compelte list follows:

Mayor	$2000.00
Aldermen, each	1800.00
Treasurer and collector	2000.00
Clerks, treasurer's office	1850.00
City Clerk	2000.00
Clerks, city clerk's office	1050.00
Auditor	1600.00
Clerk to auditor	450.00
Superintendent of highways	1500.00
City engineer	1500.00
Superintendent of street lights	1000.00
Conveyance for same	300.00
Mayor's clerk	1200.00
Secretary of assessors and overseers	1350.00
City messenger	1000.00
City solicitor	2000.00
Inspector of buildings	1500.00
City physician	1000.00
Chairman of assessors	1200.00
Assessors, each	900.00
Clerks to assessors	1800.00
Overseers of the poor, each	200.00
Assistant clerk of overseers	624.00
Board of health	225.00
Registrars of voters, each	100.00
Clerk of registrars	100.00
Secretary of sinking fund commission	100.00
Clerk to superintendent of highways	1000.00
Sealer of weights and measures	500.00
Inspector of animals	250.00
Inspector of wires	1300.00
Chief of fire department	1600.00
Assistant engineers, each	300.00
Clerk of engineers	100.00
Chairman of license commission	350.00
License commissioners, each	300.00
City marshal	1500.00
Deputy marshal and police captain, per day	3.00
Sergeant and inspector, per day	2.87
Day and night patrolmen, per day	2.75
Driver of patrol wagon, per day	2.87
Assistant driver, per day	2.75
Police matron	400.00
Fish wardens, each	5.00
Harbor master	150.00
Precinct wardens, per day	10.00
Clerks, per day	10.00
Inspectors, per day	8.00
Deputies, per day	2.00
Fire department captains, per day	3.00
Drivers and engineers, per day	2.87

The Thimble.

About 200 years ago a London goldsmith called Trotting made and presented to the lady of his heart on her birthday anniversary a thimble of gold, beautifully ornamented and chased, accompanied by a note which introduced the little contraption as a "token of my humble esteem which shall protect those delicate, fair and industrious fingers from prick and scar of needle head." That was the origin of the thimble.

He Got His.

Geraldine—You haven't been to see me since you asked father for my hand. Gerald—No; this is the first time I've been able to get about.—Human Life.

—Some clever writer recently said that the trouble in America is not so much the high cost of living as the cost of high living. This led him to write about America, the spendthrift nation. Here are some of his figures: The latest report shows that there were 9,142,908 depositors and the number of saving banks was 1,759. The total amount of the deposits was $4,070,468,245, an average of $445.20 to each depositor. The states in which the saving deposits aggregate more than $100,000,000 are in round numbers: New York $1,500,000,000; California, $334,000,000; Massachusetts, $761,000,000; Connecticut, $274,000,000. Iowa, $168,000,000; Ohio, $126,000,000; Pennsylvania, $176,000,000; and New Jersey, $106,000,000. It is apparent that all of us are not spendthrifts.—Haverhill Gazette.

FRESH JERSEY CREAM
17ct jar at
JOHNSON BROTHERS
the only store in town
where you can buy
Pure Jersey Cream

When the SUN is off duty
Reflex
LIGHT WITH GAS
The Reflex Inverted Gas Burner
Price $1.75 Installed
The best substitute for sunlight
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT COMPANY
Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite St., Quincy

THE STORE FOR LADIES' FURNISHINGS
WHEELER
Neckwear, Belts, Gloves, Aprons, House Dresses, Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear.
The "Belle" Shirtwaists, May Manton Patterns.
Percales, Prints, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Outing Flannels.
G. W. WHEELER
City Square, Quincy

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS
We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.
Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

Fresh Mined Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2
HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

PETERSON'S SUGGESTIONS
Better BREAD
People use
PERFECTION FLOUR
Hundreds of People use our Perfection Flour. We want One Hundred more to become better bread eaters.
ORDER A BAG TODAY.
J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy

Advertise in The Ledger

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Gothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1. 1y

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department,
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1888
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ For The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR
LOANS $ TO
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE
Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 546-2. Oct. 6-tf

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 382-3 Jan. 17-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel. 342-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

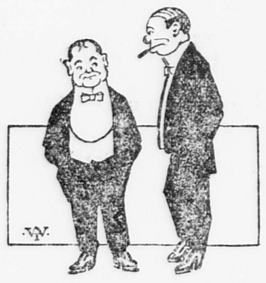
PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc. IN ALL COUNTRIES.
Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively
Write or come to us at
220 Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & CO.

Quincy Daily Ledger
FOR SALE AT.
BOSTON—At South Station after 3.30 P. M.
QUINCY—Ledger Office 1424 Hancock street.
L. A. Chapin, 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
George Irwin, oppo. Car Barn.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock St.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
HOUGHS NECK.
Tessier's Drug Store.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
PARK&DOWNS—Branschled & Marten
ATLANTIC—Branschled & Marten.
QUINCY NECK—Stetson Pierce, Newcomb Square.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. Smith, Washington Street.
Gragg's Pharmacy.
L. A. Cook, Washington Street.
E. H. Lowe, Washington Street.
George E. SpragueCor. River Street.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water St.
Daniel Flanagan, 134 Water St.
A. Pierson, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWERS CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
Mrs. F. H. Stanley.
EAST QUINCY—F. A. Skinner.
John G. Belanger.

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	P. M.
Monday, Dec. 26	7.30	8.00
Tuesday,	8.15	9.00
Wednesday,	9.00	9.45
Thursday,	9.45	10.30
Friday,	10.30	11.00
Saturday,	11.15	11.45
Sunday,	11.45	12.00

Had Him Pat.



"Do you know why old Skinbone, the millionaire, always wears a ten dollar suit?"

"I suppose from economy."

"You lose. He can't get a suit for $5 that will fit him."

BRIEFS

Rainy today.

City Council meeting tonight.

David Moffat of Walnut street has returned from the west.

Miss Mary Ferguson is spending her vacation with her parents.

The mornings have reached their shortest, but will not begin to lengthen until Monday, Jan. 9.

The Inaugural day address of Mayor Shea will be printed in full in the Daily Ledger of Monday.

If the days since Chritsmas are to govern the weather of the year, the backbone of winter has been broken.

The Daily Ledger has double the circulation of any daily printed in Norfolk county, and it is constantly growing.

The Parents and Teachers' Association of the Massachusetts Fields school hold their next meeting on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tower and family have moved to Providence, R. I., where Mr. Tower has accepted a position with the Narragansett Electric Co.

W. L. Jefferson of East Elm avenue has the contract for the two family house being built at the corner of Beach and Phillips street for Hazen B. Chapman of Beach street.

The whistle on the factory of the Tubular Rivet and Stud company at Wollaston which for the past few days has been out of commission so far as the fire alarm system was concerned, is again in working order.

—Property valued at $400,000,000 was wiped out in the great San Francisco earthquake and fire, and already more money has been spent in improvement of the city than was lost in the disaster. The new city being built much better than the old, San Franciscans have reached a point where the cloud seems to be mostly silver lined. —Boston Record.

PICTURE OF MRS. HOWE

It Will Not Be Hung In Boston's Famous "Cradle of Liberty"

Boston, Dec. 30.—The Boston art commission have finally decided to stand pat in their attitude against the placing of the memorial portrait of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe in Faneuil hall.

A public statement was given out in which their decision is set forth as final, and not to be revoked, either by the storm of public opinion or by the efforts of the Julia Ward Howe memorial committee.

In this statement the commission give as reasons that there is not enought room in Faneuil hall, that the place is already overcrowded with portraits, and that many of these are so poorly hung, because of the architectural form of the interior of the hall, that they can scarcely be seen, and also that a certain very destructive atmospheric condition prevails there, one which has already done irreparable injury to many of the paintings already hung there.

CHICAGO RIOTS RESUMED

Five Hundred Garment Workers Smash Windows In Tailor Shops

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Riots of the striking garment workers, which ceased temporarily the week before Christmas, were renewed yesterday.

Five hundred strikers, most of them women and girls, braved a snowstorm, marched to the tailoring shops of Hildebrand & Co., and with rocks and clubs shattered most of the windows of the place.

The cries of the women were added to the shouts of the men that the nonunion employes of the place come out and join in the strike.

A riot call brought several wagon loads of policemen, who rushed the strikers. Two men were arrested. Many of the strikers were clubbed in the melee.

COURT DECEIVED IN FINGERPRINT TEST

But Infallibility of Method Is Afterward Vindicated

London, Dec. 30.—About a week ago a man was arraigned in the Highgate police court on a misdemeanor charge, but was acquitted when he produced evidence apparently showing that fingerprints the police alleged were his, taken upon the occasion of a previous conviction, could not be his, as he was serving in the army at the time. This, it was said, was the first time that identification by means of fingerprints failed.

Now the infallibility of the method has been vindicated. It has been discovered that the prisoner was never a soldier. He stole the proofs of another's army service. New evidence has been obtained substantiating the police charge that he had previously been sentenced on another charge.

FLIES OVER A MOUNTAIN

Hoxsey's Performance Makes an Impression Upon Army Officers

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 30.—Arch Hoxsey, holder of the world's aeroplane altitude record, 11,474 feet, flew over Mount Wilson, the highest peak of the mountain range that rims the valley in which the towns of the orange belt lie. He soared 10,500 feet into the sky and cleared the crest with 4200 feet to spare.

Lieutenant Boller and several other army officers, who are here to see the flights, asserted Hoxsey's performance pointed a new way of transporting armies across mountain ranges.

Hoxsey used a Wright biplane. The distance traversed is thirty-four miles, and was covered in one hour and twenty minutes.

THINKING MEN NEEDED

Chancellor Day In Opposition to Industrial Education Plans

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Chancellor Day of Syracuse university, in an address before the Associated Academic Principals of New York state, in annual convention here, opposed the vocational school and industrial education plans favored by State Commissioner of Education Draper.

The chancellor declared that the country needs statesmen and thinkers more than it needs carpenters. He declared that the present and future call for thinking men in congress and that the old type of frontier rough thinking men is no longer in demand.

Praise For Gresham's Crew

Washington, Dec. 30.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh has seat a letter to Captain Uberroth of the revenue cutter Gresham, commending him and the officers and men of the ship for their splendid work during the severe storm on the New England coast two weeks ago.

The Weather

Almanac, Saturday, Dec. 31.
Sun rises—7:21; sets—4:39.
Moon sets—4:52 p. m.
High water—11:15 a. m.; 11:45 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Fair and cold; brisk north to west winds.

BOILER KNOWN TO BE UNSAFE

Investigation of Disaster Near Pittsfield Is Begun

SIXTEEN MEN ARE KILLED

Safety Devices on Old Boiler Said to Have Failed to Work Properly on Day After They Had Been Tested—Pieces of Victims' Bodies Blown Two Hundred Feet When Explosion Occurs at Icehouses

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 30.—Five members of the state boiler inspection department started an investigation here last night, to prepare evidence for the inquest to fix the blame for the explosion of the boiler at the Morewood Lake Ice company plant, which killed sixteen men and injured twenty-three others, three of them fatally.

F. L. Forbush of North Adams is the inspector who last examined the old boiler. Forbush is said to have fixed fifty pounds pressure as the safety limit for the boiler at the last inspection, last summer.

A state officer says that the boiler with only fifty pounds pressure could not run the engine of the ice conveyer, which required at least sixty pounds of steam.

Inspector Forbush, it is alleged, agreed to allow sixty pounds on condition that a new safety valve and a new steam gauge be installed. A license was issued, limiting the steam to sixty pounds.

These new safety devices, both gauge and valve, were tried out on the boiler Wednesday, and the gauge found to be showing only 25-30 pounds of steam when the safety valve popped at eighty, at which pressure it was set, it is claimed. Both gauge and valve had been tested and passed by the company supplying them.

The fire under the boiler was started yesterday in spite of the test Wednesday. It was known that the gauge had failed to register properly, and after the explosion the safety valve, set at eighty pounds, was found, blown some distance still set.

The failure of both safety valve and steam gauge to work properly, although installed on an old, unsafe boiler, is stated to be the cause of the explosion. At the inquest every effort will be made to determine who was to blame, engineer, ice plant owners, boiler inspectors or mechanics of the valve and gauge company.

Before more than incidental measures were started to fix the blame, the work of providing assistance, immediate and future, for the sufferers was started. Mayor McInnis was overwhelmed with offers of assistance, and a fund had grown to $2350 within two hours after it had started.

The icehouse of the Morewood Lake Ice company is nearly two miles from the city. Nearby residents, hearing the crash, immediately telephoned to the police headquarters in the city. Chief of Police White rushed to the scene every possible assistance.

The relief party arrived at the scene nearly half an hour after the explosion. Bodies were scattered around, a few of the injured conscious. The living were cared for first.

Of the injured, hardly any are known here. Three of them are seriously injured and not likely to live. Most of them are Poles, Canadian French and Italians. None of them were on the payrolls.

The ice plant was to have commenced storing yesterday. Preparations had been under way for a few days, and in answer to advertisements for laborers, inserted in local papers, about 150 men reported at the plant for work.

The day was cold, and as many of the laborers as could gathered about the boiler room, where Fireman Allen, Engneer Dunn and John Reynolds, a carpenter, were at work.

These men were engaged in getting up steam. Under the boiler a hot fire had been going for some time.

The boiler ripped open with a roar. The walls of the boiler room were hurled outward, and fragments of steel boiler plate, great splinters of wood and pieces of machinery scattered through the crowd of waiting laborers.

The execution was terrible. Pieces of bodies were blown 200 feet. One piece of boiler plate was blown 500 feet away. It weighed over 200 pounds.

Following is a list of the dead: William Dunn, engineer; George Ward, fireman; John Raymond, carpenter; Edgar Allen, driver; Leo Termandz, laborer; Martin H. Smith, laborer; Wyatt Moore, laborer; William Pepoon, laborer; Alfred Bence, laborer; Frederick Routhier, laborer; Elmer Eldridge, laborer; James McNalus, laborer; George Houghtalin, laborer; Joseph Gallogo, laborer; Obelino Gallogo, laborer; unidentified laborer.

Killed by Falling Stone

Rutland, Vt., Dec. 30.—Alec Denesk, 19, a quarry worker, was instantly killed at Brandon when a big stone fell a distance of seventy feet into the quarry in which he was working, striking him on the head.

RATES MUST BE RAISED

Fraternal Insurance Orders May Otherwise Go to Smash

Albany, Dec. 30.—Emphasizing the importance of the passage by the coming legislature of a bill regulating fraternal insurance, State Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss denied an application for the cancellation of the license of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, to do business in New York.

Superintendent Hotchkiss stated that unless fraternal insurance societies readjust their rates soon they will end in receiverships, with heavy losses to members.

The application against the Knights of Pythias was made by T. Barber, aged 75 years, a holder of a fourth class insurance certificate in the order. Barber complained because his monthly assessments were increased. Hotchkiss held that the increase was necessary.

REGINALD DOHERTY DEAD

Was Considered by Many as World's Greatest Tennis Player

London, Dec. 30.—Reginald F. Doherty, English tennis champion, and perhaps the greatest player that ever lived, died at his home here. Doherty and his brother, H. L. Doherty, made up a crack team that met and defeated all comers. They met the leading American stars in tournaments in the United States.

In 1902 the Doherty brothers visited America and met Collins and Waldner, who then held the western championship of the United States. A series of games was played at Newport, which resulted in the defeat of the American champions.

In 1906 Doherty captured the championship of the south of France for the ninth consecutive time.

AN ANARCHIST PLOT TO BLOW UP KING

London Police Discover a Fully Equipped Bomb Factory

London, Dec. 30.—Following the discovery of a bomb factory in the East End, the police declare that the bomb plant is part of an anarchist plot which will have its development at the coronation of King George in June.

The police authorities attach the greatest importance to their latest discoveries in connection with the Houndsditch crime, in which three policemen were killed by burglars found trying to break into a jewelry store. In addition to a fully equipped bomb factory and all the latest appliances of expert cracksmen, they also say they have found documents proving that the assassins belong to a desperate, highly organized international gang of world-wide ramifications.

Among those documents are said to be letters revealing a sensational plot and containing a great mass of other information concerning the plans of the anarchists in London and in the continental capitals.

GROCERY STORE BLOWN UP

Proprietor Had Failed to Pay $2000 to Black Hand Men

New York, Dec. 30.—Blackhanders are again believed by the police to be responsible for another of the frequent East Side bomb explosions which wrecked the grocery store in East Thirteenth street of an Italian who had received threatening letters demanding $2000.

Flying glass caused the painful injury of an aunt of the proprietor, Geordino Sagano, who with his family lives in the rear of the store. The violent shock created a panic in the tenement and the immediate neighborhood and did several thousand dollars damage to the building and nearby property.

FIRE RAGES IN MESSINA

Full Extent of Serious Conflagration Is Not Yet Known

Reggio di Calabria, Italy, Dec. 30.—A violent fire has destroyed the wooden buildings around the harbor at Messina. This word was brought here by boat. All telegraphic and telephonic communication with Messina has been interrupted.

Among the burning buildings are the postoffice, the telegraph office and the railway station. When the boat was dispatched from Messina the fire was making rapid headway. Troops were called out in an effort to keep the flames from spreading to all parts of the town.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

15 Cents is the Cost of the one soap so perfect that you ought to have it in daily use. It beautifies, cleanses, economizes. There is no waste in

Pears' SOAP
15c. a Cake for the Unscented

Administrators Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of

DANIEL E. CAMERON

late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY E. TEASDALE, Adm.
(Address) 23 Adams Bldg.
Quincy, Mass.
Dec. 16 1910 Dec. 16 3t-16, 23, 30

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R.

In Effect Nov. 6, 1910.

The letters in the same line as the figures below stand for different stations and indicate that trains stop as follows:

a Wollaston,	f Harrison Square
b Norfolk Downs	g Savin Hill
c Atlantic	h Cresent Avenue
d Neponset	i South Boston
e Pope's Hill	r Quincy Adams

Exp.—Express trains.

TO BOSTON

Leave Quincy	Stops at	Arrive Boston
r 5 14	abcdefghi	5 41
r 6 16	abci	6 35
r 6 32	e	6 47
r 6 40	abcf	7 00
r 7 12	abcd	7 33
r 7 25	d	7 42
r 7 32	Exp.	7 47
r 7 40	abcd	8 00
8 05	Exp.	8 20
r 8 12	abcd	8 30
r 8 31	Exp.	8 47
r 8 51	ad	9 08
r 9 10	abcde	9 30
r 10 04	a	10 20
r 10 19	abcdefghi	10 45
11 04	a	11 20
r 11 24	abcdefghi	11 50
12 04	a	12 20
r 12 19	abcdefghi	12 45
1 14	a	1 30
r 1 19	abcde	1 40
2 04	a	2 20
r 2 19	abcdefgh	2 45
3 04	a	3 20
r 3 19	abcdefghi	3 45
4 04	a	4 20
r 4 24	abcdefgh	4 50
4 39	b	5 15
r 5 31	abcdefg	5 55
6 09	ac	6 27
7 04	b	7 20
r 7 39	ae	7 45
r 8 07	abcdef	8 30
r 9 01	abc	9 20
r 10 07	abcdef	10 30
r 11 20	abc	11 40

FROM BOSTON

Leave Boston	Stops at	Arrive Quincy
5 47	thgfedcba	6 16 r
6 15	thgfedcba	6 41 r
6 45	Exp.	7 00
7 15	hgfedcba	7 41 r
7 45	a	8 00
8 35	cb	8 54
9 00	a	9 00
9 15	fedba	9 37 r
9 45	a	10 00
10 15	thgfedcba	10 41 r
10 45	Exp.	11 00
11 15	hgfedcba	11 41 r
11 45	a	12 00
12 15	hgfedcba	12 41 r
12 45	Exp.	1 00
1 15	fedcba	1 39 r
1 45	a	2 00
2 15	thgfedcba	2 41 r
2 45	Exp.	3 00
3 15	hgfedcba	3 40 r
3 45	a	4 00
4 15	fedcba	4 37 r
4 45	d	5 00
5 12	Exp.	5 23 r
5 20	d	5 37
5 25	dcba	5 48 r
5 40	Exp.	5 55 r
5 55	fedcba	6 19 r
6 12	Exp.	6 27 r
6 30	ecba	6 50 r
7 00	fedcba	7 23 r
7 15	a	7 38
8 15	fedcba	8 38 r
9 30	dba	9 51 r
10 20	fedcba	10 43 r
11 15	fedcba	11 38 r
11 30	a	11 48

SUNDAYS

r 7 43	abc	8 03	6 30 ba 6 49 r
8 30	Exp.	8 45	8 45 thgfedcba 9 14 r
r 8 46	bcdefghi	9 13	9 05 Exp. 9 21
r 9 13	abc	9 33	10 15 thgfedcba 10 42 r
9 31	a	9 47	12 15 thgfedcba 12 42 r
10 23	ac	10 30	12 43 Exp. 12 50
11 00	Exp.	11 17	1 15 thgfedcba 1 42 r
r 11 16	abcdefghi	11 43	2 15 hgfedcba 2 42 r
1 02	Exp.	1 17	3 15 hgfedcba 3 42 r
r 1 16	abcdefgh	1 43	4 27 cba 4 49 r
r 2 10	abc	3 30	5 15 thgfedcba 5 42 r
r 4 16	abcdefghi	4 43	6 15 thgfedcba 6 42 r
r 5 07	abc	5 27	7 00 cba 7 19 r
r 6 16	abcdefghi	6 43	8 15 thgfedcba 8 41 r
7 05	Exp.	7 20
r 7 11	abcdefghi	7 38	8 45 Exp. 9 01
r 8 11	abcdefghi	8 38	9 30 thgfedcba 9 57 r
9 05	a	9 20	10 50 cba 11 03 r
r 10 42	abc	11 00

West Quincy for Boston (stopping at East Milton)—6.25, 6.55, 7.17, 7.55, 8.15, 9.00, 10.09 11.00 A. M. 12.09, 1.09, 2.09, 3.09, 4.09, 5.09, 6.00, 7.00, 9.00, 11.00 P. M. Sundays—8.20, 9.20, A. M. 1.00, 5.15, 6.59, 11.09 P. M.

Boston for West Quincy (stopping at East Milton)—6.35, 7.35, 8.40, 9.35, 10.35, 11.35, A. M. 12.35 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, 5.17, 5.35, 6.17, 7.10, 9.25, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

Montclair for Boston—6.31, 7.23, 8.21, 10.15, A. M., 12.15, 4.15, 5.13, 6.11, 7.1, 9.15 P. M. Sunday—8.26, 9.26, A. M. 1.06, 5.21, 11.06 P. M.

Boston to Montclair—9.35, 10.35, 1135, A. M. 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 5.17, 6.17, 11.25, P. M. Sundays—9.00 A. M. 12.40, 4.40, 5.40, 10.30 P. M.

BLUE LABEL SOUPS
Large Cans $2.75 doz.
[Regular 30ct value]
JOHNSON BROTHERS

O'SULLIVAN'S RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

OLD COLONY STREET RY. CO
QUINCY DIVISION
TIME TABLE
In effect Oct. 25, 1910.
Subject to Change Without Notice

Leave QUINCY for

Brockton, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Brockton, 6.30, 7.00 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 9.30 P. M. Sundays, 8 A. M., then same as week days.

Braintree, 6.20 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.50 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Braintree, 6.25 A. M., and ever 30 minutes to 10.25 P. M. Sundays, 7.55 A. M., then same as week days.

East Milton, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M. Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave East Milton, 5.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 20 minutes to 11.45 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.15 midnight.) Sundays, 7.25 A. M., then same as week days.

East Weymouth, 6.00, 6.15, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 11.05 P. M. then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.35 A. M. then same as week days. Return leave East Weymouth, 6.55, 6.15, 6.45 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.45 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Holbrook, 6.20 A. M., and every 10 minutes to 8.50 P. M., then 9.50 and 10.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Holbrook, 5.55, 6.25, 7.00 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M., then same as week days.

Houghs Neck, 5.20, 5.40, 6.10 A. M., and every 20 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M., then 11.42 P. M. Sundays, 7.10 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.10 P. M. Return leave Houghs Neck, 5.40, 6.05, 6.35 A. M. and every 30 minutes until and including 12.05 midnight. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes until and including 11.35 P. M.

Neponset, via Hancock Street, 5.45, 6.14, 6.44, 7.14, 7.44, 8.14, 8.44 A. M., then 5, 14, 35 and 44 minutes past each hour until and including 10.44 P. M., then 12.14 midnight. Sundays, 7.14 A. M., then same as week days. Return leave Neponset for Quincy via Hancock Street 6.37, 7.07, 7.37, 8.07, 8.35, 8.37 A.M., then 5, 7, 35 and 37 minutes past each hour until and including 11.07 P. M. then 12.37 midnight. Sundays, 7.37 A. M., then same as week days.

Neponset via Wollaston, 5.59 A. M. and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M. then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays 6.59, A. M. then same as week days. Return leave Neponset, 6.29, A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.22 P. M., then 11.37, 12.07 P. M. Sundays, 7.22 A. M, then same as week days

Neponset via Norfolk Downs, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.00 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M.) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave Neponset 7.05 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.35 P. M. (Wednesday and Saturdays 11.35 P. M.) Sundays, 8.05 A. M., then same as week days

Weymouth Landing 5.20, 6.00, 6.20, 6.55, 7.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.00 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M. then same as week days Return, leave Weymouth Landing, 5.40, 6.15 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.15 P. M. Sundays, 7.45 A. M., then same as week days.

Wollaston, 5.59 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 10.59 P. M., then 11.14, 11.44 P. M. Sundays, 6.59 A. M, then same as week days Return, leave Wollaston, 6.30 A. M., and every 30 minutes to 11.30 P. M., then 11.50, 12.20 P. M. Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

West Quincy, 5.30, 5.50, 6.10 A. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.50 P. M.) Sundays, 6.50 A. M., then same as week days. Return, leave West Quincy, 6.00, 6.20, 6.50 A. M. and every 20 minutes to 11.50 P. M. (Wednesdays and Saturdays, 12.20 midnight) Sundays, 7.30 A. M., then same as week days.

Leave Neponset for Squantum, 6.35 A. M., and every 60 minutes until and including 4.35 P. M. then 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.35, P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10.35 P. M. Sundays 7.35 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 9.35 P. M. (Note) Week Days, car leaves Atlantic Bridge for Squantum, 5.45 A. M. Return, leave Squantum, 6.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 5.00 P. M., then 5.35, 6.05, 6.35, 7.00 P. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays, 11.00 P. M. Sundays 8.00 A. M. and every 60 minutes until and including 10.00 P. M.
and every 20 minutes to 11.10 P. M.

JOHN T. CONWAY,
Superintendent.
THOMAS GAMMON,
Division Superintendent.

"SUNNY JIM" SHERMAN

Does Not Want Another Term as Vice President

© 1910 by American Press Association.

TAFT MAKING EARLY START

Seeking the Presidential Nomination In 1912

MACHINERY SET IN MOTION

First Efforts Will Be Directed Toward Capturing New York—Embarrassment Regarding Running Mate Removed by Sherman Declaring Himself Out of the Field—Middle West Insurgent Will Probably Be Named

Washington, Dec. 30.—With President Taft avowedly a candidate for renomination—as he always has been tacitly—and so far apparently directing the details of his own campaign, interest centres upon conditions in New York state. The Empire State always has been regarded by candidates as indispensable political territory and already the machinery to capture it for Mr. Taft has been set in motion.

The story comes directly from New York that with the exception of William L. Ward and William Barnes, Jr., who are not regarded as indispensable to the Taft cohorts, most of the old leaders are getting in line. Ex-Speaker Wadsworth and Timothy L. Woodruff are understood to be favorable to Taft, notwithstanding the differences which grew out of the last state campaign.

Embarrassment which might have threatened in the apparent intention to select another running mate than James S. Sherman has been removed by the announcement of Sherman that he will decline renomination.

It is clear that political necessity requires the selection of a middle west Republican, preferrably an insurgent. The most virile of the senate insurgents like Cummins and La Follette are receptive candidates for the presidency themselves and it is believed that both would prefer to retain the positions of power they now hold in the senate, with their accompanying freedom of action and utterance, to being bottled up with the empty honor of the vice presidency.

As showing the trend of events in the direction of the renomination of President Taft, interviews with leading White House callers yesterday showed an unmistakable drift toward the president and a cordiality toward his renomination which will have its effect in uniting Republicans for the campaign and eliminating the chances of a dangerous contest.

Senators Burkett of Nebraska, Piles of Washington and Warner of Missouri and Representatives Dalzell of Pennsylvania and Fassett of New York, all important men in the framing of platforms and the selection of delegates, each states his opinion that his state delegation will be for Taft in 1912.

It is evidently part of the administration plan to secure as many pledges as possible well in advance, that the party may give its attention to the details of campaign management and not be distracted by a controversy which, if sentiment continues as it has started off, can just as well be avoided.

Gets $1,186,608 on 21st Birthday

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Kenneth Dows was 21 years old yesterday and by a decree of the probate court, in the settlement of the accounts of his guardians, comes into a fortune of $1,186,608, left to him by David Dows of Brooklyn.

Resigns $32,500 Bishopric

London, Dec. 30.—Right Rev. Herbert E. Ryle, bishop of Winchester, has resigned the bishopric, which is worth $32,500 yearly, in consequence of ill health, and has been appointed dean of Westminster.

WILL ARISE FROM DEAD

Mrs. Eddy Coming Back In Human Semblance, Says Mrs. Stetson

New York, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson declared last night in a statement to the press her explicit belief in the resurrection of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of Christian Science, "in the semblance of human form." Mrs. Eddy, she said, when she returns to earth will stay here "until her work is finished."

Exactly when the resurrection will take place Mrs. Stetson did not know, but she was convinced that it would be hastened if the board of directors of the mother church at Boston revised or altered the manual of the church.

Members of the First church in Central Park West, from which Mrs. Stetson was dismissed last summer, express the belief that her latest statement is another step in Mrs. Stetson's campaign to become the successor of Mrs. Eddy as head of the Christian Science body.

GUARD AT MRS. EDDY'S TOMB

Has Nothing to Do With Any Supernatural Demonstration

Boston, Dec. 30.—Christian Scientists who are true followers of Mrs. Eddy do not look for any supernatural demonstration—a resurrection or something of that sort—and there is no mysticism regarding the placing of a guard at her tomb, according to Alfred Farlow, manager of the publication committee of the church.

His attention was called to a story contained in some of the New York newspapers, to the effect that followers of the founder of Christian Science expect her to return to earth. Farlow denied the report and also denied that a protest had been received against the guard being maintained at Mrs. Eddy's tomb in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

BUCHANAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF SPEEDING

Minister Has an All-Day Fight In Superior Court

Providence, Dec. 30.—Rev. Dr. Walter D. Buchanan, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church of New York, was found guilty of exceeding the automobile speed limit by a jury in the superior court here after an all-day trial.

The clergyman was allowed seven days in which to file an appeal, and it is believed this will be done, as his attorneys took numerous exceptions during the proceedings.

Dr. Buchanan was arrested in Pawtucket for overspeeding. He appeared in the local district court, where, despite his protest that was not violating the speed laws, the judge fined him $15 and costs. He appealed, and the case came up in the higher court here yesterday.

WOMAN'S PROPER SPHERE

Miss Haskell Willing to Demonstrate It With Boxing Gloves

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—Miss Jane Haskell, aged 18, daughter of the governor of Oklahoma, now studying dramatic art in this city, takes issue with Dr. Ruth Gay, member of the Oklahoma State Female Suffrage association, as to women's proper sphere.

"I am perfectly willing to settle this argument as to woman's proper position in life with boxing gloves," she declared. "Since Dr. Gay believes that women should act like men, perhaps she would rather put on the gloves than battle with the feminine weapon—the tongue. Tell Dr. Gay that I will do a little sparring, if she is so inclined."

NOTHING IN "WAR SCARE"

Knox Says It Exists Only In the Minds of Newspaper Men

Washington, Dec. 30.—"Let war come. I am in favor of war with Japan," declared Secretary of State Knox to a startled group of hearers at the White House.

"Yes," added the secretary, as he smiled facetiously, "I am in favor of fighting the Japanese, providing nobody has to enlist except the newspaper men, and they ought to all be put in the front ranks.

"There is absolutely nothing in this 'war scare.' Relations between Japan and the United States were never more cordial and friendly than they are now."

FAILS FOR $231,514

Boston Real Estate Broker Has Assets of Only $3350

Boston, Dec. 30.—Harry R. Vonder Horst, real estate broker at 36 Pinckney street, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States court. He scheduled liabilities amounting to $231,514, with assets of only $3350.

In his list of creditors Vonder Horst schedules the Newton Savings bank as holding a claim of $58,500 against him. Another heavy creditor is the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland, to which he owes $25,000.

SWIFT ACTION BY GRAND JURY

Robin Is Indicted on the Charge of Grand Larceny

NORTHERN BANK'S SHORTAGE

Depositors Not Likely to Lose by Disappearance of Sum Estimated at More Than $800,000—Banking Department Criticised For Allowing Deposits After Knowing Condition of Affairs—Old Warning Against Robin

New York, Dec. 30.—Joseph G. Robin was yesterday afternoon indicted by the grand jury for grand larceny on the charge of having stolen $80,000 from the Northern Bank of New York. Former District Attorney Jerome, Robin's counsel, appeared before Judge Crain and asked that bail of $25,000 be fixed. This was agreed upon by District Attorney Whitman.

Mr. Jerome said he had given Robin's address to Whitman and asked that a commission be sent to examine the banker as to his sanity. He also asked that Robin be placed under guard.

Denied admittance at the sanitarium to which he was committed as a paranoiac, Robin appeared for a moment in Jersey City and then vanished with his sister, Dr. Louise Robinovitch, in an automobile.

The banking department has no official statement to make concerning the finances of the Northern bank. The best information obtainable places the loss from Robin's operations at more than $800,000. The capital and surplus of the bank is about $900,000, so if this estimate is correct the depositors may expect payment in full, the expenses of receivership under the banking department being practically nothing. How soon the depositors will get their money depends on the character of the securities to be realized on in case the bank is liquidated and does not reopen its doors.

It is learned that Superintendent Cheney of the state banking department informed Robin last Thursday that the Northern bank would be closed. There is much indignation among depositors because the state banking department allowed the bank to receive deposits of grocers, bakers, butchers, stationers and other small dealers as late as midnight on Saturday.

All day yesterday around the various branches of the Northern bank, small groups of depositors came and went. They were merchants who had been counting upon the holiday trade to send them well along the highway of success in 1911 and to whom a holdup of their small capital meant real hardships, in the way of curtailed credit and cramped incomes.

It has become known here that in April, 1908, an official bulletin issued by E. E. Rittenhouse, state superintendent of insurance in Colorado, now president of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society, ousted the Aetna Indemnity company from Colorado and warned the public against Joseph G. Robin.

FIRST IN DENSITY LIST

Rhode Island Has Over Five Hundred People to the Square Mile

Washington, Dec. 30.—Rhode Island has 508.5 people to the square mile, thus, according to census bureau figures, leading the list of states in the matter of density of population. Nevada, with only seven-tenths of a person to a mile, finds a place at the lower end of the table giving these facts.

Second in the density list, Massachusetts has 418.8 people to the square mile, New Jersey 337.7, Connecticut 231.3, and New York 191.2. The other states possessing more than 100 to the mile are Pennsylvania, 171, Maryland 130.3, Ohio 117, Delaware 103, and Illinois 100.7.

DISLOCATES HER JAW

Accident Befalls Woman While Wrestling With Tenderloin Steak

New York, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Catherine Murther, while trying to bite her way through a piece of tenderloin steak of high resistive power, dislocated her jaw.

Her husband, who was having dinner with her, wondering at the long break in the conversation, looked up and found his wife staring at him in an agonized way, her mouth wide open.

He called in neighbors, and when their combined efforts failed to budge the jaw, they sent for a surgeon.

Sheehan Wants Depew's Seat

New York, Dec. 30.—William F. Sheehan made formal announcement of his candidacy for the United States senate last night, in a letter addressed to Mayor Fuhrman of Buffalo.

Castellane Must Pay Tailor's Bill

Paris, Dec. 30.—In court here a tailor obtained a judgment for 12,185 francs, or $2437, against Count Boni de Castellane, the former husband of Anna Gould.

AMUSEMENTS

DOINGS ON THE STAGE OF

LOCAL AND BOSTON THEATRES

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

New England theatre-goers are manifesting unusual interest in the engagement of Henry W. Savage's production of "Madame X," Bisson's great emotional drama at the Majestic Theatre, which electrified all Europe for a year, and ran almost as long to consistently crowded houses in Chicago and New York last season. The plot of this sensational play is typically French, and concerns an unhappy woman who is driven from home for infidelity. Her husband regrets his harshness and searches for, but fails to find the erring wife. She becomes an adventuress and addicted to the use of liquor. While in a maudlin mood she talks of her past, and gives her companion the idea of blackmailing her former husband, who has become the president of the civil tribunal. Her associate makes known his intention, and when she begs of him to desist and he refuses, she strikes him dead in anger. She is arrested but refuses to attempt any defence or to make known her identity; hence the title of "Madame X." When arraigned in court the counsel assigned her is her own twenty-year old son. He is ignorant of the fact that his client is his mother. Despite its being his first case, he pleads so well that the woman is acquitted. In trying to diminish the culpability of the accused, he denounces the man who, out of pride, had driven her to what she had become, not knowing of course that the man is his father, who is a spectator at the trial. The compelling power of this situation is apparent, and the drama reaches its climax in the court room scene. Although given her freedom, the mysterious "Madame X" seeks a different way out of her difficulty, thus bringing the play to a logical but surprising conclusion.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" has started on the most auspicious of careers at the Castle Square. Its second week begins on Monday, and there promises to be a continuance of the enthusiasm that has greeted it ever since its opening two days before Christmas. Mary Young has made an emphatic hit as Jack, and she plays the boy to perfection. Mr. Craig's Sinbad the Sailor is youthful and merry, and Donald Meek as the Fairy Queen is as comic a jester as anybody could wish. The scenic production, the music, the dancing—especially the work done by Ethel Daggett and Clayton Robinson—the humor and the characters drawn from Mother Goose and the Arabian Nights, all combine to make "Jack and the Beanstalk" thebest of holiday productions. It is apparently in for a long run at the Castle Square.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

The first week of the New Year at B. F. Keith's theatre will open most auspiciously with a splendid programme of strong comedy and novelty features. Nearly all are new to Boston. Dainty little Ethel Green, formerly of "The Rose of Algeria" and "Dick Whittington," will appear in a new act written especially for her, introducing some original songs and dances. Jean Bedini and Roy Arthur, the world famous burlesque comedians, will make their first appearance here in several years in a scramingly funny act. These men are the best travesty artists now on the stage, and the mere announcement of theire ngagement in sufficient to guarantee plenty of hearty laughs. Another team of fun makers will be Noey and Lee, the Hebrew comedians, who will present their new act in which they appear as two Hebrew patrolmen who are serving their probationary period on the police force. Another new feature will be the Four Song Writers, "Monarchs of Melody," who will make their first appearance in Boston next week. James Neil and Edythe Chapman will present an original comedy called "The Lady Across the Hall;" Sebastian Merrill Company, just returned from a seven years' tour of the world, will introduce the famous "Merrill trick," a feat that only Mr. Merrill and the late Ralph Johnstone, aviator and trick bicyclist, have been able to perform. Other strong features are Hathaway, Kelly and Mack in novelty songs and dances; and the Van der Koors, quack illusionists, introducing the famous "Felix," the mind reading duck.

WITH THE ACTORS.

When at the Comedy Theatre, I once received an application from a young man who desired to see me on a matter of urgent importance. I wrote him, asking to be informed as to the nature of his business. He replied that it was personal and private, but of extreme urgency, and asked for an interview. I gave him an appointment, and he called to see me, when I learned that his object was to place his services at my disposal. His doctor, he informed me, had ordered him to take a complete rest, or in any case to employ himself in some way that required absolutely no brain work! So he had decided to go upon the stage. —Charles Hawtrey, in Strand Magazine.

STUTTERED HUMOR.

They are reviving that delightful old one of W. R. Travers concerning his discovery that Henry Clews was proud of the fact that he was a self-made man. Next time he met the banker, Mr. Travers eyed him intently.

"Well," inquired Mr. Clews, impatiently, "what's the matter?"

"Is it t-true that you are a s-self-made m-man?"

"Certainly," replied Mr. Clews.

"W-well ,while you were about it, w-why didn't you p-put more hair on the top of your head?"

Mr. Clews, who had been invited to a famous fancy dress ball, met Mr. Travers and asked for a suggestion as to the character he could best represent.

"S-say, Clews," stammered his friend, "why d-don't you sugar coat your head and go as a p-pill?"—New York Telegraph.

—The deadly assault on soldiers' monuments in this country, which was a feature of a convention in Washington the past week, was in the interest of art rather than war. The country has developed a critical taste in sculpture since the early 70's.—Springfield Republican.

My Lungs "I have coughed and coughed until my lungs are sore and weak." Go at once to your doctor. Do not delay another hour. Ask him all about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then take it or not, as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Famous Rayo

Gives the Best Light at Any Price

When you pay more than the Rayo price for a lamp, you are paying for extra decorations that cannot add to the quality of the light. You can't pay for a better light, because there is none. An oil light has the least effect on the human eye, and the Rayo Lamp is the best oil lamp made, though low in price. You can pay $5, $10, or $20 for some other lamp, and although you get a more costly lamp, you can't get a better light than the white, mellow, diffused, unflickering light of the low-priced Rayo.

Has a strong, durable shade-holder. This season's burner adds to the strength and appearance. Made of solid brass, nickeled, and easily polished.

Once a Rayo User, Always One

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

GRAND CLEARANCE SALE

Beginning Thursday, Dec. 29

Bargains in Every Department

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

The Shirt Waist Store

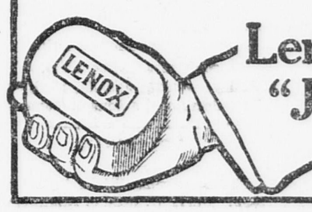
A cake of Lenox Soap is the best value, in the way of a laundry soap, that money can buy.

There are soaps that sell for less; but most of them are dear at any price.

Lenox is the cheapest of good soaps; the best of medium-priced soaps.



Lenox Soap—"Just fits the hand"

COAL

CRR

Barge No. 4

Just Unloaded

562 TONS PEA

434 " LEHIGH EGG

Direct from the Mines

Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter

REMEMBER

C. PATCH & SON, Inc.

1422 Hancock Street

A GOOD PRESENT

For Every Day in the Year.

A Year's Subscription to the

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Subscribe now and see how much pleasure you get each day from

THE HOME DAILY

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	46 degrees
December 30, 1909,	12 degrees
December 30, 1908,	34 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum. 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Quincy Market—Challenge Sale.
R. E. Foy & Co.—Stock Reducing Sale.
Entertainment and Dance.
Marigan's Market
Wrestling Matches
For Sale.
Lost.

BRIEFS

Carl Sherbourne of South street, is home from Toronto for the holidays.

John W. Hall of Hancock street is confined to his home by illness.

John L. Miller, chairman of the School Committee, is in New York on a business trip.

Councilman Richards returned on Thursday evening from a western business trip.

The Finnish lodge of Good Temperance had its regular bi-weekly meeting in Protection hall Thursday evening.

Councilman Bryant returned from New York today where he has been officiating as a judge at the poultry show.

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., are spending a portion of the Christmas vacation with Mrs. H. C. Burns of Granite street.

The Amalgamated Society of Engineers held its regular business meeting in Room 22, Johnson building, Thursday evening.

Mrs. R. E. Armstrong will entertain St. Margarets Guild of Christ church at the rectory this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The committee and members of Paul J. Revere, W. R. C. 103, will leave on the 1.14 train Saturday afternoon to visit the Soldiers' home at Chelsea.

Officers and members of Maple lodge K. and L. of H. 313 attended the funeral this afternoon of Hiram W. Campbell, a past protector. They sent a beautiful floral triangle.

R. E. Foy & Co., have completed stock taking and are offering some good values for the New Year. Some of the specials are announced in today's Ledger.

ALLEN RAY SPEAR.

Several Quincy friends attended on Thursday the funeral of Allen Ray Spear, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ray Spear, at the Baptist church at Randolph. There was a very large atendance including many of his former playmates who sang different selections. The parents and Mr. Spear's father accompanied the body east from Indianapolis. The pastor of the church officiated and the burial was at the Randolph cemetery.

Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

BARGAINS AT MARIGAN'S MARKET
opp. Music Hall

Short Legs Lamb	13c
Fore Quarters Lamb	9c
Roast Beef	10 &12c
Fancy Brisket	12c

1522 HANCOCK STREET
Dec. 30-1t

DEATHS

THOMAS—In Wollaston, Dec. 29, Ernest Lee son of Mr. John C. and Mrs. Bertha Thomas of 379 Belmont street, aged 10 years 5 months and 18 days.

MILLER—In Braintree, Dec. 29, Mr. Frank H. Miller, aged 68 years.

SHEA—In Atlantic, Dec. 28, Mr. Jeremiah J. Shea, of 8 Water street.

MARBLE—In Milton, Dec. 29, Mrs. Elizabeth A., wife of Mr. James H. Marble of Central avenue, aged 77 years.

WILSON—In Quincy, Dec. 30, Henry G. Wilson of 267 Granite street in his 51st year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

AUXILIARY OFFICERS.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans has elected these officers:

President, Mrs. Annie M. Smith.
Vice President, Mrs. Abbie Our.
Treasurer, Mrs. Emma Ela.
Secretary, Mrs. Mildred Dexheimer.
Chaplain, Mrs. M. A. Holbrook.
Guide, Mrs. Cora Johnson.
Assistant Guide, Mrs. Annie Merritt.
Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. Minnie Glover.
Color Guards, Mrs. Sadie Baker and Miss Florence Hart.
Inside Guard, Mrs. Hattie Reed.
Outside Guard, Mrs. Emma Blagden.
Trustees, Mrs. Mildred Dexheimer, Mrs. Cora Johnson and Mrs. Abbie Our Delegates to Division Encampment, Mrs. Cora Johnson and Mrs. S. Thayer.
Alternates, Mrs. Abbie Our and Mrs. Hattie Reed.
Delegates to National Encampment, Mrs. Gregg.
Alternate, Mrs. Annie Merritt.

These officers will be installed Wednesday, evening, Jan. 11, jointly with the officers of the Sons of Veterans.

PERSONAL.

The Observant Citizen in the Post says: Harry W. Read of Atlantic, who entertained a party of 23 guests at a unique Thanksgiving day celebration at his summer place Camp Kitnalta, Pembroke, has been having a lively time the past few days fishing through the ice of Lake Winnipesaukee in New Hampshire. With 13 other Boston business and processional men Mr. Read arrived at Camp Windleblow, Wolfboro, last Wednesday. Their friends are anxiously awaiting their return next week, in expectation of some handsome and succulent trout, pickerel and black bass.

HOW HE KEPT BUSY.

One day last fall, on the loneliest coast on Cape Cod bay, the writer ran across an old man living all by himself in a little shack hardly large enough for a chicken coop.

He was carefully sewing on a net and smoking a corncob pipe. One would think, to look at the situation, that a month of such solitude would land a man in a mad-house.

"Don't you get awfully lonesome here, uncle Ned?" I asked.

"Who, me?" he replied cherfully, "Well, I should say not. No, sir-ree."

"Why, uncle Ned, what on earth do you do to keep you busy?"

"Who, me? Why, let me see"—musingly—"sometimes I sets and thinks, and sometimes I jes' sets!"—Success Magazine.

THE STRICT TRUTH.

Bill Flint was a mute, inglorious Edward Payson Weston, with a dash of the Wandering Jew, and, like George Washington, his veracity batting average was 1,000. He was a Massachusetts farm hand, but about once in every two or three years the Wanderlust would hit him, he would pack up his old knapsack, and disappear down the dusty road, for three, six or sometimes twelve months. His last disappearance had spanned eleven months to a day. It was September when he returned, picked up a cutter, and began to reap the corn.

"Whar you bin, Bill?" asked the farmer, who always took him back.

"Bin to Floridy," said Bill.

"Walk all the way?"

"No," said Bill, "I can't honestly say's I did. You see, 'bout ten mile south o' Charleston a feller come along in a waggin an' offered me a lift. Couldn't seem to see why I should walk of I didn't have to, an' was pretty insistent, like them Southerners when they set out to be hospitable. So I had to climb in an' I rode with him quite a spell—maybe two mile."—Everybody's.

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

At the Coliseum
Opposite Quincy Station
TUESDAY, JAN. 3
Wrestling Matches
BOB SOMERVILLE vs
WALTER SAXON of Buffalo
ALLI HASSAN
vs.
THE BIG GREEK
BOB PARRINGTON
vs.
YOUNG ROVER
Also Local Matches
All finished matches; catch as catch can
Admission, 50, 35 and 25c
Balcony reserved for Ladies
Dec. 30-1t

JOHN EVANS AT CAPITAL

Takes Ledger Readers on Personally Conducted Tour

Editors of Quincy Ledger:

All is quiet on the Potomac. So we can take our promised trip across the river to old Virginia. As we are to make our start from the Capital we must take the Georgetown car. Say when you are all in, all right, now we must change again into another car to go across the bridge, and sure enough here we are at Arlington. This large Colonial mansion is the former home of Gen. Lee. At the commencement of the Rebellion he left his home and all his property and cast his lot with the south, where he fought valiantly through the war, for what he believed was right, but greatly mistaken. You better sign your name in that big book on the table, my name was signed ten years ago. This is the national cemetery where thousands of our noble heroes, men that gave their lives that we may have a free united country.

Let us see what is "the inscription cut in this monument, here it is," "Beneath this stone repose the bones of two thousand, one hundred and eleven unknown soldiers gathered after the war, from the fields of Bull Run, and the route to the Rappahannock. Their remains could not be identified, but their names and deaths are recorded in the archives of their country, and it's grateful country honor them as as of their noble army of martyrs. May they rest in peace."

Well it will not do for us to stay here too long, because I want to take you to the top of Washington monument. Here we are; get into the elevator. Say, don't crowd, we must take turns. Yes, it costs twenty-five cents but I will see to that. Now we are at the top, over 500 feet high. It is too bad that this grand monument was built on such low ground, it would be far better on Capitol hill or even Mt. Pleasant.

Now if you are ready we will take the train for the old city of Alexandria, Va. Look through the car windows and see those mules dragging those wagons through the mud. These are the worst roads I ever saw; the vehicles to the hubs in red mud. Now here is the city with filthy, dirty streets. But look here is the house where the gallant Col. Elsworth was shot by a rebel, when he was coming down these stairs after pulling down a confederate flag from the roof. This is the church the great Washington use to attend. Let us go in, it is always open. You better go and sit in his pew. It is too bad that you could not have a good sermon now from that old-fashioned pulpit.

I think we better leave this ancient landmark and take this boat for Mt. Vernon. You see we don't have much time to stay in one place, because our tickets are only good for ten days, so we must soon return to old Quincy. But we are at the landing at Mt. Vernon and here is our guide an old colored man. Now he is showing us the tomb of Washington. He explains everything as though he was his coachman. Here is the coach, a very old one to be sure, whether it was Washington's or not. Now we go into the house. It is a fine old mansion, overlooking the Potomac. I don't wonder that the man that was "first in war, first in peace and first in the heart of his countrymen" yearned to spend a few years at the end of his hard labor, in this beautiful spot on the shores of this river. Oh, yes! we must follow our guide. See he is showing us the room where Washington died, and even the bed he died in. There are steps to go up to the bed, it is so high from the floor. And here is Martha's bed-room, and here is the old spinning wheel, that she used to make her homespun garments. How would the Quincy girls like to have one of those machines?

But look here we must run to catch that boat; it is coming up the river. Hurry up, be careful, it is rather slippery down this hill. Next time if not too tired, I am going to take you through Philadelphia, and take you through the big library. Quincy boys cut the stone from Barker's quarry for it thirty-eight years ago. I may also take you through the coal mines of Pennsylvania.

Yours truly,
John Evans.

Washington, Dec. 28, 1910.

Hoax—"I suppose it's pretty hard to write a really trustworthy history of politics."

Joax—"Yes; the principal dates in it are bound to conflict. How do you mean? What dates? Candidates."

KIRKALDY, SCOTTISH GOLFER, A HUMORIST.

Andrew Kirkaldy, the well known Scotch professional, who has recently been appointed the professional at the Royal and Ancient club at St. Andrews, Scotland, is celebrated for his dry wit. Once a noble lord invited to luncheon four professionals who had played an exhibition match over a new course. Three of them retired to make their toilet, and, noticing that Kirkaldy lingered behind, his lordship said, "Come this way, Kirkaldy." "What for?" said Andy. "Oh," replied his host, "you want to wash your hands, don't you?" "What," cried Andy, "and spoil ma grip! Nae fear." At a certain club the tees for the women were ill defined, and it was decided to put in new sand boxes appropriately re-marked. This was told to Andy, who remarked, "A good notion, sir, and, I tell ye, just paint a big L on them and they'll know where to go."

HE IS SHY A LEG, BUT WANTS A RACE

Basilio Ferro of Canada With Aid of Crutch Ready to Hobble.

Mutilated athletes are on the warpath.

Basilio Ferro, the well known one legged runner of North Bay, Canada, has challenged any one legged runner in Ontario or Canada to a race from five to ten miles, with a side bet of from $100 to $200.

The above challenge will remind veteran sportsmen of a one legged race that took place years ago in Ottawa between a Major Strutfield and a gentleman named Jarvis.

Crutches were admissible according to the agreement of this race, but artificial legs were barred.

There was a handicap for the man who had lost his leg most recently, because it was considered that the other had an advantage in being more accustomed to running on one leg.

The major won.

The day also is not far distant when the title of one armed golf champion of the world will be sought for. John Haskings, the one armed champion of Great Britain, is planning to visit America next season and is anxious to meet Charles Hyde of Wichita, the one armed player who competed in the recent western amateur championship at the Homewood club, near Chicago.

Judge Shields of Omaha is another one handed golf star. He and Mr. Hyde met this season during the transmississippi championship at Des Moines.

New York has two well known single arm players. They are Arthur S. Lyons, professional of the Briarcliff club of Ossining, N. Y., and Dr. P. A. Morrow, amateur of the Richmond County Country club, Staten Island.

JOHN HASKINGS, ONE ARMED GOLFER, WHO WILL VISIT AMERICA NEXT SEASON.

Lyons, whose right arm is withered, began driving a horse mower on the Briarcliff links. Finally he became greenskeeper. Later he took up practice with clubs and developed a cross body stroke which is as effective as it is original. He gets a long, true ball and is dangerous on the putting green.

The Essex County Country club of New Jersey has a one armed caddie, Louis Angels, who is becoming formidable, and an attempt is being made to arrange a match between him and another one armed player at the Forest Hills club links in Newark.

Umpire Emslie to Be Pensioned.

Taking it for granted in advance that he cannot pass their newly inaugurated and justly celebrated eye test for umpires, the National league club owners have decided to pension Bob Emslie, the veteran of their judicial staff and retire him even from bench duty.

It is the first time in modern baseball that an umpire has been permanently rewarded with a pension, although not the first time in its history that the National league has rewarded loyalty.

Plenty of Rowing For Tigers In 1911.

Princeton university will go in for rowing in earnest next spring.

BALLOON RECORD FOR YACHTSMAN

Leroy Taylor of New York After Distance Mark.

WACO, TEX., TO MANHATTAN.

Possible to Cover Air Line of 1,800 Miles In Forty Hours—Leo Stevens, Professional Acronaut, to Accompany Clubman to Beat Count de la Vaulx's Flight of 1,193 Miles.

Hope of breaking the world's record for balloon flights, which has stood for ten years, possesses Leroy Taylor, a member of the New York Yacht, the Larchmont Yacht, Lambs and other clubs, and he will try to bring the trophy to America by a flight to start within the next few weeks from Waco, Tex.

His associate will be Lee Stevens, a well known professional balloonist. The balloon is to be the largest spherical one ever made.

Waco was selected as the starting point after much consideration, in which the meteorological observations of the weather bureau figured largely. Favorable wind currents will give a balloon ascending there the longest possible flight in the general direction of New York.

Won't Face Ocean Dangers.

Waco is sufficiently inland almost to obviate the danger of being blown out to sea. There are few mountain ranges to be passed, and these are of secondary importance so far as size and effect upon winds are concerned.

Again, Waco is within the zone of comparatively steady blowing winds at certain seasons of the year. It is in the hope of getting one from the southwest that the flight has been timed for January.

The balloon will carry water and provisions for a month. This is considered essential, as long stretches of desert land must be passed over and the aeronauts may have to land where water and food are unobtainable.

Taylor is an enthusiastic amateur at the balloon game. He has been in several competitions and recently flew from Pittsfield, Mass., to a point near there in a snowstorm. He helped organize the fliers among members of the New York Yacht, Larchmont Yacht and Lambs clubs who are interested in balloons or aeroplanes.

The present record for length of flight is held by Count de la Vaulx, who with St. Victor rode from Vincennes, France, to Korostychew, Russia, 1,193 miles, in October, 1900. They were not in the air long enough, however, to give them the endurance record. This is held by Clifford Harmon, who in October, 1910, in a flight from St. Louis remained aloft for forty-eight hours and twenty-six minutes, though he covered nowhere near the distance the Frenchman did.

Just Missed Records.

In the same month Hawley and Post made their sensational flight from St. Louis. It will be remembered they were lost to the world for about a week; then their safe landing was reported from the Canadian backwoods. It was established that they had remained up aloft for forty-five hours and fifty-six minutes and had covered 1,171 miles, both performances just short of world's records.

On an air line the distance from Waco to New York is approximately 1,800 miles, which under highly favoring conditions could be covered readily in less than forty hours. This would mean traveling at an average speed of a little less than forty miles an hour. The balloon now being built is being developed along lines that it is hoped will permit it to remain aloft from sixty to seventy-two hours. The ordinary duration of a balloon's gas charge is about forty-eight hours.

The craft will take months to build. It will have a lifting power of 13,000 pounds. As the bag and basket carrying two men and fully equipped will weigh about 5,000 pounds, this will allow 8,000 pounds of ballast. The bag is built of two thicknesses of special linen, with rubber between. It has been found that linen is far better for such use than silk, not alone on account of its greater toughness, but because the silk is a too ready conductor for electricity, with its attendant danger to the gas.

WONDERFUL SCHOOL RECORD.

Four Children of One Family Punctual For Thirty-two Years.

Few families can boast of the school attendance record of the four children of J. R. Dannatt, assistant overseer of Newchurch, Isle of Wight, who have been connected with the local school for seventeen years.

They have attended for an aggregate of thirty-two years and one month without missing a single attendance. The record is as follows: Harry Dannatt, five years and five months; Charlie, ten years and five months; Nellie, seven years and ten months, and Ada, eight years and five months. The school is about two miles from the family's residence, and the distance traveled by the quartet in journeying to and from school exceeds 30,000 miles.

Smooth Running Cars Soon?

Ball bearings for street car axles are being tried out by a big car building concern.

PERAMBULATING THEATER FRANCE'S LATEST SCHEME.

Will Travel by Automobile and Seat 1,500 Persons.

A perambulating theater fitted with the latest scenic appliances and seating 1,500 persons will take the road in France. As in the days of Moliere, performances will be given wherever there is a favored spot, but instead of the chariots and horses there will be a train of eight automobiles, drawing twenty-one cars.

The idea originated with Firmin Gemier, a well known Parisian theater director, and it became public through the fine arts report of Deputy Paul Goncourt. The following details of the scheme were announced:

"Local and provincial theaters usually are insufficient for fine dramatic productions. Moreover, many communities have no theaters. The whole idea is based on decentralization and the wish to carry culture to the provinces. I intend to give the classics and the best modern plays. When I arrive at a town I shall erect a tent with a stage, boxes, orchestra seats, drops, wings, scenery—everything complete, including a central lighting and heating plant. Thanks to a new system, the lighting will be as good as in the best theaters.

"Special new scenery will be prepared for every play. There will be twenty actors, directed by myself, and I shall employ forty machinists. We shall sell seats from 20 to 60 cents apiece and will spare no pains to make the productions perfect in every way. We cannot travel fast—perhaps only six miles an hour—but we shall at least travel surely. We expect a great success."

Town Topics.

Between burglaries and violent assaults, Indianapolis is getting to be a better town than ever to stay at home in o' nights.—Indianapolis News.

If New York must celebrate its three hundredth birthday next year, why not a geographical congress to teach it something about the extent and location of the rest of the world?—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Boston police are commanded to arrest one spitter today, two tomorrow, three the next day, and so on until all the people are in jail or expectoration has stopped. Hooray for Boston!—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Paternalism In Groceries.

Paternalism with a vengeance is practiced in certain New York groceries. It is benevolent paternalism, though.

"Ma wants two pounds of sugar," said a child to a patriarch in the trade.

He consulted a calendar on the wall.

"I guess you'd better take only a pound today," he said, "and go kind of slow on that. The week is only half gone, but you have already eaten up three-fourths of your allowance. Tell your mother so."

The child promised to deliver the report on financial depression.

"That is the only way on earth to keep those people from running into debt," said the grocer. "The system is common in this neighborhood. I do it at the customers' request. Every pay day women with spendthrift husbands and an extravagant disposition of their own deposit enough money with the grocer and butcher to see the family through the week. They instruct us to let no one overdraw the amount and except in cases where extra food is actually needed we stick to our end of the bargain."—New York Times.

The hobble skirt so narrow is
In spots we scarce can find it.
There's one thing sure—poor man would have A job to hide behind it.
—Boston Herald.

"Alexander the Great," states the teacher, "was a very sensitive man and wept because he could not bear defeat. What do you understand by this, Johnnie?"

"He couldn't get his shoes off, teacher."—Chicago Post.

She calls me on the telephone.
I have not seen her, so
Just what she may be to my sight
Is yet for me to know.
But there is music in her voice—
Such music that I feel
My eyes will see the loveliness
That now my ears reveal.
—New York Press.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Black male Spaniel, six months old small collar no name on same. Return and reward. D. Desmond, 40 Quincy avenue. Dec. 30-2t

LOST—In the Quincy Post office or nearby on Thursday afternoon, ladies gold bowed spectacles. Finder will please notify 25 Bigelow street. Dec. 30-2t

LOST—Monday night in vicinity of Quincy Station, a Black Fur Automobile Mitten Gauntlet. Notify Quincy Garage. Dec. 28-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1 No. 3 Cavicchi portable pneumatic polishing machine complete, in use less than one month. 1 Ingersoll-Rand Co. belt driven air compressor, 39 cubic feet capacity, complete with unloader and 16" by 60" air receiver. The Wrayton-Githens Co., 200-202 Congress street, Boston, Mass. Dec. 30-6t

WANTED

WANTED— Experienced girl for general housework. Mrs. C. F. Pettengill, 53 Revere road. Dec. 27-3t

WANTED

Boys for office work. Apply to MR. COGAN. Fore River Ship building Co. Dec. 28-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished room. 117 Upland road, N. B. Corthell. Dec. 28-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—A suite of 6 rooms and bath, set range, furnace heat, electric light and gas. Centrally located. Inquire at 28 Federal ave. Tel. 892 L Dec. 2-24t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 10 tf

TO LET

Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.

Greenleaf Hall—Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.

City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x48 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
8 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb

TELEPHONE CON HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '05
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.

MAKE YOUR PURCHASES FROM LEDGER ADVERTISERS.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Vol. 25 No. 304 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 31, 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

1911 NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS

IVORY GAVEL FOR PRESIDENT HOBBS

Closing Meeting of the City Council of 1910 ---Several Bouquets Presented

Amendment to the Police Ordinance Defeated

The City Council of 1910 passed into history with the adjourned meeting of last evening. It was a harmonious meeting and there was but little debate. The usual bouquets were passed. The sharp-edged hatchet was buried. Everybody shook hands with everybody else, and wished them a happy New Year, and when President Hobbs left for home he carried with him a handsome ivory gavel the gift of the members of the Council of 1910.

Councilmen Loud, Sandberg and Woodward were absent.

APPOINTMENTS.

A communication was received from the Mayor appointing Duncan J. McLennan, William W. Cushing, Augustus Murphy, Murdock Lamont and Frank S. Patch as weighers. Confirmed.

POLICE TRANSFERS.

A communication was received from the Mayor with inclosure from the Chief of Police requesting certain transfers. Laid on the table until later, when Councilman Bryant offered orders transferring $290 from "Miscellaneous City" to "Miscellaneous Police," and $100 received from sale of horse in the Police department to "Miscellaneous Police." Adopted.

LICENSE GRANTED.

A petition was received from Charles H. Johnson for an auctioneers license. Laid on the table until later when it was granted.

ASSISTANT ENGINEERS.

The joint Committee on Finance and Fire Department reported reference to the Executive department on the order increasing the salaries of the assistant engineers of the Fire department. Accepted.

TRANSFERS.

The Finance Committee reported an order making certain transfers in the School Department appropriation. Order adopted.

The Committee on Licenses reported orders granting minor licenses. Adopted.

SPECIAL POLICE.

On motion of Councilman McDevitt, the order amending the Police ordinance so as to provide that when a reserve or special officer took the place of a regular officer he should receive the same pay as the regular officer, was taken up.

The order took its second reading and on motion of Councilman McDevitt the rules were suspended.

There was then some debate on the order, Councilmen McDevitt, Smith and Flynn favoring, and Councilmen Gardner, Whiton and Clark opposing. On roll call the order failed to pass, 8 voting yes, and 8 no, as follows:

YES—Boyd, Cantfill, Carey, Flynn, Histen, McDevitt, Moir, Smith—8.

NO—Bolster, Branch, Bryant, Clark, Ericson, Gardner, Nowland, Whiton—8.

NOT VOTING—President Hobbs.

ABSENT—Cherrington, Loud, Richards, Sandberg, Woodward—5.

CLAIRMONT AVENUE.

The order accepting Clairmont avenue took its second reading and was passed under suspension of the rules. Councilmen Branch and Nowland voting no.

WILLARD STREET.

The order appropriating $500 for a retaining wall and catch basins on Willard street took its second reading and was passed under suspension of the rules. Councilmen Branch, Gardner and Nowland voting no.

TRANSFER.

The order transfering $500 to repair of public buildings from the street lighting appropriation, took its second reading and was passed under suspension of the rules.

(Continued on Page 2.)

CARPETS
Oriental Domestic RUGS
Floor Coverings
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
At Lowest Possible Prices
John H. Pray & Sons Co
Established 1852
646-658 Washington St, Opposite Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

ODD FELLOWS AS BEARERS

Funeral Services of Hiram W. Campbell

The funeral of Hiram W. Campbell of Copeland street West Quincy, was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. L. Badger of 43 Crescent street Friday afternoon at 2.30, Rev. Carl H. Raupach, pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church, officiating. Mrs. Moore and Miss Coe sang "Same day we'll understand," "Nearer, My God to Thee," and "Out of the darkness, into the Light."

Rev. Carl H. Raupach spoke on some triumphs of the Christian faith, and in eulogy, spoke of Mr. Campbell as a faithful husband, a kind father, a highly respected citizen, and also spoke at some length of the part he played in the late Civil War, as a faithful soldier. Although a veteran of the war, he was not a member of Post 88 G. A. R. of this city.

For a number of years he has been an efficient member of the board of trustees of the Hall Place M. E. church.

A large number of friends and relatives were present at the service. The flowers were many and beautiful, a silent tribute to the esteem in which Mr. Campbell was held by all who knew him. Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows, and the Knights and Ladies of Honor sent tributes. The following Odd Fellows were bearers: Past Grand Tobias H. Burke, Past Grand William J. Williams, Past Grand Alex Shirley and Bro. George Turner.

Mr. Campbell was in his 67th year. He leaves one son, James H. Campbell and on daughter Mrs. F. L. Badger.

WILL BE GREATLY MISSED.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Moyle of Nightingale avenue left today for Newport, R. I., where they are to visit Mrs. Moyle's sister.

For the past few years Mr. and Mrs. Moyle have been faithful workers at the Hall Place M. E. church where by their kindness and helpful deeds they have endeared themselves to all. Mr. Moyle was the first president of the Fowler chapter of the Methodist brotherhood of this church, a member of the official board and assistant superintendent of the Sunday School. He was an active worker in the recent evangelistic campaign so successfully carried out in the church during the month of October, and helped and strengthened many in the Christian faith, as well as helped to lead others into the Kingdom. Both Mr. and Mrs. Moyle have stood loyally by their pastor, ready to aid him and the cause of Christ in any way possible. They have been loyal, consistent Christians ever exhibiting and maintaining a high standard of Christian love and fellowship and the true Christlike spirit toward all.

Mr. Moyle, at a recent quarterly conference held at the Hall Place M. E. church, was granted a license to preach, and expects very soon to enter the ministry, probably going into the East Maine conference. Their many friends in West Quincy wish them God-speed, and the best of success in their work, for while all are sorry to part with these friends yet they are glad to know that it is the call to larger service that takes them to another part of the great field of labor, and though greatly missed by all they will not be forgotten by any, but will always find a hearty welcome awaiting them at West Quincy. At the Friday night prayer meeting at the Hall Place M. E. church, Rev. Carl H. Raupach presented Mr. and Mrs. Moyle with a gift as a token of remembrance.

READ LEDGER ADVS.

ANNUAL OF CLAN McGREGOR

Drama "Out West" Presented, Followed by Dance

Clan MacGregor, O. S. C., held its thirtieth annual entertainment and dance last night and on this occasion presented the drama "Out West."

Walter H. Murray deserves great credit for the manner in which the play was given by a body of amateur players, everyone of whom seemed to be bent on the idea of doing their very best and succeeded.

The cast included:

Reginald Lewis	Dic Williams
Wallace Merrick	Ernest J. Collins
Jethro Putnam	John Q. Giles
Major Rounds	William L. Troupe
John Ray	James Cowie
Jerry	Walter H. Murray
Mike Moriarty	George Graff
Joe Haskell	James Ross
Detective	James D. M. Stewart
Lucille Ray	Jennie G. Grassick
Mrs. Stick	Georgie Michael
Claire Montague	Margaret Collins
Samantha Putnam	Viola Cahn
Cisy	Florence Williams

The scenes were well staged and showed what can be done at Music hall, when the genial scene shifter, Henry Furnald is given an opportunity. Every player seemed to be adapted for the respective parts and where all did so well it is hardly possible to single out any particular part as being preeminent over the others.

The drama portrayed the old story of love and revenge and kept the audience deeply interested for two hours and one half. The scenes shifted from Cripple Creek, Colorado to New York city, while the fortunes of the various characters were being portrayed.

After the play, dancing was in order and the grand march was participated in by about one hundred and fifty couples.

Walter H. Murray was floor director, ably assisted by John K. Souden. Dancing was continued until 3 A. M. Music was furnished by Garmary's orchestra.

Chief James M. Birnie and his amusement committee deserve credit for the excellent entertainment and dance held this year.

BIRTHDAY DANCE.

One of the prettiest and surely one of the happiest parties ever held in Colonial hall was that of last evening, a dance given by Dr. and Mrs. John F. Welch for their daughter Marjorie in observance of her eighteenth birthday. There were about fifty young people present as well as several friends of Dr. and Mrs. Welch.

Mrs. Welch was gowned in white and was assisted in receiving by Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick, who was in black with a most effective black and silver scarf. The guests were ushered by Thomas Hardwick, John Nolan and Ambler Welch.

After all had been received, dancing was enjoyed until after eleven o'clock, music being furnished by Wilson's orchestra. There were all the favorite round dances, with ribbon and favor Germans, Virginia reel and Portland fancy the latter being especially enjoyed.

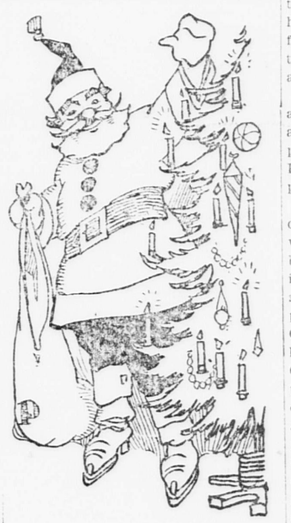
During intermission ices were served and between the dances punch refreshed the dancers.

Miss Welch was in white with blue ribbon garniture in her hair and carried a large bouquet of violets. She received the congratulations of her young friends in her usual happy cordial way and the evening was seemingly as enjoyable to her as to her guests.

YULETIDE FOR NORWEGIANS

Party at Protection Hall with Tree and Santa Claus

Yuletide was observed by the Norwegian society of Quincy by a very pretty party in Protection hall last evening. About 200 members and friends of the society gathered for a Christmas tree festival. Santa Claus (alias Alex Anderson) distributed gifts from the tree among the children and all were served with coffee, cake, cookies, etc. During the evening Johnson's orchestra furnished music, and after the Christmas tree was removed the young people enjoyed dancing until a late hour. Young and old alike seemed to be enjoying themselves thoroughly, and the celebration was characteristic of the people from the Scandanavian peninsula.



The committee on arrangements was composed of the following: Charles Helliksen, chairman, Harry Hanson, John Ljverud and Andrew Olsen.

INTERESTED IN ATLANTIC.

The funeral of Jeremiah E. Hayes, the oldest resident of Atlantic, was held this morning from the Sacred Heart church, and was largely attended. Mass was celebrated by Rev. James McNiff. The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Hayes has been a long resident of Atlantic, and was one of those deeply interested in the building of the Sacred Heart church which he personally helped to build.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM.

The fire department was called out on another false alarm Friday afternoon, the fourth within twenty-four hours. This time the alarm came from Box 173, and was sounded at 4.33. People who rushed out found the box open but no one near it.

NORTH WEYMOUTH FIRE.

The cottages at Monatiquot Bluff, North Weymouth, were threatened by fire last night which destroyed the cottage of Mrs. Mary E. Whitehouse of East Boston. The fire was discovered about 11 P. M., and but little of the furniture was saved. It was an eight room house built last spring, and has not been occupied since September. The loss is estimated at $4,000. Cause was probably incendiary.

☞An important date—Jan. 3—Quincy Music hall—Choral Society "Creation" concert.

CARROTY NELL BY ST. MARYS GUILD

Cast Taken Entirely by Ladies and Only Four Men Were Admitted

Some Great Cake Walks and Gambols by "Lunatics"

An old saying assures us that "every dog has his day," and yesterday was certainly the day for those lucky dogs who were sent to cover the play given by St. Mary's Catholic Guild. With the exception of Fr. Grady and Fr. Duffy, the inkslingers were the only males in sight. So awestricken were the men below stairs in St. Mary's hall by the sight of 150 women en force, that not one of them dared even to peek through the crack in the door at the rear of the hall.

The evening's entertainment began at 8.30 when Miss Addie Barron played a very pleasing violin solo, accompanied by her sister Miss Elizabeth Barron. Between the acts they also played several selections.

The curtain rose on a scene in the orphan's home where the five inmates were standing. Carroty Nell, who had been found in the street and brought into the home was looked upon with scorn by the other four, but she soon proved her fitness to be called the Queen. The matron and the housekeeper were suddenly called away and Carroty Nell takes command. When the visitors with a view to adoption come in, the pseudo-matron with the auburn tresses comes back at them to pay up for all the treatment she had received from previous callers. The old maid, the gushing society girls, and the helpful gleaners, are all received with open arms. Little Beth, the daughter of a wealthy widow; and Hebe, her German nurse, are pressed into service as orphans. The orphans are exhibited to the visitors and Carroty Nell, who is dressed as the matron, puts them through their paces.

At the close of the first act, the five visitors are left seated in the centre of the room awaiting a visit from some of the poor demented from a neighboring lunatic asylum, whom they are to entertain. Carroty Nell warns the visitors that these lunatics must be humored or they may become violent, and the visitors are pretty nervous and fidgety when the guests from the asylum arrive. These guests are of course the orphans dressed up in costumes representing angels, pages and Nell herself as the Queen.

The old maid is taught how to do the Gabriel stunt with a trumpet. The society girls are made to entertain a ferocious looking cat, and the helpful gleaners instead of singing psalms are forced to do the cake walk. The five visitors are well nigh terrified to death, and when the lunatics depart they still continue their cake-walks, blowing of trumpets and gambols with the vociferous cat.

When Sarah, the housekeeper returned the visitors who resembled lunatics themselves took her for another lunatic and began their caperings again with still greater enthusiasm. Sarah has just been married to John. She said she thought she was crazy then, but now she knew she was, and straightway broke into a cake-walk.

The appearance of the matron, Miss Smith, and the wealthy widow, Mrs. Cartwright, served as a damper on everybody's high spirits after the visi-

(Continued on Page 3.)

MILDRED GRAY HUSTON
Public Stenographer
Room 25 Adams Building, Quincy, Mass.
Telephones: Office 2182; Residence 424-3
Dictations by the Hour or Letter.
Typewriting of All Descriptions
Circular Letter Work done on the Mimeograph or Typewriter. Envelopes Addressed.
Dec. 29-3t

GEO. P. RAYMOND CO., Costumers
5 Boylston Place, Boston, Mass.
(Turn off Boylston Street near Colonial Theatre) Telephone 145 Oxford Costumes at Very Low Rates for TWELFTH NIGHT REVELS
Fancy and Historical Costumes
For Men: Brigand Breton, Blue Beard, Colonial (Civic and Military), Confederate, Continental, Courtiers (any period), Cavalier (any period), Duke's, Elizabethan, Edward IV, French, German Student, Hamlet, Jockey, Jack Hearts, etc., King Cole, King Arthur, Knights (any period) Myles Standish, Marks, Oriental, Puritan, Quaker, Robin Hood, Revolutionary period, Zouave.
For Women: Bo-peep, Butterfly, Chinese, Court Ladies, Curly Locks, Cinderella, Columbia, Colonial, Directoire, Daughter of Regiment, Dolly Varden, Early English, Eastern, Fairy, Folly, Gypsy, Goddess of Liberty, Irish Peasant, Japanese, Mary Stuart, Milk Maid, Peasant, Night, Priscilla, Patience, Queen (any period), Queen of Hearts, Revolutionary period, Russian, Roman, Swiss, Shepherdess, Tambourine Girl, Venetian.
Dec. 31-1w p 31-3t1

At the Coliseum
Opposite Quincy Station
TUESDAY, JAN. 3
Wrestling Matches
BOB SOMERVILLE vs WALTER SAXON of Buffalo
ALLI HASSAN vs. THE BIG GREEK
BOB PARRINGTON vs. YOUNG ROVER
Also Local Matches
All finished matches; catch as catch can
Admission, 50, 35 and 25c
Balcony reserved for Ladies
Dec. 30-4t

Entertainment and Dance
GIVEN BY
John Adams Commandery, No. 355, K. of M.
ELECTA HALL, QUINCY,
Friday Evening, Jan. 6, 1911
Tickets 35 Cents
Including Refreshments
Dec. 30-3t--Jan. 5

BLUE LABEL SOUPS
Large Cans $2.75 doz.
[Regular 30ct value]
JOHNSON BROTHERS

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Established 1880

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the . . . .

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
Incorporated.

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass., as Second class Matter.

Subscription

By the year	$6.00
By the month	.50

Telephones

During day	Quincy 425
Evenings	869 M or 263 L

Copy for changes of advertisements should be in the office on the afternoon previous to publication to guarantee insertion.

HONESTY IN EVERYTHING

Speaker Cannon is described as a good feather. Uncle Joe is a bird.

The Kaiser is for temperance in everything but oratory from the throne.

Don't forget to turn over the leaf and start out Monday morning and pay your bills.

Why should we wish to annex Panama, anyhow? asks the Philadelphia Press. We give it up right off the bat.

Indianapolis learns that Senator Beveridge is going to devote himself to law and literature. Both are money-makers in Indiana.

Among all the newspaper notices of Champ Clark, the big Missourian, nobody seems to have noted that he is the most thorqughly equipped Biblical student in the National legislature. He rarely makes a speech which is not stuffed with quotations from the Scriptures.

A reader of the Ledger writes to ask the editor if he does not think it would be a good idea to print the list of fire alarm boxes and their location in the Ledger. We answer yes and as soon as the department gets through cutting in new boxes we will make up an accurate list and give the Ledger readers the benefit of it.

New York is finding it difficult to collect the inheritance tax and the inforcement is driving people out of the state and with them considerable money. In many respects the law is an unjust one and as is usual with such laws hits the people in moderate circumstances much harder than those of large means. In many cases it is proving a real burden to widows or families deprived of support by the death of the head of the family.

It is something unusual in recent year to have an active campaign for the presidency of the City Council, and uncertainty as to the result on the eve of Inauguration day. Three men are said to be positive that they will be elected—Charles M. Bryant, James M. Nowland and Charles E. Cherrington. The Council of 23 is made up of 18 Republicans and 5 Democrats. It is said that all the Democrats are for Mr. Bryant, and a majority of the Republicans are against him. If Messrs. Nowland or Cherrington are elected it will be wholly by Republican votes. A majority vote will be necessary, or 12 votes out of 23 or even 22.

The war scare so prominent two weeks ago has been pretty effectually smothered. Coming as it did on the heels of Mr. Carnegie's ten-million donation to the cause of peace, it had all the effect of contrast and incongruity. The President, the Secretary of War and Gen. Wood have hastened to disclaim any anxiety with reference to the safety of the country. Militarists, and these are quite numerous, are positive in their statements that our condition is one of defenselessness against the warlike nation of the Orient, between which and our nearest shore there are nearly 5,000 miles of salt water. It is glibly asserted that Japan can land two hundred thousand troops on the Pacific coast before we would be able to send ten thousand soldiers across the continent to the defense of Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles. But the situation is very much like that of England with reference to Germany. A great German strategist is quoted as saying that he had planned half a dozen campaigns for landing two or three hundred thousand troops in England, but had never been able to work out a plan for getting them safely out. It is only a day or a night from a German to an English port, while from a Japanese to an American port is fifteen days.

☞Now that Christmas is over there is quite a rush for tickets for the "Creation" concert on Jan. 3 at Music hall.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

The expediency of the emission by government of a half cent piece is beginning to command discussion anew, and in larger volume. Whether or not the subject will be taken up in the next congress, it is not a rash statement to make that discussion may attain such proportions as to lead national lawmakers to deal favorably with the proposition for this change in coinage. Dealers now claim the fraction, in such divisions as the half rate for articles listed at five ,or nine, or fifteen cents, and the like. Computations of the amount thus secured in the aggregate by dealers throughout the country are published from time to time, but these must not be accepted too implicitly. These are guesses, pure and simple. The fact is evident, however,that in claiming the cent, where the half cent would be required by division, buyers are out a tremendous amount of money annually in the aggregate. The point is made that even if half cent pieces were to be issued dealers would find a way to get the coin, by an increase in prices. That argument does not constitute an insuperable objection to the proposed change in coinage. There is such a thing as competition in trade, despite the swath which trusts, both large and small, are cutting, and this competition could safely be left to give the half-cent piece its legitimate standing. There was a time when nothing less than the nickel was handled in the far west, but the formerly-despised cent is coming into use, and it will continue to make its way. The adoption of the half-cent piece in the older east would not mark so radical a step as the western change in sentiment towards the humble cent.—Salem News.

An unconscionable fire tax is paid every year by the American people. They are careless about their buildings, both in their erection and maintenance, and in consequence of this neglect they are compelled needlessly to pay hundreds of millions tribute to the "fire fiend." The losses come out of the entire community and they are altogther too heavy. Fire insurance people everywhere are constantly at work teaching property owners how to build and how to care for their houses and business blocks but the owners are slow to learn. Communities are indifferent about building laws and they do not look after fire prevention as they should. Some time they will awaken to the cost of this indifference and cooperate with the underwriters in securing an improvement. —Framingham News.

There are widespread expressions of satisfaction over the action of the Brooklyn justice who imposed the limit of the penalty in sentencing a brace of Italian kidnappers of children for ransom. Indetereminate sentences or from twenty-five to fifty years are well designed to cause kidnapping to become obsolete. The salutary punishment recalls the drastic methods which were employed in Boston a generation or so ago, in stamping out garroting. After a few criminals found guilty of this abominable of fence had been sentenced to state prison for terms of twenty years, or more, there was a subsidence in the crime as striking as it was welcome. There are certain crimes where judicial leniency acts to the direct detriment of society, and child kidnapping is one of the number.—Salem News.

SHOOTS HER HUSBAND

Woman Intended to Kill Man by Whom She Was Deserted

Boston, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Lillian Greene, a negro cook employed in Brookline, angered by her husband's neglect, he having deserted her, she claims, for another woman, went to the building at 30 Kilby street, where he was employed, and fired two bullets into his body.

The first entered the body just above the heart, and the second entered his head. The man is dying.

When the police came Mrs. Greene's first words were a frank admission that she had shot her husband, that she intended to kill him, and that she had committed the deed after premeditation.

The woman appeared before Judge Ely and was held in $10,000, and the case was continued until Jan. 3. Mrs. Greene was unable to raise the bonds.

TONG WAR RENEWED

Philadelphia Delegate to Peace Meeting One of the Victims

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—The conflict of Chinese tongs in Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., has been renewed, with one dead and one dying. George Sing, a Chinese farmer, was murdered in Camden and Lee Pack, a restaurant keeper, was shot through the neck and probably fatally wounded in this city.

Pack was shot by Gong Dong, a former partner, as he lay asleep on a couch in his room. Pack had been chosen to represent Philadelphia Chinamen at a peace banquet in New York last night.

DELIVER VOTE OF NEW YORK

The Task to Be Undertaken by Collector Loeb

FOR RENOMINATION OF TAFT

Roosevelt Eliminates Himself as Candidate In 1912 and Assures His Former Secretary of His Co-operation and Active Support In Political Mission—Pivotal State Needed to Control National Convention

Washington, Dec. 31.—William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York and former secretary to President Roosevelt, has been formally commissioned to deliver a solid New York delegation to President Taft at the next Republican national convention.

This information, learned upon the highest possible authority, is the best possible evidence of the care with which the president and his friends are working out a definite plan to bring about his nomination in 1912. The selection of Loeb to handle the New York state situation is particularly significant because of the relations between Loeb and Roosevelt. It means that Roosevelt will throw his support and influence to Taft. There can be no question about this point because of the very friendly relations existing between the former president and the collector of the port of New York.

It was reported a few days ago that Loeb had been asked to act in the capacity of confidential adviser to Taft and that his acceptance meant not only a breach between Taft and Roosevelt, but also a breach between Loeb and his former chief. As a matter of fact, the situation is exactly the reverse.

In the first place there has been no breach between Loeb and Roosevelt. As between Taft and Roosevelt it can be stated upon the best possible authority that Loeb will always be found working with Roosevelt. This does not mean that he is disloyal to the president or would hesitate to assist him. It does mean, however, that the political situation is not such as would warant Loeb in deserting the man whom he served so faithfully for many years.

Instead of being asked to serve as the political mentor of the Taft administration, Loeb has been given the specific assignment of rounding up the New York state delegation for Taft. It is known that Loeb did not consent to undertake this task until he had talked the matter over with Roosevelt. It is regarded as extremely significant that Loeb announced his willingness to act as Taft's political manager in New York state after his conference with Roosevelt. There is excellent reason for the belief that in undertaking this political mission in New York state Loeb has the assurance of the co-operation and active support of Roosevelt.

As the situation presents itself to administration leaders in Washington, Loeb's willingness to handle the New York state situation is looked upon as the best possible evidence that Roosevelt has eliminated himself as a candidate for the presidency in 1912. These administration supporters do not go so far as to say that Roosevelt will not again be a candidate for the presidency. On the other hand, they are inclined to believe that he looks upon 1916 as a far more favorable year from a Republican viewpoint than 1912.

It is possible that this belief actuated Roosevelt in assuring Loeb of his support. Administration officials, however, are not concerned about the circumstances which prompted Roosevelt to promise his support to Loeb. They merely know that they can count upon Roosevelt's support in delivering to Taft in the next national convention the pivotal state in the union and the one most necessary if the president hopes to control the convention.

☞Sheet music 10c. 1,000 tunes. Catalogue free. Williams' Jewelry store, Quincy.

LAZY LIVER

"I find Cascarets so good that I would not be without them. I was troubled a great deal with torpid liver and headache. Now since taking Cascarets Candy Cathartic I feel very much better. I shall certainly recommend them to my friends as the best medicine I have ever seen."
Anna Bazinet,
Osborn Mill No. 2, Fall River, Mass.

Pleasant. Palatable. Potent. Taste Good. Do Good. Never Sicken, Weaken or Gripe. 10c, 25c, 50c. Never sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C C C. Guaranteed to cure or your money back. 928

FRESH JERSEY CREAM
17ct jar at
JOHNSON BROTHERS
the only store in town
where you can buy
Pure Jersey Cream

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page 1.)

LEGACIES TO 1911.

On motion of Councilman Smith the orders, requesting information about playground in Ward Four, and appropriating $500 for the recovery of the body of Louis G. Restelli, were referred to the next City Council.

MORE LIGHT.

Councilman McDevitt offered orders for lights on Perkins and Willard streets which were referred to the executive.

NEW SEAT.

On request Councilman Gardner was assigned to seat 6.

GAVEL PRESENTED.

Councilman Bryant arose to a question of personal privilege. He said it was gratifying to him to be allowed to state a few words on behalf of the City Council to President Hobbs, as presiding officer. All know that at times, in heated debate, the position of president was a trying one, yet all know that during all these debates but one feeling prevailed, and that you have filled the office to the satisfaction of all. It gives me pleasure therefore, in behalf of the members of the City Council, to present you with this emblem of your office, knowing that in years to come, when you look at this gavel, it will bring back to you one of the pleasant experiences of your life.

President Hobbs, in accepting the gavel, stepped from the platform to the door, and after a minute of silence, said that he could hardly find words to thank the members, as it was wholly unexpected. He should always look back upon his three years' term as president with pleasure and should try to keep this gavel intact, which he had failed to do with two others.

During his three years as presiding officer, there have been moments of strenuous times, yet he had enjoyed them. He had always felt that the members were merely trying to fulfil their duty to their constituents. He had tried to treat all fairly. To think that you represented one of the greatest things a man can represent, a constituency. Our form of government is the best on earth, and he felt in all things the members had tried to represent their constituents. We have not always agreed, and I have battled for what I thought right, and have met with defeat and victory. He believed that in those battles all were just as consciencious as he was, and after it was all over all differences were forgotten. He was glad that one gentleman had created some history in the Council, by occasionally using some words that had to be looked up in the dictionary. We have had some pleasant and strenuous times, but in the long run I do not think they do much harm. The gentleman I disagreed with has been one of the most consciencious workers, and his efforts have been directed honestly. It was not possible to get a city government that would satisfy everyone, but during five years in the Council, he had found every man doing his work honestly.

The remarks of both Councilman Bryant and President Hobbs were received with prolonged applause. The gavel which was a very handsome affair had a silver band about the hammer head upon which was the following inscription:—"Presented to President Ralph W. Hobbs by the members of the City Council of 1910."

MORE BOUQUETS.

On motion of Councilman Bryant a rising vote of thanks was extended to the clerk of the Council and the City Messenger for their efficient services.

On motion of Councilman Smith a rising vote of thanks was extended to the City Auditor for his efficient services.

On motion of Councilman Whiton a rising vote of thanks was extended to the press for their faithful reports of the Council meetings.

Councilman Flynn arose to a question of privilege to take exception to the report of the last meeting of the Council as published in a local paper (not the Ledger) in relation to a tiff between himself and the President. The President, he believed, had always tried to use him and every other member of the City Council fairly and honestly, and he wished personally to thank the President for the courteous treatment he had accorded him.

SNOW A GUEST.

While the meeting was in progress ex-Councilman Snow whose seat was declared vacant some weeks ago came into the hall, and was escorted to the President's desk by the City Messenger, and given a seat on the platform.

Adjourned sine die at 8.52.

After the Council meeting several of the members remained about the chamber for an hour or more, talking over old times, while others were busy doing some missionary work for their particular candidate for president in 1911.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.
Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

QUINCY MARKET
CHALLENGE SALE

Leg Loin Lamb, the best in the Market	12c
Fore Quarters Lamb	8 to 10c
Face Rump Roast	15c
Back Rump Roast	12 1-2c
Smoked Shoulder	12 1-2c
Good Pot Roast	8 to 10c
Short Cut Rump Steak, the best heavy beef	25c
Sirloin Steak	15c
Porter House Steak	20c
Best Cape Cod Cranberries	12 1-2c
Fresh, Crisp Ginger Snaps	7c

MANY OTHER BARGAINS
Come in and see our goods and the prices will suit you.

QUINCY MARKET
Next door to Woolworth's 5 & 10c store
L 30-31 O 31

—Broken lenses matched. Oculists prescriptions for glasses carefully filled at short notice. Williams, optician, 1473 Hancock street, Quincy Tel. 279-3. Residence 223-3.

ZOROID
Founded 1893
TRADE MARK
Christmas work often brings
On EYE STRAIN
Eye Strain indicates that the eyes need assistance in the form of glasses.
You Feel That You Cannot LOSE TWO or THREE DAYS For An Examination.
WE EXAMINE your eyes and deliver the glasses in 24 hours
The glasses are ground in our own workshops, equipped with every facility for the highest grade work.
Results Are Absolutely Guaranteed
Briggs S. Palmer. President
Sanborns
3 Winter St.- Boston.
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. WILLIAM L. THOMAS and WILLIAM F. SIDELINGER
Dec. 28-31

MAYOR SHEA'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

WILL APPEAR IN FULL IN

THE DAILY LEDGER

OF MONDAY

Together with a full

REPORT OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF 1911

And the Business of the Opening Day.

SEVERAL OTHER INTERESTING FEATURES

may be expected in this issue of

THE DAILY LEDGER

NEWSY EVERY DAY

The Social Realm

The year's departing beauty hides
Of wintry storms the sullen threat
But in thy sternest frown abides
A look of kindly promise yet.
Bryant.

• • •

Mrs. Henry M. Faxon entertained at Bridge on Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister Mrs. James Ellsworth of New York who has been her guest over the holidays.

• • •

Mrs. John Fuller of Botoloph street is entertaining her sister,, Mrs. Dewsberry of Providence, R. I., for the week.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walsh and children were holiday guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John M. Nash of Weymouth.

• • •

Mrs. Charles H. Hardwick who is in her 90th year had her Christmas dinner on Monday with Mrs. Henry E. Hardwick and family as has been her custom for years.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Loud of Hingham announce the engagement of their daughter Fannie to Lewis S. Whitcomb of Weymouth.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Kent who have been enjoying the Christmas recess with Mrs. Kent's parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flood of Fayette street are returning to Garden City, New York Monday, where Mr. Kent is an instructor at St. Paul's school.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John Coe, nee Christina H. Maver, who were married at Thanksgiving and are making their home on Lamartime street, Jamaica Plain, receive their friends after January first.

• • •

William Willians who has been spending the Christmas holidays with his parents in West Quincy returned todayto Stafford Springs, Connecticut.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Gould entertained a Christmas party on Monday, friends being present from Quincy, Dorchester and Connecticut. Covers were laid for ten at dinner, after which cards were enjoyed late into the evening.

• • •

The Billiken club was entertained by Miss Martha Jenkins of Billings street on Friday evening. The decorations were of a Christmas nature. A small tree adorned the centre of the table and bore a gift for each member. The merry-making was all in keeping with the Christmas spirit.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Osgood and son who spent the holidays at the home of Mrs. Osgood's father, Mr. Rose of Centre street, returned today to their home in Montello.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Snow of Toronto, Canada arrived on Wednesday to be guests of Mrs. James B. Geddes of Standish avenue until Sunday.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, nee Agnes M. Lamb who were married Christmas eve have returned from a trip to New York and are settled in their home at Trapalo Heights Park Waverly, where they will be at home to friends after the New Year.

• • •

After many postponements it is announced that the looked forward to vaudeville to be given under the direction of Mr. Emery L. Crane and Mrs. Hunting for the benefit of the tuberculosis camp, will come off on Friday February seventeenth.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson and children are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Read of Squantum street over the holidays.

• • •

Miss Eva Parkhurst of Newton street spent the week end and holiday with her sister Miss Florence Parkhurst of Braintree.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson, Elizabeth Black, are receiving their friends at 110 Glencoe place.

• • •

Mrs. Charles H. Holmes came up from Plymouth last week and is visiting her daughter Mrs. James B. B. Smith of Hancock street, Wollaston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merritt entertain the Jolly Sixteen at their home this evening at a Watch Night party.

• • •

Mrs. Ella Chase and grandson of Yonkers, N. Y., are visiting friends around Atlantic.

• • •

Harold Miller of Franklin street returned Friday evening from his visit in Lewiston, Maine.

• • •

Miss Mary Streenstra of Robinston, Maine is the guest of her brother Rev. and Mrs. Frederick H. Streenstra at the rectory, coming down before Christmas.

• • •

The Atlantic Shakespeare society met at the home of Mrs. Cecil H. Marble on Squantum street, Thursday. The fourth act of "King Richard Third" was read. The members of the society are planning to go over to the Monday club meeting at East Weymouth on Monday to a Shakespearian recital of "Twelfth Night" to be given by Marshall Darrach.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Northcott nee Sampson of New Bedford, formerly of Quincy were guests this week of relatives and friends in this city.

• • •

Margaret G. Riley who is employed at the census bureau in Washington, D. C. is having a month's vacation with her parents at their home on Common street.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Eben J. Ruggles of Dorchester announce the engagement of their daughter Hazel L., to Stanley Warren Ferguson of Atlantic.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bates of Wollaston announce the engagement of their daughter Marian to Mr. Chester E. Tenney of Weymouth.

• • •

Mrs. Wilson Dewhurst of Maple street has been entertaining this week her mother, sister, nephew and daughter Hazel of Lowell.

• • •

Dr. and Mrs. John F. Welch of Hancock street gave a dance at Colonial hall last evening for their daughter Miss Marjorie Welch, in observance of her eighteenth birthday.

• • •

Miss Elizabeth Freeman of Grand View avenue is returning on Monday from Annapolis, Maryland, where she has been having a most enjoyable time during the Christmas recess, the guest of Lieutenant Tardy and Mrs. Tardy frmerly of Newport terrace.

• • •

Miss Orissa Baxter who has been a guest over the holidays of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Baxter of East Milton, returned today to Hartford, Conn.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Collins, nee Margaret A. Craig, who were married on Dec. 14, are at home to their friends after January first at their home on Parson street.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dahlbom, nee Benson who were married Dec. 7 and are residing on Cranch street, will be at home after January first to their friends.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo B. Fay nee Smith of Beale street entertained at dinner Monday. It was the annual reunion of the Smith family. Covers were laid for twenty-one. After dinner gifts from a large Christmas tree were distributed.

• • •

Thomas Dillon is on from Washington, D. C., for the holiday season.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Malley and family of Botolph street are visiting in St. Louis where they will attend the ninety-fifth birthday celebration of Mrs. O'Malley's grandmother on New Year's day.

• • •

Mrs. Mary L. Johnson of Bridgewater is to spend the month of January with friends in this city.

• • •

Frederick Burditt was home from New York for the holidays.

(Continued on Page 6.)

INTERESTING DATA ABOUT NEW COUNCIL

Larger Number Than Usual Are in Business in Quincy, 15 out of 23

Surprisingly Large Number Were Foreign Born

The new City Council will have one member who enters his twelfth year of service. Each year for four years ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant has broken the record for service. He has been a Councilman nearly as many years as all the other members elect of the 1911 Council, as only one other is entering his fourth year. There are 11 first year men more than in any year since 1906. The summary below for eight years will be of interest :

YEARS OF SERVICE.

	1911	1910	1909	1908	1907	1906	1905	1904
First Year	11	8	8	8	9	13	11	3
Second Year	6	7	5	6	9	4	2	8
Third Year	4	2	4	6	1	1	3	3
Fourth Year	1	3	2	1	1	1	2	6
Fifth Year	0	1	2	0	0	2	3	2
Sixth Year	0	1	0	1	3	1	2	1
Seventh Year	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	0
Ninth Year	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0
Tenth Year	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0
Eleventh Year	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Twelfth Year	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

PLACE OF BIRTH.

A surprisingly large number of the new Council were born outside the United States, a total of eight, including two from New Brunswick and one from Prince Edwards Island. This is over twice as many as were born in Quincy, as but 3 of the 23 were Quincy born, a much smaller number than usual. However 15 of the 23 were born in New England, which is only one less than in 1910. Here is a summary for eight years :

	1911	1910	1909	1908	1907	1906	1905	1904
Born in Quincy	3	6	5	6	5	3	6	6
Massachusetts	9	7	11	10	6	11	8	7
New England	3	3	2	2	4	2	5	4
United States	0	0	1	1	2	2	1	2
Foreign Born	8	6	4	4	6	5	3	4

AGES OF COUNCILMEN

The new Council has more men under 30 years of age than for seven years, yet the aggregate ages of the 23 Councilmen is eight years more than in 1910, and among the highest. The summary follows :

	1911	1910	1909	1908	1907	1906	1905	1904
Under 30 Years	6	3	5	5	4	4	3	5
30 to 40 Years	8	10	8	8	10	11	11	7
40 to 50 Years	7	7	8	6	7	5	7	8
50 to 60 Years	2	2	2	4	2	2	1	2
Over 60 Years	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	1
Aggregate Years	873	865	875	841	865	870	886	855

PLACE OF EMPLOYMENT.

A larger number of the new Council are in business in Quincy than has been the case for seven years, as 15 of 23 are in business here. The summary for eight years is :

	1911	1910	1909	1908	1907	1906	1905	1904
In Quincy	15	12	8	10	11	9	11	7
Quincy and Boston	1	2	2	3	3	2	2	4
Outside Quincy	7	9	13	10	9	12	10	12

EXPERIENCE BIG FACTOR

Charles M. Bryant's Equal Not Likely to Be Found

Editor Quincy Ledger:

At the pending election of President of the City Council I am told that C. M. Bryant will be a candidate for that office.

I am led to write simply seeking to place in the chair, a man that I know, well worthy and fully competent for the many delicate duties devolving upon the President.

I happened to be in the Council during his incumbency as President a number of years ago, and remember very distinctly his preeminent fairness in the administration of that office.

However, where others might do, it is certain that with his large experience his equal is not likely to be found. Rupert F. Claflin.

Quincy, Dec. 30, 1910.

☞Start the New Year right and order the Daily Ledger left at your home each day. A good clean newsy daily is ever a welcome visitor and enjoyed by the home circle. tf

FRENCH BALL.

A very enjoyable dancing party was held in Electa hall, Friday evening. About 30 couples of French descent representing Quincy and Boston were present to enjoy dancing from 8 to 11.30. Benjamin Jello of Quincy was assisted by Mr. Chisholm and J. C. King of East Boston in making the affair an enjoyable success. Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm, Miss Fraser and Mr. Jello furnished the music. About half of the people present were from East Boston most of them connected with the Down East Social club. Square dances as well as round were on the program, and young and old entered into their execution with enthusiasm. Dancing was continued until the people from out of town had to hurry for their car.

K. OF H. OFFICERS.

Merymount lodge, Knights of Honor elected the following officers at the meeting last evening:

Dictator,—Thomas Huston.
Vice Dictator,—Alexander Johnson.
Assistant Dictator,—Edward Brault.
Reporter,—James Moodie, Jr.
Financial Reporter,—Joseph W. Stancomb.
Treasurer,—Walter H. Dunbar.
Chaplain,—Samuel Tuton.
Guide,—Arthur Sylvester.
Trustees—Charles C. Nash, Samuel Tuton and Arthur Sylvester.
Alternates,—A. Sylvester and S. Tuton.

The officers will be installed Jan. 27.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

STOCK REDUCING SALE

We have finished taking account of stock and find that we must reduce some of our lines. Here are prices that can't be beaten in this city. Just compare them with what you've been paying, and note the reductions. And don't forget the quality. Quality comes first with FOY.

New Quaker Oats - -	pkg. 9c	Turkish Figs - -	2 boxes 25c
Corn Starch - - -	" 5c	Butter Thins - -	2 lbs. 25c
Pure Lard - - - -	lb. 14c	Society Teas - -	per lb. 10c
California Pea Beans - -	2 qts. 25c	Yellow Eye Beans - -	qt. 10c
5 lb. bag Corn Meal - - -	15c	5 lb. bag Graham Flour	18c
California Lemons - -	doz. 25c	Large Cal. Navel Oranges	30c

FOY

Phone 117 Phone 153

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR!!!

Beat this if you can. Ask others what they charge for it. This is YOUR chance.

A Barrel of GOLD MEDAL Flour, and a 5 lb. bag of our best pastry flour for $7.25

FOR YOUR SUNDAY DINNER!

Fresh killed fancy YOUNG GEESE almost given away.

Weigh between 10 and 11 lbs.

If you have never eaten one now is your chance.

18 cts lb

R. E. FOY & CO.
Water cor. Quincy Street

R. E. FOY & CO.
Phones 117 and 153

MARKET GROCERY

CARROTY NELL

(Continued from Page 1.)

tors were shown they were not lunatics. The matron accused Carroty Nell, and the latter had visions of the life on the streets once more. However, the matron was not in the worst of spirits, for a rich uncle has died and made her his heiress and she adopted two of the orphans.

Little Beth ,the daughter of the wealthy widow, had been become deeply attached to Carroty Nell, and the mother adopted Nell for a companion to her child. Then Carroty Nell, the despised was hailed as the Queen indeed, and all lived happily ever after.

The cast was as follows:

Carroty Nell, orphan, Alicia Elcock
Primsy, orphan, Sadie Monahan
Evalina, orphan, Mary King
Janie, orphan, Helen Farrell
Cherrie, orphan, Josephine Grignon
Miss Smith, the matron, Mrs. Mabel Fennessey
Sarah ,the housekeeper Mary Monahan
Mrs. Cartwright, wealthy widow, Grace Elcock
Beth, her little daughter, Florence Riley
Gladys Gale, society girl, Helen Pickering
Charlotte Breeze, society girl, Anna Kane
Hebe, Beth's German maid, Rena Mannex
Miss Crocker, a sour old maid, Frances Elcock
Bella Slowe, helpful gleaner, Elizabeth Farrell
Ella Styffe, helpful gleaner, May Sweeney

Scene—A room in the Orphans' Home; the same in both acts.

Time—A December morning.

Miss Alicia Elcock was especially good as Carroty Nell. She impersonated the hoydenish waif with a naturalness which added greatly to the fun in the lines.

Miss Crocker, the sour old maid, was the funniest character and the part was placed in good hands when it was given to Miss Frances Elcock. By means of a clever disguise she was made to look the old maid to perfection, and her acting was of a high order.

The part of Miss Smith, the matron was to have been taken by Mrs. Mabel Fennessey, but she was unable to be there on account of sickness, and Miss Elizabeth Farrell, one of the helpful gleaners, took that part as well as her own very creditably.

Florence Riley, as Beth, was as sweet as the cat was horrible, and it is the impression of the scribe, that both parts were taken by one and the same girl.

Miss Mary Monahan, as Sarah the housekeeper, although her part was not conspicuous, did remarkably well, especially when she convinced herself that she had gone "dippy" in earnest.

The parts of the four orphans, Primsy, Evalina, Janie and Cherrie, lost none of their possibilities as interpreted by Miss Sadie Monahan, Miss Mary King, Miss Helen Farrell and Miss Josephine Grignon, and the part of Hebe, the German maid, despite its difficulties was well taken by Miss Rena Manex.

Miss Grace Elcock as the widow, and Miss Helen Pickering and Miss Anna Kane as the gushing society girls, acted their parts well, and Miss Elizabeth Farrell and Miss May Sweeney had all the primness imaginable until called upon to do the cake-walk. Then they unbent a little.

The play was ridiculously funny throughout, and it was carried through with a dash which kept the audience in a gale of laughter.

At the conclusion of the play, Father Grady was called up for a speech. He told briefly the history of the guild, and as spokesman for the ladies invited those who were not already members, to join. He also complimented the cast on its success.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served by the hospitality committee, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Teasdale, vice president of the guild. The committee consists of the following ladies: Chairman Miss Mary Pickering, Mrs. Mary Hart, Mrs. Rose Canavan, Mrs. Mary L. O'Brien and Mrs. Phillip Garrity.

Mrs. Teasdale took charge of the arrangements in the absence of the president Miss Katherine Shea. The other officers of the Guild are: Treasurer, Miss A. F. Burns; Financial Secretary, Miss E. J. McNeil; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Annie Foley.

The committee in charge of the play was made up of the following young ladies: Miss Alicia Elcock, Miss Sadie Monahan, Mrs. Mabel Fennessey, Miss Mary Monahan, Miss Helen Pickering, Miss Anna Kane, Miss Rena Manex, Miss Frances Elcock and Miss Elizabeth Farrell.

Eastern Oysters Condemned

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—A report condemning eastern oysters received in San Francisco was presented to the city board of health by City Chemist Bothe. "Every eastern oyster that we have tested has been found to contain poisonous sulphate of copper, presumably used for the preservation of the bivalves," declared Bothe.

Rioting In Barcelona

Barcelona, Dec. 31.—Rioting broke out in the strike of 12,000 dock employes. Troops were sent to the water front, following an appeal by American mercantile interests.

—The announcement was made at the recent quarterly communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts that rising $175,000 had been paid and pledged toward the establishment of a Masonic home. The coming year will witness the institution in operation.—Salem News.

Be Good to Yourself and the world will be good to you. The way is to keep your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels right. And you'll find great help in

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold Everywhere. In boxes 10c. and 25c.

Mothers' Association

Meeting Place: Bethany Church

Time: 3 o'clock, Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1911

Speaker: MRS. ELLEN RICHARDS of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Subject: "Foods for School Children."

☞When such a speaker is secured to come to Quincy without compensation, it behoves us to see to it that she is greeted by a representative audience. Will the women of Quincy co-operate in this matter.

MARTHA C. MACKAY, President.
Quincy, Dec. 28-6t

THIRD CONCERT

Quincy Choral Society

ARTHUR S. WONSON, Conductor

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7.45 P. M.

Haydn's CREATION

SOLOISTS

MRS. GRACE BONNER WILLIAMS, Soprano
FREDERIC KENNEDY, Tenor
FREDERIC MARTIN, Bass

Chorus of 100 Voices

Boston Festival Orchestra

JOHN W. CROWLEY, Principal

Tickets $1.00, 75 and 50 cents

On sale at C. C. Hearn's

ALL SEATS RESERVED

Doors open at 7 o'clock

Dec. 21, 24, 27, 28, 31, 2-6t

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLES
Large 30ct Cans
Today for 25ct
at JOHNSON BROS

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days

E. W. Grove's signature on box. 25c

AMERICAN RED CROSS · MERRY CHRISTMAS · HAPPY NEW YEAR · 1910

FLOWERING PLANTS

Azaleas, Poinsettias, Begonias Hyacinths, Cyclamen, Primroses, Palms, Ferns, Rubber.

Also CUT FLOWERS of all kinds.

PATTERSON, "The Florist"

92 South Central Ave.

WOLLASTON, MASS.

Telephone 382 Quincy

LLOYD'S
EYEGLASSES AND SPECTACLES

KRYPTOK BIFOCAL GLASSES
Combining Far and Near Glasses in a Single Pair.
With KRYPTOK BIFOCALS your Far and Near Glasses are always ready, with no greater trouble than raising your eyes to look off, and dropping them to read.
Call at any of our stores to see them.

315 Washington St.
310 Boylston St. } BOSTON
75 Summer St.
1252 Massachusetts Ave. CAMBRIDGE
ANDREW J. LLOYD CO.

GRAND CLEARANCE SALE
Beginning Thursday, Dec. 29
Bargains in Every Department
D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.
The Shirt Waist Store

HIGH CUT TAN, STORM and SKATING BOOTS
We have a New and Complete Stock of these Rugged, Durable Winter Boots—The Best Footwear Made for Strenuous, Healthy, Play loving Boys.
Special $1.50
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2
A Still Better Boot with Bellows Tongue and 2 Buckle
Sizes 8 1-2 to 2 $2.00
Sizes 2 1-2 to 5 1-2 $2.50 and $3.00
HEFFERNAN'S SHOE STORE
1375 Hancock Street, Quincy
Dec. 22-tf

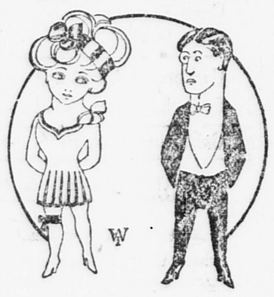
COAL
CRR
Barge No. 4
Just Unloaded
562 TONS PEA
434 " LEHIGH EGG
Direct from the Mines
Fresh Mined Coal should look good to you this Winter
REMEMBER
C. PATCH & SON, INC.
1422 Hancock Street

Quincy Daily Ledger

HIGH TIDES FOR WEEK.

	A. M.	P. M.
Monday, Dec. 26	7.30	8.00
Tuesday,	8.15	9.00
Wednesday,	9.00	9.45
Thursday,	9.45	10.30
Friday,	10.30	11.00
Saturday,	11.15	11.45
Sunday,	11.45	12.00

Back Talk to a Stage Beauty.



Soubrette—My mind is made up.
Discarded Johnny—Just like the rest of you.

BRIEFS

George Davey, formerly bass soloist of Christ church, will sing "Just as I am" on Sunday evening at the Water Street Presbyterian church.

The annual meeting of the National Mount Wollaston bank will be held in the banking rooms on Tuesday, Jan 3, at half past three o'clock.

Owing to the continuance of scarlet fever the Wollaston Congregational Sunday school will not reopen on Sunday.

Galahad club of Christ church entertains its friends on Thursday evening at a graphophone party. The club has also arranged for a laymen's supper for Wednesday evening.

A communion service will follow the regular morning service at First church on Sunday. Rev. E. C. Butler will preach. The Sunday school will have a fifteen minute New Year's service to be followed by the regular exercises.

The Massachusetts Golf association members did not get an advance hint of the wedding of John G. Anderson, the state amateur champion, or they would have sent him at least some kind of a wedding present. All things considered, spoons or forks would seem to be the most appropriate as bein gthe recognized putters in domestic circles, at meal time.—Boston Record.

The Women's Guild of Christ church hold its annual meeting in the parish house on Wednesday afternoon at half past two. There will be a review of the work of the past year by the various committees and an election followed by a social hour and refreshments.

H. E. Duncan of the Waltham Watch Co., is to give an illustrated talk on "Making a Watch" at the meeting of the Men's club of Christ church on Monday night.

The trustees of the Pond Home went to Pondville on Tuesday and provided a pleasant Christmas festival for the inmates of the Home. These number 15, and they were all present. There was a tree and entertainment consisting of music and recitations which were much enjoyed by the old people.

Parents and friends of First church Sunday school have been invited to attend an entertainment in the chapel on Wednesday evening. The basement rooms which have been newly furnished will be open for inspection and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Isabel Davis has arranged a good entertainment.

Quincy women should plan to attend the Mothers meeting on Wednesday afternoon in Bethany chapel, not only to give the speaker Mrs. Ellen H. Richards a cordial welcome to Quincy but to hear what she has to say on that important topic "Food for School Children." Mrs. Richards from her connection with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and from her lectures and writings is widely known.

William J. King a well known West Quincy resident died at his home on Kent street Sunday night aged 80 years. Mr. King was formerly employed as a granite cutter and was a member of Granite lodge, Sons of St. George. He leaves a widow two sons and a daughter.

The Y. P. R. U. Entertainment committee has arranged for a concert to be given in the chapel of First church on Friday evening of next week, when the Arlington Glee club and Miss Kate M. Thomas, violinist will be the attraction.

☞Heard in passing, "Have you got your tickets for the "Creation" concert?"

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY.

SHOE MAN TAKES A BRIDE

Well Known Manufacturer Weds Sister of Daughter-In-Law

Newton, Mass., Dec. 31.—William O. Walker, a shoe manufacturer, aged 70 years, this morning married Miss Florence M. Jepson, the 37-year-old sister of his son's wife, at the home of the parents of the bride in this city.

Rev. Charles Day of the Watertown Baptist church performed the ceremony, which was private, and directly after the couple left Newton for a wedding trip to California.

The senior Walker is the senior member of the firm of the Walker-Whitman Shoe company, Campello, and is well known in the business world. Walker's son, Theodore G. C. Walker, is the president of the Walker Shoe company in Newton. His marriage to Miss Elizabeth Jepson took place six years ago. The senior Walker's first wife died about two years ago.

SEVENTEEN ARE DEAD

One More Victim Succumbs to Pittsfield Boiler Explosion

Pittsfield, Mass., Dec. 31.—One more name has been added to the death roll resulting from the explosion of a boiler at the ice stack of the Morewood Lake Ice company. Alfred Baucage, 19 years of age, died at the House of Mercy. This makes seventeen deaths. Two more of the injured at the hospital are not likely to recover.

District Attorney Taft has ordered an inquest to be held next Tuesday, at which time the evidence of the state boiler inspectors will be revealed. The inspectors made a careful investigation of the exploded boiler and the boiler house yesterday, but have decided to give out nothing as to their investigation for the present.

AMERICAN FLEET SAILS FROM FRANCE

To Approach This Side of the Atlantic as an Enemy

Cherbourg, France, Dec. 31.—French cannon belched forth a friendly good-bye to the American sailors of the first division of the Atlantic battleship fleet, which weighed anchor for Scilly islands, the rendezvous for the four divisions. In return the American guns boomed forth an answering salute and for a time the harbor looked as though a batttle were raging.

Almost at the same time the third division under Admiral Murdock departed from Brest. The second and fourth divisions will be joined off Scilly islands today. From Scilly islands the men-of-war will head towards the drill grounds in Cuban waters, where maneuvers will be held.

The fleet will race across the Atlantic without giving information to the navy department as to its whereabouts. Admiral Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the fleet, will enact the role of an invader and it will be up to the navy authorities to ascertain its position.

COOK THANKS THE DANES

He Appreciates Their Patience, Loyalty and Hospitality

New York, Dec. 31.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, in the course of an interview in The Nordlyset, a local Danish paper, sends a message of thanks to the Danish people for their reception on his arrival from the north in 1909. The message, which has been cabled to the leading papers in Copenhagen, follows:

"In response to the offer of The Nordlyset, I take this opportunity to thank the Danish people for their uniform patience and loyalty to my interest. I have been deprived of much, but the sweetness of Danish hospitality will always remain to nurse the spark of ambition."

EDDY RESURRECTION STORY

Boston Christian Scientists Declare It to Be an Absurdity

Boston, Dec. 31.—Christian Science practitioners of Greater Boston were interviewed yesterday regarding Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson's statement that she expected the resurrection of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

They were unanimous in declaring Mrs. Stetson's views to be absurd. The writings of Mrs. Eddy, they said, furnish proof that she did not regard herself as possessing powers equal to those of Christ. Mrs. Stetson's claim, they say, is in line with the offense for which she was ousted from the chruch.

Julia Kuttner Freed From Earle

New York, Dec. 31.—Julia Kuttner obtained in the appellate division of the state supreme court an annulment of her marriage to Ferdinand P. Earle, on March 17, 1908.

The Weather

Almanac, Sunday, Jan. 1.
Sun rises—7:21; sets—4:39.
Moon sets—5:31 p. m.
High water—11:45 a. m.; 12 p. m.
Forecast for New England: Increasing cloudiness, not so cold; cold wave warnings have been ordered for New England.

COLLAPSES AT DOOR OF COURT

Banker Robin Uses Hyoscin In an Attempt at Suicide

ACTION OF POISON IS SLOW

Thought That He Will Recover, the Prompt Use of Stomach Pump Saving Him From Immediate Death—Rushed From Courthouse to Prison Ward In Hospital—Act May Bear on Question of Accused Man's Sanity

New York, Dec. 31.—Head up, shoulders squared, eyes levelled at the battery of cameras trained on him, Joseph G. Robin, the indicted banker, stepped from his sister's home to face arraignment, calm in the knowledge that he had swallowed a deadly dose of hyoscin, the subtle alkaloid with which Dr. Crippen killed his wife, Belle Elmore.

He collapsed before he could be taken into court, with the exclamation "I'm a dead man. I've taken poison tablets."

The case was postponed in the greatest excitement, a stomach pump was hurried into play, and Robin was carried first to the prison hospital adjacent and later to Bellevue, where he lies in the prison ward.

No charge of attempted suicide is entered against him, and it is thought he will recover, although the action of hyoscin is slow, and much will depend on his vitality.

The time at which Robin took the drug was appoximately fixed by the testimony of Dr. Flint, retained for Robin by William T. Jerome, his counsel; Dr. Louise Robinovitch, his sister, and two detectives from the district attorney's office, who rode with him from his sister's house to the criminal courts building.

Dr. Flint told the court that, as nearly as he could judge from the symptoms, the poison had been in Robin's system about three-quarters of an hour, when he collapsed. The two detectives were positive that their prisoner had swallowed nothing on the way to court.

Dr. Robinovitch said that her brother had been in the habit of taking hyoscin in small doses to counteract the effects of morphine, which he used to deaden the stabbing pains by which gall stones make themselves known. She kept the drug in her house and she thought her brother had swallowed twelve tablets. At Bellevue the examining surgeons estimated that Robin had taken about one-tenth of a grain.

The first sign of Robin's illness was when he staggered on stepping from his automobile to the criminal courts building. In the elevator, he weakened so rapidly that the detectives had to lift him to a couch. There he sank into unconsciousness and was not revived until the stomach pump had been worked vigorously. Its prompt use undoubtedly saved him from immediate death.

Robin's frustrated attempt leaves the question of his sanity still open. Dr. Mabon for the state, and Dr. Flint for his counsel, examined him Thursday night and found him physically able to appear in court yesterday, but they did not pass on his mental state. Just how his act will bear on that decision when it comes does not appear.

There have been no further developments in connection with either the Northern Bank of New York or the Washington Savings bank, both of which are in the hands of the state banking department.

HANLEY OR POMERENE

One of Them Considered Most Likely to Succeed Dick In Senate

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—Unusual interest is shown by members of the legislature in the Democratic caucus called for Jan. 5, when the question as to the nominee for United States senator will be settled. Eighty-nine Democrats will be in the joint caucus, and as the legislature is Democratic their choice will settle who is to succeed Senator Dick.

Edward W. Hanley, chairman of the state legislative committee, and Atlee Pomerene, lieutenant governor-elect, are the candidates apparently in the lead. Congressman Anderson has entered the race, and several others are mentioned for the honor.

Mad Dog Scare at Boston

Boston, Dec. 31.—Two dogs that were thought to be mad created great excitement in districts of Greater Boston yesterday, biting and snapping at people. One of them, in Cambridge, was killed. The other, that terrorized the crowds last evening in the vicinity of Hollis street, is still at large.

Germany's Great Military Force

Berlin, Dec. 31.—Colonel Gaedke, the military writer, calculates that Germany at the present moment is able to send 5,200,000 trained soldiers and sailors into action, this number representing 8 percent of the empire's population. Not fewer than 714,000 will be actually under arms in 1911.

SUGAR FRAUD UNEARTHED

Loss In Customs Said to Reach Over $1,000,000 at New Orleans

New Orleans, Dec. 31.—That the federal government has been defrauded out of more than $1,000,000 in import duties at New Orleans, through false weights and improper grading of sugar, was developed by the grand jury investigation which was in progress here for two weeks before the holidays, according to unofficial information made public here.

It is said that no criminal prosecution is to follow the investigation, but that the government will bring suits against certain sugar refineries to recover the alleged unpaid duties. The grand jury is expected to reconvene next week and present its report on the sugar probe.

THE SHOOTING OF CLAPP

Wife of Philadelphia Clubman Tells Her Side of the Story

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—Charging that her husband, Herbert M. Clapp, had tried to force her to take morphine just before the quarrel in which he was shot, Mrs. Clapp told her story before Magistrate Harris in support of her allegations of assault, battery and non-support, on which Clapp was arrested.

She said that her husband pointed a revolver at her and said he was going to shoot her. "Go ahead," she answered. They struggled, she said, the revolver was discharged and her husband shot. Clapp was released on $500 bail.

HE HUGEGD TOO HARD

Costs a Kansas City Man $200 For Breaking Wife's Ribs

Kansas City, Dec. 31.—Judge Halstead, who recently fined a man $100 for spanking his wife, has fined another man $200 for hugging his wife and breaking two of her ribs.

Jay B. Jordan, a telegraph operator, who has been married but a month, was a prisoner before the judge on complaint of his wife, who told the court that when she refused to allow her husband to kiss her he embraced her so affectionately that two of her ribs were broken. The husband made a faint plea in his own behalf and a fine of $200 was then imposed on him.

Lillis Quits as Bank Head

Kansas City, Dec. 31.—Jere S. Lillis, attacked by John P. Cudahy with a knife March 15 last, yesterday retired as president of the Western Exchange bank here. Lillis made no announcement in regard to his plans for the future.

Actor Weds Wealthy Widow

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Robert T. Haines, an actor, and Mrs. W. McMillan, a wealthy widow of New York, were married by Judge Kavanaugh in this city. The couple left later for Louisville.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists Price, 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TO-NIGHT Arcadia
10c. 25c. 50c. ALL NEW YORK WHILE YOU SLEEP All Druggists

IF YOUR DOOR BELLS LOCKS OR KEYS FURNITURE Children's Playthings ARE BROKEN
SEND FOR
HOLMES & HALL
96 Washington St., Quincy

STORAGE
—FOR—
Furniture and Pianos
Storage Warehouse with Separate Rooms
Furniture and Piano Movers
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy Tel. Con.

O'SULLIVAN'S
RUBBER SOLES
--- THE ---
Goodyear Shoe Repairing Co.
10 Chestnut St., Quincy.

ASSETS, $498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
QUINCY CO-OP BANK $$$$$ for The People
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME.
SHARES and INFORMATION at OFFICE Room 1 SAVINGS B'K BUILDING
R. D. CHASE Treas.

EDWARD E. BULLOCK
Teacher of Singing
First Tenor of the Famous Temple Quartette
Music for all occasions.
Studio 178 a Tremont St., Boston
Home address 10 Willow Avenue, Wollaston.
Tel. Quincy 146-2. Oct. 6-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property.
Justice of the Peace
Corner School and Hancock Streets, QUINCY.

JAMES F. BURKE
Real Estate and Insurance
AUCTIONEER MORTGAGES
Justice of the Peace Notary Public
Room 4, Savings Bank Building
Tel. 385-3 Jan. 17-tf

R. D. CHASE QUINCY MASS. INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MONEY MORTGAGES CARE OF PROPERTY CONVEYANCING TRUSTEES TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

JOHN H. ANDERSON M. D.
12 Cothland St., off Whitwell St.
Refraction and Diseases of the Eye
(Eyes examined for glasses)
Office Hours 8 to 10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

A. M. DEANE & CO.
MONUMENTS
MEMORIALS ERECTED IN ANY CEMETERY IN THE UNITED STATES
Aug. 1, 1y

Vocal Lessons and Harmony
MISS E. A. PERKINS
Director of Music in Public Schools
Hotel Greenleaf, Quincy
Hollander Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
Piano Tuner
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock treet, Quincy.
Residence, 78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point, Mass. Tel 349-1 Quincy. Nov. 3-tf

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.
FIRE INSURANCE.
The Best Insurance. The Lowest Rates.
Insurance Department.
1495 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Telephone, Quincy 97-3.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS,
PAINTER and GLAZIER.
LEADED STAINED GLASS.
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER.
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED.
15 Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy.

PATENTS
PROCURED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo for expert search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., IN ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.
Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively.
Write or come to us at
The Eighth Street, near United States Patent Office,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CASNOW & Co.

$498,000.
ESTABLISHED 1889
SAVES $ FOR YOU
EARNS $ FOR YOU
LOANS $ TO YOU
DEPOSIT $1 TO $25 Per Month
MORTGAGE HERE, REPAY BY INSTALMENTS
OWN YOUR HOME
INFORMATION at OFFICE
NGS B'K BUILDING
R.D.CHASE Treas.

E. BULLOCK
r of Singing Famous Temple Quartette
for all occasions.
Tremont St., Boston
s 10 Willow Avenue,
Wollaston.
46-2. Oct. 6-tf

SULLIVAN
Insurance
Care of Property,
of the Peace
nd Hancock Streets,
CY.

F. BURKE
e and Insurance
ER MORTGAGES
Notary Public
ings Bank Building
Jan. 17-tf

INSURANCE REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES CONVEYANCES TRUSTS CARE OF PROPERTY

ANDERSON M. D.
St., off Whitwell St.
Diseases of the Eye
(examined for glasses)
10 A. M. 2-3-7-8 P. M.
Dec. 14 1m

EANE & CO.
UMENTS
ALS ERECTED IN ANY EMETERY
IN THE ED STATES
Aug. 1,-1y

ns and Harmony
A. PERKINS sic in Public Schools
hleaf, Quincy
Building, Boston
Dec. 15-2mos

A. HAYDEN
o Tuner
Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock
verly Court, Quincy Point, uincy. Nov. 3-tf

NCAIDE & CO.
NSURANCE.
e. The Lowest Rates.
e Department.
ck Street, Quincy.
ne, Quincy 97-3.

avings Bank
RS: Every Business
urday, 8.30 A. M. to 3
8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
RENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

N. CURTIS,
and GLAZIER.
TAINED GLASS.
d PAPER HANGER!
URE REFINISHED. off Spear Street, Quincy.

ENTS
DEFENDED. Send model, expert search and free report, obtain patents, trade marks, ALL COUNTRIES. Washington saves time, patent. ment Practice Exclusively. ar United States Patent Office. NGTON, D. C.
NOW &

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

LAND COURT

To Bartholomew J. Griffin and Himan H. Frieze of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Francis H. Wall of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Henry Plummer Bailey, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William H. Crosby of said Boston, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in that part of said Quincy known as Houghs Neck, on Manet Avenue, being lot thirty-nine on a plan of seashore lots made by Whitman Breck and Company, Surveyors, recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on said Manet Avenue where the line which divides the land from lot forty on said plan intersects the Southerly line of said Manet avenue, thence running in a westerly direction along said Southerly line of Manet Avenue forty nine and 62-100 (49.62) feet to the line of lot thirty-eight on said plan, thence turning and running in a Southerly direction along said line of lot thirty-eight one hundred feet to the line of lot ninety-six on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot ninety-six in an easterly direction thirty-nine and 25-100 (39.25) feet to the line of lot forty on said plan, thence turning and running along said line of lot forty in a northerly direction one hundred feet to the point of beginning, and containing 4443 square feet more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the ninth day of January A. D. 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and ten.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

(Seal) CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Dec. 17-3t 17, 24, 31

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles M. Jenness late of Meddybemps in the State of Maine having estate in said County, deceased, intestate:

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Helen B. Jenness of Boston without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December A. D. 1910.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Dec. 27-3t 27, 31, 7

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the trusts under the will of Sarah B. Plummer late of Meddybemps, Maine, having estate in said County of Norfolk, deceased:

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court by Helen B. Jenness of Boston in the County of Suffolk praying to be appointed trustee under the will of said deceased, which has been proven in said Court, in place of Charles M. Jenness a deceased trustee. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Dec. 24-3t 24, 31, 7

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the devisees, legatees, and all other persons interested in the estate of Sarah B. Plummer, late of Meddybemps, Maine, having estate in said County of Norfolk, deceased, testate:

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration with the will annexed, on the estate of said deceased not already administered, to Helen B. Jenness of Boston, Mass., or some other suitable person. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the eleventh day of January A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all devisees and legatees named in said will seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

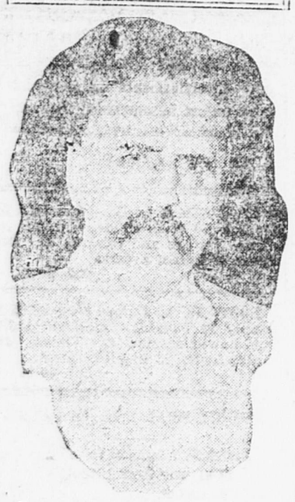
JOHN D. COBB, Register.

Dec. 24-3t 24, 31, 7

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

CONGRESSMAN TAWNEY

Friends Boom Him For Panama Canal Commissioner



© 1910, by American Press Association.

IS LOOKING FOR WORK

Tawney Says He Has Not Been Associated With "Special Interests"

St. Paul, Dec. 31.—James A. Tawney, for sixteen years congressman from the First district of Minnesota, says he doesn't know what he is going to do—or what he can do—when his congressional career ends next March.

"After March 4 I'll have to earn my living like any other of America's millions of laboring men," said the congressman. "I have never been offered a position on the Panama canal, nor has it been suggested to me that I take a place in any of the departments in Washington."

Mr. Tawney denied that he had received any offer of a position from the "special interests." "The time will come," he said, "when the people of Minnesota will realize that I am not and never have been associated with the 'interests.'"

BAD SARDINES FROM MAINE

327,144 Cans Condemned and Destroyed on Order From Court

Pittsburg, Dec. 31.—United States District Attorney Jordan went before Judge Orr in the United States district court and obtained an order for seizure and condemnation of 327,144 cans of sardines, shipped here from Maine points.

The district attorney showed that the sardines were unfit for food and got the order. The sardines were taken from the storehouse yesterday afternoon and destroyed.

The bureau of chemistry, the department of agriculture and the United States fish commission had passed on the sardines as "filthy and decomposed, putrid animal and vegetable substance, and unfit for food."

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of it in Quincy But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help.

Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Read the proof from a Quincy citizen.

Mrs. E. Burke, 143 Quincy street, Quincy, Mass., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy for kidney trouble. I used them and the results were of the most satisfactory nature. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at the Cox Drug Store and have my highest recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the next-of-kin and all other persons interested in Robert Voight of Quincy in said County of Norfolk minor:

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court by Irene M. Forbes of Quincy in the County of Norfolk praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person as guardian of said minor. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the fourth day of January A. D. 1911, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed as aforesaid. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said kindred at least seven days before said Court.

Witness James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

JOHN D. COBB, Register.

3-tDec. 24-31 Jan. 2

A BOSTON GIRL'S BUDGET.

A Tale of a Hectic Flush Tie—Artistic Happenings of the Hub of Culture—A Lady Who Hadn't Heard of Woman Suffrage—An Irish Suffragette Tells about Militant Methods—Feminine Musings on Nahant's Loyalty to Its Famous Fellow Citizen.

Art's always in evidence in Boston's winter season. Following close on the heels of the famous Frick collection of masterpieces which has so stirred artistic circles in New England recently, trips the exhibition of 150 valuable paintings by the late John LaFarge at the Museum of Fine Arts. Director Fairbanks and trustees of the Museum have been collecting the interesting group from wealthy art connoisseurs of this vicinity, in addition to whose paintings there will be a number already owned by the Museum. The two canvases "Paradise Valley" and "The Halt of the Wise Men"—perhaps as well known as any of Mr. LaFarge's best works—are among the number on exhibition. Soon thereafter will come at the Museum a showing of canvases by the late Winslow Homer, "the Walt Whitman of American painting," as he has sometimes been called.

The smiling suburbanite sallied forth the day after Christmas, bedecked with his bright new tie. Receiving a compliment on the beauties of the same tie he proceeded a tale to unfold. His young son, having purchased a couple of inexpensive gifts for two boy friends, called at their house on Saturday to deliver the goods, with the injunction not to open them until Christmas morning. It so happened that the two delighted recipients were unprepared for this generosity and felt the childhood embarrassment at having nothing to give in return. One scurried to his room and, finding a paint brush which had not been used any to speak of, carefully wrapped it up and turned it over to the Suburbanite's son, with a return injunction not to open it until Christmas. The second boy was less successful, and hunted for some time without success for a suitable gift. Finally he wandered into his father's room and spying several new neckties hung in orderly array upon the electric light fixture, abstracted one of a brilliant red shade, and presented it to the Suburbanite's son. Now, it happened on the way home that the Suburbanite's son decided he would like to give his father a Christmas gift. Thus it followed that the Suburbanite on Christmas morning found among his beribboned packages the red necktie which had been originally intended to adorn the costume of his neighbor. The Suburbanite enjoys the tie and appreciates his son's unselfishness—but he generally crosses the street when he sees the other man coming.

When neighbors say nay about a great man there may be something the matter with him, but when they are practically agreed that he is all wool and a yard wide, be sure that he is genuine and sincere. So felt the Boston girl as she read yesterday a native Nahanter's tribute to Senator Lodge, about whose re-election there is still much talk, though it can hardly be in doubt. Regarding the discussion of tariff schedules and votes on this, that and the other measure the women folk are not supposed to be keenly interested; though someday equal suffrage may make a difference in that respect. But personalia, are always interesting, and when a leading citizen of the statesman's home town, the wee little rockbound peninsula to which Tom Appleton once attached the name of "cold roast Boston," speaks of his neighbor's "nobleness of character, his purity of mind, his freedom from that haughtiness with which many who do not know him surround him" and says that "those who know him best—his fellow townsmen, are almost unanimously in his favor under any and all circumstances," then one knows that on the personal side there can be but little lacking in this Senator who has been called, by one not personally acquainted with him, "the icy Mephistopheles of imperialism." Somehow one likes the ring of Selectman J. T. Wilson's tribute to his distinguished fellow citizen, as he says: "In our own town he has always taken an active interest in its politics and welfare—frequently coming on from Washington to attend our town meetings. His attitude in town meetings here is liked by the townspeople. His opinions are not always approved—how could that be possible among any people towards anyone? But he is interested in all details, however small, and is considerate of others' opinions. His speaking here shows none of the overbearing quality of which public gossip seems to accuse him. He speaks effectively and forcibly, of course, but his work in town meetings excites the interest and admiration even of the bickerers—of which there are some in this town as in most others."

The Massachusetts woman with her interest in politics which must be amateurish at present cannot but think that the retirement of such a Nahanter would be nothing short of a public calamity in the old Bay State.

"Do you believe in woman suffrage?" asks the suffragist ward worker of the Lady of the House, who is inclined to look upon her suspiciously as some new kind of book agent or installment collector. "Woman soofrage, it it?" comes the reply in a fine rich brogue. "Oi niver heard of it." There follow a few minutes of clear, lucid explanation which is listened to attentively, and a handout of literature which the Lady promises to read and if possible to attend the next suffrage meeting in her neighborhood. Then the suffrage solicitor goes on to the next house. That's the kind of canvas Boston believers in the political equality of the sexes are now making, as rapidly as their numbers and means permit. The idea is to come face to face with every woman in every ward and precinct and to have at least a brief exchange of courtesies with her. In the North End, in streets where only Italian is spoken the pamphlets to be distributed are in that language. For other neighborhoods they are in Yiddish. Everywhere the effort is to reach the different intelligences and prejudices of a cosmopolitan city. It is hard tiresome work for a few devoted women—less exciting and spectacular than campaigning before applauding crowds; but it, too, has its very great usefulness, so say the leaders of the energetic organization of suffragists at 585 Boylston Street. "Something doing every minute," is indeed the principle on which the Massachusetts suffragists seem to be counting to win for them the ballot. They are just bringing to Boston to speak before a gathering at their headquarters, and doubtless elsewhere in New England, another of the interesting English women who have delighted American audiences. This time it is Miss Louise B. Bennett, a Dublin girl of a famous Irish family, who has been one of the real suffragettes (not suffragists) in her own country and who is here to uphold, at least for use in British conditions, the militant methods of which most American suffrage advocates are somewhat afraid. Miss Bennett, who has been staying with the family of Professor Josiah Royce of Harvard will add to many a New Englander's store of information about the social revolution now in progress in Great Britian.

Ethel Angier.

GATHERING IN OHIO VOTE BARTERERS

More Than a Thousand Have Been Indicted Thus Far

West Union, O., Dec. 31.—Seventy-three more indictments have been returned by the grand jury which is probing the selling of votes here in Adams county, under the direction of Judge Blair. Seventy persons were arraigned, making the total to date 370 arraigned, and 1071 indicted.

Judge Blair said that it may become necessary to indict some men who have bought votes to make a clean sweep of all the guilty ones and to bring about the desired reforms.

Not a single voter will be left in one school district in Jefferson township, which includes the town of Wamsleyville. Every male citizen has been indicted.

Two more clergymen, both of Green township, were indicted yesterday. The court officials decline to give out their names. Each received $5 for his vote.

The oldest voter in the county, a man 84 years old, has been disfranchised.

"A SPORTING CHANCE"

Wilson Thinks He Was Thus Considered by New Jersey Democrats

St. Louis, Dec. 31.—Woodrow Wilson thinks the New Jersey Democrats took him as a sporting chance. Speaking of the transfer from the ranks of amateur politics to high office before the Princeton club, he said:

"I said openly that if I were elected governor I would be the leader of the Democratic party in New Jersey. I didn't say I would be a good leader, because I did not know. But the convention took a sporting chance on me. A convention has to take that sort of a chance with any candidate."

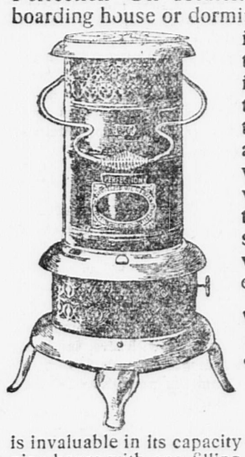
Flies 362 Miles In Monoplane

Duc, France, Dec. 31.—Maurice Tabuteau, contesting for the Michelin cup, broke the world's aviation record for distance, covering 362.66 miles in a continuous flight of 7 hours 45 minutes in a Bleriot monoplane.

Bald? Going to neglect your hair until it leaves you? Going to neglect your dandruff until you are bald? Certainly not. Then consult your doctor. Ask him about Ayer's Hair Vigor. It never stains or changes the color of the hair. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Girl Who Lives Alone

whether she attends college or goes to business, needs the Perfection Oil Heater. It will heat a cold, cheerless boarding house or dormitory room and make it livable. It is always a ready help in the many things women do for themselves in their rooms. With the damper top opened it will heat water for tea or cocoa; it will dry the small articles that a woman prefers to wash herself in her own room. It will quickly heat an iron or curling tongs; quickly dry wet shoes or skirts—an ever ready help for the woman who lives alone, dependent on her own resources. The



PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. It will burn nine hours with one filling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless; has a cool handle and a damper top.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Dealers Everywhere. If not at yours, write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

Standard Oil Company
(Incorporated)

Fresh Mined Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS
27 GRANITE STREET
Tel. 232-2

HOME TRADE WILL HELP QUINCY AND EVERYONE IN QUINCY

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

PETERSON'S SUGGESTIONS
Better BREAD
People use
PERFECTION FLOUR
Hundreds of People use our Perfection Flour. We want One Hundred more to become better bread caters.
ORDER A BAG TODAY.
J. PETERSON & CO.
394 Washington Street, Quincy

THE STORE FOR LADIES' FURNISHINGS
WHEELER
WHEELER
Neckwear, Belts, Gloves, Aprons, House Dresses, Corsets, Hosiery, Underwear.
The "Belle" Shirtwaists, May Manton Patterns.
Percales, Prints, Ginghams, Cotton Cloths, Outing Flannels.
G. W. WHEELER
City Square, Quincy

When the SUN is off duty
Reflex
LIGHT WITH GAS

The Reflex Inverted Gas Burner
Price $1.75 Installed
The best substitute for sunlight
CITIZENS GAS LIGHT COMPANY
Phone Quincy 181 11 Granite St., Quincy

Quincy Daily Ledger

1910	DECEMBER					1910
Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.	Sat.
..	..	..	..	1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31
..	..	..	..	..	..	..

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURES.

At 12 M. today.	20 degrees
December 31, 1909,	19 degrees
December 31, 1908,	47 degrees
December Noon Maximum, 13 years,	67
December Noon Minimum, 13 years,	2

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY.

Contractors' Notices.
To Let.

COMING EVENTS.

Jan. 2—Banquet—City Council.
3—Oratorio—Quincy Choral So.
3—Day Nursery Association, at 2.30.
4—Whist—Quincy Catholic Club.
5—Twelfth Night Revels—Women's Club.
5—Dinner—Civic League.
6—Arlington Glee Club—Y. P. R. U.
6—Dance—Union 305.
10—Ex-Gov. Guild—Women's Club 2.30 P. M.
12—Current Events Lecture.
13—College Club Banquet—Q. Y. M. C. A.
13—Dance—Cochato Club. Braintree.
24—Musicale—Women's Club, 2.30 P. M.
26—Hospital Aid Association, at 2.30.
31—Sanitation Lecture—Women's Club, 3 P. M.
Feb. 3—Ball—Quincy Police Relief Asso.
10—Valentine Dance—Day Nursery.
11—Children's Valentine Dance, at 2.30.
17—Vaudeville—Fresh Air Camp at 3.

BRIEFS

Fear facing the New Year
Thinketh "What shall it bring?"
And is dumb,
Dreading the hidden ways.

looking upward saith,
is in everything:
Let it come.
rdereth the days."

is our New Year's bliss:
mine and I am His;
he days, all the ways,
d us home.
et us pray let us praise.
—Mark Guy Pearse.

The monthly meeting of the teachers and officers of First Church Sunday school will be held Monday evening at half past seven in the chapel.

The Thayer Academy alumni defeated the school team yesterday by a score of 47 to 22 in a game played in the gymnasium last evening.

Court John Ericson, F. of A., holds a Christmas party for the children at Faxon hall tonight. All children of members are invited. There will be an entertainment, refreshments and a good time for all.

H. Houghton Schumacher of the Harvard Divinity school is to preach on Sunday at the Wollaston Unitarian church. Rev. Carl G. Horst pastor of the church is convalescing from his illness.

Col. Edward Anderson tells of "Army Reminiscences of the Days of '61 to '65" with an outlook upon the New South and the New North, at the Union Congregational church of Weymouth and Braintree on Wednesday night, Jan. 4, it being one of the series of the winter's lecture course of the Social club of that place.

YOUNG NORTHERN
GEESE 20c lb
at JOHNSON BROS.

DEATHS

EATON—In Wollaston, Dec. 30, at the residence of Rufus B. Tobey, 75 Lincoln avenue, Miss Caroline H. Eaton in the 84th year of her age. Funeral Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 2.30 P. M. Friends invited without further notice.

WAKEFIELD—In Milton, Dec. 30, Mr. Jeremiah Wakefield of Oak street, aged 69 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street, Quincy Mass.

BRIEFS

At 6 o'clock this morning temperature of 2 below zero was reported.

Watch meetings this evening in many of the churches and elsewhere.

The new Council of the Knights of Columbus of West Quincy will be instituted Sunday at Greenleaf hall.

The Christmas music of the Universalist church will be repeated on Sunday by request.

Carl Christiansen of Irving place, has so far recovered from his illness that he was able to leave today for a visit with his sister at Hartford, Conn.

The Commissioner of Public Works advertises today for bids for the new schoolhouses at Wollaston and Montclair.

Dr. B. F. Bowles of Wollaston who has been enjoying a trip to the Maritime Provinces is returning and will be at his office the first of the week.

James L. Fennessey of Rogers street, was operated on for an abcess at the Carney hospital, South Boston, Friday morning.

Miss Nellie Barnard of Quincy Point who returned from the hospital last week will be sent to a sanitarium next week to be treated for tuberculosis.

Joseph Lincoln of Washington street passed his examinations for admission to Amherst college on Tuesday of this week. He will enter college next fall.

Mr. Chubbuck of Quincy Point who had a paralytic stroke last week is reported as being about the same. He is still confined to his room.

Col. Edward Anderson of this city is announced to give a series of five talks at the Boston Young Men's Christian Union, on "The complete man." On Sunday at 3.30 P. M. his special topic will be "Starting right."

Mr. Haynes who has been employed at the Baker Yacht Basin since last spring, leaves today for Nova Scotia where he will stay until next spring. Upon his return he will resume his work at the Basin.

Any one interested in the Day Nursery is cordially urged to attend the monthly meeting of the Association on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 3 at half past two at the clubhouse of the Quincy Women's club.

The Pilgrim Fraternity met this week for the annual election of officers: They were chosen as follows: President, Joseph Lincoln, Vice President, Rudolf Schlenker, Secretary, Harold Neal, Treasurer, Robert Pratt.

Quincy students take advantage of the free admission to the Boston Art Museum on Saturdays and Sundays. Just now there is special interest in the exhibition of paintings of the late John LaFarge, in what is known as the east gallery.

The Quincy Choral Society has announced its last rehearsal of the Creation music for Sunday afternoon. The devotional spirit of Haydn's music makes this meeting a fitting celebration of January first and it will probably be the largest meeting of the season.

Miss Annie Blair returned Friday to her home on Hancock street, Wollaston. Miss Blair received her diploma from the Quincy hospital September 1908, and this week she was graduated at the Boston Lying-In hospital where she has been taking a special course.

The Lawrence Choral Society, conducted by Mr. Arthur S. Wonson, sang Handel's "Messiah" to a large and appreciative audience on Thursday evening of this week. The fine work that is being done by the several societies under Mr. Wonson's instruction, is rapidly winning for him a high place in the list of choral conductors.

The Jolly Sixteen had a very pleasant evening at the home of George W. Gragg, 9 Packard street, this week. Mr. Gragg won first prize himself with a score of 58. The other prizes were won by Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. George Dexheimer and Mrs. Leon C. Claflin. The New Year's party of the club will be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Merritt, 13 Elm place. A turkey supper will be served first, and then the usual whist tournament will take place.

H. H. I. Smith's store is undergoing several changes which will make a vast improvement when completed. The Post Office will be directly in front of the door, making it a little handier for those wishing to make use of it and enabling the store to get the benefit of the big window. The grocery department will take up the whole left side of the store, and meats, vegetables, etc., will occupy the right hand side. When the work is completed and everything is rearranged the general appearance will be much better and there will be more space owing to the economic methods used in arrangement.

(ADVERTISE.)

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Extension club basketball games played last evening resulted as follows: Quincy Adams, 64; Quincy Point, 4; Atlantic, 27; Wollaston, 16.

Forty of the Juniors took the trip to Charlestown yesterday with Mr. Clee and Mr. Gumb. The State Prison was visited first, then Bunker Hill monument, the Navy Yard, and on the way home the Youth's Companion building was inspected.

About 125 boys attended the meeting this morning and listened with intense interest to the stereopticon story of "Ted," a street arab.

The final event of the year in the Junior contest was held this morning in the gymnasium. An athletic tournament of five events:—15 yds. dash, potato race, standing broad jump, running high jump and relay race. The Crimson team won the meet and led in the totals for three months' work with 75.4. Blue was second with 67.6; Red with 67.4 was third; then Brown, 56.4; Green, 55.3; and Orange, 54.6.

In the swimming races for Juniors Percy Coupel won the under water swim by a distance of 76 feet. James Jenkins won the hoop dive. Candle races were won by Jenkins, Daniels and Torrey. Jenkins and Andrews were tied for time, 14 3-5 seconds. Torrey was next with 14 4-5.

Three basketball games will be played this afternoon: Team 6 vs. team 4 in the finals of the basketball league; the Y. M. C. A. Midgets vs. Malden Juniors; and Quincy Intermediates vs. Malden Intermediates. In the evening the first and second team will play the Boston Y. M. C. A. teams.

The teams in the big game will line up as follows:

BOSTON	QUINCY
Foster, lb	rf, Morris
Benson, rb	lf, Bates
Ziegler, c	c, Jenkins
Clarke, rf	lb, Dackers
Cherry, lf	rb, Claflin

The Sunday afternoon meeting promises to be one of the best of the year. Allan C. Emery of Boston one of the best liked business men in the State will give a good straight talk to the fellows.

CREATING GOOD WILL.

Some merchants make the mistake of regarding money spent for advertising as gone forever. Therein they do not follow the ordinary business rules governing the values in other enterprises.

It is a rather small newspaper whose good will, aside from all tangible assets, like machinery and type, is not worth $5,000. Young physicians frequently pay as much for a fair sized medical practice.

These values are simply cumulative product of past advertising. So when you get a newspaper customer by advertising, and most customers come that way, there is a cumulative value created which does not end with the week or the year the advertising was paid for.

If a single advertisement made you but one permanent new customer, the net profit of $5 which you might perhaps expect to make from him in future, would be four percent on $125. Thus advertising creates a capital that brings in returns indefinitely.—Beverly Times.

THAYER ACADEMY.

The following dates for basket ball games have just been given out:

Friday, Jan. 6—Newton at Newton.
Saturday, Jan. 7—Open at Thayer.
Friday, Jan. 13—Weymouth at Weymouth.
Saturday, Jan. 14—Melrose at Melrose.
Saturday, Jan. 21—Winthrop at Winthrop.
Friday, Jan. 27—Braintree at Thayer.
Saturday, Jan. 28—Canton at Canton.
Friday, Feb. 3—Open at Thayer.
Saturday, Feb. 4—Melrose at Thayer.
Friday, Feb. 10—Newton at Thayer.
Saturday, Feb. 11—Weymouth at Thayer.
Saturday, Feb. 18—Stearns school at Thayer.
Wednesday, Feb. 22—Middleboro at Middleboro.
Friday, Feb. 24—Quincy at Thayer.
Saturday, Feb. 25—Braintree at Braintree.
Saturday, March 4—Powder Point at Duxbury.

—It is sincerely to be hoped for the good of both Ireland and England, and of America too, that the new British parliament may grant Ireland home rule, for which her faithful sons have fought for decades. It will certainly be a relief for the loyal and loving sons and daughters on this side of the Atlantic, who already have contributed money enough toward that and other movements for the relief of the island to purchase the Emerald isle outright.—Spencer Leader.

Social Realm

(Continued from page 3.)

Mr. and Mrs. William Burrell of Beach street have returned to Wollaston after spending the holidays with out of town friends.

* * *

R. J. Charles and Sidney Kid of Barre, Vt., formerly of this city, left today for Barre, having spent the week with friends.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Arthur Sherwin, nee Helen Troupe, are at home after January first to their friends at West Townsend where they now reside.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Blanchard of Hollis avenue are rejoicing in the birth of a little daughter.

* * *

Mrs. L. A. Patterson of New Bedford is renewing old acquaintances in this city.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Upton returned from their vacation in Camden, Maine on Friday.

* * *

James Lahey, formerly of West Quincy is spending the Christmas season with his brother William Lahey the well known fireman at Hose 4 station. This is the first time he has been to Quincy for fourteen years when he went to Washington D. C. as government engineer. He is still employed in the same capacity.

* * *

Miss Nettie Loud of Hall place left Thursday for New York.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Standwood Foss and two children came on from Wyoming, New Jersey last week to spend Christmas with the Robert Josselyns of Hancock street, Wollaston.

* * *

Miss Marion Swasey of Beverly was a guest this week of Mrs. E. C. Butler of Russell park, coming up for the Tennis club dance on Wednesday night.

* * *

Frederic Martin, who will sing at the Creation concert on Tuesday evening, ranks among the first of American bassos. He sings well because he is filled with the inspiration of what he is singing and in a miscellaneous program his critics say that, like Dr. Wullner, he surely demonstrates that the bass voice can touch the heart. In oratorios he is one as to whom there is no question. He knows how—and may no one who really cares for music miss hearing his interpretations of the great Creation solos.

* * *

Miss Agnes Coughlin of Houghs Neck was entertained this week by Miss Gertrude Scott of Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester.

* * *

The True Blue Whist club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Lizzie McNeil of Washington street, Quincy Point. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

MYSTIC SHRINERS.

Quincy was very largely represented last evening among the 6000 in attendance at the annual ladies night and New Years festival of Aleppo temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. For the accommodation of Quincy members a special was run to Mechanics building, Boston, leaving City Square at 6 o'clock and leaving the hall for the return trip at midnight. This car carried its full capacity and many others went by train.

A continuous spread was served in the machinery hall, and at 9.30 dancing was commenced. Previous to this there was a parade of the officers led by Carters band, and a drill by the patrol, which included a series of evolutions that brought fourth rounds of applause. Then there was a concert by Aleppo temple choir of 25 voices. There was also a number of scenes from Dixie interpreted by a band of 50 colored entertainers.

At the election of officers, Charles A. Estey was elected potentate. Aleppo temple now number 6,400, a net gain during the year of 227.

—Town business in Milton is conducted with dispatch. Here it is the last day of the year and the books have been audited to date and the contract awarded for printing the annual reports. The lowest bid of $1228 was accepted, the book to be of 400 pages with the same arrangement and style of previous year.

SUNDAY SERVICES

THE CIRCUMCISION OF CHRIST.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH (Unitarian)—Rev. E. C. Butler, Russell Park, pastor; Rev. C. B. Ames, 121 Goffe street, assistant pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Sermon by Rev. E. C Butler Sunday school at 12. Mr C. H. Johnson, Supt. Y P. R. U. at 7 P. M. Rev. C. B. Ames, speaker.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy, corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. Richard E. Armstrong, rector. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30 A. M. Sunday school and Galahad Brotherhood at 12.05. 7 Corporate Guild service Evening Prayer and Sermon.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets—Rev. E. N Hardy, Ph. D., pastor. Morning service at 10.30. Celebration of the Lord's Supper at 11.30. A New Year's sermon by the pastor Sunday School at 12 M. Young People's meeting at 6.15 P. M. Evening service at 7 o. The Christmas music will be repeated, and the pastor will give a brief address.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, Washington Street. Morning worship 10.30. Address by Rev. Stanford Mitchell. Sunday school at 12 o'clock. Y. P. C. U. at 6.30 P. M.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, — Franklin street—Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor, residence 206 Franklin street. Morning service at 10.30. Theme "Open Doors." Communion service at 11.30 A. M. Sunday school and "Davis" class at 11.45 A M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Praise and Preaching service at 7 P. M. Theme "Getting Ready." A hearty and cordial invitation is extended to all. "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good." Shall we not gather in the house of God on the first day of the New Year? Where's a better place?

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Fore Square. Rev. A M. Thompson pastor Residence 182 Glendale road Quincy. Morning service 10.30. Sunday school and Men's League at 11.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7. "A New Years Theme. Special music. All welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Corner Quincy and Water streets. Rev. James A Matheson, minister. Morning worship at 10.30 New Year's sermon. Bible school 11.45. Men's class at same hour. C E. at 6 Evening worship at 7. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the Evening service. Thursday Young People's meeting at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting at 7.30 Motto Let each day be your best and the year will end well.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy, Rev. Carl H. Raupach pastor. Residence 12 Hall place. Morning worship at 10.30. Holy Communion. Sunday school at 11.45. Junior League at 3 P. M. Epworth League at 6.15 Praise and Gospel service at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M. A cordial welcome for all.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor. Residence 81 Prospect avenue. Tel 341-4. Morning service and Communion at 10.45. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Evening service at 7. Preaching by Pastor morning and evening. The Sunday school and Junior Endeavor society will not hold their regular sessions.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH— Corner Beale and Safford streets. Rev. Wesley Wiggin, pastor. Residence 52 Brook street, Telephone Quincy 378-2. 10.15 A. M. Love-feast. 10.45 A. M. Sermon by the pastor followed by Holy Communion and reception of members. No Sunday school or Junior League on account of scarlet fever. 6 P. M. Epworth League meeting. 7 P. M. Praise and Gospel service.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory 523 Hancock street. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30. Evening prayer and address at 7.30.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets, Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister, residence 67 Winthrop avenue Tel. Quincy 681-2. Morning service at 10.45 Preaching by H. Houghton Schumacher. Young Men's League after the morning service. There will be no sessions of the Sunday school.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Meetings in Music Hall. Morning service at 10.45 Sermon by pastor. Christmas music repeated by chorus. Sunday school at 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7. Music by chorus. Everybody Welcome.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, (Anderson National) Profection hall, Johnson building, Quincy Center Divine services at 3 P. M. Lecture by C. N. Elliott Subject "Faith, the Gift of God." Tracts free No collection.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Braintree, Post Office Block. Morning service and Sunday school at 10.45. Subject: "God," Golden Text; "There is none like unto thee O Lord thou art great, and thy name is great in might. The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and everlasting king." Jeremiah 10: 6, 10. Wednesday 7.5 P. M. a testimony and experience meeting. Reading rooms open every week day from 3 to 5 P. M. Holidays excepted. All are welcomed

Makaria
Fraternity
SUNDAY 12 TO 1—SHARP
Bethany Church, City Square
If YOU are a young man, and not associated with any other Quincy church, YOU are most cordially invited to come to our meeting.
A warm welcome—Hearty singing—A helpful hour together.

Solons to Hear Experts Lecture

Kansas City, Dec. 31.—Governor Hadley has decided to substitute lectures by experts for written messages by himself to make known to the legislature the needs of state institutions. The experts are to be the men in charge of the institutions.

Alfonso Going to Morocco

Madrid, Dec. 31.—King Alfonso will leave Madrid on a hunting trip on Jan 2. He will return on Jan. 4 and the next day will start for Melilla, Morocco, where great preparations are being made for his reception.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents, 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

LOST

LOST—Black male Spaniel, six months old small collar no name on same. Return and reward. D. Desmond, 40 Quincy avenue. Dec. 30-2t

LOST—In the Quincy Post office or nearby on Thursday afternoon, ladies gold bowed spectacles. Finder will please notify 25 Bigelow street. Dec. 30-2t

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams et al to John A. Clark et al, way from Liberty street to Columbia street.

Axel Asker to Charles H. Johnson, Lind street.

Mary C. Beliveau to Victoria Beliveau, Centre street.

William R. Buckminster tr to Blanche G. Blanchard, Avon way.

Charles M. Conant to William E. Barnes, Colby road.

Charles M. Conant to Frederick E. Jennings, Atlantic.

Bertram D. Carliss to Richard S. Pattee, Newcomb place.

Wilton A. Dunham to George J. Speers, Houghs Neck.

Julia E. Fuller to Charles S. Wing.

Annie M. Kelley to Laura S. Pattee, Newcomb place.

Robert T. Johnson to George R. Bennett et al, Sagamore street.

Helen E. McAloon et al to Richard D. Chase, Hancock street.

George W. Nash to Catherine Maynes, Babcock street.

Richard S. Pattee to Laura S. Pattee Newcomb place.

John T. Sewell to Herbert T. Whitman et al trs, Edison park.

Charles H. Shriver et al trs to Alfred W. Bennett Shellton road and Sea street.

Boardman J. West to Winnie Leonard, Allerton street.

Herbert T. Whitman et al trs to Thomas L. Williams, Edison park.

John G. Whitman to Herbert T. Whitman et al trs to Edison park.

Charles S. Wing to Joseph P. McCabe, Newport avenue.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Quincy, Mass., December 31, 1910. Sealed Proposals marked "Proposals for Heating and Ventilating the new Wollaston School, Quincy, Mass.," will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, Room 1, City Hall, until 10 o'clock A. M. Saturday, January 14, 1911, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

Bidders shall furnish plans and specifications of the work, which shall be based on the Architect's building plans and general heating specifications, and also a written guarantee of its capacity. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory bond to the City.

No plans will be considered which will not meet the approval of the Mass. District Police.

Plans and specifications of the building may be seen at the Commissioner's Office or at the Office of McLean & Wright, Architects, 110 Tremont Street, Boston.

The bid shall be accompanied by a properly certified check for four hundred dollars ($400.00) payable to the City of Quincy. This check is to be the property of the City of Quincy if the bidder fails to execute the contract and satisfactory bond within six days after the contract may have been awarded to him.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept the bid deemed best for the City.

RANDOLPH BAINBRIDGE,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Dec. 31-1t.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Quincy, Mass., December 31, 1910. Sealed Proposals marked "Proposals for Heating and Ventilating the Montclair School, Quincy, Mass.," will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, Room 1, City Hall, until 10 o'clock A. M. Saturday, January 14, 1911, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

Bidders shall furnish plans and specifications of the work, which shall be based on the Architect's building plans and general heating specifications, and also a written guarantee of its capacity. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory bond to the City.

No plans will be considered which will not meet the approval of the Mass. District Police.

Plans and specifications of the building may be seen at the Commissioner's Office or at the Office of McLean & Wright, Architects, 110 Tremont Street, Boston.

The bid shall be accompanied by a properly certified check for Three hundred dollars ($300.) payable to the City of Quincy. This check is to be the property of the City of Quincy if the bidder fails to execute the contract and satisfactory bond within six days after the contract may have been awarded to him.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept the bid deemed best for the City.

RANDOLPH BAINBRIDGE,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Dec. 31-1t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE or TO LET—Before you buy or rent, consult me. Houses for sale or to rent in the finest residential section in Quincy. All improvements. Close to school, churches, stores and depot. C. A. ERICSON, Builder 117 Glendale Road. Tel. Quincy 586 M. W and Sat. May 22-tf

FOR SALE—1 No. 3 Cavicchi portable pneumatic polishing machine complete, in use less than one month. 1 Ingersoll-Rand Co. belt driven air compressor, 39 cubic feet capacity, complete with unloader and 16" by 60" air receiver. The Wrayton-Githens Co., 200-202 Congress street, Boston, Mass. Dec. 30-6t

WANTED

WANTED— Experienced girl for general housework. Mrs. C. F. Pettengill, 53 Revere road. Dec. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Attractive room with housekeeping suite; also house of ten rooms and small suites furnished or not. All near centre. Address C. F. Spear. 1168 Hancock street. Dec. 31-1t

TO LET—Nicely furnished room in select neighborhood. Board if desired. Opposite High school, Hancock Street. Address A., Ledger Office. Dec. 31-4t Sat.

TO LET—Furnished room. 117 Upland road, N. B. Corthell. Dec. 28-6t

TO LET—At 48 Revere road two nice sunny rooms, with small room adjoining, furnished and heated if desired for housekeeping. Also other nice rooms and bath. Dec. 17-12t

TO LET—Upper suites of six rooms and bath in as two family house with all modern improvements set coal and gas ranges. Near Quincy Adams station. Rent $20. Apply to 220 Franklin street. Dec. 14-tf

TO LET — Two tenements of 5 rooms and bath. All modern improvements, and in good neighborhood. Ready about Dec. 1. Apply to C. A. Ericson Builder, 117 Glendale Road, Quincy, Tel. 586M Nov. 19 tf

TO LET
Lodging Rooms—Furnished. Steam heat. Durgin-Merrill Block.
Greenleaf Hall — Greenleaf Block Large Furnished Hall with various anterooms—to let by the evening or permanently.
City Square Hall, Office or Shop—Hancock Chambers, 2 flights up, 28x45 feet and 20 feet high. Splendid light, low rent

Quincy Real Estate Trust,
(Ask for Mr. Kribs.)
Music Hall Block, Quincy.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
3 Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
Mornings—8.30 to 10: Evenings—7 to 9.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448.4. Haymarket 244

JOHNSON BROTHERS
$1.00 a lb. QUALITY
TEA
TODAY FOR 60c lb

TELEPHONE CON. HOURS 9-12 2-5
DR. A. B. PACKARD
HARVARD '88
DENTIST
JOHNSON BUILDING QUINCY, MASS.